Jaycee Week Declared In Muleshoe

Cotton Harvesting Starts Up Again

According to a gin check made Friday morning, of local and surrounding gins, about 60 per cent of the 1972 cotton crop has been ginned.

In the south and central parts of the county, harvesting started up again Wednesday afternoon, but in the northern part of the county and up around Lazbuddie, the fields were still too wet for farmers to finish the harvest.

The snow that fell last week and the extremely cold temperatures seemed to have had a far-reaching effect on the local farmers. Melting from the snow and ice has made fields very muddy and farmers have been unable to get their machinery in the fields.

If the weather holds out, most farmers will be back in the fields by next week and harvesting will be in full swing once again.

Most of the gins have now cleared their gin yards and are waiting for the harvest to resume. At the peak of the harvest, just before the snow, gin yards were full of cotton trailers and there was a shortage of trailers.

Some gins started ginning again Thursday after farmers began getting back into the fields.

Earl Richards at the Muleshoe Co-op Gin reported that they had ginned around 5200 bales and that they were about 65 per cent finished for the season.

The Progress Gin reported that they had ginned 1670 bales; the Beck Gin, 3500 bales; Clay's the Beck Gin, 3500 bales; Clay's Corner Gin, 1100 bales; Lariat Gin, 3,000 bales; North Lazbuddie Gin, 2500 bales; Tibbets Gin, 2495 bales; the West Camp Gin, 3300 bales of cotton; and the Young Brothers Gin at Bula, 2895 bales of cotton.

The extent of damage to the cotton caused by the severe weather over the last weeks is still undetermined.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Drag Strips

To hot rodders, the opening of a new drag strip is a cause for jubilation. But to residents of the neighborhood, the occasion may be less joyful. Do they have legal grounds for complaint?

Unless banned by local statute, a drag strip (or other kind of race track) is a perfectly lawful activity. It may become unlawful, however, because of the way it is run. That is, it may amount to a "nuisance" — subject to abatement by court action.

The noise alone may be offensive enough to justify a stop order. Take this case:
 Residents living near a suburban drag strip found the noise so unbearable that they had to keep their windows shut. Residents one mile away had to keep their television turned on high. Residents three miles away said the noise ("like a chain saw") could be heard plainly.

Impressed by these tales of woe, a court ordered the track closed down.

Even if the noise itself isn't too bad, other factors may tilt the scales against the track operators. In one case, in issuing an injunction, the court stressed the smell of burning fuel. In another case, the court called attention to the glare of lights, powerful enough to keep the neighbors awake at night. Said the indignant judge:

"To dangle restful sleep before an exhausted mortal and never allow him to taste of its refreshing juices constitutes one of the most torturous experiences of mankind."

Still, if these assorted annoyances are kept within reasonable limits, the mere fact that the track brings some commotion into the neighborhood may be overlooked. Thus:

 The main objections to a new midget race track were 1) that traffic in the neighborhood had increased, and 2) that parking spaces had become harder to find. But this time the court denied an injunction, saying that traffic and parking were problems for the city, not for the operators of the track.
 The judge said the right to use the public streets belongs to all members of the public—including racing fans.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

I've been going steady with this boy for two years and I would like to be married this June when I finish school. My problem is that my parents do not like this boy. To begin with he doesn't have a very good job and I would have to work for us to make out. My brother says I will end up supporting him as he says he has seen him drunk and dating other girls. I don't know whether to believe my brother or not. He may be trying to make me break up with him.

Another thing is that my boy friend doesn't seem to really care whether we get married or not as long as we keep on going steady. Do you think that is the right way he should feel?

What do you think I should do?

May--Ala.

Answer:

If your entire family disapproves of this young man it would be well to really find out if he is dependable before you sign up with him for life.

Physical attraction can be very strong and that kind of love can seem to be the most important thing when one is young—but the awakening can be dreadful when one discovers that the man they married is really a drunken bum.

Louisa.

Roger Hull Writes Of Muleshoe Visit

(Editor's Note... The following article appeared in "Road Rider," a magazine for touring cyclists. Roger Hull, editor, wrote the article after he was recognized as Muleshoe's Tourist of the Week last summer. The article was brought to the attention of the newspaper by Mrs. Harrold White.)

Coming into Amarillo, I got to wondering about an item which had appeared in the Welcome Mat last Spring. The wife of the Chief of Police in Muleshoe had written to tell us that most of the law enforcement officers there were bikers and that touring riders were always welcome at the police station for a cup of coffee and some cycle-type conversation.

Well, Amarillo to Muleshoe isn't that far. I decided I'd jog down to Muleshoe and see for myself. I came into town on 214; the back way. I paused at the signal light, turned right on the road to Clovis and started looking for the police headquarters. I got a couple, three blocks down the street (or half-way through town) when I heard a honk-honk-honk. I looked around. Police car. The driver waved me over and I stopped beside the car. He was in uniform and a woman sat beside him. In the back seat was another officer and a civilian, Mrs. Creston Faver.

"Hey," I said to the driver, "Where's that free cup of coffee I've heard about?"

He grinned, "you've been reading ROAD RIDER," he said. I nodded. "Well, we got more than a cup of coffee for you." He got out of the car; so did the civilian in the back seat. The civilian was Creston Faver, a representative of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce. We shook hands.

"Yep, we've got more than a cup of coffee," Faver said. "We've got a full meal and a motel room for the night and a full tank of gas for you."

I'm sure it was apparent that

(1) I didn't understand and (2) I didn't believe it. "You see," he continued, "every Friday evening we come down here on Main Street and watch people driving by. We see a car with some nice-looking folks and an out-of-state plate...well, we pull them over and make them our Tourist of the Week..."

I had stopped listening. Now I really didn't believe it. And I was sure that nobody else would. It couldn't be happening. It was too pat.

...when we saw you coming in on 214 here a minute ago and saw that California license, Harrold here said "There goes a tired biker I bet. Let's make him Tourist of the Week. Let's give it to a cyclist for a change" and I thought it was a good idea..."

I kept thinking: Nobody will ever believe it. Nobody! I started arguing with them-coming up with any and every excuse I could think of for not accepting...I wasn't hungry...I just filled up with gas...I had to meet friends in Clovis...so why didn't they find another biker and make him..."

"Well, sir, it's getting late and there probably won't be another out-of-state motorcyclist and we'd really like to give it to you...but if you have to go on to Clovis, won't you at least let us take your picture for the newspaper and then we can say you were Tourist of the Week anyhow?"

That blocked my last escape route. Trapped. I had to confess. I turned to the driver and asked his name. "White," he told me.

"You're the Chief of Police?"

"That's right." "Well, Chief White. This whole thing isn't going to ring true-it's going to sound like a put-up job."

Now it was his turn not to understand.

"I think I better introduce myself," and I told him my name.

For a Chief of Police he does a beautiful double-take. "You're ...Hull ...editor of ROAD RIDER?"

"Uh-huh. Now, see what I mean."

"Good Lord. It does sound like a put-up job, doesn't it?" I hereby reaffirm that earlier listing. Bikers are most definitely welcome in Muleshoe, Texas.

I had an enjoyable evening, a nice room at the Ranch House Motel, a hearty breakfast and I got my picture taken. That won't happen to everybody of course, but the cup of coffee offer still stands and if you hit town on a Summer Friday evening-with out-of-state plates-who knows?

A few days after I got home, Harrold and Meg (White) sent me my 'notices' as they appeared in the Bailey County Journal.

After the Muleshoe occurrence the rest of the trip had no choice but to be comparatively uneventful. Not even the cloudbursts in New Mexico and Arizona seemed other than routine. From California to Nevada to Utah...Sturgis...Badlands...Tulsa... Muleshoe... and through a varied set of adventures...All of this while on a Very Red Guzzi.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Farmcast

Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Up, up and away? ... Sheep On Feed Declines ... Rice Quota Vote Set ... One Million Visitors ...

At first glance, it might appear that farm prices are "up, up, and away". Although prices to farmers do show increases, production costs are also rising so the net result is not as rosy for agricultural producers as it could be. Remember, too, income in rural areas is still about a fourth under the rest of the economy.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes that Texas farmers received price increases for almost every commodity recently. Only calves and sheep are above effective parity, however.

Calf prices at $47.40 per hundredweight are $1.60 per hundred pounds above parity. Sheep at $12.30 per hundredweight are $1.20 per hundred pounds above parity. Beef cattle at $34 are $4.20 under effective parity. Hogs at $29.50 are more than $2 under effective parity.

Crop prices show an even greater parity discrepancy. Cotton at 21.2 cents per pound compared with an effective parity price of 57.20 cents per pound. Grain sorghum at $2.79 is below effective parity by 65 cents per hundred pounds.

Egg prices at 50 cents per dozen are up eight cents from a month ago, but still almost eight cents below parity. The index of all farm products was 20 points above last month and 13 percent above a year ago.

Farm production index prices paid by farmers was up seven percent from a year ago.

A 22 PERCENT decline in sheep on feed is noted in Texas. Drylot sheep feeders with a lot capacity of 2,000 head or more had 90,000 sheep and lambs on feed for slaughter on Jan. 1. This is 22 percent under a month ago, but five percent above the number on feed this time last year.

Current intentions to market are: January 50,000; February 32,000; and March 8,000. Marketings during December were 58,000 head.

COMMERCIAL slaughtering plants in Texas produced 194,000 pounds of meat during November, which represents a decline of six percent from the previous month, but nine percent above the total produced in 1971.

Nationwide, production of red meat was one percent above a year earlier.

RICE allotment for Texas for 1973 is 516,132 acres. Nationwide, the rice allotment was increased 10 percent. A referendum will be held among producers Jan. 22 to 26 to determine if marketing quotas will be in effect. Two-thirds or more of the rice growers voting in the referendum must approve the quotas to make them effective.

TEXAS livestock interests will be represented during the annual Mexican National Livestock and Industry Exposition in Mexico City Jan. 20 to 28. More than 1,000,000 visitors are expected to attend the activities.

Texas will have three exhibit spaces at the exposition. A total of 14 breed associations in the state will be represented. The Houston Livestock Show and the San Antonio Livestock Show will also be involved. The Mohair Council of America will be in charge of a display of textiles.

The Texas Department of Agriculture marketing personnel will be in charge of the entire Texas exhibits.

MULE'S TALE

Official Publication of Muleshoe High School Written and Edited by Students of the Muleshoe Schools

VOL. 9 NO. 3

EDITOR Marcus Puente

SUNDAY JANUARY 21, 1973

MHS Junior Mules Featured This Week

The Mules Tale staff is featuring Coach Raymond Schroeder and the Junior players on the Varsity Basketball team.

Coach Schroeder, in addition to coaching basketball, also coaches golf and football. He teaches World Government, Bookkeeping, and Typing. He has a Bachelor of Science and a Master of Science degree from Oklahoma State University.

Coach Schroeder was named All South Plains Coach of the Year last year. Coach Schroeder had this comment to make about the team, "This has been the most improved team since the beginning of the year that I have ever seen. It doesn't look like the same team that played that first game. One of the many thrills a coach has is in seeing a group of young men work this hard and having the desire to improve and then playing better than was expected of them."

DON LONG
Don Long, a Junior at MHS, is a guard for the Mighty Mules basketball team. Don's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Long, and they reside at 302 Chicago and attend the First Baptist Church.

Don is Junior Class President. He enjoys skiing and participates in all sports. Don commented, "We're improving with every game."

PERRY STOCKARD
Junior guard for the Mules is Perry Stockard. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S.P. Stockard. The Stockards reside at 19th and Ave. I. They attend the Richland Hills Baptist Church.

Perry's special interests include basketball, golf and snooker. His school activities include all sports except track. When asked to comment on the season he said, "People think that we have a bad team. But really we're just about one of the best teams around when we are on. We don't have much height but we are pretty good ball handlers."

RODNEY TURNBOW
Rodney Turnbow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Turnbow of Lariat, is a Sophomore at MHS. He is a member of the Assembly. He is a member of the Assembly of God Church. He is a varsity manager.

Rodney's special interests include girls, basketball, golf, and baseball. His hobbies are woodworking and painting. Rodney's school activities in addition to manager include golf, Aft Club, and FTA.

Rodney's comments concerning the team were "I personally think this is a good team. If we all play together which all of us do, we are all right. Coach Schroeder has done a great job with the boys. If we play as good as we can we will do very good in the 1972-73 basketball season."

BOBBY HENRY
One of the varsity managers is Bobby Henry. He is the son of Mrs. Marcia Henry, and they attend the Progress Baptist Church. Bobby lives at 1628 West Avenue B. His hobbies are football, baseball, dancing, and chess. In school Bobby is in Speech. He is a member of the order of Demolay. Bobby commented on the Mules by saying, "The team has really come along and I think that we could still win district if we can come back from our two losses. If we hustle and play like I know we can, then we can beat anyone in 1-AAA."

FRED LOCKER
Fred Locker, son of Mr. and Mrs. M.D. Locker, is a Junior guard for the Mules. He resides at the Muleshoe Airport. Fred attends the Church of Christ.

His special interests include flying and all sports. Fred commented, "With each game, I believe our team is improving tremendously."

DAVID WHEAT
David Wheat, a Junior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwan Wheat. The Warrants reside at 914 West Ave. D. David plays post for the Mules. His special interests include chess and water skiing. In school he is active in football, basketball, track and is an honor student. When asked to comment on the season David said, "We have a hard-working team and we will win some games if we continue to work."

GEORGE MITCHELL
George, a junior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell. They reside at 802 W. Date and attend the St. Matthews Baptist Church.

George lists his special interests as sports, girls, and music. In school he is active in all sports. He commented, "I think we have a good basketball team and it will get better each game. We don't have a large team as far as height, but we have the ability to play like one. There are two keys that will help us have a good season, and that is Ability and Pride."

KING AND QUEEN...Glenda Harlin and Roger Williams were chosen as King and Queen during the half-time activities of the Canyon-Mule shoe game Friday, Jan. 19.

Harlin, Williams Named As Royalty

In half-time activities of the Muleshoe-Canyon game Friday, January 19, Glenda Harlin was crowned Basketball Queen for 1973 by Roger Williams who was named King. The crown was presented to King Roger by Miss Brenda Weeks. After Roger crowned Glenda Homecoming Queen, Miss Rhonda Bland and Miss Debbie Glover presented a bouquet of red roses to the Queen and long stem red roses to the attendants. Miss Audrey Winn and Miss Donna Guinsley presented engraved charms to the Queen and her court and key chains to the king and his attendants. The attendants for the Homecoming Queen were Miss Brenda St. Clair. The King's attendants were Kerry Wagon and Fred Locker.

Homecoming festivities began with a Pep Rally Friday afternoon at 3:15 in the high school gymnasium. The Mullette basketball team was introduced by Coach Graves followed by a pep talk by Mullette Jeanie Putman.

Coach Raymond Schroeder introduced the Mighty Mules basketball team. Homecoming candidates were presented by Coach George Washington.

Spirit reigned with the Varsity cheerleaders in charge of the Pep Rally.

The Mighty M Band contributed much to the enthusiasm.

The Varsity boys were defeated by Canyon by a score of 54-53.

The Varsity girls won their game 58-47.

The Junior Varsity boys were defeated by the Canyon Junior Varsity.

The Junior Varsity girls lost their game to Canyon 37 to 55.

Coaches

The Mules lost their first two district games to Perryton and Levelland. These two teams were picked to finish in the top two places in district. I was very pleased with our play in both of these games. Both teams had a tremendous size advantage over the Mules. The average size of both Perryton and Levelland is between 6'3" and 6'4", while the tallest player starting for the Mules is 6'2". In the Levelland game, George Mitchell, 5'11" inch guard, pulled down 17 rebounds. George was able to get this many rebounds, not because of size, but by lot of hustle and being aggressive on the backboards.

One of the things that the Mules will be working hard to overcome in the next games is to eliminate that bad fourth quarter. In the Perryton game, we were only five points behind going into the fourth quarter but were able to score only four points in the final quarter. In the Levelland game, we were twelve points behind at the beginning of the last quarter but were able to score only two points in the fourth quarter. In both games with an outstanding fourth quarter, the Mules could have had an opportunity to win.

Electricity-It Does So Much Good

Total Electric Heating
 FOR SO MANY PEOPLE

Through a similar percentage of the total harvest, cotton from the 1972 High Plains cotton crop is proving superior to 1971-crop cotton in grade, staple and micronaire, but a decline is being recorded in the fiber strength category, according to officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

PCG's conclusions are drawn from the 25-county producer organization's first season report on area cotton quality, covering the first 1,250,000 bales classes, about 62 percent of an expected 2,012,000 bale harvest. The first report of 1971, used for comparison, included an analysis of the first 780,000 bales or about 61 percent of that year's final 1,279,000 bale output.

In grade, "early season" cotton from the 1972 crop ran 52.5 percent White, 33.3 percent Light Spot and 16.8 percent Spot. Corresponding figures the previous year were 16.9, 63.5 and 17.6, respectively.

Staple length for 1972, at 31.7 thirty-seconds of an inch, is well ahead of the 30.4 thirty-seconds average for the first almost 52 percent of the 1972 cotton. Corresponding figures the previous year were 16.9, 63.5 and 17.6, respectively.

Micronaire readings from the current season so far, although disappointing to many farmers, are still outstripping the sorry record of 1971. Average for the crop so far has been 3.3, compared to a 3.0 average at this stage of the harvest last season, and over 30 percent of this year's crop has fallen in the most desirable 3.5 to 4.9 range, as opposed to a bare 7 percent in 1971.

Micronaire generally is considered a measurement of cotton's maturity, reflected by the shape and diameter of individual fibers. Immature fibers are thin, flat or oval shaped. Mature fibers are "fatter" and more nearly round. The "mike" measurement is made by determining the air flow through a 50-gram sample subjected to an exact amount of pressure. Cotton registering below 3.5 on the micronaire "machine" is penalized in price because of its expected below par spinning and dyeing performance.

Ordinarily mike readings are expected to be satisfactory when all or most of the bolls on stalks in the field are open before harvest begins. This season, however, some cotton which appeared mature had a much lower mike than was expected. Cotton technologists are attributing this fact to lower than normal temperatures and inadequate sunshine in the early stages of boll development last summer.

Pressley, or breaking strength of the 1972 crop has been disappointing also, with an average of only 75,870 pounds per square inch and only about 55 percent above 75,000 pounds. The first 780,000 bales last year averaged 80,300 pounds with 69 percent above the 75,000 mark.

The drop in strength of this season's cotton is also related to the cool, cloudy weather of last August and September which adversely affected micronaire. But of even greater significance in determining fiber strength was abnormally high moisture available to plants during fiber development. And this same moisture was responsible for most of the 1.3 thirty-seconds increase in fiber length, which, in terms of spinning performance and the ultimate quality and strength of yarns produced, more than offsets the loss of fiber strength. PCG points out,

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: This is hard to believe, but the Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm claims he took an airplane trip last week, his letter this week reveals.

It's not very often that I get off this Johnson grass farm even I found myself flying half-way across the nation, no use saying which cities I visited, they're all pretty much alike, in fact, I looked at newspapers in five different big cities and each one of them had exactly the same news in exactly the same place--the New Orleans sniper story in the upper right hand corner of the front page, Henry Kissinger back in Paris in the left hand corner.

That's the difference between big city dailies and a paper like The Journal. Regardless of how many different towns you might visit this week, you won't find another paper with the same news as yours.

But what I started out to say was that I had heard that airplanes have replaced trains as a way of traveling and it's just about true.

All they need now to completely replace trains is a fat conductor in a shiny blue serge suit to waddle through punching tickets. They've managed everything else.

For example, airplanes can be as late as trains ever were and you can miss just as many connections. People sitting and staring at nothing in an airport waiting for a delayed plane look just like people sitting and staring waiting for a train in a depot. Airport sandwiches taste just like sandwiches used to and they cost a dollar apiece. Cold drinks 35 cents. And as for losing luggage, the aviation industry has mastered that as well as the best of trains.

After you finally get on a plane at a big airport it takes as long for it to taxi to a runway for take-off as it took a train to get out of a station. Of course airplanes don't have any sidings to wait on while another one, late itself, comes by, but they've matched that by circling overhead for an hour or two waiting for a spot to land. One plane I was on circled for an hour and 45 minutes, along with 20 others, then when it landed I discovered I had to wait 30 minutes for a crowded bus to take me to the other side of the terminal two or three miles away to wait another hour for another plane. I could have walked faster but didn't know the way.

As I see it, air travel is fine if you're the President of the United States or the Prime Minister of England and can take off from home and land where you're going without having all those other people in the way. Yours faithfully, J.A.

ST. LOUIS--Claude West, a district supervisor for American Telephone & Telegraph Company, told the police he was getting into his car when three men robbed him of $80. One of the robbers handed him a case with an Omega watch in it, saying it was "clean." The police reported the watch was worth $790.

Grain Sorghum Tests See Adverse Climate

According to J. Joe Wright, associate agronomist at the High Plains Research Foundation the entries in the 1972 Grain Sorghum Variety Tests experienced the most unusual as well as some of the most adverse climatic conditions that he could remember.

Temperature and precipitation records taken at the Foundation show that 1972 was a year of climatic abnormalities. The two most significant ones were the very cool, wet summer and the cold, wet winter that began on October 31 with an ice storm.

The 56 entries in the Double-Row Grain Sorghum Variety Test (optimum irrigation) were combine harvested on December 7. Yields in this test ranged from 5000 to 7800 pounds per acre and averaged 6720 pounds per acre. Yields in this test were significantly reduced by lodging caused by the aforementioned ice storm and made more severe by high winds and snow that delayed harvest for over a month.

The 36 entries in the Single-Row Grain Sorghum Variety Test were somewhat less affected by the adverse weather than were the entries in the optimum irrigation tests. Since this test was not planted until June 2 the cool, wet weather conditions of July and August significantly delayed the maturity of many of the medium and medium late maturing entries. This delay eventually resulted in moderate to severe midge damage to many of these late maturing grain sorghum hybrids. Thus, midge damage as well as lodging reduced yields in this test. This test was combine harvested on December 1. Yields ranged from 2440 to 5720 pounds per acre and averaged 4020 pounds per acre.

Wright added that, "the reports on all data taken from the tests will be published in the 1972 Annual Report of the High Plains Research Foundation."
