French Police Nab Evidence In Commie Raids

Riot Weapons And Party Papers Are Among Seizures

By GODFREY ANDERSON PARIS, May 31 (AP) — Police flying squads seized mounds of documents and riot weapons today in raids on Communist offices throughout France. One aim obviously was to obtain evidence supporting the government's charge that plans for a Red revolution were behind the rioting here Wednesday night against Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. The raids began soon after dawn. Steel-helmeted police struck in Paris, in Lyon, Marseille, Clermont-Ferrand, Bordeaux and La Rochelle. But it was quickly clear the French Reds—who recognize only Italy as having a larger Communist party west of the Iron Curtain—had not been taken entirely off guard. At several points, chimneys of party headquarters were smoking with the fires of burning papers before the police squads reached the scene. At others, valuable moments were lost while police forced their way through barricaded entries. The Communists had been on the alert since their secretary-general, Jacques Duclos, was jailed in the anti-Ridgway rioting and accused of plotting against France's internal security. The Interior Ministry said important stocks of weapons were seized, including piles of black-jacks, shoemakers' paring knives and cases of cartridges. It did not disclose whether firearms were found. Burning of documents is sometimes a prelude to Communist moves toward going underground. One Red-front organization in Paris was reported to have been burning papers the past two days. Zero hour for the raids in Paris was 7:35 a.m. Squads of police, armed with sub-machineguns, set out in trucks for six different points in the city. Motorcycle police cleared a way for the convoys. Radio cars brought up the rear. About 400 police concentrated before the national headquarters of the Communist party at a busy

Reds Tighten Squeeze On Western Berlin

City Has Severe Case Of Jitters

By RICHARD KASISCHKE BERLIN, Sunday, June 1 (AP) — The Communists tightened their new squeeze on West Berlin, but the Red threat to block West Germany's highway to this city had not materialized early today. As a possible prelude to worse things to come, the East German Communist people's police lopped off two little islands of freedom on the outskirts of the city. West Berlin was gripped by its worst case of jitters since the Russian blockade of 1948-49.

ALBERT P. GROEBEL

Albert Groebel Dies In Angelo; Rites Monday

Albert P. Groebel, widely known West Texas oil operator and rancher, and former business leader in Big Spring, died Saturday evening in a hospital at San Angelo. Mr. Groebel had been in the hospital since mid-April, when he suffered a heart attack. His condition had shown some improvement until Saturday, until a clot developed that affected his lung, causing death, at 6:25 p.m. He was 59 years old. Native of St. Louis, Mr. Groebel was reared in California, and came to Texas in 1927. He first entered oil activity at Rankin, then moved to Big Spring in 1935 when he and his brother, Ted O. Groebel, established headquarters here for the Westex Oil Company. He disposed of his interest in that firm after moving to San Angelo in 1942. He had, however, continued to develop oil holdings, and had interests in Howard, Yoakum, Upton, Crane, Runnels and Schleicher Counties. He also had extensive ranch acreage in San Saba County. Mr. Groebel enlisted in the Air Force here in World War II, and holds membership in the American Legion. He also was a Mason, Shriner, (Suez Temple) and a member of the Jesters. Funeral services have been scheduled for Monday at 4 p.m. in San Angelo and burial will be in that city. Robert Masie Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements. Besides Ted Groebel, who resides in Big Spring, survivors are the widow, Mrs. Faye Howell Groebel of San Angelo; his mother, Mrs. H. C. Brooks of San Antonio; a sister, Mrs. C. E. Peterson of San Mateo, Calif.; a step-daughter and grandson, Mrs. Faydel Derrick and Gary Derrick of Eldorado.

Diplomats See Relations At Crucial Point

Moscow Reacting Bitterly Toward Western Actions

By EDDIE GILMORE MOSCOW, May 31 (AP)—Veteran foreign residents here expressed the opinion tonight that relations between the Soviet Union and the major Western Powers—particularly the United States—have reached the lowest level yet. The past few weeks have seen the Russians react bitterly to Western moves in several parts of the world. "I don't see how relations can get worse," said one diplomat with over 27 years experience in Soviet affairs. He added—and others supported him—that despite the increasing tension he did not believe there was any greater threat of a World War, however. Charges that the Americans in Korea had resorted to germ warfare, widely publicized for weeks, aroused the Soviet masses to the highest pitch of indignation, with waves of protest meetings being called throughout the nation. In most Communist countries such protest sessions are not grass roots affairs, but meetings called and directed from high levels. Adding to the bitterness were the reports published here of events on riot-ridden Koje Island in Korea, where prisoners of war have been killed in clashes with American guards. Press comments have followed the same strongly worded formula of denunciation and pledges that the "American aggressors" will be punished for their "monstrous crimes . . . which surpass even those of Hitler's henchmen." At a city-wide protest meeting here, a resolution was passed declaring: "The sacred duty of the working people is to heighten still more their vigilance, to constantly expose the intrigues of the imperialist investigators of a new World War and to intensify the struggle for world peace."

When the Communists announced their new transit visa requirements Tuesday, they said details would be disclosed later. So far there has been no elaboration and people were on edge. It's all part of the Communist campaign against the peace contract to ally West Germany in Western defense, which the Reds say will mean civil war. They contend they are setting up security belts "to keep out Western spies, saboteurs and black marketeers." In the wake of Allied protests yesterday, Gen. Thomas T. Handy fired another complaint at Soviet Gen. Vasily I. Chukov against the still unexplained stoppage of Allied military patrols on the Berlin-Helmstedt autobahn. The commander of U. S. forces in Europe told the chief of the Soviet Control Commission in G-2: "These repeated acts of interference are malicious as well as completely without justification." "Such interference with my forces in the execution of their instructions cannot be condoned," he said. "I insist, therefore that you initiate without further delay whatever action is necessary to insure that members of your command cease to interfere with the normal, routine military operations of my forces." For a week the Communists have been creating a trench-scared no-man's-land, three miles deep, along the zonal border with West Germany from the Baltic to Bavaria, evacuating families and moving in police reinforcements. Now the same tactics have begun around Berlin.

Ike Returns Home Today

STEPHENVILLE, Nfld. May 31 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower arrived here tonight by plane from Paris on his way to Washington. After a night's sleep, he and his party will be due at 3 p.m. Sunday. By CARTER L. DAVIDSON PARIS, May 31 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower ended his second "Crusade in Europe" today and flew home for the political wars. The general and Mrs. Eisenhower took off at 2:04 p.m. (8:04 a.m. EST) in his four-engine Constellation, the Columbine. He is due in Washington at 3 p.m. EST tomorrow after getting a night's rest at Stephenville, Nfld. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, his successor as supreme Allied commander in Europe, was one of the last to give him a farewell handshake here. Military colleagues and the men

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle About the most pleasant thing to contemplate these days is the resurgence of the Broncs. After being the Longhorn League doormat early in the season, the Big Springers have shown new life. Last week the pace was not as torrid as the previous one, but winnings were three out of five. This boosted the total to eight of the past 11 games.

Almost an inch of rain fell here during the week, which kept alive hope but broke no drouth. Happily, there were parts of the county which received heavy showers, as much as four inches. A considerable portion of Northern Howard may be able to hazard a planting. If the crop sprouts, it will need more moisture before long because there aren't any reserves.

Fishing was good at Moss Creek lake last week. The fishing ban was lifted after the lake was pumped as far as practical. A lot of the catches, however, weren't of keeping size.

Residential construction spurted during the past week. One day produced 16 applications with permit totals in excess of $110,000. Other applications during the week pushed the total near the two dozen mark. There still was no official who are backing him as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination will welcome him in Washington, where he will get the 17-gun salute of his five-star rank. Then will come two days of conferences with President Truman, Secretary of Defense Lovett and others. When those are over he will change his uniform and head for his home town of Abilene, Kan., in civilian clothing. A close friend said it probably would be a favorite grey pinstripe suit. The farewell parting at Orly Airfield was brief and jovial. High-ranking officers of SHAPE, many of them with their wives and children wearing "I like Ike" campaign buttons, came to see him off. Mrs. Eisenhower was obviously moved, particularly when Orly Field employees presented her a big bouquet of roses. She blinked back tears. Mrs. Eisenhower wore on the lapel of her red garbadeine suit the miniature wings of "honorary aircraft commander," recently presented to her by the crew of the Columbine. The plane is named for the state flower of her home state, Colorado. Eisenhower reviewed an honor guard at the airport.

Physician Succumbs FORT WORTH, May 31 (AP)—Dr. T. G. Rumph, 65, Fort Worth physician since 1913, died today in his office after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage. Born in Erath County, Dr. Rumph lived a few years in Oklahoma before moving to Fort Worth in June, 1913. He was in debt about $1,000,

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio today announced that he would not run for the Republican nomination. He said he was "not interested in the nomination." He said he was "not interested in the nomination." He said he was "not interested in the nomination."

WANTED THE MONEY TO GET OUT OF DEBT Amarillo Youth Worker, Ex-Convict, Admits Silk-Stocking Hotel Holdup

AMARILLO, May 31 (AP)—Robert J. (Nob) Foight, 38, a paroled convict known locally as a tireless youth worker, admitted he pulled the $1,800 silk stocking robbery of the Herring Hotel here today. Foight, executive deputy director of the city-county civil defense office, was charged with armed robbery and placed in the Potter County jail. He admitted the robbery in a statement to Chief of Police Sid Harper, in the presence of Bill Cox, reporter for the Amarillo Globe-News, and other officers. The hotel auditing office was robbed this morning by a gunman, masked by a black silk stocking pulled over his face. The man lashed out four women into the cashier's cage, then scooped up the money and fled. Harper said Foight was arrested shortly afterwards in a downtown cafe drinking coffee with Chief of Detectives J. L. King. Officers said they recovered about $1,200 of the money taken in the robbery. It had been stuffed in a dictation recording machine (dictaphone) in the Civil Defense Office. "I was in debt about $1,000," Foight told Harper and Cox after his arrest. "I owed the bank about $800. I wanted to get out of debt, move out of my hotel room and get a nice apartment for my daughter when she comes to visit me. "That's why I did it," he said. He said his daughter was now 17 and he had not seen her since she was three years old. He told Harper he got the gun used in the robbery from a friend's house, where he was entertained for dinner several nights ago. Police records show Foight was sent to the Michigan State Prison on Feb. 22, 1938 to serve a 15-year sentence for several robberies. After serving about 10 years he was paroled to several Amarillo citizens who became interested in his case after reading magazine articles he had written. Foight came to Amarillo in January, 1948, and was employed by the Amarillo Globe-News. He was assigned to cover youth activities and boys and girls club news in the city. In April, 1950, he received the Rotary Club Youth News Orchid—an award made in recognition of outstanding work in reporting youth activities. In presenting the award, Floyd Hemphill, Amarillo school principal, said: "He sought no honors. All he wanted to do was help the youth of Amarillo. Bob Foight probably is known to more boys and girls than any other person in Amarillo." Foight left the Globe-News in Sept., 1951, and worked in Pampa for a brief time. He returned to Amarillo to work for the Civil Defense Office. "I've been going from bad to worse since my wife and I separated last January," Foight told Harper and Cox. He said the divorce would be final in a few days.

NEVER DID GET HERE, SO WILL GET MONEY BACK

ABILENE, May 31 (AP)—W.R. Landis of Hamilton wants the Texas & Pacific Railroad to refund $1.10 on a unused ticket purchased 47 years ago. The railroad says he will get his money back. Landis' ticket, dated March 5, 1905, was for one-way passage from what was then Colorado, Tex., to Big Springs, Tex. The names of both towns have changed since then to Colorado City and Big Spring. Fare for the same trip today is $1.85, including 25 cents tax. Harry Delane, T&P general agent, said Landis will receive his refund. It's the oldest ticket Delane can recall to be presented to the railroad for a refund. See RAIDS, Pg. 4, Col. 1

STANTON Jail Scene Of Fire

STANTON, May 31 (AP)—Two prisoners escaped serious injury today when a fire broke out in the second story of the Martin County jail. One prisoner, John Brent Fulton, 23, of Snyder, was taken to the Stanton hospital for emergency treatment after inhaling the smoke. He and another prisoner had cells adjoining one in which a blazing mattress started the fire. A man and woman died and two other prisoners were hospitalized last December when fire broke out in the jail.

Courthouse Plans Get Attention

Demands for plans and specifications for Howard County's proposed new Courthouse have been brisk, Puckett and French, architect and engineer, reported Saturday. The county commissioners court has invited sealed proposals on the project to be opened at 2 p.m. June 17. A dozen contractors from points extending from Oklahoma City to Brownsville have checked out plans and specifications for general construction, the architects reported. In addition six contractors have indicated interest in the electrical contract, six for the plumbing, six for air conditioning, four for jail installations and three for the elevators. The county hopes to award contracts immediately following the bid opening so that construction work can begin by July 2.

Young Vandenberg Takes A Bride

MITCHEL FIELD, N. Y., May 31 (AP)—Second Lt. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Jr., son of the Air Force chief, was married today to Miss Sus Rosannah Johnson in the Protestant chapel here. Miss Johnson is the daughter of Maj. Gen. Leon William Johnson, commander of the Continental Air Command, and Mrs. Johnson. Young Vandenberg is stationed at the Air Force base in Hondo, Tex.

Four Boys Escape From State School

GATESVILLE, May 31 (AP)—Four youths escaped from the State School for Boys today, taking with them one of the school's panel trucks. They were last seen on a country road about 17 miles north of here, near Tazewellville. School officials identified them as: Coy Mannies, 16, Houston; Horton Johnson, 15, Belton; James Boyd, 17, Amarillo and James Mills, 15, Dallas.

AT TRUCE PARLEYS Red Stubbornness Blamed By The UN

By SAM SUMMERLIN MUNSAN, Korea, Sunday, June 1 (AP)—Allied truce delegates, untrifled by the rising crescendo of Communist propaganda protests, told the Reds Saturday that only their stubbornness delays an armistice. Both sides agreed to meet at Panmunjom as usual today at 11 a.m., 8 p.m. EST, Saturday. The United Nations negotiators rode patiently Saturday over the crest of Red protests against the recurring incidents in Allied prisoner of war camps. There were signs the Communists may soon find less to complain about. In Seoul, Gen. James A. Van Fleet said the "tension is disappearing fast" on troubled Koje Island. Prison stockades there are being broken up into smaller compounds which will house 500 inmates each, rather than the 2,000 to 3,000-man enclosures dominated by rebellious Red prisoners. Brig. Gen. William P. Nichols, official U. N. Command spokesman, told correspondents Saturday night: "The fact that recalcitrant Communist prisoners are being brought into line will rob Nam of some of his propaganda ammunition." North Korea's Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate, protested loudly against POW riots Thursday and Friday in which nine Communist prisoners were killed. As usual, he blamed the Allies, although the riots were Communist instigated. "These are obviously deliberate provocations designed to obstruct the outcome of the question of prisoners of war and to delay armistice proceedings," Nam II asserted, adding that the incidents were aimed "to prepare the ground for extension of the Korean War." Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., senior Allied delegate, replied that the armistice was being delayed by "your stubborn refusal to acknowledge that the prisoners themselves have already made their voluntary decisions in the matter of repatriation."

Guardsmen Leave For Summer Camp

Thirty-seven National Guardsmen were to leave Big Spring at 5:30 a.m. Sunday for North Fort Hood to join nine other members of the local Guard unit and begin two weeks of summer field training with the 36th Infantry Division.

nationally, Wednesday night. The following morning, the program calls for him to appear at a full-dress press conference. He will be out of uniform, and therefore presumably ready to answer questions on the great national issues and problems, inherent in the campaign.

His campaign lieutenants, both here and in Missouri, all have about the same feeling, namely: "We're not worried. We think he can handle himself. But if he should stub his toe—well, it could be mighty serious."

The events ahead at Abilene may not constitute a make-or-buy test for Eisenhower. At the same time, his supporters do not attempt to disguise their feelings of concern.

They are attaching particular importance to the press conference, Thursday. And their hope is that the net effect of the whole Abilene program will be to start a prairie fire of such enthusiasm for Eisenhower "that the delegates just can't go any other way."

Security Is Sought Instead Of Profits

By SIGRID ARNE
WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—The goose that once laid the golden eggs to finance the expansion of American factories has given place to a new feathered wonder.

It used to be that American industry got much of its capital from families that earned more than they spent and invested a good deal of their surplus in common stocks.

Now, the Federal Reserve Board reports, institutions of various kinds—savings banks, building and loan associations, insurance companies, pension funds—are a dominant factor in investments.

In the '20s millions of people who managed to save up $500 or so bought common stocks, looking for a quick profit. Their money built industry.

Now, a federal reserve study shows, most of those same people seem to want security more than quick profits. They put their savings into pensions and savings institutions. Federal reserve experts surmise such people are still frightened by memories of the stock market crash and the depression.

Furthermore, the upper middle classes lose so much now to the tax collector that they have less to feed into industry through common stock purchases. What they do have to invest they are putting more and more into state and local bonds exempt from federal income tax.

The vastly increased sums of money that go into insurance, pensions and savings accounts have to be reinvested.

So actually the money lands the same places, only it takes the extra step of going through some savings institution.

The sums pouring into savings funds are sizable partly due to the fact many families have moved into higher income brackets.

Revival Here

Rev. Roy Wooster of Rockdale is to conduct a revival at the Apostolic Faith Church N. W. 10th and Lancaster, starting Sunday at 8 p.m. Services will be held daily at the same hour. Billy D. McIlvain, Kingsmill, Texas, is to direct song services. Pastor of the local church is A. W. Ferguson. Rev. Wooster is a member of the faculty of Apostolic Faith Bible School at Baxter Springs, Kans., and is pastor of the Apostolic Faith Church in Rockdale.

City Officials Meet For Parley Monday

Two representatives of the League of Texas Municipalities are to arrive in Big Spring this afternoon to complete preparations for a regional TLM meeting here Monday.

E. E. McAdams, executive director, and C. C. Crutchfield, field consultant, will have charge of the one-day program which is to include discussions on subdivision control, annexation policies and use of municipal revenues.

Registration for the meeting, to which mayors, city managers and department heads of 76 West Texas towns have been invited, is to begin at 8:30 a.m. Monday. Attendance is expected to reach 75 to 100 persons.

Guests will include J. Gordon (Oble) Bristow, candidate for state representative, 101st District, and Harley Sadler, state Senate candidate of the 24th District. Representatives and senators for other West Texas legislative districts, as well as candidates for the posts, have been invited. The regional meeting is for officials from West Texas cities south of Lubbock and west of Abilene.

Welcome will be extended by Willard Sullivan, mayor pro tem of Big Spring. Mayor Armistead Rust of San Angelo, president of the LTM, is expected to attend and probably will address the meeting.

All sessions, including a luncheon, will be held in the Settles Hotel, starting at 9:30 a.m. and continuing through 4 p.m.

Record Crowds Tour 'New' White House

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Sightseers here for the Memorial Day week end set a record today in touring the rebuilt White House, when 9,853 went through the first two floors in three hours.

The previous record was 8,631 on April 29. The White House was reopened to the public April 22.

The line waiting to be escorted through the lower floors was so large today that the gates were kept open an extra hour.

Veteran's Benefits Bill Up For Debate

By HARRY SNYDER
WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—A bill extending veterans' benefits to men and women who joined the armed forces since fighting began in Korea June 27, 1950, comes up for House action Monday.

The measure—carrying help along the lines given veterans of World War II—is subject to 40 minutes debate. Then with no opportunity for any change to be made—it can be voted up or down. But if a roll call is required this will not be taken until Thursday.

The "take-it-or-leave-it" method of presentation grew out of the only controversial provision in the bill. The measure provides that education benefits shall be paid directly to the veterans instead of to the colleges as is the practice presently.

Rep. Teague (D-Tex.), author of the bill, claims it was written "out of consideration for the veterans and the taxpayers" and as a remedy for abuses discovered in the present veteran training program.

But Rep. Springer (R-Ill.) claims it discriminates against the private colleges of the nation. Springer's plan to offer an amendment to the bill on the floor was stymied by the committee's decision to ask the House to suspend its rules and pass the bill in one action.

The bill provides an education allowance of $110 a month for veterans without dependents or $150 for those with dependents who enroll in a full-time institutional course. The half-time schooling allowances would be $50 and $70.

From these allowances, veterans would have to meet all of their education costs, including their tuition.

For apprenticeships or other on-the-job training, allowances of $70 and $95 would be made. On-the-job training allowances would be $95 and $120.

Other provisions: Education benefits would be given on the basis of 1 1/2 days of training for each day of service since June 27, 1950, regardless of where it was performed, with the maximum period amounting to 36 calendar months.

Veterans eligible under the World War II program also would be able to use the new program with benefits to run no longer than 48 months.

The education program must be started within two years after discharge from the service and finished within seven years.

Only one change in a training program would be permitted. Vocational or recreational instruction would be barred unless veterans prove it will be of use in a genuine occupation.

Schools or courses must have been in existence for two years before veterans are enrolled and profit trade schools must have 25 per cent non-veteran enrollments.

In the field of housing, the bill continues the same benefits as those now given—guaranty of home loans up to 60 per cent with a maximum of $7,500, guaranty of business loans of $2,000 and direct housing loans in non-metropolitan areas.

But it calls for such loans to be withheld unless new construction is guaranteed to be up to minimum requirements for at least one year.

Tucker Sells Interest In Grain Firm

E. T. Tucker, formerly a partner in the Tucker and McKinley Grain Co., at 1st and Lancaster, announced yesterday that he has sold his interest in the business to his partner, J. H. McKinley, who is now the sole owner, and will continue the business.

The company, founded by Tucker about 12 years ago, is engaged in dealing both at wholesale and retail in grain, feed and seed. McKinley became a partner in the firm about two years ago.

Tucker said both he and McKinley were grateful to their customers and friends whose patronage has enabled them to build the business through the years. The retiring partner said McKinley will continue the operation on the same policies as in the past. He called attention to the firm's added government-approved grain storage facilities which were installed two years ago.

At the same time Tucker announced that he will again be engaged in the trucking business with his office located on the west side of the Lamesa Highway just at the north end of the West viaduct and next door to the Phillips Tire Company's farm store.

Murder, Suicide Verdicts Returned In Odessa Deaths

ODESSA—A verdict of murder and suicide has been returned in the death of Roy A. Ray, 41 oil field roughneck from Odessa, and Mrs. Elsie Sanders, 34, Odessa cafe owner.

Critically wounded as a result of a shooting was Marion (Ace) Gilcrease, 43, Santa Fe, N.M. car salesman.

Gilcrease, who told the Odessa American that he had driven up in a car behind Mrs. Sander's cafe after running an errand when he said Ray appeared and suddenly started shooting. He had never seen the man before, he declared. Officers theorized that one of the three bullets fired at Mrs. Sanders struck Gilcrease in the back after nipping the end of her nose.

Ray, who stuck a pistol muzzle in his mouth and fired, died Friday morning in the Ector County Hospital.

Police Chief J. J. Jaston said that "there apparently was a jealousy angle." Laure Singler, 34, waitress in the cafe, heard shots and went out to the car. Gilcrease told her "that son of a gun shot us." He followed her into the cafe and collapsed.

Rites for Mrs. Sanders, who came here from Refugio two years ago, were held here Saturday afternoon. Ray's body was shipped to Corsicana for burial.

Guests will include J. Gordon (Oble) Bristow, candidate for state representative, 101st District, and Harley Sadler, state Senate candidate of the 24th District. Representatives and senators for other West Texas legislative districts, as well as candidates for the posts, have been invited. The regional meeting is for officials from West Texas cities south of Lubbock and west of Abilene.

Welcome will be extended by Willard Sullivan, mayor pro tem of Big Spring. Mayor Armistead Rust of San Angelo, president of the LTM, is expected to attend and probably will address the meeting.

All sessions, including a luncheon, will be held in the Settles Hotel, starting at 9:30 a.m. and continuing through 4 p.m.

Record Crowds Tour 'New' White House

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Sightseers here for the Memorial Day week end set a record today in touring the rebuilt White House, when 9,853 went through the first two floors in three hours.

The previous record was 8,631 on April 29. The White House was reopened to the public April 22.

The line waiting to be escorted through the lower floors was so large today that the gates were kept open an extra hour.

He's Willing

Vice President Alben Barkley turns on a grin as he tells newsmen in Washington that he is willing to be the Democratic candidate for President. The 74-year-old Vice President said "while I am not a candidate in the sense that I am actively seeking the nomination, I have never dodged a responsibility, shirked a duty or ignored an opportunity to serve the American people." He added that if he was chosen at the Democratic convention "I would accept." (AP Wirephoto).

Farm Union Seeks Boosts In Support

By OVID MARTIN WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—The National Farmers Union is calling on its members to flood Congress with letters and telegrams urging immediate legislation boosting farm price supports.

Man Suffers Knife Wound During Fight

One man was hospitalized and another jailed Friday night as the result of violence in the 300 block of North Gregg about 12:15 a.m. A third man, injured slightly, was treated and released from Big Spring Hospital.

In a serious condition, though not critical, was Joe Florez, who suffered a knife wound in the stomach. He underwent surgery at Big Spring Hospital Saturday morning.

Police and sheriff's departments were continuing an investigation of the incident Saturday. District Attorney Elton Gilliland said he probably will file an assault with intent to murder charge against the third party, depending on what the investigation shows.

Odessa Is Due CRMWD Water In Near Future

Formal cognizance of delivery of first water through Colorado River Municipal Water District lines will be taken in Odessa about a fortnight hence.

No date has been set, but the ceremonies, fixed originally for today, were set back in order to have potable water at the city gates. Water was in the first four miles of the 33-mile stretch of supply line.

fore House and Senate Agriculture Committees, but that these groups do not seem inclined to act this session.

The union is the only major national farm organization to endorse Truman administration farm policies, including the controversial Brannan farm plan. This plan would provide higher price supports than does present law, and would make broad use of subsidies to maintain a high level of farm income.

The union wants price supports at 100 per cent of parity. Supports for most of the commodities now being supported are at 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices. It is declared by law to be equally fair to farmers and those who buy their products.

The letter said favorable farm legislation would be passed if it could be gotten out of the committees for a vote. "There's a lot of politics involved in the fight this year," the letter said. "The fact is that Republicans aren't high pressuring for strengthening farm price supports and won't unless there is pressure on them from home. After all, they say, this is a Democrat Congress. The Democrats got the farm vote in 1948. Let them 'deliver' to the farmers. If they don't, then the GOP will get the farm vote this fall."

Such other national farm organizations as the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Council of Farmer cooperatives and the National Grange, have said they do not favor changes in price support laws at this time.

Stalin Advised To Retire Due To His Failure In Health

MUNICH, Germany, May 31 (AP)—Radio Free Europe said last night Generalissimo Stalin has been advised by his doctors to retire from all his posts in view of his rapidly failing health.

The radio, a privately financed American station broadcasting to countries behind the Iron Curtain, also said Stalin's possible retirement has stirred bitter strife in Russia for the choice of his successor.

Radio Free Europe, which claims good contacts in Eastern Europe, did not give any source for its information. Samuel M. Tractor Operators Sought By Farmers, TEC Office Reports

Several farmers have asked for tractor operators since the recent showers, Leon M. Kinney, manager of the Big Spring office of Texas Employment Commission, said yesterday. There are also openings for general farm hands, he added.

Kinney said the office is also able to offer employment to warehousemen, general laborers, stenographers, clerk-typists, dishwashers with licenses and health cards, carpenters helpers and the mentioned agricultural workers.

During the week 406 visits were made to the office, Kinney reported, and 27 new applications for jobs were filed. Forty-nine persons were referred to non-agricultural employment and 39 of these were placed in jobs. There were 10 active claims for unemployment compensation.

ways the USIE has made, and is making, overseas friends for America but has had only limited success in India and Iran.

"We have not completely destroyed the hard-lying stereotype of 'Western imperialism' as applied to the United States, and have not fully convinced India that Soviet imperialism is the true and deeply real threat over India today," it said.

The department did not share McCarran's view that the U. S. has been speaking to other countries like a patronizing uncle, saying that at all times the USIE has sought to convince the people abroad that America is their friend and communism their enemy.

Among the withheld portions of the department's summation was a description of the basic themes guiding efforts intended to reach the common people in Russia and the satellite countries, and to disaffect the armed forces of those countries.

"Potential audiences for these (Voice of America) programs as a whole is estimated at 300 million, and the evidence of surveys, letters from listeners, and reports from press correspondents, travelers, and our own foreign missions indicates that many millions listen regularly. There are 180 USIE information centers in 78 countries abroad, which were visited last year by a total of 24 million persons. The department said, however, that "the biggest and most successful use the Kremlin makes of the 'technique of the big lie' in the expansion of Soviet imperialism is Moscow's adoption of the theme that international communism is a stand for freedom, for escape from exploitation and for anti-colonialism."

"This lie has been exposed over and over again, but it does not die easily. It remains—and will remain—one of our greatest problems in colonial and newly independent areas."

MUST KEEP FIGHTING COMMUNISM

A Bomb Leadership Holds Off Threat Of War, Says Cvetic

The United States is far ahead of the Soviet Union in production of atomic bombs and about "100 times as strong industrially," which makes a global war appear unlikely in the near future, Matt Cvetic said here last night.

Cvetic hastened to add, "Getting scared won't help anything," he declared. "I know the Soviet Union got the atomic bomb in 1949 because I was in the Communist Party at the time. I also know that we were at least five years ahead of them and that they have not caught up yet."

Cvetic said alarmists who rave and rant, "like Drew Pearson," in an attempt to frighten the people, should be put off the air.

Walks From Minnesota To Texas To Solve Problem Of His Name

GALVESTON, May 31 (AP)—A 63-year-old Minnesota cement worker was on route home by bus today after walking most of the way to this Texas city "to find out about my name."

Antoine Kimta, weather-beaten and his feet swollen, walked into the immigration office here Thursday and announced: "I have just walked from Minneapolis to ask you for some information."

We have to send it to you in care of the nearest immigration office—the one at St. Paul." He suggested: "You could have had the St. Paul office write us."

When he came to the U. S. from his native Poland in 1906, he could neither read nor write. His port of entry was Galveston and when he arrived authorities asked for his name.

Kimta said he had a few rides, but none of more than 200 miles, in his long trek from Minnesota, that he lived on coffee and doughnuts, and gave the last of his money to a couple who gave him a ride and ran out of gas.

Kimta said he lives at Silver Lake, Minn., served in the Argonne campaign with the 32nd Regiment in World War I, has married and become a widower since coming to the U. S., and has a son who served in the Army.

He then told this story: When he came to the U. S. from his native Poland in 1906, he could neither read nor write.

Four Of 11 Orphans Leave To Take Up A New Home

PONTIAC, Mich., May 31 (AP)—The 11 Moore orphans bravely kept back tears today as four of them said goodbye to live with foster parents in a distant city.

On Memorial Day, the orphans, with the exception of baby Michael, had gone to Roseland Park Cemetery to put flowers on the graves of their parents.

The orphans themselves began to realize this. So today while there was grief at parting, there also was gladness that good homes have been found for four of them.

Teachers Get Pay Increase From State

AUSTIN, May 31 (AP)—A $300 cost-of-living pay boost was approved for faculties of the University of Texas and Texas Western College by the University Board of Regents today.

An approximate 5 per cent increase was voted for non-teaching employees at both schools.

The board wrote the increases into 1952-53 operating budgets on the recommendation of administrative officers. Some merit increases also were granted in both academic and non-academic positions.

Thirty-nine professors in rank were granted teachers at the main university.

The main University budget for next year was set at $9,275,033, compared with a current budget of $9,118,112. The school will draw $1,300,000 from the University available fund to go with legislative appropriations to meet the budget.

Next year's budgets for other units, compared with this year's: Southwestern Medical School, Dallas, $528,845, and $775,345; Galveston Medical Branch, $5,842,285 and $5,099,330.

Dental Branch, Houston, $791,890 and $1,154,685, the decrease resulting partly from a smaller legislative appropriation for next year and from elimination of positions previously budgeted but unfilled.

M. D. Anderson Hospital for Cancer Research, Houston, $2,195,286 and $1,585,523.

Postgraduate School of Medicine, with headquarters in Houston and divisions in San Antonio, San Angelo and Temple, $51,600 and $43,100, the program being paid for entirely from grants and course fees.

Farm Bureau Denies Stand To Prevent 'Rain-Making'

Cecil Leatherwood, president of the Howard County Farm Bureau, yesterday issued a denial that the Bureau has ever intended to tell any person to be either for or against the cloud seeding program, to which this county has been committed as a member of the incorporated 11-county West Texas Weather Improvement District.

"The Farm Bureau has tried to let the farmers know about the program and gave them an opportunity to contribute if they so desired. The Farm Bureau has never tried to stop the program, but the Farm Bureau is not soliciting any more funds for the rainmaker," Leatherwood said in a prepared statement. He said the statement was being issued in reply to one recently made in Big Spring by Sam Allen of Lamesa, manager of the WTWID, in which Allen said the cloud seeding program would go on regardless of whether or not it was approved by some of the directors of the Howard County Farm Bureau.

In his statement, Leatherwood, who has consistently expressed himself as being opposed to the program, points out that a total of 242 farmers and businessmen have contributed to the program, and that of this total 207 were farmers and ranchers and 35 were businessmen. He said 1,150 letters were mailed to farmers, ranchers and landowners in the county on two different occasions. In view of this he asserts: "Since only 20 per cent responded it is only logical to assume that a majority did not favor the program."

The Allen statement to which Leatherwood said he was replying came after the Farm Bureau president had announced that at a meeting of the directors they had informally agreed not to accept any more contributions to the project and not to support it. This reported action of the directors, Leatherwood said, was not put in the minutes of the meeting.

Simultaneous with his statement Leatherwood handed the Herald a statement signed by Edgar Phillips, vice president of the Bureau; Shirley Fryar and M. M. Edwards, two of the Bureau's 14 directors, and himself.

This statement says: "According to reports of a large majority of the farmers of Howard County, they do not favor the continuing of the rainmaking program. If so many were favoring it why hasn't the county's share of $8,500 already been raised as everyone has had an opportunity to contribute."

Several farmers have made some further investigation into the "Rainmaker" program in the state of New Mexico where the "Rainmakers" claim some ideal results were obtained, the statement continues.

"The following was our finding," the statement says, indicating that those who signed it were the ones who made the investigation.

These findings according to the statement were:

"1. All New Mexico ranchers that were contacted paid into the program for two years and part of them paid in for the third year. More ranchers had to send their cattle away for grass in the period they paid the rainmaker than in the past 25 years.

"2. New Mexico ranchers contacted said that they received no relief at all from the rainmaker."

"3. It was also found that the rainmaker was a stock company with some of the leading ranchers over the country as stockholders."

"4. One rancher in New Mexico offered to put up $1,000 to stop the rainmaker from operating."

"We have had more criticism for supporting the rainmaking program than we have had for opposing it."

Since nothing was put on the minutes of the meeting of the Bureau's board of directors almost two weeks ago concerning their action in deciding not to support the program, the views of the other 12 directors have not been announced by Leatherwood.

The name of the Farm Bureau's other officer, R. V. Middleton, who is secretary-treasurer, did not appear on the statement. Middleton is also one of Howard County's two directors on the board of the West Texas Weather Improvement District and was one of the organizers of the cloud seeding project.

Rhee's Police Jail Dozen In Korean Fuss

PUSAN, Korea, Sunday, June 1 (AP)—The fight between President Syngman Rhee and the South Korean Assembly took a new turn Saturday when the Assembly voted to shelve the resignation of Vice President Kim Sung Soo. It was just what Rhee wanted.

Meanwhile, however, Rhee's police arrested another assemblyman, making 12 jailed in the past week.

Eleven of those held are accused of plotting with the Communists to overthrow the Rhee administration and collaborate with the North Korean Red regime. No formal charges have been filed, however, and American diplomatic sources have called the accusation "eye-wash." The 12th assemblyman in jail is accused of killing a Korean Army captain.

Diplomatic sources say that the real reason for the struggle between Rhee and the Assembly is the forthcoming presidential election. Rhee's term expires in July, and the Assembly is required by the Constitution to elect a President sometime before June 23. Rhee, aged 77, has said he is not a candidate but has refrained from saying he would refuse another term.

Vice President Kim, who is 62, is being treated aboard the U. S. hospital ship Havenin Pusan Harbor for an undisclosed illness which American doctors say is major.

He resigned Thursday with an angry tirade calling Rhee a "traitor" because of the arrests of assemblymen.

They Took Unexpected Ride On A 'Slide'

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 31 (AP)—Two Amarillo, Tex., women who hadn't been on a slide since childhood got free rides on one today.

A big TWA Constellation carrying them and 42 other passengers made an emergency landing at Hulman Field after fire warning lights began flashing.

As ambulances and fire apparatus stood by, Misses Kate Wilson and Katherine Metcalf, both of Amarillo, joined in a hurried escape through an emergency slide exit. There was no fire.

"It was the first time I've been on a slide since my childhood days," Miss Wilson told a newsman. She and Miss Metcalf are on a flying vacation trip to England.

Mexico City Opens Cabaret Cleanup

MEXICO CITY, May 31 (AP)—Authorities launched a drive today to clean up Mexico City's cabarets and variety theaters.

The chief of the entertainment licensing department gave orders that the bump and grind girls and comedians who specialize in obscene patter would have to go along with the strip teasers who give all to their art.

After Raid On Tough Prisoners

Allied troops, some removing helmets as they leave Compound 66 on Koje Island after a tear gas raid on the compound containing 3,350 tough Red prisoners. The troops destroyed the prisoners' headquarters and emerged with red flags and knives without spilling a drop of blood. It was the first big show of force inside any of the 17 compounds since disorders flared early this month. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Tokyo).

Gold Crowns Stolen From Church Shrine

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—Nocturnal thieves invaded a two-million-dollar Roman Catholic shrine in Brooklyn and stole gem-encrusted gold crowns donated by hundreds of women during World War II as an offering to peace.

Church officials, who discovered the theft today, said the two crowns were insured for $100,000 but their "moral value cannot be replaced."

The crowns were embodied in a painting of the Virgin Mary and the Christ Child that hung above and behind the main altar in the Regina Pacis Votive Shrine, which was built and maintained by the St. Rosalia Catholic Church.

Police said the thieves had sawed through a bronze grill surrounding the shrine to reach the glittering crowns, which were hung by hooks over the heads of the Virgin and the Christ Child.

Two points of the larger crown, which was hung over the head of Mary, were found inside the grill, apparently broken off as the crown was pulled through the hole.

The two points alone contained 10 diamonds.

Police said the theft apparently occurred between 7:45 p.m. (EST) yesterday and 10 a.m. today, when a priest celebrating a nuptial high mass discovered that the crowns were missing.

Msr. Angelo R. Cluffi, pastor of St. Rosalia Church, said the thieves were believed to have hidden yesterday in the lower chapel under the shrine and emerged during the night.

The shrine is about four blocks from the church.

The crowns were decorated with more than 500 rubies, diamonds, emeralds and sapphires which had been given by the women of the parish and others of the devout.

Terry Well Has 2 Pays

Conoco No. 1 Atlas is to complete as a dual producer in Terry County.

Plugged back to 12,713, the venture was perforated from 12,678-692 opposite the Fusselman. Packer was set at 12,665 and a drillstem test taken through half-inch choke.

Gas surfaced in 11 minutes and oil started to flow in one hour and 35 minutes. In the first hour it made 13 barrels of oil; in the second 11 barrels; in the third 10.39 barrels. This was naturally and without water.

Previously it had swabbed nine hours opposite Wolfcamp perforations from 10,050-75 and 10,100-120 and had recovered 66 barrels of oil and no water. Both sets of perforations were acidized. Operator now will try to complete from both the Wolfcamp and the Fusselman.

Malone Returns From Long Trip

Dr. P. W. Malone returned Saturday from a month's long trip that included attendance at the national Boy Scout meeting.

He was the Buffalo Trails Council's only representative at the annual meeting held in the Waldorf Astoria at New York. One of the highlights was a Scouting spectacle at Madison Square Garden with 25,000 boys participating in a two-hour program.

During the trip, on which Mrs. Malone and Mary Frances accompanied him, he attended the state medical society meeting in Dallas; visited relatives in Waterford and Humboldt, Tenn.; attended an international eye, ear, nose and throat meeting in Toronto, Canada; visited in Washington, D.C. and Niagara Falls.

Convicted In Slaying

STEPHENVILLE, May 31 (AP)—A 29th District Court jury convicted Duke Cogdell, 51, Stephenville trucking operator, of a charge of murder without malice in the death of his wife Jan. 31. He was assessed a five-year prison sentence.

Opponent Hits At White On Seed Program

AUSTIN, May 31 (AP)—Billie E. Beard, who seeks the office held by State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, today accused White of contradicting himself on difficulties encountered in the certified seed program.

White had been quoted this week as saying farmers will have to be exceedingly careful of what they buy until a new seed law can be enacted by the legislature.

This statement, said Beard, "is in direct conflict with a statement made by the Commissioner in the Dallas News, Wednesday, July 19, 1950." At that time, Beard said, White was quoted as saying he believed Texas had "the best seed laws of any state in the nation but enforcement of them is terrible."

In view of the "direct conflict of these two statements by the same man... it appears that the enforcement under the present administration is terrible," Beard said in a prepared statement.

Beard said he had purposely withheld his comment until today to allow time for an answer from White "as to his intention for correcting the deplorable conditions cited in an open letter from Mr. Pat Mayse, editor of the Paris News."

"Mr. Mayse cited some concrete facts and the commissioner did not dispute them," said Beard.

He said he was confident every certified seed man or group in Texas will demand a complete, thorough investigation "of these deplorable conditions," publications of the findings, and action against those not complying with the law.

"The only assurance that any farmer or rancher has in buying seeds is the tag on the sack signed by the commissioner that these seeds have been tested and contain what is stated on the tag," Beard continued.

"Every seed grower pays a fee to have his seed plots inspected. He is spending money and not receiving what he is paying for if these seed plots have not been properly inspected."

Retail Sales Up

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—The magazine "Sales Management" predicted today retail sales in June will total 33 billion dollars. This would be an increase of 3 per cent over June 1950. Cities listed as expected to register the largest gains over last year included Wichita Falls, Tex.

Non-Whites Called To Line Up In South African Revolt

By ARTHUR GAVSHON
PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa, May 31 (AP)—Non-white leaders urged the 10 million Negro, Indian and mixed-blood peoples of South Africa today to rise against what they called "this racial arrogance and tide of fascism" in Daniel F. Malan's Nationalist government.

The high command of a United Passive Resistance Movement announced "a well disciplined and non-violent" struggle against racial laws the non-whites consider unjust will be launched on a nationwide scale June 26.

A statement said five members of the organization ordered by the government to retire from public activities on the ground they are Communists will touch off the campaign next week by defying the orders. They expect to go to jail.

The non-whites peoples must either fight or "capitulate and submit to untold suffering and perpetual servitude under white domination," it was declared, and "the South African situation today leaves us no alternative but to call upon our peoples in their united millions to rise."

Leaders of Negro, Indian and colored (mixed blood) groups met at this industrial center and seaport on the 42nd anniversary of the union to check over their final plans and order the start.

Their vow is to carry on until they reach national freedom. The chief of the campaign is a wealthy physician - farmer, Dr. James S. Moroka, president general of the African (Negro) National Congress. He said in an interview the struggle of the non-white peoples today is to achieve co-operation with all "on terms of equality only."

That's different, he said, from a policy of non-co-operation. The 10 million non-whites, though outnumbering whites here more than four to one, are still far from real revolt. They have not the arms, organization or leadership.

Traffic Mishaps Reported To Police

Four minor traffic mishaps claimed the attention of Big Spring police Friday afternoon and Saturday.

Glenn Smith, Corpus Christi, and Harold Kolajack, Webb Air Force Base, were drivers of automobiles involved in a collision at Gregg and Park Friday afternoon. Robert Morehead, 104 Lincoln, and Robert H. Hall, WAFB, were operators of cars in collision at E. 6th and Rannels, also Friday afternoon, officers said.

Involved in a mishap about 8 a.m. Saturday in the 1000 block of E. 3rd Street were vehicles driven by Kent Elliott, El Paso, and Wesley Byron Neel, 1605 Young, according to police. The other Saturday collision involved machines operated by Mrs. C. H. Forgas, Silver Heels Addition, and Mrs. O. C. James, 109 Princeton. The latter wreck occurred on the Furr Food Store parking lot.

Stanton Court Opens Monday

District Judge Charlie Sullivan will go to Stanton Monday morning to open the June term of 118th District Court in Martin County.

A grand jury has been ordered to report at Stanton Monday morning, said Elton Gilliland, District Attorney. Some four or five criminal matters are due to be referred to the grand jury for investigation.

Meanwhile, Judge Sullivan plans to open the civil docket, and a petit jury panel has been called to serve during the week.

Approximately 20 civil cases have been set down for next week in Stanton.

Ex-Big Springer Wins Scholarship To Colorado U.

Charles Gilbert Mull, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mull, former residents of Big Spring, is one of four Colorado High School students winning four-year engineering scholarships to the University of Colorado, Boulder.

Young Mull won the award on the basis of his high school scholastic record. He and three other high school graduates were honored at a special dinner in the University of Colorado Engineering Experiment Station last Saturday. Scholarships include all fees and tuition.

Gilbert graduated from Rifle, Colo., High School this spring.

The Mulls resided in Big Spring prior to moving to Rifle a few years ago. J. B. Mull, a petroleum engineer, was associated with Cosden Petroleum Corp.

Taft Is Confident As Drive For Delegates In Last Phase

By JACK BELL
 WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio begins the final phase of his campaign next week confident he will win the Republican presidential nomination if he can hold his own in June.
 "I believe we are over the hump and what we have to do now is to tie down the delegate strength we have lined up," Taft told this reporter.
 The Ohio senator said he expects to pick up about 50 delegate votes over Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in the five weeks that remain before the GOP National Convention opens in Chicago July 7.
 He counts on winning South Dakota's 14 in next Tuesday's primary there, most of Indiana's 32 in a convention June 7, and the District of Columbia's six at a convention here June 5. These, with 70 to be chosen in California's June 3 primary and likely to go to Gov. Earl Warren, will about complete delegate selection.

 While Eisenhower is making his first personal appearance on the political scene, Taft will switch from stump speaking to a program of intensive cultivation of delegates in an effort to clinch an early-ballot nomination.
 Taft's managers claim he will go into the convention with more than 600 votes, but it is apparent they regard about 100 of these as somewhat shaky supporters. They think another 100 who aren't publicly pledged to any candidate can be convinced they ought to support the Ohio senator. A total of 604 votes is needed for the nomination.

 Winding up an intensive speaking campaign that has taken him from coast to coast, Taft now plans to try out his personal charm on as many delegates as possible.
 He is going first to Indianapolis June 6, when Republicans will begin selecting Indiana's 32-vote delegation. This may become something of a Taft rally—rivaling Eisenhower's June 4 appearance at Abilene, Kan.—especially if Taft gets most of the state's delegates as he is expected to do.
 After a June 7 speech in his home town of Cincinnati, Taft will address the National Republican Club in New York June 12. He is billied as a speaker at the University of Virginia Institute of Public Affairs in Charlottesville June 27.

 Eisenhower may remain in Denver while his managers put on the convention drive for his nomination, but Taft will be on hand in Chicago, personally directing his own forces.
 The Ohioan is firmly convinced of the value of the barnstorming tactics he has used to date. He thinks he did as well as could be expected in primaries. He only regrets that his backers didn't start organization work earlier on some of the state conventions where Eisenhower made inroads.
 "The campaign has gone just about as we programmed it," he said. "It has not been easy because we have faced a contest in practically every state, but I think we have done well."
 Despite a gruelling schedule that has taken him into every section of the nation, Taft still weighs in for his occasional golf game at the same 196 pounds at which he started last fall. His game, incidentally, still is in the low 80s.
 Taft said he is not particularly tired and never felt better. He attributes part of his good health to the fact that he had his tonsils out last summer and has not been susceptible to colds since.

 Lately, however, the strain of several months of intensive campaigning—sometimes seems to make itself apparent in the tautness with which he handles critical questions on television and radio appearances.
 Never a patient man, at times he becomes irked with what he regards as a lack of background on the part of questioning newsmen.
 On the other hand, Taft seems at first glance to make a good impression on most of those who see him in action and hear him talk. He draws crowds but there is conflicting evidence about the lasting impression he leaves with them.

Voices Aversion For Gamblers

LINDALE, May 31 (AP)—Ralph Yarborough pushed his candidacy for governor today by saying he will never accept the entertainment of known gamblers.
 "I say it is bad for any high public official to be a guest of any gambling syndicate or any member thereof whether in the plush gambling room or on the finest yacht," Yarborough told a Smith County homecoming crowd at the Lindale Blackberry Festival.
 Then he asked: "Can and will all the candidates for governor make the same statement?"
 Yarborough voiced his aversion for gamblers in a speech prepared for delivery in the community where his grandfather settled more than a century ago.
 "I pledge the people of Texas that I have never been entertained on a yacht in the Gulf of Mexico owned by a notorious gambler," he said.

 "I pledge that when I am governor of Texas I will not accept invitations to be entertained on such yachts and will not consort with leaders of big-time gambling syndicates that make Reno, Nevada, and Miami, Florida, blush with envy."
Business Scholarship At UT Is Set Up By Texas Foundries
 AUSTIN, May 31 (AP)—A scholarship in industrial management in the University of Texas College of Business Administration has been set up by Texas Foundries, Inc.
 The gift was announced today by Cal C. Chambers, president and general manager of the Lufkin firm, and Clark E. Myers, management department chairman.
 Juniors and seniors are eligible for the award, which will give the winner a $300 scholarship for 1952-53.

Strike Is Slated At Tin Smelter
 TEXAS CITY, May 31 (AP)—The Texas City Tin Smelter—only tin smelter in the nation—was being shut down today in preparation for a strike called for midnight Monday.
 Contract talks between smelter spokesmen and Local 449 of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) collapsed yesterday and the union posted a strike notice. About 500 production workers will be affected.
 The company wanted an overall contract including wages but the union wanted to settle on wages before taking up other issues such as working conditions. The present wage scale, and that asked by the union, was not immediately available.
 The smelter had been short of ore until recently and only a few days ago received enough from South America to resume production.

Many Linksters Here Can Say 'I Beat Hogan'

A total of 71 golfers turned out at the two local golf courses Saturday to test their games with that of Ben Hogan's on the National Golf Day and considerably more than the predicted ten per cent shaded the famed Fort Worth professional.

The Big Spring Country Club had 37 players and the Munny Course 34.

Shirley Robbins, Country Club pro, said 17 players playing that course beat Hogan's 71 registered at the Northwest Country Club in Dallas Saturday afternoon.

W. O. Maxwell Jr., Munny pro, estimated that "eight or ten" linksters entered there shaded Hogan.

He delayed a decision on the exact number until their scores could be checked. The sponsoring organizations, Life Magazine and the PGA, must check scores and agree on prescribed handicaps.

Maxwell himself turned in the day's best score. He registered a 69, touring the nine-hole course in 34-35, getting the aggregate, of course, without benefit of a handicap.

Several of the entries at the Country Club used their handicaps to tie Hogan. That number included Earl Reynolds, Jack Wallace and Carl Smith.

Best score shot at the Country Club was C. G. Griffin's 72. Billie Dillon posted a triflin 36 on one of her rounds.

Those who beat Hogan will be given a medal, properly inscribed, given by Life Magazine and the PGA.

All proceeds go toward charities supported by the two sponsoring organizations. Each entry paid $1. Munny entries (with results where rounds finished):

- W. O. Maxwell Jr., 69; Tommie Eilert, 70; E. S. McIninch, 71; Max Madson, 71; John E. Brown, 70; John Hobbs, 71; Tommie Hutto, 71; R. D. Berry, 71; M. Keaton, 70; W. E. Gardner, 70; N. L. Scott, 71; W. L. Smith, 71.

Also Bobby Maxwell, 71; J. Kilgore, Sam Thurman, 70; G. Barnett, 70; D. A. Brasel, 70; Shorry Eldred, 70; Doug Hill, 70; L. B. Brooks, 70; Jack Ode, 70; Bob Brink, 70; and Jim Smith.

Also Jimmy Burns, 82; Nevis Womack, 82; Weldon Bryant, 80; Roy Barnes, 80; Sparky, 81; Dan Greenwood, Richard Griffin, 81; Joe Connally, 100; John Overton, and C. Teague, 80.

Country Club entries (with best scores): Rip Smith, 69; Claude Ramsey, 69; Dan English, 71; Earl Reynolds, 71; L. C. Simmons, 64; J. E. Foose, 68; C. G. Griffin, 72; Robert Hodges, 67; Frank Foster, 74; W. A. Crox, 72; Don Hoover, 70; Allen Cunningham, 85; and James Little, 85.

EVEN PAR 210

Mangrum Has Five-Stroke Lead In Western Open

By ED WILKS
ST. LOUIS, May 31 (U)—Westwood Country Club's stubborn par 70 finally caught up with steady Lloyd Mangrum today, but he stayed even for 54 holes with a 210 to retain his lead in the 49th Western Open Golf Tournament.

As the tourney swings into the fourth and final 18-hole round tomorrow, Bobby Locke of Johannesburg, South Africa, is five strokes back in No. 2 position with a 215 total.

Mangrum, the Chicagoan who cashed bigger checks than any other touring pro last year, strayed on the back nine today to finish with a two-over 72. That gave him a 68-70-72-210.

He was even on the out nine, but after getting a budge on the 297-yard No. 16, he went over on the 11th, 13th and 15th holes.

He barely missed retaining a sub-par total on the 18th as a 15-foot putt rolled off the lip of the cup.

For Locke the Western competition brightened on the third round. He toured the 6,616-yard Westwood course in par, his best round in the competition to jump ahead from yesterday's ninth place standing.

Locke managed to grab second place away from Roberto de Vicenzo of Buenos Aires, who like Mangrum, had trouble on the back nine and finished with a 74 that put him in an eight-way tie for third with a 216 score.

With De Vicenzo at 216 is Tommy Bolt of Durham, N. C., Bolt finished with a 75.

The field, pared to 63 after 36 holes, lost two big names today—Sammy Snead, two-time Western champ and favored for a third to fourth place with a total of 538. Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias held second place until she was forced out of the tournament by an operation.

Shackled by a poor 147 after 36

BETSY RAWLS WINS TOP CASH IN WEATHERVANE

HARTSDALE, N. Y., May 31 (U)—Defending Champion Patty Berg shot a 74, two over men's par, to lead the last leg of the Transcontinental Women's Golf Tournament today but Betsy Rawls of Austin, Tex., edged a nine-stroke edge for the $5,000 first prize.

The final 18 holes of the 144-hole tournament will be played tomorrow over the Deep Dale Course at Great Neck, N. Y. A $3,000 prize will go to the winner of the two-day New York tournament, with the larger purse going to the tournament champion.

Miss Berg, the redhead from St. Andrews, Ill., had a 34-40-74 over the par 36-36-72 Scarsdale Golf Club Course.

Betty Jameson of San Antonio shot a 75 for the second best effort of the rainy afternoon and picked up three strokes on Miss Rawls, the National Women's Open Champion, who shot a 73 for a 123-hole score of 512.

Miss Jameson is in second place in the overall standings with 521, followed by Louise Suggs of Carrollton, Ga., with 527. Miss Suggs had a 79.

Miss Berg, jumped from eighth

Sox And Oilers Tie For Lead

First half play in Little League baseball winds up June 26 but there was no indication yet which club will be up there when the firing is ended.

Two teams—the Gold Sox and the Oilers—are now tied for the top spot with 5-3 won-lost records.

The Yankees have won four and lost as many. Tied for the collar spot are the Indians and the Eagles, each with 3-5 marks.

The Indians had been setting the pace but were called upon to forfeit four games because of the use of too many 12-year-olds.

This week's schedule sends the Yankees out against the Eagles Monday, the Gold Sox against the Oilers Tuesday, the Indians against the Yankees Wednesday, the Eagles against the Gold Sox Thursday and the Oilers against the Indians Friday.

AT BERKELEY, CALIF.

Leon Lepard Wins 800-Meter Jaunt In All-Army Carnival

BERKELEY, Calif., May 31 (U)—Long-striding Leon Lepard, former Abilene Christian middle distance star, now serving in the Sixth Army, won the 800-meter run today opening the all-Army Track and Field Championships. The time was 1:54.6.

Lepard is a native of Big Spring, Texas.

Lepard went into the lead in the final furlong to beat out Harry Bright, ex-Seton Hall athlete, now in yesterday's trials, Lepard also outdistanced Bright in 1:56.7.

Lawrence Ellis, a New York youth in the Far East Command, was third today with Earl Jones, also of the FEC, fourth. Jones is from Kansas City, Mo., and attended Oklahoma A&M.

A crowd of about 4,000 turned out for the finals of the two-day meet bringing together Army athletes from the European and Far East areas, as well as from this country.

The meet was held jointly with the Pacific (AAU) Association Championships which brought out college and club athletes of this area in separate events.

Alex Litman of the Fourth Army beat out favored Bill Mathis of the Second Army in the 100-meter dash, timed in 10.9. Litman is from San Angelo, Tex. Mathis, from Washington, D. C., was an NCAA champion while attending University of Illinois.

The Third Army's Jim Cooke scored an upset win over John Helwig of the Sixth Army in the shot put. Cooke posted a mark of 51 feet 3/4 inch against 50 feet 2 1/4 inches made by Helwig, former No. 7 of the team.

GRIMM STEPS IN Holmes Is Canned By Boston Braves

NEW YORK, May 31 (U)—Tommy Holmes was fired today as manager of the Boston Braves, a job he had held less than a year, and Charley Grimm was named as his successor.

The 33-year-old former pilot of the Chicago Cubs will take over the seventh place Braves in Cincinnati tomorrow.

Braves' General Manager John Quinn said Grimm had been signed for the remainder of the present season and also for 1953. He refused to reveal salary terms. Quinn said that Holmes would be retained in some capacity in the Boston organization.

Grimm, an outstanding National League first baseman from 1919 to 1933, had been pilot of the Braves' Milwaukee team in the American Association. He led the Brewers to the pennant and playoff championship last year.

The fun loving new leader of the Braves began his managerial career in 1932 when he replaced Rogers Hornsby as manager of the Cubs in mid-season. The Cubs went on to win the pennant.

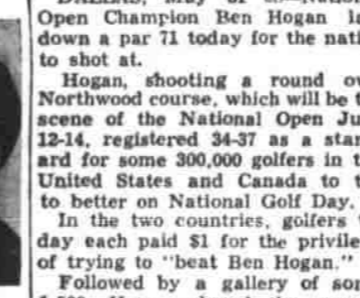

Quinn said, "We have a lot of regard for Tommy Holmes. But we felt Holmes needed more experience. We selected Grimm because Charley has that experience and background, both as a manager in the majors and the minors."

Holmes managed the Braves since last June 20, replacing Billy Southworth. Holmes began 1951 as pilot of the Braves' Hartford club in the Eastern League, his first venture as a manager following nine seasons as a Boston outfielder.

Quinn, asked if there would be any changes in Boston's playing personnel, said, "I couldn't answer that until we have a talk with Charlie. I don't know if he plans to bring up any of his youngsters from Milwaukee."

Quinn added that Red Smith, Milwaukee coach and one of Grimm's buddies, would manage Milwaukee until a successor is named there.

Grimm has managed the Chicago Cubs twice before and been boss at Milwaukee twice. He had a front office job with the Cubs when on Jan. 6, 1950, he resigned his $25,000 a year job and accepted an offer from wealthy Dick Burnett to manage Dallas of the Texas League.

HOLMES GRIMM

Grimm signed a three-year contract calling for $90,000.

Following the 1950 season Grimm quit his job at Dallas and shortly thereafter signed to manage Milwaukee.

Quinn said, "Following are player transactions completed by Longhorn League teams, as announced by League Pressy Hal Sayles:

ARTESIA—Frank Fernandez, obtained by outright assignment from Big Spring. William E. Kimball, contract assigned outright to Crowley club of Evangeline League.

THOMAS Simone, contract assigned outright to Abilene club of West Texas-New Mexico League.

MIDLAND—Patricio Lorenzo, released outright. Tito Santiago, contract assigned optionally to Houma club of the Evangeline League.

Miguel De La Torre, contract assigned optionally to Houma Club of Evangeline League. Allen Eads Dinkie, obtained by optional assignment from Longview Club of Big State League.

ODESSA—John A. Crocker, obtained by optional assignment from Corpus Christi Club of Gulf Coast League.

ROSWELL—James C. McClure, released outright.

VERNON—Lloyd F. Trip, transferred to national defense list.

McClure Leaves Roswell Club

Following are player transactions completed by Longhorn League teams, as announced by League Pressy Hal Sayles:

ARTESIA—Frank Fernandez, obtained by outright assignment from Big Spring. William E. Kimball, contract assigned outright to Crowley club of Evangeline League.

THOMAS Simone, contract assigned outright to Abilene club of West Texas-New Mexico League.

MIDLAND—Patricio Lorenzo, released outright. Tito Santiago, contract assigned optionally to Houma club of the Evangeline League.

Miguel De La Torre, contract assigned optionally to Houma Club of Evangeline League. Allen Eads Dinkie, obtained by optional assignment from Longview Club of Big State League.

ODESSA—John A. Crocker, obtained by optional assignment from Corpus Christi Club of Gulf Coast League.

ROSWELL—James C. McClure, released outright.

VERNON—Lloyd F. Trip, transferred to national defense list.

Red Sox Lose To Chihose

BOSTON, May 31 (U)—Sam Mele clouded two homers as Marvin Grissom's five-hit pitching gave the Chicago White Sox their eighth victory in nine starts today with a 7-3 decision over the Boston Red Sox.

Mele hit his first four-bagger in the fourth inning to give the White Sox a 1-0 lead over Boston starter and loser Ray Scarborough. Sam clouded the second homer — his sixth four-bagger of the season — to launch a five-run outburst in the sixth frame.

Cook, Air Base To Play June 6

First half championship of the YMCA Industrial Football League will probably be decided when Cook's Appliance Store and Webb Air Base tangle at the City Park.

The clubs were originally committed to play Friday night but the contest was called due to conflict with a holiday. It has been re-set for the night of June 6. Each club boasts a 4-0 won-lost record.

Monday night's schedule will pit Veterans Hospital against McDonald Motor and Cabot Carbon against Webb Air Base.

Oilers To Oppose Bryan Electric

FORSAN — Lefty Shelton will probably be the pitching rubber when the Forsan Oilers take the field against the Bryan Electric Company team in Veribest this afternoon.

The Oilers lost their first game of the Concho Basin League season last week when Sonora nudged them, 2-1.

Forsan plays its first home game next Sunday, when the Oilers host Robert Lee.

Open To Give Young Stars The Acid Test

Play To Start On June 12

DALLAS, May 31 (AP)—The nation's rapidly improving crop of young golf stars gets the acid test here June 12-14.

The test tube will be the 52nd annual USGA Open Championship, played over the exacting Northwood Club Course.

When the test is completed, there should be a definite answer to the widely debated question:

Are the young pros at last ready to dethrone the old regime headed by Ben Hogan and Sam Snead?

The youngsters are skillful. But whether they can match strokes with the veterans in the most pressure-packed tournament of all—the U. S. Open—remains to be seen.

Snead has three times finished a heart-breaking second in the open, which he badly wants to win. This could be the year for the Slammer. He's not missing any bets. He passed up the recent Colonial National Invitation at Fort Worth in order to conserve his strength. And Sam, always a man with an eye for a buck, has consistently done well in the $20,000 Colonial.

As for Hogan, there is little that hasn't been said about the defending Open champion. He's 39 years old, still a top golfer and out to win his fourth Open title and tie an all-time record. He showed the youngsters how to win by taking $4,000 first prize last Sunday at the Colonial.

Little Ben has been practicing regularly over the 6,764-yard Northwood Course. He wants to be at his peak to stand off the rising younger field.

But the youngsters also have been getting in their practice rounds; slipping quietly into Dallas and touring the course without fanfare. Most of them have to surmount one hurdle before they can tackle with the veteran greats. That's the sectional qualifying rounds Monday, but they should come through.

Singling out any one of the newcomers with the best chance of cracking the oldsters' long reign is difficult. Jackie Burke Jr., Fred Hawkins, Ted Kroell, Julius Boros, Earl Stewart Jr., Tommy Bolt, Al Bessellink—they're all potentially great.

Boros is a fine example. The 29-year-old Texan was the surprise of the winter circuit as he won four straight tournaments. The performance only confirmed his play of 1951, when he netted $18,000.

Stewart, 30, Dallas, has cracked Northwood's par 70 in recent practice rounds. That's a feat unmatched by most of the older players.

Boros, 32, sparked in last year's U. S. Open. He tied with veteran Lloyd Mangrum for fourth place.

Palmer Joins Roswell Club

ROS WELL, N.M.—Les Palmer, who wielded a king size bat in Longhorn League play last season, has been signed by the Roswell Rockets.

The veteran, who can play both the infield and outfield, hit .336 for the Odessa Oilers last season. He holds the record for triples in the Longhorn League, having hit 21 back in 1949.

Palmer has been an instructor in the athletic department at Texas A & M.

Dallas Gridders Sign Two Frosh

DALLAS, May 31 (AP)—Stanley Williams, Baylor end, and Herschel Forester, Southern Methodist guard, today signed contracts with the Dallas Texans of the National Football League.

Both were all-Southwest Conference selections in the 1951 campaign.

Williams caught 37 passes for 596 yards and six touchdowns last fall. He is 22 years old, 6 feet 2 and weighs 192.

Forester earned varsity letters at SMU in 1949, 1950 and 1951. He is 5 feet, 20 years old and weighs 220.

Forester and Williams bring to 20 the number of players signed by the team.

Of the players under contract, five are Texans.

The Texas players signed to date are Forester, Williams; Russell Hudeck, Texas A&M tackle; Jim Lansford, University of Texas tackle; and Bert Clark, Oklahoma linebacker who played high school football at Wichita Falls.

Huge Field Due For Texas Meet

AUSTIN, May 31 (AP)—Seven solid days of tennis are on tap here next week in the annual Texas Tennis Championships.

The biggest field ever to enter the state championships is expected to be on hand when play starts June 9. It runs through June 15.

A field of 250 is expected to overshadow the 200-plus that entered last year.

Summy Giannalva of Houston will be back to defend his men's singles and juniors titles.

Average Skyrockets

Enrique Gonzales, Big Spring first sacker, got off to a slow start as a hitter this season but the latest averages show him among the top six regulars in the league in the mace department. He is slugging .337.

STASEY HOMERS

Corrales Tames Vernon, 13-1

A shower that held up the game for 15 minutes primed Regi Corrales for a fine pitching performance here Friday night.

Corrales, displaying a neat if not a gaudy curve ball, set Vernon down with four hits as Big Spring won a 13-1 verdict in the sugar-game of a three-bout set.

The triumph moved the Steeds, if only temporarily, into the first division of the Longhorn League for the first time this season. Corrales lost his shutout in the second when Fred Oliver touched him for a round tripper over the right field wall.

Pat Stasey paced the 15-hit attack of two Vernon hurlers with four hits, including his fourth home run of the season and a double.

Stasey parked a ball in the sixth off Audie Malone with a runner on. He also had a double and two singles and drove in four tallies.

Juan Visteur was only slightly less torrid with the stick than Stasey, getting a double and two singles. Every player in the Bronco lineup connected safely at least once.

Eddie Baski started on the mound for Vernon but was lifted in the fourth when the Broncos were in the process of getting five runs. His successor, Malone, wasn't very effective.

Four boots by the opposition didn't help the Dusters' cause.

ROUNDING THE SACKS—Joe Neidson, the Vernon catcher, drove a hit over Stasey's head into right field in the second but was out trying to stretch it into a double.

Both Al Costa and Al Valdes of the Big Spring club were hit by pitched balls. . . . Only one Big Spring player, Bert Baez, went down on strikes. . . . No Vernon player got more than one hit off Corrales. . . . The Broncos picked up four tallies in the fifth, all after two were out. . . . The locals sent nine men to bat in the fourth and eight in the sixth. . . . There were mud puddles around home plate but the slow field didn't bother the players. . . . When H. C. Sargent went down swinging in the seventh inning, it was the sixth time in the three-game set he had struck out. . . . Leon English reached base for the ninth time in the series when he walked in the sixth. . . . He failed to hit in three games but was walked eight times and was hit by a pitched ball another time.

Star's Children To Be Honored Monday, June 9

DALLAS, May 31 (AP)—The two young daughters of the late Joe Routt, Texas A&M all-America football player, will receive a plaque here June 9 in honor of his election to the Texas Sports Hall of Fame.

Marilyn Routt Thomason, 10, and Rosanna Routt Thomason, 8, will accept the honor in memory of their father at an elaborate dinner to be held in the Baker Hotel that evening.

They are the daughters of Mrs. James N. Thomason of Bellaire (Houston), widow of the late grid-iron star.

Routt, an infantry captain, was killed in the Battle of the Bulge in the last war and was awarded posthumously the Bronze Star Medal for heroism in that engagement. On behalf of her daughters, Mrs. Thomason said:

"They were quite young when he died and it will mean so very much to them and will be a wonderful memory to cherish."

Routt's daughters, accompanied by their mother and stepfather, will come to Dallas June 9 for the dinner and return home the following day.

Besides the memory of Routt, Ben Hogan, National Open golf champion, also will be honored for election to the Hall of Fame.

Hogan, now busy preparing for the defense of his title during the open at Northwood Club here June 12-14, was the second man chosen for the honor list of Texas athletes. Tris Speaker, all-time baseball center fielder, was the first.

Routt was the third athlete elected; he also was the first deceased person chosen and the first college player named to the hall, which is sponsored by the Texas Sports Writers Assn.

The dinner, which is open to ladies and children as well as men, will start at 8 p.m. Monday, June 9. Tickets, priced at $6.50 each, are available from Bill Rives, sports editor of the Dallas News, who is chairman of the Hall of Fame Committee.

Schertering Tops Hitters In TL

DALLAS, May 31 (AP)—Big Harry Schertering, twice tried and found wanting, has made the third time the charm with the Dallas Eagles of the Texas League.

The giant outfielder, who didn't make the grade in spring training but was recalled when some Dallas players failed to come through, now tops the league in batting and is considered a fine prospect for the majors.

Schertering is clubbing the ball at a .355 clip and leads the next best hitter by 18 points. He has compiled his average with 33 hits in 93 times at bat.

Schertering was in Class D ball in 1948 and 1949, got a trial with Dallas in 1950 but was sent to Class C, came back in 1951, then went to Class B and this year was again back in Class B when it was found necessary to recall him. He is 23 years old and bats left-handed.

Al Pilarcik of Beaumont has the top average based on the most participation. Pilarcik has been to bat 175 times and gotten 59 hits for a mark of .337.

Pilarcik also leads in runs with 36 and is tied with Frank Kellert of Oklahoma City in hits with 59.

The doubles leader is another graduate of Class B—Joe Ssekely of Shreveport, who has 17. Vann Harrington of Houston tops in triples with six.

Jerry Witte of Houston is on the way to a 40-homer year if he maintains his current pace. The big left first baseman has put 11 over the fence with the race a little better than one-fourth gone.

But the fellow who drives in the runs is Russ Burns of Oklahoma City, who has blasted 42 across the plate. Witte has driven in 37.

Elwood Clear of Houston has the best pitching record with four wins against no losses but Al Papai of Houston, Dave Hoskins of Dallas, Hal Erickson of Dallas, Henry Wyses of Beaumont and Joe Landrum of Fort Worth each has won seven games. Papai has lost only one. Hoskins has the best earned run average with 1.29.

Night games Monday match Laredo and Bryan at 7 p.m., with Crozier Tech of Dallas and Amarillo scheduled to begin theirs at 9 p.m.

Semifinal games start at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

The consolation game is scheduled for 7 p.m. Wednesday and the titlist will be decided in the final contest starting at 9 p.m.

Tyler is the only team returning from last year's tournament. The East Texans lost last year in the semi-finals. Second-time repeaters from previous years in the tournament's brief history dating back to 1949 are Waco, Abilene, Laredo and Amarillo. Here for the first time this year are John Reagan of Houston, Crozier Tech of Dallas and Bryan.

The experts were having a hard time picking a favorite in the face of some impressive won-lost records by tourney teams.

Crozier Tech won 23 while losing 7 and won the bidistrict title with two straight over Paschal of Fort Worth, 3-0 and 4-3.

The Abilene Eagles moved into the tournament with an all-season record of 9 won and 6 lost, with two straight over Wichita Falls in bidistrict play, 18 to 2 and 3 to 1.

WINS BRITISH AMATEUR

Harvie Ward Licks Frank Stranahan At Prestwick

By BEN PHLEGOR

PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 31.—Harvie Ward, a boyish, easy-swinging North Carolinian who was spurred by U. S. Walker Cup selectors a year ago, thwarted Frank Stranahan's bid for a third British Amateur Golf Championship today when he trounced the Toledo, Ohio, spark plug heir, 6 and 5, in their all-America final.

The 26-year-old brokerage salesman from Tarboro, N. C., playing his first international event, overcame an early attack of putting jitters and finished with a brilliant 17-hole streak of sub-par golf.

When Stranahan surrendered on the 31st hole without putting, young Ward was four under par from the 14th hole, where he was two down, to the finish.

Stranahan, winner of this historic event in 1948 and 1950 and who hoped to become the first American to snag the title three times, lost the groove with his wood clubs and was a pathetic figure off the tees.

He missed 23 fairways with his drives. Seven times he hit into yawning bunkers, once he caught a creek and another time a sand dune. He was trapped repeatedly off the tee and, on the tenth, his drive dribbled a mere 90 yards.

But it is doubtful that Stranahan at his best could have handled the inspired young Southerner today.

Ward becomes the ninth American to take the huge British trophy across the Atlantic since Jess Sweetser won it for the first home-grown American triumph in 1926.

Australian-born Walter Travis captured the title as a representative of the U. S. in 1904.

Stranahan and Lawson Little, who won successive titles in 1934 and 1935, are the lone Americans to win more than once. The fabulous Bobby Jones made three tries but came through only in his grand slam year of 1930.

Stranahan managed to uncork one tremendous burst of his golfing brilliance just before he bowed out.

On the 30th hole, with defeat imminent, he split Prestwick's gun-barrel fairway with a tremendous drive, laced an iron shot onto the green and then sank a nine-foot putt for an eagle three on the 305-yard hole.

This won the hole, although Ward himself managed a sparkling birdie, but it only prolonged the inevitable.

On the 31st, Stranahan was trapped again off the tee—recurrence of an old plague—and approached short of the rolling green. He sent his third blow over the carpet and then was five feet long coming back.

There he lay in four strokes while Ward was on the green in two well-placed shots, 10 feet from the cup.

Stranahan strode over to Ward, broke into a smile and shook the North Carolinian's hand vigorously. The crowd of 5,000 let out a loud roar, hoisted Ward to its shoulders and carried him back to the clubhouse.

"He certainly outplayed me," Stranahan said at presentation ceremonies later. "I think he'll be a grand champion."

Ward, speaking in a low voice, said, "I realize I was very lucky today. Frank wasn't playing his best game. He is the greatest amateur golfer in the United States."

The new champion, former U.S. Intercollegiate king, won the tournament impressively the hard way. He came through the tough bracketed which included defending champion Dick Chapman, U.S. amateur Tiltill Billy Maxwell, U. S. Walker Cupper Jim McHale and the man rated as Britain's leading amateur, Joe Carr. Ward defeated Carr in yesterday's semifinals, 2 and 1.

The final match was played under sunny skies with practically no wind to toughen the 6,531-yard, par 35-37-72 seaside course.

Mammoth Fems' Meet Foreseen

TEXARKANA, May 31 (AP)—The Texas Women's Golf Tournament opens here Monday with more than 175 entries expected.

The players began checking in at the Texarkana Country Club yesterday and the field is expected to be complete by tomorrow.

Officials foresee one of the biggest tournaments.

Polly Riley, Fort Worth, winner of the 1951 state title, is out of this year's tournament. She is playing in the Curtis Cup matches in England. A wide-open field will compete for the vacated title.

Pat Garner of Midland is considered a very strong entry from West Texas. Close behind Miss Garner are a dozen or so darkhorses who could burn up the course.

They include Mrs. Opal Riedel, the city champion of Dallas; Mrs. Bobby Hillan, city champion of San Antonio, and Mrs. T. L. Sampson, city of Lubbock and South Plains champion in 1950 and Lubbock Country Club champion in 1951.

Yankees Upset Sox, 20 To 7

The Yankees took full advantage of 20 enemy misplays to defeat the pace-setting Gold Sox, 20-7, in Little League baseball play here Friday afternoon.

The Yanks scored in every inning, after leading off with four in the first stanza. They collected seven in a big fourth round.

Tommye Elliott, the Yankee skipper, used the contest to give his reserves a chance. He used every available player.

Kelly, Grigsby and Flynn each had three hits for the winners. Davidson drove out three blows for the Sox.

Triangle League Play Scheduled

Big Spring Country Club golfers will return to Triangle League action next Sunday, at which time they host Colorado City.

Sweetwater goes to Snyder for the circuit's other test.

Colorado City can bring as many golfers over here as it chooses. Big Spring must provide opposition for each player or forfeit points for the particular matches.

Big Spring holds one victory over Colorado City, having defeated the club May 4.

Roger Howard, Michigan State pitcher from Johnston, Pa., turned in two consecutive 1-0 victories this spring in Big Ten competition. He allowed only three hits in each game.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

J. O. Hagood, back from a visit to Virginia and North Carolina, says Manny Junco, the ex-Bronc, has been playing third base for Danville in the Class B Carolina State League. Junco was an outfielder here. He's powdering the ball, says Hagood, but was having difficulty finding a handle on the pelota. The management later returned him to the outer patrol. Danville held first place on May 18 but dropped to fifth in a matter of four days. Forrest Smith, now a third sacker for Beaumont, was a 23-game mound winner for Ada, Oklahoma, back in 1947. Though he has stolen few bases this season, who's to say Rickie Gonzales, the Bronc first sacker, could not break the Longhorn League's record for purloining sacks if he tried. Leo Eastham, often a brides-maid, etc., may at long last blossom as the Longhorn League batting champion. The Odessa flychaser is off to a tremendous start. The Abilene folk know a good man when they see one. Joe Bailey Cheaney, who has served as starter of the Big Spring Relays for years, will operate in a similar capacity for the National Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet in Abilene later this month. J. Curtis Hambright, who once fought professionally under the name of Battling Bobo, is now a preacher. He's blind. Ike Boone, the old baseball mentioned here several times before, is now circulation manager of a Tuscaloosa, Ala., newspaper. The St. Louis Browns have shown a profit of a million dollars plus the past 21 years, which should put the lie to several stories. The New York Yankees have shown a profit of nearly eight and one half million for the same period.

Hollis Could Be Top Ball Carrier

The Big Spring High School gridders should have a number of good ball carriers in 1952 but the best of the lot could be a junior who confined most of his play to the B team last fall. He is James Hollis, who seems to run with more power than most of the others. Hollis has mastered the art of running with his knees high. Only apparent scholastic casualty among the gridders appears to be Freddy Blalack, a sophomore back. The team will have to get along without Rex Bishop, a senior halfback, who has moved to Fort Worth. Rex would have been used principally on defense. Rickie Gonzales, the Big Spring Bronc first sacker, once ran the 100 meters for the Institute De Santiago in Cuba. Eddie Melillo, Jim Prince and Ernie Nelson—all of whom are former Midland Indians—are now playing semi-pro ball in Midland. Five players on the Roswell baseball club are less than 20 years of age but the Rockets have their share of graybeards. Five others are over 30. The UCLA Bruins, usually a football power on the West Coast, will have a weak bench in 1952.

Bronc Boss Wants Only Pitchers

The Havana ball club offered Manager Pat Stacey of Big Spring outfield help last week but the Irishman will go along with Juan Visteur and Buddy Grimes. Pat's worries are confined to pitching. When Bob Martin set that game record for bases on balls (six) at Odessa recently, he beat the old mark by one. That record was established in 1950 by Dom Chiola, then a second baseman for Sweetwater. There's talk the Southeastern Conference will deal heavily with Kentucky for its basketball sins—a years suspension from cage activity, perhaps. Out West, they're claiming Bob Skene is the equal of Cecil Smith as a polo player. Most everyone else will tell you differently. Incidentally, did you know a good polo pony travels up to 25 miles per hour. It's being noised about Ty Cobb is readying a suit against the national magazine that printed his caustic article about baseball. He read the story ghosted for him but a number of paragraphs he penciled out were printed, anyway. Football coaches, who always like new formation tricks, will be watching the Clemson attack closely this year. Coach Frank Howard will take some of the emphasis off his tailback in his single-wing and that by moving the wing-back straight back in line with the fullback and tailback to give him a better slant at the line and a faster start of reverses. Also, a passer-runner will be used in the blocking back position, giving three potential passers and four potential runners. Howard may also throw in the Michigan buck-lateral se- being noised about Ty Cobb is

IN LONGHORN

Broncs Are Top Fielding Club

Like Old Man River, Leo Eastham rolls on—as top man in the Longhorn League batting parade. The Odessa rightfielder tops this week's averages with a mark of .424. He is also tied for the top spot in runs scored with 45 and in hits with 53. Roman Loyko, Eastham's teammate, also has 45 runs while Charley Buck of Sweetwater is tied with Leo in total hits. In other departments, Joe Bauman of Artesia leads in total bases with 92, home runs with 14 and runs batted in with 44. Stubby Greer of Roswell has the most doubles, 18, and Loyko the most triples, 8. In the pitching department, Bert Estrada of Big Spring has the best earned-run-average with 1.93. Ovelio Ortega of Odessa has a 7-1 won lost record for the best percentage. .875. Ray Ray Riley of Artesia has pitched the most innings, 82. Gil Guerra of Big Spring leads in strike-outs with 66 while Lloyd Wallis of Vernon has given up the most walks, 55. In team batting, Sweetwater still leads with a .308 mark but Odessa trails by only one percentage point. Big Spring is now seventh with a .257 average, one point ahead of San Angelo. In club fielding, Big Spring leads with a .955 average. San Angelo is second with .951. The averages include last Tuesday's games. Individual batting:

Texas Tangles With Arizona

AUSTIN, May 31 (AP)—Texas and Arizona renew their rivalry in NCAA play-off competition beginning Thursday. The teams met two years ago for the right to represent Dist. 6. Texas slipped by Arizona and went on to win its second straight national championship. This is Arizona's third straight year in the district play-off and the Wildcats boast a veteran team of six seniors, two juniors and only one soph. Five of them were on the 1950 nine that lost to Texas. The Texas Longhorns will rely on youth to beat experience, using five sophomores, two juniors and two seniors. Only one of them took part in the playoff two years ago. He is Pitcher Richard Robertson, who was a pinch hitter against Arizona. Arizona sports a 19-11 won-and-lost record for the year and a 15-2 mark in collegiate play. Texas won 16 and dropped 6 in an all-collegiate schedule. The two teams first clash here Thursday night at Ditch Field. The second game, and third if needed, will be played at Clark Field, where the Longhorns have won 92 of their last 100 college games. Inaugural afternoon at Monmouth Park, June 14, will also honor Flag Day with effective ceremonies planned. A Defense Bond drive will be launched.

Cosden's BTX Plant Is Making Steady Construction Progress

Construction on Cosden Petroleum Corporation's BTX plant is moving systematically and on schedule.

Procon, Inc., a subsidiary of Universal Oil Products Co., is due to complete installation work in August, provided material deliveries continue as stated.

Already distillation columns, furnaces, exchangers, and a maze of pipes are rising across the track north from Cosden's oil refinery.

When the work is complete, the plant will turn out three important chemicals which give it the name of BTX—benzene, toluene and xylene.

The installation is being made at a cost in excess of three million dollars. The federal government granted a certificate of necessity, and a three-year write-off for tax purposes in the amount of 85 per cent of the project value. This simply means that the tax bite is deferred during the period. As a consequence, subsequent tax return would be heavier so that in the long run the government actually gains by the transaction.

Blocked out operations will be followed in the BTX unit. This means that part of the time all the plant will be operated as a chemical unit. At other times, when the charge stock for the chemical plant is at ample reserve, a portion of the plant will be blocked out to upgrade straight run gasoline from the refinery.

Whether producing chemicals or upgrading gasoline, the plant will accomplish its objective not only of turning out sorely needed products but also of yielding products with a greater value from petroleum.

The BTX plant takes the naphthenes from Cosden's oil refinery. As they are charged over the platinum catalyst, they are dehydrogenated. This means that one of the double atoms of hydrogen on each of the prongs of the hydrocarbon molecule is removed to form benzene. When other rearrangements of the hydrocarbon molecule is brought about, toluene and xylene also are formed. Great quantities of hydrogen will be recovered incidentally.

To over-simplify, the naphthenes are formed into aromatics upon dehydrogenation. Then they go to extractors where a solvent (dihyleneglycol) absorbs the aromatics and leave the non-aromatics. By going through a series of fractionating columns, the aromatics are broken into the basic benzene, toluene and xylene yields.

The non-aromatics are returned to the refinery for use in fuels. When the platformer has produced ample reserves of aromatics to run the BTX plant for a given period, it will receive heavy gasoline, and by reforming the molecules, turn it into much higher octane gasoline.

In the entire operation, the daily put-through of crude at Cosden is not due to be increased. There simply will be greater utility, value and latitude given to the yields from the oil.

Chemical production is not new to Cosden by any means. For several years a small chemical plant has extracted mercaptans and cresylic acids as by-products of the manufacture of gasoline. This unit will be moved to the BTX site subsequently to make way for a new laboratory building which has been started on the refinery grounds.

Pecos Gains Shallow Apco 2,000-Ft. Test

Lea O. White of Fort Stockton staked location for a Lehn-Apco pool wildcat.

It will be his No. 1 Standard-J. S. Masterson Fee, 330 from the southwest and 990 from the southeast lines of section 65-10, H&GN, 20 miles northeast of Fort Stockton.

Although this is in the Lehn-Apco, 1,600-foot field, it is projected to 2,000 feet to give it wildcat status. There is no 2,000-foot pay in the immediate area at present. Cable tools will be used.

Spraberry Explorer Still Swabbing Mud

Plymouth No. 1 W. R. Morris, C NW SE section 7-35-1s, T&P, a Spraberry wildcat a mile and a half northeast of Stanton, was swabbing Saturday.

Operator drilled plug and was at 4,991. Swabbing continued on mud at 2,100 feet below the surface. For several days swabbing has been going on, but so far operator has not been able to swab out the mud.

Shaping Up

Cosden Petroleum Corporation's new BTX plant is taking shape rapidly. Above are some of the distillation columns which will help extract aromatics from naphthenes and then separate into yields of benzene, toluene and xylene. All three chemicals are important as solvents as well as chemical building blocks. Below is a small portion of the vast maze of pipe work required to channel the flow of the plant.

Floyd Wildcat Sure Producer

Standard of Texas No. 1 Adams, Southeast Floyd County wildcat, loomed as a producer Saturday.

A drillstem test was taken from 7,598-7,622 with the tool open 2 1/2 hours. Gas surfaced in eight and a half minutes and continued to the end of the test. When 4,450 feet of drillpipe was left in the hole, the test started to unload oil. It continued to unload all the rest of the way out. Recovery was 2,800 feet of 36.7 gravity oil. The open flowing pressure was 260-960, the 30-minute shut-in pressure failed to record.

The oil was a light green color. Operator cored to 7,622-7,636 with recovery of 14 feet of lime, 13 of it porous and bleeding oil. There was no water. Operator is to take a drillstem test in the new section.

Location is eight miles east of Floydada, 1,980 from the west and 700 from the north lines of section 32, F. D. Adams Survey.

DRILLING ACTIVITY IN SLIGHT SLUMP IN PERMIAN BASIN AREA

Although drilling activity continued up over a year ago, it slumped slightly in the Permian Basin area the past two weeks.

The Reed Roller Bit Co. semi-monthly survey, showed 667 active rotary rigs on May 25 as compared with 717 on May 10. The May 25 comparable figure last year was 628.

Lea County, N. M. still leads with 116 a decrease of five. Upton was in second place with 99 as against 86. Midland had 87 instead of 89. The Spraberry trend had 168 rigs against 188 two weeks ago.

Rigs operating May 25 with the May 10 in parentheses were: Andrews 23 (31), Borden 10 (9), Cochran 9 (13), Coke 8 (12), Crane 9 (12), Crane 9 (12), Crockett 10 (12), Dawson 6 (10), Ector 39 (36), Gaines 27 (28), Glasscock 28 (28), Howard 4 (5), Kent 9 (10), Martin 10 (9), Pecos 17 (13), Reagan 39 (46), Schleicher 15 (15), Terry 9 (7), Scurry 25 (33), Tom Green 7 (7), Ward 13 (10), Yoakum 10 (16).

WEEK'S REVIEW

Completion, Strike Seen For Reagan

By JOHN B. BREWER

SAN ANGELO, May 31—Reagan County, with one discovery completion and another indicated strike, paced the pack in West Texas oil activity this week but Runnels, Glasscock and Upton Counties also came in for considerable attention.

A Spraberry strike, Cities Service No. 1 J. F. Nunn, finished for a daily flowing potential of 358.87 barrels of 38.8 gravity oil plus 4.42 per cent water, gas-oil ratio of 704-1. Flow was from acidized perforations between 6,568-362 feet. Location is 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 3-B-L-SV, 1 1/2 miles southwest of the Pembroke, North field.

Ellenburger production was indicated 10 miles southwest of Barnhart in Reagan County by Atlantic No. 1-C University, C SW SE 12-18, University, on a one-hour drillstem test from 9,933-60 feet, the test recovered seven stands of free gas, the 1,000-foot water blanket heavily gas-cut, and 90 feet of gas-cut mud.

Another one-hour test from 9,058-085 feet recovered 540 feet of free oil, the 1,000-foot water blanket heavily oil and gas-cut and 1,000 feet of oil and gas-cut mud. On a third hour-long test from 9,053-110 feet, recovery was 30 feet of oil and gas-cut mud, 360 feet of free oil and the 1,000-foot water blanket, heavily oil and gas-cut.

A final hour-long test from 9,108-135 feet with tool open only the last 10 minutes, the operation recovered 200 feet of oil and gas-cut water blanket, 800 feet of heavily gas-cut water blanket and 90 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud. Another test is due at 9,160.

A flowing straw discovery in Southeastern Upton County, Oscar Bourg and Clark Development Co. No. 2 University, completed for a daily potential of 250-25 barrels of oil from perforations between 8,570-612 feet. Perforations were acidized with 2,000 gallons. Location is 660 from south, 1,980 from east lines of section 18-15-U. The wildcat was originally drilled by Republic and Seaboard who abandoned it at 11,260 feet in the Ellenburger, more.

Recovery of heavily oil-cut mud on a test of the Spraberry was reported in Texas No. 1-AA State, Upton County wildcat virtually on the Reagan County line and two miles northeast of the Flat Rock area. On a two-hour, 55-minute drillstem test from 7,339-530 feet, recovery was 600 feet of oil and gas-cut mud of which the top 300 feet was slightly oil-cut. The bottom 300 feet heavily oil-cut. Location is in section 18-3-U.

Still another Upton wildcat, White No. 1 Mrs. W. R. Timmons and others, C NW NW 12-41-5s, T&P, indicated discovery production from the Wolfcamp. On a three-hour test between 9,912-950 feet, the wildcat recovered 9,900 feet of free oil. The project was drilling ahead. Location is C NW NW 12-41-5s-T&P, 1 1/2 miles southwest of Pegasus field production.

A Northwestern Crockett County Wolfcamp discovery, Deep Rock No. 1 J. M. Shannon estate, flowed oil at the rate of 75 barrels daily for 11 hours. Wolfcamp perforations between 5,866-872 feet were swabbed dry naturally.

Location is 660 from south, 760 feet from west lines of J. H. Wiley Heira survey 2, 7 1/2 miles east of Iran.

La Gloria No. 1 W. Ellis Lee, Central Runnels County wildcat, recovered 500 feet of 46 gravity oil and 40 feet of oil and gas-cut mud on a two-hour drillstem test between 3,314-18 feet in the Palo Pinto. The test is now drilling ahead below 3,560 feet in lime. Location is 2,400 feet from north, 1,340 feet from east lines of H. Thompson survey 148, 4 1/2 miles north-northeast of Ballinger and one mile east of the Patsy (Swastika) field.

Completion of a Gardner sand discovery, Geochemical Surveys, Inc., No. 1-M John W. Harris, was given Runnels County. It finished for a daily flowing potential of 277.58 barrels of 44 gravity oil from perforations between 3,890-904 feet in upper Gardner sand. It is 467 C SW SW tract No. 13, Cabrea, No. 514.

Three link wells between the Glasscock County sections of the Tex-Harvey (Spraberry) and Driver (Spraberry) fields have been completed. Ashland Oil & Refining No. 1-12 Hutchinson, 3/4 mile south of Texas Harvey production, made 164.23 barrels from 7,590-790. It is C NE NE 12-37-4s, T&P, Ashland No. 4-12 Hutchinson, C SE SE 13-36-4s, T&P, 3/4 mile south of the No. 1-12 Hutchinson, made 182.43 barrels from 6,944-7,130. Ashland No. 6-12 Hutchinson, C SE SW 12-37-4s, T&P, has a mile west of No. 4-12 Hutchinson, made 242.59 barrels from 6,934-7,115.

NW Dawson Reef Test Runs Higher

The Mungerville, Pennsylvanian field in Northwest Dawson County began to point toward more important proportions Saturday.

Not only did a northwest stepout to the discovery well encounter a strong flow of oil, but it topped the reef much higher.

Ponder, Inc. Texas Crude of Midland, et al No. 1 Classen, made strong flows of oil through one-inch and quarter-inch chokes on a drillstem test.

Gas surfaced in six minutes and oil in 19 minutes. Then it flowed oil at the rate of 85 barrels per hour through one-inch open tubing, and then 26 barrels per hour through quarter-inch choke. The total flow was not reported.

Gas-oil ratio was 540-1, and there was no water. The venture was 126 feet high on the reef top to El Tee No. 1 Briley, and after cutting 308 feet of section, it should still have 80 feet of pay remaining, according to the discovery log. Location is C SW SE 95-M, EL&RR.

El Tee No. 1 Briley, et al, C NE NE 96-M, EL&RR, had reported a corrected reef top of 8,597 on an elevation of 3,091. It rated 735 barrels of oil daily in flowing through perforations from 8,575-8,590.

Cities Service No. 1 Brennard, 4,620 from the north and east lines of the section, a long stepout, was recently completed as the second well in the Mungerville-pool. It had topped the reef at 8,597 on an elevation of 3,080, which was 38 feet low to the discovery well. This test completed for a potential of 840 barrels of 44 gravity oil.

Delta Gulf Drilling No. 1 S. A. Henry, et al, C SE NW 5 Mungerville Subdivision No. 2, abandoned at 8,380 as the only failure in the pool so far. It was located three miles north of Mungerville.

Half a mile north of El Tee No. 1 Briley, James H. Snowden, et al No. 1-95 W. J. Classen, C SE SE 95-M, E&RR, drilled at 4,650 in lime. Operator set and cemented the 8 1/2-in. intermediate string at that depth and was to drill plug and deepen.

N'West Sterling Prospect To Test In Pennsylvanian

Humble No. 1 W. L. Foster Jr., Northwestern Sterling County wildcat, was taking a drillstem test Saturday in a zone likely the lower Pennsylvanian.

The hole was bottomed at 8,570 in lime stringers. Location is C NW NW 4-31-4s, T&P.

Humble No. 1 Mrs. Marvin Day-vault, C NE NE 13-15, H&TC, drilled at 4,967 in Southeastern Sterling County.

Tex Harvey No. 1 Jesse Ellwood Chappell, et al, C SE SE 43-15, SPRR, 18 miles northeast of Sterling City and 5 1/2 miles northeast of the Space (Ellenburger) pool, drilled below 5,420 in shale and lime.

Austral Oil Exploration No. 1 Ellwood Estate, C SW SW 78-18, SPRR, 12 miles north of Sterling City, had progressed to 1,445 in Hme and anhydrite.

This is the 56th in a series of special Cosden presentations, recognizing the long and valued service of those employees who have been associated with Cosden for 15 years and longer. Cosden is proud of the scores of its workers who have contributed to its success through so many years.

Otis O. Craig

Otis O. Craig is another of the Cosden veterans who has completed fifteen years or more service with the company.

He joined Cosden May 20, 1935 as an asphalt tester. Before being promoted to asphalt superintendent January 1, 1952, he has held several different jobs in the refinery. Craig was employed by Col-Tex prior to his coming to Cosden.

Craig was born in Ballinger, but attended grade school in Eastland and high school in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

He was married to Miss Rosalynde N. Adams of Coahoma in 1940. The Craigs own their home at 612 Dallas.

His hobbies are golf, photography, football and bullfighting. He is a member of the Lions Club.

Craig is a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America.

Far Eastern Air Forces Could Move Speedily

By O. H. P. KING

TOKYO, May 31 (AP)—A general says the Far East Air Forces—seven commands, several thousand planes, 180,000 personnel—could be shifted to action in any other Asiatic theater if needed within 72 hours.

"If another crisis should arise," said Brig. Gen. Darr H. Alkire, "in 72 hours we could move out of Korea to another sphere."

Alkire, as FEAF deputy for materiel, controls the supplies for seven commands based in Japan, Korea, Okinawa, the Philippines and Guam.

"Because of modern flying's tremendous speed," Alkire said in an interview, "flexibility and mobility of logistic support was essential—and we worked out a policy."

"This headquarters controls the ammunition, squadrons and logistics of the seven commands," Alkire explained. "All wheels stop if we fall."

"Because we are flying airplanes from the airman's viewpoint. So we pull these kids out of the glamor business to pick and shovel jobs. They are working people. Many would rather be flying but we need them here."

The Air Forces headquarters is located in a seven-story, block-square building across a moat from the Imperial Palace grounds in Tokyo. Its boss is Lt. Gen. O. P. Veyland (rhymes with highland).

Religious Cartoons Sent Over World By Waco Prof

WACO, Tex., May 31 (AP)—Jack Hamm doesn't have a pencil and a drawing board.
 When he was younger—he's 35 now—he wanted to be a cartoonist. But he felt, too, that he had been called to be a minister.

Now he has combined the two. To make a living for himself, his wife and their 4-year-old daughter, he teaches commercial art at Baylor University, a Baptist-sponsored school in Waco.

On his own time he draws religious cartoons which he sends free to 331 newspapers in 42 states and several foreign countries.

"If I charged," he said, "many would be unable to use the service, and I believe the tension-filled world needs any word of hope it can get."

Hamm says he draws the truths of the Bible as related to modern events. He puts a scripture quotation on every cartoon. His pictures blast at greed and selfishness,

30 FILE REPORTS HERE

Candidates' Campaign Costs Range From Zero To $129.35

Although campaigns have not gained much steam so far, Howard County Political candidates probably have learned already that running for public office can be expensive.

Initial statements of campaign expenses, gifts, etc., as required by the new state election laws indicate some of the primary costs. They ranged from $129.35 to zero, with the latter group including only a few candidates who are unopposed.

Thirty candidates had filed statements at the County Clerk's office by Saturday. The statements list gifts, payments and debts incurred by the candidates up to May 27.

There was still some question about requirements of the new state law. It specifies that candidates shall file statements 60 days before the primary election. The law provides a penalty in cases where statements are not submitted. However, the law is not clear on whether the statements must be filed on a particular date, or if they can be filed later and simply list figures for the prescribed date.

Subsequent statements are due every 20 days until the primary. The statements submitted to the County Clerk do not include those of candidates for district and state office, who file with the secretary of state in Austin.

Most of the expenses listed so far by Howard County candidates include newspaper announcements, printing of cards and other campaign materials.

Statements which had been submitted to the County Clerk's office by Saturday included the following: DISTRICT CLERK—George C. Choate, no gifts, $45 payments, no debts.

COUNTY JUDGE—Walter Grice, no gifts, $121 payments, no debts; Tom Helton, no gifts, $76.50 payments, no debts; R. H. Weaver, no gifts, $53.65 payments, $45 debts; G. E. Gilliam, no gifts, $129.35 payments, no debts.

SHERIFF—Johnnie Underwood, no gifts, $107 payments, no debts; W. D. Green, $28.50 gifts, $80 payments, no debts; Jess Slaughter, no gifts, $75 payments, no debts; J. B. Bruton, no gifts, $85 payments, no debts.

TAX ASSESSOR-COLLECTOR—Viola Robinson, no gifts, $80.50 payments, no debts; R. B. Hood, no gifts, $60 payments, no debts.

COUNTY ATTORNEY—Hartman Hooser, no gifts, $64.85 payments, no debts.

COUNTY CLERK—Lee Porter, no gifts, $45 payments, no debts. COUNTY TREASURER—Frances Glenn, no gifts, $30 payments, no debts.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER—P. O. Hughes, no gifts, $61 payments, no debts; C. E. Kizer, no gifts, $52.50 payments, no debts;

Willard Smith, no gifts, $39.50 payments, no debts; Fred Polasek, no gifts, $51 payments, no debts; Murphy Thorp, no gifts, $66.50 payments, no debts; A. J. Stallings, no gifts, $65 payments, no debts; Earl Hull, no gifts, $71.23 payments, no debts; Pete Thomas, no gifts, $48 payments, no debts.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, PCT. 1, Place 1—W. O. Leonard, no gifts, $66 payments, no debts; Cecil Nabors, no gifts, $73.50 payments, no debts.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, PCT. 1 Place 2—A. M. Sullivan, no gifts, no payments, no debts.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, PCT. 2—Austin Coffman, no gifts, no payments, no debts.

CONSTABLE PCT. 1—J. T. Thornton, no gifts, no payments, no debts.

CONSTABLE PCT. 2—Odeil Buchanan, no gifts, $16 payments, no debts; T. H. McCann, no gifts, $21 payments, no debts.

COUNTY SURVEYOR—Ralph Baker, no gifts, no payments, no debts.

North Carolina—Democrats held a primary to nominate for governor, 12 congressional seats and other state offices. In most instances nomination in the Democratic primary is equal to election; in only a few of the congressional districts does Republican opposition figure.

Virginia—Republicans met in state convention at Roanoke to name four at-large delegates. Taft forces were credited a slight edge on the basis of pre-convention maneuvering. Virginia will have 23 delegate votes in the national convention. Among those picked in district conventions earlier, Taft had 8 to 1 for Eisenhower. Six are uncommitted, 3 are in dispute and 2 remain to be named.

Georgia—A pro-Eisenhower faction of the state's warring Republicans met in Atlanta to complete a 17-member delegation which will battle with a pro-Taft slate for recognition at Chicago.

Minnesota—A two-day convention of the Democratic-Farmer-Labor party opened to name three at-large delegates to the Democratic National Convention. The three, like the 23 named in the March 18 primary, will be pledged to Sen. Hubert Humphrey. Fights shaped up over selection of a party chairman and over endorsement of a candidate for governor.

Next week, Republicans will pick 134 more delegates and Democrats 105. Chief interest centers on the primaries Tuesday in South Dakota, where Taft and Eisenhower have their last head-on ballot clash, and in California.

Yesterday's lineup:

S. Dakota Next Site Of Political Battle

New Mexico—A closely-divided GOP State Convention met at Santa Fe to pick New Mexico's 14 delegates to the national convention. Taft backers went into the convention with a slight edge, but the margin was so close it appeared the delegation might be sent to Chicago uninstructed. That has been the traditional practice in the state.

NEW CAB FARES!

EFFECTIVE...JUNE 1st. 1952

WITH NEW SAVINGS FOR EXTRA PASSENGERS!

Effective Sunday morning, June 1, a new schedule of fares will be put into effect by your taxicab companies. In some few instances, this represents an increase, made necessary by the fact that our drivers must have more income to meet living costs. Their percentage on fares is being increased by 6-2-3 per cent.

But, in many cases, individual fares actually are being REDUCED. This is true where several passengers are riding together, and the best way for the public to take advantage of lower cab fares is to ride two and three at a time—"The more who ride together, the cheaper it will be."

FOLLOWING IS A SCHEDULE OF NEW FARES

WHEN CONVENTIONS ROLL AROUND

Various Texas Factions Are Worried Over July Seating

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN, May 31 (AP)—Presidential hopefuls are already wooing individuals in Texas' king-sized delegations to the Democratic national convention.
What they would like to have are those 52 convention votes which one of the two rival delegations will cast.
What the delegations would like to have is a guarantee they will be seated. Leaders of both conservative and liberal factions profess confidence but off the record they are worried.
Who the votes will go to and which team will cast them was still a wide-open question.
Gov. Shivers, head of the regular convention's conservative delegation, and national Committeeman Wright Morrow of Houston are personally for Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga) but this batch of 62 delegates alternates (to cast 52 votes) is officially uninstructed for any person.
On the record, individuals in the Shivers delegation who were asked what they would do almost invariably replied they would follow the governor's leadership. But one said off the record she would work hard for Gov. Kerr of Oklahoma.

The liberal or Loyal Democrat delegation individuals interviewed were split at least six ways. Sentiment among the leaders was strong for Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham and he was given a loud demonstration at a pre-convention caucus. But backers of Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) and Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois also were claiming substantial blocs within this delegation. There were some Averell Harriman people, some who liked Kerr.
Actually on both delegations it boiled down to this: "Let's wait and see what happens at Chicago."
The first thing that must happen is recognition or repudiation for one delegation or another.
Gov. Shivers has said it is "all or nothing" for him. He said he would accept no such compromise as the one at Chicago in 1944 when the convention seated both liberal (pro-Roosevelt then) and conservative delegations, giving each half the vote.
Shivers may be remembering that enough of the conservatives left the floor, fuming, to give the liberals control, which made it a victory for them.

Shivers and Morrow believe the national party leadership will listen to their claims that they represent most Texas Democrats as demonstrated in overwhelming majorities in precinct, county and state conventions. They don't think the loyalty pledge issue has much weight.
The liberals are banking on their down-the-line promise of support to whomsoever the national convention nominates. Both the delegates and the electors from this section of the Texas party have taken such a pledge. The liberals will contend the Shivers' majorities were the product of a well-organized machine that steamrollered the conventions.
Neither the Shivers' convention delegates nor the electors have taken any kind of pledge. That in itself is an implied threat to hold over the heads of the national party leadership to back up the demand that the Chicago convention adopt a states rights, conservative platform acceptable to Texas and the South, and name a candidate who will stay with it.
Shivers believes the unpledged delegation and the lack of instructions for any individual will put him in a favorable position to trade.
The Loyalists also think their official silence on an individual candidate will put them in a good bargaining position. The makeup of the two delegations is in sharp contrast.
The Loyalist group includes at least one Negro and one Latin-American and dozens of individuals long identified with New Deal and Fair Deal politics in Texas. Former Congressman Maury Maverick of San Antonio is right at the top among its big wheels.
The conservative delegation is quite a mixture. It includes several one-time leaders of the Texas Regulars (anti-Roosevelt) movement in 1944 and of the splinter party States Righters who fought President Truman in 1948. There are some former New Dealers, such as former State Sen. Woodville Rogers of San Antonio, and many middle-of-the-road Democrats who would like very much to stay with the party.

COMING NEXT WEEK

Expect Red Fights In Koje Transfers

By WILLIAM JORDEN
KOJE ISLAND, Korea, May 31 (AP)—Communist control over Koje Island's 80,000 riotous prisoners gets its first severe challenge when U.N. guards begin moving rebellious captives into smaller compounds—probably next week.
The exact date for the movement has not been announced. But camp officials say they expect Red leaders to put up some sort of fight.
Communists still rule within the present huge compounds housing from 5,000 to 8,000 POWs. U.N. guards were under orders until yesterday not to enter the enclosures. New compounds will hold only 500 each.

Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, the new camp commander, has slowly been cracking down on the Reds. His security force has been bolstered by two American combat-tested infantry regiments and Dutch, Greek, British, Canadian and South Korean troops.
But the breakup of the prisoners into smaller groups is generally looked upon as the big test.
The present compounds are roughly 100 by 300 yards. Prisoners can freely intermingle within the area. Some compounds are separated only by narrow roads permitting the prisoners to establish communications.
The new compounds being constructed in Koje's east and central valleys will house a maximum of 500 each. Each compound will be about 75 yards square. There will be eight compounds within an enclosure using a common recreation and exercise ground, but occupants of only one compound will be permitted to use it at a time.
Army officials declined to say whether there would be guards within the overall enclosure housing the eight compounds. Individual enclosures, however, will be about 500 feet apart. They are about 150 yards wide and 400 yards long. About 20 enclosures will be needed.
U. S. Army Engineers and infantrymen have been working around the clock to construct the new compounds since Boatner ordered the prisoners broken up into smaller groups.

New 10-inch square poles are used for stringing barbed wire fencing. Within each compound will be two long buildings capable of housing 250 POWs each. Prisoners, to begin with, may be quartered in tents. Each compound will have its own kitchen and latrine. Prisoner-cooks will prepare the meals.
About 450 women prisoners will be kept in their present separate

Measles Tops Disease List

Measles continued to tower above other communicable infections on the list of diseases diagnosed by local physicians during the past week.
Forty-one cases were reported for the week, pushing the May total of measles to 271, the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit said Saturday.
Whooping cough was in second place for the week with 11 cases. Other communicable diseases listed for the week were bronchitis, 10 cases; influenza, eight; gonorrhea, pneumonia and virus infection, five cases each; strep throat, tonsillitis and gastro enteritis, four each; chicken pox, three; and meningitis and tuberculosis, one case each.
Other infections enumerated on the May report were: chicken pox, 54 cases; diarrhea, 31; gonorrhea, 27; influenza, 42; meningitis, one; syphilis, seven; tuberculosis, one; whooping cough, 30; strep throat, 37; and polio, three cases.
Three youngsters have contracted polio infections during the month. They are Arturo Hernandez, Anna Berryhill and Lougano Flores.

Slight Fire Damage

A window in the Rio Theater building, 207 N.W. 4th, was slightly damaged by fire of unknown origin about mid-afternoon Friday, firemen reported. The blaze started near the window and was extinguished before spreading to other parts of the building.

Scouts Play, Study At Day Camp

One of the favorite times of the year for local Girl Scouts and Brownies is that period just after school is out—when Day Camp begins. And this year was no exception.

The Camp started the first of this week with the girls taking full advantage of all the facilities they had set up themselves at the Boy Scout Jamboree Grounds.

It was a full week of recreation, study and outdoor enjoyment. The Scouts and Brownies went on hikes, had Nature studies and bird studies, participated in Camp dramatics, cooked out, and even had a night of "roughing it" when they slept at the camp grounds Thursday evening.

But the primary objective of the whole camp was to learn to be a good Scout. And most of them did just that.

The pictures on this page show a few of the girls engaged in their various camp activities.

COOKING OUT — Fly-Up Scouts of Unit 4 (above) wait — not too patiently — for their lunch. It will be extra good because they prepared it themselves on the open fire. The girls here are Precilia Barrera, Jacquelyn Milton, Mary Ella Bain, Luan Lawson and Diane Melbourne.

Fern Crabtree Heads Girls Rainbow Order

In a colorful ceremony Thursday evening at the Masonic Hall, new officers of the Order of Rainbow for Girls were installed.

Approximately 150 were on hand for the public installation which saw Fern Crabtree become the Worthy Advisor. The Rev. Hawkins, minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Coahoma, spoke on the subject of "Harmony."

Two vocal selections were sung by Patsy Clements, who also sang while the new officers paid tribute to the new advisor.

The assembly room was decorated with miniature crepe paper rainbows on the officers' chairs and with names inscribed across the center. There was a large rainbow across the speaker's stand and in front of the entrance door to carry out the theme of "harmony."

New officers presented a drill honoring Miss Crabtree in which she was presented with a large, gold musical note, edged with greenery. As Patsy Clements sang "I'll See You in My Dreams," the officers filed past and placed blue carriages around the edge. Following the installation, refreshments were served in the dining hall. The table was decorated with a centerpiece of multi-colored flowers and a doll dressed specially to identify the new Worthy Advisor.

Installing officers were Lyda Mae Axtens, chaplain; Barbara Smith, marshal; Sally Cowper, musician; Patricia Dillon, the retiring Worthy Advisor, installing officer.

In addition to Miss Crabtree, other officers installed were Joyce Gound, worthy associate advisor; Ann White, charity; Joyce Anderson, hope; Mary Ella Bigony faith; Doris Ann Daniel, drill leader; Margie Keaton, chaplain; Sue Love, love; Lila Turner, religion; Sandy Jennings, nature; Susan Reynolds, immortality; Arlene Mitchell, fidelity; LaJuan Hartin, patriotism; Carolyn Whitefield, service; Mary Lee James, confidential observer; Sharon Lewis, outer observer; Mary Frances Norman, recorder; Pat Tidwell, treasurer; Nina Fryar, musician; Joyce Edwards, choir director.

Co-hostesses for the affair were Mrs. A. E. Sundy, Mrs. T. E. Sanders, Mrs. B. F. Daughtery, Mrs. J. W. Daughtery, Mrs. L. C. Gibbs and Mrs. Owen Sellers.

Mrs. Gibbs, Mrs. Sanders and Mrs. Sellers greeted the guests, and Mrs. Sundy presided at the guest register.

Throughout the house, the pink and blue color scheme was followed, and favors were miniature diapers. After games were played, refreshments were served from the lace-laid table with crystal appointments by Mrs. Barston, Mrs. J. W. Daughtery and Mrs. B. G. Daughtery.

Approximately 30 attended the party.

H. P. Stecks See Her Brother Graduate

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Steck have returned from Portales, N. M. where they attended the commencement exercises of Eastern New Mexico University.

Her brother, Charles Fleming, received his Bachelor of Science degree. He was president of the student body and had been listed in Whose Who in American Colleges and Universities.

During the past week the Stecks have had as their guest her sister, Mildred Fleming, who is home on annual leave from her position with a civilian corporation in Dhahran, Saudi, Arabia.

Elbow Club Talks Cakes

What are the pitfalls of cake baking? Mrs. Edward Low discussed the eight reasons for cake failure before the meeting of the Elbow Home Demonstration Club when it met at the school cafeteria at the Elbow School on Wednesday afternoon.

Cakes were judged as a part of the program. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Denver H. Yates, Mable Dunagan and Callie Dunagan.

Corraces will be made at the next meeting on June 11. Mrs. Pearl Cautle is to be hostess in her home, and co-hostess will be Mrs. Robert Asbury.

At the Wednesday club session, 11 members attended.

Pioneer Colorado City Couple Will Celebrate 60th Anniversary Today

COLORADO CITY, May 31. —It was on June 2, 1892, in the Baptist Church at West, McLennan County, Texas, that a young newspaperman, Abe L. Whipkey and a girl from Indiana, Miss Nannie Smith, were married.

Sunday, which happens to be Whipkey's 57th birthday, the couple will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary.

This will be without formality, except that all their five children will be with them on the day, and they will be honor guests at an open house from 4 to 6 Sunday afternoon at the home here of their eldest daughter, Mrs. O. B. Price.

Although the marriage ceremony was in Central Texas, this long wedded relationship has many of its roots in Colorado City, in whose affairs the Whipkeys have been prominently identified since 1905. He was a co-founder and active worker at the Colorado Record for many years, and Mrs. Whipkey has been one of the town's outstanding leaders in church, club and welfare activities.

Whipkey put in more than 65 years in the printing business, until he retired to his books and his jigsaw puzzles a few years back. He chose it for his life's work when he began his apprenticeship at the age of 10 with a weekly paper in Murphysboro, Ill., where he was born the youngest of 13 children. He achieved journeyman rating in three years, and at the age of 15 came to Texas to join two older brothers at Hillsboro. One of them, the Rev. S. E. Whipkey, was a Baptist preacher who officiated at the 1892 wedding.

With the other, Fred B. Whipkey, he formed a newspaper partnership that started at Granger in 1896 and operated newspapers subsequently at Holland, Corsicana, Temple and West until the brothers came to Colorado City "for good."

Nannie Smith was a young school teacher at West in 1892, having come there to live with an elder brother. Even then, she was president of the Sunbeam Society, secretary of the Ladies Aid Society and teacher in the Sunday School.

Today, she is still teaching a Baptist Sunday School Class, and has taught one without interruption for more than 40 years. She also has been superintendent of various Sunday School Departments.

As active in her denomination's Women's Missionary Union, she has been a local, district and associational president. She twice has served as president of a study club, the Hesperian, and helped to organize the Mitchell County Federation of Women's Clubs. She was a leading figure in the establishment of a Home Demonstration Agent's services in this county, back when this was considered a bold venture. She has been a Red Cross leader, worked for it actively in two wars, and more recently has devoted sufficient energies to the Campfire Girls movement to have received that organization's special Luther Gulick Award.

She once was elected to the Colorado City School Board, but declined to serve because of the feeling that the menfolks wouldn't be too happy about it.

While church and civic organizations have commanded a great deal of her time, Mrs. Whipkey also has been a figure in charity work, much of the time anonymously. Younger women of the community find her always a source of solace and counsel in any kind of problem.

The welfare of young people has always been of concern to Mrs. Whipkey; and she has helped sponsor many of their activities. After the children were established in their own homes, the devotion of the Whipkeys centered on seven grandchildren. Today, there are four great-grandchildren to get attention.

The children who will be here Sunday to join their parents in the anniversary observance are Mrs. Price; Mrs. Bert Robertson of Colorado City; S. E. Whipkey and Mrs. T. R. Moody of Houston; and R. W. Whipkey of Big Spring. Several of the younger generations will be on hand, too.

A. L. WHIPKEY MRS. A. L. WHIPKEY

Bride And Groom Of 1892

The A. L. Whipkeys of Colorado City today are celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary. They were married at West, McLennan County, Texas, on June 2, 1892. They have lived in Colorado City since 1905.

Finals are now behind us! The last day of regular school was Saturday. Baccalaureate exercises will be held tonight at the Howard County Junior College auditorium. Commencement exercises will be held on Monday night in the auditorium.

An assembly program honoring President E. C. Dodd of HCJC was conducted last Monday night in the college auditorium with the student council president, William C. Thompson, presiding. Many friends of Mr. Dodd, representing different organizations in which he is a member, faculty members from the HCJC and the city schools, were featured on the program. Chaplain Little of Webb Air Force Base and Mrs. Little presented several musical selections. The school song was sung at the conclusion of the program. Farewell gifts were presented to Mr. Dodd.

Refreshments were served to all guests in the little auditorium following the program. Many expressions of appreciation and thanks were given to Mr. Dodd for all he has done for us. It is with regret that we lose him as our president at HCJC, but our best wishes go with him to Uvalde as the president of the Southwest Texas Jr. College.

Dr. and Mrs. Sam Hoester Sr. of Big Spring will spend this week end in Chicago, Ill., where Dr. Hoester will attend the American Medical convention.

The pupils of the Basic night school class of Mrs. Dorothy Davis were dinner guests Friday night in the home of their instructor.

Donnie Barnes, who has been ill for several days, is reported to be feeling better.

Mrs. Viola Keith, mother of Mrs. Charlotte K. Sullivan, who has been visiting in the home of her daughter left Tuesday for her home in Canon City, Colorado.

Three new books were brought in this week for the new shelf of the memorial library books at HCJC by friends of loved ones who have recently passed on. New book plates are being used for the books of this memorial shelf.

Summer plans of students and faculty members are: Clarence Jones plans to spend his three months vacation in Odessa, his home town.

Robert Williams intends to vacation with his parents at their home in Dallas.

William Thompson and Anita Forrest, who are to be married on June 14, will live in Doyline, Louisiana.

Don Curry of Big Spring plans to stay at home and attend night classes this summer.

Marvin Baker plans to remain in Big Spring this summer. He will assist in Mr. Keese's office.

Katherine Pitzer will return to her home in Monahan for her summer vacation.

Coach Bennie Rutherford, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Box, and several others of the faculty plan to attend North Texas State College, Denton, studying toward higher degrees.

Mrs. Charlotte K. Sullivan, of the HCJC faculty, will be an instructor at the college the first six weeks of this summer.

Wayne Matthews and J. T. Clements will continue to teach in their departments at HCJC this summer.

Mrs. Dorothy Davis will teach her class and the Basic class of Mr. Cano's at HCJC this summer. Mr. Cano is moving to Lamesa where he will be a minister.

George Hank, instructor of foreign languages at HCJC, will continue to be an instructor in summer school.

Mrs. W. C. Blankenship will continue to teach in the Education and Government and History departments at HCJC this summer.

President E. C. Dodd and Mrs. Dodd will enjoy a month's vacation and leave of absence presented to him by the Board of Education. They will attend the associational meeting of Jr. College in Boston, Massachusetts in June.

Mrs. Taylor, Brarian at HCJC, will vacation in Colorado with her father and two sisters. She is taking a six weeks' tour of the Northwest and Canada with a group of teachers from Seymour, in July. They plan to return by an eastern route.

Bruce Frazier, instructor in the science department at HCJC, will conduct a tour for his biology classes for the early summer session. They plan to spend some time in New Mexico and Colorado. This is an educational tour and students will receive college credits.

Bill Thompson of the English and History departments of HCJC will teach in the summer school.

Joan Snowden, a student of HCJC, will spend her vacation at her home in Del Rio.

Robert Thompson will remain at home in Big Spring and work this summer. He plans to attend A&M college this fall.

Russell Green, Harold Rossion, Jackie Jennings, Jimmie Jennings, and several others plan to attend North Texas State College in the fall.

Recent visitors: Luther McDaniel, who is home from North Texas State College for the summer.

John Burns of Big Spring.

Jim C. White, who is a student of Hardin Simmons University, is home for the summer.

Ernie Kennedy and Bobby Newsum, students of Jr. High School, Big Spring.

Mrs. Winston Sherwood of Austin with the State Public Welfare Office.

Stanley E. Bowlds from the Webb Air Force Base whose home is in Denver, Colorado.

Homer R. Ogle of North Manchester, Indiana, now of the Webb Air Force Base.

Paul A. Hill of the Webb Air Force Base whose home is in Cleveland, Ohio.

Jean Brown of San Antonio, who is stationed at the Webb Air Force Base.

Ferd J. Borsch Jr. of Maplewood, Oregon, who is stationed at the Webb Air Force Base.

Mrs. Bennie Rutherford, a member of the Big Spring School faculty.

Sammy Hoester Jr., son of Mrs. Genevieve Hoester, a student of HCJC.

Mr. Tartar, superintendent of schools at Sweetwater.

John Crow of Big Spring, a sophomore student at ACC, Abilene.

I want to take this opportunity to thank the readers of Campus Chatter. I have more than enjoyed bringing you the news of Howard County Junior College.

Visiting Here

Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan P. Lancaster and their children, Dede, Meredith and David, are visiting with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pickle, Lancaster has been in charge of vocal music at Port Neches and he and Mrs. Lancaster will do work at the University of Texas this summer. Also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pickle are another daughter, Mrs. Bishop L. Bailey, and children, Billy, Linda, and Janet.

Visiting in the San Angelo home of Martha Aitaway during the past week was Patricia Graham, 1005 S. Wood. Miss Aitaway will be a guest here next week.

MR. AND MRS. EMMETT J. MILLER
Miller's Busman's Holiday Ends In Finding A Wife

A busman's holiday from the teaching profession resulted not only in gaining knowledge, but gaining a wife as well for J. Emmett Miller.

The Millers have recently moved here from Washington, D. C. and have bought their home at 114 Lexington.

During the 25 years of their married life they have shared the same interests.

Living 15 years in the nation's capital led the couple not only to a more active interest in governmental affairs, but an interest in interior decorating, portrait painting and church work.

Mr. Miller is head of the cost accounting section in the comptroller's office at the air base. He did the same sort of work in Washington and has been a Civil Service employee for about 20 years.

Mrs. Miller, a charming woman with gray hair and sparkling brown eyes, was employed in the Clothing and Equipment Shop at Fort Meyer for several years, before joining another woman in an interior decorating shop.

While at the base she decorated the post exchange and the home of General and Mrs. Omar Bradley.

"People often think that decorating and portrait painting are at opposite ends of the pole," Mrs. Miller said. "But I've found that it is easy to work with one and then the other."

And Mr. Miller is her favorite model.

They both like antiques and have bought several "really good ones," she said. However, they lean away from the antiques that just look pretty and can't be used.

"All of ours are useful," Mrs. Miller stated.

While the couple lived in Washington, both sang in the chapel choir at Fort Meyer.

A native of Slaton, Mrs. Miller was only too happy to return to this part of the country.

"For the first time in 20 years I had a three-week visit with my mother. Always before that we had just made a flying trip," she smiled.

DRESS PARADE
 By Jen Wieser

Women who work, women who have to meet the public gaze day after day, week after week have to appear chic and well-dressed.

At work one day recently Mrs. Virginia Black was wearing a navy blue blouse fashioned with a round, jewel neck bound in chartruse. Drawn work detail in small narrow lines around the collar added a fashion note. With it she wore a navy and white tiny twined straight skirt. Her shoes were navy kid and she wore silver earrings.

Employed by a different concern, but on the same day Mrs. Mary Morrison looked smart in a navy blue puckered nylon dress. Fashioned in a shirtwaist style, small rhinestone buttons fastened the dress to the waist. She wore a navy velveteen belt and her shoes were beige mesh with rust trim. Her earrings were small diamonds.

Glimpse Department: Mrs. Tommy Gage busily at work looking cool with her hair tied back from her neck. Mrs. Ladd Smith ... charming at church in a pink shantung dress and white hat. Mrs. Marvin House Jr. formerly of here, now living in Snyder, looking nice in an aqua blouse and white sweater. Mrs. Etta Malone setting off her gray hair with a navy dress.

Newcomers Will Meet On Tuesday

The Newcomers Club meets Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the First Presbyterian Church basement, and all new residents of the city are urged to participate.
If you have moved here within the past several months or if you have just arrived, you are eligible to take part in the club's varied activities.
Besides furnishing a medium for getting acquainted, the Newcomers Club is devoted to a number of social and welfare activities.
From the main club, members may find diversion in the Newcomers Square Dance Club, the Bridge and Canasta Club, the Ceramics Club and other activities.
A club project now underway is the furnishing of magazines, nylon hosiery (for making nylon flowers), bingo prizes, recordings, and any items which might be used in the physio-therapy work at the Big Spring State Hospital. Later the club hopes to raise funds for a kilt for ceramics work at the hospital.
Mrs. Julian Williamson, president, will be in charge of the Tuesday meeting.

New Method

Summer Program Slated To Begin At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY—Miss Margaret Christie, head of Colorado High School's Homemaking Department, has announced a summer program for those interested in swimming or arts and crafts. Starting Monday, Miss Christie will teach a beginning class in swimming at the city pool in Ruddick Park. Classes will be held each morning from 8 to 9, for two weeks, with all Homemaking students invited to participate.
On Tuesday, at 10 a.m. Miss Christie and Miss Nadine Gee, department assistant, will hold an organizational meeting in the Homemaking Department at Colorado High School to set up classes in crafts, including the making of draperies and slip covers, refinishing furniture, textiles, glass etching, and work with plastics and aluminum.

The beginning swimming class, said Miss Christie, would be given training in the new method of giving artificial respiration now replacing the prone pressure method.
She also listed 79 students who had been given training in the newly approved method as part of a standard 18-hour Red Cross course in first aid. She was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bodzin, of Colorado City, both Red Cross instructors.

GC Installs New Officers

Mrs. J. B. Knox was installed as president of the Garden Club in an informal ceremony at the Howard County Junior College Music room last Wednesday afternoon.
Mrs. O. B. Bristow, who officiated for the service, also presented a challenge to the other new officers.
They are Mrs. P. D. O'Brien, first vice president; Mrs. L. B. Baird, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Robert Stripling, treasurer.
During the program which followed, each member discussed the qualities of the floral arrangement which she brought.
Mrs. J. L. Hogan requested ideas for possible programs during the coming year.
Approximately 20 members were present.

Spanish Apron

Made in Spain—an authentic festival dance apron—the motifs and embroidery are truly lovely! Transfer for the "double thickness" apron measures 20 by 15 1/2 inches; belt is 2 inches wide; colorful motifs are done in reds, blues, yellows, greens and brown. Edging is crocheted in alternating sections, in red, yellow, green and blue. It will make a gay and festive party apron and you can also use the individual motifs for pillows, place mats, dining cloths. Stitches are interesting and all are sketched in the pattern for ease in making.

HELENS HINTS

---Where to shop for what---

THE SHOW WILL GO ON . . . for you to enjoy over and over again when the musical score is preserved on records. AT THE RECORD SHOP you will find complete albums on 45's, LP's and standards of the top tunes recorded right from the sound track of your favorite shows. It's a cinch you'll want Gene Kelly's, Debbie Reynolds' and Donald O'Connor's hit tunes from "Singin' in the Rain" as well as the great songs that Jane Froman gives you in "With a Song in My Heart". There's "Guys and Dolls", "Rich, Young and Pretty", and of course, the memorable "Showboat". Why not keep a collection and serve yourself a treat time and time again with hit songs from hit shows?

THE MAN IN YOUR LIFE . . . should know about the comfort and round-the-clock rightness waiting for him in the lighter-than-air summer weight Cactus Cords at ELMO WASSON'S. The smooth, lustrous fabric of rayon and nylon, the exclusive Durella finish, the impeccable tailoring and superb cut sells this suit on sight. The casual single-breasted jacket with three patch pockets is harmony quarter-lined with smooth, cool phantom lined sleeves, and he can be assured of a perfect fit because each suit size has had a designer's try-out. In two-tone tan cord striping, this stylish "body-cooler" is priced at $37.50 to keep him lightly and rightly dressed from head to toe.

AN ALL-STAR CAST . . . of terry cloth robes to grace the summer beach scenes are making their debut at ZACK'S OF MARGO'S. In three-quarter and fingertip lengths, they're ample coverage whether the bathing beauty is wet, modest, or just wants to be fashionable. Made from fluffy white terry cloth, the wrap-around style, large pockets, lay-back collar and deep cuffs give them a fashionable approach to a smart summer season . . . and you just can't beat white for that fresh, bright sparkle even after countless tubbings. The short robes are priced at $8.95 . . . the long at $10.95—a small price for so much fashion—and they'll save you the extra expense of beach towels, too!

BEAUTY AND THE BEST . . . in quality and utility can be found in the great variety of Bueuilum pieces at the BIG SPRING HARDWARE. For smart and gracious entertaining, this hammered aluminum ware would bring pride to the heart of any hostess. You'll love the casseroles with Pyrex inserts which make every meal a feast, the relish trays and lazy susans, the candy and nut dishes, the pitcher and tumbler sets and many, many more. Buffed and polished by hand to a gleaming and enduring brilliance, Bueuilum is a gift you'll delight in presenting on gift giving occasions or cherish for years to come in your own home.

JUST BECAUSE IT'S JUNE, JUNE . . . our thoughts turn to Lohengrin lace, and if you're planning a wedding your thoughts should turn to FAYE'S FLOWERS where they're ready to help you plan and execute all your floral needs in true bridal tradition. Be it at home or church wedding, Faye can furnish special arches, baskets and candelabras as well as the loveliest of flowers for a setting that's planned to bring about an effortless blend of decor and decorum. Whether your wedding be large or small, you can be assured of legendary loveliness that spells romance to the last detail.

THE MODERN AGE . . . These days everything is automatic, and Universal's "Cook-a-matic", (combination grill and waffle maker) at HESTER'S SUPPLY is the closest thing to magic you've seen in a long time. Designed for efficient, automatic, at-the-table cooking, the big (216 sq. in.) surface fries 12 eggs, toasts 4 sandwiches, grills 24 sausages at once or makes 4 big 4"x5" waffles. The automatic signal light medium or dark waffles to your taste. Priced make cooking a delight instead of a drudge. Look to Universal for the "First Among The Finest."

GALS KNOW THAT NAVY is the loveliest complement of the summer season, and the many costume colors, and the navy blue suede and nylon mesh sandals at MARGO'S are just what you've been waiting for. A Fercraft exclusive, they're smooth as a city slicker . . . such sophisticated style . . . such polished manners; what lady could resist them. Clitified from heel to toe . . . prettified with smart detail . . . the rich suede has a lap-of-luxury look and the nylon mesh sets them off with feminine finesse. Priced at $12.95, these sleek little shoes are styled with a slender high heel and wicked ankle strap that make for foot flattery from every angle and reflect the fashionable taste of the wearer.

A DREAM ROOM . . . is yours, when you furnish your bedroom with outstanding pieces from the GREGG STREET FURNITURE. Although designed for restful slumber, these suites are wide awake to individual tastes in choice of styles and woods. Beautifully executed by such well known names as Huntley, Bassett, Brohill and Mengel, you'll find both traditional and modern in bleached, dove grey, cherry, mahogany and sea foam. A happy blending of utility and charm, these distinctive suites combine restful beauty with the practical needs of modern living . . . There's plenty of room for dreaming when you make your selection from these fine furnishings.

A VARIETY OF ENJOYMENT . . . the likes of which you've seldom seen is available to you at THE HARDESTY DRUG . . . They offer one of the most complete magazine stands in town. Everything from the most exclusive reading to funny books for the small fry. If you want to keep up with fashions, fiction, news, homemaking, mechanics, movies, sports . . . you'll find the magazine of your choice. If you're one of those people who are always in too much of a hurry to read, you can catch up on what's going on in the most world with one of the small but complete magazines such as "Quick", "Coronet", etc. It's the better way to better living.

IT'S COFFEE TIME . . . and time for you to sample a cup of the best coffee in town. If you haven't already tasted the full, rich, satisfying flavor of the coffee at the DOUGLASS COFFEE SHOP, you're in for a real treat with your first cup. If you work in town, the Douglass is the place to meet for those morning and afternoon breaks, and if you're on a shopping spree, the thought of freshly made, flavor-rich coffee is an invitation to real enjoyment. No matter what the time or day, it is always the same fine quality, and you'll find that it is pleasure and relaxation, "good to the last drop."

French Women Match Those In U. S. In Matter Of Social, Legal Rights

By NADEANE WALKER
Associated Press Newswriter

PARIS—Frenchwomen consider their legal and social rights to be at least equal to those of American women, and far better than those of the women of any other country.

Although they did not get the vote until a few years ago, in 1945, and still have no women's clubs to exert feminist pressure, Frenchwomen are indignant and amused at the idea that some Americans consider them dominated by their husbands.

"Women always have held a superior position in France, with great political influence," a leader of the French suffragette movement, Madame Suzanne Grindberg, declares.

"There's less prejudice against professional women in France than there is in America even, and the proof is that you more often find women at the top of their professions here," claims Madame Suzanne Blum, a leading Paris lawyer.

Madame Grindberg, a charming white-haired woman who was among the first of her countrywomen admitted to the bar in 1909 (one of the first three practicing women lawyers), says that trips to England and America have convinced her that the professional woman's lot is happiest in France.

She was astonished to find that women lawyers were not ordinarily admitted to the bar association club in one major American city, where she was a guest speaker. And she found herself, and female colleagues, left ignored by English male lawyers at a reception in England.

Frenchwomen nowadays are more modern than the foreigner imagines, say the women lawyers. Arranged marriages, with mates picked by Mama, are becoming very rare, "but, after all, there are still some arranged marriages in America!" points out Madame Blum.

Divorces are no longer the ruinous scandal they still were at the beginning of the century in France, adds Madame Grindberg. "Anyone who really wants a divorce can get one. But I always advise against them for the sake of the wife, for a divorcee has not much chance of remarrying, and the lot of a woman alone is a very sad one."

The one sunny aspect of the drastic housing shortage is that it prevents many divorces, thinks Madame Grindberg—for the practical reason that the fed-up wife or husband has nowhere else to go.

The idea that Frenchmen have mistresses instead of divorces is no longer true, except that the "old guard" still believes it is better to keep a home together at all costs, says Madame Grindberg. Marriage contracts are nearly always signed if the engaged couple have property. There are four types on contracts, and all but one of them give the husband administration of affairs and property.

Even so, it is the wife without a marriage contract who is most in need of legal protection, according to Madame Grindberg, for her husband can sell their business or her jewels or dispose of their money without her knowledge or consent. Only home, furniture, etc., are controlled in common.

SO MUCH ILLUSION

Cape With Angle Makes Capelet Dress Different

Every man has a first love and this is Harvey Berin's. The capelet dress? Oh, my no. It's just that Mr. Berin loves to design things for women that make them the center of attention, the first love of the man they love. Personally, we fell for this number like a ton of the proverbial—and we think you will, too, if you choose it for your summer wardrobe. You can see for yourself that it is different. Where have you ever seen a cape with an angle? Granted you've seen many a woman with one, but never a cape. Where have you ever seen a cape that is a jacket, a stole, a button-on-to-my-back before? As far as that goes, where have you ever seen a sunback dress that has so much illusion that it fairly makes the moon hide its face? Well, Mr. Berin has created all this—and you can, too. Fabric suggestions are as variable as the weather: cotton, linen, silk-shantung—and that old sweet magic known as denim. Size 12 takes 6 1/2 yds. of 35-inch material, while it only requires 4 1/2 yds. of 50-inch fabric. Pattern is available in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18. To order Pattern No. 1099, send $1 to Spadeca Syndicate, Inc., Dept. 164, Box 258,

Women's Groups To Discuss Draft Of Fems For Service

By RUTH COWAN
WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—The drive for women volunteers for the armed forces is a failure so far.

Does this foreshadow eventual registration and draft of women? Already a leading nation-wide women's organization, the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, is facing up to that question.

Scheduled for consideration at the federation's convention in Boston in July is a move to recommend amendment of the Selective Service Act to make unmarried women between the ages of 18 and 26 liable for training and service. Last October the Defense Department announced it wanted some 72,000 volunteers to bring the number of women in uniform up to 112,000 by June 30.

With but 30 days to go the total recruitment is an estimated 12,500—or less than one fifth of the goal. It can now be told that Army planners in World War II agreed to recommend that Congress authorize the draft of half a million women annually into the military services.

At the outbreak of World War II Gen. George C. Marshall, then Army chief of staff, foresaw a shortage of manpower. He held it was not practical to train men to type and run telephone switchboards when in civilian life women did those jobs.

More of the story is that it was estimated women could do 400 of the 600 types of jobs in the Army aloft. That list eliminated jobs involving combat, considerable physical strength, "improper environment," too long a training period, or supervision over men.

It was estimated that four million Army jobs would be appropriate for women. But to be conservative the Army decided to set the goal of the newly organized WAC, which then included women in the Air Force, at 1,300,000.

Col. Oveta Hobby, who then headed the WAC as the first director, recognized that procurement of even a million women through voluntary recruitment would be impossible and would result in competition with industry.

It was at this point that proposals to draft women got serious consideration. When it was considered that there was too much dynamite in the idea, it was decided to speed up enrollment of the first 150,000 WAC authorized by law—and then the Army would ask Congress to raise the ante.

But the Army never made that request of Congress for the very simple reason that even under the spur of wartime that goal of 150,000 was never reached. A hitherto unreleased report on that chapter says:

"Campaign after campaign was launched in an effort to recruit the first objective. The campaigns were extensive and expensive, using every appeal known to woman and every device known to man. The results of a door-to-door drive were mildly startling—from 73,589 families contacted, 168 women were enrolled."

Against a goal of 150,000 the WAC peak strength was 97,000. All told less than 300,000 women put on uniforms during the Second World War but never too many at one time.

The main reasons for the failure of this wartime recruitment were given in a report at the time as "the apathy of women, the opposition of men, a misunderstanding of military life and competition of industry."

The word is that 1 1/2 million women would be needed in all the services—and more could be used—in event of total mobilization. Those who worry with the problem realize "it took three years, millions of dollars, battalions of personnel and tons of advertising to recruit less than 300,000 in World War II."

Let Us Not Lose Sight Of Effects Citizens Produce

By Dr. MARTHA M. ELIOT
Chief, Children's Bureau,
Federal Security Agency

Have you ever helped at a "harm-raising?"

This is a midwestern custom which had its roots in the pioneer days. When a farmer needs to build himself a new barn, he calls on his neighbors.

Before he asks their help, he does all the preliminary work he and his family can do alone. Then, on the day of the barn raising, the neighbors arrive at dawn. They work from daylight to dusk. When night comes, the new barn is standing.

Yet, without the help of the community, the farmer's barn would have been weeks—months—abuilding. It is this kernel of neighborliness which has produced so many great things in this nation.

Today, in an age when there are so many jobs which must be done by specially trained people, let us not lose sight of the effect which citizens, acting in a neighborly fashion, can produce in any community.

Such interest can be turned to good account for many children who might otherwise be deprived of benefits of health and welfare.

We have learned recently many instances where this sort of citizen responsibility has brought action by local communities, not just to help one child, but to solve a problem affecting many children.

In Kentucky, members of a county committee for the Midcentury White House Conference on Children and Youth got together tools and materials and built a bridge to join two sections of a small community when they learned that children on one side of the bridge were forced to stay home from the school on the other side when rains swelled the stream beyond the point it could be forded.

In Pinellas County, Florida, a juvenile court judge asked for an advisory committee to the court made up of citizens who could interpret the court's needs and give advice to the judge. The result was formation of the Juvenile Welfare Board, a survey of child welfare needs in the county, and eventually an improved program of services to children.

In Pima County, Arizona, a group of citizens as members of a Midcentury White House Conference committee studied school segregation, the customs and practices of restaurants, hotels, movies, churches and employment agencies as they affected Negroes, Spanish-Americans, Chinese and Indians in the community and asked for changes where their studies showed children and their families were handicapped by differences

In their status. In 12 key communities in Pennsylvania, a Governor's Committee on Children and Youth is holding hearings this month where citizens get a chance to tell what is right and wrong with the way Pennsylvania looks after its dependent and neglected children.

Riots and runaways at the Minnesota Home School for Girls worried the citizens of Sauk Centre, the community in which the school is located. The citizens worked with officials at the school and managed to open many community facilities to the girls and to bring about organization of a citizen advisory committee for the school.

Citizens in Seattle, Washington became concerned a few years ago over brutal conditions in a county jail. These conditions were brought into the open when a young lad, charged on juvenile delinquency charges, died as a result of beatings inflicted by "Kangaroo Courts" within the jail cells. Quick action by the citizens helped to bring about a new detention home for children, separate from the adult jail.

These instances are rather dramatic examples of citizens at work on community problems. There are hundreds of others, equally heartening, which show our citizens want to help, even though the idea of neighborhoods is not as pronounced in this country as it once was.

Infant Kennedy Funeral Is Held
Funeral services for Sharon Maxine Kennedy, day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carol Kennedy of Big Spring, were conducted at the Nalley Chapel at 3 p.m. Saturday, with Rev. Maple Avery in charge. Interment was in the City Cemetery.

The child died Saturday morning at a local hospital. Survivors, in addition to her parents, include three brothers, Billy Wayne, David Lee and Larry Gene, all of Big Spring; her grandfather, F. P. Kennedy of Grapeland, and her grandmother, Mrs. Mamie Powell, Palestine.

Baylor English Head To Exchange Post For 'Love Of Life'

WACO, May 31 (AP)—"Dr. A" of Baylor University isn't going to get up in front of a class and shake that flying white hair at balky students any more.

For Dr. A. Joseph Armstrong, 79, retires tomorrow from the job he's had for 46 years—chairman of Baylor's English department.

But he isn't going to sit around and twiddle his thumbs or grow peevish—not this gangling Kentuckian who lopez across the campus like a spring colt.

What "Dr. A" has left now is the love of his life: the 19th Century English poet and his wife, Robert and Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

He retires tomorrow. But Monday he has a new job as director of Baylor's famed two million dollar Armstrong-Browning Library, containing what most experts agree is the world's largest collection of Browning memorabilia.

And it's there because Dr. Armstrong spent more than 30 years seeing that it got to Baylor. And that white stone library in the middle of a block by the Baylor campus is there because Dr. Armstrong personally pleaded,ajoled and gathered the money to build it.

For the rest of his life, Dr. Armstrong wants to write the discoveries of his research on the works of Browning.

He lays his teaching job down reluctantly. He's the professor who once said: "I hope to die on Saturday so there'll be no necessity to miss classes."

Vietminh Is Badly Hurt In Fighting France

By LARRY ALLEN
 HANOI, Indochina (AP)—The Communist-led Vietminh seems to have an inexhaustible supply of manpower but there's no doubt it has been badly hurt in the war against French Union forces.

The Vietminh is losing heavily. Their casualties are running so high that they have resorted to raiding villages and impressing young Vietnamese into their army.

A compilation of French Army reports since last Dec. 1 up to the end of April show the Vietminh lost approximately 24,000 killed, 11,000 taken prisoners, and probably 2,000 to 3,000 wounded.

The Vietminh suffered more than half of these casualties in their attacks against the French Union troops in the Hoa Binh sector, 40 miles southwest of Hanoi.

Hoa Binh is a war-ravaged town on the Black River and once a strategic highway point for the Vietminh. The French captured Hoa Binh last November and abandoned it on Feb. 24, estimating enemy casualties during that period at around 23,000 killed and captured.

The rest of the overall enemy losses are the result of the big cleanup drives the French have been putting on in the Red River delta extending from northwest of Hanoi east and southeastward to the Gulf of Tonkin.

French Union casualties in the same period have been remarkably light. Reports show about 1,000 killed, 1,900 wounded and 1,000 missing.

One reason for the extremely heavy enemy casualties is that the Vietminh often fanatically attack strongly fortified French positions with rifles and grenades and are mowed down by machine-gun fire.

Heavy napalm bombings by French pilots flying American-supplied B-26 bombers also has caused big losses among Vietminh troops.

Thus, slowly but surely, the French Union forces are hacking away at the cream of Vietminh soldiery.

What the French are finding now is more and more so-called "regional battalions" of Vietminh.

Many of these apparently have been recruited in villages occupied and fortified by the Vietminh, although "impressed" is a better word.

The Vietminh, hard hit by the French, seem determined to use regional forces as much as possible and conserve their so-called "elite, regular troops" for big operations.

A resolution of independence was adopted by the Colonial Council, July 2, 1976, although the Declaration of Independence was not made public until July 4, 1976.

Registration At JC For Summer Starts Tuesday

Registration At JC For Summer Starts Tuesday

Registration for the first term of summer school at Howard County Junior College will begin Tuesday.

Courses in arts, business and mechanics will be offered during the summer session, and all high school graduates, veterans and servicemen at the Webb Air Force Base are eligible to attend.

A special course in biology will be offered for the first time at HCJC this summer. It will include a two-weeks tour of Mesa Verde National Park in Colorado.

The first two weeks will be spent in the classroom, with students familiarizing themselves with various techniques of field study, methods of collecting, sampling and recording data. At this time the students also will do research on the area to be studied during the field trip, including its location, natural plants, animals, history, etc.

The second period of two weeks will take the students to the field, where they will camp and collect data and samples.

During the final two weeks period, students will be back in the classroom to develop pictures, mount insect specimens, minerals and plant studies and prepare reports.

On the final days, the class will sponsor a public display of the material gathered during the field trip.

The new course will be under supervision of James B. Frazier, instructor in agriculture and biology at the college.

Ike's First Major Speech Is Set In Abilene, Kan., June 4

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower now steps from known ground into a strange new world.

He is like a man marching off a well-marked parade field into a trackless wilderness—the jungle of domestic politics, with all its hazards and humidity. He will have guides and pathfinders, of course, but not even they can know exactly what lies ahead.

Eisenhower's plane, bringing him from Paris, is due in Washington Sunday afternoon.

A full military welcome has been planned for him there—a 17-gun salute, martial music, the glitter of high brass. The ceremony, in effect, marks the end of another chapter in his story.

He has handed over to a successor the seals of his office as supreme commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. For the moment, his work as a professional soldier—comfortably familiar for many years—is behind him. In a few days, he will be free to hang up his Army uniform and put on the anonymous, unstarred business suit of a plain American citizen.

After that, the effort to nominate him as the Republican candidate for the presidency will be intensified. He is scheduled to deliver a first major speech in his home town of Abilene, Kan., June 4.

This date is almost the eighth anniversary of an event that contributed heavily to his present high state. It was on June 5, 1944, that he took a fateful gamble. His laconic "let 'er rip" tripped the trigger for the D-Day invasion of France, in spite of a brawling storm on the channel and a totally unpropitious set of circumstances, brought him sharply to the attention of Washington.

At that time, he was so little known that a photographer identified him, in a picture caption, as "Lieut. Col. D. D. Eisenhower."

Eisenhower's political opponents, however—and even the people who are simply skeptical—contend his accomplishments have been limited to a single field, the world of military, which he knows best. It is a very different world from the one he is now entering.

In the Army, as compared to other spheres, there are more constant factors and cardinal points of the compass. There is the book of rules, the chain of command, discipline, and the tables of organization. A man has more to steer by.

Moreover, the argument goes, Eisenhower's successes on the battlefield, and his administration of the vast Allied military organism, give no guarantee that he has the qualifications to handle the problems of big government.

The rebuttal, by his admirers, is this:

As supreme commander, during the war, the essence of his work was more diplomatic than military in nature. It was to weld into a single effective weapon the Allied nations, with their conflicting interests, rivalries, sensitivities and post-war objectives.

Eisenhower's backers contend that, for the mechanical planning of battles, he had good staff officers and needed, himself, only to approve or change their plans. But in composing the differences between nations, in keeping these differences out of the war-room and off the big maps, Eisenhower was the man in the middle, hearing the strains alone.

To an even greater degree, in their view, the creation of NATO demonstrated a rare statesmanship. NATO is a delicate filigree of agreements and commitments, political and economic as well as military.

Nevertheless, in the view of this reporter, Eisenhower's biggest ball-and-chain, on the road to the GOP presidential nomination, is the label "military mind." In many parts of the country, people have said they are afraid of having "a military man in the White House."

To them, this connotes a probability of authoritarianism, and the belief "if Ike gets in, you'll see a lot more men in uniform." They also say "the military budget will be a lot bigger if he's the President."

Again, Eisenhower's backers reply: "Nobody else is so well equipped to know just how much we need. The Pentagon can't pad the bill and get it past an expert."

They swirl around Columbia University, as well, where Eisenhower held his only civilian office. Students and some faculty members will tell you "he was not a good administrator." Many others contend he was very good.

They explain the criticism by saying "he shook up the old-line operators, brought new ideas and ways of doing into a pattern that was getting ossified. No wonder some people didn't like it."

Junior College Graduation Exercises Underway Today

Some 40 candidates for diplomas at Howard County Junior College will participate in the college's sixth annual baccalaureate services and commencement exercises Sunday and Monday.

In all 43 students are scheduled to receive diplomas, but a few of these will be awarded in absentia.

The Rev. Lloyd H. Thompson, pastor of the First Christian Church, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon in services set for 8:30 p. m. Sunday in the college auditorium.

The audience will remain standing during the procession by Jan Masters and Patricia Lloyd, an opening hymn and the invocation by Chaplain John C. Little of Webb Air Force Base.

The HCJC choir, under direction of Elizabeth Cope, will sing "There Is A Balm In Gilead," and the Rev. Lewis Patterson, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, will read the scripture.

The Rev. Leslie Kelley, pastor of Prairie View Baptist Church, will pronounce the benediction. The audience will then remain standing during the Choral Amen.

NO SHORTAGE OF EGGS HERE

PULASKI, N. Y., May 31 (AP)—Samuel Bass says he put two New Hampshire Red hens in an orange crate at Lakeland, Fla., tied the box on the rear bumper of his car—and had eggs regularly all the way north.

He said he found two eggs when he fed the hens each night en route. The last night there were three.

SMALL FRY HELP OBIE'S CAMPAIGN WITH BUBBLE GUM, HORNED TOADS

Gifts received by Obie Bristow in his campaign for the Texas Legislature are given a value of $5.

This is the amount Obie reported to the Secretary of State in conformity with the state law requiring posting of campaign receipts and expenditures. Obie is unopposed in his bid for the Legislature from the new 101st District.

His campaign helpers happen to be boys of pre-school age, and he listed the following gifts:

Randy French, one arrow head (ten cents); John Boyd, one piece of bubble gum (one cent); Keith Bristow, one piece of bubble gum (one cent); Ray Tollett, eight cents cash; Dickey Hatch, one horned toad (15 cents).

Obie wrote the Secretary of State as follows:

"With the filing of this report it is not my desire to be facetious. Five of my campaign donors are neighborhood boys under five years of age. It was my desire to put their gifts on record.

"I was doubtful in the acceptance of only one gift, from Ray Tollett, age 3, for the reason that he is the son of a Republican; however, inasmuch as he is already showing better judgment than his Dad, I took his gift, seeking to encourage him."

Bristow has not revealed how he put to use in his campaign such items as bubble gum, arrowheads and horned toads.

Who's Gonna Get The Autos In River?

GOLCONDA, Ill. (U)—One cold December night last year the Ohio River acted up and upended a bargeful of shiny new automobiles then worth $300,000.

So far, only one of the 150 new cars has been brought up from the river bottom off Southern Illinois' hills.

In the absence of word from the salvage firm on the lone car's value, a Golconda car dealer, Charlie Towns, guessed it was worth about $250 as he saw it.

A fisherman, Les Crow, said, "I

Sheep Due For Exposure To Atom Blast

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 31 (U)—Sheep will be exposed to an atomic blast and a thousand troops will advance into the blast area immediately after the detonation in a daring new test at the Nevada Proving Grounds.

This next explosion in the spring series probably will be set off tomorrow.

The troops will be in foxholes about four miles from Ground Zero at the time of the explosion. After the detonation, they will start their maneuvers toward the blast area.

Brig. Gen. Harry P. Storke, in charge of Army phases of the tests, was asked by newsmen yesterday if animals would be used under fire and authorized the following quotation only if used in its entirety:

"Yes, we are using a limited number of sheep because we want to learn, in absence of any possible wartime use of the atom bomb, the blast, thermal and radiation effects of any atomic explosion on humans.

"Since we obviously cannot expose humans to any practical tests, we are using the warm-blooded animal most available and closely resembling a human being. The use of the sheep will undoubtedly result in the saving of American lives if the atomic bomb is ever used in the vicinity of our troops in war-times.

"The sheep are handled as humanely as possible and receive the same care and protection that would be available to soldiers under similar conditions. After the blast they are given priority attention by our veterinarian who is a member of the control group, the first group to approach the Ground Zero area after the shot."

WHITE HOUSE HOPEFUL

Candidate McMahon Suggests Atomic Power As Peace Means

WASHINGTON, May 31 (U)—A latecomer to the Democratic presidential sweepstakes is Connecticut's senior senator, Brien McMahon, one of the world's best-informed laymen on atomic energy.

The compulsion—based on horror—that drove McMahon to absorb all he could about the destructive and constructive elements of atomic energy now makes him want to apply his knowledge as chief executive.

McMahon was a freshman in the Senate when the first atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima in 1945. He was convinced that such power must be leashed if civilization is to survive.

His insistence and persuasiveness resulted in the McMahon Atomic Energy Act, transferring control of the atom from military to civilian hands, and catapulted him despite lack of seniority to chairmanship of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee. This committee supervises the Atomic Energy Commission, which controls everything atomic.

The prototype of a quiet, conservative businessman, McMahon has become almost evangelistic in pleading with the Kremlin through Senate resolutions and impassioned speeches to agree to world atomic control. He has proposed exchanges of scientists, government officials, even school children so that Russians might become convinced of this country's peaceful intentions.

He has proposed that this country contribute a percentage of its armament expenditures—as much as $5 billion dollars—toward economic aid to other countries if Russia would agree to drop the atomic bomb race.

He has held the Kremlin up to the scorn of world opinion for rejecting such offers and even refusing to tell the Russian people they had been made.

McMahon holds that this country must rapidly develop and maintain military superiority, as water, it rings a door bell in the house boat.

Gallimore said several cars are mired a mile to two miles from the site of their Dec. 18 sinking.

Working with the fisherman on week ends is a Harrisburg postal employe, A. M. Heatherington Jr. He has rigged a frogman's diving outfit with which he hopes to stay under water an hour in searching.

a deterrent to war, in the hope that a moral upsurge for world peace will make that unnecessary.

He says the American people have chosen — "and rightly" — to pay the military price of peace.

But he also predicts that "if the arms race plunges ahead, our budget will go up and up and up, and our freedoms will go down and down and down."

As an alternative to military peace at the price of economic disaster, or the reverse, McMahon proposes "that we make our best and cheapest weapon — the atomic weapon — the real backbone of our peace power."

"We can have men supporting fire power rather than fire power supporting men," he contends, "and when we reach that prayd-for time when wars no longer threaten we can turn our atomic stockpile to peaceful uses since its potential does not become the obsolete junk of traditional armament."

In mass-producing atomic bombs and cutting other expenditures, McMahon sees the hope of staying off possible economic ruin, perhaps the balancing of the budget and the lowering of taxes, the diversion of wealth to humanitarian purposes and the elimination of the low living levels which help produce wars. As part of such a program McMahon says, "I want to sponsor a 'good neighbor policy' toward the world, as well as toward South America."

McMahon was graduated from Fordham University and Yale University Law School. He practiced law and served as a municipal judge in his native city of Norwalk, Conn.

His former neighbor, Homer S. Cummings, was then U.S. attorney general, and in 1933 McMahon became an assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's Criminal Division. He

Those who are ready

Alert, keen, with eager steps and heads held high in confidence to meet the future, our graduates stream out from the portals of high schools, colleges, and universities. A new life of opportunity commences today for all who have received their diplomas. But are they ready for life? Schools, although of great value to any youngster, cannot guarantee success. A diploma simply states a required course of study for a specific degree has been satisfactorily completed.

In addition to formal schooling our young people must have a more complete preparation with which to face the challenges and disappointments of life. They need the Church and home working together to strengthen their moral and spiritual fibre. Yes, with this combination—school, Church, and home, they will receive that inner strength and trust in God to face life's problems unafraid.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Will We Be Content With Ugliness When We Finally Obtain Water?

"I wonder if people have got in such a habit of being content with barren and dry yards that they won't know what to do when Big Spring does get plenty of water." This was a question raised recently by a visitor here, who took occasion to remark that this city, in its present state, was about as junky and ugly a looking place as one might imagine. The latter statement wasn't as altogether unkind and undeserved as the author of it was a former resident and is an admirer of the town. When you get down to brass tacks, you have to admit that our general appearance is rather bleak.

lethargy when ample water will be supplied next year? Have we been accustomed to excusing our lack of beautification by talking about limited water reserves? Has our water limitation become a crutch that supports contentment with ugliness? There is a very real possibility that this could be the case. In all probability it will take more than the unhampered ability to turn on the faucet to change this attitude generally. Some concerted action will be needed to impress upon the community mind and conscience the need for this improvement.

Taft 'Steal' In Texas Called A New Low In Political Dishonesty

There are moments when an honest reporter must call a spade a spade, no matter who would prefer to have it called an agricultural implement. This moment, after the Texas Republican Convention has reached its peculiar, predestined climax, is one of them.

With the on-the-spot approval of Sen. Robert A. Taft's personal representatives, the Texas delegation to the Republican National Convention has been stolen for the Ohio Senator. And this steal has been accomplished by a system of rigging as grossly dishonest, as nakedly anti-democratic, as arrogantly careless of majority rule, as can be found in the long and sordid annals of American politics.

These are grave statements, but they can be proved to the hilt. The simplest approach is to take the typical case of Harris County, which contains the city of Houston and has 144 votes in the Republican State Convention.

In Harris, as in all other counties, the process of electing Republican State Convention delegates was theoretically controlled by state law and the rules laid down by the Republican State Committee. State law provided that "qualified voters" should gather in precinct meetings to name representatives to a Harris County Convention; and further provided that this county convention should name the 144 delegates to the state convention.

Hence the precinct meetings were plainly open, under the law and rules, to all Independents or former Democrats desiring to become Republicans and ready to sign the pledge. This was strongly emphasized by the chief Taft leader in Texas, National Committeeman Henry Zweifel. Only a week or so before the precinct meetings were held on May 3, Zweifel issued a public statement urging all Democrats or Independents desirous of becoming Republicans to attend the Republican precinct meetings and vote for the candidate of their choice.

Zweifel, who has run the Republican Party here like a small, exclusive but pretty nasty club, reckoned without the tremendous surge of Texas sentiment for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. As a result of this sentiment, the Harris County Republican precinct meetings on May 3 were considerably better attended than the simultaneous Democratic meetings, although the Democrats also had a big fight on. More than 22,000 people turned out, where in the past the Republicans could muster only a few hundreds.

The result, in precinct after precinct, was defeat for the astonished and appalled pro-Taft leaders of the Republican Old Guard, and the election, under the law and rules, of pro-Eisenhower precinct representatives to the Harris County Republican Convention in a certain number of precincts.

The pro-Taft Old Guardmen then organized walk-outs and rump precinct meetings. In Precinct 38, for example, with 340 persons attending, the vote went almost two-to-one for Eisenhower. More than 100 of the pro-Taft voters accepted the majority verdict, but a walkout of six persons was led by a hanger-on of Zweifel's, Pat Doyle.

This six man walk-out made Precinct 38

Even Republican Partisans Tag Party With The Sticker Of 'Big Business'

When the chips were down in the 1948 Presidential campaign, when voters finally had to pull the lever or "x" the square, they followed their social and economic dictates. If their leanings were "big business," they voted for Dewey; if their leanings were "common man," they voted for Truman.

The survey was based on a small sample—less than 700 persons. But that doesn't mean it can be dismissed. The sample was chosen for wide economic, social, and geographical distribution. The interviews were conducted by specialists, and a pre-election study in October, 1948, revealed a stand-off between Truman and Dewey.

The survey re-emphasizes that the Democratic Party today is the majority party, that it has a broader economic base than the G.O.P., and that the Republican Party is tagged, even by many of its supporters, as the party of big business.

Truman, according to the survey, won in the last two weeks, when 12 per cent of the ultimate voters made up their minds. Three out of four of these late deciders voted for him. But that doesn't mean that Truman's campaign carried the day, or that Dewey's campaign lost it.

The surprise of the survey was the small influence foreign affairs had on the Presidential choices. Few mentioned it as a factor in their decisions, even though, in November, 1948, the Berlin airlift was four months old.

It Ain't So Easy To Get By On $50,000 Per Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Could you get by on $50,000 a year? The average man figures with that kind of money he could satisfy Uncle Sam, live the life of Riley and still have enough left over to feed gold peanuts to pigeons in the park.

But many a person in the $50,000-and-up bracket today complains he finds it hard to make both ends meet. Why? Well, people who dwell at that exhilarating financial altitude say they have so many unusual obligations that their big incomes often turn out to be all gross and no net.

This is particularly true with top public entertainers, who sometimes get the feeling they have been cut up more ways than a pie in a Bowers restaurant.

Where does all that dough go? Let us take a typical case—Dorothy Shay, the "Park Avenue Hillbilly." Her robust songs have made her a queen of the supper club circuit, at $5,000 a week and higher.

These high-priced chanteuses, however, are like race horses. They don't perform for the customers each and every week. How many Kentucky Derbys are there in a year?

The result, according to Dorothy, was that she had the grand sum of $330 left to save or do with as she wished.

Among farmers, Truman's margin was 2-to-1. Here, the south accounts for the Democratic preponderance, not Iowa or the Dakotas. Nonvoting among farmers was the highest of any occupational group—54 per cent. Absenteeism among white-collar workers was lowest, only 18 per cent.

Last year Dorothy, who is a good business girl, asked her accountant to estimate the minimum income she would require for 1951. His figure: $81,000.

It takes a lot of money to make money these days.

Tourist Business Big In Texas; Maybe It Could Be Made Bigger

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Like the chambers of commerce keep telling us, the tourist business is bigger than we think. I don't know how you'd describe a tourist, unless to say it's a person who's going somewhere to see something—and is usually in a hurry to get it seen, so he can rush on somewhere else and see something else.

Now what tourists want to see, is something else again. Around Colorado Springs, it probably is Pike's Peak; in New York, it might be Grant's Tomb and the Empire State Building. In New Orleans, it might be the wharves along the Mississippi, but more likely it is some of the daintily disrobing dolls in the French quarter.

The thing about it is, as they say in New Orleans and every place else, give the tourist something to see; give it a gigantic selling, preferably with sight-seeing buses at every hand to handle deVevery and speling; and pass out plenty of pamphlets so that these can be taken home and shown to bored friends who listen to a recital of the trip.

I personally wouldn't know whether Texas can match all the distinctive attractions of some other areas, but the state ought to be big enough to provide almost everything the touring American wants to see. The truth is that more and more tourists seem to be coming to Texas each year.

The State Highway Department says that in 1951 this state played host to 9,156,000 tourists who came in 3,391,000 cars and who spent a total of $375,200,000 in the state. Since the Highway Department is compiling these figures, apparently the totals don't include the additional travelers who came by train, plane and bus.

The Department found out that the visitors stayed in Texas an average of 5.7 days, spent an average of $7.19 per day each and averaged 2.7 persons per car. Sixty five per cent of them were in Texas last year for vacation purposes, 20 per cent of them came to visit friends and infolk and 14 per cent of them were here for business reasons. A good 50 per cent of them were in the Lone Star State for the first time.

Now, what did they say about Texas? One per cent blessed us out good for being a bunch of reckless drivers. T'want safe to be in Texas, they averred, and they probably won't back again. But most of them liked something about the state. Twenty nine per cent of them even said they liked Texas. Nine per cent of them said they liked the scenery; three per cent had some praise for the accommodations they found, and even two per cent said they'd like to live in this state.

This means, I take it, that if we drove a little more carefully, and improved our accommodations a little bit, and touched up the scenery in a few spots, and were considerably more friendly, we could have even a bigger tourist crop, and would have more folks pouring in here to make a permanent home.

Trouble is, if we attract too many tourists and they all like Texas so well they will stay, then we become a state of too many permanent residents and not enough tourists. No stopping place.

Large Majority Disapprove Of Congress' Immigration Bills

The similar immigration bills passed by House and Senate are disapproved by a large majority of editors. Principal objections are that retention of our 1920 quota system continues, in effect, racial discriminations ended in principle, and that provisions for security screening of aliens are unnecessarily harsh and arbitrary.

bill... lifts most of the immigration bans based on race and sex. But it retains the quota principle and will not let in many more immigrants than enter now. It tightens security screening and gives preference to those applicants whose skills are needed here.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) STAR (Ind.): "The new immigration bill now almost through Congress is not a perfect act of legislation but in various respects it is an advance over the hodgepodge of laws the country has today. Without substantial change it has passed the Senate with a voice vote after its approval by a heavy majority in the House..."

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) POST-DISPATCH (Ind.-Dem.): "The McCarran bill ends race barriers for aliens in principle but continues them in effect. It discriminates against Southern Europeans, Africans and Asians in favor of Northern Europeans who have not always used their immigration quotas. Yet it forbids pooling of unused quotas and even bans all quotas on our population of 30 years ago. And it provides new and arbitrary methods for deporting aliens..."

WASHINGTON (D.C.) POST (Ind.): "The immigration bill which Senate and House conferees will finally produce by blending the Senate's McCarran bill with the slightly less offensive Walter bill passed by the House will be a sorry testimonial to the four years of thought and effort that have gone into it..."

WICHITA (Kans.) EAGLE (Ind.): "On the whole it seems like a sensible bill but the so-called liberals are lifting their voices in anguish. They propose to let 300,000 additional in right away and lower the bars to people who might strain America's melting pot to the limit. America wants to take in all the aliens it can handle, making sure they do not enter to overturn our institutions and way of life. The best way to do this is to proceed cautiously. The last thing America wants today is an unrestricted flood of immigrants, comparable to the nineteenth century, when this country needed population to develop a vast new domain."

A Little Sunday Talk: Serum From Snakes

One day I visited a "snake farm" in Florida. At this place there are dozens of cages and hundreds of snakes. The serum is called antivenin (pronounced AN-tih-VEN-in) and is made with the help of poison taken from snakes. There is widespread fear of snakes, and this is due largely to the fact that some of them are venomous. The deadly ones include the cobra of India, the fer-de-lance of the West Indies and South America, and various rattlesnakes of North America.

He said that he had been bitten a few times during the years, but had been saved by quick use of a certain kind of serum.

In an average year during the past half century, about 225 persons in the United States and Canada have died from the bites of snakes. Thanks to antivenin (also called "anti-venom") the death rate from this cause has been going down in recent years. The venomous snakes of our continent include diamondback rattlers, canebrake rattlers, cottonmouth moccasins and copperheads. Another dangerous serpent is the small, but deadly, coral snake.

One Trip Across Atlantic Plenty
HOUSTON, May 31 (AP)—A tattered sailing sloop tied up at Harbour's Cut at Morgan's Point in the ship channel today, the end of an idea by two Texans to sail the Atlantic. They did, too—but Jim Furlong, 27, skipper of the craft, didn't bring the boat to Houston. He is in a Jennings, La., hospital with a broken leg, suffered in an accident in the Intracoastal Canal.

Joe Pelich, 27, Fort Worth, told the story of the trip—a 26½-day affair that started when the two former University of Texas students met in a bar in New York City.
They bought the boat, a 28-foot sloop, in Denmark for $1,500 and on Nov. 28, 1950, started a trip that touched most major European ports before the pair decided to try the Atlantic.

Furlong was injured when knocked into the water of the Intracoastal Canal while the sloop Festina was being towed by a tugboat.
"I don't believe I want to make the trip again," said Pelich. "It was a life-long ambition and a real adventure. But one trip is plenty for me."

Dam Dedication
AUSTIN, May 31 (AP)—Dedication ceremonies for the new Alvin Wirtz Dam near Marble Falls will be held June 15 when a granite monument bearing a likeness of the late Alvin J. Wirtz will be unveiled.
Speakers will include intimate friends and co-workers of Wirtz in the development of the series of dams and flood control facilities on the Lower Colorado River.

The Asahi Weekly, considered Japan's most influential news magazine, carried comments of 26 prominent Japanese, all of whom had some bitter words for the occupation.
They recounted what they said were personal humiliation and strong-arming from drunk or misbehaving U.S. soldiers. One complained of "alien reforms forced down Japanese throats." Another declared "prostitution thrived because of American patronage."

Japan Papers Letting Off A Bit Of Steam

By SAM SUMMERLIN
TOKYO (AP)—Japan's publications are firing some sharp criticism at the U.S. occupation, which for more than six years kept them on a close rein.

In most instances, however, the attacks appear to be cases of letting off steam rather than an indication of anti-American trend in the Japanese press.

In fact, all Japanese newspapers except the Communists denounced the anti-American riots loosed by the Reds on May Day.

Editorials declared that the rioters, who shouted "Yankee, go home," did not reflect the sentiment of the mass of Japan's population.

Japan's independence was signaled by a rash of articles critical of the occupation. A favorite theme was legitimate children fathered by occupation soldiers. Some newspapers asserted there were as many as 200,000 "occupation babies."

Tanzan Ishibashi, a former finance minister who was purged by the Allied occupation, leveled the wholly unsupported charge that some occupation officials took bribes from Japanese for favors. His article appeared in Keizai Oraji (Economic Perspective), a monthly magazine of small circulation.

Ishibashi asserted his purge in 1947 was a "frame-up." At the time he was finance minister in the Cabinet of Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida. Obviously bitter, he charged the occupation favored "English-speaking stooges or Communists."

The Asahi Weekly, considered Japan's most influential news magazine, carried comments of 26 prominent Japanese, all of whom had some bitter words for the occupation.

They recounted what they said were personal humiliation and strong-arming from drunk or misbehaving U.S. soldiers. One complained of "alien reforms forced down Japanese throats." Another declared "prostitution thrived because of American patronage."

Prince Valiant IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR by Harold R. Foster

Synopsis: THE MEN OF SCANDIA STOLE A RIVER FROM THULE, DIVERTING IT TO WATER ONE OF THEIR OWN VALLEYS. ON THE BORDER ANGRY MEN FACE EACH OTHER TO SETTLE THE DISPUTE BY VIOLENCE! LED BY PRINCE VALIANT AND RUFUS REGAN, VICTORY FOR THULE IS ASSURED.... BUT VAL MAKES NO MOVE.

HOW FAMILIAR THIS SCENE IS TO VAL! JUST A LOCAL BORDER QUARREL, BUT IT WILL BREED HATE AND SPREAD LIKE A FLAME IN DRY GRASS; SOON TWO NATIONS WILL BE AT WAR!

A WAR CHANT BEGINS, A STONE IS HURLED; SOON BLOOD WILL FLOW.... "HOLD!" SHOUTS VAL. "HALF A RIVER IS BETTER THAN NONE AND MAY HE WHO DEMANDS 'ALL OR NOTHING' GET NOTHING! BRING YOUR TOOLS AND FOLLOW ME AND ONLY IF INTELLIGENCE FAILS WILL WE USE FORCE!"

HIGH ON THE MOUNTAINSIDE THEY COME TO THE PLACE WHERE THE RIVER HAS BEEN DIVERTED. "NOW, HOW IN THE WORLD CAN YOU DIVIDE A RIVER?" ASKS VAL INNOCENTLY. "WE COULD THROW A DAM ACROSS BOTH CHANNELS" BEGINS ONE.... "AND BUILD TWO SPILLWAYS THE SAME HEIGHT" ADDS ANOTHER. "THERE IS PLENTY OF STONE...." "HAND ME A SHOVEL...."

VAL BECKONS TO RUFUS, AND THEY SLIP AWAY. "BUT, VAL, IS IT SAFE TO LEAVE THEM?" RUFUS PROTESTS. "THEY MAY BE AT EACH OTHER'S THROATS AGAIN!"

"NO, THEY WON'T," ANSWERS VAL CONFIDENTLY. "FOR WHEN MEN WORK TOGETHER FOR THEIR COMMON GOOD ALL DIFFERENCES CAN BE SOLVED."

ON THE HOMEWARD JOURNEY VAL IS VERY SELF-SATISFIED, EVEN SMUG. THEN AN ARROW STRIKES HIM IN THE THROAT AND HE FALLS, GASPING TO THE GROUND! NEXT WEEK - The Golden Necklace.

WELL, HERE WE ARE AT "CAPE MEADOWS FARM"... THIS IS COLORADO COLBY'S PLACE. LET'S GO SEE IF WE CAN FIND HIM.

OKAY, TEX... HE OUGHT TO BE HERE... HE SAID HE WAS COMING BY PLANE.

HOWDY... I'M TEX PURDY AN' I'M LOOKIN' FOR MR. COLORADO COLBY... GOT A DOZEN HORSES FOR HIM?

OH, YES... YOU MUST BE FROM MILESTONE FARM... I'M BLACKIE KIRK... COLBY'S PARTNER... COME IN... COLBY'S EXPECTING YOU!

WELL! GREETINGS, TEX, AND BOYS... YOU MADE GOOD TIME... MY PARTNER, BLACKIE KIRK, TELLS ME THE SHIP IS IN THE CANAL RIGHT NOW. SO YOU CAN ALL GO ABOARD RIGHT AWAY.

SUITS US... BUT IT WOULDN'T HURT THEM HORSES TO HAVE A FEW HOURS IN A PRODDOCK AFTER TWO DAYS IN VANS.

SURE, SURE! YOU CAN DO THAT WHILE I TAKE CARE OF THE INSURANCE. IF YOU'LL LET ME HAVE THE PAPERS.

NOW THEN... I HAVE A CHECK RIGHT HERE... CERTIFIED OF COURSE... SO IF YOU HAVE THE BILL OF SALE...

JUST A SECOND, MR. COLBY... I RECKON YOU'RE FORGETTIN' I AIN'T S'POSED TO TURN OVER THE BILL OF SALE 'TIL I SEE WHERE THE HORSES ARE GON'!

HUH? WHAT'S THAT?

WHAT'S THE BIG IDEA, COLORADO? WHAT DID HE MEAN ABOUT HAVING TO SEE WHERE THE HORSES ARE GOIN'?

OH, IT'S OKAY, BLACKIE... MILES RAISED THOSE HORSES LIKE PETS, BUT WHY WORRY? THE RIDING SCHOOL IS A GOOD ONE AND THERE'S PLENTY OF ROOM ON THE SHIP!

WHAT AILS YOU, BLACKIE?... SOMETHING HAPPENED?... YOUR FACE LOOKS AS IF YOU WAS CLOUDIN' UP FOR A LINE SQUALL!

I'LL SAY SOMETHING HAPPENED! THAT DUMB PARTNER OF MINE AGREED TO LET MILES'S MANAGER AND A COUPLE OF KIDS GO ALONG TO FLORIDA ON THE SHIP WITH THE HORSES!

THE PLAN'S OFF THEN!... I AIN'T GOIN' TO PULL OFF THAT TRICK WITH PASSENGERS ABOARD... HORSES IS ONE THING... BUT PEOPLE... THAT'S MURDER!

IS THAT GO T?... WELL, CAPPY, PERHAPS I OUGHT TO HAVE A CHAT WITH THE IMMIGRATION AUTHORITIES ABOUT A CERTAIN CONTRABAND CARGO... HUMAN CONTRABAND!

SOON THE TWO MEN EMERGED FROM THE CAVE, WITH JORGE PURPOSELY ASCENDING A TREACHEROUS, SCALY CLIFF.

TARZAN GRIMACED. HIS NIMBLE-FOOTED ENEMY OBVIOUSLY HOPED TO LEAD HIM INTO A PITFALL-- NEVERTHELESS, HE CONTINUED ON, NOW LASSING A JAGGED ROCK.

BUT AS TARZAN BEGAN CLIMBING, JORGE SNEAKED TOWARD THE ROCK UNSEEN. SMILING IN TRIUMPH, HE FIRMLY GRIPPED HIS PICK--

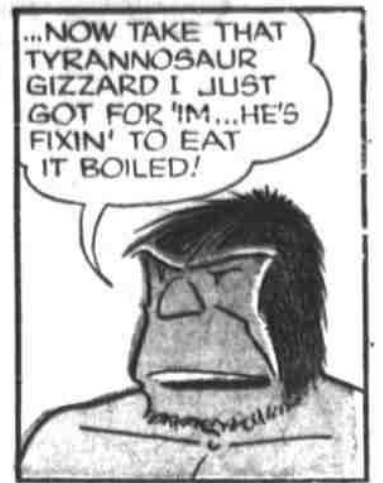

AND STRUCK AGAIN AND AGAIN, SHREDDING THE ROPE!

THE WEAKENED FIBERS SNAPPED AND THE APE-MAN PLUNGED DOWNWARD-- TWISTING, TURNING HELPLESSLY THROUGH THE AIR!

A SWEET WASH IS A CLEAN WASH

Surf guarantees you a sweeter wash...

...sweeter than any soap, any other detergent... clean clear through!

ALL-PURPOSE SURF

Try a wash with Surf

A Surf wash is so clean, smells so much sweeter, because Surf not only gets out the dirt and grime you can see in clothes... it also reaches deep into the fabric and gets out the hidden dirt—soap scum and odor—that other washday products leave in.

ALL-PURPOSE SURF

Smell the sweet, clean difference

Surf washes everything... even the grimest work clothes... sweeter clean... in any washer, any water. You can smell a sweet, clean difference right away when you take your Surf-washed towels and sheets and children's things from the line.

ALL-PURPOSE SURF

Compare the results

Yes, compare the sweet, clean smell of your Surf wash with anything in your linen closet that was washed with the product you used before. The look, the feel, the sweet-clean smell of your Surf-washed clothes is your proof your clothes are clean clear through.

ALL-PURPOSE SURF

Banishes dishpan odors

Sweet-cleaning Surf banishes dishwashing odors... cuts grease as no soap can. Dishes, glassware... the stickiest pots or pans come sparkling clean. No scouring... no wiping needed! Surf leaves no film on dishes, no greasy ring on dishpan... and Surf's new formula is kinder than ever to hands.

ALL-PURPOSE!

Unconditional guarantee!

The makers of Surf—Lever Brothers Company—guarantee you the sweetest clean wash you've ever had—regardless of the product you now use—or your money refunded.

I'LL BE HOME EARLY TODAY, TOOTS, TO SLIP INTO MY TUX! I'M TO ENTERTAIN AN IMPORTANT BUYER TONIGHT! THE BOSS ASKED ME TO CALL FOR HER AT EIGHT!

HER? WHO IS SHE?

I'VE NEVER SEEN HER! SHE'S A NEW BUYER NAMED 'GLORIA KALE' AND I'M TO TAKE HER TO SOME SWANKY NIGHT CLUBS!

YOUR BOSS SHOULDN'T ASK A MARRIED MAN TO ENTERTAIN A LADY BUYER WHEN HE HAS SO MANY BACHELORS WORKING FOR HIM!

TOOTS, THIS IS STRICTLY BUSINESS, AND ORDERS ARE ORDERS!

THAT REMINDS ME! I'M SURE I SAW A PICTURE OF GLORIA KALE IN THE PAPER!

YES, HERE IT IS! MY, SHE'S YOUNG, RICH AND PRETTY!

PLUNKER & CO.--- OH, HELLO, MRS. CASPER, NO, MR. PLUNKER ISN'T IN!

LEAVE WORD FOR HIM TO PHONE ME THE MINUTE HE COMES IN, AND I DON'T MEAN MAYBE!

I SEE YOU'RE HOME REAL EARLY TO GET PRETTIED UP FOR GLORIA KALE!

NOPE. WHEN THE BOSS SAW MISS KALE'S PICTURE IN THE PAPER HE DECIDED TO ENTERTAIN HER HIMSELF!

OH-H, I LEFT WORD FOR YOUR BOSS TO CALL ME! I WAS FURIOUS AND INTENDED TO BAWL HIM OUT FOR POKING YOU TO TAKE HER OUT! NOW WHAT'LL I TELL HIM WHEN HE PHONES ME?

TOOTS YOU GOT INTO THIS, SO IT'S UP TO YOU TO GET OUT OF IT!

I KNOW! I'LL TELL HIM I CALLED UP TO INVITE HIM TO A HOME-COOKED DINNER TONIGHT. HE CAN'T ACCEPT WHEN HE HAS A DATE WITH MISS KALE.

THAT'S A GOOD GAG, TOOTS, AND THAT'S PROBABLY HIM CALLING UP NOW. SO GO TO IT!

HE ACCEPTED! HE SAID MISS KALE CANCELED HER DATE AND HE HAS THE EVENING FREE! NOW WHAT A PICKLE I AM IN!

MAYBE THIS WILL TEACH YOU TO RUN THE HOUSE AND LET ME HANDLE THE OFFICE!
