Construction of Road To Portales to Begin Soon

The proposed short-cut highway between Muleshoe and Portales, N. M., which would lop some 15 miles off the present route, reached the planning stage this past week when officials of Bailey county and Roosevelt County (N. M.) met in Portales to work out plans.

County Judge Glen Williams and Precinct 2 commissioner, Loyd Stephens met with the Roosevelt county group. The new road, which would aid both Muleshoe and Portales, has been changed from its original plan, and when completed will link the two county seats on an almost direct line. Judge Williams said upon his return from the Portales all-day planning session.

Originally Roosevelt county had planned to send its road directly east from Portales, but that route was abandoned after it was discovered that expensive fills through sand hills would be necessary. Instead the route will follow the present U. S. 70 line to five miles northeast of Portales and then run directly east to the Texas line.

Judge Williams said the Roosevelt county commissioner have cleared land easements along the proposed 11-mile route leading to the Texas line, and surveying of the route and actual grading probably will get under way within the next few weeks. The route has been officially declared open by the commissioners a simple process by which New Mexico officials can designate a route by a simple declaration.

The Bailey county commissioner must provide for grading of the road west from FM1700. The new route will take off from the point near West Camp where 1700 turns back north. Three miles of (See CONSTRUCTION, Page 6)

'Continuous' C-C Campaign Proposed

Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce is planning a "continuous" membership program to sign up new members throughout the year, Roger Albertson, membership chairman, said Saturday.

The program will not be a "concentrated, one-week affair," he explained, "but will be one that adds new members to the Chamber throughout the year."

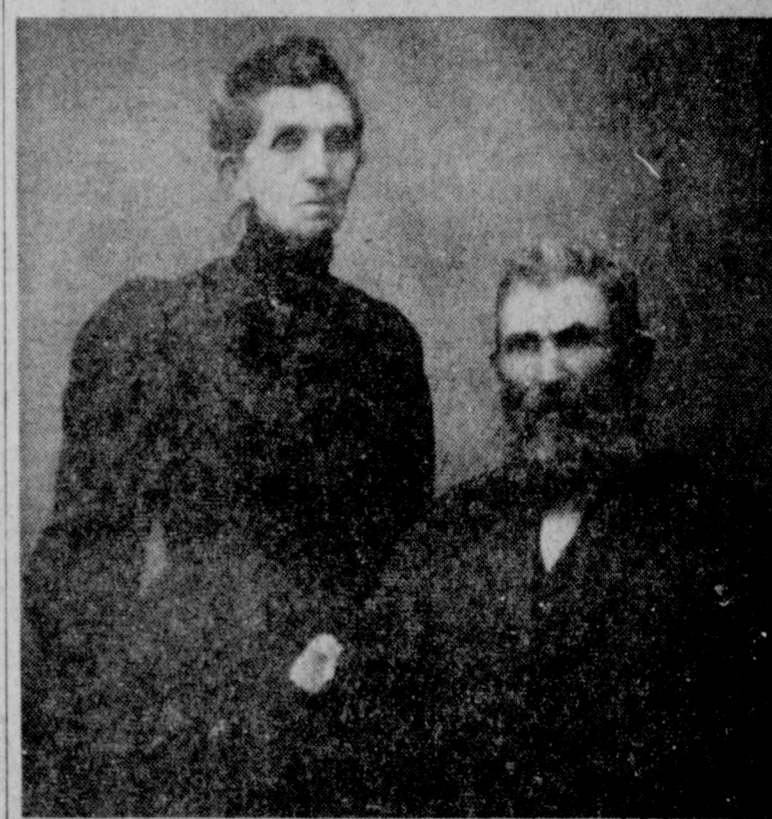

Albertson said details of the program have not been completed, but "plans are under way and probably will be launched within the very near future."

Under the proposed membership plans, weekly luncheon meetings will be held when efforts will be made to interest non-members in active program of the Chamber, Albertson explained.

"At these luncheons, we would discuss membership exclusively, and we would see to it that all who attend are given an invitation to join the chamber if they are not already members."

He said a complete survey of all the business and professional men in the county will be made, and it will be kept up to date. At the luncheons, members will be given "cards" of those persons who do not belong "but should be interested in joining our organization," he summed up.

"We believe that a sustained effort to strengthen the Chamber organization should be launched as a means of boosting membership in the chamber," he said. "The greater number of persons (See CAMPAIGN, Page 6)

KNOW THEM? — The Journal has slipped this picture out of its June 30 anniversary edition as a "teaser". We just thought you might like to figure out just who the couple are — when they lived here, when the picture was made, etc. Their names, and a sketch about them, will appear in the June 30 anniversary edition of the Journal. You can send the paper to friends and relatives for 50 cents per copy.

Ray's 'Ritin'

By RAY MARTIN

Beards, all shapes, sizes, textures and colors, are sprouting out all around Muleshoe these days as a result of the grow-a-beard contest sponsored by the Jaycees.

Frankly, in some cases, I've seen better clothes brushes than some of the tonsorial decorations that are showing up these days. In fact, Castro hasn't got a thing on some of the boys around Muleshoe; I refer, of course, only to looks.

But now many a man who has been lopping off his whiskers ever since he was 14 years old is surprised to find that the turned-loose decorations are of unstandard color. Some range into pinks, blues and greens that are not the normal color of human hair.

And some of the fellows are going around town buying up all kinds of dye. In fact, there's an almost scarcity of eyebrow pencil, mascara and even certain quickie hair dyes, so intent are people in their efforts to make their beards match their head covering.

They are even buying up cake coloring and cloth dyes (Black Rit is almost scarce.) But the topper, I believe is the fellow (name on request when accompanied by a $10 bill) who has been using (See RAY'S, Page 6)

Talent Sought for Downtown Jubilee Days June 29-July 3

Promoters of Muleshoe's Downtown Jubilee Days, June 29 through July 3, Saturday sounded an appeal for entertainers, speakers, dancers, twirlers, fiddlers, singers, instrumentalists or what have you. They are needed for the continuous programs to be staged on Main street during the Golden Jubilee event which concludes with a gigantic talent show and old-fashioned picnic at Ben Douglas stadium the night of July 4.

The Jubilee celebration, when stores will offer especially attractive prices for shoppers, is being promoted by the retail committee of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce.

The group plans to set up a downtown stage with a public address system, where the entertainments can be carried on almost continuously, the Chamber says. Those interested in taking part in the event are asked to drop by the Chamber or call the chamber at 2480.

Roy Davis, manager of the chamber, said a full schedule of activities is being arranged, and those who would like to take part are asked to contact the chamber as soon as possible so events can be booked and timed.

"We are looking for singers, old-timers who can recount their early-day experiences, dancers—

Cecil Davis has been named permanent chairman of the Bailey county historical survey committee, and Mrs. Vera Engelking is the new vice-chairman. Mrs. Lela Barron was named secretary.

These officers were elected at a meeting of the organization in Judge Glen Williams' chambers here Thursday.

The organization set its next meeting time for Thursday, June 20 at 2 p.m. in the district courtroom.

Committee members named include: Historical marker committee: Mrs. Vera Engelking, chairman; Judge Glen Williams, Mrs. Gil (See DAVIS, Page 6)

anybody who can perform, Davis said. "We hope to secure talent from many miles around Muleshoe to take part in our Golden Jubilee downtown events," he concluded.

Adding to the promotion features, a decoration service has been invited to put up banners and streamers on downtown business streets, advertising the event. These are to be in place by June (See TALENT, Page 6)

Muleshoe to Seek Stop-Over Here of Pending Feedlot Tour

The Muleshoe area, with 40,000, 40,000 and 60,000 head every year. Logan Walker, agricultural staff member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, said he had had several inquiries about such a tour, and he expressed the belief that such a tour would be well attended.

Davis told the group that livestock feeding here is becoming "a major industry for our area," adding that the feedlot business is growing each year. With plenty of feed grains available and with good climatic conditions, feed lots here are a "natural," he told the group.

A survey tour made last fall by officials the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce revealed the growth of this program. The Journal carried a story and a series of pictures, telling of the expansion of this business.

"We feel certain that the tour when it is held will include Muleshoe," Davis said. "We hope to be able to ask for a luncheon stop-over in Muleshoe when we can go into our livestock industry more completely," he said.

Such tours attract hundreds of persons each year, but few have been held in West Texas and none of any magnitude in this immediate area.

FHA Girls to Greet 'Hospitality' Visitors

Thirty Future Home-makers here will serve as hostesses for Muleshoe's "Hospitality Days" Saturday, June 29 Harvey Bass, chairman of the committee, announced Saturday. The program is part of Muleshoe's Golden Jubilee celebration.

The hospitality day's stops are sponsored by the retail merchants' committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Other members of Bass' committee are Carl Freyer and Hanev Poyner.

Under Bass' plan roadblocks will be set up Saturday, June 29, when thousands of travelers will be on the highways enroute to July 4th celebrations.

The girls will serve as hostesses, handing each stopped traveler an envelope containing information about Muleshoe and offering the travelers a list of business houses here which will provide free drinks for the travelers.

The sheriff's department will co-operate in the road block program approved by the Department of Public Safety as a means of preventing road fatigue.

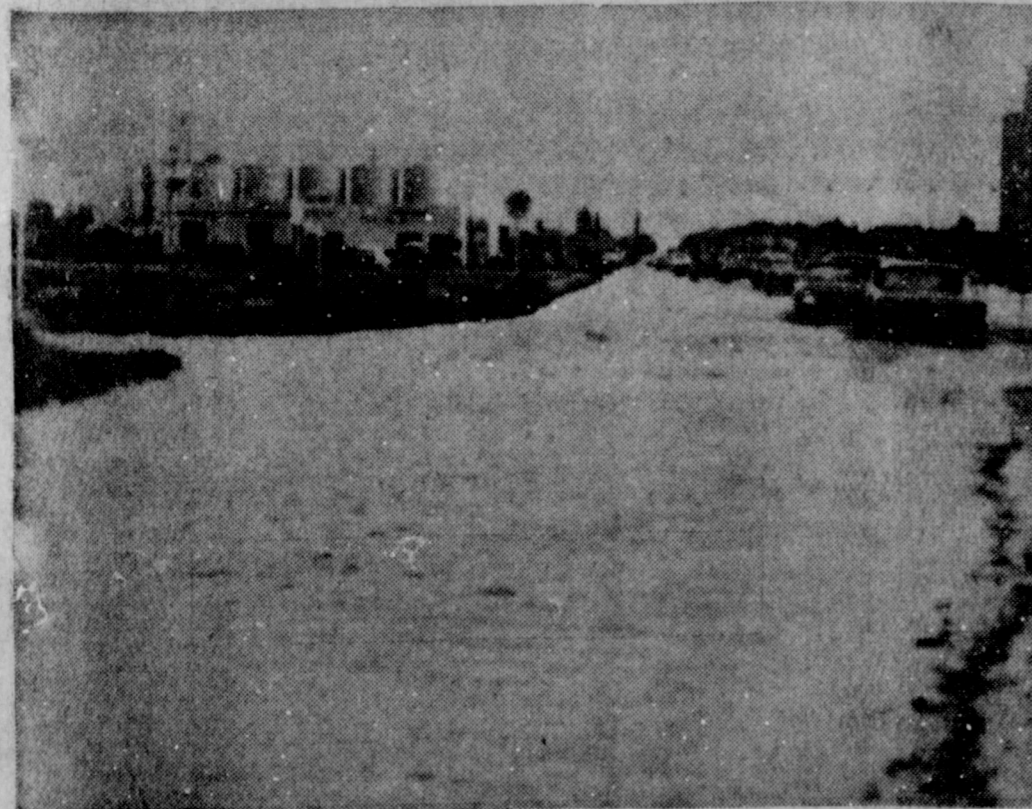

Restaurants, drive-ins and drug-stores that will enter into the free drinks program are being compiled, Bass said, and a list will be printed soon to have ready for the girls to give the travelers.

The girls will work in shifts to (See FHA, Page 6)

Roy Davis to Attend Managers' Meeting

Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce manager Roy Davis will attend the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers' convention in Corpus Christi Monday and Tuesday, it was announced Saturday.

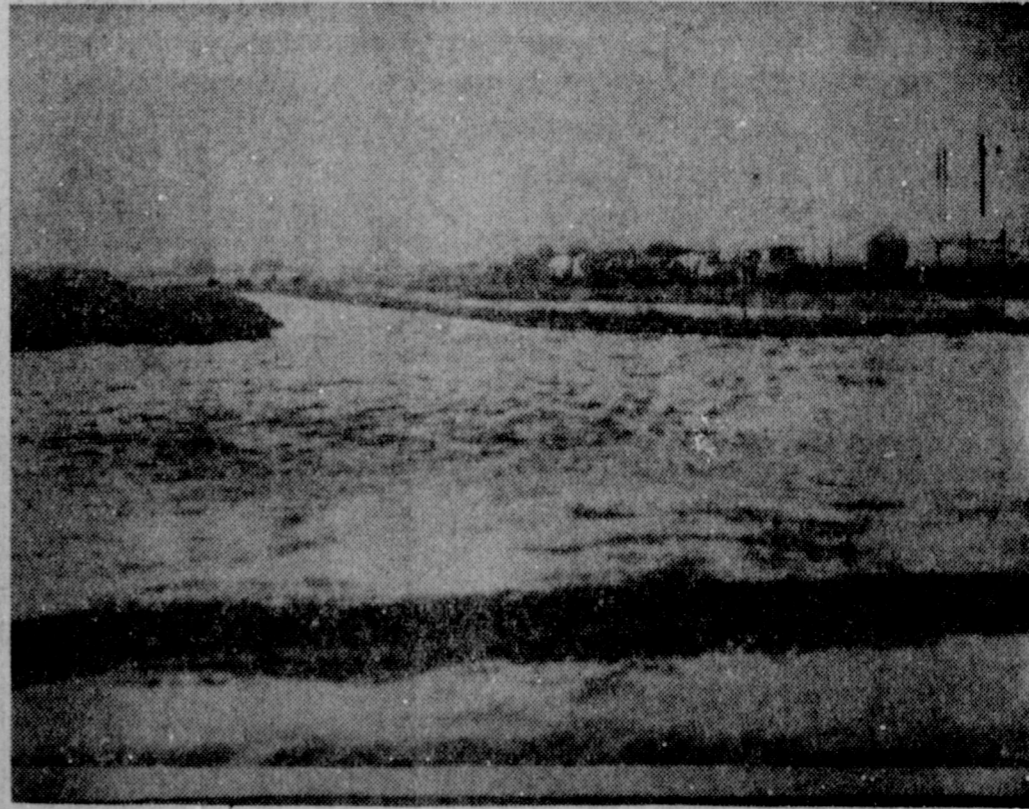

The program is designed "along informational lines, aimed at improving the job performance of local C-C managers", Davis said.

THE RAIN'S CAME — Muleshoe was hit by its hardest rain of the season this past week when more than 2 inches were measured in some parts of town. Marble-sized hail accompanied the rain, causing damage to garden and shrubs. A skylight was broken in a downtown store. These pictures, made immediately after the downpour, show downtown scenes when water ran across the streets in several places. One of the pictures here shows flooding at the intersection of U.S. 70 and SH 214. Water was perhaps heaviest at Fir and U.S. 70 and on West Avenue B where water scurried to a field on the south side of town, forming a 10-acre playa lake. (Journal Photos by Joella Lovvorn; Journal Engraving)

Marriage Vows Exchanged By Miss Karen Darnell and Edgar F. Speer

Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Karen Darnell, Searcy, Ark., and Edgar Speer, Biggers, Ark., in a double ring service read at 7:30 p.m. in Sunset Church of Christ, Lubbock, Saturday, June 7.

The bouquet she carried was feathered carnations centered with a purple-throat white orchid.

Linda Darnell, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a street-length dress of nylon organdy of powder blue. ### IT'S FOR THE ... BIRDS!

By MEL EVANS,

It was a moment to remember when I saw my first Black Bear. It was a cool morning with a north wind and snow, sleet and rain falling. The terrain we were in was some of Colorado's roughest, and after about four hours of slipping, sliding, climbing, and crawling on all fours, to cover an area in which we were making a deer winter mortality survey, I was about beat.

I was just about 50 feet from the top of a ridge when suddenly what appeared to be a Sherman Tank loomed up in front of me. The bear and I both stood still for what seemed like minutes, but was actually seconds, and looked each other square in the eye.

This individual had just come out of hibernation and had been frightened as well as hungry and run by some of my co-workers and was undoubtedly somewhat bored with the situation.

I must have thought about running, but I know I was too scared. I had remembered being told that a bear couldn't run down hill because his weight was proportioned with the majority in his hind quarters.

Don't kid yourself; they CAN run down hill.

The bear ran past me like lightning and was into an aspen grove which was located behind me before I could think to take a picture with the camera which hung encased around my neck. I have seen several of the Black (Brown) Bears run down hill since that time.

This bear is the smallest of our North American Bears. Their body length varies from 50 to 65 inches, they range from 27 to 36 inches tall at the shoulders, and may reach weights up to 400 pounds.

Breeding occurs in June and July, but the embryo will only be about 3/4 of an inch long by early December.

Parturition occurs in late January and early February and the young only weigh about eight ounces at birth. The youngsters are covered with a thin coat of fine black hair and are blind until they are about 40 days old.

The litter is usually composed of two young, but may on very rare occasions be composed of five. The cubs (young bears) will weigh about 50 pounds at the end of ten months. They will spend the following hibernation season (winter) with the sow (adult female) and will depart company with her before she mates again. Bears have food habits similar to our domestic pigs, in that they will eat most anything. Vegetation is the most important item in their diet. Berries are preferred and they can frequently be seen in areas where large berry patches are present.

Only under certain conditions are Black Bears thought to prey upon livestock. These conditions are usually characterized by old age and lack of ability to sustain oneself from natural sources. These animals have been severely condemned by stockmen in some areas. The majority of this has resulted from the habit of bears cleaning up dead animals, which have died of natural causes.

Bears are not thought to make large migrations or movements, but on some occasions movements may result as the berries ripen at higher elevations. Emigration may result from overpopulation in any given area. ble. To those of you who are going into bear country this summer, these are not good play mates. Feeding bears is asking for trou-

Golden

URAN

Realizing that the weather in recent weeks hasn't been conducive to "tops" in crop growth, we would like to offer a suggestion. Heavy moisture and cool weather have slowed young cotton growth considerably — to counteract this condition in the face of a shortened growing season, we recommend an application of from 5 to 7 gallons per acre of GOLDEN URAN. The nitrate content of this excellent nitrogen fertilizer will provide a quick boost of growth power to the dormant plant. This small amount of nitrogen will in no way affect the maturing of the crop, but will give it added leaf and root growth. IF YOU ARE ONE OF THE MORE UNFORTUNATE WHO HAVE TO REPLANT—WE WOULD LIKE TO SUGGEST THAT YOU APPLY A BOOSTER SHOT WITH YOUR SEED.

FRANKLY

SPEAKING

By REV. J. FRANK PEERY

SHOULD I LOVE MYSELF?

The Gospel writer, Mark records the words "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." I had always been taught and led to believe that this was being cocky, self-sufficient, and egotistical. To love thyself was being a top-flight snob. However, Christ the Lord plainly states that we must have a basic love of self. Our Lord was a wise person. He had the very greatest respect for reality. To have proper love and understanding of his neighbor, one must love himself.

I remember well the words of a college professor who said most of our problems in human relations are caused by people who hate themselves. If you have hate of yourself, your mind will play tricks on you and you will most likely do a major job of transferring the hate to your neighbor. The neighbor being anybody close at hand. So, one really needs love in order to live with himself.

Love to one's neighbor demands that one must have a self love in order to make the right kind of contribution to the neighbor and society. For, if there is no love of self there is no concern for the various elements, responsibilities, and duties around you — which all relate to the neighbor.

Look carefully at the fact that this love and concern one has for his neighbor must be from the proper perspective. Jesus taught with genuine balance. The word "I" and the word "others" often pull against each other. Just to try to live for "others" is oftentimes boring. To put "I" up front at all times is tragedy. One does not have proper balance. Life is not developed in the proper way. Really, Jesus is saying live with yourself and with others in a balanced love.

Frankly speaking — The happiest people I know love their neighbor as they love themselves. Love yourself well in the confidence of God, and your neighbor equally as well. Deep contentment will be yours.

There's plenty to see in Texas, wherever you may roam on a holiday jaunt or on a vacation trip. Clockwise from the lower left hand corner, some of the impressive sights to see in Texas are: The Big Bend, some of the most striking scenery in the state; Guadalupe Peak, highest point in Texas at 8,751 feet; the Palo Duro Canyon, camping grounds for Indian tribes in frontier days; East Texas oil fields,

Gulf Coast Could be That Vacation Spot You're Looking For This Year

Want to get away from the hustle and bustle of city life and just take it easy? Then answer the call of sun, sand and sea, and enjoy the wind-blown beaches of the Texas Gulf Coast. Here you'll find the companionship of the sea — a place to rest and stretch, to breathe the clean salt breeze, and absorb the healthful warmth of a semitropical sun.

Padre Island — a 110 mile-long shoestring of shifting sands and white beaches — beckons thousands of tourists. Now the United States' longest remaining stretch of undeveloped coastline, Padre Island stands alone in its spaciousness and vacation appeal. This fabled sliver of land, only a few miles wide at most, extends from Port Isabel to Corpus Christi.

An abode of pirates in the very early days, and later of cattle barons, Padre Island was inaccessible until 1954, when the $2,225,000 Queen Isabella Causeway was completed by Cameron County.

Since then, development has been rapid. The beach, washed by the vivid blue waters of the Gulf of Mexico, is one of the finest in the world.

There are numerous resort hotels, and at Isla Blanca Park, at the very southern tip, Cameron County maintains numerous recreational facilities. Fishing is unexcelled.

Port Isabel, just west of the south end of Padre Island, was explored by Spaniards in the early 16th Century, and was settled as a fishing and resort com-munty before 1800. The old lighthouse, built in 1852, has been restored as a state park and is open to visitors for a nominal charge.

Port Isabel is widely known among sports fishermen, and is the home of the Texas International Fishing Tournament, held annually in August. Together with Brownsville, Port Isabel also stages the Shrimp Fiesta, climaxed by the colorful Blessing of the Fleet Ceremony. Gaily decorated with bunting and flags, boats of the large shrimp fleet file past the priest to receive his blessing. The Shrimp Fiesta is scheduled for July 5, 6 and 7 this year.

You'll find the Texas Gulf Coast is a wonderland of exciting fun for the whole family.

PORT ISABEL LIGHTHOUSE — A sentinel over beaches that once sheltered Spanish explorers, Indians, and pirate treasure, this structure marks historic Port Isabel State Park on the tip of Texas.

Truman Lindsay is chairman of the retail committee of the C of C with Bobby Airhart as president. Bill Wimberly is chairman of the anniversary committee, and Harmon Elliott of the July Fourth committee. Pat Glover is representing the Jaycees. Another feature of the anniversary program will be Jubilee Days to be staged by Muleshoe Merchants June 29, July 1, 2, and 3, it was decided. The winners will be in the form of gift certificates rather than cash, he explained, and both chamber members and non-members will be invited to participate in this program.

It is the hope of the committee that this can prove a very popular feature of the Jubilee Days portion of the program. Talent is invited to participate in this phase of the program also. Altogether the June 29 through July 4 program is expected to attract hundreds of persons to Muleshoe in what will be one of the biggest celebrations ever held here, sponsors said.

R. E. Baker Fined In County Court

Charges of giving a worthless check were filed Thursday afternoon against a Muleshoe man, and an hour later he had been arraigned, pleaded and had been sentenced.

Charged was R. E. Baker who allegedly gave a downtown store a $20 check drawn against the name of Dick Baker.

When arraigned before Judge Glen Williams, Baker pleaded guilty. He was fined $20 and costs and was given 30 days in jail.

Construction--

(Continued from Page 1) This strip already have been opened, and the balance must be surveyed and opened to connect with the New Mexico road. Stephens will hire a surveyor to do this job soon.

Then the Bailey county commissioners are enthusiastic over the new road and are eager to get it into operation as soon as possible. This would make an almost direct road to Portales with a total mileage of 34. The present route, via Clovis, measures 50 miles.

At the outset, the only portions of the road which would be all-weather type would be the paved strips on both ends of the road—the five miles where the route follows U. S. 76 north of Portales, and the nine miles paved on FM 1760. Thus the new road would not be an all-weather route, Judge Williams explained, but he added that "every effort will be made within the next few months or years to make the road a paved route between the two towns."

One of the reasons for Muleshoe's interest in the route is to provide a shorter road to Eastern New Mexico University at Portales. Already a number of persons are commuting each day to the school at Portales, since that is the nearest college to Muleshoe.

C of C Board Meeting Set

Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce board of directors will hold its first full meeting with the new manager, Roy Davis, next Friday evening, it was announced Saturday by Bobby Airhart, president.

The agenda for the meeting has not been completed, but many "important matters are to come before the board," Airhart said.

Among the events to be discussed, will be the elaborate June 29, July 4 events, including Golden Jubilee Days, Hospitality Day, and the July 4 talent show.

The meeting will be held at Chamber headquarters, starting at 6 p.m.

Accordingly, he's been putting on cordovan shoe polish to bring the whiskers up to color specifications. (I hasten to add that I am not the red-head just described.)

Of course not all the beards detract from the wearer's looks. In fact, having seen some of the faces before and after, I believe they look better with a beard—or with anything that would cover their faces. For my part, I've sprouted a mustache which grows in three colors—red, white and black. But mustache-growing is no problem for me: I wore one for many years until I read one day that men past their 30's should never wear a mustache since it makes them look older. Shaved mine off right away after having worn it for 20 years. Goodness knows I looked old enough anyway!

But now the mustache is back. It keeps me from getting fined one buck for not growing whiskers or buying a permit for $1.50.

with disadvantaged students of unknown potential, but limited achievement, enthusiastically welcomed the project. They had to readjust their teaching techniques considerably, however, to fit the new program.

"There are many answers not yet discovered and many decisions yet to be determined," Mrs. Mock tioned before, are increasingly concerned about "drop-outs," those pupils who quit school before finishing senior high.

Now comes a story from "Texas Outlook," the teachers' magazine, which tells of a new approach to solving the drop-out problem. Seems Houston public schools have found that the drop-out urge strikes somewhere in junior high, although the pupil may struggle along with his grades until he reaches the 10th or 11th grade—or even in his final year. It takes him that long to get up his nerve to quit.

Now this Houston system is working on the problem back in junior high. It's a program known as "talent preservation project," and it's working so well that now 97.7 percent of junior high enrollees return the next year to school. In Houston, 1,400 such students are enrolled in some 70 classes in 23 junior high schools. Participation is voluntary by the schools, teachers, and students, and parental approval is required.

The program for these students is entirely different from the usual curriculum. In fact, at first only two academic subjects are required for these project classes. These are language arts—with emphasis on reading and oral communication and practical mathematics. At the second level, a third academic subject is added.

In the remaining school periods, students are scheduled for physical education and elective courses, which include shop, crafts, cosmology, art, music, band, typing, homemaking, and public speaking.

"Freed from the pressure of the regular curriculum, these students are able to concentrate on the basic subjects and for the first time experience the stimulus of success," Mrs. Mock writes.

Frequently a student will improve to the point that he can return to the regular curriculum. Project students are not classified as being in the seventh, eighth, or ninth grade. Instead, they progress through several levels of achievement. Class size is limited to 20 students.

readily concedes. "Each day presents challenges which demand the highest degree of frustration tolerance on the part of the teacher."

The important thing, reports the author, is that the project is moving, and in the right direction.

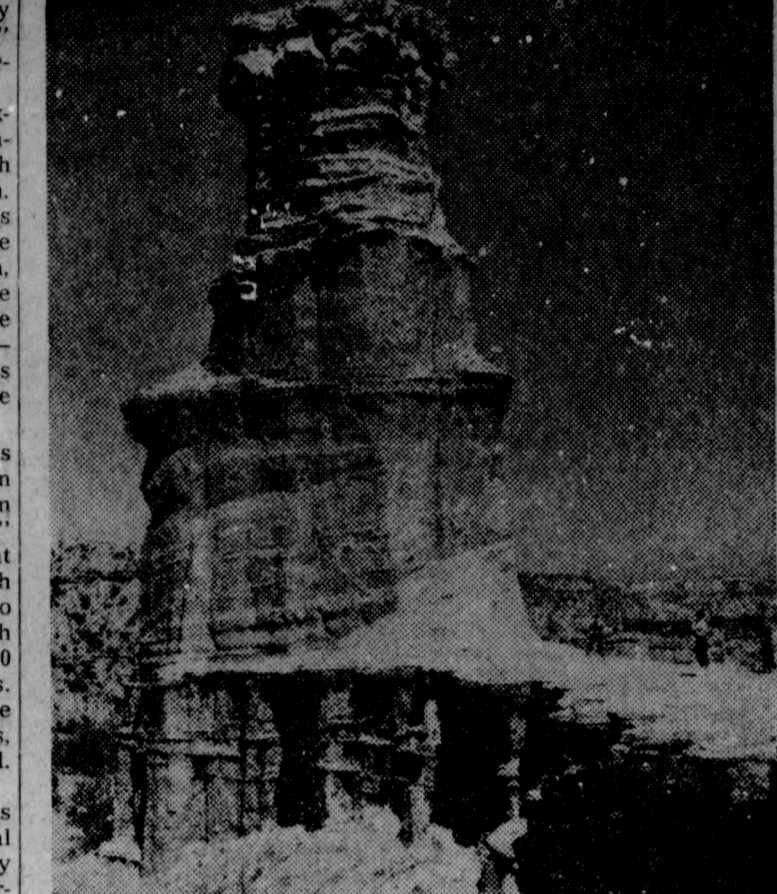

This department says, "power to 'em." If this is a solution—or even a partial solution—to the drop-out problem, it's well worth while.

But I'm thinking of a man—a relative—who was a "drop-out." Even though he's pretty well qualified by experience and self-instruction, this particular man wouldn't even apply for a $17,000 job which he could have held efficiently because he didn't have the necessary formal education.

In a letter recently he wrote: "I realize every day how much I have missed by not going on to school and receiving at least a bachelor's degree. In money alone, my lack of formal education is costing me $10,000 to $12,000 a year in salary I could earn if I had completed school."

Today's Meditation

"THE SECRET PLACE"

In the ninth first division of the Psalms we read, He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most high, shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. Dwelleth means, continue to dwell. So he that continueth to dwell in the secret place of the most high shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

Back under the law the High priest went in once a year with the mercy seat, that the sins of the people might be rolled forward another year. But we as Christians every day, the Christian continually dwelling there, and truly this is a secret place, of which an unconverted man has no conception.

The cloud let the Israelites by day, and furnished protection from the burning sun. The pillar of fire by night, afforded light through the night season. Likewise the people of God in this hour behold the light of His countenance in the night seasons of adversity, and truly this is a secret place, for they are sheltered from those things that would oppress and overwhelm their souls. He hides his children under His wing, and that is all the bird of prey can see, they are securely covered.

All down through the dispensations of time, God has made a point of distinction by His people, one of the plagues that fell upon Egypt and Pharaoh was three days and nights of darkness that could be felt, but the people of God had light in their dwellings. Also he said not as much as a dog would lift his head against any of the children of Israel, that they may know that God doth put a difference between Israel and the Egyptians. May we find that secret place and abide there as the poet so ably writes: Under His wings I am safely abiding; Tho the night deepens and tempests are wild, still I can trust Him; I know he will keep me; He has redeemed me, and I am his child. Under His wings, under his wings, who from his love can sever? Under his wings my soul
