BIG SPRING-LUBBOCK SECTION OF T & P N IS RECOMMENDED

HOME TOWN TALK

By BEDDY

"A half loaf is better than no loaf at all."

Those words of G. O. Bateman, attorney for the Texas & Pacific Northern, are significant and point, it appears to us, to a comparatively speedy conclusion of the T & P N case.

That case, we feel, will end with construction of at least 125 miles of track from Big Spring to Ackerly, Lamesa, Lubbock Junction, Brownfield and Amarillo.

The value of such a project to Big Spring cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

The examiner's report, coming at a time when too many of us have become downhearted and are not feeling so optimistic, should inject a lot of new action into the public generally.

General conversation for the past sixty days has been pessimistic insofar as the railroad project is concerned. A lot of men almost worried themselves to death over it.

So now, that the examiner's recommendations are really more favorable than a majority of our people expected, it is up to the face of Big Spring and cause us to look to the future with a greater faith and a will to do our parts toward broadening the community.

In this connection we would be ungrateful and the entire community would.

The community would be ungrateful if it did not express to the Chamber of Commerce, and especially its railroad committee headed by G. A. Woodward, and its manager, C. T. Watson, appreciation for the useful work done by them in aiding the T & P N in prosecution of its case.

Both Watson and Woodward have led the active railroad committees of the intervening towns from the day the T & P announced the filing of its application to build the new line.

This, by the way, has been the most valuable work of the local Chamber of Commerce in the past several years. It is one of those important things that a lot of us overlook when we ask "what has the Chamber of Commerce done?"

Yes, when Mr. Somerville blew into town that warm August morning ten months ago, and surprised everybody with the initial announcement, we were all genuinely thrilled.

Now, that another step toward realization of the goal has been reached we have a right to throw hats into the air and shout.

True, it may be several months before the final decision is made, but the case now is, admittedly, very much stronger.

Blanton Opposes Hoover Deb Plan

ABILENE, June 24. (UP)—Representative Thomas L. Blanton today denounced the Hoover moratorium debt plan, asserting that Americans are "more concerned with their own six million walking the streets without work."

In a statement issued here Blanton, who represents the 17th congressional district of Texas, termed the president's proposal "an unprecedented usurpation of legislative power."

Blanton cited the $200,000,000 deficit faced by the U. S. treasury and charged President Hoover with forcing the United States to grant a moratorium to all countries while other countries are granting moratoriums only to Germany.

"No American opposes sane tariff for revenue to equalize cost production and maintain American standards of living," he said, "but the Hoover administration is giving in to tariff subsidies to contributors to the tariff campaign expenses has built around us an impregnable wall that has stopped trading and keeps Europe from buying from us."

"We must be charitable and generous to Europe, but we should begin by being charitable and generous to our own suffering Americans."

Invitations To Exhibits Given Nearby Towns

Manufacturers To Show Products; Lectures Are Scheduled

Representatives of the chamber of commerce were visiting surrounding towns today issuing invitations to merchants to hear Alphonso Johnson of Dallas in four lectures here Thursday and Friday. Joseph Edwards, W. E. Bonham and E. J. Mary visited Stanton and Coahoma.

The lectures will be given here in connection with the manufacturers' exhibit and merchants' institute. They will cover modern methods of merchandising, and will include such topics as "meeting competition," "salesmanship," "advertising" and "proper store arrangement." They will be given at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. Thursday and Friday.

Eye Witness Heard In Trial At Crane City

Boy Tells Of Meeting On Ranch Road And One Fatal Shot

(Special to The Herald) CRANE CITY, June 24.—The signed statement of Bud Reed, sixteen year old Buena Vista school boy, sole witness to the murder of T. C. Barnsley, wealthy rancher, politician, and landowner, whose body was found on the banks of the Pecos River, was introduced Tuesday in the trial of Jack Hall, cowboy, charged with the slaying.

Reed, was riding in an automobile with his father at the time the Barnsley was shot once through the head.

Roy Riggs, Pecos district attorney, Clyde E. Thomas of Big Spring, and Will Morris of San Antonio are representing the state.

The defense is represented by C. C. Gibbs of San Angelo, Henry Russell of Pecos, Judge Starley of Pecos and Ed Smith of Crane City.

A testimony given by the youth in district court Tuesday, follows:

"I, Bud Reed, after being duly sworn, upon my oath depose and say: My name is Bud Reed. I am 16 years old, and I live at Buena Vista, Texas. I took a shod horse belonging to Jack Hall over to his house about dark on the evening of April 7, 1931. And then I stayed there all night at Jack Hall's house that night. No one stayed there with me that night except Jack Hall. We got up about six next morning and had our breakfast and Jack Hall was going to take me back to Buena Vista in time for school. We went out and took a mule off of the stake and watered it. Then we backed the car out of the garage and put some oil in it. We were right there at the house. Then Tom Barnsley drove up in a truck to the point of the hill between the house and the corral right close to the river and turned his truck around, but I don't think he got out."

"At that time Jack said, 'There's the old man Barnsley, sneaking around here when he thinks I am not here.'"

Barnsley came down the road around the point in his truck, turned his truck around there by the point of the hill, and went by the corral and back up the road just the way he had come down there—same road. Barnsley drove on off about 10, 15 or 20 miles an hour on the road up the river. Then we went down the road in the car about 50 or 100 yards toward Buena Vista—opposite direction from that taken by Barnsley, then Hall said "I believe I'll go see what the old man wants."

He turned the car around then, and started following Barnsley. Barnsley was about a half mile away from the house and driving away when Jack Hall turned his car around. Hall had put his pistol

"We are all working for a common cause—that of building a bigger and better Big Spring," declared Joseph Edwards, president of the Chamber of Commerce. In a talk before young business and professional men of Big Spring who met at the Settles Hotel Tuesday night to organize a Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Edwards told of his views of the Junior organization and expressed the belief that there was a place in community life for each organization. He stated that the cooperative spirit which exists between the two organizations will assure efficient work for both groups.

Dr. J. R. Dillard, temporary chairman, called upon M. L. Tinsley to read suggested by laws and constitution designed by a committee appointed at a previous meeting. A general discussion of various points involved in the by laws followed. An amendment to the by laws was passed permitting quarterly payment of annual dues. Upon motion of Tracy Smith the by laws and constitution were accepted as presented and amended.

C. T. Watson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce suggested a plan of having a member of the board of directors of the new organization as a member of that group of the senior organization and in a similar way a member of the senior board a member of the junior board. Mr. Watson explained the complete approval of the senior board of the organization of the junior body and outlined the harmonious way in which the two organizations can work and are planned to work.

Short talks on various phases of organization were given by Dr. C. K. Bivings, Egge Cardwell, W. E. Bonham and Robert W. Henry. Upon motion of Dr. C. K. Bivings the men present were divided into two membership teams to contest for members during the next two weeks. One group is composed of W. E. Bonham, Dr. W. B. Hardy, M. L. Tinsley, Robert W. Henry, Ben Cole, Dr. C. K. Bivings, H. S. Faw, A. M. Stephens and Robert W. Jacobs. The other group is made up of Egge Cardwell, Dr. P. W. Malone, Cecil Collins, New Jennings, Dr. J. R. Dillard, Tracy Smith, J. F. Laney. The losing group is to be host to the winners at a Dutch lunch to be given the night of July 7.

TPN Worker Is Thanked By Club

Garland A. Woodward, attorney, was thanked by the Business Men's Luncheon Club today for his work in behalf of the application of the Texas & Pacific Railway to construct a line from Big Spring to Vega.

Announcement of the reports of the Interstate Commerce Commission examiner, in which it was advised that a line be constructed from Big Spring to Brownfield to Lubbock, was made by Woodward.

The local attorney has been active since the application was filed months ago. He sided firmly in conducting the initial hearing held at Lubbock by Examiner Davis.

Since that time he has been in constant touch with Washington attorneys regarding the progress of the application.

Woodward, speaking before the club today, predicted a brilliant future for Big Spring, and declared that the examiner's report should be the final gesture to "wipe away any remnants of the depression."

"The man," he declared, "who can now talk about hard times in this section shouldn't be allowed to live here."

Dr. C. K. Bivings gave a report of the formation of a junior chamber of commerce, and solicited the cooperation of the luncheon club.

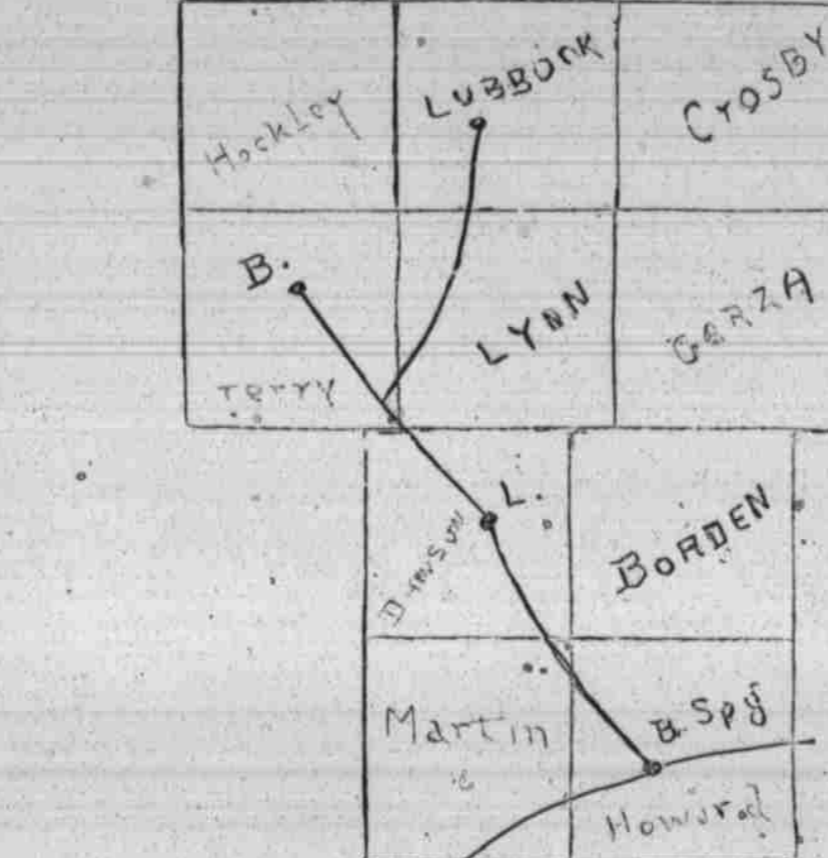

Shine Phillips gave a report of the State Druggist convention which he recently attended at Dallas.

The program was in charge of V. R. Smithson, Carl Blomfield and Dr. C. K. Bivings.

Son Arrested For Wounding Of Sire

HOUSTON, June 24. (UP)—W. H. Strebek, about 60, a barber, was shot and critically wounded near the criminal courts building here today. His son, Dorman, about 22, was arrested by a deputy who saw him in state or state-aided institutions indicates that about 1,250,000 persons are included in the "assisted" category.

Road Would Touch Six Counties

This diagram shows the general route the Texas & Pacific Northern Railway will take if recommendations of Examiner Wood, announced Wednesday, are followed. The line would touch the extreme northeastern corner of Martin county, in the outside lots of Ackerly, thence to Lamesa (L on this diagram). From Lamesa the route leads to the extreme southeast corner of Terry county, where "Lubbock Junction," or mile post 66, is located. From that point the line would lead on to Brownfield (B on this diagram), and also to Lubbock, 46 miles.

T & P To File Exceptions

Twenty Days Allows For Action; Company Received Strong Support Of Towns

DALLAS, June 24. (UP)—G. O. Bateman, attorney for Texas & Pacific Railroad, said today exceptions to the interstate commerce commission examiner's report, which disapproved of construction of 207 miles of new lines in the Panhandle, would be filed.

He said exceptions could be registered within a time limit of 20 days. The report favored construction of a line from Big Spring to Brownfield and from Lubbock Junction to Lubbock, entailing about 125 miles of construction. Construction of 207 miles, from Brownfield to a point two miles beyond Vega and from Dimmitt to Amarillo, was not recommended.

The recommendations were based on a hearing at Lubbock last December before Haskell C. Davis, examiner.

Statement of the attitude of the Texas & Pacific Railway company to the recommendations of Examiner Wood in the T&P application had not been made early this afternoon.

G. O. Bateman, Dallas, vice-president and attorney for the Texas & Pacific Northern Railway company, told The Herald via long distance telephone that J. L. Lancaster, president of both the T&P and T&P N, was ill at his home in Dallas and that he had not conferred with him since receiving announcement of the recommendations.

Bateman said he expected to be prepared to make a statement as soon as he had talked with Mr. Lancaster.

His first reaction to the examiner's findings, said Mr. Bateman, was that "a half loaf is better than none."

Cooperation of the public in the section of West Texas that would be directly benefited by construction of the T&P N was accorded in a statement by Bateman.

Robbers Lock Woman In Vault Of Bank

ROFF, Okla., June 24. (UP)—Two robbers locked Mrs. Fannie Tipton, assistant cashier in a vault after taking an undetermined sum from the First State bank here today. They hammered the lock, and workmen were brought to drill the vault open and rescue the woman.

Woman's Sentence Affirmed By Court

AUSTIN, June 24. (UP)—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed the 25-year sentence of Mrs. Maud Long of Kingville. She was convicted of poisoning her husband, Jim Long, in 1929.

The court reversed the case of W. A. Shafer, convicted in Dallas county of killing Dorothy Jones and sentenced to 99 years. Faulty procedure after retirement of the jury led to the reversal.

ONE OUT OF SEVEN GETS AID HARRISBURG, Pa. (INS)—One out of every seven residents of Pennsylvania is receiving assistance or treatment from state institutions and agencies, according to survey by the state department of welfare. Compilation of the number of inmates, prisoners and patients in state or state-aided institutions indicates that about 1,250,000 persons are included in the "assisted" category.

EXAMINER ADVISES I. C. C. TO DISAPPROVE BUILDING OF RAILWAY TO AMARILLO

Big Spring To Brownwood And Lubbock Junction To Lubbock Approved By Weed; Report Supports 126 Miles Of Track

(Special to The Herald)

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Big Spring and Lubbock today stood as victors over other South Plains and Panhandle cities in the proposed construction of a new railroad line in that area by the Texas & Pacific Northern Railway company as Examiner O. D. Weed of the interstate commerce commission reported favorably upon the proposed building of a line between these two cities but refused to approve plans to extend the road on to Vega and Amarillo.

The original application of the T&P Northern requested authority to build approximately 383 miles of new line in this section of the state. Examiner Weed recommended that the new railroad, a subsidiary of the Texas & Pacific, be permitted to build but 126 miles of line, and abandon plans for the other 200 miles.

That the T&P might later be given permission to construct the remaining 200 miles of proposed line, contingent upon continued development of that territory, was frankly conceded by the examiner.

"Notwithstanding the objections to the present construction of the entire line as sought, it is not improbable that a line along this general route may become reasonably necessary after there has been sufficient further development of the territory in question," he declared. "Since construction north of Brownfield is not thought to be justified on the present record, it would seem better not to prejudice the matter and compromise the future, especially in view of the rapid expansion of highway transport and the intense rivalry between the railroads and the motor transport companies, the results of which may be much clearer within a few years."

France Gives Debt Reply To United States

Conditions Attached To Its Acceptance Not Favored By America

By The Associated Press

The French reply to the Hoover moratorium proposal was handed to Ambassador Edge by Premier Laval at Paris today.

They discussed the document for half an hour. It is understood that America had previously informed France that the conditions expected to be attached to the acceptance would not be favored in Washington.

The French plan is expected to be a counter proposal for keeping the Young plan in force. Right wing of the French press continues criticizing the Hoover suggestion.

The Italian embassy in Washington gave the state department Mussolini's "cordial acceptance in principle" of the proposal.

In London Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, told the house of commons Britain would offer its dominions the same concessions if suspending payments as proposed for foreign countries.

Guess did the actual shooting.

Attempting To Revive League Of Nonpartisans

MINNEAPOLIS, June 22. (AP)—A. C. Townley, whose non-partisan league grew from a powerful political organization more than a decade ago, is on the stump in efforts to revive it.

Moving from town to town in Minnesota, South Dakota and North Dakota, he hopes to rekindle the fires of what he describes as the "agrarian revolt" of 12 years ago, which resulted in control of the North Dakota state government by the league and ineffectual politics of half a dozen other states.

Then he centered his demands for reform on alleged abuses of "grain gamblers" in terminal markets, and "milling monopolies," and found his organization crumbling by urging that "Wall Street be curbed in its powers, that the power to run this country be returned to the people."

He is preaching that the government should declare a moratorium on interest payments, particularly farm real estate mortgages.

He is slowly building up a fund for his organization campaign by contributions selected when he speaks. The first league once had a membership of more than 200,000 farmers who were asked for membership fees of from $5 to $10 each.

A failure of a flax crop on a North Dakota farm started Townley toward organization of the first league. When he harvested a poor crop due to dry weather, he found the total value of the product was worth less than the seed. This embittered him against the system of grain marketing.

He brands efforts of the federal farm board to help agriculture as a "joke."

SAN RAFAEL (INS)—A thief with absolutely no sense of the fitness of things invaded San Rafael recently to the embarrassment of the city administration and the police. Wife of Man On Trial for Murder Directs Queries

NEWKIRK, Ok., June 24. (UP)—Jean Quinn, 24, blonde and flashily attired, today directed cross-examination of state witness drawing a net of circumstantial evidence against her husband, Earl Quinn, at his preliminary hearing for the slaying of Jessie and Zexia Griffith, school teachers.

James H. Matheers, defense counsel, turned to the blonde girl for suggestions between almost every question put to witnesses by county attorney Ernie Pitter.

The defense scored as the moon process was taken when Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fox, state witnesses, testified Quinn came to their home

Farmer Misses Self With First Shot, Sends Second Into Brain

SEYMOUR, June 24. (UP)—After wiping away the blood resulting when the first bullet shot grazed his ear, Johnny E. Holman, 52, prominent Baylor county farmer, rebounded the gun and sent a second bullet through his head in his barn near Mabelle.

This was the way a coroner's jury reconstructed the tragedy today. The second bullet was fatal.

A Serious Case

Salient testimony of the morning session before county judge R. M. Parkhurst was delivered by Mrs. Fern Rogers, rooming house proprietor, who testified Quinn's coat and vest stayed at his room the night he was out, allegedly slaying the Griffith sisters.

She said Quinn left early that morning without a coat. She testified no buttons were missing on the coat or trousers and that they had not been worn since dressing.

The state is hinges an important point on the claim that a button missing from Quinn's vest, found in his room, was found in the car of the Griffith sisters.

DOUGHNUTS ARE BETTER IF COOKED A FEW AT A TIME

Likewise Coffee Has More Delicious Flavor When Roasted in Small Lots

Experience shows that if too many doughnuts are put into the hot fat at once, the cooking process is hindered. The temperature of the fat is reduced and the doughnuts become greasy.

A similar situation occurs when coffee is roasted in bulk. It is difficult to apply the heat evenly, and as a result some of the coffee berries may be overdone and some underdone, with variation in the roast causes disappointing variation in flavor.

Hills Bros. overcame this by inventing and patenting a process—Controlled Roasting—that roasts every coffee berry evenly. With automatic control of heat and speed of operation, a few pounds at a time pass through the roasters. Uniformity of roast and unequal flavor is the result.

Hills Bros. Coffee is always fresh when you buy it because it is packed in vacuum. This process takes air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, from the can and keeps it out. Coffee will not stay fresh in ordinary cans, even if air-tight. Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab on the can.

Sweet Potatoes Rank Seventh In Texas Products

AUSTIN, June 24. (AP)—Sweet potatoes rank seventh in value in the list of Texas agricultural products, according to a summary by E. T. Crozier, sweet potato inspector in the state department of agriculture, of the work done by the state toward developing this industry. Sweet potatoes gained seventh place in value although a large portion of the 1930 crop was sold below the market, Crozier said.

In 1930 the 109,000 acres planted in sweet potatoes yielded $7,248,000, more than the value of the combined cabbage and spinach crop; more than the total returns on fruit, including the citrus crop, and more than the combined cantaloupe, watermelon and cucumber crop.

Crozier pointed out the possibilities for future growth of the industry, claiming Texas last year imported into its five largest cities a total of 511 carloads of sweet potatoes from other states, the bulk furnished by Louisiana. Other cities probably imported a total as great but figures for the state were not available.

Most of the Texas production is shipped to the northwest, particularly to Colorado, Oregon and Washington, with a small amount shipped to Canada.

The eastern markets have not been scratched by the Texas yams, partially because of a sectional preference east of the Mississippi river for dry potatoes and to the comparative newness of the Porto Rican variety of yam that constitutes a bulk of the Texas crop. The quality of the yam also has not been advertised in the east, Crozier said.

Even should growers be able to reach the eastern markets they are not yet in a position to extend their curing facilities. Crozier for the business, and must first start saying it would be unprofitable to increase production without an equal increase in curing plant facilities. Kilm dried sweet potatoes have a higher content, better flavor and better shipping advantages.

New Dormitory For Girls Has 100 Feet Of Dressing Tables

AUSTIN, June 23. (AP)—Coeds at the University of Texas enrolled in gymnasium classes will have plenty of space in which to powder their noses and comb their hair after exercising.

Recently completed women's gymnasium will have 100 feet of dressing tables and mirrors in the main dressing room.

One of the innovations will be the installation of eight automatic hair dryers for use of the swimming classes.

Watermelon Feast

The Philanthropic Sunday School Class of the First Methodist church will put on an old-fashioned watermelon feast and ice cream social on the east side of the Courthouse lawn Saturday afternoon and evening, commencing at 2 o'clock. Beside watermelon and ice cream, homemade and root beer will be served.

County Judges' Aid Asked In Enforcing Child Labor Laws

AUSTIN, June 24. (AP)—Cooperation of county judges in administration of the child labor laws have been requested by Robert B. Gragg, state labor commissioner, especially with respect to provisions relative to granting working permits to juveniles between 12 and 15 years old.

Commissioner Gragg requested county judges to report to his department immediately the disposition of all cases coming before them under the child labor laws and the pertinent facts concerning each case.

"No phase of this work is more important than that which has to do with the child labor laws," Commissioner Gragg said. "The county judges have a prominent part in its proper application, for to them is delegated the authority to issue permits to juveniles between the ages of 12 and 15, inclusive, to enter employment when it becomes necessary for such a child to contribute to the support of a widowed mother, invalid father or other dependent members of the family."

Gragg urged county officials to thoroughly acquaint themselves with the provisions of the child labor law so it could be applied efficiently.

One of the features of the child labor law is that school children, regardless of age, are exempted from the permit provision during the summer vacation. They are prohibited, however, from working in a factory, mill or workshop where dangerous machinery is used. The law also does not prohibit them from working in agricultural pursuits.

Newcastle, England, For Which U.S. Cities Are Named, Plans Fete

NEWCASTLE-UPON-TYNE, England, June 23. (AP)—This ancient city of the North Country, which lends its name to 18 American towns, one of them in Texas, is going to give again some of its splendid days.

Newcastle is older, really, than the days to which its pageant will return July 20 to 25 for the pageant picks up the story in 122 A. D. and Newcastle had learned a lot by that time.

Divided into eight episodes, the pageant opens with the arrival of the Roman Emperor Hadrian, who commanded the building of the Roman bridge across the Tyne.

Amelduna, queen of a tribe at Newcastle, ventured to defy the British king, figuring the Romans would rescue her. She is saved by the Sixth Roman Legion just as the Picts are about to do her in. In the pageant the Newcastle Royal Grammar school is providing the entire Roman army.

The second episode deals with the bringing of St. Cuthbert's body to Newcastle, after it had been taken to Ripon to escape the fury of the Danish invasion, A. D. 965.

The other episodes deal with stirring incidents in Britain's history which took place at Newcastle, ending with a reproduction of an Eighteenth Century fair.

Some 6,000 performers will take part in the pageant, and there will be a chorus of 500 and an orchestra of 100.

And to add a modern touch there will be a jazz band contest in which 72 bands will compete.

SWORD MADE IN 1790
NACOGDOCHES, June 24. (AP)—O. A. Bright of Nacogdoches has a sword that was made in 1790, according to the coat of arms of the United States which is engraved on one side of the blade. It bears 15 stars. Kentucky was the fifteenth state and was admitted in 1790. The sword came to Bright through the Amison family of Shelby county whose ancestors were from Kentucky.

THIEF AMONG THIEVES

DENVER (INS)—Assistant United States District Attorney Charles E. Works suspects that there is a pickpocket among the federal prisoners here. He was recently visiting a crowd of federal prisoners in the prison room in the postoffice when he noticed his watch was missing. Later he saw United States Marshal Richard C. Callen twirling the timepiece on his fingers. "Where did you get that watch?" Works asked. "I don't know," Callen replied. "Somebody placed it in my hand and I was trying to find the owner."

Wouldn't Be Fired As Collector, Gets Black Eyes And A Coll

DALLAS, June 24. (UP)—J. F. Veal refused to be fired, so today he was in jail with two black eyes and a headache. Veal rushed into the district attorney's office here today and said he wanted to file a complaint against another man for beating him up. He exhibited the black eyes and a bandaged head. Just then another man rushed into the office. "I beat that man up," he said, pointing to Veal. "I have been working as a collector for me and the other day I fired him. Today I caught him collecting money from people who owed it to me. I fixed him up like he ought to have been fixed up and I want to file a complaint for theft."

Man, Cussed By Yegg, Seriously Wounded When He Fights Back

DALLAS, June 24. (UP)—Because C. L. Tucker of Kilgore, Texas, refused to submit to being called a so-and-so, even at the point of a pistol, he was critically wounded early today in a fight with a hijacker. But with the aid of his young wife, and even after he was shot in the abdomen, he knocked the bandit unconscious. Mr. and Mrs. Tucker had stopped their car near the White Rock lake to view again the scenes of their courtship when the bandit appeared. At the point of a pistol he forced Tucker to get out of the car. Tucker submitted name, but said he did not have any money. Then the bandit called him a dirty so-and-so and Tucker struck out with his fists. The bandit fired twice. Mrs. Tucker ran to the aid of her husband, and they knocked the bandit out. They left him lying beside the road, and Mrs. Tucker drove her wounded husband to a hospital where he suggested today nobody could call him a so-and-so, especially in the presence of his wife, and get away with it.

Ex-Call Boy Made General Manager Of M-K-T System

DALLAS, June 24. (UP)—Frank W. Grass who 27 years ago went to work as a messenger boy for the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad today was vice president and general manager for the railroad in Texas. His appointment was announced formally last night by M. H. Cahill, president and chairman of the board.

SPORT SLANTS By Alan Gould

The Athletics and Cardinals have held their places at the head of baseball's big parade for the first half of the long march, but they can't afford to do any loitering in the closing stages of the route that is sprinkled with perspiration and base-hits.

When we scanned the A's in Florida last winter, the tendency of the veteran infield to creak around the joints was cited. Connie Mack already has had trouble filling the gaps around the finer defense. It is curious that Washington's Senators, the chief threat to the world's champions, is strongest at the point where the A's are weakest—shortstop.

Joe Cronin, voted the most valuable American league player in 1930, has more than justified this opinion by his great all-around work this year for the Senators. Quite a number of competent observers rate Cronin as more valuable to Washington than any single member of the Athletics' star cast, including Cochrane, Simmons, Grove and Earnshaw.

The absence of Cochrane from the A's lineup in June hit the champions at a time when they had enough worries, anyway, trying to patch up the infield.

Where the A's have only Washington to contend with seriously in the pennant chase, the Cardinals must beat off the Giants and Cubs. It is a particularly tough assignment to get anywhere in the National league for the reason that any one of the second division clubs has the power to batter down any opposing club at an opportune or inopportune moment.

U. S. OPEN TOUGHER Tommy Armour quite naturally hopes to make it a sweep by winning the American open golf crown at Inverness in July, but the Black Scot also knows it will be a tougher field to lead than was the case in the British open at Carnoustie. "The pressure is so much greater in the American open," remarked Armour, on his return from abroad.

CAPTURED IN THRILL MURDER

Associated Press Photo After a six-year hunt in which he travelled 25,000 miles through North, Central and South America, Capt. Emil Morse (left) of the Nassau county, N. Y., police captured Phillip Knox Knapp, son of a prominent Syracuse, N. Y., family, charged with the slaying of a taxi driver near Mineola, N. Y., in 1925. Police announced Knapp had confessed.

that I think 320 would win over that Caronistic course if it was transplanted to this side for the event.

"On the other hand, there are only four or five golfers that you really have to worry about in the American open. Bob Jones, of course, was at the top of this list until he retired. Macdonald Smith and Gene Sarazen are always tough to beat and especially so this year.

"Players like Horton Smith, Johnny Farrell, Willy Cox and others must have the breaks to win the National open. They are capable of fine scoring but their games are not consistent. "Nevertheless any one of them is likely to go off at a fast pace and be tough to overhaul."

THAT IRISH BACKFIELD It may be just as well to serve some advance warning that the Notre Dame first-string backfield for the coming football campaign likely will be composed of Jack-wich at quarter, Koken and Shee-ketski at the halves, Lukats at full-back. If these boys are as hard on the opposition as their names are on the typewriters, the Irish and the Dutch and the Polish will be happy.
