

Claims Berlin Disappointed In Russia

Chamberlain Gives His Views On Molotoff Speech

LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain, making his weekly war report to the house of commons, today declared Russian Premier Molotoff's foreign policy speech had "occasioned some disappointment" in Berlin.

"Flights Of Fancy" Chamberlain said he refused "to disturb myself over the flights of fancy in which Molotoff indulged when describing the aims of the allies."

The Russian premier Tuesday accused the allies of fighting Germany primarily to protect their colonial empire, and declared the restoration of Poland could not be considered.

(He dwelt at length on friendly relations with Germany, but made no mention of any aid other than economic and political to Berlin.)

Despite losses to British shipping since the war started, the prime minister said "nothing has occurred to shake our confidence in our ability to overcome the submarine menace."

"We have continued to take toll of enemy submarines," although "a certain number" of British merchant ships have been lost, he declared.

Saying that stormy weather had slowed the war, Chamberlain described as particularly "galling" the flights of Royal Air Force reconnaissance planes over Germany.

In discussing Molotoff's speech, Chamberlain recalled a declaration made by the Russian premier May 31 that the Soviet Union stood for peace and the prevention of aggression.

That also is the position of the British government, Chamberlain declared, adding that Britain's war aims had been stated in plain terms.

The presence in London of dominant ministers he called a "striking demonstration of the united determination of the empire."

City tax collections through October 31, the first month that current payments were received, showed a substantial gain over last year.

The total current taxes paid amounted to $17,129.89 as compared with $12,076.94 at the same time a year ago, according to H. W. Whitney, city comptroller.

Much of the gain was due to a 40 per cent increase in the rate to care for waterworks improvements bonds voted last year to finance the city's share of a half million dollar PWA project. However, there still remained about $1,500 more collected than the rate increase would account for.

COUNTY WILL HAVE REPRESENTATIVES AT RANGE MEETING

Eight persons from Howard county have notified County Agent C. F. Griffin that they will attend the range field day program to be held at Midland November 10.

The date for the meet was moved back from No. 7 due to a series of district AAA meetings, one of which will be staged here November 9-10. It was expected that the session in Big Spring would terminate in time for those interested in range conservation measures to attend the Midland barbecue and tour.

SHE HAS THE ANGLE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 2 (AP)—This seems to be the height of something or other.

Harry Bloom, Louisville Times columnist, said a woman shopper asked her friend, "why don't you drive into this free parking lot?"

"I don't intend to buy anything from that store," the friend replied. "Oh, that's all right. Charge something and bring it back the next day. I do it all the time."

PLANES SHOT DOWN

With the British Expeditionary Force in France, Nov. 2 (AP)—A hall of anti-aircraft shells from British and French batteries and machine-gun bullets from British planes knocked down two German Heinkel bombers this morning when three of them attempted a scouting raid over the British lines.

Russia's Own Note Used By FDR In Answer To Molotoff Criticism

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Striking back indirectly at Russian Premier Molotoff's criticism of his lending "moral support" to Finland, President Roosevelt has produced a six-month-old soviet statement which focused capital attention today on American relations with Moscow.

Without explanation or comment, the White House released last night a cablegram from President Kalinin of Russia expressing "profound sympathy" for Mr. Roosevelt's efforts to prevent attacks on Finland, Poland and other countries. It was first made public in April.

The unusual action followed: 1. White House speculation as to whether it was "purely coincidental" that Molotoff's speech Tuesday came as the house was debating neutrality legislation.

2. A demand by Rep. McCormack (D-Mass) that the American ambassador be recalled from the "anti-God" soviet.

Molotoff, in a speech to soviet deputies, had said that Mr. Roosevelt was "intervening" in Russian-Finnish negotiations "in contradiction of the United States' policy of neutrality."

He said also that if the United States repealed its arms embargo, it would "intensely, aggravate and protract" the European war.

The flareups over Molotoff's address came while the state department still was inquiring into Russia's course in the City of Flint case. The American freighter was seized by a German prize crew and taken to a Russian port. It now is enroute down the Norwegian coast, with the prize crew in charge and the Americans still aboard.

BLAST CAUSES DAMAGE TO TEXAS SCHOOLROOM

Only three students were injured, none seriously, when a blast under the floor damaged a class room in the Howe, Texas, school, which was thrown heifer skelter. The blast recalled the disastrous New London, Texas, school explosion that killed 297 in 1937.

Court Term To Open Monday

The fourth and final term of 79th district court in Howard county for 1939 will be convened Monday at 10 a. m. in courtroom shining under a recently completed remodeling program.

Not many new cases have been filed since the close of the busy September term, but there are enough hold-over civil and criminal cases to keep the court occupied for the four weeks term.

The list of names from which the grand jury will be chosen includes these men, according to W. S. Morrison, district clerk: R. L. Cook, W. W. Inkman, Arthur Woodall, Albert M. Fisher, Jr., Norman Read, Albert McKinney, C. H. Devaney, Ralph White, George B. Johnson, Edgar Phillips, M. E. Broughton, Earl Castle, L. M. Anderson, Zolite M. Boykin, W. W. Lay, Willis Winters, C. B. Lawrence, Noble Holt, Alex Walker, Sr., and J. B. Collins.

Following the charge to the grand jury Monday morning that body will go to work to consider around a dozen new complaints and any other matters presented. Tuesday the docket for the term will be called and on Wednesday morning the petit jurors for the first week will report for duty.

Sadler Opposes Garner Nomination

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Jerry Sadler, member of the Texas railroad commission, said after a White House call today that Vice President Garner's "presidential boom is the first American casualty of the European war."

Sadler told reporters he had not discussed politics with the president and that he was no politician. But he said he was not for Garner. He added he would support Garner if the democratic party nominated him but that he would "do my damndest" to keep him from getting the nomination.

The Texan said he had talked with the president about oil problems, especially with reference to transportation.

Treasury Studies New Financing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau said today the treasury is considering nearly $2,000,000,000 worth of financing before January 1.

The financing contemplated, the secretary told reporters, includes about $500,000,000 of "new money" borrowing, refunding of $1,378,364,200 of notes which will not come due until next March 15, and between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 of Tennessee Valley Authority borrowing.

Morgenthau said that the $500,000,000 of "new money" borrowing was wanted to pay for the deficit on regular governmental operations, in addition to the $268,000,000 which the treasury expects next week from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The treasury helped the RFC this week to float an issue of approximately $250,000,000 one per cent notes for the specific purpose of enabling the RFC to repay its debt to the treasury.

Carnival Nets Over $500

Thursday's meeting of the Big Spring Kiwanis club was devoted mostly to expressions of thanks from the entire membership to every firm and individual who contributed to the success of the club's Jubitusa, held last Monday and Tuesday nights.

Secretary Merle Stewart reported a gross intake of $959.38, which is $325.38 better than last year's initial offering. Due to the fact that statements for several purchases, labor, etc., have not yet been received, an accurate net figure could not be given. However, Stewart estimated expenses at about $425, leaving approximately $535 in the "profit" column for the Kiwanis club's charity work among underprivileged children.

"The splendid success of this year's Jubitusa puts us in the carnival business for good," Dr. Frank Boyle, general chairman for a-fair, said as plans were made to store all equipment until next year.

"We have something good, something that will grow to large proportions in the years to come and we're going to start right now making plans to publicize next year's show among all communities of the county and in neighboring towns x x x We're going to keep this the 'biggest home built and home operated' carnival in West Texas, and someday I hope it can claim the title of the biggest in the state."

Mrs. Dorothy Lawrence was a guest of the club and reminded the membership of the preliminary Red Cross roll call among business firms. "First contacts are being made with the firms that enrolled 100 per cent last year," she said, "and we're hoping to receive that same cooperation in this drive. Too, we would like to see as many more as possible join this 100 per cent list."

In closing the meeting, Kiwanians voted to change their meeting date for the last week in November from the 30th to Wednesday, November 28.

Whitcomb Riley, died today of influenza induced by September's extreme heat. He would have been 87 years old Dec. 22.

The genial wit, novelist and raconteur died in the South Side home of Mrs. Belle King, widow of a devoted friend of yore, where for many years celebrities and obscure persons fraternized at open house celebrations on Read's birthday anniversaries.

Read was founder of the Arkansas Traveler, humorous paper, author of fifty-two books and coiner of epigrams unnumbered, and even in the advancing years had few peers as a teller of stories.

Among his books were Len Gansett (written in 1886), The Jackalins (1889) and Turkey-Egg Gruffin (1905). At 76 he wrote the Gold Geuse Vell, regarded then as his autobiography, but a more complete work.

Soviet-Finn Dealings In Final Phase

Some Profess To See Signs Of Conciliation

MOSCOW, Nov. 2 (AP)—Soviet Russian-Finnish negotiations over Russia's demands for military and territorial concessions entered a decisive phase today when a Finnish delegation came to Moscow for the third time.

No Rush There was no immediate rush to resume the negotiations, however, and the day passed without any meeting.

Observers saw a sign of conciliation in the fact that the Finns arranged to attend tonight's session of the supreme soviet, Russia's parliament.

The delegation arrived this morning and had been expected to resume negotiations late in the afternoon in an atmosphere sharpened by Soviet-Premier-Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotoff's public declaration Tuesday of the Russian aims.

(Foreign Minister Eljas Erko intimated in Helsinki that Finland was willing to conciliate provided guarantees were given with a treaty.)

Russia meanwhile continued to move toward commercial coalition with Germany.

Semi-official German quarters reported a Nazi economic delegation would return to Berlin today, having completed arrangements for major items to be obtained from Russia.

MODIFICATION? HELSINKI, Nov. 2 (AP)—Finland acknowledged today Soviet Russia's right to strengthen Lenin's defenses but intimated that Russian territorial demands must be modified if an agreement is to be reached.

New treaties, said Foreign Minister Eljas Erko, should be accompanied by guarantees that they will be respected.

The Finnish people recognize, he said, "that if difficulties and dangers are to be overcome, it may be that we must throw into the scales all we own."

Erko declared Russia had approved Finland's neutrality policy and this implies that Finland can not enter into any undertaking which would endanger our country's neutrality or even make it subject to doubt.

The general impression in Helsinki political circles was that the Finnish response, barring last-minute changes, would be so firm that Russia would have to withdraw some territorial demands if a pact were made.

AVIATOR ASSESSED LIFE TERM FOR MID-AIR SLAYING

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 2 (AP)—The eccentric flying career of Elmer Farmer, who had a passion to be an aviator ended in a forced landing here today as Earl Pletcher began a life term in the state prison.

In a surprise move at Macon, Mo., yesterday, Pletcher, 29, pleaded guilty to slaying Instructor Carl Bivens one mile above Macon county and was given a life sentence by Circuit Judge Harry J. Libby.

The judge said the sentence was in accordance with the wish of Bivens' widow.

MEXICANS HELD Two Mexican youths, John Bascul and Benancio Carrizalls, were held by police Thursday on charges of petty theft.

They were named in connection with loss of a pair of pants missed by the Crawford cleaners. Police said they arrested the youths in a northside cafe in possession of the missing pants.

Adjournment Saturday Seen; Embargo Repeal Vote Near

House Winds Up Debate On Neutrality With Rayburn Urging Removal Of 'Causes Of Involvement 22 Years Ago'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Majority Leader Rayburn told the house today that the administration's proposed neutrality law would remove those causes of involvement which "got this country into the war 22 years ago."

The administration spokesman made one of the closing arguments over the measure a short time before the house was expected to begin voting on its most controversial provision, repeal of the present embargo on arms sales to warring nations.

He and other house leaders appeared confident this and less important issues would be disposed of during the afternoon and the measure started on its way through the final phases of becoming the nation's second neutrality statute of the present war, replacing the first law already invoked.

Adjournment of the special session Saturday night was predicted. Unlike the present law the administration bill would set up a system of cash and carry commerce with belligerents—permitting the sale of arms, munitions and other goods on that basis.

Financing its schedule into plans to speed the bill along, the senate met briefly and adjourned until 4 p. m. (CST), about the time the house may have finished with the bill in its present stage. The routine action then up to the senate will be to authorize a conference with the house to work out the final form of the bill.

Chairman Pittman (D-NeV.), of the foreign relations committee told reporters the joint conference committee would meet at 9:30 a. m. (CST) tomorrow. Majority Leader Barkley said six foreign relations committees would be the senate conferees: Pittman, George (D-Ga.), Wagner (D-NY), Connally (D-Tex), Borah (D-Idaho) and Johnson (R-Calif.).

In debate today, the house was urged by Rep. Luther Johnson (D-Tex), "to carry out the will of the American people" and support repeal of the arms embargo.

Remarking that Premier Vyacheslav Molotoff of Russia had criticized the United States foreign policy this week while the house was in the midst of neutrality discussion, Johnson said:

"It's up to congress to carry out the will of the American people. The polls have spoken, the senate has spoken and I am admonishing you to be just and fear not."

Asserting that the arms embargo has not worked—"it was only a noble experiment, although a noble experiment," Johnson criticized arguments of anti-repealists that it would be unneutral to change the rules in war time.

The embargo, Johnson said, "was neutral in fact but unneutral in effect."

"It played into the hands of dictator nations," he continued. "Instead of keeping nations out of war it has had the opposite effect."

"If we have statutes that will cause that, then we ought to wipe them off the books. They (repeal opponents) said that it's now too late to repeal the embargo."

"My reply is that we're neither a referee or participant in that war and we don't propose to become either. We don't propose to change the war in Europe. We only want to protect the rights and lives of the citizens of the United States."

The Texan, ranking democratic member on the house foreign affairs committee, said he had a sick member on the house foreign affairs committee.

Germany After Raw Materials

BERLIN, Nov. 2 (AP)—A great whirl of activity in the Soviet Russian trade headquarters today was visible evidence of Nazi-communist led economic cooperation whereby Germany hopes to get raw materials she needs for the war.

The trade deal with Russia has brought about a rush of business, which has swamped the Russian embassy.

While the German press was exhausting adjectives to praise Soviet Premier-Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotoff for outlining a foreign policy in which a strong Germany was regarded as necessary, economic cooperation between the states was being accelerated.

Russian experts were scurrying about German factories placing vast orders for machinery and other industrial products. In Russia, meanwhile, German buyers were ordering Russian wheat, lumber and ores.

Little money was involved. The deal was essentially one of barter arrangements.

German political leaders expressed satisfaction with the trend of German-Russian relations and insisted they never expected military cooperation from Moscow.

ARTILLERY ACTION PARIS, Nov. 2 (AP)—German heavy artillery is obtaining its pounding of French positions on the western front, military reports said today, disclosing that the town of Forbach was shelled yesterday.

Forbach, two miles inside the French frontier on the eastern edge of the Warndt forest, was believed to be the town mentioned by the French as having been attacked unsuccessfully Tuesday by a German raiding force of 1,000 men.

French dispatches said damage to the town was minor.

German artillery also directed its fire against French positions on the left bank of the Elles river, near Saarguemines. There were a few encounters of small infantry detachments.

New Car Sales Up Sharply

Gains and losses were mixed, and the usual autumn upswing showed to be somewhat dull in a survey of October business as reflected by public agency reports Thursday.

Building showed a slight gain over the previous month, postal receipts were off, but new passenger car sales were up sharply.

For October, the construction total within the city amounted to $16,650, up from the $14,090 in September but off from the $20,991 for October of last year. During the month there were three new residential structures raised at a cost of $9,475 and one new business house at a cost of $4,000. Most of the activity was during the first part of the month, with building almost collapsing before November.

The short harvest and failure of business generally to react to the customary autumn stimulus were reflected in the $6,197.51 postal receipts for October. This was well above the $5,519.67 for September, but considerably under the $6,770.08 for October a year ago.

With new models making their appearance a little earlier, the new passenger car market came out of the doldrums with 82 such machines being registered during October. This compared very favorably with only 58 for September and a mere 39 for October a year ago.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Albert M. Fisher's mother, Mrs. L. L. Kaufman, of Chicago, Ill. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. L. D. Wasmuth of Chicago, Mrs. George Beaman of Clayton, Mo., and Mrs. Fisher.

Mrs. Fisher left here by plane Wednesday but arrived after the death of her mother which occurred sometime Wednesday night. Mrs. Kaufman had been in poor health for the past few years.

WITNESS HELD

William C. McCuiston (above) a witness before the Dies anti-American committee, was turned over to police after a New Orleans officer said he was looking for a man named William C. McCuiston, wanted in the fatal shooting of a man September 17. The police were instructed to take McCuiston before the civil liberties section of the justice department in Washington to determine whether his civil rights had been violated.

Reds Dominate U. S. Shipping?

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Chairman Dies (D-Tex) of the house committee on un-American activities expressed the opinion today that Soviet Russia was "virtually in control of the situation here as far as our ships are concerned."

He made the comment after hearing testimony of Frederick C. Phillips of New York that 80 per cent of the membership in the National Maritime Union was communist and that "the other 20 per cent are afraid to open their mouths."

"Then the union is virtually under the control of the communist party?" Dies asked.

"Yes," was the reply.

"Then you might say," the chairman continued, "that Russia has more control over the situation than the United States?"

"You might," Phillips agreed. "It seems to me that the soviet union is virtually in control of the situation here so far as our ships are concerned," Dies said.

"At the present time I believe so," Phillips replied.

After Phillips, a former union official, testified that an attempt had been made to murder him because of his opposition to communism in the NMU, Dies urged him to present his case to the justice department. William McCuiston, a

UNCLE OF LOCAL WOMAN INJURED IN MENARD BLAST

MENARD, Nov. 2 (AP)—Joe Decker, injured in an explosion which wrecked his 10-room residence last night, was reported in serious condition today.

He was alone in the dwelling at the time. Neighbors dragged him from the wreckage while fire fighters extinguished the blaze. Most of the furniture was shattered or burned.

Origin of the blast was not established, but officers theorized an accumulation of gas was responsible.

Furniture and parts of the house were scattered over the lot and street, hundreds of pieces of glass within a radius of a block were broken.

Residents 14 miles in the country reported hearing the blast.

Joe Decker, injured in the Menard explosion, is an uncle of Mrs. W. D. Willbanks of Big Spring.

Here Are Recipes For Mouth Watering Fish Stories

By MISS ALEXANDER GEORGE, AP Feature Service Writer
Fish—comparatively inexpensive, containing little waste and requiring a rather short cooking period—is a good friend of the budget. It is also one of our very best health-building foods. So it's a good idea for a homemaker to induce her family to become fish-minded.

Frozen, fresh or dried fish are available in most sections of the country so fish meals can be frequent. The flavor of frozen fish compares favorably with that of fish freshly caught.

Thaw out frozen fish in a room of moderate temperature. 20 minutes is about enough. To hasten the thawing soak 5 minutes in cold water. Do not soak longer or much of the flavor will be lost.

When you buy fish steaks or fillets allow 1-3 pound per serving. A fillet is fish with all the skin and bones removed; it is a good buy. Allow 1-2 pound of whole or large-boned fish for each person.

A mild-flavored fat fish calls for a piquant sauce such as pickle, relish, tomato or olive. A lean fish with little fat needs extra fat supplied through a richer sauce—cheese, egg, hollandaise, mayonnaise. Lemon goes with all fish.

Fish has little connective tissue so it should be cooked just long enough to develop the flavor and make it tender enough to eat. Overcooking breaks apart and toughens it.

BAKED FISH is quite a delicacy, and is not hard to prepare. Select a fish of 4 pounds or so, and either split or fill with a savory stuffing. Arrange in a shallow baking pan and cook, uncovered, in a moderate oven. Allow 10 minutes per pound for fish weighing 4 pounds or less. Add 10 minutes extra for those over. Baste all fish with fat (butter or substitute) mixed with equal parts of boiling water or tomato juice. If a lean fish is chosen, additional fat is needed, so fasten thin strips of salt pork or bacon on top. As they cook their drippings season the fish.

COOKED FILLETS or individual pieces of fish: Dip in rolled

Pan-fried butterfish topped with lemon slices—a dish as good as it looks.

crumbs (or cornmeal), then quickly dip in egg yolk mixed with equal portion of milk. Dip

FAN-FRIED BUTTERFISH

Olive oil
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
6 butterfish
1-2 cup flour

Wash, clean, dry the fish carefully. Dissolve salt in milk and dip fish in it. Roll lightly in flour and fry in olive oil. Fry quickly until brown on one side. Carefully turn and brown on other side. The fish is so soft, fish will break if not handled carefully while cooking.

again in the crumbs. Arrange in a shallow, well-greased pan.

Spread with melted butter mixed with salt, paprika, celery seed and chopped parsley. Bake 5 minutes in hot oven. Turn carefully, baste with the butter seasoning mixture, and cook about 8 minutes until the fish is crispy brown and tender.

STUFFED FISH STEAKS: Select 2 steaks of medium size. Spread one steak with a highly seasoned rice or bread stuffing. Cover with the other, top with melted butter, seasonings and a little lemon juice. Serve hot with tomato sauce.

BROILED FISH: Split small fish, cut larger fish into serving pieces or use fillets. Arrange about 5 inches below a flame (after first brushing fish with melted butter). When brown, turn and cook the other side. Spread quickly with butter mixed with seasonings and parsley.

Constipation Relief That Also Pepsin-izes Stomach

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste, and bad breath, your stomach is probably loaded up with certain undigested food and your bowels don't move. So you need both Pepsin to help break up that fat rich undigested food in your stomach, and Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels. So be sure your laxative also contains Pepsin. Take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative, because its Syrup Pepsin helps you gain that wonderful stomach comfort, while the Laxative Senna moves your bowels. Tests prove the power of Pepsin to dissolve those lumps of undigested protein food which may linger in your stomach, to cause belching, gastric acidity and nausea. This is how pepsin-izing your stomach helps relieve it of such distress. At the same time this medicine wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your bowels to relieve your constipation. So see how much better you feel by taking the laxative that also puts Pepsin to work on that stomach discomfort, too. Even finicky children love to taste this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative—Senna with Syrup Pepsin at your druggist today!

WARNING AGAINST IMPROPER AUTO REGISTRATION

AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (AP)—State police warned today improper registration of automobile or truck motor numbers might raise a doubt as to ownership of vehicles. Officials said a number of applications for certificates of title contained identical motor numbers which turned out to be Paris and frame numbers.

Ralph L. Buell, chief of the certificate of title division of the state police, asserted motor numbers were the major clues in searches for stolen cars as thieves often removed license plates.

The certificate of title law was passed in an effort to halt automobile thievery.

People Who Elected Legislators Have Right Of Recall

AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (AP)—Any demands for resignation of state legislators should come from the people who elected them, Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel said today.

The governor was commenting, in response to a question, on a letter from D. M. Jones of Dallas to him suggesting he ask Rep. Rawlins Colquitt of Dallas to resign. Colquitt recently pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated and received a one-year suspended sentence.

"In this democracy," the governor said, "the people elect their legislators. Therefore it follows that demands for their resignation, if any, should be made by the people who elect them."

Governor O'Daniel has called three special elections to fill vacancies in the house of representatives caused by the voluntary resignations of representatives.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Oil Demand Is Improved

AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (AP)—The oil industry enters November with demand for its products materially higher than a year ago and its statistical position good except for heavy gasoline stocks.

Thus far there has been no increase in exports as a consequence of the war. Some leaders expressed the opinion, however, that if the arms embargo is repealed, industrial operations in this country would expand and domestic demand for fuel therefore would rise.

A difference of opinion existed in the industry as to whether authorized crude output was too large. Production has been averaging approximately 3,000,000 barrels daily, or 300,000 above a recommendation at Fort Worth last month by a committee of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

On the other hand, Jerry Sadler, Texas railroad commissioner, said in Washington the purpose of his visit was an attempt to persuade the bureau of mines to boost its November estimate of demand to such an extent the Texas allowance might be raised at least 300,000 barrels a day. The current Texas allowance is around 1,400,000 barrels daily after deducting for shut-downs of 11 days per month.

The industry awaited with great interest the scheduled start of hearings at Washington next Monday on a bill to give the federal government at least partial control over oil production. The first week will be devoted to testimony of government witnesses, including Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior.

At its Fort Worth session, the Independent Petroleum Association of America expressed opposition to the bill. Rep. William P. Cole (Dem.) of Maryland, who introduced it at President Roosevelt's request, defended it with the argument that under its terms the federal government would not step in unless states fell down in their job of preventing oil waste.

Oil men in Texas, by far the largest producing state, evinced interest in Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's promised decision next Sunday on whether he will call a special session of the legislature to increase taxes. Such a session might result in a boost of the oil production tax now 2 3/4 per cent of value.

The fact that gasoline stocks remain substantially higher than at the same time in 1938 is causing the industry a bit of worry. Some oil men believe that unless these stocks are reduced between now and January 1 they will be a potential source of trouble in 1940.

Seagraves C-C Banquet Nov. 16

SEAGRAVES, Nov. 2—Charles C. Thompson of Colorado City, prominent West Texas banker and civic leader, has accepted invitation to deliver principal address on program of the Seagraves chamber of commerce annual banquet Thursday evening, November 16, Joe H. Webb, local merchant and chairman of committee on arrangements, has announced.

Other prominent personages already accepting invitation to attend the affair include Congressman George H. Mahon of the 19th Texas district, who is at present attending sessions of congress in Washington, and Lieutenant Governor Murry of New Mexico.

"I plan attending your annual banquet if at all possible," Congressman Mahon stated in wire to the chamber of commerce. He expects congress to adjourn early in November.

Plans for entertaining 300 citizens of Seagraves and this are being formulated by the committee. Election of directors for another fiscal year and consideration of objectives of the chamber will be among the matters presented.

Ben P. White, owner of the Sunbeam Iron Works, is president of the chamber of commerce. Fred Robertson, Seagraves lumberman, is vice president. The other three executive officials include M. H. Patterson, cashier of the First State bank; W. A. Griffin, Jr., attorney, and C. M. Armstrong, mayor.

Truckers On Trial For Load Violation

M'ALLEN, Nov. 2 (AP)—Two truckers hauling citrus fruit out of the valley faced trial at Edinburg today on charges of violating the load limit law, while shippers took heart in a reported verbal attack on the statute by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel.

The two truckers were arrested last night and made bond before Justice of the Peace Ramsour.

A. J. McColl of McAllen, grower-shopper and chairman of a valley committee seeking a solution to the citrus movement problem, quoted O'Daniel as terming the 7,000 pound load limit measure "the craziest law on the statute books."

McColl said O'Daniel further told him he had advised Col. Homer Garrison, director of the department of public safety, either to have his inspectors do their truck weighing in Hidalgo county or move them out of the district.

Reports from Edinburg late last night said five weight inspectors had established a station two and a half miles north of town.

Last night's arrests followed halting of more than 40 trucks at Fremont earlier. Drivers were required to unload fruit in excess of the load limit.

FILM ACTOR FOUND DEAD AT HIS HOME

BEVERLY HILLS Calif., Nov. 2 (AP)—The shocking death of bushy-browed Claude Gillingwater, 69, lovable character actor of stage and screen, stirred the film colony today.

Detectives, summoned by the kindly old fellow's housekeeper, found the body late yesterday in a chair in a closet of Gillingwater's quiet home, a bullet wound through the chest.

Four neatly-typed notes—one to police and the others to his son, his physician and his housekeeper—

RESERVATION FORM

The Daily Herald Music Appreciation Dept., Big Spring, Texas

First, fill in and mail the Reservation Form printed in the lower right corner of this announcement. The purpose of this form is not to obligate you in any way, but to enable us to estimate the quantity of records and Record Players to have on hand to meet the demand.

Each day during this music appreciation offer, we will publish a reminder coupon setting forth the date on which each symphony will be ready. You can get your first symphony (Franz Schubert's No. 8 in B minor) on November 4. Subsequent symphonies will be released one every two weeks thereafter. Watch the reminder coupon which will be published daily. It is not necessary for you to clip the coupon in order to get your Record Player.

You obtain each symphony, which consists of three or four double-faced, 12-inch records, for a payment of $1.49. This payment is not for each record, but for all THREE or FOUR records. Symphonies which consist of FIVE double-faced, 12-inch records require a payment of $1.99 for the entire symphony of all FIVE records. The Cesar Franck Symphony in D minor, on account of its great length, is divided into two units, each unit consisting of three double-faced, 12-inch records, and the cost of each unit is $1.49, the same as for any other three-record group. A quantity of de luxe records, known as Philharmonic Transcriptions, enclosed in beautiful record albums which have been designed individually for each particular symphony, are available at a slightly higher price.

Townsendites To Carry On Campaign

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Complete directions for getting manna from Washington will be given by Townsendites, beginning this month, to every Pennsylvania voter over 60 who is willing to listen.

A little later New York voters will be told, Come January, and the word will be taken to Ohio. After that, the cry of "manna on" will go to Illinois.

Seventeen radio stations will be used in Pennsylvania to carry the pension theories of the frosty-haired Dr. Francis E. Townsend and his collaborator, Senator Downey (D-Calif.). Probably 25 stations will be used in New York.

Twice a week for the next year—up to the next presidential election—the story of pensions and how to get them will be recited to Pennsylvanians.

For months, ever since their last national convention at Indianapolis, the Townsendites have been building up a fund for the big pension drive. They claim that their membership is growing steadily, undeterred either by their last winter's defeat in congress or by the outbreak of war in Europe.

What they are shooting at now is enough delegates in the 1940 democratic and republican national conventions to influence platforms, along with final dominance over enough members of congress to write their pension plan into law. Almost a third of the convention delegates will come from Illinois, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and California, the states in which the Townsend movement started.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—Secretary Hopkins said today that America's consumers spent $1,700,000 more on retail trade in the first nine months of this year than they did in the same months last year. The total was $28,900,000,000.

Dancer Sentenced For Espionage

GENEVA, Nov. 2 (AP)—A 28-year-old dancer known as "Nina" was sentenced to five years in prison today by five Swiss judges who found her guilty of espionage and treason.

Roger Joel, a former draftsman in a Swiss arms factory, jointly convicted on the same charges, was sentenced to three years imprisonment.

The dancer was on the docket as Virginia Capt. Rota.

Paul Rochat, a Geneva detective, was convicted of political activity in behalf of a foreign state and sentenced to 15 months in prison. His wife received a 10-month suspended sentence.

The state charged the Rochats had transmitted military and political information to the Italian consul-general in Geneva, but did not accuse of them of treason.

LETTERS EXCHANGED

ATHENS, Nov. 2 (AP)—The government announced today that letters had been exchanged with Italy "contributing to the preservation of peace in this part of Europe."

IMAGINE A BLOWOUT FOR THIS—Little Dorothy Bennett, 15, is dwarfed by 10-foot-high tire on the snow cruiser being built in Chicago for use on the Byrd Antarctic expedition.

Lamesa Farmer Proves Benefits Of Conservation

LAMESA, Nov. 2—Soil and moisture conservation practices have been very beneficial to B. Fancher who owns an 80-acre farm joining Lamesa townsite on the south and a 100-acre farm five miles southeast of Lamesa. Although rainfall has been far below normal this year, Fancher states, "I have the best crops I have ever made on these farms. The contour rows held most of the rain where it fell and as a result I produced 40 bales of cotton on one 50-acre field and 20 bales on another 20-acre field. If my land had been terraced in time to have conserved all the rain that fell in January I am sure that the yield would have been over a bale to the acre."

While the 80-acre farm has been under a cooperative agreement with the Lamesa soil conservation service several years and has been farmed on contour and planted in a strip crop pattern, the 100-acre farm was just put under agreement last March. Due to lack of equipment Fancher was unable to get his land terraced before planting time so he planted grain sorghum on the terrace lines with cotton between the lines. He now has the grain harvested and is ready to terrace while some of his cotton is still in the field.

ABSENT-MINDED

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 2 (AP)—An eccentric, absent-minded burglar is being sought by police.

He broke into a house and stole a coat, a curtain and a victrola. Then he forgot and left his pistol.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Dea's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Dea's Pills.

Homecoming Festivities At Baylor On Air

The gigantic "Baylor Homecoming Pep-Rally," on the even of the annual grid battle between the Baylor "Bears" and the T.C.U. "Horned Frogs" November 4, will be aired from the Baylor university gymnasium in Waco Friday evening, the colorful festivities to be aired over station KBST and the Texas State Network from 7:15 to 8 o'clock.

Student yells will be interspersed by music by Everett McCracken's famous "Gold Wave Band" and Coach Morley Jennings from Baylor will talk about Saturday's big game.

This is the first in a series of TSN broadcasts from outstanding college pep rallies, scheduled during the remainder of the 1939 football season. Friday night's "Homecoming Rally" will originate from Waco through the facilities of WACO, TSN's Central Texas affiliate.

"WISE GUYS"

Texas radio listeners last week took $5 away from the "Five Wise Guys" of the Texas State Network on the net's new Friday night quiz program.

The score: Listeners, 5; "Five Wise Guys," 15. Out of 20 questions chosen from a large number sent in by listeners, the "Wise Guys" answered 15. One dollar went to each of the five listeners who sent in questions that the experts could not answer.

The "Five Wise Guys" are on the air at 9 p. m. each Friday to answer the questions that listeners have sent in the preceding week. The program is heard locally over KBST, the TSN station here.

BATH HARMFUL?

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 (AP)—Youngsters may sometimes have scientific basis for their protest, "I don't wanna bath."

Dr. Eugene F. Traub of New York declared in Hygeia magazine that the daily soap and water bath—if taken indiscriminately—may cause eczema during winter months because of lack of sunlight and too much dry heat tend to dry out the skin.

MOORE

People of the Moore community together with the Big Spring high school band and many other residents from the city enjoyed a program Thursday evening in the local school auditorium which was jointly sponsored by the Big Spring High School Band Mothers and the Moore Parent-Teacher association. The band, composed of some 40 or 50 members under the direction of Dan Conley, offered a splendid 45 minutes concert, after which city and rural neighbors joined in fun and frolic the remainder of the evening. The sponsors of the program wish to thank Darby's Bakery, Bradford's Grocery, Barnhill's Bakery, Vaughn's Sweet Shop, Banner Creamery and the Southern Ice company, as well as the ladies from the Moore community and Mrs. J. A. Myers and Mrs. Hull, who contributed generously towards the affair. Mrs. B. M. Newton, Parent-Teacher president, announces a regular program of the organization to be given in the school auditorium Monday night, Nov. 6, at which time a program on the subject, "High School and College Education," will be presented. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Phillips and son, Everett Doyle, Cecil Phillips and Miss Elizabeth McCrary attended WSTC homecoming at Canyon over the weekend. Both Ted and Cecil are former students of West Texas State. Mr. and Mrs. Boe Clark are the parents of a son born Tuesday night. The boy weighed seven pounds and was named Billy Dick. Gifts Instead Of Wages

Two states will reach decisions on propositions involving millions of dollars next week. Ohio voters will pass on a so-called "plan" to pay all unemployed persons over 60 years old $50 a month, and $80 a month to married couples over that age.

The principal difference in the two schemes is that Ohio proposes to pay the recipients of its largesse in real money, but in California they are to be issued warrants which will be receivable as real money—at least that is the assertion of the advocates of the scheme.

Approval of these measures by the voters is indicated at the moment, though there may be enough straight thinking people who will go to the polls and defeat them. Texas voters, indirectly, voted overwhelmingly last year for something just as visionary, and there are yet a lot of them who believe the promise will develop into reality, their belief sustained by the promise of some legislators.

It is typical of these financial proposals involving millions, and probably billions, that they are made by persons who have never been charged with the management of transactions that ran into even the thousands. Compared with them the theories of years past—Colon Harvey, the Greenback and Populist parties, and other money doctors—were conservative. For those early-day financiers looked only to providing more circulating medium to be put into the hands of people who worked and earned, while the idea today is to provide gifts rather than wages.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Small, intimate theatres produce the best drama. You can't have good theatre in halls that look like Grand Central terminal. Some of the cinema houses in New York are ornate pleasure domes, as large as all outdoors. These are all right for films; drama would be lost and out of place in them.

But the type of theatre I have in mind is best exemplified by the Music Box, in 45th street. Unless I am mistaken, it has never had a failure. It is quite small. It is compact. The people in the front row and the people in the back row are neighbors. The people who buy standing room can still see the actors without the use of binoculars.

In these smaller theatres you never see spectacles in which 44 camels drift across several acres of sand. But, then, that isn't drama. Drama—good theatre—is make-believe in which you can believe.

From 8:45 till 10 after 11 is the hour. It is the hour for the Helen Hayes, and the Katharine Cornells and the Gertrude Lawrence. The plays they appear in are produced in theatres with perhaps 600 seats on the first floor—seldom more. Music Hall has four thousand seats. To sit in the rear of Music Hall and see Tallulah Bankhead you would have to use television. And amplifiers.

I like the Music Box because most of George S. Kaufman's plays are produced there. Irving Berlin, I think, and Sam Harris, own a part of it. It has housed more splendid nonsense, more good drama than probably is found on the shelves of your library.

When the six hundred people who sit downstairs come into the foyer between acts, you have to be philosophical when people tread on your toes, and to rest their elbows in your ribs. There isn't much room. Yet there always seems room enough for eight or 10 people who sell cigarettes, and chewing gum, and gardenias, and pencils. These are the theatrical aims seekers—landmarks in Manhattan's after dark life, who shouldn't be there. No one resents the efforts of people trying to make a living. No one objects to men and women getting out after dark trying to balance their economic scale by turning an honest penny. You have to admire people who will work any and all hours to make ends meet.

But there is a time and place for everything. The city has asked you not to encourage these people by purchasing things from them. The city assures one and all that these people are well-cared for...that there is relief, and always food, and shelter, for those in need.

I wouldn't know. If a man is out at 11 o'clock at night selling pencils, he must have a reason for being out. He doesn't do those things because he is an eccentric. But there isn't enough room in the theatre foyers even for the people who buy tickets, and also less for this additional coterie of salesmen.

You don't want to buy things between the acts of a play—you want to talk with a friend about the act you have just seen. You want to laugh over it, or criticize it.

Perhaps this is being pretty small. It isn't included in that manner. But here is a problem that is a very genuine problem on Broadway between the first and the last curtain calls. I noticed it tonight, and I thought I'd make a note of it.

How To Torture Your Husband

THE LITTLE WOMAN'S SENSE OF HUMOR

The Creeping Man

by Frances Shelley Wees

Chapter 21 CASTING SEEDS "Your mother is upset...because of bad news?" inquired Tuck.

"Yes. That is it. Bad news—strange, perturbing news. News that we do not understand. But I do not make myself clear. I wonder if you have been told just where Professor Murchison, my cousin's husband, is at the present moment?" His brown eyes darted to each face.

"Why no, we haven't," Michael replied. "I had an idea he was away on a business trip."

"Yes. Someone told you that?" Tuck spoke up. "Mrs. Deane told me that," she said.

"Yes. I see. Well—we, too, think he is away on a business trip. But we are not sure just what this business is—or when he is coming back."

"I will tell you the whole story," said Devoe evenly. "He went away one night, and did not tell anyone where he was going—not even his wife. Until last week—and you can imagine the suspense, the wonder, the fears—until last week we heard nothing from him. The police had attempted to trace him and had failed. Then we had a letter from Chicago saying that we were not to worry. It was a very short letter, indicating that he is perhaps absorbed in pressing work of his own, but it gave no indication of his exact whereabouts or the time of his returning. As a matter of fact, it was most unsatisfactory, but it reassured his wife to a certain extent. However..." he paused, and then went on.

"Our private affairs are not what trouble us. It is that others, with malicious tongues, are attempting to cause us trouble. It is worrying my mother greatly, and Mrs. Murchison too."

"I don't quite understand, Mr. Devoe." Michael looked up from the little pile of crumbled toast on the table before him.

Devoe's face darkened. "No, I hesitate—but I must speak of the matter. You ladies will undoubtedly hear of this, be subjected to these rumors—I must guard you against them. The woman who lives next door to you—Miss Lissey—has a most uncontrollable tongue, and a strange mind. For no reason at all she will manufacture ugly stories out of whole cloth, and repeat them everywhere. It seems that she has discovered that the Professor's absence has caused us great worry, that we have not been sure of his exact whereabouts. And she is telling—he frowned angrily—"she is telling that he has gone away with another woman and has left his wife for good. It is jealousy, of course, which you will be able to understand. She hates youth and beauty. She hates my cousin because she is young and beautiful. But it is most unkind, and most annoying."

"Mrs. Murchison does not believe that?" "Certainly not. Nothing could be further from her mind."

"And you?" He was taken by surprise. He looked at Michael queerly. "I, too, am convinced that she is very wrong," he said gravely.

"Then your point is that Miss Lissey is telling fibrous stories and must be stopped."

"That is it exactly," he paused.

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—To the hazards of life in Washington should be added race horse-touts and the March of Time.

We will take them up in that order, although that may or may not be the way we feel about them.

Washington has no horse tracks of its own, but not far over the line in Maryland are such spots as Laurel and Havre de Grace where the horses run and the touts ply their trade with skillful additions to their tricks which should be reported.

At Laurel a tout rushes up to whisper something in the ear of Postmaster General Farley but is casually brushed aside and doesn't press his point. On to the next victim he wings his way, and the name of the victim he will hold because he blushes easily.

"Put a piece on Blue Nose," says he, although Blue Nose is not the name of the horse, whose true name we will also withhold because the horse also blushes easily. Our victim is not eager to put a piece on Blue Nose because he thinks he knows the way of touts. But this one has tricks.

THE CLINCHER

"I just come from the stables, see," he says, "and I was out with a couple of jockeys last night. This one is all locked up. I am no bum, fella," he adds, and to prove his point he spreads a roll of bills with a tender on top.

Nevertheless, our hesitant victim is on the point of turning away when out from behind an automobile sneaks a wiry fellow who says in a half tone that could be heard 40 feet:

"You better get back to the stables, Beeky, you're in trouble about them bandages."

That touch of local color is enough to sack our victim and he passes $4 through the window hesitantly. Blue Nose does not win. That makes no difference to the tout, of course, who probably has pulled this fancy trick to tip off a sucker on every horse in the race. So no matter which comes in he has a claim for a kick-in.

ANOTHER THING—

But horses don't trouble us much, and not nearly so early in the morning as the March of Time.

At 7:15 a. m. our telephone cut loose the other morning and sent up galloping downstairs in our pajamas.

"This is Western Union," says a sweet voice, sweet even at 7:15 a. m. "We have a rather long telegram for you."

We have no cows to milk so we are not always up at 7:15 a. m. and when Western Union calls at that hour either a distant relative has left us some money or the office wants us down away, there is trouble.

"Read the telegram," we tremble at Western Union.

A FEW ARE CHOSEN

"The American farmer was the bulwark of the Allied armies during the World war," purrs the girl at 7:15 a. m. "Yes, yes," we agree, "go on."

"Now again in 1939 (we are quoting ad lib as we remember it, so the words may differ but the idea is there) the American farmer may be called upon to feed a world at war. The March of Time has prepared a film release on the American farmer—"

At this point our tension is down and our dander up because 15 minutes more of sleep were rightfully ours before we needed to consider the American farmer feeding the world.

But it develops, via the sweet voice, that the March of Time is giving a preview of its new release to a few selected souls in the department of agriculture auditorium. At 7:15 a. m. We have been selected as one of those to see and hear it.

And because we are a diligent soul, even at 7:15 a. m. while shy 15 minutes rightful sleep, we take down a telephone number where we are to call for a formal invitation.

HOLLYWOOD—Uncle Sam will be cheered to know that our statistical department just reported that his prosaic army pays its buck privates more than fabulous Hollywood does...

"Duncan is very sullen and ill tempered. We have little talk together on the matter. I do not know his opinion."

"Well, what about Miss Lissey herself? Where was she at the time he left? Did she see him go? It might be worth your while to find that out."

"I might suggest that to the Police Commissioner," Devoe said doubtfully. He turned to Tuck. "You will pardon my uneasiness, Mrs. Forrester, I am sure," he said politely. "Perhaps this matter will be cleared up soon, and then we shall have freer minds. In the meantime, you will understand why my mother...and Mrs. Murchison..."

"Certainly," Tuck interrupted.

Posters Will Tell Tourists About Westex

ABILENE, Nov. 2—The most extensive outdoor advertising campaign ever designed to tell the world about West Texas will be launched by the West Texas chamber of commerce Nov. 1.

Two hundred poster panels located in every part of the vast West Texas region have been furnished by the outdoor advertising firms of its area to carry the message not only to the tourists of the nation but also to West Texans themselves.

Message of the brilliantly colored posters is "You're in West Texas Now—Nation's Happiest, Bustiest, Richest Region." Tourists then are invited to visit every part of the region by the wording, "See It All," which forms the central part of a huge arrow in the poster design.

"Sole purpose of the campaign is to advertise West Texas," said Walter D. Cline, Wichita Falls, chairman of the resource exhibit committee of the regional organization.

"This is done on the posters by advertising first the region as a whole and then by inviting the public to visit the West Texas Resource and Museum Institute maintained by the WTCC in its headquarters building. The resource exhibits themselves are the greatest piece of regional advertising ever conceived, for they give a comprehensive picture of the entire resources of the region and at the same time advertise every county and community and show some of the background and history of the area. Cline declared.

"The poster campaign is one of the most constructive programs for publicizing the region ever carried out by the West Texas chamber of commerce and this organization has been telling the world about West Texas for 20 years," said J. S. Bridwell, WTCC vice president in charge of organization.

The posters will cover the entire region, agencies at the following places having pledged panels in the areas they serve: Big Spring, Amarillo, Cisco, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Vernon, San Angelo, Stamford, El Paso, Wichita Falls, Dallas, Waco, Brownwood, Abilene, Balmorhea and Brady.

THE SPORTS PARADE

BY HANK HART

Big Spring's Olie Cordill, now on his way with the Rice football team to New York City where the Owls will meet Fordham university in the Polo Grounds Saturday, is finally making his bid for a position on the All-Southwestern Conference grid eleven and recognition as an All-American.

Olie, in punting 18 times for an average mark of 42.6 yards, has taken the lead in that department away from Arkansas' Kay Eakin, according to figures released recently by Texas A&M's reliable statistician, H. B. McElroy. Eakin had punted 31 times for an average of 40.6 yards.

Big Olie also ranks high as a ball totter, having amassed 115 yards in 24 attempts with the pig pelt for an average dash of 4.21 yards. He trails Texas Jack Crain, Deraoe Moser, A&M, and SMU's Preston Johnson in that department.

The Big Spring youth has also caught eight passes for a total gain of 80 yards to date, returned 11 punts for a total distance of 145 yards or an average of 13.2 yards.

He is recognized as Rice's best defensive back, won high praise from the Texas mentor, Dana Bible, for his performance against the Longhorns last week.

He gets his big chance in the game at the Polo Grounds Saturday. The Owls will be the decided underdogs but Cordill, if Ernie Lain's passes get to clicking, may show the Rams something.

Woodrow Harris, former Steer tackle, is going great guns for Eastern New Mexico college's Greyhounds, according to Steve Baker, another ex-Big Spring gridder who was given an enforced vacation recently due to a battered shoulder.

Harris is playing wing for Al Gerten's crew along with LeRoy Wood, another Big Springer, and doing the team's punting.

The team should win Mountain Junior college conference honors, from all reports.

Baker, working at center, was the Greyhounds' first kicker but is injured in the second game and is out for the season. He may go to New Mexico A&M next fall.

Oddly, Steve was not hurt while performing at center but while pulled back to punt. A bad pass-back forced him to chase the ball and before he could get it away, a hefty opponent had crashed him to earth in a crude tackle.

They can talk about their Tom Harmon and their Jack Crains if they want but the football player of the year is destined to be Louisiana State's redoubtable Ken Kavanaugh, an end who is making Baton Rouge fans forget all about Gaynell Tinsley.

Kavanaugh, in scoring nine of the Tigers' ten touchdowns this season, has already earned himself a place on most all-America eleven.

Tinsley, in all his glory, was never able to do some of the things Kavanaugh is accomplishing at LSU. The 205-pound wing earned the solid backing of eastern scribes when he caught three touchdowns passes and intercepted an enemy forward to almost single handedly beat the Holy Cross Crusaders.

Tennessee is to hear from him Saturday.

Kavanaugh's flair for winning ball games bids fair to rank him on a par with Yale's famed Larry Kelley of several years ago. At the present he looks better than any of last season's crop. Brud Holland, Cornell; Waddy Young, Oklahoma; Bowden Wyatt, Tennessee; Earl Brown, Notre Dame; Sam Boyd, Baylor, or Louie Daddio, Pitt.

GRIDDER MAY LOSE LEG
PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 2 (AP)—Don Herring, stalwart tackle of the Princeton university football team, lay on a hospital bed today, unaware surgeons were considering amputating his left leg.

"There is only once chance in a million the leg can be saved," said the injured youth's father, Donald G. Herring, Sr., as he stood misty-eyed last night outside his 21-year-old son's room in Princeton hospital.

Herring, Sr., came by airplane from Florida yesterday.

Dr. Ralph J. Belford, hospital surgeon, said a "decision has not yet been made" on amputation.

Don was injured on the first play of the Brown game last week.

Chaldon Bids For Record

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2 (AP)—Chaldon, champion of all racing for 1939, went on vacation today before getting back on the glory road which stands a good chance of leading him to Sun Belt's all-time high money-winning record of $376,744.

William L. Brann's colt is still nearly $125,000 short of Sun Belt's "bank account," but this day, son of Challenger II, is only three years old—and from the way he whipped Kayak II and Cravat in Alfred G. Vanderbilt's annual "dream race," the Pimlico Special, yesterday, there's no indication he's going to stop hitting the jackpot soon.

His half-length victory over Kayak in the $10,000 winner-take-all special at a mile and three-sixteenths, with Cravat a poor third, boosted his earnings after two years of racing to $222,288, and earned for him a rest, which owners Brann and trainer Lou Schaefer are going to give him now. Although plans are still indefinite, the chances are "Big Pete" won't have any more work to do this year.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Fight Career Of Canzoneri Reaches End
By BILL WHITE
NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Broadway saw one of its favorite sons reach the end of the road in Madison Square Garden last night—and it wasn't a pretty sight.

Old and ring-wise Tony Canzoneri, veteran of 166 stirring battles, was belted into oblivion by the stinging left hand of a young Brooklyn kid, placid Al Davis, in the third round of a scheduled 10-rounder in the same arena where his fight with Al Singer set an all-time endurance record back in 1923.

Afterwards the Canzoneri dressing room was like a tomb.
"Well, it had to come sometime," Tony mumbled through a cut lip. His followers nodded sadly. He said he hadn't any plans but when asked if this was his last fight he looked glumly up and said, "Gosh, I hope so."

A momentary roar from the crowd of 12,750 greeted the end of the Canzoneri saga, and then they filed out almost as though they were passing Tony's bier, shocked and stunned that the end had come so quickly to their idol.

ROME, Nov. 2 (AP)—Max Schmeling, arriving here for a short visit, said today he still hoped for a return bout with heavyweights boxing champion Joe Louis.

DUQUESNE KICKER ADOPTS RUBBER 'TOE' TO HELP WIN
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2 (AP)—A $350 investment for extra-point insurance is returning dividends to Duquesne university.

The outlay was for a rubber device which fits over the shoe of a kicker, providing a solid square surface for booting the pigskin.

The athletic department sent out of town for the extra toe after the Dukes missed four out of five placements in the season opener. It wasn't available until the third game but has been used to make good five out of six placements.

To Clear Way For Playoffs In Most Loops

Only Nine Outfits Boast Perfect 1939 Records

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Special Press Staff
The Texas schoolboy football parade rolls toward the start of the main show this week.

Soft spots in the schedule will be far between from here on out as the sixteen performers for the grand finale are determined.

One of them is due to be known Saturday when Woodrow Wilson's Wildcats clash with the Adams and Leopards in the game of the year in the Dallas district. The winner will become a prohibitive favorite to gallop in with the title.

It is a stack week as far as the number of games is concerned but the 25 conference engagements on the schedule will have far-reaching effect on the ultimate district championships.

A game of double importance is scheduled in the Rio Grande valley where McAllen and Brownville clash for what the critics consider to be the lower bracket title of District 16. McAllen is unbeaten and Brownville has a perfect record except for a 6-4 deadlock with Mercedes. Incidentally McAllen defeated Mercedes 20-2.

In District 14 Livingston clashes with Beaumont in a game that will cut the teams unbeaten in conference play to two. South Park (Beaumont) is the other leader. Livingston is one of the state's nine undefeated, untied teams.

The week's schedule by districts:
1—Friday: Hobbs, N. M., at Pampa; Saturday: Lubbock at Borger (conference).
2—Friday: Quannah at Graham (conference). Electra at Olney (conference). Ranger at Wichita Falls.
3—Friday: Abilene at Midland (conference). San Angelo at Odessa (conference). Stephenville at Sweetwater.

4—Thursday: Yalata at Pecos; Friday: Mexico City Y.M.C.A. College at El Paso High; Saturday: Cathedral (El Paso) vs. Austin (El Paso).
5—Friday: Forest (Dallas) at Paris.
6—Friday: Denton at Sulphur Springs (conference). Greenville at McKinney (conference).
7—Thursday: Fort Worth Tech vs. Mesquite Home (Fort Worth) (conference); Friday: Riverdale (Fort Worth) vs. Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) (conference).
8—Thursday: Sunset (Dallas) vs. Highland Park (Dallas); Friday: Dallas Tech vs. North Dallas (conference); Saturday: Adams (Dallas) vs. Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) (conference).
9—No games.

10—Friday: Bryan at Waco (conference); Corsicana at Waxahachie (conference); Methodist Home (Waco) at Hillsboro.
11—Friday: Gladewater at Athens (conference).
12—Friday: Gaston at Henderson, Lufkin at Mexia (conference). Groesbeck at Palestine.
13—Thursday: Austin (Houston) vs. Milby (Houston) (conference); Friday: Reagan (Houston) vs. Lamar (Houston) (conference); Davis (Houston) at Conroe (conference); Saturday: San Jacinto (Houston) vs. Sam Houston (Houston) (conference).
14—Friday: Beaumont at Livingston (conference). Galveston at Goose Creek (conference); Saturday: Orange at Port Arthur (conference).
15—Friday: Brackenridge (San Antonio) vs. San Antonio Tech (conference); Harlandale (San Antonio) at Kerrville (conference); San Diego at Laredo; Saturday: Robstown at Jefferson (San Antonio).
16—Upper bracket, Friday: Cloco at Corpus Christi; lower bracket, Thursday: Harlingen at Pharr-San Juan-Alamo; Friday: Brownsville at McAllen (conference).

Clifford Title On Block In Mexico City
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 2 (AP)—Two lanky straws from Texas today loomed as the principal challengers of defending champion Jerry J. Clifford, at the start of play in the 14th annual Mexico golf championship.

On the basis of their play in yesterday's qualifying round, Harry Todd, of Dallas, and John Barnum, of Edinburg, Tex., will give Clifford, British resident here, plenty of competition.

The Texas stars played the tricky Charlotte course in '79, on 100-rod par, to qualify only two strokes behind the Britisher.

Todd today will encounter Don Ransberger, of South Bend, Ind., who qualified with an 80.

Betty Jameson, United States women's amateur champion, who scored an 80 in the women's qualifying round will meet Mrs. B. Lange, of Mexico City, whose score was 98.

Chicago Is Having A 'Great' Season, Says Ex-Southerner
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—George E. Allen, commissioner of the District of Columbia, cocked an ear today to the swelling over the football woes of Chicago university, looked bored and finally yawned.

"Poor Chicago," sympathized an alumnus, "they've had 154 points scored against them. Michigan walked them 85 to 0, and Harvard downed them 61 to 0. There ought to be a law."

The commissioner opened his mouth in an even bigger yawn.
"No," he said, "they don't need a law."
Allen pointed out that Little Cumberland university at Lebanon, Tenn., lost to Georgia Tech 222 to 0 in 1916, and it didn't ask for a law.
"But how do you know?" he was asked.
"Well," said the commissioner, "I was captain and quarterback of that famous team."
"The Georgia Tech team?"
"No," he laughed, "the Cumberland team."
Allen rubbed his shins.
"I still ache when I think about that season," he said.
"It's true that Chicago has had 154 points scored against them, but don't forget, they have scored 12 points this year."
"At Cumberland we not only didn't get scored up on," he said, "we won the ball in the enemy territory the whole year long."

Bell's 'Singing' Is Not In Harmony With Gridmen Who Favor Ponies

CRAIN TO HAVE PLENTY HELP SAYS MATTY

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
DALLAS, Nov. 2 (AP)—Colonel Madison Bell arose to his stately six feet, two inches and penetrated the limelight fumes of the dressing room with an historic quote.

"Jack Crain is the finest runner in college football today. Furthermore—in my books, he is the best I have ever seen. No, I didn't see Red Grange, but he just couldn't have been better than this Crain."

Col. Bell, of Kentucky's original Centre college Prayin' Colonels, is naturally a sid man. He is football coach of Southern Methodist university. He grieves his worst from Monday through Friday. The Saturday afternoon game is a wake for him.

Some of those who don't understand his inner soul during the fall month the call him "Moanin' Matty."

Of course, it is almost irrelevant and immaterial that Col. Bell's Methodistism must face Jack Crain and the Texas Longhorns Saturday in their opening Southwest conference game here. That's beside the point.

"Didn't I see Crain run through the Rice team with my own eyes last Saturday? Doesn't he do it every Saturday afternoon? Didn't he make two 70-yard touchdowns runs against Oklahoma, one of the best football teams in the country? Don't I know all of that? And we've got to figure out a defense for him? We have a few ideas along that line, but I doubt if they will work."

"Texas has a real football team. Crain doesn't do all that running by himself. They block. And you can't sleep when Crain is out of there. Why there's Pete Leyden, a fine fullback, kicker and passer and a boy named Doss whom I personally saw tearing up the Rice team. And Little Gilly Davis."

Shaft of Hope
But there's still a shaft of hope for Methodist supporters.

Col. Bell announced he would have 11 men ready for the Texas game. He hasn't given up all hope. Southern Methodist definitely will take the field. There will be a football game.

True, Col. Bell has mountainous worries but he will be there with his team. The situation is almost as bad as it was a few days before he tied Oklahoma's powerhouse, the only bluish on the Sooner eleven, and the Notre Dame game, which Col. Bell's crippled lost by a single point, 18-20, in the roughest afternoon the nation's fourth ranking team has had to date.

Sophomore Preston Johnston, a fine runner, kicker and passer, who was tagged "one of the greatest backs ever to perform at South Bend against Notre Dame," has responded to the treatment of a badly bruised hip and will start off today. That isn't half enough to offset Crain, but he will be a big help.

And the big line that held Marquette to exactly 13 yards and not a single first down just two Saturdays back, will be intact. Another comforting note.

Col. Bell choked when he mentioned that Ray Malouf, "perhaps the most valuable offensive man we had, was out for the season because of an injured back. That is a distinct loss for Malouf scored against Oklahoma and Notre Dame. But those 'ragknuts' who beat Marquette, 16-0, with Johnston and Malouf on the sidelines, will be available.

P.S.: The "lost cause" is a sell-out and the odds favor Southern Methodist, slightly.

CHALK CAGERS ARE DEFEATED
CHALK, Nov. 2—The Midway junior boys' basketball team crushed the Chalk Juniors, 21-6, here Wednesday afternoon.

Loudamy's eight points set the pace for the victors. He led both teams in scoring although he fouled out in the fourth quarter. Robinson was potent on defense. The Chalk junior girls' team evened the score, however, winning from the Midway representatives, 17-0.

COAHOMA BULLDOGS READY FOR INVASION OF STRONG WESTBROOK GRIDDERS TODAY

COAHOMA, Nov. 2—Coahoma's Bulldogs will make a spartan effort to upset the highly touted Westbrook Wolves in District 12's feature six-man football game here this afternoon.

Flushed by recent successes in games with Garner and Coahoma, the Dogs will throw a versatile offense at the Bill Fletcher's crew.

Coach R. G. Hays has built his offense around J. C. Tonn, 145 pound speedster who looked to advantage against both Garner and Forsan. Tonn scored three touchdowns in Coahoma's 41-15 win over Garner.

Fletcher's team is in great shape for the collision. Junior Oglesby leads an offense that also has Red Davenport and Euel Claxton as threats.

The Wolves need the victory to remain in the running for the northern sector's title.

BENEFIT GAME BEGINS AT 8
Locals Depend On A Potent Passing Game
John Daniel's Shorthorns will pit their potent passing game against the versatile offense of Jack Roden's Sweetwater B squad in a grid exhibition at the Highland Park stadium tonight, 8 o'clock.

The Shorthorns are dedicating the encounter to the memory of McWade McDaniel, Steer griddler, who died in a local hospital last week. All proceeds will go to McDaniel's family.

Ticket sales were being conducted in the business district this morning and a good crowd was expected to be in attendance.

The Shorthorns' expert southpaw passer, David Lamun, has been working all week to perfect his tosses. Lamun threw two touchdown passes as the locals went down in defeat before the Sweetwater team in the last meeting of the two teams.

Others expected to see action in the Big Spring secondary are Bill Evans, Blake Talbot and James Webb.

The local line will be outweighed by that of the invaders but the Shorthorns' overhead game may give them plenty of trouble.

TWO KILLED, ONE INJURED IN MISHAP
FAIRFIELD, Nov. 2 (AP)—Returning to Dallas from Houston where they had been on a business trip, two Dallas men were killed and a woman was injured yesterday in an automobile accident near here.

The dead, T. H. Littlepage, 53, and F. B. Murray, 40.

Mrs. F. B. Murray, 39, suffered a broken back and a fractured arm. She was taken to a Teague hospital.

ANOTHER CANCER VICTIM WILL TRY HIBERNATION

PRYOR, Okla., Nov. 2 (AP)—A 50-year-old man, a "hopeless" cancer case, is ready to seek relief in cold hibernation, undaunted by the death of a farm woman just three hours before she would have completed the nine-day treatment.

The woman's death yesterday was ascribed to a blocked gall bladder after an autopsy performed by Dr. E. A. Leach of Tulsa, and Dr. V. D. Herrington, Dr. Herrington operates the hospital where the treatment was given.

"It's the only chance I've got and I'm ready to try it," said the man, a Sand Springs, Okla., resident.

The woman began the treatment after physicians said she had only two or three weeks to live.

Dr. Leach said hibernation had not aggravated her condition, but instead "the cancer tissue was becoming soft and was reduced in size about 75 per cent."

DIES DUE REWARD?
GALVESTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Texas' Congressman Dies, chairman of the house committee investigating un-American activities, may be in line for a reward of $1,100.

The CIO National Maritime Union will be asked to consider Dies for the reward if a conviction is obtained in the slaying of one of its officials, K. K. Owen, agent for the NMU, said yesterday.

Shortly after he testified before the Dies committee in Washington, William G. McClellan was arrested for New Orleans police in connection with the death of Philip Carey. In his testimony, McClellan termed Owen a communist.

Owen declared the union had set up the reward for the apprehension and conviction of Carey's slayer and said he would ask the union's officers "if they believed that, by being instrumental in apprehending McClellan, Congressman Dies has earned the reward."

preceding witness who related a similar story, complained to the department yesterday.

"There appears to have been a conspiracy on the part of NDU officials to destroy the civil rights of an individual," Dies commented. The witness said he had been elected secretary of the Atlantic district of the union and later had been suspended illegally by Joseph Curran, union president, and a group of communists.

Fillips said he was a volunteer in the air corps during the World war and a member of the American Legion at Dover, Del.

He expressed belief that the communist party in Russia was trying to control the marine industry in the United States because it was a "paralyzing industry."

Asked by Dies whether a great deal of damage could be inflicted through the industry in event of war between the two countries, the witness said ships could be sabotaged to such an extent that the navy would be powerless.

Earlier, Dies asked justice department help in subpoenaing George Mink, described by a committee witness as a soviet secret police agent in this country.

McClintock told the committee recently that Mink could give orders to Earl Browder, general secretary of the communist party in the United States, and that he was the "power behind the scenes" in maritime work on the west coast.

Will Attend Water Meet

E. V. Spence, city manager, left Thursday afternoon for Austin where he will participate in a called meeting of the Texas Watershed association executive board and directors.

He is a member of the directorate and serves on a special committee. The session was convoked by C. K. DeBusk, Austin, active vice-president, at the request of Pat M. Neff, Waco, president. Problems concerning Texas conservation and flood control measures will be studied and possibly recommendations will be made to include these in public works programs despite the curtailment of governmental expenditures.

The Big Spring city manager may seek assistance for the projected flood control program, survey of which is being undertaken here jointly by the city, county and T.&P. railroad.

While in Austin he planned to confer with the Texas League of Municipalities concerning a move he started last year to have provision made for exemption of penalties to cities suffering fires in government stores of cotton.

Spence launched this move last year when $500,000 loss was suffered in a compress fire here. Since then the league has joined the Texas cities. Dallas this week threw its support behind the proposal.

him, "I can understand perfectly." "And perhaps..." he hesitated again, "it might be better... in case you do meet either of them... if they did not know that you are in possession of this information."

He made his adieux when "Tuck" Michael winked his nose. "Foot!" he exclaimed. "What a nasty idea, Bunny. What a nasty idea!"

"I thought he was rather sweet," said Tuck dreamily. "He did so want to get his little idea across, and he had such a dreadful time doing it, poor thing."

"His idea, Tuck?"

"Umhm. That Duncan Murchison is a double-dyed-in-the-wool villain, and knows a lot more than he wants to tell. Wasn't that it?"

Michael laughed. "So I gathered, honey. Apparently, since it got to both of us, that was what he was trying to do. Strike you that way, Bunny?"

"Yes," she said loftily and turned suddenly a faint pink under Tuck's scrutiny.

Michael coughed. "That letter," he said, "is a swell little stopper. I think we will endeavor to pull it out. The soup will then splash on the floor and murder will be out."

"But Miss Lacey, Michael! What has she up her sleeve?"

"Oh, her 'arm', probably. You never can tell."

BEDROOM SHOW TO BE RECORD AFFAIR

Home demonstration club officials Thursday faced the task of arranging one of the largest and most complete displays of bedclothing for the third annual H. D. bedroom improvement show opening here Friday afternoon.

The affair, which climaxes a three year cycle of demonstrations on bedroom improvement, will be opened at 3 p. m. in the Crawford ballroom with a silver tea.

All articles entered in the show will remain on display until 3:30 p. m. Saturday. There will be many classes including those for cotton and woolen goods, comforters, quilts, blankets, spreads, covering etc. The best demonstrations for the three year period will be shown. The public is invited to view the exhibits and, if possible, attend the opening session Friday afternoon.

HEAR NAVY BAND

Members of the Big Spring high school band left Friday morning for Abilene to hear the concert of the U. S. navy band in that city during the afternoon. Along with many other high school bands in the area, the local musical unit was to be photographed with the Navy musicians.

LINT ALLOTMENTS EXPECTED SOON

The cotton allotment listing sheet for 1940 was dispatched from the Howard county AAA office Wednesday, giving rise to hopes that the state office will announce allotments for the county at an early date. The state committee bases its allotments to this county on the acreage, plantings, production and other figures shown on the listing sheet.

As soon as the state office gives notice of the county allotment, the county committee immediately will go into session to furnish individual farmers with their allotment prior to the annual cotton quota vote scheduled for Dec. 8.

NEGRESS CHARGED

Roxie Redden, negress, was charged by the sheriff's department Thursday with theft from the person and charges were to be brought against an alleged accomplice in connection with the same case.

The sheriff's office said that charges of receiving and concealing stolen property would be lodged against Shirley Tyler, negro.

HELD IN JAIL

E. R. Brown, wanted by the Callahan sheriff's department on a grand jury indictment, was being held Thursday in the Howard county jail. The local sheriff's office said that authorities from Baird were expected here during the afternoon to gain custody of Brown.

FINED ON CHECK CHARGE

A fine of $1 and costs was imposed in county court Wednesday by County Judge Charles Sullivan against Arch W. Cameron on his plea of guilty to a count of swindling by bogus check. It was the first case to be heard in county court under the new "hot check" statute.

BROTHER OF LOCAL WOMAN SUCCUMBS

A. M. Ripps returned Thursday from Fort Worth where he had accompanied Mrs. Ripps Tuesday on learning of the death of her brother, Joe Baer, 64. Mr. Baer succumbed suddenly to a heart attack. Mrs. Ripps was expected back Thursday evening.

INMATE ESCAPES

ST. CHARLES, Ill., Nov. 2 (AP)—Supt. William T. Harmon of the St. Charles school for boys announced today John Schaney, 39, one of the 13 inmates who escaped from the unvalued institution last night had been recaptured near Aurora.

A state police radio broadcast covered the entire northern third of the state as the hunt for the boys went on. The wholesale break was made from a basement cell block room.

WOMAN RELEASED

Police Thursday morning released a woman, arrested for drunkenness, to return to her home and children. She had been picked from West Third street by a passing motorist who said he found her sprawled on the pavement. Police said that she had four children at home, that the husband was out of town.

Retail Stores In Texas Show Gains For September

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—A sharp upturn in business during September was registered by 1,051 Texas retail stores surveyed by the census bureau and University of Texas research bureau.

Figures just released by the census bureau disclose that sales at these stores totaled $15,063,212 in September, an increase of 13 per cent over volume of sales in August and 4.4 per cent greater than in September of 1938.

San Angelo showed the greatest increase in September sales volume over August. The increase was 34 per cent.

Dry goods and general merchandise stores showed the largest gain throughout the state, an increase of 13 per cent registered over sales of September last year. Sales of jewelry stores increased 12.8 per cent.

Cities listed by the bureau showing gains, with the percentage increase in each in September over August, follows:

Dallas, 19; El Paso, 25; Fort Worth, 17; Houston, 16; San Antonio, 15; Austin, 26; Beaumont, 22; Fort Arthur, 21; Waco, 25; Amarillo, 23; San Angelo, 34; Wichita Falls, 12; Abilene, 25; Tyler, 28.

Cities in the state with population of 5,000 to 10,000 showed an average gain of 21.9 per cent, as compared with an average gain of 16.6 per cent in cities over 100,000, an average gain of 14.8 shown in cities of 50,000 to 100,000; 7.3 in cities of 25,000 to 50,000 and 5.5 in cities of 10,000 to 25,000.

fair committee, said that the embargo was placed in the neutrality bill originally to "discourage other nations going to war."

"We hoped other nations would follow our example," he said. "It was not placed in there to keep us out of war. We realized that the sale of arms never got us into any war. It's the delivery of arms that's gotten us into war. I have failed to find any one who has ever said that the sale of arms ever involved us into war."

But Rep. Austin (R-Conn) said that repeal of the embargo would make United States participation in the European conflict "not only possible, but probable," while retention made such participation "possible." Asserting that this country was "neutral-minded," Austin told the house:

"We miserably fail the people if, under the guise of neutrality we wilfully translate their desire into intervention."

sailor aboard, and was permitted to proceed to Halifax.

The Coulmore distress signal came early yesterday morning.

The position given by the Coulmore at that time indicated it was just inside the neutrality safety belt around the Americas fixed at the recent Pan American neutrality meeting in Panama.

When the Coulmore last made port, in Philadelphia, she had on board a crew of 34 and the captain's wife.

Campdenport gave no indications where the Coulmore was at the time she reported being safe, but officials assumed that she was proceeding on her way to England.

TANKER SCUTTLED

LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP)—A British admiralty spokesman said today that the 4,327-ton German tanker Emmy Friedrich, carrying 40,000 barrels of American oil, was scuttled here in the Caribbean sea Oct. 24 to avoid capture by a British cruiser.

The Emmy Friedrich sailed from Tampico, Mexico, Oct. 20 with her oil cargo. Clearance papers showed the ship was bound for Malmo, Sweden, but shortly after her departure foreign intelligence agents in Mexico City said they were investigating reports she would serve as a supply ship for German submarine raiders in the western Atlantic.

These sources said they had heard she would seek shelter in a small central or southern American port and serve as a fueling base for Nazi sea raiders.

WRECKAGE FOUND

BOSTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—The American export liner Excambion arrived today and reported finding life boats and wreckage of the British freighter Ledberry about 80 miles off Gibraltar. The fate of the Ledberry's crew was not known by the Excambion's officers.

The British freighter Ledberry was destroyed Oct. 24 when at least three submarines attacked a convoy of 24 ships. Her crew of 31 was rescued by the American freighter, Crown City, and landed at Gibraltar.

plete story of his life appeared years later in "I Remember."

His last work was "The Autobiography of the Devil; Satan's Side of It," of which Read said: "I have tried to put into it just what I imagined Satan would say of manners and morals and philosophy, as dictated to a sinner."

Although many of his writing contemporaries outshone him in literary technique and public adulation, none surpassed him in more than a year of doing its refunding at least three months ahead of time so that distress financing in difficult times would be unnecessary.

The proposed financing would further increase the federal debt, now at a record high of $41,036,045,763 and less than $4,000,000,000 below the statutory $45,000,000,000 limit. The administration is expected to ask the next regular session of congress to add $5,000,000,000 to the debt ceiling.

TEXAS BIBLE SUNDAY IS PROCLAIMED

AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (AP)—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel whose campaign platform included the Ten Commandments, today proclaimed December 10 as Texas Bible Sunday in cooperation with the American Bible society.

The governor, in his proclamation, urged citizens to read the Bible with firm determination to follow its teachings.

"It is the belief of many people that the grave ills which exist in the world today could be eliminated and happiness and prosperity enjoyed by all," the governor said, "if everybody would accept and follow the teachings in the Bible."

Treasury

Morgenthau said the "confidence of the public is not only the direct obligation of the treasury but also the guaranteed obligations" was shown by the fact that the subscriptions for the RFC notes totaled $4,643,000,000 and subscribers will have to be allotted only a small percentage of the amount of RFC notes they asked for.

Refunding of the March treasury notes ahead of time would be in line with the treasury's policy for more than a year of doing its refunding at least three months ahead of time so that distress financing in difficult times would be unnecessary.

The proposed financing would further increase the federal debt, now at a record high of $41,036,045,763 and less than $4,000,000,000 below the statutory $45,000,000,000 limit. The administration is expected to ask the next regular session of congress to add $5,000,000,000 to the debt ceiling.

Postmasters To Honor Mahon On His Return Home

If congress adjourns the forepart of this month, the postmasters of the 19th congressional district will hold their annual gathering in Big Spring.

In the first such meeting last year George Mahon, representative of the 19th congressional district, was guest of honor and principal speaker. Postmasters had planned the affair this year in Mahon's honor, and it is not likely that it will be held until Mahon returns from the special session at Washington.

Invitation of Big Spring to entertain the meeting was accepted after the first gathering at Lamesa last year.

Nat Shick, host postmaster, said that as soon as there was any indication as to when the congressman would return to Texas that a date would be set and program details mapped. Mahon will be in his district until time for the regular session, but Mrs. Mahon will remain in Washington where their daughter is in school.

Trench Silo Filling Method Makes Harvest Short Work For Martin Man

Field harvest-choppers and a common-sense way of unloading are making trench silo filling operations more systematic and economical in Martin county.

Joe Poindexter, Martin county farmer, has discovered that the trench silo has advantages other than that of providing a palatable, succulent feed for livestock through all kinds of weather.

Having finished storing 640 tons of feed in silos a month ago, Poindexter found that the operation of filling, shocking, stacking and chopping for feeding—required only 13 days and that his land was entirely cleared and ready for fall plowing.

This contrasts with the old procedure which frequently required considerable time for harvesting and then left the land tied up for storage purposes well into the winter.

In Martin county, according to George Bond, county agent, the filling of trench silos is constantly being made more simple by the farmers.

As a rule, most of the underground silos have been rather large in scale, storing from 200 to 300 tons of feed.

Railroad Commission Race Next Year Looks Like A Free-For-All

Herald Austin Bureau AUSTIN, Nov. 2.—Political fans are anticipating a free-for-all in next summer's race for the railroad commission.

Judging from reports reaching Austin, observers are predicting the railroad commission race will attract more contestants than the 1938 gubernatorial tournament.

A full dozen entered the democratic primaries for governor last year. A full dozen have already appeared in the prospective line-up for the 1940 railroad commission race.

Stakes in the race are very attractive. A commissioner draws $7,000 a year in salary, and his powers extend over three of the most important industries in the state.

Lon A. Smith, chairman of the commission, will run for re-election. He is a veteran of many political campaigns and he will not be easy to dislodge from his governor's office.

But opposition will be stiff. Expected to be in the lists against the incumbent are a former attorney general, a former highway commissioner, a state senator, a representative, several county judges, and others.

Subject To Change The line-up—subject to change without notice—stands at present as follows:

Bill McCraw of Dallas, wisecracking former attorney general who failed to make the grade last year in the race for governor.

Sen. Will Pace of Tyler, dapper East Texan who is now serving his second term in the Texas senate.

He is a former county judge of Smith county. In legislative halls he is considered as a conservative.

Roy Hofheinz of Houston, one of the youngest county judges in the country. A brilliant orator, he was elected county judge of Harris county after serving one term in the house of representatives.

Carl Nesbitt of Mineola, adjutant general under former Gov. James V. Allred. He entered the state spotlight several years ago by being elected commander of the American Legion in Mineola.

Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill, state representative now serving his third term. A rough-and-tumble debater, he has been quite effective in the legislature.

Olin Culbertson of Austin and Edna, for seven years head of the railroad commission gas utilities division. In that position he reduced natural gas rates a half million dollars annually.

J. D. Copeland of Austin, former examiner for the oil and gas division of the railroad commission. He
