

House Joins Senate, Asks T-H Law Use

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The House joined with the Senate today in requesting President Truman to try to stop the three-week-old steel strike by using the Taft-Hartley law.

The "request" was embodied in an amendment offered by Rep. Smith (D-Va.). It was supported by most Republicans and almost all the Southern Democrats.

The Senate already has voted such a request. Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) had proposed that the House "direct" use of the law rather than simply "request" it.

There was hot debate leading up to the voting. At the one extreme, a Republican shouted that what the House should do is impeach Truman.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.) said: "This action is short of impeachment because there is no time for impeachment." On the other side, Rep. Spence (D-Ky.) argued that Congress ought not to "throw fuel on the flames" of a situation which has 850,000 CIO steelworkers on strike and more than 100,000 others idle in allied industries for lack of steel.

And Rep. Muller (D-N.Y.) declared that getting an 80-day anti-strike court order under the T-H law would be "neither fair nor effective." "Anyone who thinks you can force them (the steelworkers) to make more money for the steel barons is mistaken," he said.

When Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) proposed that the House "direct" rather than "request" that the President use the T-H law, Democratic leader McCormack (Mass.) commented that the proposal "shows how drunk with power the coalition is."

Negotiators Marking Time On Anniversary

MUNSAN, Korea, June 25 (AP)—United Nations and Communist truce negotiators today marked the second anniversary of the Korean War by accusing each other of touching off the bloody conflict. Peace, each side argued, lies in its proposal for the exchange of war prisoners — the only major issue blocking an armistice.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il shot back: "This day two years ago the United States government directed the South Korean Army to attack the Democratic Peoples Republic of Korea and started the Korean War which continues today."

"The troops . . . of the United States, Britain, France and other nations have covered thousands of miles to come to Korea and have slaughtered Korean people and villages. If this is not aggression then what is it?"

For the first time Nam acknowledged an Allied disclosure of Saturday that Soviet Russia in World War II offered German soldiers the right to choose whether they wanted to go home if they surrendered.

U. N. insistence on repatriating only prisoners who want to go home has blocked agreement on a Korean armistice for weeks.

J. P. Morgan Estate To Be Auctioned Off

GLEN COVE, N. Y., (AP) — The former mansion and estate of the late financier J. Pierpont Morgan will be auctioned off July 12 to satisfy $30,000 in back taxes, the Glen Cove City Council decided last night.

The 56-room stone edifice was built in 1910 at a cost of $2 million dollars. It occupies a three-acre site on East Island, off the north shore of Long Island.

The former Morgan estate was taken over by the city for back taxes last August.

Water Is Turned Into Swimming Pool

Water was turned into the municipal swimming pool from sources independent of city supply at 4:26 p. m. Tuesday.

One well, which has been producing for the Country Club, was cut into the temporary line to the swimming pool from the Codden property just east of the City Park. Another, which has been cleaned out and is having pump installed, was due to go into production today.

The two together may deliver around 80,000 gallons per day to the pool.

Rhee Narrowly Escapes Assassination By Red

PUSAN, Korea (AP) — President Syngman Rhee today narrowly escaped assassination by a member of a Korean secret society as he addressed a crowd of 8,000 on the second anniversary of the Korean War.

The would-be killer drew a German-made pistol and pulled the trigger only five feet from Rhee. The cartridge did not fire. The man was seized by military police and bystanders and thrown across the speaker's platform into the lap of U.S. Ambassador John Muccio.

Lt. Col. Herbert Harmon, Hempstead, N.Y., and Capt. P. William Trench of Honolulu helped subdue him. Harmon hit the armed man twice and Trench wrested the gun from him.

Authorities identified the man as Ryu Shi Tae 62, a member of a secret society known as the Corps of Blood Justice. He came to Pusan from Taegu two days ago.

Only a few miles from Pusan, Korean bandits Tuesday blew up a rail line and attacked a National Railways train, killing two American soldiers and 45 other persons, the South Korean Army announced.

The Army said the bandits carried off 80 passengers, all believed to be South Koreans.

The attempt on Rhee's life was made in the presence of many foreign diplomats, United Nations officials and Korean government leaders.

Rhee was urging United Nations forces to push the Communists back to the Manchurian border when Ryu moved up from the rear of the platform and leveled an automatic pistol at his back.

Witnesses said he pulled the trigger two or three times before police and bystanders swarmed over him.

Unruffled, the 77-year-old Rhee completed his speech. The program, including an address by Muccio, continued without incident.

Military authorities said they knew nothing about the Corps of Blood Justice.

Feminine Touch Needed, Says HST

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—President Truman sent a message to the International Federation of Business and Professional Women saying that the feminine touch is needed in world affairs.

The message was read to the session yesterday by Judge Sarah T. Hughes, Dallas, federation president and a possible candidate of the B&PW for the national Democratic vice presidential nomination.

"The influences of women in world affairs, as in the home, is on the side of morality and civilization," the President said. "More than ever before in history, the world needs that influence today."

Judge Hughes has been recommended as the Democratic vice presidential nominee by 20 state federations.

USDA Urges That Wheat Be Held Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department is urging wheat farmers to hold some of their grain off the market during the current harvest season to keep prices from falling.

City Starts Move To Annex Acreage

Proceedings were started by the city commission Tuesday for annexation of approximately 272 acres of land adjacent to the present west city limits and extending at one point to Webb Air Force Base.

First reading of an ordinance annexing the tract was approved as commissioners also okayed second reading of an ordinance adding approximately 100 acres to the eastern side of the corporate area. Extension of the city boundaries on the east will include an addition to Monticello Addition south of Eleventh Place.

Commissioners went ahead with the western annexation after hearing requests from representatives of the Howard County Fair Association and Big Spring Rodeo and Cowboy Reunion for ad valorem tax exempt status.

Decision as to whether the two organizations are entitled to tax exemptions apparently was left up to City Attorney Walton Morrison. Commissioners asked the attorney to determine if charters of the associations qualified them for the exemptions.

Officers of the fair and rodeo groups petitioned the commission for consideration on the basis that both are non-profit public service institutions.

Joe Pickle, president of the Howard County Fair Association, presented commissioners with a resolution adopted by his board of directors calling attention to the fact that the organization "is dedicated wholly to educational and welfare purposes as concerns the agriculture and home life of the county and the area," and requesting the consideration.

Marion Edwards and Charlie Creighton made similar statements concerning the rodeo association. Commissioner Willard Sullivan asked numerous questions about the possibility of future streets in the area and services which the city might be expected to provide at events staged by the rodeo group.

Edwards explained that rodeo sponsors anticipate paying for policing, water and other services "like we always have." He also said the association would co-operate in development of the area, as far as streets are concerned.

After the commissioner pointed out that a portion of the fair platform stands where a street may be desired in the future, the city attorney explained that it would have been impossible for fair and rodeo associations to "anticipate all that" prior to construction of the facilities.

Area being annexed on the west takes in the Mountain View, Rice, Indianola and Avion Village Additions, Ellis Homes, Big Spring Cowboy Reunion Grounds, a parcel owned by the Big Spring Independent School District, small acreage tracts and other unsubsided acreage.

It is bounded on the east by the present city limits, on the south by State Farm Road 700 and Webb AFB, on the west by Harding Street in Wright's Addition, and on the north by the north lines of sections 1 and 2, block 33, T-1-S, T&P Railway Survey.

Taking up other matters, the commission referred to the zoning and planning commission a request for approval of plat of the 12-lot Coffee Addition, located south of E. 19th and west of Donley. An arrangement for elimination of the "dead end" of an alley is needed, commissioners said.

The possibility of closing Elbert Street between Main and Rannels was discussed briefly, then pushed back for future study. Approved was a resolution authorizing the mayor to sign lease with T&P covering a water line crossing a spur track to serve the Banks Addition in northwest Big Spring.

The city agreed to accept dedication of a street between Bell and Douglas on a line extended from Eleventh Place. Fox Striplin had notified City Manager H. W. Whitney he is agreeable to opening the street through his property.

Japanese Police Break Up Mobs Of Red Rioters

U. N. Daring Reds To Start An Offensive

SEOUL, Korea, June 25 (AP)—The United Nations' top military commanders today in effect dared the Communists to launch another all-out Korean offensive in the wake of smashing air attacks against hydro-electric plants serving Red war industries.

"We hope he (the Reds) comes," said Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth Army commander. "We would pile him up on the (barbed) wire and maybe end the war."

As the Korean conflict entered its third year, Van Fleet said he thinks a new Communist offensive would prove to be the decisive battle. But "I don't think the enemy has the stomach to fight another offensive."

In Tokyo, Gen. Mark Clark, United Nations military commander, said U. N. troops are ready if the Reds choose to launch a new attack.

"We prefer to achieve an armistice at the conference table," Clark said. "But if the enemy prefers otherwise and forces a return to the bitter and bloody fighting of 1950 and 1951, we are ready."

Lt. Gen. Glenn Barcus, Fifth Air Force commander, said the U. N. had undisputed control of the skies over Korea.

One Communist MIG-15 jet was destroyed, one was probably destroyed and another was damaged in air battles with U. S. Sabre jets Wednesday, The Fifth Air Force said.

U. N. losses, if any, were not announced.

American General Is Burned By Acid

TOKYO, June 25 (AP) — One thousand steel-helmeted Japanese police tonight broke up a mob of 2,500 Korean and Japanese Communists hurling firebombs and clubs in crowded Shinjuku station in a brisk half hour battle.

Rioting in the huge suburban station followed by several hours bitter anti-American rioting in the crowded Osaka area in southern Japan.

At least 34 police and 30 rioters were hurt and 102 demonstrators were jailed in the Osaka area.

An American general was burned slightly in the Osaka rioting. The Reds were observing the second anniversary of the Korean War with demonstrations scheduled in many large Japanese cities.

The Tokyo riot at the scene of bloody May Day and May 30 fights flared after a four-hour meeting of Reds.

The Communists marched on the station waving Red flags and brandishing fire bombs. The station police quarters were fired but the blaze was quickly quenched.

The police, experts at riot tactics, had been waiting at the teeming station, six miles from downtown Tokyo, for the Reds.

Fire, spears and acid were used by the rioters at Osaka. The mob . . . second graff to 38, deleting fifth graff "the capital . . . Korean War."

The mob carried banners proclaiming "Smash Hanoi Air Base," "No War" and "Independence." Japanese police, using clubs and tear gas, broke up the mob before it got within seven miles of the big American air base near Osaka.

Because of the incident all American military personnel in Tokyo were ordered to remain in their quarters by Gen. Mark Clark, Far East commander.

The capital expected night rioting by Communists on this second anniversary of the Korean War. U. S. military buildings were shuttered and well guarded.

Some 400,000 Koreans scheduled demonstrations throughout Japan. Thirty policemen, including two American MPs, were injured in fighting at Suita City, near Osaka, between 1,000 rioters and 800 policemen. Fifty-eight demonstrators were arrested.

U. S. Brig. Gen. Carter W. Clarke, commanding a logistical unit in southern Japan, was struck in the face by sulphuric acid hurled into his car by the Communist mob. He suffered superficial burns and continued to his office.

The rioters had stolen a four-car passenger train after assembling during the night in the countryside. The train roared toward Osaka, Japan's second largest city and the industrial hub of the islands, but halted outside the metropolis.

The mob armed itself with sticks, stones and at least two police pistols before 600 Japanese policemen lunged into them with clubs and tear gas.

Fists flew and skulls were cracked by bamboo poles in wild fighting. Sixteen policemen were stabbed with bamboo spears. Nine were hurt seriously when the mob attacked police cars.

The mob formed on the campus of the branch school of Osaka University in Toyonaka City. They built bonfires and worked themselves into a frenzy and then headed for Suita City, where they attacked police boxes with fire and sulphuric acid.

They attacked rail yards, seized a train, hurled fire bottles on the station platform and rolled toward Osaka. During the mob occupation of part of the Suita City rail yard, the demonstrators shouted, "Stop rail operations for U. S. forces."

Water Usage Is Kept Near Safety Mark

Big Springs kept water consumption in the vicinity of the safe sustained withdrawal rate Tuesday as approximately a third of the city turned irrigation hoses on thirsty shrubbery.

Quantity used was 3,170,000 gallons. None was lost from storage as production facilities were able to keep pace with usage.

City officials expressed hope that consumption today won't drastically exceed the 3,000,000-gallon mark, considered the safe maximum for daily usage. Another third of the city, that portion between Rannels and Settles Streets, was to irrigate shrubs during the afternoon.

Watering hours on each of the three irrigation days are from 2 to 7 p. m.

Thursday watering will include only parks, boulevards, and the city cemetery while production facilities either get a rest or replace any water lost from storage Wednesday. Residents of the section of town west of Rannels will water plants Friday.

Rate of consumption Tuesday started the second week's test of the limited irrigation program more conservatively than last week when consumption exceeded the safe rate for five consecutive days and resulted in loss from storage of nearly a half million gallons of water.

Officials continue to urge co-operation of all citizens in the shrub watering program, calling attention to necessity for strict adherence to the schedule. Lawn irrigation is not permitted and residents are advised not to use sprinklers for shrub watering.

Cuban Police Order Roundup

HAVANA (AP)—Police ordered a roundup of Cuba's major Communist leaders today following a Red riot against Gen. Fulgencio Batista's government in which a bystander was killed.

Amibal Escalante, publisher of the Communist newspaper Hoy, was arrested in his office after the rioting last night.

Others tagged for arrest were Juan Marinello, president of the Socialist Popular (Communist) party; Party Secretary General Blas Roca, labor leader Lazaro Pena, and three Red members of the Chamber of Deputies—Manuel Lizardo, Juan Ordoqui and Cesar Vilar.

Police who broke up the demonstration said the rioters fired first. A bystander, Martin Storrerz Galegui, 67, died from a bullet wound received during the fracas.

Authorities said the demonstration protested Batista's decree dissolving all political parties until a new electoral law is ready.

CONSERVE WATER

Withdrawals during 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. Wednesday: 3,170,000 gallons. Maximum safe sustained withdrawal rate under existing conditions: 3,000,000 gallons per day.

Russell To Talk In Denver Friday

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Sen. Richard B. Russell, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, will make a nation-wide radio talk from Denver on Friday night (8:30 to 9 p.m. CST).

Arrangements for the talk were announced today by Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), manager of the Georgia senator's campaign.

Johnson said the speech will be carried over the entire NBC network, in line with the National Broadcasting Company's policy of providing equal radio time to all presidential nominations. The speech will originate from Station KOA in Denver.

Polio Situation Growing More Serious Each Day Over Texas

By The Associated Press A worsening polio situation — apparently growing more serious daily — alarmed Texans Wednesday. The situation was so acute that Governor Shivers had called on the entire populace to help fight the dreaded disease.

Houston's worst single day for polio this year came when its city health department Tuesday reported 11 new cases. Two new Harris County cases were also reported and one out-of-county case was taken to Houston for treatment.

Dallas' polio incidence for the year rose to a record level when a 11-year-old girl's case became No.

66 for 1952. Only 19 cases had been reported by June 24 last year in Dallas, and 65 polio cases had been diagnosed during the previous record year of 1950.

The new Harris County reports Tuesday raised the number so far in 1952 to 133 city cases and six deaths, 82 county cases and three deaths and 91 out-of-county cases and no deaths.

Houston City Health Officer Dr. Fred K. Laurentz said he did not agree that Houston had an epidemic of polio. But the Harris County Polio Association continued to build up its big stockpile of equipment to treat victims of the crippling malady.

The group said it had brought in 35 late type, iron lungs and eight hospital type respirators.

Some medical authorities consider 20 cases per 100,000 population epidemic. Houston's population roughly is around 600,000 with 200,000 additional living inside the county.

Meanwhile, hospital administrators of Dallas, Wichita Falls, and Tyler scheduled a conference in Fort Worth Friday with Lowell Hudson, administrator of Fort Worth's City-County Hospital.

Laurel Says He Can Prove Midland Case

LAREDO, June 25 (AP)—A League of United Latin American Citizens official says he has proof to back up a public speech in which he said Midland was "a boiling cauldron of hate and discrimination."

Oscar L. Laurel, president of the Laredo LULAC council and retiring legal adviser of the national organization, repeated yesterday that discrimination against Latin-Americans exists in Midland, particularly in barber shops and movie theaters.

He commented in reply to criticism from the Midland Reporter-Telegram and Midland officials because of the speech Sunday at the national LULAC convention in Corpus Christi.

A Reporter-Telegram editorial said the speech was "harsh, unjust, exaggerated, and antagonistic," and challenged him to prove his charges. Midland Mayor Perry Pickett said the speech was "an injustice, especially in that the speaker gave no facts to substantiate his charge."

"I certainly would not want to continue hurling charges and countercharges," Laurel, a young Laredo attorney, said yesterday, "because I would hate to undo work of the State Good Neighbor Commission, but I think we can prove these charges of discrimination at Midland."

He said he had a report from the Good Neighbor Commission on the Midland situation but he did not propose to release it because of its confidential nature. He said making public some of the information would injure the possible improvement of relations by the commission since the original complaints were filed.

Laurel said the original charges of discrimination came from the Midland LULAC council, accompanied by affidavits. He said representatives of the Good Neighbor Commission had made trips to Midland in an effort to "smooth things over."

Midland has a Latin American population of about 3,000 in the city of about 25,000.

Guards Patrol As Pact Is Submitted

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Armed guards stood at the alert around the Government Palace and Parliament Building to block Communist demonstrators today as a new U.S.-Chilean Mutual Defense Pact was sent to the Senate for final ratification.

Seven persons, including two policemen, were injured in a pro-Red riot yesterday when the Chamber of Deputies approved the pact, 78-21, with one abstention. The agreement is the standard one signed by nations obtaining U.S. military aid.

The demonstrators attacked British Ambassador Charles Norman Stirling and Austrian Minister Karl Hudeczek as they emerged from the Parliament Building following a Senate reception for retiring Swedish Minister Folke Wenner Berge.

Both escaped without injury although Stirling's glasses were broken. The Foreign Ministry later apologized to the two diplomats.

Indiana Demos Prepare For A 'Draft-Stevenson' Move

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Indiana Democrats picked their top vote getter to head the state ticket Tuesday and got set for a possible draft-Stevenson move at the party's national convention in July.

The state convention nominated Gov. Henry F. Schricker to oppose U.S. Sen. William E. Jenner in the latter's bid for re-election. The governor, barred by state law from seeking re-election, had said repeatedly he was not a candidate for senator, but he accepted the unopposed nomination.

The 26-vote national convention delegation is officially unpledged and unofficially committed to vote for Schricker as a "favorite son" candidate for President on the first ballot.

Sixteen of the 22 delegates elected at congressional district caucuses favor Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois for the presidential nomination, and the delegates-at-large, who will cast four votes, also favor him.

Stevenson has repeatedly stated he is running only for governor of Illinois but he has declined to say whether he would accept a presidential draft.

One delegate is for Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. Five others won't state a preference, but Paul Butler, national committeeman, said they also will vote for Stevenson.

Cadets Walk Away From Two Crashes

KINGSVILLE, June 25 (AP)—Two Cadets from the Kingsville Naval Auxiliary Air Station walked away from separate crashes yesterday, apparently unharmed.

The F-8 fighter piloted by Cadet John J. Putkammer, Richland Center, Wis., crashed one mile south of Griffin's Point at the head of Baffin Bay. Cadet Lewis J. Radloff, Bladell, N. Y., crashed while taking off from the NAAS in his TBM.

Amarillo Prohibits Watering Of Lawns

AMARILLO, June 25 (AP)—The use of water today on Amarillo lawns is forbidden.

Mayor Gene Klein yesterday announced the complete ban on lawn watering for one day, and a stricter ordinance effective tomorrow.

Under the ordinance, lawns may be watered only between the hours of 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. There will be no watering on Sunday. A maximum fine of $200 is provided for violation of the ordinance.

Riding THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

There are only 45 cows and a few saddle horses remaining on the 13,000-acre H. H. Wilkinson Ranch west of Big Spring between Highway 80 and the Andrews Highway.

All the other cattle have been shipped to grass near Tulsa, Oklahoma. Bill McIlvain, ranch manager, and the Soil Conservation Service men estimate that it will take at least three years to repair the damage the drought has done to a part of this ranch.

Every once in a while some newspaperman in some such spot at Dallas writes that the West Texas drought has been broken. Anybody who believes that it has is invited to come to Big Spring and look the situation over.

ported to be riding the political trail as hard as if he were a candidate himself. He is R. S. Lewis, a brother of my friend Glenn R. Lewis of San Angelo, who is a candidate for the Texas Supreme Court, and a mighty fine man, good lawyer and veteran of World War II.

Mrs. R. S. Lewis is the former Kathleen McCreless of Stanton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCreless.

Incidentally, the Big Spring Daily Herald has editorially endorsed Glenn Lewis for the Supreme Court—a mighty good choice.

R. C. Woolsey, who lives 10 miles south of Stanton, says his section received an inch and one-half of rain in two days about three weeks ago but that the heat and high winds have about evaporated it now. He said this was their first rain since last July when about the same amount fell.

He says that the cotton that is up in his immediate neighborhood must have another such rain within a short time if it is to do any good, and that if enough moisture is received between now and the middle of July there may be a chance to raise some feed. The rain three weeks ago didn't cover much of an area, he commented.

Martin County Deputy Sheriff Jim McCoy says he has been in this country since the Spanish-American War, but that he may have to leave it on account of his health and find a higher, drier climate — that the Martin County swamps are about to get him down. The chances are that he couldn't even find a "drier climate" in the dictionary.

He has been arguing with himself about whether or not 1952 is worse than 1917. This year, he remembers, a man can at least go out and find himself a job. He couldn't always do that in 1917, and in 1917 there wasn't any such thing as trucking cattle. The biggest trucks available then wouldn't hold three big steers. Jim helped drive cattle as far as 200 miles to grass and water that year and $1.50 a day was big wages.

He also recalls that in 1917 the tight soils around Vincent blew about as badly as the sand is blowing now, and drifted against and covered up fences around corrals. You didn't open gates to put horses in corrals that year—you simply rode them up one side of the fence and down the other side.

Bence O. Brown of Vincent, one of the supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District suffered a slight stroke recently, was hospitalized, but has been taken home and is showing steady improvement. Fortunately Brown, since he must take things easy this summer, just recently had E. L. Gibson of the Western Insulating Company install a three-ton air conditioner in his home. It was to be placed in operation yesterday.

Brown says even if he doesn't get any rain until well up in August he is going to put a cover crop of some kind on his land to protect it from the winds next winter and spring.

Five thousand pounds of Guar seed has already been delivered to farmers in the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District and the supervisors now have 4,500 pounds that is being distributed.

Howard County farmers alone have requested an additional 15,000 pounds if they receive rain between now and July 30 and the supervisors are standing by ready to make an immediate order and delivery of this additional 15,000 pounds if and when a planting season arrives.

The seed is available, according to W. S. Goodlett, district conservationist. District farmers in Martin and Midland Counties will also want additional seed it has been indicated.

The supervisors say they have received reports from Stamford which show that cotton in that area following Guar is growing well while other stands are dying due to the drought. This is due to the so-called "conditioning effect" that the organic matter produced by Guar has on the soil and the current cotton crop. It has enabled this soil to soak up enough of the rains that have fallen to give life to the cotton by retaining this moisture and providing easier movement of water, air and roots through the soil.

Any farmer interested in planting Guar should call at the SCS offices at Big Spring, Stanton or Midland.

Ike Favors Ending Economic Controls

By EDWARD O. ETHELL
DENVER (AP)—After a preview in which he said he favored removing economic controls, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower went to work today on the outline for his Thursday night speech on domestic policy.

The speech is to be made to an expected capacity crowd of nearly 12,000 persons in Denver's new Stockyards Coliseum. Eisenhower organizers throughout Colorado are organizing motorcades to Denver for his first public appearance since his arrival. The paid political broadcast will be on a CBS coast-to-coast radio hookup 9:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

As in Dallas, where he warmed up for a foreign policy address with some off-the-cuff remarks on the subject, Eisenhower yesterday used a meeting here as a sounding board on home front affairs.

The general repeated that he will not "go into details of problems of which I know very little." He said, for instance, that he has no set farm program and that Republicans "from different sectors have different programs."

He said the Republican party, to win elections, must attract young voters: "If we make them all 60, they don't have long enough to serve in the Republican party; but if you get them at 21, they have a long time to serve."

Plane Workers Arguing For A Wage Increase

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Faced with an urgent government appeal to continue producing jet fighter planes for Korea and postpone a strike due at midnight tonight, representatives of 25,000 aircraft workers and company officials argued a wage dispute today.

In Washington, Director Cyrus Ching of the Federal Mediation Service sent messages last night to the CIO United Auto Workers, spokesmen for employees at three North American Aviation Corp. plants in California and one at Columbus, O., requesting the postponement.

The Defense Department has informed me that a stoppage would cut off the sole producer of the F-86 Sabre jet," Ching telegraphed, adding that the Air Force said "loss of even a single day's production of the Sabre jet would have a serious effect on Air Force operations in the Far East."

Ching also asked that both sides in the dispute send representatives to government-sponsored bargaining sessions in Washington tomorrow.

A union spokesman said no decision had been reached on whether the strike would be postponed. A company official said North American is willing to take part in Washington talks. However, a union representative said that by mutual agreement no attempt would be made to negotiate in Washington.

Representatives of both sides met here yesterday for a final meeting. They have been in session since, with Federal Conciliation Commissioner Harry Malcom presiding.

Townsend Receives High Service Award

Ray H. Townsend, veteran worker for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, is sporting his 35-year service pin.

Presentation of the pin highlighted a barbecue picnic by Bell personnel at the City Park on Monday evening. H. H. Redding, Midland, district plant foreman, presented Townsend with the special anniversary token while about 75 fellow workers and their families looked on.

Besides Redding and Mrs. Redding, other out-of-town guests at the affair were Jack Thomas, Midland, Bob Chne, Midland, and Harry Wiser, Fort Worth.

Townsend started to work for the phone company first in 1918 and quit a short time later. However, he returned on May 15, 1917 and has had uninterrupted service since that time.

He began in Henrietta, Okla. After 11 months he moved to Durant, then saw service in Lawton and then at Marlow. The latter exchange operated off the magneto system which was then disappearing from the scene.

In 1924 Townsend came to Texas and saw service at Kingsville, Cuero, Alice, Sinton and Refugio. He helped switch from magneto to common battery at Sinton and Refugio. Then for 13 years he was at Eagle Pass as a one-man service department handling details from installation to cable repair, from pole climbing to switchboard changes and teletype adjustment.

Winds Continue To Lash State

By The Associated Press
Soil-drying winds lashed Texas croplands and range country again Wednesday as temperatures stayed at a high level.

There was no rain worth reporting and farmers in some sections feared the long Texas drought, believed broken just weeks ago, might be starting anew.

As one newsmen in Dallas expressed it, northbound birds received a subsidized trip Wednesday under the auspices of Mother Nature and the south wind. Southerly winds, the weatherman said, would be in the 25-35 miles per hour range.

Although there was some early-morning cloudiness in Central Texas, the U. S. Weather Bureau expected hot, dry and windy weather under clear skies for most of the state most of the day.

Temperatures at dawn ranged from Marfa's comfortable 62 degrees to a warm 80 at Galveston and El Paso. Most temperatures were in the range found at Dallas and Fort Worth, about 78 degrees, more or less.

Tuesday's high temperatures ranged from 109 at Presidio to 88 at Galveston.

Gen. Brink Found Fatally Shot; May Be Suicide, Officials Say

By JERRY T. BAULCH
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Brig. Gen. Francis G. Brink, America's top military figure assigned to war-ravaged Indochina, was found fatally shot in a Pentagon office late yesterday.
 Authorities continued their investigation today but said it apparently was suicide although there were three bullet wounds in the general's chest. A pistol lay beside him.
 Brink, 58, who arrived from the Far East for conferences about two weeks ago, was found in a third-floor office not far from the office of Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff. He died while being taken to Walter Reed Hospital.
 The gun found beside him was reported to be a small automatic and authorities said it was possible for a man to shoot himself three times with such a weapon before losing consciousness.

 District Coroner A. Magruder MacDonald said the general apparently shot himself but he would not issue an official verdict until his investigation is completed.
 Brink, a veteran of World Wars I and II, was chief of the American military mission in Indochina, where French and native forces have waged a long, bitter struggle against the Communists. He came here for staff conferences on the military situation in the Orient.
 Friends said Brink had been badly depressed but that the Indochina situation had nothing to do with it. Secretary of State Acheson said last week the Reds had been checked in Indochina and the U.S. would soon increase aid to that country.
 Collins issued a statement expressing regret at Brink's death.

 "Gen. Brink took his duties very seriously and worked long hours daily without regard to his health," Collins said, "he was devoted to duty and served his country with distinction."
 Brink was appointed to the Indochina post in 1950. He was in Singapore at the outbreak of World War II and served in top staff jobs in the Far East most of the time since then.
 A native of Marathon, N.Y., he was graduated from Cornell University in 1916. During the 1930s he taught military science and was a boxing coach at Louisiana State University.
 The general is survived by his widow Florence, who is in Indochina, and a daughter, Mrs. W. W. Wells of Falls Church, Va.

Children Plunge From Fifth Floor

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Theresa Cadiz went downstairs to a store yesterday, leaving her three infants in the care of their 14-year-old cousin.
 Moments later, two of the children plunged to the ground from the fifth-floor tenement apartment. Seconds afterward, the third child and the cousin hurtled to the ground.
 "Please help me," gasped the cousin who was in a critical condition.
 All four were taken to a hospital, but 2-year-old Socorro Cadiz was dead. Her sister, Ramona, 3, and brother, Francisco Jr., 1, and the cousin were in a critical condition.
 Police said two of the infants, apparently playing on a bed near the window, rolled out. The third leaned over the sill to look and fell with the cousin, who had slipped as she rushed to the window.

Steel Increases Postponed Indefinitely By Strikes

As a result of the steel strike, the contemplated increase in steel for various types of construction has been postponed indefinitely, A. C. Jackson, District Manager of the National Production Authority in Lubbock, commented today.
 However, under an amendment to CMP Regulation 6, effective July 1 750 pounds of copper may be self-authorized for commercial construction per project per quarter instead of 200 pounds now allowed and 250 pounds of aluminum may be self-authorized per project per quarter. Heretofore, no aluminum has been allowed in construction.
 No change will be made in the present restrictions affecting recreational and amusement type construction. These limitations are two tons of steel and 200 pounds of copper per project without priority assistance.

 Effective July 1, the residential order will allow slight increases in copper for construction of one through four family residences. For the construction of residences using steel pipe water distribution system, up to 2,300 pounds of carbon steel, 50 pounds of copper and 250 pounds of aluminum may be self-authorized per dwelling unit; for copper pipe water distribution system, up to 1,950 pounds of carbon steel, 175 pounds of copper and 250 pounds of aluminum may be self-authorized per dwelling unit.
 Additional information is available at the office of National Production Authority located in 402 Broadway Bldg., 1202 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas.

Tax Cuts Would Hurt Security, Kefauver Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said today that Republican "talking of tax cuts at this time means tinkering with our security."
 The Tennessee aspirant for the Democratic presidential nomination added that "the American people do not mind paying high taxes if they are spent for the security of our country."
 Kefauver took issue with two leading GOP presidential nomination hopefuls, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, in a recorded morning radio broadcast.
 Eisenhower has said he favors a 30 to 40-billion-dollar cut in the federal budget over several years. Taft has stated he would balance the budget the first year of his term, if elected, and reduce taxes by 15 per cent the second year.
 Promising such reductions, Kefauver said made "an appealing campaign argument" but was unrealistic. He added:
 "There is no sense in cutting taxes unless you first balance the budget and get on a pay-as-you-go basis."
 Kefauver said he believed the raids on North Korean power plants will be stepped up to "put more life in the stalemate (truce) negotiations."
 White advocating continued strengthening of America's military might, Kefauver cautioned that "we should not get into the habit of putting our full reliance for obtaining peace on military might."
 Kefauver is scheduled to fly to New Orleans today.

Court Instructs Verdict For Defense In Damage Claim

An instructed verdict for the defendant was handed down Monday by Judge Charlie Sullivan in 118th District Court in a suit for compensation, brought by C. C. Arnold against W. H. Ward Jr. and Henry J. Clark Jr.
 After plaintiff's testimony was heard and the defense rested without offering testimony, the bench ruled that there should be a finding for the defendant, with no damages to be paid.
 Arnold had sought damages of $17,020 on the contention that his contract for on-the-job training had been canceled without reason.
 Thomas and Thomas of Big Spring represented Ward, the San Angelo firm of Upton, Upton, Baker and Griffice represented Clark, while Beverly Pothoff of Abilene appeared for the plaintiff.
 The Herald erred Tuesday in reporting a verdict had been rendered for the plaintiff in this suit. This item is published as a correction.

Jordan Monarch To Leave Switzerland

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP)—Jordan's mentally ailing monarch, King Talal, reportedly will leave Switzerland tomorrow to be treated at home for his chronic schizophrenia (split personality).
 Reliable sources said that the Middle Eastern ruler had agreed to a proposal brought here by Jordan's Prime Minister Tewfik Abul Huda Pasha that a regency council would continue to rule, while he undergoes treatment.
 The council was set up after Talal suddenly returned several weeks ago to Switzerland, where he had been treated before he ascended the throne following the assassination of his father, King Abdullah. It had been anticipated in the Middle East that his 17-year-old son, Crown Prince Hussein would supplant him if he did not agree to the Prime Minister's proposals.
 Talal is not expected to resume his royal powers until his doctors pronounce him cured.

Langer Retains GOP Reins In North Dakota

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—U.S. Sen. William Langer yesterday won re-nomination in North Dakota's bitterly fought Republican primary election.

It means Langer is virtually certain of winning re-election to his third Senate term next fall since Democrats seldom have any luck in this traditionally Republican state.

Langer, who votes with the Democrats as often as he votes with the Republicans, turned back the challenge of freshman Congressman Fred Aandahl, who suffered his first defeat in four state-wide elections.

With 800 of the state's 2,296 precincts reporting, Langer had 40,197 and Aandahl 33,879.

Aandahl conceded Langer's victory, saying, "There appears no question that Langer will win."

Aandahl, 55, served three terms as governor and now is serving his first term in Congress. Regarded as a conservative Republican, he was able to carry city precincts by only small margins.

Langer, 65, and also a former governor, rolled up big leads in rural areas while pressing Aandahl in the cities.

Aandahl conducted most of his campaign on the grounds that Langer is closely associated with the Truman administration and votes in favor of measures which he said would expand federal government.

Incumbent Usher Burdick won re-nomination to Congress but a close race was shaping up for the state's second Republican congressional nomination.

Returns from 724 precincts gave Burdick 30,149; Otto Krueger, 22,438; Orris Nordhagen, 21,841; and A. R. Bergesen, 20,898.

Incumbent Gov. Norman Brunsdane won re-nomination over Albert Jacobson.

Full Probe Sought In Liquor Industry

By CHARLES F. BARRETT WASHINGTON (AP)—Two House investigators called today for a full-scale Justice Department investigation of what one of them called the power-drunk liquor industry.

Reps. Chelf (D-Ky.) and Keating (R-N.Y.) told a reporter two days

Penney Store To Re-Open Tomorrow

Grand opening tomorrow of the J. C. Penney Company store will disclose many improvements designed to modernize the store, including a remodeled front and installation of new fixtures and equipment.

C. W. Norman, manager, announced today. "We're particularly pleased to invite all our friends and customers to our opening," said Norman.

"We know they'll be delighted to see Penney's 'new' home. We've made a number of improvements to 'dress up' the store while making it more convenient for customers to do their shopping."

Both the interior and exterior of the store have been repainted. The interior now features modern fluorescent ceiling lights which will provide maximum lighting and display effects.

New heading units also have been added to help customers readily find the department they want.

"All departments have been repainted in attractive colors complementing merchandise colors and new carpet has been laid throughout," said Mr. Norman.

"In addition, new display equipment has been added to aid customers in the examination and selection of merchandise."

"Fortunately, all the work has been completed in time for us to help customers with their seasonal shopping needs," he declared.

"We're sure our friends and customers will find shopping at our remodeled store a wonderful experience, and the same grand people will be on hand to serve them as before."

of hearings by a House Judiciary Subcommittee have convinced them the Anti-Trust Division failed to dig deep enough in a 1949 search for monopolistic practices.

More testimony is scheduled Thursday. Chelf said the investigators will try to track down rumors, mentioned by earlier witnesses, that the liquor industry escaped anti-trust prosecution after making big political contributions to both the Democrats and Republicans in 1948.

The Justice Department has said its 1949 inquiry showed a high degree of concentration in the industry but failed to produce any evidence of conspiracy. A department official has denied any political considerations were involved.

Chelf is chairman and Keating is the ranking Republican member of the subcommittee, which yesterday heard a series of witnesses representing independent liquor firms testify they were subjected to high pressure tactics by the big four distillers—Schenley, Seagram, National and Hiram Walker.

Keating commented the testimony "sounds like the big liquor companies were drunk with power."

Julian P. Van Winkle, president of the Stitzel Weller Distillery of Shively, Ky., and dean of Kentucky bourbon makers, testified he couldn't get fire insurance for a while on liquor in his warehouses.

He said the reason was that Schenley had a "blanket" insurance contract covering the warehouses although Schenley had no whiskey in them.

"You mean they prevented you from getting legitimate fire insurance on your own liquor in your own warehouses?" Chelf asked.

"I guess that's it," Van Winkle said.

He added that Schenley finally agreed to lift some of its blanket insurance after he threatened "to walk down to Washington and start a little trouble."

A spokesman for Schenley told Chelf after the hearing that the transaction was perfectly proper. Schenley officials already have been scheduled to testify.

Rio Grande Dam Gains Approval In Committee

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee voted approval yesterday of $1,500,000 for the Anzalduas Dam on the lower Rio Grande and eased a House restriction on construction.

The money provided in a bill to finance the State, Commerce and Justice Departments for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Then Senate committee, concurring with a House cut of $500,000 in the two million dollars requested for the dam, said it felt the reduction would not retard construction.

It objected, however, to a House provision barring the start of work until arrangements were made with prospective water users for repayment to the government of costs of the project allocated to irrigation or water supply purposes.

The Senate Committee said the United States has a commitment with Mexico for joint construction of the dam and added the primary purpose is flood control.

To delay construction until an agreement is worked out with water users would jeopardize the flood control project, the committee said.

It also declared that Mexico is prepared to go ahead with the dam on its own, adding "the United States has no assurances that such a dam would benefit our interests."

As a result, the Senate committee rewrote the House amendment to knock out the ban on starting construction but providing that the dam shall not be operated for irrigation or other water-supply purposes in the United States unless arrangements have been made for water users to reimburse the government for such costs.

KANSAS CITY, June 25 (AP)—J. W. Miller, president of Mid-Continent Airlines, yesterday announced a stockholders' meeting July 29 to consider the proposed merger of Braniff Airlines and Mid-Continent.

Braniff stockholders are expected to meet within a few weeks to consider the merger. The Civil Aeronautics Board and the boards of the two lines have approved it.

Airman Killed As Family Plans Visit

He added that Schenley finally agreed to lift some of its blanket insurance after he threatened "to walk down to Washington and start a little trouble."

A spokesman for Schenley told Chelf after the hearing that the transaction was perfectly proper. Schenley officials already have been scheduled to testify.

"Most-Wanted" of Them All!

It will probably occasion no surprise on your part to be told that the Cadillac car is the most wanted and sought-after automobile on the American highways.

But you might be surprised to learn how widespread the desire to own this great motor car has become during recent years.

Statistics indicate, for instance, that there are more than twenty million motorists in America who would like to call a Cadillac their own. And were the whole of the world's motorists to be considered, this number would grow well-nigh beyond comprehension.

There is reason to believe, in fact, that Cadillac may be wanted by more people than any other product manufactured in America today. It might well be called the great desideratum of the American people.

Naturally, a motor car has to offer many wonderful things in order to occupy such a unique position in the hopes and aspirations of so many persons.

It has to offer great and distinguishing beauty... luxurious comfort... brilliant, masterful performance... and wonderful prestige.

And, of course, in order to have become the logical ambition of so many millions, it would have to be practical to own, as well as wonderful to drive. And so, it would also have to offer—extraordinary economy!

If this sounds like the description of the car that you, yourself, would like to own and drive, then come in and see us—soon.

Perhaps the time has come for you to join the hundreds of thousands of motorists who have stopped wanting a Cadillac—and started enjoying one!

We'd be happy to see you any time.

Russia's Determination To Turn Baltic Into Mare Nostrum Touchy

The apparent intention of Russia to turn the Baltic into "mare nostrum" is confirmed in reports from Hamburg, where a German newspaper says Russia is building powerful sea and air bases all along the Baltic coast of East Germany from Lübeck to Pillau. Powerful Russian sea and air forces have been maneuvering in and over the Baltic for some time. The shooting down of two Swedish planes by Russian fighters was by way of emphasizing Russia's determination to make the Baltic "our sea."

Sweden sent warplanes and other assistance to Finland when Russia attacked the latter country in World War II, but never did abandon her near century and a half of "neutrality." No doubt Russia would like to make the Baltic "our sea," including its outlets into the North Sea. Harassing Sweden, Norway and Denmark is evidently part and parcel of her plan to get across the idea that she rules the Baltic. The building of the "Stalin Line" along the East German coast fits into this picture of Russian ambitions.

When It Comes To Expenditures, State Governments Do Good Share

The bulletin of the Institute of Life Insurance points out that whereas in 1940 the average per capita expenditure for state government was only $41, it now stands at $100. Twenty-seven of the 48 states now spend above $100 per capita, based on 1951 figures. Two of them—Delaware and Washington—spend more than $200 for every man, woman and child within their borders. Texas comes off pretty well in this respect. In 1951 it spent only $74.19 per capita, one of the nation's lowest. However, that was up from $59.95 in 1950 and $62.31 in 1950, so Texas is catching on fast.

is going to spend everything it can get its hands on and the sales tax is the readiest source of spending money there is. Texas can never have the conventional sales tax unless it changes its constitution, and that doesn't seem likely in the foreseeable future. The gasoline, whiskey, cigarette and similar taxes are levied as excises. In effect, however, they are sales taxes; the consumer pays them. New Mexico and Louisiana, where the sales tax flourishes, pay respectively $129.64 and $140.89 per capita for state government. In other words, the Louisiana state government costs the people of that state approximately twice as much per capita as Texas pay.

Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Eisenhower Helped Bring About Rift Among Texas Republicans

WASHINGTON.—Some of those on the inside with General Eisenhower figure the battle over Texas delegates could have been prevented if the cards had been played a little differently last October. In the first place, a newcomer in politics, had sent word to Guy Gabrielson last year to use his influence to have Jack Porter of Houston made Republican National Committee member for Texas. This was a rather naive message on the face of it, for Gabrielson has little influence in electing national committeemen, especially in Texas. This put Ike squarely in the middle of a hot inter-party row and alienated Henry Zweifel, whose job as National Committeeman, Porter wanted to take. But another development put Ike even further in the middle and made it certain he would lose the support of Boss Zweifel.

Senator Duff of Pennsylvania, pioneer in campaigning for Eisenhower but not too familiar with Republican feuds and factions in states outside Pennsylvania, went to Texas last October. There he called on Ike's friend Jack Porter and proceeded to kick Zweifel in the teeth. "He is a contemptible political boss of the type I have been fighting all my life," said Ike, bluff, redheaded Duff at a press conference. Whereupon John G. Bennett of Rochester, who had been helping Duff mastermind the campaign for Ike, telephoned Duff long distance. "Senator," remonstrated Bennett, "what we're interested in is delegates, not Jack Porter. You're just alienating the Texas Republicans we have to have vote for us at Chicago."

Congress Likely To Use Dizzy Tactics In Reaching A Decision On Controls

WASHINGTON.—Be prepared to get dizzy between now and next Monday. Between now and then Congress must decide whether it wants to keep price and wage controls. They die June 30 unless Congress votes to extend them. The whole business is up in the air. No one is making a precise forecast on the outcome. This is what can happen: 1. Congress will just let all controls die. 2. Congress will get so muddled up in disagreement that just before the Monday deadline it will vote a stop-gap measure to keep the controls a little longer, until it can get unmessed and make up its mind. 3. By some miracle of speed, both houses can agree by Monday on a single bill—which President Truman considers workable — to keep the controls for some months or even a year beyond June 30. 4. Congress can produce a bill to keep the controls, but one which Truman considers so unworkable that he'll veto it. That will kill all controls unless Congress then comes back with a bill he does approve.

Before it can complete action, supporters of controls will offer amendments to change or soften what the House voted for last week. This may produce a hodgepodge of legislation. Unless the bill finally approved by the House matches the Senate bill in every detail, and no one expects that at all, then — a committee of members from both houses will have to sit down between now and Monday and try to compromise on a bill acceptable to both houses. They'll have to work overtime on that to finish ere the deadline. A committee of members from both houses will have to sit down between now and Monday and try to compromise on a bill acceptable to both houses. They'll have to work overtime on that to finish ere the deadline.

It began nine years ago when Pat was first mistaken for Ike. And it has gone on intermittently ever since, as Pat has spent a good part of those years reporting the varied activities of Ike in war and peace. "I don't see the resemblance myself," said Pat, "but other people do." The other people include Pat's own wife. If they are not mistaking Pat for Ike when they are apart, they find three nights later after the opening that all this is discounted by a closing notice posted on the stage bulletin board. A typical example is actress Kim Hunter, a young actress with charm who is coming along nicely although she has been tossed on her cute and lovely nose a couple of times. And at the same time, she has had a few dozen orchids pinned on her lapel for her co-starring film roles in Paramount's "Anything Can Happen" and 20th Century-Fox's "Deadline U.S.A."

Pat And Ike Look Alike; It Causes Some Confusion

NEW YORK, June 23.—You've heard all the stories about Pat and Mike. Well, this one's about Pat and Ike. They look alike. His strong facial resemblance to Gen. "Ike" Eisenhower has been one long comedy of errors to Relman ("Pat") Morin, Pulitzer prize-winning reporter for the Associated Press. "I don't see the resemblance myself," said Pat, "but other people do." The other people include Pat's own wife. If they are not mistaking Pat for Ike when they are apart, they find three nights later after the opening that all this is discounted by a closing notice posted on the stage bulletin board. A typical example is actress Kim Hunter, a young actress with charm who is coming along nicely although she has been tossed on her cute and lovely nose a couple of times. And at the same time, she has had a few dozen orchids pinned on her lapel for her co-starring film roles in Paramount's "Anything Can Happen" and 20th Century-Fox's "Deadline U.S.A."

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP They "got" Bob Lee on this day in 1869, and thus came the beginning of the end of a feud which took at least fifty lives and probably over a hundred. Just exactly why the feud ever started is not completely clear. Certainly it grew out of post-Civil War turmoil and confusion. In the area where Grayson, Collin, Fannin and Hunt Counties met, the Union League with its black votes and federal bayonets just about ran the show in the years right after the war. And the Union League and its leader, Lewis Peacock, didn't like Bob Lee, perhaps because the ex-Confederate looked too prosperous and spent twenty-dollar gold pieces with such a flourish. At any rate, one night men in federal uniforms came to Bob Lee's home and arrested him for "war crimes." A day and a half later Lee had secured his release by giving his captors a mule, a saddle, a $20 gold piece and a note for $2,000—and a promise to leave the country. But Lee didn't leave, and he fought the note. War was on. The Lees and the Peacocks shot each other on sight. In late 1867 the Lee gang picked off so many Peacocks that federal troops came into the picture. In 1868 the Military Commander of Texas offered a thousand dollar reward for Lee. Even then it was nearly a year later that Lee fell with eight bullets in his body—and two years before the last of the participants in the feud either got killed or left the state.

Broadway—Mark Barron

NEW YORK.—One thing an actress, and especially a young actress, needs on Broadway is fortune. She can be nice and pretty and gentle and young, but she has to be a gal who can, to put it politely, "take it on the nose." If she is a salesgirl or a stenographer she can depend that her job is going to be almost limitless if she makes good in her first trial. But an actress not only goes through the ordeal of making good on her first tryout, but the longevity of her job equally depends upon how long the show will last. She may get wonderful role, but find three nights later after the opening that all this is discounted by a closing notice posted on the stage bulletin board. A typical example is actress Kim Hunter, a young actress with charm who is coming along nicely although she has been tossed on her cute and lovely nose a couple of times. And at the same time, she has had a few dozen orchids pinned on her lapel for her co-starring film roles in Paramount's "Anything Can Happen" and 20th Century-Fox's "Deadline U.S.A."

Actress Can't Afford To Quit When Things Dark

and I left Hollywood for Broadway. I spent a year and a half of weary and fruitless rounds. I couldn't find a thing either in the theater or in movies or television. Then, and this should be an encouragement to young actresses, when everything seemed blackest, producer Irene Selznick asked her to take the starring role of Stella in "Street Car Named Desire." That was in the stage version and she won both the New York Drama Critics' and the Donaldson awards and these helped her win the same screen part for which she won the Motion Picture Academy award as the "best supporting actress." "I've had some tough breaks and I've had some good breaks," Miss Hunter said. "At last, I think I've solved my problem."

Harrell Attending Underwriters Meet

Back In Early Twenties, City Had Visions Of Being Potash Capital

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note. Big Spring once came near being the seat of a booming potash industry. But like the initial promise of becoming the oil capital of West Texas back in 1920, the prospect went glimmering. In fact, the oil flurry resulted in the potash flurry. The old General Oil No. 1 McDowell had produced some small amount of oil, though not in commercial quantities. A second well was sunk, then a third and a fourth, none with appreciable success. An analysis of samples, however, did turn up an interesting development, the presence of polyhalite. Judge W. F. P. Fogg came here in the summer of 1923 from Boston, Mass. as secretary-treasurer of the Potash Company of America. This corporation which was to headquarter in Big Spring and Boston, was a $5 million dollar concern and included L. S. McDowell and W. P. Edwards of Big Spring as directors. Upon establishing offices in the Old Cole Hotel here, Judge Fogg announced that the company had 20,800 acres under lease in Glascock and Howard Counties. There was no doubt he said, that potash would be mined in great quantities. With memories of a critical shortage of the vital product during World War I, the nation was searching for a dependable domestic supply. Imports had come back into the picture with such force that all but two of some 400 hastily established potash concerns folded. The price ($17 a ton) was still almost exorbitant, however. At this stage, to quote the Encyclopedia Americana, "was the result of search for domestic sources of potash instituted by the United States government in 1910 and public interest created thereby, the mineral polyhalite was identified in 1921 in cuttings from a well drilled for oil in Texas, constituting the first discovery of the mineral in the U.S." While the well is not identified, it probably was one of those on the McDowell lease. At any rate Fogg called in his chief engineer, William Marks, who announced that a 4x7 shaft would be sunk a depth of 1,000 feet near the No. 4 McDowell oil test (in section 25-34-2s, T&P) Fogg said that first mining facilities would be set-up, then a fertilizer works, then arrangements for distribution. "It (the potash) will be worth more to the United States than its gold and silver mines and of greater value to Texas than all of its oil fields." He estimated if the polyhalite was five feet thick, it would be worth $5,000 a acre. Department of Agriculture representatives came in and expressed optimism. Meanwhile, equipment was slow in arriving for the shaft work. The anticipated fuel supply for power did not materialize in the oil tests. And about this time, sylvite was discovered in Southeastern New Mexico. Interest jumped from here west across the border. The industry did not come rapidly there, for it was 1921 before the processes were in operation. Today three mines produce such an abundance of potash that the U.S. has an independent supply. The price sagged to $37.50 in 1947. Other reserves have been found and in such abundance that it is now doubtful that serious tests will be made of the potential resource in our polyhalite. —JOE PICKLE

Gallup Poll

Voters Think Democratic Party Is The Best For Their Welfare

By GEORGE GALLUP Director, American Institute of Public Opinion PRINCETON, N. J.—When it comes to a question of self-interest or the "pocket book nerve" of the American voter, the Democratic party has an advantage over the G.O.P. More people consider the Democratic party best for people like themselves, than choose the Republican party in that regard, based upon interviews just completed with a national cross-section of voters. The survey put this question to the voters who were interviewed: "Looking ahead for the next few years, which political party—the Republican or Democratic—do you think will be best for people like yourself?" The vote is: Democrats best 42% Republicans best 37 No difference 50 42 9 No opinion 8 100% All those who voted "No difference or "No opinion" were asked a second question, as follows: "If you HAD to make up your mind today on which party has your best interest at heart—which would you choose, the Republican or Democratic party?" This showed 6 per cent Republican, 6 per cent Democratic and 9 per cent still undecided—making up the 21 per cent answering "No difference" or "No opinion" on the first question. Combining these results with the vote on the first question, the figures become: Democrats best 48% Republicans best 43 No opinion 9 100%

Garden Is Tops, High In Building

HARTFORD, Conn.—This garden is tops. It has a green lawn, flower beds with such items as tulips and bleeding heart, and 20-foot-high trees. It also has the usual quota of bugs, worms and weeds. The garden is on the eighth story of an office building here. The garden is set in 6 feet of soil. Its base is the seventh floor ceiling. The concrete was waterproofed before the soil was put in. The results highlight the central problem of the Republican party in trying to win this year's election. That is, many political observers believe that the "pocket book nerve" influences the way many people vote. The attitude of farmers in today's sur-

Short Discus Throw Won A Prize

A discus may be described as a heavy, rounded plate made of stone, wood or metal. The standard discus weighs about four and a half pounds. In ancient contests of the Olympic games, the throwing of the discus was an important event. A long throw was supposed to be proof of both strength and skill. An ancient discus, bearing rules for throwing it, has been found. At the opening of the modern Olympics, the throwing of a discus was one of the events. Robert Garrett, the young American athlete who won the contest never had been in a discus contest before reaching Athens. He had put the shot, however, and had practiced briefly with the discus. Then, to his own amazement, he won the Olympic event. His throw was only 95 feet seven and a half inches, but it was enough to win that contest. In later Olympics, the early mark has been broken time and again. Ken Carpenter of the U.S.A. set up a fine record when he hurled a discus 162 feet four and seven-eighths inches. This Olympic mark was broken four years ago, in England, by an Italian athlete, Adolfo Consoini, who threw a discus 173 feet and two inches. Better records are made at times, outside of Olympic contests. Three years ago, during a contest in Europe, an American named Fortune Gordien threw a discus 186 feet 11 inches. The hammer throw has been a part of the Olympic games since 1900. In that year, J. J. Flanagan, an American with an Irish name, threw a 16-pound hammer 167 feet and four inches, winning the event, Patrick O'Callaghan of Ireland won the hammer throw at two later Olympics, his top mark being 176 feet 11 and one-eighth inches. The all-time Olympic record, however, was set by a German, Karl Hein 166 years ago, when he threw a hammer 185 feet and four inches. It will be interesting to see whether this record will be broken in the Olympics of the present year. Two years ago (outside the Olympics) a Hungarian named Irme Nemeth set up a new world's record for the 16-pound hammer throw, making a mark of 196 feet five and a half inches. Javelins have been thrown farther than either the discus or the 16-pound hammer. A Swedish athlete, E. Lemming, threw the hammer 198 feet 11 and a fourth-inch at the Olympics 40 years ago. A Finn, Matti Jarvinen, set a new Olympic record of 238 feet and seven inches 20 years later. For GENERAL INTEREST section of your scrapbook. Tomorrow: More About Olympic Games. With American Friend

Cynthia Kim consults here with her American friend and governess, Juaneva McIntosh.

Lack Of Cowboys Disappoints Young Korean Girl On First Texas Visit

An 8-year-old Korean girl, visiting in Big Spring, is mighty disappointed in Texas. She hasn't seen a single cowboy!

Cynthia Kim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myung Shik Kim of San Francisco is a guest here in the home of Mrs. L. R. McIntosh, 1105 E. 6th. She made the trip by bus with her hostess' daughter, Juaneva, a former Big Spring girl who is a sort of governess and companion to the younger Kim children.

Cynthia, born in Waikiki, Honolulu, Hawaii, is one of nine children—five sisters and four brothers. Her father was born in Korea some 62 years ago. Her mother is a native of Hawaii. Cynthia, who has been in this country five years, doesn't remember anything about the war except the air raids.

All the family except Cynthia and her younger brother, 2, speaks the Korean language fluently, but the two youngest can understand it well when their mother scolds or admonishes them not to do something.

Admitting that she prefers playing to school, Cynthia nevertheless speaks perfect English and rarely misses a day. She can cook a few things like bacon, eggs and hot dogs, but her favorite dish is "Kim Chee," a Korean concoction resembling a salad and containing, among other things, cabbage, peppers and garlic, and which the Kims have for every meal.

Juaneva says one must acquire a taste for this dish and it took her five long years to learn to like it. Cynthia also likes chocolate bars.

"I think it's fine. I like Big Spring almost better than San Francisco," she replied to a question on how she liked the place. She and Juaneva, who is on vacation, plan to return in two weeks. This is her first trip outside California, and she stymied Juaneva on the trip over by asking for a drink of water while they were crossing the Arizona desert.

"She thinks I can get her anything," Juaneva laughed.

Two of her sisters are doctors, she has one brother studying to be a doctor, and another brother, James, 20, is fighting with the U.S. Army in Korea. He has been there since January, and when the family last heard, he was about seven miles from the 38th Parallel. He wrote his father, who left Korea at the age of 16, that he had met a few of their distant relatives.

Cynthia's hobby is collecting rocks, and she has a number of "gold nuggets" she found, which Juaneva explains, to Cynthia's dismay, are only "fool's gold." Upon her arrival here she quickly made friends with neighbor children and her chief pastime now is playing house.

For her first interview dark-haired, dark-eyed Cynthia was wearing a pink embroidered organza frock and occasionally glanced to Juaneva for assistance in answering a question.

Mr. Kim owns a cleaning and pressing establishment in San Francisco, and the children attend public school there. The McIntoshes, who lived in California at the time, were the first Americans the Kim family knew after their arrival in the States from Hawaii and the friendship has continued through the years.

Only Cynthia's tiny, slanting eyes reveal that she is Korean. But for that, she might be any typical American, olive skin, rosy cheeks and all.

And when she extends her hand to the departing visitor and with a smile says politely, "good-bye," you realize she is completely Americanized.

DESIGNING WOMAN

Bedrooms In Fashion Show Wear Living Room Colors

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

Bedrooms look more like living rooms every day. In the preview home furnishings fashion showings this week in Chicago and Grand Rapids, bedrooms wear living room colors and living room fabrics, and are furnished in living room furniture. Part reason for this is the idea that no space in today's smaller homes should work only part time. Another reason is that the bedroom is not only more useful but smarter to look at that way. New furniture for fall is especially adaptable to the new favorite bed-sitting room because new furniture comes in so many sizes and there are so many new small upholstered pieces to make a bedroom easy to fit. Design goes far beyond the old stand-pats in dressers and dressing tables and spreads out to storage groupings that can almost be bought by the foot. Here in a smart arrangement of furniture designed by George Frakas and Walter Baerman are cabinets which make unusual use of a corner and a love seat that is cushioned for comfort but bulkless looking to suit the room. (Sketched at the American Furniture Mart.)

New Liquid Kills Roaches and Ants

ROACHES and ants are the most difficult household pests to control, and they can be brought into the home at any time.

Science has just come forth with a new discovery, a colorless coating that kills cockroaches and ants, and that stays effective for months. It is called Johnston's NO-ROACH.

It's just as simple and easy to use as it looks. You paint the coating on surfaces frequented by roaches and ants, woodwork near the sink, baseboards, garbage pails, window and door sills. When these crawling pests come in contact with this invisible, odorless, stainless coating they slowly become paralyzed, turn over on their backs with legs waving in the air, and die. Then the coating stays effective for months to kill any strays that get into the home and that walk over it.

Effective for Months

Science has seen to it too, that this product contains no DDT, no sodium fluoride, and no phosphorus. Johnston's NO-ROACH is not a contaminating spray or a messy powder. It is colorless, and may be brushed just where you want it, without having to move all your dishes and pots and pans.

Guard against crawling insects this modern NO-ROACH way.

Prices are 8¢ for 80¢ pint for $1.99, and a quart for $2.99.

State Candidates Step Up Their Pace

By The Associated Press
Candidates for state political office went about their vote-gathering at a hurried pace Wednesday with the first Democratic primary just a month away.

There was clear call for labor to support the Democratic party in the Presidential campaign, a prediction that Senator Richard Russell of Georgia would poll 300 votes in the first ballot at Chicago, and a quickening pace in some of the state races.

The Taft-Eisenhower Texas delegate feud kept its status with both sides snarling.

Candidates for U. S. Senator—trying to succeed Senator Tom Connally—set the pace in the quest for votes. Lindley Beckworth, Price Daniel and E. W. Napier were probably the busiest candidates in Texas.

A call for labor to support the Democratic party and the New Deal was heard Tuesday by delegates to the State Federation of Labor convention in Amarillo.

Reds Protest Italy Powers

LONDON (AP)—Russia has protested to the U.S. and Britain that the Western Powers' plans to give Italy wider administrative powers in their zone of Trieste violates the 1946 Italian Peace Treaty.

The British Foreign Office announced that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky handed Russian notes to British and American representatives in Moscow last night.

The Soviet protest lined Russia up with Yugoslavia, her onetime satellite who broke from the Cominform to become a bitter opponent of the Kremlin rule. In attacking the May 10 Anglo-American agreement.

Under this agreement, Italy would furnish key officials for the U.S. and British-occupied Zone "A" of Trieste, which includes the big seaport at the head of the Adriatic Sea. The agreement becomes effective July 15.

Yugoslavia occupies Zone "B" of Trieste, which is not affected by the two-power arrangement.

Man Wins English Sewing Contest

LONDON (AP)—The National Needle Arts Bureau announced with surprise today that a man had won its annual national sewing contest.

Harry Leonard, a 49-year-old health inspector, copped the $140 (50 pounds) first prize by sewing himself a blue suit in 330 hours of his spare time.

Warren To Watch Closely Before He Releases Pledges

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland of California predicted today Gov. Earl Warren will wait out several Republican convention ballots, watching for a deadlock, before deciding on the release of his delegates.

Such a delay could cost Gen. Dwight Eisenhower a critical bloc of presidential nominating votes at a time when his chief rival, Ohio Sen. Robert Taft, was making an all-out bid.

Knowland told this reporter he agrees with Warren there is a good chance neither Eisenhower nor Taft will get the nomination at the July 7 convention in Chicago.

"If Eisenhower and Taft deadlock, I believe Gov. Warren is the logical compromise candidate and will be nominated," said Knowland. His influence with the California delegation is rated second only to Warren's.

Warren, who has pledged support of the 70 California and six Wisconsin delegates, said at Sacramento, Calif., last night he hopes to pick up a few more first ballot votes.

"Don't ask me how many," he added quickly at a news conference.

He said he has made no deals with any other nominee-candidates. Should it develop he has no chance to win, he said, "I will do what I believe any honorable man should do under the circumstances, releasing my delegation to act in accordance with their own consciences."

Turnesa, Harbert In Finals Of PGA

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. LOUISVILLE (AP)—Ten years ago Jim Turnesa, then an Army sergeant, knocked off four of the biggest names in professional golf only to lose out to Sam Snead in the final of the PGA Championship at Atlantic City.

Five years ago Chick Harbert, playing before the home folks in Detroit, survived a similar slaughter of favorites at Plum Hollow but was beaten in the last round when Jim Ferrier made a sensational recovery from an "impossible" position.

Today one of them will gain the coveted title and the other will again experience the heartache of defeat as they meet in the 36-hole final of the PGA Championship at Big Spring.

It may be a last chance for both. Chick is 37 years old; Jim is 39—not old as the golfers in this tournament go, but nearing the age when the urge to play quelling 36-hole matches under a blazing sun begins to die down.

In winning their semifinal matches yesterday, they proved that neither is too old for the polite golf version of a Pier 6 brawl.

Harbert, tabbed as a fighter of the links, scrambled and clawed his way out of one tight spot after another to conquer big, placid Bob Hamilton, 2 and 1. The swarthy, coldly polite little Turnesa put relentless pressure on cocky Ted Kroll to win three of the last five holes and gain a 4 and 2 victory.

On his way to the final, Turnesa knocked over a list of tough rivals although it could hardly be compared to his 1942 triumphs over Dutch Harrison, Jug McSpaden, Californians Lead Olympic Tryouts

HOUSTON, June 25 (AP)—Pat McCormick of Los Angeles, Calif., finished first in the Olympic high platform diving trials here yesterday with a total of 66.4 points.

Paula Jean Meyers finished second with 258.15 and Mrs. June Stover Irwin third with 219.55. Both are from Los Angeles also.

The three will get a trip to the Olympic Games in Helsinki next month.

Nancy Duty, Houston, led Mrs. Irwin by 30 points at the halfway mark but finished three points behind for fourth place.

Willie Farrell of Los Angeles won the National Junior AAU high platform diving for men. Barbara Wilfer and Margie Repass of Houston won the National Junior AAU synchronized swimming duet for women.

It's A Busy Life

There's more than one side to the life of a golf pro. The touring pros made the coast-to-coast trips and grab the headlines. The home pros, like Shirley Robbins of the Big Spring Country Club (above), are called upon to do many things. Top left, Shirley keeps books for the club. Top right, he's posting one of the many notices he makes on the bulletin board, in order to keep members informed of club happenings. In the lower photo, Robbins takes time to practice his putting. He gives lessons by appointment, when he can find the time among his innumerable other chores.

ROBBINS BUSY MAN

Job As Links Pro Calls For Man Of Many Talents

By DON HENRY In the days when the Big Spring Country Club had 18 sand greens and $9 per week was good pay for golf course work — or anywhere else for that matter—Shirley Robbins took the management and title of club pro.

And since that day in 1936, Robbins has seen the Country Club gain grass greens, a putting green, a growth in club membership, and the remodeling of the clubhouse. In addition to serving as host of the clubhouse, Robbins takes care of the clubhouse, collects membership dues, gives golf lessons, keeps books for the club, waters the greens, keeps members posted on club activities, repairs golf clubs, and occasionally has time to play.

Robbins first began playing golf in 1919, on the first golf course constructed west of Fort Worth. He remembers caddying for the two Scotchmen who built the course. The two men built the course in 1915.

He moved to Big Spring in 1930 and worked as a salesman until 1936, when he took over the Country Club job in 1936. He recalls paying a Negro to take care of the course for $9 per week and later paid him $35 after the depression. But the Negro worked better for the lower wages, Robbins chortled.

In 1941, grass greens were added to the course. The same year Robbins resigned to go into the gas business. Later, he worked at the post exchange at the Bombardier School here before going back to his Country Club position in July, 1945.

Since that time, he has seen the Club grow to its present enrollment of 225. Two years ago, they remodeled the clubhouse. The club has its own well to supply water for the greens. Although the amount is not sufficient to keep the grass in perfect condition, Robbins commented that it was enough to get them by.

One of the biggest jobs around the club is caring for the greens. The especially-prepared grass must be moved every two days and each cup must be moved every week. But during tournaments the greens must be mowed and the cup moved daily.

Robbins commented they had very little trouble with people harming the greens. The only trouble is someone has broken a few aluminum green flags and punched holes in the greens with them. But, Shirley added he was sure it was not members of the club. Two additional jobs that confront the pro are the two tournaments sponsored by the club each year. The first is a "members only" meet, this year to be staged June 29 and July 4. The second, the Big Spring Invitational, is scheduled August 29-September 1.

Although the summer months would naturally appear to be the best golfing season, Robbins noted the members do not watch the calendar and they play the year round. He stated that on a good day in the winter, the course would be as crowded as during the summer. Week ends are the heaviest and Mondays the lightest. The days taper off between the two extremes.

Through the fall months, many football fans just bring their portable radios on Saturday afternoons and listen to the games while playing a round, Robbins reported. Most people think of a Country Club pro as one who does nothing all day except give a few lessons and play golf. But that's not the case with Shirley. He commented he had little time for lessons alone, not to mention playing a round. His lessons are all on appointment and the golf is only on off minutes.

And he added he has even less time to enter pro-amateur tournaments in the area—a far cry from the idea most people have of a Country Club professional.

If you think it's easy, just ask Shirley.

Art Houtteman Now Reliever

DETROIT (AP)—Ex-soldier Art Houtteman's tale of heartbreak and hard luck picked up a new chapter today when Manager Red Rolfe demoted the Detroit Tiger righthander to the role of a relief pitcher.

Art, fresh out of the Army, had been expected to lead the Tigers in contention for a first-division berth this season. But with the season nearly half gone the Tigers are buried in the American League cellar and Houtteman-first pitcher in the league to lose 10 games—is buried in the bullpen.

Rolfe hopes both are temporary situations. "What's wrong with Houtteman?" is a question you hear in this town almost as much as "What's wrong with the Tigers?"

Art, stumbling along with a generous 4.71 earned run average, has been driven off the pitching mound in the last nine games. He has won three games and lost 10.

Houtteman, handsome 24-year-old youth from Detroit, grins at questioners. "Things will get better," he says. Houtteman announced his decision to put Art in the bullpen with these words: "The boy needs a rest. This is only temporary. Maybe I can put him into a ball game when we're behind and if he can win it, maybe that will help."

Some fans think Art's troubles are partly caused by preoccupation with the sudden death of his only child in an auto accident this spring—but there is no evidence to prove or disprove such a contention.

OVER PAL JOEY

Robinson Remains A Solid Favorite

By JACK HAND NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson remains a solid 13-10 favorite to win his third boxing crown tonight in the once-postponed light heavyweight title bout with champion Joey Maxim of Cleveland.

Another hot soggy day, with a possibility of thundershowers toward night, was forecast for Yankee Stadium where the 15-round match is scheduled at 9:00 p.m., Eastern Standard Time. If it should rain, the fight would be shoved back to Thursday.

Despite many refunds, yesterday's net receipts ran about $10,000 ahead of cancellations, bringing the advance sale to $270,000. Jim Norris, International Boxing Club president, predicted a gate of over $330,000 and 35,000 people.

How much will a second weight-making take out of Joey Maxim? That is the question boxing men have tossed around for two days since the Monday rainout. The professionals think it will hurt the 175-pound champ for the odds jumped from 6-5 and "pick 'em" to make Robinson the betting choice. They must weigh in again at noon in the Madison Square Garden lobby.

Benners Signs With Giants

DALLAS, June 25 (AP)—Freddie Benners, the Southern Methodist passing genius, has signed a one-year contract with the New York Giants of the National Football League.

The famed Pony pass-a-minute man said yesterday he would report to the Giants' training camp, Aug. 1, on the Gustavus Adolphus College campus.

Just 22 years old last Sunday, Benners was the SMU mainpring passer completed 265 passes in 271 minutes of playing time over the last three seasons. His accurate pitching gained 3,373 yards for the Mustangs and went for 24 direct touchdowns.

The Giants open the Dallas Texans' league warfare in the Cotton Bowl on Sept. 28.

Tourney To Honor Babe Zaharias

BEAUMONT, June 25 (AP)—The first annual Babe Zaharias Open Golf Tournament will be held here next spring, in the home town of the great woman athlete.

Sponsored by the Beaumont 20-30 club, the tourney will offer $3,500 in prize money in 54-hole stroke play. Mrs. Zaharias, president of the Ladies PGA and voted the greatest woman athlete of the half-century, has been in Beaumont several weeks recovering from a hernia operation.

Hank Wyse Quits Beaumont Club

BEAUMONT, June 25 (AP)—Hank Wyse, veteran pitcher of the Beaumont Roughnecks, quit the club last night. His baseball career may be over.

Wyse said he was working too hard for the amount of money he was receiving. He indicated he might go in business for himself in Houston.

Howton To Play

CHICAGO, June 25 (AP)—Latest addition to the collegiate squad that will meet the Los Angeles Rams in the annual All-Star football game is End Bill Howton of Rice Institute. The game will be Aug. 15 at Soldier Field.

Another Spraberry producer was added in the Weddell pool of southwestern Sterling County and one located Wednesday in prospect just across the line in Tom Green, which would make it the first Spraberry well in that county.

EDITOR

of the Globe-News Publishing Company of Amarillo.

He was found in his car about 9:30 a. m. (CST). Cause of his death was not known immediately.

Howe had been a newspaperman since the turn of the century but his fame was made in the Texas Panhandle, where his "Old Tack" column was daily fare for thousands.

Howe was the son of Ed W. Howe, famous for fifty years as editor of the Achison, Kansas, Globe. His brother, James W. Howe, Associated Press foreign correspondent for many years, lives at Walnut Creek, Calif., and a widowed sister, Author Mateel Howe Farnham, lives in Connecticut. Howe is survived in Amarillo by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Shelby Kritzer.

An erect, handsome man even in his mid 60's, Howe combined the talents of a top-rate reporter and an astute businessman. But to most readers he was "Old Tack," author of a daily column which carried at its top a picture of Ben Turpin, early-day movie comedian.

Howe was a kisser, but his fun was calculated. He liked to stir up a rumpus.

He called his newspaper column "The Tactless Texan." That column discussed the weather, quoted poetry, told jokes, promoted worthy causes, acted as a lost and found service, employment agency and marriage bureau.

CIO Modified Its Demands, Agency Says

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—Dow, Jones & Co., Business News Service, said today that the CIO steelworkers last week modified their demand for a union shop. It described the move as "the first sign of a union retreat on any of the major issues in dispute" in the steel strike.

In a Pittsburgh dispatch, the service reported it was learned the union proposal was presented to six steel companies in secret negotiations at New York but was rejected because the producers felt it still contained elements of "compulsory unionism."

No immediate comment was available from either the union or the steel companies.

High lights of the proposal were listed as:

- All present employees would be exempt.
- New employees would be required to sign an application for membership in the union and an authorization for dues and initiation fees to be deducted from their pay.
- After 20 days' employment and before 30 days the new employee could revoke his membership application by sending a registered letter to the company and to the union.

Dow, Jones said there were conflicting reports whether the new employee also could revoke his authorization for dues and initiation fee deductions.

Divorcee Says She Made Deal With Redfield

By ED OLSEN

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—In a fantastic climax to the strange Redfield burglary, a volatile French divorcee testified millionaire La Vere Redfield consented to the theft of his 1 1/2 million dollars in order to win her favors.

The claim was shouted at a Federal Court jury yesterday by tiny Jeanne D'Arc Michaud, 36. She resumes her defense today against charges she took $147,000 of the loot across state lines.

The hot-tempered woman ignored the remonstrations of her own attorney, the prosecutors and the judge as she portrayed herself to the jury of eight men and four women as the 54-year-old financier's "sweetheart."

She said she proposed to Redfield that she could arrange to have his safe stolen as means of making her financially independent.

He consented, declared Mrs. Michaud, after she had napped in his bed at the big Redfield home in Reno Dec. 28. Mrs. Redfield was out of town at the time.

"I woke up in the dark and he came very close and tried to kiss me," testified the dark-haired divorcee.

"I told him, 'I'll never be yours anymore unless it's a deal.'"

"And he said, 'Shall we seal it?'"

"That was consent," yelled Mrs. Michaud to the packed courtroom from which minors were barred.

"There are other ways of sealing a deal than with pencil and paper."

Redfield sat expressionless in a back row. He later told reporters he had no comment.

Postoffice Box Rent Due Monday

Postmaster Nat Shick said this morning that not more than one half of the box holders have paid the quarterly box rent which is due not later than 6 p. m. Monday.

"Notices were placed in all the boxes at the postal regulations require on June 20," Shick commented, "and if the rent isn't paid by the time the office closes next Monday those boxes will be closed off and present holders may have some trouble getting them back."

Shick explains that the demand for boxes far exceeds the number available and that the Postal Inspection Service has issued orders that whenever the rent isn't paid before the deadline, that box must be closed off and allocated to a person on the waiting list.

Shick says he has received instructions to adhere strictly to this rule here especially in view of the fact that a sub-station has not yet been authorized for Webb Air Force Base which has considerably increased the list of requests for boxes.

Russians Tell All To Keep Planes Off

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY

MOSCOW, June 25 (AP)—Russia told the rest of the world today to keep its planes away from Soviet territory or run the risk of having them shot down or interned.

This was the construction placed by foreign diplomats here on a Soviet note delivered by Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky last night to Swedish Ambassador Rolf Solhman.

The message replied to a blunt Swedish query asking whether the Russians had shot down a Swedish transport plane missing in the Baltic Sea area since June 13.

The Soviet reply complained that foreign planes have violated the Russian frontier several times recently while "Soviet planes never violate the borders of other states."

It then warned that Soviet fighters have been instructed to "open fire on all aircraft that violate the frontier and resist orders to land at a local field."

The Russian note demanded that Sweden stop her planes from straying over Soviet territory. It said that two aircraft of undetermined nationality flew over the Soviet Baltic frontiers June 13 and were chased away by Russian fighters.

The Swedes previously admitted in an apology to Moscow that one of their planes mistakenly trespassed over Soviet territory that day while searching for the missing Swedish plane.

The latest Russian note did not say specifically, however, that the Soviets had fired on the still-missing plane.

Foreign diplomatic circles here considered that the brusque warning was directed to the world at large, not solely to Sweden.

In the opinion of many Western diplomats, the Russians have become exasperated with the activities of foreign air force planes in the neighborhood of the Soviet borders and have determined to stop them.

The orders to Russian fighters to shoot down trespassing planes obviously have been in effect for a long time. The Soviet government admitted its fighters fired at a U. S. Navy Privateer patrol plane which they charged crossed its Baltic border in April, 1950.

Russian fighters also shot down an unarmed Swedish Catalina flying boat June 16. Moscow claimed it had flown over Soviet territory and fired first at Soviet fighters after they ordered it to land.

The Swedes, protesting bitterly, claimed the slow-moving craft was unarmed and stayed at least 15 miles from Russian territory. The Soviet Union claims its territorial waters extend out 12 miles from shore.

Jessie Edward Dyer called upon the law to help him sober up Tuesday.

The sheriff's help accommodated him by putting a few bars between him and the great outside. He was charged with vagrancy.

Seek Expansion Of Redbird Airport

DALLAS, June 23 (AP)—Ben Critz, a Pentagon spokesman revealed manager of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday an effort was being made to get the Air Force to enlarge Redbird Airport for a major fighter-interceptor base.

Earlier this week that the Air Force planned to spend more than four million dollars on Majors Field at Greenville.

Critz said Rep. J. Frank Wilson of Dallas and Dale Miller, the Dallas chamber's Washington representative, were trying to induce the Air Force to use Redbird instead.

"But I don't have much hope they'll be successful," Critz said.

Ingrid Loses Plea For Custody Of Pia

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Ingrid Bergman has lost her plea for summer custody of her daughter Pia, 13, and the child leaves in a few days for Aspen, Pa., where her father is a surgeon at a Veterans Administration hospital.

Superior Judge Mildred L. Lillie yesterday upheld the contention of Dr. Peter Lindstrom that to visit Italy would not be in Pia's best interest.

Judge Lillie's 11-page opinion said the parents seemed less interested in Pia's welfare than in what "each is entitled to under the law."

"A child is not a piece of property to be bought and sold for, to be delivered under contract and to be shelved until it is convenient to seek its favor," the judge said.

The court also deplored the world-wide publicity attendant to the actress' separation from Lindstrom in 1949, her romance with Italian director Roberto Rossellini and the subsequent birth out of wedlock of a son by him.

Lindstrom testified during trial that he did not want to expose Pia to Rossellini, now Miss Bergman's husband. He charged Rossellini has a reputation as a libertine and narcotics user.

Judge Lillie's opinion nowhere mentioned Rossellini by name but said a factor in the decision was "the child's unfavorable opinion of the defendant's husband."

The jurist urged the parents to "put aside your pride and selfishness" so that Miss Bergman may be restored to Pia's affections and Lindstrom will lose his "attitude of prejudice and vindictiveness."

Grand Jury May Investigate False Tip On Lattimore

SEATTLE (AP)—A federal grand jury will open a special session here Friday forenoon on the heels of a report a Seattle man passed a false "tip" on Owen Lattimore planned a trip behind the Iron Curtain.

There was no official confirmation the two actions were related, but the Seattle Times, which Tuesday published the report of the fake tip, said the grand jury presumably would investigate the incident.

U.S. Atty. J. Charles Dennis, who asked that the grand jury be reconvened five days after it ended its regular session, declined comment.

The Times said its information about the "phony" Lattimore report came from "unimpeachable sources." It said the FBI has determined the report was false.

The State Department, acting on the "tip," had banned Lattimore's departure from this country. The Johns Hopkins University professor has been a key figure in Senate investigation into reported Communist influence in the State Department.

Lattimore has denied he planned any trip behind the Iron Curtain, and has said repeatedly he has no Communist connections.

Thompson Steps Down As Head Of Rotary Club

Big Spring Rotarians heard the retirement address of their outgoing president, R. W. (Stormy) Thompson, Tuesday as Thompson turned the gavel over to Dr. Frank Dillon who officially becomes president of the club July 1.

The retiring president traced briefly the activities of the Rotary Club during the year he has been in office. Among accomplishments of the organization he listed the rebuilding of the club's Scout Hut, broader participation of the membership in all phases of the Rotary program, and an improvement in the attendance record during the past few months.

Thompson paid tribute to the club's board of directors and officers for their work during the year, calling particular attention to the efforts of Secretary Chester O'Brien.

Following Thompson's talk, Dillon spoke briefly and accepted the president's pin from his predecessor. Dave Duncan then presented Thompson with a past-president's lapel button.

Visiting Rotarians at the Tuesday luncheon were C. H. Harrison of Waco, Ned Nickson of Roswell, N. M., Ray Walker of Sweetwater, Charlie Woodson of Brownwood, and Dr. J. O. Shannon, A. H. Vineyard, H. N. Phillips, Richard L. Brooks, Jim Tuttle, Ralph E. Smith and George E. Votruba, all of Midland.

Guest of Dr. E. O. Ellington was his son-in-law, Ed Howe, of Los Angeles, Calif.

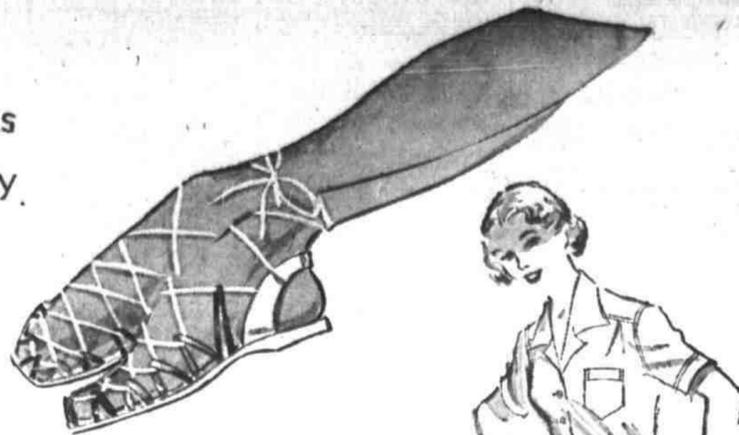

Dever Says Taft Is Tougher Foe

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Paul A. Dever of Massachusetts, Democratic National Convention keynote, says Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower "would be by far easier to beat" than Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Dever says the general's "obvious ignorance of domestic affairs has caused a continuous diminution in his popularity."

The governor made his comments on the Republican presidential aspirants yesterday as he left for Albuquerque, N. Mex., where he addresses the New Mexico State Democratic Convention today.

Dutch Cabinet Resigns As Majority Asks New House

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP)—The Dutch Cabinet submitted its resignation today to Queen Juliana as 5,700,000 of her 10 million subjects voted for a new lower house of Parliament.

As is customary, the Queen requested Laborite Premier Willem Drees and his middle-of-the-road coalition of Catholic party and Labor ministers to remain in office until the election results permit formation of a new Cabinet.

With voting compulsory for all men and women over 23, there was a rush to the polls, but the balloting went forward calmly. Most voters feel that international requirements and agreements will control the decisions of whatever government is in power, and the campaign has been exceptionally dull.

A total of 100 lower house seats are to be filled. First scattered returns are expected early tonight. Decisive trends probably will be known early tomorrow. The Catholics are expected to hold their place as Parliament's largest party. Party leader Carl P. M. Romme is being mentioned as a possible choice for Premier.

Tomorrow the provincial legislatures, sitting as electoral colleges, will choose the 50 members of a new First Chamber (Senate).

Sales Banned On Half-Hatched Eggs

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Austrian government has banned the sale of the country's latest fad in wonder cure-alls — half-hatched eggs.

Claims that nine-day-old embryo chicks were a great restorative and source of hormones appeared in Austria about three months ago. Hatcheries suddenly found business booming, with the half-incubated eggs selling for seven or eight times the price of a fresh egg.

Vienna's University Clinic tested the claims. One doctor and 15 patients took the nine-day-old eggs every day for a month, first thing in the morning.

The patients claimed they felt "fresher" than before.

The clinic's official verdict: "They don't appear to do any good, and they don't appear to do any harm."

But the Ministry of Social Welfare banned sale of the eggs anyway.

"Under the food laws," the Ministry said, "they are spoiled food. Under the drug laws, medicines can be sold only in drug stores."
