Highway 66 Plans Are Approved

Election Has Been Called To Sell City Park July 28

Park May Be Sold; Election

Park Election to Be Held in July

An election has been called by the city council for July 28th to determine whether part of the city park shall be sold.

The east half of the park is the section selected for sale, comprising two blocks, now intersected by a street; however, there is no legal street anywhere in the park at the present time, as all four blocks are dedicated for park purposes.

While no official reason is for the sale, it is thought that the park will be one of the bidders, and a site for the new high school building.

COMMUNITY SERVICE CLUB IS ORGANIZED

Fourteen young men met at the American Cafe Wednesday noon at McLean for the purpose of organizing a club to be composed of the young business men.

John C. Haynes took charge of the meeting, and asked L. G. Weller, who, together with W. E. Bogan, is sponsoring the club, to explain to the fellows just what the functions of the organization would be, etc.

Mr. McMillen told something of the plans for the club, and Mr. Bogan was called on to express his opinion of an organization of this kind.

Mr. Bogan said, among other things, that personally he thought that an organization composed of the younger business men of the city would be able to accomplish many things that other clubs would be unable to find time to do, and that he did not think the club would in any way conflict with the workings of any other organization here, but would be able to work with them on any project that they might undertake.

Mr. Bogan said also that it was his opinion that any competition that might arise between the clubs would be of a friendly nature and that it would only serve to spur the members of both clubs on to greater achievement and make them more service to the community.

Mr. Bogan says that it is his conviction that the younger men in business in any town would do well to consider part of the community's obligations, and in so doing they become stronger themselves and are more valuable to the community which they serve.

Others present were called upon to express their opinions of the proposed club, and everyone presided that they organize and work at once.

A committee composed of W. S. Bogan, W. E. Bogan and S. B. Bogan was appointed to draft rules and regulations for the club to be approved at the next meeting to be held Monday noon.

A membership committee was also appointed, composed of L. G. Weller, J. C. Haynes, J. R. Beck, W. E. Bogan, H. L. Turner, and the name "Community Service Club" was suggested and unanimously accepted by the body.

A number of the members of the young folks class of the Church of Christ were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Newman Friday evening, June 22.

A delightful time was had by all, and at a late hour delicious refreshments were served.

New Oil Locations In Field

McLean Field Shows Activity This Week

Eleven new locations are being made in Wheeler county, and 12 or more are reported in the McLean area of Gray county. One or two have started rigging already.

The well that would mean most to McLean and which local people are watching with much interest, is the Travis et al. No. 1 Well, NW, SW section 43, block 25. This well is only one-half mile from the Travis gusher, and has been logging pretty well with the gusher all along. The drill is well past the 2,000 foot mark, and no trouble has been reported, but is steadily drilling deeper.

Partan Oil Company's No. 1 Morris section 5, block 26, hit pay Tuesday. This well is a mile north of the Nebob No. 1 Morse, Danziger and Morris, NW of SE, section 2, block 26, is rigging up.

Magnolia Petroleum Co's. No. 1 E. R. Eakins, SW corner NW section 56, block 25, H. & G. N. survey has spudded in.

Barker & Wetzel's No. 1 J. S. Morse, 330 ft. NE of SW corner N 1/2 SW section 66, block 25, H. & G. N. survey has also spudded in.

ALANREED CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEGOTIATES FOR NATURAL GAS

In order that winter may not again find Alanreed without adequate facilities for supplying its citizens with natural gas, the Chamber of Commerce body in its last meeting authorized its president, E. B. Hedrick, to start negotiations with gas companies to ascertain which of these will make the best proposition to supply the town.

No definite steps have been taken in the past toward securing a gas supply, but several offers have been made by gas companies, and due to the fact that some of the citizens had agreed to use gas that was promised by a company some months ago, nothing was done. The people now feel that they are no longer obligated to this company and are anxious to have something done to relieve the situation before cold weather comes again.

PRESBYTERIAN CARNIVAL TO BE HELD AT PARK

The Presbyterian ladies of this city are staging a two-day carnival to be held at the city park Friday and Saturday of this week.

Six side shows and one big tent show will be the main attractions. Chicken dinners will be served both days, and cold drinks, ice cream, etc., will be sold.

A pony for the children to ride has been secured. Balloons, confetti, etc., will be in evidence, and a great time is expected by everyone.

The proceeds will be used to equip the new church.

A PARTY

A number of the members of the young folks class of the Church of Christ were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Newman Friday evening, June 22.

A delightful time was had by all, and at a late hour delicious refreshments were served.

Boyd Jones In McLean Wednesday

Expects to Arrive in Washington about August 20

Boyd Jones, aged 14, on his way to Washington, D. C., to invite President Coolidge to come to Gallup, N. M., to attend the Inter-Tribal Indian Ceremonial to be held there August 29, 30, 31, 1928, arrived in this city at 4:45 Wednesday afternoon, and made himself known for the first time when he rode quietly up in front of Benson-Hamilton's and asked where he could locate the newspaper office.

A large crowd quickly gathered and the lad was asked many questions in rapid-fire succession, all of which seemed to embarrass him. Boyd was escorted to a drug store and a drink purchased, after which he led his little pony down the street, still followed by quite a crowd, to the office of The News.

Here he presented us with a ticket to the ceremonial at Gallup, and had us write a message to the President in his little autograph book which he carries in his saddle bags.

Neither the boy nor the little Mustang pony which is carrying him seem very fatigued, despite the fact that he had ridden from Groom, a distance of 39 miles, since morning. His plans were to stop for the night at the Liberty Filling Station, about five miles out on his route.

Boyd says he expects to arrive in Washington on or about August 20, present the President with his invitation, together with several letters which he has picked up along the way, and if possible return via train to Gallup with the President (if he will come), in sufficient time to attend the ceremonial. The pony will be shipped back.

C. E. LOVELESS OPENS SHOE SHOP THIS WEEK

C. E. Lovelless, formerly of Pampa, opened an electric shoe shop this week in the building next door to the City Cafe.

A shipment of the latest shoe shop machinery, electric throughout, has been received and is being installed.

Mr. Lovelless has been in business in Pampa for the past two years, and his coming to McLean is but further proof that our little city is a desirable place in which to live and do business.

ABBOTT-HICKS

On last Saturday night, Miss Oma Lee Abbott and Mr. W. A. Hicks were quietly married at Wheeler. Rev. Clayburn Deering, Baptist minister, officiated at the ceremony.

The young people are well known here, and the wedding was a surprise to many of their friends.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Abbott, who live near McLean.

The groom is employed at the Bible Shoe Shop.

The couple will make their home in this city.

SUPPER AT SKILLET TUESDAY EVENING

A number of Baptist families and their friends enjoyed a fried chicken supper at Skillet Creek Tuesday evening.

Big Basket Picnic Here On July 4

Plans Perfected for Celebration July 4

A complete program has been arranged for the big basket picnic to be held in the city park July 4th.

The business houses will close from 11 to 3 o'clock, and everyone will attend the celebration.

All field and track events will be held from 11 o'clock until noon, when the baskets will be opened and lunch enjoyed.

Judge J. W. Cradginton of Amarillo will deliver a patriotic address at 2 p. m., followed by a miscellaneous chautauqua.

A ladies' fats and leans ball game will be staged in the afternoon with Mrs. S. W. Rice and Mrs. L. F. Coffey as captains of the opposing teams. This game will be followed by a game between the McLean and Papan nines.

The evening will open with a band concert at 7:30, with an old fiddlers contest at 8:30, and a pageant following the contest.

A fireworks display will close the activities of the day.

Prizes are offered in all field and track events, and while very little advertising has been done, it is expected that a record crowd will be here.

McLEAN BAND MAKES HIT OVER RADIO

The McLean band broadcasted over KFQB, the Frank Norris station, at Fort Worth Wednesday morning of the W. T. C. of C. convention. The announcer said this was the best band to play over that station. The band played from the mezzanine floor of the Westbrook hotel, and every number was put on in a professional manner.

The band began their program Sunday morning, when they marched to the administration building, where many favorable comments were made on the playing, and it was universally thought that the band was at least a three year band.

Concerts were given in every social lobby in Fort Worth by the McLean band during their stay there, and one of the six street band stands erected for the use of the best bands was given to McLean.

The band gave a good account of themselves in the big massed band concert and the parade, their snappy uniforms standing out in bold relief, compared to other bands.

The McLean band had the contest for one year bands won until Wednesday morning, when another band was allowed to enter the contest and the judges changed the position of the winner.

Every section of the McLean band was perfect with the exception of the bass. Two big Sousaphones are needed by the band before they can compete with properly furnished bands, and the showing made at Fort Worth, under this handicap, is remarkable.

OUT FOR FISH

Feb. Everett, Walter McAdams, and son, Harold, left Monday for points in New Mexico, where they expect to spend the remainder of the week, far from the haunts of business, fishing.

Scout Council Is Planned for Panhandle

Local Scout Troop Will Be Organized Soon

The organization of scout troops at McLean, Shamrock, Clarendon, Memphis and Wellington is going forward under the direction of H. B. Yates, Scout Executive, with temporary headquarters at Memphis. The work of the summer months will consist mostly in organizing troops and the holding of a summer scout training camp in August.

The organization chairman for this area is Claude Wells of Memphis. Some of the local men who are interested in the work are W. E. Bogan, F. H. Bourland, C. C. Bogan and W. S. White.

A meeting has been called for all boys and parents interested in organizing a troop in McLean, for tonight (Thursday) at the Methodist church at 8 o'clock.

The world interest in the Boy Scout movement challenges the intelligent understanding of everyone, and yet many people still ask, "What is scouting?" "What do boy scouts do?" So, in order that this local movement may be fully understood by everyone, that the work may not be hampered in any way by those who do not fully understand the workings of a scout organization, it may be well to outline briefly some of the rules governing scouts and the benefits derived by members.

First, the scout oath, which every boy must take before he becomes a member: "On my honor I will do my best:

1. To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the scout law;

2. To help other people at all times;

3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

Scouting means, primarily, outdoor life, which serves to keep a boy healthy, strong and happy. It gives the boy a practical education and at the same time develops the power of initiative and resourcefulness. This within itself means good citizenship for the future.

Scoutcraft includes instructions in first aid, life saving, tracking, signaling, cycling, nature study, seamanship, campcraft, woodcraft, chivalry and all of the handicrafts.

Character development is the real objective of the boy scout movement. The boy scouts of America is a national organization. The local troop will be under the leadership of a home town man, a Christian in whom we all have confidence, and it is hoped that the movement will receive the support of the entire citizenship. It is a worthy undertaking for any community.

TEXAS-OKLAHOMA FAIR TO BE ENLARGED: WILL BE HELD IN SPRING

At a joint meeting of directors of the fair association and the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce Thursday of last week, it was decided that the Texas-Oklahoma fair should be bigger than in years past, and due to the lateness in getting started on preparations for a fall fair, it was also decided that it should be held in the spring, probably just shortly after the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. The fair heretofore has been held successfully in the fall of the year since 1922.

Highway Plan Approved by State Dept.

Two-Thirds State and Federal Aid Is Granted

C. L. Hasie, county engineer, accompanied by his assistant, Jas. K. LaRoe, was in McLean Wednesday and stated that the highway plans are now in the state highway department being checked, and that they will be approved and ready to advertise for bids within 30 days.

Last Thursday the state highway commission allotted two-thirds state and federal aid to Highway 66, better known in this section as the Postal Highway.

This intimation is hailed as good news by the people of this section, for since the $250,000 bond issue was voted last year there seems to have been very little done toward building this road. $100,000 of this amount will be used on Highway 66 and the remainder on lateral roads and bridges.

While the highway is yet to be relocated between McLean and Alameda, this is of little consequence. The fact that grading and bridge work will be commenced in the near future is the chief concern, and it seems now a certainty since the state commission has granted aid.

WEEKLY LUNCHEON CLUB MET TUESDAY

The Weekly Luncheon Club met Tuesday, June 26, at the Presbyterian church basement. A number of the members were out of town, so there were only thirteen present. However, the meeting was full of interest, and the ladies of the church served a sumptuous meal, which all enjoyed.

This club will be formally taken over by the Lions International, to be known as the Lions Club of McLean, on Tuesday night, July 10. It has been designated charter night, and the lady Lions will be invited. A huge banquet will be spread by the Presbyterian ladies in use of the church.

There will be visiting Lions to assist in the program, and a jolly good time is expected.

This club has a fine list of representative men signed up, and the membership committee is still working. Anyone who wishes membership in this live club is urged to see the committee at once, as the charter is still open until the date mentioned.

This is a club that McLean has long needed, and it is hoped that all will pull together to put it over big, as it is a wonderful asset to any community.

Those present at the luncheon were: Geo. Tummins, F. H. Bourland, W. L. Campbell, H. W. Finley, R. R. Rives, Donald Beall, J. E. S. Williams, Buford Reed, J. E. Lynch, H. W. Brooks, M. D. Bentley, A. A. Ledbetter, C. C. Bogan.

GOVERNMENT STOCKS BACK LAKE WITH FISH

Donald Beall reports a shipment of 400 trout from the government hatcheries for the Back lake north of town.

These game fish will be big enough to begin catching within a year's time, according to the game warden, who says they will be upwards of 12 inches long by that time.

THE DOUBLE CROSS

W.N.U. SERVICE

by A. E. THOMAS

Copyright by Dodd, Mead and Company, Inc.

Two persons enter into a conspiracy against a third one. One of the conspirators is not true to the compact. Secretly he informs the third party or takes other action that defeats the conspiracy and throws the burden on his trusting partner. Such is the origin of the term, double cross. It has had various modifications and applications until it has come to mean almost any unscrupulous act of treachery and subsequent betrayal. Beginning as a slang term, it was too expressive to remain so, and now a recognized figure of speech. A singularly wicked form of the double cross is the basis for this story. A man proves recreant to the most sincere form of friendship (recreant to the partner who holds him in the closest regard, aided him over rough places, paid his debts and persistently excused or overlooked his faults. The most dastardly action was when the false friend came between the true one and the woman he loved.

Written by a successful playwright, the story is essentially dramatic, crisp in dialogue and realistic in action. The metropolitan setting is used with fine effect to produce atmosphere and characterization. The absorbing elements of the plot are rendered more fascinating by a vein of subtlety and irony leading to an unexpected climax near the end. The story might appropriately be termed the triple cross, for the double crosser himself becomes the victim of one whom he trustingly took into his enterprise.

CHAPTER I

Early in the afternoon of a certain Saturday Jim Stanley stood at one of the windows of his lofty office looking out at a panorama of which he seldom tired. Away, through the haze of the late afternoon, he could see a glimpse of New York harbor, with its busy traffic, and in the far background a huge dim figure vaguely stabbed the mark with its uplifted torch. He gazed upon it in silence for a time and then with a sigh and a gesture of impatience he turned, sat down and began to dictate somewhat irritably to the typewriter upon his desk.

"Of course there is always the possibility of error in these calculations, and it would be wise to allow a considerable margin of safety, therefore, but on the whole we are in a position to say that we think well of the proposition. If you wish, I shall be glad to discuss the matter at length and in detail. Very sincerely yours."

He switched off the machine, took another letter from the heap awaiting his attention, and attempted to pin his mind on it. For some reason he was unable to do so. He fidgeted a moment, rose and walked again to the window and looked upon the far-dung panorama of Manhattan.

Now, this indecision or, better, perturbation, was not at all characteristic of this young man. Anyone who knew him well, watching him now, would have sensed that something had disturbed him deeply. He ran his hand through his brown hair with a gesture of discontent and turning at length again to his desk he rang the bell and said to the gray-haired little man who entered:

"Frank, when you leave the office this afternoon you will find O'Hara waiting with the car. I shall need him again today. Take the typewriter and all this heap of correspondence on the desk, hand them to O'Hara, and tell him to take the whole lot down to the country, and have Jefferson put them on the desk in the library."

"But I understood, sir," objected the secretary, "that you had planned to spend the week-end playing golf at Southampton."

"That's so, Frank," responded Stanley, "but I find I can't do it. Please get Mr. Roberts on the phone and explain to him that unexpected and imperative business will detain me. Be as apologetic as you know how Grovel for me, Frank, grovel."

Wilson stilled. "Yes, sir," he said, "I shall grovel abjectly."

"Great invention the typewriter," continued Stanley, casting an interested eye upon the machine. "You can dictate for hours without having a stupid stenographer around saying 'What's that, sir?' or 'How do you spell that, sir?' Talk as fast as you please, talk as slowly as you please, the machine doesn't get restless. It doesn't fix its hair or tap the floor with its foot, and thank God it doesn't chew gum!"

"Yes, sir," smiled Wilson, "it certainly has some advantages over the female of the species, but doesn't it sometimes get out of order?"

"Well," replied Stanley, "the female of the species has been known to do that, too."

Employer and employee smiled together at this feeble jest. You would have guessed that relations between them were not wholly formal and official, and you would have guessed right. Wilson was more than secretary, he was a thoroughly confidential assistant. In fact he knew much more about the business of the firm than Rollin Waterman, who was not only Stanley's partner but his lifelong friend as well. And it was not only the business of the firm with which he was well acquainted. He knew much more about the private lives of both the members of the firm than either of them guessed—perhaps a good deal more than one of them would have liked, and he was thinking of that particular one when Stanley turned away and dismissed his name.

"Frank," he said, "Mr. Waterman hasn't come in yet?"

"Not yet, sir."

Stanley hesitated an instant, and then tossed his head with an air of decision. "When he does, say I'd like to see him."

"Yes, sir, I will," answered the secretary.

The door had scarcely closed behind Wilson when upon the other side of Stanley's office another door opened and there entered briskly a young woman, clad in the business tweeds of Wall Street. She was a dark, good-looking girl of twenty-three or twenty-four, with assurance written large upon her handsome face and radiating from her eyes of Spanish black.

Stanley turned upon her entrance. "Well, Miss Morgan?" he said.

"Here is a letter," she said in her clipped voice, "which Mr. Waterman asked me to call your attention to."

He took the letter and read it swiftly. Then he faced the girl with a glance of dissatisfaction as he said: "Why, this is dated three days ago. It should have been attended to before. What happened to it?"

"It got mislaid some way," she answered.

"I see. It just crawled stealthily away and hid itself, I suppose—just out of spite."

The girl looked sulkily at the floor. "I'll see Mr. Waterman about it."

WORKS SHOULD BE TABOO UNTIL FOURTH

On the Fourth of July, every patriotic American should take a considerable amount of pride and pleasure in observing the great national holiday. Firecrackers and such like will no doubt be in evidence, and few there are among the grownups who do not enjoy helping the kiddies "shoot off" their fireworks. All of which is well and good, but—

Parents should be watchful of their children during the days immediately prior to the Fourth and take every precaution to see that the fire hazard is not increased and that casualties are not reported due to pre-Fourth celebrating with firecrackers, etc.

Statistics for 1926 show 111 dead and 1030 injured as a direct result of fireworks not properly handled. Most of these were children.

It is not our purpose to put a damper on the spirit that accentuates activities on this great day, a day that has been so long celebrated, and rightly so. We expect to enjoy the day to the fullest, but we hope that each and every citizen will join in a combined effort to conserve the Fourth's celebration until the day arrives, so that there will be nothing to cause remorse or hamper festivities.

MRS. FILER IS ENTERTAINED

Reported. Saturday was a day of surprises for Mrs. E. E. Filer. This being her birthday, early morning brought her a lovely Harmony Box and several unusually good records, a gift from her husband. A little later the postman delivered to her surprise boxes from her mother and brother who live at Nashville, Tenn.

At 3 p. m. the lady was honored guest at an impromptu party which ended with cooling refreshments at the Dishman Confectionary. The personnel of this group was Mesdames Peters, West, Cubine, Davis, and the honoree.

At 8:30 p. m. came the surprise of the day, when a group of friends called at the Filer apartment, each with one of the latest records for the new machine. Several hours of bridge was enjoyed, high score being captured by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davis.

Refreshments of apricot ice and delicious cake were served at a late hour to the following: Messrs. and Mesdames Davis, Back and Filer; Mr. Arnold and Mrs. Cubine.

SNOW-RODGERS

Miss Vera Snow and Mr. Gentry Rodgers were quietly married Tuesday night at Lela. Only a few friends of the couple were present. The wedding was solemnized by the pastor of the church at that place.

The bride is a daughter of W. C. Snow, local farmer, and the groom is employed as a machinist at Magic City.

The friends of the couple were

GORGEOUS FIREWORKS PLANNED: TRI-STATE FAIR

Amarillo, June 26.—Plans for what is believed will be the greatest and most unique fireworks display ever attempted in the Southwest have been completed by Tri-State fair officials for the All-States Reunion and free barbecue at Harding's ranch on July 4. The nine mile scenic drive at the ranch will be lighted with varicolored torches at dark, which will not only serve to light the drive into and out of the canyon, but will give a most unusual scenic effect. The beautiful Palo Duro creek, Harding's lake, the falls and Devil's Kitchen will be lighted for unusual scenic effects.

In many of the great gorges in the Palo Duro canyon there will be placed unusual scenic fireworks displays including a gigantic cross showing the Savior at the crucifixion. Other equally interesting displays will begin at dusk as a part of the free entertainment at the All-States reunion.

Arrangements have been made for representatives of several news reel companies to film the July 4 event. In addition, a film entitled Harding's Ranch, and advertising the All-States reunion is now being shown all over the Panhandle.

Free barbecue, swimming, dancing, airplane stunts, racing, athletic events and other entertainment will be provided at the celebration. The only admission charge will be the usual 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children at the gate of the ranch. Arrangements are being made to care for 10,000 persons.

PAMPA TO HOLD FAIR OCT. 11, 12, 13

Pampa, June 26.—The Pampa fair once the center of attraction every fall, will be revived. Present plans call for a three day fair to be held October 11, 12, 13. The various committees are actively at work, and each is strenuously working to make its department outstanding. "While it is too early to give out specific plans," says the manager, "everything points to a big fair. The management is especially anxious to have a big agricultural exhibit, and the agricultural committee is urging the farmers and the various communities to begin saving their products as they ripen."

More than $800 will be offered in premiums in the stock department, and an especially good premium list will be provided for poultry, both in the exhibition and utility classes.

An entertainment program is being worked out that will be a feature of the fair. A new track will be built, and the race program will be well worth while.

It is getting about time to wage a weed-cutting campaign in McLean. Rank growths of weeds are unsightly, insanitary, and cast a reflection upon the citizenship of a town. Let's cut the weeds!

It is well to make a good beginning but it must be remembered that the ending is what determines success or failure. Too many people are so busy starting something that they never find time to finish anything.

Fort Worth entertained the W. T. C. of C. in a royal way last week, but those who bought badges were rather out of luck if they did not dance, as most of the free tickets given with each badge were for admittance to dances.

The fact that the McLean Lions Club is affiliated with the national organization will mean nothing unless local members work at the job, for, after all, it is the faithfulness of the local membership that makes a success of any organization.

Geo. W. Truitt, in a sermon at the First Baptist church, Dallas, last Sunday morning, said that the work of the church should have no discouragement. This thought will apply to any worthy while effort. The man who tries to discourage worthy enterprises, regardless of the reason, is an unworthy hindrance.

Several compliments were both passed on last week's issue of The News, many remarking that it looked as well and contained as much news as when the editor was on the job. The force appreciates these remarks from our readers, as we have been doing our best to make good during the boss' absence.

BY THE WAY—

There are 608 little factories in our county—our farms.

An increase in production of only $100.00 a year from each of these farms would make a total of $60,800.00. How would you like to add this much money a year to the payroll of our territory? How much bonus would our community give to a factory of that magnitude? It would be worth a great deal of effort on the part of every citizen to have that much more money deposited in our banks and to spend with our merchants, wouldn't it?

This can be done in several ways. One way is the use of good seeds. It has been abundantly proven that good seed pays high interest on the investment. There is little question that our farmers can average more than $100.00 extra profit each year by their use. Good seed are seeds that are locally adapted, true to name, of high vitality, and free from noxious weeds. When our merchants sell any other kind they are automatically reducing the amount of money farmers will have to spend with them at harvest time or perhaps in many cases destroy the farmer's chance to pay his bills at all.

P. T. Barnum once said: "If you have ten dollars to put to good use, put one up for the article and the other nine for the printer. I can out-talk any man for a printer. The man who can stick type and talk to several thousand people while I am talking to one is the man that I am afraid of, and I want him for my friend."—Fourth Estate.

Roger Powers motored to Carter, Okla., Sunday.

TEDDY

By an Old-Timer
(Note—It used to be in the long, long ago, that printers would bring along a bucket of beer to lunch and usually a bottle of some "high-powered" brand of booze (type wash) could be found around the quizes where they worked. While this is the story of two printers, yet it is very timely at this time for the people at large.)

I stood at the bar with Teddy
With one foot on the raft;
And we made a nice job ready,
With a little ginger ale.

We talked of shop conditions,
And the terrible atmosphere;
We run off big editions
With very little beer.

We underlaid and overlaid,
But never drew alike;
We didn't care how late we stayed;
We were having a dandy time.

We mixed up tints, with various inks
But didn't start a thing;
Until we began to mix our drinks,
Then we commenced to sing.

Ted sang tenor, I sang bass,
Solos and duets;
And say, before we left that place
We had some nice quartettes.

We "rocked the cradle o'er the deep,"
And "Oh I am so dry;"
Then we "laid her down to sleep,"
With a little rock and rye.

Put when we all sang "Home Sweet Home,"
Poor Teddy gave a sigh;
He knew darned well that he had none,
And he knew the reason why.

That song was good for Teddy,
He knew that he was wrong;
But now he's working steady,
Saving money right along.

Before, he couldn't save a cent,
He spent so much for booze;
He found it hard to pay his rent,
And couldn't pay his dues.

But now he has a dandy car,
And a cozy little flat;
He doesn't throw money on the bar,
And say, "Take it out of that."

He takes the family out to ride,
And they go miles and miles;
The little wife sits by his side,
With the kiddies full of smiles.

And when his summer they go out
To where the grass is green,
And let the children run and shout,
It's like a pleasant dream.

The little wife has dried her tears
And Teddy pays his dues;
They have had many happy years
Since Ted cut out the booze.

—Paddock Post.

"GO, BRING THY LEDGER"

A contribution to The British Weekly recalls a sermon preached more than thirty years ago by the late Dr. J. H. Jowett: "The subject was Christ's interview with the Samaritan woman, and the preacher had just stated that the command, 'Go, bring thy husband,' had revealed to the woman, as by a flash of light, her past evil life. Then, leaning over the pulpit desk and with pointing finger, Dr. Jowett, in solemn tone, said, 'Christ may not say to you, 'Go, bring thy husband,' but, 'Go, bring thy ledger.' I was conscious that a startled shiver swept through the crowded congregation, largely composed of business men."—Exchange

A LOVE STORY

Love in the December of life is just as beautiful as it is in May. A white-haired old man and a sweet little old lady used to meet in the park every day and sit together all afternoon. This friendship gradually developed into a deeper affection, as friendships are wont to do, for love is no respecter of persons or of age.

One summer day the old man took the little lady by the hand. "May I tell you the old, old story?" he asked, his voice trembling.

She blushed, as only old-fashioned people can, and nodded assent.

So he told her for the twenty-eighth time how he won the Battle of Gettysburg.—Life.

"A young woman stepped daintily aboard with a baby in her arms. As she hesitated before the steward, he bent over her and said in his chivalrous way:

FORMER CONVICT HIRES EX-LIFERS

Pardoned Murderer in Charge of Plant.

West Berlin, N. J.—Joseph Pensendorfer, a fifty-three-year-old convict, came out of Eastern penitentiary last year on a pardon. He had been behind the walls for more than twenty-five years, and watched men go out with their new suits of clothes and coin in their pockets, determined to go straight, and then come back again, straight, and then come back again.

When Pensendorfer came out last year he might have gone the same way, except that he had $50,000 in a Philadelphia bank. He had taught himself woodworking while in prison, and became a master of carving and delicate inlay. He also patented wood-working devices, and watched his royalties pile up.

Pensendorfer was rather an altruist. He had his factory in operation here within a month and he determined to do something for those fellows whom he used to see coming out of prison and then going back because they couldn't go straight. It was a dream that obsessed him through the years, Pensendorfer said.

Now the Pensendorfer factory here, a two-story concrete and stucco structure, has fifteen men turning out radio cabinets, ship models and such. A former murderer who was pardoned after serving ten years is superintendent of the factory and a former bank cashier, who served ten years for embezzlement, is chief draftsman. Pensendorfer, himself served time for killing his father-in-law, his death sentence being commuted to life imprisonment only two days before the date of execution.

Business is good with Pensendorfer. "I could use 100 more men," he said, "if they were available. I know where there are some very skillful woodworkers, but unfortunately the authorities are detaining them."

Any convict can have a job with Pensendorfer. But he must keep straight and never touch liquor.

CAUGHT!

Here is one told by a Jew: "A Jew and a Scot concluded to go to church. They agreed to stay outside until after the collection was taken. They went in as the preacher took his text. They enjoyed the sermon. After a hymn the pastor arose and said: 'Now, as our custom is in this church, we will have the morning offering, and the ushers will come forward.' 'The Scot and the Jew looked at each other, the Scot fainted, and the Jew carried him out.'"

NO NEWS TODAY.

A reporter in a neighboring town asked a woman if she could give him a news item. She thought and thought and finally admitted reluctantly that she didn't know a "single solitary thing. I'm too excited to think, anyway," she added, because my brother broke his arm when his house burned down this morning, and I am on my way to see him."—Altoona (Kans.) Tribune.

In a lengthy editorial recently, the Columbia (S. C.) ## Local Plant to Increase Ice Capacity

The ice plant operated here by the Southwestern Public Service Co. is being enlarged this week. There has been no interruption in service to ice users, although the company has been forced to get ice from both Clarendon and Shomrock in order to be able to supply the demands of their patrons, which were materially increased by the hot days this section has been experiencing the past two weeks.

H. S. Williams, local manager of the public service company's holdings, stated to a News representative that they expect to have the work completed and the plant running capacity by the latter part of this week.

The plant capacity is being materially increased with the addition of 117 cans, whereas only 70 have been employed heretofore. It will be possible to manufacture 10 tons of ice each day when the plant is again in operation, and it is thought that this will insure ice users against any danger of shortage when the hotter days come and ice is an absolute necessity.

FOR DISTRICT CLERK

The News has been authorized to carry the announcement of R. B. Thompson as a candidate for the office of District Clerk of Gray county.

Mr. Thompson is a long time resident of Gray county, having been at Pampa for the past 17 years. He has held the office of County and District Clerk for this county for two successful terms in the past, and did not ask for the office a third term.

Mr. Thompson's record is good. He served the people in an admirable way when he held the office before, and he does not feel that an introduction is needed to a majority of the Gray county voters. He seeks to win in the Democratic primary merely as the strength of his record.

We are glad to carry Mr. Thompson's announcement in the columns of The News.
