FD Approves Con- struction Of Two Veterans' Units

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—The Veterans' administration announced today President Roosevelt had approved construction of two new veterans' hospitals in Texas at an estimated cost of $2,000,000 for both.

The new institutions will be a 150 bed hospital at Amarillo and a 250 bed hospital in the Fort Worth-Dallas area.

The president approved recommendations of the federal hospital board.

The board suggested a general medical and surgical unit with about 150 beds be constructed at Amarillo at a cost of not more than $800,000.

It proposed the same kind of unit, with 250 beds, for the Fort Worth-Dallas region, to cost not in excess of $1,200,000.

The board suggested funds for the program be obtained from $1,875,000 previously approved for the erection of a 350 bed general unit in Texas and such savings as might accrue under several appropriations or allotments now available to the Veterans administration.

It recommended the Amarillo hospital be undertaken first.

The board recommended that the administrator of veterans affairs, Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, negotiate for sites for the new hospitals and report his findings to the board for further action.

FD Thinks Liberal On GOP Ticket Is A Fine Thing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—President Roosevelt told reporters today he would have not the slightest objection to the election of a liberal running on the republican ticket.

He said the American people were beginning to think more in terms of principles than personalities.

Asked whether he knew of any republican liberals who were running for office, the president told his press conference there were several.

He authorized this direct quotation:

"If there is a good liberal running on the republican ticket, I would not have the slightest objection to his election. The good of the country rises above party."

Schools Adopt Quarter-Payment Plan On Taxes

Acting to make tax paying more convenient, trustees of the Big Spring independent school district Friday announced the institution of a quarterly payment plan.

The arrangement which permits payment of taxes in four equal installments by Oct. 31, Jan. 31, April 30, and Sept. 31 is identical with the quarterly set-up of the city. No one paying less than $10 taxes to the district is eligible to use the plan.

Discounts of three, two and one per cent for full payment in October, November and December are unaffected by the new plan.

As in former years, the district will not offer the semi-annual payment method and all taxes not paid in full by Jan. 31 or not started on the quarterly basis by Oct. 31 will become delinquent.

Water Problem To Be Aired At Meeting Tonight

Water and what it is worth to Big Spring will be discussed at a mass meeting in the municipal auditorium at 8 o'clock this evening. Prime object of this discussion is the unfolding of information concerning the city's supply, its needs, and how and where an adequate supply can be obtained. A background for the meeting is furnished in the $225,000 grant offered by FWA to go with $275,000 from the city in a program for a dam, storage tanks, and repairs to lines and reservoir. Marvin Nichols, Fort Worth hydraulic engineer, will be present to furnish engineering data. The city's water problem will be discussed from all angles, including surveys made for underground and surface supplies during the past four years. Much of the talk this evening is expected to center on the propriety of issuing bonds in the amount of $375,000 to finance a dam on the North Concho river, and other improvements. Consideration of the dam necessarily will mean that a subsequent outlay for a 35-mile pipeline will be required when the city reaches the point it needs the surface water. Because the project could ultimately involve an expenditure of not only $375,000, but upwards to three-quarters of a million dollars, every person who is in the least concerned about the city and its affairs is urged to take part in the meeting.

Locals Hold 3-1 Lead In Match Play

The home town boys were coming through in fine fashion today, at the start of special match play for the Hall and Bennett trophy, a prelude to the Big Spring country club's invitational golf tourney, wherein a team of Big Spring aces are contesting stellar shot makers from other West Texas towns.

At noon, when Scotch foursomes were completed, Shirley Robbins' local delegation had a 3-1 lead over Joe Dick Slaughter's "foreigners." The locals closed three of the four matches.

This afternoon, the players were on the course for individual match play, with eight more points involved. To the team making the most of the possible 12 points will go the Hall-Bennett trophy.

Only local pair to lose was that composed of Captain Robbins and Jimmy Shipman, the latter playing as alternate for Jake Morgan. Morgan was to play his match this afternoon. Work kept him off the course this morning. Shipman and Robbins dropped a 2-1 decision to Joe Dick Slaughter of Lubbock and H. S. Forgeron of Midland.

Eddie Morgan and Doug Jones trampled Jodie Bihl of Lubbock and Bill Shafer of Crane, 5 and 4; Frank Morgan and Sammy Sain edged out Morgan Nell of Odessa and Weldon Counts of Lubbock, 1 up; W. W. Barker and D. P. Watts beat Walter Beall of San Angelo and Bill Roden of Glen Rose by the same margin. Roden was another alternate, playing in the place of John Edmonson of Lamesa.

Home Invaded, Couple Bound By Two Men

Woman Carried Off, Husband Told To Provide $15,000 Ransom

YUBA CITY, Calif., Sept. 2 (AP)—A posse of ranchers, armed with rifles and pistols, joined in the search for Mrs. William R. Meeks, 55, and two young men who, her husband reported, kidnaped her early today and demanded $15,000 ransom by midnight Saturday on threat of death. Meeks said the men carried her to the Meeks ranch home. Sheriff A. W. Kimerer of Yuba county said the men left Meeks lying trussed up on his living room floor and drove away in his automobile, later found abandoned in Marysville, 12 miles north of the Meeks ranch home.

Meeks said the men carried his wife, bound hand and foot, from the house, and twice told him, "unless you pay $15,000 by midnight Saturday, you'll never see your wife again."

Kimerer said the rancher told him he was instructed to leave the ransom money at a fruit loading station about three miles northeast of the Meeks ranch home.

The posse of ranchers divided forces near Meeks' orchard, and began to search the Bear river valley. The ranchers believed the men might be hiding in the lowlands along the streams, or might have fled and left Mrs. Meeks hidden near the river.

Kimerer said Meeks told him the men spoke with an "Oklahoma accent." This prompted the sheriff to theorize the men were dust bowl refugees. Meeks also said they talked about "the electric chair." Kimerer pointed out that if the men were Californians they would have spoken of the lethal chamber or "gas chamber."

Notified of the kidnaping by the Associated Press, federal bureau of investigation agents left for the scene early today to join sheriff's officers and the state highway patrol. N. J. L. Pieper, head of the San Francisco office of the FBI, said his agents in Rutter county would take charge of the case.

The rancher "guessed" the men were about 34 or 35 years old. They were about five feet nine or ten inches tall. Both were roughly dressed, white handkerchiefs covered their faces up to their eyes and kept the rancher from being able to give a good description of either of his wife's abductors.

The Meeks ranch is at Rio Oso, 12 miles south of Marysville, which is the punishment "kiddie" house thrashed in agony, beat themselves against the walls and cried for their wives and mothers.

Deputy Warden Frank A. Craven denied emphatically at the start of today's inquest a subordinate's statement that he was responsible for the "heat treatment" in the punishment "kiddie" house.

Taking the witness stand at an inquest in the deaths, Craven said he had never given a "standing" order that steam heat should be used as punishment for unruly convicts in the prison's isolation "kiddie" house.

Guard Sergeant James Hart testified yesterday he turned on heat in the "kiddie" house under standing instructions from the deputy warden.

County Hikes Expenditures By $7,471

Without the benefit of counsel from any private citizen at a public hearing Thursday, Howard county commissioners court approved the 1939 budget calling for a $7,471 increase in expenditures.

A large measure of the increase was in the permanent improvement fund where the tax levy was jumped from eight to 15 cents to care for a $23,200 outlay.

The tax rate remained unchanged from the 60 cent figure established previously. The jury fund rate was shaved from three to one cent, the general fund remained at 25 cents, permanent improvement climbed from eight to 15, the good road bond dropped from six to five, the road bond increased from two to three, the road bridge levy dropped from five to nothing, and the courthouse and jail stayed at one cent.

Total disbursements were estimated at $189,098 in comparison with $181,627 estimated for the current year. Revenues for the year were estimated at $182,157.

MAN IS HELD IN MINISTER'S DEATH

CRYSTAL CITY, Sept. 2 (AP)—A 60-year-old man was in jail here today in connection with the fatal shooting yesterday of the Rev. E. G. Holloway, 55-year-old pastor.

Holloway, a former San Antonio minister, was a neighbor of the man held in jail.

Holloway was stationed at Fort Sam Houston as a chaplain during the World War. Survivors include his widow, a son, Lieut. Ben Gray Holloway, stationed in Hawaii.

Sheriff Anglin said the minister was shot five times with a .38-caliber pistol as he was feeding chickens.

INDIANS REVIVE ANCIENT RITES

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz., Sept. 2 (AP)—Out of the memories of the Navajos' oldest medicine men, where it had been buried for 20 years, has been resurrected the tribe's most sacred of all ceremonies—the nine-day male mountain chant.

Never has a white audience seen the complete rites of this solemn invocation to the gods to cleanse the souls of tribesmen who have come under the influence of "evil spirits."

This month, the white man, for the first time, will be permitted to observe in the last three days of this almost forgotten chant.

On the evening of September 10, when the frost has mantled the sacred peaks, the medicine men will meet at the ceremonial hogan with two Navajos who have asked that their minds be purged of the malicious spirits which torment them. The "sing" will then begin.

Is Expected To Issue Counter Proposals

Fuehrer And Henlein Said To Be In 'Complete Accord'

By The Associated Press
Rising tension between Germany and Czechoslovakia pivoted today on a second momentous conference at Berchtesgaden while France, still fearful for Europe's peace, struggled against internal discord and Italy clamped new restrictions on Jews.

At his mountain retreat where much of Europe's recent history has been made, Chancellor Hitler of Germany again saw Konrad Henlein, leader of the Nazi-supported Sudeten Germans who demand autonomy from Czechoslovakia.

They met alone for what had been said to be more important and sweeping discussions than those of yesterday. Then with high Nazi leaders joining, they were said to have rejected Czechoslovak proposals, specifically for a three-month truce in negotiations, and to have agreed on new counter-proposals.

After Henlein left an official announcement said Hitler "took cognizance with interest" of the Sudeten German leader's report on the crisis in Czechoslovakia and the two were in "complete accord in their judgment of the situation."

Czechoslovakia anxiously marked time amid conflicting reports while waiting definite word of what Hitler plans to do about the Sudeten Germans.

Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, also arrived at Berchtesgaden. He carried a report to the Fuehrer on the British government's attitude in the crisis given him last night by Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Berlin.

Britain also was said to have sent an appeal for peace to Berchtesgaden in a personal message to Hitler given to Henlein by Viscount Runciman, unofficial British mediator in the Czechoslovak-Sudeten German issue.

British efforts also were directed toward a new understanding with Poland in what was believed in London to be an attempt to "squeeze" Germany into a policy of moderation in central Europe.

Increasing opposition of workers to Premier Edouard Daladier's decree extending working hours beyond the 40-hour week was given attention at a French cabinet meeting along with the international situation.

Chancellor Hitler in his discussions with Henlein yesterday was understood to have rejected specifically that part of the present Czech plan calling for a three-month truce in negotiations.

The purpose of the truce was to permit tension to lessen.

Henlein was said to have decided more prompt solution was needed, but what were his counter-proposals was not made known.

MAN FOUND DEAD

AUSTIN, Sept. 2 (AP)—A man identified tentatively as Frank J. Marek of Granger was found dead in a tourist camp here today.

Deputy Sheriff Sam Rogers said the man, about 37, apparently died of heart disease. Among his personal effects were papers showing he was a registered pharmacist.

Committee Tells Roosevelt How Britain Maintains Labor Peace

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—A special commission told President Roosevelt today that British industry and labor maintain industrial peace through mutual confidence and cooperation.

The commission, which made a first-hand survey of labor relations in England, offered no recommendations.

It said, however, that where collective bargaining agreements mutually satisfactory to national unions and national employers' associations had existed for a long period, strikes had been few and strike violence rare.

Mr. Roosevelt, making the report public just before Labor Day, commented: "To me, the most salient feature

Sgt. James Hart (above), guard at Philadelphia county prison, was named by William R. Meeks, prison superintendent, as the man "responsible" for turning on the steam heat in a cell block where men were being punished. Four of the prisoners died.

Jury Ponders Findings In Oven Deaths

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2 (AP)—Supt. William B. Mills, Deputy Warden Frank A. Craven, 10 guards and two physicians of the Philadelphia county prison were held without bail today for the grand jury after a coroner's jury found them criminally negligent in the "baking" deaths of four convicts.

All were taken into custody immediately in a crowded city hall courtroom at the conclusion of a three-day inquest.

Fixing of blame in the baking to death of four convicts in "punishment cells" was placed in the hands of a jury today by Coroner Charles H. Herach who predicted there would be "five or six" arrests.

The jurors, six business men and club women, heard testimony for two and a half days from convicts, guards and officials of the Philadelphia county prison.

Final witnesses were guards who testified they heard the men in the isolation building complaining and saying they "couldn't stand the heat," and Dr. Martin P. Crane, coroner's physician, who said the deaths were caused by "heat stroke."

Survivors of the "heat or burn" in the punishment "kiddie" house testified the weaker men thrashed in agony, beat themselves against the walls and cried for their wives and mothers.

Deputy Warden Frank A. Craven denied emphatically at the start of today's inquest a subordinate's statement that he was responsible for the "heat treatment" in the punishment "kiddie" house.

Taking the witness stand at an inquest in the deaths, Craven said he had never given a "standing" order that steam heat should be used as punishment for unruly convicts in the prison's isolation "kiddie" house.

SOUTHERN YETS CLOSE REUNION

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 2 (AP)—What may be the last reunion of the United Confederate Veterans ended today with the grand parade—a march down Columbia's wide Main street to the state capitol, which bears scars of shelling by General Sherman's Union army.

The veterans elected Gen. John W. Harris of Oklahoma City, their commander.

Other officers named included: Gen. J. P. Bonner of Fort Worth, Tex., commander of the Trans-Mississippi army.

NAVY PUTS SQUADRON IN THE ATLANTIC, FIRST IN 7 YEARS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—The navy is designating 14 warships as an Atlantic squadron, giving the east coast its first organized sea force in nearly seven years.

The new squadron becomes effective Sept. 6 under command of Rear Admiral Forde A. Toood. It will consist of seven cruisers and seven destroyers.

The navy announced last night this would be a temporary arrangement to prepare for general maneuvers next year, and to visit "such ports as are designated." No ports were named.

The general maneuvers will bring the main fleet of about 150 warships from the Pacific to the Atlantic for war games involving defense of the Panama Canal. The fleet was moved to the Pacific during the 1931-1932 Sino-Japanese crisis and has remained there except for a visit to New York in 1934 for a presidential review.

The 14 ships in the new squadron were completed only recently and had been assigned to the main fleet in the Pacific. The order issued by Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of operations, did not say whether they eventually would go to the West Coast.

It left the way open for speculation whether a revision of defense strategy was in process and whether European tensions influenced the decision.

Another defense step announced yesterday was a decision to buy a committee of high government officials draft a plan for being together with power lines the nation's war conditions and manufacturing centers.

THE SPORTS PARADE

By HANK HART

(Whiffy battling for Hart.)

They're saying out around the country club that a 75 will land in the top flight in the weekend's tournament. The weedy growth in the rough is not too big a help on the boys' scores.

Qualifying marks haven't been unusually brilliant yet; however, that par 71 Theron Hicks posted to be low man to date isn't to be scorned. W. W. Barker so far is second man with a 74, and W. P. Thurman of Midland yesterday hung up a 75.

The big shots—that is, those deluxe players who are competing for that little piece of bric-a-brac the medallion—are putting up—have not done their pre-tourney chores yet. Scores may look different then, unless they get all the good golf out of their systems today.

Shirley Robbins says we're in for a swell tourney, and it looks like it, what with the neighboring towns, like Stanton, Colorado, Lamesa, Foran and Midland, coming through with fine entry lists. Too bad Obie Bristow can't be here to partake of the fun he helped start.

Joe Finkle does well enough with a weekly effort at commenting on the news of the week; but we contend he's over his head when he invades Hank Hart's field. For instance, Finkle got to popping off yesterday about the strength of the Abilene Eagles (as everybody in West Texas does every fall) and then tried to console himself with the assertion that the Mayhew cargo is in the east half of the district and won't be bothering us boys for some time to come. Which was all swell, only it ain't right. The Abileneans are very much in this end of the sector, and will be piling up against Pat Murphy's little fellows almost before you can say Czecholovakia 23 times. In about a month, in fact. And we meet 'em twice. Which is twice as bad. Oh, Joe, why did you bring this all up?

If you didn't realize the football season is at hand, drop in some time and see the flow of publicity which is pouring into the newspaper offices from the college publicity corners. Just today, we have the correspondence from the University of Arkansas which proclaims the Razorbacks as the "pinnacle" team in the nation, "re-echoing the season's schedule, telling of last year's scores, and giving some light on the Forkers' prospects. Thomsen's men go into real warfare without dilly-dallying around, bumping the Oklahoma A&M-ers on September 24, and opening the conference grind against TCU on October 1.

There comes also some dope from Fort Worth, wherein it is announced that Coach Dutch Meyer rates his 1938 squad as stronger than the 1937 outfit. He bases his evaluation—says this particular piece of publicity—upon the fact that he has more experienced boys, more adequate reserves, and better punting. Who are we to dispute Mr. Meyer?

It may be heresy, treason, or pure-de outlawry, but we sorta wish some club in the American League would trip those Yanks and spill 'em off the top of the ladder. It looks like the senior circuit will have a new champion this year with the Pirates on the inside track; and justice, or the law of averages, or something, ought to give us a new name at the top of the AL. Just for the sake of variety, if you like variety.

Trees and brush being cleared out of Texas state parks are being converted into charcoal for use of picnic parties.

SAYS THE LADIES AIN'T LADY-LIKE

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2 (AP)—Ladies days at Forbes Field are no male fests.

Bill Bonawagner, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, whose booming hats have been luring the fans in groves lately, unburdened himself about ladies days today.

"The women have caused some terrific jams," he said. "They push, shove and yell. Why, one woman took another's hat off and threw it to the field. The second woman turned around and grasped the other's shoe and threw it out."

"Two more joined them before they all landed in the police station. You don't see men doing those things."

Dallas Gets Hot With Two Wins Over Houston

By the Associated Press

Not that it made a lot of difference, now that the Texas League season is closing in about ten days, but the lowly Dallas Steers won a berserk last night against the Houston Buffs.

After scoring three runs in the thirteenth to win the opener of a doubleheader, 6-4, the Steers whacked out 21 hits in a seven-inning nightcap to win, 16-2.

Meanwhile Tulsa's Oilers treated Schoolboy Rowe roughly in a three-inning game at Beaumont, and the Oilers won 11-3, but the Exporters came back to take the nightcap, 2-1.

Oklahoma City's Indians downed the San Antonio Missions, 8-5. Shreveport whipped Fort Worth 4-3.

They'll be slamming the balls down all the fairways at the country club Saturday, as the last day of qualifying rolls around for the eighth annual Big Spring invitational tourney. An even 50 had posted their pre-tourney scores Friday after a week of eligible time; and scores of others were due to qualify tomorrow for a chance at $450 in prizes.

Those listed to date include players from Big Spring, Stanton, Midland, Lamesa, Foran and Colorado. The qualifying list did not include some of the tourney favorites, those local and visiting players who were competing today in team matches for the Hall and Bennett trophy. These men were due to post scores during the day Saturday.

To date, Theron Hicks of Big Spring still had low score, an even par 71. W. W. Barker of Big Spring had a 74, and W. P. Thurman of Midland had a 75.

Pairings will be made Saturday night, at which time Calcutta drawings will be made, at a meeting of the club house. This event follows a barbecue supper, given by the club as a courtesy to visiting golfers.

Match play will get under way Sunday, with a full day in prospect, and finals will be played on the Labor Day holiday.

HOLLYWOOD OPENS A HANDSOME NEW STADIUM TONIGHT

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2 (AP)—Hollywood salutes its new $250,000 boxing stadium tonight with a premiere typical of a movie first night—giant searchlights, music, crowds, celebrities, and the usual horde of autograph hunters.

The stadium, built on the site of the old wooden shack which housed Hollywood's fistie needs for nearly 20 years, is one of the most modern plants of its kind in the country. Designed to maintain an atmosphere of intimacy, the arena, nevertheless, seats 6,200 and boasts many innovations.

To a newcomer, who jumped into stardom in true Hollywood manner by one spectacular performance, and a veteran long a favorite with film colony audiences, go the honor of fighting the first main event.

NEWARK CLINCHES SECOND PENNANT

BALTIMORE, Sept. 2 (AP)—The Newark Bears, a made-over baseball club that couldn't lose the championship touch, were being hailed today as "winners and still champions" in the International League.

The Bears clinched their second straight pennant last night when they walloped the Baltimore Orioles 9-4, while the second-place Syracuse Chiefs were losing to Jersey City by the same score. As a result the Bears moved 15 1/2 games in front of the Chiefs with 15 games to play for each team.

Sporting a new manager in Johnny Neun, who replaced Oscar Vitt when the latter moved up to the Cleveland Indians, a new infield and other strange faces, the prized farm team of the New York Yankees jumped into the lead at the very start of the season and never was headed.

The U. S. consular service was established in its present general form in 1848 and was reorganized under the Rogers act of 1854.

REDS HAVE TASK OF CHECKING PITTSBURGH

Giants Back In Fourth Place; McKechnie's Men To Have Nine Cracks At League-Leading Bulls

By SID FEDEK Associated Press Sports Writer

The National league pennant race—if there's going to be one from here in—is now squarely up to Will McKechnie and his streaky Reds. With Pittsburgh's parading Pirates riding along on a seven-game lead at this writing, and what is left of the once-proved Giants resting in fourth place, Cincinnati's alternately hot-and-cold outfit either can make a fight of it, or just let it die a natural death.

For, with the season down to its last 30-or-so games, the Reds tangle with the Pirates nine times before they ring down the curtain October 2. No other club meets the blazin' Reds more than five times the rest of the way, and 15 of the 32 tilts left on the Pittsburgh calendar are against second division outfit.

Thus, if McKechnie can get his boys steamed up when Pittsburgh comes to town (six of the nine games are in Cincinnati), things still are likely to pop, although the chances are the smoky city crew, looking like the real McCoy in taking three out of four from the Giants in their latest maneuvering, will breeze in.

Giants Whitewashed

The Pittsburghers, after a sloppy showing all through August, had just about everything yesterday as they opened the final month with a 6-0 whitewashing of the Giants.

With the Cubs' tight 4-3 decision over the Boston Bees the first division standings were mixed like boarding house hash.

The American league, as you may have heard, has no such fuss for the flag. The Yankees, although dropping their second straight to the Detroit Tigers, 6-3, are in about as much danger as the fellow who has the army and navy for a body-guard.

Boston's second-place Red Sox nipped Buck Newsum and the St. Louis Browns, 5-3, on Jimmy Fox's 39th homer. The third-place Cleveland Indians walloped the Athletics, 11-4. And Jimmy Dykes' Chicago White Sox swept their series with the Senators on an 11-6 finale win.

The complete list of qualifying scores to date, besides the three low scores mentioned above:

Gene Gardner, 94; Glenn Hancock, 89; Ed Lowmire, 95; E. D. McDowell, 86; L. B. Barber, 81; Harry Stalcup, 87; Bob Satterwhite, 82; B. T. Cardwell, 99; Travis Read, 91; Clyde West, 107; N. C. Hilliard, 90; T. J. Coffey, 85; H. R. Hoecken-dorf, 90; Sam McCombs, 90; Lib Coffey, 82; Vernon Strahan, 90; Cornell Smith, 81; Aldon Thomas, 81; Jack Barber, 81; Ben Daniel, 103; George Grimes, 82; Matt Harrington, 104; C. B. Gentry, 79; E. J. Daniel, 96; J. M. Aldridge, 96; V. R. Hicks, 87; R. T. Finer, 85.

SOUTHWESTERNERS STAR IN VICTORY AT ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2 (AP)—Three ball jugglers who graduated into the big league from southwestern colleges stood out last night in the Chicago Cardinals' East 2-0 victory over an under-conditioned group of midwestern all-stars in a football game played for charity.

The performance of Dwight Sloan, rookie from Arkansas U., Jimmy Lawrence of T. C. U., and Ed Cherry of Hardin-Simmons, turned the drubbing into a pleasant exhibition for the 9,384 spectators. Sloan and Lawrence scored two touchdowns apiece. Sloan kicked both extra points. Jim Fisher of Santa Clara rammed over the fifth counter from the 20-yard line. The most spectacular play was Lawrence's 57-yard dash for the final touchdown early in the fourth period.

SANTONS, GALVESTON CLUBS WINNERS IN GIRLS' TOURNEY

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 2 (AP)—Alamo Jewelers of San Antonio and the Galveston Anicos were victors last night in the state girls' softball tournament here.

The Jewelers, moving into the second round, beat Balshaw Grocers of Houston, 1-0, after Houston had best Pearl Brevettes of San Antonio, 9-2.

Eastland Royal Blues best E. Wolens of Ennis, 4-1, and Austin Ice downed Abilene 11-5.

Eddie Morgan Out For His Third Title

Charles Quails Of Post Only Other Two-Time Winner

Eddie Morgan, long driving ace who got his golf training on local links and who now calls either Big Spring or Odessa home, will be trying for his third championship in the eighth annual invitational tournament of the country club Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Eddie, who twice won the crown, first in 1935 and then again in 1936, has been practicing on the country club links most of the week to polish up his game for the big push.

Only other golfer to win two crowns in the local invitational tournament is Charles Quails, Post, who took it in the first two years of running—in 1931 and 1932.

Other champions to be in the thick of the fight again this year are Richard Snider, Dublin, who won in an extra-hole affair last year, and Shirley Robbins, veteran Big Spring golfer and generalissimo of the tourney, who took the prize in 1933.

Par-buster Doug Jones, twice medalist of the tournament, will be taking a third shot at that honor as well as attempting to break into the charmed circle of champions.

While Doug has won several tournaments this season, including Rising Star, Wink and Midland, he has never been able to sack up the country club trophy. He is the only man, however, to be medalist twice. His 68 in 1936 was three under par and tied the medalist record for the tournament.

Sloan and Lawrence scored two touchdowns apiece. Sloan kicked both extra points. Jim Fisher of Santa Clara rammed over the fifth counter from the 20-yard line. The most spectacular play was Lawrence's 57-yard dash for the final touchdown early in the fourth period.

LUBBOCK TAKES THIRD STRAIGHT FROM WINK

Hubbers Enter Shaughnessy Finals As Favorites; Midland-Cloviss Game Delayed On Account Of Rain

The Lubbock Hubbers today had established themselves more firmly than ever as the class of the West Texas-New Mexico league, after a third straight triumph over the Wink outfit. The Hubbs, capped a 4-3 decision in a ten-inning game to give them a clean sweep of the first series of the Shaughnessy playoffs.

The winners, who led the regular season by nine games, thus stood ready to meet the victor of the Midland-Cloviss series, and Lubbock was a prime favorite to win the Shaughnessy finals to cap the flag.

Wink won the pennant last year. The Midland-Cloviss tilt, scheduled at Clovis last night, was rained out. The two clubs split two games at Midland, and at least two other clashes are in prospect before a winner is picked.

At Wink last night, the Hubbers scored the winning run in their half of the tenth after Wink had scored three times in its half of the ninth to tie the count.

The line score:

Wink . . . . . 000 000 030—3 4 0

Lubbock . . . . . 300 000 000 1—4 6 2

Lucas and Bates; Blanchard and Miller.

TEXARKANA LEADS

Texarkana won its third and Tyler its second game last night in the East Texas League's Shaughnessy playoff.

By drubbing Henderson, 11-5, Texarkana, a power-house club which finished second in the regular season, drew within one victory of closing out first round play in its bracket.

Davis Cuppers Ready To Go

U. S. And Australian Netters To Clash Tomorrow

By GAYLE TALBOT PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2 (AP)—A likely patch of meadow grass has been lined off into three tennis courts, a set of circus bleachers are being knocked together around the pool marked surface of the tilting ground, and everything is about set for the start of the Davis cup challenge round tomorrow at the Germantown Cricket club.

All that remains to be done is the draw at the club, when the names of the American defenders and the Australian challengers will be plucked from a hat in pairs and the order of singles play determined. The names of Donald Budge, the world's greatest amateur tennis player, and Bobby Riggs, also plenty good, will be in the pot and America's Adrian Quist and Jack Bromwich are carrying the entire burden for the Aussies.

The first pair draw will clash in the opening singles match at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, best three out of five sets, with the second singles to go on immediately after. The doubles will be played at 3 p. m. Sunday, with Eudge and Gene Mako opposing Quist and Bromwich. The two concluding singles, with the pairings switched, are scheduled Monday.

The American lads still are firm favorites to retain the mug, won from the British at Wimbledon last summer, and if today's draw turns out right there even is a good possibility that the issue will be settled Sunday night.

Farmers are now using their tractors an average of 500 to 750 hours a year compared to only 150 to 200 hours a generation ago.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING TONIGHT

The thinking citizen knows that the long-run development of Big Spring must definitely be dependent upon what the city does about a bountiful water supply; and the conscientious citizen will be interested enough in his city's future and this particular problem connected with it to be in attendance at tonight's mass meeting at the municipal auditorium, where the latest phases of the water situation will be discussed.

You may not be in favor of voting some $275,000 in bonds at this time; you may be in favor of going three times as strong as that, or of doing nothing at all for the present. But regardless of your views, it is in fairness to yourself as a citizen of Big Spring that you should be on hand tonight to hear — or participate in — discussions relative to the city commission's contemplated program.

The factor of government help-
 and this proves to be a complication at times, as well as a bounty-makes the current program a predictably difficult one. Admittedly, any water project calling for a lake on the Concho and a pipeline connection means a tremendous outlay of money. There are serious problems for those in authority to decide;
 and, properly enough, they are unwilling to decide until they know something of the sentiment of the people.

The only way they can know is for the people to express themselves, openly, fully, and fairly.
 The time to do that is tonight.

HE'S PICKED A REAL TASK

That hornet's nest Lee O'Daniel stirred up when he endorsed a group of candidates was the proverbial drop in the bucket in comparison with the flare-up he'll create down in Austin, when he goes down there to abolish bureaus and cut expenses.

But the people of Texas will be for him on that undertaking, O'Daniel said in Dallas yesterday that he believed a part of the additional age pension cost he proposes could be met by trimming operation expenses. He is right, and 99 out of every 100 people in this state will tell you he is right.
 But nearly everybody who runs for office—or who gets in office, for that matter—assumes his duties with the view to effect economies.
 It somehow never comes to pass.

We don't want to be unduly pessimistic, and our heart is certainly with O'Daniel this time. He can do the job, of course, if he wants to buck the tremendous pressure, right back at all the lobbying, and resist all the influence that will be brought to bear for this agency, that bureau, this project, and that governmental function.

He is forthright about the thing,
 and seemingly full of confidence.
 For which he is due praise. He has kicked over a lot of precedents to date. Perhaps he can toss overboard another.

He at least ought to have the support of all legitimate business.
 He says business needs some relief from taxation, and would attempt to give that relief. If he gets the support in proper quarters, who knows but what we'll see the expense bills come down?

Words are ranked second to erosion in damage to American farms and are responsible for an annual loss estimated at $2,500,000,000.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

WASHINGTON—Take a strip of bamboo the size and length of a split pencil, sharpen one end and spear it through a half dozen small chunks of chicken, pork, liver, veal, or
 some of each,
 then twirl the bits
 over a barbecue
 fire until done,
 and there you
 have it—sati.

More will be told about sati
 after we explain
 that for a long time we have considered it our duty to extract
 from traveling notable recipes of choice dishes they find in foreign parts. And thus we are able to disclose the favorite foods of Walter Foote, Texas' contribution to the foreign service, who recently returned from Batavia,

 Java, where he was consul general.
 The beauty about native sati, explains Mr. Foote, is its novelty and the variety of ways it can be served.
 Most fun is to have a cluster of these little bamboo skewers already loaded with odds and ends of meat and let the guests informally toast their own over the glowing charcoal burner.

Don't Spear Yourself

Each guest must have several individual little dishes with varieties of sauce, such as peanut butter,
 soya bean sauce and mustard.
 When the little lumps of meat are sized properly, one at a time is dipped into the sauce and eaten off
 the stick.
 There is technique about that.
 The Javanese Emily Post holds that only about three little chunks of meat should be eaten off the skewer before a fork is used to shove the rest forward. But an experienced sati-man can bite off four and sometimes five niblets without sticking the bamboo skewer into a tonsil. Guests, however, should be warned of the hazards.
 If the toasting is done beforehand by the cook, several skewer loads of niblets should be served each guest. Sometimes olives or small onions can be loaded on the skewer between lumps of liver or white meat.

Another choice Batavian dish is nasi goreng. We asked Mr. Foote
 if it was named after Hitler's right hand man, the Nazi Goering, but Mr. Foote said no. The two words mean in Javanese simply "fried rice." Here is what is involved:
 Boil a quantity of rice until it is about half done, leaving the kernels fairly hard. Then put in some chopped pork, veal, liver or chicken.
 Add grated coconut. Pound some green or red peppers into a pulp and add them.

The result is a pasty product which you patty into lumps like country sausage and fry in a pan of coconut oil. Mr. Foote was simply ecstatic about nasi goreng. The average middle class or well-to-do family in Batavia will serve it as often as three meals a day, although usually only twice.

Mr. Foote says wise people eat great quantities of substantial food in the tropics so as to have strength to withstand the drain of energy from the constant profuse sweating. He spent six years in the tropics eating nasi goreng and satl and other native dishes, followed by an occasional stiff slug of gin, and arrived here hale and hearty.

A third dish was reported to us by a traveler from Africa. We do not recommend it. We simply report it. It is roast monkey. The idea horrifies us. We are a strict Darwinian and had as lief eat one of the neighbor's children. In fact —well, suppose we leave the neighbor's children out of this.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—"Had a long talk
 the other day with Kay Kyser," says a note found sticking in my typewriter this morning, "whom I went to school with down at the University of North Carolina, and was reminded of a few things I believe haven't been printed about him and which might prove interesting if and when you find a spot
 for them."

"Kyser and, as you know, Hal Kemp both started at the U. of N. C. and both attained big time quickly, although Kemp's rise was a bit more rapid, as he started first. Kyser is completely a showman—hardly an orchestra leader.
 Watch him and the band and you'll recognize this. He never leads, he merely starts the band at each number. He throws in clog and soft shoe steps as he talks to his audience. He's an expert tap dancer and at UNC he put on many musical comedies in which he took dancing and comedy parts.

"This showmanship, rather than orchestra leading, has aided him in shooting to the top, for he has the ability to interest an audience in himself, thus throwing interest on the band which, in the last two years, has improved remarkably.
 Kay says this is because he threw sentimentality overboard and hired himself some A-1 musicians.
 "Sully Mason, sax of Durham, N. C., is the only original member of the band still playing. Sully does many vocal numbers and, in my opinion, is darned good. Glynn Simeon, by the way, has a three octave range which is something else again in singing. Boy, of rare Kyser, too, originated the 'singing the title business of crooning a few bars of each song just as the orchestra begins to play it.

 "When Kyser got the idea of starting an orchestra he knew no music (and off the record I think he still doesn't), but he knows rhythm, etc.) So he started studying at the UNC musical school while the band played here and there. For two years the band was a 'University of North Carolina' organization because the boys still were in school, but in 1928 they got out and started up the big time ladder.
 "Kyser is unmarried. He's genial and easy to know, as you know, and has the languorous ways of the southerner that you also know.
 He's from Rocky Mount, N. C., in case you've forgotten.
 "Kyser says he doesn't know the finer, technical points of music, which is a good thing, for it permits him to enjoy music for music's sake, thus giving him a pretty good idea what the average person might like. He is able to listen to an arrangement from the layman's viewpoint, rather than

- Bounty Put On Groundhogs
 EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (UP)—Madison county officials have decided to dispense with the proverbial spring weather forecast services of the groundhog. The board of supervisors appropriated $1,000 to pay a bounty of 25 cents on each groundhog killed in the county until July, 1939.

 PINNITTE, P. E. I. (UP)—Railwaymen here have discovered that lobsters can live a long time without food. A crew of lobsters was shipped from here for Boston by refrigerator car and when it was unloaded one lobster was left in the box over. It was brought back here five days later in good health.

Sights And Sounds By MAX SALTMARSH

by ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Irene Castle's in town.
 As I entered the corridor of the Chateau in Vague, a loose tile in the flooring cracked sharply under my tread, and on the instant a door opposite flashed open, and I saw the housekeeper standing staring out at me.
 She was wrapped in a faded kimono. A pair of shell-rimmed spectacles perched inconspicuously on her nose, and she held a book in her hand. No one, to look at her, would have doubted that she had been spending a quiet evening in her room.
 "You, Mr. Lumsden?" she said. "Have you been out?"
 It was useless to deny it, for the dust of the roads was thick on the shoes in my hand. "Yes," I said meekly. "I've been calling on my friend, Mr. Stern."

"But how did you get in?" she parried sharply. "A key—someone gave you a key?" she pursued her lips tightly. "Pierce, of course," she said, half to herself, and then suddenly her expression lightened and she smiled. "You must not think I mind!" she said with a sprightly archness that I found much more alarming than her disapproval. "Only, another time, if you will tell me during the day, I will give you a key myself."

I thanked her, promising obedience, and retired to my room, but as I undressed I was still uneasy; the door opposite my own was shut and the house was still asleep. With infinite caution I dropped to my knees, fumbled for the loose tile, and gently raised it with my nails. There was a little cavity beneath and into this I thrust the key, lowering the tile back into place without so much as a creak. Then, feeling uncomfortably pleased with myself, I retired to rest.

I had locked my door and jammed a chair beneath the handle, and it seemed to me that I had barely laid my head on the pillow before a rattling at the key-hole brought me out of bed with a bound to find that it was morning, and that a buxom chambermaid was waiting impatiently to serve my coffee.

I gulped down my coffee, pulled on a pair of bathing-trunks, and made my way downstairs, a towel round my shoulders. As I crossed the lounge a sudden sound pulled me up in my tracks.
 It was the sound of a lift in action. The noise ceased abruptly, and an oblong tapestry at the end of the hall was pushed aside. An invalid's wheelchair was gently pushed out by the blue-overalled servant who had carried up my bag the night before.

It was a shock, and a nasty one at that, and as I floated on my back, a watery appearance sunk in drowsy contentment, I did a minute's furious thinking. The thing was too pat, too neatly timed, to be accidental.
 It had taken us a good fifteen minutes to reach the beach, another five had passed in talk before I took to the water, and perhaps ten more while I swam. Thirty minutes to all, I thought, since we had parted from the house-keeper; time enough for her to telephone instructions; time enough for six men to collect a car, and drive along the kilometer of beach road to the bathing-place; and as the thought came to me I remembered with a shiver Gela's prophecy of my early suicide, and a panicked my stars that I was in the water.

I turned over, swam a couple of strokes, and beat water, as the nearest man approached me; but he gave no sign of being aware of my presence, driving on past me with a powerful over-arm stroke. The others seemed disposed to keep in nearer shore. Two of them were playing a kind of elephantine water polo with each other three-and then, as I looked, I metaphorically rubbed my eyes, for where there had been three, there were now only two.
 Instinctively I looked down. The water, clear as crystal, showed every pebble and shell on the beach, but there was no sign of the missing man; and even as I looked, a sudden outcry made me raise my head, and I saw the man farther out to sea fling up his arms with a sudden, despairing cry and disappear.

I had one glimpse of his distorted, agonized face, and then I struck out towards him, for I had seen men stricken down with thrashing before. He came up again, hoarsely, and shouting and shouting, and I saw the man beside him and had caught him by the hair. It was then that I knew just how many kinds of a fool I had been, for a pair of powerful hands gripped my throat, and at the same instant other hands caught me by the ankles, dragging me down.

Fishing Outlook For The Weekend

The hurricane-torn Gulf of Mexico was returning to normal and prospects for fishing were improving for the extended Labor Day weekend. Water was clearing rapidly at all points, and indications were that conditions would continue to improve. The detailed report:

CORPUS CHRISTI - PORT ARANSAS—rough weather virtually stopped fishing during most of past week, but high tides pushed fresh water into the formerly super-saline Laguna Madre. Fish were reported moving back in. Good weather prospects for weekend.

GALVESTON—mackerel hitting around jetties and at beach. Deep-sea fishing good, with unusually large red snappers reported. Fishing in bays and bays somewhat slower.

PORT ARTHUR—water practically cleared, week-end prospects excellent. King, mackerel, dolphin and ladyfish striking at Sabine Light.

Kidnaped (Continued From Page 1) adjoins Yuba City, on the highway to Sacramento. Both Meeks and his wife were awake and fully dressed when the men entered the house. Both were badly frightened and Meeks was unable to remember whether the second man carried a gun. The orchardist and his wife made no attempt to resist the kidnapers. Sheriff's officers did not know what loot, if any, the gun men obtained after tying up the Meeks. The couple was left lying on the floor of the living room while the men searched the house.

When the masked men returned to the living room they spoke of the kidnaping for the first time. They picked up the slenderly built woman from the floor, and carried her, still bound, to the orchardist's automobile. Mrs. Meeks weighs 110 pounds and is five feet two inches tall. She wore a blue flowered chiffon dress with short sleeves and black shoes.

Budget (Continued From Page 1) were pegged at $193,533, divided as follows: Current taxes, $60,000; delinquent taxes, $3,600; other resources and taxes, $100,013, and a balance of $30,940 to be carried forward. This is far under the $212,256 estimated for 1938. Jury receipts and disbursements were estimated at $8,474; road and bridge receipts at $70,850 and expenditures at $71,550; general resources at $40,514 and disbursements at $23,500; interest and sinking revenues and requirements at $31,314; and officers salary receipts at $23,800 and disbursements at $23,800.

A fair share of the road and bridge fund disbursements goes to salaries and wages in the amount of $28,000. This is about on a par with estimates for this year, but around $5,000 more than for 1937. From several funds comes a $3,000 appropriation for all values, the same figure adopted this year, but up considerably from $1,700 allotted for the purpose in 1937. Charitable demands, under the general fund, were shaved from the $10,800 estimated for this year to $9,800 for 1938.

Confiscation Suits Again Postponed. AUSTIN, Sept. 2 (AP)—Trial of a group of oil confiscation suits involving approximately 350,000 barrels was postponed again today because District Judge J. D. Moore was on vacation. The cases were transferred to the court of Judge Roy C. Archer, who said they would be reset for next Thursday.
