Why everybody most of all vants to be appreciated.

.So, if you want this to be the nost Chrismassy Christmas of our life, to be the fullest of joy and cleanest of all disappoint. ment and inward wounds, the very best and brightest season of all the year, as indeed it should be, just undertake, first of all, to forget your own lifeand set about to find something in every human being with whom life brings you in contact, some thing that you can and do appreciate. You pass through this life but once. God sends this or that man or woman to touch you The biggest line of Christmas goods ever seen in McLean here and there. Are you a fool to despise them? Or are you wise to make of every human relationship a vehicle in some measure of love and helpfulness that transforms the world?

If into every family could come this most precious of gifts appreciation! What widening charms of estrangement might be closed! What sore and suf fering hurts might be lightened Whay bitterness purged! And how the gentle and genial spirit of the Christ Child would spread through and among us all, like a widening, shining river, reflecting back the sunshine of that Eternal Love that shines eve down upon us from Him who made and loves us all!-Dr. Frank Crane, in Woman's World for December.

Luncheon Eggs.

Boil hard five eggs and chop them fine. Put a layer of egg in baking dish, sprinkle with grated cheese and then add another layer of egg, and so on until all are used. Pour over this a white sauce, made by thickening one cupful of milk with one tablespoonful of flour, add butter, salt and pepper, to taste. Sprinkle buttered crumbs on top and brown a delicate brown. This makes quite a hearty dish.

In semiarid regions summer fallowwe mean raising a crop only every other year. The procedure is to plow the ground and harrow or disk it from time to time, thus conserving the moisture for one year. Hoed crops, especially corn and potatoes, should be harrowed as soon as the seed is their lambs come along in February, planted and subsequently harrowed until the plant has attained a growth of three or four inches. The ground should then be cultivated from time to time until the crop is nearly matured unless there are frequent tains. The mulch should be kept up in corn even when the ears are forming by running a one-horse mulch harrow be tween the rows, for at that time the VERY MUCH IN WRONG "BATH" crops need a great deal of moisturs.

The success of a fallowing depends upon these nitrates remaining for the succeeding crop. They may be entirely washed to by heavy autumnal rain."

PREPARING LAND FOR WHEAT

Use of Roller, Following the Plow, Not Only Pulverizes Soil, but Also Compacts It.

In a dry spell the roller and harrow should follow the plow closely in preparing land for wheat. The roller not only pulverizes but compacts the ground and gives that firm, fine seedbed so essential for a good stand of wheet.

When rains are frequent and the soil contains plenty of moisture it is not so essential to use the roller and harrow every day and finish at night all the land that has been plowed. It may be of some advantage to let it dry out a little, but in most cases it is a mistake to wait many days before putting on the roller The roller brings the soil particles closely together and allows the bacteria, which are constantly at work, to become more active and thus put the seedbed in better condition for the wheat plants.

By this plan they are the clover should be turned under just when the bloom begins to appear. The crop at this stage will contain about the maximum amount of plant food. Besides, it will decay much more readily than if permitted to reach full maturity. It may be necessary to turn the clover under a little earlier, in order to get the corn planted at the proper time.

Duck Feeding.

Don't try to raise ducklings on whole wheat, cracked corn, or commercial chick feeds. If used at all, these feeds should be well cooked, for, ordinarily, ducks do not consum enough grit to grind dry grain.

Curative Value In Food?

"Recalling that 90% of disease results from errors in diet, then foods properly prescribed by the physician can justly be said to have curative value." - Dr. Henry B. Hollen, in The Medical Standard.

One of the errors in the diet of many people is the use of foods robbed of the vital mineral salts (phosphate of potash, etc.) which are absolutely necessary for proper balance of body, brain and nerves. The result is a long list of ills, including nervous prostration, kidney trouble, constipation, rickets in children, and so on.

Twenty years ago a whole wheat and barley food, containing all the nutriment of the grain, including the priceless mineral elements, was devised especially to correct errors in diet. That food is
