Veterans Day November 11 Dedicated to Peace

November 11 is Veterans Day; a day to recall our past achievements and our attempts to bring peace to the world.

One of the truths we can recall in Veterans Day is that Americans are capable of greatness when it is demanded of them. Nearly 22 million veterans are living proof of it.

In terms of age, the average American veteran of today was not even born in 1918, the year the national holiday we know as Veterans Day was first observed. Nov. 11th was called Armistice Day until a dozen years ago. We can never forget those dead whom the first Armistice Day commemorated. They are revered in our most thoughts as we pay tribute to all living veterans on Veterans Day.

Far from being amenable to averaging, as in the matter of age, veterans are a remarkably diverse group, well represented in every walk of life. They are performing top-urgency jobs, in the difficult phase as in wartime, ranging from the Chief Executive to the Petty Officer on a Coast Guard cutter patrolling the Vietnam coast.

Veterans, diverse in national origins, religious beliefs, and ranging as they do from young men in their 20's to Indian War fighters now 95 years of age... they are alike in their basic good citizenship.

History tells us that the American veteran never has—and never will—subscribe to the doctrine of "Peace at any price." The loss of human dignity and individual freedom would indeed be too high a price to pay—even for a commodity as precious as peace.

Today, the American veterans stand firmly united beneath the one flag that symbolizes our common democracy, determined to maintain for themselves and posterity the principles of Liberty and Justice upon which this government was founded, and upon which it stands securely today.

A grateful nation will pause on Nov. 11, 1965, to pay tribute to the American veterans because they have been willing to fight and die for Peace with Honor.

National Newspaper Week Is October 10-16

TO THE NEWSPAPERS OF THE UNITED STATES:

It is with both pride and pleasure that I participate in this traditional tribute to our nation's newspapers. Too often taken for granted, America's countless daily and weekly papers have been vital guardians of her time-honored traditions and eloquent spokesmen for the cherished ideals of her freedom-loving people. Taken together, our nation's newspapers constitute the world's most responsible and effective organ of current information.

It is up to us to safeguard the freedom of our papers to inquire, to criticize, to express divergent views and to stand as sentinels for the public wherever the public's business is being transacted. Newspapers and their readers are partners in freedom, and if we fail to defend the freedom of our press, we neglect our own.

I am confident that Americans everywhere wholeheartedly join me during National Newspaper Week in high recognition of the indispensable role of our free press in the everyday life of our beloved nation.

LIONS, GUESTS HEAR PROGRAM ON WATER

Felix Ryals of White Deer, manager of the Panhandle Underground Water District, was the principal speaker at the McLean Lions Club's Farmer, Rancher Day program held in Fellowship Hall of the McLean Methodist Church Tuesday, Oct. 5.

Ryals illustrated his talk on the potential of irrigation with maps and charts. He pointed out the fact that one of the largest wells in the county is located in the general vicinity. Drew Word has a well metered by Ryals at 2,000 gallons per minute.

Ryals stated that wells of 500 gallons per minute or less could be most profitable to farmers or ranchers. The potential of a fully developed irrigated section of farm land on the high plains is close to $8,000 more annually than a similar section of dry land.

In addition to many local farmer and rancher guests, others included James Murphy, farm manager specialist Extension Service, Amarillo; Jerry Harland, assistant Gray County agent, Pampa; Lynn McDaniel, work unit conservationist, Soil Conservation Service; and Curtis Schaffer, farmer and soil district supervisor from the Grandview community.

Following the Lions program, James Clett, local rancher, was elected to a five-year term on the Gray County Soil Conservation District board. Clett has served for the past five years in the same position.

TIGERS LOSE TOUGH FOUGHT GAME TO WHEELER MUSTANGS

The Wheeler Mustangs made it 16 straight over a two-season span and four in a row Friday night, downing the McLean Tigers 26-8.

However, the Mustangs didn't win as easily as the score might indicate, as they were tied at halftime with the Tigers, 8-8.

A crowd of about 1,500 was on hand in Nicholson Field in Wheeler to watch the non-conference game.

In one of the toughest games viewed by Tiger fans this year, Wheeler's advantage in speed paid off. One of the state's fastest Class B boys, Bobby Vanpool, led the Wheeler attack.

The first half saw some fine action by both teams. In the first quarter, McLean lost a good lineman, senior End George Green, with an injured knee. Green was out for the rest of the game. Tiger linemen shaking up the Wheeler offense in the first quarter were Bryan Parker, Lonnie Easley and Raymond Baker.

Arthur Dwyer, junior guard, intercepted a Mustang pass late in the first quarter. This almost provided the needed spark for a touchdown drive. Wheeler went ahead in the first period, with Mike Goad rambling 27 yards to score and then running over for the two-point conversion.

The Tigers tied the score in the second period on a four-yard run by Steve Fuller and Doyle McCurley's run for the conversion. This was set up by a nice pass from Quarterback Joel McCarty to End Clovis Bible.

Vanpool put Wheeler back into a lead it never lost, in the third period, when he ran 49 yards for a touchdown. The try for the conversion failed and the Mustangs led 14-8 after three periods.

In the fourth quarter, David Jamison scored from eight yards out. The conversion again failed, leaving the score at 20-8.

Vanpool wrapped up the scoring by going over from the one to climax a 64-yard scoring drive. The kick for the conversion failed, ending the game with the score 26-8.

Rainbow Installation To Be Saturday

Gail Fry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Fry, will be installed as worthy advisor for the Order of Rainbow for Girls Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Masonic Hall.

This will be a public installation and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

This Friday night, the Tigers lost the Class I-A Gruver Greyhounds. Coach Leon Chapman has five regulars returning, including potential All-State players, O. E. Gammill and Fank Silva. Kickoff time is set for 8 p.m. in Duncan Stadium.

Last Friday in the weekly pep rally, Lonnie Easley was given the Saber Tooth award for outstanding action in the Lefors game. The saber award is given to a Tiger in almost every game. The coaches view a film of the game and then consider the leadership and teamwork displayed by the boys during the week. If the boy measures up to a rigid standard set by the coaches, he is given saber teeth to wear on his helmet for the season.

PEP SQUAD TO SPONSOR BONFIRE

The Tiger Pep Squad will sponsor a bonfire and pep rally Thursday night, Oct. 14, at 7:15, prior to the McLean and White Deer football game.

The bonfire will take place on the west side of the football stadium. All Tiger fans are invited to attend the rally.

Social Security Changes Benefits

Persons 72 years of age or older, who have had some work under social security but not enough to qualify for retirement payments under the old requirements, should recheck with Social Security Administration, according to Hal Geldon, District Manager of Social Security in Amarillo. A change included in the 1965 amendments may now make such persons eligible for monthly benefits.

Before this change, the minimum requirement was about one and one-half years of work under social security. Under the new law some workers can qualify at age 72 with as little as about nine months of social security work, Geldon stated.

A man who was born January 1, 1890, or earlier will need only about nine months of covered work;
the same requirement applies to a woman worker who was born on January 1, 1893, or earlier.

A man born between January 2, 1890, and January 1, 1892, will need about 12 or 15 months, depending upon his exact birthdate.

LEGAL RESPONSIBILITY

Suppose that you hired Freddy to cut your grass, and he runs your new mower into your neighbor's hedge, thereby ruining the hedge. Are you responsible for the damages? Quite likely you are.

Or let us suppose that you find you need some supplies for the evening meal. You ask Tom, your neighbor's son, to take your car and go to the store for them. On the way, Tom hits a pedestrian, seriously injuring him. Can you be held responsible? It is possible that you can.

In both instances, the boys were acting for you. These acts while performing those duties are, in the eyes of the law, your acts.
You may be liable despite the fact that you may have cautioned Tom to drive carefully and he did not.

The average individual expects to answer for his own actions. He does not usually consider that he may be responsible for the actions of other persons. That, however, is frequently the case.

You may ask another person to do something for you, that is, to act as your agent. You may pay him, or he may be doing it without compensation. You may ask him to buy or sell property for you. The action may be to negotiate an agreement for you with a third person.

If representations are made by your agent in performing the task which you assigned to him, you are responsible. In a like manner, you are responsible for the contract made by him while he was acting for you.

You may be held responsible for the acts of a person who cus-tomarily represents you even though he entered into a contract for you without your consent or approval. For example, you may have a partner in a business, and you and he have agreed that certain contracts shall be made only upon the signature of both of you.

Unknown to you and without your consent, your partner signs such a contract with a third person involving partnership business.

If the person with whom this contract is made has no knowledge of the terms of your partnership agreement, you are responsible for the contract which your partner has made.

As the actions of your agent are considered to be your actions, you assume the responsibility of his doing them correctly.

I guess it wouldn't be fair to give any names, but the other day a comparatively young fellow made the following statement: "I have always enjoyed working with my father. I have learned a lot from him already, and I am still learning." What greater compliment could be paid a father?

Almost within the same week another similar statement was made. This time a father said:
"Nothing has given me so much pleasure in life as having my son become a partner with me in the business." What finer compliment could a father pay to a son?

Just for the record, both of the above parents were honest, hard-working and upright citizens.
Neither gambled or drank, either socially or any other way. Both were Christians and belonged to different churches. The lives of both sons are following a similar pattern.

The other day a young friend made this statement: "God made man to live and work in the great outdoors. All of the other work has come about through the inventions and thoughts of man himself." It is something to think about. Of course all work that is honest and honorable is necessary and worthwhile, but there is something good and uplifting about the outdoor life. This young man was a member of a group considered the indoor type. Bless him both in his work indoors and out in the open spaces. We thank God for the thoughts that come to our own life from other folks. Bless you all.

Texas Car Tags Required By New Residents

Most new residents of Texas are required to buy new vehicle registration plates for their automobiles as soon as they establish residence in Texas. The same is true of those who accept gainful employment in the state.

Actually, Texas observes a reciprocal passenger car registration agreement with all states. Fourteen states permit non-residents to obtain new license plates at varying periods after they establish residence or obtain gainful employment. All other states demand immediate purchase of new plates, and—in observance of the reciprocal agreement—so does Texas.

R. W. Townsley, director of the Texas Highway Department, Motor Vehicle Division, has reminded all law enforcement agencies in the state of the reciprocal licensing agreements.

"Enforcement of out of state license plate agreements is very important to law enforcement since a current license plate, in addition to providing revenue to build and maintain roads, serves to identify a vehicle with its owner," Townsley said.

He pointed out that varying "grace periods" are allowed new residents moving to Texas from these states:

—30 days—Alabama, Colorado, Georgia, Mississippi, Ohio, Tennessee, West Virginia, Wisconsin.

60 days—Virginia, Wyoming.

Six months—Connecticut, Minnesota.

On the next December 31—California, Kansas.

New residents from all other states must obtain license plates as soon as they move to Texas, or as soon as they accept a job in the Lone Star State. The only exception are daily commuters from bordering states, who need not relicense their vehicles though they may work in Texas.

Non residents in Texas as visitors and students and not engaged in gainful employment may operate on Texas highways with their current home state license plates. However, such plates must be renewed prior to the non resident's home state enforcement date or Texas plates must be purchased.

Skateboards Are Fun, But Dangerous

Have you driven up a street recently and had something flash past you, speeding downhill? It can give you quite a start to glance back and see a boy or girl on a skateboard.

As one man commented recently, "I'd feel a little more secure—even as a spectator—if these skateboards came equipped with crash helmets, seatbelts and brakes."

Skateboarding—like many sports and activities—can have its potential hazards. But, observance of safety precautions and rules can go a long way toward the protection of participants.

Here are some pointers you can pass on to any skateboarders—alias sidewalk surfers—you know. And, be sure to remember them if you try skateboarding yourself.

Public streets, of course, should not be used for surfing. A possible exception is where cars and other traffic are blocked off during demonstrations or contests.

Skateboard use is best confined to designated areas such as playgrounds, non-congested sidewalks where not prohibited, and restricted portions of parking lots and shopping centers. As veterans of the board can testify, a paved surface free of large bumps and cracks is best.

Beginners are advised—before boarding this steerless, brakeless vehicle—to consider the speed potential and fall possibilities, and to confine maneuvers to their skill level. Shoes with non-slip soles appear to be some help to the skateboarder, new or experienced.

Whether you are a beginner or oldtimer, let skill and control be your aim, rather than speed. And, let "see" and "be seen" be your watchwords.

When your board is not being used, store it in an out-of-the-way place. Never leave it on the sidewalk, driveway, floor or stairway of your home.

If you, your children or anyone else plans to mount a skateboard, let the decision rest on ability, agility and knowledge of safety rules.

ASC Committee Election Held

Farmers recently elected to serve as the agricultural stabilization and conservation county committee, and their terms of office are:

J. Leamon Andrews, chairman, for a three-year term; Paul R. Bowers, vice chairman, for a two-year term; Floyd E. McLaughlin, member, for a one-year term.

The election was held at the county convention on Sept. 22 in the county ASCS office in Pampa. Electors were farmers chosen as convention delegates at recent ASCS community committee elections throughout the county.

Evelyn Mason, county office manager, points out that ASC county and community committee men are farmer-committees in charge of local administration of such national farm programs as the Agricultural Conservation Program, the Feed Grain Program, the Voluntary Wheat Program, Acreage Allotment and Marketing Quotas, the National Wood Program, and the Commodity Price-Support programs along with the Cotton Domestic Program.

The ASC county office at Pampa is headquarters for the county committee, and serves as the farmers' level and local contact for business connected with participation in the programs administered by the committees. These programs encourage conservation and increase farm return by means of price supports and market supply-management as well as by payments.

Knights of Columbus Sponsors Decent Literature Campaign

Checking on results of their statewide anti-pornography drive, Texas Knights of Columbus have reported "a high degree of success" to date in removing filthy literature from news-stands.

"Oct. 12 will mark nearly four months of active work in this war on vile printed material which is undermining the morals of our youth," declared C. D. Carlson of Lake Jackson, chairman of the organization's Decent Literature Campaign. "More than 8,200 members have become active in this effort and have received generous assistance from people of all faiths."

"We are proceeding along lines proved out elsewhere in generating community efforts by responsible citizens in fighting pornography, and a large number of merchants have voluntarily cleaned up their news racks. They were good citizens who had been duped into peddling the dirty-story-naked women magazines and paperbacks by the country's $2 billion smut-printing and distributing industry."

All Knights in councils at the forks of the creek, as well as those in the big cities, were urged "to walk into their corner news-stands and see for themselves what debasing and horrifying vile stuff is offered their children for only a quarter."

Carlson again accentuated that some smut peddlers hide behind the constitutional guarantee of a free press and defend their "sickening material as art and literature."

"The Knights of Columbus, whose work is based on patriotism and charity, would be the first to fight for our free press—for which we thank God—but we will also fight any abuse of that or any other constitutional guarantee."

A house cat has been known to reach the age of 27 years.

The first milo maize of the new crop is being loaded today. Bob Ashby is loading two cars to the Cook Grain Co. for $20 per ton. The maize is bright, of good quality and thoroughly dry. This sale is about three weeks earlier than usual here this season.

An old fiddlers contest will be one of the free attractions to be given the second day of the McLean Fair.

Cash prizes of $10, $5 and $2.50 for first, second and third best fiddlers will be given.

Social Security Changes Benefits

Persons 72 years of age or older, who have had some work under social security but not enough to qualify for retirement payments under the old requirements, should recheck with Social Security Administration, according to Hal Geldon, District Manager of Social Security in Amarillo. A change included in the 1965 amendments may now make such persons eligible for monthly benefits.

Before this change, the minimum requirement was about one and one-half years of work under social security. Under the new law some workers can qualify at age 72 with as little as about nine months of social security work, Geldon stated.

A man who was born January 1, 1890, or earlier will need only about nine months of covered work; the same requirement applies to a woman worker who was born on January 1, 1893, or earlier.

A man born between January 2, 1890, and January 1, 1892, will need about 12 or 13 months, depending upon his exact birthdate. This work requirement applies to

LEGAL RESPONSIBILITY

Suppose that you hired Freddy to cut your grass, and he runs your new mower into your neighbor's hedge, thereby ruining the hedge. Are you responsible for the damages? Quite likely you are.

Or let us suppose that you find you need some supplies for the evening meal. You ask Tom, your neighbor's son, to take your car and go to the store for them. On the way, Tom hits a pedestrian, seriously injuring him. Can you be held responsible? It is possible that you can.

In both instances, the boys were acting for you. These acts while performing those duties are, in the eyes of the law, your acts. You may be liable despite the fact that you may have cautioned Tom to drive carefully and he did not.

The average individual expects to answer for his own actions. He does not usually consider that he may be responsible for the actions of other persons. That, however, is frequently the case.

You may ask another person to do something for you, that is, to act as your agent. You may pay him, or he may be doing it without compensation. You may ask him to buy or sell property for you. The action may be to negotiate an agreement for you with a third person.

If representations are made by your agent in performing the task which you assigned to him, you are responsible. In a like manner, you are responsible for the contract made by him while he was acting for you.

You may be held responsible for the acts of a person who customarily represents you even though he entered into a contract for you without your consent or approval. For example, you may have a partner in a business, and you and he have agreed that certain contracts shall be made only upon the signature of both of you.

Unknown to you and without your consent, your partner signs such a contract with a third person involving partnership business.

If the person with whom this contract is made has no knowledge of the terms of your partnership agreement, you are responsible for the contract which your partner has made.

As the actions of your agent are considered to be your actions, you assume the responsibility of his doing them correctly.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

women born between January 2, 1893, and January 1, 1895.

Under these special provisions payments cannot begin until you are 72. The monthly amount is $35, Geldon said.

FISH... SITTING DOWN
You've seen 'em. They're everywhere. They trace themselves with both feet widespread, wind up like a big league pitcher, then neglect to say, "I'm going to cast."

Standing in a boat to cast is inexcusable except when fly fishing, say the lads in Mercury subboards' fishing department. And, "sidewinding" is even worse, they add. With the former you menace mainly yourself, but with the latter you terrorize everyone in the boat.

First of all, sitting in a boat is safer. Modern broad beamed craft aren't as tippy as canoes, and the boat you are using could be perfectly safe to stand in, but sitting is still proper boating procedure, and it's a good practice to observe.

Though casting from a sitting position is more difficult to a beginner, it demands a type of discipline that quickly transforms him into an expert. Casting while seated requires correct wrist action and use of the more accurate overhead cast. Don't lapse into the dreaded side-winder's style.

In addition to boating safety and correct casting techniques, sitting on a boat cushion can literally mean more fish on the stringer. Fish spook easily in shallow and medium-depth waters, and they can see a man standing in a boat more readily than they can a sitting fisherman. In observing the world from their watery habitat, fish are restricted to a view of between 90 and 27 degrees. As a rule, a standing fisherman falls within this field of vision, and appears as a dancing, distorted monster. On the other hand, a low silhouette can approach within several yards of fish without spooking them.

It's obvious, says Mercury, a seat firmly planted is better all around.

Mrs. Irene Romer of Brooklyn, N. Y., visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kid McCoy, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Scott of Jal, N. M., visited friends in the El Paso Camp Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bailey and family of Pampa visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bailey Sunday afternoon.

I guess it wouldn't be fair to give any names, but the other day a comparatively young fellow made the following statement: "I have always enjoyed working with my father. I have learned a lot from him already, and I am still learning." What greater compliment could be paid a father?

Almost within the same week another similar statement was made. This time a father said: "Nothing has given me so much pleasure in life as having my son become a partner with me in the business." What finer compliment could a father pay to a son?

Just for the record, both of the above parents were honest, hard-working and upright citizens. Neither gambled or drank, either socially or any other way. Both were Christians and belonged to different churches. The lives of both sons are following a similar pattern.

The other day a young friend made this statement: "God made man to live and work in the great outdoors. All of the other work has come about through the inventions and thoughts of man himself." It is something to think about. Of course all work that is honest and honorable is necessary and worthwhile, but there is something good and uplifting about the outdoor life. This young man was a member of a group considered the indoor type. Bless him both in his work indoors and out in the open spaces. We thank God for the thoughts that come to our own life from other folks. Bless you all.
