Silver
When Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau gets back to his desk Monday after a ten-day holiday in the South...

Morgenthau's first and somewhat involuntary contribution to the situation is expected to be a report on just whom the Treasury Department has discovered to be speculating in silver.

Ironically enough the Treasury has been using Senate subpoenas and the investigators attached to Senate "prosecutor" Pécora's staff to dig up this information.

However one name stands to create a mild sensation. You haven't guessed it so far but it belongs to a gentleman who has been rather prominent in testifying before Congressional committees in favor of monetization of silver.

Medicine
The silverites in the Senate are using medicine to force another vote. They only missed by two votes last time out and the measure voted on was all tied up in good old 16 to 1—a ratio which in the past has been anathema for the Democratic Party in election years.

LONGVIEW, (AP)—Searchers dug into ruins of Hotel Longview Friday to determine if there were more fatalities from the fire which claimed two lives, injured twenty, and destroyed the $350,000 structure Thursday night.

The flames swept through the three-story building, the guests barely having time to escape.

Others were rescued from precarious positions on window sills by firemen's ladders.

Mrs. Lewis Lacey, trapped by flames, tossed the fourteen-month-old baby out of a window. The child landed on an awning, and firemen scrambled up ladders to rescue both baby and Mrs. Lacey.

Broken backs, necks, limbs, and other serious injuries were suffered by persons who jumped from windows.

Many were critically injured. Flames quickly destroyed the hotel, and a two-story house next door.

George White

Four Of His 'Scan-Dolls'
Tell Producer What They Think

Hollywood has its "yes men," but George White has his "no girls." Lois Eckhart, Eunice Coleman, Peggy Moseley and Hilda Knight are the girls.

They appeared first in the stage "Scandals" in New York, went on the road with the same company and, returning to New York from this tour, were called immediately to Hollywood to join the cast of the first motion picture edition of the famous musical show.

It was not until they were in the film colony for some time that White revealed he had brought them to Movietone City for a reason other than their ability to sing, dance and please the masculine eye. But at that he didn't make the revelation intentionally.

The exposure came when White was called to one of the Fox Film projection rooms to view the rushes of himself in a role in the "Scandals." In addition to staging the famed show, he is appearing in the film—his initial appearance for benefit of a motion picture camera other than the news reel variety.

Until this episode no one knew that the four girls had any different qualifications than the other 146 girls who appear in the show.

At the projection room White refused to enter—yet. "Waiting for someone," he explained. Eventually the four girls appeared, but not until a delay waiting for them had necessitated the explanation that he had four girls on the payroll who are not afraid of showing disapproval as quickly as approval.

THE DEMOCRATIC DEAL MUST BE MAINTAINED

Several prominent Englishmen recently united to make a public protest against the rising wave of discontent with democratic institutions.

All across Europe—from Germany, from Russia, from Italy, from Austria, and from lesser countries—comes a steadily growing chorus of derision for parliamentary government.

Democracy, it is said, is a worn out thing, and liberty is an empty word; only by an iron-clad dictatorship can a people hope to meet the problems of the modern world.

All this, naturally, is beginning to stir echoes in the British Isles, and these Englishmen therefore have called on their countrymen to rally in defense of the democratic ideal and to reaffirm their conviction of the supreme importance of human liberty.

Something very similar might be done profitably on this side of the water. Europe is a long way off, but this attack on the old, Anglo-Saxon concept of freedom is a menacing and contagious thing—chiefly, perhaps, because we have grown so used to the blessings of liberty that we take them for granted.

We pick our daily paper, for instance, knowing that it will give us a full and impartial story of the news of the day, and that the editor will speak his mind freely about current issues. We go to a political meeting perfectly confident that the speaker will say precisely what he pleases.

If we don't like the actions of our mayor, or our congressman, or our governor, or our president, we wait our chance to vote against him at the next election—and, meanwhile, express ourselves as bitterly as we choose to anyone who will listen.

We read such books as we wish to read, attend whatever church we please, educate our children in the way that seems best to us.

We don't look on these things as privileges. They are part of our daily life. We hardly can conceive of living under circumstances where such things do not exist.

Yet we need to remember constantly that these are the very blessings of democracy which now are under attack. People are found and died that we might have these privileges, and did it so effectively that we no longer look on them as privileges.

We imbibe freedom with the very air that we breathe, but a price was paid for it, and it is our task to defend it everlastingly.

Under fascism, under communism, under any kind of dictatorship, we would lose it.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Corrected His Constipation

If you are troubled by common constipation, read this letter:

"Just a word in appreciation of what your ALL-BRAN has done for my health. For years, I had been doping myself with pills and other dopes for constipation.

"I decided to try Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Now I am in good health, and haven't taken a drop of medicine for six months."—Thos. F. Little, 564 E. Wheeling St., Lancaster, Ohio.

Headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness—any one of these may be caused by common constipation. Yet this condition can be corrected, usually, by eating a delicious cereal.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to help promote regularity. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much safer than patent medicines! Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal.

If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Serve as a cereal or use in cooking. At all grocers in the red-and-green packages. Get ALL-BRAN and not a part-bran product. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

What Is Easter Without An Egg?

In Washington, D. C., they roll them on the White House lawn; on the farm, they gather them; in the city they make them out of everything from chocolate to spun sugar. Everywhere they eat them—Easter eggs, of course!

Eggs, being one of the staples of our diet, are used in every type of food we eat, from the batter for chops to custard pie. But during the Easter season we like to see eggs remain eggs. You may boil them, fry them, scramble them or dye them, but, to be traditional, they must be recognizable as eggs. Any columnist confronted with writing about the fruit of the hen, is tempted to go into long diatribes on eggs in history and literature. Remember James Whitcomb Riley's Raggedly Man who had "eyes like two fried eggs"; recall the darling of our nursery days — Humpty Dumpty? But more interesting to the cooks and diners are the eggs awaiting the fork, featured in these special recipes.

Eggs Benedict
6 slices boiled ham, 3 English muffins or 6 toast rounds, 6 eggs, Hollandaise or Mock Hollandaise. Sauté the ham in a little mazaola until the edges curl slightly. Place a slice on each half English muffin, which has been toasted. (Or instead of English muffins you may use rounds of toasted bread, rusks, or French toast (fried bread) cut in rounds.) Poach the eggs being careful not to break. Place a poached egg on top each half muffin. Cover with Hollandaise Sauce and serve very hot.

To make Hollandaise Sauce, beat yolks of 2 eggs slightly, and add 2 tablespoons mazaola slowly, beating all the time. Add a tablespoon of lemon juice and 1-2 cup boiling water slowly, stir vigorously. Stir over hot water about 5 minutes, until it thickens. Add salt and pepper and serve hot.

Stuffed Egg Salad de Luxe
6 hard cooked eggs, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1-2 tablespoon mazaola, 1-2 teaspoon mustard, Paprika, 2 Tablespoons chopped ham, 1-2 teaspoon sugar, pepper, 1 teaspoon salt, lettuce, stuffed olives, parsley or watercress, mayonnaise.

Cut eggs in halves crosswise. Remove yolks, mash, and add other ingredients, mixing mustard, sugar, salt, pepper and paprika together before adding. Refill whites and place on lettuce leaves. Garnish with stuffed olives or rings of green pepper. Serve with mayonnaise. Pickles may also be added to egg-stuffing.

Simple Stuffed Eggs
6 hard cooked eggs, 1 teaspoon vinegar, 1-2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 1-2 teaspoon mazaola.

Cut the eggs in half across or lengthwise, as preferred. Slip out yolks, mash with a fork, adding other ingredients. Mix until paste is smooth, refill whites. Serve on lettuce or on toast with hot sauce.

Spinach Eggs
(for vegetable course)
6 hard cooked eggs, 6 tablespoons strained spinach, 6 slices hot cooked chicken or ham, 1 1-2 cups hot white sauce.

Shell the eggs while hot and cut a small piece from each end, removing yolks. Fill whites with spinach, cover each egg with a small round of chicken, ham or tongue. Place on serving dish, cover with hot white sauce and sift over this the egg yolks which have been pressed through sieve. Serve hot. 6 servings.

Candy Easter Eggs
2 cups sugar, 1-2 cup water, 1-4 cup white karo, red fruit coloring, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 pkg. coconut. Boil the sugar, water and syrup to the soft ball stage (238 d. F.). Remove from fire and let it stand until lukewarm (110 d. F.). Add fruit coloring to make delicate pink. Add vanilla and shape like Easter eggs. Place on waxed paper to harden. Makes 12 to 13 eggs.

Eggs and Hash in Pimientos
2 cups cooked corned beef, 2 cups potatoes, salt and pepper, 6 eggs, 2 onions, chopped, 1-2 cup milk, 2 tablespoons mazaola, one 7 oz. can pimientos.

Mix all ingredients, except eggs and pimientos, and place in oiled baking dish, and bake in hot oven (475 d. F.) 20 minutes; or cook in heavy frying pan well-oiled until milk is absorbed, stirring constantly. When hash is browned remove from stove. Line buttered timbale molds or muffin tins with canned pimientos and fill each pimiento cup half-full of hash. Meanwhile, poach 6 eggs; slip on top of each cup of hash and serve.

Doctors Admire This Laxative

To banish headaches, dizziness and other constipation ills doctors regularly prescribe the laxative ingredient used in Feen-a-mint, the modern, pleasant-tasting, chewing gum laxative. Feen-a-mint acts more promptly, thoroughly, and satisfactorily, for it is gently released into the intestine by chewing, thus giving a "full," more natural action. Feen-a-mint is pleasant to take, but contains no richness to upset the stomach or diet. Feen-a-mint is the modern development from old-fashioned, unpleasant-tasting, habit-forming, bowel-binding laxatives. Does not interfere with duties. "Delay" is dangerous—chew Feen-a-mint for constipation. 10c and 25c at druggists.

CHAPTER TEN BEVINS' PLAN

Norman left her at the street door and Judith ascended to the floor of the Bevins Building on which Big Tom kept his private suite. She opened the door with her own key, then stood for a moment. The room was dark, and Big Tom sat before the wide window opening onto the dusk and city lights.

"Thank you for coming, Judy," he said. "Turn on the desk light, will you please, there..." he sighed queerly as the yellow glow revealed the desk with its pile of neatly stacked papers.

Judith looked at it in surprise, she looked at him.

"Mister Bevins... you're ill," she cried.

"No, Judy. I was ill this morning. All right now, Judy, come here, come close... that's a girl."

He searched her face with an intent gaze, such as Delphy had searched it an hour before and like the old colored woman, he nodded satisfied.

"Judy," he said, "you're a fine girl. You've made up in great measure for my not having a son."

of the basin, upper and lower dam, spillway, and two miles beyond is covered. Ready?"

Half an hour later Judith looked up. "It's water tight, Mr. Bevins. Except for the Scoggins farm angle which juts into the main basin, there isn't an inch of ground you need that you don't own."

"Tomorrow, Judith, you will own it."

"What... what do you mean?"

"This. After I left you last night, I got the wires busy. By dawn I knew Lampere was trying to double cross me. When our reports of the annual water footage which might be expected in the Rio Diablo basin came in, Lampere discovered that what he had thought an old fool's hobby, could be made a veritable gold mine.

"He thought that by purchasing a salient piece of land, a piece necessary for my building of the dam, he could force me to exploit the project, charge the poor landholders exorbitant rates for their irrigation privileges, and utilize the water power for selfish purposes."

"He discovered I owned every bit of the land save that owned by land around the upper dam, and thanks to that storm, I was spurred into buying that before he got into the field.

"As things stand now, I have Lampere blocked both ways. The land will not be exploited, either through his forcing the people off by making them pay the maximum rate fixed by the state's commission, or by attempting to change the river channel through new land which he could hold at a high figure."

"But, Big Tom, with all of this explained, just why are you turning the land over to me?"

"Because I trust you. Because queer as it may seem to you, I can trust you more than any living being to carry out my desires."

"Judy, remember the East Trinidad duet? I was no further along with that piece of work than I am with this dam, when I was called to Washington. Acting as my secretary, you supervised that job, and completed it in exact accordance with my plans.

"We have worked together so long, that I know you interpret my meaning whether it is in words or figures, and you do not attempt to change either to please your own individuality."

"A man, no matter how loyal or efficient he might be, could not help changing details. I want each detail carried out according to my plan."

"This dam will be my last piece of work, a monument, or say, an altar that I want to erect for having had such a fine, full life. I want it to be built of my thought just as it was conceived by my thought not for the sake of masculine egotism, but because it concerns so many individuals who lean on me until they are strong enough to walk alone."

"Read Ruskin's bit on building sometime, the open which starts off 'Let us think that we build for ever, let it not be for present delight, or present use alone.'

"Because I feel this way I want to make sure that before this night ends, you will have a complete conception of the Rio Diablo Dam, and as soon as physically possible, you will have in shorthand, every detail necessary to its construction."

We've worked here together for four years and I believe we understand each other pretty thoroughly, don't you?"

Judith looked at him in surprise. He seemed suddenly old—"Yes, indeed, Big Tom."

"I may do things in the future which seem a little queer to you, but knowing me I believe you'll see below the surface to the motive. Now to business."

"Get that surveyors plat of the Rio Diablo basin, will you... that's it. Now see the crest line... then those dotted lines beyond."

"I've a record of the deeds filed in Rio Mar here, and I have a few new deeds, taking care of the upper dam. I want you to check that map as I read these off... you remember you made a copy from the one in the County Clerk's office... and see that every inch

He kept faith with me and refused to sell (you understand Judy, that Lampere did not show his hand in any of this, but because of your friend, Chis. I was able to trace it back to his influence).

"Having failed to obtain land around the lower dam, Lampere had a wily engineer by the name of Manhauser, got over the copy of a blue print, obtained from the original real estate people there, and he discovered that they might switch the course of the Rio Diablo, through an artificial channel, around the land owned by the natives and through virgin territory, upon which Lampere quickly obtained an option.

TEXAS TOPICS

By Raymond Brooks

A single news item in Texas papers this week offered its own eloquent commentary on law enforcement. Here were its two paragraphs:

"Mr. X resigned his public office, whereupon indictment against him for conversion of public money were dismissed . . .

"Blank, negro, was given two years in the penitentiary, for pilfering . . ."

This comment on the legislature is from within the legislative body itself: "There's a lot less crookedness and a lot more ignorance in the legislature than most people think."

Rep. Edgar Davidson of Waco was reporting back to his home people when he made that salty comment. Davidson was not much impressed with the law-making body, for after one term he will retire, not offering for a second.

Atty. Gen. Allred, in advocating abolition of the fee system of paying local officers, has suggested that the fee officers themselves may be of help by advancing definite and constructive plans for substituting a respectable system of salary compensation for the present abuses.

Many officers have profited, both personally and in the ability to build up political fences, through the selfishly-compounded fee laws. There will be a sharp line of distinction between those seriously trying to help the situation, and those preferring to continue under the old system.

Former Senator Tomas G. Pollard in Austin for oil hearings, reported that already a much improved spirit of respect for state oil proration enforcement has resulted from the passage and approval of the refinery bill and other new oil legislation; and from steps taken under it.

Sen. Pollard recognized that more stringent enforcement will result if the laws are held valid; even though the acts themselves are being subjected to court review to determine their validity . . . It is not so much the terms of the law as he believes, as the recognition by the oil industry of sincere efforts on the part of the state to administer proration fairly and effectively . . .

Dean C. S. Potts of S.M.U. school of law, former University of Texas law professor, has pointed to archaic county government conditions in Texas, by advocating total repeal of the system of 254 sheriffs, and over 1000 deputy sheriffs, as a move toward the more efficient enforcement of law . . . Expansion of the highway patrol into a state police and proper organization of city police forces were suggested as the way out.

Our sheriff system is patterned on the English system of 200 years ago—and abolished many decades ago in England, he said.

Mrs. John Haley of Midland, announcing for the seat held by Frank Stubbeman, is the second woman candidate for the legislature this year.

Cowdens Ran Seven Spanish Mares Into Fortune, Says King

BY H. S. HUNTER
EL PASO—How the well known Cowden family of Midland, Texas, ran seven Spanish mares into a fortune is sketched related by no less a historian than Frank M. King, editor of the Longhorn section of the Western Livestock Journal.

Frank, an old cowpuncher to whom almost every mile from the Pecos to the Pacific coast is familiar ground, writes this:

"It seems like some folks can make money in the livestock business under unfavorable circumstances, where others fail under favorable ones.

"Now you take them Cowdens down there around Midland on the plains of Texas and there's a heap of that family there. They established the great 'J. A. L.' ranch and all are big cattle people till this day.

"When the Cowdens came out of Palo Pinto in 1884 they had seven $25 Spanish mares that they rode as cow horses. They never bought a horse. They rode these mares till they wore 'em out and then turned 'em loose on the range to raise colts. They raised all their horses that they made their big fortunes on from these seven mares. They sold $15,000 worth of polo ponies and had $40,000 worth of horses left when they sold out in 1913, all of which goes to show what you can do when you know how. The Cowdens are real cowboys and horse men."

Likewise, concerning Luke Britz, the daddy of modern ranching in the Big Bend, Frank writes as follows:

"Luke C. Britz, rode into the

TALENTED CHOIR TO APPEAR

The Ecclesia Choir of Los Angeles, Calif., under the direction of Mr. Elton Roth, making its 1934 trans-continental tour, will arrive in Big Spring Saturday afternoon enroute to the east and north.

This talented choir will give a special musical program at the First Christian church at 8:15 p. m. Saturday evening, March 31st.

It is heralded by critics everywhere as a choir of unusual charm. Members will be costumed in apparel of gold and bronze satin. They are commanding the attention of the American music public and opening the way to new realms in the art of sacred music by revivifying the music of the cathedrals and abbays of the early centuries and is symphonic in style, ecclesiastical and worshipful, according to critics.

All music lovers of Big Spring and this general section are cordially invited. A free will offering, only, will be taken.

Plan To Erect Permanent Structure At Stamford For Pioneer Cowboys

STAMFORD—Plans for the erection of a permanent headquarters building for pioneer Texas cowboys and cattlemen on the Texas Cowboy Reunion grounds here are expected to be completed at a joint meeting of the boards of directors of the Texas Cowboy Reunion association and the Texas Cowboy Reunion, Incorporated, here Monday, April 2.

It is hoped to have the first unit of the building completed before the fifth annual Texas Cowboy Reunion to be held here July 2, 3 and 4.

The Cowboy Reunion grounds, which have been under lease during the past four years, have been purchased by the Reunion in preparation for the erection of permanent improvements. The grounds, one mile southwest of the city, are a part of the S. M. S. Flat Top ranch, owned by the Swenson Land & Cattle company. The Swenson interests have agreed to donate half of the purchase price toward the erection of the building for the old time cowboys.

A number of improvements on the rodeo arena will be made before the Reunion in July. Seating capacity of the grandstands is to be increased, more corrals built and the women fence around the arena proper will be built higher as greater protection for spectators against the wild Brahma steers used in the rodeo.

The cowboy rodeo, featuring actual cowhands from the ranches of Texas and adjoining states, is the central feature of the entertainment program when the Reunion is held here each year.

The Cowboys Reunion has grown rapidly since it was started in 1930, the attendance increasing from 35 to 50 per cent each year. It was estimated that 40,000 people came to Stamford during the three days of the Reunion last year.

Fort Worth And Dallas Unable To Agree On Governor's Race; Many Opinions On Race Given

BY RAYMOND BROOKS
FORT WORTH—Fort Worth and Dallas can't agree even on the governor's race.

Dallas sees James V. Allred in the run-off next August, with either Edgar E. Witt or the home-town man, Maury Hughes, his opponent.

Fort Worth considers Clint C. Small out in front, with either Tom Hunter or Allred next; C. G. McDonald rather strong; and Witt and Hughes down he list, both substantially supported.

These composite predictions deal with the present standing of the candidates in Dallas and Tarrant counties; but generally those who have so sized up the race locally believe the same relations likely throughout the state.

Business Division
Both cities have taken notice of the colorful advance made by Maury Hughes since his announcement as the last of the six important candidates for governor. Dallas offers three candidates in three general races, and a bit enthusiastic about it, holds the suggestion that business will divide its support between Hughes and Lieut. Gov. Witt for governor.

Each city has a state senatorial race on hand which just now, along with the already-warm local races, is claiming more attention than the general campaigns.

Woman Not to Oppose Purl
Rep. Sarah T. Hughes, only woman house member, has made up her mind not to oppose Sen. George Purl of Dallas for the senate, and has announced for her return to the house. The collapse of the political side of the civil works set-up dealt C. C. McDonald a considerable blow in these North Texas cities; but so far as the senate race, she had not become a serious factor in the Dallas senatorial race. Sen. Purl will be re-elected, on the basis of the present line-up.

Rawlings Asks Re-election
At Fort Worth, Sen. Frank Rawlings has offered for a second term in the race of the "three Franks," Rep. Frank Patterson, veteran and able member of the house, and Frank Ogilvie, attorney, are opposing Rawlings. One faction of the oil people, and some of the railroad folks, do not like Sen. Rawlings; but generally his constituents seem well pleased with his first-term services. As it stands now, he will be re-elected.

To Support Small
Fort Worth in Amon Carter claims the Texas most influential

WIFE DESEPTION

Charges of wife desertion were lodged against Henry Hollowell Friday by Cora Hollowell.

resulted in a hearty and unanimous invitation from the Tabernacle (Fundamentalist) Baptist church. This congregation seemed delighted to hear him speak and opened their doors for the whole series of lectures.

Mrs. Morrison accepted the invitation on behalf of Dr. Chalmers and requests her friends and others interested in Bible prophecy to hear him as often as possible while he remains in the city.

Several inquiries as to place where these lectures might be given

COOPERATION IN THE SCHOOL

To have the best work in the school, it needs cooperation as do other institutions. By the cooperation of the parents with the teachers, there is a progressive move in the school.

If parents visit the school and cooperate with the teachers and talk to them about their children, they can better see the child's needs.

Cooperation affords many opportunities for the children in the progressive line.

In this school as well as in other schools, by the co-operation of parents with the teachers improvements have been made concerning the school for the child's benefit, such as the cafeteria and gymnasium.

In order that every parent might see his child's needs and that he might help the school in further progression, we wish that he might cooperate with the school.

All Forsan tennis contestants were defeated by Coshoma.

The high school boys playground ball team won second place.

Baseball is getting under way this week so there should be some snappy games played before long. The high school team is to be managed by Bill Byrd. The Forsan high school team has always had a strong team, but it will be much stronger this year if the boys take an interest in it.
