Trek

Without any fanfare of trumpets the Federal Emergency Relief Administration is moving at top speed to solve the problem of caring for the army of transient jobless this winter.

The annual trek of workless hopefuls toward balmy temperatures has taxed resources of the southeast and southwest sandy in recent years. Florida and California and their neighboring states particularly have suffered trying to care for these transients.

States potentially to be affected have been asked to work out programs on a regional basis. When these are presented the Relief Administration will put up the necessary money.

Negotiations are under way with the railroads to get transportation agreements that will send those who merit back to their homes.

By registering and interviewing these transients at central stations located on arterial highways and at railway centers the government hopes to determine just how big a job it's up against.

Crime—Administration leaders privately are fearful their idea of creating an American "Scotland Yard" to combat the crime wave is headed for a few snags.

Refusal of the American Bar association to endorse the proposal gave them a first top-off of impending opposition.

County Quota $200 For Help In Storm Zone

Voluntary Workers Enlisted, Contributions Urged At Once

While voluntary workers, organized at a special meeting Thursday morning at the office of Dr. W. B. Hardy, County Red Cross chairman, were soliciting contributions to the special relief fund for sufferers in the Rio Grande valley hurricane area, national headquarters wired Dr. Hardy the county's quota for this fund had been fixed at $200.

Dr. Hardy stressed that the need is real, urgent and immediate. Messages from the storm stricken section showed that many hundreds were in great need of shelter, food, clothing, and medical attention.

The effort to raise the county's quota without delay was to be pushed as rapidly as possible and Red Cross officials urged those solicited to the contribute their part.

The Slim Silhouette With Great Broad Shoulders Is Imperative

Both Coats And Suits Assume Width Above The Waistline With Skirts Slim As A Cigaret

Someone has likened the 1933 silhouette to a Chinese pagoda; another has said it called to mind a slim, stinky Siamese girl. Both were right as we see it. Skirts are as slim as the sarongs that Orientals wrap around them, and surely the points and wings that are appearing on shoulders of everything are like the pagoda. It is an attractive silhouette, becoming to everyone, and extremely wearable for it is adaptable to many different versions. Accentuated shoulders make waists and hips seem slimmer and that is the goal of every smart woman.

New Length for Suit Coats
Practically has won again. In years back full suits were made with jackets of hip length. These were wearable only a few months of the year, shorter jackets are in the minority with new longer length being sponsored in the smarter suits. When a suit has a short jacket, there is usually a long top coat to make it a really practical, wearable costume. The smartest, newest length for suit coats, is knee length or just above or below the knees. This gives desired warmth, and still displays plenty of the skirt. It gives a slim, long line that is extremely smart. The three-quarter and seven-eighths lengths are also seen a great deal, as well as the full length coat.

Tweeds Fashion Smart Suits
A whole new family of tweeds have been born for this year's coats. They are as clever and as modern as the World's Fair buildings! Especially new and scheduled for unusual popularity are the stripe tweeds. These are great, bold, definite stripes. They are startlingly new and in excellent taste for all sports and daytime wear. One suit has been fashioned with the stripes running horizontally in the skirt, and vertically in the coat. This made a striking combination. Subdued stripes are also smart and are being used by foremost designers. Companionable tweeds are most carefully worked out this season. Skirts of one tweed, with jacket or coat of a companion that uses exactly the same colors. There are any number of suits with skirt of one tweed, jacket of a companion tweed, and topcoat matching the skirt. In this case the topcoat will usually have a scarf to match the jacket tweed, or some even have a ray little hat that matches! Skirts are cut trim and slim, with only necessary fullness achieved by little tailored pleats near the bottom of the skirt.

Choice of Coat Styles
Suit coats offer a variety that is really unusual. There are many swaggy coats and semi-swaggers. But never than the swaggy is the semi-fitted coat and the box coat. Formal suits lean toward the semi-fitted style, and are usually just above the knee in length. Whether your fall suit shall be furred or not depends on you. There are just as many with fur as without. When a suit has no fur, there is usually a scarf or a closely buttoned up necktie. Formal suits use fox and kolinsky principally for trim. Casual suits are generally trimmed with kolinsky, raccoon, lapin, Persian or caracul.

Sleeves Are Important
The success of your coat may depend on your sleeve. The smartest, safest version is the softly draped sleeve with fullness high and tapering off to a fitted cuff. Then there are sleeves which may be worn with points perked out or draped in. These enable you to change the character of the coat somewhat. Many coats show fur epaulets, or bands of fur placed high on the sleeves. Both these versions are smarter than the fur-cuffed coat, which has become a more conservative style.

Joe Davis Wins Singles Title In West Texas Tennis League By Defeating Player From Pecos

MIDLAND—Midland won team play matches in the "hard luck" playoffs of the eastern and western divisions of the Ferman Division Tennis league Sunday, beating Wink 4-2.
Joe Davis of Big Spring won the singles; Wink won individual doubles team play by a flip of the coin, when darkness caught Midland and Wink tied at sets won.
The day was a succession of misfortune. Louis Levinson, one of the mainstays on the Midland squad, pulled the ligament of one foot in going after an angle shot, and Winkelman of Wink became muscle-bound during the match with Theo Ferguson, forcing him to leave the court. Ferguson allowed his opponent to substitute Bulz No. 1 man from Fort Stockton, and the match went on, Ferguson winning after 54 games had been played.
Pecos and Wink were tied for team play, due to rain which fell during their western division play-off Friday, and came to Midland early Sunday to complete the play-off before the schedule matches of the eastern and western divisions. This disrupted the orderly play and enforced a flip of the coin to decide a valuable match at dusk. Due to lack of time, Wink's No. 1 doubles team played Pecos' No. 1 doubles team to decide which team played Midland, winner of the doubles team play in this end of the district.
This playoff was done on the Thomas concrete court at 9 o'clock. Wink's team composed of McElvaney and Winkelman, beat Pecos' team, Murray and Green, 6-1, 8-10, 9-4. Wink's No. 1 singles player was unable to be here, so Wink was allowed to substitute Pecos' No. 1 man, Murray. This made the Wink lineup as follows: 1. Murray, 2. McElvaney, 3. Winkelman, 4. Holden. Their doubles were grouped in this order: McElvaney and Winkelman; Murray and Holden.
The Midland team as made up of: 1. Levinson, 2. Ferguson, 3. Nelson, 4. Walton.
For individual singles two players who had not lost a match all season, Davis of Big Spring and Murray of Pecos played. Davis winning 8-3, 8-1, 8-4. Murray's developing shirley horse kept him in hot water throughout the match. As in the case of the Ferguson-Winkelman match, a substitution was allowed. Collins No. 1 man from Ft. Stockton, being infused.

In individual doubles, McElvaney and Winkelman of the west played Ferguson and Levinson of the east. Due to Levinson's condition as a result of his injured foot, he could not last, and Midland had to substitute Dick Nelson. Playing as No. 2 doubles team were J. S. Schow and James Walton.
Scores for the day follow:
Team play—Murray won from Levinson, 2-3, 7-5, 6-3, 6-0; Nelson won from McElvaney, 6-4, 6-4, 5-0; Ferguson won from Winkelman, 6-4, 2-4, 3-6, 6-3, 11-9; Walton won from Hoden 7-5, 8-6, 6-3.
Doubles—(decided by flip of coin, Wink winning)—McElvaney a n d Butz won from Nelson and Ferguson, 3-6, 6-3, 4-4, 6-4; Schow and Walton won from Murray and Holden, 6-5, 6-3, 6-4.
Individual singles—Davis of Big Spring won from Murray of Wink and Collins (substituted during the match), 6-3, 6-1, 8-6.
Awards were presented players, cups for winning and medals for runners-up, as follows: Levinson, cup and medal; Nelson, cup; Ferguson, cup and medal; Walton, cup; Davis, cup; Murray, medal; McElvaney, cup and medal; Winkelman, cup and medal; Holden, medal; Barnett, of Wink, who did not come, a medal.

New Type Of Film Drama At Ritz Saturday
"Gold Diggers Of 1933" Open At 11:30 P. M. Runs Two Days
A new type of film drama! That is what has been created by Director Mervyn LeRoy in the Warner Bros. production of "Gold Diggers of 1933," which will be shown Saturday at 11:30 p. m. and Sunday and Monday at the R. & R. Ritz theatre. This type of picture has its forerunner in "42nd Street" but "Gold Diggers" is said to entirely eclipse it in the sheer force of its drama, in comedy situations, its catchy song hits and the novelty and beauty of its gigantic and spectacular dance ensembles.
The most difficult problem that confronted Director LeRoy was the proper balance of music and drama so that each would be a distinct show in itself and yet blend together in such a way as to form an intrinsic part of an integral whole. He solved the difficulty by putting on the screen the entire theatrical production with its songs and dances and gigantic choruses, which the play could only hint at.
LeRoy has succeeded in knitting a musical comedy spectacle with the powerful drama of Avery Hopwood's play so closely that every number and every bit of action coordinates a show within a show but an essential part of it. It is musical drama on such a scale as never before attempted.
The production carries an all star cast which includes Warren William, Joan Blondell, Alene MarMahon, Ruby Keeler, Dick Powell, Guy Kibbee, Ned Sparks and Ginger Rogers. Two hundred chorus girls are a part of the elaborate, mobile sets. The brilliant new dance and song conceptions were created and staged by the famous musical comedy producer, Busby Berkeley. The music and lyrics are by the famous team of Harry Warren and Al Dubin, who wrote the song hits in "42nd Street."

Sport-Lines
BY TOM DEASLEY
Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the Interscholastic League, has released the following information on football rules:
The 8-semester rule is now in effect in all member schools, A. B. and C. Under this rule a boy is ineligible after eight semesters of attendance in the eighth grade or higher. An enrollment period less than three weeks in any one semester does not count against the pupil. One year in a school of less than eight months counts one and one-half semesters.
The rule which prevented the playing of a football game prior to the last Friday in September has been changed. The new rule places the limit on the number of games to be played rather than upon the beginning date. A school may now play not more than ten games (conference or otherwise) between the opening day of school and the Saturday following Thanksgiving. If a school has two or more distinct teams this rule applies to each team, i. e., each team may play ten games. In such a case, however, the squad composing each team must be kept separate. After a player has participated, either as a substitute or as a regular, on the "first" team he may not play on the "second" team unless that game is counted as one of the ten games for the "first" team. In addition, no player shall be allowed to participate in more than ten games. The attention of each district committee is called to the fact that the district championship must be decided without requiring any team to play more than ten games.

Galveston Takes First Game Of Play-Off 2-0 From Dallas Club

DALLAS — Bunching four of their seven hits, including Fuzzy Huff's home run, in the eighth inning, the Galveston Buccaneers defeated the Dallas Steers 2-0 Wednesday night in the opening game of the first round Shaughnessy play-offs for the Texas league pennant.

A crowd of 7,000 fans witnessed a beautiful pitching battle between Orville Jorgens, young Galveston right-hander, and Fred Stieley, veteran Dallas southpaw. Jorgens gave up only three hits and was never in serious danger after the first inning, when Koster doubled with one out and moved to third on an infield out. Stieley allowed only two hits and faced only 21 men in the first seven innings as Moleworth died stealing and Governor was mopped up in a double play. Galveston . . . 000 000 020—2 7 0 Dallas . . . 000 000 000—0 3 1 Jorgens and Mealey; Stieley and Jonnard.

HOUSTON-SANTONE GAME POSTPONED DUE TO RAIN

HOUSTON — The championship Shaughnessy pennant play-off game scheduled here Wednesday night between the Houston Buffaloes and San Antonio Missions was postponed because of rain. These two teams will play here Thursday and Friday night, and open at San Antonio Saturday in their five-game series.

Manager Carey Selph said he would stick to his plan and start George Payne Thursday night against the Missions. Manager Henry Severeid of San Antonio will fire Fabian Kowalik, youthful right hander, at the Buffaloes. Kowalik won 21 games during the regular season. The Buffaloes are favorites to take the Missions in this series and play the winner of the Galveston and Dallas series for the right to represent the Texas League in the annual Dixie series against the Southern association champions. Both games here will be played at night.

37-Year-Old Rookie Wins For Senators

WASHINGTON— Alec McColl, Washington "rookie" pitcher, had to wait until he was 37 years old to get a chance in the majors, but the opportunity finally came Wednesday and he held Chicago to four hits for a 3 to 1 victory. McColl, who was recently obtained by the Senators from Chattanooga, was given his first starting assignment and in the addition to holding the Sox well in hand won his own game with a double that scored two runs. Chicago . . . 000 001 000—1 4 2 Washington . . . 030 000 00x—3 0 0 Miller, Faber, Wyatt and Berry; McColl and L. Sewell.

ATHLETICS 5, INDIANS 4 PHILADELPHIA—Jimmy Foxx's 41st homer of the season and Lefty Grove's pitching were largely accountable Wednesday for the Athletics 5-4 victory over the Cleveland Indians in the opener of a four-game series, the last between the two clubs this year. Lefty was batted for 13 hits while the A's connected for only eight. His clumby hits hit timely to register runs. Cleveland . . . 001 300 000—4 13 2 Philadelphia . . . 010 211 00x—5 8 2 Harder, Hildebrand, Connally, Hudlin and Pylak; Grove and Cochran.

BENGALS 11, RED SOX 5 BOSTON—Three Red Sox pitchers were liberal with hits and bases on balls Wednesday and as a result the Detroit Tigers took the first game of the current series, 11-5. Brown, starting Sox pitcher, granted six bases on balls and eight hits in the three and a third innings he tolled. Kline followed him and lasted the next inning and a third when Fullerton was called in to go to the end. Detroit . . . 120 430 200—11 14 2 Boston . . . 120 002 000—5 8 3 Lawson, Hogsett and Hayworth; Brown, Kline, Fullerton and Gooch.

YANKEES 3, BROWNS 2 NEW YORK—With Lou Gehrig pounding out his 24th home run of the season, a double and a single and scoring all of the runs, the New York Yankees defeated the St. Louis Browns, 3-2 Wednesday. Sammy Byrd's pinch single in the ninth scored Gehrig with the only run.

Giants Take Second Game From Pirates

PITTSBURGH—The New York Giants retained their six and one half game lead Wednesday, defeating Pittsburgh 9-1 in the second game of a double header after the Pirates had taken the first 6-5 in ten innings. The Pirates came from behind to win the first game on Bill Swift's tenth inning single, but they found the uphill climb too great a task in the nightcap in face of Hal Schumacher's effective seven-hit pitching.

Cardinals Take Both Ends Of Double-Header On Home Grounds

ST. LOUIS—The Cardinals won the opener, 3-1. FIRST GAME: Philadelphia . . . 100 000 000—1 8 0 St. Louis . . . 300 010 00x—3 9 1 Holley, Pierce and Davis; Hallahan and Wilson.

SECOND GAME: Philadelphia . . . 101 040 010—7 12 0 St. Louis . . . 000 001 034—8 11 3 Moore, Hansen and Todd; Haines, Walker and O'Farrell.

DODGERS 7-8, REDS 3-18 CINCINNATI—Blazing out 21 hits in the second game, the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday earned an even break in a double header with Brooklyn, winning the nightcap 18 to 8 after the Dodgers had accounted for the curtain raiser, 7-3.

BRUINS 4, BRAVES 3 CHICAGO—Bud Tinning withstood a ninth inning challenge by the Boston Braves Wednesday and the Chicago Cubs took the opening game by the three-piece series, 4-2. After being shut out on three singles for eight innings the Braves rallied for three runs in the ninth and had the tying run on second base when Hal Lee fouled to Hartnett to end the game and give Tinning his season's 12th victory. Boston . . . 000 000 003—3 6 0 Chicago . . . 120 000 10x—4 10 2 Frankhouse, Smith and Hogan; Tinning and Hartnett.

CARDS 3-8, PHILLIES 1-7 ST. LOUIS—The Cardinals netted three runs, but the Giants were back to equal the feat in the fourth and to take a lead which was never cut. Thereafter the Giants scored in every inning but the Tigers were potent only in the fifth they garnered two tallies. Pitching for the Giants was Old Folks Ebbs, while Cruz threw for the hoppers.

Tiger Manager Protests Giving Big Boys Credit For Victory

The Giants got mad at the Tigers Wednesday and pommelled the Cats into submission 10-5 in six innings and then left the field of battle with honors depicted. Julian Vega, alert Tiger manager, insisted that the Giants be held to their seven inning agreement and lodge a protest against the win and claimed a victory by forfeit. Had the field been equipped with flood lights, the big fellows declare they would have continued. At any rate Senior Vega knows his rights, but the Giants, et al, refuse to be robbed of the satisfaction of turning such a trick. Giants got off to a brief one-run lead in the first when a short pop fell safe for a hit and the runner finally came home when Martin's lick was mishandled. After two were out in the second, the Tigers opened a barrage that

Penney's To Feature Fur-Trimmed Street Dresses

Zinnia, New Shade To Be Inaugurated

Mrs. Phillips, Misses Leatherwood, Miller, Stewart Models

Fur-trimmed street dresses will feature the new fall frocks from J. C. Penney Co. at the big fall style show to be held Friday evening at the municipal auditorium. Some of the most attractive of these dresses come in that marvelous new shade, zinnia, which lends itself equally well to black or brown trimming. The fur is of mink tail or black monkey fur and appears only as trimmings on shoulders and collars. The material of the dresses is the new corded silk, some of the cords as heavy as tucks.

In addition to this type of frock which will be especially popular for bridge parties, Penney's will display coats, sports dresses, and evening frocks.

The models will also select accessories to match their gowns at Penney's carrying out the idea that Penney's has stressed so long of selecting all one's accessories at the store where the gown is purchased so that proper harmonizing colors may be worn. Hats, shoes, handbags and gloves will be selected out of Penney's stock to suit the demands of the frock.

The adult models for this store will be: Mrs. Shine Phillips and Misses Maurine Leatherwood, Mary Louise Miller, and La Verne Stewart.

There will also be two juvenile models, Janice Slaughter, who will model the correct thing for the school girl, and Marjio Thurman, who will dress as the young kindergarten should dress.

Cute wash dresses and coats will be the type of clothes modeled by these youngsters. Their specialty will be school clothes.

The store will also display its popular men's wear. Laying stress on the correct business suit for the winter of 1933-34. Collins Huggins and Cleo Loper will appear as the men's models. All accessories will be selected at Penney's with the suit in mind. Shoes, hats, shirts, cravats will reflect the newest style trends.

Luxurious Combination Of Fur And Fabric Characterizes Coats

Designers Show Great Ingenuity In Their Treatment Of Collars And Sleeves And The Furs That Trim Them

Miss Wheeler Featured Dances In 'Heads Up'

Did anyone ever think that the big bad wolf that has threatened to knock on so many doors could ever have been made as beautiful and as popular as our smart designers have made him? For wolf has come back into the fashion picture again and it is receiving a hearty welcome wherever it is seen. Wolf is only one of many furs that are staging a real comeback this year. Kit fox, sitka and nutria are among those that are also scheduled for popularity which they have not enjoyed in seasons.

Furs Used Divers Ways Don't be surprised when you go to buy your fur trimmed coat to find that one collar may be worn four different ways. That's been done so that you will never tire of the coat you choose. Wear the collar one way today—change the character of your coat entirely tomorrow just by fastening the collar a bit differently. There's a boon for fickle women! And the way that Schiaparelli tray shoulders have been achieved with flat furs is simply amazing. They give that grand square shoulders that is a favorite with everyone. Coats go in for fur epulets, fur wings over the shoulders, fur ascots, fur jabots. In fact everything that could be done with fur has been done!

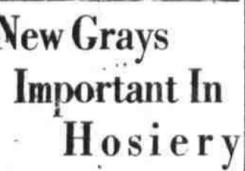

Fur Borders Are New Penney's latest use for fur in cloth coats is in borders. You will see squirrel, kolinsky, mink and all their aunts and cousins gracing the bottoms of smart coats. The width of the borders vary, but in flat furs is usually about eight inches. The borders are used straight along the bottom, or curving up at the front. The curved borders are seen most often in the long haired furs, such as fox. Fur bands from neckline to hemline are also seen on a few tweed coats.

Diversity of Fabrics All the fashions world agree with Chanel that a garment takes its smartness from its fabric. This year's coat fabric has a new richness about them that makes them immediately successful. Many are so fine they need no furs to embellish them! There seems to be no fashion rule regarding the fabrics used, for Paris has been impartial in choosing between the smooth woolsens and the nubby.

There is almost an equal amount of each. There are fine broadcloths and smooth suede woolsens; grand nubby wools, warm and cozy; and fascinating tweeds that capture and hold the eye by their weave and glowing colorings.

All-Black Coats Are Smart The all black coat has climbed to the very peak of fashion. Black suedes and nubby materials are often trimmed with Persian lamb, black caracul, beautiful silky black fox. But if you happen to be one of these women who aren't their best in black, there are just as many coats in color, or blacks with light furs. For instance, badger is coming into extensive use as a trimming for coats. And there are countless rich brown coats trimmed with kolinsky and mink, rich, warm and soft and endearing becoming. Bronzreen is one of the more popular coat shades of green. It is at its best when trimmed with kolinsky or mink. Another important green shade is olivette. Both these greens are extremely practical coat colors, for any color dress may be smartly combined with them, and they are becoming to almost every type. Gray is another color which is most important in coats. There are several tones; the Schiaparelli eel, the new taupe, and oxford as well as the lighter grays. These colors are most often trimmed with silver fox, squirrel or wolf. Gray is another color which combines itself smartly with any color frock. Both black and brown are smart with it, as well as the rich autumn red, wine, rusts and greens.

The Old Maestro Of The South Leads Stage Band

This season's colors may be divided into four families: the taupe and gunmetal tones, the brown and beige tones. In these four colors will be found the answer to every boisterous problem.

Gray's Significant The classic gunmetal tones promise to be truly fashionable this season because of the importance of oxford and eel in the wardrobe. Taupe is also one of the shades that look new again because of its long absence. Taupe may be worn with the new eel, and with all grays of a brownish cast. Its very neutrality promises its becoming one of the favorite shades.

True beige shades are the choice of most evening pastels. The deeper browns, sometimes with a warm reddish hue, are best with brown frocks, and the newer shades of shumba, olivette and wine.

Golf Links And Girl Scout Hut To Be Dedicated

Dedication of the Girl Scout hut and opening of the Municipal Golf links has been set for September 17.

Arrangements for the dedication of the hut are being held up pending the return of Mrs. Charles Koberg, chairman of the committee in charge of the hut.

Skirts For Fall

There is always a place in the mode for the smartly fashioned separate skirt. It is a favorite of the college girl, for with a skirt or two and enough blouses she can give an endless variety to her wardrobe.

A Slim Silhouette This season's skirts carry on the slim line of dresses. Made with moulded hip lines and straight skirt, with flares placed low when there are any at all. Pleats are used extensively and are not confined to the bottom of the skirt as in past seasons. Many times the pleats are worked into the full length of the garment.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Frost left Wednesday night for Dallas, where they will make their home.

MEN ARE DEMANDING MORE "PEP" IN HEADWEAR

The entire scheme of men's attire for the past two years is toward more color, more character, more departure from the commonplace. The trend is probably to affect a more spirited note in attire as a buffer against the doldrums of depression.

In clothing they have gone to more pronounced patterns; in ties, shirts and hosiery they have demanded more color and emphasis in design. So in hats, too, men are demanding livelier effects. This has been particularly evident in their adoption of lighter shades in pastel tones and more rakish lines in the brims.

effect by trimming the nap closely in some places and leaving it untouched in others. In this way many self-patterned designs are created. Some give a corduroy effect. Another stimulates checks and still another achieves an over-pleated treatment. Pronounced patterns in suits are so strongly favored in the fall edicts that these hats will complement the scheme of ensemble treatment between the outer garment and the headwear. The idea is intriguing and we believe will add another note of relief from the rapidly diminishing sombreness in men's attire.

New Colors Are Prominent The scope of color treatment in men's hats has long been too limited to basic shades of greys and browns. There has been a rapidly growing tendency to toward off-shades and the dyes have followed suit.

New Hats For Fall Come To Smart Point

Point Generally To Be Found At The Peak Of The Crown

The new hats come to the point. They know which way the fashion wind blows and they head straight up for smartness. Generally speaking the point is usually to be found at the peak of the crown, bringing about an Impish new fashion that is decidedly smart. Many of these little peaked hats are said to be inspired by the hats worn by gnomes and their resemblance is certainly marked. They are decidedly youthful and tricky. In their modified versions, they may be worn by all types of women.

Many less the head that wears the right crown. While there are a few hats that invest all their importance in the brim, most hats depend upon the crown to make them look new and smart. This year they are so new and so far afield from any that you have seen before, that they can not be mistaken as having belonged to any other season in fashion. There are terraced crowns achieved by deft folds, there are acordon crowns, first from crowns, crowns with oxcowls, crowns with little ears way aloft, and the amusing little peak crowns.

Fabric hats are the fashion! With so many manipulated crowns, only the softest, most pliable fabrics could be used. While felt is still used for the majority of tailored hats, it is being used in its lightest weight types so as to render it easily trapped into the terraced and acordon crowns that crown many hats. Hairy felt is a new and smart note.

An immense amount of velvet is being sponsored and looks especially well fashioned into the clever little berets of the season. Suede and antelope are also being used in the same way as velvets.

Buttins shine forth as an important hat material or early fall. It will be a delightful complement to the many satin dresses that are making their appearance. It is interesting to note that some milliners are using the same satin in hats that is being used in shoes because of its ability to hold shape well.

Many hats will be seen fashioned of the ribbed materials... begalins, falls, and even corduroy. Taffets is also shown in some of the new beret types.

New Grays Important In Hosiery

This season's colors may be divided into four families: the taupe and gunmetal tones, the brown and beige tones. In these four colors will be found the answer to every boisterous problem.

Gray's Significant The classic gunmetal tones promise to be truly fashionable this season because of the importance of oxford and eel in the wardrobe. Taupe is also one of the shades that look new again because of its long absence. Taupe may be worn with the new eel, and with all grays of a brownish cast. Its very neutrality promises its becoming one of the favorite shades.

True beige shades are the choice of most evening pastels. The deeper browns, sometimes with a warm reddish hue, are best with brown frocks, and the newer shades of shumba, olivette and wine.

Theater Concern Sued For $30,000 Damages

Mrs. Bessie Clark and Mildred Clark are asking $30,000 damages from the R. and R. Theater, Inc. for the death of Willie Dee Clark, 21, Aug. 28, 1932.

In a suit filed Tuesday in the 70th district court, Mrs. Clark, as plaintiff and also suing as next friend for her daughter, alleges that negligence on the part of the theater concern led to the death of her only son.

Clark was killed when a truck hubbed the Gregg street viaduct, throwing him against concrete and steel work. He died twelve hours later.

Mrs. Clark's original petition sets forth the allegation that the steering gear on the truck was defective and that the defendant's lack of knowledge of this condition and that the driver of the truck was an employe of the theater and was driving at an excessive rate of speed.

Loss in earning capacity is the basis of Mrs. Clark's request for $25,000 for herself and $5,000 for her daughter, Mildred.

For The Love of Eve by Lucy Walling

BEGIN HERE TODAY
EVE RAYLESS, pretty copy writer in the advertising office of Bixby's department store, secretly marries DICK RADER, a construction engineer. The marriage takes place hurriedly during a noon lunch hour. Dick wants Eve to give up working but she refuses. Eve is ambitious and knows she is being considered for the job of assistant to EARLE BARNES, advertising manager at Bixby's.

Later that same day Eve learns that she is to receive the promotion. The first of her new duties is to make a trip to New York to meet FRED A. CARTER, the dress buyer. It is necessary for Eve to leave Lake City that night.

She rushes home to pack a traveling bag. At five o'clock Dick meets her and they drive to an attractive restaurant for dinner. Eve faces the difficult task of telling him that she must leave on an eight o'clock train.

Dick looked puzzled. "Leave me?" he repeated. "I don't understand. What in the world are you trying to tell me, sweetheart?"

"Well—" Eve hesitated. "You know I told you that Alice Marshall is leaving Bixby's to open an office of her own and that I might have a chance to take her place? And you know how hard I've worked for a promotion—"

"Yes, well?" Dick's voice didn't seem quite natural. It sounded a trifle grim. His gray eyes were sober, waiting.

"Well, Alice is going very soon. Sooner than Mr. Barnes expected. He called me into his office early this morning and told me I had a chance for the position. He said he and Mr. Bixby would decide about it this afternoon. And, Eve nervously took a sip of hot coffee, "he said this morning that if they decided I could have the job I was to leave for New York tonight."

"I was afraid to tell them this in our wedding day. I never would have got the promotion then."

Dick, white-faced, waited. She looked at him pleadingly but he did not help her. She must hurry on time pressed.

"Well, darling, I hoped against hope. I wanted the position and I wanted you. And as long as we had planned to be married this noon I couldn't bear to spoil our wedding. And I didn't know for sure until the middle of the afternoon that the job is mine and that I'm to leave tonight for New York."

Through misty tears Eve saw Dick's firm, generous mouth, now a thin, straight streak across his white face. He asked, "For—how long?"

And she answered, "A week—nearly. I'll be home Sunday morning."

Dick raised the ruby goblet to his lips. The harpist changed her melody to Victor Herbert's "Gypsy Sweetheart." Ever afterward at the sound of that air Eve was to relive that scene.

Dick was waiting for her to go on. "Then you have decided to go?" Dick wasn't making it easy for her. "I must, Dick! It's my big opportunity." This a trifle defiantly.

Then, regretting her manner a bit, she added, "If you'd come along, Dick, we could announce our marriage immediately. Come on, darling! We'll spend our honeymoon in New York. All I have to do there is look about—visit the smart shops and restaurants and the theatres. It will be fun!"

But Dick had his work too and slowly he shook his head. "No, it's impossible for me to get away before the job is finished in June. Just now we're pouring concrete and if there is a slip-up I'm responsible. People have been forced to dynamite whole foundation walls because they were laid out a few inches out of line. No, Eve. When a bunch of blueprints are handed to me I don't leave until the completed building is turned over to the owner and I know what he will find out later—that everything is o. k. I'm staying on the job."

Eve's lips quivered. He was willing for her to go. He didn't even quarrel over it. Unreasonably, she half hoped he would do. Was it possible that she did not mean as much to him as his work? Well, then, she would just show him! She delivered the next blow:

"My train leaves at eight o'clock," Eve announced. "I rushed out late this afternoon and packed a bag and sent it to the station."

"WHAT!" he cried. Hastily he paid the check and bundled Eve into her wraps. Then, telling her to wait inside until he brought the car, he dashed into the storm. In a few moments he was back and hurrying her under the canopy to the chugging roadster. They could see the lights of the Terminal Tower as they sped over the Heights to the city. Dick's profile was rigid. He kept his eyes on the slippery street.

Eve could not endure it. "Dick!" Her voice was high-pitched, imploring. He brought the car to a stop beside the cobblestone garden wall of some millionaire's estate.

"Oh, Dick!" she sobbed and flung herself into his arms.

He said soothingly, "There, there, sweetheart, don't cry. You'll miss your train. We have only 20 minutes. It's a bad night for driving and I'll have to step on it to make that train." Dick released her and started the motor. He had not kissed her.

"Richard Rader! If you don't kiss me this minute I'll NEVER go to New York!" she told him through her tears.

And Dick kissed his wife, stepped on the accelerator and reached the station just a few minutes before eight o'clock.

"Where will you stop?" he asked as he saw Eve safely aboard the train. "Have you wired for a reservation?"

Eve named her hotel. "Bixby's made the reservation for me. And Freda Carter will be there the first two days." Eve smiled. She knew why he asked—flowers, telegrams, letters.

"But you'll be there alone the rest of the time? I don't like it, Eve. It isn't safe."

"Oh, darling, don't be quaint. Of course I'll be safe! I'll look up Irene Prentiss. Will she do for a chaperon?"

She kissed Dick goodby and told him she would miss him.

He alighted and stood outside looking up at her through the car window. Tears glistened her eyes, and there was a hurt, puzzled look on Dick's face—a little boy look.

A pain that was a fiercely maternal twisted Eve's heart.

Of course Dick would go to a telegraph office immediately and send her a telegram to be waiting for her at the hotel in New York in the morning. Eve could almost guess the words he would use.

"Missing you, darling. Hurry back. Love from Dick."

A ray of light including a young man and two girls brushed past Dick. Then the man turned in sudden recognition and the girls, glancing to his arm, swung about with him. Apparently they were being introduced although Eve could hear no part of the conversation through the double windows.

Then, with a warning and a jerk, the long train glided out of the station. Dick was lost to Eve and her last glimpse of him included a pair of laughing girls and an irresponsible looking young man. Suddenly Eve wanted to leap from the moving train to be with Dick.

"It's not only your wedding night Eve Rayless," she told herself, "but it's also your first business trip to New York—and you know the importance of that."

As the train gathered momentum and plunged into the night Eve tried to read the evening paper but was unable to fasten her attention on anything but the department store advertisements, which was merely force of habit.

She rang for the porter and asked to have her berth made up early. Later she lay on her side for a long time, resting her head on her arm and watching the stars as the train sped through the countryside.

This was Eve's wedding night and she was alone, headed for New York on business for Bixby's store. What a situation! How had she found strength to tear herself away? How could she leave Dick like that without hurting him dreadfully, she asked herself. And who was that man with the two girls? Could they have made up a foursome for an impromptu party? Could Dick be blamed if he joined them?

Suppose he should never forgive her? Suppose she never saw Dick again? Suppose something terrible happened to punish her for leaving him this way?

Eve slipped down under the covers and pulled the sheet close so that only her face peeped out for air. So had she done when she was a little girl and became frightened in the night at imaginary figures and sounds. And so she prayed in she had prayed when she was a little girl—her very own prayer addressed to a Divinity as real, as friendly, as familiar almost as her own parents. "Oh, God, please have Dick forgive me; and help me to be good to him!"

Would there be a telegram in the morning?

More Licenses To Marry Issued After Repeal Of Old Law

Two marriage licenses issued Tuesday made the total for the first six days of September exceed that of August, when only five were issued.

The average now is one per day since the lifting of the provisions of the "gin" marriage law which made an application and a three day delay necessary.

$4,100 Asked In Suit On Insurance Policy

In a suit on contract filed in the 70th District Court here Tuesday, Harvey L. Rix is asking that he be awarded $4,110 from the Texas Prudential Insurance company of Galveston, Texas.

The plaintiff's original petition alleges that he secured a policy from American National Insurance company through and by virtue of his membership in the National General Directors association.

The Texas company then replaced the American National as underwriter of a master policy extended to the members of the association.

In October of 1932 Rix was attacked with an infection of his right maxillary sinus, which his petition contends rendered him incapable of earning a living.

His petition said that under the provisions of the policy, he is entitled to recover face value on the policy six months after he is totally disabled and furnishes proof of disability.

Inasmuch as the company failed to comply when he extended his proof he is asking damages of 12 per cent, plus reasonable attorney's fees and face value of the policy all of which amounts to $4,110.

Through-the-Bible Course Offered By Local Church

The Through-the-Bible Reading Course begins at the First Presbyterian church tonight at 8:00, announces the pastor, Rev. John C. Thomas.

This course will extend through the fall and winter months meeting every Wednesday night. During this time the entire Bible will be read by those taking the course. One hour a week at the church and a few hours at home is all that is required.

A second session of the course will be offered on Friday afternoons at 4:00 for those unable to attend the Wednesday session. Friends of the church as well as members are invited to attend.

There has been much rivalry between friends of Dan Moody and James V. Allred over which was youngest attorney-general of Texas.

Moody was by two months. He was born June 1, 1890 and became attorney general in January, 1925. Allred was 31 years and nine months old when he became attorney. Allred is credited with having been the youngest district atorney in Texas. He held that office at 24.

The late Charles A. Culberson, who was affectionately known during his early political career, as the "hey governor," was older than either Moody or Allred when he became attorney general. He was born June 1, 1882 and became attorney general Nov. 4, 1890 and governor in January 1895.

Former Governor J. D. Sayers was the oldest man to remain in active public service in Texas. He was within a few months of 88 when he died, then a member of the state board of pardons and paroles. Governor Moody had appointed him to this post.

Henry C. Meyer, Rockdale, new member of the state board of control, is reported to be in his seventies.

State Senators Julian Greer of Elkhart, and Joe Moore of Greenville, are senior state senators after Senator Archer Parr. Both are considerably younger in years than many of their colleagues.

Both served in the house of representatives in the 37th and 38th legislatures and both have been continuously in the senate since.

Ernest O. Thompson, state railroad commissioner, never flies though he is an air pilot. He carries a $250,000 life insurance policy that has a clause against air travel.

Roy Tennant of Temple expected up to the last minute to be appointed to the state board of control when the term of Adrian Pool ended. He had delayed making other business plans in expectation that Governor Ferguson would again place him on the board where he served during his former administration.

"It's their loss," said Tennant's comment after the appointment of another person was announced.

Under The Dome At Austin

By GORDON K. SHEARER

AUSTIN, (UP)—When an error in typing made Former Governor James E. Ferguson appear in this column as 68 instead of 62, his wife, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson was first to note the mistake. Strange enough she discovered it on "Governor Jim's" birthday August 31.

It started considerable discussion of ages about the state capitol.

Former Governor Ferguson was born in 1871. He had supposed he was as old as United States Senator Morris Sheppard. The Congressional record shows Senator Sheppard several years younger. It gives his birth as May 28, 1875. He was born at Wheatville, Morris county.

Though he is generally referred to as the senior senator and Senator Tom Connally as the junior, there is really little difference in their ages. Connally was born in McLennan county Aug. 19, 1877, the record says.

The ages of officials have occasioned some dispute in the past. Former Governor Pat M. Neff was erroneously aged in the manual of the Texas legislature when he was speaker of the house. His age became an issue of the campaign in which Neff defeated Former United States Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey for governor.

There has been much rivalry between friends of Dan Moody and James V. Allred over which was youngest attorney-general of Texas.

police officer a federal commission. That would wipe out state lines in the matter of pursuit and arrest and make it tough on their clients.
 The attorneys can attack the idea on Constitutional grounds. If it should be tried many of them no doubt will.

AL—

Those on the inside say NRA had quite a time persuading Al Smith to make his recent radio appeal in behalf of the Blue Eagle. The "Happy Warrior," so the report goes, originally declined.
 Then followed some correspondence requesting a personal appointment for one of the NRA aides. Smith replied it wouldn't do any good.
 The NRA men persisted. Smith finally agreed to see him.
 It was explained to Al that he of all other speakers could best command a huge and attentive radio audience.
 The governor capitulated in the end as all of you know who heard him urge wholehearted support of the administration's recovery drive.

Treasury—

Treasury officials are doing a little phenging under cover to get a piece of that Public Works money. They want to build themselves a 12-story annex.
 They have just discovered that back in the Coolidge administration the plot of ground on which the Department of Commerce building now stands originally was set aside for a Treasury addition. Herbert Hoover, then Secretary of Commerce, grabbed it for his own $17,000,000 masterpiece.
 Those now handling our finances think the "injustice" should be remedied.

CONTRACTORS' NOTICE OF TEXAS HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

Sealed proposals for constructing 9,996 miles of Grading and Drainage Structures from the Glasscock County line to 4.5 miles south of Big Spring on Highway No. 9, covered by NRH-571-D, in Howard County will be received at the State Highway Department, Austin, Texas, until 9 A. M., Sept. 18, 1933, and then publicly opened and read. The attention of bidders is directed to the Special Provisions covering subletting or assigning the contract, the use of Domestic Materials, the selection of labor, hours and conditions of employment, and hand labor methods.
 The minimum wage paid to all skilled labor employed on this contract shall be forty-five (45) cents per hour. The minimum wage paid to all unskilled labor employed on this contract shall be thirty-five (35) cents per hour.
 Attention is directed to the Special Provisions, included in the proposal, to insure compliance with requirements of House Bill No. 64 of the 43rd Legislature of the State of Texas.

Prevailing Per Diem Wage (Based on Five (5) Hour Working Day)

Trade	Hourly Rate
Power Machine Operators	$ 45
Truck Drivers (Trucks over 1 1/2 Tons)	2.25
Mechanics, Carpenters & Blacksmiths	2.25
Unskilled Laborers	1.75

Overtime and legal holiday work shall be paid for at the regular governing rates.

A local employment agency from which the contractor shall obtain employment lists will be designated prior to the award of contract. Plans and specifications available at the office of W. A. French, Division Engineer, Abilene, Texas, and State Highway Department, Austin, Texas. Usual rights reserved.

THE TREASURY HAS 12,000 EMPLOYEES

working in Washington, more than any other single department. They are scattered all over the lot. Now along comes the new Procurement Division which will handle all government purchases and those bureaus in the present main annex are being tossed out to make room.

"If Hoover got away with it, why can't we?" they ask. They already have the site picked out if Public Works Administrator Ickes will only say yes.

HELLUM—

Texas and our military establishment have a new cause for worry. The Lone Star State has boasted of the world monopoly of helium. Confidential word has just reached the State Department however that deposits of this non-inflammable gas used to buoy up lighter-than-air craft have been discovered in six different districts of Russia.

Tough—

One of our London Embassy attaches writes a friend that England has more than the recent Vickers espionage trial to be sore with Russia about. It seems Britain's ambassadors don't get the best of treatment. Stalin refused even to meet Sir Esmond Ovey, their former envoy for two years.
 On top of this, an exorbitant rental charged for the Embassy building. Price, quality and quantity of goods and food also fails to suit.
 'S a tough life.

Notes—

Kate Smith, the radio star, outsmarted General Johnson the other day when he didn't want to pose with her for a news picture. Kate imposed on his chivalry by drawing the NRA boss to the door to say goodbye, there clasping his hand tightly while the photographers shot. Budget Director Douglas nearly fell off his chair recently when he discovered the Narcotics Bureau had gotten its budget down to $984,000. Douglas had turned down the Bureau estimates of $1,516,000 and arbitrarily set it at a million.
 Former President Hoover was certainly building for the future when he had the huge Commerce Department erected. Its miles of office space have been a life-saver for the harassed officials trying to house all the new emergency set-ups.

NEW YORK

Jumps—
 You probably remember the story of the Swede who ran for a ferry boat and found it just leaving the dock. His companion, already on board, encouraged him by shouting: "Come on, Ole, you can make it in two jumps."
 The best posted local authorities say we are applying the two jump system to our recovery program.
 The first jump has taken us to the thirty-five or forty-hour week. This is important progress, and probably as much as industry can or will stand at present. But the best estimates indicate a maximum re-employment of six million people under this arrangement. That makes it look as if a second jump to the thirty-hour week will be necessary if we are to avoid a permanent large scale unemployment problem. New Yorkers who have worked close to NRA are confident that this is the ultimate answer.

Unions—

Many business men and manufacturers are playing the NRA straight, place and show as an eliminator of union issues. They are proceeding on the theory that the unions will dry up and blow away for lack of nourishment in issues to fight for. They believe workers will be so pleased with code conditions that they will see no point in union membership. All of which

Lindbergh—

Aviation insiders say that Colonel Lindbergh has reported to his company the possibility of establishing an all-year air service between Europe and America by way of Greenland. The problem of maintaining regularity remains unsolved.

Chaplin—

A secret has leaked out of Charlie Chaplin's Hollywood studio. In his next picture, now under production the famous Chaplin moustache will disappear. Why? Because the comedian doesn't want to look like Hitler! The same gag of the picture will be the shaving off of the comedian's moustache after he looks at a photograph of Hitler. Although it is expected

Expect Crude Oil Prices To Go Up

Big Spring American Airways Radio Guides Ship Over Storm Area

While the West Texas sun beamed from a cloudless sky and the thermometer was moderated by a pleasant breeze Bob Gigous Tuesday sat at the radio operator's post in the administration building at the Big Spring airport and via the American Airways two-way radio station guided a Pan-American Airways ship on its tortuous and dangerous flight from below the Mexican border, through the last gates of the tropical hurricane that decimated the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Voter Turns 'Thumbs Down' On Creation Of Bonded Indebtedness

AUSTIN, (UP)—Despite the authorization of a $20,000,000 relief bond issue by the Texas electorate last August, the voter has decidedly turned "thumbs down" on the creation of bonded or other indebtedness in municipal financing.
 Bonds issued by municipalities during the fiscal year ended Aug. 31, 1930, when $88,229,002 of bonds were approved, according to the charts of Antonette Kuehne, editor of the University of Texas' semi-weekly bond buyers' bulletin.
 Recent unpopularity of bonds is attributed in part to the voters' drive for lower tax burdens and to the state bond assumption law which freed counties and road districts from the necessity of voting bonds to furnish local highway aid.
 Such road bonds eligible for state assumption approximate $108,000,000 in amount, according to official records. The gasoline tax fund enabled the state to pay its required portion of the principal on such road bonds since January 1, 1931. In 1932, only 30 per cent of the state's required portion of the principal will be paid.

Reemployment Committee Is Named Here

Martelle McDonald, Chairman And Leo Nail, Ben Miller Other Members

Personnel of the Howard county "re-employment committee" has been announced here.
 Martelle McDonald, already chairman of the county relief and rehabilitation committee, Leo Nail and Ben Miller were appointed to compose the national re-employment committee for this county.
 R. H. McNew was named as re-employment manager. He is now engaged as relief administrator of Howard county.
 C. T. Tucker was chosen as interviewer and his task will be to enroll all unemployed in the county.
 All contractors to whom contracts are granted for public work projects and highway construction will be required to draw from these rolls.
 Those eligible for enrollment must be unemployed and have resided in the county as long as six months.
 Only preference to be shown will be to ex-soldiers with families. Others will be selected on basis of qualifications.

Bomb Threat On Cardinal's Home In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—A threat to bomb the home of Cardinal Dougherty unless he paid $50,000 was revealed Thursday by township police. It was contained in a letter to the prelate received Wednesday.
 Police placed a guard around the Cardinal's residence, saying a man, acting suspiciously had been seen loitering around the grounds for a week.

"HEADS UP" SCORES HIT IN AMARILLO

"Heads Up," fashion show coming here Friday evening, made a "hit" recently in Amarillo when it was given before what the News-Globe termed "two well satisfied audiences."
 The News-Globe account of "Heads Up" as presented in the Panhandle City follows:
 "A snappy 10-piece dance band and a group of entertainers, most of them celebrated as radio stars throughout the southwest, left two well satisfied audiences as the final curtain fell.
 "Ligon Smith and His Band provided the musical background, and many of those in the two audiences had come to see in person the aggregation they had heard so often on the radio from the Coconut Grove in San Antonio.
 "Jimmy Jefferies, the wisecracker that radio fans have heard on the Early Bird program from WFAA in Dallas, was master of ceremonies. He looks something like Fatty Arbuckle would have looked had he been about eight inches shorter—only Jimmy is much better looking. "I scored—and has a voice like Charlie Ruggles of the movies. He did most of his talking into a microphone, a loudspeaker at the edge of the stage carrying his voice to the audience. He made a big hit, especially with his cracks about local subjects and people.

"Lois Nixon, a personable, throaty-voiced miss, delighted with her blues singing, with the prestra. Fred Lowery, the Texas Red Bird, also heard often over the air, proved to be a remarkable whistler, his two-tone renditions of "Roses of Picardy" being especially appreciated.
 "The Lane Sisters, youthful, pretty and capable, sang and danced. Norm Norman presented several dance bits that drew a thunder of applause.

"And speaking of dancing, Mary Helen Wheeler and Mynette Fritts proved to be a pair of the cleverest steppers seen here in a long time. Miss Wheeler is outstanding as a danseuse, while Miss Fritts excelled as a stomp dancer.
 "Arthur Barton was a perfect stooge and roughneck comedian, and added plenty of zip to the second act.

"Between acts of the night show, a style show was presented with a colorful setting.
 "Early yesterday morning, Ligon Smith's band played for a German breakfast dance at the Nat, with a big crowd attending, and last night, beginning at 10:30, another dance was staged at the Nat.
 "All in all, it was a busy day for the band, and for the members of the cast who took part in the floor show at the Nat dances."

"MEMBER N.R.A."

WE DO OUR PART!

IT MEANS that the firm or store which displays it is cooperating with the President in his drive to increase employment.
 It means that this employer has agreed to accept a shorter working week in order that new jobs may be created.
 It means that he is paying a "decent living wage" for this shorter week.
 It means that his employees have accepted shorter hours so that others, now unemployed, may be enabled to share in their work.
 It means that all those who display it are worthy of your patronage and your whole-hearted cooperation because they are "doing their part."
 Finally, it means a concerted drive by all industry to wipe out unemployment and end the depression!

Mmes. J. T. Allen, R. L. Weatherford and Bill Turpin To Be Models

Little Misses Joyce and Joan Beene and "Toodles" Keaton will be three of the stars to represent Victor Mellinger's store in The Herald's Style Show Friday evening at the Municipal Auditorium.

Joyce and Joan, two-year-old twins, grand daughters of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Sullivan, and "Toodles," four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Keaton, will display the exclusive Wohlne wash frocks for children featured by Mellinger's.

The adult styles will represent the various dresses for all occasions which Mellinger handles. Several surprise numbers have been planned, not to be announced until the models appear.

The emphasis on the newest thing for fall wear will be on elegant sweater suits, showing sweaters in the new close-fitting styles that are strictly 1933. Evening dresses will also be displayed and many handsome street and afternoon frocks.

The models will be Mmes. J. T. Allen, R. L. Weatherford and Bill Turpin.

Two models will appear showing the newest in men's wear. These will be Cecil Neal and Glenn Queen. They will appear in business suits, in sports wear and in the latest top coats.

Both men and women will select all accessories from shoes to head-wear at Mellinger's.

Fall Of 1933 Is A Season Of Style Revivals

1900 Epoch Influences Present Day Fashions

The fashions that made the turn of a century the picturesque era it was, are returning to do their duty for the moderns who are boasting about a century of progress. The period of gaiety that came when Edward took the throne after Victoria's death is directly influencing our coats, dresses, and even threatening to come into accessories.

Velvet Versatile Fabric For Fall

Our grandmothers would never recognize the descendants of her old friend velvet. It has grown to such a large family in just the past few seasons! It has become a little world of its own!

Roosevelt in her choice of a gown for the inauguration ceremony last March chose this new velvet. Her choice immediately made it one of the smartest of fabrics. Its nap is uncut giving a most unusual and soft effect. It is seen in evening and formal afternoon dresses. Then there are the new ribbed velvets which are a result of the popularity of ribbed silks.

The luxury of velvet requires an equally luxurious trimming. Many clever designers have answered this problem by using fur in various ways. Many of the dresses show wings over the shoulders of holliness and similar furs. One particularly chic evening dress was fashioned of white velvet with short puff sleeves made entirely of this fad. Ermine tails are also often used with velvet.

The influence of the 1900's is seen in the use of metal brocades and beautiful embroidered materials. Their luxurious textures are just the thing for this new simple silhouette. All-over heads are also seen in a few dresses, which reflect more of this influence. Many trapezoidal and sequins and headings are being used in the evening mode on velvets as well as the silk fabrics.

It will not be unusual this season to see a strange combination of fabrics. There have been any number of frocks developed in wool crepe and trimmed with the most lustrous of satins. Another contradiction in the sports frock trimmed with a bit of luxury fur. It is all these unusual features and clever alliances that will make the 1933-34 mode one unforgettable for its chic!

TUNICS PERSIST The tunic in past seasons has made its appearance before a most unappreciative audience, but this year it has been applauded. There

City Licenses For Sale Of Beer Fixed In Ordinance Just Passed

City commissioners, assembled in regular session Tuesday evening, passed an ordinance prescribing the city fees permitting manufacture, distribution and sale of 2.2 beer within the corporate limits of Big Spring.

Because House Bill No. 122 passed by the 43rd Legislature "becomes effective on the 15th day of September 1933, and numbers of persons are now contemplating engaging in the business of manufacturing, brewing, selling or distributing beer within the City of Big Spring," the commission deemed it important that they know as soon as possible the amount of license fees required by the city and declared existing "emergency necessitating the suspension of the rule requiring ordinances to be read at three separate meetings" before passage and gave the ordinance a favorable vote. None voted against the ordinance, but Mayor Pro Tem C. E. Talbot did make a motion to amend the ordinance. Mayor J. B. Pickle was out of town and Talbot presided in his stead. After defining a manufacturer, brewer, general and local distributors, and retailers, fees were listed by the commission. For a manufacturer the fee will be $250, for general distributors, $100 for local distributors, $25; for retailers selling beer for consumption on or off premises, $50; for retailers selling for consumption off premises, $25.

Licenses expire December 31 of the year for which issued, and pro rata charges are based on the unexpired portion of the year. The commission voted on each section of the ordinance separately, so in event one section is declared invalid, the other will be unaffected.

Accessories Fill A Big Role In The Fashion Drama For Fall

History Repeats! Designers Revert To The 1900 Era For Their Inspiration For The Little Things

A season of luxury is upon us. Opulence is the fashion, and so accessories follow suit. There has never been a year when accessories have been so carefully remembered in accordance with the rest of the costume. If a dress is satin, accessories may be found which will exactly correspond.

Accessories Ensemble One of the most important frictions of the costume is the glove. This year designers have given us gloves which ensemble in feeling with the dresses that are most important. Wool dresses are in fashion, so are wool gloves. Satin shines out, so do satin gloves. Felt is featured in many handbags, so there are felt gloves to match. Many times these ensembles may include shoe, glove, bag and even scarf!

Gloves Are Elegant Gloves reflect a great deal of the grandeur of dresses and conform to the feminine trend by pleats, tuckings and little set-on ruffles that make them very gracious and luxurious. Width is also a new characteristic. In most cases there will be a wide flare at the cuff of the glove. This allows them to be easily worn over the top of most suit and dress sleeves. Contrasting inserts are very smart and give relief to the glove. Velvety inserts in black gloves, brown in beige.

Fabric Gloves Important So much has been done to make the fabric glove smart that it is destined to give the leather glove a merry race this fall. These are seen in novelties with wide flares, dainty pleatings and contrasting appliques. Velvet and satin gloves are the high fashion types in fabrics, and are smartest with dressy clothes. Wool gloves are another innovation. These are being developed in coating and suiting materials. They sometimes combine checks or plaids with solid colors. In other words, the more unusual the glove, the smarter it is!

Fashion In The Bag There is a great deal of news coming every day from the world of handbags. The pouch shape is the one in greatest favor. This dressmaker type of bag may be carried with both tailored or after-noon clothes, which has a great deal to do with its popularity. Fabric bags are expected to be very smart, and to give the classic leather bag some strong competition. Wool bags are especially smart in the daytime mode.

Velvet and satin bags are also v'lights. They make smart running mates for the satin shoes and gloves which are so popular. They are delightfully graceful and elegant when shown with formal afternoon frocks.

Handbags Go Ornamental Ornaments so elaborate as to be almost jewel pieces are seen in the more dressy type bags. Mirror ornaments are also very chic and makes a lovely ensemble with the dresses that feature mirror jewelry trimming. Metal frames in both silver and gold finish are still the most important trimming that can be used on handbags.

Evening Bags The gay nineties, and the early 1900's show their influence very strongly on the bags for formal wear. There are many velvets and satins with much beading or use of sequins. They are very quaint in their old-fashioned, new-fashioned look. Seed pearl bags are also very important. Brocades and uncut velvets are also scheduled for their share of evening activity this season.

Neckwear News Clever women have found that a few bits of neckwear lying in dresser drawers have often become Godsend. A crisp collar can do no end of good to a dress that has become slightly deadened by much wear. And the new styles in neckwear are so important that they can completely transform any dress.

THE BERET One of Fall's First Fashions It seems that beret is one of the fashions that are always with us. It has a long history and an interesting one. Seen season after season, it is always welcome, and there are always ways to make it look new and smart. Some time ago, it was the pet of Paris art students. Worn back on the head and very full, hanging; sometimes half way to the shoulder. It has been a hat fashion that children have worn for years, in every material under the sun.

From its full tan O'Shanter days, the beret grew smaller and smaller, through the seasons until a few years ago it became a mere pancake perched on the top of the head. It was done in a dozen different ways; in felt, straw, velvet, crocheted, taffeta. It was worn by every member of the family from the youngest child up to the eldest.

The beret theme brought up to date, slants from the back of the head toward the front and has a tendency to be pulled down over the eye in front. Many of them show a visor brim in front that comes down in a very flattering fashion. High stiches in keeping with the high silhouette generally accepted, is achieved by a deep bandeau. This makes the beret easy to wear and comfortable on the head. Other models have crowns deftly manipulated to give heights. Height is often achieved by adding a feather fancy.

The velvet beret claims most honors. When it is fashioned of rich transparent velvet, it is sumptuous enough to complement any dress in the wardrobe. Worn fairly high in the back, and drawn low in the front and over one eye is a softly becoming hat, easy to wear, easy to look at, and easy to ensemble with the rest of the wardrobe. Many berets are being sold in sets consisting of gloves, bag and beret. This is a Paris fashion which is fast becoming an American favorite. These little ensembles are being executed not only in velvet, but in satin, bengaline, velveteen and corduroy, as well.

Fashioned of satin, the beret takes on a new formality that makes it shine out as one of the most important little hats to wear with dressy clothes. It may add a little veil to give it more of a dressed up appearance and be in perfect taste. You will find the beret a perfect hat for restaurant dining and for the theater. This model shows the importance of stitching in the mode. The stitching gives the satin a stiffness which enables it to hold its shape better and longer. It is very chic in black, and is shown in autumn shades of olive, rumb, eel, gray, taupe.

The dinner was served on the mezzanine floor of the Settles Hotel in Room No. 1. Cut flowers and ferns made it especially attractive and carried out a rich color scheme of red and green.

After the four-course meal was served, the guests enjoyed a social time together. In addition to the honorees, there were present Judge M. H. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Walton S. Morrison, Miss Imogene Runyan and Harmon Morrison Jr.

The Emma Lard Longan Parliamentary class will meet tonight at the Crawford Hotel at 7 o'clock. Officers will be elected and other important business attended to.

Mrs. W. J. McAdams will conduct the parliamentary drill. The public is invited.

Mrs. Ruth Airhart was hostess Wednesday evening for a delightful dinner party complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Frost, recent bride and groom who stopped in Big Spring for a brief visit, following their honeymoon spent in New Mexico.

The young people at the First Methodist church will put on a mystery play tonight at the high school auditorium, entitled "Spooky Tavern."

Mrs. Bob Galbraith is directing the play. She says that the cast is well selected and the play is one of those thrillers calculated to give everybody his money's worth.

Mrs. Winnie Bell and daughters, Helen and Jean, of San Angelo, have been visiting Mrs. Davis S. Orr. They will return home in time for Helen to continue her college at San Angelo business college and for Jean to enroll in high school which begins next Monday.
