Haynes, McAnear To Play In All-Region Band Concert

After earning top spots in recent try-outs, two junior high band members will play in the All-Region Band Concert Saturday night in Canyon.

Eighth grade students Dollie Haynes and Darla McAnear, accompanied by band director Charles Turner, competed against area junior high musicians for the all-region concert honors, and each grabbed a spot.

Miss Haynes will play third chair coronet, being chosen from the spot along with 16 other students out of 65 competitors. Miss McAnear is seated in the 18th chair in the clarinet section, along with 22 other musicians who were chosen from a field of 70 competitors.

Miss Haynes is the daughter of Sam and Linda Haynes, and Miss McAnear is the daughter of J.C. and Linda McAnear.

Also competing in the try-outs and named to alternate spots were Misty Magee, Tiffany Lopez, Tina Cummings, and Wendi Smith.

The concert, which is scheduled to begin at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, will be held in the Northern Hall on the West Texas State University Campus.

A $1 admission charge will be required for parents and relatives attending the concert. The money raised from the concert will go towards music scholarships for area students.

Cubs Defeat Clarendon, Take First Place

The MJH Cubs took two straight victories in the McLean Invitational Tournament, to take the Championship trophy this weekend.

One of the most improved teams around, the Cubs defeated Miami in opening round play Jan. 10, 28-15.

High point for the Cubs was Sid Brass with 13 points. Kyle Woods was next with six, Jimmy Corely had five and Johnny Mann and Calle Holwick had two points each.

In a hard-fought match Saturday night against the Clarendon Colts, the Cubs came up with consistent point-making plays and extra effort to defeat the Colts 24-19.

Brass once again led the Cubs in scoring with 16 points. Woods had four, Mann had three and Dale Barker had one point.

The Cubettes, following a decisive 25-6 win over the Miami Warriors Thursday night, faltered Saturday night and were unable to get their game back on track, losing the Championship bid to Clarendon's rounballers 15-11.

High point in Thursday's match was Misty Magee with 11 points. Darla McAnear had eight, Dollie Haynes had four and Alicia Reynolds had two. In the Cubettes/Collette battle, the game became a defensive strife. At the end of the first half, the score was tied at 7-all.

McLean was unable to break Clarendon's defensive hold, and combined with foul trouble and not being able to 'buy a basket', lost the championship game and trophy to Clarendon. The Miami teams took third

MISD Trustees Rehire; Call School Election

MISD trustees extended superintendent Jim Rutherford's contract one year, making his existing two-year contract a three-year contract, at his present salary, during their monthly business meeting Monday night.

Business manager Shirley Johnson's contract was also renewed for one year at the present salary.

In other business, board members approved the December minutes, December Tax Assessor's Report, December cafeteria report, and the checks to be paid.

The fire marshal's visit and the vocational monitoring were discussed.

In further action, trustees called the school election date for April 6 for the purpose of electing two trustees for three-year terms each. Roger McCracken has been asked to act as election judge again.

Trustees whose terms are coming up for re-election are Joe Magee and Loyd Hunt.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:25 p.m.

Attending were trustees Joe Magee, Loyd Hunt, Darryl Herndon, John Holland, James Hetley, Thacker Haynes, and Jake Hess; superintendent Jim Rutherford; principals Ron Cummings and Dorman Thomas and business manager Shirley Johnson.

Cemetery Requirement Approved

McLean citizens will not be permitted to put above ground curbing around their family plots in Hillcrest Cemetery following action taken by city fathers during their regular session January 8.

Mayor George Terry wanted to stress, however, that the restriction was on curbing and cornerstones only—not on headstones, as many people had assumed.

Acting on a request from the Hillcrest Cemetery Association, councilmen approved the motion effective January 8.

City fathers also called this year's city election date for April 6, 1985. Citizens will be electing a mayor, two aldermen positions (two-year terms) and one alderman unexpired term (one-year term remaining from the resignation of Wayne Bybee).

Candidates may begin filing for the positions February 6 and the deadline for filing is March 6. Absentee voting is scheduled to begin March 18 and will close April 3.

S.A. Cousins has been asked to act as election judge this year.

In further action, councilmen agreed to pay a contract for $1705 for cutting trees in the city park. They also agreed to buy 400 feet of sewer rod, used to clean sewers.

Whittler's Bench

By Sam Haynes

Things really cooled off around here this week, and the weather men enjoyed a perfect record during the entire time by completely missing their forecasts.

It really makes us wonder about our country's technological expertise when we can send a man to the moon, but can't come within 20 degrees in predicting the temperature tomorrow. Folks in San Antonio and Austin and down in that country really got a surprise with those 12 to 14 inches of snow.

I've been to a number of conventions and meetings there, and I can guarantee people there wouldn't know how to handle that kind of situation. Guess an excursion on the River Walk this week was considerably different than anyone imagined it would be. It was supposed to be the biggest snow they had ever had in 100 years of recording the weather. Hope we don't break some record like that up here, we never would get dug out.

This being Super Bowl week, the boys here on the bench are about equally divided as to which team will emerge victorious. I think there has been more talk, more money bet, and a more evenly-divided allegiance than in any previous Super Bowl. It will also probably have the largest audience that has ever watched a sporting event anywhere anytime.

Advertising in T.V. is going for 1 million dollars a minute and even radio ads are over 20 thousand a minute. Both will no doubt be sold out.

It makes one wonder how crazy our society has really gotten with things like that going on and with both squads loaded with athletes making well over one hundred thousand a year (some near 1 million a year) and with the lowest paid substitute in all pro football making forty-six thousand.

It certainly seems ludicrous to me, but I am sure I will be among those millions and millions who will be watching Sunday afternoon to see what her the Miami Dolphins with their fantastic passing attack can overcome the overall brilliance of the San Francisco 49ers.

It is of course ridiculous to make predictions in a game such as this, but since I have been asked numerous times which team I would pick, I am going out on a very weak limb and choosing the San Francisco team to win in a fantastic game 34 to 31.

Will be back next week to tell you why things just didn't work out!

Councilmen tabled a request from the library concerning a copy machine. After paying current bills, councilmen called an executive session at 8:22 p.m. They re-opened the meeting at 9:23 p.m., at which time they also adjourned. Attending the meeting were mayor Terry; councilmen W.A. Bentley, H.F. Fabian and June Suggs; city secretary Stella Lee; city superintendent Bob Glenn; and R.L. Everett.

Lifestyle: A Key Factor In Heartburn Prevention

More and more Americans are falling into the lifestyle trap of the 80s.

With increased financial pressures, two-income families and, in general, a faster-paced lifestyle, it's not all that surprising that as many as 75 million Americans suffer from heartburn each year.

While there is no clinical evidence to suggest a direct cause-and-effect relationship between a change in environment and lifestyle, medical experts generally agree that the presence of one or both of these factors can increase the severity and incidence of heartburn.

When considering the lifestyles of today, the universal behavior characteristic most common is stress. Stress produces acid secretion in the stomach and, combined with certain foods and other personal lifestyle habits, can greatly contribute to the onset of heartburn. The list of offending foods includes hot and highly seasoned foods, chocolate, foods high in fat content, processed meats, carminatives (peppermint, spearmint), coffee, alcohol and carbonated beverages.

"Fast food and an overall hectic lifestyle have become commonplace for today's society," notes Dr. Gordon McHardy, professor of medicine emeritus at Louisiana State University. "We should take time to enjoy our food and give our digestive tract a relaxed medium in which to work."

An important solution to heartburn is prevention, and that requires that the heartburn sufferer reevaluate his diet and overall lifestyle and act accordingly. For prompt relief of heartburn once it strikes, most physicians recommend an over-the-counter antacid such as Gaviscon®, which has a unique formulation especially designed for relieving the painful symptoms caused by the condition.

For the nearly one out of three Americans who suffer from some form of heartburn each year, prompt relief is the foremost consideration. However, if heartburn persists and is experienced on a regular basis, you should consult your physician.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

SESSION ONE OF EXCITEMENT AND CONCERN

AUSTIN — The opening of any legislative session always is gratifying, and the start of the 69th Regular Session of the Texas Legislature was no exception.

It's hard not to feel good when taking the oath of office and listening to the applause of your colleagues, family and friends. The ceremony is a short one, though, lasting less than one hour. When it's over, the hard part begins.

We face this Session with a mixture of excitement and apprehension. We have filed a number of bills which we're very proud to sponsor, and we feel extremely optimistic about their chances for passage. At the same time, we're aware that the time has come to address many critical issues in state government — issues that may determine the direction of the state for the rest of this century.

Among the issues of major concern:

STATE BUDGET — Comptroller Bob Bullock has estimated the state will have $36.6 billion to spend during the 1986-87 biennium. The estimate, while an increase from the last biennium, still is more than $1 billion less than the Legislative Budget Board had proposed spending. Complicating issues are federal court rulings that require Texas to spend more on its prison and mental health facilities. Our goal is to see that Panhandle residents are not hurt more than other Texans in these cuts and to make sure no new taxes are passed during this Session.

PARI-MUTUEL WAGERING AND A STATE LOTTERY — Both measures are designed to enhance revenue, a goal they undoubtedly would accomplish. Opponents of both warn the measures also would increase the state bureaucracy as new agencies would have to be created to regulate the new industries. Horse racing foes also fear an increase in organized crime in the state if parimutuel wagering is approved.

BLUE LAWS — Texas' "Blue Laws," which restrict the sale of certain items on Sunday, have been assailed as too confusing and a major inconvenience to the state's shoppers. The laws, however, were passed to protect family retail operations that can't afford to stay open seven days a week and compete with larger chain stores. Those who support the Blue Laws say they still serve that function and only should be clarified, not repealed.

WATER PLANNING — Efforts to pass a comprehensive water plan have failed in the past, either in the Legislature or with the voters. Many think this will be the year to get such a package passed, and we plan to play a part in making sure any approved package would guarantee an adequate supply of water for the Panhandle and the rest of the state without putting an unnecessary burden on taxpayers.

Also, we plan to carry a fairly heavy load of legislation. We will be introducing measures that: allow handicapped people equal access to self-service gasoline stations, revise the education reform package as it deals with extracurricular activities and vocational education, ensure fair natural gas prices for all farmers and prohibit the consumption of alcoholic beverages while driving a vehicle.

In addition, we already have introduced a bill that will raise the legal drinking age to 20 on Sept. 1 of this year and to 21 on Sept. 1, 1986.

As always, we're interested in your position on these issues or on any matter that concerns you. Please write to Sen. Bill Sarpalius, P.O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas, 78711.

Parker Receives DPS Promotion

BRAD PARKER

Former McLeanite Brad Parker, who has been a patrolman for the Texas Department of Public Safety since 1977, was recently promoted to the rank of Sergeant with the DPS. He will be stationed at Orange, Texas.

Parker is a 1969 graduate of McLean High School and attended Amarillo College where he earned an Associate Degree while working for the Amarillo Police Department. He entered the Department of Public Safety Academy at Austin in September 1976.

Since completion of his training at Austin, he has served as a trooper of the Texas Highway Patrol at Midland, Amarillo and for the last five years, he and his family have lived in Canyon. Parker and his wife, Brenda, have three children, Derek, 9; Mindy, 7; and Carrie, 3. He is the son of R.C. and Martha Parker and Brenda is the daughter of R.L. and Olene Brown, all of McLean.

Whaley First With Toll Free Number

State Representative Foster Whaley of Pampa recently transferred his incoming toll-free WATTS line number to his Austin office from his Pampa office.

Constituents from Whaley's 84th Legislative District can now dial his Austin office toll-free by dialing 1-800-692-1389. For the past two years, any resident of the 84th District could call Whaley on this same number and reach him in his Pampa office. Now, by dialing the same number, the call will terminate in his Austin office.

This change was made effective January 1, 1985, to coincide with the beginning of the 69th Legislature which convened on January 8, 1985. Mae Beth Palone, Administrative Assistant to Rep. Whaley in Austin, can quickly retrieve information on the status of any bill pending before the legislature or help with other inquiries.

Whaley was granted special permission to have this toll-free WATTS number because of the large 13-county elongated district that runs from Pampa to Reese Air Force Base west of Lubbock. The district is bound on the southern end by Crosby, Dickens and part of Lubbock Counties. The eastern part of the district covers Dickens, Motley, Hall, Childress and Collingsworth Counties. The western counties include Lubbock, Floyd, Briscoe and Armstrong.

Whaley said, "I'm very pleased that every citizen in my legislative district can have equal access to me and my office through the WATTS line." He also added that his 84th District was the first in Texas to have this service.

McGruff Program Slated For Feb. 13

Due to illness, the safety program sponsored by McLean's Lovett Memorial Library and scheduled for January 16 has been rescheduled for 10 a.m. February 13.

Slated to appear in the safety program is Officer McGruff, the crime dog. Students from the kindergarten and first grade classes at McLean Elementary will be attending the program, which will be held in the Library. Parents are invited to bring their children to the program to meet the officers.

CUBS WIN TOURNEY

MJH Teams Down Skellytown

MJH basketball teams scored two more victories before home crowds Monday night, defeating roundballers from Skellytown.

The Cubettes, rebounding from a stinging 15-11 loss to the Clarendon Collettes, defeated Skellytown 30-13, with the entire bench seeing much action.

Misty Magee led the scoring for the home girls with 10 points. Darla McAnear had eight, Dollie Haynes and Wendi Smith had four points each, and Tiffany Lopez and Alicia Reynolds had two points apiece.

The Cubs added another victory notch to their belts Monday, defeating Skellytown 40-32.

Skellytown had previously defeated the Cubs 26-25.

Sid Brass and Kyle Woods led the Cubs in scoring, making 16 and 15 points, respectively.

Calle Holwick had four for McLean and Johnny Mann and Dale Barker provided two points each for the Black-and-gold.

The junior high squads will travel to Lefors Thursday and Friday evenings to participate in the Lefors Tournament.

They will travel to Groom Monday night to face off the red-and-black Cubs.

Tigerettes Deafeat Pirates Jan. 11

High school roundballers found it difficult to come home with a victory last week when they travelled to Phillips and Lefors.

Phillips' junior varsity girls began the hardship for McLean's JV Tigerettes, defeating them 40-23.

Kim Wigington was high point for the Tigerettes with 13 points. Carla Skipper had four, and Terri Lee, Linda Reid, and Samantha Harris had two points each.

The varsity Tigerettes came nearer to victory against Phillips, but started off behind and were never able to overcome the fast-paced Blackhawks, and lost 47-37.

Melanie Billingsley was high point with 17 points. Jem Ann Rice followed with eight, Patricia Rodgers and Angie Reynolds had four each, and Tanya Cummings and Lee Ann Tate had two each.

The Tigers faced a tall, fast-paced, pressing Blackhawks team, and lost the game 90-25.

Donnie Smith was high point with eight points. Huey Green followed with six. Mark McCarty and Chet Bohlar had four each, and Jeff Parker had two.

On January 11, the MHS teams travelled to Lefors, and the JV Tigerettes without their high point girl Kim Wigington, gave the Lefors Pirates a run for their money.

The JV Tigerettes lost 21-15. Samantha Harris was high point with seven points. Terri Lee had six, and Diana Hallum had two.

The varsity Tigerettes handed the Pirates a loss in their 42-17 victory following the JV game.

Melanie Billingsley had 16 points, Jem Ann Rice had nine, Lee Ann Tate had five, and Shawn Crockett, Patricia Rodgers, and Angie Reynolds had four points each.

The high school teams travelled to Darrouzett Tuesday night, but results were too late for presstime. The two teams will host Groom Friday night and will host Claude January 22.

McLEAN BRIEFS

Recent visitors in the home of Lucille Cullison were her daughter, Gloria Vogt of Houston and her granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Reynolds; great-grandchildren Lisa Francis, Kerry, and Frank; grandsons Mark Vogt, Rodney Vogt, and Mitch Reynolds of Briscoe and grandson Mike Vogt and son Micheal Chad of Wichita Kansas; and Priscilla Littrell of Shamrock.

Brad Parker and his family, who have recently moved to Orange, report that while trying to enjoy the typical tropical weather of South Texas, have actually had to put up with three inches of snow and many highways closed by icy conditions.

Minnie Erwin returned Friday from a week-long trip to Red River with her daughter, Mary and Tommy Dutton. Also accompanying them on the trip was Tom Dutton's mother, Essie Dutton, and Tom's sister, Don and Linda Stell.

After arriving in Red River, the ladies travelled to Taos, and the Gorge bridge while the men skied. Minnie reported a good time, and a terrific, big snow storm right before they left to return home.

Idealists maintain that all nations should share the atomic bomb. Pessimists maintain that they will.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

On of the odd things about being in a hurry is that it seems so fiercely important when you yourself are the hurrier and so comically ludicrous when it is someone else.

Christopher Morley
Give us the luxuries of life and we'll dispense with the necessities.

Oliver Wendell Holmes
Any fool can tell the truth, but it required a man of some sense to know how to lie well.

Samuel Butler
Loyalty to petrified opinion never yet broke a chain or freed a human soul.

Mark Twain
The way to love anything is to realize it might be lost.

Gilbert K. Chesterton
Chance favors the prepared mind.
Louis Pasteur
The end of labor is to gain leisure.

Aristotle
He who adds not to his learning diminishes it.

The Talmud
You can't legislate intelligence and common sense into people.
Will Rodgers

The young man who has not wept is a savage, and the old man who will not laugh is a fool.

George Santayana
A kiss can be a comma, a question mark, or an exclamation point.

Mistinguette
Economy has frequently nothing whatever to do with the amount of money being spent, but with the wisdom used in spending it.

Children spend so much time watching TV that they are changing from irresistible forces into immovable objects.

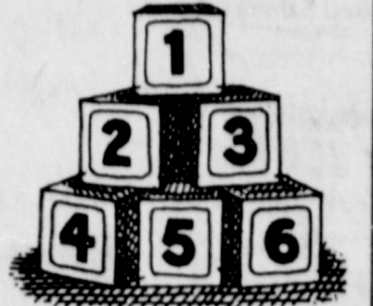

Jack Paar
A man who has nothing to do with his own time has no conscience in his intrusion on that of others.

Jane Austen

A successful marriage is an edifice that must be rebuilt every day.

Heart Surgery or Drugs? There May Be A Choice

Coronary bypass surgery is one of the most successful operations developed in recent medical history. Since 1968, when the procedure was first reported, over one million such operations have been performed in this country—500,000 in 1981 alone. It has been called a miracle operation, because it can be done with relatively low risk, and it improves the quality of life for many patients.

But now there is a study which suggests that coronary surgery may be done too often and too soon, because no discernible difference was found in the survival rates between heart patients who underwent surgery and those who were managed on medications. Since the Coronary Artery Surgery Study (CASS) has been released, there has been much debate in the medical community about its findings and implications. What this seems to mean for the nation's 5.4 million people with diagnosed heart disease is that the operating table is not necessarily the best solution for their individual problem. There may be a choice.

Coronary artery bypass surgery is ordinarily performed when a person's arteries have become narrowed by fatty plaque, a process known as atherosclerosis, or when the patient is not helped by the customary medications or cannot tolerate them. In other words, it is done to bypass an obstruction that restricts blood flow to the heart to such an extent that the resulting chest pain becomes unmanageable.

During the procedure, the surgeon takes a vein out of the patient's leg or another part of the body and stitches it in place so that it forms a bypass around the obstructed area and restores full blood flow. This usually results in a dramatic improvement in symptoms and a reduction in the amount of medication needed. It does not result in a cure, however. In about ten years, the new arteries will generally become obstructed again. Repeat surgery is possible, but the results are far less satisfying. For this reason, the CASS study investigated whether some patients might delay surgery. The answer appears to be clearly yes.

Two developments have made this possible. First, there is arteriography, an x-ray procedure which allows the physician to see exactly where the obstructions are located. Combined with other tests, which measure the amount of blood pumped from one chamber of the heart to the other, this information allows the cardiologist to identify high risk patients who definitely need surgery as a life-saving measure. Chest pain, the most common symptom of heart disease, is not a reliable indicator of the severity of the disease. Some people with mild or no symptoms actually have serious disease.

The second development, which really came along after completion of the study, is availability of a new group of medications, the calcium channel blockers. These agents represent a major improvement in the medical management of heart patients. Used alone or in combination with other drugs, they are quite effective in reducing chest pain. The newest of these drugs, Cardizem—also known as diltiazem—has a low side-effect profile. Unlike the beta-blockers, which may cause fatigue because they are designed to slow the heart and reduce its work load, patients on Cardizem have improved exercise tolerance. With improved quality of life, bypass surgery may be postponed in selected cases.

For many people, the CASS findings which suggest that medical management may be a valid choice and that surgery can safely be postponed will be good news indeed. But it is not a decision to be made by the patient alone. Only a cardiologist is able to conduct the proper test to evaluate the imminent threat posed by the disease and to make the proper judgment of when surgery is needed. If the patient disagrees, a second medical opinion should resolve any doubts.
