Senator Bill Sarpalius Pushes 'Open Container' Bill

Sen. Bill Sarpalius, declaring that Texas' drunk driving laws still are incomplete, recently they announced he has filed a concept. With him at the meeting were Col. James Adams, director, Texas Department of Public Safety; Marinelle Timmons, president, Texas chapter of MADD (Mother Against Drunk Driving); Rep. Ray Keller, R-Duncanville, sponsor of a companion bill in the House, and Bob Harrell, chairman, Texas Commission on Alcoholism.

bill that finally will make it illegal to drink and drive on Texas Highways.

Sarpalius, D-Canyon, said S.B. 135, which also is known as the "Open Container" bill, would outlaw carrying open containers of alcoholic beverages while driving a motor vehicle. The measure also would prevent passengers who are accessible within five feet of the driver from carrying open containers of alcoholic beverages.

According to Sarpalius, the measure will further strengthen the tough drunk-driving laws he passed two years ago during the 68th Session of the Texas Legislature.

"In 12 percent of all fatal accidents on rural highways, an open container of alcohol has been found in one of the vehicles involved," Sarpalius said during a Capital news conference. "No state's drunk-driving laws are complete if they allow drinking while driving. We intend to eliminate that problem make a dent in those fatality statistics."

Sarpalius said simply eliminating the temptation to drink and drive can help reduce the number of traffic fatalities linked to open containers of alcohol.

"Most people don't intend to be intoxicated while they drive. Most drunk drivers are just victims of their own poor judgment," he said. "Last session, we passed tough new laws that deter drivers from driving an automobile after they've become intoxicated. Now, we want to make sure drivers don't become intoxicated while they drive."

The Canyon Democrat last session passed a bill that stiffened penalties for persons convicted of driving while intoxicated, including mandatory jail terms for some convictions, and made it easier for law officers to prove intoxication.

Sarpalius stressed that his newest measure will not eliminate all alcohol consumption in motor vehicles.

"We're not trying to stop all passenger drinking," Sarpalius said. "For instance, passengers on buses still could drink. Passengers in recreational vehicles would not be affected. The only thing we're trying to do with this bill is keep drivers from drinking."

He said the only reason passengers in cars are prevented from drinking is because of their close proximity to the driver.

"We want to make sure that someone who is drinking and is pulled over can't quickly hand their drink to a passenger. That's why we've got to make it illegal for people accessible within five feet of the driver to carry an open container while the vehicle is moving," Sarpalius said.

Sarpalius went on to say he thought the bill's chances of passage are "very good." "Last session, we were able to convince the Legislature that Texas' drunk driving laws needed to be toughened," he said. "I think the Legislature will respond to this bill as well."

Sarpalius proved from the outset of the news conference that he is not alone in his support of the open-container

Chamber Of Commerce Slates Feb. 1 Meeting

McLean's Chamber of Commerce will hold what could possibly be its final meeting, organization or organizations under Section 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954."

The Chamber currently has over $400 in its account.

February 1, according to past-president Jane Herndon.

"We had scheduled a meeting in September to decide the fate of the Chamber," explained Mrs. Herndon. "However, too many schedules conflicted, and the meeting was never held."

Officers of the Chamber of Commerce have set this meeting to give the merchants and citizens of McLean the opportunity to participate in Chamber activities.

"The same people have served as officers in the Chamber year after year," said a Chamber spokesman. "The Chamber is a worthwhile, beneficial organization and there must be more participation in it from McLean businesspeople to make it work."

In recent years, the Chamber has sponsored give-aways during the holiday seasons, promoting local businesses, such as the drawings for "McLean Bucks" during the Christmas season.

Another popular Chamber-sponsored event was the annual Chamber banquet and the presentation of the "Citizen Of The Year" Award.

The meeting has been slated for noon February 1, and will be held at the Cowboy Drive-In.

"With basketball games and church and other organizational meetings at night, we've found that the noon luncheons give us the best representation," explained Mrs. Herndon.

All interested citizens, merchants, and businessmen are invited to attend the luncheon.

"The purpose of this meeting will be to decide upon the future of the Chamber," said Sharon Hayes, who has served as secretary-treasurer of the organization since its founding in 1978. "If it is to remain an active organization, new officers will be elected. If the organization is to be dissolved, then the current board of directors, according to our Articles of Incorporation, will make provision for the payment of the liabilities of the corporation, dispose of all of the assets of the corporation exclusively for the purposes of the corporation in such manner, or it will give monies to such organization or organizations organized and operated exclusively for charitable, educational, religious, or scientific purposes as shall at the time qualify as an exempt

"I'm really sick of being sick!"

Until this year, I've never really had the 'opportunity' to utter those words, but after the last two months, I'M SICK OF BEING SICK!

Actually, I've only been sick two weeks out of the past eight, but Kristina and Charlie have been sick every weekend. Wayne, who was sure he was immune, finally came down with the flu this week.

It's something we seem to keep passing around. Just when we think we've about gotten rid of the bug, one of us falls victim.

We've gone through 25 lbs. of potatoe soup, three boxes of crackers, and seven liters of Coke and 7-Up. Friends and relatives are afraid to visit for fear the "bug" may be hiding in the house awaiting a fresh victim.

My family thinks I've traded my vanilla-scented candles for Lysol!

I've disinfected beds, laundry, bedrooms, the living room, the kitchen and the bathroom has been disinfected so many times I've almost bleached the dark brown, wooden shingles covering the walls!

We finally began to improve last Sunday evening, and by bedtime I was sure we'd seen the last of the bug.

We even survived work, school, and an out-of-town ball-game Monday evening without a single tummy rumbling. I'd begun to relax a little by that time-and had visions of planning a 'real' meal...one without potatoe soup, crackers, and 7-Up!

However, early Tuesday morning found Kristina sick, potatoes peeled and boiling on the stove, and Lysol soaked rags back at work.

I hope the flu bug stays away from your home this season-because, believe me...once it comes to visit, it's ready to move in permanently!

January is one of my favorite months as far as "gotcha" pictures go. Three of my relatives have birthdays this month and in this issue you'll find 'flattering' pictures of two of them. You'll also find a picture of Debi's mother-in-law, who just happens to have a birthday soon...and who also just happens to be out of town.

Won't she be surprised when she returns from Dallas?!

Another of our news office employees (one of my Wednesday afternoon gals) has made a special effort to wish her father a happy birthday. We don't want Wendi to get in trouble with her dad, who is employed by the U.S. Post Office and is an active member of the local Lions Club, so we won't divulge his name.

As to the identities of my two relatives, I won't give out their names either.

I think the pictures of them are self-explanatory.

Many of our friends gathered Saturday evening for a surprise "farewell" party given for Tim, Debbie, and Misty Fitch.

Athletic Boosters Club To Organize

Participation seems to be the name of the game and the key to success when it comes to school activities-athletic or scholastic. At least the recent organization of Parental-student-teacher groups seems to point that way.

The state PTA has been contacted by local residents, requesting guidelines to set up a local Parent-Teachers Association. An organizational meeting will be held as soon as guidelines and suggestions are received by state organizations.

An organizational meeting for an Athletic Boosters Club will be held in the McLean gymnasium at 8 p.m. January 24.

The purpose of the meeting will be to elect officers for the club, and outline goals and fund-raising projects.

Mrs. Emma Jean Tate, at the request of former school officials, took over the concession stand at the home basketball games as the first fund-raising activity for the athletic boosters club. This will not be an organization to boost strictly basketball or football, but will benefit every athletic organization we have," explained Mrs. Tate.

"We have had requests for a new weight machine, and some other items that are needed by our sports groups, and we'd like to discuss these and other possibilities as to what most needed," she continued. "At this point and time, we feel the most important thing is to join our forces and work together to make this an effective organization."

ization.

Mrs. Tate and school officials invited everyone, parents and fans to the meeting.

"We hope that not only parents of current athletes will attend the meeting, but we are urging parents of younger stu-

McLean Groups To Participate In County-wide History Compilation

The county-wide attempt to compile a history of Gray County is being spear-headed by the McLean area by Ruth Magee and Charlie Marie Shurley, who were present representing our area at the planning meeting in Pampa recently.

The Pioneer Study Club of McLean is also actively engaged in the project, and the McLean Lions Club is also expected to be involved.

Fire Damages Lucille Glass Home

A local residence received severe heat and smoke damage following a fire January 16.

Jeraldine Billingsley spotted smoke emitting from the home of Lucille Glass, at 607 Kingsley about 9:20 Wednesday evening, and called the local fire department, according to fire marshal dents, potential athletes to attend," said Mrs. Tate. "Their children will really be the ones to benefit from the fund-raising now, and it could be their participation that makes the difference in the success of our athletic organizations."

Any interested party is invited to write a family history (one generation only) composed of 700 words or less, and return it to one of the aforementioned ladies before the March 15th deadline.

"We want to make sure our part of the county is thoroughly and accurately represented in the proposed history," Mrs. Magee said.

Jim McDonald. The fire was located in the back bathroom of the home and in the hallway. It was confined to one area, but the remainder of the house received heavy smoke and heat damage.

The cause of the fire, at press time, was still under investigation.

Whittler's Bench

By Sam Hayes

Boys here on the Whittler's Bench are certainly glad the Inauguration is finally over. Reagan's two have been the most expensive in history, (due to inflation I'm sure) and I've heard estimates of anywhere to one million to many, many millions that were spent on the frozen-out occasion, and there were nine balls held, all attended by the president, as well as many other lovely functions enjoyed by the well-heeled supporters of our President. So now, as is always the case, he can reflect in his second swearing-in, and be ready, as have all his predecessors, to be sworn at.

He is certainly not facing a monumental task, and in my estimation will certainly not be as popular at the end of this term as he was at the end of the first. To make any headway on reducing the deficit, without cutting into welfare programs or national defense is absolutely impossible, and the only alternative is raising taxes, which he promised in the campaign he would not do.

Of course, the Democrats will do everything they can to remind him of and help him keep those promises not to touch social security, not to raise taxes, etc.

At any rate, I wish him the best of luck in what seems to be an insurmountable task...and perhaps all of us, particularly ranchers and farmers, should begin an immediate reducing program so that it will be much easier to tighten our belts.

It seems to me we have wandered away from the original purpose of installing a president for his four years of leadership, and that we have reverted to all the unnecessary pomp and ceremony of crowning a king, which was one of the affairs we thought we would escape when we won our fight for independence.

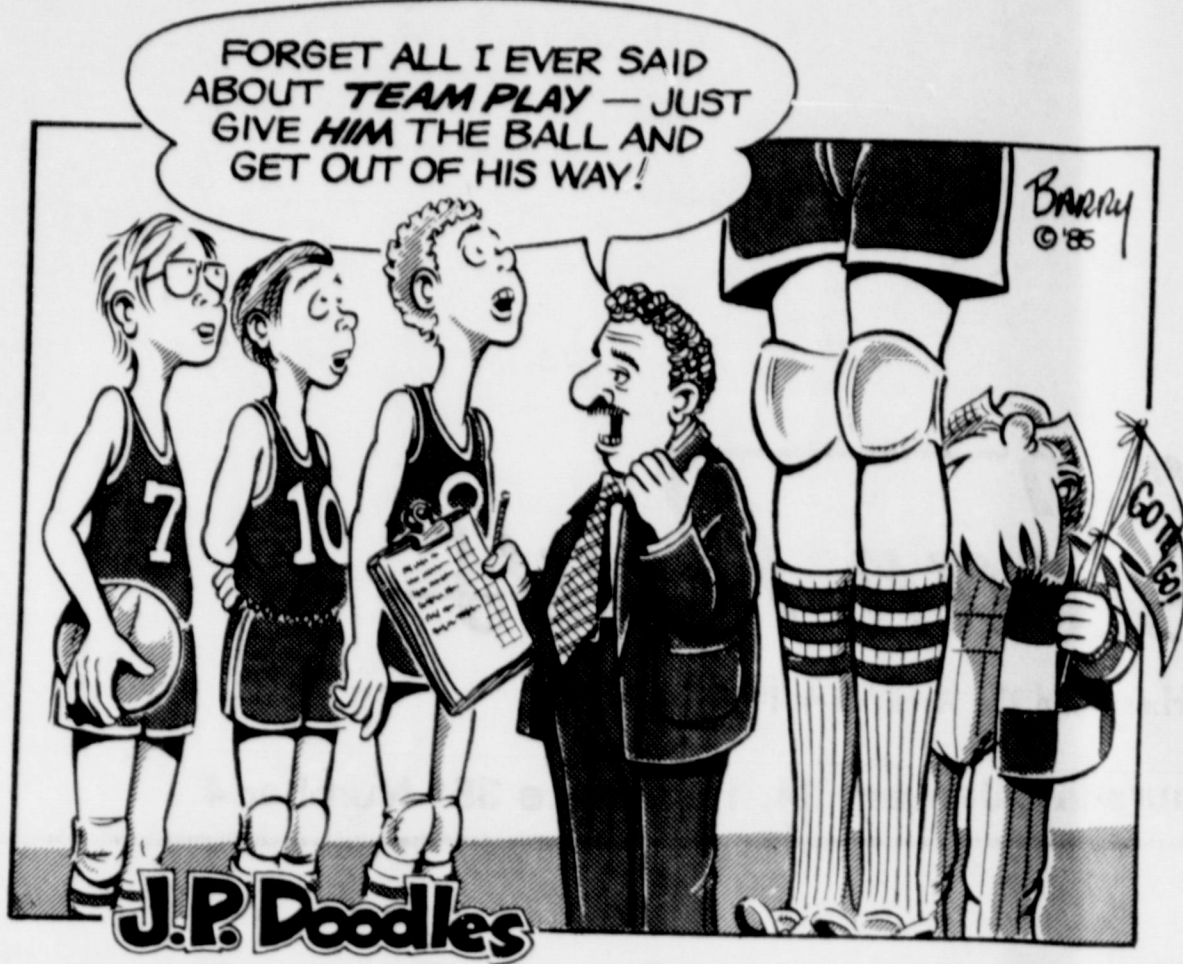

After the next four years, and at the time of the next inauguration, whether he or she be a Democrat, Republican, or a member of the Bull Moose party, let's insist the Chief Justice give the oath of office, play a recording of the Star Spangled Banner by Bing Crosby, let the Marine Band play "Hail To The Chief," and then apply all the money that would have been spent on the hoopla and balony to the ever-increasing national debt...

The Fitches, who have lived in McLean over five years, have packed up and moved to Beeville, home of the Beeville Bee Picayune! Many of the folks that move to McLean (in fact, several of those that have lived here all their lives) are content to "sit back" and not become involved with the community. Not so with the Fitches. They were supportive of the school, attending school activities and functions with regularity. They also attended city council meetings and were involved with the planning stages of the swimming pool committees. We wish Tim and Debbie (and especially Misty) much luck in their new home. They will truly be missed.

STATE BUDGET CRUNCH MOST SERIOUS IN YEARS

AUSTIN — Texas lawmakers, meeting for our Legislature's 69th Regular Session, are facing the most financially uncertain times in recent memory. "Revenue" and "budget" quickly have become the catchwords for this Session. The reason for the gloom, of course, is the state's ever-tightening budget. Revenues are growing at a slower rate than in the past, and Texans, once secure in the knowledge that their state government was among the richest in the nation, now are facing some hard choices about financing that government.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock spelled out the situation on Jan. 7 when he released the biennial revenue estimate for the 1986-87 budget period that we will be considering during the session. Revenues have grown to $36.6 billion for the next biennium, a 14 percent increase from the $32 billion received during the current biennium, but still more than $1 billion below what was needed for a no-growth budget.

The news only gets worse. Mr. Bullock estimates that oil and gas production taxes, normally one of the state's biggest tax items, is expected to drop to $1.7 billion next biennium, a 22 percent decrease from this biennium's $2.2 billion. Natural gas production taxes, another big-ticket item, has dropped from $2.3 billion to $2.1 billion, a decrease of almost 11 percent.

On the surface, the choices seem simple — keep state funding at $36.6 billion or raise taxes to allow funding to keep pace with inflation. Unfortunately, choices in state government are never so easy.

Without outside pressure, most state agencies could get by on the moderate revenue estimates forecast by the comptroller. However, the federal courts have ordered the state to upgrade its prison and mental health facilities. Both certainly are important items, but they put a squeeze on an already tight budget. Adding to the pressure is a water package that might require some state funding, if passed, to help protect Texas' precious water resources.

Under certain circumstances, a tax increase in selected areas might be an acceptable solution. This year, though, it is not a viable alternative. Lawmakers voted last summer in special session to raise various state taxes to pay for education reform. The tax increase was the state's first in 11 years, and most legislators are not interested in raising taxes twice in less than a year.

Instead, most of our colleagues are talking about seeking other forms of revenue. Among the most talked-about suggestions are plans that would legalize pari-mutuel wagering on a local option basis and create a state lottery.

Proponents of both point out that they would bring additional millions to the state treasury. Opponents say the cost of the two plans — both in terms of fiscal expense and loss of state prestige — would be too high. Pari-mutuel wagering and lotteries both would require the creation of state agencies or the expansion of existing ones to regulate their operation. Opponents of the two revenue plans question whether the additional bureaucracy is worth the funds that would be generated.

Opponents of pari-mutuel wagering also wonder whether bringing horse racing to Texas would increase organized crime in the state. Backers of the horse racing proposal say there is no evidence of organized crime involvement in any racetrack in the nation where a state agency carefully regulates the track's operations. Foes of pari-mutuel wagering concede that point but say off-track gambling would proliferate once racetracks are in the state, with organized crime forces spearheading that illegal gambling.

As we've said, the figures indeed are gloomy and the choices aren't always the most pleasant. We must find a way to reconcile the state's slowing revenue growth with the increased demand on the budget. The only thing that is certain at this point is that we remain committed to ensuring that no budget cut hurts Panhandle-area residents more than it hurts those who live in other parts of the state.

If you have any suggestions or information that you feel we would be interested in, please write Sen. Bill Sarpalius, P.O. Box 12068, Austin, TX 78711.

Amy Denae Riley And Mark Lee Cruse Wed

Amy Denae Riley of Tulia and Mark Lee Cruse of Waco exchanged nuptial vows in a ceremony at the First Baptist Church of Tulia Saturday, December 29, at 7 p.m.

Stan Cruse, father of the groom and minister of Hamilton Baptist Church, Baldwin County, Alabama and Joe Cruse, uncle of the groom, minister and founder of the Cruse Family Singers of Tyler, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Riley, Jr., of Tulia and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Cruse of Bay Minette, Alabama.

The ceremony took place before a 15-branch candelabra flanked on either side with a 7-branch candelabra, each decorated with salal leaves. The setting was centered with a brass kneeling bench. The wedding was further by the seasonal Christmas decorations throughout the church.

Music selections of "Come Thy Fount of Every Blessing", "Evermore", and "As For Me and My House, We Will Serve The Lord" were sung by the Cruse Family Singers, Joe, Nancy, Joe, Jr., and Cindy Cruse; Mrs. Karen Adams, Mrs. Janie Stone, and Mrs. Becky Cruse as pianist, all of Tyler.

Maid of honor for the occasion was Mary Catherine Hatcher of Tulia and the bridesmaids were Missy Stringer and Melayne Broadstreet, both of Tulia.

Best man was Stan Cruse, Jr., the groom's brother of New Orleans, LA., and the groomsmen were Robert Noland, of Stephenville, and David Riley of Tulia, brother of the bride.

The commitment prayer was offered by Kim Broadstreet, of Tulia.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white floor-length gown with a chapel train. The victorian neckline topped a fitted bodice, pointed at the waist in front and back and softened with chantilly lace motif encrusted with pearls. It featured leg of mutton sleeves also laced with chantilly lace, pearls, and petal pointed over the wrist. The fingertip veil of silk illusion was edged with chantilly lace and accented with pearls. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of bridal pink tea roses entwined with english ivy, leather fern, and white picot ribbon.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church parlor. Assisting were Tanya Tucker, Winona James, Marci Latham, Gena Hale, Dee Ann McCarley, Mrs. Fern Vise, Mrs. Peggy Stevens, Mrs. Nola Anderson, Mrs. Netha McCarley, and Mrs. Pat Galyen.

Registering the guests was Sonya Johnson of Tulia.

The couple will make their home in Waco, headquarters for the Christian musical group, the Revised Edition, of which the groom is a member.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Riley of McLean.

Mrs. Mark Lee Cruse (nee Amy Denae Riley)

High School Squads Lose Three, Win One

High school roundballers dropped four games and snagged one victory last week, fighting the Groom Tigers and the Darrouzett Longhorns.

The Tigers travelled to Darrouzett January 15 and split the games with the Longhorns.

Kristie Thompson and Lee Ann Tate led the Tigerettes in their 33-18 victory over Darrouzett with 10 points each. Jem Ann Rice contributed six points and Melanie Billingsley had four.

The Tigerettes jumped in front of Darrouzett early in the contest and the Longhorns were never able to get back in the game, trailing at the end of the first half 24-11.

The entire Tigerette squad was able to see much action during the contest, while allowing the Longhorns only seven points during the entire second half.

The Tigers, however, found themselves with their hands full when it was their time to face the Longhorns. Darrouzett soundly defeated the Tigers 65-39.

Tigers Kirk Anderson and Bob Patman led the scoring for the Tigers with ten points each. Huey Green followed with nine, Mark McCarty had eight, and Clint Herndon and Billie Langley had two points each.

Defeat would be the name of the game when McLean travelled to Groom to face the red-and-black Tiger squads.

Although Tigerette Melanie Billingsley had an outstanding game with 24 points, McLean was unable to overcome Groom's fast-paced zone play, and lost the contest 60-35.

Lee Ann Tate had four points, Jem Ann Rice had three and Tanya Cummings had one point.

The Tigers, led once again by Bob Patman with 10 points, lost to Groom 66-33.

Mark McCarty followed in scoring for McLean with 8 points, Huey Green had six, Dannie

Smith had three, Clint Herndon, and Billie Langley had two points each, and Chet Bohlar had one point.

The junior varsity Tigerettes lost to the Groom roundballers 31-14. Kristy Meaker had five points, Terri Lee had four, Kim Wigington had two, Samantha Harris had two and Millie Bailey had one point.

The Tigers and Tigerettes hosted the Claude Mustangs Tuesday night. But results were too late for presstime.

Phillips will come to McLean Friday night for a re-match, and the McLean squads will host the Lefors Pirates January 29.

TIGERS TIGERETTES DEFEAT THE PHILLIPS BLACKHAWKS!

GO CUBS & CUBETTES BEAT LEFORS!

Cubettes Win Third Place Trophy

The Cubettes took the third place trophy in the Lefors Tournament last weekend after losing their opening game to Lefors 33-31, and defeating Skellytown 43-14 Friday.

In Thursday's match against Lefors, the lead between the two rivals saw through-out the match. McLean led at the end of the first quarter 7-4, but trailed at the conclusion of the first half 17-12.

The Cubettes trailed by three at the end of the third period, but overcame the Bandits in the fourth quarter to take the lead. However, the Cubettes got into serious foul trouble the last few minutes of the game and Lefors took the free opportunity to move out in front of McLean and stay ahead.

The final score was 33-31. Misty Magee led the scoring for McLean with 12 points. Darla McAnear tallied eleven for the Cubettes and Dollie Haynes had six points. Alicia Reynolds had two points.

During the McLean-Skellytown battle, the Cubettes were able to play an easier game, and the bench saw much action during the game. McLean won the game 43-14.

Misty Magee led the scoring again with 18 points. Alicia Reynolds followed with ten points. Darla McAnear contributed four, Dollie Haynes and Danna Watson had two points each and Mary French had one.

The Cubs, on the other hand, found victory out of reach during the tournament.

McLean played Lefors a tough game in the opening match Thursday evening, losing 30-28.

Although McLean trailed through most of the game, they came up with 15 points in the fourth quarter to edge closer to Lefors.

Sid Brass led the scoring for the Cubs with 17 points. Kyle Woods had three, and Johnny Mann, Calle Holwick, Dale Barker, and Jimmy Corely had two points each.

In a disappointing defeat Friday evening, the cubs were handed a 29-12 loss at the hands of Skellytown, denying McLean a third-place trophy from the tournament.

McLean led at the end of the first quarter 4-1, and at the end of the first half 8-6. Skellytown moved ahead of the Cubs in the third period, however, scoring 10 points and keeping McLean to only four. McLean was unable to make a single point during the fourth quarter, and Skellytown came up with 13 points to end the game with a 29-12 win.

MJH Split s Games With Groom

McLean Cubettes faced a much-improved Groom Cubette squad Monday night, but were still able to take a 24-18 victory and move into a three-way tie for district. The Cubettes have been defeated twice in district play this season, once by Lefors and once by Claude.

Claude has been defeated twice this season, once by McLean and once by Lefors. Lefors has faced two defeats, one by Phillips and one by Claude.

Lefors and McLean will square off at Lefors January 28, to determine who will be tied with Claude for the district championship, if both teams win their final games.

In the Cubette fight Monday night, McLean led Groom throughout the entire game.

Misty Magee was high-point with 11 points. Darla McAnear and Dollie Haynes had four points each. Wendie Smith had three points and Tiffany Lopez had two.

The McLean Cubs almost handed a surprised Groom group a defeat, but were unable to hold on to a four-point lead during the final minutes of the game, and lost the match 32-26.

McLean, showing much improvement and spirit from previous games, went into the dressing rooms a halftime tied with Groom at 15-all, and led 21-19 at the end of the third quarter.

However, three intercepted passes and three fouls in the last two minutes of the game gave Groom the opportunity to snatch the lead away from McLean, and put a victory on their side of the board.

Sid Brass led the Cubs with 14 points. Calle Holwick, Kyle Woods and Jimmy Corely had four points each.

The MJH roundballers will travel to Lefors January 29 and will play their final game of the season at Phillips February 4.

Ruth Corbin Buried Tuesday

Ruth Myrtle Corbin, 93, died January 19.

Services were at 11 a.m. Tuesday in Lamb Funeral Home Chapel with Gary Moore, Church of Christ minister from Hooker, Oklahoma, officiating. Burial was in Hillcrest Cemetery.

Mrs. Corbin was born in Alliance, Mo. She moved to Indian Territory, Okla., in 1899 and to McLean in 1918. She married John F. Corbin in Arapaho, Okla., in 1909. He died in 1966. She was a Baptist.

Survivors include two daughters, Geneva Moore of Dalhart and Doris Bull of Chula Vista, Calif.; a son Bobbi J. of Groom; 13 grandchildren; 26 great-grandchildren; and 10 great-great-grandchildren.

There are said to be two million comets in the solar system.

There are 100 billion stars in our galaxy, but from the earth only about 6,000 can be seen by the naked eye.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Z.A.
Myers wishes to express our appreciation to the many who were so kind and thoughtful during the hospital stay and death of my mother. We thank everyone for the food, flowers, and donations to the Assembly of God building fund.
The Z.A. Myers family

I would like to thank everyone for the cards, phone calls, visits, flowers and many acts of kindness shown me during my recent hospitalization.
Your thoughtfulness was deeply appreciated.

Do You Know A Child
With Down Syndrome?

Meet Mary. She's nine, a Girl Scout in the third grade.
Mary has Down Syndrome, a genetic birth defect that strikes all races and usually causes mental retardation.
Thanks to educational programs and lots of love and support from her family and friends, Mary can read and write and even beat you at checkers. Working through research, public awareness programs and family services, the National Down Syndrome Society is helping children like Mary.

McLEAN BRIEFS

Onie Gibson travelled to Panhandle to visit with the Don Bednorz family. She went with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Meaker who also have folks in Panhandle.

In parts of Europe it was believed that planting thistles around the doorway was good luck.
