The case which resulted in five consecutive mistrials was dismissed by Judge Charles L. Klapproth Tuesday afternoon on motion by District Attorney Cecil Collings.

Collings moved that the case be thrown out after a telephone conversation with Trust Smith, district attorney in Dawson county where the case originated. Smith

Measure To Replace Coal Act Drafted

Labor Provisions Of Invalidated Act Left Out Of Proposal

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—After hours of secret conference, a substitute for the invalidated Guffey coal act was drafted today for immediate introduction to congress. Price fixing constituted the heart of the new measure.

It was placed in the hands of Senator Guffey, author of the original bill.

The measure seeks to regulate the soft coal industry through the constitution's commerce clause, eliminating the labor provisions on which the supreme court based its invalidating decision Monday.

Nine Entered In Showgirl Contest Here

'Miss Big Spring' Will Be Selected By Judges Next Wednesday

A growing entry list focused additional interest on the elimination contest for the title of "Miss Big Spring" a week from today.

Nine girls signified that they would seek the title from this city and the right to compete in the state wide contest at Fort Worth for the title of Texas Sweetheart No. 1 or one of 36 places in Billy Rose's Centennial extravaganza.

The winner here will have her expenses paid to Fort Worth for the judging by Clark Gable, movie idol, on May 30.

Among those entered Wednesday last night "Doc" sponsored by The Herald, Louise Gier, sponsored by the Fashion, and those whose sponsors have not been named: Charlene Fallon, Josephine Edwards, Mary Louise Wood, Bobby Taylor, Dixie Blissard, Inez Knauas, and Wanda McQuain.

The contestants will be measured and weighed in private before appearing publicly in a group at the municipal swimming pool next Wednesday afternoon. Final judging will occur at 8 p. m. the same day at the Ritz theatre with participants appearing in evening dress. Out-of-town judges will make the selection of a winner.

W. R. Bell Is Assessed 4-Year Prison Term

W. R. Bell, former manager of the H. O. Bedford stock exchange which operated here last year, was found guilty of theft by a 70th district court jury Tuesday night and sentenced to serve four years in the state prison.

The jury deliberated seven hours before returning the verdict against the man charged with misapplying money given him by Alvie E. Dolen for investment on the New York or Chicago stock exchange.

Bell's attorneys indicated an appeal would be made. He has yet to face a similar charge of misapplying funds given him by Dolen.

Completion of the NRWR project in Terry county was announced Wednesday by McNew. The job covered the south half of the Brownfield-Sengraves road in Terry county.

McNew also disclosed that library projects in Brownfield, Tahoka, Spangenberg, and Lamesa were suspended this week due to the end of the school terms. Many of the best horses from major tracks of the Southwest were on the grounds.

Attracted by the $1,000 Merchants Handicap, the mile long race which will feature the closing day's program, May 30, thoroughbred owners commonly seen at the nation's biggest meets came to the fast three-quarter mile track to provide a new type of entertainment for this section.

Eight races will be run each day.

MORE THAN 60,000 OIL WELLS IN STATE

AUSTIN, May 20 (UP)—Making up an estimated production schedule to take effect today, the Texas Railroad commission reported to Chairman Ernest O. Thompson of the state railroad commission that Texas has 623 oil wells in 128 counties and a total of 61,073 producing oil wells. Texas produced nearly 40 per cent of the nation's oil in 1935.

HINDENBURG LANDS AFTER SECOND TRIP

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 20. (AP)—The German dirigible Hindenburg landed today, completing its second commercial westward crossing of the Atlantic in 78 hours and 27 minutes, nearly 17 hours slower than the record inaugural trip. Headwinds caused the delay.

The dirigible prepared to start homeward within eight hours.

BUYING TICKETS TO STATE'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Sheriff Jess Slaughter prepares to go to the Texas Centennial exposition in Dallas by buying a book of tickets in advance. The saleslady is Mrs. C. A. General admissions and special show tickets are included in the books, worth $4 and being sold in advance for $2.50.

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—In its first decisive action on the tax bill, the senate finance committee today approved a modified form of the eight per cent "windfall" tax on processors who escaped payment of the old AAA processing taxes.

Presaging the floor battle which awaits the measure if the senate finance committee is able to agree on a compromise and report the measure, Senator Dickinson of Iowa attacked the revenue measure, asserting:

"It is time to stop the oppression of those for whom the government exists—I mean the public."

"Three objections to the measure stand out: (1) its provisions are crude and discriminatory; (2) the philosophy behind it (of forcing payments of earnings of corporations as taxable evidence) is vicious; (3) most important, it is high time to stop the oppression of the public."

He charged the bill showed "favoritism to the strong and well-established at the expense of the weak and struggling."

"The effect, if enacted, will be to permit strong corporations to gobble up the weak business units."

Dickinson's speech came while the senate committee worked out secondary details of revising the house measure.

Some members believed the committee was so sharply divided on the plan that the vote on whether to accept a compromise on the corporate profits tax might be delayed a day or two.

Delay Seen In Adjournment

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—Predictions of congressional adjournment ranging from the June 6 date set by the leaders to as late as July 4 today were sounded in the wake of the supreme court's invalidation of the Guffey coal control act.

Senator Lewis of Illinois, the democratic whip, made the first forecast that congress would still be in session on June 15 and possibly on July 4. Pointing to the court's Guffey decision, Lewis said:

"The adverse action of the court yesterday make it imperative that this congress stay on the job until it has given the country an outline of future legislation for the underprivileged."

PROBE OF RODESSA HOT OIL SITUATION ORDERED BY ICKES

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—Harold L. Ickes' petroleum conservation division, it was learned today, has started a new investigation into the Rodessa, La., "hot oil" situation.

Developments, officials said, might lead to establishment of a federal tender board to curtail the flow of illegal petroleum if the inquiry develops any sizeable production.

Ickes investigated the field two months ago and found that a tender board was not necessary.

Over Million Goes To Match State Money

Gov. Repeats That Payments To Aged Will Start July 1

AUSTIN, May 20. (AP)—Governor Allred was advised today by Orville Carpenter, old age assistance director, that the national social security board had granted the state's request for an allotment of $1,151,250 to match state money for the state's July and August pension payments.

Carpenter announced the action on his return from Washington, where he had gone by plane with Allred Saturday night.

To Needy First

The governor said payment of old age pensions would begin promptly on July 1, but only to those in need. Payments will continue until the state's pension money is exhausted.

"I don't know how far we can go," Allred said. "That depends on how many qualify for the pension. We have more than $1,000,000 on hand now, and I feel confident we will start off with $2,000,000 on hand."

"We keep getting in revenue all along from liquor taxes. That revenue ought to increase before long because license renewals start Sept. 1."

Allred said he could not estimate how long the pension fund would go, until investigations on the subject are completed.

Says Million Received In Pension Plan

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—F. E. Townsend told the house investigating committee today that "in the neighborhood of a million dollars" had been collected by the Townsend pension organization.

His testimony disclosed that Frank Peterson, asserted Townsend pres agent, proposed in January last year that a "million old folks come to Washington and see the president, congressmen and senators." Peterson said in a letter to Townsend officials that "congress would capitulate overnight." The letter added "I expect Dr. Townsend and Father Coughlin to get together in a short time."

Townsend said he knew nothing of plans for a meeting with Coughlin. He said contributors "got out of the organization what they paid for."

Auto Parts Are Recovered

Police Wednesday believed they had smashed a ring of juvenile car accessories thieves with the arrest of a man they described as the "fence" for a group of boys.

They announced the recovery of several stolen articles, such as tools, radiator and hub caps, and other loose car parts.

According to police, the boys had been stealing the materials and hiding them out, marketing just enough daily to go to the show.

Officers indicated that charges would be filed against the man during the day and that subsequently he would be ordered to leave town.

Liquor Monopoly Question First On State Ballot

AUSTIN, May 20. (AP)—The proposed constitutional amendment setting up a state liquor monopoly system will have first place on the ballot among six to be voted on in the November general election.

Hoover Didn't Say He Couldn't Be Drafted, But GOP Likely Won't Try

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—Former President Hoover's announcement that he is not a candidate for republican presidential nomination is sufficiently convincing but leaves him still available for duty if the Cleveland convention should decide to lead off again in 1932. Mr. Hoover did not say he would refuse to be drafted.

But there is no practical likelihood that the GOP will draft Mr. Hoover nor any indication that he expects to be called. His announcement, therefore, does not illuminate the mystery of whom the 1936 republican nominee will be. None of the likely candidates has run out of the race.

Mr. Hoover's failure to foreclose a draft by saying he would not accept the nomination is not interpreted by politicians as indicating any hopeful ambition again to head republican tickets.

Political observers are confident his Chicago statement will pass without the confusion and argument which followed the August 1927 statement of the then President Coolidge that:

"I do not choose to run for president in 1928."

Political leaders accepted the Hoover statement as removing the former president from the field of nominee possibilities.

"I expected it," said Sen. Charles McNary, R., Ore., minority leader of the upper house. "I think he is only interested in principles and Hoover was a candidate."

Sen. L. J. Dickinson, R., Ia., who is a dark horse candidate, himself said:

"If all the rest would withdraw I could be nominated."

Sen. William E. Borah, R., Idaho, an active candidate, and Sen. Frederick Steiwer, R., Ore., convention keynoter and a possible nominee, refused to comment. Democrats uniformly were silent.

The Hoover statement repudiated published reports that he was a party to a stop-London movement which apparently is flourishing among eastern party leaders and there was so sharp a disagreement with Sen. William E. Borah implied in the statement that it appears to some observers that the former president cannot agree with a vital part of the senator's campaign platform. Borah has made an issue against unstructured national convention delegations, contending that they would enable old guard leaders to manipulate the nomination.

Mr. Hoover's statement pointedly caucused the unstructured delegate system.

The Hoover GOP platform, adoption of which appears to be the former president's major immediate objective, has been outlined in

Chapter One
BROKEN ENGAGEMENT

There had never been a woman in the house as long as Dirk could remember. Just he, his brother Rupert, and their father. And now just he and Rupert. Unless, of course, you called Mary, the housekeeper, a woman. In Dirk's rather hazy opinion, Mary was a voice, a black apron, and a bunch of keys. And naturally there were housemaids and laundresses, and 30 or so years ago there had been Dirk's nurse-maids, Genevieve in particular. But there had been no woman in command of this unobtrusive professional.

However, there would be a woman now. Lowrie Wood, with its great stone castle that had overlooked the Hudson from the gloom of oaks and hedged gardens for more than a hundred years, was to have a mistress again. Elmer Fleming's mother had gone at last, and Elmer was due to marry Rupert to whom she had been engaged for six years.

Dirk was glad. Elmer had always seemed to belong to Lowrie. Every fortnight or so she dined there, moving with a fitting queenliness through the beautiful vaulted rooms, or sitting opposite Rupert at the long Flemish table, with the portraits of dead and gone Jorless watching them from the wall.

She sat there tonight. Old Timothy who had been with the family since the days of Dirk's grandfather, had seemed to divine that there was something special in the occasion. The tall silver epergnes in the center of the table, freighted with tangerines and black Ribier grapes, glistened as if with recent polishing. There were fresh candles in the sconces.

The Sports Circuit

SECTIONAL PLAY of the Pictorial Review golf tournament is scheduled tomorrow on a Dallas course Four Big Spring golfers, Miss M. E. Tatum, Harry Stalcup, H. L. Ellis and Theron Hicks, are eligible to compete, but we understand they will not enter. They were the four leaders in qualifying play on the many course two weeks ago. Too bad Mrs. Hicks will be unable to play. In the qualifying round she was really on her game, scoring an 80.

JESS RODGERS, Midland wrestler, was here last night for the wrestling matches. Jess has been spending most of his time lately at the Midland Fair grounds, where the big races are to be held soon, including the Merchant's $1000 handicap to be run on the 20th. The Midland stables are crowded with horses from all sections of the country, and trainers have been in action for several days. Looks like an interesting season at the Midland track.

EDDIE O'SHEA, our old friend the wild Irish grappler, says he's rounding into shape fast and expects to be back on the circuit before long. Eddie made a successful invasion of the East several months ago, but after returning to the southern states he suffered a neck injury that kept him from wrestling for several weeks.

DROP GAME TO COSDEN LAB, 10 TO 4

(By HANK HART) Inability to hit in the pinches plus the hitting power of Roscoe Van Zant cost the Settles Roadrunners their Tuesday night game and second place in the league standings, when they lost to Cosden Lab, 10-4.

The Pirates of Lee's Store had little trouble in copping the second game, overpowering Shell, 11-2, in a wild slugfest duel. Ray McMahon, on the hill for the Roadrunners, pitched steady ball but was in "hot water" in the early innings when his mates hobbled several ground balls. He set the Chemists down with eight hits, but the Settles aggregation got only half as many off the offerings of Van Zant.

Both teams scored in the first stanza. The Labmen scored when Cromwell went around Wallin's ground ball, and Settles scored when Hart went into play territory

Records To Tumble In 500-Mile Grind

By CLAUDE WOLFF INDIANAPOLIS, May 20 (AP)—The daredevil of speed are at it again, more intrepid—if anything—than before, when treacherous bumps on the 2-1-2 mile brick speedway made even the most reckless "let up" at times.

Now that dips, bumps and other hazards have been removed, they are tearing around the course with a view to shattering all records in the annual 500-mile automobile race here May 30. "Any good driver can bend his car around the curves now to average 125 miles an hour," Babe Stapp, the California veteran, says. "The asphalt covering the bricks is as smooth as glass, but it has plenty of tire grip. The wider turns make it possible to handle into them with what I might call cautious abandon. Watch the records fall."

Stapp already has driven a thousand miles on the reconditioned course and knows more about it than any of the 40-odd pilots here preparing for the speed classic. The fastest single lap ever negotiated was by Leon Duray, now retired, eight years ago when he swung a single-seater around at 124 miles per hour.

Record Should Fall Kelly Pettilo, another California driver, expects to see his record for 500 miles—106.240 miles per hour, established last May—bettered with miles to spare. He came out of retirement to try to do it himself.

Pettilo, a hard, reckless driver, has a chance if his car can take it, but he may be only a relief driver. The nation's foremost drivers will compete in the gamble with a death for a part of the $100,000 of cash prizes. The winner usually cashes in to the extent of about $40,000, with a good job advertising some commercial automobile as another reward.

Among them are dependable Louis Meyer, Huntington Park, Calif., winner in 1928 and 1933; Wild Bill Cummings, Indianapolis, the victor in 1934, and Pettilo, Fred Frame, of Los Angeles, who was driving in races when many of the present-day drivers were children, may fasten a helmet on his grey head for another whirl with fate. Then there is up and coming Rex McLaren, who some of the veterans say is the best speedway driver since the days of the flashing, daring, skillful Frank Lockhart. He won the pole position last year and will be after it again this time. Mays is from Glendale, Calif.

Another old-timer of speedway and dirt track, who has been trying for 15 years to win a 500-mile race, plans to tool a good car. He is Phil (Red) Shafer of Des Moines. Shafer does not look his age and he does not drive like it. He will have two cars in the contest.

A couple of men who make their living by deliberately turning over automobiles, jumping them through space, running them through fire, and performing other half-raising stunts, will go after the prize money. They are the veteran Cliff Bergere at Hollywood, and Lucky Teter of Noblesville, Ind. Bergere has established an enviable reputation for long running at the speedway, having finished

BRIGHT SPOTS IN SPORTS

Bounty For Trout SEWARD, Alaska, May 20 (AP)—Fishermen in the states might well wish they were in Alaska at this time of the angling season. Game officials urge fishermen to catch as many predatory trout as they can—and also pay a bounty of 2-1-2 cents for each trout caught. Several anglers have earned as much as $2,000 this season. Trout eradication assures a greater supply of salmon—one of Alaska's most important commercial exports.

From East Coast OSLO, Norway, May 20 (AP)—Ivar Ballangrud, world famous speed skater, who won three Olympic titles at Garmisch-Partenkirchen this year, has been offered $25,000 by an American syndicate to turn professional, it has been announced here.

Pole-Vault Twins PRINCETON, N. J., May 20 (AP)—The sky-scraping pole-vault pair from the University of Southern California, Earle Meadows and William Sefton, hope to break a deadlock at the national A.A.U. championships here July 2-4.

Shock Absorbers EAST LANSING, Mich., May 20 (AP)—Hip lancers will be few and far between at Michigan State college next fall. Football Coach Charley Bachman hopes—and he's done some thinking about it. A new hip protector developed by Bachman was tried in spring practice and found satisfactory. It consists of a series of "rubber doughnuts."

Women Only MADRID, May 20 (AP)—Shyness no longer bars modest señoritas a half dozen races. He never has been making his first bid for racing fame here and will have to prove to a committee of drivers that he has the stuff.

Test For Novices In fact, all newcomers must prove their worth this year, driving ten laps at 80 miles an hour, and increasing speed gradually until they are doing 115. If the committee decides any of them is a hazard to himself and to other racers, he will be ruled out.

Wilbur Shaw, Deacon Litz, Tony Gulotta, Mauri Rose, Frank Brisco, Chet Gardner, Shorty Canton, Lou Moore, Russell Snowberger, and Ralph Hepburn, long participants in the race, will be back. Billy Winn, Ted Horn, Henry Banks, Joe Thorne and Jimmy Snyder, youngsters eager to roar their way to the top flight of speed, are among the challengers.

There are 50 contenders for the 33 starting positions. The field is determined by elimination trials, the 25 showing the best speed under racing conditions for 25 miles getting into the lineup.

The race officials have reduced the amount of gasoline allowed each car to 77.5 gallons. That factor has caused some of the master mechanics trouble, but has not worried as many as first believed.

Joe Develops Into Formidable Fighter

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs tossed a birthday party—cake and everything—for Joe Louis. It was the Brown Bomber's twenty-second anniversary and Jacobs took advantage of the occasion to offer a preview of Louis before he settled down to the serious task of preparing himself for his bout with Max Schmeling in June.

It was a slightly different Joe Louis who peeled off his bathrobe and thumped the big bag while the cameras clicked—a bigger Louis, for one thing. He has gained an inch in height and has added pounds to his weight. He tipped the beam at 216 pounds, giving him about a dozen to work on for the next few weeks. He should come into the ring at around 204 for his bout with the German.

Louis weighed 198 pounds for Max Baer, and scaled 2-1-2 pounds more when he met Paulino. He has been growing steadily, so he should face Schmeling three or four pounds heavier than he was against the durable Paulino.

More impressive than his physical growth is the change in Louis' manner. He is no longer a boy—he has grown up. The boyishness has disappeared and in its place has come the rugged appearance of a fighting man. He looks more formidable than ever.

One thing Joe hasn't lost is his fondness for sleep. Twelve to 14 hours of the 24 he spends pounding the pillows. Nor has he lost his taste for tea cream. One quart a day is his ration, and with warm weather coming on he is likely to demand even more.

Half a dozen sparring partners have been rounded up for the unenviable task of putting Louis in shape. That is, his managers are starting off with half a dozen knowing full well that they will have to add replacements soon after the Bomber's boxing program gets under way. They figure that long ago when Jimmy fought me for the world light heavyweight title I predicted that one day he would be fighting for the heavy-weight crown. He was lucky in getting the chance to fight Baer.

"You can hardly blame me for wishing that I and not Braddock had faced Max Baer that night. I feel certain that I could have taken him. You will, perhaps, recall the shellacking I gave him in Madison Square Garden a couple of years before he won the title. That's why he never gave me another chance."

Tommy also mentioned that Baer's manager approached him after the fight in an effort to get Loughran to give Baer boxing lessons. Tommy felt that Baer was headed for the top and that some day they might meet again, so he wisely refused.

Afghanistan Athletes PESHAWAR, India, May 20 (AP)—For the first time in history Afghanistan will compete in the Olympic games this year. A field hockey team of 15 headed by Prince Mohamed Yusuf, director of agriculture and of the Animal Husbandry Institute at Kabul, will go to Berlin. With them will be a contender for the broad jump and hop, step and jump titles.

"Wrong Season" BERLIN, May 20 (AP)—England will not enter Olympic hockey competitions because, the British say, August is not hockey season.

The International Olympic committee recently refused to allow the postponement of the hockey battles until the regular season which occurs after the Olympics. "Nobody plays hockey during July or August in Britain," the Englishmen declare, so they won't come.

The native team from India is favored to triumph in the sport.

Steer Gridders To Open Season September 18 Away From Home The high school Steer football team carded another game yesterday. George Gentry, high school principal, announced that he had reached an agreement to play Wink at Wink on Sept. 18.

It will be the season's opener for the Steers. The first home game for the Bovines will be with Eastland on the night of Sept. 25. Gentry was unsuccessful in his efforts to get the Wink game here.

The Steers have one more open date, and Gentry is seeking a game with a Class A team. Wink is Class B.

On Pacific Coast Dixie Howell, Alabama's all-America back, is playing baseball with the Portland (Pacific Coast league) club.

A flock of ring notables crowded Louis' camp at Lakewood, N. J., to wish the Bomber "happy birthday." Champion Jimmy Braddock, Tony Cansoner and Tommy Loughran headed the list of fighters present.

Braddock and Louis, who at some future date are likely to meet for the world's championship, posed in a most friendly manner for pictures, causing someone to recall once again that Braddock was indeed lucky to be wearing the purple robes of champion.

"Lucky?" questioned Loughran. "Maybe, to a certain extent, but long ago when Jimmy fought me for the world light heavyweight title I predicted that one day he would be fighting for the heavy-weight crown. He was lucky in getting the chance to fight Baer."

You will, perhaps, recall the shellacking I gave him in Madison Square Garden a couple of years before he won the title. That's why he never gave me another chance."

Tommy also mentioned that Baer's manager approached him after the fight in an effort to get Loughran to give Baer boxing lessons. Tommy felt that Baer was headed for the top and that some day they might meet again, so he wisely refused.

Mother Advised Ailing Daughter To Take CARDUI

Many, many women have taken Cardui on the advice of their mothers who had been helped by it. "I would have severe cramping spells," writes Mrs. F. C. Allen, of Smithdale, Miss. "I would get nauseated, and feel faint and would go to bed. I would be very nervous for two or three days. I was afraid to go away from home, for fear I would faint and fall. My mother, having used Cardui, with good results, advised me to try it. "I am so glad I took Cardui and got relief, for it had done wonders for me."

If you suffer this way, send to the drug store for a bottle of Cardui and begin taking it today. Of course, if Cardui does not benefit YOU, consult a physician—adv.

is any oil any different? You'll finish your trip (but not your engine) with alloyed oil... Lots different! Maybe you've streaked four or five hundred miles since sun-up. In safe places perhaps your speedometer hit "tops." And it was hot enough for you all day. But you're not one of those drivers who lie awake wondering what happened in the engine. It didn't happen if you started out with Germ Processed, the alloyed oil, and there are positive reasons why. The big reason is that alloyed oil goes far beyond plain oil-film protection. It's true that the patented Conoco Germ Process of alloying oil—unlike other "latest methods"—actually steps up film strength tremendously. But alloying does something even greater. It enables oil and metal to UNITE. All surfaces—even the most sensitive bearing surfaces in an engine become completely PLATED with this alloyed oil. It's IN all working surfaces, and then the extra-strong Germ Processed oil-film slides between! Here's a combination only alloyed oil can give you. All you've got to do is to swing in at the sign of the Red Triangle. Continental Oil Company.

Outlines City's Place As 'Laboratory School' In Curriculum Revision Plan

The objects and aims of elementary education and the responsibility of Big Spring as a "laboratory school" in the state's curriculum revision program were outlined to the Lions club Wednesday by Thomas E. Pierce, director of elementary education.

Big Spring, said Pierce, is a representative school of those places from 10,000 to 20,000 population but has in effect a type of program used only by vastly larger places. It is for this reason, said the speaker, that Big Spring has been chosen as a laboratory school.

Between 75 and 80 per cent of all teachers in the Big Spring school system will attend school this summer to prepare themselves better for the instructional demands which will be incumbent upon them under the new program, declared Pierce.

Basic purposes of elementary education, he disclosed, are still reading, writing and figuring. The current trend in education is reconciled to the principle that best work is done when recognition is taken of ability and interest, stated Pierce.

W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of city schools, said that the recognition given Big Spring schools in no little measure was due to the wholehearted cooperation by school teachers and directors. With continued cooperation between instructional and administrative forces and the patrons of the school, he predicted further advances and this will be one of the leading institutions in the new state set-up.

John R. Hutto, scoutmaster of the Lions sponsored Troop No. 7, reported on the troop and of its record in leading all Big Spring troops for two years in the Round Up. He announced plans for presentation of awards.

Plans for the Ladies Night affair were announced. The function will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday at the high school.

Punches Win For Watkins

Rough Sailor Defeats Dick Trout At Wrestling Show

"Sailor" Watkins' lethal punches gave him the first fall in his wrestling match with Dick Trout last night, and he won the third and deciding fall with a crab hold, after battering Trout with his fists and rubbing his eyes with pebbles thrown into the ring by spectators anxious to promote fireworks.

Trout gave only one exhibition of his fancy drop-kicking and slams, but it gave him the second fall. He bounced the sailor against the ropes a few times and then dazed him with a couple of hard slams against the mat.

Hy Shorman, who was good in spots, managed to hold the Black Dragon to a tie. The 45-minute time limit stopped the match after each had recorded a fall. The Dragon appeared to have the edge in strength but Shorman kept him out of the ring a great deal of the time and the Dragon fussed a little with the ringsiders.

The Dragon took the first fall with a Japanese Crab hold, but lost the second when Shorman, after a little clever foot work, managed to get the deadly Indian Stake hold.

Mexican Railway Workers Back On Job After Strike

MEXICO CITY, May 20. (UP)—Workers pulled down red flags, went trudging to work as usual today and a strike involving 48,000 railway workers was over in less than a day.

Services was normal virtually throughout the country.

The government of President Lazaro Cardenas called the strike unjustified immediately after the walkout Monday night and gave the workers 24 hours to return to their jobs. Nearly all responded.

A strike committee vigorously protested the government's verdict but apparently a bulk of the workers took the developments with good grace.

Awards Of Merit To Be Presented To 4-H Winners

Winners in 4-H club work in Howard county will receive awards for merit this year through an arrangement with the chamber of commerce.
