This Message is intended for those owing us particularly

As I have resigned as manager of this firm, I would esteem it a personal favor if those whose accounts are due or past due will call and settle same or make some satisfactory arrangements, so that I may turn the business over to my successor with as few unpaid accounts as possible.

And while this is Jones talking to you, I wish to thank the people of the McLean country for the patronage they have accorded the Western Lumber Company during the time I have been manager here.

Very truly yours,

S. R. JONES, Manager

Western Lumber Co.

A Priceless Asset

When the assets of this bank are set forth in its statement, there is one valuable asset that is never mentioned. It is the priceless esteem and good-will of the people. The patronage of the people is an evidence of this good-will. We invite new accounts on the same basis as we are serving our present customers—safety, service and personal interest.

John Deere Row Binder

The Improved Binder With Power Carrier and Quick-Turn
Tongue Truck

The John Deere Row Binder is built to the standard of quality that has characterized John Deere implements for more than eighty years.

The binders we have in stock are equipped with the short binding attachment. The bottom packer has an extra long stroke and works close to the butts, a great advantage in short stuff.

With the power carrier, which is regularly furnished, the hard work of dumping the bundles is done away with. By merely pressing the foot trip lever, the power drive on the carrier is set in motion and the bundles are dumped beyond the path of the horses.

Results of Baptist Revival Gratifying

Interest in the revival meeting at the First Baptist church has continued to grow from the first service. Crowds are large and very attentive. There has been a large number of conversions, and 23 additions to the church, 16 by baptism. The church has been wonderfully strengthened.

Dr. Virgin, though not an evangelist in the modern sense of the word, has proven himself a great preacher of the doctrines of Christ. His sermons have all been inspiring and uplifting to the people.

The meeting will continue over Sunday, and greater results are yet expected.

MCLEAN PUBLIC SCHOOL WILL GET STATE AID IF EFFORT IS SUCCESSFUL

W. A. Cain, superintendent of the public school, is in Austin this week, presenting the school's claims for state aid. This is one of the things our school needs to make it what it ought to be, and everyone is hoping that he shall be successful in securing state money for us.

Homer West Putting in Restaurant

Homer West has arranged for more room to make his City Confectionary store longer, and is putting in an up-to-date restaurant. He is fitting up a long lunch counter, and will also put in some dining tables. Homer should do a good business, satisfying the appetites of the hungry, and we are glad to see this improvement.

Faculty Members for McLean Public School Have All Been Chosen

The school board has announced the names of faculty members in McLean Public School for this year, and presents a line-up that is very pleasing. All of the teachers have first grade certificates, several are university trained and some are graduates.

Superintendent W. A. Cain is known to many of the people already, having spent some time here recently, and his qualifications have been published in these columns.

S. M. Castleberry of Denton has been chosen for the principal's place. In addition to normal courses he has done university work, and his ability has been proven to be of high order.

Miss Laura Hill of Waco, a graduate of Baylor University, and Miss Lillian Abbott of McLean, who also has university training, will teach in the high school.

Miss Beulah Tucker of Tulia will have charge of the sixth grade. She comes well recommended as a very competent teacher.

Miss Lois Foster, who comes from Wichita Falls, will have charge of the fifth grade and the high fourth. Miss Foster also has university training.

Miss Ernestine Osborne of Jericho, an experienced and capable instructor, will teach the low fourth and the third grades.

Mrs. Jno. B. Vannoy, who did such satisfactory work with the small children last year, will have charge of the second grade.

Mrs. W. A. Cain, who has had considerable experience and much success in primary work, will conduct that department.

This year McLean Public School has one of the strongest faculties it has ever had, and the

What Is a Bank?

A bank is much more than merely a safe place for keeping funds, for handling checks, for collecting drafts, etc.

A bank should be regarded as the intimate helper, advisor and friend of the customer; ever ready to co-operate in every proper way, to extend necessary accommodation as required, and to protect his interest in every way that lies within its power.

This is the kind of service that we endeavor to render and we invite you to make your connection with us with such service in view.

Truth and Sincerity Necessary in Advertising

In a recent address at Dallas, Isham Osborne, of the advertising department of Titcher Greeting Company, emphasized the importance of advertising in the retail market of the country today. Stressing the need for eradicating shady and ambiguous words from advertising, Mr. Osborne declared that honesty and sincerity are the keystones of successful written sales matter.

"Advertising is not the greatest force in modern business," Mr. Osborne said, in opening his address. "Your merchandise on your shelves must back up your ads. You must never mislead the public in any particular. All business is built on the foundation of confidence. Confidence and good will are the two keynotes to success in any undertaking. Particularly is this true in business, and the only way to promote confidence and good will is by promising the public something in your advertising and then backing up your statements with the goods. The day of shady advertising is obsolete. There is absolutely no good to be gained by fooling the public—for such tactics destroy confidence in what you have to offer, and the public will refuse to place confidence in you again. That the best policy is honesty is nowhere proved so conclusively as in the advertising department of a retail store.

TELL CUSTOMERS TRUTH
"Customers must realize the truth in your words. If the goods you are offering them are slightly soiled—make it a point to say so in your ad, and say it where it can be seen. Do not try to hide the fact—but put it out where it is in plain sight. This will promote confidence and will make friends for your firm.

"WE'LL EAT WHAT WE CAN AND WHAT WE CAN'T WE'LL CAN"

is the slogan of the modern American woman. Before the war housewives had lost the good habit of canning. It was so easy to buy fruits and vegetables by the dozen cans, no one cared to take the time or strength to can their own. But now it's different—everyone is canning these days, for home canning has come to stay.

The zeal and enthusiasm with which the housewife has attacked the problem of home canning is largely due to the splendid equipment which is easily within the reach of every woman.

Run-off Primary to Be Held in Gray County

At a meeting of the Gray County Democratic Executive Committee, held in Lefors on Monday, it was decided that Gray County Democrats should be given the opportunity to have a voice in the choosing of men for the three state offices involved in the run-off primary Saturday, August 28th.

Because it is feared that Republicans will try to vote in the Democratic primary more than they usually do, the state executive committee has recommended that the election judges require all doubtful persons to make the following oath:

"I, the undersigned, do solemnly swear that I am a democrat, and will support the nominees of the Democratic party in the coming November election for the year 1920, for county, state and national officers, so help me God."

The order in which the names will appear on the ballot is as follows:

For Governor: Pat M. Neff; Joseph W. Bailey.

For Lieutenant Governor: W. A. Johnson; Lynch Davidson.

FOR SALE—I have a bunch of real estate junk which I would like to unload on somebody, consisting of a ten room house and four perfectly good lots located on Third and Prospect, covered with the most thrifty and healthy variety of weeds, which is a sure indication of oil, and a cracked cement sidewalk surrounding the same on two sides with a perfectly good well and windmill (water) on back end of lots.

I also have 24 additional town lots scattered on, around and in various different locations and places, all of which are in Seward county, Kansas, and none of which are in either Kismet, Arkalon or Taine, which I will give free of charge to any person or persons who will buy my property outright and pay cash for same.

Over 100 Conversions in Methodist Revival Which Closed Sunday

About 130 conversions and reclamations and 47 additions to the church resulted from the Methodist revival, which closed Sunday evening at the tabernacle. Besides the new members added to the Methodist church, 22 gave their names for membership in other churches, 11 of whom wished to become Baptists, 5 Presbyterians and 6 Nazarenes.

Rev. Albert C. Fisher, who did the preaching, has proven to be an evangelist of exceptional ability, and McLean Methodists should count themselves fortunate to have secured his services. Rev. Fisher, assisted by his wife, who is a most capable worker with the young people, and Fred McClesky, an excellent choir leader, make up an evangelistic team that is hard to beat.

Mrs. Fisher held separate meetings for the young people in the Presbyterian church an hour before the regular tabernacle service every evening, and on last Saturday organized an Epworth League with 57 members. Those who attended these young people's meetings were divided into two sides for an attendance contest, the losing side to entertain the winners at the close of the revival, and a marshmallow roast took place Tuesday afternoon with a large number present.

Dies to Strains of Favorite Tune

John F. Lenord, warden of the Maryland penitentiary, who humanized the institution, introducing music after a century of prohibition, died recently to the accompaniment of a favorite piece played by the prison band. Hundreds of convicts whose lives he made less hopeless are mourning his death.

An hour before the warden's death, Nicholas Smallwood, colored leader of the band, inquired whether the music was annoying the warden. Warden Leonard sent back the reply: "Certainly not. Tell Nick to keep on playing. I am enjoying it." The band kept on. It switched into one of the numbers which Warden Leonard enjoyed. It was the last piece he ever was to hear that band play.

When Warden Leonard took up his duties as head of the Maryland penitentiary in 1912, not a musical instrument had been heard in that building or the one preceding it for more than 100 years. Even a "mouth organ" was prohibited.

A few years ago a negro prisoner told the warden that his life was miserable without his mandolin, and the warden consented. Now the prison has a fine band.

Warden Leonard did away with striped uniforms, abolished the lock-step, permitted talking at meals, organized moving picture shows and indoor games. He gave the men permission to smoke pipes, cigars and cigarettes. — Ft. Worth Record.

Back Baby Dies

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Back had the misfortune to lose their first-born baby four days after it came, and all the people sympathize with them in their bereavement. The little one was born on Friday of last week, and died Tuesday afternoon.

The funeral was held at the cemetery Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, Elder A. C. Hoff officiating.

METHODIST YOUNG PEOPLE ORGANIZE EPWORTH LEAGUE

At the young people's meeting which was held at the Presbyterian church every evening while the Methodist revival was in progress, the young people of that church organized an Epworth League Saturday evening. There were 37 who gave their names for membership, and the following officers were elected: President—Harold Rippy. Secretary—Miss Frankie Mae Upham.

Treasurer—Miss Fern Upham. First Vice President—Miss Lorene Stanfield. Second Vice President—Miss Ethel McCurdy.

Third Vice President—Miss Gaynelle Wilson. Fourth Vice President—Miss Robbie Ashby.

Era Agent—Norman Johnston. Pianist—Miss Gaynelle Wilson.

The second vice president is the head of the devotional department, the third vice president leads the missionary activities, and the fourth vice president has charge of the entertainments and social activities of the League.

The Beacon is never short on advertising, altho there are some who do not believe in this modern way of doing business. We consider that when we handle a man's or a firm's advertising we are doing him a distinct favor. It is a great deal more to him than the few dollars we get out of it. If a man is progressive and up-to-the-minute he will advertise; if he is not he will sooner or later make either a complete failure or get tired of the hustling feature of the game and go out of business. This is an age of advertisers, locally and nationally. The Beacon has enjoyed a phenomenal run in selling space the past year. National advertising has more than doubled and trebled, and the same progressive wave has affected all classes. It pays to use advertising space, and the man who can get along without it, or thinks he can, is handicapped from the start. — Lockney Beacon.

Gray Co. Teachers to Attend Institute at Canyon This Year

This year Gray county teachers will again go to Canyon for institute, at which place instructors from 22 Panhandle counties will meet for five days, September 6, to 10.

An excellent program has been published and arrangements have been made for lectures by prominent men from a distance. This is expected to be the greatest teachers institute in the history of the Panhandle.

A Defeated Candidate

The following story is going the rounds about a defeated candidate:

"In my election experiences I lost 1394 hours of sleep thinking about the election, lost two front teeth and a whole lot of hair in a personal encounter with an opponent, donated one beef, four shoats and five sheep to a county barbecue, gave away two pair of suspenders, four calico dresses, five dollars in cash and sixteen baby rattlers. Kissed 250 babies, kindled 14 kitchen fires and put up six stoves. Walked 5,026 miles, shook hands with 9,508 people, told 10,101 lies, talked enough to make 1,000 volumes in print, attended sixteen revival meetings and was baptized four different times by immersion and twice some other way. Contributed $50 to foreign missions, made love to nine grass widows, hugged 49 old maids, got dog bit 39 times and was defeated."
