PLUMBING FOR SCHOOL IS A REAL ECONOMY

That it is costlier for McLean Public School to do without the sanitary plumbing system now being installed, than to have it, is easily seen by anyone fully acquainted with facts and conditions, according to members of the school board.

With equipment such as is being added, state aid can be secured for our school that we could not get otherwise, to the amount of $1,200 to $1,500. The cost of the improvements will amount to about $2,000. In two years we will have gotten enough money in state aid to pay for the plumbing and have $400 to $1,000 in excess of the cost.

The State Department of Education gives great importance to good and adequate toilet facilities, and most people give those in charge credit for knowing the value of the different things that go to help equip a school. If good toilets are necessary in the opinion of expert authorities, we need them in our school, and the only thing we should regret is that we have waited so long to put them in.

Another thing to consider is that during the past school term, the total sum of $288 was paid to the scavenger for sanitation, according to the school's financial statement in this week's News, and this expense is eliminated.

to teachers attending this institute. Tickets may be purchased September 3, 4 and 5, and these tickets are good until September 11. SCHOOL BOARD PUBLISHES STATEMENT OF FINANCES

This week the McLean Independent School District board of trustees are publishing in The News a statement of the school's finances, which shows the affairs to be in mighty good shape.

Contrary to the opinion some have that the district is heavily in debt, this statement shows a nice balance.

It is not often that school boards anywhere print financial statements, and that the local trustees see fit to render an account of their stewardship to the people whom they serve is gratifying.

Leaman Andrews and Miss Agnes Abbott returned Thursday of last week from a visit with relatives at Childress. They were accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Abbott of Childress and Miss May Reed of Louisiana.

YOUNG LOSES FOOT WHEN GUN FIRES ACCIDENTALLY

Hearing a commotion among the chickens, Mr. Young took his shotgun and went out to investigate the cause. Finding nothing, he leaned the gun against a coal bin, and was stooping over a chicken coop to close the same, when his dog knocked the gun over, causing it to fire. The full load went through his left hand, which was close to the muzzle, and struck his ankle, mangleing it frightfully. Help was called immediately, and the wounds were dressed. Mr. Young suffered so intensely that it was about an hour before he could be moved into the house.

He was aken in an automobile to Amarillo, where the foot was amputated, about six inches below the knee. Doctors think the hand can be saved. Mrs. Young, who returned from Amarillo Wednesday night, says she left him resting well, and with good prospects for quick recovery, so doctors say.

Quattlebaum and wife of Elk City, Okla.; Hughes Quattlebaum, wife and children, Harry and Bettie Lillian, of Emporia, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Elvin McClain and son, Charles Aubrey, of Amarillo; Miss Clarice and Joe Fuller and Miss Lillian Quattlebaum.

Mr. and Mrs. Quattlebaum are to be congratulated upon being able to see their family all at home once more.—Clarendon News.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lindsey of Norman, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Lyle of Shamrock visited in the Sherman Deatherage home Sunday.

THERE ARE FIFTY-TWO BUSINESS CONCERNS IN McLEAN—COUNT 'EM

How many firms are there doing business in McLean who are regularly and actively transacting business in town? One man, when asked this week, said here were about twenty-five or thirty. When told that there is actually as many as fifty, he wouldn't believe it. But there are 52.

Here they are; count 'em.

47. W. M. Hinton, grain dealer.
48. Uncle Sam, post office.
49. Magnolia Petroleum Co.
50. Western Union Telegraph Co.
51. American Express Co.
52. Some may object to the Magnolia Petroleum Co., Western Union Telegraph Co., and the American Express Co., as well as the postoffice and railroad company being classed as among the town's business concerns, but they are nevertheless. Cash & Peters handle the Magnolia interests here, but they act as agents for the company, and not as local dealers in oils and gasoline. B. L. Burk is agent for the Rock Island, the Western Union and American Express, but he draws separate salaries and commissions from each of them, and even though all three have their offices in the same room, they are as separate in all other respects as the jewelry store and the tailor shop. And the postoffice is as much a business as it is a necessity.

"I AM A CHUMP; I KNOW IT"

Canadian Record: Printers wages have not reduced any. A good printer still commands as high a salary as he has been receiving for the past three years. There is a labor strike now in the Typographical Union. This strike has been in force for several weeks and a settlement is not in sight. As a result many shops that were union are now operating as open shops. But this has not reduced wages any. Good printers still command good salaries, and the prices of printing must be fixed to meet the operating expense as based on the salary paid. A country publisher who puts his prices down to a pre-war basis and does the work himself is merely saying to the public:

"Yes, you can get printing at my shop cheaper. I pay myself $15.00—that's all I value myself at. If I hired a printer he would cost me between $30 and $40 per week. I would rather put my prices down to a mere bread and butter diet and work for $15 per week than to place a value on myself equal to that of a common printer who drifts from shop to shop. I am a chump and I know it, but I just love to think that I am a cheap man. The community doesn't respect a cheap, hand to mouth, object of charity home printer, but I am satisfied with a few crumbs from the tables of men who are rated as successes in the business world."

The home printer with such an ideal in life is the only fellow who in the face of the still high operating expenses, can come down to pre-war prices. The Record editor is one who labors under the idea that a newspaper publisher has just as much right to expect proper remuneration for the investment put into his business and for the hours of labor he gives to that business, as does the big merchant, the banker and the professional man. Whenever it becomes necessary for us to surrender that ideal we will get out of the business. In the old days when men worked for 50c a day the printer did not object to being handed about as an object of charity, but, quoting the chautauqua lecturer, "Times have changed."

And this does not mean to carry by inference or otherwise that there are not courtesies due the editor for which the donor will receive many times full value in free-will publicity, on which there can be no commercial value placed. These courtesies are due the editor where editorial courtesies are expected.

NO EXCUSE FOR RAISING RUNTS

To obtain the most rapid growth and best development of live stock keep good stock and see that nothing checks its growth from the time it is born. This is the method by which a North Dakota farmer prevents runts among his animals.

In a letter on this subject to the United States Department of Agriculture, which has been studying the causes and prevention of undersized animals, he says: "In the forty years of my farming and breeding and raising live stock of all kinds, I do not remember a runt in any class or breed. I have always been a liberal feeder and a good caretaker. Besides, all stock had access to good, fresh water at all times. With this, in addition to good shelter and ventilation, it seems that my young stock would not stop growing from the time they were born. Use good judgment in feeding, and don't neglect the details."

A farmer in Vermont writes: "A well-bred animal well cared for will not produce runts. There is absolutely no excuse for one in live stock or poultry. By well-bred live stock, I mean strong, healthy stock, well taken care of for several generations, and bred for constitution. This has been my experience from boyhood, first with rabbits and game fowls and later with sheep, hogs, horses, and cattle. An accident to a well-bred and healthy animal will, if the accident occurs before it reaches maturity, affect its size but not its productive capacity. That is, it will not influence its ability to produce such young as it would have if no accident had occurred. Eliminate all females that are not good mothers, and you will soon stamp the whole herd with constitution. Then with care, which means attention and feed, your runts will fail to materialize."—Aberdeen-Angus Journal.

A SERIOUS APHPHAIR

Under the heading, "Some Folks Are Funny but Can't Help It," an exchange prints the following: "That it is not absolutely necessary to have a full supply of every letter in the alphabet in order to print a readable article is proven by the following editorial with f's and k's missing produced by the Watchman-Examiner: "We begin the publication of the Rocay Mountain Cyclone, some phew diphiculties in the way. The phounders phrom whom we bought our outphit phor this printing ophice phailed to supply us with the eph's and cay's, and it will be phour or phive weex bephore we get any. We have ordered the missing letters. We don't lique the loox uv this variety uv spelling any better than our readers, but mistax will happen in the best regulated phamilies and iph the c's, x's and ph's hold out we shall ceep (sound the c hard) the Cyclone whirling aphter a phashion till the sorts arrive. It is no joke to us—it's a serious apphaair."

SENSE AND NONSENSE

A West Virginia farmer, who seems to be something of a wit, offers the following suggestions to dairymen under the title: "How to Fail in a Dairy." There is so much real sense in this apparent nonsense that we are glad to pass the suggestion along to our readers, as follows: "Don't weigh your milk, for then you might have to figure and think. Feed the cows timothy hay—it is so good for race horses. Cow-testing associations are needless—they show how to save and know. Keep the barn hot—cows are like woodchucks. Don't leave many windows in the barn—the hired man might look out. Keep water ice cold—shivering gives the cows exercise. Avoid heavy milkers—they consume too much valuable time." This reminds us of a similar line of reasoning advanced by an Iowa farmer, who said: "Don't strike a mean cow with a milkstool—it might break the stool." There used to be a lot of mean cows on the farm, and generally there was a mean hired man or farmer along with them. There was once a farmer who was reputed to keep the corn knife ready while doing the milking. If a cow switched him three times in the face, she never did it again. He had a habit of cutting off her tail so that she looked like a fox terrier dog or a fine coach horse.

One of the reassuring evidences of our civilization getting better all the time is the increased attention given to the cows. We have come to provide for them and their comfort in a more humane way because we have found that gentleness and courtesy is the policy with cows. It pays because they reward us with more profit. A good sign to hang in the dairy barn is one originated by a New York farmer: "Don't swear! Treat every cow as if she were a lady."—Exchange

MOONLIGHT PICNIC

A crowd of young people, with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Upham, Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Holloway and Mesdames Davis, Cubine, Russell and Pittman as chaperones, enjoyed a moonlight picnic and supper on Skillet creek Monday evening. A very delightful time was spent.

Homer and Miss Lola Abbott and Miss May Reed motored to Clarendon Sunday to take Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Abbott, who were returning to their home in Childress.

HAD AN INKLING

Answers: "Agnes, does thou love me?" asked a Quaker youth of one at whose shrine his heart's holiest feelings had been offered up.

"Why, Jack," she answered, with a downcast look of her eyes, "we are commanded to love one another, are we not?"

"Ay, Agnes, but does thee regard me with the feeling the world calls love?"

"I hardly know what to tell thee, Jack. I have greatly feared that my heart is an erring one. I have tried to bestow my love on all, but I have sometimes thought perhaps that thee was getting more than thy share."—Exchange.

CAR STOLEN AND BURNED. W. H. Goodnight had the misfortune to lose his Ford car Wednesday night, when it was stolen out of his garage. But the unusual part of the matter was that the thief had as bad luck as did Mr. Goodnight, and failed to get the car out of the city, it catching fire and being destroyed.

damaged by fire, the top and upholstery being burned off and the tires ruined. The cap was off the gasoline tank and it is supposed that the thief, on reaching the outskirts of the city, where the car was found, struck a match to see how much gas was in the tank, and the car was set on fire.—Memphis Herald.

Just One Implement

$698 Delivered in McLean

There is no argument against the Fordson Tractor. It has proven every claim made for it and more. Most of the people who tried to knock the Fordson Tractor when it first came out are now buying and boosting them. Of course one Fordson cannot turn the Universe over, but if you should want that done, just hitch on two.

Then next in importance is the kind of implement that you buy for the Fordson. We have found from experience that the recommended implement for the Tractor is, beyond any question, the most economical and efficient and will do the work better and cheaper than any other. If Mr. Ford could design a Tractor that has no competition, certainly he is able to recommend a line of implements that would perform the best service for the least money.

Be sure you are right—then go ahead.

These Are Fighting Times

There was a time when business came without courting—now it means a fight, and a good stiff one, to bring home the bacon.

And how many are really fighting—how many are using all legitimate weapons to get what business there is and to be in a position to reap the harvest when it comes, as it surely must and will?

ARE YOU ONE OF THE FIGHTERS?

Are you really satisfied with the effort you are putting forth to get more business and to hold what you already have?

One time Sapolio was the most widely used cleaning compound offered and sold on the American market. Today—try to buy a package.

Sunny Jim used to be a familiar personage in everyday life. Ever hear of him now?

And there are thousands of other examples where manufacturers, jobbers and retailers thought they needed no further publicity for they were so well known. They became satisfied. They stopped progressing and started slipping.

ARE YOU ONE WHO IS SLIPPING?

Some argue both ways. When business is good "what's the use of advertising?" When business is bad "what's the use of advertising?" And yet consistent and persistent advertising has made and held the big business of the world—and history keeps repeating itself.

ARE YOU MAKING THE MOST OF THE PRESENT SITUATION?

Are you drawing in your horns and mistakenly waiting until times get better or are you "hitting the ball," fighting from every angle, making the most of the situation, making today pay a little more than today's cost? Are you really doing all that you can to make things better or are you encouraging the present conditions by falling into the same sleep that you condemn in others? Be honest with yourself—what's the matter with you?

STIMULATE YOURSELF AND YOUR BUSINESS THRU ADVERTISING

Take advantage of every possible way of making good with your customers and the many more who will be attracted to you when you come alive—while the other fellow keeps sleeping. Use every form of advertising that will hook you up with what business there is now and what the future holds in the way of increased business. Be ready and waiting for the change.

USE NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

There is no form of advertising offered any business man which returns as big results for the amount INVESTED as in newspaper advertising. It is not possible for you to reach so many, hold their attention at a time when they are in a mood for reading in their own homes, at anything like the low cost of newspaper advertising. The News goes into the homes whose business you want and must have in order to survive.

USE DIRECT MAIL ADVERTISING

ABRAHAM TOLD 'EM

A. T. Abraham, shoe retailer in Lake City, Minn., got tired of being "picked on." He couldn't complacently allow the public to continue hawking out the retailer, blaming him for all the economic troubles of the country and damning him as a selfish profiteer and an obstruction to the return of prosperity.

His nature is not of that flabby texture that makes a man meekly submit to being cussed. So he woke up the town with an advertisement that shocked the public into attention and got the community to talking about him and his store. It made folks stop and think—and when you can do that you are doing good advertising.

In the four-column advertisement in black-face type the Abraham store said:

"The woods are full of amateur economists who claim that prices of clothing, underwear, hosiery, shirts, overalls, sweaters and shoes will soon return to pre-war levels.

"Will they?"

"Yes, they sure will.

"When hard coal is back to $9 a ton.

"When railroad fares are back to two cents a mile.

"When house rent is back to $25 a month.

"When gasoline is back to ten cents a gallon.

"When telephone rates are back to $1 a month.

"When a square meal is back to a quarter.

"When labor is back to $2 a day.

"When gas is back to 90 cents.

"When shaves are back to ten cents.

"When the freight rate from New York, now $1.84, is back to 97 cents.

"When street car fares are back to a nickel.

"When money is back to 5 per cent.

"When cooks are back to $5 a week.

"When haircuts are back to a quarter.

"When movies are back to a nickel.

"When a car wash is back to a dollar.

"When ice cream is back to a dime.

"When a doctor's call is back to two backs.

"When a newspaper is back to a penny."

MOTHER OF FORMER NEWS EDITOR DIES

On August 5th, Mrs. Mittie Morgan, mother of A. G. Richardson, former publisher of The McLean News, died at the home of her daughter in Bowie.

She visited in McLean several times, and is well known to a large number of our people. She was one of the pioneer newspaper women of the Panhandle, and the Randall County News, Canyon, says of her: "Mrs. Morgan will be remembered by all of the old time residents of Canyon and Randall county as the founder of the Canyon Stayer, the name which was later changed to the Canyon City News, and still a little later to the Randall County News.

"Mrs. Morgan was a true type of pioneer which cut out this great empire in Northwest Texas. She was forceful of character, keen of intellect, vivid in imagination, resourceful in meeting and solving the serious problems which confronted the early settler.

"After starting the Stayer in 1896, she conducted the paper for two years and then moved to Amarillo, launching the weekly Star, which later became the first daily paper in that city, the Evening Star. Since that time she has been identified with the publication of several prominent newspapers and magazines.

"A few years ago she moved with her husband to Houston, where they have since made their home. Mrs. Morgan has a host of friends all over the Panhandle who are deeply grieved to hear of her death."

GAME WARDEN APPOINTED FOR SHAMROCK AREA

Shamrock, Aug. 15.—A game warden has been recently appointed here, it became known today, at the solicitation of local sportsmen and also upon advice of the state game warden. From reports it appears that a large number of non-resident hunters have been coming here daily for the past few weeks and killing prairie chickens by the hundred. One farmer states that nearly 200 prairie chickens had been killed on his farm in one day. This, the newly appointed game warden says, must be stopped at once, and all persons found guilty of violating the game laws will be severely punished.

MANY COUNTIES IN TEXAS SECURED THEIR NAMES FROM EARLY STATESMEN

Early statesmen of Texas gave their names to seventeen counties of the state. The men and their offices and achievements were:

Kenneth L. Anderson, district attorney and vice president of the Texas republic; Barnard E. Bee, secretary of war and secretary of state; Peter H. Bell, soldier; Stephen Crosby, chief clerk in the land office; General James Hamilton, as governor of South Carolina, helped Texas; J. Pickney Henderson, first governor of the state; Volney E. Howard, legislator and judge; General Memucan Hunt, soldier, legislator and secretary of navy; Robert A. Irion, senator; W. H. and P. C. Clark, both soldiers and legislators.

Collin McKinney, for whom Collin county was named, sat in the first four congresses of the republic of Texas. He was a signer of the Texas declaration of independence and helped to frame the Texas constitution. McKinney, the county seat, was also named in his honor.

Dr. Anson Jones, soldier, secretary of state and president of the republic; David S. Kaufman, legislator and congressman; Mirabeau B. Lamar, soldier and second president of the republic; Emory Rain, legislator; Isaac Van Zandt, congressman; James C. Wilson, soldier; and George T. Wood, ranger and soldier.

Early jurists of Texas were honored in the naming of the state's counties. They were:

Henry P. Brewster, James T. Collingsworth, James W. Dallam, Stockton P. Donley, Benjamin C. Franklin, Peter W. Gray, John M. Hansford, Oliver S. Hartley, Judge Hemphill, Anderson Hutchinson, Abner S. Lipscomb, John T. Mills, W. B. Ochiltree, Williamson S. Oldham, John S. and O. M. Roberts, General James Webb and Royal T. Wheeler.

Under the colonization laws of 1841, Henry Castro, empresario, introduced settlers into Texas. Castro county was named for him.

The annexation of Texas and the Mexican war are recalled in the names of eleven counties. They are Baylor, Calhoun, Cass, Dallas, Gillespie, Hays, Polk, Tyler, Upshur, Walker and Wise.

Henry W. Baylor was a soldier in the Mexican war. John C. Calhoun prepared the first annexation treaty, which was rejected. General Lewis Cass, as United States senator from Michigan, helped in the annexation of Texas. George L. Dallas, senator from Pennsylvania, advocated Texas annexation. Richard A. Gillespie was a soldier, as was John C. Hays. Polk and Tyler counties were named for the two presidents of the United States, James K. Polk and John Tyler.

Abel Packer Upshur negotiated for annexation of Texas while secretary of state under President Tyler. Walker county was named for Samuel H. Walker, state ranger. Henry A. Wise, congressman from Virginia, advocated Texas annexation.

Will Meadors and wife of Clarendon were here Monday, visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Franklin.

HOCKLEY COUNTY SEEKS NAME FOR NEW CAPITAL

Lubbock.—The work on the courthouse at the county seat of Hockley, which, by the way, has not been able to find a name that will suit the postoffice authorities in Washington, is rapidly being completed.

It will be a two-story frame building built on a lot on a side street, in order that it may be easily converted into a store building when they build their brick building after a few years. It is the first building erected in this, the "City Without a Name."

Mrs. Belle Haynes and children, who have made their home with their uncle, Frank Haynes, for the past few months, left last Thursday for their ranch in Lampasas county.

TWINS NUMEROUS AT TULIA

Tulia.—The astrologist who foretold the birth of many twins during the year 1921, surely was right, as far as Tulia is concerned. For four consecutive days of the last week twins were born in or near Tulia. A local merchant, who started to give cash prizes to every set of twins born in Swisher county, had to stop the donations. They were exceeding the income from his business.

HON. JOHN WANAMAKER

John Wanamaker has completed sixty years of service as a merchant. Wanamaker was the first big merchant to discover the potentialities of regular systematic newspaper advertising. It would require police details in Philadelphia and New York to keep him out of newspaper offices. And the only reason under the sun why he likes advertising is that it increases business for his stores. Whether times are good or bad, Wanamaker's advertisements always appear in the New York and Philadelphia papers.—Hunt County Times.

Mr. Wanamaker became a merchant before he became an advertiser. He began as a quite small merchant, but was unwilling to remain small. He experimented with advertising at a time when most of his competitors, themselves small merchants, were convinced that advertising didn't pay. John Wanamaker was not willing to give his valuable time and valuable brains and unusual business capacity to a store which depended upon the "drop-in" trade, or upon the handshaking method then in vogue. Wanamaker believed there was a better and bigger way to attract custom than by standing at his door and endeavoring to intrigue the passers-by. So he began putting little special announcements into the newspapers. He put good sense into the ads before he put the ads into the papers. The public responded, in a faint but perceptible degree. Therefore, he put more ads and bigger ads. Soon he em-played a man to do nothing but attend to his advertising. Everybody knows that John Wanamaker not only showed his competitors how to sell goods, but how to advertise. To imagine John Wanamaker running a store which carried no goods that would bear advertising, or prices that he preferred the public not to know, is to conceive of the Egyptian pyramids swimming the Nile. All merchants can't be Wanamakers. But it looks like every merchant would wish not to be like Mr. Wanamaker's first competitors, who disappeared into unadvertised obscurity a generation ago.—State Press in Dallas News.

An Interesting Predicament

A couple of wheat buyers have locked horns over a shipment of grain from a small railroad station in this county, which promises to be of much interest if it gets into court. It is stated that three grain cars were set out, two for one shipper, which he proceeded to load, and one for the other. Before the other buyer got around to it, the two car man, he claims, started loading the third car, and when the second shipper arrived with about 300 bushels, the car was nearly loaded. Number Two loaded his 300 bushels on top of what Number One had put in the car. Number Two wanted billing to Altus, while Number One wanted billing to Galveston or some other point. The railroad will not issue a bill of lading to either of the men
