SCHOOL GETS EIGHT CREDITS OF AFFILIATION; FINE CORPS OF INSTRUCTORS EMPLOYED

As the summer is fast passing and the time for the opening of school is approaching, I take this opportunity of saying a few words to those interested in the school next year.

We did very well in the affiliation of our school this year and hope to gain additional credits, until McLean school will be second to none in the state according to size.

We secured eight credits of affiliation, which is better than a number of schools did this year. I happen to know, as I worked in the State Department of Education this summer for about two months. However, I had nothing to do with this part of the work, as I had charge of the college entrance examinations.

I am asking Mr. Moody to print an outline of a course of study, which the students and parents may look over and select the work that they wish the students to do this year. It may be possible that if a student failed in one or more courses last year that there will be a conflict in some of his choices, but we are going to arrange to give you the very best program possible. You will notice that there are a number of optional courses that you are allowed to take this year, thus giving you more latitude in your work.

We shall have five teachers in the high school, including the seventh grade, and hope to be able to give McLean the best school it has ever had. The two new teachers for the high school are each well qualified in their particular work and both have very pleasing personalities. The commercial branches will be taught by Miss Margaret Miller of Austin, who has specialized in this line of work and has several years of successful experience. Mr. L. L. Baxter of the same place will have the sciences and part of the mathematics and will also have charge of the athletics. He is enthusiastic in his line of work and will give us as good work as we could ask. He also, has had experience. So I see nothing in the way of having a very pleasant and successful year.

The fourth, fifth and sixth grades will do departmental work, and Miss Thompson of McLean, together with Mr. N. B. Gary and Miss Corrine Gary of Bremond, will have charge. Mr. and Miss Gary are both Baylor University students and have had successful experience. Miss Thompson, as you all know, has been attending Denver University, and is well prepared to do her work. As I have not yet assigned work in this department, I do not know as yet what branches each teacher will have. Mr. Gary will have the principalship of these grades, and will conduct same at all times under my direction.

The primary department will be taught by the same teachers as last year, under the direction of Mrs. Cain, as supervisor, together with my advice when necessary.

I feel that placing these departments under heads will be worth much to us in the conduct of the school.

Thanking the public for their support last year and for their hearty support again the coming year, I am sincerely yours,

W. A. CAIN, Superintendent.

Senior B. Y. P. U.

The subject for Sunday evening's Senior B. Y. P. U. meeting is "Blameless and Harmless." The meeting will be led by Miss Eunice Floyd. The program follows:

Scripture reading and introduction by leader.

EPWORTH LEAGUE TO RESUME ITS WORK

The Epworth League, which took a short vacation during the revival meeting, will meet again at the Methodist church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The League officers and workers are urging that every member be present; more especially those who are on the program.

In an effort to put more "pep" into the League work, it is planned to hold an "old-time school" party at the W. H. Peters home this evening at eight o'clock. A number of novel entertainment features are planned, and without doubt there is a good time in store for every Leaguer who attends.

CHURCH OF CHRIST REVIVAL

Saturday evening at 8:15 Evangelist B. F. Whitaker of Tipton, Okla., will begin a revival meeting at the tabernacle.

Sunday, August 7, at the tabernacle: Preaching and communion at 11 a. m., preaching again at 8:15 p. m.

Friday evening at the church, Bro. Bethel Cooper of Gould, Okla., will meet the singers to organize for the meeting. Bro. Cooper is a song leader of ability, and will do all singers good who will come and be with us.

"Come let us reason together."

WELLINGTON 9; McLEAN 3

McLean lost to Wellington in a game of baseball on the local ground last Friday, by a score of nine and three. In the fourth inning McLean's defense weakened, allowing Wellington to score eight runs on a walk, four hits and seven errors. McLean made a triple in the third inning.

Roger Powers will lead the Junior B. Y. P. U. meeting next Sunday. The following program has been arranged:

McLEAN PUBLIC SCHOOL BUILDING

IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE AT SCHOOL BUILDING

A five-room bungalow teacherage, an up-to-date sewer system for the school building, all class rooms redecorated, and two additional rooms furnished, are to be included in the list of improvements being made at the school house, preparatory to the opening of school next month.

The teacherage, which is being built on the north-east corner of the school ground, is to be a wood frame building, well planned, comfortable and convenient in every way. The foundation was made last week, and T. A. Cooke, who has the contract, has the work well under way.

The contract for installing the sanitary plumbing was awarded to a Mr. Slaig of Clarendon, who filed the lowest bid. The north and south parts of the hallway in the basement are to be converted into toilets, and modern fixtures will be installed. There will be a shower bath put in for the use of athletes. The sewage will be carried into a septic tank, which is the most approved method of disposal. A tank of large capacity, somewhat in excess of requirements, will be used. To the uninitiated, the Clarendon plumber seems to know his business, and to be doing a real first class job.

Every room in the building has been kalsomined, the blackboards resurfaced and the floors oiled. Much of the woodwork is getting a fresh application of stain. Desks have arrived for fitting out two additional classrooms, these being made necessary by the addition of two teachers to the faculty.

McLean has every reason to be proud of her school, for great progress has been made in the past year, and there are plans for still bigger things later.

PROTEST BOARD'S ACTION CLOSING COUNTRY SCHOOL

Action of the school board in closing the Peterson Creek school has caused considerable dissatisfaction among patrons in that community, according to one of them who called on The News early this week.

Members of the board claim that this will work to the advantage of all parties concerned, and it is thought that a satisfactory settlement of the controversy has arisen can be reached.

The Peterson Creek school lies within the McLean Independent School District, and for several years has been run as a ward school.

Epworth League

Miss Mary Anderson is leader for Sunday evening's Epworth League. The subject for discussion is "Constructing Our Standard of Judgment." Following is the program:

Hymn.

Psalms 25 read responsively.

The Lord's Prayer.

Hymn.

Scripture reading, Romans 14:1-13.

—Leader.

Duet—Lula Peters and Jewell Shaw.

Business meeting and collection of dues.

Piano solo—Chloe Southern.

Topic No. 1—Ruth Jordan.

Religion of Forgiveness—Homer Wilson.

Judgment—Laura Bumpus.

Judge Not—Vernon Rice.

With What Judgment Ye Judge Ye Shall Be Judged—Edna Turner.

Self Judgment—Sammie Cubine.

Willing to Be Judged by the Same Standard Which We Require of Others—Lolene Coffey.

FTAK REMODELING AND ADDING TO FARM HOME

Paul Ftak of the Pakan community is building a four-room addition to his farm home. Part of the old house is being torn down, and the addition is to be 16x22 feet, two stories high. Mr. Ftak is putting in a long concrete porch around the front of the house.

Miss Laura Bumpus was hostess to a large crowd of young folks Wednesday evening. A very delightful time is reported.

Teachers Chosen for Coming School Term

All teachers for the coming year have been employed for McLean public school. Six teachers who taught last year are retained, and five new ones are coming. Last year there were only nine teachers, and the faculty has been enlarged by the addition of two more.

The old teachers are: W. A. Cain, superintendent, Miss Laura Hill, Miss Lillian Abbott, Miss Earnstine Osborne, Mrs. Jno. B. Vannoy and Mrs. W. A. Cain.

The new ones are: L. L. Baxter of Austin, principal, Nathan Gary and Miss Corrine Gary of Bremond, Miss Margaret Miller of Austin, and Miss Maude Thompson of McLean.

Everybody knows that the instructors who taught last year are good ones. The new teachers come highly recommended, and a fair idea of their qualifications may be had by reading Mr. Cain's article elsewhere in this issue of The News.

The Masonic lodge of Breckenridge has passed resolutions looking into the suppression of profanity on the streets and in the business districts of that city. In the resolutions the lodge asked the co-operation of the churches, schools and newspaper of that city in gaining the united support of the best citizenship of the whole community. This is a splendid movement and it worthy of emulation in other sections of the state. Profanity is the most useless habit known among men. It does not elevate, it does not show refinement nor culture and is repulsive to the best and highest manhood. Very few men will use profanity in the presence of ladies or in their homes. This proves it is not necessary, for if profanity can be dispensed with in certain company it can be dispensed with in all company. The motives and aims of the Masonic lodge is to bring out the best that is in men and the fact that some Masons swear does not brand the order as being silent on the subject at all. Some church members swear, yet nobody believes that the church is not opposed to swearing. Of late years there has been a decided drop in public morals on the question of profanity, much to our detriment and some are so careless and calloused in their habit as to swear openly in the presence of children and ladies. It has been hinted that young ladies and some older ones are using words never intended to punctuate the English language, which proves they have heard so much profanity from men that it no longer holds a repugnance for them. If profanity can be curbed on the streets and in the business district it will be a long step in the right direction, as there is where most of it occurs. The Masonic lodge has always stood against swearing and it is refreshing to see a lodge imbued with the spirit of the order so that it calls for a halt on this increasing evil. The English language is an able conveyor of thought. Profanity is superfluous and no gentleman can afford to let it become a habit of his life. If a gentleman can't, there is no need to mention a lady. Hats off to the Masons of Breckenridge, and may their aim be speedily realized!—Clarendon News.

Have you noticed how the real big merchants of the cities have increased their advertising? The successful merchant increases his advertising space when business is dull and hard to get. The small merchant too often yields to the temptation of cutting his advertising in dull times, believing that he is "saving expenses." It is the most expensive "saving" he can undertake. He is cutting the heart out of his business and sooner or later will succumb to the merchant who has vision enough to keep after the business during hard times.—Canyon News.

CARD OF THANKS

To our friends of McLean and community: We're only possible to make you understand the depth of our appreciation and gratefulness for the way in which you cared for our boy, Herschel, how happy we would be. You, who have acted as mother and father when mother and father could not be with him, have helped us so much in the bearing of our great sorrow. How well we know that no other hands, even though they had been the hands of mother and dad, could have cared for him more tenderly. And the flowers, speaking through every petal, told us what real friendship means, letting us know in what esteem and high regard our dear boy was held, and making us feel and know that you are with us in these sad and lonely hours. May God bless each and every one of you.

BILL INTRODUCED WOULD CRIPPLE NORMAL WORK

Canyon News: A bill has been introduced in the legislature requiring all fees collected in all institutions to be sent to the state treasury. This will cripple every state educational institution, as certain fees collected go a long way toward paying the expenses of the institution. The maintenance fund allowed by the legislature will have to be increased very greatly if all of the local fund collected in the way of fees must be sent to the state treasury.

Certain departments will be greatly handicapped if this law is allowed to be passed. The music department of the West Texas State Normal College is one of the strongest departments in the school. The state pays the salary of but two teachers. Students taking work in this department pay an additional fee, as is the case in all state and private schools. These fees have allowed the Normal to employ several additional teachers for the music department and pay the expenses of the band, orchestra and chorus. Without the fees, if the music department is to be maintained at its present point of efficiency, the state will have to greatly increase its appropriation for this department. Without increasing the appropriation the two teachers now paid by the state could not begin to handle the work, and consequently there would be no students to pay fees into the state treasury. The law, if enacted, will do nothing more than cut off the opportunities of a large number of students from taking music, since both the governor and appropriation committees will stand for no increase in appropriations.

The law is foolish from start to finish. The state has nothing to gain by such a law, and the students will not be able to get the work they desire.

Wallace R. Clark, head of the music department, was called to Austin Saturday to appear before the committee to show how the proposed law would work in the Normal.

MYSTERY WHERE THERE IS NO MYSTERY

One of the curious things about men who have things to sell, from the man who has a good eatable currant bun on his counters, to him who has a $20,000 machine on the market, is that many of them look on advertising as something mysterious. Indeed, there are some who hedge it about with so much mysticism that they soon engender incredulity and therefore do not advertise at all. Such men are their own worst enemies.

But where do you find a READER of advertisements who looks upon them as mysteries? Nowhere. The great mass of people who read newspapers and magazines look on advertisements with much the same spirit that they do the news, reading features, editorials and stories.

The trouble with that man who has something to sell and who considers advertising as something mysterious, is that he has an entirely wrong view of the subject. There can be no mystery to an industry—advertising—whose greatest power comes from playing in the open. Lies and misrepresentation in advertising are splendid routes to the poor house. It is easily proved that it is far—FAR AWAY—more profitable to tell the truth every time in an advertisement. No great education is needed to prove the truth of the effectiveness of advertising. If the man who is in doubt about it, or who looks on advertising as a mystery, will make up his mind to give 10 hours of his life—ONLY TEN HOURS—to a reading study of its value, he will get all the education he needs. Read one book by an expert on the subject and your eyes will be opened—WIDE—Hereford Brand.

RAISING HOGS PROVES GOOD INVESTMENT

The past few years have served to prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that the production of live stock is the most important and profitable phase of farming. Not only is this true, but it is now a universally accepted fact that needs no argument. It can be said to the credit of the American farmer that once convinced of the advantages of live stock as a means to increase the revenue derived from his farm and to increase the fertility of the soil, he undertook the increased production of live stock and the results have been such that farming without live stock is a situation that will never again be known to the world of agriculture. Live stock is permanent on every farm and it can be truthfully said that farming cannot be profitably conducted without the production of live stock in connection with farming operations. In nearly every farming community the farmers who have accumulated wealth and who are the forces behind the real accomplishments of the community are live stock farmers.

In an analysis of what constitutes live stock on American farms we are told by figures officially compiled that nearly fifty per cent of the total value of the meat and meat products slaughtered in the packing houses of the United States is derived from the hog. We can present no more telling argument to the American farmer, in our effort to encourage the raising of more and better hogs, than these simple figures. The fact that fifty per cent of the meat products of the United States is produced by the hog, should be sufficient reason to induce all farmers, not heretofore raising hogs, to begin the production of pork.

The hog is primarily the most profitable animal on any farm. No other farm animal matures as rapidly, reproduces as quickly and in as great numbers, and requires as small an initial investment. The capital, labor and equipment necessary to engage in raising hogs is so small that it is within the means of every farmer to be a producer continuous and sure, which insures the farmer of ready money at all times of the year. Growing hogs thus earn quick interest on the principal and enable the hog grower to realize on the principal, which can be re-invested. In other words, money invested in hogs is subject to "quick turnover" and is not indefinitely "tied up." The banker readily appreciates the financial advisability of growing hogs and investigation will show that the pork producer is generally regarded by bankers as a safe risk and is always given bank accommodations. Why is this true? Because the production of pork is profitable and is a fore-runner of success and financial independence. Hogs on any farm mean diversified crops, increased soil fertility and increased production, which is a natural consequence of the first two.

The hog is an economical feeder. There is no farm animal that will make greater gains in a given period of time on the same amount of feed than the hog. In other words, the hog makes the most meat in the shortest time with a minimum feed expense. There is no farm product that the hog does not eat and his position as the champion consumer of farm by-products has never been assailed. The hog likewise, makes the very best possible use of the pasture, turning into high priced pork alfalfa, rape, wheat, oats, clover and most any native grasses in connection with other feeds. Hogs cannot be profitably raised on pastures alone, no more than they can be profitably raised on corn or other grain alone, but good pasture is often all that is needed to make a balanced ration and in all cases greatly cheapens the cost of producing pork. It should be said that even the best pasture plus good corn is not a properly balanced ration for young stock that is being grown out and developed for breeding animals. Such stock should have other feeds that will grow bone, muscle and internal organs and that will stimulate growth and development. Without protein feeds no animal can make growth, much produce pork at a profit. Hogs that have access to good pasture will invariably do better than hogs confined to close pens. By grazing, hogs secure roots, herbs and sometimes mineral matter that their systems demand, and that they would not otherwise get.—Ex.
