issue of the Saturday Evening Post. When all officials learn that they are servants of the people and that the people have a right to know how their business is being conducted, there will be less cause for complaint. There is no excuse for public officials to conduct affairs other than for the good of all, and that means that everyone should know just what is being done. As The Post says, "The welfare of all is endangered when government is conducted in secret."

Armistice Day should mean more to the present generation than any other holiday on the calendar. All of us can remember the sudden letting down of the strain of the World War and what a day of celebration it was when the news was flashed to the world that an armistice had been deof the war, and it is to be doubted everyone's heart is buried this truth, and there should be general rejoicing that we are living in an age of peace

THERMO "I SHOULD WORRY" SAYS YOUR CAR

Motorists who would enjoy carefree winter driving are switching to Phillips 66. Their cars start "right now"—warm up fast—pick up quickly. These motorists get, too, an instant flow of able-bodied power and mileage that's gratifying—all at no extra cost. The secret of Phillips 66 is controlled volatility which makes each gallon you buy fit the season and the climatic conditions of the locality in which you buy it. For best results try a full tank of Phillips 66 or 66 Ethyl.

We lke him first rate. And we want you to preach dedication, for as you might say, It's your church. That is, you understand you raised the money and all."

"Yes, I see. Thank you very much. Awkwardly, the trustee made his good-bys and hurried away. He did not look back. Mirlam walked with him to the door, shook hands with him. She even smiled. Then she raised," said their father, smiling, slipped back and joined the hushed little group,

"F-father," begged Ginger, in an will, in gratitude, on the day of the anguished tone, "don't be shockedplease don't. Remember what the doctors said."

> He put out his hand to her, with a sad smile, and she crushed it between both of bers.

> "You see, there is no hope," he said "They were only pretending that I had a chance,"

> "No, father," contradicted Miriam sweetly. "No, they were not pretend ing. They said you had a chance, and they meant it. They said the only way was for you to become so strong and well that your eyes also would grow strong and well. They did not deceive you. You did have-you have got a chance. I asked them a dozen limes, and they told me h

"And as far as money goes," cried Ginger, more cheerly, "I have quite a few little secrets of my own. It is two months till conference. By that time, aid darling, I shall probably be able to take care of you myself."

He smiled at her again, "Dear Ellen," he said gently. "If only these slim little hands could carry out the kindly projects of that eager " ; beart we should never war, for much in this world."

"Oh out this time I really mean it -I mean-I am quite sure-" The disclosure of her hopes trembled at the tip of her tongue-her eyes grew rapt and luminous. But her sisters, so used to her daring dreams, and her extravagant promises, paid small heed. Their thoughts were upon the sordid reality of the present moment and its disappointment.

"It's a good thing the wedding is over," said Marjery. "Helen would never have gone, if she had suspected this.

Boarding Mr. Buckworth will help out quite a little," sald Miriam, "As for us, as long as we stay at Pay Dirt, we're simply gorging ourselves among the fleshpots of Egypt."

Ginger shook the rapture from her eyes, closed her teeth firmly upon her secret. The time had not come for her triumphat pronouncement.

"Well, as Old Jop says-" she began "Ellen!

Have you known the satisfaction of its sixcylinder reserve power-ready to shoot you ahead at the traffic light, to carry you over the steepest hills, or to speed you along the highway?

And do you know that anyone who can . afford any car can own a Chevrolet Six?

If you have never driven a six-cylinder car, it is impossible for you to form any idea of Chevrolet performance from your imagination alone.

Smoothness! No rumble in the body-no tremble in the steering wheel-no vibration to loosen windows and doors!

Flexibility! Power that flows in a silken stream-and never a trace of "lugging"!

Quiet! Hardly a whisper from the motor. You can drive it for hours without the slightest noise fatigue! But why try to tell you the story when only a ride can give you the facts? Come in. There's a car waiting for you . . Now!

CUT OUT THE EXTRAS

Texas has provided free text books for its school children.

That was done to lower the expenses to poor parents of schooling their children

But what does it avail if principals and teachers are permitted to tack on a lot of nick nacks that cost the average family more than text books

There are 85 cents for lockers, there are all kinds of special form books to buy, there are subscriptions to school ets, usually a lot of paraphernalia for the six-week broadening and finding courses. Just plenty of places for dimes, quarters and dollars.

Oh, yes, all very nice for those who making ends meet. But they become
