The McLean Tigerette A and B teams traveled to Wheeler last Thursday night to take on the Wheeler girls.

Wheeler was victorious in both tilts, defeating the McLean A team by a score of 41 to 34. Pam Burnett was high point girl for the Tigerettes with 14 points.

The McLean Tiger and Tigerette basketball teams were host to the Miami "A" teams Tuesday night.

In an action-filled game, the Tigerette team came from behind to score a 48-44 victory over the Miami girls. The team from Miami led through the first three quarters, 14-9, 19-16, 31-26, but were unable to stop the Tigerettes as they dunked in 22 points in the last quarter to win the game. Pam Burnett led McLean with 18 points, while Beverly Weiss was high for Miami with 20 points.

Seeing their first action of the season, the Tigers were unable to stop the Miami Warriors as they scored 47 points to the Tigers' 29. The score by each quarter was 12-8, 22-16, 29-23, 47-29, with Miami leading throughout the game. Gary Hester was high man for the Tigers with 9 points, while leading the Warriors was David Bowers with 17.

After the holidays, the Tiger and Tigerette A and B teams will travel to Lefors Nov. 30 to face the Lefors teams. Game time is set for 5 p.m.

Children's Photos To Be Made Monday

Monday, Nov. 29, is the big day for the picture taking of your youngsters! The News is having pictures taken of all children who are brought by their parents or other guardian to the American Legion Hall between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m., absolutely free of charge.

The News wants a picture of your child to print in its forthcoming feature, "Citizens of Tomorrow," a series of photographic studies of local children. The more we get the better the feature will be, so the cooperation of the mothers and fathers is urged.

It often seems to parents that children are little one minute and are grown up the next, so fast does a child's growing stage pass. Here is a splendid opportunity to catch a likeness of your child or children at the present stage for the pleasure you will get out of it in future years and for the pleasure you will enjoy in seeing it in print. You will want to clip it from this, your home town newspaper, and preserve it for the youngster when he or she grows up.

There is absolutely no charge or obligation for taking the pictures. Parents don't even have to be subscribers to the News or even readers. You do not have to purchase pictures, either, though you may obtain additional prints by arranging direct with the studio representative if you want them. That is entirely up to you!

Appointments may be made by calling Mrs. Pat Lee, GR 9-2609.

P-T-O Holds First Regular Meeting

The first regular meeting of the McLean P-T-O was held in the grade school cafeteria Nov. 23 at 4 p.m.

Mrs. J. D. Fish, president, opened the meeting with a welcome to all parents, teachers and guests present. The reading of the minutes was given by Mrs. Morris Brown, secretary. Mrs. John Jones gave the treasurer's report.

A very interesting program was presented by the first, second and third grades, under the direction of their teachers, Mrs. Phil Biles, Mrs. Sinclair Armstrong, Mrs. Harvey Jones, Mrs. Paul Kennedy and Miss Leona Forbes. The program consisted of Thanksgiving songs, poems and the history of Thanksgiving.

Immediately following the program, refreshments of cookies, punch and coffee were served to those attending by Mesdames Ann Fuller, Ruth Holmes, Ruth Morris, Marjorie Fish, LaRue Hambricht, Faye Cranford, Donna Vineyard and Sarah Cunningham.

McLEAN TO PAUSE FOR THANKSGIVING

Residents of McLean and the entire nation will pause from their busy lives Thursday to give thanks for their many blessings.

The traditional Thanksgiving Day observance means a holiday for most. Most businesses in the city will close for the day. This issue of The McLean News was published on Wednesday because of the holiday.

McLean students and teachers will enjoy a long weekend. No classes will be held Thursday and Friday.

GUESS WHO GOT THE TURKEY? See Page 2

THE TURKEYS didn't have much of a chance last Saturday as the Jaycees released five large turkeys from the roof of the City Hall.

MCCLELLAN WATERSHED OFFICE TO BE LOCATED IN McLEAN

Watch next week's issue of The McLean News for a story on the location of the offices for the engineering survey party that will be in the county for the next several months surveying, locating and supervising construction of the McClellan Creek watershed structure.

Boyd Meador, your mayor, got on the telephone and contacted the powers to be and rolled out the red carpet for these folks. We happened to know another small town might have been a more logical location for this crew of several men. Such action taken by your mayor deserves a pat on the back. Let's tell him about it.

Visiting in Clarendon Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Olin Castleberry were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hambricht and family and Mrs. Chalmus Moore and children.

New Kitchen Series Begins This Week

"Doctor in the Kitchen" is a new feature beginning in this week's issue of the News. Written by a physician, the articles deal with the relationship of food to health. We hope you like the articles and will find them helpful.

Mrs. Nora Loveland of Dallas, Miss Dorothy Jackson of Roswell, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Billingsley of Amarillo visited over the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Petty.

Weather Is the Key To McLean Area Cotton Harvest

There is an old saying here in the Panhandle of Texas that the weather here is as unpredictable as a woman.

We have been enjoying unusually warm weather for this time of year. With less than a week to go in November, the first general frost has yet to appear.

The cotton farmers are anxiously waiting for Jack Frost to come around. As of date, 25 bales of cotton have been ginned here.

The open weather this week permitted harvesting to become more active, and as a result sample receipts increased at the Memphis classing office, according to the USDA Consumer and Marketing Service.

During the week ending Friday, Nov. 19, 5,000 samples were classed as compared with 3,000 last week. For the season, the Memphis classing office has classed 22,000 samples, which is slightly less than a year ago, stated V. E. Voelkel, in charge of the local office. In 1961, 124,000 samples had been classed as of the same date, Nov. 19.

Grades of cotton classed this week improved considerably over those of a week ago, with an increase of white and light spotted grades, and a decrease in the percentage of spotted grades. White grades made up 23 per cent of the classing, with 8 per cent middling and 12 per cent strict low middling. Light spotted grades showed 64 per cent in this color group with 39 per cent middling light spotted and 23 per cent strict low middling light spotted. Cotton classed in the spotted category represented 12 per cent of the classing, with 10 per cent middling spotted. About 1 per cent of the classing this week was tinged grades and below grade cotton.

DOG BITES THREE LOCAL RESIDENTS

Mayor Boyd Meador has issued a statement, asking that all dog owners in the McLean vicinity make sure their pets have a license and rabies tag.

Three citizens were bitten this week by a dog without a license or rabies tag. A Shamrock veterinarian said there was a possibility that the dog was rabid. The dog was killed and its head sent off for tests. Results of the tests should be back at the end of the week.

The mayor added that if you have any stray dogs around your place, you are advised to get rid of them. It is a known fact that this dog bit several other dogs, which means that should the tests prove positive, there will be other dogs to develop rabies.

Meador stated that the city attorney is working on procuring an ordinance to prevent stray dogs or other animals from roaming town without the necessary tags.

If your pet has not had a rabies shot, you are urged to see that it gets one. This disease is a serious one, and could prove fatal.

Dairymen Find Advertising Pays

Dairymen now have proof that fluid milk sales can be increased through advertising. Research conducted jointly by the American Dairy Association and the U. S. Department of Agriculture in six test markets showed dairymen could expect a good return on funds spent for promoting fluid milk.

Sid Jenkins, extension dairy marketing specialist at Texas A and M University, said the study showed an increase in milk sales of 4.5 per cent when promotion was carried out on the basis of 15 cents per person per year in the test areas. This level of promotion was above the two cents per person spent in the areas prior to the accelerated campaign.

Advertising and promotion carried out on the 15 cents per person basis returned $1.68 to the dairyman for each dollar spent. When the per capita promotion rate was doubled, to 30 cents, fluid milk sales increased by 5.9 per cent but profits to the dairymen dropped to $1.19 for each promotion dollar spent, Jenkins said.

The increased sales in the test area came primarily from promotions aimed at getting more people to drink milk. Increase promotion got an additional 12 per cent of the people over 15 years of age to drink milk on the average day. Over 11,000 personal interviews showed that milk's image was improved by the promotions and that consumer attitudes and milk drinking habits improved, the specialist said.

NEW RESIDENTS

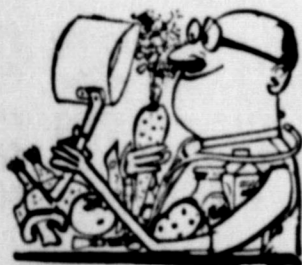

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pierce and family have moved to McLean from Pampa. Pierce is the Southwestern Bell Telephone combination man for the McLean area, replacing Jerry Gilbert, who transferred to Gruber.

Clarence and his wife, Charlene, are former residents of McLean, both attending school here. They have two children.

AVOID STRAY SHOTS WHILE HUNTING

To avoid being hit by stray shots while hunting, the Texas Safety Association advises hunters to keep out of the brush in heavily hunted country. A hilltop also can be especially dangerous. On high ground, stand in front of a tree or rock so that your silhouette won't invite another hunter's bullet.

Mrs. Gladys Stewart was released from Highland General Hospital Wednesday of last week.

Doctor in the Kitchen

WHAT FOODS ARE FATTENING???

If someone were to ask the doctor in the kitchen what foods are fattening, he would have to give her a very peculiar answer. At least, it might seem peculiar, at first glance.

He would tell the lady that all foods are fattening, and no foods are fattening, and she would probably think that he was trying to be funny. And this business of fattening is anything but funny!

It is common in everyday conversation to hear:
"I never touch butter — it's fattening."
"I just love chocolate, but it's so fattening!"
"Sugar in your coffee? My dear, how do you dare — it's SO fattening."

"I eat rice instead of potato, not nearly so fattening, you know."
"Do you realize that one martini is as fattening as a boiled egg?"

Well, doctor in the kitchen, answer those, with your double talk about all foods and no foods fattening — I never heard of such a thing!

It's Puzzling

I'll admit it is a little puzzling. And yet it is true. All foods are fattening, if you eat enough of them. And none are, if you limit your intake. It's just as simple as that.

What it comes down to is that the diet as a whole is what is fattening, or slimming, or maintaining, according to the amount of food taken in the total diet and the amount of energy you expend.

Neither extreme is to be recommended. Each good food has its contribution to make. It is folly to omit basic foods like meat, eggs, fish, cheese, butter, milk, cream, poultry, whole grains or enriched cereals, vegetables and fruits from your diet, or cut them too low for good nutrition.

Find A Combination

The idea is to find a combination that will maintain your weight, and still keep all the four food groups that were described here last week in proper balance. Then, neither your foods nor your diet will be fattening, and you can enjoy good eating, plus the benefits of a nice figure, clothes that fit in sizes easy to buy, feet that carry your normal weight without complaining, and a general feeling of being right with your nutrition and your health, and the world in general.

COTTON GINNING

Only 25 bales have been ginned. This is a record date, Nov. 23, and still no killing frost. Nov. 1 is average date to receive the first killing frost.

A few farmers have defoliated their cotton, which we believe shouldn't have been done. A rule of thumb is to defoliate after at least 80 per cent of the bolls are open and the remaining 20 per cent mature. In this area we should be praying for a late frost instead of defoliating cotton, most years.

T-BONE CLUB MEETING

We ran into John Haynes and others from McLean at a meeting of the Panhandle T-Bone Club last Thursday night in Pampa. This is a club composed of cattle feeders mainly. A most interesting demonstration was presented at this meeting. One-half of a steer carcass was cut into standard retail cuts to show what happens to an animal that starts out as $24 per cwt. on foot.

Here is a breakdown that might surprise you. The animal dresses 60 per cent. In other words, this animal weighed 820 pounds on foot. When it had been butchered, there were only 492 pounds of carcass left. Of these 492 pounds, 67.5 pounds were waste fat, 46 pounds of bone, 27 pounds of T-bone, 39.5 pounds sirloin steak, 33 pounds of club steak, 50 pounds of round steak, 111.5 pounds of roast and 115 pounds of hamburger. Of the dressed carcass, only 71.8 per cent was edible meat. Fat and bone made up 23.1 per cent of the carcass. The high-priced cuts comprise only 20 per cent of the total carcass.

Peacetime Veterans Gain Housing Income

Peacetime veterans have a definite advantage under the Federal Housing Administration Mortgage Insurance for veterans provided by the new Public Law 89-117, but war veterans will benefit more under the GI Loan Guaranty Program, the Veterans Administration said.

Jack Coker, manager of the VA regional office in Waco, said war veterans who still have entitlement for a GI loan are not required to make a down payment. They pay an interest rate of only 5 1/2 per cent with no mortgage insurance premium. They pay no prepayment fee and the VA encourages extensions and or reamortization when needed to help a veteran keep his home.

Under the FHA plan down payments are required on a graduated scale running from none for a loan of up to $15,000 of appraised value to 10 per cent of the next $5,000 and 15 per cent of the next $10,000. The interest rate, like the GI loan, is only 5 1/2 per cent but an additional one-half per cent mortgage insurance premium is required.

However, the peacetime veteran, who is not eligible for the provisions of the GI Loan Guaranty Program, will find he has a definite advantage over the non-veteran under the FHA program, Coker said.

World War II veterans with maximum eligibility will have until July 25, 1967, to take advantage of the GI Loan Guaranty Program. The nearest VA office will be glad to figure out any veteran's remaining eligibility by use of the established formula, the VA manager pointed out.

The formula adds 10 years to the date of the veteran's discharge from active wartime service and then adds one additional year for each three months of service to reach a date that becomes the terminating deadline to entitlement.

Korean conflict veterans with maximum entitlement will have until Jan. 31, 1975, to take advantage of a VA GI loan.

War veterans who have not used their GI entitlement but who have already passed their eligibility deadline will find the FHA mortgage insurance plan to their advantage, Coker said.

Balance Range Forage And Livestock Numbers

Now is the time for ranchmen to take a look at their native grass and determine if there is enough forage to carry the present livestock numbers throughout the winter.

According to G. O. Hoffman, extension range specialist at Texas A and M University, it requires about 2,000 pounds of grass growing in the pasture to furnish sufficient forage for each animal unit per month. A 1,000 pound cow should have about 3 per cent of her body weight per day of dry forage to provide necessary maintenance and reproduction.

Hoffman adds that about one-half of the month's grass supply is needed for the well being of the grass plant. Some of the grass deteriorates during the winter months, which necessitates the feeding of additional roughage to finish out the winter. It is a good practice to feed protein concentrates and other items necessary for the animal's well being, but is usually too expensive to feed roughage.

At this time of the year, the degree of use will be about 55-60 per cent. The 55-60 per cent use follows the advice of using half and leaving half for the well being of the grass plant.

The rancher who does not have enough forage to carry his livestock during the winter without buying forage has several alternatives to choose from. He can reduce livestock numbers, lease grass acreage, buy roughages, or allow the cows to lose excessive weight with the good possibility of a reduced calf crop the next year.

Ranchers are advised to develop a livestock-grazing program that will meet the requirements of the animal and forage plant. Most ranchmen should be able to develop a ranch plan without requiring too much individual assistance, according to Hoffman. He adds, however, that it requires several years after a change in grazing system is made before range improvement can be seen. Range improvement is slow even in wet years. The rancher must develop a plan to compensate for the good and bad years.

Hoffman also reminds ranchers that range fire control becomes an important item as the season draws near for the grasses to become dry as a result of frost. County fire committees need to keep everyone posted and up-to-date.

Brush control should be done by individual plant treatment methods, either mechanical or chemical. Chemical methods should be discontinued until 15 in the northern part of the state, according to Hoffman.

Home Foliage Plants Have Their Problems

Many ailments of house plants, usually attributed to diseases or insects, actually result from the environment in which they are forced to live, says E. E. Janne, extension landscape horticulturist at Texas A and M University.

Some of the more common causes of improper growth of house plants are listed by horticulturist Janne. Burned or brown leaf tips and leaf edges can be caused by exposure to low temperatures; by applying too much fertilizer; allowing the plants to become too dry for short periods or by applying liquid fertilizer to dry soil.

When leaves turn yellow and drop from the plant at the slightest touch, overwatering is usually the cause. Poor drainage, tight soil mixture or keeping the plants too dry over long periods can cause leaves to be smaller than normal. Small leaves and long internodes between them usually result from low light intensities and/or high room temperatures.

The yellowing or dropping of leaves at various stem levels can be caused by overwatering, poor drainage and aeration, chilling or gas fumes in the air. Weak growth, light green or yellowish green foliage may result from too much light, a poor root system or damaged roots.

Many times plants fail to make proper growth regardless of the care or treatment provided. Janne says this may be due to the high salt content of the water available in the area. This condition can be partially overcome, he advises, by providing good soil drainage and overwatering. The excess water will move through the soil and drain into the container below the pot holding the plant. This excess water must be poured from the container after each watering and never be left to evaporate.

Why more motorists switch to the Tiger when it gets cold.

Many cars that ran just fine all summer get into trouble when ear-muff time rolls around—stalling at stoplights and coughing and chugging halfway into town.

That's when a lot of people switch to the Tiger. Winter-formula Enco Extra gasoline is blended to match the weather conditions in your area—including a special additive to help guard against icing. Result: easier starting, faster warm-up and a lot less worry about stalling.

You'll like the way new Enco Extra behaves on the open road, too. It's the High-energy gasoline with the: (1) cleaning power; (2) firing power; (3) octane power to help preserve the performance of new cars and restore lost power and mileage to many older cars.

Switch to the Tiger and get that nice warm feeling. Happy Motoring!

NEWS OF CONSERVATION

By VAN MILLS

George Ingram has completed a stock pond on a place he operates northeast of Pampa.

Lloyd Barrett is in the process of completing a waterway on a place he operates south of Pampa. After the waterway is established to grass, Lloyd plans to construct a diversion and a terrace system. Severe gully erosion has taken place on the land that will be terraced.

Raymond Barrett, Robert and Artie Sailor have completed underground irrigation pipelines on their irrigated places.

A preliminary survey for a diversion terrace was made on the Sullivan farm east of McLean.

Charles Grigsby of Dumas is in the process of putting in 1,100 feet of plastic pipe-line for livestock water on his farm northeast of McLean. The total cost of installing 1-inch plastic line is about 30 cents per foot. In many cases this is a much cheaper way of getting water to another pasture than putting down another windmill. 50 per cent cost-share assistance is available through the Great Plains Conservation Program. Charles plans to seed the entire farm back to grass under this program.

Organic matter serves many purposes in the soil. It supplies nutrients, such as nitrogen and phosphorus; provides a source of energy for soil organisms; improves soil structure; improves soil and water relations, and influences the chemical exchange complex of the soil.

Raymond Barrett, Sailor Bros. and Ray Welch plan to install underground irrigation pipeline. Underground pipeline cuts down on evaporation and seepage caused by open ditches.

Another pond was staked for John Haynes on his ranch north of McLean.

Cecil Seaney has completed some cross fencing on the Stubbs place north of Alanreed.

H. T. Dickens at White Deer has reseeded his waterways to western wheatgrass.

Aaron and Raymond Sullivan plan to establish a dead litter cover on rangeland in poor condition and reseed it to desirable native grasses. They also plan to construct a cross fence, diversion terrace and install a windmill and water storage facility. This farm is located east of McLean and is operated by Word Lowe.

There are several thousand acres of abandoned cropland in Gray County that need to be established to desirable grasses. Up to 80 per cent cost-share assistance is available for establishing this land to desirable grasses.

"I have never seen a dollar invested anywhere in this nation in water conservation, in multiple-use projects, that in a period of even a decade didn't prove that it was a good investment, and would pay very high returns on what we had spent for it. So, this is not the last conservation project that we will approve. It is not the last legislation in this field."—Remarks of President Lyndon B. Johnson upon signing legislation authorizing the Auburn-Folsom South Project, Calif.

TAX SAM SEZ:

Most of us have our income tax taken out of our pay checks, but folks in business for themselves have to file an estimated tax return and pay on a quarterly basis. Taxpayers who operate a business usually know that they have to file an estimated tax return. However, wage earners earning outside income often don't understand that they have to file an estimate.

The Internal Revenue Service has to set up penalties on a lot of these taxpayers every year, because they don't file an estimated tax return. It is a good idea to file an estimated tax return if you owe more tax than your employer withholds.

Thanks be to God Who gives us life,
 Homes warm with love, and friends who care;
 A country beautiful and blest,
 Now rich with harvest everywhere.
 Keep us, dear Lord, and those we love
 Safe under peaceful skies, we pray.
 Guard all those rights we hold so dear—
 In freedom's name to go or stay,
 Voice our opinions without fear,
 In our own ways to worship Thee!
 Now as we lift our hearts in praise
 God help us share abundantly!

THANKS...

BY GIVING!

Just as the Pilgrims, in giving thanks, shared the good things on their first Thanksgiving Day table with others, so you, too, can express your thanks this November by sharing your abundance with the world's needy through the Catholic Bishops' annual Thanksgiving Clothing Campaign. During the Thanksgiving season, bring your serviceable used or unwanted clothing, shoes and bedding to the nearest Catholic church. All articles received will be shipped overseas to the needy, regardless of race, creed or color. This year give thanks by giving.

BE SURE OF TARGET

The Texas Safety Association reminds hunters to be sure of the target before firing. Never shoot at objects seen only distinctly among trees or bushes. Make sure no barn or other building is in the line of fire.

The Texas Safety Association reminds hunters to never climb or jump with a loaded gun. Never pull a gun toward you muzzle first. When going through fences, push your gun ahead, or hand it to a companion with the breech open. And, don't set your gun against a tree or fence. It could fall and discharge.
