ANOTHER 'LIVE OUTFIT' IS MCLEAN FAIR ASSOCIATION

The McLean Fair Association is planning some big things, judging from the way prominent members of it talk, and from the steps that are being taken since its organization.

Plans are now being worked out to take over the buildings constructed by the Pure-bred Livestock Association and add to them so that adequate housing facilities may be had for all manner of exhibits, sales, etc., that may be held here. To do this, a subscription list has been started, and amounts ranging from $5 to $25 have been pledged by various firms and individuals. The list is as yet incomplete, and it is expected that a large number of others will also contribute.

A suggestion that is gaining popularity and which will doubtless be adopted, is that the Fair Association be incorporated under the laws of Texas and stock issued to those who contribute to the fund mentioned above. It is pointed out that the sum necessary to pay for the buildings will not be so large, so that nobody need be burdened, and that by incorporating, the personal liability of each stockholder will be limited. At the meeting Monday evening J. S. Howard was directed to make the necessary inquiries in regard to obtaining a corporation charter.

The Fair Association thus organized will mean much to the farmers and stockmen of the McLean country as well as to the commercial interests. It is very necessary, says C. L. Cooke, president of the Association, that there be some well organized and duly authorized body to work through and with if we are to have successful community fairs, boys' and girls' calf pig and other clubs, and it will be better for all parties concerned if the sale pavilion used in case of livestock sales shall be owned by some such organization as a fair association.

Already there are three sales of pure bred animals that are to be expected every year hereafter. The Livestock Association is to hold two hog sales a year, and doubtless will soon begin to hold sales of other kinds. Chas. Carpenter held his first sale of Hereford cattle recently, and announces the intention of making an annual event. Other Hereford breeders may be expected to follow Mr. Carpenter's example, and the time may come when we will be having a pure bred sale of some sort here every month or so.

Following are the subscribers to the Fair Association Fund, as reported to The News Wednesday evening, together with the amounts subscribed by each. We are expecting to publish another list next week, and perhaps still another later:

American National Bank $25; D. M. Graham $25; J. R. Hindman $25; T. J. Coffey $25; W. L. Haynes $25; C. M. Carpenter $10; R. O. Dunkle $10; W. T. Wilson $25; C. E. Thompson $25; Forbis, Stone & Co. $25; W. B. Upham $25; J. M. Carpenter $25; Jno. Kibler $25; Dr. W. C. Montgomery $5; Erwin Drug Co. $25; John Mertel $5; A. A. Callahan $10; M. D. Bentley $5; City Pharmacy $10; Wood Hindman $5.

The secretary, D. M. Graham, will be glad to receive subscriptions at any and all times. Night phone 103.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

One hundred forty-eight present at Sunday school last Sunday morning. Let's make it two hundred next Sunday. Ashby and his helpers are on the job, watch them do it. "Pep" is the word.

A fine crowd at both services last Sunday. Are you a Christian? Show your faith by your works. Let's jam the house next Sunday. Theme for the morning hour is "The Christian's Vision." At 7 p. m. a special service for young people. The theme is "The Life More Abundant." J. S. HUCKABEE, Pastor.

A. R. Calaway and Mr. Reeves of Alanreed were in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Jones of Ramsdell were in the city Monday.

Tom Merritt of Pampa was in the city the latter part of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George of Alanreed were in town Monday shopping.

Miss Altha Bridge returned last week from a visit in Quannah.

POULTRY SHOW IN AMARILLO DECEMBER 7TH TO 12TH

Amarillo, Oct. 26.—The Panhandle Plains Tri-State Poultry Show is to be held at Amarillo Dec. 7th to 12th. The poultry enthusiasts are reviving the old Panhandle Poultry Association under the title of the Panhandle-Plains Tri-State Poultry Show, which includes in its territory the Panhandle of Oklahoma, the eastern portion of New Mexico and the 38 Panhandle and South Plains counties of Texas. The purpose of the organization is to build up enthusiastic interest in the poultry industry.

The officers of the new Association are: W. W. McDonald, president; H. W. Duke, secretary-treasurer; A. P. Morrow, superintendent; Howard A. Ferguson, Clyde C. Cockrill and Frank Kiersey, program and publicity committee; all of whom are well known to the poultry industry throughout this entire section.

There is at present a marked interest in the poultry industry in this part of the country, and it is to be hoped that with the plans now under way the possibilities will be greatly enlarged, and the total production of eggs and fowls for market increased.

Entries will be received from all persons residing within the above defined territory, and the catalog and premium list will be ready for distribution in about ten days, and any one desiring a copy may obtain one by writing to H. W. Duke, secretary-treasurer.

The Poultry Show will be conducted under A. P. A. regulations, and will be judged by men authorized by that organization.

Amarillo is putting up about $1000, and it is hoped that this sum will be added to by various other means so as to make the interest in the competitive exhibits very keen.

Several communities have given the Association their indorsement and pledged their support. This is indicative of a real poultry exhibit, and it is hoped that all of the communities within the territory defined will avail themselves of this opportunity to revive an interest in an industry that means much to the industrial development of the country.

125 letters have been mailed to manufacturers of poultry supplies, and indications are that their support will be 100 per cent, and it is probable that they will have their expert representatives attending the show to explain the latest development in the way of poultry supplies.

T. J. Coffey went to Amarillo Thursday morning to attend a meeting of Panhandle Dry Goods merchants, at which it is planned to organize a permanent association.

MANY AT PRAYER MEETING; PREACHER POUNDED LATER

After a few months of dormancy, the Methodist prayer meeting was well attended Wednesday evening, there being 48 people present, some of whom no doubt came from ulterior motives, judging from what transpired later.

The meeting was led by the pastor, Rev. J. S. Huckabee, who suggested at the beginning that the prayer meeting should be organized and officers elected. Accordingly, Clay E. Thompson was elected president and Miss Frankie Mae Upham secretary and publicity agent.

As had been previously announced, scripture texts beginning with the letter A were called for. 31 responded, and a variety of quotations was recited, which added much to the interest as well as to furnish food for reflection that should, if used thoroughly, last much longer than till the next meeting.

After prayer meeting was over, the congregation stormed the parsonage, where they loaded the dining table with a quantity of all manner of things good to eat. Rev. Huckabee seemed to be overcome with surprise, and the manner in which he thanked the people showed that he certainly was much obliged to them, and caused some to wonder if he was accustomed to such treatment. But news received this week from whence he came informs us that the people in that village are also masters of the gentle art of pounding the preacher.

GIRLS CLUBS TO BE STARTED IN MCLEAN

R. O. Dunkle, county agent of Gray county, and Miss Winters, county demonstrator, visited the McLean school Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Dunkle talked to the boys about cattle and hog raising, and Miss Winters made all preliminary arrangements for the organization of several clubs. The clubs which she is planning to organize among the girls include poultry, sewing, home economics, cooking and canning.

Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Langley left Tuesday for their home in Rogers, Ark., after an extended visit with friends in McLean. The News will follow them.

Miss Bess Winters, county home demonstrator, of Pampa, was in McLean this week.

County Farm Agent R. O. Dunkle went to Clarendon Saturday, returning Sunday.

Mrs. L. Moody returned Friday from Amarillo.

I. C. C. ORDER HALTS RATE REDUCTION EFFORT

Efforts on the part of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce to secure lower freight rates on maize and kafir have been stopped, on account of an order from the Interstate Commerce Commission calling for a reduction within the next thirty days, according to a circular letter which County Commissioner M. M. Newman received this week from F. R. Jamison, secretary of the P.-P. C. of C., which we print below:

"Dear Sir: There have been numerous responses to our letter of October 15, 1921, asking us to proceed to secure reduced rates for handling the kafir and maize situation of this country.

"Owing to the reduction which the railroad will make effective within the next 30 days by order of the Interstate Commerce Commission, we deem it advisable not to proceed further with this matter."

SENIOR B. Y. P. U.

The Senior B. Y. P. U. meeting Sunday evening will be led by Miss Lillian Abbott. The subject is A Survey of Our Missionary Progress Through the 75 Million Campaign, discussed as follows:

Introduction and scripture reading by leader.

Vocal quartet.

The Inactive Church Membership Problem—Eunice Floyd.

The Progress of the Campaign in Our Church—T. A. Landers.

In Our Foreign Mission Work—Leman Andrews.

How Can We Help Japan?—Eunice Stratton.

In Our Home Mission Work—Mr. Appling.

In Our State Mission Work—Ozella Hunt.

The Campaign Blesses Our Baptist Schools—Judson Cobb.

Hospitals and Orphanages Profit—Mrs. Kunkel.

We Must Win—Mrs. Savage.

REV. GARLAND SHELL TO PREACH HERE SUNDAY

Rev. Garland Shell of Childress will preach at the Presbyterian church Sunday at 11 a. m.

Rev. Shell is a brother to Earle Shell, manager of the City Pharmacy, and has attained considerable prominence in his church in this part of the country.

Local Presbyterians extend a cordial invitation to everyone to come out and hear him.

Paul, B. L. Jr., and little Miss Virginia Burk visited their grandparents at Texola, Okla., Saturday and Sunday.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION TRAINS THE WHOLE CHILD

"The practical education trains the whole child: Head, to think, to plan, to reason; heart, to be kind, to be true, to be sympathetic; hands, to be useful, to be helpful, to be skillful; health, to resist disease, to enjoy life, to make efficient," says R. O. Dunkle, county farm demonstration agent.

"It educates the whole boy. Too many people mistake schooling for education. People who have a college degree, but who cannot split wood or cook a beefsteak, are not educated; they are simply schooled.

"Indeed, the scholar whose education has been confined to books is fortunate if he has not acquired such habits of mind and muscle that he cannot learn the useful things of life.

"Habits are stubborn things. If we deaden our minds by feeding them trash, petty information, unimportant names, items which stunt their growth, it is a hard thing to overthrow these habits and establish those worth while.

"On the other hand, if the muscles are trained to work with the head, the youth has a heritage that is priceless.

"We can never say that we have learned anything until it becomes a part of us, a habit of mind and muscle, which is easier to follow than to break away from.

"The legend of the boys' and girls' clubs of Gray county is a good expression of right education. Train the head, heart, hands and health so that mind and muscle work together as a team, and so make the better citizen necessary to advance civilization.

"The first duty of a democracy is to educate its people.

"Encourage the boys and girls to become club members. Clubs are now being organized over the county by Miss Winters, the home demonstration agent, and R. O. Dunkle, the farm demonstration agent."

FORMER MCLEAN PASTOR GETS WARM RECEPTION

The News is in receipt of a letter from Rev. B. J. Osborn, former Methodist pastor, who was recently transferred to Munday, Knox county, from which place our present pastor, Rev. J. S. Huckabee, comes.

Bro. Osborn says: "We arrived in our new charge safe and sound. Found as fine class of people as it has ever been our privilege to serve. They pounced us the second night we were here. The official board is composed of 18 men, the leading business men of the town. They met last Tuesday night and set the salary at $2000, and will pay monthly."

McLean friends of Rev. Osborn and family will be glad to read that they have moved to so good a people, who treat their preachers as well as McLean people are accustomed. That Bro. Osborn found such a live church organization also speaks well for the former Munday pastor, who now serves McLean church.

MARKETING FARM PRODUCTS UPON A CO-OPERATIVE BASIS

Austin, Oct. 26.—"No system that has ever been evolved to market gradually and in orderly fashion the products of the farm, ranch and orchard can be operated with success unless behind that marketing system there stands a system of substantial, bonded warehouses or elevators in which to store and conserve these products of the soil until the right buyer at the right price has been found."

This, in substance, was the statement of Charles E. Baughman, Commissioner of Markets and Warehouses, here today during a conference of the heads of his division, at which the Panhandle section of Texas and its lack of storage facilities for its wonderful crops of wheat and other grains, came in for consideration. A campaign to increase storage facilities in northwest Texas was determined upon during the conference, the campaign to begin the first of the year.

"I understand that a movement is already on foot in the Panhandle for the perfecting of county organizations which plan to market the crops of that region in an orderly way and upon a co-operative basis," continued the commissioner. "I feel that it is the part of this department, in no niggardly fashion, to offer the people of that section our fullest co-operation in the matter of organizing, wherever they are needed, state bonded elevators in which to store for an indefinite time the grains they produce, thus making more certain of success any plan of co-operative marketing which the farmers of that region may subscribe to."

Commissioner Baughman, S. M. Ramsey, director of Warehouses, and Judge T. W. McBride of the Warehouse Division, recently spent several days in Dallas during which they called on officers of the Texas Farm Bureau and discussed problems which they have in common. They found the officers of the Texas Farm Bureau strongly behind the new movement for the perfection of a sturdy system of permanent warehouses and elevators in the state.

Mr. Baughman further stated that letters sent to a number of leading organizations in the Panhandle by the Warehouse Division of the Department had brought out the fact that the people of that section are keenly interested in finding a way to lessen the margin of difference between the price paid to the farmer for his products and the ultimate price paid for these same products by the consumer.

Concluding his remarks at this conference, Mr. Baughman further declared that the warehouse division of the Markets and Warehouse Department stood ready, at any time, to send a special representative to any city within the state to assist in the organization of permanent bonded warehouses or elevators. In fact, he made the request that the entire personnel of the field force of the several divisions of this Department take advantage of every opportunity to furnish the office with any information that would aid the Department in rendering assistance to the producer of every section of the state.

Where Real News Is Paramount

In the country newspaper sensations, scandals—the recording of human misery—is almost taboo. At least is certainly secondary to the printing of real news about people and things.

For the province of the country paper—your Home Town Paper—is to give community interests first place, printing the more or less sensational personal items only when necessary to keep faith with subscribers who pay for ALL the news.

Therefore, your Home Town Paper can give you, in full measure and overflowing, 100 per cent pure news about the people in whom you are most interested—your relatives and friends of the Old Home Town.

MERCHANTS IN OKLAHOMA ALSO WANT LOCAL PAPER TO CUT PRINTING PRICES

It now seems that The McLean News is not the only country newspaper that is expected by some to meet cut-price competition from any and everywhere, judging from an article on the front page of last week's Hammon (Okla.) Advocate. The Advocate editor says some things Newsman wouldn't say, and also some things to which we heartily agree. The article follows:

"One of our local merchants has adopted as his motto, 'Get your printing done out of town if you can get it done cheaper.' As a proof of his belief in this motto, he came to the Advocate office the other day and secured prices on some handbills, about a thousand, and then had them printed at Clinton because he could get them cheaper. The handbills were distributed on the streets Saturday, and we naturally inquired why he did not have them printed at home. He explained the situation to us in a very few words, which boiled down amounted to this: 'Don't patronize home industry if you can buy cheaper out of town.'

"This is a free country, and a person can do as he pleases as long as he stays inside the law, so we are not kicking because this merchant wishes to exercise his right as a free born American citizen. He can buy his printing in China as far as we care, and we assure him we do not want his future business at any price, but there are a few points we wish to touch on for the edification of any other of our merchants who may get this 'Buy It Out of Town' bee in their bonnet.

"Your local newspaper is the one thing that keeps your town on the map. Without it Hammon would be a wide place in the road. As to whether your paper is a good or poor one, depends a whole lot upon you. Your support is necessary for a good paper, and lack of it makes a poor one, in spite of all the editor can do.

"Your local newspaper man is asked at all times to boost for the town and local industries. He is asked to support the chautauqua, the lyceum, the church, and all the various donations and projects for the upbuilding of the town and community. He is asked to suppress news that would injure the town and give it a black eye, and is asked to publish that which will give the town a good name.

"Do you think it is the proper thing to do, the fair thing, then, to give your business to out of town concerns who have no interest in the town, merely to save a few pennies? Do you think it is business to do so? Would this out of town printer boost Hammon or contribute to any of its worth while enterprises? Not hardly.

"We put it up to you merchants and business men of Hammon. What is your sentiment along this line? Do you favor this motto of 'Get your printing done out of town if you can get it done cheaper'?"

"Your local printer bases his prices on a live and let live basis. He must make a profit to live. If some out of town printer underbids him he must cut his profit or see the job go elsewhere. Or would it be better to just close up shop, suspend the paper and let the cheapest printer have the field?"

"What do you think about it, you business men of Hammon? Are you in favor of letting your paper die for lack of support, or are you going to forget this 'cheap price' fallacy and stay behind us? We are not 'kidding' you; we mean business. The idea of getting your printing out of town because you can get it done cheaper has either got to stop or we will have to. Which will it be?"

-A homeless young man without living relatives died in Paducah last week. He was without money, but had the best of attention from the proprietor of the boarding house, two physicians and two nurses.

Where else in the United States do you find that kind of a spirit outside of West Texas?—Floydada Hesperian.

We read in an exchange the other day that there was a lady over in Armstrong county that kneaded bread with gloves on. There is nothing so strange about that, in fact we need bread with our pants on; we need bread with our shoes on; we need bread with or without gloves on.—Panhandle Herald.

And we knew a newspaper man once who said that if some of his delinquent subscribers didn't pay up, he would be needing bread, as well as a number of other necessities, without a darn thing on!

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of thanking those of our friends who so kindly ministered to us during our recent bereavement, both in word and deed. Also for the floral offerings. May God in his mercy bless you, is our prayer.

MAY MANUFACTURE VINEGAR FROM TEXAS MELONS

A sample of watermelon vinegar that is now being very successfully manufactured in the state of Georgia was recently exhibited to the members of the Chamber of Commerce at Weatherford by Mr. Leo Hartnett. He advanced the idea that a vinegar factory could be operated in Weatherford to good advantage, using the surplus melons which do not find a ready sale on the local market. He states that watermelon vinegar is made practically by the same process as apple vinegar, ripened heart of the melon being used. It is placed in vats and the juice squeezed out and run through other vats containing shavings of birch or other kinds of wood, coming out at the bottom pure 48 grain vinegar. Mr. Hartnett further stated that watermelon vinegar could be manufactured cheaper than apple vinegar and of just as good or better quality, and he proposed that the business men of Weatherford, as well as melon growers in the county, investigate the merits of the product with view of eventually establishing a melon vinegar plant in that city.— Plains Farmer Stockman.

It Might Have Been

The trip to Miami was from every standpoint a success, if we omit the score of the game and the "almost" accident, and those are the things over which we had no control except—it might have been different.

The side of the truck breaking loose, caused each of us to get a fall, but we need such sometimes to make us realize that none of us are too good to fall. At first we were very much unnerved, but as the days pass we find no one was hurt much. A few "limps" and "cripples" are stylish, so we say, and on we go to our work.

We wish it well understood that no one was to blame for the accident and only by the careful driving of the driver were we saved from what might have been something serious.

As this goes to press we are all as "peppy" as usual and have only one "ache"—that the score was different from what it might have been.

O! My-a-me

We gathered a bunch for the Miami trip
Without having to use conscription;
We rode from here with song and cheer,
In cars of every description.

We arrived in Miami about half past ten,
A dusty, hungry bunch;
Then waited an hour on the hotel bower
Before we got any lunch.

The high school girls, and teachers, too,
Had started to eat their chuck;
Right there, in the street, Miss Hill tangled her feet
And fell backwards out of the truck.

We went to the football field
Feeling as fine as a fiddle.
Our nerves a tremble, our feet were nimble—
An egg and toast in our middle.

We bucked their lines to and fro,
They took our dust in showers;
With mighty vim we fought to the end,
But, alas!—Oh, say it with flowers.

We lost the game by 13 to 20;
It hurt our quarter back so.
It seems a sin that a 'team can't win
When they really out play the foe.

(In air)—"I see stars."
(On ground)—"I see spooks and I feel pins."

Just Before the Battle, Wellington

On Friday afternoon, McLean high school football boys will show the world that because they have been defeated and are down, that they will not stay there. They play Wellington on that day, and we are sure that it will be memorable for the defeat of Wellington.

Gay posters are scattered all over town and when the would-be-conquerors enter they will be staring defeat in the face, and will feel more like running than playing football. Of course, it will be too late then for them to show a white flag, and they will be obliged to suffer the consequences of the fray.

Let's go, boys! Forget Miami, and remember that you fought a good fight. Play the game square, and the victory is ours.

McLean Tigers Yield to Miami's Freaks; 20-13

The local high school boys were the victims of defeat Saturday afternoon at Miami.

A surprise freak played by the victors at an early stage of the game was the route to victory. The two teams employed tactics which were adverse in style and form. The Miami gridironists played a game of freaks and sneak plays. Line plunging, passing and end runs was the style of football that the McLean boys played so effectively.

Miami tried gains from off tackle, and various other line plunges, but were totally unsuccessful. They did make a few gains on sneak end runs and by completing one or two passes. The victors failed to evince to the spectators any remarkable feats, which include spectacular line plunges and end runs.

The McLean boys opened fire on the enemy by an off tackle play, gaining twelve yards. Next came end runs for gains. The remarkable and spectacular line plunges of Wilson and Back were noticed. Plunge after plunge, these men gaining from 10 to 15 yards through the defensive line (something seldom done on any gridiron.) Many passes were completed by Biggers and Back for notable gains. Quarter back Davis used most creditable tactics. Genuine football was played throughout. Hard work was registered by every linesman, never giving away to the foe's attack.

Several of the McLean men were greatly at a disadvantage during the early stages of the game because of weak ankles, but they fought to the finish. Coach Baxter began Monday by putting together any fragmentary parts. He promises a foot ball work out this week in spite of several men being crippled and unable to do their best. Tuesday afternoon regular signal field work occurred. Wednesday, scrimmage. Thursday, field preparation for Friday. Friday, game with Wellington. The coach believes that he has in store sufficient material for victory.

Mrs. G. W. Stratton left Sunday for Comanche, Okla., in response to a message that her mother, Mrs. Sarah Rice, had received serious injuries in a fall.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Rippy and Mrs. Nida Green of the Heald community attended preaching services at the Methodist church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rish Phillips and little Miss Leta Mae returned Monday from a trip to Tucumcari, N. M., and Amarillo in the interest of Mr. Phillips' health.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Ballard moved into their new home Monday. The house they vacated will be occupied by Sherman Deatherage.

Judge C. C. Small of Wellington was a business visitor in our city Sunday.

Kill the Rat!

BIARIUM CARBONATE TURNS THE TRICK

Every man, woman and child is urged to join the nationwide KILL-THE-RAT campaign started by the United States Government. Congress has appropriated large sums to stamp out this pest. Do your part—killing the rat conserves food.

The rat is the worst animal pest in the world. The rat, in his filthy reeking body, carries bubonic plague, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough, meningitis, and many other diseases fatal to man. He is responsible for more deaths than all the wars of history.

Each year in the United States alone he destroys crops and other property to the value of a destruction equivalent to the combined wages of 200,000 laborers.

On many a farm, if the crops eaten and wasted by rats could be sold, the proceeds would more than pay all the farmer's taxes.

THE TIME TO BEGIN IS NOW—TODAY

Buy from this store, today, a 35c package of BARIUM CARBONATE, a tasteless and odorless mineral, recommended by the Government for extermination of rats and mice. (See Farmers' Bulletin No. 896, page 16, issued by the Biological Survey, Washington, D. C.) Use according to directions on package and insist on your neighbor using it on his own crop of rats, for one pair will bring to life in three years 359,700,482 rats—SOME RATS.

NOTE—The United States Government is in no way commercially interested in the sale of Barium Carbonate.

OCTOBER REFLECTIONS

October is the month of all the year that nobody has to make apologies for. It ranks on the calendar just as Garrett's snuff does among mop welders and Mumm's Extra Dry does when highbrow convivals do the voting. It doesn't need the apostrophes of poets or panegyrics of orators. October is the royal month that people think about and long for when they swelter under a summer's sun or shiver before Boreal blasts. The only objection any one can urge against October is that its name is a misnomer, but there is even compensation in this, as it settles forever the question whether there is really anything in a name. "Octo" does not jibe with the tenth month at all, and the bonehead never would have been pulled by the calendar makers if the foolish Romans hadn't made the egregious blunder of starting the year with the windy month of March. We have the same grounds for calling the tenth month October that the young lady had for naming her donkey January, because it was born on the Fourth of July.

But October is great. If one has no other cause or object in living the other eleven months in the year, one would be fully justified and compensated for maintaining existence through these periods in order to see, hear, feel, taste and smell October. Nature's artists get busy during October and there is inspiration in every line of the pencil and every touch of the brush. Mother Earth cools off and wandering angels drop a tang into the air that revitalizes run-down systems and touches new energy into the blood of man. Unseen hands polish the great arched vault with amethystean blue and touch up the twinkling stars with platinum, silver and gold. The golden rod is refreshed with fragrant dew each evening and baptised anew in purest gold every day. With flaming colors of crimson and gold the artists invade the forests and work glories no man can describe into the leaves. The fields are also rich with autumnal glories, for everywhere the gentle haze of Indian summer lingers and Royal month rears her banners on the hillsides and spreads her draperies in the valleys.—J. H. Lowry in Rule Review.

The editor of this paper, like the paper, gives largely of his time for public enterprises. Then he comes back into his office and donates column after column of space for the public good. Then sometimes in the few hours he has left to look after his personal business, he finds out about Smith, Jones & Co. sending out of town for a piece of job printing because they could save fifty cents on the order. The next day along comes young Jones, the junior partner of Smith, Jones & Co., with a subscription list for the widow who has lost her home by fire, or the cemetery association, or some other equally worthy cause, and the country editor puts down about the same amount as the banker or any other of the town's leading business firms. Who ever heard of the Near-City Printing Company making a donation on local distress calls, or sending a representative to do committee work on public enterprises? Stay with your home printer—he is the man to tie to, and never fails to do his part on community enterprise. Reciprocity is a great doctrine and this old world needs more men who will practice it.—Clarendon News.

At the recent convention of the institute of Meat Packers it was stated that, according to a record covering forty-two establishments, during the five months from January to May, inclusive, there had been a saving in these establishments, over the corresponding period a year ago, of more than one million pounds each of beef and pork in the amount of meat rendered unfit for human consumption through bruises and other unavoidable damage to livestock. In other words, the average loss per head on cattle had been reduced from one and a quarter pounds to one-eighth of a pound, and on hogs, from one-half to one-thirteenth of a pound. This gratifying result had been brought about through cooperation of the committee of the institute with representatives of the National Livestock Exchange, stockyard companies, railroads, producers and commission men.—Exchange.

NOTORIOUS PRYOR CREEK WOLF CAUGHT BY TRAPPERS

A lone wolf which for six years has robbed the ranches of southern Montana, near Billings, and taught the farmers' dogs to run with him and prey on livestock, has ended his reign of terror. Trappers of the United States Department of Agriculture have just reported his capture.

The wolf was the last of his kind in the vicinity. By strength, cunning and wariness bred of constant pursuit, he had eluded hunters for years, while continuing his work of killing calves, cattle, horses and valuable colts. Not less than 150 animals, it is estimated, had fallen before the four-footed bandit, and the loss due to his depredations amounted to thousands of dollars.

Several dogs from time to time had taken up with the wolf and were taught the way of his kind. One shepherd dog became so well educated that it killed a Shetland pony in its owner's yard. The ranchman's son killed the dog. Not long afterwards the same ranchman's son encountered the lone wolf and a shepherd dog that had been running with him all summer and took after them on his pony. The wolf was too fleet, but the dog was killed.

The wolf was reported as measuring 5 feet 10 inches. Its weight was 82 pounds. While this is not a record for size, the wolf was considerably above the average. It was trapped on the last day of the county fair at Billings and was exhibited there to thousands of persons.

BURIED AT ALANREED

The body of T. B. McKnight was interred Tuesday afternoon at the Alanreed cemetery. Mr. McKnight was killed in an automobile accident on September 4, at Bloomington, Ill., but because of certain state laws the body was not allowed to be taken across the state line earlier.

The deceased was once a resident of Alanreed. He is survived by his father, T. J. McKnight, and several brothers and sisters at Alanreed. He is also survived by a wife and daughter, of Illinois.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the people of McLean for their kindness to us during my illness. Your kindness will linger in our memories as long as life shall last.

REPAIR PARSONAGE

Extensive repair work has been done on the Methodist parsonage lately. Some of the rooms have been repapered, all the interior woodwork given a new coat of varnish, the old roof removed and a new one put on, as well as some other outside repair work done, such as new doorsteps, new porch floors, etc.

Except for the roof, this work was financed chiefly by the Women's Missionary Society, while a number of men donated work.

Still further improvements are contemplated, among them being a thorough job of painting the exterior.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. James and little son W. E. Jr., of Jericho visited the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Francis, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Ball of Alanreed were in town Saturday.

Bill Webb was in from the ranch Saturday.
