MURDER TRIAL TO OPEN MON.

Bookmobile Services Are Possible By March

Bailey County residents and other areas will be able to see exactly what the state will provide in the way of bookmobile service to these areas during the week of Feb. 13 to 19.

During that period the Texas State Public Library will send a bookmobile into Bailey County. It will stop at every community in the area in addition to some in Farmer and Cochran counties.

Four Are Named Honor Students At High School

A tentative schedule detailing when the bookmobile will be at each community will be published as soon as it is received from the state library.

Recent news received from Charles Gholz, field representative of the state, organization reveals that bookmobile service may be a reality here in early March instead of the end of May or the first part of June as believed earlier.

However, this will be possible only if the Bailey County Commissioners Court and the city will act without procrastination.

It is expected that both local governmental bodies will be invited to examine the vehicle and go into detail on just what is necessary to bring the $80,000 a year program to Bailey County.

Both Farmer and Cochran Counties have made rapid and firm progress in their respective areas. It is believed that the commissioners of both these counties are willing to commit their areas to support of the bookmobile plan. Cochran County already has a $3,000 a year county library budget.

Usually a bookmobile will contain a selection of over 1,500 different books. However, the sample bookmobile will not have a complete stock. It will have a cross section of the type books normally carried.

It will be accompanied here by Gholz, who, in company with members of the Bailey County

New Hours

County Agent J. K. Adams has announced a new plan to better serve area farmers.

Henceforth, he will be in his office for business and interviews from 8 a.m. to noon each Monday and Friday unless called away by some emergency.

Hi-Way 84 Still Snarled By State Red Tape Problem

Progress on the widening of Highway 84 is still at a standstill this week. Several weeks ago the state highway department returned nine of the total 13 highway right-of-way tracts to the county commissioners court with full approval. The remainder have not yet shown up.

Last week County Judge Glen Williams visited the highway department in Lubbock to check on the status quo of the missing four tracts. He spoke with Lawrence McGee, state engineer in charge of the project.

According to the judge, the hold-up has been caused by slight technical revisions of the tracts and general red tape, such as the necessity of each revision's being approved by Austin.

The engineer was unable to give the judge any approximate date when the tracts might be returned to the county.

In other Highway 84 action, the county commissioners are still considering who to name as negotiator for the purchase of the land involved. It is generally believed the subject will be discussed at the next regular meeting of the commission.

Fund Is Set Up Here For 16-Year-Old

A fund has been established in Muleshoe for John McMakin, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McMakin, who was wounded recently by a shotgun blast and is currently in Methodist Hospital.

Arthur Black, Hurlwood, chairman of the fund, said Doctors at the Lubbock Hospital have advised that the youth be sent to John Sealy Hospital, Galveston, for surgery over a four year period. The accidental gunshot wound tore away the lower portion of McMakin's face.

Black said an estimate of the cost of the trip, surgery and an additional treatment was $30,000.

The committee has established a bank account at the First National Bank of Muleshoe to which donations may be made. Monies will be paid directly to the hospital or doctors, according to Black.

The story has been checked and verified by the Lubbock papers and the boy's uncle, Joe McMakin of Needmore.

TFB To Open Three Confabs This Month

WACO — The Texas Farm Bureau will launch its 1964 national legislative program with three conferences later this month, according to local TFB president, Ed Little.

The first conference will begin at 9:30 a.m., Jan. 22, at the Gunter Hotel in San Antonio. Two sessions are slated Jan. 23. The first early session will start at 9:30 a.m. at the Holiday Inn Parkway Motor Hotel in Lubbock, and the final meeting will begin at 3:30 p.m. at the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas.

Attending the three legislative conferences will be county Farm Bureau PX Committee chairmen and members and county presidents. Purpose of the conferences is to develop a better understanding of major issues on which the Farm Bureau has policies.

Farm Bureau

Farm Bureau's board of directors held its first meeting of the year Thursday.

The meeting featured a talk on "Fertilizer: The Placement, Movement, and Results" and a short business planning meeting, according to officers of the organization.

Ex-Bailey County Attorney Karl Lovelady Defends Rojas

A long time family feud in the Muleshoe area, which reached a crescendo with the down town killing of one man, the complete paralysis of a 13-year-old girl, and the wounding of three bystanders has led the state to ask the extreme penalty — death, for Ambrosio Rojas whose trial opens here Monday.

The long time Rojas-Mendoza family feud simmered below the surface here for several years before erupting with volcanic fury in downtown Muleshoe July 31. On that date, it is alleged, Rojas shot and killed Pedro Mendoza in a downtown store after a quarrel in a nearby restaurant.

Witnesses state that Rojas shot Mendoza twice, once in the back and again in the head as he lay wounded on the concrete floor. Mendoza died instantly.

Following the shooting, Rojas stuck the pistol in his belt and calmly awaited the police. He was arrested by Chief of Police Carl Neely.

Both Mendoza and Ambrosio Rojas had been arrested previously by the police. On February 4 both were placed in the county jail following a knife-pistol fight outside a local dance hall. Mendoza was held for the grand jury.

The jury's report shows that Mendoza had been attacked by two knife-wielding Rojas brothers, Daniel and Antonio, and stabbed on the hand before pulling a .22 calibre pistol from his pocket. He shot Antonio twice, once in the face and a second time in the chest.

The grand jury recommended all be tried on aggravated assault charges. They were later found guilty and fined $51.50 each.

Police and Sheriff's deputies' reports reveal no less than four previous Rojas-Mendoza knife fights over a two year period.

District Attorney, Jack Young, has requested doctors at Warm Springs Children's Hospital to release Brigida Salinas so she can testify at the trial.

Rojas will be defended by Karl Lovelady, ex-Bailey County Attorney.

Timothy Dewayne is the new arrival at the home of the Walter Sains.

The young man was born January 9 in West Plains Hospital. He weighed 8 pounds, 6 ounces and measured 19 inches long.

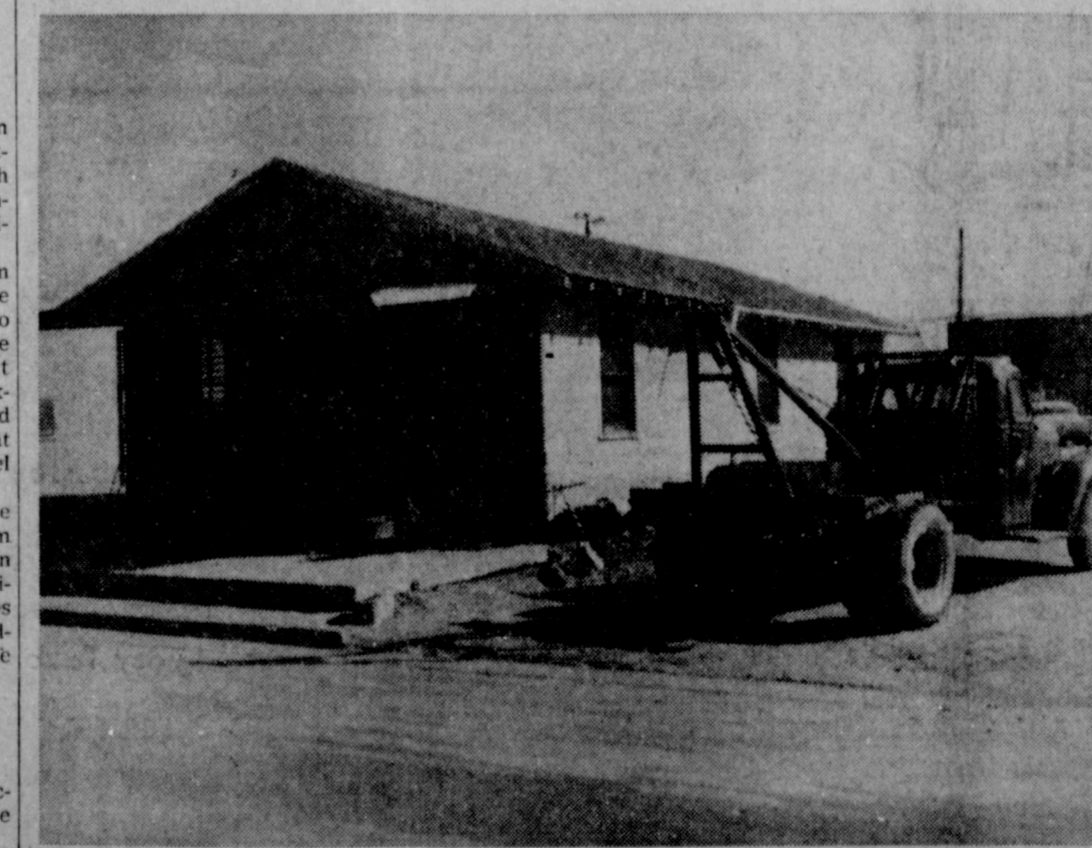

Timothy has three sisters, Debbie, Beckye and Bonnie.

J. Frank Peery Speaks For Group

The Bailey County Farm Bureau Women's Committee met for their first quarterly luncheon Thursday Dec. 9th in the Fellowship Hall of the Y. L. Methodist Church with the Ladies of Y.L. serving a very delicious luncheon to those attending.

J. Frank Peery, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Muleshoe spoke with the film of his trip to Russia, with emphasis on "Agriculture". The women realizing the precious freedom of America have set their goal "To Do More in '64" and protect this wonderful heritage.

A short business session was held after and plans were made for the next workshop.

OLD MAKING WAY FOR THE NEW — Another sign of business progress is seen on First St., as the old home of the Muleshoe Journal moves out to make room for the expansion of the Muleshoe State Bank, which will add a drive-in window, community room, a 20 car parking lot and

Muleshoe C of C Banquet Will Be Held January 25

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce has selected Jan 25 as the date for its annual banquet according to Bobby Airhart outgoing president of the progressive and area wide organization.

Scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Muleshoe High School cafeteria the banquet will be the 14th consecutive affair to be held here by the group and will feature Waggoner Carr, Texas state attorney general.

Rev. Don Boles, minister of the Muleshoe Presbyterian Church, will be master of ceremonies at what is expected to be a sell out affair.

Newly elected Chamber President Roger Albertson will be installed at ceremonies as will the new board of directors. They are Horace Hutton, Stan Barrett, Earl Richards and Boone Allison.

Outgoing directors are James Jennings, Harold Allison, Frank Ellis and Bill Wimberly.

Tickets are now on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office and may be obtained by calling 2480 according to Roy Davis manager.

In past years the banquet has been a sell out. The capacity of the high school cafeteria is limited and Davis urges the early purchase of tickets.

An added attraction at the affair will be the naming of the "Young Farmer of the Year" by the Blackwater Soil Conservation District.

Tickets for the meal which will be prepared by the staff of the school cafeteria are $3.50 each. Jewel Blackwell will be in charge of preparing the meal.

Training Course To Start At Three Way Church

New Christian training courses will be started at the Three Way Baptist Church next Sunday evening, to continue through four nights, concluding on Wednesday.

The first session will be at the regular Training Union hour at 6:30 p.m. Rev. C. E. Strickland will teach the book of Ephesians to the adults; Mrs. D. E. Brinker will teach the youth; Mrs. C. E. Strickland has "This Is My Bible" for her text in teaching juniors. Mrs. Morris Gant is teacher for a combined class of primary and beginners.

Muleshoe State Bank To Expand & Remodel

Muleshoe State Bank had today announced plans for a major expansion of its downtown facilities. The modernization of customer facilities is part of the banking institution's continuing policy of constant improvement and growth to better serve the entire area.

The extensive growth and remodeling plans call for the addition of a modern and complete community room, coffee bar and expanded bookkeeping areas.

The extensive growth and remodeling plans call for the addition of an ultramodern drive in banking window, a parking area, community room, coffee bar and expanded bookkeeping areas, according to W. Q. Casey, president.

The new drive-in window feature will be completely electronic in operation and will be the first such window in the state of Texas according to manufacturers.

There will be no cashier, but rather a two way television screen which will enable the cashier inside the bank proper to see the customer and the customer to see the cashier. Deposits and other paper work will be carried back and forth by pneumatic tube.

The parking lot, which will be completely black-topped, will park 20 cars at one time and provide three separate methods of egress to the automated window.

The new community room, which will be available for meetings and will seat 44 persons and may be enlarged to seat larger groups. The coffee bar will open off the community room, according to the plans.

The entire new addition, not counting the parking lot, will encompass more than 1,400 square feet. Bids will be led soon and the project is expected to be completed somewhere between 90 and 120 days after the beginning of work.

Work of clearing the five lots on First Street has already begun and buildings are now being removed.

No estimate of the cost of construction and remodeling will be available until after bids are accepted by the bank's board of directors.

WELLBORN IN DENVER

Curtis Wellborn is in Denver attending the premier showing of the spring and summer hair fashions held by National Hairdressers Cosmetologists Association at Denver Hilton, January 11-13.

He is staying with a brother, W. O. Wellborn, while there and will return Wednesday.

Lubbock Mill Enters Caster Bean Field

The Board of Directors of the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, Lubbock, Texas, voted unanimously today, January 8th, to enter the castor bean processing business in the High Plains area. Mr. Roy B. Davis, General Manager of the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, Lubbock, announced action of the Board today.

He stated that meetings will be held shortly in local areas to acquaint farmers with the co-op castor bean program and to give interested farmers an opportunity to sign up acreage for the crop year 1964.

The Executive Committee of the Board of Directors will shortly make a survey for a possible location of a modern castor bean processing plant.

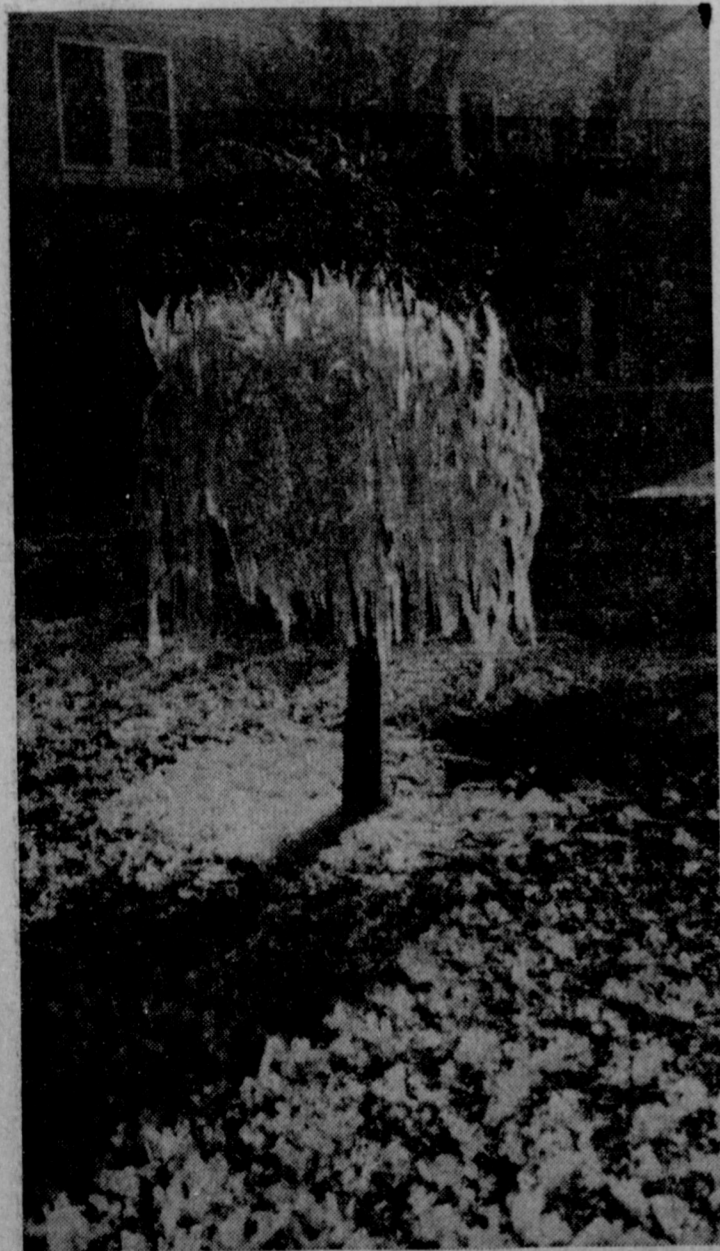

Services Held For Mrs. Peters

Funeral services were held Thursday for Mrs. W. O. Peters, 26, Amarillo, in Boxwell Brothers Chapel with Rev. Jerald Manken officiating.

Mrs. Peters, the former Maris Jo Hennington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hennington, Muleshoe, died Wednesday in an Amarillo hospital following a lengthy illness. She attended Muleshoe High School and was a member of the Muleshoe First Baptist Church.

Burial was in Llano Cemetery under direction of Boxwell Bros.

Survivors are her husband, two step daughters, Patsy Arnold, and Cosette Peters, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hennington, and two sisters, Mrs. Bill Bruce and Mrs. Bobby Hudson, all of Muleshoe.

ICICLE TREE — This story-book tree appeared on the courthouse lawn this week when a sudden drop in temperature came while the lawn was being watered. Spray reached only about half-way to the top and provided this unusual picture.

38th South Plains Council Meeting Scheduled Jan. 21

The 38th annual meeting for the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held January 21, in the Student Union Ballroom at Texas Tech College, Lubbock.

Charles K. Alexander, president of the Council, states that this will be the highlight meeting of the 20-county council and Scouters and wives are invited.

Dr. Roy McClung, president of Wayland College, Plainview, will serve as Master of Ceremonies, and the dinner meeting will start promptly at 7 p.m.

Among the many events on the program, Alexander will present the President's Awards to certain districts. Attendance awards will be presented to the district that has the largest number of Scouters in attendance. Seven districts make up the South Plains Council.

Dr. J. Davis Armistead, Council Commissioner, will make the presentations of the Silver Beaver Awards, highest award in the Scouting for adults, to five outstanding Scouters in the South Plains Council.

Reservations for the dinner may be obtained by writing Council Service Center, Box 3055, Lubbock. Tickets are $3 per person and all reservations should be made prior to January 20.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

by J. Frank Peery

Freedom or Free Freedom

Our life as a people rests upon four great bulwarks. One is our homes; the undergirding, stability, and spiritual vitality which God-centered homes provide. On the second corner is the church; the inner control, dignity, dynamic and direction which great God-centered religion gives to life. The third corner by necessity is the school; the perspective apprehension of standards, capacity for rational choice, disciplined imagination, and sensitivity to truth with which worthy God-centered education structures life. In each case, the three foundation stones mentioned must be God-centered. The home, the school, and even the church can and does get off balanced and a God-centeredness is lost. The fourth cornerstone is country. However, we best not mention country if the three other corners of life are not God-centered. Take a close look at the home, the school, and the church that have become "leaners" away from the influence of God. This is when we begin to lose our freedom — our true freedom. You see, the world in general knows the word freedom. The old slave of the South knew freedom, the freedom that came at the will of the slave owner. The people in the U. S. S. R. and behind the Iron Curtain know freedom, only the freedom that comes by order or will of those who make freedom after the image of man. The slight relaxed freedom of the Berlin Wall over the past several weeks was not real freedom.

Frankly Speaking — It adds up to a simple conclusion, "If truth," as Jesus said, "is to make us free," then we must know the God truth which brings real freedom — not just freedom that comes from the will of man. In what period of captivity do you live?

Aileen Siewert Is Improving Following Surgery

Mrs. Aileen Siewert, eighth grade language arts teacher, is reported to be improving satisfactorily following surgery in Amarillo January 4.

A cornea transplant was made on her right eye and in a telephone conversation with her family here this week, Mrs. Siewert said that her doctor gave no indication as to the date of her release, however was very optimistic about her progress.

She expressed her sincere appreciation for the cards, letters, and flowers she has received from the people of Muleshoe since she entered St. Anthony's Hospital.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means to express our sincere appreciation to our many friends for their kindnesses shown at the death of our loved one, Mrs. W. O. Peters. Your calls, visits, food and flowers were deeply appreciated. W. O. Peters and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hennington, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Hudson.

Sunday Service Communion Set

The spiritual meaning of sacrament will be emphasized at communion services to be held this Sunday at all Christian Science branch churches.

Responsive Reading will open with a verse from John (6:35): "Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst." Explanatory readings from the Christian Science textbook will include these lines: "Obeying his precious precepts, — following his demonstration so far as we apprehend it, — we drink of his cup, partake of his bread, are baptized with his purity; and at last we shall rest, sit down with him, in a full understanding of the divine Principle which triumphs over death" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p.31).

Lambs Are Guests In Sadler Home. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lamb and Magann visited last weekend in the home of Serd Sadler, Dexter, N. M.

Corn silage Beats grain In values

"Should I put the corn crop in the crib or in the silo?" That's a question many farmers ask themselves each year.

Your particular answer will depend on a number of factors — which may vary from year to year. Obviously, storage facilities, equipment, market price for feed, the supply of hay on hand, and the condition of the grain yield will influence your decision.

Another factor which can influence your decision is total feed value. If you're looking for the most pounds of total feed value, corn silage is the best bet, say Dr. William Mitchell, University of Delaware Extension Agronomist.

According to Dr. Mitchell, a crop that yields 100 bushels of grain will probably make 20 tons of high quality silage — if it's harvested and handled properly. He says 100 bushel of corn contains approximately 4500 pounds of total digestible nutrients while 20 tons of corn silage represents about 8000 pounds of TDN. This means the corn silage will give you 3500 pound of additional TDN that can be converted into milk or beef. When the additional TDN reduces winter feed bills, its value can be translated into dollars.

To get top value from corn silage, the crop should be cut when most of the corn has reached full dent stage, according to Dr. Mitchell. A loss in both feed value and volume will result if the crop is cut too early. If the crop is cut too late, there's a chance it may mold in the silo in addition to losing some of its food value.

So where large acreages have to be harvested, cutting should start just before the crop is in full dent stage. This head start will allow enough cutting time for the entire crop to be harvested before any of it becomes too mature.

BREAKFAST GUESTS
Wayne Wyatt and David Cunningham, High-Plains Water Conservation, were guest speakers for the Methodist Men's breakfast held at 6:30 Thursday in the church Fellowship Hall.

TERRACES — Soil terraces such as these on the James St. Clair farm west of Enoch's can prevent loss of valuable topsoil and water.

Conservationists to build soil terraces

Several cooperators with the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District are planning to construct terraces after the first of year. In many cases, the terraces will be parallel, thus eliminating almost all point rows. Perhaps not all terraces in a field will be exactly parallel, but a series of three or four might be. Then a new series of 3 to 4 terraces would be parallel to each other. This would mean that point rows would be only needed every third terrace.

These terraces will cost slightly more to construct than standard terraces, but the added ease of working will soon offset any additional cost.

If a suitable outlet is available, terraces may have grade in them in order to keep them parallel. Even if it is impossible to parallel entire terraces, some sections can be paralleled. This was done on H. W. Sewell's farm.

Some farmers who are planning terrace construction soon are Tom Hilban and Jim Mangum west of Goodland, Dan M. Hurley east of Three-Way School, W. R. Speck west of Game Refuge, Virgil Wood southwest of

Cotton Growers Using More Weed Killing Chemicals

COLLEGE STATION — The use of chemicals for weed control continues to increase in popularity with cotton growers, reports Fred C. Elliott, cotton specialist for the Service. The reason — their use saves both time and labor.

Recommended chemicals for use in 1964 have been listed by Elliott. Those for pre-emerge use are diuron, monuron, herbam and prometryne. Two materials which show much promise are recommended by the specialist on a trial basis. They are dacthal and treflan.

The recommended chemicals for use after the cotton is up include diuron plus surfactant and herbicidal oil. Recommended on a trial basis is prometryne plus a surfactant. Lateral oiling — from the acres treated standpoint — is the most widely used practice involving chemicals for weed and grass control, Elliott says.

Chemicals for spot oiling Johnsongrass are in wide use and those recommended for use in 1964 include naphtha, general contact weed oils or diesel oil fortified with C-56. Dalapon is also recommended for spot treatment use as a foliar spray on Johnsongrass.

Diuron layby is the only chemical recommended for layby treatment, the specialist adds.

Flaming, which utilizes butane or propane gas for fuel, is also recommended as a weed and grass control practice. More than 3,000 flame equipped cultivators were used in 1962, says Elliott. Rotary hoes are among the most popular mechanical devices for weed and grass control. When properly adjusted and operated, they do a fine job, relates Elliott.

It isn't too early to complete 1964 cotton production plans, advises the specialist. Only through careful planning, which includes grass and weed control, can production be made more efficient and give the grower the best possible income, reasons Elliott. He suggests a visit soon with the local county agent for the latest information on grass and weed control as well as other subjects on cotton production.

Three Way Church Group Holds Royal Service Program

The Women's Missionary Society met at the Three Way Baptist Church Monday afternoon for a Royal Service program led by Mrs. Bud Huff. Mission work in the western states was the subject of the program. Mrs. Jack Lane also announced that church members will be asked to contribute trading stamps to help furnish the Home Life building on the Wayland campus at Plainview. Others present were Mrs. D. E. Brinker, Mrs. Frank Knox, Mrs. Morris Gant, and Mrs. C. E. Strickland.

WORK IN KANSAS
Jerry Brackman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brackman, moved to Wichita, Kan. last week where he is employed by Beachcraft Corp.

Brackman, who recently completed enlistment in the Army, will be working in the assembly line at the factory.

VISITING FRIENDS
Mrs. Jim Hayes and daughters, Penny and Terry, were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hall this week.

Hayes, a pilot for a Lubbock airport, was on a charter flight to Old Mexico while his family was here.
