Kidnap Search Is Resumed After Woman Freed

Mrs. Meeks Abandoned By Abductors, No Ransom Paid; Victim Under Care Of A Physician

MARYSVILLE, Calif., Sept. 5—(AP)—Mrs. William B. Meeks, 55, was under the care of a physician at her home today after being held captive for 56 hours by kidnapers who kept her blindfolded, threatened continually to kill her, and bedded her down on a hillside covered with poison oak growths.

Dr. P. B. Hoffman, the Meeks family physician, said she was dangerously near pneumonia.

She returned to her home yesterday. Her abductors, she said, became fearful of discovery and abandoned her. Meeks, orchardist-husband of the woman, said none of the $15,000 ransom the kidnapers had demanded had been paid.

A manhunt, called off Friday night to allow Meeks an opportunity to try to contact the kidnapers, was resumed today under the direction of state and county officers.

"We have an idea who the kidnapers are," Captain E. H. Personius of the state highway patrol investigation bureau said.

"There are probably three of them. If they are the persons we think they are, they are itinerant workers. The job wasn't planned, it was on the spur of the moment."

The highway patrol captain said Mrs. Meeks told him she would know the men's voices, but said she never saw their faces. Once, however, she pushed up her blindfold enough to see one of them turning up the cuff of his trousers.

"She said he had red hair on his leg," Captain Personius reported.

FUGITIVE CAPTURED

ST. PAUL, Sept. 5—(AP)—John Couch, kidnaper, who escaped from the Ramsey county jail Sunday, was captured today in St. Paul by two city police patrolmen.

Facing a possible death sentence under the Lindbergh Kidnap act, the fugitive was apprehended without a struggle by Patrolmen Alven Wickoren and L. M. Byrne.

Driving past an intersection, the policeman recognized the license plates of the car as those of an automobile reported stolen.

They saw a man hunched down in the driver's seat. Before the man could attempt resistance, the patrolmen had opened the doors and seized him. They recognized him immediately as Couch.

The fugitive was not armed.

Administrators Of Wage-Hour Law Says It Will Keep Country 'Well'

As administrator of the new wage-hour law which takes effect October 24, Elmer F. Andrews is one of the most important men in America today to employers and to labor. Here he has written a Labor Day statement explaining tersely the philosophy behind the new law and the practical results for which its sponsors hope.

By ELMER F. ANDREWS
Newly appointed Administrator of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5—America still has all the resources necessary to regain prosperity and obtain a measure of economic security for all the people. More generally than ever before, it is agreed that we must husband our resources, our land, our minerals, our equipment, our people. Some sort of economic balance that will bring about healthy, not feverish, prosperity must be achieved.

Legislative "Keystone"

In my view, the fair labor standards act, most generally known as the wage and hour law, is the keystone in the arch of all this legislation. Perhaps because I have been an administrator of state labor laws, it has seemed to me that this law—and I said this many months ago when it was still being discussed as a bill—

ELMER FRANK ANDREWS was New York state's industrial commissioner at $12,000 a year when President Roosevelt appointed him to administer the wage-hour law for $16,000 a year. He's 48, a graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic, served as air corps instructor during the war. Has thinning hair, sky eyes, three children, plays golf (in the 90s).

Labor's Gains Are Cited By US Leaders

Further Advancement Of Working Man's Cause Is Urged

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5—(AP)—Labor's leaders, acclaiming the achievements of the past year, called on the rank and file today to fight for further advancement of the working man's economic welfare in the next 12 months.

William Green, American Federation of Labor president, in a statement observing the 88th annual holiday, asked labor to sweep aside all "disruption" and swing its strength to the cause of unionism and "higher standards of living for all."

John L. Lewis, chairman, said in a holiday message that the Committee for Industrial Organization would work "for a fairer share in the national income by both farmers and industrial workers."

Secretary Perkins at the same time recalled these gains for labor in the last five years: passage of the wage-hour, labor relations and social security acts; increases in weekly factory payrolls and in non-agricultural employment.

Green called for unity among labor, but his statement—as was Lewis'—was punctuated with caustic phrases which gave little reason to hope for an early end to the three-year war between the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O.

The Federation president said the A. F. of L. "exercised greater prestige and influence in both the political and economic field that ever before" and described the C. I. O. as "efforts of a rebel group to build up a dual labor organization."

Lewis said the C. I. O. resulted from "the conspiracy and interests of those who had so long assumed direction of the labor movement in America, who insisted that labor unions must be patterned on craft distribution, and who denounced as heretical any effort toward industrial organizations."

Lewis said Federation leaders had met C. I. O. efforts to "organize the unorganized with sneering, reprisal, sabotage and vilification."

"Professing a desire for unity, they have engaged in a civil war to destroy the labor movement which the C. I. O. has carried to such extraordinary success," Lewis said.

RIOTING IN INDIA

RANGOON, Burma, Sept. 5—(AP)—Two persons were killed and 16 injured today in rioting among Burma Buddhists and Indian Moslems. Ten were killed and 40 injured yesterday.

11 KILLED, 30 HURT AS PLANE CRASHES IN LONDON STREET

LONDON, Sept. 5—(AP)—The crash and explosion of a crippled Royal Airforce plane in a crowded London suburban street killed at least 11 persons and injured nearly 30.

Four of the dead were of the family of Benjamin Saunders, 43. When the plane exploded Sunday at the side of the Saunders home, the flames trapped him, his wife, and their sons, Roy, 16, and Derek, 8. Mrs. Saunders and Derek were burned to death. The father and Roy died in a hospital during the night.

Next door, the fire trapped and severely burned six members of the William Callaghan family. Two sons, Terence, 5, and Dennis, 15, died. The condition of the others was critical.

Eight-year-old Jimmy Tant, playing in the street, was the first to die as the plane hit the roof of a house nearby, dropped and struck him, just as his mother rushed out yelling "Bomb! Bomb!"

"Two brothers, Edward and James Letch, 28 and 24, John Euden, 25, and Pilot Sergeant B. R. Morris also were killed. The pilot was the plane's only occupant."

Relationship With Mexico Strained

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5—(AP)—Mexico's refusal to accept Secretary Hull's suggestions for compensating for expropriated American-owned farm lands led some high government officials to regard pessimistically today the future relations of the two neighbors.

They expressed the opinion the statements would unsettle trade, financial and business relations. And the firm stand Mexico has taken may mean indefinite postponement of the time when the United States will resume direct purchases of Mexican silver.

Mexico rejected two proposals Secretary Hull made in a strongly worded note Aug. 22. It told him yesterday it declined to create a sinking fund to pay for the land seized under an agrarian program and refused to stop such seizures pending arrangements for compensation.

Mrs. Barrow is the mother of the late Clyde and Buck Barrow, whose criminal careers were ended by bullets in 1933. She was sentenced to 30 days in jail on a charge of harboring Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, both of whom were killed in Louisiana.

Whatley, another of those sentenced in the harboring case, served a year in federal prison for that offense.

Hitler's Proclamation Awaited As Czech Negotiations Are Resumed

Conferences Of Factions Renewed

Fuehrer Hopes To Avoid War, But Wants Minority Rights

PRAHA, Sept. 5—(AP)—Negotiations on the minority problem enter the "crucial" stage today in the first meeting between President Eduard Benes and Sudeten German representatives since Adolf Hitler made known his attitude.

Just what the German Fuehrer told Sudeten leader Konrad Henlein in their talks Thursday and Friday remained an official secret, but there was more hope of progress because the Berchtesgaden talks gave a definite basis for bargaining.

Hitler wishes to avoid war, but he wants Sudeten Germans to "have rights to which they are entitled," George Wollner, a Sudeten party deputy, said yesterday in a speech in which he indicated the Sudetens would not modify their demands for territorial autonomy.

Wollner spoke at a harvest festival in the presence of Henlein and the impression prevailed that the Sudeten "Fuehrer" had authorized his remarks.

"In our fight there can be no compromise," Wollner said. "The autonomy demands as laid down by Konrad Henlein in his Karlsbad address are only the beginning of our requirements—they are not our maximum demands."

"The Sudetens are not alone in this fight. Behind them stand 75,000,000 Germans. Their leader does not want war. But he wants 3,500,000 Sudetens who are a part of the great German people to have rights to which they are entitled."

French Reserves Are Summoned To Duty

PARIS, Sept. 5—(AP)—An official of the war ministry announced today that France had called "certain reserves" to the colors as a "precautionary measure."

The call went out last night, the official said, after Germany had moved an estimated 60,000 troops into her new Siegfried line of fortifications, just across the Rhine from France's famed Maginot line.

"We can give no information concerning the number or locations of these reserves," the official said. "We are watching the situation closely and will continue to do so."

Processing Taxes To Be Proposed Before Congress

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5—(AP)—Agriculture department officials gave processing taxes a prominent place today on their tentative list of proposals for congress to consider in January.

This type of levy, once invalidated by the supreme court after manufacturers paid millions of dollars into the treasury, was discarded last year during preparation of the new farm bill because of legal obstacles.

But officials said they were considering it anew as a means of providing revenue for larger benefit payments to farmers. Congress voted $700,000,000 for payments for this year.

Mrs. Barrow Is Wounded

Desperadoes' Mother Hit As Gunfire Follows Fight

DALLAS, Sept. 5—(AP)—Mrs. Henry Barrow, 65, mother of the Barrow boys, southwestern desperadoes, and Lewis Francis, 2, her nephew, were shot and wounded as they sat in front of the Barrow filling station here last night.

The shooting occurred shortly after G. L. Barrow, released Sunday from Huntsville penitentiary, and S. J. (Baldy) Whatley engaged in a fight at the scene.

Mrs. Barrow was shot in the face and shoulder and Francis in the back.

The shots from a shotgun were fired from a passing automobile. Deputy Sheriff Bill Decker said Whatley was arrested and would be held pending outcome of Mrs. Barrow's wounds. He said Whatley formerly was a member of the Barrow gang.

Physicians said Francis' wounds were superficial.

Mrs. Barrow is the mother of the late Clyde and Buck Barrow, whose criminal careers were ended by bullets in 1933. She was sentenced to 30 days in jail on a charge of harboring Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, both of whom were killed in Louisiana.

Whatley, another of those sentenced in the harboring case, served a year in federal prison for that offense.

FDR Goes Into Maryland For A Speech Against Senator Tydings

EN ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

TO DENTON, Md., Sept. 5—(AP)—President Roosevelt brought the influence of personal contacts with the voters into his campaign to oust Senator Millard E. Tydings from congress by visiting Maryland's eastern shore today.

In company with Rep. David J. Lewis, self-proclaimed "100 per cent new dealer" opposing Tydings for re-nomination, the president set out on an automobile tour of the shore—fishing-farming section, dotted here and there with estates of the wealthy—on the eastern side of Chesapeake bay.

The shore has been reported a Tydings stronghold while Lewis supporters assert their candidate has an advantage in western Maryland, his home section.

Mr. Roosevelt arranged to make one major speech at Denton, town of 1,000 in the center on the shore, at 1 p. m. CST. It will be broadcast nationally by major chains. His trip will end tonight in Washington.

Tydings, who has opposed some key administration legislative proposals, has defied and denounced what he termed the president's "invasion" on Maryland.

Thousands Turn Out To Welcome Next Governor

MIDLAND, Sept. 5 (Sp)—W. Lee O'Daniel, democratic gubernatorial nominee, suffered a loss in popularity or was less a political curiosity, Midland was unaware of it this morning when 2,000 people thronged the T. & P. station to greet the "governor" and his hilly-billy band.

After the reception at the station, O'Daniel and his entourage made their way to the hotel for an informal program of song and talk.

The Post-World flour man, who left state politics in a dither with a whirlwind victory over 12 other candidates in the first primary and then lost two key positions out of six endorsements in the run-off primary, was to attend the afternoon and evening performances of the Midland rodeo.

He and his band were to be honored with a banquet at the Scharbauer hotel at 6 p. m. Monday.

Midland rodeo officials predicted a crowd of 15,000 people would come to see W. Lee O'Daniel (and the rodeo) today. It was estimated that 7,500 saw the two shows Saturday and 6,000 witnessed the two performances Sunday. The Sunday evening crowd of about 2,500 was the lightest of the series.

Youth Dies Of Grand Jurors Crash Injury

Billy Wachel Of Coahoma Victim Of Saturday Night Mishap

Injuries received in a car crash here Saturday night resulted fatally Sunday afternoon for Billy Wachel, about 20, Coahoma.

He was most seriously injured of three youths hurt when the coupe in which they were riding left the curve just outside the city limits and smashed into a telephone pole. Billy sustained a fractured skull and severe chest injuries. He died at 2 p. m. Sunday.

C. J. Baker, Foran, suffering from a fractured skull and two broken legs, was resting well at the Big Spring hospital as was T. H. McCann, Coahoma, at the Tydings hospital. McCann sustained an arm fracture, cuts and a head injury.

Arrangements for the Wachel funeral were incomplete, although it was indicated services might be held sometime Tuesday afternoon. Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Joe Wachel, Coahoma; two brothers, Martin James Wachel of Land Hill and Mike Wachel of Upton of Freer.

Billy Wachel had been employed recently in the East Howard field as an oil field laborer.

ODESSA, Sept. 5—F. M. Gwin, 50, secretary-manager of the Odessa chamber of commerce for the past three years, died at his home here at 4:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon of a heart attack. Gwin was formerly city manager of Pampa. He had also lived at Rising Star.

Mr. Gwin was well known in Texas oil circles by his publication of a quarterly oil bulletin covering 22 West Texas counties.

Survivors include the widow and two daughters.

Funeral arrangements are pending the arrival of a daughter.

Policy May Be Revealed In Party Talk

Official Utterance To Be Made At Nazi Congress Tuesday

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 5—(AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler came to Nurnberg today to open the Tenth annual rally in his Nazi party's history and, in the light of world events, perhaps one of the most important.

Festivities today Today was filled with gala festivities—the ringing of church bells for the chancellor's arrival, the civic reception, his reception for party leaders, and a performance on Wagner's opera Die Meistersinger.

Tomorrow will begin more serious business, with the annual reading of Hitler's keynote proclamation, which assumes special importance because of the possibility it may outline Germany's course of action on the Sudeten German minority dispute with its Czechoslovakia government.

The proclamation usually outlines aims of the future as well as achievements on the previous year and so also presumably will deal the joining of Austria to Germany.

Adolf Wagner, governor of Bavaria, is to read it.

Nearly 500 special trains yesterday and today brought Nazi party men and women, Hitler youths and girls from all parts of the Reich to pay homage to their leader.

Nurnberg's normal population of 200,000 was doubled overnight, with 3,000,000 persons were expected to attend during the days of celebration, speech and policy-making.

The program for the rally: Today, gala opening; Tuesday, the keynote proclamation and Wednesday, a demonstration by the labor service; Thursday, athletic competition and a torchlight parade before Hitler by political leaders, inaugurating special meetings of next officials; Friday, political rally and continued departmental conferences within the party; Saturday, Hitler youth and the German labor front reviewed by top Nazis; Sunday, honor day to various branches of the party; a torchlight parade before Hitler by military display and closing speech by the chancellor, who is to speak at least six times during the eight days.

18 Qualified For Pike's Peak Run

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 5 (AP)—Eighteen racing car drivers were qualified today for the 80th annual speed contest up the hazardous, sharply rising, 12 mile course to the summit of Pike's Peak.

The narrow, hairpin turn-studded road, slippery and gullied by recent rains, was in the most dangerous condition since the yearly Labor Day event started.

The peak was capped by a six-inch snowfall. Louis Unser, of Colorado Springs, will race across the starting line at Crystal Creek, the first contestant to risk his neck on the serpentine course in quest of $2,000 in prize and side money awaiting the winner.

Doug Easily Ousts Medalist In Opening Round; Eddie Downs Glen Rose Boy In Day's Feature Match

Two young Big Spring golfers who have all but monopolized honors in the country club invitational meet here for the past three years were to go down the course Monday against ace players from Crane and Midland in the closing matches of this year's swiftest.

In the featured match of Sunday, Eddie was given no little trouble by another youngster, Bill Roden of Glen Rose, who forced the local player to 20 holes before bowing out. Darkness had all but overtaken the match before it was decided by Morgan's superb deuce on the final hole.

Shaffer, playing a steady game, eliminated Harry Sindorf of Midland 2 and 1. In the opening round, then Sunday afternoon took out W. W. Barker of Big Spring by a count.

Some Flights Delayed Most other flights were advanced to semi-final play for Monday, although some scheduled matches were not completed because crowded conditions of the course slowed play. Second round matches had not been finished in the first, second and third flights.

They're Getting Ready To Wrap Up Davis Cup For Storage In U.S.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5 (AP)—If nothing serious happens, the Davis cup should be all wrapped up by about 3:30 o'clock this afternoon and ready for storage for another year in a Tiffany's strong room.

That is the approximate hour at which J. Donald Budge of Oakland, Calif., figures to put the finishing touches on Adrian Quist of Melbourne, Australia, in the fourth and deciding match of the challenge round which has been raging on the threadbare turf of the Germantown Cricket club for the past two days.

At the same time, it probably is just as well that the defending American team won both of the opening singles matches on Saturday, because the Australians are getting tougher by the minute.

Steer Lineup Named For Scrimmage

Murphy Men To Meet Junction Club At Camp Tuesday

A tentative lineup for a scrimmage against the Junction eleven has been arranged by Coaches Pat Murphy and Carmen Brandon at the Steer grid camp near Junction, according to word from The Herald's correspondent. The starters probably will be: Ends, Choc Smith and Bug or V. Hall; tackles, Wheat and Dearling; guards, Clyde Smith and Hal Battle or Bill Fletchler; center, Nance; right half, Ross Callahan; quarter, Alton Bostick; left half, Gartman; fullback, Choc Jones.

There was a probability, however, that nearly all the hopefuls would get a look-in during the scrimmage. The test with the Junction boys was scheduled for Tuesday. At the last of the week, the mentors established a new schedule to give the boys cooler hours for workouts. Most of the heavy scrimmaging is being done at night. Then the gridgers are rolled out of bed at 5 a. m., with a morning practice, before breakfast, at 8:30. Afternoon workouts start at 4 and last until 6 o'clock. All of the boys were reported to be in good condition, and most of them are putting on weight despite the hard daily grind. The club was put to work on running plays at the last of the week, with a few pass formations mixed in for rehearsal.

MARSHALL OUSTED FROM PLAYOFFS

By the Associated Press. Henderson and Texasans meet Monday night at Texasans in an East Texas League game which may decide Tyler's opponent in the Shaughnessy playoff. The Oilers have two victories to Texasans' three. They held back the Oilers yesterday only after a desperate ninth-inning rally by Texasans fell short. The Oilers won the game, 10-8. The Marshall Tigers, season's leaders in the league, were eliminated as the Tyler Trojans won their fourth victory, 12-7, yesterday.

Pirates Hike Lead To Six Games By Beating Cards

Mel Ott Doing His Share For The Giants, Although It Appears Hopeless; Gets Two Homers

By DREW MIDDLETON Associated Press Sports Writer It is a pleasure to note that Mel Ott, one of the last and one of the greatest of John McGraw's boys, has survived the Giants' collapse and is still in there punching. Joe Moore, held together by tape and tremendous courage, is another holdover from the McGraw era still on active service with the Giants. McGraw thought another Mathewson, but arm trouble, and the great Carl Hubbell is following his team through the newspapers, victim of the same sort of ailment.

A quiet, intense little fellow who still refers to his first manager as "Mr. McGraw," Mel continues to bang the ball in his accustomed manner. He wallowed home runs No. 21 and 22 yesterday against Brooklyn to maintain his National league lead and, although the Giants aren't going anywhere but home, it is a safe bet that Mel will be in there playing his heart out until the last putt.

S'west Campaign Called 'Throat-Cutting Party'

By SID FEDER NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—Our Pittsburgh scouts report Ford Frick stepped off in Smokytown last week to make world series reservations. Now wouldn't it be hot stuff if the Pirates didn't make the grade? Kid Chocolate is through with the ring for keeps. He landed a job teaching the Cuban army how to fight—and is collecting 400 potatoes a month for it. Is Al Schacht ever takes unto himself a stooge, it'll be Benny Bengough, the old Yankee catcher now coaching the Newark Bears. Their act lays 'em in the aisles. Dutch Meyer, Texas Christian's coach, has the Southwest conference football all figured out—a nice friendly "throat-cutting party" all the way.

Red Ruffing isn't choosy when and where he wins 'em this year. The Yanks' big carrot-top has knocked off every team in the league at least twice. The grapevines says Slip Madigan threw the crying towel away at St. Mary's—they're that good. Tom (new minor league) Meany, who started all that fuss, is laid up with rheumatism. They're singing the swan song already over Washington's top champ Redskins. Riley Smith, who's only the quarterback and best blocker, is in a hospital with a bad knee and may be out for the season. Slimmy Sammy Baugh has broken home in his 194th, and Cliff Battles quit to go into coaching.

Ten of the pro golfers took four grand or more apiece in tournament winnings from January to August, and four others were in the $2,000 class. Gens Sarazen says it's a sucker's racket. Beaumont Cops A Double Bill To Increase Lead BEAUMONT, Sept. 5 (AP)—Texas League clubs labored in double bills today as the Beaumont Exporters held a firmer grip on top place by virtue of a doubleheader victory over the Houston Buffaloes yesterday.

GLADEWATER, TYLER PLAYERS IN FINALS

TYLER, Sept. 5 (AP)—Bill Clark of Glade water and David Davis of Tyler battled today for the championship of the Willow Brook country club's second annual invitation golf tournament. The erstwhile favorite, Jimmy Goldman of Dallas, fell victim to Clark, 2 and 1, in a semi-final match. Davis disposed of Mill McMahon, Longview, 3 and 2.

Year's Development Of ABC Park Project Observed With Program

Celebration of the first anniversary of the American Business club playground in the western section of town was observed Thursday night in a program featuring bicycle races. Approximately 300 people took part in the observance. H. F. Malone, city recreational director, served as master of ceremonies at the affair and was assisted by Mrs. L. E. Jobe and members of the club, including Hugh Dunson and C. O. Nalley.

Contest Winners

In the bicycle contests, Noah Hull won the most attractive award over 14 other entries. Billie Franklin was second and Mary Lou Redwine third. Stuart Smith won first place in the stunt contest with Billie Bob Redwine and Leon Randall second and third, respectively. Backward riding, crossing backward and forward, standing erect while riding, and other antics were marred only by one fall. Billie Franklin won the race over six other junior boys by 20 yards. Noah Hull and N. H. Boyett ran wheel to wheel for the next two places. Clinton Hill, Ferroll Dodd and Johnnie Daydon ran, one, two, three in the senior boys race in which six were entered.

Four small units were presented in a safety talk under the direction of Mrs. Jobe. Dunson spoke briefly, urging children to feel that civic club members, officials and police are their friends. LaHonna Brown and her assistants directed the singing portion of the program.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Finch-baiting for Preston Grover today, D. Worth Clark, 'middle-of-the-road' democratic representative who defeated '100 per cent New Dealer' Senator James P. Pope in the senatorial primaries, sets forth his views.

By D. WORTH CLARK

WASHINGTON—Ever since the world began, society has been torn between the forces of the standpat reactionary on one hand and the visionary theorist on the other.

Both are equally bad. Either if given full rein will lead any country into ruin. Your reactionary will try nothing if it is new. Your visionary will try nothing unless it is new.

The successful nations of the world such as England have endured for centuries because they have been able to steer a middle course. The English have an apt phrase for it, "muddling through."

It seems to me that America can and will muddle through. We must not reject the wisdom and admonitions of those who built this nation merely because this wisdom and advice came to us out of the past. There are some principles that grow even more valid with age.

For Old and New

On the other hand, in this high-speed mechanized era economic and social conditions change with kaleidoscopic rapidity, and it becomes necessary to constantly devise new methods to meet new problems. If we can utilize the new things without abandoning what is good in the old we can continue to make America great.

Tyranny in any form is a devastating thing, whether it be the tyranny of those who wield too much economic power or the tyranny of an autocratic government. We must always take care that in our efforts to avoid one form of tyranny we do not drift into another.

After the World War, Europe found her economic conditions intolerable. She used desperate methods to remedy them but in so doing ended up in fascism and communism; and I think her last state is worse than her first. It occurs to me that the tyranny of some economic overlords can be destroyed without abandoning our American system of government.

Optimist On Us

I am extremely anxious to see the traditional independence of the three branches of our government preserved. Party leadership and party responsibility are of course desirable. They should not, however, be carried to the point of destroying the autonomy of either the executive, the congress or the judiciary.

Each of these agencies has its proper functions to perform and, although there should be the fullest cooperation among them, there should be no subservience. The strength of our democracy lies in this.

As far as the future of America is concerned I am an optimist, or perhaps I should say, I am an optimistic realist. This nation was built on optimism and enthusiasm but it was not built unconditionally. Optimism must be tempered with realism; enthusiasm with common sense; and if this is done democracy will work.

Man About Manhattan

by GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—The startling frankness of wax models in show windows nowadays is one very good reason why New York in particular and the universe in general is a more pleasant place to gaze upon. They have grown out of the chestnut state that characterized them before the war. They have arrived. And certainly the result is gratifying.

I am not in a position to state authoritatively that the female form today is lovelier than it was 25 or 30 years ago, for at that time I was rather young and my interests ran largely to fire engines. But I can tell you that the mannequins of today are a far cry from their sisters of yesteryear who were frequently headless and always shapeless, dreary, and appalling.

I remember once being badly frightened by a headless Amazon who toppled forward in her show case just as I was passing with my nurse, and the experience was so disconcerting that thereafter my nurse was instructed not to parade me by the shopping centers on our afternoon strolls.

I often think of that monstrosity as I pass the brilliantly lit windows on Fifth Avenue and look upon the apparitions of feminine loveliness that are there now. They are so dainty. Their noses are so ways so impudent. They are so and so divinely proportioned. One might almost believe them real, for they are perfect from the sweep of their eyelashes to the tips of their tinted nails.

If one were a penniless art student and had not the wherewithal to attend life classes one could do a lot worse for oneself than to frequent the windows of the fashion centers in New York. For there the human form is epitomized. The only danger here would be in the mannequins themselves, for they have been proportioned so perfectly that a sensitive artist might be disillusioned when he realizes how easily man surpasses nature in the modeling of eyes, ears, nose and throat.

There was once a tragic incident which involved a slight watchman and a mannequin. He used to see her on the mezzanine every night, and covering in the basement, a girl fell in love with her. Of course she was only wax. But the man who fashioned her must have been a realist. Blue were her eyes, and her hair was spun gold. She seemed about to say something but the words never passed her half-parted, provocative lips.

Always the night watchman removed his hat in her presence. He began to frequent her part of the building more and more. She was in a great show window opening on Fifth Avenue, and when passersby would linger too long a quick jealousy would manifest itself in the watchman, and he would irritably order them away.

That she would surely speak to him some night became a certainty in his brain, and he began rehearsing little speeches that he would make to her when that time came. He devised sweet names to call her. He began to take more interest in his personal appearance. One night the lady of his dreams toppled over and broke her swan-like neck.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds by ROBBIN COONS Chapter 38

HOLLYWOOD—Once in a while a movie comes along that makes movie acting seem pretty fishy business. "Sequila" was one. And "Chang" and "Grass" in the silent days were others.

This week came another, called "Spawn of the North," an obviously fishy title for the most pleasantly fishy Hollywood picture since "Captains Courageous."

It isn't strictly a fish picture, which to my way of thinking is rather unfortunate. Paramount took no chances on scaring away customers who are allergic to fish.

A good part of the way you can't see the fish for the actors, but you have to expect that in an epic "Spawn of the North" is an epic.

The fish are salmon, Atlantic salmon, full of bones, contented between the legitimate fishermen, packers, cannery workers on the one hand and the conniving pirates on the other. I think fish have never been more beautifully, or more intimately, photographed.

But to get on to the story. That's all right, too. It's a battle between the fish-catchers and the fish-thieves. Henry Fonda's a good fisherman and so is George Raft—at the start. They're the best of friends, even when George listens to old pirate Akim Tamiroff and goes for the easy money.

Comes a time when Fonda has to shoot George, who is hardheaded enough not to listen even when Dorothy Lamour begs him to stay home. Comes a time, too, when Fonda has to hear his pal call him a yellow dog and take all manner of insults from Pirate Akim because Fonda's girl, Louise Platt, can't tune in to all this frontier rough stuff.

But Raft squares everything in the end. A slug of lead properly applied to Tamiroff's chest would have fixed things more easily, but Raft's way of doing it makes for a thunderous and spectacular climax.

Now don't think I'm belittling. All those actors are in there pitching, and this sardonic Lamour playing a heart-of-gold tough gal is good. So is Raft, and Fonda, and pretty Louise Platt, and John Barrymore and Lynne Overman. Tamiroff, of course, and better than any of them, Slicker the trained actor, Henry Hathaway directed forcefully for thrilling dramatic effects—once or twice perhaps a little too gorily for the squeamish.

Except for that spot where it sags in the middle, "Spawn of the North" is one swell movie.

"I Am the Law," is another. This is Edward G. Robinson back to his old tricks—in reverse. Once the screen's prima racketeer, this time he turns racket-buster. As a professor of law drafted to lead the fight against racketeers, he turns in a rich characterization that dominates the whole picture.

The film begins familiarly, but soon the combination of writer Jo Swerling's freshness of slant, Al Halla's hearty direction, and the players' smooth performing take it out of that just-another-movie class.

The professor, falling in his first efforts against the gangsters, forces the battle on his own with the aid only of his former students, and winds up victor even though the gang chief (Otto Kruger) turns out to be the daddy of the prof's chief aide, John Beal. Barbara O'Neil is splendid as the law-man's wife, and Wendy Barrie makes good in an interesting assignment.

One of the high lights is Prof. Robinson's version of the Big Apple!

MANUFACTURERS TO BE TRAINED IN MUNITIONS WORK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt has approved primary plans to begin training private manufacturers to produce unlimited quantities of semi-automatic rifles, anti-aircraft guns and other munitions in the event of war.

The war department announced the president had released the first $2,000,000 to be spent during the current fiscal year on educational orders aimed at familiarizing selected manufacturers with problems of munitions manufacture.

Congress approved at its last session the spending of $10,000,000 over a five-year period for this purpose.

The main objective is not to achieve mass production of any product, it was said, but rather to build dies and other aids to manufacture, lack of which would cause great delay in wartime. This equipment will become the property of the government and will be stored for future use if necessary.

DARK PROSPECT IN DEATH AVERAGES

AUSTIN, Sept. 5 (AP)—About one out of five Texas pedestrians injured in automobile accidents cast asperses to die.

That's the grim prediction of state police who in cautioning extra vigilance on the part of foot travelers point to last year's record of 309 dead and 929 injured.

GROUP FAVORS THE ABOLITION OF TWO STATE BOARDS

LUBBOCK, Sept. 5 (AP)—Abolition of the state old age pension and the liquor control boards and payment of state pensions of $15 per month to all persons over 65 years of age will be urged by a group of South Plains delegates at a state democratic convention in Beaumont Sept. 13.

The resolutions will urge the proposals be included in the state platform. A caucus of South Plains delegates will be called in Beaumont before the convention opens to consider the resolutions and other matters.

On this Labor Day, labor, employers and all of us face many grave problems. Their solution is difficult. We have made a beginning all along the line. In the short time since I was appointed administrator of the fair labor standards act I have been surprised, and greatly encouraged by the attitude of friendliness and intent to cooperate shown by employers and labor.

This demonstrated willingness to do things together, as I have observed it, is the most hopeful sign to which I can point today.

When You Say 'National Air Races' Don't Overlook Cliff Henderson

AP Aviation Editor
CLEVELAND, Sept. 4—Just 10 years ago a fellow with an idea began relieving the public of money in exchange for thrills, and then there the post-war "flying circus" began shedding its short pants and slicking down its hair.

On Cleveland's vast airport this weekend a small group of racing plane pilots will divide more than $100,000 in prizes, which is another way of saying that the fellow with the idea back in 1928 has enjoyed many years of prosperous business.

To take apart the National Air Races, aviation's annual big show, is to look into the showmanship of one Cliff Henderson. His mother may have named him Clifford, but nobody calls him that.

Cliff Henderson is the "front man" of an event which is one of the most dangerous of the professional sports.

Cliff Henderson He has a brother, Phil, who guards the till and says no at the proper time. Phil stays in the back office.

"There has to be a front guy," says Phil, "and I never cared much for personal publicity." Cliff does. He makes speeches and goes around and convinces men with money that it would be good advertising if they reached in their pockets for cash in five figures to pay the pilots who risk their necks for the crowd.

Remember Corrigan?
He bobs up in odd places. The other day when Douglas Corrigan flew the wrong-way flier, came up New York bay in the liner Manhattan, Cliff was strolling on the deck. He thought it would be nice, he said, if Corrigan came to the air races this year.

It would just be a casual invitation. Corrigan hardly would be noticed, of course, in the Cleveland crowd. Not much.

Cliff saw his first aviation meet at Dominguez, Calif., in 1910. Bierlot, Beachey, Curtiss and other current birdmen—that's what they were called then—were there. Even at the age of 16 Cliff wondered why they didn't fence those meets off and charge admission.

In 1928, at Los Angeles, he tried it. He broke even. A year later, in Cleveland, he put on another show. That one netted $100,000. Financially, the Henderson brothers have done some backing and filling since then, partly due to the depression, but the till keeps showing bigger figures.

He's Also Canny
The air race corporation, of which Cliff is managing director and Phil is business manager, attributes it to showmanship. Cliff may be a showman but he is also just plain canny. He conceived the idea of making the races a business man's enterprise.

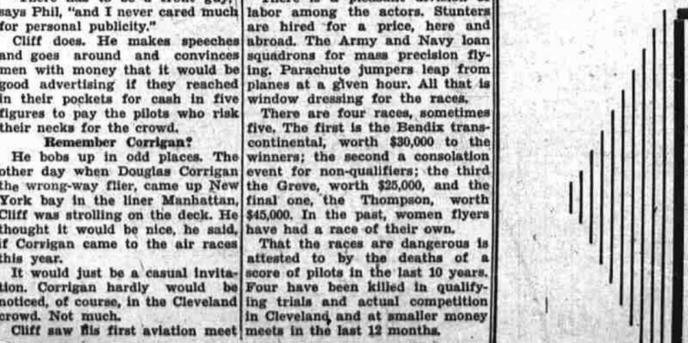

The city's business men underwrite the races, other business men put up the purses, and the public pays the bill. Until Cliff came along, nobody thought of using the city police to make the public go through the turnstiles instead of crashing the gate.

The National Air Races are a circuit on wings. Concessionaires from those who sell hot dogs to those who peddle seat cushions along the roads leading to the airport, wax fat. The Hendersons give nothing away except seats in the press box.

There's Money In It
There is a pleasant division of labor among the actors. Stunters are hired for a price, here and abroad. The Army and Navy loan squadrons for mass precision flying. Parachute jumpers leap from planes at a given hour. All that is window dressing for the races.

There are four races, sometimes five. The first is the Bendix transcontinental, worth $30,000 to the winners; the second a consolation event for non-qualifiers; the third the Green, worth $25,000, and the final one, the Thompson, worth $45,000. In the past, women flyers have had a race of their own.

That the races are dangerous is attested to by the deaths of a score of pilots in the last 10 years. Four have been killed in qualifying trials and actual competition in Cleveland and at smaller money meets in the last 12 months.

Mortality Rate In Childbirths In County Compiled By Health Dept.

AUSTIN, Sept. 3—"In Texas during 1937, 698 mothers lost their lives through childbirth and associated conditions. Fatality struck 8,618 babies under one year of age and 3,972 infants were stillborn. These facts become particularly distressing when it is realized that at least two-thirds of this motherhood mortality could have been avoided," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

Howard county, he reported, had 473 total live births, of which 405 were white, 4 were Negro, and 62 Mexican; 270 of the infants were male and 203 female. Physicians attended the birth of 445 infants and midwives attended 28; 207 of the total births were in hospitals and 266 were at home; 13 children were stillborn, giving the county a rate of 2.8 per 100 live births; 45 children died under one year of age, a rate of 95.0 per 1000 live births; and 3 mothers died in childbirth, a rate of 63.4 per 10,000 live births.

In Big Spring
The city of Big Spring had 436 total births, and physicians attended the births of 312 of this total; 206 of the total were delivered in hospitals and 231 at home, according to the report.

"The state health department wishes to call attention to the fact that Texas is at last approaching the national average of infant and maternal mortality. In 1933 the national mortality of 82 while Texas' rate was 77; in 1934 the U. S. had a rate of 59 and Texas 73; in 1935 the nation came down to 58 and Texas stayed at the previous year's 73; in 1936 the nation had an average of 58 and Texas' was 69. The national average for 1937 is as yet unavailable but Texas has come down to 59. The infant mortality table presents a similar comparison. Advancing public health practices, better pre-natal and post-natal care, and better hygienic conditions contribute to this steadily diminishing percentage of Texas mothers and children lost in childbirth, Dr. Cox said.
