

Definite Action Seen At Water Conference

Definite engineering proposals and appeals for concrete organization action were expected to come from the meeting of the Colorado River Municipal Water Association here today.

Headed by M. H. Ulmer, Mid-South representative from Colorado City, Big Spring, Midland and Odessa were due to be on hand to hear reports on feasibility of a joint water supply on the upper Colorado river.

Simon Freese, Fort Worth, hydraulic engineer who has conducted studies on the project since its inception here two years ago, was expected to submit proposals for moving the damsite up stream several miles and, by means of diversion facilities, circumvent a salination problem on a short segment of the watershed in southeastern Borden county.

Informed sources said that there likely would be an appeal for definite action toward establishing a water district composed of the four cities in event the project was deemed feasible.

E. V. Spence, former city manager here and now chairman of the state board of water engineers, arrived with Mrs. Spence from Austin Wednesday morning. He expressed keen interest in the project but said he was here in the capacity of observer and to furnish whatever facts might be requested of his department.

Also here was Tom Weinheimer, engineer in charge for the U. S. Geological Survey, which has cooperated closely with the board of water engineers in collection of survey and research data, and Harold Albert, assistant engineer for USGS. Bill Lupton, Austin, of the state board of water engineers staff, also was here.

Late delegations were expected from all of the cities. Colorado City was the first to report with 16 in the party including Joe Smoot, CRMWA secretary, Newby Pratt, Mayor, G. W. Wyatt, A. L. McSpadden, Frank Kelley, one of the key figures in the CRMWA, Harry Ratliff, Jasper Wood, L. A. Chapman, J. F. Merritt, M. N. Caddell, Earl Bibby, Bill Craddock, Henry Billingsley, Dale Warren, Dell Barber, W. W. Whipkey, and C. C. Thompson.

J. B. Thomas, Fort Worth, president of Texas Electric Service and a pioneer in the idea of a multi-city water supply, also was to be at the meeting, which opened with a luncheon at the Settles hotel where Mayor G. W. Dabney and Ulmer were in charge.

Truman Says He's 'Smoked Out' Dewey

Asserts GOP Has Adopted 'Me Too' Plan

ABOARD TRUMAN CAMPAIGN TRAIN, Oct. 14. (AP)—President Truman declared today that he had "smoked out" the opposition and made them "come across with a me-too, program."

In the first of a series of rear platform addresses this morning, he told a howling crowd at Mankato that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is a "recent convert" to bi-partisan foreign policy and renewed his plea that the people not "risk" his election at a time of world crisis.

He said he wanted to warn against recent "converts who would seek to curry favor" in order to further their own "political ambitions."

Attacking Sen. Joseph H. Ball again, he called him a former "liberal" who was "converted to reaction."

"You know I warned the people of this country not to risk entrusting their destiny to recent converts to the principles of our foreign policy," Mr. Truman said.

He called them "converts who would seek to curry favor by putting on the mantle of such principles in order to further their own political ambitions."

Anderson, former Secretary of Agriculture, would be the state's next United States Senator.

Pacific Arms Chiefs Meet

TOKYO, Oct. 14. (AP)—American commanders in the Pacific and Alaska discussed measures to prevent another Pearl Harbor in a series of top secret conferences with General Douglas MacArthur ending today.

The problem of Pacific defenses brought together key officers of the Army, Navy and Airforce guarding the northwestern and far eastern frontiers of the United States.

Airforce Lt. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, commanding the Alaska defenses, and Vice Admiral John L. McCrea, deputy commander of the U. S. Pacific fleet, met with Gen. MacArthur for three days.

They met within view of Japan's Imperial Palace grounds—just across the moat from the big white building housing allied headquarters—where the Dec. 7, 1941, attack on the U. S. Pacific fleet received final sanction.

Informed sources confined information on the talks to two points:

1. The American command staff discussed with Gen. MacArthur practical precautions against the possibility of another surprise attack.

2. The high-ranking officers attained a "fine spirit of co-operation and co-ordination" among the Army, Navy and Airforce. This was described as an outstanding achievement.

Agreement to work together in the Pacific followed the general pattern of unified defense set forth by Secretary of Defense Forrestal. The Tokyo talks got down to the practical application which must take place in the field in the event of war.

Sources reviewing the conferences made no reference to the first mid-winter amphibious landing attack exercise in the far north. It will be held next February in the Alaska area. Pacific fleet headquarters announced yesterday.

The three commanders represented a vast defense area broadened by the war. Gen. MacArthur commands all land, sea and air groups [operating from northern Japan southward in a wide-swinging arc with an outer line running through Korea, China, the Philippines and back eastward to American Samoa, south of the equator.

Predicts Fall Of Berlin City Government

BERLIN, Oct. 14. (AP)—A Communist spokesman predicted last night Berlin's central government, last link between the eastern and western sectors of the divided city, would fall to pieces soon.

The spokesman, Karl Maron, made this prediction a few hours after a clash between communists and non-communists of the city's magistrat (executive department).

A Communist official who was fired by the city government last week attended a session in the meeting hall yesterday. The hall is in the Soviet sector. When the official, Waldemar Schmidt, chief of the city labor department, refused to leave, the non-Communist members walked out and resumed their meeting in a British sector building. Schmidt and two other Communist magistrat members remained in the Soviet sector hall.

Later, Maron asserted: "The complete split-up of the Berlin city government will in all probability follow."

The city's assembly, or legislative council, already has split up. The anti-Communist members now meet in the British sector, where the Communist members refuse to join them. Many anti-Communist moved out after the violent demonstrations late in August.

The Soviet - controlled Berlin radio announced that Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, Soviet commander, met with German politicians of the eastern sector and discussed food and coal prospects.

West May Demand U. N. Lift Blockade

Council Takes Up Berlin Tomorrow

PARIS, Oct. 14. (AP)—Western Powers delegates met today on the Berlin crisis and authoritative sources said they were framing a joint demand for security council action to lift the Soviet blockade.

The council takes up the Berlin issue again tomorrow. Hope vanished for mediation outside the council with Russia's reported rejection of conciliation efforts by the so-called neutral states.

American, British and French delegates studied the Kremlin's answer to the neutral states' mediation efforts. The content of the Soviet note still was not made public, but western sources said it set back the Berlin dispute to where it was six weeks ago.

The six "neutrals" in the security council also met this morning to discuss a resolution they may introduce during the debate, Argentine sources said.

When the council meets tomorrow Argentina's Juan A. Bramuglia is expected to detail his six-power mediation efforts of the past week. Western sources expressed hope Bramuglia would make public at that time both the Russian and the joint western answers to the mediation efforts. Western informants said the delegates of the United States, Britain and France had not received a written copy of the Soviet reply and so far depended on an oral fill-in by Bramuglia.

Argentine sources said Bramuglia believed the dispute had reached the stage of "face-saving" and that the Russians could still be persuaded to lift the blockade, but could not be forced to do so.

Bramuglia confirmed that the Berlin dispute was back where it started in the security council, but said a solution still may be found.

Chest Leaders Plan Second Major Push

Encouraged by initial response to big gifts appeals, Community Chest leaders prepared for the second major push to begin Friday morning.

The special gifts division under Champ Rainwater and K. H. McGibbon was to begin at 10 o'clock Friday on its contact of 100 prospects in this class of contributions.

An interesting story of a youth ready to die who found himself through a Chest agency is related today in the "Around The Rim" column on today's editorial page.—Ed.

A list of 18 volunteer workers: had been secured for the contacts, and Rainwater felt that bulk of the calls could be cleaned up Friday.

C. S. Blomahfield, in charge of the big gifts division, was making rapid progress and in most instances contributions were being raised by a minimum of 75 per cent, the factor between the total last year and the goal this year. So far results in this division were said to be excellent.

R. L. Tollett, general chairman of the Chest, was putting the finishing touches on a job of organization that most Chest workers considered the best to date, and everything now was pointing to the beginning of the general solicitation on Tuesday.

Roy Reeder, chairman of this division, had captains for 22 divisions and for a miscellaneous division to catch businesses which do not fit into any general classification.

Encouraged by response of workers to requests for time, Tollett urged the public to be equally generous in giving toward the $37,000 goal which supports the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the Salvation Army, YMCA, Chest and Alcoholic Anonymous programs. The AA item of $1,925 is for house maintenance only.

PORTER GAINS SUPPORT

Johnson Facing Stiff GOP Drive

By The Associated Press

Lyndon Johnson, Democratic candidate for United States Senate, returns to Texas to find himself facing an intensive campaign by Republican Candidate Jack Porter of Houston.

Porter has the support of former Governor Coke Stevenson who lost the democratic nomination to Johnson.

Johnson left Washington by plane late yesterday after calling Stevenson a political turncoat. The Dallas News said that Johnson was en route to Houston and was prepared to make "several" speeches between now and the general election Nov. 2.

Johnson's office in Washington said the congressman would make a statement today.

In Dallas last night Republican Candidate Porter attached Johnson's voting record and had kind words to say for Stevenson.

"Communism is a threat here and in the United States and throughout the world," Porter said. "If we do not fight against it, and effectively so, it will enslave us and the world."

He criticized the state Democratic convention at Fort Worth. "Everybody in Texas knows that legally elected delegates from all over Texas were kicked out," he said.

At the convention, he said, "charges of illegal voting, illegal counting and fraud were made."

In a statement yesterday in Washington, Johnson said he was not surprised that Stevenson "has proved a turn-coat and repudiated the pledge he took when he entered the Democratic primary."

Sen. Connally and Rep. Poage, the only Texas legislators available here for comment on Stevenson's move, said they will stick with their party's nominees.

Democratic national committee headquarters had no comment.

However the News' story from Washington said "democratic national headquarters" was getting alarmed over mounting Texas support for Republican candidates.

In Wichita Falls Charles C. McDonald, temporary chairman of the September state democratic convention, issued a statement calling Stevenson "a Henry Wallace to Texas Democracy."

Convicts Escape From Prison Farms

HOUSTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Two prisoners escaped from Texas Prison System Farms yesterday afternoon and night, it was reported today by J. C. Roberts, head of the prison record bureau.

Thomas James Snider, 26, serving 10 years from Jefferson County for burglary, escaped about 9:30 p. m. from Central Prison Farm in Fort Bend County, Zaragosa Garza, 33, Wynne Prison Farm trusty, serving 15 years from Bexar County for assault to murder, escaped yesterday afternoon.

Porter Will Not Predict Type Of Win

DALLAS, Oct. 14. (AP)—Discussing the outcome of the general election, Republican Senatorial Candidate Jack Porter said here last night that "it might be close, or I might win by a landslide."

Porter campaigned here yesterday afternoon and last night. He left for East Texas today. He will speak at Marshall tonight at a meeting of citizens of eight East Texas counties.

Friday night he will be in Amarillo on a program that will include Harold E. Stassen, speaking on behalf of the GOP presidential slate of Dewey and Warren.

Two Prisoners Mutilate Selves

HOUSTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Two convicts in isolation at the Huntsville prison unit last night mutilated themselves with razor blades, it was reported by J. C. Roberts, head of the prison board record bureau.

Roberts identified the prisoners as Frank Clark, 27, serving 15 years from Kaufman County, for robbery by fire arms; and John Thomas Wilson, 22, serving two years from Dallas county, for theft.

Federal Judge Declares ITU In Contempt

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 14. (AP)—Federal Judge Luther M. Swygert today ruled that the International Typographical Union is in contempt of court because it has insisted on a closed shop in its contracts with newspapers.

The judge, who issued an injunction against the printers union last March 27, did not penalize the union, but ordered it to prove within 10 days that it is abiding by his injunction, based on the Taft-Hartley Act.

Counsel for the National Labor Relations Board had asked the contempt citation, charging that the union had continued to insist on a closed shop; had discriminated against non-union men in hiring, and had supported strikes against newspapers in violation of the injunction.

The union had insisted it was negotiating with newspapers in good faith, but Judge Swygert ruled it had "deliberately attempted since the issuance of the injunction" to continue "closed shop conditions in the newspaper industry."

The order specifically directs the ITU:

1. Not to encourage local unions in demands for a contract which would discriminate against non-union employees by setting certain standards of competency for them and none for union members;

2. Not to instruct local unions to demand that the "form contract" be signed by employers;

3. Not to support strikes, slowdowns and walk-outs in disputes brought about because the union has violated the March 27 injunction.

4. To notify all locals that the union is in contempt of court and that the International cannot support any local that insists on contract terms violating the terms of the injunction—insisting on the "form contract" and discrimination against non-union members.

PRICE DROP FORECAST MAY BE TOO OPTIMISTIC

Farmers Wary Of Over-Producing Meat

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Government forecasts of a boost in meat supplies—and lower prices—by late 1949 may be over-optimistic.

Made chiefly by the Agriculture Department, these predictions have been based largely on the fact that, at the moment, the relationship between feed prices and live-stock prices is very favorable for producing meat animals.

This year's record gain crop has pulled down costs of feed, while livestock prices have remained relatively high.

But reports from the Corn Belt where the bulk of the nation's meat supply comes from, indicate that farmers are not jumping in to expand livestock production as much as the department had expected.

These reports say many farmers fear that prices may drop sharply by the time new meat animals can be produced, fattened and marketed.

This view was expressed by Carl C. Malone, Iowa State College economist, before an Agriculture Department farm outlook conference here this week. He was supported by several economists from other Western Corn Belt states.

Malone, somewhat to the surprise of department officials, said he does not believe farmers will meet the government's goal of a 60,000,000-head 1949 spring pig crop. Such a goal must be met if there is to be a big bump in pork supplies next year. It compares with this year's spring crop of 51,000,000.

Malone said many farmers in Iowa—the major corn-hog state—prefer to put their corn under government price support loans and thereby escape any risk that might be involved in feeding the grain to livestock.

The department itself reported similar skepticism among Corn Belt cattle feeders in a report yesterday. It said the volume of beef cattle to be fed in the Corn Belt this winter may not be greatly different from a year ago because of a "cautious attitude among farmers and financing agencies."

The "uncertainty of future prices" of beef cattle was said to be the main factor back of this cautiousness.

This farmer uneasiness also has been expressed in heavy October marketings of hogs. The recent drop in feed prices had been expected to lead farmers to hold hogs for fattening to heavy weights.

But the reverse has been the case. Hogs are coming to market at considerably lighter weights than a year ago and in larger numbers.

Thomas Stresses Service In Work, Merchandise

"Service." That is the first thought and the motto of the Thomas Typewriter and Office Supply store, 107 Main street, in Big Spring. Any article purchased at that establishment has behind it the Thomas stamp of approval.
The store carries in its line of office supplies the Park Lane carbons, which makes up to 64 legible copies with the same sheet. Thomas' also has in stock carbon papers manufactured by the Royal Typewriter company, priced right on the present market.

With Christmas just around the corner, Gene Thomas, proprietor, has obtained several extra models of the latest Royal portable typewriter, which make an excellent gift for school children.
Callers will find such items in stock as desks, executive and posture chairs, steel cabinets, Speed-O-Print mimeographs and numerous other items which will make ideal, useful gifts and will be appreciated by everyone who receives them.
A visit to the Thomas store will enable the customer to actually inspect every item that he needs. Trial runs may be made on the adding machines in stock and the prospective buyers may desire to try out standard and portable typewriters.

A business that has been built by giving service to the public and is better equipped than ever to render service on all type of office machine invites the public to call it if you experience trouble with your machines.
Business telephone number of the concern is 98.

Typewriters Now
Immediate delivery on both portable and standard models of the Royal typewriters can be made at Thomas Typewriter and Office Supply store, 107 Main street, if orders are placed now. The portable model has especially been in demand the past year.

BIG SPRING MATTRESS OFFERS PLAN FOR MODERN RENOVATION
The Big Spring Mattress Co., located at 811 West Third street is offering an attractive plan for patrons who wish to have ordinary mattresses converted into inner-spring types.
First of all, the local firm keeps a supply of materials on hand that assures prompt attention to all orders. All phases of the work are performed by experienced personnel who have turned out highly satisfactory items for a number of years.
"We are renewing our invitation to customers to let us make over their mattresses into inner-spring types at this time," said T. J. Mitchell, owner and manager of the firm. "Our prices for such service range from $20, while charges for work on cotton mattresses begin at $8."
Those figures include new ticking for each job, of course, he explained.
The Big Spring Mattress Co. not only is a widely recognized center for mattress rebuilding and renovation, but is equipped to manufacture new mattresses of all types as well.

Cosden Takes Lead In Oil Progress Day Observances

Oil Progress Day, to be observed nationally on Thursday, will find Big Spring looking to Cosden Petroleum Corp. as a symbol of oil progress here.
Cosden is observing an "open house" on Thursday with two conducted tours at 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. when people of this area will be privileged to go through the plant and inspect its operations.
All during the week downtown shoppers can catch a birds-eye glimpse of what happens to crude oil in its transformation to gasoline and residual fuel oils, for Cosden has on display a model refinery in the Empire Southern Gas company. Neon lights trace the line of flow of oil to furnaces and cracking units and to the various product yields. Reminders of the products Cosden turns out are seen in bottles containing, gasolines, oils and acids.
Cosden has processed a tremendous amount of West Texas crudes within the last 10 years. In the fiscal year ending April 30, 1948, more than six million barrels of crude were put through the refining plant here. The previous year 5,000,000 barrels were put through.
Were the Cosden yield for last year lined up in standard tank cars, there would be more than 29,000 of them.
While not in business as producer, Cosden nevertheless produced 359,000 barrels of oil last year, about 50,000 more than for the previous year.
Cosden also operated a big tank car fleet with 597 cars which travelled a total of 25 million miles over 111 railroads in 25 states and several provinces of Canada, making 11,492 loaded trips. The mileage is equivalent to 116 trips around the world.

The company also announced plans for addition of a new catalytic cracking plant which will make the refining facilities here of comparable value for 10 years ago despite depreciation. At the same time, the company has been able to report net profits in excess of three and a half millions for that period.
Big Spring people also gain pride in Cosden's payroll of 359 Big Spring and Howard county people, who will receive an estimated million and a quarter dollars this year. Another source of pride also is the record of the company as a progressive citizen in the community. It has been a leader in all community drives and has encouraged its employees to be participating citizens.
It's no wonder Big Spring regards Cosden as a synonymous with oil progress.

Life And Music Of Albert Spalding Is Study Club Topic On Wednesday

Mrs. Omar Pitman was the program leader of the topic, "Today in American Music," when members of the Music Study club met Wednesday afternoon for a study of the life and music of Albert Spalding.

Program features included a review of Spalding's autobiography entitled "Rise to Follow" and given by Miss Elsie Willis; a vocal solo, "Rock of Rubies, Quarrie of Pearls," by Mrs. Joe Fowler Brooks; and two violin numbers, "Berceuse" and "Old Irish Song and Dance," by Mrs. J. E. Hardesty. At the conclusion of the program, there was a short quiz session on current topics and personalities of the day.

During the business session, Mrs. C. W. Norman announced that a district meeting would be held in Pecos November 5th. Mrs. C. C. Jones was elected as the official club delegate.

Those present were Mrs. Chester Banes, Mrs. Joe F. Brooks, Mrs. Cooper Brown, Mrs. W. K. Edwards, Mrs. Roy Green, Mrs. Bill Grisee, Mrs. G. T. Hall, Mrs. J. E. Hardesty, Mrs. Morris Jarzatt, Mrs. C. ## Texas Tech's President Will Speak Here

The Business and Professional Women's club will join forces with the Big Spring Classroom Teachers association Tuesday in honoring Dr. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Tech.

Jo Hestand, CTA president, said Thursday that the B&PW had decided to hold its banquet, at which employers were to be guests, in conjunction with the CTA dinner to be addressed by Dr. Wiggins.

Already tickets had been placed on sale by teachers interested in having a large gathering on hand to greet the new head of Texas Tech. Dr. Wiggins, former dean of H-SU and president of Texas School of Mines at El Paso, is to speak on a subject of equal interest to patrons and teachers.

Miss Hestand said that tickets ($1.50 per plate) would be available from any of the teachers until Monday morning.

A hospitality committee to greet guests and afford all an opportunity to meet Dr. Wiggins will be composed of Mrs. C. C. Coffey, Mrs. J. A. Coffey, Mrs. Zollie Rawlings, Agnes Currie for the CTA, Mrs. Zollie Boykin, P-TA council president, Mrs. H. W. Smith, representing wives of the school board members, and Mrs. Moore Sawtelle, B&PW president. The banquet will be at the Settles.

Shine Philips Is Guest Speaker For Epsilon Sigma Alpha Meeting

The culture of West Texas from 1860 to 1880 was discussed by Shine Philips Wednesday evening at the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Model meeting complimenting six rushees.

Philips recalled days when Colorado City was the style center of the Southwest and rivaled Fort Worth in the cattle industry. He pointed out fine opera houses in almost every West Texas city including Big Spring and told of the famous Englishman, the fabulously rich Earl of Aylsford, who bought Big Spring's only hotel when he could find no lodging for his chain of attendants. Philips described Big Spring as a typical Western town whose saloons outnumbered its business houses.

The speaker had selected high points from his forthcoming book, adding that many stories of old West Texas are still untold.

Leatrice Ross, president, outlined the history, practices and work of the Alpha Chi chapters. She pointed out examples of civic, social and cultural activities and read aloud brief summaries from each member of what ESA has meant to them.

Ruth Webb introduced the guest speaker. Announcement was made that the ESA would help in keeping booths for the Community Chest drive.

The first-degree ritual for pledges and semi-formal banquet will be held in room one, Settles hotel, Friday evening at 8 p. m. Mary Ann Goodson will receive her jewel pin.

Coffee was served following the meeting to pledges, Wanda Richardson, Patsy Shannon, Jamie Bilbo, Edna Shannon, Bo Bowen and Jack Hatcher. # Blockade Nerves Beginning To Show Among Berliners Living In Austerity

This is the second of three stories written by the Associated Press Staff in Berlin to describe the situation in that blocked city.

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY and TOM REEDY

BERLIN, Oct. 14. (AP)—Imagine living in a city where, if you step outside certain boundaries, you will be arrested.

Imagine living in a city where all your food and other supplies are dependent on an airlift. Where you have lights a few hours in the morning and a few hours at night. Where simple, everyday items such as candles are rationed. Where winter is coming on and the prospect for sufficient coal is dim. Where war is not out of the realm of possibility.

Blockade nerves are beginning to show in Berlin.

Irritability is perhaps the most frequent indication.

How will the Germans "come through the winter?"

All right, say the Western Allies. Better than they survived the 1944-45 winter when they were cold and hungry and pounded by bombs.

This view is given by American military government officials who parcel out the food and coal brought in by air since the Russians began the blockade squeeze last June.

The average German gets a basic daily ration of 1,908 calories. Heavy workers get a top ration of 2,985 and housewives, 1,896.

The average American receives about 3,000 calories daily. The food of heavy workers, such as lumberjacks, may total up to 6,000. The average Briton received 2,800 calories daily in the first six months of 1948.

Will the Berlin ration level be maintained through the winter?

W. T. Babcock, deputy U. S. commandant in Berlin and a former New London, Conn., police chief, thinks so.

Food administration men of the three western powers are meeting now to plan an increase in caloric content of the German diet without increasing its weight.

The biggest problem is coal. Germans are going to have a mighty cold winter unless more planes can be added to the airlift. The old warming halls—public places where one came to get the chill out of his bones—probably will be revived.

Many Germans are preparing to augment their fuel supplies. They comb the parks for dead timber and tree stumps.

The Western Allies apparently have taken note, and an extensive wood-cutting program has been ordered in the western sectors of the city.

The wood cutting program will continue through October to Jan. 31, but all timber taken will not be for fuel. Some will be kept for seasoning and used in housing construction.

This is the way the western sectors rationed coal last winter:

A single individual got 500 pounds. There were five distributions of 100 pounds each. A family of three got 900, and those with families of five or more got 1,100.

Babcock says that the reasonably good fall weather has enabled the laying by of a small cushion of coal, but far from enough.

So, Babcock adds, the coal ration may be less than half of 1947. At present airlift planes are bringing in about 4,500 tons of coal daily and altogether have delivered 144,000 tons. This is not enough to duplicate the 1947 ration.

It may not be hopeless, though. New airstrips at Tempelhof and Stegl are being ready in December. More planes are being sought.

Under blockade conditions the health of the German has remained surprisingly good. A British report said flatly that there has been "no apparent effect." One helpful factor is the abundance of drugs.

One of the major concerns is what to do about German business and industry. It has been clipped hard by the Soviet control of two of the city's largest power plants. Already it has been retrenched by a third. Reserves of raw materials are being exhausted.

There has been some new unemployment, but not as much as had been expected.

Military government said figures were hard to get and analyze because: (1) many jobless did not register as such, (2) most places spread out the work, reduced the hours of all employees so that layoffs could be prevented. This way, each worker, while earning less, still would have enough for a living.

As part of a "made work" program instituted by the Germans, thousands are toiling part-time clearing bomb rubble, or plugging up holes in damaged buildings.

Thousands have been absorbed in the airport runway construction program.

The best figure at which the Americans could arrive on unemployment is 141,000 at the start of October. This is slightly lower than a month earlier.

None of these problems confronts the German in the Soviet sector.

The French have moved out all but essential personnel. The American military government staff has been cut from 2,600 to 1,200 since the first of the year. Gen. Clay expects the 1,200 to remain static.

Dependents are down to a low of about 1,000.

Although the diet inclines toward monotony, food for the allied people remains adequate and good.

Transportation is—and will be—tough to get for everyone, both Germans and the Western Allies.

It is necessary to shut down the German subway system at 8 p. m. The street railways stop at 11 p. m. Only the affluent have gasoline for private cars.

There is no joy-riding, even for the American. He will get only five gallons of gasoline a month for personal use. When that is consumed, he'll use a bus, a German train, or walk.

The transportation problem has prompted the military government to move many of its people closer to the Omgus headquarters in Zehlendorf-Dahlem. Those billeted farthest away were moved first, and the campaign to concentrate the population in an area closest to its place of employment still is going on.

Airlift planes have carried out some hundreds of Germans—the advanced in age and the young—to the safety of the western occupation zone.

The German has once in awhile looked away from his own troubles long enough to admire the Western Allies' willingness to accept austerity, too. They figure: "We're in this together and we'll stick it out."

TOMORROW: Berlin becomes a city of rival ideologies.

Oilman Gives Boys' Co-Op Ranch Boost

Funds to establish West Texas Boys' Co-op Ranch got a healthy boost Wednesday when M. D. Bryant, San Angelo oil man and rancher, made a personal pledge of $5,000 to the cause.

Boys' Ranch will be established on a 985-acre tract of land near Tankersley in Tom Green county. Location is downstream from Foster Park on Spring Creek. An option is held on the property now owned by Sam Kistler, real estate operator, who bought it from C. C. McBurnett, San Angelo financier, about 20 years ago.

Bryant's pledge Wednesday focused attention on the big gifts drive now in progress in San Angelo while other districts in the 32-county area from the Alpine-Port Davis sector to Brownwood were being organized.

The goal—$250,000 to buy the property, build dormitories, and effect other improvements for the operation expenses to care for homeless, dependent and neglected boys from eight to 15 years of age.

Reports from Big Spring indicated that a big gifts drive would be launched here soon. Chairman of this activity is R. L. Tollett. He and Lewis Price, district publicity chairman, are to go to communities in Sterling, Coke and Howard counties soon to organize for the campaign.

How to Celebrate Your Wedding Anniversary

The "Dutch" Millers celebrated their 15th Wedding Anniversary Saturday. Everything had to be in. Falls even ate off the plates, and drank coffee out of the cups.

When it was time to drink a toast to the "bride and groom," out came the final touch: his cold beer in cans. And come the Millers' 15th anniversary (Glas) I expect we'll be toasting them with sparkling beer in bottles!

Persons have got along together—in their policy of live-and-let-live, with never a criticism of each other's differences in taste.

From where I sit, it's due to two things: Temperance—as that moderate preference for beer suggests, and Tolerance—for their own differences of opinion—and for the tastes of others, whether applied to beer, to politics, or how to celebrate an anniversary.

And I couldn't help thinking that there was a lesson for married folk in the way Dutch and his

Schoolboy Football Campaign Rolls To Its Halfway Mark

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The Texas schoolboy football campaign rolls to the halfway mark this week-end on a schedule saturated with crucial games.

Conference battles push aside the interdistrict and sectional struggles.

Twelve of eighteen districts in the City Conference and Class AA have games counting in the title races.

At least three of the state's unbeaten teams appear likely to fall, thus cutting the list to an even dozen.

Amarillo, the Northern powerhouse and the team selected in most quarters to reach the finals against Port Arthur in Class AA plays thrice-beaten Woodrow Wilson at Dallas.

Sweetwater, a Western mighty, takes on Plainview in another top interdistrict battle.

In conference games the Abilene-Odessa, Gladewater-Marshall and Kerrville-Corpus Christi clashes are most important.

Abilene makes its opening bid for the District 3 championship.

Marshall, unbeaten power of East Texas, should get a rugged test indeed from Gladewater in the District 8 race.

Kerrville, beating back to the prominence it knew before injuries well-nigh wrecked its season, engages Corpus Christi in a game that might determine the District 13 championship.

Texas teams range pretty far in inter-sectional strife this week with Austin of El Paso going all the way to Toledo, O., to play Waite High-Bowie (El Paso) plays at Phoenix, Ariz., in another top inter-sectional contest.

Teams most likely to fall from the undefeated list are Austin (El Paso), Marshall and South Park (Beaumont) which plays Galveston.

Thurmond To Close His Tour In Texas

BEAUMONT, Oct. 14. (AP)—Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina will close his campaign for President on the States' Rights ticket here Saturday night, Oct. 30.

It will be Thurmond's last major speech before the Nov. 2 general election.

Pork Price Break Will Mean Lower Market Costs

Will the price break of four to five dollars per hundred pounds on hogs recently mean lower prices for bacon, pork chops, ham and other pork products at your meat counter?

The answer is "Yes," but the decline probably will be gradual and not as quick and drastic as the price drop of hogs sold on the hoof at major markets. Reason is pipelines are stocked with pork bought at higher prices and this is what is being sold now at meat counters.

Marketing of hogs has picked up during recent days because this is the time of year when they normally come to plants in quantity. Amount of pork produced under federal inspection during the past week was 112 million pounds, up seven million pounds from a week earlier, reports U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

Civic Art Club Has Tuesday Meet

Members of the Ever-ready Civic Art club answered the roll with talks Tuesday evening when they met in the Amanda Mott home.

Rosa Lee Stewart, president, presided during the business session.

Refreshments were served to these members: Rosa Lee Stewart, Annie Mae Kuykendall, Ertha Lee Henry, Clemmie Johnson, Mary Young, Lucille Cotton, N. M. Brown, Lillian Reed, Myrtle Ringo, Amanda Mott and a visitor, Sunshine Jesters.

CONFINED TO HOME

C. H. Tidwell has been confined to his home since Wednesday by illness.

Syracuse University first fielded a football team in 1880.

1. This is the "Christmas tree" you've heard of men talk about. It is a complicated arrangement of valves and meters which regulates the flow of oil from a producing well. This well is on Humble's lease in the Conroe field in Texas.

2. Oil pipe lines have worked wonders in oil transportation to carry your record demand for oil. This is the interior of Humble Pipe Line Company's pumping station at Comyn. This company operates 8,703 miles of oil and finished products pipe lines in Texas and New Mexico. Though construction of additional pipe lines has been slow because of the high demand for steel for other purposes, the Humble Pipe Line Company has been able to handle the largest volume in its history; during 1947, main trunk lines delivered 253,000,000 barrels of oil.

3. The oil industry's efforts to find more oil for you have greatly increased the activity of scientific exploration. This picture of Humble geophysical exploration in the Louisiana swamps illustrates the difficult field crews encounter. It is more difficult—and expensive—to drill wells in areas like this; engineers must solve construction and supply problems before drilling operations can even be considered.

The oil industry is breaking the production records it set in World War II

Never before in U. S. history have the oil fields produced as much oil as they are producing today—not even during the crucial days of World War II, when the winning of the war depended on oil production. Today, you're asking for 15% more oil than was required at the peak of the war effort, when the huge war needs of U. S. fleets, armies and airplanes were added to the demands of industry and the civilian population.

In the 12-month period before VJ day, the oil industry was asked to produce 5,110,000 barrels of oil daily, and it did.

Today, you are asking the industry to produce 5,700,000 barrels of oil daily, and the industry is doing that, too.

New fields have been discovered, developed, extended. New possibilities are being explored.

This is a slow, tedious, expensive process. The search for oil has reached into swamps and dry, dusty places, and offshore into the Gulf. It has brought about a more intensive exploration of previously explored "prospects." Wells have been drilled more than two miles deep into the earth to find new producing oil sands.

The result has been more oil for your present and future needs. But everyone can help this effort by making their personal demands for petroleum products reasonable and by cooperating with programs designed to conserve oil products.

Cubs, Herd Stack Up Evenly In Weights

Price Brothers Have Departed

The massive Price brothers, two of the best linemen in the state last year, are gone from the Brownfield forward wall but Coach Tracy Kellow has been able to come up with a pair of fine replacements in Glen Hahn and Johnny Winston.

Hahn weighs 195 pounds and reportedly uses it all to good advantage. Winston weighs 20 pounds less but is understandably more mobile.

The Brownfield line will average in the neighborhood of 164 pounds, the backfield 145.

Thus the Friday night opponents of the Big Spring Steers will have no weight advantage, that is, if the weights as reported are correct. The Big Spring line average is about 163.

Carroll Johnson, who comes in at 175; and Joe Dale Scott, 165; man the Brownfield end berths. Dick Wheat, 150; and Jim Billings, 175; will be at guards and Jody Lane, 140, at center.

Bill Tankersly leads the Brownfield attack and will be aided and abetted by Glen Gorbey, Maurice Martin and Joe Covington.

The Brownfield team appeared to be better stocked in reserves than the Big Springers and, for that reason, are sharp favorites over the locals.

Kellow, who took over as Brownfield coach this season, was known as the "watch charm guard" while at TCU. He lettered for the Purple in 1933-34-35 and made All-Conference the latter year. He was a member of the Sugar Bowl team in '36. Among his team mates were Sammy Baugh and L. D. Meyer. He later played football in the US Navy.

Kellow is assisted by Faris Howell, an ACC graduate.

Babe Sets New Course Record

PORT WORTH, Oct. 14 (AP)—Mrs. George (Babe) Diddrickson Zaharias meets Texas' Betty Rawls today in the third round of the Women's Texas Open here.

Yesterday Mrs. Zaharias fired a 68 to better the course record for women's par for the second straight day. Her string of eight birdies eliminated Beverly Hanson of Riverside, Cal. 5-4.

Miss Rawls defeated Betty McKinnon of Texarkana, 3-1. Medalist Polly Riley of Fort Worth meets Patty Berg of Minneapolis. Mary Agnes Wall of Minneapolis, Mich., plays Mrs. H. T. Williford of Sherman, Tex., who yesterday scored an upset victory over Betty Mims White of Dallas, one up on the 18th. Helen Dettweiler of Dallas meets Mrs. Gordon Perrin of Eldorado, Ark.

Lt. John F. Green and Lt. John E. Sauer, former West Point grid stars, are on Army's football coaching staff.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

A couple of days ago, something like 150 sixth and seventh graders responded to a local call for football practice. When the news reached Head Coach Herschel Stockton and he had made some headway toward recovering from the shock brought on by the boys' unbounded enthusiasm, he found the development not without its problems.

His troubles come not as single spies but in battalions. He found (1) no uniforms are available to outfit even one team of the group, much less the entire squad. (2) no funds are in sight to underwrite such an expense, and (3) all the boys wanted to play quarterback.

Now Mule thinks he can take care of the latter problem, though it might mean convincing the parents as well as the boy that he is better suited for another position. However, the other troubles will not dissolve so easily.

He figured that it would require something like $26.55 to outfit each youngster. The aggregate would amount to something more than $2,800. That's still a good bit more than it takes to buy the family's Saturday afternoon groceries and Mule, more than any one else, knows, it will take organization to raise the money.

The service clubs might pitch in and help. The team people who would like to see the fortunes of the local team improve through a grade school conditioning program, can lend a big hand.

No direct appeal to the clubs or the people has been made by Stockton or anyone else. But, perhaps it is time to roll up our sleeves and go to work. In a way, any such donation would be a loan. The donors would be repaid in the form of touchdowns and victories in the future years.

QUARTERBACK CLUB MIGHT DO THE JOB LOCALLY

There has been talk of forming a Quarterback club here. Such an organization usually dedicates its efforts toward boosting a football team. Such a unit, if live-wire, could accomplish a world of good here.

ANOTHER VERSE TO LAMENT; NO COACHES?

Stockton's manpower problems extend not only to his varsity squad but the coaching end of the business as well.

He doesn't have enough aides to help him with all the teams that are in the process of being formed here. Outside of a teacher or two who have volunteered to coach part time, only D. R. Gartman and Pepper Martin, both former Steer athletes, have proffered assistance.

Stockton could use a dozen Gartmans and Martins. The job is that big.

A local woman, Mrs. Arnold Snyder, has four tickets for the Texas-Texas A&M football game Thanksgiving Day which she'll let go at cost price, $3.80 each.

The tickets were sent her by her son, Charlie, who is a student at Aggieville. She can't make the trip. She can be reached at the local Sears Roebuck office.

STANLEY WILLIAMS GOING GREAT GUNS AT BAYLOR

Most grid fans will remember Stanley Williams, the great back who as a member of the Cisco Lobos dealt out misery to the Steers through last fall.

Stan is now at Baylor university where he is playing an end position. He may be one of the best here he gets out of school.

JIM BILL LITTLE NOW AGGIE FROSH REGULAR

Jim Bill Little, the former Big Spring tackle, has nailed down a regular post on the Texas A&M freshman squad. He's up to 185 pounds now.

Another ex-Big Springer, E. B. Lees, now at Eastern New Mexico college in Portales, suffered an injury in a recent game with Highlands college and had to have 12 stitches taken in his lip.

After the game, a sports writer from Clovis told E. B. he played one of the greatest games ever seen on a Greyhound field.

Loraine Tests 'Dogs Tonight

COAHOMA, Oct. 14—Coahoma's football Bulldogs pull out for Loraine this afternoon, where tonight they tangle with Loraine in a District 9B game.

The Canines are favored to take that one. Loraine lost a two-touchdown decision to Stanton last week, the same team that the Coahomans had earlier beaten by five tallies.

Nevertheless, Coach Ed Robertson had been cautioning his club against being over-confident.

The Coahomans line will have a slight weight advantage over the Loraine club.

The contest was originally scheduled for Friday night but was moved up on recommendation of the Loraine coaching staff.

SMU Mustangs May Be Without Guards In Saturday Game

DALLAS, Oct. 14 (AP)—Southern Methodist University may play its first Southwest Conference football game Saturday night against Rice without the aid of either of its first string guards.

Brownie Lewis, who was kept out of the Missouri game with a leg injury, is still unable to run and has not worked out this week. Walter Roberts, right guard, has an arm in a cast.

Army tackles Bert Aton and Frank Barnes are from Kentucky. Aton resides in Louisville and Barnes in Hopkinsville.

TOP LINEMAN — Alex Sarkisian (above), captain and center of Northwestern University's undefeated football team, has been named lineman of the week in The Associated Press' first poll of the season. (AP Wirephoto).

Cuyler Named Red Sox Coach

BOSTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—It's almost a cinch bet Boston Red Sox Owner Tom Yawkey, Vice President Eddie Collins, General Manager Joe Cronin, and Manager Joe McCarthy will be around next season—but don't bet on anyone else except possibly some of the better players.

Yawkey couldn't hide his disappointment over losing the American League pennant, and much of the blame is being passed around to Sox and farm officials.

The shakeup in the Sox organization which began before the club was beaten out in an unprecedented playoff appears likely to continue.

Three members of the organization are gone and the Sox, rejecting all questions, indicate the three resigned.

The three disagree and say, in effect, "We didn't jump, we were pushed."

Latest to go is Del Baker, veteran coach and onetime Detroit Tiger manager, who will be replaced by Hazen Kildy Cuyler, one-time star National League outfielder and more recently a Southern Association manager.

George (Specs) Toporcer said he wanted "to stay in baseball" after the Sox said that he had resigned. Toporcer's resignation - dismissal followed by a few days the firing of assistant general manager Phil Troy, who had been with the Sox for 18 years.

Joe Gordon of the Cleveland Indians this season became the fourth active player in the American league to hit over 200 homers. Joe DiMaggio, Rudy York and Ted Williams are the others.

IX-FOOTERS TO REPORT

Cage Prospects Rosier For Jaycee Jayhawks

Harold Davis, youthful mentor of the Howard County Junior college basketball Jayhawks, is looking at the world through rose colored glasses these days.

Davis and his Hawks begin cage workouts at the rec conditioned gymnasium on the college door step at 3 p. m. Monday and, if the individual talent he has lined up can perform up to expectations as a unit, Harold will be able to give any team in the Western Zone Junior College conference a run for its money.

Three lettermen and two youngsters who won reserve numerals will be back from last season's squad. They are Don Clark, one of the most talented ball handlers in the West; Horace Rankin, all-conference last year; and G. W. Kennemer, all of whom won regular monograms during the 1947-48 season; and Ted Pachall and Jimmy Tolbert, the two squaddies.

The newcomers to the squad are those who are causing Davis' smiles. There's Delmar Turner, a six-feet-four Big Spring high school graduate who made all-district last year; Bill Fletcher, who as a member of the Sunset high school team made the All-Dallas team last year; Don Henry, Chillicothe, Tex.; John Lewis, who recently departed the Service where he played basketball; Paul Deatherage, from Missouri; Frank Dunn, Bo Anderson and Gil Barnett, all of Big Spring.

Fletcher is 6-feet-five; Henry, 5-11; Lewis, 6-4; Deatherage 5-11; Dunn, 6-5; Anderson 6-3 1/2; and Barnett 5-7.

Davis can field a team of six-footers, whereas last year he had only one boy that tall. However, Rankin promises to be even better than he was a year ago, which means that no one can beat him out. The same goes for Clark. Neither stands six feet.

The team will work out on Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays at 3 p. m., on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7 p. m. The boys have been pitching in with a work assignment on the gym to have it ready by Monday.

Davis goes to Lubbock Sunday to line up a schedule with other conference schools. Odessa Junior college, Wayland Junior college of Plainview and Amarillo Junior college are other members of the league.

Davis also has practice games arranged with Weatherford and San Angelo but hasn't set the dates.

Tennessee's Powell Is Leading U. S. College Pass Receivers

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—If you are watching the Tennessee-Alabama football game this Saturday and see a Tennessee player catch a pass there's a 50-50 chance it will be Jim Powell.

The Tennessee team has caught 36 passes in three games. Powell has caught exactly half of them. The National Collegiate Athletic bureau, which keeps track of such things, reported today that this makes Powell the best pass receiver in the country.

After getting his hands on the 18 aerials, the Tennessee left end travelled 249 yards and scored two touchdowns in his first three games. The bureau doesn't rank the receivers on yardage, but just for the record, he's top there, too.

He's doing much better than last year's number one man, Barney Poole of Mississippi. In 1947 Poole set a new college record of 52 catches for 513 yards and eight touchdowns. So far this year he's caught only six for 102 yards and one touchdown.

Rudy Ruppe of Oregon State and John O'Quinn of Wake Forest are tied for second in the pass catching department. They have each caught 15 in four games.

The bureau also gave out with its official punting statistics today.

Knott To Host Flock Friday

KNOTT, Oct. 14—Knott's Hill Billies host the Ackerly Eagles in an important six-man football game here Friday.

The Eagles are making an important bid for the District Four title. If they can win this one, they'll be well on their way to a championship.

The Eagles, who are coached by Kenny Baggett, have beaten Flower Grove and Loop, the latter by a score of 35-0.

Ackerly has lost one game this season, Knott two.

Security Of Property To Be Enhanced By New Fire Station

Contract has been let for the construction of a second fire station for the city. Big Spring has needed this improvement for a number of reasons but they all get back to one central cause—that of security. The very geographical nature of the city, the great area over which the township sprawls, has made it advisable for a long time to disperse out fire-fighting equipment.

For the south—the southeastern and southwestern—areas of town, as much as five minutes may be saved in starting actual operations to control and extinguish flames over the time now required by distance and because the heavy equipment must be moved up steep slopes to the south. A minute or two often can be the difference between a small and a big loss in fires.

Lateral Road Program Shaping Up; Others Need Prodding

The state highway department's district engineers have indicated to the county commissioners that rapid progress is being made on plans for the 75-25 lateral road program in Howard county. There is every reason to hope that in the next month or two the commission may ask for bids on the projects which will add about 12 miles of additional permanent, lateral road.

The engineers also have left the impression that the state highway department is about ready to move on the widening and full pavement of three blocks on North Gregg and all of the Lamesa highway to the city limits.

Still uncertain, however, is the status of the Snyder road and the Lenora-Andrews road projects. Howard county has long since purchased right-of-way for the road to Snyder. Half of the road in the county has been built. The remaining roadway is lying useless. This is because the route has been uncertain in Scurry county, according to highway department sources. The policy has been to start at both ends and build to a point of juncture. We submit, however, that the engineers have agreed on the point where the Scurry county section must tie into the Howard county route. This being the case, there is in truth little reason for delay.

The commissioners court has indicated—and it will be fully justified—in paying the highway commission a visit in regard to this matter. It will be justified also in politely but firmly pressing for utilization of the roadway it purchased from here to the western county line.

Washington Merry-Go-Round — Drew Pearson

President Truman Ponders Ways To Go Directly To Soviet People

(Copyright by Bell Syndicate, 1948)
WASHINGTON—For the past two weeks President Truman and his advisers have been giving a lot of thought to ways and means of getting the dynamite-laden Russo-American crisis out of the hands of the diplomats and putting it on a people-to-people basis.

In brief, it is proposed that Truman make an appeal direct to Stalin in which he would emphasize that the world can never have peace if one nation refuses to let its people make friends with the rest of the world.

Stalin would be reminded of the great hopes for peace which all the world cherished, of the American and Soviet armies, of the great friendship which the American people once felt for the people of Russia, and their present disappointment at the way that friendship has been rebuffed and kicked around until the two nations are near the brink of war.

Behind the idea for such an appeal is the belief that our Russian problems must be lifted above the heads of the diplomats if they are to get anywhere.

The diplomats can keep on arguing about Russian currency, zones of Germany, and bizonal problems for weeks and months, the world's hope for peace sinks deeper into the slough of world despond.

The military may be able to keep up their miraculous job of flying food into Berlin all winter, and yet when the winter is over we still won't be anywhere nearer an understanding with Russia.

We can also keep on pouring money into western Europe under the Marshall plan. Yet at the end of five years we will still be in a dangerous stalemate with the Kremlin if there continues to be an airtight, ironclad curtain preventing all friendship between the American and Russian people.

ROAD TO BANKRUPTCY

Take for instance, the new lend-lease military budget for western Europe revealed in this column last week. U. S. national defense chiefs are now planning to ask Congress for about five billion to arm England, France and the Benelux countries against attack by the Red army.

This five billion is for one year alone. And it will be on top of five billion for the Marshall plan, plus twelve billion for U. S. military defense, plus all domestic expenditures, making a budget which must eventually throw American economy dangerously out of balance.

This, of course, is just at the beginning. The Russians are aiming at a depression, a bankrupt U. S. A. is just as good to them as an American defeat in war—in fact, better, because in a depression Russia wouldn't have to do any fighting.

All of which is why White House advisers at long last are warning that the country has reached a diplomatic dead-end, and that somehow or other we must penetrate the iron curtain to win a permanent safeguard for peace—friendship with the Russian people.

REAL U. S. FRIENDSHIP

In the past the American people have sent the Friendship Train to Europe, mailed millions of democracy letters to the people of western Europe, given millions of dollars in care packages, and shown their genuine friendship in all sorts of ways. But they have never been able

This Christmas To Find New Limits For Old Santa

NEW YORK, (AP)—THE QUESTION THIS Christmas isn't whether the children will continue to believe in Santa Claus.

It's whether Santa Claus can go on believing in himself. Every year he must be finding it more difficult.

No figure of modern times—except perhaps Mother Goose—has had a harder time keeping his self-confidence than the fun-loving saint. He has more critics than a French premier, and season after season he is finding himself cramped, cramped and confined by more restrictions.

Take 1947—a really tough year for Santa. Psychologists issued stern warnings that he could derange a child's whole personality by giving him the wrong gift.

And the saint was brought under municipal ordinance. In one place he was forbidden to show up at department stores for his usual pre-season warmup if he had taken a shot of rock-and-rye to guard against pneumonia. In other cities he had to have his beard fireproofed. Others they turned the flit gun on the old-man-whiskers had to be 99 and 44-100 per cent pure.

THE APPROACH OF THE 1948 SEASON finds new hurdles, hedges and barriers in the path of the red-suit man of good will. Mr. Claus must promise to quit promising the moon to children. And his voice is being de-boomed. The 1948 santa no longer will follow—"Ho Ho Ho!" He will utter-

National Referendum Might Mean Progress In Democracy

WASHINGTON, (AP)—DO YOU THINK the people ought to vote—in a national referendum—on big questions?

For example: Suppose we had reached a point where there was widespread, serious thought on joining a world government.

Instead of Congress voting right away, all the people would vote yes or no. It wouldn't mean, if they voted "yes," that we'd join.

It would only be a means of letting Congress, before it made up its mind, know what the people wanted. Then Congress could be guided by that.

The idea of a national referendum on big problems affecting the people is offered this week in a book called "A Little Democracy is a Dangerous Thing."

It's by Charles W. Ferguson, a senior editor of the Reader's Digest.

Ferguson says: "Under our present Republican form of government, whatever may be said for it when it is compared with dictatorial government, there exists no effective way of letting the voice of the people be heard.

"OPINION MUST BE REGISTERED INDIRECTLY, obliquely, through layers of resistance.

"The result is that members of both the administrative and legislative branches of the government must conduct their affairs in a state of uncertainty if not ignorance about what the mass of the electorate thinks."

Ferguson takes note of two remedies that have been set up to let Congress know what the public thinks:

1. The lobby. He hasn't much use for this as a means of expressing public opinion because too often, he says, a lobby is a selfish pressure group trying to get Congress to do something for that one group's benefit.

2. The public opinion polls. He thinks the polls have been "astonishingly" accurate but "at best the polls are a sampling, an inspection carried on by experts, a survey of views expressed on demand and in response to calculated questions."

FERGUSON SEES THAT A CRITIC OF his idea may say this:

"This is a free country, a man can write his congressman or send a letter to the editor, stand up on a street corner or in a public meeting and say whatever he pleases.

To which Ferguson says: "The fact remains that with all their privileges the people are still crying in the wilderness; there is no system of direct communications between them and the major decisions of their national government. . . We are content to let the people talk and call the result democracy."

In short, Ferguson argues: We have given over authority to a comparatively few people—such as Congress and government heads—to let them make for us important decisions in which we should have a direct voice.

Skinny Kid Ready To Die But He Changes His Mind

(This is the third in a series of articles on Community Chest agencies in Big Spring . . . Ed.)
Bob was a skinny Big Spring kid of 14 with a likeable grin but eyes that asked you for help before he ever spoke. He wasn't a bad boy, just one of life's misfits that needed to find his right place. His tale is the same story that could be told for hundreds of youths just like him.

Bob's mother and dad were dead—killed in an accident when he was just seven. Since that time, he had been shifting from one relative to the other.

His clothes were too small for him and his hair was long and uncut. He stayed that way, besides being forever hungry—day after day. Nobody wanted to hire an undernourished kid who could hardly muster enough strength to walk, much less handle a job.

Bob dropped into the Youth Center maintained in Big Spring by the Salvation Army one day last November. Determined to find some means of livelihood, he asked for a job.

He told his story to those in charge asserting that if he didn't find something to do in life soon, he was going to give up.

Immediately the disillusioned and discouraged youth was given a meal, a chance to clean up and some fresh clothes to wear. Opportunities were found for him to do some odd jobs.

He attended worship meetings and became a Christian. Today he is holding a very responsible position with a national organization. The Salvation Army found a boy and the boy found himself.

"That's the story" as related to me by Captain Olvy Sheppard of the local S. A. post. It's just one of over 9,000 cases handled by Salvation Army workers in Big Spring during the past year. I have in my office many many stories similar to the one above.

Fifty-five adults and 19 young people have been converted to Christianity in the same period and the Youth Center has 325 members. Scores have found haven in the transient shelter.

For the man who is pushed beyond endurance by poverty, fear, ill health, bad habits, personal or family problems, the Salvation Army stands ready to help.

Most of us never are tested beyond our ability to "take it." I wonder sometimes how I would react under similar circumstances. Maybe I'll never know but it helps me realize that a day's pay is a mighty small investment in a community chest with agencies like this one.—

Reds Respond To Two Fists — Only Thing They Respect

A MOST REMARKABLE SPIRIT OF Russian "peace and good-will" descended for a time on the deliberations of the United Nations meeting in Paris Tuesday when Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky abandoned his customary oratorical invective and declared Communists "are yearning for co-operation."

That was an amazing back-flop which naturally gave rise to speculation as to its significance. What could have caused such an abrupt change of course? The non-Communist countries on the social committee had appealed Russia the previous day by the withdrawal of an amendment to the declaration on human rights saying that all human beings are "created in the image and likeness of God."

Russia's Alexei Pavlov had objected to such language. He said in the Soviet Union the postulate that man is created in God's image is "much disputed," and often regarded as "a certain sign of social backwardness."

HOWEVER, IT COULD HARDLY HAVE been this striking appeasement which influenced vitriolic Vishinsky. A British spokesman summed the thing up for reporters rather more prosaically when he said the offensive by the western powers in the security council had "kept Vishinsky fairly subdued." The spokesman was referring to the charge laid before the council by the western powers that the Soviet blockade of Berlin is a threat to peace.

He explained that the deputy foreign minister had been put on the defensive. Vishinsky's rather conciliatory speech followed a hardening of the American attitude. This stiffening came on the return of Secretary of State Marshall from Washington where he conferred with President Truman.

Vishinsky's speech came after a broadcast from U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin in the UN assembly political committee. Austin asserted that the Soviet battle cry in the world today is "wreck and destroy." He charged Moscow with duplicity.

VISHINSKY, INSTEAD OF TRYING TO tear his opponent limb from limb, as is his usual procedure, adopted an attitude of injured dignity. He complained that the western nations believe "whatever we do is wrong."

The speaker declared that capitalist and Communist ideologies could live side by side in the same world "if both sides try to understand the other side. Hence our desire to co-operate. He didn't explain how this fitted in with the cardinal Communist tenet that capitalism must be wiped out.

All of which strikes me as meager mercy. That Russia is under pressure and consequently is staging a tactical diversion. There is no real sign that she has changed her views in the slightest degree. She is merely responding to two-fisted methods, which are the only thing she understands.

Taft Is Only Senator Likely To Oppose Dewey

(Copyrighted by New York Herald Tribune Syndicate, 1948)
CINCINNATI—What is to be the relationship between President Thomas E. Dewey and the Eighty-first Congress? This question is already more urgent than the outcome of the election, which is now virtually a foregone conclusion. And it is appropriate to ask the question in this city, the personal stronghold of Senator Robert A. Taft, whose strong character and superior ability make him the natural leader of the more conservative Congressional Republicans.

Not long ago, Taft's opposite number in the House of Representatives, Speaker Joseph W. Martin, passed through Ohio on a campaign speaking trip. He told friends here that he would stand for no dictation from the White House, even when its occupant was Republican. Similarly, Martin's henchmen, the great chatter, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee Harold Knutson, has intimated to Republican insiders that President Dewey may need taking down a peg or two.

In fact, however, Martin and the other members of the junta are simply old-line professional party regulars. Another such was the late Senator Joseph E. Robinson, Senate Democratic leader until 1937. And although Robinson was an infinitely bigger man than Martin, the first thing Robinson did every morning until he died, after putting in his false teeth, was to swallow his principles. If Robinson stuck with Roosevelt in order to be regular, one can expect Martin to stick with Dewey.

If any one fights Dewey, it will be Taft, who always refuses to compromise beliefs. Taft has already openly expressed his uneasiness at the line taken by the Dewey-Warren team. And unless the new President brisily abandons the progressive, internationalist brands of Republicanism he is offering the country in this election, it is hard to see how a Taft-Dewey conflict can be avoided. They would like to agree but they cannot.

These facts, in turn, confer a curious special interest on the gubernatorial contest here in Ohio. The Republican incumbent, Governor Thomas Herbert, a slightly improved version of Senator John W. Bricker, is rather breathlessly defending his seat against former Governor Frank Lausche.

Lausche may not be an ideal administrator but he is a man of obvious integrity, high purpose and appealing personal color. If Lausche defeats Herbert, he will immediately become a formidable potential candidate for the Senatorship when Taft must run again in 1950. And Lausche's defeating Herbert is far from impossible.

Two factors favor Lausche, aside from the contrast between himself and his opponent. First, Ohio has long had the habit of voting for Governors and Presidents of opposite parties. In 1924, for instance, while giving Calvin Coolidge a majority of nearly 600,000 over John W. Davis, Ohio chose a Democratic governor, Vie Donahey, by a majority of nearly 200,000.

Second, while Bricker was Governor, he made it much easier for Ohioans to indulge in their habitual ticket-splitting. In order to protect himself from Roosevelt landslides, he passed a law by which Ohioans now actually vote for national and state candidates—for President and for Governor, for instance—on two separate ballots. Dewey is strong in Ohio and his strength will still help Herbert. But for the reasons noted, the best local experts estimate that Dewey's Ohio coat-tails will have to be at least 350,000 votes long—a really whopping majority—to send Herbert back to Columbus.

Lausche is hinting that if he wins the Governorship, he will still hesitate to oppose Taft for the Senate. Bricker is the man he says he wants to beat. Yet Lausche is highly unpredictable. And the mere possibility of such strong opposition is bound to influence Senator Taft's choice of a role in the next Congress.

Taft is reported to have decided already to relinquish his Labor Committee Chairmanship. He is known to be considering taking one of the vacant places on the Foreign Relations Committee but probably only in the uncertain event that Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg becomes Secretary of State instead of John Foster Dulles. But this still leaves the question of Taft and the Senate leadership entirely open. As of now, Taft seems to want the leadership. He may leave the floor leadership to the Senate Republicans to Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska. But the chances are that he will seek for himself either the formal title of Majority Leader or the permanent chairmanship of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, which comes to the same thing.

Movie Industry Is At Its Lowest Ebb

HOLLYWOOD—Just how bad is Hollywood's depression. Here are the facts and figures which point to one conclusion:

The motion picture industry is at its lowest ebb in history. Strangely enough, U. S. movie theaters are doing a healthy business, only slightly below last year.

But two things offset this: 1. Movies still cost too much to make; 2. Not enough money is coming back from showings of U. S. films overseas. This year's foreign coin will be less than half of 1947's.

The pinch is on in Hollywood and it's hitting a lot of people hard. For every three people working in the studios in 1940 there are now two.

More actors are out of work than ever before. Today there are only 372 stars and players under contract to studios. In March there were 463, last year 742. The depression is even worse for the thousands of free-lancers, because studios now use their own players as much as possible.

A couple of years ago, around 1,200 extras were working every day. Today the average is 400.

Despite an urgent need for more and better scripts, 480 writers are working for studios, compared with 600 in 1946.

YOU'RE IN IT, TOO Smith Cites Accomplishments Of Oil Industry In National Economy

"If you're a Texan, you're in the oil business," Carl Smith, Cosden's sales manager, told the Lions club Wednesday.
Appearing as an Oil Progress Day speaker, Smith asserted that the tremendous strides of mechanical energy and transportation of the past century closely paralleled those of the petroleum industry.
"Oil has put movement into our American economy," he said. The first oil well in 1859 took petroleum from the category of nostrums to that of fuel. Kerosene quickly replaced whale oil for illumination. Then came gasoline and oils to furnish power and lubrication for the machine age.

In 1900 oil and gasoline furnished only eight per cent of the nation's power; today they furnish more than 50 per cent. Without oil automotive and aerial transportation would not be possible, he pointed out. Fuel is compact and economical, gasoline today costing 35 per cent less than 25 years ago and yet regular auto grades being better than that Lindebergh used to span the Atlantic.

A vast new field is unfolding for petroleum, Smith continued. The chemistry of hydro-carbons has expanded the number of products from petroleum to 1,200 with 5,500 variations. Oil is expanding, too, as a source of heat with three and a half million homes now employing oil and gas heaters.

Not only has consumption of gas and oil tripled on the farm with increase of tractors, but the demand for insecticides, weed killers, disinfectants from petroleum bases has jumped, he said.
The nation is using one-fifth more petroleum than even during the peak of the war, yet there has been no shortage, Smith reminded. The industry is pumping $4 billion a year into expansion and $100 a year in research alone. In Texas it is a two and a half billion dollar business and it pays half to the state's business and property taxes.

Four new members were inducted into the club by J. H. Greene, who has been a Lion for more than 25 years, and one of them was his son, William Greene. Others were B. M. Keese, John B. Mopre and D. W. Morgan. Mrs. Christine Jagers urged Lions to support the Town Hall association with memberships. Wayne Williams, Avery Falkner, R. R. McEwen, J. Chester Cathey, Bill French and D. T. Evans were named to a Community Chest committee.

The September State Democratic Convention passed a resolution asking the National Committee to replace Morrow with Skelton. The Telegram said the National Committee Headquarters said earlier no action would be taken on the proposed replacement of Morrow until after the general election.

Since the July increase, the railroads have petitioned for a further long term increase of 13 per cent in hauling charges.

TB Among Cattle In Serious Stage, Veterinarian Says

DENVER, Oct. 14. (U. P.) — Tuberculosis in cattle has flared to a serious stage in some sections of the United States according to Dr. C. F. Clark, state veterinarian for Michigan.
He told delegates attending the U. S. Livestock Sanitary Association Convention here yesterday that the "situation has become serious."
A tuberculosis committee, headed by Clark, recommended revision of current rules and methods for tuberculin testing of cattle.
Meanwhile the eradication of foot-and-mouth disease in Mexico also came in for discussion.
F. L. Schneider of Albuquerque, N. M., chairman of the association's committee on the disease, renewed demands for a 1,900-mile fence along the Mexican border.
The committee recommended the association continue to favor the construction of a fence. The recommendations will be discussed later on the convention floor.

Twenty-four of Texas' twenty-eight college football teams will be in action this week-end in the most important schedule of the year.
Each of the four conferences of which Texas teams are members have battles carrying far-reaching effect on the championship races. All of the undefeated teams—Sul Ross, Texas Mines, Baylor and Stephen F. Austin—have games but only Stephen F. Austin appears in for serious trouble.
Sul Ross and Mines, each undefeated and untied, meet New Mexico A&M and Brigham Young University respectively. Baylor, unbeaten but once tied, takes on Texas Tech. All are nonconference tilts. Stephen F. Austin, with a record similar to Baylor's, tackles North Texas State in the top championship game of the Lone Star Conference.
Three title tests are on the Southwest Conference schedule with Southern Methodist and Rice in the feature. It marks the start of the conference race for both of these highly rated teams. Texas will also be opening the conference race, engaging Arkansas, which has won one and tied one. Texas A&M, making its start in conference play, takes on Texas Christian, which has lost its only conference game played to date—that to Arkansas. Only one Texas Conference game is scheduled but it is important. It matches Abilene Christian College, undefeated in conference play, with powerful Howard Payne, which is opening its battle for the title. Hardin, tied with ACC for the lead, plays West Texas State of the Border Conference; McMurry takes on independent Texas A&I and Abilene Christian goes inter-sectional against Western Colorado state.

Report Demanded On Probe Of Bernadotte Assassination
PARIS, Oct. 14. (U. P.) — Britain and China demanded in the security council today that Israel report quickly on what progress has been made in her investigation of the assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte.
The two powers asked in a draft resolution that Israel also indicate the measures taken with regard to negligence on the part of officials or other factors affecting the crime.
John J. MacDonald, U. S. consul and chairman of the three-power consular truce commission in Jerusalem, reported to the council that Jewish military Governor Bernard Joseph led "a deliberate Jewish campaign to discredit the truce commission and the acting mediator." Dr. Ralph Bunche of the United States. He said this campaign is developing along lines of the attack launched against Count Bernadotte, the mediator, before he was shot to death in Jerusalem last month.
Bunche himself charged before the council that Jewish authorities took insufficient measures to protect Bernadotte.
"It unquestionably was a well planned, carefully timed assassination aimed directly at the life of the mediator," Bunche, now acting mediator, told the council.
Bernadotte was killed in Jerusalem Sept. 17 by a group from the Jewish Stern gang.
Britain and France were reported ready to submit a resolution calling for tougher UN action against Jews and Arabs breaking the truce. The council earlier voted, 8 to 0, to consider means of more strict enforcement of the truce. Syria, the Ukraine and Russia abstained, with Syria and Russia contending Bunche's report contained nothing new.
Bunche, now interim mediator, described the murder of Bernadotte. He said the crime was acknowledged by the fatherland front, an arm of the Stern gang.
Bunche said Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok has told him of arrests made and of measures taken by Israel against terrorist groups, but not of the investigation proper.

Local Livestock Market On Rise
The local livestock market showed a remarkable recovery this week after experiencing a mild slump.
Lots of cattle went through the ring at the Big Spring Livestock Auction company at $3 a hundred-weight higher than the previous week.
Butcher yearlings brought 23.00 to 25.00. Fat cows moved out at 20.00. Butchers and heifers 17.00-21.50.
Stocker yearlings were bringing 25.00. Steer calves 24.00, cows and calves 15.00 to 18.00 a pair and butcher hogs 26.50.
The run was not too heavy but the buyers were very much in evidence.

Scores Of State Proposals Will Face Voters Nov. 2

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (U. P.) — Voters in 35 states will decide the fate of scores of proposals Nov. 2 besides picking national and state officials.
Louisiana alone has posed 40 constitutional questions.
Californians will ballot on 15 proposed amendments to its constitution, one referendum and four initiatives. Alabama and Florida each have 11 constitutional matters up for decision, followed by Texas with eight and Maryland with seven.
Only 13 states will confine their ballots to elective officials.
An Associated Press survey of the questions and subjects to be submitted to various electorates show that 12 states will deal with the issue of aid for veterans, eight concern the liquor question and three have controversial amendments touching on labor.
Other topics include revision of tax and old age pension systems, bond issues, pay revisions for state legislators and officers, lines of succession for state offices, and voter qualifications.
Of the three states considering labor measures, two—Arizona and Massachusetts—also dealt with the subject in the 1946 election.
At that time, Arizona adopted a constitutional amendment to outlaw closed shops; so did Nebraska and South Dakota. Arizonians are being asked by referendum this year to approve legislation to put the ban into effect.
Massachusetts voters have three referendums on the ballot. One—a "right-to-work" measure—would prohibit agreements which exclude any person from employment because of membership, or non-membership, in a labor union. Another would require that labor union officers be elected by secret ballot at least once a year. The third would prohibit all strikes except those voted by a majority of the union's membership.
In New Mexico, voters will be asked to ballot on an "open shop" amendment which would prohibit

Fourth Man Named In Oklahoma Grave Search Charges

MADILL, Okla., Oct. 14. (U. P.) — County Attorney O. C. Barnes said today he had filed a charge of molesting a grave against a fourth man in connection with the search for gold purportedly lining the coffin of an Indian woman.
A preliminary hearing for three men arrested on the same charge will be held tomorrow before Justice of the Peace Charles Gridler.
They are J. B. Wright, Sid Hall and Gene Jackson, all of Sherman, Tex.

The fourth man was listed on the charge as Dad White. He has not been apprehended yet. He is an old age pensioner from Sherman.
The charge alleges the four molested at least two graves during a 13 month search for a coffin believed to contain thousands of dollars of gold.
Jackson told Barnes he actually saw a gold lined vault.
The men began their search after the reburial of caskets from the Star Cemetery which was being inundated by waters from Lake Texoma.
