ercising his veto power to appropriations, Gov. John ally sliced off $3,214,121 of one-year general appropriat- bill and killed 37 bills pass- by the 60th Legislature.

e of the vetoed bills called otal annual expenditures of 23,760, beginning Sept. 1, way of explanation of his tem vetoes in the appropr- ons bill, Connally said, "I rse the actions taken by Legislature to provide the s needed to meet the state's using services ot its people. ever, there are several items penditures for which money appropriated that I do not der essential or justified."

nally deleted a $600,000 priation which would have ed the new Texas Research itute of Mental Sciences at ston to lease and operate ital facilities. "This item not requested by the De- ment of Mental Health and al Retardation in its budget est, nor was it included in budget recommendation or e of the Budget Board," the rnor explained.

$300,000 appropriation for tional Phase I construction the Corpus Christi State ol also was vetoed. Con- said it was not requested the MHMR Department or udget recommendations sub- ed by the Legislative Budget d or by Connally. He point- out that the 1965 Legislature priated $2,224,000 for the osed school.

nally slashed $800,000 off appropriation for the Uni- ity of Texas Medical School an Antonio. "With construct- of the medical school and hing hospital and the re- ment of faculty and staff in process, the number of ents actually enrolled will limited during the 1968 l year," the governor said. Even after vetoing this ," he continued, "the med- school's appropriation for 968 fiscal year will exceed recommendation by $685,795 will represent a 145 per increase over the amount priated for the current ."

lso vetoed was $325,000 ear- ked to the State Department Agriculture for expanding ket outlets for Texas' agri- ural commodities. Connally lained that "The appropriat- of $325000 duplicated in pur- a major portion of the 00 'special program' ap- riation for marketing and ket outlet research."

her bills vetoed included extending the curfew alcoholic beverage drinking 2 a.m. in the metropolitan ties, doubling retirement efits for legislators and im- vements in state employees' rement benefits, prohibiting loyment of youngsters under n stores which sell beer and r, permitting broader pow- for the State Soil and Water servation Board, allowing state comptroller to seize perty for tax debts and sell without court action, setting special county boards to as- tax values on agricultural near cities, and granting police powers on private perty such as shopping center ing lots.

TLY OVERTIME—Extens- of the federal minimum act to state hospital and ool employees would cost e government in Texas at $14,000,000 a year, accord- to Atty. Gen. Crawford C. tin.

Martin says he intends to keep ing inclusion of state in- rians under the act all the to the Supreme Court. hree federal judges in Mary- land recently handed down conflicting opinions on the issue but not a final order.

Under the new appropriations bill, all state employees will get more than the required federal minimum wage. Big catch financially is that the federal act also requires time and a half payment for overtime—or an hour and a half compensatory time off for every hour of overtime worked during the same pay period. Texas employees got compensatory time off (no cash) on a hour-for-hour basis.

CAR INSURANCE — Careless Texas drivers will pay more for their car insurance on policies written after July 31. They will be charged more because of their accident or traffic law violations during the nine months which ended May 1.

Penalties which range from 15 to 90 per cent, depending on the number and importance of the law violation—will add up to $6,439,362 during the year starting Aug. 1.

These penalties, feeding that much more money into the insurance "kitty," will prevent rate increases for most drivers.

State Board of Insurance held its annual auto insurance rate hearing and got a staff recommendation for a general rate reduction of one per cent in insurance rates. It varies from area to area, and from classification of cars and drivers

There would have been a general rate increase had it not been for the more than $6,000,000 in penalties which will be charged against the drivers who violate the law and have accidents.

Board also took under consideration a proposal that high school and college students whose grades average B or better be given a 25 per cent insurance rate reduction. State Farm Insurance Co. started such a program in 1962. It found that students who make high grades drive less and have fewer accidents. Hence it is a valid basis for lower rates for those who make the honor roll or the dean's list.

COLLEGE TUITION—Instead of doubling tuition as requested by the Coordinating Board of the Texas College and University system, the Legislature made it easier for poorer youngsters to get tuition and fee exemptions.

Exemptions would go only to students from families with gross incomes of $4,800 a year or less. No student would be allowed to attend college more than six years under the exemption plan.

To be eligible, students must be graduated in the top 25 per cent of their high school classes. Or score in the top 20 per cent in a nationally standardized college admission examination.

DIPPING NO LONGER REQUIRED — Panhandle cattle no longer must be dipped before shipment to California.

Dr. S. B. Walker, director of Texas Animal Health Commission, said the West Coast has removed the requirement since inspection of Panhandle herds during last winter showed no evidence of scabies. Herd owners in nine Texas counties and north and west of them need only permit and health inspection certificates for California shipment: Yoakum, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Terry, Stonewall, King, Cottle and Childress.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES —State agencies charged with providing services to the handicapped may spend money under contract for specific programs and projects conducted by nonprofit groups, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In other opinion, Martin concluded that the value of an indebtedness secured by mortgages against real estate in Canada held by a resident decedent of Texas should be included in his estate when computing inheritance taxes due.

Gray County Oil $41.5 Million Yearly

More than $41.5 million a year of economic stimulation for Gray County flows from its oil and gas wells each year, an annual study by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association shows.

"As one of the 206 producing counties in Texas, Gray County's economy is sensitive to fluctuation in the oil industry generally," commented W. A. Landreth, Fort Worth, association president. "Long range, the demand for oil looks strong and current production rates continue to provide Texas a major source of its income. On the other hand, Texas operators are beset by competition from other oil producing areas, government ceilings on natural gas prices, heavy tax payments, and a price for crude oil that is insufficient to encourage the amount of exploratory drilling that is needed to find future reserves."

Based on latest U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, Gray County in 1965 produced 12.3 million barrels of crude oil, valued at $36.3 million, and 40.5 billion cubic feet of natural gas valued at $5.2 million, and ranks 28th among Texas counties in production.

In addition, plants which process natural gas for liquids such as natural gasoline, butane and propane in 1965 produced more than 246.6 million gallons of liquids valued at $11.8 million.

A major distribution of income from sales of oil and gas went to county landowners in royalty payments totaling more than $5.2 million.

In 1966, a year that saw drilling in Texas fall to its lowest level since 1967, oil and gas operators drilled 112 wells in Gray County. Of these, six were wildcats seeking new fields.

It is estimated that operators in the county spent more than $6.2 million in drilling last year, of which $771,849 was lost in dry holes.

Sharing heavily in the county's production each year is the state treasury which received $2 million in production taxes in 1965 paid by the producers and royalty owners. Crude oil production paid $1.7 million and natural gas production, $366,240.

Texas Employment Commission figures for 1966 show that some 1,459 workers directly employed in oil and gas operations accounted for a payroll in excess of $9.8 million.

Additional value is given oil and gas from the operation of processing plants. The Oil and Gas Journal lists one carbon black plant, two petrochemical plants, five natural gasoline plants with a capacity of 216 million cubic feet per day, and one cycling plant in the county with a capacity of 50 million cubic feet per day.

Texas Drivers Licensing Laws Are Changed

The driver licensing laws signed by Gov. John Connally recently are expected to increase the number of young people enrolled in driver training courses this summer.

The laws don't go into effect until Aug. 27, but when they do, youths under the age of 18 will not be able to get a driver's license without having completed a driver-training course, except in hardship cases.

The laws should cut down on the reckless and often uncalled-for driving by young people who in many cases in the past were not qualified to be sitting behind the wheel.

An automobile is a great asset to today's youth, who are always in a hurry and are always on the move. But it can also be a deadly weapon in the hands of an unskilled, uneducated or unprepared driver.

Hopefully, today's youth will become better drivers as a result of the new law. Life is too valuable to toss out the window like a discarded drink cup.

NEWS from your County Agricultural Agent

Texas A & M. College Extension Service

By FOSTER WHALEY

The stands of cotton have remained in spite of a plentiful of rainfall. This is rather unusual for this time of year. If we can get by for a couple of weeks without a washout we should be in good shape. Many farmers have up excellent stands of sudex hybrids that should make excellent grazing in the near future. Things can change preity fast in the Panhandle and nothing can change it quite as fast as five inches of slow rain properly spaced.

Recently, I was visiting with Brad Hunt at Curry's processing. Brad said that approximately 25 per cent of their business was outside the McLean territory. This in itself is a nice compliment to pay any small business. The new plant is a big asset to any town of any size. I was visiting with one of our Pampa customers and he remarked, "This is the cleanest, neatest locker and processing plants we have ever traded with." One of our customers lives in Skellytown. People will drive long distance to trade with people as cordial, appreciative and accommodating as Brad and Glen. We congratulate them and the town of McLean for having this much needed facility in this area.

Many of us have heard mud balls thrown at some locker plants regarding shortage in beef. I've never heard any such comments about your local processing plant. I doubt that many do cheat on our cusers.

What a great many people don't realize is the fact that only about 74 per cent of a carcass winds up in salable or edible beef, 25 per cent in waste (fat, bone and shrinkage). A 1,000 pound steer will yield a carcass of about 600 pounds before processing. After it has been processed, there is about 444 pounds of edible beef. The next time you think you might have a shortage, keep these figures in mind.

From a 1,000 pound live steer, there is only about 37 pounds of sirloin steak. There are only 23 pounds of porterhouse, T-bone and club steaks from a 1,000 pound steer. This accounts for the fact these prize retail cuts sell for well over $1 per pound in many cases.

We are leaving a leaflet, L-701, entitled "What's the Best Way to Buy Beef?" at the Curry locker plant that has the above information in it and a great deal more that will make you a much more intelligent customer if you will drop by and pick one up. The leaflet has information on grades of beef. The leaflets are free for the asking. See you next week.

Francis L. Petty of Midland spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Petty.
