SPANKING THE PROUD AND THE RICH

Mr. Frank Crane says, "If you want prosperity abolish the Income Tax. Substitute for it a Sales Tax on all goods sold or any one of the other taxes that have been suggested."

Radical though conceived in the income tax an instrument of punishment to sober and chastize the Proud and Rich. Politicians welcomed it as a means of furthering their ambitions through an appeal to the "common people"—the rank and file of the voters. And what was more important to them, an opportunity to fatten the treasuries over which they held control.

The latter has been accomplished with startling success, but anyone who supposes that the Proud and Rich are bearing the burdens of the Income Tax must possess a remarkable degree.

The Proud and Rich calmly pass the buck. The poor pay at every turn.

And no fair minded man can find it in his heart to blame the Proud and Rich.

For the Income Tax is neither just nor right, and that which is neither just nor right cannot benefit the majority of the people over a period of time.

To fine people for being successful and penalize efficiency is the Bolshevik's dream. If that is what we want to do in this country, if we want to rob business of its capital, of that which it must have to go on doing business, then we must not complain of poor business, lack of employment and high prices. For eventually where the ability to produce is impaired prices must necessarily advance.

You and I and all the rest of the Let-George-Do-It Club are allowing our politicians to say to the man with capital, "If you dare to invest your money in any enterprises, and should you in spite of the way in which we are trying to run things, become successful, we will rob you of your gains."

"Very well," replies the man with money to invest, "I will sit tight. I can invest my money in State and Municipal Securities and in other ways in which the returns may be smaller in the gross, but greater in the net, because you will have no opportunity to confiscate them. I can afford to let business stagnate, if the rest of you can."

The rest of us cannot. We depend upon business for our livelihood. Undoubtedly this new administration is now planning relief. Big Business knows this and is confident. There is a good deal of genuine optimism. The Statesmen know what must be done. But it won't do a bit of harm if the politician is made to realize beyond the shadow of a doubt that a sufficiently large number of intelligent voters in this country are keeping their eyes open, and are in no mood for further foolishness.

BIG BARBECUE TO BE STAGED IN PAMPA ON JULY FOURTH

Preparations are now under way for a big barbecue and day of entertainment in Pampa on July Fourth.

The Fourth this year falls on the first Monday of the month, which is Pampa's regularly established Trade and Sale Day. At a meeting of the Commercial Club Wednesday afternoon, it was decided to combine the Trade and Sale Day with a big barbecue and picnic dinner, followed by horse races, bronch riding and a big baseball game, besides athletic events such as foot-racing, jumping, etc.—Pampa News.

NEW METHOD OF MAKING A LAWN IN A FEW WEEKS

A new, quick method of establishing stands of sod on lawns, and more especially on golf greens where the grass gets severe usage, has been worked out by botanists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Bent grasses, which grow from runners, are principally used in the method.

A quantity of healthy sod is stripped at a depth of approximately 1 1/2 inches, which gathers in most of the grass roots with as little dirt as possible. The sods are run through a feed cutter which is so arranged as to slit them into ribbons about 2 inches wide and the ribbons are shredded by hand, leaving a mass of grass roots. These are sowed broadcast on the ground, which has been carefully prepared by plowing and harrowing; and if a golf green is desired it is usually covered about an inch deep and rolled.

For ordinary lawns it has been found sufficient to broadcast the sod shreds and harrow or disk them. By this method a good stand of sod has been obtained in as short a time as three weeks. The method has been used on golf courses throughout the country. A green of the public golf course in Potomac Park, Washington, D. C., prepared in this manner, is regarded as one of the finest in the country.

WHICH LAST THE LONGER SPLIT OR ROUND POSTS?

Some people believe split fence posts last longer than do round ones. Probably as large a number hold the opposite view. The Forest Products Laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture says that one will last about as long as the other if the percentage of heartwood and sapwood are the same in both. If the percentage of sapwood is increased by splitting, the split post will be less durable, while if the percentage of heartwood is increased it will be more durable than the round one. Exceptions to this should be made if the posts are of spruce, hemlock, or any of the true firs, whose heartwood and sapwood are about equally durable.

If the posts are to be treated with creosote or some other preservative, the round post is preferable to the split because of the comparative ease with which the sapwood can be treated. Experiments at the laboratory demonstrate that the heartwood faces on split posts do not, as a rule, absorb the preservative as well as does the sapwood.

Rob Tipton came down from Amarillo Sunday and spent the night.

D. M. Graham went to Alanreed last Friday on business.

Are Meeting Rapid Adjustment

Echoes of Commerce—stilled for a time—are now resounding throughout the land, and all is well.

The Nation's business is resumed; we're on a firm foundation now and the scenes ahead are bright with the promise of greater prosperity.

And over and above all, the banks of the nation are working soberly, understandingly, with constructive service to meet the new demands.

CURRENT BUSINESS CONDITIONS

BY GEORGE E. ROBERTS
(From the Monthly Letter issued by the National City Bank of New York for June.)

"Where has all the money gone?" Time after time during recent months we have been asked this leading question. People generally understand that, say this time two years ago, money was "easy"; today, with presumably the same amount of wealth in the country, money is "tight."

To the average man, hundreds of millions of dollars seem to have literally disappeared. Bankers are seeing their deposits and their loans drop. What has become of all this money, which, two years ago, seemed so easily obtainable on every hand? Understanding of the true answer to these queries, we believe, means a more intelligent understanding of the business situation today.

It may be said this condition generally is the result of the fall of prices which has taken place in the past year, the fact that the prices of all commodities have not fallen in like degree, and that bank deposits have not been replenished to make good the drafts on them to pay outstanding obligations.

During the period of inflation bank deposits rose steadily with the loans. When a bank customer borrowed money, taking credit for it in his account, the bank's deposits were increased in that amount. And when the customer checked out the amount to pay for a Liberty Bond, or any other purchase, the check went into some other bank as a deposit, and thus it became purchasing power permanently in circulation until that borrower—or some borrower—checked against a deposit account that had been actually earned and saved, and thereby extinguished a corresponding amount of credit.

We followed this process of inflating our bank deposits up to about November 1, 1920. Some of our bankers were very proud over the "growth" of their deposits during that time, although they signified very little except that a carload of hogs, or wheat, or other products, was creating twice as big a credit entry as before the war.

The fundamental point to bear in mind is that money is only the medium of payments. As a concrete example take, say, an agricultural community in the Middle West. The real debt-paying power of that community is in its farm products, and as the prices of these have fallen the debt-paying power, or purchasing power, has been diminished. The bank patrons went on drawing upon their deposit accounts to pay their obligations but their deposits were not replenished as before. Their debts did not shrink with the value of their products, and the prices of goods which they purchased did not shrink in the same proportion. Probably there is as much money in the community as before, but money is only small change; the buying power, or debt-paying power, has diminished, and the common form of expression is that "money is tight." What it really signifies is that the means of making payments are hard to find.

The agricultural districts have suffered more than industrial districts because their products have fallen more than manufactured goods; moreover they do not have the amount of fixed income from savings that some of the older states have. Their outstanding indebtedness usually runs to other states. The Boston reserve bank was the first to experience liquidation in its own territory, its clients being banks that serve industrial communities. As the latter collected what was due them from other parts of the country, and as their operations slowed down, they paid off their bank loans, and the Boston reserve bank and later the Philadelphia and Cleveland reserve banks began to lend to the reserve banks of Chicago, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Dallas, Atlanta and Richmond, all of the latter serving districts in which agricultural interests predominated. This shows how

A GLANCE AT THE BUSINESS SITUATION

International Situation—Substantial basis for improvement afforded by German reparation agreement. British coal strike still unsettled but radical developments checked.

General Industrial Position—Continues uneven and without marked change. Industries making goods of common consumption such as clothing and shoes are having moderate revival, owing to depleted stocks.

Wages—Reflect steady downward trend. Reduction of 20 per cent by steel corporations and downward revision of wage scale by Railroad Labor Board will promote industrial recovery.

Wheat—Lowered estimate of winter crop and sustained exports have strengthened market. Carry-over reduced.

Live Stock—Market steady during May. Cattle and sheep in fair demand while hogs hold above parity with corn prices.

Cotton and Textiles—Consumption of raw cotton in U. S. during April dropped 28 per cent from that of April 1920. Demand for textiles and raw wool slightly improved.

Iron and Steel—Production at lowest ebb in many years. Industry waiting on better net revenues for railroads and revival of construction.

Building—High cost of operations blocks pressing need for construction. Building permits in 201 cities for April show drop of 24 per cent from same month of 1920.

Automobiles—Demand has sagged since April, especially in agricultural districts.

Money—Rates easing slightly as credit strain is gradually relieved. Federal Reserve Banks in various districts reduce bank rates from 5 to 4 per cent.

The banking system of the country is interlocked and mutually supporting, to the advantage of all industries and to all sections.

It is not so much present speculation and extravagance that is contributing to tight money as past indulgence which had to do with creating the indebtedness now outstanding. It is the debts so gaily created in boom times that make money tight when prices fall. The debts do not shrink with the loss of debt-paying power.

The trouble is largely due to the unbalanced state of industry. The prices of what the farmer must buy have not fallen to correspond with the prices of what he has to sell. His purchasing power is contracted and he cannot go on buying the same quantity of goods at the old prices. Consequently great numbers of workmen are out of employment in the industrial centers, and money grows tight with them also.

The Time to Build Is Now

For this moving shake-up causes me to wake up

There's no rest for a sinner, or so the story goes—but I'm just a mere "Renter," though I've got a sinner's woes. Spring moving, it's just over, my furniture's a wreck and when it comes to troubles, I've got them by the peck. It's one thing or another no matter where we move, we never seem to settle into the proper groove. For when it isn't plumbing, it's sure to be scant heat and you're sure to find in "fly time" that screens don't fit quite neat. But what's the use of kicking, your gain is never net, for it's promise for performance, repairs are coming yet. I'm told there is a system of "no spend and always save," that wins for you a home, or else an early grave. But, believe me, I'm quite desperate—know when I've got enough; the renting plan is maddening, so I'll try that other stuff.

Right now I do some banking, am already on the save, and when the thoughts of real home comes, am inclined to be real brave.

Home owning is better than rent groaning. We've done our full share to lessen that kind of groaning here in McLean. Having helped others, we think that it may be possible to help you. So, bring us your troubles, and remember, we have more than sympathy to offer.

QUEER AUTO ACCIDENT

Curious things happen to all mortals, and "Red" Smith, automobile taxi man between Hereford and Canyon, is thanking his lucky stars that on Monday night he was carrying in his pocket the left hind foot of a brindle cotton-tail rabbit, caught in a graveyard at midnight, in the dark of the moon.

Mr. Smith was guiding his Buick just outside of Canyon headed for home after meeting the night train. His speed was about twenty miles per hour. Coming toward him down the road roared a big Marmon car with wire wheels, speed about forty miles per hour. A short distance ahead one wheel on the Marmon wobbled loose from the speeding car and streaked down the road toward the Buick. The Marmon plowed along a little way and stopped without injury. Smith turned into the ditch to avoid hitting it—and met the rushing wheel head on. It struck the Buick's front fender squarely in the middle, bent the fender back into the front springs, leaving two big dents, then jumped clean over the top of Mr. Smith's car. He states that when it went over his head he was under that steering wheel as far as he could wiggle.

The damage to the fender has been repaired and all is serene. There is no explanation of this strange freak except that rabbit's foot—Hereford Brand.

It was the good pleasure of Newsman one day recently to be taken in the flivver by G. H. Williams to his home in the south part of town, to view the improvements that have been placed there. G.
