

Farmers Of County Due $30,501.26 In Conservation Setup

Howard county farmers have completed practices to qualify for $30,501.26 in conservation payments and have launched practices with a potential of $22,503.47.

This leaves approximately $21,000 still available under the Howard county quota, the county agricultural conservation office announced.

Terracing has led the parade of practices. A considerable volume of eradication, principally of mesquite and cactus (which are "taking the country") in some areas, is in prospect with advent of spring.

Last year 310 miles or 1,642,938 linear feet of terraces were constructed on 84 farms under the program. Three diversion dams with 4,875 cubic feet, and 15 tanks with 46,408 cubic yards. Two wells were drilled, deep plowing applied to 3,631.8 acres, stubble protection left on 20,659 acres, eradication programs employed on 2,439 acres, and deferred grazing practiced on 13,473 acres. These earned producers a net of $41,833.99, and a gross of $44,246.11, or within about $1,000 of the maximum of the county's allotment.

Housing Official Urges Cheap Homes

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP)—A Texas housing official said here Friday he hopes Congress will authorize cities to build low-cost homes, then provide federal funds for their maintenance costs.

Walter Henslee, president of Texas Association of Housing officials, said he hopes Congress will pass such a law to help Texas cities in low-cost housing and slum clearance projects.

He has been here attending congressional hearings on housing legislation.

He is executive director of the Galveston Housing Authority.

REMODELED AND ENLARGED Hamilton Optometric Clinic Announces New Facilities

Completely remodeled and enlarged, the Hamilton Optometric Clinic is announcing its new facilities.

At the same location, 106 W. 3rd across from the courthouse, the clinic has considerably more space, has been redesigned, redecorated and a large amount of new equipment added to expedite and extend the broad pattern of services, based from the exterior to all phases of the operation. The exterior, now doubled in space, is finished in rough-hewn, light limestone set around broad windows and framed in finished stone and border light.

The reception room is enlarged and reappointed with curved reception desk, (presided over by Mrs. Winnie Graham,) comfortable furniture, and pleasant woodwork finish. Flanking the entrance are two glass brick flower boxes topped by plants in good taste.

Both Dr. Allen R. Hamilton, head of the clinic, and Dr. Marshall Q. Gault, optometrists, have examination or refraction rooms, easily accessible to other quarters and the fitting room.

Another room, due to become one of the most interesting in the clinic, will be devoted to visual training indicated for correction of muscular imbalances, speeding reading through widening span of recognition and reduction of fixations, perimetry for measuring field of vision, etc.

Another important part of the clinic is its laboratory in charge of Charles W. Neefe, a master optician and laboratory technician, and for years with the American Optical company. He is assisted by R. O. Mothershead, lens-grinding technician.

This arrangement enables production of glasses for patrons by the clinic's own staff. Preferential emergency treatment is made possible for rush orders, and on occasions the clinic has received long distance calls from area patrons who sustained a broken lens. By the time they arrived, in many cases, the lens was waiting.

This doesn't mean hurrying, for every lens must go through approximately a dozen stages. The grinding process, accomplished through a series of laps and moulds, goes through five stages from emery to powder and finally polishing rouge. Then the product is checked by instrument for precise conformity to prescription, is cut according to specifications for edges, has the edges ground on a special machine, has holes placed by diamond drill, frames fitted and then rechecked before being ready for fitting.

The precision equipment is little more remarkable than the types, shades, tints of glass. Each has a special name and quality and includes three types of blue, amber, a green employed widely by the armed services, and polaroid glass. For a long time tinted and colored glass was used only for anti-glare purposes and was not processed for individual visual needs. Now glasses can be ground in these to individual needs. Polaroid embodies the unique principle of changing planes of light to eliminate glare—a factor that makes them popular for many uses and particularly for the sportsman and fisherman.

Texans Seek Funds From Congress For Waterways Projects

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP)—Funds for waterways projects on the Guadalupe, Little Colorado and Trinity Rivers in Texas were urged Friday by a group of Texans appearing before a Senate subcommittee handling waterways funds.

Money to proceed with a large canal stretching northward along the Guadalupe from the present intracoastal waterway to a point three miles south of Victoria was requested by a group from Victoria.

Other spokesmen urged that $1 million asked in the budget for development of the Trinity River be voted in full.

Texans also urged construction of the Little Colorado River extension of the intracoastal waterway for a distance of 17.8 miles upstream. The project, not in the budget, is estimated by army engineers to cost $54,000.

Democratic Fight Headed For Court

FORT WORTH, April 8. (AP)—The "conservative" faction of the Tarrant County Democratic Party had chalked up another court victory today. But it seems the case is headed for the supreme court.

The victory came when the Second Court of Civil Appeals refused to rehear an appeal from an injunction which keeps the "loyalist" faction of the party from ousting Tarrant County party officers.

Loyalists began preparing for an appeal to the supreme court.

Kleberg, Slick On Foundation Board

DALLAS, April 9. (AP)—Two of eight vacant trusteeships for the Texas Research Foundation were filled at a special board meeting here Friday.

Richard Kleberg, chairman of the King Ranch board of directors, and Tom B. Slick, San Antonio oilman, were named.

OPTOMETRIC CLINIC Enlarged and extended, the Hamilton Optometric clinic is announcing its new services. The front, at 106 W. 3rd, is in dress design, setting the pace for complete remodeling inside. Below, Charles Neefe, optician and in charge of the laboratory, uses one of the many machines used in processing lens. Here he is using one of the edging machines, one of the last stages in the finished product. (Jack M. Haynes Photo).

Peaches Says She Won't Marry Again

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., April 9. (AP)—No more matrimony for her, says the oft-wed onetime Frances (Peaches) Browning. Superior Judge Edmund Scott has awarded her a divorce from her fourth husband, Ralph N. Willson, of Nevada.

Any chance of another marriage? A reporter asked. "No—never—never again," said

Peaches. She was swept into the nation's headlines in 1926 when, as a 15-year-old showgirl, she married Edward W. (Daddy) Browning, 51, wealthy New York real estate dealer.

Her second marriage was to Bernard J. Hyne, Denver theater man. Her third was to Joseph Civelli, San Francisco store executive.

She is living now with her mother, Mrs. Carolyn Heenan, at near-by San Carlos.

VFW REMODELS—Although there was little fanfare to attract attention of the general public, the Christensen-Tucker Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, celebrated the completion of a remodeling project during VFW anniversary week. The local post club building, which is the former Birdwell Ranch house (top picture) located at 901 Goliad has undergone vast interior improvements during recent weeks. Much of the work was accomplished by members, although painting of the main hall (middle picture) required outside labor. Major improvements also have been completed in the recreation room (lower picture) which is located on the second floor, and in various other parts of the building. (Jack M. Haynes photos).

Mysteries Linger In Espionage Case

OTTAWA, April 9. (AP)—Two mysteries related to the Sam Carr spy case lingered today, as Carr planned an appeal from his conviction and six year prison sentence on charges of conspiring to forge a passport for a Soviet secret agent. There still was no clue to the whereabouts of the man alleged to have used the forged passport. And officials kept tight silence on what was being done about Mendel Krieger of Los Angeles, who testified in the trial Tuesday that he once had agreed to spy in Japan for the Russians and that he also had given them a report on United States Air Force training.

Tito Tells West To Leave Yugoslavia Out Of 'War Plans'

LONDON, April 9. (AP)—Marshal Tito told the West today it could not depend on Yugoslavia to join in "war plans" against the Soviet Union, despite his break with other Communist nations. Yugoslavia's premier addressed the third congress of his country's "peoples front" in Belgrade. His speech was broadcast and monitored in London. He said: "Wrong are all those warmongering reactionary elements in capitalist countries who imagine they can count on us in their war plans owing to the difficult situation in which our country finds itself today due to the attitude of eastern countries toward us." It was Tito's first major policy speech in almost three months. Tito opened the congress today amid a roar of chanting and rhythmic clapping by 1640 delegates chosen from among partisan veterans and workers.

ASK BETTER QUALITY GASOLINE

GM Seeks To Hike Economy Efficiency Of Automobile

HOUSTON, April 9. (AP)—American automobile owners think in terms of comfort, performance and appearance—not economy. That is a problem J. M. Crawford, vice president of General Motors Corporation, says the automobile and petroleum industries must overcome through co-operation in engine and gasoline research. Engines and gasoline turning out more miles per gallon, Crawford feels, will increase an automobile's economy efficiency whether its owner is particularly interested or not. Crawford discussed the problem at the American Petroleum Institute's division of refining meeting here this week. He asked the refiners to improve the quality of gasoline in the interest of economy and oil conservation. Both industries, Crawford said, know how to get more miles per gallon but the solutions are expensive and do not conserve fuel. "That is the major aim of the automobile industry," he said. Chester F. Smith, vice president of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) and API's vice president for refining, agreed. After warning that refiners must improve the quality of gasoline and lubricating oils, Smith said: "From the standpoint of the motorist, the performance gain of his car, which may increase from 20 to 40 per cent, must not be wiped out by an excessive increase in the cost of his fuel. "Anti-knock quality must be improved, therefore, without too large an increase in investment and operating cost, if there is to be an overall conservation gain." Barring a basic change in engine design, he said, anti-knock qualities of motor gasoline probably will continue upward in order to give motorists the coherent economy and performance of already developed higher compression engines. On other motor fuels problems, Smith observed: 1. Current increases in aviation gasoline demands for high octane will continue to increase but at a slower rate. 2. New specifications for jet engine fuels indicate manufacturing problems will be simpler. Until a few weeks ago, he said, the industry had been concerned about refining large quantities of jet fuels. New specifications, however, involve what essentially is a very low octane gasoline, he said. Current gasoline demands are increasing substantially and will be the industry's greatest concern the next six months, the summer vacation period. "As much or more gasoline will have to be produced this summer than last, in spite of the current high stocks," he said. Gasoline stocks dropped slightly for the week ending April 2, totaling 127,769,000 barrels, 18,000 less than the all-time record set the previous week. Production of gasoline actually increased during the week so the stocks decline must be credited to increased summer demand. Crude production took another drop, falling 58,050 barrels to a daily average of 5,072,400 barrels. This is approximately 600,000 barrels below a peak average set last December. Texas' fourth consecutive slash in crude production allowables became effective April 1 and was responsible for the latest nationwide decline.

Galveston Gets P. O. Substation

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP)—Rep. Thompson (D-Tex.) was notified by the Postoffice Department today that a new substation will be established at Galveston to meet needs created by rapid growth of the city. The station will be located on the east side of 23rd Street, between Market and Mechanic Streets, and is expected to be set up immediately, Thompson's office said.

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP)—Rep. Patman (D-Tex.), chairman of the House Small Business Committee, has urged removal of all federal controls on installment buying. In a letter to Thomas B. McCabe, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, he said that it is time to completely abolish all buying regulations.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get relief. In freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, lousy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness. To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients. Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better. Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Koussevitzky Leaving U. S., Followed By Lavish Praise

By W. G. ROGERS

NEW YORK, April 9. — The greatest conductor in our time... incomparable master of string tone... matchless virtuoso... the man who has done the most for American music...

With such superlatives as these, critics have hailed Serge Koussevitzky in the course of his quarter-century as conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra; and it is with such praise ringing in his ears that he has resigned, at the end of this concert season.

He explains that, as Boston conductor, "you don't belong to yourself, you don't have the time to breathe, you're not your own man. I don't feel I'm old, or that I'm tired, but I want to have my absolute freedom."

translated his numerous speeches. It looks like a busman's holiday. At any rate it will not be so confining as now when a week's vacation is no different from a week's work.

Then began his week off: Monday, rehearse two glee clubs; Tuesday, ditto; Wednesday, rehearse orchestra; Thursday, rehearse orchestra and clubs; Friday, free; Saturday, general rehearsal; Sunday, conduct the B Minor Mass for which he had been preparing; it's so long that most audiences, though they're a lot younger than the 74-year-old conductor, have to take it in two parts, and in Boston the first section comes in the afternoon and the second in the evening. Then on the following Monday the conductor went back to work!

Koussevitzky has programmed nearly 200 American compositions in his 25 years here "Festivals" of American music such as he presented this winter in Boston and on tour could not have been offered a quarter-century ago, he says unhesitatingly, simply for lack of the music. About that time some of our big conservatories were being founded, and in Koussevitzky's opinion, "the real history of American music began about 25 years ago."

FAMED CONDUCTOR RESIGNS — Serge Koussevitzky has announced his resignation, after 25 years as conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, effective at the end of the concert season. Next season, he will conduct for the first time in South America. He will also visit Palestine, Europe and London, where he has not conducted for 13 years. (AP Photo).

Police Break Up Panama Meeting

PANAMA, Panama, April 9. (AP) — Mounted police charged a crowd protesting a Panama-United States aviation agreement and broke up the meeting with tear-gas, gunfire and sabers last midnight.

Several persons were reported cut and bruised by saber blows. The shots apparently were fired into the air.

A bill giving U. S. commercial aircraft the right to land at a Panama airfield is being debated in the assembly. The opposition has held it up by filibustering for six days.

The police broke up an anti-American demonstration Thursday when the crowd tried to march on the assembly.

Survivors are her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Pope, and two nieces, Mrs. T. A. Helm of Dallas, and Mrs. Philo Howard of Houston. Funeral services are to be held here Sunday at 5 p.m. Burial will be in the Glenwood Cemetery at Houston Monday.

Texas Clubwoman Succumbs Friday

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 9. (AP) — Mrs. G. R. Scott, one of the founders of the Texas Federation of Womens Clubs, died Friday.

She had been an active clubwoman in Corpus Christi since 1897. In that year she founded the first womens club here. Four years later she became active in the Texas Federation.

Mrs. Scott has held office as president of the Corpus Christi City Federation, president of the Fifth District Federation, and lifetime member of the board of the State Federation.

Thousands of Texas clubwomen knew her as "The Admiral," a name she was given by a long-time friend—the late Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker who was once National Federation president.

Mrs. Scott never told her age but her birthday was celebrated yearly by a gathering of Corpus Christi club women. She had lived here since her marriage to Judge G. R. Scott in Houston in 1881.

Sen. Thye Hits Margarine Bill

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP) — Sen. Thye (R-Minn.) said today that repeal of federal taxes on oleomargarine would destroy the butter market unless Congress at the same time prohibited interstate shipment of the yellow product.

Thye, in a statement prepared for the Senate Finance Committee, spoke out against the House-passed oleomargarine bill.

The measure would repeal the 63-year-old federal levies on oleomargarine. However, it would require the product sold in public eating places to be identified as such and to be served in a triangular form.

Thye asked the committee to approve instead a substitute bill which he and a group of other dairy state senators are sponsoring. It would scrap the taxes on oleo, but than interstate shipment of the yellow product. The House turned down a similar measure.

The Senate Committee hearings began Friday with testimony from Senators Fulbright (D-Ark) and Maybank (D-SC) in favor of the House bill.

Vatican Expects No War This Year

VATICAN CITY, April 9. (AP) — The Vatican does not expect war this year, Monsignor Sergio Pignatelli said Friday. He is secretary of the central committee for the celebration of Holy Year planned for 1950.

POLICE FEAR FOUL PLAY AS BLOOD FOUND IN ROOM OF MISSING MAN

DETROIT, April 9. (AP) — Blood stains in the room of a missing Russian-born auto worker led police to speculate today on whether he was the victim of a Red spy ring.

Costan Coveluk, 48, a brooding Ford employe, has been missing since March 17. For the last 12 years he has lived alone in a Detroit boarding house.

A routine inspection of his room disclosed blood spots on the floor and on articles of clothing. Police also found $7,000 in bonds.

"We didn't take much notice of this disappearance at first," said Detective Sgt. Richard Miller. "But investigation has turned up a number of possibilities, including suicide, foul play or some connection with a Red spy ring."

Coveluk's parents are still in Russia. Friends said he had brooded because he was unable to send funds to relatives. They also said he spent a great deal of time reading Russian papers.

Ford Motor Co. reported he had taken several leaves of absence. However, it was not known where he went at such times.

George Dekan, of Stillwater, N. Y., an uncle, arrived here Friday to help officers investigate.

INSEPARABLE PALS PERISH TOGETHER

DETROIT, April 9. (AP) — Richard Parrish's mother often warned him about riding double on his bicycle with his pal, James Darling, 10.

But it never did any good. Everyone knew 11-year-old Richard and the boy who lived across the street were inseparable, the devoted "buddies" of the neighborhood.

Friday, as they had always played, so they died—together. A car struck their bicycle. Both were killed almost instantly.

Gales in Germany Kill 11 Persons

BERLIN, April 9. (AP) — Gales up to 75-miles-an-hour swept Germany yesterday, killing 11 persons and making scores homeless. The winds toppled bomb-damaged buildings and forced evacuation of other war-weakened structures. Five Germans died under falling debris in Berlin, six on the North Sea coast.

The Bathtub Glorified Again, Now By Paulette Goddard

HOLLYWOOD, April 9. (U.S.)—Paulette Goddard is glorifying the bathtub again. This is definitely old stuff to Paulette, who has splashed and sponged her way through four pictures. No actress, says one observant studio carpenter, can claim full stardom until she has had at least one bath on the screen. The pretty girl up to her neck in bubbles has been a favored Hollywood gimmick for 30 years. Stars as sedate as Greer Garson have bathed in milk, champagne (or even plain water) while the cameras turned. The usual prop for these ablutions is a hand-studded onyx pool or maybe a gem-studded cockle-shell. In "Anna Lucasta," however, Paulette gets sudsed up in an ordinary porcelain tub. That's supposed to be realism. "Tisn't dull though. Director Irving Rapper ordered a pair of very sheer opera-length stockings draped coquettishly above as much of Miss Goddard as the Johnston office would go for. Back in 1943 Paulette frolicked in a jungle pool for "So Proudly We Hail." In 1947 "Variety Girl" showed her off to good advantage in a chichi bubble bath. Last year she dunked herself chest-deep in a rain barrel for Cecil B. DeMille's "Unconquered." "I've just about come to the conclusion that, for me, bathing is not a private affair," Miss Goddard observed while Rapper rearranged the silk stockings for the 10th time. Paulette declines to take credit for popularizing such scenes. "When I was working for Mr. DeMille," she said, "he told me that the tub sequence was introduced in 'Old Wives For New,' back in 1918. He put over a dramatic point in that picture by comparing the messy bathroom of Sylvia Ashton with that of Florence Vidor, which was as faultless as a Cartier showcase." The record, however, doesn't support this claim. Miss Goddard can't be expected to remember that in

"A Daughter Of The Gods," the celebrated Annette Kellerman dived into a pool in what seemed to be the "Altogether." The year: 1916. Mabel Normand did very much the same thing in "Mickey," vintage of 1918. "Miracle Man," in 1919, displayed far more of Betty Compton in her tub than the censors would ever approve today. In the same year Gloria Swanson cavorted in a sunken pool in "Male and Female," the film version of Sir James Barrie's "The Admirable Crichton." Edith Roberts' bathtub sequence made the title "Saturday Night" more than ordinarily apt in 1922. There were a lot of others in that era, but bathing scenes became far more sedate when the Hays office predecessor of today's Johnston office, got fussy about such things as dialog and décolleté. The classic of all times, perhaps, was Hedy Lamarr's nocturnal dip in "Ecstasy," but that was made in Europe. In 1933 Claudette Colbert bathed in a black marble tub supposedly filled with the milk of wild asses. That was for the role of Poppaea Sabina, wicked wife of Nero in "The Sign Of The Cross." Miss Colbert got wet again in 1934 when, like Paulette, she disrobed and swam in a jungle pool in "Four Frightened People." Marie O'Brien bathed in just plain cow's milk in "A Night In Paradise," in 1946. If this fluid seems plebeian alongside Sabina's exotic medium, Merie made up for it by using a giant tub shaped like a seashell. The shapely curves and spectacular legs of Marlene Dietrich made bathing history in 1937 when she took a plunge in "Knight Without Armor." An ultra-modern tub set off the charms of Joan Crawford in "The Women" in 1939. The late Carole Lombard answered telephone calls, ate her breakfast and generally conducted household affairs from her bath in "Mr. and Mrs. Smith," released in 1941. Deanna Durbin mixed song with soapuds in 1944, when she sang a Jerome Kern number while bathing in "Can't Help Singing." Miss Garson's momentary abandonment of dignity came in last year's "Julia Misbehaves," for which she relaxed in a sea of bubbles. No fancy tub here; the trend now is toward the conventional. An equally ordinary fixture made a watery bed for little Ann Blythe in "Mr. Peabody and The Mermaid." William Powell carried Miss Blythe, prettily equipped with a mermaid's tail, from the swimming pool into the house, and settled her for the night in the bathroom. Maria Montez, in "The Exile," found an enclosed tin tub just the place for a tete-a-tete with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., seated beside the tub. With the coming of 1949 the men got into the act. Groucho Marx, cigar and all, hops into his bath and covers up with bubbles, in "It's Only Money." Seems he keeps his moola in the tub, and resorts to this means of hiding it from unexpected visitors. There are disturbing signs in Groucho's act, however. Groucho, you see, bathes with his clothes on.

Officials Decline To Reveal Man's Name In Attempted Attack

AUSTIN, April 9. (U.S.)—Hays County officials today refused to reveal the name of a 22-year-old, married man who has been charged with intent to rape a 12-year-old San Marcos school girl. Sheriff Jack Gary told the Associated Press by telephone that he would not give the man's name. He suggested that County Atty. Walls Barber should be contacted because "he's our legal counsel." The unidentified man, a war veteran, was released from jail on $2,500 bond, the sheriff's office reported.

Postmaster General Will Visit Dallas
 DALLAS, April 9. (U.S.)—Postmaster General Jesse B. Donaldson will spend two days in Dallas during the 1949 Texas Postmasters Convention here April 17-19. Donaldson will arrive April 18, accompanied by C. C. Garner, director of the division of city deliveries and other Washington post-office officials. Plans for the convention were announced today by J. Howard Payne, Dallas postmaster.

LADY OF THE BATH — Film Actress Paulette Goddard in her latest public bath, for "Anna Lucasta." This time the tub is the conventional iron and porcelain fixture. Splashing in a tub for films is old stuff for Paulette. Back in 1943 she frolicked in jungle pool for "So Proudly We Hail." In 1947, she bubbled in a rain barrel for "Unconquered."

Lewis Loses Hope Of Representing Taxicab Drivers

NEW YORK, April 9. (U.S.)—A week-long taxicab strike was at an end today. For the time being at least, so was John L. Lewis' hope of representing 30,000 New York cab drivers and mechanics. His Taxi Workers Organizing Committee called off the strike late Friday after police said more than 90 per cent of the cabs were operating. The Taxi Workers Organizing Committee, a unit of Lewis' United Mine Workers, called the strike April 1 in a demand for recognition. Union Regional Director Walter Brock said the operators "in due time will be forced to recognize the organization."

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING Church, Thomas Tour C. America

In two of the "healthiest" airplanes anywhere, Clyde E. Thomas, Sr., attorney, and J. D. Church, district CAA airport engineer, flew in home Saturday morning from a four-weeks aerial jaunt through Central America.

Flying stock model, light airplanes they made the trip without a bobble. Only a tiny brake block on Church's ship cost them any time, and it was something that could have been fixed in minutes with a tiny part. Impromptu landing and take-off fees cost more than part, fuel, etc. at that particular post.

Their trip took them through Mexico, Guatemala, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Panama, Honduras, British Honduras, and Cuba before they touched soil in the States again Thursday at Key West.

"We're going back within a year," said Church. "With what we've learned on this trip, we can make an even better time of it."

Thomas, whose ability at piloting drew effusive praise from Church, was of a like mind. "I want to see the pampas and to fly over the Amazon," he added.

They had their hearts set on a flight into most of the South American countries on this trip, but they reckoned without the political situation below the isthmus. For five days repeated appeals through the embassies in Panama and Colombia went unanswered. They had no hopes of getting into Bogota, but prospects of landing at other Columbian points were dashed by utter silence from that country. So they made the most of five enjoyable days visiting in Panama.

They had been out only a couple of days when they realized they were flying healthy ships. When Church landed in his Cessna 120 and Thomas in his 90hp Luscombe at Tapachula after a hop over the Gulf of Tehuantepec, they prepared to clear customs into Guatemala.

Each time the inspectors came up with a new requirement ("40 pesos, please"), Church and Thomas pulled the completed papers from their file. Utterly thwarted, the inspectors went into a huddle and came up with a new form. "What's this?" asked Church. "It is a health certificate for the planes, Senor."

"Health certificate for the plane?"

"Si, Senor. Forty pesos, please."

So Church and Thomas completed certificates which proclaimed the two airships free from communicable diseases and cleared into Guatemala.

Despite early morning delays that robbed them of the best flying time of the day, only once did patience grow short. That was when Thomas, virtually without a wingcramp, had turned the form-filling over to Church. Customs authorities asked him to make eight copies used by commercial airliners.

County Deaths For First Quarter Of '49 Show Decrease

The bell tolled less times in the first quarter of 1949 than for the same period in 1948, a survey of Howard county vital statistics shows.

And the knell sounded more frequently for men than women.

The death total for the first quarter was 68 as compared to 82 for the first quarter of 1948. The striking difference between casualties for males and females showed 42 males and 26 females in the first three months of 1949 as compared to 55 men and 27 women in the same period last year.

The number of violent deaths remained nearly the same during these comparable periods, five in 1948 and six in 1949. There was only one Negro death shown, seven among Latin-Americans, and the balance Anglo-Americans. Latin-American deaths dropped from 12 to seven.

Average age at death in the first quarter was 43, three years under the 46 for the first quarter of 1948. This figure includes stillborn infants and those who died within a few hours after birth. The highest age at death was 100—a woman.

The most unusual fact was in the combined two quarters was that almost twice as many males were casualties—87 against 53.

Mrs. Reagan To Be Honored By Baptist Church Here Today

The First Baptist Church today pays special tribute to Mrs. B. Reagan, a member for half a century and one of the most energetic Baptist workers in the Southwest.

The morning service at the church today will be characterized by Missionary songs, a missionary sermon and closing with a missionary offering, when each individual participating will personally bring an offering to the altar.

Fifty red roses, symbolizing Mrs. Reagan's 50 years of membership, are to be at the church altar this morning. Persons who desire may purchase one or more roses each and present them to Mrs. Reagan.

THE WEEK

did shape and point up one of the rosiest outlooks of the decade at this stage.

Bids on the $200,000 school bond issue were pleasantly lower than most anticipated. The low bid was little below 2.70 average. The interest saving between low and high bids was about $5,000 and the savings over the maximum of 3 1/2 per cent in the call would be roughly three times that.

Petitions were submitted last week to the commissioners court for a courthouse bond election. Friday the court heard a host of applicants for architectural services in event the project becomes a reality. An election call is in prospect Monday. The school district is in the market now for several top positions. Among those for which applications are being received are athletic director, tax assessor-collector, and business manager. The latter is a new position.

High school students gave a good account of themselves in the district interscholastic league meet. Several first places cropped up, and they were balanced between the athletic and literary, with the latter having the edge.

Pioneer Air Lines took the inside rail on airline applications before the CAB last week. What the final hearing by the federal body turns up remains to be seen. The findings, subject to that hearing have certainly stirred up some tempests in various areas affected by the service.

Sunday school attendance was somewhere above 2,500 last Sunday in local churches. It ought to approach 3,000 today and hit a real encouraging peak next Sunday—Easter. Don't forget the Sunrise services at the amphitheatre.

Cayuses Meet Lamesa Nine In Lobo Park On Sunday

Abilene Here On April 18

When the Big Spring Broncs open their "home" exhibition schedule at Lamesa next Sunday, local fans will probably be able to spot more familiar faces in the Lobo lineup than they will on the Hosses' roster.

Jay Haney, manager of the Lamesa team, wore local spangles when Big Spring fielded one of its great teams in 1941. He was an outfielder.

Leo Rheingans, who was with Odessa last year, will be in left field for the Lamesans. The Mello brothers, Eddie and Henry, will hold down infield positions. Eddie will probably be at third and Henry at second. Eddie was with Midland last year while Henry was there in 1947.

Gumbo Heiba, Ace Mendez and Bert Banz will be among those returning to Big Spring this year. The Hosses will probably come in from Florida about Thursday.

The locals play their first game in the local orchard Monday night, April 18, at which time Abilene comes to town.

Bovines Play Lamesa Next

Big Spring high school's Steers invade Lamesa Tuesday with the District 3AA baseball lead hanging in the balance.

A loss to Lamesa, coupled with a win by Odessa over San Angelo would give the Broncs undisputed possession of first place. The Longhorns and Hosses are now deadlocked for the top spot. Odessa hosts San Angelo.

Sweetwater and Abilene will wait until Wednesday to play, at which time they clash in Abilene.

First round play will be completed Friday, at which time Abilene comes to Big Spring, Midland goes to Sweetwater and San Angelo entertains Lamesa.

Standings:
TEAM W L Pct.
BIG SPRING 3 1 .750
Odessa 3 1 .750
Lamesa 2 1 .667
San Angelo 2 2 .500
Abilene 1 2 .333
Sweetwater 1 3 .250
Midland 1 3 .250

The Steerettes' margin of victory over Angelo was 17-12 and 11-10. Abilene reached the finals by beating Sweetwater, 26-5 and 21-9, and Midland, 15-11 and 17-11, in that order.

Midland, the 1948 champion, ran afoul of Abilene after hurdling Odessa in the preliminaries, 12-16.

BIG SPRING GIRLS CROWNED VOLLEY BALL CHAMPIONS

MIDLAND, April 9.—Big Spring lived up to its role as favorite by winning title honors in the annual District 3AA girls' volley ball tournament staged here Friday.

The Steerettes, coached by Arsh Phillips, turned back Abilene in the rubber game of a three-bout set to cop the laurels after drubbing San Angelo in the first round.

Big Spring, with Virginia Costello, in the starring role, wall-popped Abilene, 21-5, 6-12 and 17-6.

The Steerettes' margin of victory over Angelo was 17-12 and 11-10. Abilene reached the finals by beating Sweetwater, 26-5 and 21-9, and Midland, 15-11 and 17-11, in that order.

Midland, the 1948 champion, ran afoul of Abilene after hurdling Odessa in the preliminaries, 12-16.

Costello, probably the standout player of the tournament, was given valuable help by all Big Spring hands, particularly Pattie Miller.

The Big Springers' captured a big trophy and each member of the winning team was rewarded with a miniature gold medal. The members of the Abilene club were given silver medals.

Miss Phillips' will lose Costello, Floyce Brown, Katie Jones and Theima Brumley via graduation this spring.

Costello was the team's leading scorer over the season with 121 points. Miller had 111 and Craig Ito, in all, the club scored 710 points to 406 for the foe.

Lobos Outslug Indians, 13-11

MIDLAND, April 9.—The Lamesa Lobos eluded out a 13-11 victory over the Midland Indians in a baseball exhibition played here Saturday afternoon.

Howard County Junior college and the Knott Hill Billies open their Tri-County baseball league campaign at Knott this afternoon, a week in advance of the other teams in the circuit. Starting time of the contest is 3 p. m.

Harold Davis, coach of the Jayhawks, requested that the game be moved forward a week so that his athletes could take advantage of the Easter holidays, which begin the middle of the coming week at the local school.

Either Don Clark or A. J. Cain will pitch for the Jays against Knott. Bobby Beall may twirl for Knott.

The teams will be playing on a new diamond, said to be better than the one the Knott team used last year.

In games next week, Forsan's Oilers, defending champions, come to Big Spring to meet the Cosden Refiners while Ackerly visits Coahoma for its opening test.

The race will continue through July 24, at which time the first four teams in the standings will engage in a Shaughnessy playoff. Games will be played on Sundays only, except in instances where special arrangements are made for makeup tilts.

League President Jack Lamb has indicated the league directors will gather at the Settles hotel again Saturday evening, April 30, for a discussion on policy.

Three Records Are Broken In District Track Meet

Russell, Byers 1-2 In 880

MIDLAND, April 9 (SpI)—Three new records went into the books as Odessa's Bronchos scored an easy team victory in the annual District 4AA track and field meet here Saturday.

Jimmy Patterson, Odessa, set up new standards in both hurdles, copping the 120-yard high hurdles in 15.2 and the 220-yard low hurdles in 23:1.5.

Buddy Goode of San Angelo shattered Don Bingham's old mark in the 220-yard dash, covering the distance in 22.4.

Odessa scored 61 1/2 points to take down first place. Abilene was second with 39 1/2, Midland third with 16 1/2. San Angelo fourth with 15 1/2, Big Spring fifth with 12 1/2 and Sweetwater sixth with 9 3/8.

Big Spring runners finished one-two in the 880. Cleonns Russell was first in the time 2:14.5. Melvin Byers outran the remainder of the field.

Merle Mitchell, Big Spring, had a fourth in the mile run.

Most thrilling race of the day occurred in the mile relay. Big Spring completed the jaunt in third place, yet only two strides behind the victorious Abilene team and all but even with second place Odessa. Bob Kuykendall, Jim Jennings, Amos Jones and Russell ran for the Steers.

Bobby Gross, Big Spring, was fourth in the discus throw with a toss of 115 feet while Billy King of the Steers finished in a tie for third in the pole vault.

Ex-Steer Stars At 2 Distances

ABILENE, April 9—Leon Leopard of Big Spring, has already established himself as one of the Texas Conference top tracksters of the 1949 track season. Presently a freshman at Abilene Christian college, he has been the backbone of relay teams in meets to date.

In a dual meet with Howard Payne college four weeks ago, he tied with the Jacket's ace dashman, Eugene Carter, for high point honors with 11 1/4. Leon won the 440 yard dash with a time of 51.3, took first place in the 880 with a time of 2:31.1 and anchored the first-place mile relay team. ACC won the meet, 64 1/2-62 1/4.

According to his Coach, Oliver Jackson, he has two of the best times in the country for a freshman in the 440 and 880. At the Texas Relays, Leon clipped off a 49 flat quarter as anchor man on the Cats' second place mile relay team. In the spring medley which the Cats again placed second behind East Texas State, he sped around the oval twice for a half-mile in 1:54. The winner's time was 3:12.4 for the mile relay, and a new record was set in the sprint medley (440-220-880). The time was 3:26.2, a sensational time for this early in the season for any team.

Local Fliers See Lots Of Baseball On Jaunt South

Clyde Thomas and J. D. Church are back from Central America and Church says that in Cuba (they only stopped in the south-west tip) he asked about some of the ball players. Asked about T-Bone Varona but nobody knew him, said he "must be from Brooklyn." But they had heard of Traspuesto, who must be quite a character.

In Guatemala City they saw upwards of 100 ball games going on one Sunday afternoon. Boys, girls, men—everywhere there was a vacant lot, it seemed to Church, there was a ball game going on.

O'Dowdy Bounces Canada's Fenton

Pat O'Dowdy trounced Rod Fenton in two straight falls in the feature event of the Big Spring Athletic club's wrestling program Saturday night, though the referee had to lend him a helping hand in the opening fall.

The arbiter disqualified Fenton for using rough tactics.

In other matches, Pierre LaBelle won out over Billy McEuin, who was substituting for Arturo Ruiz, and Gene Blackley trounced Ace Abbott in the opener test.

Meet The "Seniors" of the COSDEN FAMILY

This is the 39th of a series of special Cosden presentations, recognizing the long and valued services of those employees who have been associated with Cosden for 15 years and longer. Cosden is proud of the scores of its workers who have contributed to its success through so many years.

OTTO PETERS

Known widely for his leadership in industrial safety programs is today's Cosden "veteran," Otto Peters, Sr. He has been with the company since January, 1934.

He was at first in charge of absorption plant operations, in 1938 was put in charge of the warehouse and in September, 1940, was advanced to purchasing agent, the post he now holds.

Peters was instrumental in introducing the first safety program into Cosden operations, and has for years taught first aid and safety. In 1942, the company sponsored a banquet honoring Peters when he was presented with a certificate of merit earned in Red Cross safety work.

Native of Karlsruhe, Germany, Peters came to the United States with his family when he was a child of four. He was reared and educated in New York City, and obtained his U. S. citizenship.

After graduating from high school he went to work for the New York Bell Telephone company as an inspector, worked for that firm for 11 years until he moved to West Virginia to enter the natural gasoline business. While holding various jobs, he took a correspondence course in stationary gas engineering. After three years of construction work he joined the Chestnut & Smith Corporation, specializing in gasoline plant operations. He became a superintendent of plant operations, working in that capacity until he joined Cosden.

Peters was married to Miss Jean D'orward of Delaware, Ohio, in 1913. They have three sons, Eugene, Otto, Jr., and Huff, and four grandchildren.

Peters is a member of St. Mary's Episcopal church, and is a past president of the Rotary club.

While teaching first aid is an engraving "hobby" with him, he also finds time to play checkers, a game in which he has won several tournament titles.

Texas League Race Will Break Barrier April 13

DALLAS, April 9. (AP)—The storied old Texas League opens its fifty-fourth campaign Wednesday night rated the strongest in its history by President J. Alvin Gardner.

The circuit head, in an even more optimistic forecast than usual, predicted the 154-game race would pack in better than 2,000,000 fans for the second time. He also said the league would become a double A league in full fact.

"We were just barely Class AA last year," he said. "This time we'll be well past that and on toward Triple A."

There is more speed and more smart ball players, he declared. "We just now are reaching full stature after the inroads made by the war. It will be a grand race and great baseball."

Gardner last year predicted the league would exceed the 2,000,000 mark in attendance and it did, for the first time. A total of 2,041,045 paid admissions, bulged club coffers. This was reflected in a general park enlargement and improvement program throughout the league this spring.

General opinion is that San Antonio will open the race with the strongest club and should be the favorite.

Only one change in ownership has come about this year. Jim Humphries, Bill Veeck and Ruffie Schaffer have bought the Oklahoma City properties from Harold Pope.

There also are only two changes in managers. Joe Vosmik is the new skipper at Oklahoma City, succeeding Pat Ankenman, and Del Wilber is manager at Houston, succeeding Johnny Keane. The other managers are: Tulsa, Al Vincent; Beaumont, Gordon (Chick) Autry; Dallas, Jimmy Adair; Fort Worth, Bobby Bragan; Shreveport, Francis (Salty) Parker, and San Antonio, Gus Mancuso.

Gardner calls this "The greatest group of managers the league ever has had."

The league will play virtually all night ball this year. Shreveport, Beaumont, Houston, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Oklahoma City will play all night games except Sunday while Dallas and Tulsa will play night ball on Sunday, too.

Umpire assignments for opening night were announced today by Gardner. They are:

Beaumont at Shreveport, 8:15 p. m. — Mike Williamson, Frank Capps and Bob Smith; Dallas at Oklahoma City, 8:15 p. m. — Bill Wilson, Milt Steingrade and Troy Sharp; Fort Worth at Tulsa, 8 p. m. — Chester Fowler, Fred Sigler and Frank Secory; Houston at San Antonio, 8 p. m. — Peiry Hunter, Andy Andrews and Paul (Frenchy) Arzeneu.

LOCAL PRIDE — Verdevale, two-year-old colt owned by John Ray Dillard of Big Spring, will be among the 50-odd horses trying to win places in the Big Spring Futurity in the trial heats at the local racing oval next Sunday afternoon. The Futurity will be staged Easter Sunday, Astride Verdevale is P. Allen, a jockey who has been out of action in recent weeks due to an injury.

Looking 'Em Over

by Tommy Hart

Had Arless Davis, backstop for the Big Spring high school baseball team, taken up catching three or four years ago, he might have gone all the way to the major leagues. . . He's built along the lines of Bill Dickey, the great Yankee backstop, and handles himself in a manner suggestive of the American League great. . . Too, he wields heavy timber at the dish, has become, next to Donnie Carter, the most dangerous hitter on the club. . . The home run he hit against San Angelo here last Tuesday was a high one that look as if it were going to fall in short left field. . . Instead, it went over the wall unaided by any wind. . . He hit a similar tripper against HCJC two weeks ago, only higher on that occasion. . . Arless wasn't even interested enough to come out for the team last year, despite repeated invitations extended by Coach Conn Isaacs. . . The Big Spring-San Angelo game would have ended in the seventh inning had Umpire Eddie Hammond called a balk on the pitcher when Catcher Ed Hartman stepped out of the box to give Donnie Carter an intentional pass. . . Hammond felt that the Angelo club was not acquainted with the new rule, however, and decided not to penalize them. . . Eddie Skrabacz ("Cigar-Box"), who has been with Lamesa's Lobos the past two seasons, is trying out with the Paris East Texas league club this spring and will probably open the season with the Rockets. . . The Associated Press may shortly do an elaborate story on Joe Cambria's baseball importees in Texas.

Tillerson, Crues Grew Up Together

Morris Cowser, the ex-Vernon catcher is making the railbirds sit up and take notice in the Amarillo camp, despite the presence of the veteran Ted Clawitter on the squad. . . When Harold Rason, the center fielder for the Big Spring high school baseball team, leaves for college, he'll enroll at Texas Christian University. . . George Tillerson, Sterling City's athletic coach, attended high school with Bob Crues, Roswell's new pilot, at Alla Hubbard, which is about 50 miles north of Dallas. . . Tillerson says Crues was a better pitcher than an outfielder. . . The Sterling mentor adds Alla Hubbard has spawned another player who should blossom into a great professional star in two or three years. . . He is Kenneth Lair, a left handed pitcher. . . Jimmy Shouls, who runs the mile for the Forsan high school track and field team, is the son of Timlon Shouls, the Forsan Oilers' baseball player. . . Wayne Bonner, track and field mentor at the local high school, usually spends his summers as club house attendant at the North Texas Teachers' college golf course in Denton. . . Leon Glen Bredemeyer, former Big Spring soft-ball hurler, is learning to be an electrician for a Colorado City refinery. . . He'll play ball in the Colorado City midget league again this season. . . One of the best softball players in this part of the country is Leon Kirby, who does his third basing for the Vincent independent team.

Alfred Adair Relays' High Point Man

The Forsan school board will spend around $1,100 for the score board going into the new Buff gymnasium. . . The mechanism will be about the most elaborate in this part of the country. . . It will carry not only the running score but the names of individual players and their records. . . The Big Spring high school gymnasium's board, which is a splendid one, cost but $350. . . Carlton King, Forsan's number one sports enthusiast, played a blocking back on the Waco high team on which Weldon (Speedy) Mason, later a standout at SMU, starred. . . King has missed but one track workout of the Forsan team this season, makes all the football and basketball trips. . . Coach Ed Robertson, the Coahoma mentor, became a casualty at the District 90B meet here last Wednesday when one of his boys, Bobby Cathey, dropped a pole during a vault. . . The piece hit Robertson behind the ear and brought blood, losing it across the coach's shirtfront. . . Howard Jones, a pitcher-outfielder on the high school baseball team here, used to earn pocket money occasionally by walking horses around the arena at Church-hill Downs in Louisville, Ky., his former home. . . Jones saw Pensive win the 1944 Derby. . . J. C. Webb has made arrangements to bring action pictures of the 1948 World Series between Cleveland and the Boston Braves here for public showing the latter part of the month, says they could be exhibited at the high school gymnasium. . . Incidentally, when the Indians played that exhibition game in Lubbock the other day, they passed through here in a special train, enroute to Sweetwater and transfer to the Santa Fe. . . Odessa Scores Early To Win Over Steers

An unsuccessful battle against a case of first-inning jitters, combined with timely hitting by the Odessa Bronchos, brought the Big Spring Steers their first taste of defeat in the 1948 District 3AA baseball race Friday afternoon at Steer park.

The Bronchos took advantage of Longhorns miscues to pound across three runs in the first stanza, building up an advantage they nursed to a 5-4 decision.

Howard Jones, lanky right-hander who went the distance on the mound for the Steers, remained unshaken during the hectic first inning and went on to set the Bronchos down with seven hits, the same number the Steers collected off three Odessa hurlers. The damage had been accomplished, however, and despite a recovery in the field, the Steers saw opportunity to fade at the plate in the third as a result of some haphazard base-running.

At that the locals managed to push across three runs in the third on the strength of timely base knocks by Jack Lee, Floyd Martin and a long double by Donnie Carter. The Longhorns picked up another score in the fourth, and got the potential tying run as far as third in the fifth, at which time Lefty Garland Fuqua, the Odessa starter, retired from the mound in favor of Sikes. Thomas took over replacing Sikes in the seventh when the Steers loaded the bases after two were out, and he fielded Ray Walker's grounder to halt the threat.

Bennett Aids In Angelo Win

SAN ANTONIO, April 8.—(SpI)—San Angelo and the Valley All-Stars clash here today in the finals of the intra-circuit polo tournament. Scene of action is the Brackenridge Park field, starting time 3 o'clock.

Marty Mertz paced the Angelenos to an 8-6 victory over Dallas here Friday afternoon, powering five goals through the uprights. He was given valuable assistance by Dr. M. H. Bennett of Big Spring, riding at No. One position for the West Texas, Joe Mertz and John Mather.

Joe Mertz scored twice for the winners while Mather added another. Bennett set up two scoring shots for the Concho City troupe.

Dallas took a brief lead in the first period when Dr. Rayworth Williams and Hugh Fitzsimmons tallied. However, Marty Mertz tied the count shortly thereafter when he made good on two penalty shots.

Mather and Marty came through with goals in the second to make it 4-2 for San Angelo. That margin continued to grow in the third when the Mertz brothers clicked for goals while Bob Wiley was picking up one for Dallas. Joe Mertz rammed his through just before the half time bell.

Dr. Williams cut some of the disadvantage away in the fourth with a goal for Dallas and Fitzsimmons added another in the fifth chukker before the Mertz boys broke loose with a goal apiece. J. D. Gilmore added Dallas' last point in the sixth round, that one, a penalty shot.

Bengals Meet Eagles Today

The Big Spring Tigers, a Latin-American baseball nine, gets away to a fast season's start in Abilene this afternoon, meeting their old rivals, the Brown Eagles, at 3:30 o'clock. The War Birds will return the game at a later date.

Tacho Martinez, the Bengals' pilot, has indicated he will start Isa Mendoza on the pitching rubber. Martinez won 30 games for the Tigers two seasons ago but had some trouble with his arm last year.

The Big Springers have already rented Steer park for 11 Sunday games.

Local Netter Wins Place On Cat Team

ABILENE, April 5.—Bill Montgomery, Big Spring, is one of three freshmen who have won places on the varsity tennis team at Abilene Christian college. The Wildcat netters have made good showings in matches with Baylor, Texas Tech, Hardin-Simmons and McMurry, and they plan to take on the Texas Aggies Monday. Last week the ACC team broke even in matches with Baylor.

Odessa was high point man of the Big Spring Relays last week. . . Adair tied for second in the high jump for 7 1/2 points, ran on the 100-yard relay team, which finished fourth, to pick up 1/4 point, tied for first in the pole vault for 4 points and wound up fourth in the discus throw for another point. . . His total was 7 1/2 points against only 7 1/2 for Mobley.

A new champion apparently will be crowned in the meet this year, since the 1948 kingpin, Bobby Maxwell, is attending Southern Meth-

Burned Hospital Will Be Rebuilt

EFFINGHAM, Ill., April 9. (AP)—Effingham citizens are in the midst of a nation-wide campaign to rebuild St. Anthony's Hospital—with a tentative goal of $800,000 to be raised by subscription.

Organized drives already are under way in several communities. They are headed by radio stations or newspapers in many cases, with civic groups co-operating.

Hawley Everhart, public relations man for the drive, said the tentative goal is $600,000 and that the plan is for a $2,400,000 150-bed hospital. It will replace the 125-bed institution destroyed early Tuesday by fire, with 74 persons dead or missing.

Members of the Effingham Civic Foundation Hospital Fund—in charge of the drive—said they hoped the federal government would contribute a third, or $800,000, of the $2,400,000. Another $800,000, they hope, will come from the state of Illinois. These would be under the joint state-federal hospital aid program.

Slight Shows Logged In Coke Exploration

Gas signs and slight shows of oil were encountered at Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 2 Nannie Ash, flanker to the Bronco, Palo Pinto pool in East-Central Coke county, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 453, block 1-A, H&TC survey.

The prospector drillstem tested the Cisco sand of the Pennsylvanian for one hour at 3,800-3,862 feet. Recovery was 390 feet of slightly gas cut drilling mud.

A second one-hour drillstem test of the Cisco was run at 3,910-50 feet, recovering seven stands of free gas and 360 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud with a small amount of free oil on top.

This development indicates slight possibilities of a new pay in that area. The venture was drilling ahead below 4,024 feet in sand.

'Pulp' Publisher Abandons Field

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—A 94-year-old publishing house which delighted the adventure-minded of an earlier generation with the exploits of Frank Merriwell and Buffalo Bill has quit the "pulp" magazine field.

Street and Smith, Inc., announced it is abandoning the last four of its "pulp" and also halting production of all comic books. It will continue to publish "slick" paper magazines, however.

Police, Mob Clash

TOKYO, April 9. (AP)—A Korean bootlegger mob clashed with Japanese police today at Takada in Niigata prefecture. Four policemen, two reporters and several Koreans were injured.

HOST FAMILY — Mr. and Mrs. Tom J. Good had the help of their family Thursday when they played hosts to upwards of 1,000 people at a barbecue celebrating discovery of oil on their south-west Borden county ranch. While hundreds milled and sat around with plentiful plates, the busy Good family took time out to pose for a picture with the top of the Seaboard, at No. 1 Good (at extreme left) in the background. Shown, in front row, left to right, are Mrs. Jeff Good, Yaso, N. M., Mrs. Modesta Simpson, Mrs. Tom Good, Tom Good, Clarence Porter; back row, Dick Simpson, Mrs. Clarence Porter and Jeff Good. LOCAL OIL

Good Ranch Gets Four Locations

Four locations have been staked on the Tom Good ranch in Southwestern Borden county where Seaboard Oil and Pan-American Producing company have brought in a discovery from the Canyon section of the Pennsylvanian series.

Seaboard staked its No. 2 T. J. Good, 1,320 feet west of the No. 1 Good; its No. 3 Good, 1,320 feet north of the No. 1 Good. Condor Petroleum Corp., headed by Ellis Hall, staked its No. 1 T. J. Good, 1,320 feet east of the No. 1 Good, and its No. 2 Good 2,640 feet west of the No. 1 Good, or 1,980 feet from the south, and 660 feet from the adjacent section—section 38.

There were unconfirmed reports that Condor's first well west of the No. 1 Good might penetrate to the Ellenburger.

At the week's close, No. 1 Good, flowed 157.84 barrels of 42.5 gravity oil in seven hours on a drillstem test of an additional 30 feet of Canyon lime pay. Results of the third drillstem test, from 7,970 feet to 8,000 feet, revealed 80 feet of pay. The wildcat rated 32 barrels of oil hourly on the first test, 7,920-40 feet, and flowed 176 barrels in 10 hours on the second from 7,940-70 feet. It is 1,985 feet from the south, 2,004 feet from the west lines of section 37-33-4n-T&P.

More hole was being made at two ventures in the Vealmoor field in North-Central Howard county. Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 Long, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 39, block 32, T-3-N, T&P survey, was drilling below 5,414 feet in lime.

Seaboard No. 2 Hodnett, 660 feet from west and south lines of north-east quarter of section 29, block 32, T-3-N, T&P survey, was making hole below 4,905 feet in lime. Seaboard No. 4 Zant, section 28-32-3n, T&P reported unofficially to have topped a formation, believed to be the Wolfcamp, at 7,340, which would put it about 172 feet high to the No. 1 Mae Zant, which also topped show in this formation recently. The venture was said to be coring.

In Central Howard county, approximately five miles east of Big Spring and just north of the Conden Refinery, Sun Oil company was drilling ahead with its No. 1 Couden Oil company, scheduled 6,500-foot wildcat.

At last report, it was drilling below 7,487 feet in lime and shale. It is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 38, block 32, T-1-N, TP survey. Magnolia Petroleum Corporation had drilling out cement plug prior to making production tests in the Northeast Howard county Mississippian with its No. 1 Gartner, wildcat in the Vincent area.

This venture recovered water in the Ellenburger at 8,542 feet. It has plugged back to 8,490 feet and cemented 7-inch casing on that depth with 200 sacks. The pipe has been perforated opposite the Mississippian and that section will be tested. It has made slight oil shows. Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 67, block 0, Lavaca Navigation District survey.

Superior Quits Reagan, Wildcat

Superior Oil Company and The Atlantic Refining Company have plugged and abandoned their No. 1-A-11 University, Southeast Reagan county wildcat in the north-west portion of the dry lake bed near the town of Big Lake.

The prospector has been drilled "light", all information withheld. As yet, there still is no complete report available.

It drilled to 10,516 feet. Top of a deep dolomite formation, thought to be Ellenburger, was called at 10,240 feet, on an elevation of 2,632 feet. A string of seven-inch casing was set at 9,820 feet.

The deep zone is rumored to have made water for the wildcat and operator supposedly plugged back into the Devonian which showed indications of oil and gas production when drilled through.

The well was acidized with about 100,000 gallons. This is the largest treatment ever injected into a West Texas oil exploration and probably is the largest in the world. However, no commercial production was developed.

The dry hole is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 30, block 11, University survey.

O'Daniel Test Hits Big Water

The big water in the San Andres-Permian came in for C. H. Murphy & Son No. 1 E. T. O'Daniel, Central Gaines county wildcat, two miles southeast of Seminole and 660 feet from east, 1,980 feet from south lines of section 16, block C-44, psi survey.

An eight-hour drillstem test was run in the San Andres at 5,376-5,441 feet, with a steady blow of air at the surface throughout the examination. Recovery was 2,608 feet of sulphur water, with no shows of oil or gas.

This venture has shown slight possibilities of a San Andres strike on cores higher in the formation but observers think it doubtful that commercial production could be developed.

Operations were waiting on orders. The prospector may drill ahead to test into the Clear Fork-Permian.

More Devonian Developed In Andrews County

MIDLAND, April 9.—More evidence of Devonian production developed on a second drillstem test of that formation at Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 18-B Cowden, wildcat two miles east of the Dollarhide field in Southwest Andrews County.

After recovering 450 feet of clean oil and oil and gas cut drilling mud on a test in the top of the Devonian at 10,035-060 feet, the venture drilled ahead to 10,090 feet and ran another examination.

Packer was set at 10,068 feet. The tool was open four hours, using a 1,410-foot water blanket. Gas reached the surface in nine and one-half minutes after the tool was opened.

Recovery was the water blanket, cut with oil and gas, 270 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud and 180 feet of clean oil. Gravity of the petroleum was 40.2 degrees. There was no water.

The development was to drill ahead. It is scheduled to continue to the Ellenburger, testing all shows of possible production on the way.

This prospective discovery is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 12, block A-55, psi survey.

An outpost to the Ellenburger of South-Central Gaines County has been staked by Shell Oil Company, Inc., as its No. 1 Selma Andrews, et al.

The drillsite is 660 feet from west and south lines of section 2, block A-23, psi survey, about nine miles southwest of the town of Seminole. Elevation is 3,330 feet. It is to be a 12,600-foot, rotary tool exploration to test into the Ellenburger, starting immediately.

Humble Oil & Refining Company has spotted an offset to its No. 1-B Barlett, recently completed well from the Silurian in the Benedum multi-pay field of East-Central Upson County.

The new venture will be the concern's No. 1 First National Bank of San Angelo, et al., staked 660 feet from south and west lines of section 5, block Y, GC&SF survey.

WEST TEXAS OIL

Northeast Basin Grabs The Play

By John B. Brewer

SAN ANGELO, April 9.—Four wildcats in as many northeastern counties held the West Texas spotlight this week.

Oil flowed from the Ellenburger in Scurry, the Cisco in Runtless from lower Permian lime believed Wolfcamp in Sterling.

Placid Oil Co. No. 1 R. H. Odom, Scurry county wildcat, became the first indicated flowing producer from the Ellenburger in the county. On a 5-hour, 5-minute drillstem test from 7,713-33 feet in the top of the Ellenburger, No. 1 Odom, a failure in the Canyon, had gas in 10 minutes, a fair blow throughout, and recovered 5,580 feet of 38.4 gravity oil plus 180 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud. Location is C NW NW 38-97-H&TC.

Standard of Texas staked six tests in the North Snyder (Canyon) field in Scurry. All were staked on J. W. Brown land in Sections 441, 440, and 438.

Lion Oil Co. No. 1 Jack Wilson, quarter mile east of the Diamond M (Canyon) pool opener, was flowing to test after a section at 6,717-43 feet showed for production.

George W. Strake No. 1 B. A. Jacob, northern Runtless County wildcat four miles northwest of Winters, opened a pool when it flowed at the rate of 7 1/2 barrels of 40 plus gravity oil hourly on a drillstem test from 2,812-25 feet lasting 12 hours, 16 minutes. Production was from the Gunsight sand of the Cisco section of the Pennsylvanian. Plugs were to be drilled on 5 1/2-inch casing cemented on top of the pay. It is 660 feet out of the northeast corner of a 240-acre lease in the southwest part of J. J. Hensley survey 83, and 4,585 feet from the south, 2,035 feet from the west line of the survey.

Production possibilities in lower Permian lime possibly Wolfcamp, almost four miles west and slightly south of the opener of the Marvin (Wichita-Albany) pool in southeastern Sterling county was indicated by Pan American Production and Taylor Refining Co. No. 2 R. W. Foster. It flowed and then recovered 1,150 feet of 29 gravity oil and 150 feet of mud-cut oil on a 73-minute drillstem test from 5,473-89 feet. Top of pay was logged at 5,474 feet and 5 1/2-inch casing was run for production test. It is in the C NW NE 10-13-SPRR.

Placid No. 3 L. T. Clark & Son in extreme southeastern Sterling 2 1/2 miles west-southwest of Placid 1 Clark, lone producer in the Water Valley San Andres pool in northwestern Tom Green county, pumped 39.6 barrels of approximately 34 gravity oil in nine hours from open hole at 883-908 in the San Andres. Pumping is expected to settle around 25 barrels per day. Location is in the C NE NE 81-3-H&TC.

Mitchell County gained one of its two wildcats when Ohio Oil Co. decided to drill in the north-eastern part of the county on the Scurry county line. The test will be in section 6, block 3, H&GN survey, eight miles east of the Sharon Ridge pool.

Capital Co. of Abilene will drill the other Mitchell wildcat. It will be the No. 1 Mary Eble, 467 feet out of the southeast corner of section 12-25-In-T&P, five miles north of Lorraine. It is contracted to 7,300 feet with rotary, to start at once.

North Scurry Reports Shows

Faint prospects of Strawn-Pennsylvanian production developed on two drillstem tests at Humble No. 1 Edmondson, Northwest Scurry county wildcat.

The first examination was for one hour at 7,300-27 feet, with a good blow of air throughout the test. Recovery was 120 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud.

Operator drilled ahead to 7,547 feet, set a packer at 7,500 feet, and drillstem tested for one hour again, this time recovering 190 feet of oil and gas cut mud.

This prospector, eight and one-half miles northwest of Snyder and 30 feet from north and east lines of section 437, block 97, H&TC survey, made water in the Canyon-Pennsylvanian.

It was drilling ahead beyond 7,570 feet through lime and shale. Lone Star Producing company was making hole toward the North-Central Scurry county Ellenburger with its No. 1 Maule, wildcat west and slightly north of the North Snyder area, where production is from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian.

The prospector had reached 7,802 feet and was boring on through lime and chert.

A one-hour and 10-minute drillstem test at 7,674-7,705 feet recovered 180 feet of salt water. Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 451, block 97, H&TC survey.

Mrs. Harwood Keith Is District Officer

Big Spring club women "walked state presidency, also was introduced and presented a bouquet by Mrs. Montgomery. Mrs. Hodge introduced Downing, who urged the training of children in basic principles of democracy and Americanism.

Mrs. Montgomery, keynoting the convention theme, said that in this new world era in which the world looks to America, women of this nation need to realize that the community is the center of national effort and the beginning point of any program; that women in each community face such challenges as the need for improved schools and libraries, city planning and a stronger community spirit; and that effective methods of attacking these problems include organization for strength, development of intellectual leadership and the courage to aim high and make big plans.

Mrs. Perry, outlining current objectives of the state and national federations, said a federation is made up of individual clubs and that a federation program has its roots in the single club and its community. She stressed that club work always has offered women three things: contact, or opportunity to widen acquaintances; representation, in which they learn the strength of unity; and education which lately has broadened from the conception of culture for the individual to an international scope. Federation programs of education, the fine arts, health, legislation and international relations are all centered now on friendship for world peace, she added.

Big Spring club women "walked off" with a number of honors, including the position of first vice president and the site of the 1950 convention at the district federation meeting held in Midland. Mrs. Harwood Keith of Big Spring, is the new first vice president. District honors won by local clubs included: Junior Woman's Forum, first place for year books, first place in the art contest for their observance of national art week, and first place for junior reports. Spoudazio For took second place for year books. The Modern Woman's Forum received an award for being 100 per cent subscribers to the "Texas Clubwoman."

"Club Women in Action in Their Community," the program theme for the Spring Convention of Eighth District Federated Women's Clubs, was sounded by speakers at the annual Presidents' Dinner.

The speakers expanded the theme to stress the American woman's responsibility for world peace. This idea recurred in talks by Mrs. J. J. Perry of Sweetwater, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. J. M. Montgomery of Fort Stockton, Eighth District president, and Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, who welcomed the visitors.

The dinner was in the Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel. The hotel and the First Baptist Church were headquarters for the convention, which closed Saturday morning.

Mrs. Joseph Best of Wink, second vice president of the district, presided at the dinner and introduced board members. Mrs. Montgomery introduced special guests.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By MILDRED YOUNG

With this Palm Sunday, we enter into one of the most sacred seasons of all the year, Holy Week. It was on Palm Sunday that Christ made his triumphant entry into Jerusalem. It was the following days that led him to the trial, crucifixion and finally, on Easter Sunday morning, to the great triumph over death. Some two thousand years later, His teachings are proclaimed by literally millions of people throughout the world. In various fashions and with many different creeds people still worship a humble carpenter, they believe to be the Son of God. For centuries, temples made from all types of materials, some of beautiful architecture and others, simple frame structures, have been sources of inspiration, hope and courage, to those who have in faith come after the Master.

We will observe Easter, 1949, in a world which a lot of people believe to be on the verge of a great catastrophe. Some of us are a little inclined to agree with them at times and at others, we are of the opinion that they are only sadly pessimistic. We think there is, at least, one good sign concerning our future and that is the fact that so many churches throughout our land are now in building programs attempting to provide a greater opportunity for people to really know the Master and the Father who sent Him into the world.

We like the site of the Future First Christian Church home. We wish the members success in their building program. Perhaps, this membership and other churchmen of the town would be interested in a church bulletin we receive from another town now and then. The bulletin carries a plan of the church plant now under construction. Above the plan is the quotation, "God does not send churches from the skies... Out of men's hearts they must arise." The second quotation is found below the plan and reads as follows: "Somewhere, some way, some time, each day I'll stop, and turn aside, and pray that God will make this church the way of righteousness to men." Pretty good motto for Holy Week, don't you think?

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend massaging preparation helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy... it helps keep the skin soft and pliable... thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use. Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Millions of bottles sold. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin emollient and lubricant. Do try it.

The CHIROPRACTOR and You

This is One Of A Series Of Articles Published In The Public Interest To Explain And Illustrate The Practice Of Chiropractic

CASE HISTORY No. 541. A former athlete who had been forced out of sport by an apparent injury to the left knee. The knee gave great pain whenever the limb was exerted, even in walking. For 7 years the condition persisted and in the patient's own words: "I spent a small fortune trying to get the knee fixed, but no luck." A few weeks ago the patient read Article No 2 of this series and visited a Chiropractor. Analysis revealed a pinched nerve in the knee which was traced to a displacement of a segment of the spine. A series of adjustments realigned the spine, released the pinched nerve and thereby by removed the cause of the pain.

CASE HISTORY No. 37. A prominent business man who suffered from severe headaches at frequent intervals. Had great difficulty in obtaining sleep. Physical examinations had failed to reveal any abnormality and the headaches and sleeplessness were put down to "nervous tension." However, during a particularly severe headache he was persuaded to visit a Chiropractor. A spinal adjustment was given and the headache ceased immediately. Chiropractic analysis revealed an acute condition of constipation due to interference with the nerves supplying the intestines. The interference was removed by spinal adjustment, and as a result, bowel action became natural and the headaches went.

CASE HISTORY No. 15. A mummified person suffering from severe "gas pains" in the stomach. Constipation and violent headaches were present. Actually afraid to eat because of the distress that followed. Had not worked a full day for seven months when he brought his case to a Chiropractor. Pressure on the nerves controlling the action of the stomach was located in the spine. Chiropractic adjustments relieved the pressure and within a short time nature restored the digestive rhythm to normal.

WHY YOU ARE ILL. Chiropractors have found that illness and disease are most often caused by pressure upon the nerves which carry vital nerve force from the brain to various parts of the body. The nervous system radiates from the spinal column, and it is here that even slight pressure from a displaced segment of the spine can impede the flow of nerve force from the brain, thus interfering with the function of one or more parts of the body. This nerve interference can be located accurately by the Chiropractic technique. The Chiropractor can then remove the pressure by a simple adjustment with his hands only. Drugs and surgery are not employed. Once the cause of the illness is removed, Nature itself restores the affected part to normal. FOR FURTHER INFORMATION concerning the modern Chiropractor and what he can do for you Phone 419. Doesn't Meet Emily Post's Rules, But Tea-Tasting Requires Slurping

NEW YORK — Mrs. Emily Post didn't attend this tea party in the Rainbow Room of Rockefeller Center. Just as well, too, because seven men and a pretty young woman at one of the tables were breaking most of the rules in etiquette book.

They picked up what was set before them and sniffed it. They drank from spoons with a loud slurping noise. And then they, at least the men did, they — well, they spit! Right in the Rainbow Room.

But they didn't get tossed out of the elegant eatery. Instead, they got their pictures taken — still pictures and sound movies and television. Probably what saved them was the fact that the men were the U. S. Board of Tea Experts and the pretty lady was Miss Patricia Morrison. She is the star of a show called "Kiss Me, Kate," and in it she sings a song about "I Hate Men." You'd never have believed it, though, if you could have seen her being spoon fed by one of the gray-haired experts.

Until this happy occasion, the tea experts had done their tasting in private. They are members of a board set up in 1937 to decide on the standard of purity and quality for all tea imported to this country. It is a joint business-government group, with six men from the tea business and one government examiner from the food and drug division of the Federal Security Agency.

The board may have stayed underground for half a century for fear the techniques of its trade would shock the finer sensibilities of an impressionable public. But it developed that the members' anti-Postian table manners are all in the line of duty.

The experts look at, feel and smell the dry tea for a first clue to its quality and flavor. Then samples are weighed out and put in cups without handles. Bubbling hot water is added and, after five minutes for steeping, the tasters grab big-bowled spoons and really go to work.

The slurping sprays the brew back onto the palate, which is the area of final appeal when it comes to judging tea. As for spitting — well, the experts taste 100 or more samples a day in their annual five-day session. If they drink the samples they'd wind up completely tea-logged.

They performed seriously and conscientiously at their first public demonstration under what must have been adverse conditions. Their audience included the Ambassadors from Pakistan and Ceylon and representatives of the Ambassadors from India and the Netherlands; Eddie Dowling, the actor-producer, who got a table all to himself as a reward for drinking an average of 30 cups of tea a day for 20 years; some 200 delegates from the worlds of business, entertainment and journalism, and a battery of hot lights.

After the demonstration the guests drank tea. (This is worthy of note in a town where similar gatherings usually feature beverages of a somewhat higher voltage.) They sampled tea from Java, India, Pakistan and Ceylon. They were told that the diplomats were present because America gets 85 per cent of its annual 30,000,000 pounds of tea from their countries.

Ex-Banker's Mental State May Be Argued In Alleged $883,600 Theft

NEW YORK, April 9. — Richard Crowe's attorney has hinted that the ex-banker's mental state may figure in his defense against charges that he stole almost a million dollars from a branch bank where he was assistant manager. "He isn't himself," Attorney Peter F. Gulotta says, shortly after a federal grand jury indicted Crowe on charges of stealing $883,600 from a branch of the National City Bank.

"When I saw him Thursday, he had a funny look in his eyes," the attorney said. "I've known him for 15 years as a loveable, nice, jovial kind of fellow. There is something wrong with Dick Crowe."

Four indictments, under three different federal laws, were returned against Crowe. If convicted, he could draw up to 45 years in prison and $30,000 in fines.

He will be arraigned in U. S. District Court Monday.

Authorities gave new details of the theft, telling how Crowe had to work in frantic haste to remove the money.

Federal officials gave this account:

Between 4 p. m. and 4:45 p. m., on March 25, Crowe took four cash Strong boxes out of a vault, and hid them in an adjoining closet.

On that day, it was his turn to close the vault for the night, a job shared by various bank officials. But for some reason that day,

Mrs. FDR, Jr. Goes To Reno

RENO, Nev., April 9. — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. is in Reno to establish residence for a divorce.

Mrs. Roosevelt, the former Ethel DuPont, refused to see reporters and photographers at the Washoe Valley Dude Ranch where a reservation had been made for her under an assumed name. She arrived by plane.

In New York, Roosevelt declined comment on the matter. He recently announced his candidacy for the U. S. House of Representatives to fill a vacancy created by the death of Rep. Sol Bloom (D-NY).

This will be the third of the late President's children to be divorced in Nevada. Elliott Roosevelt divorced Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt at Minden in 1933 and his sister Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, divorced Curtis D. Dall in Reno in 1934.

Two Infants Die In Burning Home

PETERSBURG, Pa., April 9. — Two infants, trapped and helpless in a burning home, died as firemen from three tiny Central Pennsylvania towns battled the flames.

Killed were Dennie Lee Yoder, 17 months; and Rebecca Ann Yoder, six months.

Petersburg, a community of 800, is located 35 miles east of Altoona. Firemen from Petersburg, Shavers Creek and Alexandria fought the blaze more than an hour. The boy's body was found in the kitchen, his sister's on a couch. Cause of the fire is not known.

Maxine Rosson, Kay King and Shirley Banks, members of the entertaining committee, showed the group through the den and displayed the rock collection and other points of interest.

Doris Ann Daniels, Mary Lou Stagg, Betty Jo Earley, Edith Storn, Beverly Nichols and Mrs. B. F. Mabe, assistant leader and chairman of the committee, served as cooks.

YOUR CHILD TODAY Play Is Safety Valve For Tykes But Not Easy For Adults To See

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE AP Newsfeatures

"It's not easy for adults to see the value of play for children. Subtle deep-rooted attitudes make us resist the whole idea. We refuse to plan for play. We squeeze it out of our schools as soon as we can. So long as it must go on we accept it grudgingly and starve it. The country that once proudly proclaimed the pursuit of happiness as a legitimate human goal now feels apologetic if its children have fun."

So says Dr. James L. Hymes, professor of education and author of two well known pamphlets, "A Pound of Prevention" and "Enjoy Your Child," speaking before the annual conference of the Play Schools Association.

CHICAGO, April 9. — Because Felix Casey parked his truck on the wrong side of the street he broke his arm.

Traffic Policemen Nick Regan and Joseph Piotrowski saw the traffic violation and asked Casey for his driver's license. Casey said it was in a bag tied on top of his truck—he would get it.

Casey, who is 64, clambered atop his truck, then fell and broke his left arm.

The policemen took him to Cook County Hospital and then handed him a parking ticket.

can shed our out-worn folklore and has a healing and a strengthening if we can spot these hidden pressures on us in our today's living.

The value of play for children can be easily seen and appreciated. A child growing up, he says, needs a world where, for a time, the tables are turned and he is the boss. In play he can make that world.

He needs a world where the penalties are not too severe if he acts the way he feels. In play he can make that safe world.

A child needs a world cut down to his size, a world he can cope with, a world just a little freer from restrictions that are too much for him to handle with ease. In play he can create that world where time and distance and speed and gravity do not have the force that they have in real life; where cleanliness and order and politeness do not have the standing that they do in real life; where even the inevitable restriction of small size and lack of skill and inexperience are not as binding as they must be to a child.

To build a play world, Dr. Hymes says, children need raw materials they can shape: sand and dirt and water; clay and paints; wood, raw wood, boxes and barrels and boards; wheels; dolls; rope. . . the odds and ends of closets and junk yards, the left-overs of kitchens and garages and barns, the scraps from shops and cellars and attics.

Good play offers children success, he says. Good play offers children complete absorption and intense interest. Good play offers children the chance to slough off uncomfortable feelings. Good play

Homesick Soldiers End Up In Brig

SEATTLE, April 9. — Two GIs from Texas who didn't like their outfit and took a sudden yearning to get back to home on the range ended up in the brig.

Private A. Toier, 18, of Amarillo, and Pablo Villagram, 22, of El Paso, went aboard the army transport Gen. M. M. Patrick at Yokohama as visitors 14 days ago. They decided to stow away and head for home. They said they were lonesome.

Yesterday they slipped over the transport's side as she anchored. But at 2:30 a. m., crewmen heard them about for help and threw them lines. The tide, they explained, was carrying them away.

The two soldiers were attached to the 124th Infantry, Tokyo.

CHALLENGE BRITAIN

$70 Million Superliner Will Be Built By U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 9. — A massive superliner will be built in this country at a cost of $70 million to challenge Britain's position in the Trans-Atlantic trade.

Adm. W. W. Smith, chairman of the Maritime Commission, said construction of the 48,000-ton, 980-foot vessel will begin immediately. It is due to take to the sea in the summer of 1952.

The largest passenger ship ever built in the United States, it will be slightly smaller than Britain's Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth, but will carry about the same number of passengers: 2,000.

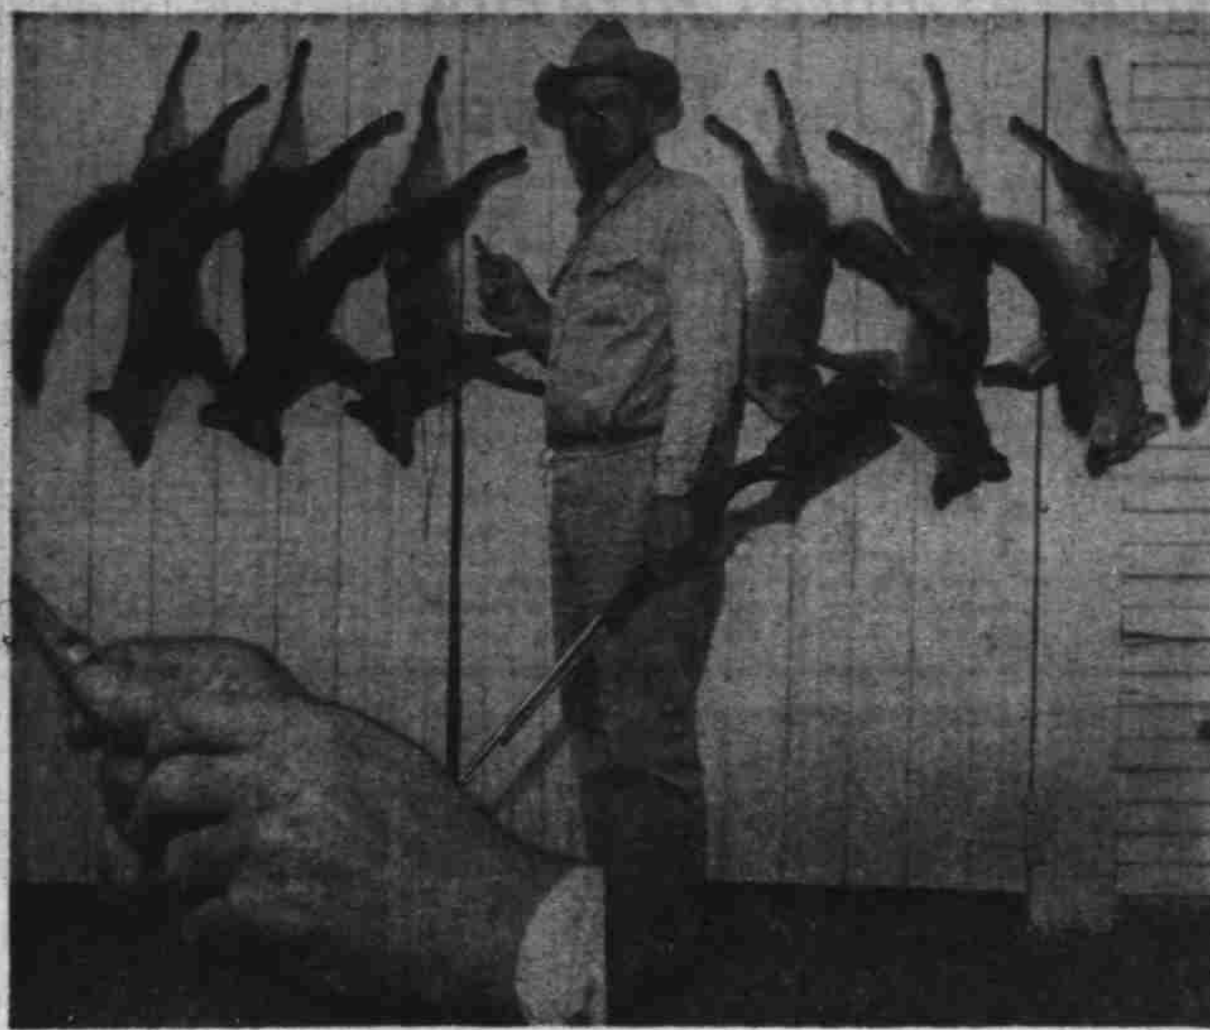

Final agreement was announced Thursday on financing arrangements for the huge luxury liner. The federal government will foot $42 million of the construction bill, mainly through a "national defense" subsidy. The other $28 million will come from the United States Lines, whose flag the vessel will fly.

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., Newport News, Va., has contracted to build the long-proposed giant for $67,350,000. The rest of the money will go for such things as architects' fees and fittings.

Incorporating new developments in architecture and metals, the liner will have a speed of about 30 knots. Its crew will number 1,000 officers and men. Its name is yet to be selected.

Smith, in announcing the government's decision, to help finance the construction, termed the move "the most important step the Maritime Commission has ever taken to bolster the peace-time merchant fleet and to protect the nation's welfare."

A-FOXING HE HAS BEEN — Earl Brownrigg, county trapper, poses with his "little whistle" and .22 rifle with which he polished off the six foxes shown above within 35 minutes hunting time. With the little device, shown at left inset, he sounds calls over likely country. For some strange reason, the foxes frequently almost run over him. (Jack M. Haynes Photo).

Earl Brownrigg Has Fabulous Luck With Trusty, Homemade Fox Caller

By JOE PICKLE

It was getting along toward the shank of the evening. Slanting rays from the sun spotted the flats and crests with mixtures of winter gray and faint green of spring, spilling over into darker hues and shadows along the Canyon walls.

A faint breeze blew into our faces as Earl Brownrigg put a curious, homemade instrument to his lips.

"HUHWAHHEE! HUHWAHHEE! Eeawha, Eeawha, wah, wah, wah!" This strange cross between a duck caller and a child's balloon whistle cut through the stillness. In the distance it bounced off points and canyon walls. Then it sounded again, primitive and anxious.

The two of us, crouched on the brow, and eyed the slopes and canyons below. Around the bend of the rim Kent Morgan scanned the canyon that fingered to the south. Earl, county trapper, had seen a fox in that general vicinity a couple of nights before. Signs of fox had been lacking that day, except in a draw where a bobcat left markers after killing a couple of lambs the night before. The trapper put out four traps for the predator and we steered clear of the area.

Nothing could be heard except the gentle ripple of the wind. There were no signs of movement down below.

Working his fingers with quivering motion, like a concert master on the strings, Brownrigg sounded the caller again—and again. The cry tailed off into a series of whimpers.

This same procedure had produced nothing at other stands and Brownrigg shook his head.

"They ought to be coming now if they're within hearing," he whispered.

Suddenly there was a Ping! Splat! around the brow of the rim. Kent was on his feet, wading through the rocks and brush, his shoulders hunched over his .22 rifle. There was another shot.

"He got him," said Brownrigg. "Let's get down. There may be another."

But there wasn't, call as he might on his whistle.

It's uncanny the way foxes will come on response to the call. Kent had picked off the sharp-nosed, long-tailed creature as he ran right toward us. He was moving deliberately with his ears pricked and nose pointed right toward the caller. He looked around when Kent aimed, but didn't bolt.

That's the way they come in, "about half bold," as Kent put it. Brownrigg has had some fabulous luck with his caller. A week ago, with fox signs plentiful, he bagged six foxes within 35 minutes hunting time. Three of them he picked off at once stand. Then he moved to another location and called up two others. Stopping at a windmill on the way back to camp, he bagged another. A couple of evenings later he and Kent picked up signs and got one of two foxes that came right on them.

The evening Brownrigg got six, the first two he had called in with his wierd device came so close he could almost reach them with his gun barrel.

"I had to yell at them," he recalled. "They were all bristled and ready for a fight."

He also bemoaned that his shooting eye wasn't as good as it had been. He had to shoot seven times to get the six animals. It came out he shot one of them twice, however.

For fox calling he has two instruments, both turned out while he waited for coyotes and bobcats to step into his traps. The bigger one is about three inches long and approximately an inch thick, resembling a double-nosed wooden bullet that has been split horizontally. It is hollowed down the center and put back together with a each end protruding about an inch. One end has a paper-thin reed. This one is for distance calling. When fox get with range, he blows

TEXAS POLL

Jester Losing In Popularity

AUSTIN, April 9 — The general public continues to give the governor a better grade than the legislature on the handling of the state's affairs. Since two years ago, however, the Legislature appears to have picked up in public esteem while the governor has lost in popularity.

Here is the box score:

	1947	Now
Approve Governor	62	55
Approve Legislature	45	47

These findings by The Texas Poll are based on comparable statewide surveys in which the following questions were asked:

"In general, do you approve or disapprove of the way Beauford Jester is handling his job as Governor of Texas?"

	1947	Now
Approve	62	54
Disapprove	15	16
No opinion	23	30

on a tiny cane whistle that sounds more like whining and whimpering. This one sets the fox on fire. He just can't stand it anymore, and comes right on top of the caller, all bristled for action.

It's positively amazing, but only slightly more so than Kent's knowledge of the 43-section Morgan pastures in southeastern Howard county. A bird dog flushing a covey has nothing on him when it comes to spotting a trail that hasn't been used in 10 years. And when there isn't any trail, well, Kent is a convert to the doctrine that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points. It also is the most exciting.

	1947	Now
Approve	45	47
Disapprove	23	16
No opinion	100	100

The "no opinion" percentages include all persons who fail to give an opinion. Many of these abstain from expressing themselves because they feel they don't know enough about the subject. Others however, may be well informed but want to postpone their judgment. Future legislative developments, as well as activities of the Governor, will tend to influence some of these people to make up their minds.

Although Mr. Jester's popularity is lower now than it was two years ago, it has been increasing in recent months. Based on only persons with opinions. The Texas Poll's index of the governor's popularity has shown a gain of 1 percentage points since last December.

Writes its Owner's Biography!

IT SEEMS SAFE to say that there is no material possession which speaks more eloquently of the man who owns it than a Cadillac car.

Wherever it is driven, it offers authentic testimony as to its owner's good taste—his concern for the safety and comfort of his family and friends—and his general standing in the field of endeavor in which he has chosen to make his contribution to the world's affairs.

Indeed, if a complete list were published of those who own and drive this distinguished car—it would be obvious that it has become a hallmark of achievement in almost every walk of life.

That this should have happened is entirely logical—for Cadillac cars have been built, for almost half a century, to the most uncompromising standards of excellence. As a result, Cadillac stands alone in all the things that make a motor car a distinction to possess and a pleasure to utilize.

The 1949 Cadillac is the grandest of them all, in every way. Why not visit our showrooms and see for yourself? You are welcome at any time.

Help For Oldsters Hiked By Millions

By The Associated Press
Thousands of old folks are going to get more cash from the public purse.
Old age assistance funds or payments have been increased in 11 states so far in the 1949 legislative season.
Thirteen other states are studying proposals to give more money to needy citizens who are 65 or older.
North Dakota increased the minimum payments from $40 to $60 a month in cases where there is only one recipient in a family, and from $30 to $45 when there is more than one. The minimum was set at $50 in New Mexico.
Maximum benefits were hiked from $40 to $50 a month in Maine. Nebraska raised the ceiling from $50 to $55. Montana provided for a hike of $7 in monthly grants that had averaged $45.
The Illinois Legislature decided to boost the ceiling from $50 to $65 a month with the provision that it would be adjusted up or down as the cost of living rose or fell in the future.
Higher appropriations were voted in North Carolina, Idaho, Arkansas, West Virginia, and South Dakota. As a result, the average monthly awards can be increased from about $21 to $25 in North Carolina, and about 30 per cent over the current $20.89 in West Virginia. The average in South Dakota can be boosted about $5 to around $38.50, with a top of $50.
But the traffic wasn't all one way in the 14 capitals where decisions already have been made. Indians, Utah and Wyoming made no changes.

None of the measures adopted thus far this year has hit the high target raised in California. The voters there last fall approved a proposition to hike benefits for senior citizens from $60 to $75 a month. To meet the added costs, for the rest of the fiscal year ending June 30 and for the next fiscal year, the governor has asked an extra $118,235,000.
Cash help for the aged runs into millions. Before the 1949 legislative session began, about 2,500,000 men and women were getting such aid. The average payment for the U. S. as a whole was $41.50. The monthly total topped $100,000,000.
The funds go to needy people 65 or over—oldsters such as those who are not covered by the federal old age and survivors insurance system.
Federal and state governments both contribute money to the old age assistance programs. The federal government shares in payments up to $50 a month. Anything over $50 must be paid by the state alone.
Proposals now being considered in 13 states vary quite a bit. But in half of them appropriations would be increased without raising the limits on benefits.
Among the many bills in Massachusetts are some seeking a $75 minimum.
The Texas Legislature is at work on a proposed constitutional amendment to take off the $35,000,000 annual ceiling on state expenditures for old age pensions and grants to dependent children and the needy blind.

A move is under way in Connecticut to remove the $50 ceiling and base payments on actual need. Minnesota's governor favors removal of limits.
Proposals to increase the maximums from $50 to $60 a month have been made in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Square Dance Craze Has Reached Clear To Japan

SAPPORO, Japan, April 9. (AP)—From the hills of atom-bombed Nagasaki to the snow-clad peaks of Hokkaido, the cry of "swing your partners" rings out as Japan takes to the square dance.
Responsible for the vogue is Winfield Niblo of Denver. An employee of the civil information and education section of the military government, he teaches square dancing as a sideline, just for fun. The Japanese love it.
For the last couple of years the pastime has been restricted to the southern islands, where Niblo formerly was stationed, but now he has brought it to this northern territory.

On a recent weekend Princes Takamatsu and Mikasa, brothers of the Emperor, were persuaded to try it. In Sapporo for a ski meet, they visited the municipal auditorium where Niblo and Agnes Morris of Philadelphia was instructing 1,000 Japanese.
"Four young ladies provided expert instruction for the Princes and appeared bothered not at all by their royal partners," said Niblo. "The girls pushed them this way and pulled them that way with reviews abound."

With the six-piece city hall band turning out recognizable facsimiles of "Little Brown Jug," "O Susanna," and "Nellie Gray," the Princes won what the local paper called "thunderous clapping of hands" from the spectators.
"The Princes breezed through the Virginia reel like a couple of native Virginians," said Niblo.
Prince Takamatsu said afterward he liked the "friendly atmosphere" at the dance, while Mikasa said he'd like for his family to join the fun some time.

Scientific Expeditions Get Plenty Of Bidders

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter
WASHINGTON, April 9. — The applicant said he'd be ready to go anywhere in the world this summer — just as soon as he finishes the seventh grade.
"I will be 13 years old this summer," said a letter to the National Geographic Society from an Ohio lad who wanted to hitch up with one of the society's geographical expeditions.
"I'm a very healthy boy, having had almost perfect attendance at school this winter," ran the letter written in a big, school-boy hand on lined notebook paper. "I think this is an advantage because I would not be getting sick on an expedition."
"I could help keep track of supplies. I could carry things for the most important members of the party. I could run lots of errands and I know I could do many more things to make myself useful."
Thousands of people of all ages — male and female, small fry, college boys and girls, businessmen, mechanics, school teachers, farm boys, ex-servicemen — write such letters to the society. When they hit a peak the society knows spring has arrived.

Some list education in science as a possible qualification, but all profess a great love for the outdoors and adventure. Pay is secondary. Some even want to pay part of their expenses.
The society has to tell them that while it appreciates their motives the thing is out of their hands.
The National Geographic Society does not select individual members of any survey party. It appoints a leader who is an outstanding scientist in the particular field to be investigated, and he selects his own personnel. And most of those he picks are experienced in the field.
But even such explanations as that fail to faze some applicants.
An Eagle Scout from upstate New York has written three times to try to line up something for himself and three fellow Scouts.
It was a springtime letter that came from an Ohio girl, 18, who confessed to "a malignant case of wanderlust."
"I hasten to assure you that I am an unusual girl," said she. "I am an amazon—five feet, ten inches tall and weigh 135 pounds. I'm blonde, blue-eyed and enjoy exceptionally good health."
"I can cook enough to stove off starvation, drive a car, even milk a cow. I have de-tasselled corn, clerked in a flower shop, modeled in local stores, waited on tables on a dude ranch in Colorado. If public opinion will help, I was elected (in school) 'most likely to succeed.'"
"My parents are willing to trust me. Why shouldn't you?"
Many applicants say they got the bug from articles in the National Geographic Magazine.
An Illinois youth, 17, told the society flatly that after reading an article on Tahiti "I have decided to go to the island of Tahiti and live the rest of my life. I love to swim and live like these people do."
A New York boy, 16, and six feet-four inches tall, says "a large portion of my education has been derived from that classic (the magazine)." He adds:
"I want to go on an expedition. If I could get any position—cook, bottle washer, or assistant coolie—I'd be overjoyed, for I love work, adventure and the society."
A Pennsylvania truck driver wants to go on an expedition because "I love to travel for scenery."
A government railway clerk in the Midwest has "nearly 60 days' vacation due me and would like very much . . . to work my way on some expedition." He's 47, married and hopes "I am not considered too much of a dreamer."
Some of the college men have geological, archeological and other scientific background, but they stress other training which they think might come in handy on an expedition — such as ability to repair radios, take pictures and do other chores.
One man pointed out that he was quite a hot-shot on the track team at a Southern university.
A number of ex-service men, including some fliers, point to their "travel" experience in the South Pacific, Europe and Africa as possible qualifications.
And one youth who sought Society backing for an automobile expedition over the projected Pan-American Highway, said he had had quite a bit of experience in rough-riding while trucking on the Ledo-Burma Road during the war.
The Southern Conference track and field meet will be held at Chapel Hill, N. C., on May 20 and 21.

NEAR-MIRACLE OF CONSTRUCTION

Rush Work At Morgan Creek To Meet June 4 Deadline

COLORADO CITY, April 9.—(Sp1)—Work done at the Morgan Creek dam site, near Colorado City, since ground-breaking day, February 18, is in the near-miracle category. Progress has to be seen to be believed. At the site, five miles southwest of town, a contractor from Ft. Worth, Harry Campbell, his foreman, John Graham, and 155 workmen are, to date, making dam-construction history.

Tons of the red clay earth has been moved. Brush and all trees are being cleared from the lakebed, everywhere the water will touch. The dam, proper, is now a little better than one third completed. With favorable weather conditions the dam will be ready early in June.

Campbell was at the dam-site Thursday afternoon along with Beeman Fisher, assistant to the president of Texas Electric Service company which is building the dam. Asked if he expected to make that June 4 deadline date in his contract with TESCO, Campbell smiled quickly. "All the boys in the construction business are betting three to one that we won't. Sometimes I'm inclined to bet with them—on their side."

But the weather, so far, has been good. The half-million dollar dam is becoming a reality fast. One may stand high on a rocky bluff and hear figures given by J. F. Otis, inspector for Simon-Freeze, engineers who drew plans for the thing. Otis will tell you that the dam is now at an elevation of 2055 feet. The finished dam will have an elevation of 2090 feet. Otis and Graham travel by jeep over the many little new roads at the construction site where work goes on 22 hours each day.

But it still takes an eye-view of the giant project for the facts and figures to come alive. "The floor of that old Morgan Creek bridge," Fisher says, "will be 37 feet under water when the lake is done." The bridge, an old iron-braced one-way affair was built in 1888.

"Those men over there? They are preparing and wrapping the Magnolia and Gulf oil pipelines to run through the lake which will cover 32,000 acre feet of water. And the Texas and Pacific men are busy building their bridge." That T&P new bridge is miles from the dam, nearer Westbrook than to Colorado City.

TESCO's Morgan Creek dam will be 4490 feet long. Its base will be 425 feet wide, its top 28 feet. There will be 78,000 cubic yards of clay in the dam. There will be a blanket of gravel all the way up each slope, up-stream and down, then that gravel will be rip-rapped with rock.

Every 24 hours workers at the dam-site place 30,000 cubic yards of clay on the dam. That clay is spread, then thoroughly wetted and rolled to make it tight and hard. The men are working in the creek-bed itself, now, and have been averaging one foot per day in the dam's growth. As the dam grows more narrow at the top Otis added that "Sometimes they have made as many as four feet per day."

Six Euclid dirt loaders which load 18 cubic yards of dirt in 30 seconds are in use during the three shifts. There are three trucks carrying 12 cubic yards of dirt and six turn-pulls, made by the famous La Touneau. All the dirt being used is being excavated from the site of the emergency spillway, about 1200 feet wide.

On the wetting job, there will be used 3,000,000 gallons of water. Up to now all that water has come from Morgan Creek channel.

The service spillway is perhaps the most beautiful feat underway, by the standards of the mechanical mind. It will be 600 feet long, and when the water reaches an elevation of 2070 feet, the water will automatically spill through two conduits, 10 feet high and made of steel-girded concrete. Those conduits will take the overflow water straight through into the old channel of the creek and the water will then flow a few hundred yards to the confluence of Morgan Creek and the Colorado River.

By next week-end that service spillway should be completed to the point where the dam proper can be built right on over.

The emergency spillway, to the north of the dam, will automatically take care of flood water when (and if) it reaches an elevation of 2073 feet.

A mile and a half upstream will be the intake and pumping plant for Colorado City's new water supply from Lake Colorado City. Under a recent contract with Texas Electric, overwhelmingly approved by city voters this week, the town will buy water for municipal use from the lake to be formed by TESCO's dam.

Where the little rural school for colored children stands, Texas Electric will erect its million dollar steam generator power plant. That site is perhaps a mile and a half or two miles north and east of the dam. The school will be moved to another site on the Thompson ranch.

The power plant will be, company officials estimate, in operation by June 1950. The plant will use water from the lake to cool steam generators, then the water will be returned to the lakebed. It will be designed like that near Monahans in Ward county. Power generated at the new Morgan Creek plant will be fed into TESCO's power system through two high voltage lines.

It will be a fuel-burning plant. Gas for the plant will be piped in by Lone Star. The plant will use as much natural gas as the combined cities of Big Spring, Abilene, and Colorado City, Fisher said. Thirty-five men will be employed at the generator plant and will be housed at the site.

Gregory Peck In Western Thriller At The Terrace

One of the "super" westerners of recent release is "Yellow Sky" which is featured at the Terrace Drive-In theatre tonight and Monday night. Gregory Peck, Anne Baxter and Richard Widmark have the stellar roles.

William Wellman directed the hard-hitting, exciting film fare. "Yellow Sky" recounts the story of seven men—outlaws—who, hunted over the burning Arizona badlands, hide out in a ghost town where a girl, wise in the ways of men and the desert, lives with her grandfather. The outlaws are excited by the hint of a gold cache hidden by the old man, and become wracked with suspicion of each other. But it is the lone girl, and the ruthless determination of each of the men to make her his personal prize, that sparks the terror and tense drama of the inevitable battle between them, and builds the suspenseful plot to its terrific climax.

Gregory Peck is the leader of the desperadoes whose efforts to keep the men in line is complicated by the complex relationship that develops between himself and the girl. Anne Baxter plays the desert-hardened girl. Richard Widmark is the treacherous outlaw who challenges Peck's lead. Others in the cast include Robert Arthur, John Russell, Henry Morgan, James Barton and Charles Kemper.

A new aspect of the battle between the sexes forms the intriguing theme of Dan Hartman's production, "Every Girl Should Be Married," which is at the State theatre today and Monday. Starring Cary Grant, Franchot Tone and Diana Lynn and introducing talented Betsy Drake as the impulsive heroine, the romantic comedy is based on the premise that a modern girl should be allowed to campaign for the man she wants instead of sitting around waiting for a proposal. When she encounters Grant, a prosperous doctor Miss Drake decides he's just what she's been looking for, and launches a carefully-planned drive to entice him into matrimony. The doctor is amused by her stratagems, and when she sees they aren't working, she tries a new attack which brings about the story's hilarious complications.

Tone, as her employer, and Miss Lynn, as her startled but loyal companion, play important parts in the gay offering in which Alan Mowbray is featured. The Dore Schary presentation was produced, directed and co-written by Hartman from the story by Eleanor Harris.

'Command Decision' Stirring Drama Of War Strategy

One of the explosive stories to come out of World War II is "Command Decision," which is offered as the featured attraction for today and Monday at the Ritz theatre. It has a stellar, all-male cast, headed by Clark Gable, Walter Pidgeon, Van Johnson, Brian Donlevy, Charles Bickford, John Hodiak and Edward Arnold. It is a tense drama of a group of air-minded men who helped win victory for the Allies by striking a series of crippling blows at the enemy against overwhelming odds. Originally a Broadway play, "Command Decision" evoked wide acclaim. Clark Gable has his most dramatic role attempted since his post-war "comeback." He appears as the dynamic general who must fight even his own superiors and fellow military operation he knows must be accomplished. Walter Pidgeon deserts the lighter roles of recent films to appear

'GOLD STACKED LIKE CORDWOOD' Miner's Widow Hunts For Vast Treasure

HOT SPRINGS, N. M., April 9.—A miner's widow is hunting a hidden cave in which she believes may be a vast treasure in gold and jewels. She is Mrs. Ova E. Noss of Hot Springs. It was her estranged husband, M. E. (Doc) Noss, who told of finding the cave by accident 12 years ago. He told his wife he removed several metal ingots and jewels and then unintentionally blocked the vertical hole in a blast attempt to widen it. The war interrupted his work. Noss was shot to death March 5. His financial backer, Charlie Ryan of Alice, Tex., is charged with murder. Ryan testified upon arraignment that he had objected to Noss' using Ryan's trucks for "illegal" activities. Mrs. Noss's prospecting permit has just been extended. She says her late husband and Ryan had sought a permit for the site but found she already had obtained one. Until Noss's death, he searched in adjacent areas. Noss had told of finding many black bars stacked like cordwood, each weighing 40 to 70

MODERN AGE BIT ON SPEEDY SIDE
BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 9. — Short wave radio brought taxicab service too fast for a Binghamton housewife. She telephoned for a taxi; the cab company used its radio system to notify a driver whose car was next door to the woman's house. She had barely hung up the telephone, when the driver arrived. "I won't ride with you," she said sternly. "You drive too fast, young man." She called another taxicab company.

HIGHLIGHTS ON KBST Crucifixion Told In Radio Bible Story

History's most infamous act of treachery—the betrayal of Christ by Judas Iscariot—will be dramatized on the Palm Sunday broadcast of The Greatest Story Ever Told, this evening at 5:30 p. m. over KBST and ABC.

The Biblical drama, titled "The Betrayal and the Crucifixion," is the first of two Easter season presentations. It will be followed on Easter Sunday, April 17, with the story of the first Easter, "The Resurrection." "The Betrayal and the Crucifixion" follows Christ into the garden of Gethsemane, where his last hours are spent before Judas betrays him to Roman soldiers, to the palace of Caiaphas where his trial is held on the march to Calvary.

SHAKESPEARE PLAY
One of the gayest comedies of all times, "The Taming of the Shrew," by William Shakespeare, is produced on "Theatre Guild on the Air," this evening at 8:30 p. m. over KBST, starring Burgess Meredith and Joyce Redman. The play is presented in a special U. S. Steel broadcast from Chicago. The lively, light-hearted nature of "The Taming of the Shrew," has kept it a perennial favorite ever since it was performed in Shakespeare's time, as far back as 1580.

FINE ARTS QUARTET
Franz Josef Haydn's Quartet in D Major, "The Lark," has been chosen by the Fine Arts Quartet of the American Broadcasting company for this morning's broadcast at 10 to 10:30 a. m. over KBST.
