Pampa Citizens Object Separate Road District

Pampa, July 3.—A counter petition containing 86 names has been filed with the county clerk at Pampa in opposition to the holding of a district road bond election.

The county commissioners, who recently created a special road district of which Pampa is the center, will consider this petition at their next meeting, which will probably be the regular one on the second Monday in July. The effect of the petition will be determined by the commissioners themselves, in relation to the claims presented and the attitude of those opposed to an election and those advocating one.

The creation of a McLean special road district and the calling of an election without opposition will also affect the petition, since a favorable McLean vote will automatically divide the county into sections and preclude any possibility of a whole-county issue. The McLean election will be held July 16.

The Pampa election has been called on the same grounds as the McLean vote—that the interests of the two sides of the county are so divergent that separate votes are expedient, and it is said the south county vote will very likely be favorable.

The petition to halt the Pampa election, circulate in three parts, follows:

We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of Gray county, take this method of expressing to you our objections to a district road bond issue, the plans which you now have under consideration. Our objections are as follows:

1. We believe that if the county is cut into road districts and each district is bonded that it will impair the credit of the county to the extent that if the county ever wished to vote a bond as a unit it would have trouble in doing so.

2. We have just previously had two road bond elections in the county and each time the citizens of the county voted the bond issue down. In our judgment the above is sufficient evidence to show that the people of Gray county are not ready for a road bond issue, and we believe they should not be harassed with a road bond election every 60 or 90 days.

3. Now we believe that the petitions that have been presented to you have been signed mostly by what are called boosters and boomers, mostly from Pampa and McLean. Now the booster and boomer are nice folk. They represent all trades and professions, from lawyer and doctor to the hamburger joint. They have made investments paying from two to five times what the property is worth. Hence, he is willing to sign any petition or vote any bond issue that he thinks will assist him in pulling himself out of the hole.

4. Now we are not hide-bound against any road paving act. We believe the time will come when the roads will be paved. But from a county standpoint and a town building standpoint we believe that the dividing of the county into road districts for the purpose of holding bonds should be delayed for a period of 12 months.—Pampa Daily News.

TOWN QUIET FOR FOURTH

McLean merchants closed for the Fourth, Monday, and the town had a deserted appearance for the day. This is the first time in many years that the town has been closed all day the Fourth, Christmas day being the only day of the year that has been universally observed here, but filling stations and cafes practically had the town to themselves Monday.

Many citizens visited celebrations in other towns or visited the ball game in the afternoon, but most people held picnic dinners or indulged in swimming and fishing at some time during the day.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

A birthday party was given last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. C. M. Eudey in honor of the fifth birthday of their little daughter, Marie. A large number of guests were present. Games were played and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. An enjoyable party was enjoyed.

BRICK PAVEMENT SAID TO OUTLAST BONDS

On another page will be found an advertisement of the Western Paving Brick Manufacturers Association that is of peculiar interest to McLean citizens in view of the fact that there will soon be paved streets in the business district.

Brick pavements are claimed to outlast the bonds, some streets being paved with brick some 40 years ago and still good, with similar records for rural highways for 24 years—or since the first high type pavements were built.

BANKS TURN DOWN OVERDRAWN CHECKS

McLean banks have discontinued the practice of paying checks when there are no funds available in the maker's account.

When there was only a small amount overdraw heretofore, the banks have paid the checks and notified the customer, but this courtesy has been abused by so many people that they have been forced to discontinue the practice. Read the half page announcement of the McLean banks in this paper.

KINARD FAMILY HAS REUNION THE FOURTH

A family reunion was held at the M. H. Kinard home July 3 and 4. It was the first time all the children had been home together for seven years.

On Sunday, July 3, lunch was spread under the trees. Twenty-nine were present, including the parents, children and grandchildren. They were: M. H. Kinard and family; Carl Carpenter and family of McLean; J. C. Kinard and family of Dalhart, R. B. Kinard and family of Susanville, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kinard of Dalhart, P. E. Kinard and family of Fort Worth. July 4th was spent in picnic style at Hackberry. Others besides the family present were: T. N. Holloway and family, A. L. Lee and family and W. H. Mahon.

NEW COMPANY OPENS IN COOK BUILDING

The Economy Tire and Supply Co. No. 2 will be installed in the Cook building next door to the Caldwell Bakery some time next week. Fixtures are being installed now, and stock will arrive in a few days.

This branch of the Oklahoma City firm will be in charge of Mr. Sellers who says his company believes in advertising and will have leaves in advertising and will have an announcement for our readers in next week's issue of this paper.

Cubine & Crews Oil Wells Now New Producers

Both the Cubine and Crews wells came in producers this week.

The Cubine No. 1 had its first show of oil at around 2720 feet and is reported making about 15 barrels and still drilling. It has yet several feet to go before striking the Travis sand.

The St. Clair Petroleum Co.'s No. 1 Crews found the oil at around 2630 feet and has been bailing oil since. Gas in the well from 2000,000 to 8,000,000 feet and it is now reported to be below 2700 feet with every indication for a heavy producer.

Colebank No. 1, Gladys Gray Oil Co., is swabbing around 40 barrels daily after a heavy shot at the 2525 foot level.

Nudigate No. 1 Chapman is still reported fishing.

The Travis well is planning running a wall packer to shut off some water that is coming in with the oil. If this does not remedy matters, additional casing will be run.

Many wells in the proven territory will be drilled this fall, and oil men predict an oil run just as soon as the price of crude advances.

CARS SHOULD NOT BE DRIVEN WITH ONLY ONE HEADLIGHT

Secretary-Manager O. H. Foster of the Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a letter from W. B. Schultz, engineer of the State Automobile Headlight Division, in which attention is called to the fact that it is against the law to drive a car with only one headlight or without tail light.

Mr. Schultz says it is generally agreed that the headlight law is a good one and that it will accomplish much if properly observed.

In our advertising pages will be found the provisions of the law as stated by the Highway Department.

MATHIS SMITH

Miss Urcle Mathis and Mr. Wm. Edgar Smith were married at Albreed Monday, June 27. Rev. S. T. Greenwood performing the ceremony. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mathis of McLean and is popular in church and social circles.

The groom is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. White and is one of the rising members of McLean.

The young people will make their home in McLean.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Wise of Claude visited in the C. E. Truitt home Sunday.

$205,625.00 BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED THIS YEAR

A grand total of $205,625.00 in building permits had been issued since January first this year, up to Wednesday noon, according to records in Street Commissioner M. D. Bentley's office.

This amount does not include numbers of building repairs, as citizens have been negligent in seeing repairs made.

There have been some 35 new residences built at a total cost of $97,945. Business houses have totalled $91,680, and church permits $16,000.

With the present rate of building, the next six months should show equally as good record in McLean building.

BAPTIST SENIOR CLASS HAS PICNIC SUPPER

The members of the senior class of the First Baptist Sunday school and a number of their friends enjoyed a picnic supper at Skillet Creek Monday evening.

Various games were played and a supper of roast bacon, roast weenies, toasted marshmallows, ice cream, etc., was enjoyed by all present.

After supper a business meeting was called by Robert Mathis, president of the class, and committees were appointed and plans made for a standard class, including a religious census of the town.

CLEMENT FAMILY IN ACCIDENT

W. E. Clement and family suffered an accident in their car Monday on the highway near Jericho. They overtook a man riding horseback, and when about to pass at slow speed, the horse became unmanageable as the rider had no bridle on the horse, but was guiding with a rope around the animal's neck. The horse reared up, and as the car attempted to pass, swung around and came down upon the radiator of the car, breaking a leg and damaging the car about $100.

The rider was not hurt other than a shaking up, and the occupants of the car were uninjured.

HOUSES BEING NUMBERED

The houses in the city limits are being numbered this week, preparatory to issuing a city directory.

A nominal charge of 25c per house is being made, and citizens are pleased with the work.

With streets named and houses numbered, property values are enhanced, and it will be no trouble to find just where anyone lives.

G. V. Koons was in Hedley Tuesday.

Prof. A. A. Tamke Vocational Man Here, High School

Reported. Being the oldest son of a large tenant family of Wilson county, A. A. Tamke was compelled to work on the farm from the age of 12 and was thereby deprived of much of the education youths so much need.

At the age of 21, Mr. Tamke, having had a longing desire for an education, chose to abandon the unprofitable farm life that often confronts a poor tenant family and sought to prepare himself for one of the greatest fields of service among our Texas people. His ambition was turned to the profession of pedagogy, and although he saw before him many trying hardships and many years of sacrifice trying to obtain the desired accomplishments, he kept steadily on endeavoring to secure the scholarship entitling him to a Bachelor of Education degree in Vocational Agriculture.

Due to his experience in farm life and its practical problems, and being in full sympathy with this line of work, the State of Texas has reason to expect one of the best modern vocational agriculture teachers in its secondary schools in Mr. Tamke.

Mr. Tamke has a high rank among the farmers in his immediate community during his youthful farming career and also held a very high rank of efficiency in his college work. He has incessantly proven a helpful friend to students confronted with difficulties and problems that are sure to arise with young student life.

About two-thirds of his expenses were paid by any kind of manual labor he could get to do during his six years in college. For three years he was sanitation inspector of the city of Huntsville and also janitor while attending college. He also had a wide experience in other fields of work, such as banking, carpentry and mechanics, which were quite instrumental in qualifying him for his present work.

In 1926 he took his degree from Sam Houston College and immediately contracted to teach vocational agriculture in the truckway high school. His course there was farm shop work, and many articles were made, including the erection of a Moucan 6-room residence. He purchased a delco light plant paid for by giving plays. His farm shop team was the winner of the State contest at A. & M. in April, 1926, and was the first runner up team in June, 1927, with the high point man in the entire contest.

Mr. Tamke came to McLean this week highly recommended by many recognized educational authorities throughout the State. He is a practical man who has a practical vocation.

Mr. Tamke will teach regular classes in the McLean high school during the morning hours and during the afternoon he will head the vocational and agricultural department of the McLean Chamber of Commerce. An agricultural program is being planned by Mr. Tamke that contemplates farm teaching, co-operative growing and marketing of poultry, grapes, apples and cherries, as well as the encouragement of high grade livestock on the farm. Mr. Tamke will also give free lessons at night to those desiring to learn carpentry and kindred subjects. The record Mr. Tamke has made at Huckaby is creating already a keen interest here and school and Chamber of Commerce officials are looking forward to a very profitable year to McLean from the work of this well known teacher.

McLEAN BAND PICTURE IN NATIONS HIGHWAYS

D. N. Massay made a trip to Amarillo Thursday.

C. of C. Banquet Massay Building Friday Evening

Plans are all perfected for the big Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held at the Massay building Friday night.

The food and service is being furnished by the Presbyterian ladies and entertainment features consist of musical numbers and suitable addresses.

E. Bee Guthrie of Oklahoma City, president of the U. S. 66 Highway Association, will be the principal speaker, and the quartette numbers will be furnished by the 66 Highway quartette of Sayre, Okla.

The secretary-manager's semi-annual report will be given at the banquet, and the raising of the budget for the next six months will be discussed.

This ends the first six months' period with the McLean C. of C. under the management of a paid secretary, and an interesting report is expected.

Everyone, both ladies and gentlemen, interested in community betterment are welcome and expected to attend the banquet.

Following is the program as outlined by the committee:

Toastmaster—Rev. R. R. Rives.

Invocation—America.

Vocal Solo—Miss Cook.

First course.

Introduction of visitors.

Piano Solo—Miss McCurdy.

Second Course.

Quartette—U. S. 66 Quartette.

Address—E. Bee Guthrie.

Secretary-Manager's Semi-annual Report—O. H. Foster.

Quartette—U. S. 66 Quartette.

Address—President L. G. McMillen.

The following menu will be served:

Fruit cocktail, chicken, dressing, gravy, bread, pickles, cold slaw, creamed potatoes, peas, ice tea, coffee, apple pie, Presbyterian special.

DAUER-BROOKS NUPTIALS

Miss Ruth Dauer and Mr. H. W. Brooks were married at Canyon Sunday, June 26, 1927, Rev. Hamilton of the First Methodist church, Canyon, performing the ceremony.

The bride was principal of the English department of the McLean high school last term and has many accomplishments that endear her to her friends.

The groom is one of McLean's best known young business men, being manager of the C. M. Stone & Co.'s dry goods store.

The young people will make their home in McLean.

The Leading Lady

By Geraldine Bonner

If you had the good fortune to read Miss Bonner's thrilling story, "The Girl at Central," you know what she can do with a mystery plot. Her new tory, "The Leading Lady," is even better; in fact, is her most compelling novel. It is for the delight of all mystery readers who demand action, thrills and suspense. Along with the mystery is pleasing romance and some very interesting glimpses into the real life of stage people.

CLOCK LIGHTS UP STREETS AT DUSK

A motor-wound electric astronomical clock, which automatically recognizes the changes in hours of daylight according to the season of the year, controls the new eight million dollar street-lighting system recently installed in St. Louis, Mo. In the summer when days are long, the clock does not turn on the mastercircuit which turns on the street lights, until dark. In winter, when days are short, it turns on the lights at the proper time without human control. The astronomical clock also turns the lights off at dawn. Except for an occasional cleaning, it requires no attention.

A bill has been introduced in the Kansas legislature to abolish mince pie, and an Oklahoma legislator wants to fix the width of a biscuit at three inches. Thus do the lawmakers elected to the state legislatures earn their daily stipend.

The Judiciary amendment to the state constitution to be voted on in August should be killed with at least a 200,000 adverse majority. This is one time when the Texas voters' inclination to vote against amendments will be useful.

It costs the newspaper just as much to publish free articles as it does those that are paid for. There is no institution that gives as freely of its time and money to the community as the newspaper. These facts should be remembered when the out-of-town peddler approaches you for a calendar or printing order, also when the itinerant sign painter wants to exchange a cheap road sign for merchandise.

This is the season of the year when picnickers have a chance to show their appreciation, or otherwise, for the liberties accorded them when allowed to camp on other people's property. Many places are closed to picnic parties each year on account of careless throwing of papers and trash about the grounds and leaving camp fires burning.

Any picnic party should show appreciation by carefully policing the grounds before leaving and making sure that no fire is left to endanger property.

The beneficial effect of sunlight is not obtained unless the rays reach the skin directly. Clothing or window glass keep out the ultra violet rays. It is only when the skin begins to be tanned that any benefit may be expected. Sun baths in the direct sunlight are the simplest method of giving the baby enough ultra-violet light. Of course each mother must use discretion, and begin by exposing her child gradually for short periods, and keep him protected from the wind.

The secret of juicy fruit pies with a crisp undercrust lies in prebaking the undercrust until it is delicately browned before putting in the fruit, thickening the fruit mixture slightly with flour or cornstarch, and having the fruit mixture hot when it is poured into the prebaked crust.

THE CHARM OF INCONSISTENCY

THIS SUMMER'S FROCKS EXCEEDINGLY FEMININE—CONTRARIES IN TAILORING AND MATERIAL STRIKE NEW TONE

BY HARRIET

FLUTTERING and flashing their filmy way through warm days, this summer's styles prove the truth of the prediction that it would be a season of truly feminine attire. For not only are the summer modes femininely soft and dainty—they are full of inconsistencies. And can anything be more distinctly feminine than inconsistencies?

These contraries in fashion are distinctly new. And like the inconsistencies of woman, they lend a charm that is extremely appealing. One sees lace dresses cut on sports models and chiffons made in tailored fashion. Black flat crepe and white pique join to make a smart street costume. Materials and styles are all jumbled up and from the union some stunning new and different effects appear.

Summing Them Up

A Paris import that sums up the season's contraries in itself is fashioned of sheer red mousseline, sleeveless, cut exactly like a coat dress with soft jabot revers on the bodice and a swathed hipline ending in soft jabot front.

It is a distinctly tailored model. Yet with its silver lace slip showing down the front and with its train attached at the yoke line, it certainly takes honors as an unusual evening gown.

Tailored evening gowns are seen side by side with beaded sports models these days. And no summer fashions should be mentioned without including a note of lace ensembles—sleeveless sports dress and long coat—tailored with all the care of the winter worsteds.

Today two models are shown which contain some of the season's delightful inconsistencies.

One model might be called "Peppermint" for its little candy stick graduated stripes in three tones of pink on a flesh colored background. It is the filmiest of chiffons and it makes a semi-tailored street costume, worn with a Ballunt hat in the deepest tone of pink.

Tiered Skirt
It affects a Vionnet neckline, collarless in the approved tailored manner, and its long sleeves take a mit cuff. The skirt is composed of three graduated tiers shirred faintly giving a gently rippling effect that harmonizes with the wavering line of the graduated stripes in the material.

Wristbands and a hipline belt, made of a braided silk of the deepest one of pink used in the material, are fashioned with novelty buckles that add their own tailored touch.

This costume achieves the most desirable of all summer effects—

Two soft and dainty models for warm days are shown here. To the left is a "peppermint" costume of chiffon, so called because of its candy-stick stripes in three tones of pink on a flesh background. The other frock is soft medium blue chiffon, polka-dotted in pink, tan and rose.

coolness. That in itself even if it were not the most chic of little summer frocks, should commend it. For in the torrid days of mid-summer the sight of a cool frock is often more valuable than a drop in the thermometer.

Fully as inconsistent as using filmy chiffon for tailored street wear and tailored styles for evening, is the tendency to introduce sports features in afternoon frocks designed for garden parties and so on.

The Quaint Touch

The little Goupy import today illustrates this. It does not achieve quite the formal high neck of, say, the riding habit, but it does graduate into the Coolie neck class. Moreover, it affects the old-fashioned short puff sleeve, another touch that adds to its quaint and unusual charm.

Its material is soft medium blue chiffon polka-dotted irregularly in pink, tan and rose dots. Its blue collar ties in a bow on the right side while its jumper sash ties in a bow on the left. It has blue cuffs and the pleated skirt takes a narrow border of blue.

The hat worn with it is decidedly French. It is fashioned of blue horsehair braid, with its brim faced with rose malmé and cut in points and delicately wired so that looking through the brim it appears as if it had spokes like a wheel. The most Parisian of flowers, in rose tones, snugles under the right brim and marks it decisively as a chapeau smart for afternoon wear.

GETTING ALONG

There is hardly one among us who does not know someone with whom we cannot get along. Sometimes this dislike goes back to religious, political or business disagreements. Sometimes dissimilarity in tastes or habits is to blame. Sometimes it is racial or social prejudice.

Whatever the cause, we should realize that no two persons are exactly alike and this is a large world after all. No one of us has any more right on it than anybody else. We do not want to become hermits, so the best way out of the difficulty is to conquer this feeling to as great an extent as possible. Life is too short to spend a large part of it thinking or talking about what we consider the other fellow's faults.

Look at the man again with whom you find it hard to "get along." Maybe there are some good points that you have overlooked. If you can see one good trait in him, it should go a long way toward making you forget a score of bad ones.

And the chances are he will be able to see characteristics in you which he had passed over before.—Thamrock Texan.

ASK YOUR DEALER AS YOU DO YOUR CAR

Quality of service is not necessarily limited by amount of population, the volume of business done by the dealer or any other consideration, but is mainly built on the dealer's own character. If he is far sighted enough to see that the total maximum business for cars to come depends more on the service he gives than on any other factor, you will find him in a well-equipped shop, stocked with the essential repair parts, with competent help, and careful accounting methods.

The problem is, then, to determine whether the dealer of the car you are considering does give adequate service. A glance at his shop will tell a lot. There are some important agencies even in the first cities of the country, that have nothing of the way of shop equipment except a few hand tools and two or three vises. This is not the sort of dealer to buy a car from. If you ask him he will tell you that his cars are so simple that more extensive equipment is not required, or that the cars in his territory so rarely give trouble that it would not pay him to have more tools. This is nonsense. His arguments are refuted by facts; the three most popular cars selling at over $2,000 have the best service facilities the country over. Adequate tool equipment is essential in order to reduce the amount of labor to a minimum and to produce better work.

Every automobile repairman looks like an expert to the average owner, but many of them are not. It is a wise precaution to buy a car from a dealer who employs a mechanic deeply versed in the mysteries of electrical equipment. Most electrical ailments take an hour to find and a minute to fix, and if the repairman is expert enough, he may be able to eliminate the hour. I have seen cars held up for days while the inexperienced repairman made a futile search for some trouble that a specialist would have located in a minute.

Enough motorists are truthful, however, for you to be able to obtain the information necessary to make a satisfactory selection of car and dealer.

Some prospective buyers hesitate because they do not care to become strangers, but almost any man will be glad to stop work and talk about his car. It is a human weakness, and few are immune from it.

Shell color has no effect on the quality of an egg, but it does make a difference in the price. Some markets prefer white eggs. Others pay higher prices for brown eggs. Naturally, size does make a difference on most markets. An average egg should weigh about 2 ounces or about 1 1/2 pounds to the dozen.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

THE PSYCHOLOGY OF A GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP — NOBODY THOUGHT WRESTLERS LILY WHITE — DEMPSEY-SHARKEY

BY PHILIP MARTIN

THE courage of a race horse that gorges dust with fortitude and leaps from behind at the last to win—that is how one golf professional described Tommy Armour, the Scottish-American golfer from Washington, D. C., who won the American golf crown for 1927.

It was an uphill fight and Armour held on with fine determination and nerve. In the last round he flirited with disaster time and again, but when the crucial moment came he had the stuff.

For the last five holes he had to shoot one under par to tie Harry Cooper, who had established a lead with a rush. He came to the four-par eighteenth hole with the realization he must make a birdie three even to tie Cooper. His drive was good. His iron shot landed five feet from the hole.

Think how much depended on that last putt! With 1000 people watching, straining and rooting for him with the human sympathy that goes to the man fighting uphill, they hoped he would sink that putt. It was only another putt for Armour. He did it.

The playoff battle with Cooper was equally thrilling and demonstrative of the iron nerve that it takes to win a golf championship.

A stroke behind at the fifteenth hole, Armour kept coming up. And Cooper, fighting desperately ahead to retain his slight advantage, knew he was coming up. That, say the psychologists, was his greatest handicap. He knew Armour was coming up, he knew that he must not slip or Armour would sweep past him, he knew that a few bad wallops would spell ruin.

Whether the psychologists are right or not, Tommy Armour is the new golf champion of the United States. He cut Cooper down to even on the fifteenth. Perhaps Cooper knew then that he was lost. Perhaps that is why he lost. The final score gave Armour 76, Cooper 79.

These things in sport are hard to analyze.

WITH the Illinois legislature investigating wrestling and bringing forth testimony that the grappling game in this country is in the hands of a trust which dictates how matches shall terminate, no epoch-making truths are being unfolded.

For years it has been no whispering matter that something was rotten in the estate of wrestling. The thousands who paid their money to see the big fellows sweat and hear them grunt can now realize that they got only what they expected. For there are few people in the world, if any, who'd hand their watch to a wrestler for safe-keeping. Few of those who saw the matches were unaware that this was all a bit of heavy hippodroming.

There's this odd thing about the mat sport: the fans turn out for the matches even if down in their hearts they're sure that wrestling is crooked, the bone-crunching and mangling holds! They hope to see some of this even if the bout is not on the up and up. They deserve a better deal from the wrestlers, even if the hairy cents are only playing the parts of the smiling ladies of the chorus.

BEFORE we're very much fevered we'll know whether a young man named Jack Dempsey still has "it." The testing block is Mr. Josef Paul Cukoschay, who is hailed in the ring as Jack Sharkey.

Sharkey earned the right to rise in Mr. Dempsey's path to a return match with Tunney when he slammed Jim Maloney back into old man Maloney's halibut wagon.

This, you may know, will be somewhat a testing block for Mr. Cukoschay, too. They say (trainers) that Dempsey has been a trifle more astutistic lately than usual.

CHICKEN HAWKS AND OTHERS

Not all hawks are harmful, in the sense that they are supposed to be; that is, in catching chickens and song birds and quail. The Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture points out that there are a number of different species of hawks, and the food habits of all are not the same. Some prey almost entirely upon small mammals, such as mice, ground squirrels, and rabbits, whereas the food of others consists chiefly of birds. The latter are the species that are responsible for the bad reputation of all hawks. The bird eaters should be killed at every opportunity, but it is equally important that the others be spared, for they do a great deal of good in destroying small-animal pests of the farmer. The bird-eating hawks include the Cooper hawk and the sharp-shinned hawk, and these species prefer to capture their prey by swift, fierce darts from the concealment of thick foliage. Most of the other hawks are beneficial to the farmer.

J. W. Ivey was in from the ranch Tuesday.

J. N. Phillips of Magic City was in McLean Wednesday.

MYERS-BURROWS

Reported. A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the First Presbyterian church, Twentieth and Figueroa St., Los Angeles, on June 29, when Miss Mildred Eleanor Myers and Raymond E. Burrows were united in marriage. The bride's pastor, Hugh K. Walker, D. D., L. L. D., performed the ceremony.

Before the ceremony Miss Martha Hershberger sang "Until" and "Because" accompanied by Miss Dorothy Berry. The bride entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin Wedding March, on the arm of her uncle, J. W. Records, who gave her in marriage. The bride was attended by Miss Adelaide I. Be Cole. The groom's brother, Wain O. Burrows, acted as best man.

The bridal party drove to the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Records, 6117 Miramonte Boulevard, where a delightful breakfast was served. The bridal couple left on a motor trip, after which they will be at home to their friends in their newly furnished bungalow, 151 Sales Place, Euntington Park, Calif.

WE SIXTY GUYS

"Well! Well! Here comes Sixty!" exclaims Sam Blythe in the Saturday Evening Post, and he takes several pages to describe in his characteristic style the joys within the reach of a man of sixty, at the same time pointing out his limitations and detailing certain precautions if the satisfactions of that age are to be maintained and preserved. Yes, we sixty guys do get a lot of fun and satisfaction out of life, even if we are not as sensible as Sam thinks we ought to be. We can help run Lions clubs and attend press association meetings and talk our heads off about our businesses and our golf scores and our grandchildren, and we think we have it on the young fellows in a good many ways; but when it comes to fighting wars and running races and making love we have to take a back seat; and as for stepping into a flimsy airplane and flying alone across the Atlantic ocean we simply pass out of the picture; we are not there at all, we recognize not only our mental and physical limitations, but the miserable inadequacy of our intestinal equipment. We of the sixties can plan and counsel and act as a brake on impulsive and unseasoned youth, but when a world-thrilling feat is accomplished it is by some lad who recognizes no limitations and is willing to take any chance, who, clear-eyed and unafraid, can face grueling deprivation, pain and even death, and when the task is performed wonder why the world makes so much fuss about it. Therefore, we take off our hats to youth, and especially to American youth, in whose hands the future of America and of the world is safe. And the best we can wish for them is that when they reach the sixties they will get as much satisfaction and an out of life as we sixties are getting.—Gibson City (Ill.) Courier.

RIGHTEOUS PUBLIC LIFE

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for July 10.
Text: Righteousness in Public Life. 1 Samuel 12:1-5, 19-25.

Text: 1 Samuel 12: 1-5, 19-25

And Samuel said unto all Israel. Behold, I have hearkened unto your voice in all that ye said unto me, and have made a king over you. And now, behold, the king walketh before you: and I am old and gray-headed: and, behold, my sons are with you; and I have walked before you from my childhood unto this day.

Behold, here I am: witness against me before the Lord, and before his anointed: whose ox have I taken? or whose ass have I taken? or whom have I defrauded? whom have I oppressed? or of whose hand have I received any bribe to blind mine eyes therewith? and I will restore it you.

And they said, Thou hast not defrauded us, nor oppressed us, neither hast thou taken ought of any man's hand.

And he said unto them, The Lord is witness against you, and his anointed is witness this day, that ye have not found ought in my hand. And they answered, He is witness.

And all the people said unto Samuel, Pray for thy servants unto the Lord thy God, that we die not: for we have added unto all our sins this evil, to ask us a king.

And Samuel said unto the people, Fear not: ye have done all this wickedness; yet turn not aside from following the Lord, but serve the Lord with all your heart:

And turn ye not aside: for then should ye go after vain things, which cannot profit nor deliver; for they are vain.

For the Lord will not forsake his people for his great name's sake, because it hath pleased the Lord to make you his people.

Moreover, as for me, God forbid that I should sin against the Lord in ceasing to pray for you: but I will teach you the good and the right way.

Only fear the Lord, and serve him in truth with all your heart: for consider how great things he hath done for you.

But if ye shall still do wickedly, ye shall be consumed, both ye and your king.

THOU has not defrauded us, nor oppressed us; neither hast thou taken ought of any man's hand."

It is a fine thing when a leader of the people can thus stand approved in his own conscience and before God.

That was the reply to the people when Samuel asked them how they regarded his stewardship. It marked the farewell of a man who had served the people with great faithfulness and regard for righteousness and truth.

Sadness of the End

Samuel's departing had an element of tragedy in it, too. Samuel had served the people regardless of whether they stood by him or not.

Coming to his decline such a career leaves behind the fullness of influence that Samuel had so long enjoyed and had so long treated with honest dignity. There is a little of sadness in his abandonment by the people for their new king, but not the moral tragedy of Saul.

Religion in Public Life

Samuel's life was beautiful. A beautiful babyhood and childhood followed by a manhood of great singleness of purpose in the yearning to faithfully serve God through the people. The old age with its little touch of disappointment brings, too, the realization that he had walked before God and his fel-lowmen with sincerity and honesty. Samuel was an expression of what true religion is when it is brought to bear upon man's relationship to his fellows and his duty to society.

It was Samuel's spirit to do right that made him strong and made his life beautiful.

The sum of $26,500.00 to be used for the construction, maintenance and operation of lateral turnpike roads in said Road District No. 4; in addition thereto any premium or premiums derived from the sale of said bonds to be used for the same purpose.

The said election shall be held under the provisions of Senate Bill Number Two Hundred Eighty-seven (1927), passed by the First Called Session of the 39th Legislature, of the State of Texas, and the Constitution of the State of Texas, and the laws of the State of Texas, as amended by and authorized by Section 32 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Said election is to be held in Road District No. 4, to determine whether or not the bonds of such Road District No. 4 shall be issued for the purpose of construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized or gravel or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, and whether or not taxes shall be levied and collected on all taxable property of said Road District, subject to taxation, for the purpose of paying the interest on said bonds and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof at maturity, and said bonds shall be in the total amount of $200,000.00 Dollars, and shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent (5%) per annum, interest payable semi-annually, and an ad valorem tax to be levied annually on all taxable property within said district sufficient to pay the annual interest and provide a sinking fund to pay the bonds at maturity.

All persons who are legally qualified voters of this State and of this county, and who are resident property taxpayers in this Road District No. 4, shall be entitled to vote at said election, and all voters voting to support the proposition to issue the bonds shall have written or printed on their ballots the words:

"For the issuance of bonds and the levying of the tax in payment thereof."

And those opposed shall have written or printed on their ballots the words:

"Against the issuance of bonds and the levying of the tax in payment thereof."

The polling places and the presiding officers of said election shall be respectively as follows:

Precinct No. 4 at Alanreed, the regular polling place of which is the S. L. Ball building, next door to the postoffice, on the south, with Mr. S. K. Loftin as presiding officer;

Precinct No. 5 at McLean, the regular polling place of which is the office of M. D. Bentley, in the west end of the Montgomery Drug company building, across from the postoffice, with Mr. A. A. Callahan as presiding officer.

The manner of holding said election shall be governed by the general laws of the State of Texas, regulating general elections, when not in conflict with the provisions of the Statutes hereinabove referred to.

Notice of said election shall be given by publication of a copy of this order in The McLean News, a newspaper published in Road District No. 4, for three successive weeks before the date of said election, and, in addition thereto, there shall be posted four other copies of this order at four public places in the district, one of which shall be at the court house door, for three weeks prior to said election.

The county judge is hereby directed to cause said notices to be published and posted as hereinabove directed, and said notices shall be posted by the county clerk at four public places in the District, one of which shall be the court house door, as hereinabove directed, and further orders are reserved until the returns of said election are made by the duly authorized elec-

GO-DEVILISH

This column is in favor of the go-devil's going to where its name seems to be driving it. Some time ago, in order to reassure an Arkansas schoolmarm, State Press undertook to tell her that a go-devil is a harmless agricultural implement, one much favored by the expansive farmers of Western Texas.

The Arkansas lady thought a go-devil was a wicked device devised by Satan, whereas it is nothing of the sort, and S. P. said so. But in saying so he committed himself to a description which has induced a lot of fault-finding. The McLean News makes merry over it, and several high-hatting customers have written in. But to State Press a go-devil remains what the young lady in this office said it was. He will underwrite her accuracy any day, although the McLean killjoy says she was trying to describe a "Georgia Stock," and a Dallas complainant says S. P. should have gone to a plow factory rather than a flapper for instruction. This is to serve notice on all and sundry disputants that, in so far as State Press is concerned, a go-devil remains precisely as this column first defined it. Probably there are big, wide-ranging go-devils that are different, but our young lady had in mind a light, adaptable, farmerette go-devil.—State Press in Dallas News.

Texas is free from interruptions in fuel supplies to an extent that no other state enjoys. This is due to its fuel oil, natural gas and lignite that requires little mining.

What the Texas Automobile

Headlight Law

Requires

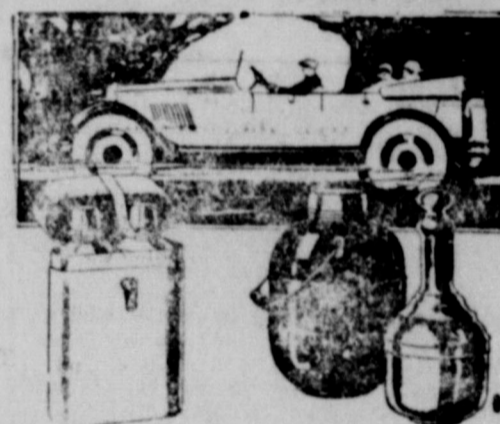

The Texas Automobile Headlight law requires that motor vehicles traveling on the highway at night comply with the following:

1. Two headlamps must be burning.
2. The headlamps must be properly adjusted.
3. The tail light, either red or yellow, must burning.

See that your car is equipped accordingly so you will not be stopped on the highways at night for not complying with the law.
