Pres. Guthrey Road Inspection Visits McLean

B. Bee Guthrey, president of the U. S. 66 Highway Association, was in McLean Tuesday from a trip of inspection of the highway. Mr. Guthrey left Chicago June 2 and made the trip over the whole route to Los Angeles at a rate of 50 to 300 miles a day and was on the return trip to his home in Oklahoma City when he stopped in McLean for a visit with the directors of the U. S. 66 and others. The road is in fine condition the entire route, according to Mr. Guthrey, the worst part being the 13 miles between Shamrock and Texas. In speaking of the road through Gray county, he said that the worst feature is some square corners that need to be changed. Mr. Guthrey said that McLean's appearance at the Amarillo convention left no doubt as to the town's attitude toward the highway. He especially commended the good work of the school band.

STATE HIGHWAY OFFICER SAYS LAW MUST BE OBEYED

Hume Graves, State Highway officer, of the Amarillo district was in McLean Saturday and stated that number of enforcement officers have been detailed for this section to see that the license law is obeyed.

Special attention will be given to cars operating with one plate, cars with out-of-state license plates that have been in Texas more than 30 days and overloaded trucks.

Visitors may secure a visitor's license good for 60 days after the expiration of the first 30 days. Residents who have moved to Texas from other states must have a Texas license, regardless of when they paid the tax in their home state.

Duplicate plates may be secured, when one is lost, by turning in the plate and the payment of $1.00. The State Highway Department has been handicapped for lack of enforcement officers in this section, from now on it is the intention to arrest and fine all violators of this character.

RUSSELL DRUG STORE OPENING DAY SATURDAY

Saturday is the opening day for the New Russell Drug Store, and visitors will be given each person entering the store that day.

This store is owned by Mrs. E. Russell, who owns a similar store at Sayre, Okla. The fixtures and stock at McLean are all new, and it is the intention of the management to handle everything daily found in an up-to-date drug store.

The fountain equipment is of the best, and thirsty customers will find competent help who can mix their favorite drinks in a pleasing manner.

Mrs. Russell says she wants to get herself with everything that is best for community betterment and to appreciate meeting everyone in the McLean trade territory on the opening day.

T. A. CREAM SUPPER FRIDAY EVENING

The Parent-Teacher Association will give a cream supper on the school grounds Friday evening of the week, proceeds to pay for ground equipment.

The grounds will be lighted so the children may enjoy the swings, etc., and cake and cream served to any desire refreshments.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

R. R. Rives, Minister of the church, reminds the services of the church next Sabbath: 10:00 a. m. Arthur Rives, superintendent.

Teaching by the pastor 11 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. and your friends are invited to worship with us at these services. Come let us worship together.

Somehow He Always Delivers the Goods

LITTLE CHANGE IN OIL ACTIVITY REPORTED

Very little change in the oil activity in the McLean field is reported this week. Several new locations have been recently made, but it will be some time before they will be drilling into the sand. The Colebank No. 1 was given another shot of nitro Saturday night, throwing oil and fire over the crown block. After testing out machinery, etc., for possible damage, cleaning operations were begun.

Cubine No. 1 found gas at 2300 feet, moved the boiler back at 2305 feet, and at 2300 feet was reported making 12,000,000 feet of gas. This test adjoins the Back gusher and should make a producer when the proper depth is reached.

Leadgate-Chapman No. 1 is running 8 inch casing and cleaning out at 1860 feet.

MEADOR CAFE WILL OPEN MONDAY

The Meador cafe will be open for business in its new quarters Monday, with everything new and modern. The finishing touches are now being put on the building and fixtures, the inside of the building being one of the best decorated in town.

Mr. Meador, owner of the building and cafe, says he now has a place where he can give the kind of service expected by the best people.

Mr. Meador came to McLean three years ago and has been in the cafe business every since. He has demonstrated that he is a business man by running a regular advertisement in The News and supporting the Chamber of Commerce and everything that has been put forward for the betterment of the community.

Everyone will be welcome to come in and inspect the new building at any time. Read the advertisement on another page.

MAY HAVE CITY DIRECTORY

It is understood that a move is on foot to publish a city directory with every house in town numbered. Propositions will probably be submitted to the city council this afternoon (Thursday) by parties interested in doing the work.

This work will be handled under proposed plans with no cost to the property owners, with the possible exception of a few cents for house numbers.

Darrel McCleskey visited in Miami Sunday.

C. A. Cash of Peterson Creek was a McLean visitor Wednesday.

Foster Retained Next Six Months C. of C. Manager

O. H. Foster will be Secretary-Manager of the McLean Chamber of Commerce for the next six months, according to the action of the board of directors in session Tuesday.

The present term will expire July 15th, and the action of the directors will extend the office the balance of the fiscal year, at a salary of $200 per month.

The Chamber of Commerce has been of greater benefit under the direction of a paid secretary-manager than ever before, in the opinion of the directors, and several of the leading business men were quoted as favoring the continuance of the work the balance of the year.

A drive for funds for the budget the coming six months will be put on some time soon when every citizen interested in community welfare will be expected to contribute a monthly sum to the C. of C.

Mr. Foster was granted leave of absence to attend the 21st annual convention of Texas Commercial Executives Association that meets at Sherman June 23, 24 and 25.

GOOD RAINS FALL FIRST OF THE WEEK

A rain fell in the McLean community Sunday night, with another on Monday night and Wednesday morning dawned with a light rain falling.

The added moisture at this time means that all fields unpaired may be planted in plenty of time for a crop.

Charlie Campbell returned to his home at Crowell Thursday after a visit in the W. L. Campbell home.

Prof. and Mrs. W. H. Floyd and children of Lubbock came in Friday for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. T. N. Childress of Amarillo was a McLean visitor Friday.

Miss Fern Upham was a visitor in Shamrock Friday.

E. B. Reeves of Alanreed was a visitor in McLean Friday.

Everett Watkins of Magic City was in McLean Friday.

Clay E. Thompson of Amarillo was a McLean visitor last Thursday.

Miss Jennie Sherrod of Alanreed was a McLean visitor last Thursday.

MCLEAN SCHOOL GRANTED NEW CREDITS

Supt. Geo. Tummins has returned from a trip to Austin and reports that every additional credit asked for by the McLean school was granted.

A credit in 4th year English was granted, making full four credits for the school. One-half credit was given in sociology and one and one-half on vocational agriculture.

No criticism of any kind was offered on the work submitted, the work in the English department being especially good.

The McLean high school now has a total of 192 affiliated credits.

NEW MEAT MARKET OPENS SATURDAY

The Palace Meat Market will open for business Saturday at the McLean Supply Co., when cold drinks and sandwiches will be served to all visitors.

This market will be in charge of Vergil Inreth of Pampa, where the same firm has a market.

Mr. Threet is an experienced market man, and says he is anxious to get acquainted with the McLean folks as soon as possible.

Read their advertisement on another page.

STREETS TO BE MARKED

The city council has instructed Street Commissioner M. D. Bentley to have suitable signs giving the name of the streets placed on Main and First streets at every intersection.

Some discussion was had in regard to house numbering, but no action taken.

Mrs. C. E. Truist and little daughter, Charlotte, returned Monday from Oklahoma City.

D. N. Massay made a business trip to Amarillo Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Cooke motored to Amarillo Saturday.

S. D. Shelburne made a business trip to Oklahoma City Tuesday.

E. T. McCleskey made a business trip to Mobeetie Sunday.

Walter Bailey and children visited in Amarillo Sunday.

Paving 4 Blocks Business District Eng'r. Employed

McLean Makes Good Showing Highway Meet

McLean was heard from Monday at the U. S. 66 Highway convention which met at Amarillo.

The school band, under the direction of Prof. R. C. Davidson, played at the close of the morning session at the Herrington Hotel, marching immediately to the Amarillo Hotel, where another selection was given. Then the principal streets were paraded under motorcycle escort, the snappy Scotch uniforms attracting much favorable comment.

At 2 p. m. when the convention gathered for the afternoon session, Sec.-Mgr. O. H. Foster of the McLean C. of C. was presented, and at the close of his remarks the band was introduced and played for the assembled delegates.

The big gathering of road enthusiasts was a success in every way and the closing session was held around the banquet tables at the Amarillo Hotel Monday night. The next meeting will be held at Albuquerque, N. M., in October.

Four blocks of paving in the business district now seems to be an assured fact, as the city council in a recent session instructed Engineer Joseph Rady, who is in charge of the sewer work, to make plans and specifications for the proposed work.

A petition was presented the council containing a majority of the names of the property owners in the district affected, several months ago, but no action taken on account of the pending sewer system.

The paving will be put in on the warrant plan with the bulk of the expense borne by property owners in the four blocks facing the pavement. The warrants will be issued to be paid in regular installments covering a period of years, in order that the expense may not be a burden to anyone.

The district to be paved will be two blocks on Main street between Railroad and Second streets and two blocks on First street between Commerce and Rowe.

PRESBYTERIAN CARNIVAL ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD

The carnival staged by the Presbyterian ladies at the city park last Thursday evening was repeated to a large crowd Friday evening.

In addition to the different booths with eatables, etc., for sale, all the usual midway attractions were to be seen for a small fee. A "merry-go-round" and "shoot-the-shute" were well patronized by the younger element and a spirit of fun and good fellowship pervaded the affair both evenings.

The McLean band furnished music Thursday evening after a concert on Main street which packed the street with cars and spectators.

A nice sum of money was raised at the carnival for use on the new Presbyterian church building.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

A surprise birthday party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Holloway Monday afternoon from 4 to 6 in honor of their daughter, Oleta.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy were served to the following: Cleo and Dorothy Sue Young, Bonnie and Zudie Mae Bible, Beatrice Muncie, Cleone West, Joe McCannies, Mattie Lee and Zella Mae Whorton, W. C. and Clara Fay Carpenter, Sarah Virginia McGowen, Marie Landers, Pauline Ledbetter, Nora Ashby, O'Dell and Charles Dyer, Zella and Garrett Jackson, Atha, Drucilla and Laverne Kunkel.

NEW MEAT CUTTER AT MCLEAN MARKET

Jack Peters of Amarillo is the new meat cutter at the McLean Meat Market. Mr. Peters is an experienced man in his line and will be pleased to get acquainted with McLean people as soon as possible.

Martin Dwyer, who has been with the market for the past several months, plans to attend a business and butchers school this summer.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

B. W. Wilkins, Pastor of the church, has returned and will occupy the pulpit at the Methodist church at both hours Sunday.

A cordial welcome awaits everyone at these services.

PROGRESSIVE MERCHANTS

Merchants who advertise in the home paper are the ones who deserve patronage, for merchants who advertise are progressive.

The advertiser must deliver quality goods with pleasant service, or he cannot remain in business—at the same time he sells cheaper than the man who does not advertise, for he does a greater volume of business.

The non-advertiser depends upon the overflow of business attracted to town by the advertisers. Advertisers are proud of their business and service. You will find their stores the best place to trade.

Read the ads in The News each week and trade with progressive merchants.

SHERIFFS CAPTURE BOOZE AND CAR WED.

Deputy Sheriff Jim Sullivan and E. Banks, with Constable Carl Carpenter, captured a car thought to contain intoxicants, the officers claiming that they saw something being poured out as they chased the car. After making the arrest, 20 pounds of sugar and two cans of malt syrup were found in the car. A tent was searched and 66 bottles, 6 gallons and one keg were found.

Four men gave bond for preliminary trials.

J. A. SPARKS APPOINTED WIRING INSPECTOR

J. A. Sparks is the new electric wiring inspector, having been appointed to this office by the city council.

Mr. Sparks' duties will consist of inspecting all electric wiring jobs and see that they conform to the underwriters code that has been adopted by the city as a means of fire prevention.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM WINS SCORE 8 TO 7

The high school team played the first team on the local baseball diamond Wednesday resulting in a victory for the school boys with a score of 8 to 7.

Rev. R. H. White is manager of the school team and Atty. L. V. Lonsdale manager of the first team. Both teams are beginning to show the effects of intensive training and a good game is assured when they cross bats.

Loves Victory

Begin Here Today

PAULINE MALLINGATE, who has been strangely absent from her home in London for 18 months, is believed to be "Mrs. Creswold," mistress of "The Moat," a mystery house in Yorkshire, not far from the place owned by Mrs. Bertha Northwood, a friend of the family.

HENRY EMERSON, wealthy step father of the girl, has vanished mysteriously from a summer resort where he had been staying with his wife and another stepdaughter, Lorna. He is believed to be a prisoner at "The Moat," suffering from wounds inflicted by the hirelings of DR. JULIAN EMERSON, who, under the pretext of being related to the missing man, has taken Lorna and her sick mother from the resort to Mulberry House, an old estate in Paxton Common, where he is holding them captive.

GERALD CRAVEN, Lorna's lover, has joined with Mrs. Northwood and Noel Shannon, British war ace, in tracing the missing family. Through information obtained from Ellen Storey, a maid at "The Moat," Craven and Shannon fly to Paxton Common. There Dr. Emerson unwittingly hires Shannon to take him to Yorkshire. Midway to his destination Shannon is forced down by a storm. Dr. Emerson is thoroughly shocked and refuses to go on with Shannon, who in due time arrives at the home of Mrs. Northwood. She writes a letter to Pauline and Shannon starts out to visit "The Moat."

In the meantime Dr. Emerson suffers a nervous collapse in the village where Shannon left him, and is taken to a hospital.

Craven, at Paxton, manages to see Lorna at Mulberry House. They agree that Craven should go for help, while Lorna, to avoid suspicion, shall remain with her mother. Two of Dr. Emerson's guards intercept Craven as he is leaving. They beat him into insensibility and leave him in the roadway. He is taken to the home of Mrs. Donald in the village.

Meanwhile Shannon has arrived at "The Moat," persuaded Pauline to believe that she is being duped by Dr. Emerson and moved the entire household, with Henry Emerson, to the home of Mrs. Northwood. Noel has now been informed that Julian Emerson is lying in a hospital suffering from a stroke.

Although Henry Emerson is still in a serious condition, he has told Mrs. Northwood some of the happenings which led to his present condition, and she is about to repeat the story to Shannon.

Now Go on with the Story

"Well, it appears," said Bertha Northwood, "years ago when he was a young man, Henry Emerson married a woman much older than himself. She was a singer traveling out in Australia. I gather that she must have been very handsome, and that he lost his head about her, but that it was a most unfortunate marriage, for she drank and was a violent-tempered woman. Also, I imagine she could not have been a woman of very desirable character, for she confessed to him, not, however, until after they were married, that she had a child—a boy—who was evidently her idol and a tremendous anxiety to her." She paused, and Shannon waited for her to go on. "Evidently this woman could have made a good deal of money, but her habit of drinking interfered with her career. And all at once she left Henry Emerson and disappeared, and it was not until some years later that he heard of her death."

"What became of her boy?" "I'm coming to that. Henry tells me that he had never met this son until that memorable day at the seaside when this man who suddenly appeared, confronting poor Henry Emerson as he was returning from the golf links, and throwing him into an excited condition by informing him that he must go to London immediately to see his first wife before she died. As you can imagine," said Mrs. Northwood, "this information fell upon Henry like a blow; and terrified of the effect such news would have on his wife, he very foolishly agreed to travel up to London immediately in the car which this man said was waiting to take him. And from that moment until he found himself at The Moat he can give no coherent account of what happened. He has a vague idea that he found himself being roughly treated when he was in the car, that he struggled but was overpowered and must have been conveyed to Yorkshire in a drugged condition."

"Was this man who now calls himself Julian Emerson—was he the woman's son?" "That's what Henry does not know exactly, but he thinks it more than probable. At any rate he assures me that he has no relative living, and he also now realizes that this man must have been on his track, following up his career and resolving to keep Henry Emerson a prisoner until he had forced him to sign away a very large amount of money."

"Had Mr. Emerson never heard from his first wife's son all these years?" queried Shannon.

He had opened the door and was standing there when a lady who had alighted from the car came hurriedly towards him.

Mrs. Northwood answered promptly: "Oh, yes. I gather from Henry that he has helped this man, whose name was Miller, very considerably. That he was always being approached for financial assistance, and that in fact, growing very tired of giving Miller money, he wrote to him about eight months ago saying that he would answer no further applications."

Supper was over, a thimble of the past, and Leonard was just about to go to bed when he stood still and listened. Outside was the sound of a car approaching, and his quick ear recognized at once that this car had stopped outside Mrs. Donald's cottage.

He had opened the door and was standing there when a lady who had alighted from the car came hurriedly towards him.

Leonard and Mrs. Donald waited anxiously for some sign from Mrs. Northwood.

Under came in frequently to see Gerald Craven, who was making very good progress. Whenever he wanted to see, however, he was prevented. On his part the doctor was firm.

It was while he was there in the afternoon that a message was brought by one of his servants, telling him that he had been summoned on the telephone to go to the Mulberry House as quickly as possible.

Mrs. Donald uttered an exclamation when she heard this. "My! she said. "That's queer! But you'll go, Dr. Horder, won't you?"

The doctor gave her a smile. "Of course I shall go now—at once."

Mrs. Donald went down to the door of the cottage and watched him get into his little car and hurry away. She was wishing Leonard was with her to exchange confidences, but the lame man after having had a rest in the morning had insisted on going to work in the afternoon.

standing there when a lady who had alighted from the car came hurriedly towards him.

"You are Leonard," she said. "Mr. Shannon told me I should find you here. How is Mr. Craven? I am terribly anxious about him."

"I'll take it on myself to make it all right with the doctor," said Mrs. Donald stoutly.

STREETS ENJOY TRIP

Gaiveston, June 18.

Dear Friends at McLean:

As several of you asked us to write you, we will take this way of letting you all hear from us.

Leaving home the 17th of May, we came by way of Oklahoma City and spent a week with our son and family waiting for them to get ready to go with us. On May 24th we set for Sulphur, where we spent three days; thence to Dallas for a visit with relatives, and on to Glen Rose, staying there two weeks. From there we went to Fort Worth and on to Anehuas with our brother-in-law and sister whom we hadn't seen in fifteen years. Tonight, the 18th of June, finds us at Gaiveston, right on the beach where the waves are roaring and we won't get much sleep. From here we will go to Bay City and stop there a few days and fish as we haven't caught any yet. We have decided the fish are a little farther on.

Hoping to be with you all in the near future, we remain as ever,

Yours affectionately,
MR. AND MRS. G. W. STREET.

Now if we can get the right kind of paving, our street troubles in four blocks will be solved for as long as needed.

It always rains when we just have to have it. When this year's crop is harvested we can still say that we have never had a total failure in this neighborhood. The rains the first of the week mean that all unpanted fields can be planted in plenty of time for a crop.

The efforts made to have a domestic science department in the McLean school next year are to be commended. The more practical things the child can be taught, the less we will hear the criticism that the school does not teach anything that will be useful in future life.

Through the courtesy of G. V. Koons, we have been shown a notice of a late invention, an automatic refrigerator that has no moving parts and is kept cold by a small gas flame. It is claimed that three hours is all that is required to install the machine and no further attention need be given it after lighting the gas.

A good band is a valuable asset to any town, and McLean is already feeling the good advertising given her by the high school band. The Texas law provides that a municipal band may be supported by taxation, and it would be a fine thing if McLean would vote to support this band. Such a plan insures the perpetuity of the band and means much to the development of any community.

McLean has just cause to be proud of the new school auditorium, but we hear many people say that everything is perfect with the exception that you can't hear or see anything. There should be something done before next school term. The lighting system could be easily remedied, but the acoustics might need the aid of an expert. It should not require much expense to make the auditorium what its appearance would indicate.

A town without a newspaper is dead. No town can progress very far ahead of the newspaper, for the progress of the town depends to a large extent upon its newspaper. It means money in the pockets of every citizen for the paper to progress. The paper cannot progress unless it makes money, and it cannot make money without the support of the citizens. Remember these facts when you are tempted to buy printing or advertising that should go to the newspaper.

A Driver

Blanch Purdy is a driver. The 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Purdy, who live nine miles east of LaPorte, Ia., for four years, while studying in high school, drove more than 18 miles a day—more than 14,000 miles in all. She never has been tardy.

TOBEY AND TYKE

TAKE YOUR MEASURE

When you find a citizen who is opposed to a Chamber of Commerce in his town, or some like institution, you may just put it down that he is a fellow who never attends any public gatherings that are held for the benefit of his town. He is a fellow who never gets out and does gratis work in order that his town may grow and become better. He is a fellow who never circulates a petition of any kind for a worthy cause. He is a fellow who is never found on the school board, the city council, a director or leader in an amusement park, a clean-up campaign, nor any of the hundred things of this kind. If you doubt it, just put it to the test and watch. You will find him to be a fellow who goes to his place of business in the morning, goes to dinner over the same path, goes home in the same way at night. Outside of that, you never see him. Now sit down and make a list and see if this will not hold good.—Paducah Post.

THE GRANDSTAND UMPIRE

A visitor went to see the last game of a series between two local teams. For a time he could not observe any umpire, but at last he spied him sitting up in the grandstand among the spectators. "Great guns, man!" the visitor exclaimed to his host, "what's the umpire doing up in the grandstand?" "Well," the host explained, "the spectators used to accuse him of doing work so much that he allowed that if the folks up in the grandstand could see every play so good he'd better go up there to do his umpirin'."

WARM DAYS DEMAND CHIFFON

PRINTED FROCKS WITH LONG SLEEVES NEW THIS YEAR—GREEN IS A FAVORITE COLOR FOR SPORTS WEAR

BY HARRIET

SUMMER styles for afternoon and evening wear come fluttering in—soft, sheer chiffons and delicate laces fashioned with tiers, pleats, panels and ruffles.

For sports wear, summer styles come in aslant—exploiting diagonal designs, using plaids on the bias and featuring uneven necklines aided and abetted by kerchiefs, knotted on the side.

Of course the more formal wear takes unto itself all the diverting touches sports wear has hit upon. Skirts and sleeves are smartly varied, all introducing additional fulness. Tricky bows, new necklines and a certain studied carelessness that in reality is the height of sophistication, all owe their origin to sports wear.

Long Sleeves New

Chiffon printed frocks are new this season for afternoon wear. Printed chiffon frocks with long sleeves are decidedly new. And the very latest development in this type introduces the dressy though girlishly simple looking little jacket-dress of printed chiffon forming a successful union with the new colored lace.

"La Jeunesse" is the smartest of these smart ensembles. It is a delicate little all-over flowered pattern in pinks on a bois de rose background. At least six tones of pink are employed. And for emphasis there is a touch of cherry red among the flowers.

The skirt is little pleated from hip to hip in front, while the back is plain. The blouse, of bois de rose shadow lace, has long sleeves and a youthful round neck. The little jacket with its graceful long sleeves is unlined, fashioned of the figured chiffon. Its Puritan collar is of the lace which is shut with a tiny necktie of the material.

"La Jeunesse" is topped by a graceful Swiss braid hat in the deep cherry tone. It has a cherry velvet banding, with a jaunty ornament of velvet climbing up the front of the crown and a couple of flat ends of velvet extending from the crown at the sides.

Green for Sports

For sports wear this year no color is so smart as green—from Nile, through watersprite, peppermint, absinthine, chartreuse, jade, parakeet, pistache, gooseberry, almond and so on clear to the deep, bluish green called jungle. It is decidedly the "wearing of the green" for sports.

Apple green flat crepe combines pleasantly with plaid in the model to the left, called "Caprice." The other, "La Jeunesse," is a chiffon print and lace ensemble.

Today we show "Caprice," an apple green frock wherein flat crepe is bined by plaid taffeta. That is to say, biased plaid taffeta in tones of green forms the pleated skirt, bands the kerchief and fashions the tailored belt.

Long-sleeved sports wear continues popular. Of course for actual workout on courts or links the short sleeved frock with separate jacket is more practical. But sports wear that in reality is fashioned for town or porch wear continues to favor long sleeves. "Caprice" sponsors the long puff sleeve with tight cuff which has a charm all its own. The blouse of the jumper emphasizes the slight puff of the sleeve. The plain neck is crowded into obscurity by the jaunty kerchief which is worn to one side. With sports costumes small hats continue the favorites. Appliqued hat ornaments this season hold an importance all their own. They may be the owner's favorite dog, or horse, or represent her favorite sport by featuring golf sticks, a tennis scene or motor. Or they may be an intricate monogram, worked out so cleverly that it would take a wizard to figure out, unaided, just what the letters are.

THE POWER OF PUBLICITY

There are narrow-minded individuals who claim that the cost of publicity is not a legitimate expense of public service corporations. Publicity which encourages the widest use of an article is the most potent influence to reduce the expense of that article to the consuming public. Without publicity, the demand for an article is small and the cost of production high. With proper publicity, the demand for an article becomes universal and the cost of production drops to a minimum.

That is why Americans enjoy the best public utility service in the world—utility companies are consistent users of advertising space. They have acquainted the people with every phase of their business and shown them the advantages of using electricity, gas, the telephone and street railway service. Their success is an outstanding example of the fact that advertising does pay when applied to an article or service of merit.

To make old-fashioned creamy rice pudding put a tablespoon of washed rice in a baking dish with 1 quart of milk, 1-3 cup of sugar, 1-8 teaspoon of nutmeg or cinnamon, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cook very slowly in the oven for 2 or 3 hours, stirring often. A cup of raisins may be added.

To make some unusual cookies, roll out the dough very thin, cut out round cookies and then on half of them make three holes with a thimble, arranged like a clover leaf. When the cookies are baked, spread the plain ones with jelly and put the others on top so the jelly shows through.

WATCH IT BURN

From a certain city in Texas comes this story: A driver of a gasoline truck with some 300 gallons of gasoline in his tank drove up to a laundry to deliver some gasoline. In making the connections with the hose to deliver the gasoline into an underground tank two or three gallons of gasoline were spilled on the sidewalk and in the gutter. After his connections were made and the gasoline was gurgling its way into the receptacle tank our hero decided to smoke. He lit a cigarette to amuse some bystanders he tossed the burning match into the spilled gasoline, remarking, "watch it burn."

Then came the fire department, ambulance and hospital into action. Further details are needless. This too, is printed on the condition that the name of the city where it happened is to be kept a secret. They do not want it known that such business individuals are permitted to drive gasoline trucks in that city. I do not name them, do you!—State Fire Marshal.

PAPER MONEY TO BE SMALLER

The Treasury Department will begin within the next few months to reduce the size of paper money one-third. The national bank notes will no longer be issued. Silver certificates are to be used for the $1 bill only. The old greenbacks adopted in the Civil War period will be merged into $5 bills of the new currency. Larger denominations will be made up of gold certificates and Federal Reserve notes. Eight hundred tons of $1 bills are at present distributed each year. Paper money is printed from steel engraved plates. In the new process 12 bills instead of eight may be printed at a time. For each impression the plates are cleaned and re-lined.

If a well-fed animal becomes unthrifty, parasitism is to be suspected. Probably about 10% of all livestock losses are due to worms and other parasites. There are 12 important parasites of chickens in this country. There are 40 or 50 parasites of cattle. And there are 50 to 60 found in horses.

Feed the beef calf as much grain as it will clean up in 30 minutes and still want more. Remove from trough any left-over feed and give less next time. Digestive disorders occur from feeding too much rather than too little.

LOVE AND MEMORY

A young man and a young woman lingered over the front gate. They are lovers. It is moonlight. He is loathe to leave, as the parting is the last. He is about to go away. She is reluctant to see him depart. They swing on the gate.
 "I'll never forget you," he says, "and if death should claim me, my last thought will be of you."
 "I'll be true to you," she sobs.
 "I'll never see anybody else or love another as long as I live."
 They part. Six years later he remains. His sweetheart of former years has married. They meet at a party. She has changed greatly. Between the dances the recognition takes place.
 "Let me see," she muses, with her fan beating a tattoo on her reality hand. "Was it you or your brother who was my old sweetheart?"
 "Really, I don't know," he said. "Probably my father."

Garbage, Swine— And $100,000

Garbage and hogs mean something to Susie Yamamoto, 24, American-born Japanese girl of San Bernardino, Calif. She takes the house from a half dozen communities and feeds thousands of hogs on her ranch. She has $100,000 in the bank, expects to market 40,000 hogs next year and prefers business to matrimony. She speaks English, Japanese, French and Spanish.

COTTON IS COOL

You can wear cotton to be cool. There are many kinds of cotton fabrics, each useful for a specific purpose, according to the way in which it is made, says the Bureau of Home Economics, United States Department of Agriculture. For example, if you want to feel cool you will dress so as to permit evaporation of moisture from the body, a process which requires a constant circulation of air through the clothing. Cotton as a fiber is a good conductor of heat; that is, heat passes through it readily. For coolness, however, you must choose the thin, open, flat, smooth weaves among the cotton goods—those which inclose no air and permit a maximum of air circulation. Fabrics of this type are voile, batiste, organdy, lawn and dimity. These materials do not absorb great amounts of perspiration. It is evaporated by the air directly from the skin, giving the sensation of coolness.

You will avoid in hot weather the flat, firm, solid weaves such as heavy muslins, denim and khaki. These fabrics are so dense that they are impervious to air, and because of their smooth, hard surface perspiration is not absorbed. This permits the body to be enveloped in a layer of dead, damp air. These impervious fabrics are very hot and very undesirable for summer and are never suitable for wear next to the skin. Don't put on denim overalls and twill middie on the children on hot days. You can dress them for play in cool, thin sateen or smoothly woven trunks, leaving as much of the arms and legs uncovered as you can. For summer underwear choose thin muslins, such as crossbar or alibon. For winter turn to the knitted cottons. These are so porous that they inclose air and also permit absorption of perspiration.

WHAT LOGIC IS THIS?

By what line of reason does a person company think it is entitled to a guarantee that it will make a fixed profit at every town it shows? Undoubtedly many lyceum numbers are uplifting and educational in nature, and as such will help any community. But there are good movies, circuses, newspapers, books and a thousand of other kinds of businesses that are operated by individuals for profit. It would seem far-fetched for a lyceum man to guarantee the state operator a hundred dollars profit for every worthwhile picture he books. He must depend on his product being good enough to justify patronage. If he goes in the neighborhood aren't asked to wear the hat. Yes, lyceums continue to do a kind of office business. Often the late receipts are discouraging, but the Home Town business man coughs and sends the artists away regretting. This practice should stop. The lyceum companies have anything worth while left them sell by their merits and take the same risk everybody else has to—Shamrock, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Orrill and their daughter, Margaret Jean, of McLean, visited in the K. S. Jordan home Sunday.

SOME FIRMS DARE NOT ADV.

Usually the argument is made by a business firm should advertise. Generally speaking, this is true, but there are exceptions. In fact some firms hardly dare advertise, because they cannot make good according to the requirements of modern business practices. When advertising is untruthful or misleading it does more harm than good. Only an advertiser who fulfills the promises made in its advertising can stand the spotlight of publicity. Hence, when we find a store or other business establishment boldly advertising its wares or service month after month, and year after year, we may generally conclude that it can and does give real values. Observing the advertising business of any community, large or small, will enable one to identify the most dependable concerns in the community. Only the most reputable establishments dare to advertise.—Haskell Free Press.

Dairymen lose hundreds of thousands of dollars annually because of poorly cooled milk and cream. How clean and healthy are cows or how sanitary the methods or how clean the utensils, will soon determine in quality and contain thousands of bacteria if it is not effectively cooled. Cooling should be begun immediately after the milk is drawn, each cow's milk being cooled as milked.

Artificial watering of the garden, if properly done, will prove a decided advantage during the dry period, but may result in injury if not properly handled. Frequent light sprinkling of the garden is undesirable. The proper method is to soak the soil thoroughly about once each week, or when needed, preferably during the evening. After it has dried so there will be no danger of puddling, the surface should be loosened by cultivation.

THE LIFE OF PETER

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for June 20: Peter's Life and Work. A Review of the Quarter's Lessons.—1 Peter 5:1-11.

Text: 1 Peter 5:1-11.

The elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed:

Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind.

Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock.

And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away.

Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder: yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.

Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time:

Casting all your care upon him: for he careth for you. Be sober, be vigilant, because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:

Whom resist, steadfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world. But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you.

To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

A LEADER of men, fearless and foremost, equal to every emergency yet not quite always achieving the part that he attempted—that is the courageous and impetuous Peter, most interesting of Christ's disciples.

Jesus understood Peter a great deal better than Peter understood himself. The Master saw in the man moods of passion and impetuosity, and moods, too, of discouragement and failure. But from every point of view Peter is a figure of unflinching attraction.

Christ knew Peter's great weakness even when Peter was not conscious of his own shortcomings. It was Peter's salvation that Jesus understood and forgave him and was patient.

Prejudice Peter's old prejudices died hard. Even as a Christian, he revealed the strange and contradictory elements that made him so human.

In the vision on the housetop Peter reminded God that he never had eaten anything unclean. He needed the distinct rebuke and admonition of the vision to persuade him to be Christlike and brotherly toward Gentile converts.

For all his weakness and vacillation, Peter became strong and steadfast. Under Christ's influence he became more and more like "the rock" to which Jesus listened him.

Openmindedness is one of the great lessons to be gained from the life of Peter. There is a need for sincerity in life, and a need also for discipline. Self-examination ought to be a part of every man's spiritual life.

Love's Richness

It took Peter a long while to learn the meaning and wealth of love. It is for us to profit by his experiences. Peter, at least, had some excuse for narrow-mindedness and bigotry. We, who follow, have none.

It is harder to learn patience than to be up and doing. But activity and service go hand in hand with the improvement of the soul—by patience and discipline.

Peter stands out as a great and conspicuous example of man's character transformed by the love of Christ. In what befell Peter every man can find hope of a higher and better life.
