

Bund Is Still Fighting Reds, Kuhn Asserts

German-American Leader Again Before Dies Committee

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Fritz Kuhn told the Dies committee today that his German-American Bund still is fighting communists in this country although it wholly approves the new Russo-German pact.

In Munitions Areas The perspiring leader of the organization made that declaration, amid excited exchanges among the witness, his counsel and committee members, after asserting in response to questions that there was no significance to the fact that a majority of the bund's 71 units were located in the area occupied by 99 per cent of the United States munitions industry.

Rep. Starnes (D-Ala.) proclaimed the outburst when he asked whether the bund is still fighting the communists.

"Mr. Starnes, I'm surprised at you," Kuhn exploded, leaning forward in his seat. "You a congressman and don't know any better than that."

To laughter and the banging of the gavel by Chairman Dies (D-Tex.) Starnes asked whether the bund approved the Russo-German pact. Kuhn replied affirmatively but when Starnes asked on what grounds, the bund leader began excitedly to wave his arms and shout that it would take him 25 minutes to explain that.

The arguments between committee members and the witness' lawyers as to whether Kuhn would be allowed to answer Starnes' question created great racket and confusion.

At length, however, the bulky, blonde bund leader began his explanation of Germany's economic problems.

Cesturing frequently, his forehead glistening, Kuhn declared that Germany was a small country with a large population and no raw materials. The country needed food, he said, and had "begged Britain for years" to remedy this situation but Britain had turned the Germans down.

"Then they came to the United States and asked why you have a boycott," Kuhn said. Thereafter, he said, it seemed logical to him to get needed raw material from Russia.

"That don't mean that I have to take my former enemy's ideology," he blurted.

Rep. Voorhis (D-Calif.) protested that wasn't his understanding of See BUND, Page 6, Col. 4

French Forces Are Forced Out Of All German Territory

Berlin Says Action Halted At Border; No Invasion Made Yet

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (AP)—The army high command announced today that the first phase of the war on the western front ended with complete withdrawal of French troops from German soil and underlined the fact that German forces stopped at the French frontier.

Germany thus took a new tack to let France know she had no quarrel with her neighbor and she described as believing that reserve in pursuing the western campaign would speak louder now than any new peace offer.

Operations on the western front to date were minimized throughout the high command's communique. German tactics from the beginning of the war have been to make sharp distinction between France and Great Britain.

Meanwhile, Dienst Aus Deutschland, commentary which has close relations with the foreign office, once again said today Germany did not intend to make any new peace offers now.

"Hitler's reichstag speech contained everything that could be said by Germany regarding readi-

To End Debate On Neutrality This Weekend

Amendments To Be Taken Up By The Senate Monday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Senate leaders agreed informally today to wind up the wide-open debate on the neutrality bill this week and begin consideration of amendments Monday.

Both Sides Agree Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the administration leader, and Senator Nye (R-ND), one of the leaders opposing the administration legislation, both reported this would be the procedure.

Meanwhile, seven opposition senators, meeting in the office of Senator Johnson (R-Calif.) discussed the possibility of offering united resistance to a proposed relaxation of shipping control provisions in the "cash and carry" section of the bill.

Heretofore the opposition has concerned itself almost solely with fighting repeal of the arms embargo.

A suggestion that President Roosevelt try immediately to bring about a European peace conference came, meanwhile, from Senators Wheeler (D-Mont) and Lundeen (W-Minn), but Senator Morris (Ind-Rep.) declared such a step "would be useless."

Wheeler and Lundeen, foes of the administration neutrality bill, told reporters the present was an opportune time for Mr. Roosevelt to make a peace bid. They argued that peace would be virtually impossible if hostilities were intensified.

Norris, supporter of the administration bill and the only present senator who cast a senate vote against America's entry into the world war, said:

"Any fair judge at a peace conference would have to say to Hitler: 'Give Poland and Czechoslovakia back to their peoples.' If Hitler were sincere, he would consider such a proposal, but I wouldn't take his word for anything on earth and I don't believe he would even think of it."

"It would be fine for the president to suggest peace on those terms if Hitler would consider it, but he wouldn't, and it would be a useless step to ask him to."

Wheeler took this position: "Mr. Hitler is saying that he wants peace. Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Daladier are saying that they want peace. It seems to me that the president could very well say to Mr. Hitler: 'If you want peace, will you make peace and at the conference table let the question of Poland and Czechoslovakia be decided?'"

"If the answer were affirmative, he could say to Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Daladier: 'Mr. Hitler will consent to a peace in which the integrity of Poland and Czechoslovakia is to be considered. Will you consider a revamping of the Versailles treaty?'"

HITLER ANNOUNCES FORMAL ANNEXATION OF POLISH AREAS

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (AP)—Adolf Hitler today announced the formal annexation of Pomorze, Pomerellen and Polish Upper Silesia, conquered Polish provinces, to his expanding Reich.

Two new laws, or administrative decrees, were created by his decree, signed October 8 and published today. These are West Prussia and Posen.

For each gau one reichsstatthalter, or governor, will be appointed by the fuesher.

The seat of the West Prussian governor will be Danzig, the one-time free city which Hitler incorporated in Germany on September 1, when his armies marched into Poland.

CONTRABAND LONDON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The British contraband control announced today it had detained 238,000 tons of contraband goods destined for Germany in the first six weeks of the war.

Another payment on cotton subsidies owing Howard county Thursday virtually cleaned up the outstanding revenue due producers from this source.

The 35 checks received in the amount of $1,638.96 pushed the total amount paid $140,000 and within less than $5,000 of the amount expected from this source.

ELECTRIC STRIKE IN MEXICO CONTINUES MEXICO CITY, Oct. 19 (AP)—An electrical strike affecting five Mexican states, which has paralyzed Mexico's most important industrial centers today entered its fifth day with no apparent solution in sight.

A federal board ruled the strike legal and supported workers' demands. The electrical union demands an increase in wages.

ARRIVES TONIGHT

Gene Autry, the singing cowboy who tops 'em all in popularity and boxoffice intake, will be a Big Spring visitor this weekend, making personal appearances Friday and Saturday at each show at the Bits theatre. The Autry appearance is a climactic feature of the local B&E 30th anniversary celebration. Autry, who was in New York for a radio program Wednesday night, arrives here on the American Airlines plane from the east at 7:35 this evening.

Neutrality Is Pledged At Stockholm

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 19 (AP)—Finland's president and the kings of Sweden, Norway and Denmark agreed today "through close collaboration to adhere to complete neutrality."

The northern government heads also reaffirmed their willingness "to act for the cause of reconciliation" in the European war, in an official communique issued on the results of their two-day conference ending this afternoon.

No specific mention of any support for Finland in her negotiations with Soviet Russia was made in the communique.

"The northern governments recall their willingness to act for the cause of reconciliation x x x They will with deepest satisfaction greet every sign of any possibility for an understanding between belligerent powers x x x."

As the conference ended, the three kings and Finland's chief executive expressed appreciation of the support given by President Roosevelt and Latin American states.

"The communique said the government of Sweden is discharging its duty by commission

AUSTIN, Oct. 19 (AP)—Olin Culbertson, director of the gas utilities division of the railroad commission since 1933, disclosed today he had been "discharged" by a majority of the commission.

An order of the commission, signed by Chairman Lon A. Smith and Jerry Sadler, member, informed Culbertson his services would be dispensed with effective November 1. Third member of the commission is Ernest O. Thompson.

Culbertson said in a written statement his discharge was in itself of no importance but should serve to demonstrate the need for removing utility regulation from politics.

It also should be an indication of the urgent need for constant vigilance in protecting interests of the consuming public, the statement said.

"This is essential if these great privileged interests are to be kept within reasonable bounds," Culbertson said.

His experiences with the "giant utility interests" for five years, he declared, had convinced him a state utility regulatory commission, with authority to protect the public from unjust utility aggressions and with adequate safeguards against political interference, should be created.

Gas utilities now are regulated by the railroad commission, but there long has been sentiment in the legislature for placing regulation of gas utility rates, oil and other natural resources under another body, which would be appointed by the governor.

Allies And Turkey Join In A Mutual Assistance Pact; Bulgarian Cabinet Resigns

Govt. Friendly To Soviet May Take Control More Definite Policy To Be Followed By Balkan State

SOFIA, Oct. 19 (AP)—Premier George Kiosseivanoff and his cabinet, who had pursued a mildly pro-German policy, resigned today as Bulgaria swung toward closer cooperation with Soviet Russia.

Moscow Link? It was considered probable Stefan Mihailoff, a deputy regarded as friendly to Moscow, would be designated by King Boris III to form a new cabinet.

Kiosseivanoff, a close friend of the king, had been premier, and foreign minister since his cabinet was reconstructed Nov. 14, 1938.

Under his guidance Bulgaria has won the right to rearm, debarred by World war treaties, and has signed friendship treaties with Yugoslavia and Turkey.

Partition of Poland and Russia's emergence to new dominance in southeast Europe has changed the Balkan picture, however.

Kiosseivanoff presented the resignations of the ministers collectively to King Boris III.

The resignation opens the way for formation of a government with a more definite policy in the face of the present tense situation in southeastern Europe.

(That region has been disturbed by the re-emergence of Soviet Russia, Bulgaria's friend, as an active factor in the affairs of eastern Europe, including the Balkans.)

The cabinet crisis came as Bulgarian troops stood guard along the frontiers with Turkey and Rumania, both of which have received pledges of military aid from the British-French bloc.

It was indicated new troops might be called to the colors, giving Bulgaria nearly 500,000 men under arms.

INTO ESTONIA MOSCOW, Oct. 19 (AP)—Picketed Soviet troops, well versed in Russian communist ideology, proceeded on schedule through Estonia today to occupy military bases granted by the little Baltic nation to her huge eastern neighbor.

Dispatches by Tass, the official Russian news agency, from Tallinn said the soldiers were received "in a friendly manner" when they started their march yesterday.

Soviet newspapers reported movie films, literature and linotype machines were being taken along with the army of occupation as well as the best military machinery to impress the Estonians with the efficiency of the Red army.

FRIDAY DEADLINE ON REA SIGNUP

Friday is the deadline for signing members in the Howard-Martin county Rural Electrification Authority set-up, according to a ruling by the directors.

Ten days ago when the deadline was established, Riggs Sheppard, Courtney, co-ordinator of the project, said that 287 had signed and posted their $5 deposit and membership fee.

More than 300 members were assured, but how many more was a matter of conjecture. Directors previously had considered prospects good for $50.

After a final check is made, directors may revise tentative planned lines so as to serve the most people with the least possible miles of lines. The engineer will be authorized to make application to Washington for an allotment.

WAGE-HOUR HEAD

Col. Philip Fleming was named wage-hour administrator, succeeding Elmer F. Andrews, resigned. Colonel Fleming, district engineer for the army at St. Paul, is shown in St. Louis, where he was attending a meeting when appointed.

Cites Menace Of Federal Oil Control

FORT WORTH, Oct. 19 (AP)—The day of the independent oil operator will pass "if ever the blight of federal control is imposed on the oil industry," Gov. Leon C. Phillips of Oklahoma declared today.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Independent Petroleum Association of America, the red-haired governor predicted federal control would mean "further centralization of power in the federal government and a corresponding surrender of individual liberties."

He criticized the control bill introduced in congress by Rep. Cole (D-Md.), as "dictatorial," and asserted it would set up an appointive commissioner "with despotic powers."

"I do not believe in vesting such unusual powers in an appointive federal official," Phillips said. "Such power if exercised should be kept nearer home. Elective state officials are more responsive to the will of the people."

The governor pointed out that major oil states had joined in a compact to correlate conservation activities, and asserted the states "are getting the job done."

"I do not believe," he added, "that there is any necessity for the federal government to undertake to do that which the states are doing and have demonstrated they are able to do; namely, prevent avoidable waste in the production of oil."

Federal control, he declared, would result in duplication of the states' efforts, and through variations in rules, might cause oil men to "experience difficulty in faithfully serving two masters."

Eastern State Has Rejected Soviet Deal

Would Stay Neutral, However, If Russia And Others Fought

ANKARA, Turkey, Oct. 19 (AP)—Turkey, key power of the eastern Mediterranean, signed a mutual assistance pact with Britain and France here at 6:15 p. m. (10:15 a. m. CST) today.

Neutral Clause The treaty was the outcome of British-Turkish and French-Turkish undertakings earlier this year to assist each other "in the event of an act of aggression leading to war in the Mediterranean area."

It contained a clause permitting Turkey to remain neutral in event of a war among France, Great Britain and Soviet Russia.

Signature of the treaty took place in the presence of General Maxime Weygand, commander in chief of French forces in the eastern Mediterranean, and Lieut-Gen. Archibald P. Wavell, British middle east commander.

The pact contained the same terms as had been agreed upon the end of last month before Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu went to Moscow for the negotiations which finally ended in failure this week.

Any pressure Soviet Russia may have brought on Turkey to alter her relations with the two western powers therefore was fruitless.

The treaty contains economic as well as military clauses. Ratification by the Turkish parliament was expected almost immediately.

Meanwhile Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey, was reported to have been summoned back to Berlin by his government.

Intensification of Turkey's military preparations, diplomatic observers said, tended to confirm a belief that the allies already have promised extensive help from Asia and Africa in event of an emergency.

INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT MAY REACH PEAK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The bureau of agricultural economics predicted today that American industrial production, spurred by the war and a "sharp" increase in domestic orders, might attain a rate late this year equal to that of the peak of 1929.

Coupled with this prediction, however, was a statement that a recession might follow some time during the first half of 1940.

Red Cross Maps An Intensive Drive To Start On Nov. 7th

A whirlwind drive, in which it is hoped to contact all citizens in the two counties in three or four days time, was mapped by directors of the Howard-Glasscock Red Cross chapter as they met Wednesday afternoon to formulate plans for the organization's annual Roll Call.

The directors heard a report from the Roll Call Chairman, J. H. Greene, approved a setup for a membership canvas and approved expenditure of funds necessary for the undertaking. Miss Mabel Robinson was engaged as executive secretary for the campaign, and will be in charge of headquarters on the Settles hotel mezzanine.

Start of the campaign was set for Nov. 7. The national Roll Call nominally opens on Armistice Day, but was decided to make the drive early here to avoid conflict with holidays. Leaders hope the books can be closed with "Success" stamped on the cover by Nov. 11.

For the Big Spring part of the enrollment the city, as it was last year, has been districted into sections, with designated workers responsible for each area. It will require some 300 workers, but those in charge of the drive said Wednesday that this corps of volunteers can be obtained. In addition, special captains were named to direct the drive in the downtown district. These include D. D. Douglass, Dan Hodson, Marie Stewart, Albert Fisher, Mrs. Harvey Williamson, Nell Hatch, Monroe Johnson and Fat Kenney.

The districting is a plan adopted last year by Mrs. Mary Delbridge who directed the 1938 Roll Call, and operated so successfully that it has been commended for use by the national Red Cross chapter. Shine Phillips, local chapter chairman, presided at Wednesday's meeting, and reminded workers of the need for increased funds this year. "The war and its refugee problem means greater demands on the Red Cross," he said, "and these are demands which must be met. In addition, there remains the problem of carrying on our program of help and training at home, a problem which seems to grow each year. We need support this year as never before."

A federal board ruled the strike legal and supported workers' demands. The electrical union demands an increase in wages.

The strike was declared Saturday against three companies, subsidiaries of Electric Bond and Share, and affects the states of Veracruz, Puebla, Tlaxcala, Hidalgo and Mexico. Since Saturday towns in these states have been without lights and power.

Many Homemaking Topics To Be Discussed At Cooking School

The old adage, "All women are born cooks," is a fallacy today... for to be a cook is not enough. Homemakers must have a knowledge of food, its relation to health, and the proper way to prepare it. This knowledge takes years of specialized study and training which usually is never acquired by the majority of women. For this reason The Herald is presenting the Happy Kitchen Cooking school at the city auditorium next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 23-25, with Mrs. Arreva D. French, noted economist in charge.

There is an art in marketing today and there are many things the housekeeper doesn't have time to learn about. This is just one of the subjects that Mrs. French will discuss.

Ways to prepare a meal from left-overs, how to stay within the budget, and short cuts to cooking will be discussed. Complete menus will be given to tell the type of food that makes for balanced menus during certain seasons of the year.

Another topic to be considered at the cooking school is the proper way of serving, whether it is a home meal or a party. The audience will be privileged to ask each day the question that interests them most and Mrs. French will supply the answer with the knowledge gained from specialization in these homemaking fields.

Two Dead And One Wounded In Shootings

FALLS CITY, Neb., Oct. 19 (AP)—Guy Kieckinger, 54, whose shotgun blast killed his daughter's former sweetheart in a gun battle shortly before midnight, died at a hospital here today from two bullet wounds in his body.

By her former fugitive lover a physician despaired of her life. As County Attorney John H. Wilites related the midnight gun battle, Ralph Asendorf, 30, son of a Falls City policeman and a fugitive from robbery charges, broke into a home where Miss Kieckinger was watching a neighbor's children. She fled screaming to the street and witnesses told Wilites they saw Asendorf's .32 caliber revolver blaze at her.

he discharged both barrels of his shotgun at close range, striking Asendorf's chest. Asendorf reeled into the street and died. A few minutes later, City Policeman Ralph Asendorf, the young fugitive's father, came in response to neighbor's calls, but they sent him away without telling him his son had been killed. Wilites said Asendorf had threatened previously to kill the girl, vowing no one else would have her if he could not.

To Increase Army Force

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The war department has made detailed plans, authoritative sources reported today, for an increase of 148,000 men in the nation's land forces. Under recommendations submitted to President Roosevelt, congress would be asked at the January session for funds for a regular army of 250,000 and a national guard of 320,000. It would be asked to provide weapons and supplies for still larger forces. The reinforced regulars and guardsmen would represent a combined force of 600,000. From house appropriations committee members have come predictions that from $850,000,000 to $1,250,000,000 would be sought for the army, aside from deficiency appropriations to pay the cost of increases ordered by Mr. Roosevelt in proclaiming a limited national emergency. The regular army already is being increased by 17,000 to a new record peacetime total of 237,000. The national guard is fast being expanded by 45,000 to a new strength of 282,000. Under plans announced by Secretary Woodring, the 55,000 additional regular army recruits will be enrolled quickly, and housed and trained in barracks located by some 70,000 troops of five "streamlined" divisions. The latter will be shifted shortly to southern and western posts for mass training this winter.

Joseph Daniels returning by air today after an extended visit in Washington, reports persisted that a settlement was near in the Mexican government's expropriation of foreign oil companies. The ambassador said when he left here September 23 that "there's better hope" than ever for a settlement. Reports from Washington said that Patrick Hurley, counsel for the Sinclair Oil company, already had resumed conferences there with the Mexican ambassador, Francisco Castillo Najera.

The highway department spends more than $35,000,000 annually for construction and maintenance of Texas roads and bridges.

MEDICAL SCHOOL OF 'WEST POINT' TYPE IS PROPOSED

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19 (AP)—A school similar to West Point or Annapolis to train young doctors in fighting disease was proposed today before the American Public Health association. One of the country's outstanding physicians, Dr. Alan Gregg, director of medical sciences of the Rockefeller Foundation, told the association's 3,000 members meeting here that the use of government money to operate such a "West Point of health" would enable many poor but capable young men to obtain a medical education and enter the battle against disease.

AIR FORCE FUNDS PARIS, Oct. 19 (AP)—France appropriated $4,421,000,000 francs (about $791,000,000) today for air force equipment.

Even The Ham Sandwich Is Changed In This Modern Day Of Progress

By MARTHA LOGAN Have you heard the story of the ham sandwich that turned over and became a hamwich? Or the recipe story about the pork chop baked in casserole harmony with onions and potatoes? If you are one of those who can imagine the taste of flavor combinations and are really fond of good food, perhaps you'll enjoy doing some culinary venturing. Who originated the recipes you use? That would be a hard question to answer because most of us have built up a collection, written or remembered, from mother and aunts, cook books and recipe files, newspaper and magazine columns, advertisements and box tops. Then sometimes the leftovers in the refrigerator, the call for a deservo or a quick bread when the supplies are low, or the sight of some new or tempting food in the market prompts us to exploration and invention. The success score for such adventuring depends on our understanding of the basic principles back of our tried and true recipes. Some people call it "luck," but common-sense plus an epicurean imagination play a role not to be overlooked.

For those of you who enjoy something a little different, the following recipes may prove worth trying:

Hamwiches Ham sandwiches have long been an American favorite for lunches, picnics, snacks and family suppers. Hot or cold sliced ham with mustard flavored butter on plain or toasted bread prove most popular. Ground ham, horseradish and salad dressing is another favorite. For a different ham sandwich, try hamwiches. Use day-old bread. Spread generously with ground ham, seasoned with mustard and mixed with a little creamed butter. Roll up into a tight roll. Secure with toothpicks. Dip into beaten egg diluted with a little milk. Fry in melted butter until well browned on all sides. If desired, a little grated sharp cheese may be mixed with the ham.

Fork Chop Casserole Have pork chops cut 1 inch thick. Brown well in heavy frying pan. Cut 2 peeled onions into 1-2 inch rings and cover chops. Pare and slice 3 to 4 potatoes in 1-2 inch slices. Cover over onions. To 2 cups hot water add 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons Wopcup, and 1 teaspoon prepared mustard. Pour over chops and vegetables. Cover closely. Bake in a moderate oven about 1 1/2 hours.

Homemade Chop Suet 1 lb. lean pork 1 onion 1 cup chopped celery Salt, pepper Chop suet sauce 1 cup rice Cut pork into 1-4 inch strips. Brown well. Dice onion and brown with pork. Add celery, seasoning, and 1 cup hot water. Cover. Simmer 30 minutes, adding water as needed. Wash rice well and cook in 2 quarts of water about 15 minutes. Drain, rinse in water and steam 5 minutes. Season pork with chop suet sauce or Worcestershire and meat sauce. Serve with hot rice.

Mexican Flank Steak Flank steak Seasonings Flour 1-4 cup lard 1 large onion 1 cup soaked red or navy beans 3 cups canned tomatoes Cut flank steak into 1-inch cubes. Season and dredge with flour. Brown in hot lard. Dice and brown onion in the lard. Pour beans over the steak. Add tomatoes. Season with chili or red pepper if desired. Cover closely. Cook 2 hours or until beans are thoroughly cooked. This may be made early and reheated at serving time.

Chopped Steak Fillet Form seasoned ground round steak into flat patties 1 inch thick. Lap a slice of bacon around the edge of each patty. Fasten with a toothpick. Brown on both sides, then bake in a hot oven (500 degrees F.) until the bacon is crisp—about 10 minutes. Season and spread with lemon-flavored butter, with or without chopped parsley. Serve hot with hashed brown potatoes.

NET INCOME UP CLEVELAND, Oct. 19 (AP)—Erie railroad reported its September net operating income today as $1,599,171 against $451,876 in September, 1938. The nine months net was $7,186,583 against $22,386 the same period last year.

Rice Milling Firms Facing Trust Charges

AUSTIN, Oct. 19 (AP)—The attorney general's department today filed anti-trust suits against 11 rice milling companies in district court here.

The suit which Attorney General Mann said named all of the rice milling companies operating in Texas, charged the defendants in an effort to control the price paid farmers for their rice crop "entered into a conspiracy and formed a trust combination of their capital, skill and acts to create restriction in trade and commerce and aids to commerce and in the preparation for market and transportation and to create and carry out restrictions in the free pursuit of purchasing, milling and marketing the crop within Texas."

Penalties of from $50 to $1,500 per day from July 1, 1938, were sought in addition to an injunction restraining the defendants from carrying out agreements, conspiracies, trust and combinations alleged in the petition.

Defendants were: Beaumont Rice Mills, Beaumont; Bay City Rice Mills, Inc., Bay City; Fritchard Rice Milling company, Houston; Pfeffer Rice Milling company, Inc., Houston; Standard Rice company, Inc., Houston; El Campo Rice Milling company, El Campo; Texas Rice Milling company, Galveston; Comet Rice Mills, Beaumont; W. M. Lovins, Sr., W. M. Lovins, Jr., and R. L. Williams, co-partners doing business as the Gulf Coast Rice Mills, Houston; Adolphus Rice Milling company, Houston; Tyrrell Rice Milling company, Beaumont.

The petition alleged the defendants entered agreements refusing to purchase rice from persons, firms, corporations and associations and also boycotted and threatened to refuse to buy when producers declined to accept the first and highest bid made by defendants.

The suit was based, Mann said, on a recent investigation by members of his staff. One allegation was that buyers of the milling companies agreed with each other as to the price which each should bid on rice offered at auctions at warehouses.

DOUBT VALUE OF WAR COMMERCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Many American manufacturers are somewhat skeptical of the benefits that might come from a trade in war materials.

That is the seasoned opinion of men who make a business of studying the views of business men. It is not based on an opposition to lifting the embargo against arms sales, on which views are divided, but it is rooted in the desire for a stable trade which will remain after the war has gone.

Trade associations are warning manufacturers against any unwarranted over-expansion in the expectation of a huge war trade. Big manufacturers are urging a pull for permanent prosperity rather than a sudden ballooning to an after war fall.

AN ANALYSIS OF THE WAR DEVELOPMENTS

By DEWITT MACHENZIE

Turkey's military rejection of Russia's demands, which observers generally regard as calculated to give the Soviet control of southeastern Europe, is likely to have a vital bearing on the trend of the war.

It's been long since the Turk got really tough, but he certainly gave a striking display of old-time independence in defying the might of Moscow.

This development marks at least a temporary swing of vast importance toward the side of the Anglo-French allies.

By the same token it is regarded in London and Paris as a bad blow to the Nazis.

It means that the onrushing flood of Soviet influence has struck a barrier in the lower Balkans.

It may easily preclude the rise of Turkey again to a commanding position in the Balkans and Near East—a Turkey which once could call the Balkan peninsula a possession, and was pretty much lord of all it surveyed.

Women Charged With Poisoning Three Kinsmen

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 14 (AP)—Mrs. Bertie Wrather, middle-aged wife of a mattress manufacturer and active in church circles, was held today without bond on charges of poisoning her son, a brother-in-law and a father-in-law.

Her arrest yesterday culminated an investigation that began two months ago, Attorney General J. Carlton Loser said, with the death of Enoch B. Wrather, Jr., an only son.

Calmly, Mrs. Wrather pleaded innocent a few hours after her arrest and was sent to jail without bond to await action by the county grand jury.

An autopsy performed on young Wrather by Dr. W. J. Core, county autopsy physician, "disclosed a poison present" in the body, Loser declared. The warrant also charged the woman with the deaths of Richard Wrather, 50, a brother-in-law who died last year, and Andrew Johnson Wrather, 80, her father-in-law, who died in 1938.

The attorney general said "some insurance was involved in the boy's death, and there were some estates in the other two cases."

NEWSPAPERMAN IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

MCKINNEY, Oct. 19 (AP)—Walter E. Wilson, 70, prominent North Texas newspaperman and long an executive of the Texas Press association, died here early today. He had been in ill health for a year.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 3 p. m. at the First Methodist church. Burial will be at Pecan Grove cemetery.

Wilson, a native of Murphysboro, Ill., came to Texas with two brothers when 18 years old. He completed his education here and immediately went into the newspaper business. His business partner was former mayor and Senator Tom W. Perkins of McKinney.

Wilson was active in many civic enterprises, lodge affairs and was former commander and member of the Henry A. Wiley camp, Spanish-American War Veterans.

Because of his health he resigned several months ago the postmastership to which he was appointed in 1934.

REPORT GIVEN ON STOCKING-OF GAME

AUSTIN, Oct. 19 (AP)—To keep Texas fields and streams first in the minds of the sportsmen, the state game department lists these activities in a report for the fiscal year ended last Aug. 31:

More than 28,000 bob white quail distributed to sportsmen and landowners, compared with 14,075 for 1937-38.

More than 500 wild turkey and 194 white-tailed deer stocked in depleted areas of his health he resigned several months ago the postmastership to which he was appointed in 1934.

A 20.7 per cent increase in production of fish hatcheries which yielded 3,429,592 finny species for stocking lakes and streams.

Texas remains first in wildlife resources, the report said, but is 23rd among the states in expenditures for conservation and restoration.

SEEK NEW CONTRACT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19 (AP)—Wayne L. Morse's acceptance of re-appointment as federal arbitrator spurred efforts today to negotiate a new coast-wide waterfront contract to replace that which expired three weeks ago.

Morse, dean of the University of Oregon law school, resigned two weeks ago when union leaders failed to withdraw a picket line in accordance with his decision. Subsequently, however, the pickets were removed and both sides had since urged Morse's return.

ECONOMY

LONDON, Oct. 19 (AP)—War economy hit the sport of racing today. The Aga Khan, wealthy Indian potentate and the British turf's most spectacular patron, announced he planned to reduce his stable, valued at nearly $2,000,000.

JEALOUSY MOTIVE IN DOUBLE SHOOTING

DENVER, Oct. 19 (AP)—The fatal shooting of a 30-year-old Denver stenographer and her suitor in a niche beside St. John's Episcopal cathedral was attributed by Deputy Coroner Gus Economy today to the woman's jealousy of "a certain girl."

Economy said Mrs. Albert Kasper, who came here a year ago from Las Vegas, N. M., shot William O. Taylor, 37-year-old WPA worker, through the head and then fired a shot into her own head last night. A pistol was found resting on the woman's arm.

In Mrs. Kasper's purse was found an envelope addressed to Mrs. Robert Kasper of Las Vegas and containing notes addressed to "Dearest Mommie" and "Dearest Bobbie."

TOO MUCH EXERCISE MAY BE HARMFUL

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (AP)—Beware of exercise, the American Medical association's health magazine, Hygiene, warned today.

Excessive exercise, it said, has become a fad which has not only harmed the health of many Americans but has even contributed to premature breakdowns.

This view was taken by Dr. Henry A. Christian, of Brookline, Mass. He said that most harmful of all is "periodic, irregular, vigorous exercise."

CHINA PLANNING A COUNTER OFFENSIVE

BHANGHAI, Oct. 19 (AP)—China, engaged for two years in stubborn retreat with the Japanese invaders, soon will launch a big-scale counter-offensive under Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek's personal direction in Hupeh, Hunan and Kiangsi provinces, Chinese press dispatches said today.

close on the suspension of negotiations between Turkey and Soviet Russia...

The text of the treaty is to be issued as a white paper immediately after the signature...

The pact, informed sources believed, would be in the form of a single treaty binding the three countries...

Britain and France each then agreed with Turkey to "conclude a definitive long-term agreement...

British circles indicated the mutual assistance treaty would be regarded by Britain as good "insurance" against extension of German influence...

Turkey's signature, it was said, would not preclude her from resuming negotiations with Russia...

British diplomatic observers and virtually the entire press contended German diplomacy was the main loser in the suspension of talks...

In some quarters it was regarded as a "waxing of the Dardanelles" from the British and French front...

Although these sources considered it also a defeat for the Soviet Union, they contracted the expressions of continued friendliness between Turkey and Russia...

These sources professed not to be worried over the breaking off of the Moscow talks between the Turkish foreign minister and Russian leaders...

In other sectors of the western front, the communique said, there was only local artillery and patrol activity.

Contact with the enemy in several places was broken, it was added, because German troops did not cross the border following up the French withdrawal.

The whole tone of the communique was to minimize the scope of the war to date—in size of engagements, in territory involved and in casualties—and to emphasize in effect that the front lines now were the peace-time boundaries.

What war there had been on the western front it laid to French initiative.

The communique gave German losses in the west from the beginning to last Tuesday as 196 dead, 356 wounded and 114 missing.

It listed prisoners taken as 25 French officers and 664 non-commissioned officers and men.

Eleven airplanes were lost on the western front, it said, while a total of 69 enemy planes were shot down—48 French and 12 British.

The high command declared that the initial phase of the war, which, it said, was "provoked by French initiative," had not produced any "serious fighting" at any point in the west.

Summing up developments in the campaign to date, the communique added:

"The purely local fighting took place in a flat stretch near the French border in front of our west wall. With one single exception on either side, only small detachments, mostly weaker than one company, participated in these encounters."

Artillery fire to date was described as light, and limited to support of minor actions except for "nuisance fire" against advanced German fortifications."

FORMER PASTOR IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Rev. W. G. Bailey, Albuquerque, N. M., former pastor of the First Methodist church here, was reported in a serious condition at El Paso Thursday from effects of a heart attack suffered Wednesday.

TWO NEW OFFICERS ADDED TO CITY FORCE

Two officers have been commissioned as policemen by the city commission, it was announced Thursday.

They are E. J. Cass, who has been serving for the past six months in a temporary capacity and who was given full commission, and Jack Neal, former state highway patrolman and for seven years a member of the Fort Worth police department.

Granting of commissions to the men brings the total of the police department to 13, including two police radio operators.

FRIDAY 13TH STORY

City police said Thursday that an O'Donnell man jailed for drunken indignities complained that his trouble started on Friday 13th. "I got married then," he said. "It was my first time to get married and this is my first time to get in jail."

Tax Payments Running High

In the largest single day's business on record, a total of $32,441.86 in current tax payments was received in the main Thursday, County Tax Collector John P. Wolcott announced.

Receipt of the payments boosted the collections during the first 19 days of the taxpaying season to an estimated $60,000 or better, more than was received during October, November and December of last year, according to Wolcott.

Included in the payments Thursday was around $11,900 by the Texas and Pacific Railway company, largest single taxpayer in Howard county; approximately $10,000 by the Continental Oil company and its branches, second largest taxpayer; around $5,000 by Sinclair; and several other oil concerns in lesser amounts.

Approximately $1,000 in discounts were earned by the companies by payment Thursday since the county approved a three per cent discount for all October payments of current taxes.

Wolcott urged others who wish to take advantage of the discount to submit payments not later than Oct. 31. November payments merit a two per cent discount and those in December one per cent.

ements would continue to collaborate and will follow "their policies which were successfully followed in 1914-1918."

Finland's dangerous situation, due to demands from Soviet Russia in line with the latter's Baltic expansion, formed the theme of Finnish President Kyoesti Kallio's broadcast.

"A powerful neighbor (Russia) has put forward for solution questions of a very serious character, and Finland feels grateful for the diplomatic support received from others in this connection," President Kallio said.

"I trust that God will hold His protecting hand over the peace-loving people of Finland and hope that our neighbor in the east will respect our integrity and freedom and refrain from making demands which are unacceptable," Kallio said.

GIRLS ARRESTED AS ESCORTS LEAVE 'EM

It's the woman who pays, or so vowed two Houston girls Thursday. Stopping here overnight with their families, they told officers they left on the guise of attending a show, picked up two boys and started making the rounds.

Officers first were called when an excited operator of a place on E. 3rd street complained two couples shot up his place.

Police subsequently arrested the girls in the city park, with Gene Autry cap pistols. The boys had fled when the going got rough.

LAND USE GROUP TO MEET FRIDAY

A meeting of the Vincent land use planning committee has been set for Friday evening.

The session is one postponed from last week due to conflicting engagements. County Agent O. P. Griffin, who is in Dallas with a group of 4-H club boys attending the state fair encampment, will return in time to participate in the meeting.

CRASH FATAL TO CADET IS PROBED

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 19 (AP)—A board of inquiry flew to the King ranch today to investigate the crash of a Kelly Field training plane in which Cadet John Gilmer Williams, 21, of Warrenton, N. C., was killed.

The ranch reported that the body of the student flier was taken from the burning craft last night about a half hour after he had cleared the Brownsville airport for a return night navigation flight to Kelly Field.

The accident occurred two miles from Norias. Workers at the ranch went to the scene after hearing an explosion, the army field here was advised.

what had happened between Russia and Germany.

"Carloads of priests and Protestant pastors have been sent into Russia," Kuhn countered, "you ought to like that."

An uproar broke out when Starnes asked Kuhn whether he believed in the partition of Poland. The witness and two lawyers with him both started talking at once, protesting against questions concerning political ideologies.

The committee is here to get facts and not crackpot opinions," blurted Peter L. P. Sabbatino, one of the attorneys.

Dies, gaveling the room to quiet again, ordered a luncheon recess. Soon after the session got under way, with tempers strained and hot words flying, Kuhn submitted a list which he said gave the names of all German-American bunds in the United States and their leaders.

Insurance Man Speaker Here

Stopping in Big Spring for one of 13 speaking engagements over Texas in the next three weeks, O. Sam Cummings of Dallas, state general agent for the Kansas City Life Insurance company and past president of Kiwanis International and the National Association of Life Underwriters, appeared before a joint meeting Thursday of the Kiwanis club and the local underwriters association.

"Here in America policies are in force on the lives of 65,000,000 people," the speaker told in his address on "Democracy and Life Insurance."

"This represents 122,000,000 policies and insurance in the amount of $117,000,000,000," Cummings said. Pointing out that insurance companies are the greatest distributors of wealth, the speaker said that 70 per cent of the world's life insurance is carried in America and on a yearly average of claims paid, 60 per cent goes to living policy holders and 40 per cent to beneficiaries in death cases.

"Every life insurance policy holder contributes to national progress," the speaker continued. "Life insurance is a community builder and constitutes the very heartstone of the home. The words 'payment' and 'settlements' do not convey the true significance of life insurance by any means."

Speaking of Kiwanis International in relation to democracy, Cummings said "business is woven into the very fabric of Kiwanis. We represent a cross-section of typical middle-class American business men, a group as typically democratic as any to be found. The very root of democracy is to be found in the middle-class and Kiwanis represents just that—the spirit of willingness to cooperate and recognize vocations of others."

Cummings was introduced by Lib Coffey, representing the insurance group who secured the speaker.

Earth Tremors Felt In New England

BOSTON, Oct. 19 (AP) — Earth tremors, described by seismologists as "severe" were felt today in several sections of northern New England but no serious damage was reported.

Seismologists at Weston College in a preliminary survey said the shocks were "rather severe" and were "not so far away." The records of the tremors, on first examination, were confused, they declared.

Dr. L. Don Leet, Harvard University seismologist, describing the tremors as a "major earthquake," said it was his "guess" that the center of the disturbance was about 200 miles from the station at Harvard, Mass., probably somewhere off the coast.

Today's tremors also were felt in Ohio, and Albany, N. Y.

Automobilists said their cars swayed; one Portland householder said coffee spilled over on a stove, and a resident of Keene said he experienced what he thought was a dizzy spell while taking a bath. His wife informed him, however, that the whole house shook.

Mrs. Andy Fruit, Abilene, a former resident of Big Spring, is visiting friends here for a few days.

'Without Any Trouble'

Grew Scores Jap Actions In China

TOKYO, Oct. 19 (AP)—United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew today declared "American opinion, based on facts, not propaganda," believed that "the many things injurious to the United States which have been done and are being done by Japanese agencies are wholly needless."

In one of the strongest and most remarkable diplomatic speeches in Japan-United States relations, Grew, recently returned from a homeland visit and meeting with President Roosevelt, said his talk came "straight from the horse's mouth."

In addressing 250 members of the America-Japan Society, often a sounding board for authoritative discussion of American-Japanese relations, the ambassador asserted: "They (the American people) regard with growing seriousness the violation and interference with American rights by Japanese armed forces in China in disregard of treaties and agreements x x x they feel the present trend in the Far East, if continued, will be destructive of the hopes they sincerely cherish of development of an orderly world."

Grew asserted that this opinion was "unanimous" and as such had a profound effect on government policies, saying, "when such opinion tends toward unanimity it is a force which the government cannot possibly overlook and will not fail to reflect in its policies and actions."

SAYS FD INTERESTED IN FREIGHT ORDER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—President Roosevelt has manifested a great interest in the Texas railroad commission's order to eliminate freight rate differentials, Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, who reported to the president on oil conditions as chairman of the interstate oil compact commission, said he discussed the order with Mr. Roosevelt.

"I can't disclose just what the president told me, but I will say he was highly pleased with the step taken by Texas," the commissioner said.

"Texas is leading the way in elimination of freight rate discriminations," the Texas added. "It is hoped that other states will follow suit and set an example for the interstate commerce commission regarding rates throughout the south and southwest in interstate freight traffic."

M'DOWELL HERDS PRODUCE MORE WINNERS

Calves from the herd of L. S. McDowell & Son keep walking away with blue ribbons whenever they are exhibited, at county fairs as well as at some of the outstanding livestock shows in the Midwest. They have been awarded grand championships, reserve championships and first prizes. At the American Royal Livestock show in Kansas City this week, calves from the McDowell & Son herd made a clean sweep over all Herefords shown in a every class, and were named breed champions in Herefords, against keen competition. What made the Howard county calves' winnings more impressive is that they are not out of an entire regis herd, but from good commercial herds. L. G. Scudder of Dawson county, Neb., was the feeder and exhibitor of these prize winners. Scudder is a veteran feeder and exhibitor of prize winners besides being an extensive commercial feeder, and he usually feeds around 1,500 cattle each year. His prize was voiced at the Kansas City show by many feeders from the corn belt, for the McDowell & Son cattle, and the feeding and finishing done by Scudder. Don C. Martin, order buyer from Seymour, has been buying the McDowell & Son calves for several years for Scudder, and on Nov. 1 will load around 1,300 of the McDowell & Son calves for the same feeder, who will finish them for the shows next year. A herd from the McDowell ranch is pictured above.

Swanky Racing Plant Used By Trainers

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
ARLINGTON DOWNS, Oct. 19 (AP)—Dawn's first splash lights, a $3,000,000 ghost, strangely alive with the clatter of hoofs and the clicking of stop watches, Yearlings streak past gloomy grandstands and a swank clubhouse locked in dust. Horse racing is dead in Texas—voted out by the majority—but the sport still breathes. The moment that the late Col. W. T. Waggoner erected—Arlington Downs—is still a haven for horse lovers. Daily some 75 yearlings, future greats of the American track, sprint around the big track for an audience of colored exercise boys, trainers and owners. A small group of patrons has settled around Arlington Downs to breed thoroughbreds. The youngsters soon will make debuts in tracks scattered all over the country. Training comes on a track once pounded by the most noble of horseflesh—The Fighter, Top Row, Roman Soldier, Time Supply, Liberty Limited, Heefly, Bay Bubble. Owners who have strings at Arlington Downs include Judge Alfred McKnight, secretary of the Texas Thoroughbred association; T. P. Morgan, C. Andrade III, R. R. Greenlee, George E. McCamey and others. The track is still good, although the infield, the vast parking space once manicured to perfection, and the big red stands are slightly on the unkept side. Thoroughbred horse racing in Texas isn't dormant, from a breeder's standpoint. Patrons are many—Emerson Woodward, the Stroube Brothers of Corsicana, R. B. George, the Klebergs, Winfrews, Eppenaubers, Morgans, Andrades and McKnights. The attempted revival of the sport at the last session of the legislature died in the house of representatives, considerably shy of the needed vote. But the Thoroughbred Horse Association of Texas, headed by E. F. Woodward of Houston, still carries on. The association will have its annual meeting in Fort Worth Saturday.

DOWN TO ONE HORSEPOWER MOTOR—Shortage of gasoline in Denmark forced one Copenhagen firm to recruit a spotted dobbie to haul its auto delivery truck around city.

REFUGEES TO RETURN ON SHIP WHICH TOOK DIAZ AWAY

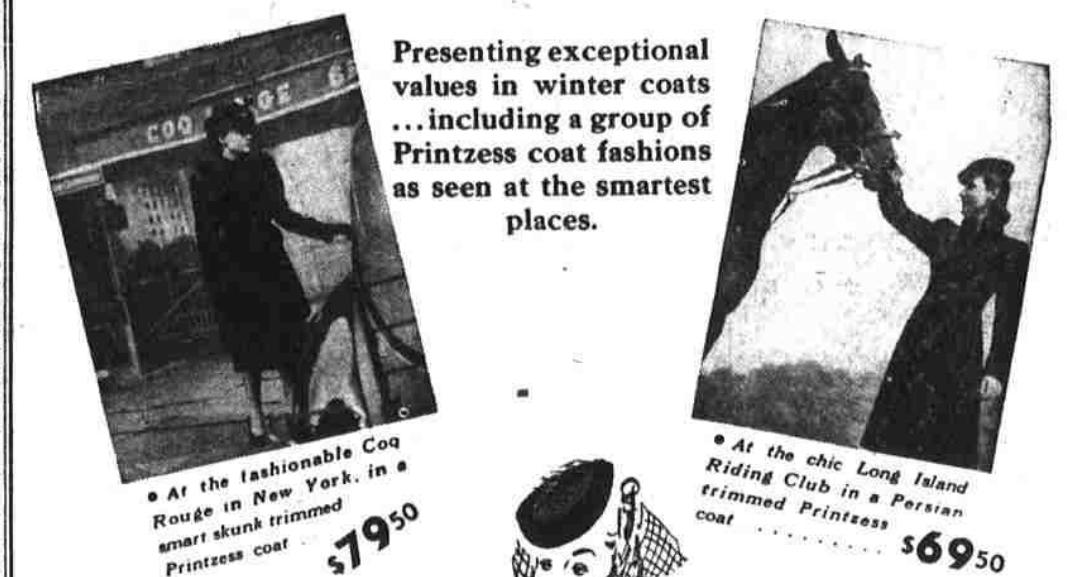

VERACRUZ, Mex., Oct. 19 (AP)—A ship which played an important role in Mexico's political drama 28 years ago is expected here today with Mexican refugees fleeing from the war in Europe. The ship is the "Colonial" of Portuguese registry. Twenty-eight years ago this same ship, then called "Ipiranga," of German registry, took to European shores a Mexican refugee, an aged man of imposing bearing who for 35 years had ruled the country with an iron hand. He was General Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico. After resigning the presidency in 1911 as the revolutionary movement led by Francisco Madero swept the country, General Diaz boarded the "Ipiranga" at Vera Cruz and sailed for France where he lived until his death. His widow and only son by a previous marriage, Porfirio Diaz, Jr., are now living in Mexico. Among Mexican refugees fleeing from the war in Europe the "Colonial" is bringing bullfighters Armillita "El Solado" and stage artist Lupe Rivas Cacho.

Cowboys Are Organized

Many new members have been added to the newly organized Texas Cowboy's association which was organized at Midland last month, electing L. E. (Slim) Shawver of Pecos president of the association. Since the organization last month at Midland the association has compiled its rules and regulations and adopted the slogan "A Square Deal for the Cowhand." Seventy-five cowboys from ranches in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma attended the organization meeting at Midland, Shawver said. Officers were authorized to proceed with the enlistment of members. Shawver has been foreman of the Charles Miller ranch, 10 miles southeast of Pecos, but is giving up his full time now to organization of the cowboy association. He has appointed membership committees in four towns and will name representatives in all sections of the state. The four appointed are Jiggs Dinwiddie, Pecos; Arthur Rogers, Goree; Ople Westfall, Seymour, and W. T. Talley, Throckmorton. The main purpose of the association, Shawver, a calf roper explained, is "to protect the cowboys who contest in rodeo as amateurs from the unfair competition of the professional rodeo performer." The association will ask promoters of rodeos advertised as an amateur show to keep the professionals out. "It is not our purpose to dictate or try to run the show, but purely to guarantee a square deal for the amateurs," Shawver said. Rules and regulations of the association have been prepared by a committee of ranchers and rodeo officials, with C. R. Russell of Merkel as chairman. The other members are F. D. Alley of Pecos and John V. Stevens of Spur. Other officers of the association are Jack Hendricks of Odessa, vice president, and J. D. Craft of Jacksboro, secretary-treasurer.

Sees Prospects For Control Of Cancer

By STEPHEN J. M'DONOUGH
Associated Press Science Writer
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19 — The prospects for the control of cancer in the United States are "very promising," Dr. Ludwig Hektoen, director of the government's cancer advisory council, told the American Public Health association today. The council, established by congress in 1937, is assisting in the training of cancer experts, the distribution of radium, the development or research on the problem of cancer and the education of the public, he said, and all four approaches to the cancer problem are yielding tangible results. "Success in the treatment of cancer grows with the increase in the skill, experience and equipment devoted to clinical cancer service to patients and especially the earlier and earlier action on the part of the patient" in seeking cancer treatment, Dr. Hektoen declared. The aim of the cancer council is to try and provide treatment for every patient "no matter what his means or the stage of his cancer are," he added. With the $750,000 appropriated by congress for cancer control work, the council has already purchased and is loaning $200,000 worth of radium, without charge, to hospitals and universities for cancer treatment and research, and is now about to set up the new cancer research institute in Washington under the U. S. public health service, reported Dr. Hektoen.

GOP's Would Like To 'Be Last' In 1940 Conventions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The idea of postponing the 1940 republican national convention until after the democrats have picked their candidate and platform is being regrettably put aside by party leaders.

Many of them have thought longingly of the advantages that might accrue from such a move. It would allow them to know in advance the identity of the democratic presidential candidate. They could reply to the democratic platform in their own platform rather than through the acceptance speeches of their candidates.

However desirable this might be from the republican point of view, many of their most cagey leaders have concluded that it is impossible of attainment. The republican convention customarily is held first. "If it would be an advantage to us to have a late convention, and I think it would be," said one republican strategist, "I cannot conceive of the democrats yielding us that advantage. President Roosevelt and Jim Farley are too wise to give it to us. They can outwait us."

PARLEY OF BALKAN STATES TALKED

BUDAPEST, Oct. 19 (AP)—A conference of the neutral nations of southeastern Europe similar to the Stockholm conference of northern neutrals was suggested today by newspapers in several Balkan countries. The argument was advanced here, in Belgrade and in Bucharest that the six small powers in this corner of Europe—Hungary, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey and Bulgaria—have interests in common as much as the northern countries.

MEXICO STARTS WORK ON CENSUS

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 19 (AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas today ordered all government offices to close tomorrow so federal and state employees might help carry out the first phase of Mexico's 1939-40 census.

Through an intensive publicity campaign, the government also has asked the nation's 19,500,000 citizens to cooperate. The only statistics to be assembled tomorrow are: 1. The number of citizens. 2. The number of radios in domestic use. 3. The number of beds in actual use in private homes, hotels, sanatoriums, boarding houses, hospitals, etc. 4. The number of sewing machines in domestic use. These figures will serve as the basis for the detailed census which will be taken next March, Mexico's sixth national census.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE OIL FIELD COMMUNITIES

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barnett and family of McCamey, and Mrs. Ralph Scott and daughter, Dorothy Nell, of Bakerfield were among those attending the funeral services of Floyd Thieme Monday. These families formerly lived at Forsan. Rev. Walter Deaver of Post City preached in the local Baptist church Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Connally spent last weekend with friends at Dunn. Mrs. Vera Harris and daughter, Myra Nell, spent last weekend with Mrs. Harris' father, C. C. Gaskins, and her sister, Mrs. D. Y. Ray, and Mr. Ray of Odessa. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Parker and children, Hollis and Marjorie, and Mrs. Parker's father, J. F. Widner, of Westbrook, attended a widner family reunion at Iraan last weekend. Misses Doris Jane Thompson and Ruth Brown spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Brown. Kenneth Butler of San Angelo college, J. B. White and Bill Rucker of Hardin-Simmons were home to attend the funeral services of Floyd Thieme. George B. O'Barr has just returned from a business trip to Marfa. He purchased two Hereford bull calves from J. A. Green of Big Lake at $125 each. Mrs. O'Barr has some of the best cattle in this region. Siegel Lewis of Syracuse, Kas., Tuesday received the Ernest Clifford stock which he purchased 15 days ago. Ray Willoughby of San Angelo was a business visitor at the Clifton ranch Tuesday. Bill Fletcher, Westbrook coach, and his entire team in body attended the Floyd Thieme funeral services. B. C. Hayes, Coahoma, and boys were also there in groups.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove excess acids and poisons from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints of urine daily. When disorder of kidney function permits poisons to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Get your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisons from your blood. INJURY TO BOBBY SAVAGE HAMPERS LONGHORNS' CHANCES

THE SPORTS PARADE

BY HANK HART

The Midland football team and fans alike, who feel that the race for the District 3-AA flag is over what with Sweetwater's Mustangs looking so important up there at the head of the parade, hope to salvage something from what to date has been a none too successful season by taking Pat Murphy's Big Spring Steers and Joe Coleman's Odessa Bronchos to respective cleanings.

A victory over the Bovines in their game here a week hence is confidently predicted in Midland grid circles. Of beating Odessa the Bulldogs, from Head Mentor Bud Taylor on down, aren't so sure.

Taylor's charges aren't so well equipped in reserves but figure that they have enough offense in Francis, Truelove and Harris to spoil the evening for the Longhorns.

And this season they seemingly rate a better chance at corraling the Longhorns than ever before for the offense is there and the confidence is there.

They'll probably be over here Friday evening to watch the Bovines have at it with the Lamesa Lobos.

The Big Spring-Midland tussle is expected to attract one of the season's better crowds. Midland school officials may even sponsor a special train here.

At any rate the Bulldogs have supplanted the Sweetwater Mustangs and the San Angelo Bobcats as the ace rivals of the local battalion.

Ole Cordill's chances for rating all-America nomination are diminishing every day.

Injuries have plagued the Big Spring boy since the season got underway and it seems that, as Ole goes so do the Rice Owls.

Any player, no matter how good he might be, is afforded little chance of making the supreme class unless his team enjoys a successful season. The Owls are experiencing no better luck than they had last year.

Cordill can enhance his bid Nov. 4 in New York City when the Texans invade the Polo Grounds to mix with the Fordham Rams.

But Fordham has already been beaten twice this campaign and a Rice victory could not be determined sensational.

Ole must stand out individually to reap the praises of the on-lookers.

More than a score of Big Spring fans are making preparations to go to Fort Worth Saturday to look on as the Texas Aggies attempt to slap down Texas Christian in their march toward the Southwest conference title.

Howard Schwarzenbach, junior high school grid mentor, went to Portales, N. M., last weekend to attend the "homecoming" celebration at Eastern New Mexico Junior college.

Steve Baker, one of the three Big Spring boys attending ENMJJC, suffered a bad arm injury in a recent Greyhound game and is out of uniform. Steve had been doing the team's punting besides serving as center.

Two B-Bar boys, Robert Mitchell and Eddie Edens, have announced intentions to compete in this district's Golden Gloves boxing tournament this season. Both are lightweights.

HOLD THAT LINE! (HOLD EVERYTHING)

By The AP Feature Service
It was a bitterly played, thrilling football game that the Frankensteins and the Panthers put on the other day in New York City's Hell's Kitchen section. Here's an example of how the Frankensteins' powerful defense stalled the fierce Panthers in the playground contest. Exceptionally fierce was the "blocking," as illustrated by the headgear-wearing youngster at the left. Big Vincent (Butch) Marino (wearing the sweater) was a "standout" at backing up the line. The official score was not announced.

Green Wave To Take To Air If Pressed

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 19 (AP) Coach Lowell (Red) Dawson finally has come right out in the open to disclose that Tulane has an air force which he promises to use, if necessary, to stop the pass-throwing North Carolina Tarheels here Saturday on the Green Wave's hopeful drive toward the Sugar Bowl.

It will come as something of a surprise, if not shock, to know that Tulane plans to open up in the air after the bone-crushing tactics which brought the Wave through its first three games successfully.

Gainesville-Paris, Breck-Lubbock Tilts Stand Out

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff
The so-called quiet before the storm in Texas schoolboy football is tinged with prospects of rain here and there.

While from the standpoint of championship play it is a comparatively dry week, some of those dizzy upsets for which inter-scholastic league's campaign are noted are likely with two of the state's acknowledged leaders playing unpredictable opponents on foreign fields.

Breckenridge, hailed as the best in the west, goes to Lubbock for a crack at the always tough Lubbock Westerners. Corsicana, the ranking outfit in Central Texas, plays the Fort Arthur Yellow Jackets who have shown traces of their old-time power when the chips were down.

From the championship angle, however, the leading game of the state matches undefeated and untied Gainesville, the North Texas juggernaut, with Paris, an outfit that has surprised by reaching this stage of the campaign undefeated although once tied.

Thirty-one conference games are scheduled with the spotlight on the District 5 Paris-Gainesville melee. The Fort Worth district's North Side-Arlington Heights clash and the battle between Kerrville and Breckenridge in the San Antonio district.

North Side and Arlington Heights are tied with Masonic Home for the district lead. Kerrville and Breckenridge share the District 15 top with Jefferson (San Antonio) and Austin.

Thirteen of the sixteen undefeated, untied teams have games this week with prospects of reversals in at least a half dozen of them.

Teams with perfect records at this time are Electra, San Angelo, Sweetwater, El Paso High, Gainesville, North Dallas, Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), Breckenridge, Corsicana, Livingston, South Park (Beaumont), Austin, Harlingen, Kingsville, McAllen and Robstown.

San Angelo, Sweetwater and North Dallas do not have games.

This week's schedule by districts:
1—Friday: Hobbs, N. M., at Borger, Van Buren, Ark., at Pampa, Breckenridge at Lubbock, Electra at Plainview; Saturday, Norman, Okla., at Amarillo.
2—Friday: Wichita Falls at Quanah (conference) Olney at Graham (conference), Childress at Vernon (conference).

3—Friday: Odessa at Abilene (conference), Lamesa at Big Spring (conference).

4—Friday: Bowie (El Paso) vs. El Paso High (conference), Cathedral (El Paso) at Yaleta.

5—Friday: Paris at Gainesville (conference), Sherman at Bonham (conference).

6—Friday: Denton at Denton, Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) at McKinney.

7—Thursday: Paschal (Fort Worth) vs. Riverside (Fort Worth), conference; Friday: North Side (Fort Worth) vs. Arlington Heights (Fort Worth), conference; Poly (Fort Worth) vs. Fort Worth Tech (conference).

8—Friday: Forest (Dallas) vs. Adamson (Dallas), conference; Saturday: Sunset (Dallas) vs. Dallas Tech, conference.

9—Thursday: Cleco at Brownwood (conference); Friday: Mineral Wells at Ranger (conference).

10—Friday: Stephenville at Cleburne, Hillsboro at Waco (conference), Arlington vs. Waxahachie, Sam Houston (Houston) at Bryan.

11—Friday: Gladewater at Tyler (conference), Kilgore at Marshall (conference), Longview at Texarkana (conference).

12—Friday: Palestine at Lufkin (conference), Henderson at Mexia (conference).

13—Thursday: Lamar (Houston) vs. Davis (Houston) conference; Friday: Conroe at Milby (Houston), conference; Reagan (Houston) vs. Austin (Houston), conference.

14—Friday: Corsicana at Fort Arthur, Nacogdoches at Livingston, San Jacinto (Houston) at Beaumont, Orange at Galveston (conference), Goose Creek at South Park (Beaumont), conference.

15—Friday: Kerrville at Breckenridge (San Antonio), conference; Laredo at Austin; Saturday: Jefferson (San Antonio) vs. San Antonio Tech (conference).

16—Upper bracket, Friday: Corpus Christi at Kingsville (conference), Brownsville at Robstown; lower bracket, Thursday: Mercedes at McAllen, Friday: Harlingen at Edinburg (conference), San Benito at Weslaco.

Lem Nations Moved Back Into Line

Crippled Eleven To Take Field Friday Against Lamesa

An ankle injury suffered by his star wing, Bobby Savage, in Wednesday afternoon's drill had Coach Pat Murphy feverishly reshuffling his lineup in an effort to fill that slot in case Savage is not prepared to go 60 minutes against the Lamesa Tornados in the Steers' first home conference game Friday night.

Savage, who has played practically every minute of every game to date, twisted the member during a light scrimmage and said he thought nothing of it but could hardly walk by the time the team finished its drill.

The rangy wing, one of Big Spring's best bets for the all-district team, has been especially valuable to the team both on defense and offense. Too, he has been kicking off and booting for the extra points and his absence would be a blow.

Graves Inactive
Skeet Davidson, regular right wing, has been the only other end reporting this week. Jack Graves, who started last week's game against Austin, has been ill for the past several days and is expected to be of little service this weekend. Lem Nations, who has been substituting in the secondary for Horace Bostick was an understudy to Lefty Bethell, was dispatched to the left wing position again and can expect to see service.

His departure from the secondary left Bethell without help, however, and Murphy maneuvered Frank Barton, reserve guard, into the secondary. Bethell, who had been out of uniform Monday and Tuesday but who returned to service Wednesday, is being counted on to turn

Friday Last Day To Qualify For Meet

Pairings To Be Drawn Up Saturday Morning

The committee handling arrangements for the Forsan invitational golf tournament, slated to be played Sunday, Oct. 22, over the new Continental course near Ross City, made preparations today to handle a record field of entrants.

Unless the weather frowns over the weekend, more than 70 golfers, including a large Big Spring representation, were expected to attend.

Friday is the last qualifying day. Players must post their scores with the committee by Friday night. Included on that committee are H. Williams, Blacky Hines, Sam Rust and Guy Rainey.

Entrance fee is $1.

Pairings for first round matches will be drawn up Saturday morning.

Doug Jones, defending champion, will not be on hand to defend his laurels.

Upstart Faces Bill Tilden

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Oct. 19 (AP)—Steady-driving, unexcitable Johnny Faunce found himself pitted against the formidable Bill Tilden in the quarterfinals of the National Professional Tennis tournament today.

Faunce upset Bruce Barnes of Austin, Tex., 7-5, 6-4, 6-3, yesterday while Tilden was defeating Bill Weissbuch, Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

Keith Gledhill, Los Angeles, defeated Vincent Richards, New York, 6-0, 6-3, 6-2, and Ben Gorchakoff of Los Angeles beat Walter Senior, San Francisco, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, 10-8.

Bulldogs Are Underdogs In Friday Clash

COAHOMA, Oct. 19—T. J. Turner's Garner Hill Billies ruled as slight favorites to defeat the Coahoma Bulldogs in their District 12 six-man football game here Friday afternoon.

The Billies have lost a pair of games this season but have been impressive in all their starts.

Turner's team is at full strength. B. C. Hays, Coahoma mentor, has been having his troubles but his charges have been coming along lowly and this may be the game in which they really open up.

Hays is confident he has the material. The Bulldogs were beaten by Sterling City last week but looked to advantage. With improved defense the team is going to upset someone. Friday's fracas will get underway at 3 o'clock.

Armstrong Wants To Retire By '40

SEATTLE, Oct. 19 (AP)—Homicide Henry Armstrong, the busy little negro welterweight champion who was poet laureate of his St. Louis high school 10 years ago, hopes to hang up his gloves in one more year.

"Then he'll retire to a life of beating out rhythm in verse instead of somebody's ribs. He wants to write, both poetry and prose. A bard rather than a bombardier."

"I figure in one more year I'll have enough money to bring me security. Yeah, social security," he grinned. "Then I'm going to quit."

Blankenship On Committee For School Legislation

AUSTIN, Oct. 19 (AP)—One hundred and sixty-two men and women have accepted membership on Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's committee which will draft legislation intended to reorganize the Texas school system.

The governor yesterday announced the list of those to work with him and State Superintendent L. A. Woods and the state board of education.

O'Daniel in his last Sunday broadcast cited inequalities for school children and declared there was waste of public funds, basing the address on a state board of education survey made with aid of PWA funds.

Membership of the committee includes:

W. C. Blankenship, Big Spring; J. G. Brunson, Paris; H. E. Chambers, Greenville; Grover Clark, Greenville; A. H. Chamness, Paris; Bryan Dickson, Marshall; E. H. Dilley, Vernon; W. P. Galligan, Laredo; John H. Gregory, McAllen; O. J. Laas, Plainview; E. McDaniell, Denison; W. H. Norwood, Corsicana; Ralph O'Brien, Gainesville; A. J. Overton, Jr., Palestine; R. C. Patterson, Denton; Ben F. Pierce, Texarkana; R. L. Proffer, Denton; G. M. Sims, Fort Arthur; R. L. Speer, Sherman; H. W. Stillwell, Texarkana.

DRUNK PEDESTRIANS OUTNUMBER THE DRUNK DRIVERS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 18 (AP)—The national safety congress was told by a special committee of experts today that there were more drunken pedestrians than drunken drivers.

The committee, which completed a three-year investigation, said 13 per cent of pedestrians killed by automobiles were found to have been drinking, but only nine per cent of motorists killed showed signs of drinking.

The committee reported two-thirds of the pedestrians killed last year either were violating a traffic ordinance or "committing an obviously unsafe act."

BEEES GET MEAN AT HIGH ALTITUDE

DAVIS, Calif., Oct. 19 (AP)—May be it's the dizzying effect of altitude.

Mild mannered bees which go peacefully about their honey gathering at sea level become vicious and ill-tempered at high altitudes.

Dr. J. E. Eckert, entomologist of the University of California college of agriculture, sent a swarm of Caucasian bees to University of Wyoming at Laramie.

The bees were "gentle as a lamb" here. But at Laramie, 7,200 feet higher, they became so mean they flew out of their way to sting Prof. C. H. Gilbert.

A handful of the ill-mannered fellows were shipped back to Dr. Eckert. They were so gentle he handled them without protection of any kind.

LEAD THE WAY TO PROGRESS!

TWO NEW LA SALLE WITH PRICES STARTING AT '1240'

FIVE NEW CADILLACS WITH PRICES STARTING AT '1685'

SHROYER MOTOR COMPANY
418-424 East Third
Big Spring, Texas

FOR A COMPLETE PICTURE of all that's fine in motor-ing, and all that's new for 1940, come see the new LaSalle and Cadillac—on display today. You'll see two new LaSalle—larger, more powerful, and more economical. You'll see a vogue-setting new Cadillac—the newest car in the world. You'll see four new Cadillac-Fleetwoods—including the Sixty Special and a completely new lower-priced Fleetwood. You'll see, in short, the leader in luxury, safety, comfort and performance for every price group above a thousand dollars. This brief description of the 1940 Cadillac and LaSalle merely suggests the tremendous progress these superb cars represent. It leaves out entirely any discussion of the new ride, the new handling ease, and of the mighty Cadillac V-8 engines which power them all. It does so deliberately, because only a look and a ride can demonstrate the true greatness of these cars. Why not make a personal investigation—today?

Shroyer Co. Enters Ninth Year Of Business In B'Spring

Firm's Growth Steady During Depression

A. H. Shroyer, owner of the Shroyer Motor Co., here, came to Big Spring on a bird hunt and remained to build a profitable business which today is observing its eighth anniversary.

It was in October, 1931, when Mr. Shroyer, who had just closed his range business in San Saba, came to this section to hunt prairie chickens and happened to meet C. M. Dulin. The new acquaintance said his tire company was looking for an agent and suggested a little former filling station and garage near owned by Hart Phillips as a possible location.

Hesitant To Start Business
Mr. Shroyer was rather "blue" over business conditions—in the very depth of the depression—and was hesitant to accept Mr. Dulin's enthusiasm over assuming management of the Phillips station. Halfheartedly, he talked to Mr. Phillips, who explained he was not interested in a manager but was anxious to sell. A deal finally was made, starting Mr. Shroyer to the position if one of the city's leading business men.

The new owner, a grey-eyed, husky, and cheerful West Texan, went to work. Three years later, his business still growing, he took over the agency for Oldsmobile automobiles and GMC trucks. His business increased and his remuneration from working from 14 to 16 hours a day was increased profits. By 1936, when a lot of people were still crying about the depression, he purchased the entire business, including the building, for $20,000.

More than $10,000 has been spent on improvements since that time and this year he added a new show room, a new service department, new garage quarters and installed new equipment throughout.

It's More Than Luck
"I've been lucky," Mr. Shroyer says when one points to his success here, adding that factory relations have been a big benefit and that his brother, Ira Shroyer, has lent assistance and encouragement. To Mrs. Shroyer, bookkeeper, he gives credit for handling the firm's finances and handling the money as it should be. Her score in accounts for the last five years has been perfect, which brought certificates and appreciation prizes from the Oldsmobile Business Management club each year.

It is Mr. Shroyer, however, who spans the business at 5 a. m. each day; and it is he who closes the place late at night. Some of his friends tell him the first word of his motto, "Almost Perfect Service," and he merely flashes his habitual smile at them.

Much of the firm's success is attributed by Mr. Shroyer to his employees. There is hardly any turnover among them; once an employee, always on the pay roll, it seems. They include Ira Shroyer, salesman; G. D. Dawson, salesman; Mrs. Dora Shroyer, assistant to Mrs. Shroyer as office manager; Arch Kemp, Harry Montgomery and Phillip Musgrove, service department; Jack Rinehart, head of the parts department; Perry Daily and George Holden, service attendants; and Ery and Sam Kelley, porters.

Champion Wins Initial Match
SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 19 (AP)—Defending Champion E. L. Brown of San Antonio tees off today in the second round of the Texas Senior golf tournament against F. M. Lewis of San Antonio.

Brown led the way through first round matches yesterday with an 8 to 6 victory over N. C. Hoyt of Houston while Lewis was downing C. G. McBurnett of San Antonio, one up.

J. C. Woodland of San Antonio, victor over Harry Atwell of El Paso, 2 and 1, clashes with Dr. D. S. Hester of Dallas, who advanced 4 and 3 over J. P. Hull of San Antonio.

The medalist, M. L. Massingill of Fort Worth whipped Guy Keith of Beaumont, one up for the right to meet W. D. Masterson of San Angelo, who downed his fellow townsman, H. B. Andrews, 3 and 2.

George Rotan of Houston meets Fred Austin of Houston in another second round match. Rotan defeated L. D. Gilmore of San Antonio 3 and 2 yesterday and Austin downed A. C. Skinner of Corpus Christi 7 and 6.

Longhorns to two intersectional victories and giving mighty Oklahoma the last quarter jitters.

Considering the Crain-less Steers won only one game all last year, the addition of this tow-headed halfback from a little North Texas town becomes distinctly important.

Consider also that last year's Steers were able to score twice only in one game and compare that with their touchdowns against Florida, the same against Wisconsin and more of the same against Oklahoma—and it follows that Coach Dana Xenophon Bible's struggles have picked up punch.

It is more than a coincidence that Crain has scored four of those six tallies on runs of 12, 35, 68 and 71 yards.

Those last two, incidentally, were made against, and through, the Oklahoma Sooners who possess one of the sturdiest defenses in the land. The came a few minutes apart in the last period. In his first three games, Crain averaged 10.6 yards a carry—phenomenal going in any league.

Small wonder, then, that the admirers of Jack Walton Crain think his middle name should be "Rabbit."

Crain weighs only 165 pounds, looks smaller and stands only five-foot-seven.

His chief stock in the broken-field trade is darting speed and uncanny judgment of pace and distance. He sidles meekly up to a tackler as if he recognized the futility of it all and is ready to give himself up. Then, with a sudden burst of speed, he is by and gone, headed for pay dirt. His consummate art at sideline dashing has amazed students of the game.

Crain was a star at Class B Nocona high school, making the all-district team two years.

Fort Worth whipped Guy Keith of Beaumont, one up for the right to meet W. D. Masterson of San Angelo, who downed his fellow townsman, H. B. Andrews, 3 and 2.

George Rotan of Houston meets Fred Austin of Houston in another second round match. Rotan defeated L. D. Gilmore of San Antonio 3 and 2 yesterday and Austin downed A. C. Skinner of Corpus Christi 7 and 6.

GOVERNOR SHOULD BE READY TO MAKE CONCESSIONS, TOO, SEN. G. H. NELSON WRITES

Willingness to cooperate in a method of temporarily financing the state's social security program is expressed in a letter to Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel from Senator G. H. Nelson of this district, a copy of which has been forwarded to The Herald. Nelson's letter is in reply to the call issued by O'Daniel for responses from legislators on a special legislative session proposal, and a system of pension taxes.

Expressing continued opposition to a sales tax, Nelson nevertheless said a temporary statute of that sort might be the basis of reaching a more definite settlement of the issue at the polls next year. He wrote the governor: "I trust that you will be willing to make such concessions that will be necessary, along with concessions on the part of the members of the legislature, to the end that this question may be settled and that we shall not have met and spent the taxpayers' money in vain."

His letter follows: "Hon. W. Lee O'Daniel, Governor of Texas, Austin, Texas.

"My dear Governor: "In answering your letter of October 7th, addressed to all the members of the legislature, which reached my office on Thursday, October 12th, I give you the following:

"I am prone to believe that you have proposed the only logical course to pursue in the matter of temporarily settling the social security problem in Texas.

"Without some character of understanding prior to our meeting, I consider it utter foolishness to call a special session of the present Legislature and thus spend One Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars of tax money we do not have. I doubt that such an understanding as you have proposed can be had. I doubt further that such an agreement will hold a majority of the Legislators in line even after they are called. I therefore sincerely doubt the wisdom of your calling a session at all. The probability is, in my judgment, that such a meeting will be the greatest hair-pulling, mud-slinging, political fence-building session of the Texas Legislature ever recorded in the history of our state.

Reasons
"But, should you decide to call us to Austin, it is my present intention to cooperate to the fullest in the support of your program for the following reasons:

"1. The settlement of the social security problem is a mandate of the people to the Legislature in the form of a constitutional amendment. Under our democratic form of government, the people have done that which is necessary to fasten this tax burden upon their backs. Is it for me to say that they were unwise in doing so? I consider it, therefore, up to me to provide the money. If I cannot get this money from the exact sources from which I think it should come, then I must make concessions and the other one hundred eighty men of the Texas Legislature must make such concessions as will enable the majority of us to write a tax bill.

"2. The pension problem has so usurped the thinking of our people that their attention cannot be gained for consideration of any other governmental problem facing our State. There are other major problems of government and governmental reform that should receive the immediate attention of our Legislature, none of which can or will be considered until the social security question is out of the way. I think it, therefore, the part of wisdom and to the benefit of my constituents and to the state as a whole for me to make some concessions on the subject of taxation in order that other major political and economic questions may be reached promptly.

Opposed To Sales Tax
"3. I believe that the people of Texas are not ready for a sales tax. I have been in the past and I am still unalterably opposed to a sales tax. I am opposed to a consumer's tax, as you have designated it, because I know from my study of the taxation question that a consumer's tax and a sales tax are one and the same thing. I think it poor governmental policy to place such a tax in our constitution. During the regular session I refused to vote a sales tax upon the people by statutory enactment. I did consent to vote, and did vote to submit a constitutional amendment to the people on this subject. I voted to submit the question to the people because I felt that there was sufficient public demand for the adoption of this question that it would be undemocratic on my part to say to my constituents, "Thou shalt not vote." If the constitutional amendment were adopted, it was my full intention to take the stump in an attempt to defeat the adoption of it.

"But, if we can prove the folly of such a course, and the unpopularity of such a tax by levying it in a statutory form for a temporary period, and thus avoid such a policy as a permanent matter, I am led to believe it worthwhile to make this concession on my part. This course will give the people an opportunity to try out this taxing system for almost a year before another election. It should be and will be made the basis of campaign platforms of those running for legislative posts next summer. At that time let the people choose their officials upon these issues.

Platform
"4. Governor, as I recall your platform of last summer it was as follows: "Pay every person in Texas over 65 years of age $30.00 per month without levying additional taxes." There were no ifs, ands or buts about it. At the same time you were making these promises I was campaigning Texas for the office of Lieutenant Governor. I was telling the people of your same promises that one could not have his cake and eat it too; that based upon my experience as a legislator, and my study of taxation, such promises could not be kept; that a pension of $30.00 per month could not be paid without additional tax burden; and that in my judgment when the snows of winter of 1939 and 1940 began to fall on the temples of the aged of this state, those promises would not have been fulfilled. I say these things in all kindness to you, because you know that I have cooperated with you and have voted almost to a vote for your program. But I say them because it was evident to me at the time these promises were made that they could not be fulfilled. It has since been proved that my predictions in the above regard were true. I knew then and I know now that it would take all of the money the State of Texas is now spending for public schools, colleges and highways combined to fulfill this promise. Therefore, if I am to presume that you were honest in making these promises, and I do so presume, then I must conclude that nothing short of gross ignorance of state finance and state government could have prompted you to make such promises. Never the less, I am still willing to assist you in every reasonable way to settle this all important problem for the reasons set out above.

"May I say to you in conclusion that if we are to come to Austin at your call, I trust that you will

BIG SPRING YOUTH IN MARINE CORPS

Franklin R. Arnold, son of Mrs. Eloise Arnold of 1108 Runnels, Big Spring, was among the fifty applicants accepted by the Marine Corps recruiting district headquarters at Dallas during the past fortnight. He was sent to the Marine Corps base at San Diego for training and duty.

Young Arnold graduated from Brunswick, Mo., high school.

He is willing to make such concessions as may be necessary, along with concessions on the part of the members of the Legislature, to the end that this question may be settled and that we shall not have met and spent the taxpayers' money in vain.

in another 'Iron man' performance. The wrongdoer is having trouble with a tricky ankle. His kicking to date has been invaluable.

Murphy was prepared to use D. R. Gartman, Owen Brummett and either Bobby Martin or Johnny Miller in his secondary at the opening whistle. The return of Gartman, out recently with a bad knee, boosts the Bowlers considerably.

The center slot had Murphy holding his head, too. Ralph Stewart, who took over the regular duties when Paul Kasch cashed in his chips, is getting around as if he had no hobbles. A collision in the Austin game injured an ankle.

of the bowlers who have bowled against them want to object. Regardless of how good a man bowls, his average is what determines his league rating. It doesn't make any difference if the other team rolls three thousand pins in this or any other tournament, if their league average is small enough they do not have to bowl in Class A. For that matter they can roll in Class C if their A. B. C. records show that they are eligible. In this particular case, the averages were taken from thirty league games in last year's playing signed by the team captains and the A. B. C. league secretary. These have to be correct as we all know, because the penalty for illegal entry into a tournament class is permanent dismissal from A. B. C. and they are smart enough to know that.

"Who said we can't pass?" Dawson asked today. "We've got the best passing offensive since I've been coaching here. We recently completed 18 of 25 against the freshmen. We can throw them if we need to. We haven't need to yet. Why throw the ball around when we can gain 250 to 300 yards on straight football?"

Apparently that's what Coach Ray Wolf is afraid of up at Chapel Hill where he's getting the Tarheels ready for the encounter here. "Tulane is big, strong, fast and has plenty of reserve power," he said. "They've played three fine teams and none has been able to do anything with them. But we are still out to do the impossible Saturday."

He didn't say anything about Tulane's average in 1938. Dawson likes power, so it definitely will be news if Tulane takes to the air Saturday. Despite what Dawson said, the better informed observers doubt that it will unless stopped cold on the ground.

Ten Pin Tales

By JAKE DOUGLASS

There was a raft of good scores fired at our regular tenpin smothering session Tuesday night. There were four six hundred series fired and one team had a fine 958 game. This same team, namely, the Grand Prize Beer outfit of Kountz, Eason, Davis, Brimberry and Loper, is the bunch that hold the loop record of 993 to they are still the top record holder. Brimberry of the G. P. Keglers shot a fine 235-606 and Loper of G. P. got a 214-619. Other six hundred boys were Meyers of Fabst with a 235-624 and yours truly with 231-600.

While we are boosting the G.P. team, let me further state that they also had a total pin run of 2,619. This is ten pins higher than the leading team in our own West Texas bowling tournament.

In the classic league, we still find Douglas and Loper running one-two for high average, with Daniels, Kountz and Graalman in that order in the next three spaces.

Leaving the guys for the girls for a while, we find the Harry Lester team nudged the Elliott Drug team out of the lead by defeating them in three straight games. The high single game of the night was fired by Toby's with a 700 in their last game. Wasson's 177-481 was high and her 177 was high single game.

Some controversy has been offered about one of the teams entered in the local tournament. It seems that a very good team is to be entered in Class B and some

Want No Part Of War

The National Association of Manufacturers is holding a series of meetings in key cities to try to make it clear to America that industry wants no part of another war.

There was a widespread belief that the United States was somehow jockeyed into the World war by manufacturers and industrialists intent on big profits. It wasn't that simple, as every student of war causes knows.

Nothing is simple, and the causes of a war are among the most complex of all phenomena. Assuming that anything at all was learned from the World war, certainly industrialists must have learned these things, and their present meetings indicate that they have learned them:

- 1. The big profits, not only to manufacturers and industrialists, but to farmers, workmen, and everybody else, accrue during neutrality, not during war.
2. War itself always brings fixed prices, high taxes, government restrictions and "interference" to such an extent that the pickings are slimmer than during neutrality.
3. Freedom lost during a war is seldom entirely regained, and the depression which follows a war boom is pretty likely to eat up more than the profits made during a war.

Thus there is no reason to question the entire sincerity of men like C. M. Chester, Tom Girdler, Howard Conley, and the others who are speaking in the N.A.M.'s neutrality drive. They all know full well that the controls that would be imposed on industry during another war would probably never be relaxed, and that such profits as could be made would undoubtedly be absorbed by taxes and wiped out in the depression almost certain to follow the collapse of a war under the industries geared up to high speed to carry it on.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—It must be a source of genuine satisfaction for John Barrymore to know that New York still thinks of him as the embodiment of Hamlet, despite a locust swarm of Hamlets, fat and thin, in the last five years.

But was it a true picture? If it was, it had been Murchison's hand that had left bloody stains on the paper, where had the blood come from? And if... if a murderous hand had left the stains, how had it clutched and left the paper?

Michael's face when he came to the breakfast table next morning betrayed nothing but the quietest mind. Murder, he had decided, was not to lie within the consciousness of his wife—if he could help it. Not that she had not willed it before now; but, of course, she had not been his wife then, and he had not been responsible for her.

"It's queer," said Tuck, pouring out the coffee, "that Charlotte Jean didn't hear the commotion last night and come down, curl papers and all. She sleeps right above the kitchen. I don't see how she could have helped hearing it."

"Did you ask her?" Michael looked up from his toast.
"No, I thought if she didn't hear it, it might be as well to leave her in ignorance, after what Gordon said about maids and burglars. Michael," Tuck demanded, "what did he mean? About burglars?"

Next he came back to say, "With the greatest difficulty we managed to find two seals for Mr. Masfield." The effect of this upon a nervous American in London, about to appear in the best play that London has produced, can well be imagined.

How To Torture Your Husband

The Creeping Man

by Frances Sholley Wees

Chapter Nine
INVITATION TO BRIDGE
Michael had crumpled that paper in his hand slowly, as if unconcerned; and neither of the girls had seen the telltale stain. That the rusty dark pattern was made by blood he had not the slightest doubt; and, as he lay awake in the early morning hours there had come to him a strange picture. The picture of a man, seated at the big desk, a shaded lamp throwing the light on the papers before him; of the open drawer holding his pencils at his right hand. Of something coming out of the shadows there behind him... something... the pipe had dropped from nerveless fingers in- to the open drawer; the hand in agony had grasped and crushed the corner of the newspaper lying there.

But was it a true picture? If it was, it had been Murchison's hand that had left bloody stains on the paper, where had the blood come from? And if... if a murderous hand had left the stains, how had it clutched and left the paper?

Michael's face when he came to the breakfast table next morning betrayed nothing but the quietest mind. Murder, he had decided, was not to lie within the consciousness of his wife—if he could help it. Not that she had not willed it before now; but, of course, she had not been his wife then, and he had not been responsible for her.

"It's queer," said Tuck, pouring out the coffee, "that Charlotte Jean didn't hear the commotion last night and come down, curl papers and all. She sleeps right above the kitchen. I don't see how she could have helped hearing it."

"Did you ask her?" Michael looked up from his toast.
"No, I thought if she didn't hear it, it might be as well to leave her in ignorance, after what Gordon said about maids and burglars. Michael," Tuck demanded, "what did he mean? About burglars?"

Next he came back to say, "With the greatest difficulty we managed to find two seals for Mr. Masfield." The effect of this upon a nervous American in London, about to appear in the best play that London has produced, can well be imagined.

absently, her eyes still on the letter in her hand. "You might know it."
"Tough. We'll probably lose her. Is he the only man around?"
"Apparently. But don't worry—she'll find some more. It's a letter from Mrs. Deane. It's a letter without a pause. Bunny looked at her frowningly until she understood. Michael pulled one ear as he thought it over. Tuck went right on. "She wants us to go over and spend the evening."

"Tonight?"
"Umhm."
"Do we go?"
She looked up at him and lowered her tone. "It's so lucky for us it's almost uncanny," she said. "I almost believe your father's had his finger in this pie, too. Listen to what she says...."

"I hope you'll excuse the haste and informality of the invitation, but I thought it would be nice for you to meet your neighbors, and so I have asked three tables for tonight, just the people on the campus and Duncan Murchison to make the twelfth. Please tell your husband it's only dinner jackets, quite informal, and I do hope you can come."

"Where does she get twelve?"
"Well — apparently, two McBains, three Forresters, two Deans, one Liesey, two Devons and Mrs. Murchison and Duncan. That's twelve."

"I forgot Mrs. Devoe," Bunny murmured, helping herself to the marmalade.
"Isn't it grand?" Tuck wriggled ecstatically. "Just think of all we'll be able to find out? There's simply no place like a bridge table for watching people's expressions and sizing them up without their suspecting it."

Michael frowned a little. "Don't let them see you doing it, honey," he warned.
Tuck was insulted. "You forget that I have an I.Q., Michael," she said bitterly.
"I apologize," he said handsomely. "I apologize abjectly."

"Lucid," Bunny congratulated her. Tuck put her tongue out.
"and what's more, Michael Forrester," she went on, "I notice that you didn't tell us, last night, just what you'd been doing to find out about the Missing Professor."

in the house, my love. In other words, I've been depending on your little nose to smell things out and tell me."
"lf you'd told me sooner I'd have smelled out a lot more things."
"Undoubtedly. But you might have heard sniffing."
Bunny put down her coffee cup. "I should scarcely call this an elegant mode of conversation for a breakfast table."

"I don't believe in elegance," Tuck said firmly. "And what's more — if you're going to talk about murder you've got to use bloody words."

"Murder?" said Michael with lifted brows.
"Well, what else?" Tuck demanded. "He's gone, isn't he? He isn't anywhere around the country. He didn't walk anywhere, or ride anywhere, and if he did, he didn't get anywhere. This isn't like a tremendous big city, where he might be hiding in somebody's cellar. And if he committed suicide, what did he do with his body? Unless he fell in the river by accident."

"He'd turn up down-stream if he did," Bunny said. "And he hasn't—has he, Michael?"
"No."
"See, somebody must have murdered him. We're looking for a murderer and some stolen diamonds and a body. You can't hang anybody unless you produce a body, can you, Michael?"

"Tuck, you sound a positively bloodthirsty. You look like a two-year-old baby sitting there in that pink dress, and you talk about murderers and bodies and hangings as calmly as an executioner. It's indecent. It isn't right."

"It's just too bad that you feel that way, Michael. It's very foolish of you. You ought to be glad that Bunny and I are hardened creatures. Some people would weep and wall and shudder and get afraid of the dark. I don't see any sense in it. What we've got to do is decide which of these people killed Professor Murchison and how they did it, and why, and get them arrested, and then move back to our own little bungalow. I can't say that I'm any too pleased with your father for putting us into it without consulting us, and I am certainly going to give him a piece of my mind; but now we are in it I wouldn't leave for ten million dollars until it's settled, and I am not going to get all shivery about it. All I'm scared about is that the people who are guilty are cleverer than we are."

"What is it De Quincey says about murder, Michael? Something about it being rude to murder a sick man," Bunny murmured. "The child's been reading him. She's got his attitude exactly."
Michael did not answer. He drew a deep breath. "I am relieved," he said after a moment. "I have a fear — I confess — that this thing may not turn out to be very pleasant. I was dreading telling you."

Preston Crozer
Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Britain's air-raid protection is fairly well worked out. If the war doesn't end too soon there will be chances to test thoroughly home defense against air attack.

A fresh analysis of what's what in the air over England is made by Major General H. Rowan-Robinson of the British army in the U. S. Coast Artillery Journal. He files right in the face of many an amateur strategist who says the famous London fog is Albion's greatest protection.

Bad weather, says General Rowan-Robinson, is all to the advantage of the raiders. They escape observation. They can hide in the fog or clouds, and skim along the tree tops to get the best view of the objective.

Over London, the bombers' problem becomes more complex. The much discussed "balloon barrage" protects the city. Hundreds of balloons hang in the air, tied to the earth by stout but slender cables. The balloons are kept just under the cloud bank that habitually hangs over London. A raiding plane coming down out of the clouds may hit one of the balloons and be incinerated by the explosion of hydrogen gas. If the raider dives under the balloon, the cables wreck his plane. If he flies just over them the air artillery knows his exact elevation because the gunners know how high the balloons are and how high the clouds are. With elevation known in advance, anti-aircraft artillery is very dangerous.

TEST FLIGHTS
The British tried out their system in practice. Comments General Rowan-Robinson: "On the whole, results were distinctly disappointing to the defensive."

In the first 45 minutes of the mock war, the fleet of "enemy" planes made 11 raids. They averaged 100 raids a night over Southern England during the four nights of the test. They made effective use of England's bad weather, of which she has a lot. The defense had serious problems. At the time of the test, just before war was declared, Englishmen wouldn't take the air attack business seriously. They had enjoyed 900 years of freedom from fear of foreign invasion. In a "blackout" of London, many persons failed to dim their auto lights. Lighted train windows showed the line of railroads.

The general implies that one real raid will lessen the average Englishman's optimism about air safety.

THE NO. 1 WEAPON
Searchlights hunting the planes had an unhappy faculty of reflecting on the water of the Thames, a dead giveaway. Additional precautions will help remedy that. Not yet remedied is how to dim the glare of factories that must work at night.

The general says the anti-aircraft guns worked well—in practice. Moreover, the numbers, quality, range and power of the guns are increasing. Home defense planes, too, got many a "raider." The most effective weapon against air raids could not get into effect at all. England expects that, the moment a German squadron comes over, her own raiding bombers will wing their way over Germany. That would compel some of the raiders to get back home promptly to protect the fatherland. Further, the English raiders have an advantage. They don't have to get home. They can land in France.

Hollywood Sights
And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—The tinny piano gives laboriously of Redwing, my Pretty Redwing, and in the darkened nickelodeon the flicking, jumping figures prance about the screen. Through pie-throwing, wild Keystone Kop chase, or tender romance, the tinny piano gives....

"Hollywood Cavalcade," the new movie about movie-making, has many scenes and references to stir memories in picture fans of an earlier day, but none more potent than that tinny piano giving, giving, giving while the slapstick rolled.

The picture didn't cover—musically, that is—that later period when studios sent out, with each picture, a thematic score for the guidance of the pianist, who had in most instances then become organist, if not a full-sized orchestra. And the film, concluding at the dawn of the talkie-sound era, naturally didn't go on to the great development in screen music as it is today.

The other day I dropped in on the set of "Four Wives," and saw Jeffrey Lynn conducting a full symphony orchestra for the camera. The composition at hand was that unfinished piece which John Garfield in "Four Daughters" left widow Priscilla Lane as his one material legacy. In the new story Lynn has finished Garfield's work—given it a beginning and an end—and is presenting it to wife Priscilla.

Quite a few films lately have presented full symphonies: "100 Men and a Girl," "The Star-Maker" notable among them. But practically all pictures, whether we see the musicians on screen or only hear them which is better, are giving us symphonic scores—scores with meanings specific to those pictures.

It's a long jump from Redwing, my Pretty Redwing to the skillfully integrated music of the screen today, a jump which hurdled successfully that dread, happily past era of the movie theme song. It seems to me more overbalance has been achieved, that fewer scores now overshadow the screen's action, that more are—as they should be—mere background intensifiers of mood, enhancing without intruding upon the drama or comedy at hand. The still memorable "The Informer" had a musical score that almost told the story in itself but never infringed upon that story. The music in "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was one of the redeeming features of that noble experiment in Shakespeare, and Werner Janssen's score for "Blockade" atoned for much that was lacking dramatically.

Winter Relief
To Be Talked
By Judges

DICKENS, Oct. 19—Faced with a hard winter ahead and drastic cuts in WPA relief quotas, West Texas county judges and commissioners will initiate an effort at a special meeting at Lubbock, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to bring to West Texas counties increased WPA allotments.

Dickens County Judge Marshall Formby, president of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners association, has issued the call for the special meeting which will be attended by county judges, commissioners and probably a number of mayors and chamber of commerce officials from the 124 counties in the West Texas association. "A crop failure in all West Texas has created an acute relief situation which demands immediate consideration," Judge Formby stated in issuing the call for the special session. "The present quotas of WPA for our West Texas districts are wholly inadequate to meet the situation. It is up to the sponsors to do something. We are calling this meeting in time to do something before it is too late," the West Texas president continued.

It was pointed out that for the past several months that thousands of the unemployed in the eastern states had been put back to work, thus lightening the WPA rolls in the states. If and when the embargo act is repealed hundreds of thousands will be put back to work in the industrial areas, lightening the relief rolls even more. At the same time, Judge Formby pointed out, such increase in factory employment is not helping the agricultural areas of West Texas. On the contrary, foodstuffs have gone up, cotton and feed crops are extremely short this fall and in many counties the payment of taxes will be light.

Speakers at the Lubbock meeting Friday afternoon, Judge Formby said, would be Judge Frank Day of Plainview, Judge Omar Burleson of Anson and Judge Homer Boudin of Albany. Following the three talks, there will be a discussion of several of the judges and commissioners and mayors from all parts of West Texas.

TO INVESTIGATE
INSURANCE RATES
ON LOAN COTTON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP) — Officials of the Commodity Credit corporation said today they planned to investigate insurance rates on cotton stored in the south under government loans to growers to determine whether those charges might be reduced.

Insurance rates now range, they said, between one-half and nine cents a bale per month, depending on the character of the storage facilities and fire hazards involved.

PROCESSING TAXES TO BE PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP) — With prices of most major crops still below new deal goals despite improvements that followed the outbreak of war, administration farm leaders are planning to seek congressional approval of processing taxes to finance agricultural subsidies.

These leaders virtually have agreed that it would be difficult to obtain agricultural appropriations at the next session approaching those of recent years unless some method is devised to raise a portion of the money.

Hail to the Retail Grocer!

This week the nation salutes the Retail Grocer, a tireless public servant ever active in our behalf.

The growth of modern civilization can be traced not too indirectly to the growth of the modern grocer and the ease with which men were obliged to hunt down their every meal. It was not until people were furnished with convenient, satisfying sources of food-stuffs that they were able to turn their energies to other things.

The community is a better place in which to live because of the Retail Grocer. His smile and ever friendly greeting add to the joy of living. He is a citizen of first rank, active in civic affairs and a true friend at all times.

It is fitting that we should all celebrate NATIONAL RETAIL GROCERS WEEK in honor of the men and women who play such an important part in our daily life. They have been prime factors in the progress of mankind.

IT PAYS TO KNOW YOUR GROCER
