DRYLAND HAZARD . . . This field shows billowing smoke and fiercely burning wheat stubble, another dryland hazard as there is not sufficient moisture to keep parched fields from burning rapidly when accidentally ignited. This field, northeast of Muleshoe, burned Thursday afternoon after nearby residents reported they walked out and "found the field burning and don't know how or why it started."

Roger Miller Park Concession Robbed

Vivian Briscoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Briscoe, and a student at Muleshoe High School, is now participating in work and an environmental study program. She is part of the National Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge Youth Conservation Corps near Canyon, according to Bryce Slack, YCC Camp Director.

According to Eugene Howard, president of the Muleshoe Little League, and Muleshoe City Police Reports, the concession stand at Roger Miller Park was broken into and robbed last Wednesday night. Taken were two cases of potato chips, several boxes of candy and three one gallon jars of pickles.

Howard said this is the fifth time the concession stand has been burglarized this year. The first time was during the winter, before there were any candy or concession supplies, so, taken were the public address amplifier and speakers, as well as two sets of umpire equipment.

Then, after the season began, the concession stand has been broken into and cleared out four times, with a total loss of at least $300 in candy and an additional $300 in equipment.

"The thieves added a new touch in their last visit Wednesday night," commented Howard, "they attempted to burn down the concession stand before leaving. Fortunately, the fire burned itself out without causing any major damage.

"A new door is being installed on the Little League concession stand and it is hoped that this will prevent further burglaries."

The Chamber of Commerce Reward Fund of $100 is offered to anyone who will furnish information on the identity of the person or persons who have been robbing the Little League concession stand.

Howard urges anyone who can supply this information to please contact Chief of Police Buddy Black at the Law Enforcement Center.

Honorable mention in the form of a parchment certificate of excellence was presented Tena Landers, 12 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Landers, for her participation in the fourth annual U-Haul U-Color contest.

Mrs. Joe Carroll was reported Friday to be slightly improved at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock where she had been listed in serious condition following surgery last week.

For the opening of TEXAS at Paladuro, on June 16, they had a photography contest.

Mike Jones of Muleshoe entered a photograph and received an honorable mention on it. His photograph was of the Moore place, sited three miles south of Baileyboro cemetery.

Jones won two free tickets to TEXAS for his prize. He is a Journalism major and has been employed at West Texas State University as their photographer for the school.

Brent Blackman, son of Mr. and Mrs. M.S. Blackman, had emergency surgery in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock last Friday night, about 10:30 p.m.

Blackman is reported as recovering nicely. He will probably be released the latter part of this week.

Local Youths In Competition

Several members of the Progress 4-H youths were in Lubbock the first of last week to participate in the 12th annual District Two 4-H Horse Show. Although they did not place high enough to represent the local 4-H in state competition, they did come home with some good wins.

Top winner locally from among the 207 contestants in the registered gelding, under five, was Casey Farmer, while Tommy Wheeler was sixth in the same event.

In grade mares, Sharla Farmer won third; Shane Claunch was sixth and Curtis Wheeler, eighth.

Julie Claunch was 12th in registered geldings over five.

In eighth place in grade geldings was Curtis Carpenter.

Kenny Henderson was seventh in reining and Curtis Carpenter was eighth.

For polebending, Sharla Farmer was sixth and Delia Shaw, ninth; Jaohn Warren was tenth in barrels.

Junior Rodeo Set; Starts Celebration

All the excitement of a rodeo will be here on Friday, July 2, when the Muleshoe Junior Rodeo is scheduled to start at 8 p.m. with the grand entry. Scheduled on Friday, July 2 and Saturday, July 3, the rodeo heralds the approaching annual July 4 celebration.

Mrs. Leon Spears said numerous entries are expected for the popular rodeo to be held two miles south of Muleshoe at the Muleshoe roping arena.

There will be one go round, with a split performance. Although late entries will be accepted, the books will close at 6 p.m. on Thursday, July 1.

In the age 12 and under group, entries will be steer riding, breakaway roping, barrel racing, flag race, pole bending, rescue race and girls' goat tying.

For the 13-15 year old age group will be steer riding, tie down calf roping, ribbon roping, breakaway roping, barrel racing, flag race, pole bending, rescue race and girls' goat tying.

Events for the 16-18 year olds will be cow riding, tie down calf roping, ribbon roping, breakaway roping, barrel racing, flag race, pole bending, chute dogging, team roping and girls' goat tying.

Dog And Cat Rabies Clinic Set Thursday

According to an announcement by City Secretary Mary Watkins, the annual Dog-Cat Rabies Clinic is scheduled for Thursday, July 1, at the Muleshoe Volunteer Fire Department on East Avenue B.

Hours for the clinic will be 3 to 5 p.m. with Dr. Jerry Gleason inoculating the animals for rabies.

This year, said Mrs. Watkins, the cost for rabies shots will be $4 and $1 additional for the city tags.

Persons with dogs and cats are being urged to have their pet at the clinic on that date for the rabies shots.

Savings Bonds April Totals Are Released

Mrs. Dean Spraberry, county chairman for the Savings Bond program in Bailey County, reported sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in the amount of $3,220 for April 1976. Sales for the first four months of the year totaled $21,518 which represents 27 percent of their assigned dollar goal.

Sales in Texas during the month amounted to $21,912,800

Dryland Farmers Look To Crop Alternatives

Possibilities Peas, Sunflowers Or Grain

"I have been visiting with farmers throughout the country," said Bailey County Extension Spencer Tanksley. "It is their opinion that if we do not receive two or three inches of planting moisture by July 10, we will be without a dryland crop this year."

Tanksley added, "I don't believe most dryland farmers can plant now. Many farmers after this time, the final date of July 10, without water, will plant wheat, if moisture becomes available."

According to figures and dates in the office of the county agent, approximate cutoff date for planting will be around July 10 and some dryland producers will be looking for a "quick" crop which may be peas, beans, grain sorghum or sunflowers. Tanksley said it may be too late to plant grain sorghum and many dryland producers will be better off to apply for disaster payments.

Ranges in the south part of Bailey County have suffered severely, continued Tanksley, and many producers are now faced with the situation of having to sell cattle.

"With today's feed and hay prices," he said, "the cow/calf producers cannot justify feeding them and have to sell."

According to the extension agent, "Irrigationally speaking, things still look very bright. The only real problem is staying up with the water. It's a 24 hour a day job right now for corn and grain sorghum producers."

"However, since we haven't had any moisture, even some irrigated farms have not been able to be planted as the amount of water is not sufficient to bring up and produce a paying crop."

Tanksley said more corn fields will be reaching the tasseling and silking stage during the next two weeks and irrigation requirements move to .4 - .5 inches of water each day.

"Therefore, if we don't get help it will be very important for producers to stay up with their irrigation," cautioned the agent.

Cotton is making normal growth due to hotter, and in fact, recent scorching temperatures in the area, he said. Helping make good cotton growing weather are also the cooler nights.

Many producers are in the process of completing the wheat harvest and irrigation yields have ranged from 45-60 bushels per acre, according to figures from the county agent's office. However, dryland wheat that can be cut has had a very low, or negligible yield.

Grain sorghum producers on irrigated land are finding their crops progressing very well and cultivation and side dressing are in progress at this time. He said that water requirements will increase as the plants reach the 10-leaf stage.

Potatoes will be the first vegetables to be harvested in the area, according to the county agent and other vegetables are progressing. In a few isolated spots, onion harvest is just beginning in a small way.

Tanksley estimated 35,000 acres of cotton; 40,000 acres of corn and 30,000 acres of grain sorghum have been planted this year, with approximately 1,000 acres of dryland receiving enough moisture to be planted.

He also said that National Weather Service figures have Bailey County to be in the fourth driest area in the nation this year, along with several counties along the Texas border in Eastern New Mexico and Deaf Smith, Farmer, Hockley, Cochran, Yoakum and Lamb Counties on the South Plains of Texas. There are an estimated 300,000 acres not planted in these counties this year.

Potato Soil Moisture Critical During June

High Plains potato growers are watching their potato plants closely during the next few weeks to make sure their crops avoid moisture stress, according to Texas Agricultural Extension Service researchers and Bailey County Extension Agent, Spencer Tanksley. According to the local agent, some are finding the soil moisture tensionmeters effectively do the job.

Irish potatoes are very sensitive to soil moisture fluctuation during June, cautioned the county agent. This is when the potato plants reach peak vegetative growth and the tubers are enlarging rapidly. Any extended period of drought stress during this period will retard the rate of tuber enlargement, and the ultimate consequence will be a lower yield of premium size tubers at harvest.

He said this means growers have to irrigate often enough to keep the soil moisture tension from exceeding 30 centibars at the 12-inch depth in the row. In the past, they have relied on rough estimates of soil moisture which involved handling the soil and observing the plants. There is now strong evidence, said Tanksley, which shows that these subjective measurements no longer guarantee the best timing of irrigations.

Research conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock and at the Munday Vegetable Research Station has shown that tenonimeter provide a more accurate and reliable method of sensing moisture stress in potato soils than traditional methods. The tenonimeter is a reliable and inexpensive instrument, he added.

When placed in the root zone of heaviest water absorption, the tenonimeter measures the amount of tension in the moisture film moving from the soil into the potato root system. One tenonimeter for each irrigation set within a large field is a practical investment. Its positioning in the field is important. In fields where rows are about one quarter mile long and can be irrigated quite uniformly, about 150 feet should be paced off from the head of the field inward on the sixth to eighth row from the edge. The tenonimeter is placed in the row between two plants, and is installed by grasping the shank of the instrument and pushing downward with a twisting motion so that the porous ceramic tip is about 12 inches down from the top of the bed, explained Tanksley.

It is not difficult to prepare a tenonimeter for field use, but

Crop Reports From Farmers Are Requested

In early July, about 24,700 Texas farmers will receive an acreage and production questionnaire from W.H. Walther, Agricultural Statistician for the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin.

Information from this survey will be used to determine harvested acreage and production of early harvested crops for the state of Texas and for each county. Farmers who receive questionnaires are urged to complete and return them by mail, according to Walther. All individual reports are confidential and will be used only for state and county totals, he said.

This survey is a cooperative effort of USDA's Statistical Reporting Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture, according to the statistician.

Spotted Rain Leaves Farms Little Water

Spotted rain in the area late Friday afternoon deposited .4 of an inch of rain in Muleshoe and up to .8 north of town.

Accompanied by high wind and small hail, the clouds formed near the New Mexico border and began their trek across the county.

Mickey Sowder, two miles south of Stegall received .6 at the house, with small hail and .2 just a mile on south of that location.

On the Bud Street farm near Coyote Lake, there were a few sprinkles and not "enough to settle the dust" at their farm a little south of there.

Devastating hail was reported in the Clay's Corner-Lazbuddie area, with corn reported to be stripped by hailstones on the Kirby Burch farm northeast of Lazbuddie, along with .8 of rain.

Seales Attend Annual State Heart Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Don Seales represented the Bailey County Division of the American Heart Association at that organization's 41st Texas Affiliate Annual Assembly held last week in Houston.

Over 300 delegates, officers and committee members attended the three-day meeting at Houston's Shamrock Hilton Hotel.

The meeting featured training and orientation workshops, the introduction of a new five-year goal document and the presentation of the first Lyndon Baines Johnson Research Award.

The new five-year goal document, the Texas Affiliate's "plan of action" through 1981, stresses the AHA's heavy involvement in programs designed to change the health behavior of Texans concerning smoking, diet, physical exercise and high blood pressure, as well as educational programs in cardiopulmonary resuscitation and increased expenditures for cardiovascular research.

The LBJ Research Award honoring the late President was presented to Dr. James M. George, University of Texas Health Science Center in San Antonio, whose research application for funding received the highest meritorical ranking by the AHA's Center Research

Review Committee. The award was presented to Dr. Robert O'Rourke, who accepted for Dr. George, by Mrs. Luci Johnson Nugent, daughter of the late President. The award, to be given annually, is funded by contributions from the Hon-

No Arrests Yet In Local Death In Early June

Several people have been given polygraph examinations in Clovis in an attempt to find out who beat Traylor (Dude) Crouch so badly he died from his injuries early this month.

Sheriff Dee Clements said two persons were given lie detector examinations on Thursday and another person Friday as law enforcement officers continue to probe the murder of the local man.

The sheriff continues to praise the work and cooperation of the Clovis City Police Detectives, under leadership of Detective Captain Caleb Chandler, as the investigation progresses.

No arrests have been made in the death at presstime.

Young Homemakers Register 38 Groups

Muleshoe's Young Homemakers said they had a very good response to the fire plug painting contest to be conducted in conjunction with the July 4 celebration. A total of 38 entries were received, ranging from age 6-17.

As the judging date nears, colorful ideas are showing up all around town with bright imaginative colors and designs. The plugs will be judged on July 2 with the winners announced on July 5 following the annual parade.

Drive through town and look at the results of the following young people who have brightened the town with their paint brushes and imaginations.

Entries are: Tommy Carlson, 15; Ricky Carlson, 10; John Wuerflein, 10; April Green, 12 and Cara Bass, 11; Rene Copely, nine; Boy Scouts Kenneth Maxwell and Casey Wilson; Boys Scouts Mike Holt and Shane Colter.

Also Boy Scouts, Lee and Andy Copley and Jay Stovall; Boys Scouts Brett and Wade King; Boys Scouts Gig Pierce and Scott Calvert; Boy Scouts Loy Triana and Chuck Bartholf; Melanie Blackwell, nine; and Denise Hunter, 15 and Shellie

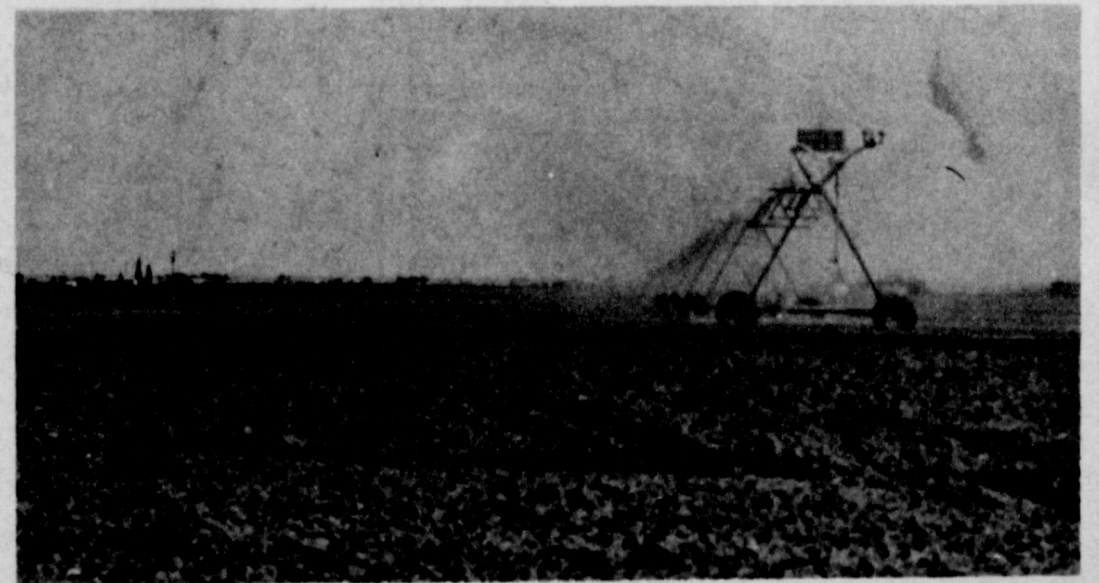

Reese, 15. Also, R.G. Bennett IV, 10; Rachelle Hardage, nine; Lisa Bennett, nine; Janna Wuerflein, nine; Mark Northcutt, 13; Mike Northcutt, 14; Sherry Henry, 12; Theresa Coleman, nine. Also, Clyde Dever, Willie and Therman Coleman; Nettie Ruth Coleman, 13; Lance Free, nine; Cont. on Page 2, Col. 1

Band Members Asked To Sign For Big Parade

Tony Clines, Muleshoe High School Bandmaster, has asked that members and former members of the Muleshoe High School Band participate in a march in the Independence Day Parade in Muleshoe.

The parade is scheduled for Monday, July 5 at 4 p.m. and the beginning and ending point will be the Boy Scout Grounds on South Main.

He said there will only be one short rehearsal on Sunday, July 4 at 2:30 p.m. in the High School Band Hall.

AN ALTERNATIVE . . . This circle system effectively points out one of the alternatives to no crops in the area this year. Another alternative is the ditch type irrigation. Moisture has not been received in sufficient amounts to allow planting crops without the supplementary irrigation systems in the area.

proper servicing is of vital importance to successful operation, warned the county agent. Tensionmeters are usually shipped dry and must be filled with distilled water with a green dye or blue dye that is supplied by the manufacturer. With the tensionmeter filled, the ceramic tip is submerged in a pail of tap water. A vacuum test pump with a gauge, which can be purchased from tensionmeter manufacturers, is then used to extract air bubbles from inside. When these bubbles stop flowing up through the center, the tensionmeter is ready to be inserted into the soil.

The servicing of a working tensionmeter is simply a matter of restoring the water level in the reservoir about once every week or two, continued Tankley. Tensionmeter readings should be taken early in the morning because the soil moisture in the root zone has equilibrated through the night while the plants are not actively respiring. If the reading is 20 centibars or higher early in the morning, irrigation should be started in the field that day to prevent the tension from exceeding 30 centibars. Most growers who schedule irrigations in this manner realize that in the past they have often allowed too much time to lapse between irrigations during the period of rapid tuber enlargement, he said.

Potato growers with clay loam soils find that running the water down every other row lessens the chances of tuber rot and rhizoctonia by avoiding a waterlogged condition of the soil around the tubers.

In most potato fields the root zone or upper 12 inches of top-soil will be moistened to field capacity from a 20 to 30 centibar tension by applying about one and one half inches of water. In sandy loam only about one inch of water is required to restore the top 12 inches to field capacity level. Irrigation in excess of this amount will usually cause water to move on down below the active root zone of the potato and is essentially wasted, concluded County Agent Tankley.

The Lieutenant Governor's Report

By Bill Hobby

AUSTIN--The Bureau of Business research at The University of Texas at Austin has prepared an outstanding summary of "Women Working in Texas." This summary, written by Robert M. Lockwood, will be the subject of several Lieutenant Governor's Reports in the weeks ahead. This week's report will discuss the female population and women in the Texas labor force.

In Texas, working women lag behind men in both pay and prestige. The problem is not unemployment, but underemployment. "Women's" work, "women's" wages, and even "women's" industries still exist here. Anglo females, however, fare better in the job

Happy Seamstresses

Learn Hair Care

The YL 4-H Club "Happy Seamstresses" sewing group met Friday, June 18, in the home of their leader, Mrs. Tom Flowers, to sew on their garments for the Dress Revue.

Attending the meeting were Dana Smith, Beth Harmon, Kim Wilson and Tamara Gilliland. Others attending the meeting and assisting with the sewing projects were Mrs. W.H. Muirhead and her daughter, Rene, from Dallas. Rene is a 4-H Club member in Dallas County.

The "Happy Seamstresses" met again on Monday, June 21, at Chubby's Beauty Shop for a lesson on hair care. Chubby Douglass gave the program. The girls learned how to care for their hair and the use of various hair care products.

Each girl was given a comb and brush and learned how to care for their brushes properly. Mrs. Douglass also showed the girls how to trim off the split ends in their hair. The girls also learned proper care for their eyebrows and nails.

Members attending the meeting were Beth Harmon and Tamara Gilliland. Also attending was one guest, Sharla Gardner from Portales, N.M.

market than most black men and women and most Spanish language and Spanish surnamed persons. In their occupations, their pay, and their status, most black and Spanish women in Texas remain at the bottom of the heap.

Although in Texas more men than women are born, two accelerating trends prevent the natural increase in population - the excess of live births over deaths - from favoring men. First, more men die each year than do women. And second, the number of births is decreasing. Because males exceed females only at birth and shortly thereafter, the male statistical advantage is steadily eroded by a falling birthrate.

The number of women - leaving aside migration - is increasing relative to itself and relative to the number of men. Women in Texas are increasingly numerous in both younger and older age groups. From about the age of 19, women outnumber men in every age group. Thus college-age and voting-age women outnumber men of the same age, women in the prime working years outnumber men, and retirement-age women outnumber men.

Migration into and out of the state is the only other component of population change that modifies the effects of natural increase. During the fifties and sixties, when the rate of natural increase remained high, net migration (the difference between the numbers of those moving in and out) contributed relatively little to the net growth of the Texas population.

Those few numbers available for the early seventies suggest that in Texas, as elsewhere, migration is apt to contribute increasingly to population change. The U. S. Bureau of the Census estimates that net in-migration accounted for about a third of the population gain in Texas between April, 1970 and July, 1973. Population estimates place the July, 1975, female population of Texas at about 6,240,000, a figure that would indicate a net gain of more than half a million from April, 1970. If similar trends are sustained throughout the decade, the female population in Texas in 1980 would be about 6,540,000 or almost half a million more women than men.

However dramatic female population trends in Texas have been, they are not as immediately significant to the economy and the society as is the changing relation of women to the labor force.

The female labor force in Texas increased by more than a million between 1940 and 1970. Half of this gain was realized during the sixties, and about 43 percent of the increase occurred among women 45 years and older. The same trends, though much less pronounced, occurred in the national female work force. From less than a quarter in 1940, the share of women in the Texas labor force rose to three-eighths in 1970. Men and women in the work force - in Texas as in the nation - got older through the forties and fifties.

Refreshments were served to Jana Grumbles, Clinton Knowles, Dovie Knowles, assistant leader and Shelley Sain.

In a double ring ceremony, Connie Lee Griffin and Robert Bruce Bruns were united in marriage in the Trinity Baptist Church of Muleshoe on Saturday, June 19, 1976 at 7:00 p.m. Rev. Heavy venise lace motifs accented the empire bodice and the A-line skirt. The headpiece was a Juliet cap of venise lace holding a lace edged veil of illusion.

Miss Griffin carried a nosegay of pink bridal rose, stephanotis, white carnations and baby's breath, accented with white lace and long white streamers. The couple pledged their vows in a candlelight setting, with a 15 candelabra tier flanked by spiral candelabra, offset by a touch of green in two ferns on their choir railing, accented by large pink bows. A memory candle on the pulpit railing was accented by deep rose tapers, carrying out the bride's chosen colors of shades of pink.

The Maid of Honor wore a formal length dress of light pink dotted swiss, with double cape sleeves, a V neckline and wore a light pink flower headpiece. The bridesmaids wore dresses identical to that of the Maid of Honor in a darker shade of pink. They carried matching carnations, nosegay of pale pink, baby's breath and long streamers.

The flower girl was Kristi Stephens, neice of the groom. She wore a dress identical to other attendants. She wore fresh flowers in her hair. Kristi carried a small basket, accented with pink bows, and streamers, with pink flower petals.

A four-tier wedding cake was served with banana punch, mints and nuts. Serving at the bride's table were Kay Swint, cousin of the bride, Toni Pattie and Judy Watson, sisters of the groom.

In 1907, the Lazbuddie school started as the "Star Ranch School" with one teacher and seven students, and was named for a dominant ranch in the area at that time. Today, Lazbuddie has grown, and the school has progressed to a very modern facility with up-to-date buildings and numerous teachers to serve the community.

Last Saturday, Lazbuddie celebrated 50 years of growth with hundreds of community individuals and exes traveling home for a couple of days of "remembering". More than 700 people registered during the two days set aside for the celebration.

F.A. Cook, the first teacher at Lazbuddie, lived in a tent for two years in the community and moonlighted as a county surveyor. For a few years, the school "traveled around, looking for a home" in an attempt to place the school as near as possible in the center of the students who were attending the school.

Lazbuddie didn't show up until 1925, when the school consolidated with the Castro County school district Red Tower and combined the names of two men Lazarus Green and Buddy Sherley to come up the name of Lazbuddie.

Early days at the school, during the years from around 1925-1926, students numbered around 70 with three teachers. Utilized as desks and seats were bricks and nail kegs, with few books being available.

From 1927, when a brick building was constructed, the school began to maintain steady growth with the school becoming fully accredited for high school students by 1928, and in 1929, the home economics and vocational departments were added.

Anniversary activities got underway on Saturday with a reception in the school cafeteria. An afternoon of visiting had old friends looking over full collections of pictures from 1926-1976 displayed in the school cafeteria. All of Lazbuddie's yearbooks, as well as personal scrapbooks and newspaper clippings were in display. Also on exhibit were more than 800 arts and crafts exhibited by local artists.

The evening was completed with a volleyball tournament in the school gym. Oldest class to participate was the class of 1945. First place trophies were presented to Jan (Nowell) Adams; Joyce (Hudson) McGehee; Louise (Routon) Engleking; Marilyn (Barnes) Hinkson; Frank Hinkson; Hoppy Jennings and Ronny Barnes.

This team represented the classes of 1965, 1966 and 1969. Second place trophies went to Beverly (Smith) Adkins, Coretta Watkins, Ronald Elliott, Jerry Don Glover, Wayne Peterson and John Sullivan. This team represented the class of 1961. A concession stand was utilized for supper, complete with home made pie and ice cream.

On Sunday, a barbecue dinner was hosted for more than 550 people before going to the auditorium for the afternoon program. Jerry Don Glover was master of ceremonies and Kent Winders, president of the Student Council, gave the invocation followed by the pledge of allegiance and national anthem led by Glenda Jennings. Glover welcomed the overflowing crowd and thanked the Lazbuddie Young Homemakers for coordinating the celebration. Each class was asked to stand and be recognized, as well as past and present faculty members of the school.

D.B. Ivy gave the background information on the school and the community and Mrs. Neely Moore and Scotty Windham presented a rundown on the outstanding athletic, agricultural and academic achievements of the school during its lifetime. It was noted that Lazbuddie's 1961 track team was the first track team in the Panhandle to ever win the state team title and the first athletic team of any kind in Parmer County to ever win state honors. Also included was Lazbuddie's 15 year winning streak in the Parmer County Fat Stock Show. Many other Bi-District, Regional, and State honors were also mentioned.

Receiving gifts as being from Lazbuddie's first graduating class in 1931 were Mrs. Juanita (Ivy) Garrett, Las Cruces, N.M.; Mrs. Pauline (Seaton) Green, Lazbuddie; and Robert Prather, Coleman.

A presentation to the person who traveled the greatest distance for the reunion was received by Mrs. Lois (Freeman) Voyles of Shingle Springs, Calif. Others traveling from great distances included Odessa (Miller) Whisenhunt, Murt and John Sullivan, Mildred (Vincent) McAllister and Sherri, all from Fresno, Calif.; Reba Hunt from Clovis, Calif.; Dora Lou (Hayhurst) Madson, Columbia, Ind.; Hac McCurdy, Pocatello, Ida.; Wynell (Barnes) White, Johnson City, Tenn.; and Maudine (Barnes) Buchanan, Paducah, Ky.

Guests were also registered from the states of Colorado, Arizona, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Teachers who had spent the longest number of years in the Lazbuddie classrooms were also honored. Miss Grace Paul, deceased, had devoted 24 years to the Star Ranch and Lazbuddie School. Her sister, also a former teacher at Lazbuddie, Miss Greta Paul, was present and was recognized.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilbanks were presented a gift of appreciation for devoting 21 years to the students and school system at Lazbuddie. Mr. and Mrs. Glen Scott were next honored for having a child in the Lazbuddie Schools continually for 31 years.

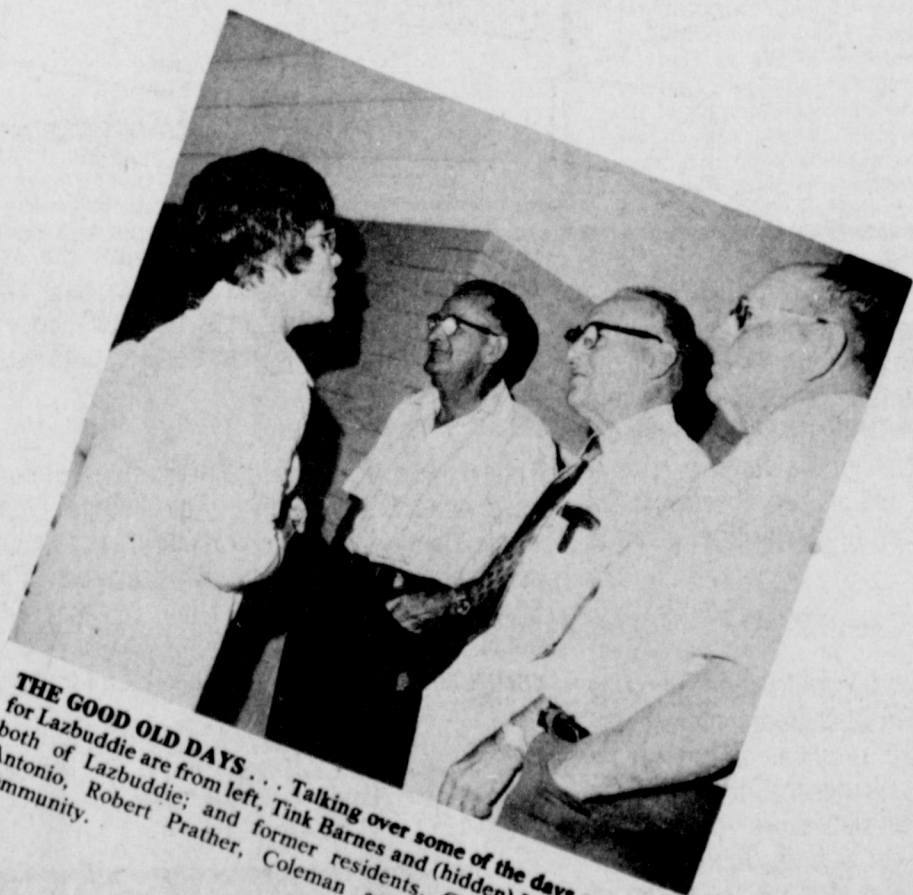

Door prizes were presented Frank Jesko, Janice (Darling) Thompson, Eugene Redwine and Charletta Treider. Mrs. Treider received a Lillian Smith painting. Other awards and gifts were presented by North Lazbuddie Gin, Farmer's Spraying Service, Lazbuddie Chemical, Lazbuddie Farmer's Co-op, Lazbuddie Garage and Supply, Sherley-Anderson, Foster Fertilizer, Marritt Grocery, Treider Electric and Clay's Corner Grocery.

Mrs. Glenda Jennings gave a Bicentennial Salute followed by a moment of silent prayer for the country and everyone then sang "God Bless America." The reunion closed with the Lazbuddie cheerleaders Karen Scott, Candy Moore, Tammy Smith and Angela Matthews leading the group in the school song.

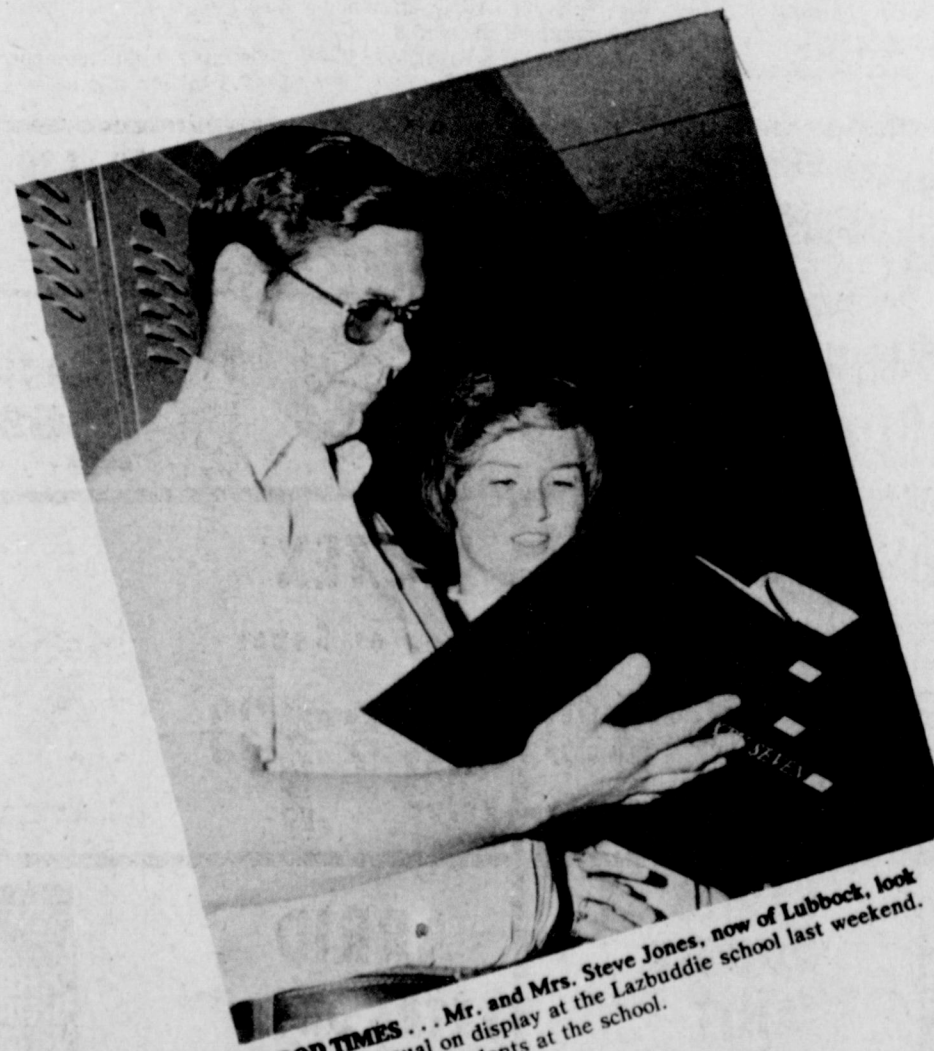

A Lazbuddie spokesman commented, "The Lazbuddie Young Homemakers should be commended on a job well done." and in turn, the Young Homemakers said they wish to thank the community and guests for their enthusiasm and help in making this birthday for the school and community a tremendous success.

Industrial Commission Seeks Fiber Industry

Although Texas leads the nation in production of cotton, wool and mohair, and is the leading supplier of feedstock for production of synthetic fiber, only one and a half percent of the fabric produced in the United States is woven in Texas. "We're here to do something about that," according to Jim Heath of the Special Projects Division of the Texas Industrial Commission.

Heath is special advisor to the Joint House Committee on Textile Industry Development created by the 64th state legislature. "Our current goals are to determine what areas of the state, besides the High Plains, are suited to textile milling and how to bring the textile mills to Texas," Heath said. "This includes identifying textile specialty items to be produced in rural areas. This is more than just dreaming up cute items. We're talking about in-depth research into cost input and benefit return ratio to help industrial development groups and investors put these ideas into action."

Most of the textile milling in the nation is in the Southeastern states. Their process uses Texas raw products, and their raw cloth is then shipped back to one of Texas' more than 700 garment manufacturing plants. "We want to eliminate the middle-man in the process," Heath said. "We want to make it feasible and enticing to investors to set up textile mills in Texas where the costs of transportation would be drastically reduced, and the cost to the customer of the finished garment would be lower."

The textile committee has spent the last several months acquainting themselves with the textile industry resources and processes in Texas, and is now in the stage of gathering data to outline a specific program to expand this industry. The committee is co-chaired by Rep. E.L. Short of Tahoka and Arner Earwood, president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association. Sen. Grant Jones of Abilene is vice-chairman. Other members are Sen. Kent Hance of Lubbock, Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, Rep. Forrest Green of Corsicana and Rep. Don Rains of San Marcos. Governor Dolph Briscoe appointed Dan Davis of the Plains Cotton Cooperative Association in Lubbock and Fred Walker of the Walker Estate Ranch in Comstock.

They are being assisted by Heath and Carl Cox, executive director of the Natural Fibers and Food Protein Commission; Bill Harris, director of the Natural Fibers Economic Research Department of The University of Texas at Austin; Dr. Herb Grubb of the Governor's Division of Planning Coordination; and Marvin Segal, director of the Southwest Apparel Manufacturers Association based in Dallas. "The committee is not starting from scratch in their study," Heath noted. "The Industrial Commission has been working on the concept of strengthening the textile industry in Texas for more than five years, and two reports have been published by the Commission in conjunction with two interim legislative committees."

One of the studies, "Report on the Feasibility of Textile Production on the Texas High Plains" has resulted in the creation of the American Cotton Growers Denim Mill which has just begun production of denim for the Levi Strauss Co. "This $30 million plant, located in Littlefield, is opening employment opportunities to more than 400 people. The impact on the community is fantastic," Heath said. "We want this same kind of impact for other areas of the state."

Heath says Texas' location, equidistant to both the East and West coasts and the Midwest, makes it ideal for transportation of finished goods to all the major markets. He cited the Dallas Apparel Mart's importance to fashion as one of the state's existing footholds on the industry. "Texas has all the pieces to the puzzle but one," Heath said. "Now the committee is documenting all the reasons why Texas should become the major site for textile mills, and will present a final game plan to the Legislature in January."

Heath said input is being sought from experts in every phase of the textile industry, and invites contributing information from all people involved in the total production process from raising crops and herds and oil products, to marketing the final product. Information should be sent to Jim Heath, Texas Industrial Commission, P.O. Box 12728, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Beef: A Part Of Americas History

Talk with someone about typical American dishes and odds are you'll find yourself discussing beef. Beef is an important element in American cuisine and has been since America's birth 200 years ago ... an even before that.

Cattle first came to the American Southwest with the Spanish in the 1500's and in 1624 with English settlers in New England. For early Americans cattle were an important food source; but in the chain of uses for cattle, meat was last. Cattle were, first, work animals; second, a source of milk; third, a source of hides; and lastly, meat.

Today, by-products are still valued but beef cattle are first a source of nutritious, versatile and tasty beef. The beef industry has improved cattle breeds, production methods, handling and transportation to the point where today's cook is guaranteed of the finest beef in the world. American beef is the world's standard for taste and tenderness. No wonder beef is America's favorite meat.

Beef recipes were originally passed from cook to cook, generation to generation, by word of mouth. The first cookbook to appear in America was published in 1742. Called "The Compleat Housewife" it was edited from an earlier English work by E. Smith. The first truly American cookbook, called "American Cookery", was written and published in Connecticut in 1796 by Amelia Simmons. It was designed by the writer, herself an orphan, to help guide fellow orphans who had no one to teach them the skills of cooking.

Then, as now, beef was an important part of any cookbook. And recipes such as Colonial Steak and Kidney Pie or Beef Wellington have been preserved and improved upon for generations.

"The Bicentennial Beef Cookbook" published by the Beef Industry Council of the Meat Board features 100 of the best beef recipes from America's first 200 years. Colonial kitchen favorites to the early West's chuckwagon greets, Pilgrim's Pot Roast to Planked Porterhouse Steak and Beef Jerky to High-Rise Hamburgers, America's rich heritage of beef cookery is captured in this 128-page book. It also includes fascinating historical information and helpful sections on cookery methods, storing of beef, carving and much, much more. The cookbook is available by mail only. ## Safe Boating Over The Fourth Means Freedom From Accidents

The July 4 three-day weekend is sure to increase the traffic on Texas roads -- and on our waterways. With boat owners numbering almost half a million, Texas Safety Association, in recognition of Safe Boating Week, July 4-10, reminds boaters to keep an eye out for each other.

Each year between 400 and 500 Texans die in drowning accidents, mainly during holiday periods. To assure that your holiday is free from injury, keep in mind these boating safety tips:

- Check to see that your boat and trailer are in tip-top shape before leaving home.
- Always have sufficient life preservers accessible to everyone on board.
- Carry filled fire extinguishers -- and use caution when filling fuel tanks.
- Remember that the rules for safe driving apply on the water, too. Hot rodding and drinking while boating are taboo!
- Water safety rules also apply to fishermen, swimmers and water-skiers who will be enjoying the water along with boaters. Waterskiers, in particular, should remember to confine their skiing to areas where there is no swimming or skin diving; to wear approved life jackets; and, to exercise caution. Excessive speed and sudden contact with obstacles in unfamiliar channels can end the holiday in grief.

Texas Safety Association joins with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary in asking Texans to observe Safe Boating Week, July 4-10 -- and to continue the spirit of safe boating the whole year 'round.

YOU CAN BANK on It!

Bill Loyd, President Muleshoe State Bank

Money, as any other commodity, is a marketable item, and the price of that money is the interest you pay for it.

Interest rates, as borrowers know, can fluctuate from month to month, even day to day, and are influenced by many factors.

Most authorities agree that long-term interest rates are influenced by expectations as to the future value of money itself, and many lenders who see inflation ahead will not lend unless the return looks high enough to offset the use of the money and compensate for the probable decline in its value before the money is repaid.

Lending money is a business just as any other, and banks, as all businesses, expect to make a moderate profit. Banks are in the business to lend money. They aren't, however, in business to give it away without a reasonable return. They also have to "buy" money and pay interest for it.

It is this system of "buying and selling" that makes American banking one of the most stable in the world.

The most important step towards saving money on heating and cooling costs is really inside a home... The Energy Efficient Home makes sure that heating and cooling stays inside your home, where it belongs. It's really not a new concept at all. With the days of cheap energy gone, it is important to use electricity more wisely than ever before. The Energy Efficient Home is today's best method of enjoying clean, comfortable electric living at the lowest possible cost.

Noted Speakers Scheduled For Farm Bureau Meet

An outstanding array of speakers will address the Texas Farm Bureau Statewide Commodity Conference for Policy Development July 6-7 in Waco. Sessions will be in the Waco Convention Center.

County Farm Bureau presidents and chairmen of county peanut, rice, cotton and dairy commodity divisions are invited to the Waco meeting which will get under way at 3 p.m., July 6. The meeting is being held in preparation for the organization's policy development process which gets under way soon in counties.

Local commodity meetings have been held recently in counties to "surface" issues related to those commodities. These issues will be discussed at the statewide conference and recommendations made for consideration at county annual conventions later in the year.

Congressman W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco, vice chairman of the U.S. House Agriculture Committee, will talk on the "Farm Program Outlook for 1977" at the opening session.

Two Farm Bureau leaders will speak at a banquet that evening at the Holiday Inn on Interstate 35. Bob Delano, vice president of the American Farm Bureau Federation and president of the Virginia Farm Bureau, will discuss "National Legislation in 1977." TFB President Carol Chaloupka will speak on "Action Today - Results Tomorrow."

Farm Bureau and agricultural research and education officials will address a general session Wednesday morning. John Datt, director of the AFBF's Washington office, will discuss "Government Regulations and You in 1977." Dr. Jarvis Miller, director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, will speak on "Research for Low Cost Production."

"Extension Education Needs for Texas Producers" will be handled jointly by Dr. H.O. Kunkel, Dean of Agriculture at Texas A&M University; and Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, new Agricultural Extension director.

Warren Newberry, TFB executive director, will talk on "State Issue in 1977."

Luncheon speaker on July 7 will be Rep. Bill Clayton, Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives. His topic will be "Texas Agriculture - Number One."

Individual commodity meetings will be held prior to 5:30 p.m. adjournment.

Boyd Rice, Rosemont, Ill., southwest manager for United Dairy Industry Associations, will speak to the TFB Dairy Division on "Milk and Milk Products - Promotion."

Troy Barton, Park Ridge, Ill., assistant director of commodity activities for the AFBF, will review recent legislation for the Peanut Division.

Dr. Ed Stivers, vice president of Rogers Delinted Cottonseed Co. of Waco, will discuss "Cottonseed for Human Consumption" at the Cotton Division meeting.

U.S. Department of Agriculture officials, at yet unannounced, will speak at the Rice Division meeting.

State chairman of advisory committees for the four divisions will meet that evening to make recommendations for consideration at county Farm Bureau annual meetings.

State chairmen are: Milk - Don Smith, Sulphur Springs in Hopkins County; Peanuts - Clifton Stacy, Pearsall in Frio County; Cotton - Vester Smith, Loop in Gaines County; and Rice - John Williams, Angleton in Brazoria County.

GOD LOOKS ON THE HEART

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Man's first reactions to another is based on outward appearances, and only time will help him to know the heart of another. God knows, immediately, every attitude of the heart, whether it is good or bad.

"Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God."

There are many rewards for those that follow the Lord. "Let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord."

It should come as a shocker that the median price for a new single-family house is $43,700. Now how many younger couples do you know who can afford shelter at that figure? In order to get the cost of housing down to an "affordable" level, the no-frills house is being pushed. That means a stripped-down version, lower ceilings, and no moldings around the walls, in order to get around the ever-increasing cost of housing. Now comes the mobile home industry which is quick to point

Attorney General

AUSTIN—Protecting the consumer was a major concern of the attorneys general from more than 40 states and U.S. territories attending the 70th annual meeting of the National Association of Attorneys General recently.

Our office, which hosted the meeting in San Antonio, was an active participant in meetings of the 14 N.A.A.G. committees, where much substantive discussion of consumer-related matters took place, and where resolutions were

LCC Offers Basic Real Estate Course

Two courses to help individuals increase their earning potential in the real estate field will get underway in July as a part of the Continuing Education Division at Lubbock Christian College.

Starting July 6 will be Basic Real Estate, which provides initial instruction necessary for the state examination. The Class continues through August 12 and meets each Tuesday and Thursday from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The second course is Marketing and it will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from July 20 through 26. New to LCC's list of course offerings is Speedwriting, a nationally known system of alphabetic shorthand. It is scheduled for July 20 through August 26. Two hobby-oriented courses also start in July. They are Liquid Silver and Macrame. For further information or pre-registration contact Frankie Faver at 792-3221, extension 222.

hammered out which later were adopted by the N.A.A.G. general assembly.

One such measure, proposed by our office's chief of consumer protection, Philip Maxwell, resolved to ask that Congress amend federal bankruptcy laws to close a loophole which in effect permitted violation of state consumer laws by unscrupulous merchants in certain limited instances.

Consumer protection attorneys said that some states have reported cases where corporations that are defendants in deceptive trade practices suits brought by state attorneys general have used federal bankruptcy laws to circumvent justice.

This comes about when the corporation being sued files a petition for bankruptcy. Under current federal law, all state legal actions are then held up until the bankruptcy proceedings are settled. Some corporations allegedly have misused this provision of the law as an obstructionist tactic to evade state legal actions, while continuing to operate under a special "Chapter 11" bankruptcy provision.

Another resolution passed by N.A.A.G. supports enactment of federal legislation to require that packaged foods and other products be labeled uniformly. We emphasized, however, that states should not be limited in their efforts to see that consumers purchasing such goods get the full weight or measure stated on the package.

We felt that consumers, retailers, intrastate packagers, farmers, and manufacturers all need to be assured that the weights and measures indicated on packaged goods are accurate. In line with that feeling, we additionally opposed any efforts to prohibit or impede the use of statistically valid methods of determining if there are short weights or measures in lots of packaged goods.

Antitrust efforts to protect the public received the attention of the assembled attorneys general also, in the form of a resolution favoring parents patriae legislation recently passed by both the U.S. House and Senate, and now in the conference committee state.

where practical, expanded to provide support for the water quality management effort.

The state's water quality management program for the upcoming fiscal year beginning September 1 outlines the Board's commitment to the enhancement of the state waterways and describes the programs designed to enable the state to meet the goals established for 1977, 1983, and 1985 by amendments to the Federal Water Pollution Control Act.

Major program elements for 1977 remain virtually unchanged from the current year, and include management of municipal facilities, permit compliance, comprehensive water quality management planning, and stream and effluent monitoring. The Board's remaining on-going functions will be continued and, ranked projects according to the municipal funding construction grant priority rating process and includes projects received prior to December 31, 1975.

The hearing is to be held in Room 118 of the Stephen F. Austin State Office Building starting at 9:00 a.m.

Another important aspect of the program for the new year will be an assessment and evaluation of the non-point sources of pollution such as urban runoff, rainfall runoff from agricultural type operations, and pollution resulting from subsidence.
