MULESHOE MULES UPSETS CANYON

FOOTBALL QUEEN — Jana Stevenson, center, was crowned Football Queen during halftime activities at the Muleshoe-Canyon game here Friday night. Runners-up were Jan Wilson and Linda Dement. Miss Stevenson was escorted by Scott Oliver.

The Mighty Muleshoe Mules honored the ex-students of MHS Friday night by winning the Homecoming game over the Canyon Eagles, 14-0. This is the first conference contest won by the Mules this year.

Jana Stevenson, daughter of the high school principal, was crowned Football Queen during halftime activities. Her attendants and runners-up were Jan Wilson and Linda Dement. Miss Stevenson was escorted by Scott Oliver, quarterback. Other escorts were Stanley Black and Bill Harbin.

The Canyon Eagles led the Mules in total yards gained and first downs but Muleshoe had the thing that counts, the higher score on the scoreboard. Dan Smith raced 30 yards on the opening play of the second quarter for the Mules first tally. Joe Adams kicked the point after. With seven minutes and 20 seconds left to play in the fourth quarter, Scott Oliver plunged over the goal line from 1 yard out. Again Adams booted the conversion.

The Canyon Eagles failed to seriously threaten the Mules' goal line. The Eagles penetrated to the Mules 17 following the opening kickoff. An attempted field goal from the 23 was off to the side. Again in the second quarter, the Eagles pushed to the Muleshoe 17 but lost a fumble on the 15. Late in the fourth quarter, the Eagles again drove into Mule territory. This time to the 23 where they lost the ball on a pass interception by Scott Oliver on the Mule 16.

Joe Adams kicked the opening kickoff to the Canyon 10. Joe Moore returned to the 31. Ten plays pushed the Eagles to the Mule 17. Phillip Parker attempted a field goal kicking the ball from about the 23. The kick was wide and Muleshoe took possession on their 29. Mules gained to their 48 before Oliver punted. Joe Adams kicked the ball on the Canyon 2 yard line.

The Eagles then marched to their 34 where Muleshoe covered a fumble. In two plays the Mules were on the Canyon 30 when the first quarter ended. The score was 0-0. On the next play, big Dan Smith raced the 30 yards to the goal to score. Joe Adams kicked the conversion. Score 7-0, Muleshoe.

Adams kicked to the Canyon 14. Joe Moore returned to the 25. In twelve plays, the Eagles marched to the Mule 17 only to lose the ball on a fumble on the 15. Muleshoe was unable to make a first down and Oliver punted to the 50. Canyon reached the Mules 38 and Dennis Haley's punt went out of bounds on the Mules 4. Muleshoe ran three plays before the half ended.

Area Harvest

Extra White Cotton Is Now Rolling Into Gins

This week's end finds Muleshoe area farmers rapidly winding up the irrigated corn and grain sorghum harvest, as well as increasing harvest of a bumper cotton crop which is increasingly "something to talk about."

Fair weather prevailed and high quality corn was reported coming into Texas Sesame Elevator for the Frito trade. Most Sesame was in the shock except for a small acreage of the new combine type which has been blessed by light frost an excellent during conditions.

Elevator reports indicate that practically all grain sorghum left in Bailey County fields is to be found in the dryland areas. Reports from Farmers Cooperative Elevator indicate that as moisture in dryland sorghum fields became exhausted, the grain began to fall. Farmers were forced to harvest, in many cases, before the heads were dry enough. This high moisture grain is being accepted by elevators and yields are about half an average crop for the dryland areas an much less than half of the average for the last few years.

During Education Week Here 1,450 Visits Public Schools

A total of 1,450 visited the five Muleshoe public schools during American Education Week.

Superintendent Neal Dillman said 350 signed the register at the High School; 250 at Junior High, 75 at Hilltop; 250 at DeShazo, and 525 at Richland Hills.

The programs at Mary DeShazo Thursday night was held in the West DeShazo auditorium with Elizabeth Watson speaking on "Role of Curriculum Developer." The Book Fair was held in the cafeteria between 6:30 and 9 p.m.

The sixth grade choir under direction of Leasel Richardson opened the program at Richland Hills. A special film strip with recorded narration "I, Q. Test, How They Are Obtained, Used and Interpreted" was shown following the choir presentation.

Parents and guests at Hill Top School saw an art display by students and work being done in the classrooms and were served refreshments in the cafeteria.

In keeping with the fall season, fruits, vegetables, and field products were artistically arranged throughout the school buildings. Many different arrangements were shown in classrooms where student's work was displayed for parents to see.

A sample of things shown in elementary school is a story written by Dicky Hanks entitled "I Am Thankful". It reads as follows:

I am thankful for my church. I am thankful for our food. I am thankful for my brother and my sister and their names are Bret and Gary and my mother and thank you God for your help, Dickey Hanks.

(An interesting note, Dicky has no sister.)

Many works of art accomplished by the children in all phases of their work were displayed.

Dillman said the schools were real appreciative of the fine turnout by the people of the area and their interest in what the schools are trying to do, and it seems that every year, more and more people attend School Week activities.

The proposed building program was initiated through a self-evaluation survey conducted by the board and superintendent. Dr. Lyman Ellis, architectural-educational consultant from the Texas Education Agency, assisted in the survey of school facilities and made recommendations. The board has retained John Ward and Associates Amarillo architectural firm, who drew up a plan from Dr. Ellis' specifications. This will be presented at tomorrow night's meeting, along with cost estimates. The board has also conferred with local attorneys and a bonding firm.

Proposed for the new unit building program include a lunchroom and cafeteria, home-making department, science laboratory and replacement of three classrooms and related facilities.

Lazbuddie property owners and the general public are urged to attend, E. A. Parham, president of the school board, said.

RICHLAND HILLS TEACHERS — Lula Vinson, Floree Peugh, Helen Bryant and Ruby Lambert teach pupils in the third grades of Richland Hills School.

Curriculum Of Third Grade

The third grade program is a continuation of the practices and skills which are introduced in the first two years. Along New Ways and Wide Doors Open are the two books used by the third grade from the "phonetic Keys to Good Reading" series. Along New Ways is an orientation reader and is a review of all the sound the students have had previously. Wide Doors Open is the third grade reader and provides further study of prefixes, suffixes, and syllabication.

The two basal readers Streets and Roads and More Streets and Roads are published by Scott Foresman and Company, Dallas, Texas. A basal reading program provides a foundation on which all further reading can be built. In a basal reading program the vocabulary is controlled so that the students will get practice in reading words that have already been introduced to them. The basal reader also provides the teacher with a systematic way of introducing new words. By providing the children with material that contains enough words they already know, they can often determine many new words from the context of the sentences in which the new words are used. The children are encouraged to use the phonetic skills developed in their two phonics books in attacking new words in the basal series. A Think and Do activity book accompanies each of these readers. The comprehension skills are stressed along with the word attack skills in all of our reading activities.

MARY DE SHAZO TEACHERS — The third grades of Mary DeShazo are taught by Mrs. Elsie Thompson, Miss Faye Caldwell, Mrs. Edith Henderson and Mrs. Leota Hargrove.

Mary Martha Coffee Held In Osborn Home

The Mary Martha Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Cecil Osborn Tuesday for a morning coffee.

A fall arrangement of chrysanthemums centered the serving table.

Plans were made for the Christmas Dinner for the class. It will be held December 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall. At that time food will be brought to fill a basket for the needy.

Attending Tuesday were Mrs. Doyle Turner, Mrs. Ed Parks, Mrs. C. R. Black, Mrs. E. W. Adkins, Mrs. J. E. Burch, Mrs. Edie Lane, Mrs. Lee Pool, Mrs. Jewel Griffiths and the hostess.

Speaking is the most common means of communication so much stress is placed on this. Nearly all subjects require some oral recitation. Students are taught the importance of speaking clearly, politely, and loud enough to be heard. Speaking before the class helps them to overcome shyness; learn to stick to the subject, leave out minor details and tell events in sequence. The students also study ways of carrying on interesting conversations; personally or on the telephone, making introductions properly, giving reports telling stories and sharing news items.

In the third grade the pupils have their first English books and workbook so more time is spent on the proper usage of grammar. Most of the major uses of the period is taught the question mark is used, a few uses of the comma are stressed and the quotation marks are used mostly in copy work. Nearly all the main uses of capital letters are introduced in this grade. The correct usage of words such as "saw" and "seen" is emphasized both in written and oral work. The pupils are encouraged to use longer and more interesting sentences and they are constantly drilled on the difference in questions and statements. One of the major skills in the paragraph. The correct form and content for paragraphs and friendly letters are taught. The children are exposed to a broader vocabulary in reading and writing and are encouraged to use more "picture" words and "sound" words. Original sentences reports, stories, poems and letters help to keep the spirit of creativity alive.

Spelling in the third grade is largely a continuation of that done in the second grade. A week is given for the study of each group of words. There are four exercises in which the words are used: the meaning and use of the words are stressed in sentences, puzzles and stories about pictures. Cursive writing is used in the third grade, so the importance of crossing "t's", dotting "i's" and forming letters correctly is emphasized. A practice test is usually given on Wednesday and the misspelled words are studied for the test on Friday. There are dictation sentences included on this final test to teach the use of the words rather than just the memorization of an isolated list. Each week words relating to other subjects are added to the spelling list. Incorrectly spelled words are marked on all papers in other subjects.

Working Together by McIntire and Hill published by Follett Publishing Co., Chicago, is the social studies textbook used in the third grade. The pupils are taught about the needs of people for shelter, food, and clothing. They are taught about how people travel, how they communicate with one another and how to improve home and community life. The children are constantly encouraged in democratic living, to respect work and workers, and to acquire a desire to be helpful to individuals and groups.

Americanism is frequently emphasized. The Pledge of Allegiance is recited almost daily. Stories of early America, our forefathers, and important events in American history are often read to the children. The reasons for certain special holidays are given and discussed. Many, many times the teacher finds opportunities to point out the good qualities of our government as compared to those of other countries, and the privileges we have as Americans.

SCIENCE
A child learns about his environment whether he is taught science or not. Our purpose is to broaden his experiences and outlook. Instruction about our basic way of life must not be incidental.

The text used is Science Everywhere by Craig and Lembach published by Ginn and Co. Dallas. Some basic principles taught are:

- the universe is very large.
- the earth is very old.
- many changes are going on in the universe
- living things are interdependent and interrelated.
- there is a great variety among living things, and
- there is evidence of a tendency toward balance among forces of the universe and living things.

The above concepts are taught by the help of the text material, research materials, pictures, present-day discoveries, and pupil experiences. As a child develops a greater understanding of the natural forces such as seasons of the year he'll learn to adjust to changing conditions. The child also needs to develop a feeling of responsibility for certain natural resources that must be used wisely. Safety rules and healthful habits are included in the plan of study. One basic idea always stressed is that each individual should think logically for himself.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION
We spend thirty minutes each day developing such physical skills as throwing and catching a ball, running, skipping, hopping and jumping. Most of these are developed in group games, relay races, simple calisthenics and by playing softball.

ARITHMETIC
The third grade math program is also in its transitional stage. Concrete, meaningful experiences in which number plays an essential role forms the basis of the arithmetic program. These experiences should include discovering the meaning of numbers and of number operations, grouping and manipulating objects, practicing basic number operations, solving problems, measuring and constructing things and discussing uses of arithmetic. Under the guidance of the teacher, who is ever mindful that arithmetical learning results from a variety of meaningful number experiences, and also through work with manipulative materials and visual aids designed to lend meaning, activities are conducted in such a way that the children are led to see and understand relationships and to make generalizations. Although the teacher directs activities, asks questions, and leads discussions, it is the child who makes the discoveries. Many new concepts are introduced in the third grade as well as expanding concepts that are introduced in the first two grades.

"Thanks to our electric heating - we never worry about Shawndi kicking off the covers!"

Individual room control gives the Danny Smith family of Earth, Texas comforting assurance of desired warmth!

Shawndi, like any other normal child, occasionally kicks off the covers when taking a nap or sleeping — thanks to the constant, controlled temperature, the Smiths know from experience that Shawndi will stay warm.

The Smith's home is completely electric. Here in their attractive electric kitchen, Shawndi helps Mother serve Daddy's coffee by bringing his cup to him.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith specified ceiling cable electric heating when they built their Gold Medallion home because they could have a thermostat in each room to insure individual room control. The Smiths set the thermostat in their bedroom at 60 degrees; in Shawndi's room 70 degrees; with appropriate settings in other rooms. So even is the temperature and so accurate that Mrs. Smith's tropical fish (in the family room) have not required auxiliary heating. In short, the Smiths enjoy comfort for all, all through the house.

Rev. Buice Is Rotary Speaker

At Rotary Tuesday, Gene Atkins was the student guest and gave a resume of the Muleshoe High School debating teams activities.

John (Decon) Burroughs, Rotary president, received a thank you note from Carolia Bass secretary for the Blue Mules stage band thanking the Rotary for the stage fronts Rotary gave them for their instruments.

Vic Benedict announced that the Rotary Almond butter fee candy had arrived, as well as the almond chocolate bars, which sold so well last year.

Wayne Williams presented Reverend Walter Buice Associate Pastor of the First Baptist Church, who presented a program on service.

Reverend Buice brought out that service was an easy word to use and that attendance at service clubs and churches did not fulfill the complete meaning of service. He said service is the fulfillment of Christ's requests through a heart of love to feed mankind.

He stated motivation was a part of service and could be a result of sense of duty or thrill performance, but pure motivation is love for all mankind.

Measure was defined as the willingness to give what we have and if we have a certain ability it can be utilized to serve all mankind.

In closing, he stated maximum service is where a person not just gives, but actually sacrifices in order to give.

In addition, County Clerk Hazel Gilbreath said that the 142 absentees vote: cost the county some 15 to 20 cents each for the envelopes, ballots, plus postage estimated at $15.

The county uses tax money from the general fund to pay expenses of the general election. Expenses of primaries are paid with filing fees from candidates.

"We'll also have a few incidental expenses to add to the total," Judge Williams, added.

On November 11, wrenches valued at $100 were stolen from the combine on the Ramm brothers farm south of Coyote Lake. John Moore was investigating Officer.

George Gross reported to the Sheriff's office on November 12 the theft of a battery and battery cable which were stolen from his pickup which was parked near his home adjoining West Camp Grocery. Bob Henderson investigated the theft.

Sheriff Dee Clements reported that wrenches stolen from Bud Huff on October 29 were recovered in Farwell this week.

On the City Police docket, one was jailed for drunk on Nov. 11.

He was fined and released. State Patrolman James Freeman reported one wreck and routine work this week. A black cow belonging to Bill Jim St. Clair was run over on Highway 70. The cow died. No charges were filed.

Over half of the public school teachers in the country are inclined to oppose the shared time programs in which parochial school students spend part of their school day studying non-denominational subjects in the public schools, a study by the National Education Association shows.

Farmers allowed the perfect fall weather to do most of the defoliation this year. Probably less than ten per cent of the cotton has been defoliated, Adams said.

Harvest will rapidly increase in tempo now that the light freeze has been recorded.

The killing frost brings smell of "burned" cotton leaves. The peculiar odor, not readily noticeable to the average person, is well known by cotton farmers.
