Panhandle Is Snow-Bound After Blinding Storm Of Night; Trains Use Plows

As Howard county faces loss of its county home, farm and health agents on February 1 the following editorial from the Fort Worth Star Telegram is of special interest here:

REAL FARM LIFE
Tarrant County 4-H Club farm boys earned $9,752 profit in individual and club projects during the past year. This item in the annual report of the county agent is repeated, in greater or less amount, in every Texas county in which there is a county agent. The 4-H Club plan has a consistent record of profit for the individual members and of enhanced prospects for the agricultural future when these trained and inspired young farmers shall succeed their fathers as the ruling generation on the farm.

Such items in the news as that of the Tarrant County 4-H Club report contrast strangely with one which appeared recently coming from Oklahoma City. There farmers aroused by high taxes formed a delegation to go before the commissioners' court and demand governmental economy. One of the means taken by the court to comply with the demand was dismissal of farm and home demonstration agents.

It was mistaken economy. Hard times is not the time to destroy the agencies which teach people how to get along best in hard times.

In Taylor county last year $336,000 worth of foodstuffs were conserved through work of the home demonstration agent. When a work results in such things as that it appears to be much more valuable and important than straight-out charity work by a county. It is, therefore, especially regrettable that we must lose our agents largely because of the higher expenditures for charity that our commissioners' court declares it must make.

The town that holds up in hard times is the one that will get somewhere in good times.

It is, therefore, more important than ever before, that every one pay into the Chamber of Commerce treasury as much as possible in 1932. A few points should be strained where possible to keep the membership dues at their present figures, so that the organization can properly care for the multitude of important tasks that confront it in times like this.

Decision of the directors to reduce salaries of the manager and his assistant should not be taken as a move toward curtailing usefulness of or need for continuation of present support of the Chamber. The reductions were made in the belief that they would allow for wider usefulness in that a more balanced portion of the total income might be devoted to promotion of activities.

Acceptance of Japan Apology Withheld By Secretary of State WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Ambassador Debutch today formally apologized for Japan for attack on Consul Culver B. Chamberlain by three Japanese at Mukden. He declined to say if Secretary of State Stimson expressed satisfaction over apology.

Consular military authorities at Mukden apologized yesterday. A Tokyo dispatch said interpreter in trio had been dismissed, but that the two soldiers be punished.

Secretary Stimson announced later he would withhold acceptance of apology until receiving fuller reports of the incident.

.55 Inch Precipitation Here Monday; Ice Wind Felt Here

AMARILLO, Jan. 5 (AP)—The panhandle was snow-bound this morning following a blinding snowstorm last night. Highways were blocked here and airplanes grounded. Trains were running with snow plows.

Twelve inches of snow fell here with temperature dropping to 22 degrees. Snow covered an area 150 miles north and 200 miles east. The heaviest fall was between Clovis and Pampa. Ten inches fell as near Borger.

Three inches of rain fell during last night at Nacogdoches and it was rainy over most of the southern and eastern parts of the state. Corsicana reported a two-inch rain.

Precipitation in Big Spring for the 24 hours ending at 7 a. m. Tuesday amounted to .55. A stiff down-pour of hail was received at noon Monday and rain fell at intervals throughout the day.

Effect of the panhandle snowstorm was felt in Big Spring Tuesday morning, a stiff wind from the north bearing sharp teeth as it blew down "arm the wide expanse of snow on the plains. Minimum temperature for the early morning, however, did not drop below freezing.

Many Attending Baptist Meeting

A crowded auditorium heard two interesting speeches Tuesday morning at the Baptist Workers' Conference at the First Baptist Church when the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Harley Smith, of Porto Alegre, Brazil, told of the missionary work they had been doing there in their eight years of service.

The Rev. Scott Cotten presided and the Rev. Winston Borum of the First Baptist Church, of Midland, offered the devotional. The morning services were concluded by an address by Dr. J. Howard Williams, state secretary, and the song "The Old Rugged Cross" by the G. A. of the hostess church.

Dr. Williams made his talk a plea to return to the simpler, humbler, kinder things of life, the early virtues that made the church strong.

The noon hour was given over to a bountiful luncheon served cafeteria fashion by the women of the First Baptist Church. A call, denoted by the Wolcott Ranch was barbequed and served with an abundance of vegetables, homemade pies and coffee.

Following the luncheon there was a short business session and a board meeting open only to board members, during which the W.M.U. had its program.

The devotional was read by Mrs. John Runyan and special music was rendered by the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Winston Borum. The following women then made their reports:

Young People's Work, Mrs. I. A. Fuller; Education, Mrs. C. B. Ligon; Personal Service, Mrs. Austin Walker; Mission Study, Mrs. W. W. Wimberly; Importance of Mission Study, Mrs. R. E. Nix; Stewardship, Mrs. S. H. Morrison; Benevolence, Mrs. J. L. Hall; Periodicals, Mrs. C. C. Coffee; Missions, Mrs. H. B. Dunagan; The Lottie Moon Christmas Offering, Mrs. Alice Hagby Smith.

Watson Named For Another Year, Pay Cut

The American National Insurance Co. is charged with "deliberate trickery by means of fraudulent statements" in recent dealings with the plaintiff.

Drastic Reductions Ordered By Chamber of Commerce Board

Expressing the belief that this year will see a number of matters of unusual importance present themselves for proper handling by the organization and that, therefore, as much funds as possible should be available for financing miscellaneous activities, the board of directors of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce Monday evening cut $10,000 as the goal for the year as an operating fund and ordered drastic cuts in salaries of the manager and his assistant.

A majority of members present voted adoption of a report of a special committee, which was named to recommend salaries and the appointment of a manager.

This report provided for salary of $250 per month for the manager and $100 per month for his assistant, on a monthly basis.

Action was taken after lengthy discussion, in which each director voiced his opinion with reference to plan of operating the organization for the coming year.

Motion Lost
A motion, substituting that which asked adoption of the committee report, and which would have fixed the manager's salary at $300 and the assistant's at $125 was defeated by a narrow margin.

In casting their votes for the new schedule of wages various members declared they did so solely because they believed total expenditure for salaries had been too high, when compared with total income of the organization from memberships, and that unless salaries were slashed considerably there would not be sufficient funds left to finance activities in which the Chamber should take a leading part.

"It is not a question of what we would like to pay, nor is it a question of how much we believe the manager is worth. It is simply a question of how much we can pay," said one director, voicing the opinion of the majority.

Recommended Watson
The committee's report stipulated that the position be offered C. T. Watson, manager since 1926, at the new figure. On being called into the meeting room following adoption of the report, Mr. Watson said he had no comment to make upon it and had made no public statement Tuesday. He was, however, in Colorado, Tuesday, attending a road meeting for the Chamber of Commerce.

Sale of Hotel Is Prevented By Injunction

American National Insurance Co. Defendant In Settles Action

Scheduled sale of the Settles Hotel by a trustee for the American National Insurance Company, set for 10 a. m. Tuesday, was prevented Tuesday morning when Judge James T. Brooks of 22nd district special court granted a temporary restraining order on petition of the Settles Hotel Corporation, which owns the property.

The court ordered the insurance concern to appear next Monday morning to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent.

The plaintiff's petition, a lengthy document filed through Wilburn Barcus, local attorney, set out a series of allegations which were declared to be sufficient to justify the court in preventing the sale.

One of these allegations was that Mrs. Dora Roberts of Big Spring holds a prior lien upon the hotel property, in that she loaned the owners $60,000, which, it is declared, was used in construction of the hotel. Certain securities were placed in her hands when the loan was made, the petition says, but holds that the fact that the funds borrowed from her were used in construction of the property, constitutes for her a lien upon it.

Trickery
The American National Insurance company is charged with "deliberate trickery by means of fraudulent statements" in recent dealings with the plaintiff.

The petition declares that when the first of a series of ten notes became due November 22, 1931, the plaintiff notified the defendant it would be unable to pay the notes, which with interest totaled $26,000—and asked for an extension.

Without further notification to the plaintiff the property was posted for sale, it is held, and an audit report sent here to examine and audit the records and books of the hotel corporation in a manner that he saw fit.

Officers of the hotel corporation extended full assistance to the auditor in his task of determining the true financial status of the company, it is declared.

Audit
When the auditor had finished his work he personally complimented the plaintiff and declared that its officers were to be complimented for the careful, economical, wise and profitable manner in which they were operating the hotel and expressed surprise that the hotel was making so good a showing in time of depression and financial straits.

The defendant through its auditor, asked the plaintiff to pay the indebtedness past due and was informed that the plaintiff was unable to do so, the petition says. The plaintiff offered to pay $500 per month on interest for the year remaining, $12,000 of the past due indebtedness in six equal installments, monthly in the last six months of the year, it is declared.

The defendant's auditor then, it is held, asked the plaintiff's officers whether they would give additional security in the form of a mortgage on furnishings and removable fixtures in the hotel, saying that the defendant did not wish to see the property sold.

The plaintiff agreed to this and was told by the defendant's representative that he felt sure such an agreement would be suitable to the defendant company, it is declared. This is alleged to have occurred December 27.

Locals Withdraw From Loop; Defeat Ackerly, Coahoma

Flushed with victory over the strong Coahoma and Ackerly teams, whom they defeated by respective scores of 41 to 21 and 45 to 19 in practice contests staged in the local gym Monday, the Big Spring High Steers will meet the Colorado Wolves this evening in what was to have been the official curtain-raiser of the Sand Belt Basketball Association. Formal announcement of the withdrawal of the Big Spring club from the recently formed association was made yesterday afternoon by Principal George Gearty, who declared that the Wolves will center their activities upon tournament play this season, and that the expenses of such an elaborate schedule as required by the unjustified cage circuit would not be justified by the experience the locals would obtain.

The Big Spring cagers will enter the Colorado tournament this week end, trek to Odessa for an unofficial meet the following Friday and Saturday, and will make their third tourney in succession by entering the West Texas affair to be staged at Lubbock Jan. 21, 22.

Fighters
A fighting team from Coahoma, led by Rogers, forward, and Neel, center, led the Wolves at the end of the first half 13 to 12 in a practice game played Monday afternoon, but George Brown's proteges failed to turn back the Bulldogs 41 to 21. The locals ran up twenty-five points in the third quarter to clinch the contest, the only period in which the Coahoma team was outplayed.

David Hopper led the scoring with seven field goals and one free try while Captain Cecil Reid and J. C. Morgan tied for runner-up honors with eight points each. Rogers led the visitors' scoring with three field goals and four free tries.

In the evening contest Morgan scored twenty-four points to take undisputed possession of scoring honors. Reid scored 10 points to Reid trailed with four field goals and two free tries, while Bowlin was high scorer for Ackerly with eight points.

DOUBTFUL PERFECTION OF SERVICE DELAYS SETTING OF STATE'S OUSTER SUITS

AUSTIN, Jan. 5 (AP)—Doubtful perfection of service against the Atlantic Oil companies of New Jersey and New York caused the court to delay until this afternoon the setting of the trial of Attorney General Alford's suit to drive fifty oil companies and two associations from Texas and collected $17,850,000 in penalties.

The courtroom was crowded. Companies filing answers to the state's petition attacked constitutionality of the Texas anti-trust laws and denied all allegations in the suit, and demanded a separate against each defendant as to penalties.

Exiling Gandhi

ENGLAND shipped Napoleon off to Elba. After the Little Corporal's comeback attempt, England shipped him to St. Helena—and there he was to escape from St.
Helena.

Now it appears that England is getting ready to ship another troublemaker to a barren isle. He is Mahatma Gandhi, called the Little Brown Saint of India. England is preparing a barren island in the Arabian Sea for Indian agitators, and the Little Brown Saint is expected to be among the first sent there to rusticate.

Rioting and bloodshed attended Gandhi's return to his homeland over the week-end. Riotous crowds met him at the docks. Not all of them were friendly. Anti-Gandhi demonstrations were staged by the "untouchables." There is a curious twist of fate for Gandhi's case.
About the only voice raised in behalf of the "untouchables" in many centuries, adopted as a boy by Gandhi and his wife, met the leader with open arms. Probably he cannot understand the attitude of his fellow countrymen. Are the nation proud of their "untouchability"? Do they resist any effort to lift them up from the cesspool to the bright light of day?

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

At What Price Peace

St. Louis Globe-Democrat:
IT WAS just three years ago now, when the Tacna-Arica menace to South American peace seemed to be dissolving, that a score of capitals were startled by a sharp little fight away down where Bolivia touches Paraguay. The flag over an outpost or two changed once or twice and the first casualty list was added to in later brushes.

If the mechanics of peace are not always so sure, they are generally slow. As the Manchurian row of only a few weeks' duration is taking tedious path to settlement, what is to be said of this minor dispute between Bolivia and Paraguay over a few square miles of unimproved prairie? Almost everybody had supposed that the misunderstanding had long ago been all cleared up, and as a matter of fact, friendly suggestions for a compromise have come from various parts of the world and two different commissions have tried to arrange terms on which both could agree. However, they have not yet agreed, and while some of the bystanders are holding Bolivia and certain others Paraguay, to keep the flats of one from the other, the two incensed countries have addressed rough language to each other.

Tuesday delegates named by each country met at Washington under the chairmanship of Francis White, of the state department and organized a third peace commission. Still another commission about to sit at Washington relates to an ugly dispute between Honduras and Guatemala over land bordering on the Gulf of Honduras. If peace is kept in the western world it must not be supposed that it is not hough-

Nervous Instability
Many a mother and father find it difficult to understand why the baby's doctor so strongly insists upon regularity in the simple physical handling of the infant.

The fact, however, is that the doctor's insistence is not pointless.
The child must learn to behave inwardly as well as outwardly, "breaking in" its own physical machine for smooth and harmonious operation.

While the child is born with innate capacities to feed, excrete, and sleep, these capacities are crude and untrained.

The more serious forms of nervous instability may cause the child to suffer convulsions upon the least provocation.

Under proper handling the child will overcome this handicap, and in later years withstand provoking irritations without going into nervous spasms.

In a less serious form nervous instability may be seen in the child's irregular breathing, and particularly in its frequent attacks of hiccough, or spasms of the diaphragm.

SUNSET PASS

SYNOPSIS: Trouble hangs blackly over the Prestons, but Trueman Rock determines to ask Gage Preston, head of the outfit, for a job at Sunset Pass. Rock is in love with Thiry Preston, Gage's daughter, and the fact that she has met her but once does not deter him from following her to her home. He already has found cause for worry in her brother Ash, who is feared and hated in Wagon-tongue, and who tried to quarrel with Rock when he seemed interested in Thiry. Gage Preston, Rock is told by his friend Sol Winter, is supposed to be mixed up in cattle rustling. Rock, who has returned from a six year formance, learns that one of his former loves has been married. He meets this girl, formerly Amy Wund, and finds that she is still flirtatious, and that she is jealous of his obvious focus on Thiry.

Chapter 8
DANGEROUS BUSINESS AHEAD
"Sol, I'll not snub Amy, but I can't go playin' round with her."
"Wal, that's what she'll expect."
"Sol, what did Amy mean by sayin' 'Thiry had an unnatural love for her brother'?"

"I don't know. Sure I never seen anything unnatural about Thiry.
An' Rock, I've heard that very same remark before. It's just low-down talk by nasty people. All the same, it bothered me."
"It sort of jarred me. Funny how goesip can sting you, even when you know where it comes from.
Sol, how much money do you owe?"
"Couple of thousand, an' when that's paid off I'll be on the road to prosperity again."

"Old-timer, you're on it right now. I'll take that much out of your business," said Rock, and business like, as he took out of his pocketbook.

"Sol, I don't want you to do that," protested Winter.

"But I want to. Here's five more, which I want you to put in your bank, on interest, but fixed so you can take it out quick."

"You want it to your name?"
"No. Put it in yours. Reckon we'd better add another thousand to that five. I only need enough money to buy a spankin' outfit."
"Sol, suppose somethin' happened to you," said Winter, gravely, as he fingered the money. "You know this is a sudden country."
"Sol, my parents are livin', an' though old, they're in good health.
They live in Illinois. I was brought up in western Illinois, town of Carthage. Went to school there till I was fourteen. Then we moved to Nebraska. Dad went in for ranch-in' and lost all he invested. Then my folks went back home, but I stayed on, and drifted all over till I landed here."

"Sol, I always was curious about you—where you come from, if you had any folks. How old are you, Trueman?"

"Reckon I'll never see thirty-two again," returned Rock ruefully.

"Cowboy, you sure hide your age.
Fact is, you always was a mysterious cuss."

"To go on about the money. If anythin' should happen to me—Which I'm gambin' it won't—you tend this six thousand to my folks.
I'll leave the address with you. Also some papers and things for safekeepin'."

"An' how about the two thousand you're investin' with me?" queried Sol, with a smile.

"You can just forget about that."
Winter shook his lean old head sagaciously, almost sadly. "Sol, you were always a gambler. How did you ever make all this money?"

"Never did save it, Sol," returned Rock, with a laugh. "Went in with a pretty big rancher in Texas. He had enemies—one of them a sure-enough crooked hombre. I just naturally gravitated toward removin' that hombre from the district. The general landscape down there, My partner did well after that. Then a railroad came our way. We sold out, and I found myself with ten thousand."

'Sooky'

JACKIE COOPER

back in his famous "Skippy" role in "Sooky," which opens at Rite theater tomorrow.

A name in "Sippy," becomes a reality in "Sooky," Paramount's filming of a new Percy Crosby story, which opens tomorrow at the Ritz Theatre.

The father about whom telltale Jackie Searl talked, but who never appeared in the first picture, appears in scenes for the new production.

He is portrayed by Leigh Allen, stage actor.

Allen makes his debut as a Crosby character in a play that reunites seven members of the "Sippy" cast for the projection of roles they created.

SPORTS ON PARADE

The Big-Spring Steers will not win the Sand Belt Basketball Association championship. Now don't be alarmed, by no means are we admitting that any school in West Texas has a better club, but simply breaking the news in our crude way that the Bovines have taken their nickel out of the six-club circuit in question. They have gotten mad and have taken their doll rags and gone home before the league ever opened its schedule. Which is just as well.
Maybe the San Angelo High Bobcats will win the trophy now.

"You'll be talking about THE CHAMP all winter."

Rock has a had gun record, Winter says tomorrow. And that isn't all of his reputation, either.

Nearly twelve thousand acres of land for helium gas production were purchased by the United States Helium plant at Amarillo recently.

Colorado affair, which is almost sure to attract the best quintets in this portion of the state. Sweetwater, San Angelo, and of course Colorado will be there, and that's enough as far as we're concerned.
There would certainly be a thrill in beating the Mustangs, the Bobcats, and the Wolves all in one day.

Yesterday the writer grew mathematically minded and compiled a job of statistics upon the two practices games in the local gym, which we are releasing for publication despite the unfavorableness of the figures. In their afternoon game with Comhoma the Bovines tried for the basket 70 times, were successful 21 times, there were 25 passes thrown haphazardly in wrong directions or to wrong men. Five perfect tosses were muffed by the receiver, the ball was lost on attempted dribbles eight times, and six times the ball was given to the other side as a result of "travelling," which means trying to rub with the pelota.

In the afternoon game the Steers connected with the basket 19 times out of 58 attempts, there were thirteen wild passes, five passes were missed, there was no "travelling," and 23 of the Ackerly plays were broken up. Forrester led in the defensive tactics with five interruptions, while Dyer, Morgan, and Reid each compiled four.

Shooting records for the five regulars for the day:

Tried Made Per.
Hopper	34	9	265
Morgan	29	14	483
Reid	14	8	364
Flowers	14	3	214
Forrester	10	3	331

On the all-state team of Jinx Tucker of the Waco Tribune, who has been connected with sports for so long that his all-star teams are given consideration by everyone connected with interscholastic football, we find the name of "Tack" Dennis as a right halfback.
Tucker in giving the position to Dennis wrote that he had been informed by reliable coaches and newspapermen that "the Big Spring back could do everything just a little better than anybody else."

to sex" plank, and she led the fight for its adoption; the minority report was signed by Sam W. Small, who led the fight against its adoption.

I never witnessed a more ferocious forensic contest. Miss Willard was pleading; Sam Small was vitriolic. "Never," he cried, "you can never cram down your throats the doctrine of the political equality of the sexes. The South will go to hell drunk, if need be, before she will ever consent to put the ballot into the hands of the nigger wench of the shanty and shacks of a subjective and inferior race."

Fewer, Less Severe Colds With "Colds-Control" Plan

Discovery By Makers of Vicks VapoRub Makes Possible Better "Control-of-Colds" in the Home.

HIGH COSTS REDUCED Relief from much of the burden imposed by colds is now available in every home. The Vicks Plan for better "Control-of-Colds" lessens the number, the severity and the duration of colds.

A New Vicks Discovery This Plan has been perfected by the makers of Vicks VapoRub - made possible by Vicks Nose & Throat Drops. Based on a new idea for "preventing" colds, this new Vicks formula is an ideal companion to VapoRub.
