Editor's Notebook

Some McLean residents may have wondered why there were a few extra vehicles "making the drag" Monday and Tuesday, and teenagers were seen on the tennis courts and other places around town with smiles on their faces.

Those two days were set aside for quarter examinations, and many students from the sixth grade up were exempt from taking the tests. Several high school students will attend classes only one day this week, being out two days during the exams and missing today and Friday because of the FBLA trip to San Antonio.

But all education isn't found in the classroom. It's a combination of studies and extracurricular activities that gives young people a well-rounded background with which to face adult life.

A McLean High School graduate was looking through our files the other day, and he was most interested in readrunning a kickoff back 90 yards for a touchdown a few years ago. Lo and behold, that paper was the only one in the 1968 file which was missing. I'm glad he dis-covered the gap in the records, because maybe we can do something about it.

I certainly would appreciate anyone who has a copy of The McLean News dated Oct. 31, 1968. letting us have it or buy it for our files. It isimportant to the history of McLean that we have as many issues as possible of the new spaper preserved.

Mercer, McAnear Take Top Honors At McLean Show

provide an ideal day for the McLean Stock Show Saturday, but those youngsters who walked off with ribbons probably don't even remember the cold that enveloped the FFA stock pens.

While the spectators stood around the fence shivering, most of the young contestants were busy, with some adult help, grooming their hogs or steers. And when they got into the show area, it was obvious that all the 4-Hor FFA members had on their minds was catching the judge's attention. The cold was forgotten, and some of the young people even discarded coats or coveralls during the judging period. The top award winners in the 1978 show were Steven McAnear, who had the grand champion a Duroc, and Joe Mer-cer, who showed the grand champion steer, a crossbreed.

The reserve champion hog ribbon went to Bill Hambright for his crossbred barrow, while Teresa Woods took the reserve champion steer award with her crossbreed.

Showmanship trophies were captured by Eddie Brooks in the hog show and Greg Gabel in the steer show. The man who attracted the gazes of every contestant was Kenneth Kensing of White Deer, the judge for both the hog and steer contests.

Those who received ribbons in the show were: Heavyweight Hogs --1-Steven McAnear, 2-Lance Gabel, 3-Elson Rice, 4-Brian Smitherman and 5-Tommy Mil-

Middleweight Hogs --1 - Bill Hambright, 2-Leisa Gabel, 3-Leann Tate, 4-Eddie Brooks,

5-Mike Reynolds. Lightweight Hogs --1-Mike Harkins, 2-Mike McCowen, 3-Mark Tate, 4-Susie Billingsley, and 5-David Gee.

Heavyweight Steers --1-Joe Mercer, 2-Teresa Woods, 3-Mark Morris, 4-Brian Smitherman 5-Elson Rice.

Middleweight Steers--1-Rex Morris, 2-Rhonda Woods, 3-Stacle Smith, 4-Allen Turpen, 5-Jam Ann Rice.

Lightweight Steers--1-Candy Carpenter, 2-Beth Smitherman, 3-Deb Crockett, 4-Greg Gabel.

Many of the contestants will enter their livestock in the Gray County show Saturday and the Top O' Texas show Monday, both in Pampa,

The adult leaders of the McLean 4-H club are Mr. and Mrs. David Woods. Others assisting 4-H members in the shows are Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Smitherman, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Tate.

Ex-Tigerette Takes

Long Road

To Wayland

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the second of two stories about the only graduates of McLean High School who are playing college basketball. Last week's story featured Cindy Sherrod. The article this week is reprinted from the Plainview Daily Herald, with some corrections,)

By DANNY ANDREWS Plainview Daily Herald Sports Editor

Sheri Haynes, as a kid growing up on a ranch in the Panhandle town of McLean (pop. 1,062, about the enrollment of Wayland Baptist College), thought of little else but playing for the famous Flying Queens.

And, after "making a mistake," she left the national women's championship team to do it. The three-time all-state player left Delta

State, Miss., at mid-term last year to transfer to Wayland, disenchanted with unfulfilled promises of more playing time on a club that seldom pulled its starters.

She played the rest of the year with the Queen

Bees but got to join the varsity for the NWIT at Amarillo and the homecoming game. This season, the blonde junior has found her niche, averaging six points a game as a back-up to playmaker Kathy Harston or, at times, playing alongside the Southlake Carroll sophomore.

How she wound up at Delta State in Cleveland, Miss., is an unusual story in itself. She was the cover girl on the second issue of the Panhandle-Plains Basketball Magazine in 1974-75, and Deita's general recruiter, Melvin Hemphill, saw the magazine and contacted her.

Although offered scholarships at the University

Although offered scholarships at the University of Nevada at Las Vegas, Delta, and other schools, she chose to go with the Mississippi school, which had just won the first of three straight national titles. "They acted like they really wanted me, and I liked the people real well," she recalled.

But, for someone used to playing all or most of the time-she averaged 42 points a game as a senior, scoring 71 against Wellington-the bench was unusally hard to ride. After Delta won its second national title at State College, Pa., in 1976, beating Wayland 61-60 in the semifinals, Sheri admitted, "k was pretty neat but I really didn't feel like I was part of it." She contacted Dean Weese during the summer about coming to Wayland, but her Delta coaches assured her she would play more, "I had the scholarship at Delta and decided to go back, but it was just the same. So I decided to transfer at semester to get a half year of learning in the Wayland program," Sheri said, "The girls here were all so friendly. That sure helped me get ad-

"The main difference between here and at Delta is that out there we never worked on defensive drills. Hardly ever a word was said about defense." She parallels the two teams as being well-drilled, but adds, "I think we need to play with more enthusiasm. The middle of five children of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Haynes, lifelong McLean residents, she got plenty of basketball-playing experience with two older brothers and two younger ones. Her dad played at West Texas State, and both parents were high school players at Mclean. "They really en-couraged me." Sheri said with a broad smile. Basketball wasn't her only forte in high school, as she competed in track, golf, and tennis, excelling in all. "Dad got me to running in track meets starting in the fifth grade," she said, recalling that her best times in high school were 11.0 in the 100, 7.0 in the 60, and she also ran on the 440 relay. She participated in all three of those events at regional her senior year. Quickness is one of her biggest assets as a basketball

Also, she was the state Class A gott champion as a senior and went to regional in tennis as a sophomore. "I still like basketball best," she admitted. She also enjoyed riding horses and branding cattle.

A P. E. major, she's unsure if she wants to coach after graduation. Right now, she likes to entertain thoughts of achieving something no other player, man or woman has ever done: to play for two different national championship teams.

If the Queens can make it to Los Angelos this month, she'll have that chance. And, coincidentally, Wayland very possibly could play Delta

Gray County Voters Should Check Voter Registration

PAMPA -- Any Gray County residents who have moved or who did not receive the new voter registration certificates which were mailed from the Gray county Tax Office in November are asked to report to the tax office to re-register, according to County Clerk Wanda Carter.

Mrs. Carter said the request applies to those who did not receive the new, yellow voter registration certificates.

Incorrect voter registration numbers were sued to residents of the Laketon and Alanreed precincts, and those persons are asked to have the numbers corrected, Mrs. Carter

Very often our kids will tell us parents that they really don't want us to go to these things but invariably I will have many students come to me that next day and ask if I had seen their parents at the open house. I think that they really do want their parents to attend and they are concerned about whether or not their parents really care about their school work. I thought the program was very entertaining and it gave anumber of parents opportunity to really see how their children were doing in their classes. With all the activities of this week, we have not seen all our students very much. Quarter tests

Judging for the Panhandle All-Star Game High School Queen was Wednesday night in the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce offices. Billie Lowery, a senior at McLean High School, is candidate for High School Queen. The high school All-Star Game is played in conjunction with the National Women's Invitational Tournament, a college basketball event taking place at the Amarillo Civic Center March 16-18.

The winner of the queen contest will be named during halftime of the All-Star Game. Girls from 15 high schools in the Panhandle have been nominated by their schools to compete in the queen contest. They are required to be members of their schools basketball

A McLean girl won the contest in 1975, when Gail Terry (now Mrs. Tom Glass of El Paso) captured the title.

Letters to For Queen

Dear Editor: I wanted to say how good everyone was to the people at and around Alanreed (during the snowy weather) when we were living in the style of the good old days. (The only thing good was that they are gone.) Anyway, I think the people at Alanreed and McLean are the best people in the whole wide world, and we had a recent example. When Mr. Harrison Worsham went to be with the Lord, the people turned out from far and near. I could never name them all.

Some of them were ex-schoolteachers under Harrison as business administrator, Mrs. Lopaz Hauk, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Canton, Okla, and Mrs. Mozell McMillan of Lakeview, maybe others I didn't

MHS Physics Class Builds Cars For Open House

By Kenneth Parker
All this week the students in Mr. Gee's physics class have been hard at work building cars. Each of three groups are building a car. There is one small catch, however. The catch is, (if you will par Jon the pun) the cars must be powered by mousetraps.

It might appear to the average layman to be quite an arduous task to power a car with a mousetrap, but it is really a snap.

The cars will be on display during open house night, Tuesday, March 7. Demonstrations will be conducted if enough drivers can be

Friend Or Foe?

Nothing more wonderful can ever happen to a person than to be counted as the friend of Jesus! It was said of Abraham that he "believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteous-ness; and he was called the FRIEND of God" (James 2;23). Jesus said, "Ye are my friends if ye do the things which I command you' (John 15:14).

How tragic it is to be counted as the enemy of Jesus. To be his enemy is to be the friend of the devil. It is impossibe to enjoy the favor of both Satan and Christ. Except for those who claim to be athiests, most would not admit to being an enemy of Christ, but is it not true that many of are his enemy?

"NO MAN CAN SERVE TWO MASTERS," Jesus said in Matt. 6:24. Thus it behooves uu to determine who we are serving! If we are serving self, we ARE NOT SERVING GOD. We are serving self when we give precedence to our own lusts and our pride (1 John 2:15). Gain from serving self is always temporary! "The Lord saith unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, til I make thine enemies the foot-stool of thy feet" (Acts 2:34-35).

Our eternal destiny depends on who our friends are. Let us make sure JESUS is our BEST friend,

PUBLIC NOTICE NOTICE FROM THE TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

It has been called to my attention that there is a slight excess of nitrates and nitrites in the water supply of Mc-Lean. This would amount to approximately four percent in excess of the amount considered allowable by the Texas State Department of Public Health. Removal of excess nitrates is a very expensive process. I am told that a plant necessary to remove this small excess would cost thousands of dollars.

Though all the effects of nitrates are not known, it seems to affect the unborn child and the infant more than it does other age groups. The following recommendations are made:

FOXFIRE 4, edited by Eliot Wigginton, Anchor Press/Doubleday. By LISA PATMAN

McLean News Staff
If you've ever been fascinated by an oldtimer's story, or if the lost skills that died with your ancestors, "Foxfire 4" is the book for you. As with its predecessors the "Foxfire" book and "Foxfire 2 and 3", "Foxfire 4" is a treasure trove of wisdom. art, and talent of yesteryear.

In this book you can learnabout wood carving--miniature scenes, folk carvings, birds, even wooden bowls.

There is a chapter on riddle-making, mixed with lots of good storvtelling. If that doesn't appeal to you, you can read about making plow stocks or wooden sleds.

All four of the "Foxfire" books are good ments.

There is a wonderful section on gardening. It covers all phases of gardening from planting to harvesting, discussing times to plant, how get rid of garden pests, even how to put up a fence. As you read about berry buckets, horse trading, logging, traps or water systems you'll find something much more valuable. You'll see life as it was way back then, through delightful reminisces by people who were there, who lived in those times that were so full, even though they did not have our modern conveniences and entertain-

The people who were interviewed for this book are lively and quick-witted, with a zest for life and a pride of accomplishment that we all can admire.

way, it was just a miscount on our part. On March 6, 1946 this columm appeared for the first time in the Claude News, under a little dif-ferent heading. We tried to subtract in our head from then and now, and the first time around we called it one third of a century, or 33 years. We put it down on paper and it comes out only a mere 32 years. Any-way, I hope we are around, Uncle Zeb and I, come next March when

Let's have some contests. First, we have written two typed pages per week for these thirty two years, counting leap year. We will give one of Uncle Zeb's books for the closest guess. Second, and more important to us, give me the best guess you can, and the best proof of it, of the number of these columns you have read. Honestly, we haven't sum of money but the other rewards have been wonderful. Each day brings at least one letter that makes our heart rejoice as such things as money can not do. Please set right down on this, my 32nd Anniversary, and write us a letter, please. From Lillian Fletcher's Scizzors we get lots of nice clippings. This week from her papers she sent several called "Footnotes", by Gaston Foote. This reminded me: a way back when I lived at Shamrock, the Methodist Folks had a pastor by that name. Is this he or a son? Iam so old now can't figure it out. Anyway, he used this one in this column: "A little boy was telling his grandmother about his first time to see Ringling Bros. Circus.

"Grandma, if you ever go one time you won't ever go to prayer meet-ing again." He also told about Julia Howe saying on at least one occasion: "I'm tired all the way down to the middle d next week.' In the same group of clippings were some columns from Bill Mack. Then just as we read them we saw that he will be sharng St. Patrick's Day with another friend of ours, Justin Wilson, the famous Cajun.
