Legislators moved toward their first major tax showdown this week.

House Revenue and Tax Committee was due to bring out a version of a revenue-sharing measure to balance a record budget.

Heart of the measure is a rise in the sales tax from 3.25 percent to four per cent (good for $300 million in additional annual revenue) and an increase in motor vehicle sales tax from three to four per cent (another $70 million).

Proposal to be advanced to House floor for debate recently will include:

- An increase of 50 cents ($9.75) per $1,000 in the corporation franchise tax rate, $5 million.
- Extension of the sales tax repairs, laundry, dry cleaning, haircuts and beauty shop services, $100 million.
- Sales tax on amusements, including professional sports and tourist attractions, $35 million.
- An increase in hotel rooms from three to four per cent, $10 million.
- Sales tax on telephone and telegraph bills, $40 million.

House already has passed a bill to raise out-of-state student tuition at state-supported colleges and universities from $100 to $700 a semester and $185 million bond bill to finance new college building. Neither measure has moved beyond sub-committee in the Senate.

Speaker Gus Mutscher has indicated he will allow representatives a full run with amendments to the tax bill on the House floor.

Revenue and Tax Committee Chairman Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas said lawmakers have the chance of wringing major new revenue out of tried sales taxes looking to a combination of points.

Harry Burleigh of Austin, longtime head of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation activities in Texas, will become executive director of the Texas River Development Board effective March 11. He succeeds Edward B. Boswell who retired last year.

Gov. Preston Smith appointed John F. Pettit of Del Rio to succeed Douglas A. Newton of Rio, who resigned as 63rd district attorney.

He placed on the Board of Regents, State Senior Colleges, Edward A. Clark of Austin, Lee Dulin of Dallas and James Tuttle of San Marcos. Smith designated Ralford Whiting of San Augustine a member of Texas Conservation Commission, succeeding Jack H. Wells who was confined to the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Governor named to the Neches River Conservation Board Directors Emmett H. Whitehead of Rusk, Otis E. Lock of Rain, Arthur Temple Jr. of Collin, Pitzer H. Garrison of Collin, N.C. Garrison of Garbott, Joe Davis Foster of Garbott and re-appointed Jack F. Flock of Tyler.

Governor named Carl Walter Peterson of Ganado to the Laguna-Navidad River Authority Board.

Texas Senate confirmed Governor Smith's appointment following to the Coordinating Board, Texas College University System: Harry W. Wase of Waco and Watson Wase of Tyler for terms ending in 1975, Newton Green of Houston and Wayne E. Thomas of Hereford for terms ending in 1972.

OPINIONS

A voter registration certificate should not be issued to a convicted felon until he is on probation until the state sets aside the complaint and judgment as specified in the election code, Atty. Gen. Clifford Martin has held.

Other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

- A justice of the peace is entitled to any fee for conducting administrative hearings on the revocation or suspension of driver's licenses.
- Jury panels selected by jury commissioners appointed by a county judge who has an interest in a pending case in county court are not void and the jurors are not disqualified to serve on county court juries.

COURTS SPEAK

U.S. Supreme Court reinstated the Texas obscenity law in a Dallas case involving prosecution of an underground newspaper.

State Supreme Court granted a new hearing for a Cameron County man who blamed his insurance company for negligence in defending him in a 1958 suit arising from a traffic accident and in rejecting reasonable settlement offers.

High Court ruled a Harris County iron and metal firm waited too long to bring suit against insurance company to recover for electrical transformers and wiring taken from its warehouse by burglars.

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the life sentence of a Dallas man in the beating death of his wife and rejected the appeal of a Lubbock man from a life sentence for participating in the fatal attack on a jailer.

Easter Seal Appeal Letters Are Mailed

Easter Seal Appeal letters are to be delivered this week in Gray County according to Mr. Paul Keim, the Easter Seal Representative of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

As Representative, Mr. Keim serves as contact representative for disabled persons needing Easter Seal rehabilitation services and also serves as Treasurer of the Easter Seal Appeal in Gray County.

The Easter Seal Society offers physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing programs, and special equipment loans to enable disabled persons to make the best use of their abilities to overcome handicaps.

The Society also provides for research into the causes and cures of crippling conditions, finances public education programs, and provides scholarships for training of professional personnel to staff rehabilitation centers.

He pointed out that all these programs are important if Texas is going to continue to provide the best in rehabilitation services for its own disabled citizens.

During 1970, the Texas Easter Seal Society provided treatment and services for over 21,000 children and adults who were in need of rehabilitation. These services are available to any disabled person who can benefit from help provided by the Easter Seal Society, Keim said.

The Easter Seal Campaign will run through Easter Sunday April 11.

McLean Schools To Have Open House

The importance of education in our world of today and tomorrow cannot be overemphasized. The kind of education our children receive is vital to their intellectual development.

Texas is very fortunate in having a splendid system of public schools, and during the week of March 1-5, citizens take time out to thank teachers for their contribution to the excellence of our public school system and to encourage parents to maintain an active interest in schools.

The role of the parent is a significant one and can be a deciding factor in the way the youngster feels about school.

Your child needs encouragement. Provide this encouragement by explaining why the needs an education now more than ever before. Teach him the value of self-discipline and help him to appreciate the joy and excitement of gaining knowledge.

This year, visit him in his classroom during Texas Public Schools Week, March 1 through 5. It's a celebration of Texas' 117th year of public schools. But it's more than that. It's a celebration of your child's opportunity of an education.

Be sure to visit your school during the open house to be held this Thursday evening from 6 to 8 p.m. It's your duty. It should be your pleasure.

Nationally, Savings Bonds sales for January 1971 were $430 million for 8.9 per cent of the national goal of $4.8 billion. Sales were 13% above January 1970. Cash value of Bonds and Freedom Shares outstanding on January 31 reached an all-time peak of $52.6 billion.

Elm Creek Watershed Project Meeting To Be Held March 8-12

The field examination on the proposed Elm Creek Watershed Project will be made March 8-12, according to Mickey Black, District Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service.

The drainage on Elm Creek heads at McLean in Gray County and runs through Wheeler and Collingsworth County.

The field examination will be made by W. W. Snyder, H. N. McGill, V. M. Hicks, and Douglas E. Cunningham, all representing the Soil Conservation Service. P. B. Brazier, representing the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board, will participate also in the examination.

This examination will be made to determine if the project is economically feasible and that suitable locations for possible floodwater retarding structures are available, state Black.

Any watershed application sponsors in this area or interested local people that have any information as to flood damage of any kind that has been received in this area should contact the District Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in your county. Information on flood damage that has been received over the past years will be useful in making the determination as to whether the project will be economically feasible.

Self-Employed Must File Tax Returns

Persons with net earnings of $400 or more from self-employment must file Federal income tax returns and pay a self-employment tax, Ellis Campbell, Jr., IRS District Director for Northern Texas, said today.

The Tax Reform Act of 1969 liberalized filing requirements for many taxpayers so that, for example, a single person without self-employment income is not required to file a tax return unless he had income of $1,700 or more in 1970. However, an individual must file a return if his self-employment income was $400 or more, even if a return would not have been required based on his total income.

By filing a return and paying a self-employment tax on part or all of his income, each self-employed person helps finance Social Security benefits that are payable to self-employed persons as well as wage earners.

Besides filing an individual income tax return, a self-employed individual must complete Schedule SE (Form 1040), Computation of Social Security Self-Employment Tax. Copies of Schedule SE (Form 1040) are available at IRS offices, Mr. Campbell said.

LOOKIN' BACK

Four days without TV, the mail or the daily news! The snow was wonderful in many ways. The drifts were as beautiful as any I've tried to wade through in over three-quarters of a century of winters. Where the wind did not interfere, it put moisture on the fields. The fickle wind changed its direction and caught many cattle in its clutches. Death resulted.

Many a garage door was closed shut by the white drifts. Most people around us had to wade drifts chest deep to get out their front doors. Result: Many forgot the front entrance and walked out the back door and then on to town - if and only when the trip was necessary.

Our front door wasn't so bad but my garage door on the north caught all the snow that the Carters, Dwyers, Fulbrights, and Mrs. Burch did not stop. The pontiac was sealed in until Mark and Mike Caldwell shoveled me out late Thursday afternoon.

So many others had similar or worse problems and those on unpaved roads could get around only with tractors. All this made the postponing of funerals for two good citizens and created quite a problem for them and their friends who wanted to go to see them.

The passing of Luther Petty and Henry Roth, neighbors in what used to be the Liberty Community, was not unexpected but it was regrettable that blizzard conditions forced the postponement of their separate funerals and that many were unable to attend when rites were finally held.

All the Petty children graduated from McLean High School. Both Mr. and Mrs. Petty, the former Isabel Francis, were pioneers, his father being an old-time singing teacher in McLean. There's a picture of one of his classes, superimposed in a watermelon by John B. Vannoy's trick photography, in the McLean swinging panel down at the museum.

The Pettys, long-time members of the Baptist Church, have been respected and appreciated for their work in the religious and educational life of the community.

It is my understanding that all but one of Henry Roth's children and several of his grandchildren finished McLean High School. They, too, have been an integral part in the life of the community.

Both men will be remembered kindly in various ways and by many ways and by many friends. After all, each had lived over four score and good useful years. One could scarcely ask for more.

The sudden and unexpected passing of B. W. Lyons was a sad occasion. Our sympathy is extended to all three grieving families.

Out of town guests in the Petty home following the death of Luther Petty were: Francis L. Petty of Midland, Mrs. Nora Loveland of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Petty and children, Penny and Gary of Moberly, Mo., Miss Patty Petty of Atlanta, Ga., Robert H. Petty in service at San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Petty and children, Joan, Douglas and Joy of Abilene, Miss Ann Petty of Brownwood, and Mr. and Mrs. David Petty of Commerce.

From Amarillo were: Mr. and Mrs. Milton Billingsley, and son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon L. Kennedy and Tina, Mrs. H.H. Billingsley, Mrs. Best Anderson, Don Anderson, Miss Linda Lain, Bill Roth, Mrs. Jess Altman and daughter Merita, Rev. and Mrs. John F. Ivy and children.

Other guests were: Dr. and Mrs. Ernest N. James and daughters, Jessica and Regina; Roger M. Francis of Plainview; Leroy Francis of Kress; Mr. and Mrs. James Wood and son, David of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Manuel James and Mrs. Jane Galloway of Pampa; the latter parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gordzielik, Sr. of White Deer; Mrs. Vesta James Tubbs of Corpus Christi;

They also wish to express their most sincere appreciation to the business men and individuals who donated prize money to the F.F.A. Chapter. Also we would like to express our appreciation to Mrs. James Moffet, Mrs. R.L. Everett, Mrs. Gene Winegeart, and Mrs. Finis Dalton for collecting the prize money.

These boys will take their stock to Pampa Friday for the Gray County and the Top O' Texas Stock Shows. This stock will sell next Wednesday at the Top O' Texas Junior Stock barn. We heartily urge the support of the people of McLean while the boys are at Pampa.

decreased in number while lots with capacities between 8,000 to 15,999 head made the biggest gains in 1970, according to Dr. Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist. Feedlot marketing in the U.S. reached a record of 24.9 million head during 1970, according to a recent USDA "Cattle on Feed" report. Texas feeders turned out 3.1 million head in the calendar year 1970.

Last year Texas had 306 feedlots with a 1,000 head or more capacity operating at one time. Dr. Uvacek indicated that these feedlots accounted for 97% of the fed cattle marketed in the state.

Five large feedlots, with capacities of over 16,000 head were also in operation last year in Texas.

A separate report issued by the Packers and Stockyards Administration shows that almost 11% of the 2.7 million cattle and calves fed in Texas in 1969 were owned by or fed for meat packers. Texas ranks as the leading state for packer feeding, Dr. Uvacek said.

The Texas feeders figure represents increase of 432,000 head over last year, considerably smaller than the year earlier gain, Dr. Uvacek commented.

He indicated that Texas remains the third largest feeding state in the nation, surpassed by Iowa and Nebraska. Dr. Uvacek added the ranking of the top, ten cattle feeding states remained about the same as the previous year, with Minnesota edging out Arizona for the eighth position.

A London newspaper published the following conversation between a visiting American and an Eton school master, with usual assurances of its absolute truth:
American: "Do you allow your boys to smoke?"
Eton master: "I'm afraid not."
American: "Can they drink?"
Eton master: "Good gracious, no."
American: "What about dates?"
Eton master: "Certainly, as long as they don't eat many."

Clues To Carpet Quality

Carpets and rugs are usually long-term investments, so proper selection can save both money and disappointment. The wise consumer masters pertinent facts about fibers, construction, and other quality indicators, then turns to a reputable retailer who stocks carpets and rugs from brand-name manufacturers.

Carpet and rug prices are determined by two things: the basic materials used and the care and artistry employed in putting the materials together. The more of either of these elements going into a carpet, the higher the price. If the price is to be cut, something must be left out.

Understanding carpet construction is the key to spotting differences in carpeting. Carpeting is made in a series of layers. The top layer is referred to as the pile. Below it is the primary backing, to which the pile is attached by stitching, weaving, needlepunching or knitting. A secondary backing, recommended with all tufted carpets, is the last layer. Latex, applied between the two backing layers, also locks the individual fibers to prevent pulling out.

Each part of the rug or carpet fills a definite function. The carpet pile gives a feeling of luxury underfoot and provides the appearance features needed to complement room decor. The feeling of underfoot luxury as well as wearability, is determined by the height of the pile and the density of closeness of the tufts. The balance between these two factors affect the ability of the pile to remain on end in heavy use. The shorter the pile height, the closer together the rows must be spaced to do the job. When the rows are too far apart, the tufts tend to lay on their sides. As a result, surface texture effects are destroyed and the tendency to mat increases.

Consumers can compare carpeting for pile density by a simple in-store test. Fold a sample of the carpeting double so the backing between the rows of pile is exposed. Where the pile is spaced very close together only a small amount of backing shows. Avoid pieces that reveal large areas of the backing.

For additional information on selecting carpets, rugs and other floor covering materials, contact Miss Jimmie Lou Walmscott, County Home Demonstration Agent.

Attractive prices on Grade A large size eggs continue to prevail.

In the produce department, fresh citrus fruit remains the main attraction, with good supplies of grapefruit, oranges and lemons. Apples are still available at attractive prices, either by the bag or pound. Bananas also have lower prices in some markets.

Fresh vegetable prices are more variable. Low-priced choices are cabbage, carrots, turnips, sweet potatoes, yellow onions, and russet and red potatoes.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

The miracles of modern medicine never cease to amaze mankind. Usually those miracles manifest themselves in some miraculous cure for a disease thought incurable, but modern science and medicine are now applying miraculous new techniques in diagnosis of disease - techniques that would have been scoffed at years ago. From the very beginning of medicine, physicians have used body fluids - blood and urine in particular - as barometers of health or disease. Until recently the most common body fluid of all was ignored - plain, ordinary saliva. Today saliva is taking its place as a reliable indicator of human health. It gives a valuable clue to the causes of and treatment for various illnesses.

Saliva has helped doctors determine which patients will benefit from a particular kind of tumor surgery. It has been used to detect mercury levels in exposed industrial workers, and to diagnose a potentially severe genetic disease in children.

The Texas State Department of Health is watching with interest the research recently begun in this field. A few drops of saliva can disclose highly complex changes and patterns in body chemistry. From them, researchers are beginning to learn more about the mechanisms of such serious diseases as high blood-pressure, asthma, diabetes, chronic lung disorders such as cystic fibrosis, and even some psychiatric disorders. Although medical scientists have been well aware of the potential significance and usefulness of saliva as a health indicator, little practical use could be made of it because the technological tools were not available. It took innovation in technique to open up this new field of salivary analysis.

Doctors could not make clear connections between the salivary analysis and a disease until they had the tools for collecting samples from different glands. Scientists at Columbia University Dental School in New York developed a collection device that could be easily modified for each patient by using dental-impression material. Whole saliva had only one limited value. With the new device, scientists could get separate samples of saliva from the parotid glands - the ones that swell up into mumps, and the ones under the tongue. It was also essential to get samples from minor glands that secrete smaller amounts of saliva; those inside the lips, on the tongue and palate, and the membrane inside the mouth.

Salivary analysis could give your physician and the State Health Department another tool in the prevention and treatment of many common diseases.

In this age of medicare, social security and homes for the aged, sometimes people forget an important part of growing old—tranquility!

Yes, tranquility and peace are just as important in growing old gracefully as is sufficient insurance—or all the other means with which we show our concern for the elderly.

Have you ever noticed that old people have a knack of putting things in order? In fact, they need everything tidy, neat and sure. Certainly their greatest need is for peace and security—but this can come only when they are at peace with God!

If we want to reap the harvest of friendship with God in our old age, then we must cultivate our relation with Him—when we are young and able. Regular church attendance and worship is your assurance of peace and tranquility during your own gentle lengthening years. It will be a heaven-sent reward and one which you cannot, will not, want to miss.

Youth Attitude Toward Military Studied

Who is more receptive to military service---a lower class youth who wants to get somewhere in life, or a youth of higher class status who wants to get somewhere?

If the question appears too easy, try this one: Who would have a more positive attitude toward the service---a rural Negro youth who lives in the traditional South, or a rural white youth who lives in the same community?

Most readers will probably go along with the first part of each question because they assume that the lower class youth would view the military as a way out of his predicament or a means to get training or a career.

In either case, the assumption would be wrong, according to a study reported by Dr. William Kuvlesky and Jane Dameron in the January issue of the "Journal of Vocational Behaviors."

The research team from Texas A&M University's Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology Department found that Negro and white boys were "More alike than different in their orientations and projections for military service."

In their study of 218 high school sophomores in three all-rural non-metropolitan counties of East Texas, they also could not find support for the assumption that lower class youth are more positively oriented toward military service than youth of higher class status.

Kuvlesky and Dameron evaluated the students' attitudes toward military service by measuring their agreement and disagreement to such statements as "Every American male should want to serve in the military"; "One should not complain if he is drafted"; and "Anyone who enlists in the service is foolish."

They found that both Negro and white rural boys similarly desired military service, had strong positive attitudes about it, and "almost expected to be involved in some type of military status," although a majority were uncertain about their expected involvement.

The major difference between Negroes and whites is in their expectations of how they're going to be involved. Many more whites think in terms of either no military involvement or part-time commitment in the Reserves than did Negroes. Also, more Negroes than whites expected to either enlist or to enter officer's training in college.

Lower class youth with high aspirations to get somewhere are not necessarily more positively oriented toward military service than others, the A&M team learned. They, as well as other respondents, are equally positive in their orientation toward the military, although other studies indicate very few youth view the military as an occupational goal.

It is possible, Kuvlesky and Dameron conclude in the article, that "projection of participation in military service and positive orientation toward it approximates a cultural universal among boys in their middle teens." The researchers point out that more extensive study is needed because of the limitations of their sample before any definite conclusions can be drawn.

The study was a contribution to the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station research project.

One baby in every 16 born alive comes into the world with a substantial physical, mental or chemical defect, according to the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

NOTICE OF

HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

The Texas Highway Department is planning to proceed with the development of the proposed highway construction of F. M. Highway 3143 from U. S. Highway 66 at Main Street in McLean, South and East to the Collingsworth County Line in Gray and Donley Counties, a distance of approximately 6.6 miles. Since the Administration of the Highway Department has approved the route and design proposed for development of this project, work will begin on the next phase of engineering necessary for the development of this project.

The proposed route follows existing county road locations. It is proposed to assume maintenance on an existing 3.6 miles of paved county road from McLean south. The remaining portion in Gray County and that in Donley County will be new construction providing a pavement width of 20 feet and a usable shoulder width of 4 feet. No additional right of way will be required for the existing paved bounty road section. A minimum right of way width of 120 feet will be required for the new construction section. No displacements will be involved in the right of way taking.

Maps, drawings showing geometric design, and all other available data concerning the development of this project may be inspected at the Resident Engineer's Office on U.S. Highway 60 east of Pampa, P. O. Box 1136, Pampa, Texas 79065.
