First flurry of activity on the presidential campaign front...

Entry of Sen. Robert Kennedy to the contest for the Democratic nomination set off more speculation than action.

Less than a week after Kennedy's announcement, however, a prominent college teacher announced he had accepted an invitation from the senator's office to head up his drive in Texas.

Platt, chairman of the small up known as Texas Liberal Democrats and a Lamar Tech assistant professor, said the Texas Committee for Kennedy soon will open an Austin office.

Assessing Democrats of Texas formed its support of Sen. Gene McCarthy for president since Kennedy's emergence. Chairman Don Allford said DDT expects efforts of the Kennedy team and expects help from him in some areas in opposition to Johnson.

DDT has a force of about 3,000 men to organize precincts for McCarthy.

In the opposite end of the political stage, supporters of former Alabama Gov. George Wallace held their state convention in Austin and kicked off their drive for 14,250 signatures to force Wallace's name on the ballot as presidential candidate of the new American Party in Texas by former State Weaver Moore of Houston.

Moore must not participate in Democratic or Republican primary conventions.

Democratic Committee, while, has emphasized its support of President Johnson.

John Connally has announced he intends to head a Texas delegation to the national convention committed to the presidential renomination.

In date, there is little evidence of any major effort to take Texas Democratic convention away from Johnson.

Republicans, already moving toward Richard Nixon, left one less choice when Nelson Rockefeller announced he would not campaign for the nomination.

McLean, Tyler, and Robert R. Sanders of Amarillo nominees for secretary-treasurer.

Carl F. Wheeler Jr. of Austin is the new president of the Texas Elementary Principals and Supervisors Association.

Warren W. Green of Tyler is president-elect, Robert L. Holden of San Angelo first vice president, William C. Harter of Canyon, second vice president and Mrs. Shirley Hale of Houston, third vice president.

More Park Aid Offered Sought Action to protect historic San Jacinto State Park from erosion and flood has been asked by Attorney General Martin.

He suggests moving De Zavala Cemetery, which floods at high tide, and an appropriation to Parks and Wildlife Department to protect the rest of the park.

A $39,915 federal grant has been approved for development of outdoor recreation facilities at 3,840-acre Monahans Sandhills State Park in Ward and Winkler Counties.

Another $11,450 federal grant will go to 332-acre Big Spring State Recreation Park, two miles south of Big Springs.

State matching funds will double project financing at both Sandhills and Big Spring facilities.

Draft Call Up State draft boards must furnish 2,378 men in April and, for the first time in two years, part of the group will go into the U. S. Marine Corps.

Figure compares with the quota of 1,947 for the Army in March and is the largest monthly call for draft boards since October, 1966, when Texas' share was 2,845.

Local boards will send 8,500 men to armed forces examining and entrance stations in April for pre-induction physical and mental examinations in preparation to fill future quotas. March total was 7,200.

HIGH SCHOOL GOLF TEAM WINS MEET

In a sudden death playoff, Kaarbo was eliminated on the first hole by Back and Chancellor and Chancellor won the third hole eliminating Dick Back.

In a dual match with Pampa High School Saturday, McLean again emerged victorious by a score of 317 to 323.

Canadian P.C.A. Annual Meeting

On Saturday, April 20 the Canadian P.C.A. is holding its annual meeting at Canadian.

All P.C.A. members and any other farmers or ranchers in the McLean area are invited to attend. A free barbecue is being served by the Pampa Shriners.

Mr. Reagan Brown, Trust Social Biologist, Texas U. and M. University will be the feature speaker.

Prairie Dogs We continue to have calls seeking poison grain for prairie dogs even though the population of these pest are the lowest of any county in the Panhandle.

We hope ranchers will take quick action against any new dogs that take up residence on your range.

Rice's Feed Store in Pampa handles the same type of poison grain the extension service use to handle. Several years ago regulations were put into effect that prohibited county agents from handling this material.

There are other good methods such as using three quarts of drip gasoline per den. Apply with hose and funnel.

It is always a good idea to fill all the dens when the last dog has been killed. Otherwise you have an open invitation for the dogs to return. Eighteen prairie dogs eat and destroy as much grass as one steer I am told. They will cover up a section of grass in a few short years if you don't get after a new pair that might have settled on you.

Social Security Offices Open Late For Medicare

The Amarillo and Pampa social security offices will remain open Monday night, April 1, until 9:00 p.m. to accept late enrollments in the Medicare program.

This is the last day area residents who are 65 and older can sign up for the doctor bill part of Medicare, with coverage to become effective July 1.

Those who miss out on this chance to enroll will have to wait another year. Premium costs for this part of Medicare will cost $4 monthly beginning April. Late enrollees will be charged an additional 40 cents per month. Premiums are deducted from social security benefits.

This part of Medicare helps pay for physician or surgeon's services regardless of where the services are received. It also pays for 100 home health agency visits from nurses or therapists in localities where these services are available; X-ray or other radiation therapy; rental and purchase of durable medical equipment and pays for drugs administered by the physician. After a beneficiary pays the first $50 in a year, Medicare normally pays 80 per cent of the charges over $50.

Mangum Snake Derby Scheduled For April 5, 6, 7

The Mangum Chamber of Commerce has announced the third annual Rattlesnake Derby to be held at Mangum, Okla., on April 5, 6, and 7. The Flea Market will again be held this year in conjunction with the rattlesnake hunt.

New to the week-end event this year will be a domino tournament to be held on Saturday night. These, plus other special features, are planned to provide interest and entertainment for the entire family.

Since the Mangum hunt is still relatively new, many large "rattlers" remain in the extensive hunt areas. This was evidenced by the hundreds of snakes caught last year. Five persons were bitten last year and special precautions will be taken this year to assure proper indoctrination for hunters and medical attention for those who may get bitten.

Cash prizes and trophies will be awarded hunters catching the largest, smallest, most pounds and most snakes. Marked snakes worth $25. Each will be released in the hunt areas.

The Flea Market, operated very successfully last year, will again be held around the Courthouse square. Emphasis last year was on antiques, but this year the market is being "thrown open" to dealers of all types.

Three other Flea Markets have already been scheduled to be held in Mangum during the summer. Each will be at the same time as some other event that draws a crowd into the community.

Derby Drive In Opening April 4 The Derby Drive In will hold its spring opening, April 4 by treating the people of McLean and the surrounding area to a free movie.

Official Highway Map Available The 1968 official Texas highway map is available at the Tourist Information Bureau which is located about 5 1/2 miles east of Amarillo on Interstate 40.

The map, which has a scale enlarged by about one-fourth, features the Tower of the Americas, focal point of San Antonio's HemisFair, on its cover.

In a descriptive portion of the map's cover, attractions in the Panhandle area are noted.

Palo Duro Canyon is described as a "gigantic slash" made all the more dramatic by its unexpected appearance.

The map brochure also tells of Paul Green's production of "Texas."

Industrial Week Proclaimed

Governor John Connally urged today for every Texan to work toward the establishment of new industry and the expansion of local industry to maintain the state's economic growth.

The occasion was the signing of the proclamation designating April 1-7 as Texas Industrial Week, which was established by a resolution of the state Legislature in 1951. In the proclamation, the Governor pointed out that Texas' manufacturing industries created more than 20,000 new jobs in 1967, the result of 296 new plants located in the state and the expansion of 370 existing firms.

Manufacturing is the most rapidly expanding source of income in Texas, according to figures released by the Texas Manufacturers Association. In the last five years, 1,460 new plants have been established and 1,976 existing facilities have been enlarged. This dramatic growth was the basis for an additional 128,000 new jobs in Texas.

TMA, an association of 3,500 member firms engaged in manufacturing throughout the state, sponsors annual competition between communities who organize planned observances during TIW.

In his proclamation, the Governor pointed out that industry spends an estimated $35,000 in capital outlay per employee for tools and facilities for employment. "Using this nationwide average of $35,000 per employee for tools and facilities to provide the 20,000 new jobs created in 1967, the private enterprise system invested $700,000,000 in our state's industrial growth," the Governor said.

"With this amount invested in Texas' present and future industrial expansion, it is essential that every Texan work for a favorable atmosphere in which new and established industry may invest in the economic well being of our industrious citizens," the Governor urged.

Attorney General Speaks State Gen. Crawford Martin State Liquor Control Board orders should not be available for public information except as the result of proceedings. Apparently, hearings before LCB administrator on violation allegations as legal proceedings. Other new opinions, Martin stated that:

"City" of La Grulla County can hold a new corporation election in less than 90 days from the date its abolition was resolved in court (last month 15).

A school district that had no unlimited tax bonds can file a limited tax status under current statute and issue subject to voter approval.

Appointments Former Atty. Gen. Will Wilson Austin and Baylor University President Abernethy were co-chairmen of the Anti-Corruption Council of Texas (ACT). It has as its initial goal the May 4 referendum on municipal bonding.

The Bar headquarters and R. Glenn Jarvis of McLean and George H. Nelson of Fort Worth were nominated president-elect of the State Bar. George F. Christie Fort Worth and James Green of Houston are vice presidential nominees; and Jack Norwood, Tyler, and Robert R. Sanders of Amarillo nominees for secretary-treasurer.

Carl F. Wheeler Jr. of Austin is the new president of the Texas Elementary Principals and Supervisors Association. Warren W. Green of Tyler is president-elect, Robert L. April induction and pre-induction quotas were mailed to local boards by state Selective headquarters in mid-March. National quota for April is 48,000, of which Army will get 44,000 and Marines 4,000. Draftees are in 19-25 age bracket.

Traffic Deaths Decrease Traffic deaths in Texas last year totaled 3,367, according to latest Department of Public Safety tabulations.

This was a decrease of 1.15 per cent (first in seven years) from 1966 when a record 3,406 fatalities from auto accidents were recorded.

DPS noted that there was a five per cent increase in vehicle miles traveled in the state last year, for a death rate of 5.8 persons killed for each 100,000 miles of travel. This is a decrease in death rate from 6.2 in 1966.

Total of 885,268 traffic accidents were reported in the state during 1967, with economic loss estimated at $793,000,000 and 205,000 injuries.

Nurses Recruited State Board of Nurse Examiners registered 1,741 more nurses in 1967 than the 36,862 in 1966, and most of the new ones came from out of state.

Of all the new nurses, 1,494 moved to Texas from other states. Texas lost only 778 to other states. Also, 821 new RNs were registered after graduation from nursing school.

Recruitment programs by the Texas Hospital Association and the Health Careers Program were given much of the credit for the increased number of nurses. "And then a lot of people just like to move to Texas," an official said.

Mixed Drink Debate Shaping Up One of the great debates of the session seems to be over the method of legalizing sale of liquor-by-drink.

Former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, campaigning for governor, argues no constitutional bill can be written on the subject, and that an amendment to the state constitution's "open saloon" ban is necessary to legalize mixed drinks. Eugene Loete is campaigning heavily for local option mixed drinks bill, as has Governor Connally.

Attorney General Martin, called for advice by the House committee studying liquor laws, sidestepped the issue. He sent the committee the 29-year-old

SPREADABLE RAISIN PASTE

USDA scientists have developed a process for making a raisin paste which will not set and harden and remains spreadable. Previously, each baker had to grind his own raisins, a costly and time consuming process. The secret was heating, either before or after grinding. The new paste remains soft, spreadable and keeps its natural color during at least six months of storage.

YOUR HELP PROBLEM

Have you experienced a help shortage in recent years? Are local youngsters moving to the big cities? Are the oldsters moving too?

What are you doing to keep them at home? Like maybe training them for your business?

This question applies to other establishments in your community... besides your newspaper. No jobs - no stay!

Metropolitan living is costly. Living expenses are much, much lower in the smaller towns. But first there must be jobs... especially for the youngsters.

Next there must be diversions. These include not only outdoor but indoor pleasures... sports events, churches, schools.

Do you look to other towns for your "help" thereby making a replacement necessary somewhere less when you employ? Or do you search and find locally?

Play up the youngsters in your town. Find them something to do. Help them get a business education, as well as a scholastic one.

It's the idle hand that gets in trouble - be it a juvenile or an oldster.

People make a community great and a great community greater. It's not the factories, not churches, not schools - alone. All are important in the welfare of your community. It's the people who make the town. A live chamber of commerce, active civic clubs, business and professional organizations of men and women are vital to the economy of every community regardless of its size.

Get your leading citizens together and map out a far-reaching program of community development - and put the individual citizen at the top of the list. What you do for him or her determines the future of your entire trade territory.

Plan not for yourself but for them.

One of the greatest steps now being made along educational lines is the expansion of the junior college program in Texas.

It will bring more education to more youngsters. It will keep them at home two more years at least. And it can make these youngsters better boys and girls.

It can do much for them that is not now being done. Those two years are perhaps the most important in their lives. Bring them into your plant to learn first hand. Go to the schools and talk to the youngsters. Tell them and sell them on your business as a career.

If you get one out of ten youngsters interested you have done a great deal for your profession. Stress the need for a broader education. Everything they study will be helpful to them. Don't say it can't be done because it is being done.

One of the greatest thrills we've had is seeing an entire class of grade school youngsters being shown the operational details of a business. Next thing you know the youngsters will want to know more, and more and more. Those are the best prospects you can find.

Industry is grabbing off students at the colleges but they can't pick'em off at the home base. That's where you have first choice and the hometown advantage. Train your own. Sure you'll lose some - but not all.

Cooking Chicken In The Bag

No cooking utensils to wash. Does it sound good to you?

Try cooking chicken in a paper bag, the brown paper sacks that come from the grocery store.

Cut a fryer into halves or quarters. Brush the inside and outside with butter and sprinkle with celery salt, onion salt, garlic salt, pepper, and paprika, recommends Radora Massey, Extension foods and nutrition specialist.

Place the pieces in a heavy brown paper bag, allowing plenty of room without stacking. Twist the bag shut. Cook on a rack in a 400 degree F. oven for an hour and fifteen minutes.

The bag will not burn and you can forget about the chicken until the cooking time is up, says Texas A&M University specialist. A pan may be placed on a lower rack to catch any drippings.

A suggested menu includes potato baked with the chicken, a wilted spinach salad, ice cream and milk to drink. Lemon and orange slices are good with the chicken.

Dear Pat...

I know it has been a long time since I've written. As you can imagine, I've been very busy getting settled here. Everyone has been wonderful, and what an experience it is teaching these first grade children! It's a real thrill to watch them as they learn to read. I've already met some wonderful people, both here at school and in church...

So she writes her letter, and although "it has been a long time..." these words will stretch across the miles and the fibres of this friendship will be as strong as ever.

If you were never to write a letter you would lose touch with people who mean a great deal to you. By the same token, if you never were to go to church, you would fail to keep the fabric of your faith woven tight and strong. True, you might still believe firmly in God, but the affirmation and continued growth of this faith requires worship in His presence and in His house.

Thinking about a friend isn't the same thing as writing a letter to him - wanting to be in that person's presence. Believing in God isn't the same as professing that belief by attending church regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HEMISFAIR TRIP PLANNED FOR STUDENTS

The Board of Education of the McLean Independent School District has approved a trip to the Hemisfair for all students in grades seven through twelve. They felt that this was an educational field trip not often available to students.

The first group to go will be students in grades ten through twelve. They will leave McLean early Saturday, May 4, spend two nights in San Antonio and leave for home Monday afternoon, May 6.

Those students in grades seven through nine will make the trip later in May or early in the fall, whenever reservations can be made.

Hazardous Heaters Have Been Sold

The McLean Volunteer Fire Department, has been requested by an official of the department of Health, Education and Welfare to help locate and identify any gas-fired baseboard through-wall heaters that may leak carbon monoxide.

At the request of the Public Health Service, the American Gas Association also is notifying all local gas utility companies, asking their assistance in locating some 8,000 of these heaters.

Richard E. Marland, Ph.D., chief of the Injury Control Program of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, stated in a letter to the local fire marshal:

"The possibility that these heating units may be hazardous was brought to the attention of the Public Health Service by the Jackson County, Michigan Health Department and the Michigan Department of Health, following their investigation of a reported carbon monoxide death associated with one of the units.

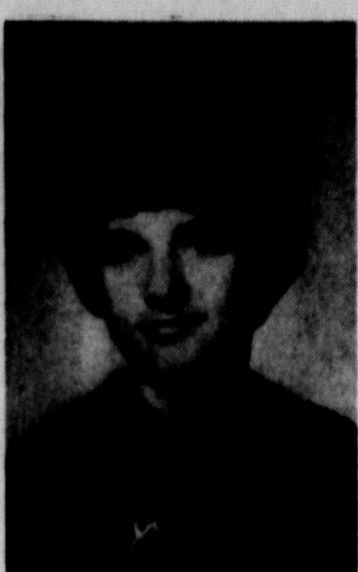

"The public was informed of the potential hazard of these heaters by joint news releases by Sears Roebuck and Company and the Public Health Service on February 8, 1968.

"Sears Roebuck and Company has announced a recall and replacement program for approximately 6,000 heaters sold by them. Most of the Sears heaters were sold between September 1962 and December 1966. They were last offered for regular sale in a catalog circular in August and September 1966. A few remaining units were sold in retail stores during 1967.

"Sears identified four models of its 'Gas Fire Baseboard Turb-Wall Heater' in their recall program. They are Homart Model numbers 133.72561 or 133.72561; 133.72562 or 133.72521; 133.72565 or 133.72551, and 133.72566 or 133.72561. The plate showing these model numbers is located on top of the burner box.

"The news releases suggest that users of these model heaters should contact the manager of the nearest Sears retail store or catalog sales office for assistance in identifying replacement of the suspected heaters. According to Sears, if a heater is identified as being one of these potentially hazardous models, it will be replaced without charge.

"In addition to the Sears heaters, 2,000 baseboard heaters of similar design and appearance to the Homart models were manufactured and distributed by Samuel Stamping and Enameling Company of Chattanooga, Tenn., which is now out of business."

Ray Rogers Guest Speaker At FBLA Meeting Here

The Future Business Leaders of America, McLean Chapter, No. 2099, met March 19, at 7:30 in the study hall. Plans were set for our next project, the concession stand at the District Track meet, Miss Donna Glass, President, instructed the members on ordering charms for FBLA. Donna introduced our guest speaker, Mr. Ray Rogers, Personnel Director for Cabot, Inc., Pampa.

Mr. Rogers told the group that to work in industry you must have one of two things: a college education (not just a college diploma), or a trained skill. He related to us the three things it takes to survive in industry: 1. drive, 2. human relations, 3. ethics. Drive is that extra push. Ethics, one of the most important traits that you can have, is an inner need to do what is right and not what is required to do. Human relations is dealing with people of all levels. It is the ability to get along with people.

Mr. Rogers spoke of an educational dropout is a person who has ceased to work at learning, not necessarily a high school or college dropout. At the time a man receives his college diploma, he is 6 months behind in education. College gives you the tools. Work is a means to sharpen these tools.

Mr. Rogers told us a little about Cabot, Inc. They have plants in England, Spain and Argentina. Cabot has a total of 5,000 employees. One-half of these employees work in the Western Division, of which Pampa is the headquarters. He also told us a few of the requirements needed to be employed by Cabot.

Many of our students mentioned that they had learned a great deal about industry from Mr. Rogers. He was a very interesting speaker, and we certainly appreciate him coming from Pampa to be with us.

The business meeting was closed. Refreshments were served in the Home Economics room.

VITAMINS WEREN'T KNOWN IN 1900

In the early years of this century, scientists knew that our food contained proteins, fats, carbohydrates, mineral elements, and water. It was not difficult to separate these substances into relatively pure form from basic foods such as milk, meat, and cereal grains.

But when mixtures of such material were fed to experimental animals, the animals would become sick and die. From this, scientists concluded that there must be unidentified factors in food that are essential to health. Animals did well on the experimental diets if butterfat and water soluble material from yeast were added.

Vitamin A Was First
From such scientific investigation the discovery of vitamins evolved. The first to be discovered was vitamin A. This work was performed by scientists Elmer V. McCollum and Marguerite Davis at the University of Wisconsin in 1912. They found that something in butterfat or egg yolk fat could insure nutritional success with animals. Corroboration of this discovery of vitamin A came some months later from the Yale University laboratories of Thomas Burr Osborne and L. B. Mendel.

Now vitamins are known and classified according to their solubility. Those that are water soluble are vitamin C and the B vitamins. The vitamins that are fat soluble in their natural form are A, D, E, and K. All of these have been discovered and identified since Dr. McCollum's first vitamin was announced.

Nowadays, everyone knows that there are such things as vitamins. And many people thoroughly understand their function. Professional and public appreciation for the role of vitamins has been brought about by research and education.

Sound Nutrition Urged
Many persons and agencies have shared in this work. In this column, however, it is a pleasure to remind readers that Dr. McCollum himself played a major role in convincing the dairy industry it should set up an ethical nutrition research and educational agency, the National Dairy Council, in 1915, to help educate the public to its need for good nutrition, including knowledge of the new "vitamins." The Dairy Council continues to operate in the public interest by urging sound total nutrition and improved eating habits.

Vitamins Regulate Body
Vitamins are nutrients without calories. They furnish no energy, but the body must have them because they are regulators of body processes. Your best source of the vitamins you need is the four food groups — the milk group, meats, vegetables and fruits, breads and cereals.

By eating a wide variety of foods from these groups you will also make sure you are getting food factors that have not yet been identified. To avoid overdoses or waste of money, don't rely on pills for good nutrition. Your doctor will prescribe them if there's a reason. We'll talk more about vitamins in food in a future column.

FOUL-WATER FISHING

How often have you decided against going fishing because of reports of muddy water? It's a natural reaction, especially this time of year when rains whisk silt down the rivers and into lakes. For many, fishing comes to a standstill.

However, muddy water should be no real deterrent, says the fishing experts at Mercury outboards. It simply calls for a change in tactics, switching to a style of fishing that is particularly suited to cloudy water conditions.

Remember, fish use senses other than sight when feeding, so, like fishing at night, work on the idea that you should offer a bass something he can hear, smell and taste when you fish the murky waters.

Natural baits such as minnows, crawfish or a gob of worms will attract feeding fish, regardless of conditions. To make it even more noticeable, attach a cork carved into a concave shape about two feet up from the hook. When this cork and bait are cast, a loud "plop" reverberates through the water. This rig can be either cast or jigged up and down briskly with a long cane pole, and with surprising results.

To locate fish, try to cover as much water as possible by cruising slowly, but steadily, along the shoreline. Carefully work around stumps and rocks where fish are almost certain to be, and look for spots where the muddy water is just starting to clear. Give this a try; it's a method that might become your favorite.

Dependency Claims For Tax Payers

If you claim as a dependent someone who does not live with you be sure to keep good records of the support you provide.

Failure to keep these records caused some taxpayers to lose a dependency exemption they might have been entitled to last year. For other taxpayers it meant the problem of assembling the needed records months after the expense was paid.

Mr. Campbell said that there are five tests that have to be met to satisfy the requirements for claiming another person as a dependent. The one that gives taxpayers the most trouble is the support test, Mr. Campbell said. Substantiation of this test is the most common problem arising on returns filed each year.

To satisfy the support test, the taxpayer must show what it cost to support the dependent for the year and how much of this he provided. To gather such records for a child who does not live at home or a parent in another city is naturally more difficult than it is for a dependent who lives with the taxpayer.

Mr. Campbell said the four other dependency tests are the gross income test, member of household or relationship test, citizenship test and joint return test.

All are explained in the 1040 instructions as well as in Publication No. 17, "Your Federal Income Tax."

Wheeler County Has More Than 75 Irrigation Farms

Irrigation is a practice growing in popularity among Wheeler County farmers. Presently there are more than 75 farmers in the county who irrigate. Some of these farmers have more than one system.

Wells are by far the most popular source of irrigation water. However, there are about twelve farmers who have permits from the Texas Water Commission to use surface water for irrigation.

Many areas of Texas which once had an abundance of water for irrigation are now running short of water. The water shortage problem has not yet come to the farms of Wheeler County Soil and Water Conservation District. Good water conservation practices can help delay this problem.

Due to soils and topography, most irrigation in the Wheeler County is done by sprinkler method. The farmers in the district are turning to power move equipment. At the present time there are about thirty companies advertising power move sprinkler irrigation systems in the Texas Panhandle. The price of course varies greatly.

Your local soil conservation office will be happy to assist you with the technicalities of your irrigation problems.

"Where's my refund?" is a popular question at Internal Revenue these days. The answer varies, but here are some samples:

1. You have to file your return before Internal Revenue can send your refund to you.

2. Sir, if you have moved, you have to let us know about your new address.

3. I'm sorry, but you will have to fill out the form we sent you and give us the information before we can correct the errors in your return — then we will send you your refund.

LOOKIN' BACK

by Vera Featherston Back

The smell of elections is in the air. The abilities and disabilities of the various candidates are being hinted at, joked about, or outright eulogized or condemned over coffee cups, bridge tables, telephones, between shaves and shampoos, haircuts and hair sets.

This is true city-wide, county-wide, state-wide, and over the nation. When we hear our various presidential candidates of the two major parties and of the two would-be parties lambast their fellowman, we crave to hold a mirror up before them and let the lambasters gaze into their own souls.

If Diogenes were alive today and were to emerge from beneath his tub and fly from Greece to the good old U.S.A., could he find an honest man (of politics) on which to shine his lantern?

All this recalls some elections in the past held in McLean. On April 8, 1910, McLean's city election was held with W. R. Patterson opposing the incumbent, C. S. Rice, for mayor. Rumor had it that Patterson worked all day for himself and Rice spent the time trying to convince the people that Patterson would make the better mayor.

Results were: Rice 13, Patterson 14, but the following week the city council cancelled the election when it was discovered there was a discrepancy in the tally sheet. One showed 27 votes cast; the other 62.

The truth came out: Those holding the election had found at the end of the day that the two candidates had tied and, since they had been playing "42" all day, between voters, decided to play another game with two Patterson men opposing two Rice men. Tally sheets used for score favor of the Patterson men, so pads showed the game went in his was given an extra vote.

When the council heard this, they ordered another election. This time Patterson did win, but C. L. Upham and G. A. Heald tied for alderman, and this called for another election. Our research failed to find the results of this third election. Anyone know who won—Upham or Heald?

In 1911, local option election for prohibition passed off quietly in spite of the fact that some joker hung a corkscrew from the ceiling of the voting room and attached a sign which read, "Vote for me!"

The first woman to win an election office in McLean was Mrs. C. C. Cooper who was elected public weigher in 1918.

Whether he was inspired by election tales or not, we do not know, but Rock Island Railroad local agent Nunn told one that should have insured him the presidency of the Liars' Club. It seems that Mr. Nunn set a hen on 16 eggs on May 9, 1913 had 17 chicks and 2 more eggs ripped.

Wasn't that a wonderful meeting of the Alarwood - McLean Historical Society Sunday. A lot of people were there. If you were not among the number, you missed a treat. Our thanks to Beckie Orrick and Leslie Back for taking care of the registry for us. It was wonderful hearing our English student of 18 years ago read the story of a most wonderful woman, his great grandmother, Mrs. Emily Minix.

Among our guests were Judge Lenning and his family from Pampa. We hope some come Pampa people who used to call McLean their home will be here next time.
