Just Between Us

Amid the splendor of our nation's beautifully decorated Capitol, the 90th President of these United States was inaugurated Wednesday morning.

Lyndon Baines Johnson, a native Texan, was not the choice of many of us for this most powerful elective office in the world.

Still, he is the President of every one of us—the white as well as the colored; the rich as well as the poor; the employ as well as the employer.

In his inaugural address, President Johnson spoke much of "change" and the fact that America must be prepared to accept it. He is eager, he said, for the "new world."

He made reference, too, to "The Great Society."

From what we read and heard of the President's plan for "The Great Society," it is our opinion that he seeks far too much "change."

Whether his choice of the words, "The Great Society," was deliberate or unfortunate, we perhaps will never know.

A recent daily newspaper editorial points out that the Library of Congress has a pre-World War I book with a title page, "The Great Society."

The book was written by Abraham Wallas, an English Fabian Socialist.

The editorial points out that the Fabians took great care never to call their programs socialism, perhaps correctly figuring they would be more acceptable under other labels.

One of the pet programs of the Fabians, it was noted, was socialized medicine, "which travels in this country under the euphemism 'Medicare.'"

"One of the criteria of any socialistic program, the editorial continues, "is that it requires mass participation. This is why the proponents of Medicare hate the Kerr-Mills plan of medical care. Under K-M, Medicare is available to those who NEED it. This does not gear with Fabian desires. They want everybody to be FORCED into accepting Medicare."

"The French have Medicare under their Social Security system. Recently, a government report said France's Social Security system faces bankruptcy, the chief reason being the high cost of Medicare."

"Present contributions to the French system are now at the rate of 25 per cent for workers and 18 per cent for employers."

It would appear that opponents of the Medicare program will be unable to muster the strength to defeat the measure during the current session of Congress.

The President wants Medicare passed, and the Democratic majority is strong enough to pass it through—despite the fact that the rank and file are not in favor of it.

Another major battle may well develop over the right-to-work section of the Taft-Hartley Act, which the President and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey seek to have revoked.

In a talk before union leaders recently, Humphrey declared that the section, 14(b), will be cancelled. This despite the fact that public opinion polls show the majority of the American people believe that no citizen should be forced to join a union in order to hold his job.

The poll revealed that 67 per cent of the public believes in the voluntary unionism principal.

We hope another intended "change" wasn't contained in the statement issued by the rail union

GAS PRICES SLIP LOWER

War Continues For Second Week

Gasoline prices slipped still lower in McLean this week, with at least one service station dropping regular to 20.9 cents per gallon.

The first price war in the memory of most residents is now nearing the end of its second week.

Some stations had held out, choosing not to reduce their prices, but by Wednesday they, too, had joined the war.

There was no indication when the price war would come to an end.

One dealer last week, however, expressed the belief that if the prices were slashed to the 20.9-cent figure the war would be short-lived.

In the meantime, local motorists and Highway 66 travelers were well pleased with the low prices.

PUPIL COUNT BEING MADE

Mrs. Carl Baker Conducts Census

The annual McLean school census is underway, with Mrs. Carl Baker as enumerator.

Mrs. Baker said Wednesday that parents of children who will be 6 years old on or before Sept. 1 of this year should contact her, if she has not already counted their future first-graders in the census.

Mrs. Baker's telephone number is GR 9-2528.

The census must be completed by Feb. 1, and it is important that all students be counted.

Determine Number
Using information obtained through the census, the board of education is able to determine the approximate number of students expected for the next school year.

The annual count is required by the Texas Education Agency.

The census usually is started in early January, but the necessary forms were not received until last week.

Mrs. Baker was employed by the board of education to conduct the census.

Linda Tindall Enters Finals for Phillips Company Scholarship

Linda Tindall, McLean High School senior, is among 150 students qualifying for the final competition for scholarships from the Educational Fund for Children of Phillips Petroleum Co. Employees.

Thirty Texas Panhandle boys and girls are among the 150 qualifying.

$500 Annually
Each of the scholarship awards provides $500 annually during four years of college attendance, subject to the maintenance of a satisfactory record by the awardee.

The scholarship fund was established in 1939 for the purpose of aiding children of employees of Phillips Petroleum Co. and its subsidiaries in obtaining a college or university education.

Approximately 700 young people have received education as Phillips scholarship holders under awards totaling more than 1½ million dollars.

High school students from 83 towns in 22 states will take the 1965 aptitude test. Qualifying students who do not receive scholarships may apply for loans for higher education from a separate educational loan fund.

Lions are to work the west-bound lanes of Highway 66 and the Scouts the east-bound lanes. Motorists and pedestrians will be asked to drop their contributions into buckets carried by the workers.

Day also this week announced the dates of "Coffee Days" to be held at various city firms as benefits for the March of Dimes.

Receipts from the sale of coffee on the designated days will be turned over to the MOD.

chiefs last Saturday.

They urged that the government nationalize, or take over, operation of the nation's railroads.

This would be another giant stride toward socialism, and we hope it is soon forgotten.

-jbu-

The union leaders' suggestion came at a time when many of us were ready to recommend that the government get out of some of its business ventures in favor of private enterprise.

A good example of how cumbersome government-run operations become is the Post Office Department.

Henry J. Taylor made note of this in a recent column of his in the Amarillo Daily News:

"If Washington officialdom is so capable of quarterbacking America's free enterprise system as a whole, why doesn't it fix the Post Office—a subject often mentioned but seldom fully explored."

Taylor compares the Post Office, the world's largest public utility, with American Telephone and Telegraph, the largest privately owned utility.

"If one can pay the taxes and fine dividends it achieves, what's the matter with the other?" Taylor asks.

Postage rates have increased for a regular first-class letter from two cents in 1932 to five cents today. During the same period, telephone rates have gone down from $9.50 for a New York to San Francisco call in 1932 to as low as $1 today.

"In these 32 years," Taylor points out, "the Post Office and the Bell system have each increased their employment by approximately 75 per cent. But the modernization billions both spent show an increase in output of only 40 per cent per postal employee while AT and T chalked up 118 per cent per employee."

The annual deficits taxpayers have had to make up have increased from $66 million in 1932 to $2.2 billion in the Post Office Department. By contrast, AT and T has put into the government's pocket $22.3 billion in taxes since 1932, and telephone users kicked in another $79 million in excise taxes last year alone.

-jbu-

Thus we should all shudder at any thoughts of the government taking over the railroads or any other private enterprise. Frankly, we doubt that taxpayers could afford the deficits which would be brought on by such a venture.

-jbu-

Mrs. J. Edwin Kerr, with her husband to present the program at Tuesday's Lions Club luncheon, told us she was so sore she could barely move.

When we asked why, the answer was a bit startling.

Mrs. Kerr had been pulling a cross-cut saw the day before. She explained that Joe Taylor had given her a walnut tree which had been blown over at the Taylor place east of town.

The tree had to be sawed up before it could be loaded on the Kerrs' pickup truck.

Joe handled one end of the cross-cut for a time, but he told us he could tell that Mrs. Kerr had pulled a saw before. She knew how to handle it.

-jbu-

You know, we had never thought of it before, but a newspaper office often serves as an oversided information booth.

We've had requests for different sorts of facts on several occasions before, but we can't recall what they were at the moment.

The latest such request came from Zelda (Mrs. Bernard) McClellan. She needed to know on what days of the week she and Bernard were born.

Zelda furnished us the dates and we were able to find the days—by checking through old copies of The McLean News of those years.

More remodeling is going on among McLean businesses, helping to brighten up the appearance of downtown.

Mrs. Irene Mullanax recently purchased the building housing Mullanax Men's Store and has undertaken an extensive remodeling project.

Work also was begun last weekend at Veral Lynn Gift Shop, where the floor is being tiled and new office space is being prepared.

More beautification work is planned at the McLean Variety Store and Jewel Box Fashions. Corrugated aluminum sheets will soon be placed on the front of the building above the awnings.

SOIL SAMPLING
Arley Bentley, a new farmer in the McLean vicinity, was by our office early this a.m. (Tuesday) to pick up soil testing cartons and information sheets.
Arley farms the Williams place. This is an excellent idea to take soil samples and send to our experiment station laboratory at Lubbock.
While in McLean we helped Clyde Magee take soil samples on five different fields. First we had to help him de-cocklebur his fine registered herd.

I encouraged Clyde to try to get the State Department of Agriculture to register his cockleburs. He has the best burs I've seen anywhere.
They came up to a perfect stand last year, and the summer drought didn't seem to affect the production one bit. He blamed all the burs on the fact that Joe went to Europe last year and wasn't here to keep them down.
We also took a soil sample on Leamon Andrews' place.

NEWS OF CONSERVATION

D. W. Powers has completed 2,600 feet of underground irrigation on his farm south of Kingsmill.
Much water is lost in an open irrigation ditch through evaporation and seepage. Soil erosion also occurs on the steeper ditches. Underground pipe will cut down on this water and soil loss.
O. R. Blankenship has completed 4,965 feet of diversion terraces, 14,000 feet of standard terraces, installed a windmill and shaped several gullies on his farm west of McLean.

ESTABLISHING WILDLIFE FOOD PLANTINGS — There has been considerable interest in establishing wildlife food and shelter plantings. Earl Clayton, who ranches southwest of Lefors, has done an outstanding job of establishing wildlife areas over his ranch.
Some of the trees and shrubs that are ideal for wildlife plantings are the following: Russian olive, Russian mulberry, osage orange, plum, quail bush (species of skunkbust), tamarix and red cedar.

LIVESTOCK DISTRIBUTION TOOLS—Livestock habitually over-use some areas of most pastures and under-use others. Over-use and under-use are either injurious or wasteful, and both are costly.
Effective tools to manipulate grazing to use grass more uniformly, and increase ranch income are: Fence along vegetative type-lines, build and install windmills in under-use areas, salt and feed winter supplements in under-used areas, plant shade and build rubbing posts in under-used areas.
Shade increased summer gains 22 pounds and fly control increased gains 16 pounds per yearling steer in studies at Woodward, Okla.
This 48 pounds per steer could make the difference between profit and loss.

BUSHLAND EXPERIMENT STATION

On Thursday, Feb. 18, a Gray County Day will be held at the Bushland Experiment Station.
Phillips Petroleum Co. and Gene Snell, Pampa fertilizer dealer, will treat all those attending to a free barbecue lunch catered by Underwoods of Amarillo.

All McLean farmers are urged to attend. Let's get three or four carloads from this area.
We will arrive at the station by 10 a.m. and will finish by 3 p.m.

Pre-Emergent sprays for cotton and grain sorghum, plus a lot of other late experimental data, will be presented by a team of station researchers.
Let's not miss this fine event.

THIS AND THAT

Wilbur Wilson just called The McLean News asking me to leave some soil testing cartons.

B. F. Holland plans to shut the gin down for the season. He has ginned almost 850 bales. He liked not to have got the '64 crop ginned before planting time for the '65—what a year.

I thought George Saunders' goal on a new leaflet he had The McLean News print was worth repeating: "Our breeding program is aimed at producing the most beef from the least feed in the shortest time."

In visiting with George, he says he has several very outstanding heifers for sale. Some of them are bred to his top sires.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wilson of Amarillo visited with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Abbott, during the weekend.

Social Security Is Offered Clergymen

Recently enacted legislation has provided clergymen with a new opportunity to obtain Social Security coverage.

Hal Geldon, Social Security district manager in Amarillo, made this news public today as part of a nation-wide program to inform clergymen of the new law.

Geldon said that the term "clergyman" referred to duly ordained, commissioned or licensed ministers, priests, rabbis, Christian Science practitioners and members of religious orders who have not taken a vow of poverty.

For those clergymen who wish to elect Social Security coverage, Geldon explained that they (1) obtain a Social Security number, (2) file Form 2031 (a waiver certificate to elect Social Security coverage) with their district director of Internal Revenue Service and (3) file tax returns and pay Social Security taxes for 1962 and all later years.

Geldon further explained that the new law provides that in most cases these steps must be taken no later than April 15, 1965.

Clergymen desiring additional information before making a decision to elect Social Security coverage were invited by Geldon to contact the Amarillo Social Security district office located at 1006 Adams Street.

Birthday Party Held For Rhonda Hagar

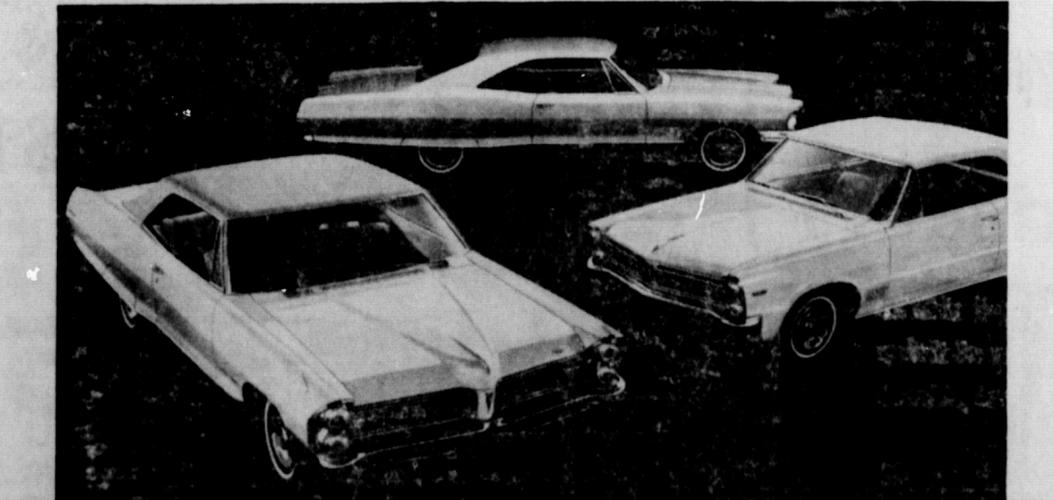

Rhonda Hagar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hagar of Hereford, was honored Saturday at her sixth birthday party in Hereford.
Rhonda's grandmother, Mrs. Jimmie Shelton of McLean, was on hand for the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Petty attended the North Fork Workers Conference at the Lela Baptist Church last Thursday night.

Patricia Young of Childress spent the weekend with Becky Shelton. The Sheltons returned Patricia to her home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wright and family visited in Oklahoma City over the weekend with her father, G. B. Sloss. They report Mr. Sloss improving.

The Tiger of the year was just named Car of the Year by Motor Trend.

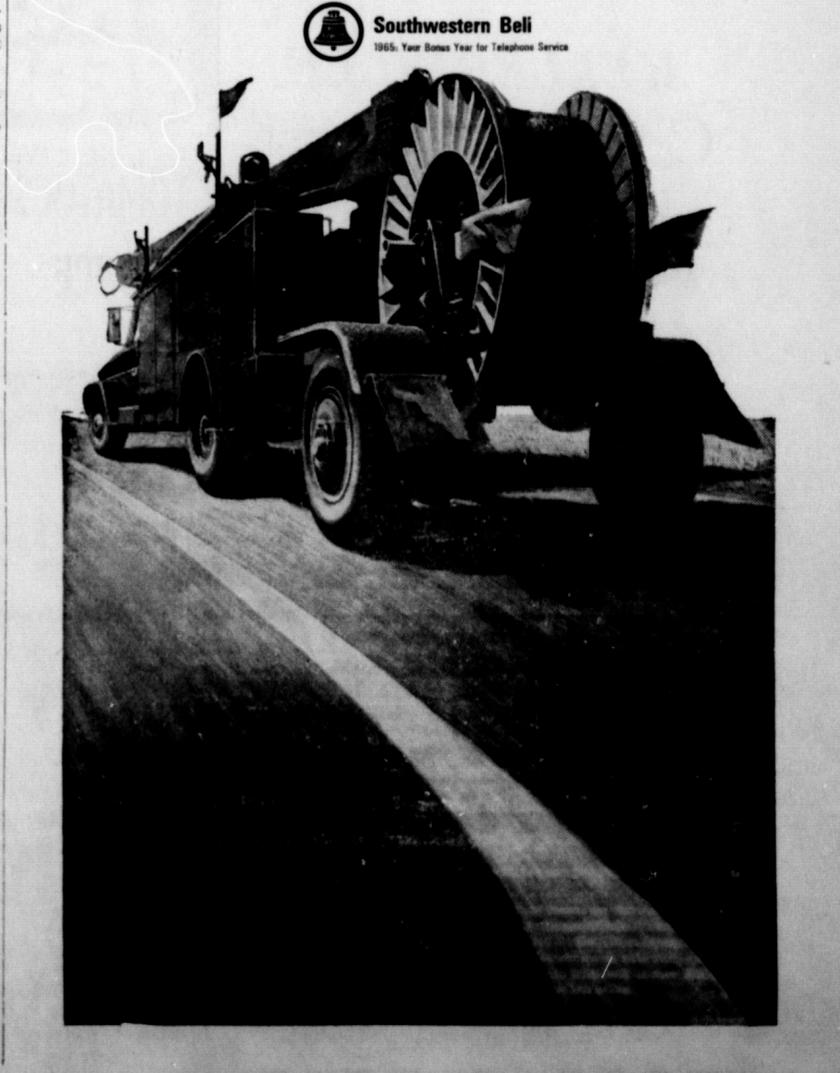

If that isn't enough of a hint, try Quick Wide-Track. (This is their year.) Or Turbo Hydra-Matic, the new transmission you can order that does away with roaring between shifts. Coupled with any of the quicker engines for the '65 Pontiac, it saves the roaring for whenever you need it. When you don't need it, the extra-potent engines let you just loaf along. This loafing gives you the kind of economy you wouldn't expect from a looker like the '65 Pontiac. See your Pontiac dealer. He'll show you all 32 Pontiacs that are the "Car of the Year." They're the buy of the year, too.

AMERICAN LEGION PROTESTS McKINNEY HOSPITAL CLOSING

The Veterans Administration's disclosure Monday that it will close two regional offices and one hospital in Texas, comes as a shock to the American Legion, the Texas department commander, Lewis W. Emerich of Houston, has informed McLean Legion Cmdr. Harlon Pool.

Under the plan the VA offices in Lubbock and San Antonio and the McKinney Hospital will be closed, effective June 30.

"The American Legion is in favor of economy in government," said Emerich, "but such economy at the expense of sick and disabled veterans, as well as cutting services for elderly widows and orphans of the nation's war dead is unthinkable. To me, this is totally inconsistent with the President's program of total war on poverty, in fact, most of the veterans who use the McKinney Hospital fit the test rule being employed by the President to determine those in poverty.

"As commander of the American Legion in Texas, I am lodging a most vigorous protest to the President, to the VA and to members of Congress," Emerich said.

At its state convention in San Antonio last year, the Legion adopted a resolution asking for additional beds in the McKinney Hospital due to the long waiting lists. More beds are needed, not less.

These patients cannot be transferred to the Dallas VA Hospital, for they are already extremely overcrowded with a long waiting list. Closing of McKinney will cost the north Texas area 312 sorely needed beds, and will further tax the facilities at Dallas.

The American Legion fails to see how money can be saved in consolidating the San Antonio VA office with Houston and the Lubbock office with Waco. Emerich added: "Does the VA realize how far it is from Amarillo or El Paso to Waco? The extra costs to the government in travel and per diem would offset any savings realized by putting employees out of work."

The closing of these facilities will eliminate jobs for about 800 trained people. These will be thrown into the labor market, thus increasing unemployment.

Mrs. Jimmie Shelton spent last weekend with her daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hagar and children, in Hereford.

According to the commander, it is imperative that all members of the Legion, its Auxiliary, as well as all veterans and their dependents, lodge strong protests to the President and to members of Congress.

DID YOU KNOW?

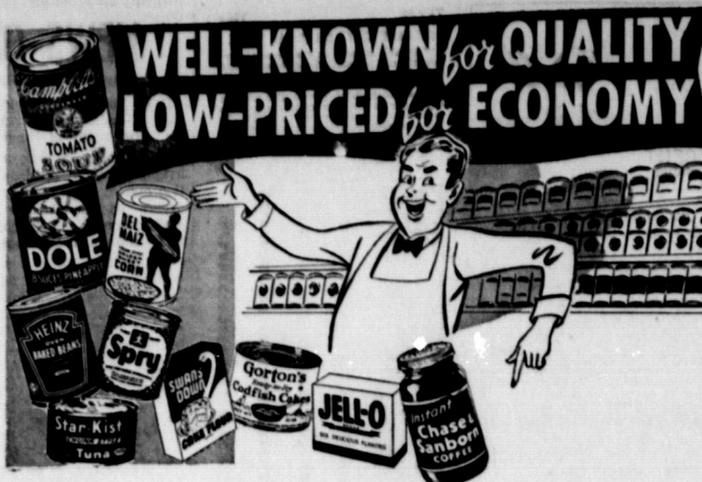

That we read in Eph. 4:4-6 and we believe that there is but one God and but one Lord and one spirit and one hope, but do we believe that there is but one body or church, and do we believe that there is but one baptism, and but one faith or belief.

That we find in (Eph. 5:23) that Christ is the savior of his body or church. Therefore you can see that it would be good to be a part of the body or church of Christ and members in particular. (1 Cor. 12:27)

That as we study about the church of Jesus Christ, we find in (Eph. 1:19-23) that God raised Christ from the dead and set him at his own right hand, and put all things under his feet and gave him to be head over all things to the church and this church is his body.

That in (Col. 1:18) that body and church are used interchangeable. So the body is the church and the church is the body, and in 1 Cor. 12:20 we see that there are many members, but one body or church.

WALTER ROGERS REPORTS

THE GREATEST CEREMONY OF ALL

Americans traditionally reject ceremony in public matters of state.
 It is a sentiment deeply ingrained in our people, part of the historic rejection of formal European ways when our nation was being forged two centuries ago.

However, once every four years the people of the United States treat themselves to the great public ceremony of a Presidential Inaugural, installing with pomp and parade and prayer the man elected by the people to direct the nation's affairs in the ensuing four years.

The marvels of television and radio now make it possible for all Americans to share the experience of this occasion, to feel with those citizens privileged to be in Washington for the event the excitement and inspiration as our President is sworn and celebrated.

On this day as on no other, the blessed greatness of our governmental form is symbolized and rededicated.

With officials of the three branches of the government flanking the President, the huge Capitol Plaza thronged by scores of thousands of citizens, and millions upon millions more attending the ceremony via television and radio in homes and business places across the country, the root strength of the Republic is emphasized by the President's oath-taking.

For the commitment he takes to serve the people, there in the shadow of the magnificent Capitol building topped by its statue of Freedom, is the same commitment other men accept in the Congress, the capitols of the states, the courthouses and city halls throughout the land, where-ever men have been elected by their fellow citizens to serve in positions of public trust and responsibility.

As the Constitution prescribes, the President says, "I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, preserve and protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Let no enemy of our system believe that these words are mere formality, they are sanctified for the people as for the Presidents who say them. The armor of the United States is its Constitution, binding is people in unity and liberty, and the words of the oath are part of the Constitution.

The armor is welded by its guarantee that free men shall freely choose their leaders. For this reason, Inauguration Day is as much a day on which the American people honor themselves and their forefathers as it is a day on which we honor a President.

Not a minute's walk from my
