PEP RALLY

The seventh grades met in a familiar stomping ground, the high seventh room, last Thursday to lend their voices to a good cause. The cause? You should know! The declaimers, Alta Langford and Arba Shelton, were M. G. S. representatives to the district meet at Canyon last Friday. An account of the trip will be given later by Arba Shelton.

M. G. S. WINS CUP

No, this is not a new cup, but it was first beheld by the entire student body and faculty Tuesday morning at a called meeting. Mr. Gilstrap presented the cup to the school through Juanita Brooks who acted as representative. The expressions on the students' faces showed that they are determined to bring the cup back to their beloved M. G. S.

OUR TRIP TO CANYON

By Arba Shelton
We left here on the 5-27 train Friday morning, April 24. On the way we had some thrilling experiences. We met a group of rural contestants. We liked it very much to see the plains. We saw a coyote sitting upon the hill. When we reached Amarillo, we had to wait an hour for the bus to take us to Canyon. While we were waiting for the bus, Alta and one of the contestants and her coach went to the Woolworth building while I went into a drygoods store. When we got on the bus, we became scared by almost sliding into a ditch. When we got to Canyon, we had to go to register. We left our baggage in a friend's home; this belonged to Mrs. Connor. At two o'clock we drew for numbers to see when we spoke. Alta had to speak about 1:20 that afternoon and I had to speak at 1:30. Alta went into semi-finals, but I didn't. We went to the bus station and bought tickets for Amarillo. When we got to Amarillo, it was dark. It was but a quiet ride from Amarillo to McLean.

HIGH TEE NOTES

Reporter, Ernestine Braxton
Friday was the high seventh's lucky day. Sybil Young won first in the race. Pearl Glenn was second; and Alta Langford went into the semi-finals in declamation at Canyon. Sarah Virginia McGowan was chosen as the prettiest girl at the grammar school building Friday night, when several met to enjoy various games. Charles Stratton was victorious in a contest for the ugliest person there. Mr. McHaney gave him quite a bit of competition, but Charles had loyal friends who put him over in the contest.

OUR LITTLE LOW SIXTH ROOM

Composed by Burnis Walker
The sun shines bright on
Our little low sixth room,
'Tis summer and we all are gay;
School is almost out, and
We shout and dance about,
While the teachers make us study
every day.
We are all so happy in our Little low sixth room,
All merry, all happy, and bright;
By and by the school days will stop
Bethering us any more.
And our little low sixth room goodnight.
Happy! Happy! children,
Happy we are today,
We will sing one sang for
Our little low sixth room,
For our little low sixth room far away.

Burnis Walker is back in school. He went to Lubbock Tuesday. Last Friday Anna Mae Rice, Marie Landers and Jessie Lester ran in the race, but they didn't win anything.

50 AND 100 YARD DASHES

By Mozelle Glenn
The grammar school boys have been having a track event. They started with the 50 yard dash in the fifth grades. The winners were Edgar Brewster 1st, J. E. Smith 2nd, Davis Sinclair 3rd. The sixth grades then ran the 30 yard dash and the winners were: Tice Hugg 1st, Wilson Shaw 2nd, J. C. Young 3rd. And oh, boy! Here comes the seventh grades. They surely can run. The winners were: June Woods 1st.

L. A. Tolliver 2nd and Fred Haley 3rd. The fifth, sixth and seventh then ran a 100 yard dash. The winners were: 5th grade, Edgar Brewster 1st, J. E. Smith 2nd, Davis Sinclair 3rd; 6th, Tice Hugg 1st, Harry Stoner 2nd, J. C. Young 3rd; 7th, June Woods 1st, L. A. Tolliver 2nd, Fred Haley 3rd.

JESUS IN THE HOME OF ZACCHAEUS Luke 19:1-10

By Rev. Cecil G. Goff
Jesus had left Perea and was on His way to Jerusalem for the great trial of the crucifixion. He had reached Jericho and the usual crowd was with Him as He passed through the town. There were two Roman highways which passed through the city, and therefore there were many travelers there who were, no doubt, interested in seeing the great teacher and healer. Zacchaeus was the chief custom officer of Jericho, and was rich because of the trade that went through his territory, and because of the opportunities he had to exact excess taxes. He wanted to see the great Miracle Worker as He passed through Jericho.

Probably the desire in Zacchaeus to see the Master was interest because as He passed through the main street of Jericho, which was probably the only street of the town, the tax collector or publican had difficulty in seeing Him. In fact, because of the press of the crowd about the Son of Man and because of the short stature of Zacchaeus, he was unable to either see or get close to Jesus. But he was determined not to have his plans foiled. He had made up his mind that he would see the great Miracle Worker before He had passed the bounds of the town. So the little man went on ahead of the crowd and found a sycamore tree on the edge of the road. He climbed it. The tree by nature was not tall, and branched low so that the man might climb it without any great difficulty. Jesus passed by and Zacchaeus saw Him. But as the Master came to the tree He knew of the one who had gone ahead and climbed a tree to see Him, and He looked up and commanded Zacchaeus to come down, for He intended to lodge at his house.

Zacchaeus made haste to come down and become the gracious host for the Miracle Worker he had been so anxious to see. The crowd that was following the Master murmured

The one whom they thought to be the Messiah had gone to dine and lodge with a Jew who had attached himself to the Roman government as a customs officer and had, therefore, sinned past all possible redemption. But it was that same group, or part of it at least, that had rebuked the poor blind beggar just before the Master entered Jericho, and would not have brought him to Jesus for healing. Queer! They would not have had the Master give the healing words to a poor blind Jew upon one side of the town, and they murmured when Jesus went into the home of a wealthy outcast Jew at the other end of the town to bring to that home salvation. What kind of a Messiah did the untouched multitude want?

The self-same thing is true of the followers of the Master today. They are behind Him and His work—well behind, indeed. They follow, their names are on some church roll, and their only contribution is criticism of the servants of God who would bring sight to the blind or salvation to the lost. There are great numbers today who no more comprehend the ministry of the Master or the opportunities, privileges and duties of His servants while they sojourn on earth than those who passed through the city of Jericho with the Master those many years ago, and would have had Him bring neither healing nor salvation.

On the other hand those who needed and sought the blessings of the Master received them with no regard given to the murmuring of the multitude. The blind man continued to cry until Jesus heard him, and Zacchaeus went ahead and climbed a tree that he might see the Messiah as He passed through. The action of that rich man must be counted ardor, determination and purpose. Can we imagine one of the wealthy men of McLean, or one of McLean's respected business or public? Such action would neither be expected today nor in the days of the Master. But Zacchaeus was determined to see Jesus. When a man determines to see Jesus, he sees Him. There is always a way. And when one really sees Jesus, something always happens. Zacchaeus was saved, and was so repentant, and realized so strongly the evil of his life and ill-gotten wealth, that he gave half of it to the poor and restored all that he had obtained through false accusation fourfold. A few hours before, no such thought had ever entered his mind, but now with Jesus it was the greatest joy he had, next to his salvation.

How to train BABY'S BOWELS

Babies, bottle-fed or breast-fed, with any tendency to be constipated, would thrive if they received daily, half a teaspoonful of this old family doctor's prescription for the bowels. That is one sure way to train tiny bowels to healthy regularity. To avoid the fretfulness, vomiting, crying, failure to gain, and other ills of constipated babies. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is good for any baby. For this, you have the word of a famous doctor. Forty-seven years of practice taught him just what babies need to keep their little bowels active, regular; keep little bodies plump and healthy. For Dr. Caldwell specialized in the treatment of women and little ones. He attended over 3,500 births without loss of one mother or baby.

Men who are lost and need Jesus do not have to climb trees to find Him, but they must make up their mind to seek Him. If men will seek Him, they will find Him—in a tree, in a field, at home, in church—but they will find Him. He came to seek and to save. Seek Him. He will find and save.

Twelve high officials of our state, including Governor Sterling, state that they would be delighted if teachers and pupils would wear cotton garments at graduating exercises this year.

We received an interesting news item through the mail this week, but as no name was signed we were unable to verify the facts, and it was not printed. We must insist that we know from what source items come. Your name will not be used unless requested.

The secretary of the town of Lefors had a financial statement published in last week's issue of the Lefors News that should have been interesting reading to the Lefors taxpayers. There is no objection to publishing how the taxpayers' money is being used in any town.

The mayor of Canadian, in his clean-up-week proclamation, urges all means to eradicate the dandelion menace. It is much easier to stamp dandelions out before they get a strong hold on lawns. Dandelions have appeared in several lawns in McLean, and steps should be taken to get rid of them at once.

The advertising columns of the home paper are open to farmers the same as to town business men, and those farmers who have learned the value of newspaper advertising do not complain so much of hard times. There is a market in any town for all that the small number who advertise can make to say nothing of the waiting market that can be developed by educational advertising.

Dr. Warner made the statement at the Shamrock Lions meeting that no foreigner who refuses to become a naturalized citizen has any right to live in this country, and stated that it is one of the projects of the Claude Club to see that all foreigners in Armstrong county become naturalized citizens. The doctor is right, and this project could very properly be made a part of every club's program.

With only two cities in Texas under 100,000 inhabitants, with two daily papers under different ownerships, it is a pertinent commentary on economics. There is no more need for two newspapers in small towns than there is a need for two electric light plants, two gas systems or two water systems. It may be possible for two to exist, but there is no question but that it costs more in the long run, and no good purpose is served as far as the general public is concerned.

A young man down east hung himself because some people found fault with him, says an exchange. This practice become general, the world would be full of preachers, school teachers, doctors and editors. The preacher, doctor, teacher, or editor would be found fault with.

Too Much ACID
MANY people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.
You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief.
Get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, the kind that physicians have prescribed for over 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.
"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

MRS. LONG HOSTESS TO McLEAN AGGIES

Reported.

Last Tuesday as the group of vocational agriculture judging boys returned from their judging contest at A. & M. College, they stopped at the home of Mrs. T. J. Long at Conroe.

It may be remembered that Mrs. Long is Mrs. Tampke's mother, and Dr. Tampke has an annual custom of stopping at the Long home for several square meals and a good night's rest.

The hospitality extended to the wearied travelers in this party was most heartily appreciated, and every boy who has visited the Long home is always delighted to visit there on succeeding trips.

The boys were given well prepared meals for supper and breakfast, accompanied by a good night's rest, which gave them renewed vigor for the remainder of their journey.

All the boys wish to express through The News their thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Long for the wonderful hospitality.

National Music Week will be observed at Pampa, beginning Sunday afternoon with a vesper musicale by all choirs of the city.

There will be different presentations each evening during the week, free of cost to the public, with the exception of Wednesday evening.

Almost all people that have had some lines most vital to the well-being of mankind. There are more cowards than we would credit. Real thinking demands moral courage, which quality is far too rare.

The Etude says music is taking the place of the straitjacket of the insane. But overpowering with saxes in that fashion would be cruel.—Dallas News.

You think you can help me to the door... "Oh, here you are at last!" Lady Sandison came out on the terrace...

Robert MacBeth had heard their... Robert MacBeth had heard their voices and such was his anxiety...

"I do," said Robert MacBeth an... "I do," said Robert MacBeth angrily, clutching at a chair to help him stand erect...

"That's the plain truth," declar... "That's the plain truth," declared Lady Sandison, "and it's me that knows it..."

"You're in no state—" Aggy began... "You're in no state—" Aggy began, "Aggy," Sir George said warningly, "one word more from you and I'll put my bad foot on the ground, and stamp on it..."

"Mighty me! Believe yourself, lad... "Mighty me! Believe yourself, lad," said Roberta, my lamb, these men are just nothing to bother about...

"Your marriage," said MacBeth grimly... "Your marriage," said MacBeth grimly, "lie down and give me the whole tale. It looks to me like a good one..."

"I had this ready against your com... "I had this ready against your coming," she said with a satisfied air, "You're a pair of poor looking lads..."

"I don't know," said Sir George... "I don't know," said Sir George, "I don't know," said Sir George, "I don't know..."

Sandison, beaming at them. "She'll... Sandison, beaming at them. "She'll never be meek enough to suit. It's grand that she caught you this side of the water..."

"So would I," declared Robert Mac... "So would I," declared Robert MacBeth, "and what's more, I would have sworn that Roberta would have drowned you if you'd asked her..."

Robert MacBeth, though he found... Robert MacBeth, though he found locomotion tiresome and painful, rose up heavily and muttering some excuse about fresh air, which was quite unnecessary as neither Roberta nor Sir George seemed to notice his withdrawal...

"It's grand," she sighed. "I'm think... "It's grand," she sighed. "I'm thinking that with the Sandison weediness toned down a bit by the MacBeth stockiness your grandchildren should be a fine-looking lot..."

"What can you expect?" asked his... "What can you expect?" asked his sister. She looked at him sympathetically. "Don't be a jealous fool, Rob. You're getting what you wanted, though not in just the way you wanted it, and so are they..."

"Well, and have they not found... "Well, and have they not found them?" "What, here on this island!" "No, stupid man, in each other." [THE END.]

Ford Factory Doctor Pays High Tribute to Sargon's Powers

"Sargon is one of the most power... "Sargon is one of the most powerful strengthening, reconstructive tonics and body builders I have known in the 30 years I have engaged in the practice of medicine," declared Dr. P. K. Drummond, for 12 years factory physician at the Ford Motor Co., Detroit, who was retained to examine the formula. "At this season of the year, especially, people who are in a run-down condition, due to simple anemia, thin, watery blood, poor digestion or elimination, should benefit richly from the Sargon treatment."
