

Eisenhower Asks Crusade Spirit; Set To Go West

By JACK BELL. NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower rallied his workers behind him today for the beginning tomorrow of a circuit-riding "peace" crusade through the politically-vital Midwest.

Mrs. Majors, Area Pioneer, Dies Saturday

Matriarch of one of West Texas' well-known pioneer families and mother of a Big Spring woman, Mrs. J. P. Majors died Saturday night in a Sweetwater hospital.

of a missionary taking the political gospel of peace and honesty in government to the people at wayside stops.

He will make 56 of these stops, besides major appearances in St. Paul, Minn., Des Moines, Ia., Omaha, Neb., Kansas City, Mo., St. Louis, Mo., Louisville, Ky., Cincinnati, Columbus and Cleveland, O., Wheeling, W. Va., Baltimore, Md., and Richmond, Va.

The GOP nominee told the volunteer workers he is only the symbol of a crusade aimed at restoring world peace and "honesty, integrity and decency" in government.

Instead of this, he said it ought to be "the man who will work for peace, who will work, who will pledge to you energy and devotion to that cause that could take me literally down to the bones of my fingers."

Eisenhower's excursion into the Midwest will be broken after his St. Paul appearance Tuesday to fly back to New York to address the American Federation of Labor Convention on Wednesday.

At that time his refreshed alliance with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio will be tested by what he says about the Taft-Hartley Act.

Taft has offered in the Senate some revisions to the act but has said that its main features should stand.

67 WIN GOLD BARS 94 New Jet Pilots Graduate At Webb

With words of advice from Lockheed's top engineering test pilot, 67 cadets were commissioned into the U.S. Air Force at Webb Air Force Base here Saturday.

In addition to members of class 52-F, there were 27 officers who qualified for jet pilot ratings.

Col. Ernest F. Wackwitz, Webb AFB commanding officer, presented every type of craft in existence today, challenged graduating cadets to be "the best in everything—be smart, be prepared, be confident."

Lockheed's chief test pilot, who flew here from the West Coast in a couple of hours Friday to be the guest speaker, told the class that "you're good—you're the best pilots in the world, and now you're members of the greatest team in the world."

All have a greasy feel and are printed on a single piece of paper, rather than on two pieces as are genuine certificates, the sheriff stated.

Probate Court Cases Are Noted

Applications for guardianship of an estate and certification of a will were filed in Probate Court Saturday.

Each troop was assigned a particular area, and tents were pitched in a circular manner around the central parade area. Contests were held in axe handling, signaling, tent pitching, first aid, camping and swimming.

Troop leaders were: Darrel Webb Jr., Troop 1; A. E. (Preach) True, Troop 2; Al Brown, Troop 3; Jesse Mendoza, Troop 4; V. Lincoln, Troop 5 of Coahoma; Cecil Nabors, Troop 6; C. F. Winget, Troop 7 of Forsan; and W. N. Cochran, Troop 8.

Snow said the Camporee was a success. "I'm looking forward to having these encampments in future years, and we might even hold them more often," he said.

Troop leaders all agreed that they and the boys received experience and benefits from the outing.

Troop Leader Brown, of Big Spring, summarized the feelings of all when he said, "I'm tired, but it sure was fun."

Snow's assistants at the Camporee were Arnold Seydler, Bill Sheppard and Wesley Deats. Bill Jones was district chairman; Jimmy Hale, scout executive; and George Melear, scorer.

Members of the health and safety committee were Sam McComb and J. T. Morgan. Staff members included O. H. Peters, Sherman Smith, Glen Pickett, L. Jack Drobner, D. M. McKinney, Hal McIntyre, Garland Morrison, J. A. Jolly, Dan Krause, Explorer Scout Henry Hicks and Bugler Art Dodd.

Winners of the contests—listed in order of first, second and third—are as follows:

Axe handling, Troops 1 and 11; signaling, Troops 1, 7 and 15; tent pitching, Troops 11, 7 and 15; first aid, Troop 2 (third place); swimming tenderfoot, Troops 8, 1 and 15; swimming second class, Troop 1, 15 and 5; swimming first class, Troop 1, 2 and 15; swimming for Explorer Scouts, Troops 1 (first and second) and 11; and camp inspection, Troop 11, 9 and 2.

Camps were inspected four times during the Camporee, once before each meal and before going home. Retreat services marked the close of the Camporee at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

The usual season for the "oil mill" is from September to May, with the mill operating 24 hours a day and employing about 80 employees. Now, says Don Gultar, manager of the mill, two clerks in the office and a small maintenance crew make up the force.

An ordinary bale has seven to eight hundred pounds of seed, and the mill uses about a hundred tons in a day. At that rate, seed from four bales—even if the mill got them all—would operate the mill for less than 30 minutes.

Gultar said Saturday he isn't sure that there will be enough seed to run on this fall. If so, this will be a long off season, since the mill has been shut down since February because of the short crop last year.

The local mill has about a five county trade territory, said Gultar, both in the purchase of seed and the sale of feed for stock. It turns out cottonseed meal, cake and oil, and linters and cottongseed hulls.

At least one Big Spring man may be taking seriously the possibility of atomic warfare.

He has taken out a building permit for the purpose of remodeling a "dugout."

The dugout, long ago a common type of abode in this section, will be converted into a residence, the permit discloses. Inside walls will have a concrete lining.

Answers Are Here

Any questions about policies and regulations at Big Spring High School? The answers are all here. Wilder A. Roe, director of guidance, explains to new members, Barbara McMurray, center, and Janice Nalley. Roe is showing them the new high school handbook issued to students last week.

FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Student Handbook Gives Regulations

Henceforth, the pupil who doesn't know about regulations and policies at Big Spring High School is apt to be one who hasn't read.

Under one cover—and for the first time—virtually all the questions a member of the student body can raise have been answered in a student handbook.

Distribution was made last week at the school, said Principal Roy D. Worley, who asked parents to inspect the 96-page booklet. He particularly urged parents to read the message to them (on page nine) which explains objectives; the necessity of regular and punctual attendance; homework and study; attitudes; and suggestions how parents can help.

The handbook, titled "The Black and Gold of Big Spring Senior High School," is in reality the product of more than a year's work. The faculty and student council had a hand in it and during the summer Worley and aides put the information in final form.

The booklet is pocket-sized, 8 1/2 inches, and is extensively indexed, both as to subject matter and alphabetically.

It contains, among other things, the pledge of allegiance to the flag, the "American Creed," the student's creed, the "Alma Mater," and is interspersed with Bible verses and other wise sayings.

Traditions and codes which go into school spirit and activities are discussed. In various sections the pupil may readily find out about policies on assembly, lockers, using the telephone, lost and found items, attendance, corridors, permission to leave school, and scores of other things.

All of these will be on interest to parents and will help interpret school administration to them, Worley suggested.

School holidays, traditional events, grading system and courses of study are all listed. Each course, together with the credit it offers, is explained briefly. Difference in general courses of study (pre-professional or academic and vocational) are explained.

Student council operation is detailed, together with the constitution and by-laws. Officers and class representatives are listed. Information is given on publications and other special items and activities. School officials are listed.

At the rear of the book is a space for the individual's record. The frontispiece contains a space for inscribing the owner's name.

The book is not a directory, Worley pointed out. This may be issued later. The handbook is something authorized by the administration, and the board of trustees in the hope that it would make for greater understanding and a more fruitful experience by high school pupils.

UN Diplomats Close Ranks As Liquor 'Bootlegging' Charged

By MAX MARRELLSON

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—U. N. diplomats, accustomed to hurling assorted brickbats at each other, were started this week by a charge that large quantities of their tax-free liquor were being bootlegged to non-members of the international cocktail set.

The charge came from officials at a liquor dealers' convention in New York and was promptly denied by the diplomats. It served, however, to focus attention on two facets of diplomacy which have never been too popular with the man-in-the-street: privileges and entertainment.

One of the privileges granted diplomats everywhere is the right to import without taxation all the wines and liquors they need for entertainment purposes. It was in connection with the exercise of this privilege by U. N. delegates and top-ranking members of the U. N. Secretariat that the bootlegging charges arose.

The liquor dealers asserted the diplomats and U. N. officials could not possibly have used all the liquor they had bought — at least without being sources in some way. The diplomats retorted they didn't drink it all themselves, that most of it was consumed by the many guests they entertained.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie commented:

"The United Nations has tax-free wines and liquors only for official receptions, luncheons, dinners, cocktail parties and other official entertainment given by the organization itself or by authorized officials as part of their duties on behalf of the organization."

"Out of more than 3,000 United Nations employees at headquarters, only 45 top-ranking officials may draw tax-free liquor for these purposes from the United Nations stock. Full taxes are paid on all alcoholic beverages sold by the bars in the Security Council and General Assembly lounges and the press bar. The whole system is carefully administered and I do not think it has been abused."

The 67 U. N. delegations get their liquor independently. Like the embassies in Washington, members with diplomatic privileges may buy tax-free wines and liquors once they are certified by the State Department to do so.

They do not get their liquor through the United Nations, but from bonded warehouses of the New York State Liquor Authority.

The volume of such purchases varies from month to month, but figures for two recent months are typical. In July, 406 cases were issued to the U. N. and 28 delegations. In August, 304 cases went to the U. N. and 25 delegations. These figures included both wines and liquors. A case holds two to three gallons, depending on bottle sizes.

There are no statistics available as to the entertaining done by individual delegations receiving this liquor, but some idea can be obtained from the amount spent by the U. S. delegation. A spokesman estimated that the average entertainment expense of the U. S. delegation for a year was about $15,000, not including any entertainment done by the delegation to the general assembly. This amount covers luncheons and dinners as well as liquor costs. Incidentally, the U. S. delegation, being on its home grounds, does not get tax free liquor.

The U. N. budget for 1953 sets aside $102,000 for entertainment by individual officials and $20,000 more for the organization itself.

On the basis of these figures, the tax exemption on liquor runs into a substantial sum. The tax savings on wines vary, but on liquor the delegates and U. N. officials save federal and state levies totaling $9 to $12 a gallon, depending on potency.

These are the only tax exemptions granted to U. N. diplomats. U. S. officials say this country comes out ahead in the long run because the United States has more diplomats abroad than all these countries combined. Under reciprocal treatment, they are allowed to buy their entertainment liquors tax free. This, of course, is just as it is the taxpayer who loses through the tax exemptions granted foreign diplomats in the country.

Senatorial Candidates Bucking Trend For Washington Change

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — If it's true that the voters are demanding new faces in Washington, most members of the Senate who are up for re-election have successfully bucked that trend—so far at least.

Of 31 senators seeking another term, only two have failed to win re-nomination in the primary elections—Kenneth D. McKellar of Tennessee, dean of the Senate, and Owen Brewster of Maine.

For some of the 29 successful candidates, of course, there may be a different outcome in November.

Most political observers agree that primaries do not always indicate the voting trends in an election year. For one thing, the man in office normally has a bigger advantage in a primary election than he does when he's bucking a candidate from another party.

Most politicians also concede privately that odds favor Democrats to retain their Senate majority unless there is a great Republican sweep in November.

Democrats now hold 49 of the 96 Senate seats to 47 for Republicans. Of the 35 at stake this year, Republicans now hold 21 and Democrats 14.

That means Republicans must capture at least 23 of the 35 contests to obtain minimum control and organize the Senate through a majority leader and committee chairmen. Another way of figuring it is the GOP needs a net gain of only two seats compared with its present strength.

Because many of the Senate contests are in the normally Democratic South or in border states that barely went Republican six years ago, the Republicans face an uphill battle.

If Dwight D. Eisenhower, the GOP presidential candidate, can pull a large number of votes to the Republican column in states now classed as politically doubtful, this might give his party control of both the Senate and House.

Senate nominations by Democrats and Republicans now are decided in all states except Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

And some candidates already are certain of serving in the Senate when Congress assembles in January.

Gov. Frederick G. Payne of Maine, who defeated Brewster in the primary, won his election Sept. 8.

Sen. William F. Knowland, a Republican, also won the Democratic nomination in California.

Price Daniel, the Democratic nominee, also has the Republican nomination in Texas.

Two Democratic senators, Harry F. Byrd of Virginia and John C. Stennis of Mississippi, are unopposed in the final election.

Several other Senate nominees have only token opposition in November because their states have top-heavy Democratic or Republican majorities.

Industrial Efficiency Gains Noted By Labor Department

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — Marked gains in the efficiency of American industry are being recorded by the Labor Department.

Figures turned up by the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics show that the improvement has boosted general productivity levels to their highest point in the nation's history.

The figures are not published yet, but the general findings were revealed a few days ago by the bureau's commissioner, Ewan Clague, in an address to a Chicago engineering conference. Clague said:

"The gains were traceable in large part to two basic influences: the unusually heavy postwar capital investment for new and improved plant and equipment, and the high volume of production prevailing in most manufacturing and high level of activity in many of the public utility and mining industries, especially in the year 1950."

In other words, industry toiled up for considerably greater output after World War II and the utilization of those machines and techniques began hitting a high point of efficiency in 1950, spurred by heavy demand for their output.

The bureau keeps track of productivity trends year by year, and the figures for recent years, just compiled, are what show the big new gains.

From 1949 to 1950 reductions in man-hours per unit of production were reported in all 52 of the manufacturing industries for which the bureau keeps data, and for five out of seven non-manufacturing industries.

TO SECURE BALLOTS

'Postcard Day' For Serviceman Monday

By RAY HENRY
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — Monday every serviceman in the U. S. will be handed a small buff card which will offer him the opportunity to vote on whether he wants a general for president.

It's a printed postcard form on which he can ask for an absentee ballot to vote in his home state in the Nov. 4 general election starring Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Federal law says each serviceman must be handed the card personally. The armed forces chose Monday as "postcard day" for men in the U. S. For men overseas it was Aug. 15.

Of the present 3 1/2 million servicemen, more than 2 1/2 million are eligible to vote Nov. 4.

The Defense Department has been working hard since last November to turn out the maximum service vote. It has been following Congress' orders to give every man — overseas or in the U. S. — information on how he can vote.

Whether a serviceman does vote depends to a degree on his home state's absentee voting laws. Each state controls its own voting procedure.

Although President Truman pleaded earlier this year with Congress and the states to make absentee voting laws uniform, little was done. They're still a never-never land and in many cases completely bar service voting.

Two states — New Mexico and South Carolina — permit no absentee balloting. No serviceman can vote unless he's home on leave.

Four states — Alabama, Delaware, Florida, Louisiana — don't allow absentee voting if the man hasn't registered in person to vote. This stops many thousands of servicemen.

Ten states allow a man to register to vote as an absentee but require a special registration form. Many servicemen have found the red tape too heavy.

In the remaining states servicemen have a fairly good chance of having their votes counted.

American-Led Worshippers To Defy Italian Police Ban

By STAN SWINTON
ROME, Sept. 13 (AP) — A determined handful of American-led Church of Christ worshippers announced tonight they will hold regular services here tomorrow in open defiance of an Italian police ban.

Cline R. Paden of Brownfield, Tex., who heads the church in Rome, said the ban was part of a "completely unexpected" nationwide crackdown against the small Protestant group under laws of the Fascist era.

The Alexandria church was closed "by force" last Sunday, the Rome church was ordered to close, a third church was given one month to shutter and the other 19 Church of Christ congregations are probably to be closed, Paden declared.

In Alexandria's police headquarters, Dr. Michele Lomazzo said police had prevented "an unauthorized gathering for religious practices" by the Church of Christ last Sunday. He denied the use of force.

One of Paden's fellow missionaries, Carl Mitchell of Los Angeles, Calif., said the Alexandria police forcefully prevented 25 members of the congregation from entering the church, tore down the church sign and roughly handled four Church of Christ representatives in an effort to make them stop singing hymns.

Official action appeared to be limited to the Church of Christ. Other Protestant denominations, including the Baptists and Methodists, have operated in Italy for years without official action against them.

An informed Italian source said friction with the Church of Christ arose over missionary activities and efforts at conversion in this predominantly Roman Catholic nation.

The U. S. Embassy said the Church of Christ representatives have been instructed to present a full report and "we will see what we can do."

Insects To Be Sprayed Monday In Forsan Area

FORSAN — The Forsan Service Club has arranged to use the town fire truck Monday afternoon to spray for insects, mosquitoes, ants and flies.

Plans were discussed with Lige Fox, director of the Big Spring-Howard County Unit, in a meeting Thursday. Fox estimated that each house would take about five gallons of spray, and resident donations will be about $1 per house.

Fox told members of the club that the on-spraying would last for the complete season. While in Forsan, he presented the school cafeteria with a health certificate.

Hamlin Elrod resided at the club meeting, and all work plans were outlined. A nominating committee was appointed and consisted of Joe T. Holladay, Carlton King, and Jeff English.

The committee selected to look into a future community swimming pool was made up of Dan Furse, C. J. Lamb, Frank Thime and George F. Pickett.

Guests at the meeting were Wayne Monroey, Dick Woodard and Jim Anderson. A total of 28 attended.

Thieves Miss Out In School Entry

Thieves probably were disappointed Friday night in results of their raid on the junior high school building.

Nothing was missing from the building or from an open safe in the junior high office, Pat Murphy, school business manager, reported. The door of the safe was left ajar purposely, since no money or other valuable is kept in the strongbox at night. The safe is for "day-time use only."

Entry to the building was gained by removal of a glass pane from a door.

The U. S. Embassy said the Church of Christ representatives have been instructed to present a full report and "we will see what we can do."

No Damage From Fire

Two minor fires Friday afternoon resulted in no damage, city firemen reported. A roast, too long in a stove, resulted in one alarm. A quantity of gasoline which became ignited when an automobile carburetor was being cleaned caused the other.

closed "by force" last Sunday, the Rome church was ordered to close, a third church was given one month to shutter and the other 19 Church of Christ congregations are probably to be closed, Paden declared.

In Alexandria's police headquarters, Dr. Michele Lomazzo said police had prevented "an unauthorized gathering for religious practices" by the Church of Christ last Sunday. He denied the use of force.

One of Paden's fellow missionaries, Carl Mitchell of Los Angeles, Calif., said the Alexandria police forcefully prevented 25 members of the congregation from entering the church, tore down the church sign and roughly handled four Church of Christ representatives in an effort to make them stop singing hymns.

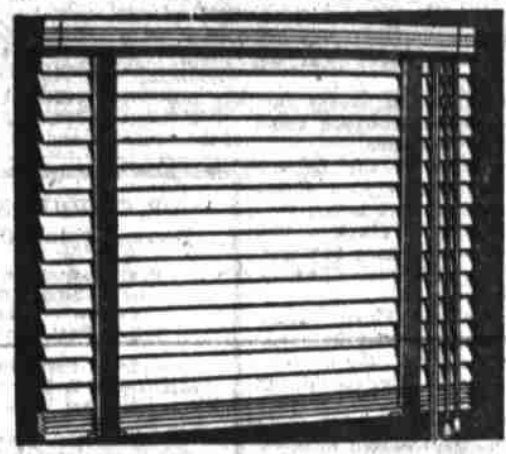

Official action appeared to be limited to the Church of Christ. Other Protestant denominations, including the Baptists and Methodists, have operated in Italy for years without official action against them.

An informed Italian source said friction with the Church of Christ arose over missionary activities and efforts at conversion in this predominantly Roman Catholic nation.

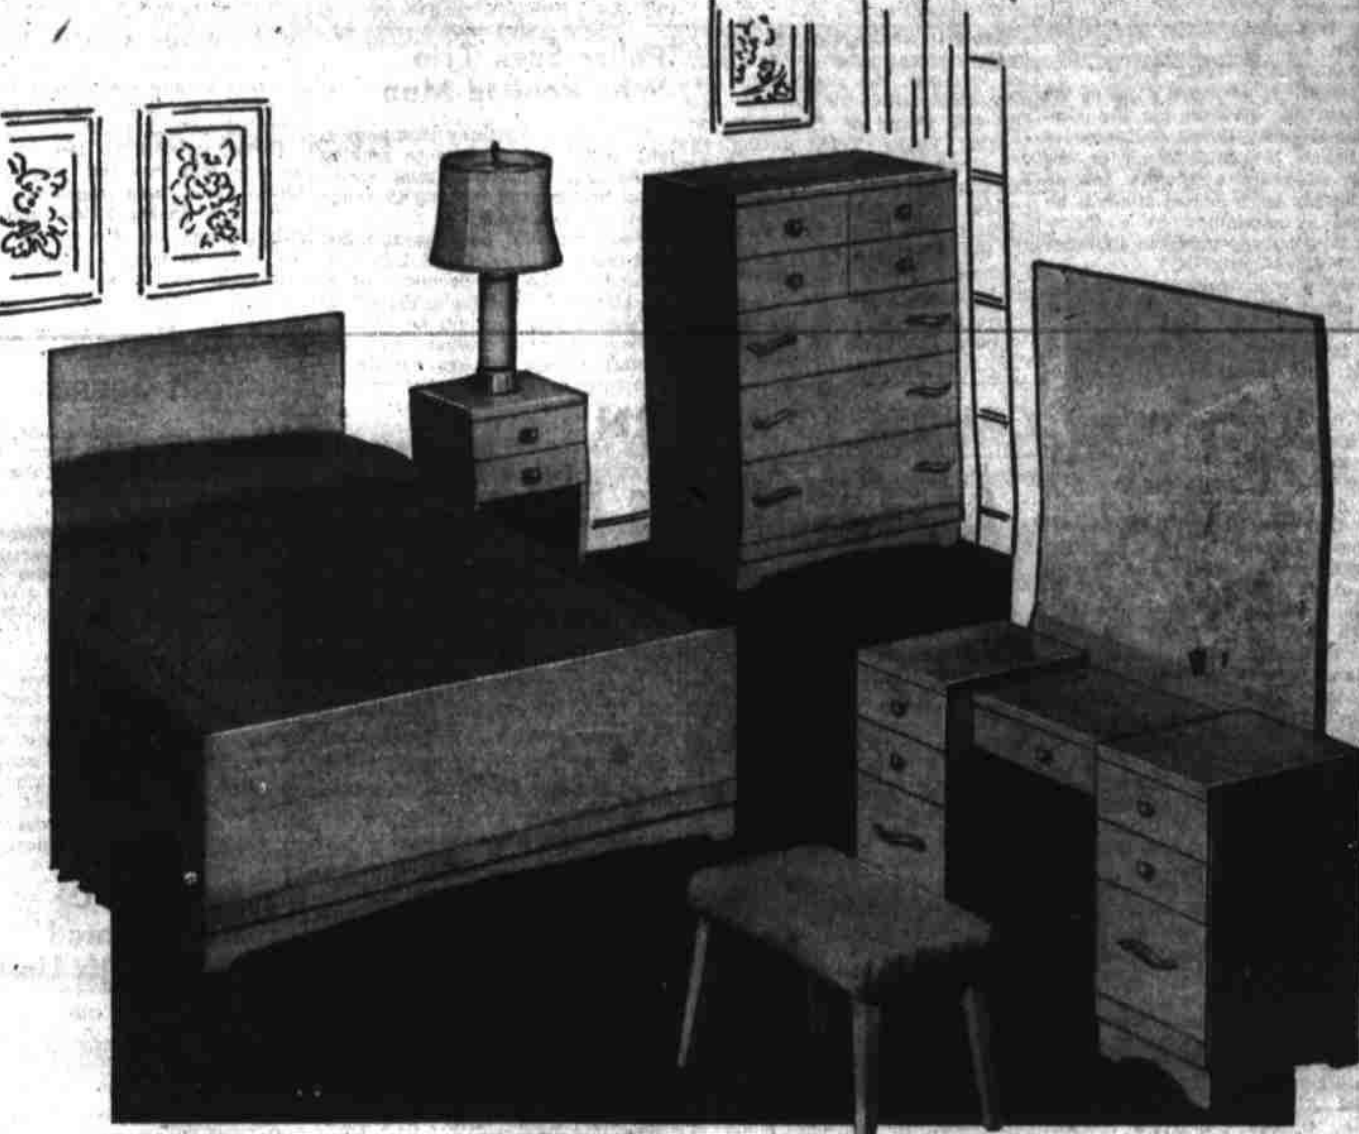

The U. S. Embassy said the Church of Christ representatives have been instructed to present a full report and "we will see what we can do."

Lewis Is Seen Asking Boosts In Mine Funds

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—John L. Lewis was reported today to be shooting for new welfare fund royalty boosts in both the soft coal and hard coal industries.

It has been known for some time that Lewis was concentrating on a 20-cent increase in the hard coal or anthracite industry royalty, but it was believed he might forego an increase in the soft coal royalty.

Storm Before The Calm

Elmo Wasson (right) and George Oldham are wearing their coveralls these days, while they wade through construction hurdles at Elmo's men's store in the Petroleum Building.

Ex-Resident Has Top Engineering Position

A former Big Spring man who has made good in the engineering world and is now supervising some $50,000,000 of military construction has been featured in the "Engineer Personalities" column of the Galveston News.

He is Charles E. McQuain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. (Doc) McQuain, 1104 1/2 11th Place.

McQuain is assistant chief of the construction division for the Galveston District, Corps of Engineers.

He began his engineering career about 16 years ago when, as a Big Spring High School student, he served as chairman in a three-man land survey party in the rugged Davis Mountains.

Military construction work he and other officials of the Galveston District are supervising today is located throughout South Texas and Southwest Louisiana.

He furnishes technical information and assistance in connection with negotiation and drafting of construction contracts for the district, as well as consults and advises the engineering division on construction features of the various projects.

Two Persons Hurt In Highway Mishap

Two Lamesas were injured about two miles south of Big Spring early Saturday when the car and pickup in which they were traveling overturned.

Pedro Medrano suffered a fracture of the left arm and Maria Morales received a collar bone fracture in the mishap.

The accident occurred about 2:30 a.m. Saturday on Highway 87. One of the vehicles was towing the other when both went out of control and overturned, it was reported.

Local Druggists To Attend Midland Fete

Three Big Spring druggists will attend the formal opening of the Southwestern Drug Corporation's new Midland division Wednesday.

Shine Phillips, W. B. Sullivan and Joe Hedeston, representing local retail drug outlets, plan to attend the event.

Anybody Seen 'Em?

BONHAM, Sept. 13 (AP)—A T. Newell of Ector is having trouble these days. He is running the following classified in the Bonham Daily Favorite:

Drunkennes Cases Tops During Week

Drunkennes accounted for about 70 per cent of the cases tried in Corporation Court during the past week.

Of 45 cases handled, 31 involved intoxication. Fines assessed for drunkennes totaled $449 and two persons forfeited deposits amounting to $30 on failure to answer intoxication charges.

Fourteen other fines, levied as a result of disturbance, vagrancy, speeding, driving without license, prohibited left turn and disregard of stop sign, totalled $330.

Three were fined a total of $160 as a result of speeding, one person paid a $3 fine for prohibited left turn, one was fined $25 for running a school zone stop sign, and seven were fined a total of $131 for driving without license.

A $1 fine was assessed for valet parking and a $10 levy resulted from a disturbance charge.

Heaviest fine of the week was $75, an amount levied against a 17-year-old motorist on each of two tickets issued for speeding in a school zone.

A case involving assault was transferred from Corporation to County Court. Jury trial is set for Monday for a defendant who pleaded not guilty to disturbance charges, and hearing on a case involving reckless driving is to be held at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Hubcaps Are Stolen

Theft of a pair of hubcaps from a car on the Newsum Used Car Lot was reported to police Saturday. The theft occurred Friday night.

No Tail Count Made, But Many Pooches Are Missing Licenses

A heck of a lot of 'em are operating without licenses. A goodly number wind up by the wayside, too.

They seem to be a prolific lot, though these Big Spring dogs, despite all the pitfalls in a dog's life, the city's canine population is holding its own.

Nobody knows how many Big Spring dogs there are, but tail counts not being made here on any kind of a basis. The number doesn't seem to change much, one way or the other, although waves of poisoning, the dog catcher, and an occasional case of rabies combine to exact a considerable toll among the cat chasers.

Await Break In Floyd Case

Monday a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus for Alaniz, law partner of Dist. Atty. Elect Raeburn Norris, over the bitter objections of Charlie Lyman, Alaniz's attorney.

Floyd was an adviser to Raeburn in the judge's unsuccessful campaign for re-election against a candidate supported by Sheriff George Part of Duval County, long a South Texas political power.

The attorney said his son was shot Monday night when the youth decided to follow him after Floyd received a telephone call from Alaniz making the rendezvous.

Floyd said he had been warned not to go near his garage but to take a taxicab to a drive-in cafe where the men met.

Young Floyd was shot as he went to the garage to get his car. The University of Texas student, 22, died Tuesday.

Rumors were as free as the dust that whipped over the streets of this city of 20,000 persons. Many in-the-street opinion was that neither Alaniz nor Sapet was the trigger man.

Texas Rangers and Sheriff Halsey Wright were tight-lipped about the hunt for Cervantes.

Worth Seaman of the Department of Public Safety, a finger print expert, flew here today. Presumably he was to check a 1953 Packard sedan belonging to Sapet.

It was recovered in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, Thursday.

Neighbors of the Floyds identified the car as one they had seen in the vicinity during the daytime Monday but said they could not be sure it was the same car they saw Monday night.

Alaniz's attorney refused to allow Alaniz to make a statement to reporters.

Louis W. Schlesinger, San Antonio, attorney for Sapet, has said his man was a bus bound from Corpus Christi to San Antonio at the time young Floyd was shot.

Eleven Types Of Infections Noted By The Health Unit

The incidence of communicable diseases sharpened in Howard County during the past week with diagnosis of 74 cases of 11 different infections.

Topping the list was gastroenteritis with 18 cases. Sixteen cases of tonsillitis were diagnosed and county physicians reported 15 cases of diphtheria.

There were 12 cases of influenza, five of gonorrhoea, three of virus infection and one each of pneumonia, food poisoning, hepatitis, syphilis and tuberculosis.

Cars In Collision

Leonard H. Manley, 502 Austin, and Robert Lee Labise, Dallas, were drivers of cars involved in a collision at Eighth and Runnels about 11:40 a.m. Saturday, police reported. Fronts of the cars were damaged.

Vincent Man Reports Theft Of 1949 Auto

Theft of a 1949 Mercury was reported Friday night by J. W. Houston of Vincent.

Houston told city police his car was taken from 408 Runnels sometime between 5:30 and 10:30 p.m. Friday. No trace of the vehicle had been found Saturday afternoon, officers said.

THE GRUB LINE

Bill Sauer, who supervises the loans made through the Big Spring office of the Farmers Home Administration over a six-county area, says that application for these loans has been unusually large for this time of the year.

He also reports that a number of farmers seeking these loans to finance their 1953 crops are also including provision for planting cover crops on the land this fall.

There is no PMA assistance available for planting cover crops in Howard County although there is a possibility that other counties may have PMA funds that can be diverted to this purpose. But the farmer who is depending on an FHA loan to finance his 1953 crop can get this assistance through the FHA, and it is encouraging to know that some are making use of it.

Those anticipating need for FHA loans later should make application for them now so they can be approved and the money allocated so it will immediately be available when needed. In other words if you are going to need an FHA loan you probably know it now. Don't wait for the rush which is bound to come because of the drought.

This is not a plea of self defense or personal explanation but just a simple statement of plain cow country fact:

Leaving boots, hat and belt out of it, the man who can't get dressed on seven of Truman's fifty-cent dollars is a dude.

Uncle Bob Mimi, one of the real old-timers in West Texas and a man who roped steers in competition with Clay McGonigal hadn't gotten any rain on his Water Valley Ranch at last reports, but he says: "It's never too late in West Texas."

If he doesn't get a rain by Monday morning it will mean that in the last two years he has only received five inches of rain all together. Uncle Bob estimates he has lost about 50 per cent of his grass, but he says it never rains too late in this country to make some kind of grass.

In the fall of 1913 his range was as bare as it is now, he remembers, but it started raining October 3 and there were good rains all winter. The next spring cattle and sheep were in as good a condition as they ever had been before.

And this offers some hope—Uncle Bob recalls that the 1918 drought was broken in October, too, and cattle were good and fat when spring rolled around.

An early-day West Texas pioneer (likely a wife) is reported to have commented that this is a good country for men and dogs but one that is hell on horses and women.

Cloud seeders should have been included in the latter classification.

In the West Texas Weather Improvement District area of 12 counties during July there were but three good cloud-seeding opportunities. There were six days when such operations were given a fair chance, and 13 days were described as marginal.

Silver iodide generators at 17 points were in operation at some time or other during the month for an aggregate total of 658 hours.

On 22 days during the month one or more of these generators was in operation and believe it or not but on these same 22 days during the month rain fell somewhere in the 12-county area.

The Garden City High School's Future Ranchers of America chapter elected a new set of officers when called into session this week by retiring President Wilburn Bednar.

The new officers are Bryant Harris, president; Maurice Overton, vice president; Truett Newell, reporter; Don Fryor, treasurer; Wilburn Bednar, secretary; Alton Cope, parliamentarian; Bob Frizzell, historian; Tommy Rich, sentinel; R. J. McCartney, 2nd vice president; John J. Phillips, 3rd vice president and Darrell White song leader.

The meeting complimented the retiring officers for the wonderful work they did during the 1951-52 school year. Those retiring officers are, in addition to Bednar: Don Fryor, vice president; Troy Cline, reporter; J. C. Newell, treasurer; Bryant Harris, secretary; Bob Frizzell, parliamentarian; Bill Robinson, historian; Maurice Overton, sentinel; John J. Phillips, 2nd vice president; Lewis Newell, 3rd vice president and R. J. McCartney, song leader. M. A. Barber is the Garden City vocational agriculture teacher and advisor to the Future Ranchers chapter.

Fred Keating, manager of the Experiment Station Farm, says he is debating what to use as a cover crop on the farm this fall. Because of the drought the farm's 1952 production record can be written with one big zero, and the zero doesn't have to be so very big, either.

He says so far as he now knows there isn't any plan for the experimental feeding of another batch of steers here next year inasmuch as no crops were grown on the farm.

If the Department of Agriculture and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service want to experiment with a drought we can't recommend a better spot than the Experiment Farm on the edge of Big Spring. After the coming winds stop blowing we may not be able to raise even dust out there.

Keating has promised to drive up to the Herald office and look at the batch of Buffalgrass we have growing in a flower bed from about a dozen seed. Already we have harvested enough seed from the batch to plant an acre or more and the grass is still producing. Some of this grass was dusted in on the Experiment Farm but didn't get enough moisture to fully sprout it. However, it will probably come out on next spring's rains.

Keating is interested in the root system of this grass and since he doesn't have any of his own to dig into we've invited him to dig into our patch, just as deep as he can go if the roots go that far, and they probably do.

We will be glad to have others who may be interested in this grass to come up and look it over. It's right out in front of the office. If you find any seed ripe, take them home with you.

There is a need for construction laborers, Leon M. Kinney, manager of the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission, said yesterday.

A number of these, he said, can be placed on jobs immediately.

Kinney said his office records show 352 persons called at the office during the week and that 12 of these were new applicants for employment. He said 49 persons were referred to non-agricultural jobs during the week and that 35 of these were placed in employment.

Twenty claims for unemployment compensation were filed during the week, he said.

"The situation around here now is nothing like it was at this time last year," Kinney commented while recalling the hundreds of farmers and farm laborers who were crowding his office early last September. "I can certainly see the difference this drought has made. There just hardly isn't any way to compare the situation now with what it has been about this time of year in the past."

Chamber Directors Meeting Postponed

Although Monday is the scheduled meeting date for Chamber of Commerce directors, the group will not meet again until Sept. 22, J. H. Greene, chamber manager, reminded Saturday. Reason for the postponement is that directors delayed it a week their first regular meeting this month due to a conflict with the Labor Day holiday.

To maintain the two-week spacing of sessions, the week's postponement also is being applied to the second meeting.

Culberson Questions Wider Space Legality In Spraberry

AUSTIN, Sept. 13—A member of the railroad commission has raised the question of whether the commission can establish spacing rules solely on an economic basis. Chairman Olin Culberson injected this legal angle as the hearing on spacing rules and a prorating formula for the Spraberry trend was recessed Friday until Tuesday.

He "faced" with a thing that urges the complete discarding of everything it heretofore has done in the regulation of oil. Courts have repeatedly held the commission is restricted to the field of preventing physical waste and cannot consider economic. "If the commission is to depart from the theory of preventing waste," said the chairman, "I want to be dead sure we have the law to do so." He asked that briefs be filed.

Culberson said he was puzzled as why operators in fields where there was good permeability in desired 40-acre spacing and in this case, where there was poor permeability, they wanted 80-acre spacing. Lincoln Elkins, Sohio Petroleum Company engineer, was on the stand most of the day. He sought to establish that there was effective communication between wells on 80-acre and even wider spacing. He estimated the net oil in place in both the matrix rock and fractures at 6,300 barrels per acre in the upper Spraberry and 5,900 in the lower Spraberry. Only seven per cent of the oil is recoverable, he said. W. P. Z. German Jr., Midland, attorney for a number of applicants, directed efforts to show that the Spraberry trend area in part of Glasscock, Midland, Reagan and Upton counties was a continuous producing Spraberry sand. He also presented witnesses who proposed the 80-acre spacing in the area.

Man-Made Islands May Help Increase Off-Shore Recovery

By JACK QUIGG
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13 (AP)—An oil company is risking more than a million dollars on a new wildcatting technique designed to tap vast petroleum pools under the sea. Monterey Oil Company plans to drill from a man-made island in the ocean off its type on the Pacific Coast.

The site is supplied by barge. Should the proposed wells prove productive, plans call for construction of a pipeline to shore. The island is on a 1,255-acre state tidelands lease held jointly by Monterey and the Texas Company, with Monterey as the operator. Monterey, one of the larger independents, is successor to the Jergins Oil Company, and operates in Texas and Oklahoma as well as in California.

There is never a "sure thing" in the oil drilling business, but the Monterey people discuss their project with a confidence indicating they don't consider it a great gamble. The firm has been working on the idea of island drilling since 1944. It applied for a drilling permit in 1947, but got the go-ahead from federal and state agencies only this year. The delay, the company says, was due to the dispute between the federal government and the states over tidelands oil.

New Wildcat Is Scheduled In Glasscock

While one wildcat recovered only gas-cut mud in a test of the Wichita-Albany, another location was projected to that zone in southeastern Glasscock County on Saturday.

WEEK'S REVIEW

Runnels Strikes Pace Area Play, Activities Pick Up

By JOHN B. BREWER
SAN ANGELO, Tex., Sept. 13—Like the weather in West Texas, oil activity of the past week picked up in the area.

Only two strikes completed, a Gardner Sand gas discovery in Runnels and a small Serratt Sand strike in the same county. Several indicated discoveries were uncovered, a Waddell prospect in the Penwell field of Ector, a Wolfcamp find in the same county, and a Devonian discovery in Upton.

Texas Newspaper Group Sets Meet

AUSTIN, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Texas Daily Newspaper Association will hold its second seminar at the University of Texas Oct. 6-8. The seminar will be on women's pages in the newspapers. Twenty-seven newspapers will participate.

Superior No. 1 B-11 University, indicated three-quarter mile southwest extension to production in the Block 11 (Devonian) field in Andrews, recovered 5,600 feet of fluid, of which 3,130 feet was pipeline oil, on a 90-minute drillstem test between 8,294-309 feet in the Devonian. Recovery was 300 feet of heavy oil and gas-cut mud, 5,130 feet of oil and 170 feet of oil and gas-cut mud.

On an earlier 12-hour test from 8,550-64 feet in the Wolfcamp, the well flowed at the rate of 1,000 barrels of oil daily and from perforations between 8,730-44 feet, it flowed 260 barrels daily. Operator plans to complete from all three sets of perforations.

Producer Added To Vealmoor Pool, Outpost Continues Test

A completion was filed for a Vealmoor pool well at the end of the week and a northeast exploration was plugged to highlight Howard County developments. Meanwhile, Cosden prepared to make a more extensive test of the possibilities in the San Andres (or San Angelo) at a shallow level.

Three-quarters of a mile to the northeast Standard of Texas No. 1 Jones had become the second producer in that area, rating a calculated 243 barrels of oil per day from open hole 2,705-2,911. Cranes Oil of Texas and Newman Bros. Drilling No. 1 Mrs. Hattie Clanton, C NE SE 35-33-30, T&P, bidding as a mile and a half east extension to the Vealmoor pool, continued to test. Bottomed at 7,903 in line, it flowed 16 barrels of oil in 16 hours through half-inch choke and died. It then swabbed four barrels in three hours.

Driver Spraberry Records Two Completions, Location

Two completions and a location were reported in the Driver Spraberry area of southwestern Glasscock on Saturday. Atlantic Refining No. 2-36 Driver, 1,980 from the south and 660 from the north and 600 from the east lines section 36-37-44, T&P, flowed 24 hours through 24-64 choke after 2,500 gallons acid. It made 3 of a per cent water and 441.52 barrels of 39.1 gravity oil. Tubing pressure was 330-380, gas-oil ratio 338-1, elevation 7,213; top pay 6,582, total depth 6,801, the 7-in. 7,090; perforated 6,897-6,923.

New Wells In Slight Gain

AUSTIN, Sept. 13 (AP)—Oil well completions remained at a low level this week, the Texas Railroad Commission reporting 160. This was a slight increase over last week's 127 and left the year's total at 7,840 compared with 7,887 a year ago.

Moncrief Stakes Dawson Explorer

W. A. Moncrief of Fort Worth staked his No. 1-88 Scanlan as a northwest Dawson County wildcat Saturday. It will be 1,960 from the south and 660 from the west lines of section 88-M. ELARR, 13 miles northwest of Lamona. This puts it just east of the Gaines County line and approximately six miles north and slightly west of the Mungerville-Pennsylvanian field. It also is a mile and a half south of nearest production in the Welch (San Andres) pool.

Dawson Test Now Reaming

Lawton Oil Corp. No. 1-A G. W. Martin, C SE SE 41-34-4n, T&P, southeast Dawson County prospect, was reaming after a series of drillstem tests. It was at 7,225 in lime and shale. A drillstem test was taken from 6,974-7,065 with the tool open 90 minutes. Recovery was 240 feet of mud. Another test was taken from 7,089-7,185 with the tool open 2 1/2 hours. Recovery was 180 feet of mud with a slight show of oil and an additional 180 feet of salt water.

Blood Donors Will Get Grid Ducats

DALLAS, Sept. 13 (AP)—When the Dallas Texans open the National Football League season here Sept. 28 against the New York Giants they'll be playing for wounded American soldiers in Korea. The Dallas professional team will give one reserved seat ticket to the game to each person donating blood to the Red Cross.

Hammonds Drilling

George S. Hammonds No. 1 William Cebulski, C NW NW 1-32-5n, ELARR, a northwest Borden exploration, drilled at 3,085 in anhydrite Saturday. This prospect is 14 miles northwest of Gall and is six miles northwest of the one-well North-Gall field.

DeVaney Presides At Farm Bureau Meet

C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma, vice president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, presided at a sub-district meeting attending by about 125 members at the Settles Hotel Friday.

This was one of 24 such meetings being held throughout the state, according to J. Walter Hammond of Tye, state president. The meetings have been called to discuss the four points of (1) state and national issues pertaining to agriculture, (2) to obtain expressions of opinion from local leaders on agricultural problems and issues, (3) how to raise money to finance the state government, and (4) the drive for enrolling 75,000 members this year.

DeVaney pointed out the importance of county leaders meeting with state officers and staff members to discuss current policies and issues vital to farm and ranch people.

Others on the program were Martin Carter, the group's organization director; O. R. Long, field representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and R. T. Bourland, director of the state federation's hospitalization insurance program.

Long discussed the organization's program of work this year and the responsibilities of local leaders. Carter presented the membership enrollment plan which has been developed by the state organization and recommended to the counties for use in their annual membership enrollment drive scheduled for the week of October 10-17.

Little Interest Is Noted In Highway 80 Convention

Big Spring businessmen are taking little interest in one program aimed at increasing the city's third-largest source of business.

None have indicated intention to attend the National Highway 80 Association's annual meeting in El Paso later this month. J. H. Greene, local Chamber of Commerce manager, said Saturday. The annual meeting of the organization is set for Sept. 26-28 in El Paso. The session will be for the purpose of planning a program to encourage improvement of the transcontinental highway as well as stimulate tourist traffic on the route.

The association has about 40 members in Big Spring. Greene has been a leader in past work of the organization. Tourist business is the third largest in this area, he said.

Local Resident's Father Succumbs

Funeral services will be conducted in Chandler, Okla., this afternoon for Robert Elles, father of Mrs. Dan Feather of Big Spring. He died about noon Friday as a result of leukemia. Mr. and Mrs. Feather left Big Spring Thursday night to be at the bedside of her father.

Mrs. Feather is a teacher in the Big Spring West Ward School.

Negro Woman Out On $500 Bond For Assault Charges

Roxie Lewis, Negro, posted $500 bond Saturday for release on charges of aggravated assault on Jessie Houston, another Negro.

Mrs. Houston is in the Big Spring Hospital for treatment of stab wounds in the chest, stomach and back. A doctor reported that she is now under observation for internal injuries.

Policeman C. C. Aaron picked up Mrs. Lewis Saturday at 10:15 a.m. at 803 Cherry Street. County Attorney Hartman Hooser filed charges about noon.

Hooser stated that the scuffle started when Mrs. Houston found her daughter with an ice pick and Mrs. Lewis with a knife. Mrs. Houston stated that Mrs. Lewis cut her with the knife.

Hooser said there were two witnesses to the affray, which took place in a private home.

Rural Phone Contract Signed

George M. Hawk, Lubbock, left, and W. B. Berry, Big Spring, president of SCVAK Telephone Company, signed contracts in Lubbock Friday for engineering. Hawk will prepare the final plant design. Looking on and standing at left is Clyde E. Thomas, Big Spring attorney who has handled negotiations between SCVAK and the Rural Electrification Administration, and Rep. George Mahon. Rep. Mahon had assisted Berry in expediting a $467,000 loan through REA for the project. This picture was made by John Berry.

Rural Phone Group To Sign Subscribers

Actual signing by subscribers for rural telephone service will be started this week by the SCVAK Telephone Company.

Engineering contract was closed Friday at Lubbock, said W. D. Berry, president. Now patrons will be signed so that the final plant design can be effected.

Meanwhile, control materials for the project have been booked for the fourth quarter, and Berry was hopeful that work could be started soon.

SCVAK—which draws its name from service to Sparenberg, Sand Springs, Chalk, Coahoma, Vincent, Vealmoor, Ackerly and Knott—has had its loan of $467,000 approved by the REA telephone division. The gross project cost is estimated at $538,000. Engineering contract with George M. Hawk, Lubbock, has been closed for approx-mately $40,000, according to Berry. Although the project has been engineered for feasibility, it now must be put on paper for final plant design. The actual number of subscribers will have a bearing on this design. The existing systems in Ackerly and Knott and at Coahoma have 298 subscribers. Preliminary surveys indicated another 850 would be served.

Initial work will start at Coahoma, with its auxiliary exchanges at Vincent and Chalk, said Berry. Other exchanges will be at Sand Springs, Knott, Ackerly, Vealmoor and Sparenberg. The Sand Springs unit will toll out of Big Spring, as will the Knott-Ackerly-Vealmoor unit and the Coahoma section. Sparenberg will have its tolls out of Lamesa although it will clear for

Father Of Girl Killed In Mishap Seeks Damages

Librado Flores, father of the year-old Adela Flores who was run over and killed Tuesday by an automobile while crossing Highway 80 at Coahoma, brought suit in the 118th District Court Saturday against Nathan E. Hodges, driver of the vehicle, for $7,500 damages.

Flores claims that Hodges was "exceeding the rate of speed under existing." Adela was crossing the street to return home from school. Flores charges that Hodges was negligent in driving fast.

Jack Taylor, highway patrolman who investigated the accident, described the accident at the time as "unavoidable." He said that apparently Adela waited until one car passed and then stepped into the path of the second driven by Hodges.

Hodges claims that he saw the girl in the road 20 to 25 feet in front of his car. He tried to swerve, but he could not miss the little girl. Hodges said he could not swerve to the right because of other children waiting beside the road for traffic to clear.

Flores is asking damages because of loss of services which his daughter would have performed before becoming 21, and loss of services and attention which Adela would have given him and his wife in old age.

The suit also claims damages of $200 for burial services. Adela's funeral was held Wednesday.

Book Publishing Firm Set Up In Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, Sept. 13 (AP)—Establishment of Smiths, Inc., new book publishing firm here, was announced today.

Its first publication will be "The Devil Rides Outside," the first novel of John H. Griffin, who is a blinded war veteran who lives on a small farm just outside Fort Worth. The book will come out Oct. 27.

The firm was established by two brothers, Gordon and J. Hulbert Smith of Fort Worth.

local service through the Knott-Ackerly-Vealmoor system.

In general, SCVAK is handling territory which lies east and north of that proposed by Westex Telephone Cooperative. The private concern is headed by Berry, and other officers are Harold Berry, his son, vice president; and Mrs. Ima (W. D.) Berry, secretary.

Eight Vocational Nurses Start Year's Training Toward License

Eight "women in white," with a vocational nurses license as their goal, were in their second week of training at Medical Arts Hospital this week.

Ahead of them is a year's work in class and clinical experience to prepare them for the state board examination for licensed vocational nurses.

Mrs. Lilla Burnell, RN, is serving as instructor for the course, the first ever offered here. Her students will attend classes for two hours each day, and then will spend six hours on the floor gaining practical experience.

Their classroom work will include lectures by physicians of the hospital staff on such subjects as ethics, anatomy, obstetrics and gynecology and surgery.

The program was organized by Dr. Nell Sanders. It is designed to meet a present shortage of nursing personnel and an impending crisis if the population continues to increase as it has during the past ten years. Vocational nurses, if properly trained, can perform many tasks which ordinarily would fall upon the shoulders of the busy registered nurses.

Egg Tip

It's true that "most people do not know how to boil an egg." For best results, no egg should ever be boiled. Even hard boiled eggs are best when put in boiling water and then simmered. No protein—eggs, cheese or meat—should be cooked on a high fire. It will only toughen the food.

MR. AND MRS. MACK ALEXANDER AND CHILDREN

New Coach's Family Goes In For Sports

If you ever attend a high school "B" football game and dear ole Big Spring High is on the losing end, look around you. Chances are you'll see a slight, greying woman suffering as much as the coaches. It'll be Mrs. Mack G. Alexander, wife of one of the coaches. The Alexanders and their three children, Mack, 10, Wanda, 6, and Jim, 5, came here about a week ago from Colorado City, where he was the assistant mentor. They are living at 1903 Rummels. The Alexanders have been married 12 years and met while he was coaching in Roscoe, her home. The family is active in the work of the First Baptist Church and that with sports keeps them relatively busy during any leisure time. "It takes so much of my time running the family that I have little left for anything else," Mrs. Alexander commented. Alexander, a native of Ethridge, Tenn., received his degree from Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, and the family has lived all over the state. "It seems as if we stay in a place until we get well acquainted and then we move away," Mrs. Alexander said in a tone of dismay.

Mrs. Hendry Is Honoree At Shower

Mrs. Bob Hendry was honored with a pink and blue shower when the Althean Sunday School Class of East Fourth Baptist Church met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Stanton Johnson. Mrs. Billy Rush was co-hostess, and Mrs. Jack Hansen led the opening prayer. The following new officers were elected: president, Mrs. Gene Ray; membership vice president, Mrs. Hendry; stewardship vice, Mrs. Rush; fellowship vice, Mrs. Johnson; associate vice, Mrs. Edith Knox; personal ministrant, Mrs. Hansen; and secretary, Mrs. Lloyd Wolf. Secret pal gifts were exchanged and refreshments served to 11 members.

Two Girls Honored At Club Dance

Kay Wilcox and Ginger Hatch were honored Friday evening at a back-to-school dance at the Big Spring Country Club. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilcox, Kay's uncle and aunt; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Jordan, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hatch, parents of Ginger. Jeans and gingham were worn by the younger set, and the ballroom was decorated with gas-filled balloons. The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of huge black and gold mums. Kay is leaving to enroll in St. Stephens girls' school in Austin, and Ginger is a student in Big Spring High School. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Ballanfont Sr. and Mrs. Joe B. Ballanfont Jr., Austin; Mary Jackson and John Marks, Odessa. About 60 teen-agers attended.

DRESS PARADE

By Jen Wieser

There was a hint of fall in the air Thursday as members of the College Heights P-TA gathered for their first meeting of the school year.

Mrs. Pete Green was dressed for the occasion in a wine wool gaberdine skirt and grey sweater-blouse. The round cut-out neckline of the blouse was inset with net and outlined with beading, the skirt straight in design. As accessories, Mrs. Green wore dark grey suede sling pumps and carried a matching bag.

At the same meeting, Mrs. John Prude was attired in an Indian-head skirt and blouse. The striped blouse featured black, white and brown, and was designed with a pointed collar. A rolled belt of the same colors was inserted through loops at the waist of the black, flared skirt. She chose brown and white spectator sling pumps and a matching bag as accessories.

Mrs. Jarrell Jones was ready for the first meeting in a black linen sun dress. Chartreuse and black printed shantung formed the top of the dress and a matching belt was shortly draped at one side.

A black linen bolero covered the bare shoulders. Her shoes and bag were black kid.

MRS. JARRELL JONES

Mary-Martha Circle Plans Monday Meeting

The Mary-Martha Circle of the First Christian Women's Fellowship will meet at 3 p.m. Monday in the church parlor.

Mrs. H. L. Bohannon will be leader, and hostesses will be Mrs. Willard Read and Mrs. Harry Lees.

MR. AND MRS. DON HARLEY LOCKHART

Frances Jean Dixon Wed To Don Lockhart

Frances Jean Dixon became the bride of Don Harley Lockhart in an informal ceremony at the home of the bride's mother Friday at 8 p.m.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. B. Y. Dixon, 907 Runnels, and the late Mr. Dixon, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lockhart, Gail Route.

The Rev. S. D. Beeman, brother-in-law of the bride, of Winters performed the ceremony. The couple stood before an arch entwined with plumose fern flanked by baskets of maroon daisies and pearday gladioli.

Mrs. Earl Bohannon, pianist, played the traditional wedding marches and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," during the reception. She also accompanied Doris Parker of Colorado City who sang "Because" and "Never."

F. A. Dixon of Fort Worth gave his sister in marriage.

The bride wore a blue net and taffeta ballerina length gown with a strapless bodice studded with rhinestones.

She carried a white Bible, belonging to her late father, topped with white feathered carnations surrounding a gardenia.

Claudette Harper was maid of honor. She was attired in blue net over taffeta ballerina length gown with a strapless bodice. She carried a cresent bouquet of gladiolus.

Leonard Hartley served as best man.

The candles were lighted by W. H. and Josh Ray Messenger.

When the couple left on a trip through New Mexico, the bride wore a pale gray rayon tweed suit with black accessories.

They will make their home at 102 1/2 Madison. Both young people attended Big Spring High School.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony.

Assisting the couple in receiving the guests were their parents.

The refreshment table was laid with a white cut-work cloth and centered with the three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom. Palm chrysanthemums and plumose fern surrounded the cake.

Joyce Gound and Monohn Holley served and Wanda Kinsey presided at the guest book.

NO EULOGIES

For Music, Art Teachers Hours Long, Work Is Hard

There are many schools that don't close at 3:30 or 4 p. m. each day and resume around 9 a. m. the next. There are many teachers who don't put away books and pencils on Friday afternoon and look forward to a free week end.

And there are many students who attend classes on Saturday or early in the morning or after school is out. About 350 of them in fact.

The students are those learning to play the piano, accordion, guitar, and violin. Many others are instructed in voice or art, pen and ink, water colors, cooper tooling, pencil, charcoal, oils and pastels.

Others take dancing lessons, including tap, ballet and acrobatics.

The teachers are the patient women who say again and again, "Now let's do it over, a-one and a-two. Oh, that's much better."

No eulogies will ever be written about the music, voice, art and dancing teachers.

But many children will, in later years, have these same women to thank for their grace on the dance floor, their creative ability with the paint brush or their well-developed musical talent.

Among the instructors in Big Spring are Mrs. Robert E. Lee and Mrs. Mary Haley, art; Betty Farrar and Bingham Studio, dancing and acrobatics; Mrs. S. H. Gibson, violin, standard and steel-guitar, voice, piano and accordion; Roberta Gay and Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser, piano; Mrs. Nell Frazier, piano and voice; Mrs. Fred Beckham, Mrs. Wanna Tarbet and Mrs. Champ Rainwater, piano.

92 Years Young

J. M. Cramer admires his birthday cake, inscribed "Happy Birthday, Dad," a gift of his daughter, Mrs. Thelma Neal.

J. M. Cramer, Pioneer Coahoma Rancher, Celebrates 92nd Year

"If any of my friends are older than I am and will come to see me I'll give it to them." 92-year-old Joel Moses Cramer chuckled Friday as he admired a pink, green and white birthday cake—with an extra candle "to grow on"—given him by his daughter, Mrs. Thelma Neal.

"The miracle man," as doctors have dubbed him since his partial recovery from a critical illness which struck him down in June, Mr. Cramer was very active until that time and had attended a baseball game four nights before he was stricken. Manager of a team in his younger days, he has always been an enthusiastic follower of the sport and is credited to be the Braves' oldest fan.

Mr. Cramer was born Sept. 12, 1860 in Houston, his mother died when he was born and his father was killed two years later while leading a cannon during the Civil War. His maternal grandfather, who originally came from Georgia, and who operated a large plantation with the aid of some 150 slaves, reared him. He moved to Killen in Bell County when he was 9 and in his early manhood operated two cotton gins there.

His paternal grandfather migrated from Germany, where he was a member of a wealthy clan, and in 1915 a detective, assisting in settling the family estate, to which Mr. Cramer had become the only heir, visited him. His claim to the property was refused, his daughter states, because he was an American citizen and would not return to Germany to live.

Mr. Cramer has 118 descendants, including three great-great-grandchildren, and until last November, when he lost two daughters, there had never been a death among them.

Since moving from Bell County

In 1913 he has lived in and near Coahoma until his recent illness and was the originator of the first farmers union in this area. He was active in the operation of his ranch until his retirement about four or five years ago. He served about 63 years as a Methodist Sunday School superintendent, first at Killen and later at Coahoma. His wife died in 1941.

Mr. Cramer's 13 living children are Mrs. Nettie Mitchell, Desdemona; Mrs. Clara Hensley, Dallas; Aaron and Arnold Cramer and Mrs. Lillie Hensley, Fort Worth, Putnam Cramer, Houston; Mrs. George Thompson, Boone, Joe, Burrell and Dink Cramer, all of Coahoma; Mrs. Joe Wheeler and Mrs. Thelma Neal of Big Spring. Three of his daughters married Hensley brothers.

Since his illness he has been making his home with Mrs. Neal at 411 Rannels.

Mr. Cramer does have one relative who is setting a pace for him.

She is Mrs. Roxie Denman, an aunt by marriage, who lives in California. At 94 she, too, is still active and recently received recognition on a nation-wide radio hook-up.

He sums up his recipe for a long and happy life in the simple statement: "I've always lived a clean life."

Former Teacher Is Awarded Ford Foundation Scholarship

Miss Zaida Brown, mathematics teacher in Snyder High School and formerly a member of the faculty here, has been awarded a Ford Foundation scholarship.

The scholarship, good for this school year, provides salary and expenses for educational pursuits in the field of her choice. Snyder was one of 400 high schools eligible to nominate a teacher for scholarships. A faculty committee at Snyder named Miss Brown.

Her plan is to study mathematics instruction from the high school level, although she plans to take in several college and university workshops as well as high school visits. Tentatively, she plans to be at the University of Illinois, Northwestern, Columbia, University of Washington, Oregon, and California as well as schools in Massachusetts, and Maine. If everything works out as planned, she will be in Washington D.C. at inaugural time.

A graduate of Phillips University, Miss Brown taught at Taylor before coming to Big Spring.

Since going to Snyder three years ago, she has served as president of the B&PW Club there.

Evangelist Speaks At ABC Club Meet

The Rev. Lester Roloff, evangelist, who is conducting a city-wide revival here, was guest speaker at the meeting of the ABC Club Friday.

Roy Reeder introduced the speaker. "We are out of balance spiritually," the short balding evangelist said. "Old Glory depends on the blood-stained banner of Christ and not vice versa."

Only Christians can stop the flow of Communism, the Rev. Roloff told his listeners, because Communism is vision without God.

Men have been given two jobs by God, the evangelist believes. One is to earn a living for his family, the other to be the spiritual high priest of his home.

Vance Kimbell was welcomed as a new member of the organization.

Jr. Forum To Resume Book Review Series

For the second successive year the Junior Women's Forum will sponsor a series of monthly book reviews to be known as the Thursday Review Club.

Mrs. Jack Y. Smith, project chairman, says the reviews were so well received last year that the club decided to continue the project.

The reviews will be given this year on the fourth Thursday of each month with the exception of those in November, December and May, when they will be presented on the first Thursday.

Another change in this year's plan is in the presentation of the reviews in the music room of the Howard County Junior College auditorium rather than fellowship hall of First Christian Church, where they were held last year. The hour is 3 p.m.

Mrs. Charlotte Sullivan, an instructor at HCJC, will give the first review Sept. 25 on "I Lead Three Lives" by Herbert Phillips.

Tentatively scheduled are reviews by Mrs. R. B. Cowper in October, Mrs. Ann LeFever in December, Mrs. Ira Thurman sometime in the spring. Mrs. L. E. Dudley of Abilene, first vice president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, in April, and Mrs. Guilford Jones Sr., speech arts teacher in the Marble Falls schools and well known in her section of the state as an outstanding reviewer, who will appear here either in February or March.

Other dates have not been completed, Mrs. Smith said, but she hopes to secure at least one other out-of-town reviewer to supplement the list.

Ticket sales will start the first of next week. Price of the season ticket, good for all nine reviews, will be $3. Tickets for the individual reviews may be purchased at the door on the afternoon of the reviews for 60 cents each.

Kouples Dance Klub

Kouples Dance Klub will meet Thursday at 9 p.m. at the Country Club. Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Al Carter.

SOFT, FEMININE
Monte Sano Designs A Glamorous New Fall Suit

Elegantly soft and feminine is this glamorous suit from the hand of Vincent Monte Sano.

Those of you who follow the lines of the great couturiers year after year, know that Mr. Monte Sano designs the most beautiful suits and coats in the American fashion world. Always, they are made of the richest, most luxurious fabrics; always they adhere to the newest trends, the most recognized fashion verities.

We are particularly fond of this Monte Sano suit because of two things; one is the soft flowing effect of the skirt. The other is the unique collar that will lend itself to a half-back of mink (if you happen to have some on hand). You see, it isn't often that you find a collar that will respond to one's individual whims.

There isn't anything too out of the way about this design. The jacket is simple, notwithstanding the asymmetrical line of the hip. It is both double-breasted and single, something that is unusual in this day and time. The skirt speaks for itself, following the new unstiffened trend.

There are several fabrics that would do this one up proud, but we believe that one of the new lightweight textured wools is the thing.

Size 12 requires 3 1/4 yds. of 54-inch material, with 1/2 yd. of 25-inch fabric for the contrast. Pattern 1115, is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. To order Pattern 1115, send $1.00 to Spadea Syndicate, Inc., Dept. 164, Box 258, Madison Square Station, New York 10, N. Y. For air mail handling, enclose 25 cents. To order our new pattern booklet, VII, send 15 cents.

HI-TALK

By Margie McDougale

BSHS students are getting in full swing again. Everyone is getting used to getting up early, studying and just being back in school.

Monday night the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y held their first meeting of the year. The first part was a joint session where Irma Jean Slaughter and Mr. Alexander, new sponsors, were introduced. The meeting started with a few announcements by both presidents, then Richard Hughes led the group in a sing-song.

Joe Pickle spoke to both groups and they adjourned to separate business meetings.

The regular meetings for both clubs will be Monday nights at 7:30 at the YMCA.

The Shortland Club is getting underway again this year. Wednesday morning officers were elected.

Monohm Holley will be president. Myrna Talley vice president; Connie Crow, secretary; Margie McDougale, treasurer; Mary Lou Leonard, sergeant at arms.

Tuesday morning the Student Council met to elect two new sponsors and discuss other important matters. The Council named Mrs. Betty Ratliff and Roy Baird as sponsors.

Next week the election of class officers will be held. Everyone should be thinking of the persons best qualified for the offices.

The class pictures for the annual will be taken Tuesday through Thursday. Schedules will be announced later.

Wednesday morning students received a handbook.

The books are gold with black letters and a picture of BSHS on the front. They contain a calendar of the year's events, general instructions and regulations of senior high, academic information and student activities.

The Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y is sponsoring a radio program on Saturday morning at 10 over Station KTXC. The program will consist of a general review of the past week events and records will be played.

A contest is being held to determine a name for this program. There will be a $5 award given the winner. Place as many entries as you like in the entry box in the foyer. Be sure your name is on all entries.

Narrell Dene Choate has been elected editor of the school paper this year. She chose as her assistants Frances McClain, associate editor; Della Reynolds, feature editor; Jackie Millam and Junior Sutor, sports editors; Charles Rose and Doyle Mason, business managers; and Joan McKinney and Charlene Boyd as exchange editors.

This year the A Capella Choir has started out with high hopes for a bigger and better year. The election of officers has been held. They include president, John Lawrence; vice president, Nina Fryar; secretary, Joyce Gound; librarian, Guy Tinkham; and accompanist, Arlene Mitchell.

There are eighty members in the choir. Now they are busy preparing for the Christmas concert and learning new songs.

Mr. Plumbley has announced that he will direct an opera to be given Nov. 7.

Summer Homemaking Program Is Completed

FORSAN, (SpI)—The summer program in homemaking at Forsan, directed by Mrs. W. M. Rowman, was successfully completed last week. Helping the family or working with the family was stressed in the girls' individual projects. Ruth Calley stayed with her sister in San Angelo and helped manage the house while the sister was ill.

Nannie Camp made clothes for herself and for other family members.

Lela Fietzer was really busy. She and her sisters did much of the housework and cooking as her mother works. She and her mother did two re-upholstering jobs. She learned a lot about caring for the sick as she stayed with a neighbor who was ill for a week.

Then she had much of the care of her sick grandmother through the summer. Lela also made clothes for several family members.

Among other duties, Ann Green helped her father re-decorate her room.

Lucie Jacobs was also busy with re-decorating as she and her family re-did her bedroom.

She Jones stayed with her sister who had a small baby and did home management and baby care. There were three groups of girls who worked together on projects. Some of the activities were painting the cabinets in the homemaking department, giving a luncheon for mothers, making place mats for the department, having a preschool for first graders, leatherwork and having charge of the summer FHA meetings.

Each girl was responsible for doing something to help someone in the community. Some of the things they worked on were: the political rally, vacation Bible schools, bridal showers and gathering clothes for needy.

Assorted Canapes

Cut bread in rounds, diamonds, rectangular, and half-moon shapes. Toast. Spread top and sides with mayonnaise. Roll in sieved egg whites or yolks. Garnish with shrimp topped with cream cheese and pimiento; sliced tomato topped with ripe olive filled with mayonnaise, anchovy decorated with pimiento and caviar; cream cheese and caviar; sardine stripped with pimiento.

Local Record Buyers Prefer Popular To Hillbilly Music

If you are the average Big Spring music lover buying records, you probably will select popular music.

For popular music reigns as a favorite with record buyers, according to Oscar Glickman, who operates The Record Shop and keeps a close tab on the musical likes and dislikes of the public.

Glickman, however, guesses that hillbilly selections will run a close second and might be first if it were not for the Air Base. For most of the servicemen prefer the popular to the hillbilly.

In spite of stiff competition, 78 rpm records still outsell the 45 and 33-1/3, although most of the Air Force boys buy the 45.

Referring to local tastes, Glickman observed as most significant the fact that he now sells about 20 times more classical records than he did five years ago. If this statistical tidbit means anything it might be assumed that the public taste is improving—at least as far as its musical diet is concerned.

The city's general fund balance dropped to within a whisker of the vanishing point during the month of August.

Expenditure of $74,797.15 erased all but $9,515.71 of the fund's balance which had been $34,836.37 on Aug. 1. Receipts during the month amounted to only $49,476.52, including $39,138.02 transferred from other funds.

Principal reason general fund revenues failed to keep pace with disbursements was the curtailed consumption of water. Although water department revenues go into a separate fund, transfers each month help keep the general fund's books balanced.

Water consumption in August was 74,511,500 gallons, a decrease of 29,052,400 from August, 1951, and an increase of 5,053,200 over July. Water and sewer service charges billed to customers during the month amounted to $36,461.50, an increase of $1,451.61 over July but a decrease of $8,213.61 from August a year ago.

Biggest items of general fund revenue, outside of transfers, were fines and court costs, $2,970.50; gas franchise, $1,964.93 and electric permit fees, $1,369.95.

The water and sewer system revenue fund had receipts amounting to $43,706.08 and expenditures totalling $54,011.51. Balance dropped from $109,018.27 to $96,772.82.

Airport fund, with expenditure of $690 and receipt of $1,470, grew from $5,335 to $6,115. Cemetery fund spent $775, received $736, and saw its tiny balance dwindle from $88.87 to $49.87.

Swimming pool and park system received $3,537, paid out $2,163 and saw its cash balance grow from $7,168 to $5,542. Garage fund shrank from $11,157 to $10,463. Parking meters brought in $3,146 and that fund grew from $19,054 to $21,636 after transferring and spending $563.

Variety Program Set At VA Hospital

Headlining the entertainment card for VA Hospital patients this week will be variety programs presented by three organizations.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars from San Angelo are scheduled to present a program at 2 p.m. today. Local Elks will host a party and show at 7 p.m. Tuesday. A Big Spring P-TA unit is to sponsor a variety program at 7 o'clock Thursday evening.

Movies are packed in around the stage shows. "Helltown" is to be projected at 2 and 7 p.m. Monday. "The Lady Says No" is set for 2 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday and 7 p.m. Friday. Filmed news and shorts are to be shown at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Legion To Sponsor Song Festival Here

Another evening of rich gospel singing by noted quartets is in store for next Friday evening.

The local American Legion Post is sponsoring another of the song festivals, the program being at the city auditorium beginning at 8 o'clock.

Featured will be Leroy Abernathy and His Miracles Men. This aggregation appeared here several weeks ago, and made such a hit that followers of gospel singing asked for a return engagement. A second group will be the Homeland Harmony Quartet from Atlanta, Ga.

The public is invited to attend. Tickets will be available at the box office, and proceeds go to the Legion's welfare fund.

National Kids Day Observance Groups Picked

Committee chairmen have been named in connection with the various events set for National Kids' Day on Sept. 27.

Jimmy Hale and Sam McComb, who will head the activities, listed these tentative events:

Parade at 9 a. m. under the sponsorship of the Key Club (high school organization fostered by Kiwanians) headed by Pat Crossland, and with J. D. Elliott the Kiwanis chairman.

Show at the Ritz, through courtesy of R. & R. Theatres, at 10:15 a. m. with Horace Reagan chairman.

Tentative plans to tour Webb Air Force Base at 1 p. m. with Lt. Harry Dangelger as chairman. Possible schedule calls for assembly at the junior-high school for transportation to the base. Possible points of interest include the parachute loft, link-trainer, briefing and showing of combat film, tour of hangars and explanation of jet plane operation, and mess hall.

Pet parade at 7 p. m. at the ball park with D. M. McKinney and Jack Alexander as co-chairmen. Ribbons will go to winners in various divisions.

A championship game between the runnerup in the Little League—the Oilers and Gold Sox—is scheduled for 7:45 p. m. Trophies will go to both teams. Troy Harrell is chairman.

Police To Get Tough When You Speed In School Zone

Safety of Big Spring school children is one of the uppermost thoughts in the minds of city policemen these days.

And to increase the margin between security and disaster, officers have instituted a vigorous program of patrolling school areas during periods of activity. They're taking a look at the location and condition of school zone warning, speed limit and stop signs, a ready having spotted a place where a pair of portable stop markers are needed during school hours.

Officers also have started checking school-age operators of motor scooters and motorcycles to be sure no unqualified "drivers" are endangering their own or other youngsters' safety.

Pupils of the Big Spring Airport school soon will have portable stop signs posted to facilitate their crossing of the Webb Air Force Base access road in front of the school.

The city is preparing the signs, similar to the ones already in service at Washington Place and Central Ward Schools, for use at the Airport School pedestrian lane.

The stop signs will be placed in the road each morning and will remain in operation throughout each school day. They will stop traffic from both directions, assuring students of an opportunity to cross the busy road without having to dart through continuous traffic.

The pedestrian crosswalks at the school will be given new coats of paint to further call the attention of motorists the fact that youngsters will be crossing the street.

Speed limit and "school zone" signs already have been installed on the approaches to Airport School by the State Highway Department. The city has put up similar warning signs in the vicinity of other schools and police have been instructed to patrol all school areas, particularly during the morning, noon, and afternoon rush periods.

Portable stop signs are in service in front of Central and Washington Place schools, and last year traffic on Runnels between Tenth and Eleventh Place was routed "one way" for the safety of pupils who must cross roads enroute to and from school.

Police Chief E. W. York has reminded motorists that speed limit in all school-zones is 15 miles per hour. He has instructed officers to enforce the regulation rigidly to lessen the possibility of accidents.

York also urges parents who take their youngsters to school exercise caution regarding their own brood and other children who may be crossing streets or getting out of automobiles.

Care in unloading children is emphasized. Where possible, motorists should utilize school driveways and parking areas for unloading purposes. If youngsters must be let out of the car from a street-side parking space, always pull over to the right hand side of the road and discharge passengers on the curb-side of the automobile, the police chief advises.

European Recovery Impresses Richard Deats During A Tour

There is universal agreement on one thing in Germany—the people are thoroughly weary of war.

This was the impression Richard Deats brought back from a summer's experience as a member of a Quaker International Voluntary Service camp. He also was impressed with the degree and rate of physical recovery.

Richard, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Deats, returned here during the week end from 12 weeks abroad. It was just in time to unpack and re-pack to enroll Wednesday at McMurry College in Abilene where he is in his last year of work toward his B.S. Degree.

The QIVS camps are operated on the theory that "work is the universal language." To the pre-camp instructions which warned that members would "be sure to find work," Richard could add a fervent "amen." He was assigned near Nuernberg with 16 other youths. Their job was to build two-story concrete block houses which would serve as low cost apartments. He learned to do just about everything there was about the project.

Girls, whose prime responsibility was to do the cooking and keep clothing of the young men washed and mended, also found time to pitch in and make a regular construction hand.

There was time, on week ends, for hikes and short trips. Frequently, Richard went to German Youth Activity camps to talk to youngsters about American ideas and ideals. He also got in some sight-seeing. In the evenings, the camp group, which represented 11 nationalities, four religions, talked and sang. Sometimes the villagers and burgomeister visited.

On the question of Hitler, the people appeared divided. Some thought he had been good for the country, others a ruination. It was the consensus that Hitler's vast public works programs at the outset of his regime had provided jobs and lifted the country out of depression.

Leaving early in June, Richard got a chance to visit a fortnight in various European countries. He also had some time after his camp session was complete so that first and last he got to visit in Switzerland, Germany, Austria, Italy, France, England, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Norway and Luxembourg.

Of all the countries, England appeared still to be suffering the most from the ravages of war, he said. Vast areas in London are still rubble. Rotterdam seemingly had worked the greatest miracle of rehabilitation. Some impressed him most for its heat and flies.

In the camp, the young workers lived simply. They got an abundance of rye bread and potatoes with a minimum of meat. Milk was abundant at the equivalent of 10 cents a quart, but most Germans preferred beer at 25 cents for the same amount. In the Ruhr valley, where he first was assigned, the daily diet contained a generous amount of cabbage. Both places included oatmeal for breakfast and supper.

Fellow Workers

Richard Deats, left, is pictured here in Nuernberg, Germany with two companions, Rudolf Kiesling, center, and Heinrich Mussig, with whom he worked in a QIVS camp during the summer. Rudolph was a former member of Hitler's army. The motorcycle is evidence that he has achieved fairly comfortable circumstance since the war. There were 17 young people of 11 nationalities in the camp.

Enroute home Richard returned by the northern route which took the ship by Newfoundland. The boat docked at Quebec and he took a bus to Montreal, caught a plane and made a split-hair connection at New York. In a matter of hours he was home.

Compensation Suits Average Four A Month

Thirty-two workmen's compensation suits have been filed in 118th District Court since the beginning of the year—an average of about four per month.

Records in District Clerk George Choate's office reveal that judgments have been reached in 13 of the cases, and that 14 are still pending.

Of the others, one agreement has been reached out of court and four have been transferred to Federal District Court.

Persons bringing the suits which have been settled received only $22,046.67 of the $123,200 asked—not quite a fifth.

In 12 of the cases already decided, persons injured asked the maximum amount of compensation the law allows—$10,025. The other man asked only $2,500.

Only five of those bringing suit received over $1,000. The highest was $6,246.67 for a back injury to vertebrae discs.

One man who caught his hand in an ice crusher received $2,000, and a driller injuring his back and spine received $1,700. A man injuring his ear with a blow torch received $1,350, and another who hurt his back and spine falling on stairs received $1,000.

All other injuries were from $750 on down. The lowest amount—$300—went to a grocery worker who was hit by two 100-pound sacks of sugar, injuring his back.

Eight of those bringing the settled suits were oil field workers. Three were warehouse and general laborers, one was an ice house worker, and one was a driver.

Perhaps one of the cases transferred to the Federal Court concerns the most bloody incident. An oil well worker was at the rig when the catline wound around his hand and pulled it off. He later had to have his arm amputated. Injured parties in all transferred cases asked maximum compensation.

Upwards of $123,000 is being asked in the 14 pending cases. All but two of the injured parties are asking the $10,025 maximum.

One man who injured his vertebrae while plowing up old pipe line is asking only $2,000. Another elderly man who inhaled some sugar cane pulp while working in a feed store is asking $1,500 and 50 per cent of his weekly salary ($62) for life.

Four of the cases yet to be settled concern oil workers, and four concern truck drivers. Two bringing suit are mechanics and the others include a tractor operation, a laborer, a construction worker and a plumber.

Of the pending cases, 10 concern injuries of the back and vertebrae, and two concern injuries of the hands. One concerns the feed store worker.

EMBEZZLER IS FOUND WITH $1

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13. (AP)—An accountant who disappeared a few days before a $36,500 shortage was found in accounts of the Boys Club of Washington had less than $1 in his pockets when FBI agents picked him up early today.

The object of a nationwide search, James H. Kinsey, 52, was spotted near his home, driving the car he rented Aug. 15—the day he dropped out of sight.

Boys Club officials said the shortage was found a few days later. They also said they received letter in Kinsey's handwriting in which he said he was responsible and blamed gambling losses.

West Texas' Dry Weather Is Top Reason For Bad Batteries

More automobile batteries have gone bad in the Big Spring area this summer than at any other period in the memory of local dealers.

All battery dealers here blame the increase in battery sales and adjustments to the dry hot weather.

One national battery manufacturing concern has compiled statistics showing that one out of every five new batteries sold in West Texas has to be made good. This is higher than in any other area in the United States.

Although local dealers will not estimate the number of new batteries sold or the number of adjustments made on them, all agree that sales are up. Some even endorse the national concern's figures.

"More batteries go bad during the summer than in the winter," one dealer said. "This year they are taking a bigger beating than ever before because of the extreme temperature."

One of the dealers in a larger store stated that he had sold more batteries during the last two months than he usually did in a year's time. He said his adjustments were also high.

Another dealer said that any extremity in temperature—whether cold or hot—would cause battery trouble. He admitted that this summer's heat was an extremity that has taken a mighty high battery toll.

"There are more dead batteries this summer than I ever saw before," a battery rebuilder in Big Spring said. "We've done twice as much business as we did last summer."

The rebuilder said that the heat has burned the batteries up and dried them out so much that it is impossible to rebuild them. "Only a small percentage can be salvaged," he said.

One dealer said that August is always the biggest battery month, and that he had seen no huge increase. Several agreed with him, but they emphasized the fact that a large number of sales had been made.

Those turning over a large quantity of batteries said that no particular type was being traded in any faster than others. "All these batteries are taking a beating, one type just as much as another," one battery man said.

All makes of automobiles are coming up with bad batteries, it was revealed. Those automobiles with batteries near the engine are having the most trouble, and most cars fall in that category.

Some dealers said the heat was having more effect on the older batteries, causing more battery sales than adjustments.

One man said the heat is enough to tear up batteries, but that long summer trips cause batteries to be overcharged, causing further damages. He said that a battery is built to start once for every three miles driven.

Another dealer warned about fan belts. He said that hot weather makes the fan belts stretch, sometimes causing the generator to function improperly and not charge the battery.

Sufficient water in the battery was also stressed. Most dealers said, however, that lack of water has not caused too much trouble—not near as much as most people think.

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

Corpus Christi shuddered under the impact of a tropical hurricane which came roaring in from the Gulf of Mexico on this day in 1919.

Three days later, when the winds and torrential rains had subsided, the town picked itself up to survey the damage. An estimated 294 people had lost their lives in the storm, and property losses approached the twenty million dollar mark.

This particular storm aroused great interest among weather observers because of the unusual path it followed. Most such hurricanes strike the Texas or Mexican coast traveling northwest, then curve first north and then north-eastward. The 1919 storm followed this general pattern, but it traveled all the way into New Mexico before shifting its direction. Rain-falls as high as nine inches were recorded in that state.

In spite of the loss of life and extensive property damage, the 1919 hurricane actually brought some happy results to Corpus Christi. For one thing, it called attention to the safety of the high bluff section of the city and thus stimulated the growth and development of that area. It also hastened Federal aid for an adequate port. Work started on a ship channel and turning basin after a Federal appropriation in 1922, and the port was officially opened on the seventy-fifth anniversary of the hurricane.

Close Action

That's exactly what makes "Without Warning" an unusual and suspense-filled movie. The plot concerns a love killer who preys on attractive blondes. Adam Williams, above, is the killer, and Meg Randall is his victim. The movie plays at the State Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

Riding High

And headed for a laugh-landing are two of Hollywood's zaniest comedians Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis. They have dropped in at the Ritz to stay through Tuesday. Although Martin sometimes reminds people of a sure-enough paratrooper, any similarity between Lewis and the real thing is purely accidental.

ZANY PAIR AT RITZ Martin And Lewis As Jumping Jacks

Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis are enlivening the screen at the Ritz in another of their unpredictable adventures. This time they don't chutes and boots and play paratroopers for the movie "Jumping Jacks." The picture opened Saturday, plays through Tuesday.

This week's appearance at the Ritz will mark the sixth time that the zany pair have graced the screens of Big Spring movie houses. They were recently seen in "That's My Boy" and "Sailor Beware."

Mona Freeman, a shapely charmer with a fair set of pipes, adds the feminine interest to the paratroop feature. She joins Dean Martin in warbling several new tunes.

As per standard, Jerry Lewis is the dizzy side-kick of straight-man Dean Martin. Martin plays the part

Korean War Is Background For Picture

A wartime romance with an authentic background of Korean operations will be on the screen of the Ritz next Thursday, Friday and Saturday with the picture "One Minute to Zero."

The fast action movie stars Robert Mitchell and Ann Blyth. It concerns an Army colonel who has come up the "hard way" and an American girl working with the United Nations in Korea.

Action starts with the period immediately preceding the outbreak of war and continues through a good portion of the fighting. Shots of actual combat are combined with the studio product to give realistic effect.

The movie has all the elements of a top notch production. It concerns a moving love story with heroism, humor and Army efficiency.

Actual Army methods of defense in the rough Korean countryside are revealed in the movie. It includes changed Army plans, individual soldiers' initiative, and the problems of leadership.

The movie was designed to give the audiences an education as well as to entertain. It is reportedly one of the most dramatic pictures of its kind to come from Hollywood in recent years.

William Talman, Charles McGraw and Margaret Sheridan are other top actors in the Howard Hughes production.

New Producing Company Offers A Thrill Drama

A brand new motion pictures producing company has come up with an unusual feature for Big Spring movie goers. The feature is "Without Warning," and it will be showing at the State Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

Adam Williams, a new actor, plays the part of a strange love killer who preys on attractive blonde women at periodic intervals. The women killed are all married and under 30.

Blonde Meg Randall, also a new discovery, plays the part of a victim. The action takes place in Los Angeles and is constantly built up until the closing moments of the story.

To Each His Own

Don Taylor, playing the part of a Korean war veteran, is shown above introducing his Japanese wife, Shirley Yamaguchi, to a friend, Marie Windsor, in the movie "Japanese War Bride." The dramatic movie will play at the State through Monday, starting today. The plot of the picture concerns the acceptance of the bride by the returned GI's friends and relatives.

Strangers?

Although they have just met, Shelley Winters and Michael Rennie do not act like strangers in the above picture. The shot was taken from the movie, "Phone Call From A Stranger," which shows at the Ritz Wednesday. Other feature actors include Gary Merrill, Bette Davis and Keenan Wynn.

Shelley Winters And Gary Merrill Are Co-Starred

An airplane crack-up and family break-ups will be featured in the movie "Phone Call From A Stranger," which will be at the Ritz for a one-day stand Wednesday.

The movie features the combined talents of Shelley Winters, Gary Merrill, Michael Rennie, Keenan Wynn and Bette Davis. It concerns four strangers who meet on a cross-country airplane flight.

Three of the strangers — including a strip tease singer (Shelley Winters) — are killed in the crash. The fourth visits his dead companions' homes and finds family troubles in each. An effective use of flash-backs in made concerning the lives of the dead companions.

Although bobcats are more than a match for most dogs in a fight, they usually flee from a dog which they could easily kill.

Prince Valiant

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR

by Harold R. Foster

Synopsis: AS AN RECORDS THE EVENTS OF HIS LIFE, PRINCE VALIANT BECOMES AN EAGER STORY TELLER. HE RECOUNTS HOW HIS RESTLESS SPIRIT TOOK HIM FAR AFIELD AND HE CAME AT LAST TO ANDELKRAG, AND OF HOW HE ALONE ENTERED THE GATES, WHERE THOUSANDS OF FIERCE HUNS HAD FAILED. HE JOINED THE GALLANT DEFENDERS IN THE TRAGIC SIEGE.

"FIERCELY THEY FOUGHT UPON THE WALLS AND AS GAILY SANG AND PLAYED IN THE FEW MOMENTS THEY SPARED FOR REST."

"THE HUNS RULE FROM SEA TO SEA, WE ARE THE LAST OF THE WARRIOR TROUBA DOURS. BECAUSE OF OUR IDEALS THE WORLD HAS BEEN A BETTER PLACE TO LIVE IN. ONLY ANDELKRAG STANDS UNCONQUERED. IT WILL CEASE TO EXIST STILL UNCONQUERED! TOMORROW WE WILL DO THAT WHICH WE HAVE TO DO."

NEXT WEEK - The End of Unconquerable Andelkrug!

"THE SAVAGE HORSEMEN FROM THE EASTERN STEPPES HAD LEARNED TO BUILD SIEGE MACHINES, BUT WITH GRAPPLES WE ROCKED THEIR TOWERS BACK AND FORTH UNTIL THEY TUMBLED AND WHEN THE RAMS BATTERED OUR WALLS WE BUILT AN INNER WALL."

"PRINCE CAMORAN WAS EVER IN THE FOREFRONT, AN EXAMPLE TO ALL IN THE SLENDOR OF HIS MANHOOD. THE DEFENDERS WERE FEWER NOW BUT NOTHING COULD DAMPEN THE SPIRITS OF THESE GALLANT PEOPLE!"

"THEN CAME THE DAY WE FEARED... OF FOOD AND DRINK THERE WAS NO MORE! THEN CAMORAN ROSE TO HIS FEET, SMILING INTO THE EYES OF HIS COMRADES FOR THE LAST TIME..."

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

HIS WORK ACCOMPLISHED, TARZAN SAID FAREWELL. HE SWUNG AIMLESSLY INTO THE TREES, NOT YET KNOWING OF THE ADVENTURES AHEAD -- OR THE ROLE HE WAS TO PLAY --

LATER, AT A DISTANT JUNGLE CAMP, TWO MEMBERS OF A MOVIE COMPANY ARGUED. "HAVEN'T WE GONE FAR ENOUGH, BOB?" SAID ONE. "THIS COUNTRY IS DANGEROUS!"

BOB CLARK, THE DIRECTOR, WAS EMPHATIC. "NO! -- STICK TO YOUR CAMERA, WHITE! -- IF WE'RE GONNA BE AUTHENTIC ON THIS 'LEOPARD MAN' MOVIE, WE GOTTA GO ON!"

"BUT THOSE ARABS -- I DON'T TRUST THEM," PROTESTED WHITE. CLARK SNEERED, "WHERE ELSE COULD WE GET EXTRAS SO CHEAP? BESIDES, THEY'LL BE COLORFUL --"

A SARCASTIC VOICE INTERRUPTED THEM. "HE'S RIGHT, HANK. WHAT'S A FEW MORE BUGS AND SNAKES? WE CAN'T WASTE THE TALENTS OF MY LEADING MAN, NOW, CAN WE?"
