Letters to Be Published in News

Santa Invites Children to Write

North Pole
Dec. 1, 1964

Dear Children:
Here it is almost time for my yearly trip to McLean. It seems the only yesterday that we returned to our home here at the North Pole, and all of a sudden we're having to get ready to head south again.
It's really an enjoyable trip for me, though, for I miss you children when I'm off up here in the snow-covered country.
Still, Mrs. Claus and I keep busy between Christmas seasons making toys and other gifts for you in helping to spread cheer throughout the world.

Our toy factory is really humming now, and you would be surprised at the number of gifts we have already turned out.

Rudolph and all the other reindeer began their training a few days ago. You should see them galloping over the snow as they toughen up for the long journey on Christmas Eve.

Rudolph polishes his red nose each day, so that it will be ready to guide us through the night.

We are looking forward to your letters to Santa. Don't forget to write them now, and tell us what you want for Christmas. Mail them to Santa Claus, in care of The McLean News. They should be in the mail not later than Dec. 17.

Each one we receive will be published in the annual McLean News Christmas Edition on Dec. 24.

It's all right if Mother and Dad help you write your letters. I'm eager to see all of you at the McLean Lions Club Santa Day on Saturday, Dec. 19. Don't disappoint me.

Mrs. Claus needs assistance with one of those new-fangled toys, so I had better get to work.

Love to all,
Santa Claus

Everyone's Invited

'Santa Day' Slated Dec. 19 in McLean

Saturday, Dec. 19, will be "Santa Day" in McLean, and all local and area youngsters are invited to be on hand to greet Santa Claus on his pre-Christmas visit at that time.

The time for Santa's arrival in town hadn't been set today by the Lions Club, which annually sponsors Santa Day here.

But the Lions issued an invitation to every child in this area to be their guests.

Santa will ride a firetruck into town, and after treats are distributed the children will have an opportunity to join him on the truck for a ride around the city.

Preparing List

Lions also are making plans to distribute baskets of food to the underprivileged shortly before Christmas Day.

Local preachers are cooperating with the club in preparing a list of families who will receive the baskets.

To help finance the Santa Day and Christmas basket projects, the Lions this week began the sale of Christmas trees.

The trees, ranging in price from $1.75 to $6, are being sold in the former Louella's Ladies and Children's Shop building.

A large assortment of trees was delivered to the club Tuesday, but residents were advised to buy their early for best selection.

Home Decoration Contest Scheduled

The McLean Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a home decoration contest during the Christmas season, according to President Bob Stubblefield.

Judging is scheduled Christmas week.

Prizes will be $15 for first place, $10 for second and $5 for third. Stubblefield said judging will be based on beauty, originality and use of the Christmas theme.

The Jaycees encouraged all residents to decorate their homes for the season. It will not be necessary to enter the contest. Judges will check each house in town.

Saunders Sells Bull

George F. Saunders, McLean, recently sold an Aberdeen-Angus bull to J. D. Blish, Roosevelt Okla.

Three Local Teams Victors at Lefors

McLean sailed away three victors on a trip to Lefors Tuesday night—the Tigers winning 47-41, the Tigrettes 38-35 and the Tigrette B team 26-14.

The two A squads begin action today in the Shamrock Invitational Tournament which continues through Saturday.

Eddy Windom pumped in 20 points to lead the Bengals over the rival Bucs in their nip-and-tuck battle.

SNOW COVERS McLEAN OVER SHEET OF ICE

Moisture Total For Year Stands Far Above 1963

A freezing drizzle Wednesday night gave McLean its first coating of ice this season, and this morning a layer of snow was deposited.

Snow was still coming down as McLean began to stir. At 9 a.m. today, it was rapidly covering streets, highways and lawns.

Light rain started late Wednesday afternoon and continued until the night, when dropping temperatures turned it into ice.

2.86 in November

It was the only moisture the city has received this week.

A total of 2.86 inches of rain fell here during November, bringing to 19.73 the amount recorded in 1964. To this date in 1963 McLean had received 14.83 inches, with only .58 coming in November.

Temperatures stayed low most of the past week, plunging to 15 degrees in the early morning hours Monday. The high was 70 degrees last Wednesday.

Jubilee Program Is Outstanding—But Few There to See It

One of the most outstanding Derby Town Jubilee programs ever was presented Saturday night—but to one of the smallest crowds. Thanksgiving holidays apparently cut deeply into the regular attendance. Proceeds from this Jubilee and the one held earlier in November went to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch.

On hand for the show were Rev. Kenneth Quid, Boys Ranch chaplain, and three youths from the ranch—Bobby and Carl Sarpolis and Kip Burnett.

At intermission, Junior Chamber of Commerce President Bob Stubblefield presented the money to Rev. Quid, who told the audience that the funds would be used to help purchase suits for the Boys Ranchers at Christmas.

Express Thanks

Rev. Quid and each of the boys stepped to the microphone to express their appreciation for the donation.

Among the headlines were the Blue Ridge Ramblers from Pampa; Alice and Shirley West of Groom; Sammy Cooper and the Emeralds.

Commission to Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the McLean city commission will be held at 7 p.m. next Tuesday at city hall.

New Industry to Be Discussed at Meet

A public meeting will be held at 7 p.m. next Thursday to discuss an industry which has indicated an interest in moving to McLean.

Few details are being announced at this time. However, a representative of the company has accepted an invitation to attend the meeting and explain the product which will be produced.

The public meeting will be in the McLean High School auditorium, and everyone is invited to attend.

Members of the city commission met with the company president recently and were shown a working model, as well as a prototype, of the product.

The plant necessary to manufacture the product would employ more than 100 men.

It was pointed out during the city aldermen's discussion with the company president that transportation facilities, low tax rates and utility rates make McLean an ideal location for the plant.

Meeting with the company official at his home plant were Aldermen Creed Lamb, Boyd Meador, Jewel Meacham and Jack Shelton.

Just Between Us

The self-appointed spokesman for the Democratic Party on the Plains has, in our opinion, shown his true colors.

We seldom read H. M. Baggarly's column, "The Country Editor," in his Tulsa Herald simply because everything he dishes out is so one-sided.

If a man calls himself a Democrat, then Baggarly is for him. The man's record makes no difference whatsoever. If a candidate is a Republican, he is all bad.

By the same token, we have never been particularly impressed with Wes Lizard, editor of the Amarillo Daily News, because we haven't felt he gave equal consideration to both political parties.

In last week's Tulsa Herald, Baggarly had much to say on extremism and the closing of Amarillo Air Force Base.

We wonder if Baggarly or anyone understands what he meant when he wrote:

"One of the tragedies of the current extremism movement has been its assault on our most treasured institutions, namely, the church and state."

And in the very next paragraph, he comes out with some of the most "extreme" words we've seen in a long, long while:

"We never expected to see the day when we would actually renege the American flag, something which always aroused our emotions. Yet, not long ago we were needing gasoline while at Lubbock and found ourselves passing up a filling station for no reason except that it was flying a small flag. Unconsciously, we associated this filling station with a right-wing extremist, a government hater, perhaps a Bircher . . . and we passed it by."

In other words, if we understand this correctly, Mr. Baggarly feels there is no place in America now for good old-fashioned patriotism.

On down in his column, Baggarly takes a Sunday School poster prepared by a small child and makes a big issue out of it.

Here are his words:

"Again and again we are nauseated by the efforts of the crackpots to steal not only the American flag but religion. We were irritated by a recent story in the Houston Chronicle which reported that a Houston Sunday School teacher assigned to her students the project of making posters on Sunday School work."

"One submitted was, 'All the way with Jesus. In your heart, you know He's right.'"

HARVEST PACE IS STEPPED UP

Fair Weather Sends Strippers to Fields

Almost ideal weather the past few days has caused cotton to start rolling in large volumes to the McLean Gin.

B. F. Holland, gin manager, said at noon Wednesday that he expected to increase the number of bales ginned to 200 by nightfall.

More than 40 bales were weighed in at the gin by sundown Tuesday, an indication of how rapidly the cotton is being gathered since frost and freezing weather have killed the plants.

The natural defoliation of the cotton plants clears the way for the use of mechanical strippers in area fields.

Holland said the McLean Gin is being operated from 8 a.m. to midnight each day in an effort to keep up with the harvesting operations and the gin can process up to 65 bales during this period.

Quality Good

An increase in harvesting and ginning was noted at the Agricultural Marketing Service office in Memphis the past week, even though gathering of the crop is much slower than it was a year (See HARVEST, Page 2)

The presentation was made at the banquet held recently to honor the Cubs and their fathers. The Cubs won the trophy with a near-perfect record. A scoreless tie with White Deer was the only mark against them. The locals had an amazing defensive record during the season. Not a point was scored against them. (Photo by Carlin D'Spain)

HARVEST

As of Friday, 27,000 samples had been classed at the Memphis office, compared with 74,000 to the same date in 1963.

Grades and staple lengths of samples classed last week were lower than the week before. This can be attributed to the recent rains, and the increased harvesting by mechanical means.

Forty per cent of the cotton classed was in the white grades, with 16 per cent middling. Light spotted and spotted grades represented 60 per cent of the classing, with 39 per cent middling light spotted.

Most Is 15/16

Predominate staple length continued to be 15/16 inch, Cotton with a micronaire reading of 3.5 and above, based on uncompressed, mixed lots in warehouses, brought farmers the following prices:

Strict low middling 15/16, $27.35 per hundred pounds; middling light spotted 15/16, $27.80; strict low middling light spotted 15/16, $28.80; low middling light spotted 15/16, $25.25.

Cottonseed prices paid to farmers continued steady at $45 and $47 per ton at gin points.

Mr. and Mrs. George Colebank left by train from Clarendon Friday for Dallas to visit with their daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. C. B. Lee and Carla.

JBU

(Continued from Page 1) breaks into a rash for no reason other than a small child has heard Barry Goldwater's slogan, and thought it would fit when writing something about Jesus.

Yet, Baggary declares: "We need no better salesmen for aethism."

Really, Mr. Baggary, how extreme can you get?

And the Tulla editor even decides to take a poke at Billy Graham, the noted evangelist—"largely because of such persons as Paul Harvey, the right-wing extremists and Birchers in Amarillo who tried so desperately to get Graham to come out for Goldwater at the last minute by dispatching hundreds of telegrams from Amarillo."

Mind you, Graham refused to take sides in this campaign, but Baggary is "souring" on him because some people tried to get the evangelist to endorse Goldwater.

Is this being a little extreme, Mr. Baggary?

What really set this "spokesman for the party" off was the fact that Amarillo accepted the closing of the base with barely a whimper.

Perhaps Baggary was waiting for Wes Izzard to attack the administration with the words "false economy," after the "A to Izzard" columnist had been preaching conservatism for so long.

Frankly, we were expecting Izzard to do the same thing. But he didn't, and the column Izzard wrote the day after the big announcement made us think much more of him than we ever had before.

Baggary is quick to point out that he isn't "gloating" over the closing of the base. Yet, in the next breath, we would say he comes mighty near doing just that: "Amarillo has made its bed . . . now let it lie in it. It has danced . . . now let it pay the piper. It has sowed its wild oats . . . now let it reap the harvest."

And this wise man of Tulla wants it known that President Johnson "isn't being vindictive in a case like this . . . it's just that he doesn't feel obligated to go out of his way to stop something that needs to be done . . ."

There's no question but that closing the base will have a severe impact on Amarillo. Indeed, the entire Panhandle—and possibly even Tulla—could well be affected. If closing of the Amarillo base served to reduce the national budget, and at the same time did nothing toward weakening our defenses, this would be well and good.

America's plan for a good defense has been preparedness for war at all times, and the dispersal of our strike forces.

With the elimination of 96 military installations, it would appear that this dispersal plan is being abandoned. Thus, Russia will have less points at which it must aim a missile.

And as far as the budget is concerned, you'll never be able to tell the difference. Already, the President has indicated spending for the next fiscal year is destined to soar over the $100 billion mark.

It's a safe bet that the budget will continue to climb higher . . . and higher . . . even as military bases are folded up.

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people generally do. Not only do they read; they cut out and show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples. When people see an advertisement in print, they can compare designs . . . features . . . and prices of nationally known products and services. (And people do compare before they buy.) Advertising in print is a handy thing. You can always check back; the message is still there even if your attention is distracted. When you add it up, print advertising—the kind you read in this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sense.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

After the oratory, the shrill claims and counter-claims, a stillness settles over the nation. A decision has been made as to who will occupy the White House for the next four years, who will sit in the House and Senate. But yet to be decided is the really important question facing the nation.

That question is: How is the American economy going to meet the challenge of unemployment presented by need for jobs for young people entering working force, jobs for those forced out of work by automation?

All year long the National Federation of Independent Business, through its field forces, has been conducting a survey of this matter and other issues. The results from more than 40,000 signed respondents so far are most illuminating.

They show that around 25% of the nation's estimated 4,500,000 independent business enterprises plan expansion, creating over 4 new jobs per expanding business. Projected over the entire independent business community, this means in excess of 5,000,000 potential new jobs.

This presents facts that cannot be ignored. Simple arithmetic points this out quite clearly. Today, the 500 huge corporate complexes in the U.S. employ only 9,500,000 people... the 4,500,000 independent enterprises are employing 30,000,000 people.

But the huge industrial complexes, seeking to compete with low labor cost nations are automating more and more.

It is quite obvious that if new jobs are to be provided, if workers are to be employed and not kept on some sort of public dole, independent enterprise will have to do the job.

Most economists have not caught up with the facts of modern life. Too many of them point to capital expenditure by big industry as a sign of continued good times. At one time the more big plants being built, the more jobs for the future. However, today, situation is reversed. Every new plant is designed to use automated equipment and thus obsolete and close up an older plant.

Today the nation must look for new jobs from the independent business proprietor who will feel justified in buying a new truck to add another route, who is able to add a few more feet of floor space.

There can be no employees without an employer. And if there are not enough new employees, there will be bigger relief rolls.

Therefore the challenge of 1965 is clear.

Because far greater than the threat of the atom bomb, or any communist coalition, is the threat of millions of unemployed in America. This can create a force so explosive that its effect defies measurement. In terms of megatons, or any other yardstick. The question thus becomes this. Can the new Congress measure up to the responsibilities it faces?

Home for the Thanksgiving holidays were Linda Guill and Janice Saunders of Lubbock Christian College; Marilyn McIlroy of Abilene Christian College; Phillip Flowers and Bill Goldston of Texas A and M University. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Guill, Mr. and Mrs. George Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McIlroy, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Flowers and Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Goldston.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Kinard had the following as guests for Thanksgiving Day dinner: Paul Kinard and family of Clovis, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kinard of Perryton, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McReynolds and children of Forgan, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Newt Barker of McLean.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bayless and children of Borger visited Thanksgiving Day with Mrs. Bayless' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Abbott.

Mr. and Mrs. Newt Barker made a business trip to Pampa Monday.

NEWS OF CONSERVATION

O. R. Blankenship shaped approximately four acres of gullies and critical areas on his land northwest of McLean. He plans to establish these areas to grass to prevent further erosion.

W. D. Powers plans to install 2,700 feet of irrigation pipeline on his farm southwest of Pampa. He also plans to establish 15 acres of switchgrass next spring.

TERRACES—There are several acres in the Gray County Soil Conservation District that should be terraced. Terraces will conserve moisture and prevent water erosion.

In recent years, new method of terracing has been developed. This type of terracing is designed so all or most of the terraces can be installed parallel which will eliminate point rows.

Amos Harris installed a parallel terrace system on his farm southwest of Pampa a few years ago. This system has worked satisfactorily and has reduced labor and equipment costs.

Parallel terraces are more expensive than conventional-type terraces which are installed on the contour. The terrace channels will need to be cut or filled with a carryall so that excessive runoff water can be safely drained. These terraces can be installed on uniform slopes with very little additional cost.

Parallel terracing is a step-up in conservation in keeping with modern changes in agriculture.

FARM PONDS—The past two years have been very dry due to infrequent rainfall. There hasn't been enough rain to produce grass or livestock water. Recent rainfall has indicated that we might have an increase in moisture this winter.

Anyone needing additional livestock water should make plans now to construct dams or ponds. They will provide livestock water during dry seasons and control water erosion.

RANGELAND—In recent months, many farmers and ranchers have been inquiring about ways to improve the condition of their rangeland. The higher the condition our rangeland is in, the more grazing it will provide.

A range in "excellent" condition has 76 to 100 per cent of the original grasses; range in "good" condition has 51 to 75 per cent of the original grasses; rangeland in "fair" condition has 26 to 50 per cent of the original grasses; range in "poor" condition has 0 to 25 per cent of the original grasses.

Most of our rangeland was in excellent condition before it was settled by the white man. Heavy use over a period of many years has resulted in many of our better grasses being grazed out, and less desirable grasses have taken their place.

We can have a good cover of less desirable or junk grasses and our rangeland could still be in a poor condition. Range condition reflects the quality and quantity of grasses on the land. This reduction in range condition causes a reduction in beef.

If we had a cow that was not producing a calf or producing a sorry calf, we would get rid of her. It is just as important to know our low-producing grasses and manage our rangeland to get rid of them.

In recent years a rotation system termed "Deferred Rotation" has proven to be economical and a rapid method of obtaining range improvement. A four-pasture deferred rotation system improved rangeland during the last drought.

Other pastures grazed at the same rate, but on a year-long basis, did not improve. Following the drought, the deferred rotation pastures were producing greater amounts of beef per acre than pastures grazed at greater rates on a year-long basis.

Major benefits of the above system are as follows: Improves the vigor and forage production of the better species through providing greater leaf area and deeper root penetration; allows the better grasses to spread vegetatively; permits the better vegetation to produce seed; provides a period of rest to permit seedlings to become established; better distribution of grazing is obtained; pounds of beef per acre is increased.

In the above system all four pastures should be nearly the same in carrying capacity. Divide the total carrying capacity of the four pastures into three herds. Divide the year into three divisions with four months in each division. Three pastures are grazed and one is deferred. Only one herd is moved each four months.

That Adam and Eve were friends of God until they sinned against God or transgressed the law of God by eating the forbidden fruit. (Gen. 3:1-12)

That sin is what separates us from God and hides His face from us that He will not hear. (Isa. 59:1-2)

That all people have sinned? (Rom. 3:23) (I Jno. 1:10)

That we can't enter that city, whose builder and maker is God, if we haven't gotten rid of our sins, for that city is clean and pure. (Rev. 21:23-27)

"Please pack parcels solidly," is the plea of Acting Postmaster Frank Simpson.

The head of the McLean Post Office also reminded patrons that the use of free "local" and "out-of-town" separation bands will help move the mails faster. The bands are available at the Post Office or from most letter carriers.

Dec. 5 is the suggested deadline for mailing out-of-town packages. "Don't worry about the parcels being delivered too early, just mark 'Don't Open Until Christmas' on the front," Simpson said.

A tightly stuffed package, with nothing rattling around inside, will have less chance of being damaged in transit, he noted.

"When packaging a gift, remember that the package you send may be shipped on the bottom of a mail sack and there may be heavier packages on top. Among the relatively few packages that are damaged in transit, improper packaging is the greatest factor," the postmaster cautioned.

Just to be on the safe side, the postmaster suggests that all packages be insured.

He noted that poor packaging and addresses which are either incorrect or not legible are responsible for the non-delivery of about half a million parcels each year.

If the return address is incorrect or illegible and the package cannot be returned, it will be saved for 90 days. If unclaimed, the parcel is usually lost to the sender or intended recipient. Such parcels wind up in public auctions held at 15 major Post Offices across the nation.

All parcels should be addressed on only one side and should also have the address written on the inside of the package in case the exterior wrapping should come off.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Grigsby and Mrs. Richard Norman visited relatives in Fort Worth over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Miller were in Panhandle for Thanksgiving with their daughter and family, the Harl Moores.

Mrs. V. B. Reagor and Mrs. Marie Carruth of Lubbock spent Monday night with their father, T. A. Landers.

'Little Gal of the Golden West' Is National March of Dimes Child

A blue-eyed lady of four years, known affectionately in her home town of Denver as the "Little Gal of the Golden West," is the 1965 National March of Dimes Child. Her name is Michaeline ("Mickey") Lea Heinicke.

Mickey symbolizes the quarter-million American infants born every year with severe birth defects on whose behalf contributors to the March of Dimes have financed programs of research, medical care and education.

Mickey's mother, Maxine, tells of the tragedy that today befalls one in ten families in the United States.

"Like tens of thousands of other couples, Paul and I were heartbroken and numb when we learned the truth a few days after Mickey was born. I am a nurse, and I had had some experience with babies born with an open spine, which was the case with Mickey. I was under no rosy illusions that this third child of ours would ever walk."

"But," asks Maxine, "do you remember that song, 'Did You Ever See a Dream Walking?' The refrain comes back to me every time I see Mickey walking on her crutches and braces, or furiously riding her hobby horse in the parlor, or doing an Indian war dance to her phonograph records. I say to myself, 'that's my little dream walking.'"

"But my husband and I would never have experienced this real-life dream without the March of Dimes help."

Mickey, whose spinal rupture was repaired when she was only three days old, is now midway through a tour that precedes the coast-to-coast March of Dimes campaign in January. Although severely handicapped, this four-year-old thrives on the long days, tedious air-hops between cities, appearances at conventions and the strain of meeting Senators, Congressmen, Generals, stars of stage and screen and other public figures.

Mickey is already a veteran trouper, unimpressed by the mighty in high places. Her mother says, apprehensively:

"In January, when we expect to have the privilege of visiting the White House, I know I will faint dead away when Mickey will undoubtedly bubble over to the President, 'Hiya, Podner,' or something awfully familiar and western to the First Lady."

Birth defects are the greatest medical problem threatening the nation's children. To help provide patient aid in this area, contributors to the March of Dimes now support 50 treatment and study centers at leading medical centers and university-affiliated hospitals.

Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation-March of Dimes, says that the need for many more such centers is acute.

WHOA! Aboard her pony, Mickey Heinicke, 4, Denver, 1965 National March of Dimes Child, reins in for benefit of photographers.

"Birth defects," he adds, "are a much more serious problem than polio ever was. To attain the same successful end that was achieved in eliminating polio, we need not 50 birth defects centers but fully 150 centers to help these afflicted infants and children. Funds are also needed desperately to support research inquiries into the many scientific problems involved."

"I sometimes look at the crippled Micekys around our country, at children born without arms or legs, at other tots doomed unnecessarily to lives of mental retardation—all due to birth defects; and I wonder how many of our warmhearted citizens can fail to demand and to finance a means to end this shocking destruction whatever the cost."

AUSTIN—(Special)—A post-election review of statewide voting totals shows that only 89 per cent of the 3,100,000 Texans who were qualified to vote actually made it to the polls on Nov. 3.

Total number of ballots cast—2,760,788.

Not all of those who went to the polls voted in all the races. In Travis County, for instance, 3,461 of the 67,419 who cast ballots failed to vote in the presidential race. Elsewhere around the state, 52,304 Texans who voted in the governor's race did not vote on the lieutenant governor's race, which placed next on the ballot.

Highest vote getter, in this election and in Texas history, was Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr. He racked up 1,901,038 votes. Gov. John Connally was next with 1,877,137. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith was third, with 1,833,747.

LAWMAKERS TAKE OATH—All 42 freshmen in the 150-member House of Representatives already have taken the oath that makes them state officials. They started drawing their $4,800 a year salary the day of their oath-taking.

Thirty-three took the oath jointly in the special swearing-in ceremony. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith participated along with House Speaker Byron Tunnell and Secretary of State Crawford Martin.

Freshmen legislators who did not come to the Capitol were sworn in at home by local judges. Many did so for sentimental reasons.

HIGHEST STATE BUDGET PROMISED—Gov. Connally says that his state budget proposals will be "a good many million dollars" higher than the present spending level.

He is "hopeful" that new taxes can be avoided, but is "not prepared to say there will be none." Connally covered a wide range of subject matter in a press conference.

—He regretted closing of a few Texas military bases but commented that the action has to be "understood as the price we pay for change, for knowledge and for leadership."

—He applauded creation of a Lyndon B. Johnson State Park in Gillespie County as "an excellent idea" and said he hopes the state eventually can acquire the Johnson home itself as an historic landmark.

Peace Corps Test Scheduled Monday In Amarillo and Pampa

Another Peace Corps placement test will be given nation-wide next Monday—and in two locations convenient to McLean residents.

Dec. 7, the infamous day 23 years ago which sent Americans off to war, will this year be commemorated by thousands of Americans offering two years of their lives in the cause of peace.

The test Monday will be given in Room 322 of the Amarillo Post Office and in the main Post Office at Pampa, starting at 3 p.m.

The non-competitive aptitude test will take about 1 1/2 hours. Persons taking the test should take a completed Peace Corps questionnaire along if they haven't yet filled one.

Any American citizen over 18 years of age is eligible to take the test. A college degree is not required.

If a married person takes the test, his or her spouse must also apply for Peace Corps placement. They may have no dependents under 18 years of age.

No one can fail the test. The Peace Corps evaluates the test scores, the questionnaire and the applicant's character references all together. If the result qualifies a person to complete the intensive training program and to be an effective volunteer overseas, the applicant will be invited.

The next cycle of Peace Corps training starts in February. The major training for 1965 will take place in the summer.

Questionnaires are available at most Post Offices and college placement offices, or by writing the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20525.

Visiting during the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Martindale were Mr. and Mrs. Neal Skinner and family of Joshua; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Martindale and family of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martindale, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wayne Moore and family, all of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wilson of Amarillo visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Windom Jr. and family.

Christmas Parade Today in Pampa

Some 25 floats and several bands were to participate in the annual Christmas Parade in the downtown area of Pampa today.

The parade was scheduled for 4 p.m., after which a Christmas party for children is planned on the courthouse lawn.

The festivities are sponsored each year by the Chamber of Commerce and staged by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

WHEAT PASTURE

Leslie Darsey has moved 200 head of good native heifer calves up near Pampa for the purpose of wintering them on wheat. There are others in the McLean vicinity that should consider the same. I believe I could help you locate some good pasture on top. It is difficult to get a wheat farmer to accept cows. If a fellow looked hard enough this could be done. Many farmers have decided not to stock their wheat. The rains of two weeks ago have assured some excellent wheat pasture.

BRUCellosis TESTING

As of Nov. 28, 1964, a total of 8,024 samples of blood had been drawn from 10,974 cattle. 256 herds have been tested. There have been 24 positive brucellosis cases and 21 suspects. 980 animals have been vaccinated.

Officials of the Texas Animal Health Commission have been extremely complimentary of the ranchers in this area. A meeting of line-up men has been scheduled for Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. to plan final mop up activities.

COTTON HARVEST

Only 139 bales of cotton have been ginned. Mr. B. F. Holland and Leamon Andrews say two weeks of pretty weather would get most people through with the cotton stripping chore. Let's hope so.
