Eight Killed, One Missing, Scores Hurt

Industrial Warfare Seen As Provocation; Manager Is Held

NORTH ARLINGTON, N. J. (AP).—With a toll of disaster temporarily fixed at 8 dead and one missing, with at least 75 injured, preliminary investigation into Friday night's explosion of a celluloid plant developed evidence, police said, pointing to incendiarism and industrial warfare as cause of the holocaust.

Alex Schelzzeit, operator of the business, was being held on a technical charge of manslaughter. Scores of bathers were on a small beach near the plant when the blast came. Burning debris fell in showers. Several women, badly burned by blazing clothing, were seen to dart into the water.

Rhotan No. 1 Is Cemented

Important Wildcat In Eastern Howard Drills To 2,860 Feet

Casing had been cemented last night in Lee C. Harrison and others' No. 1 Rhotan, new important wildcat strike in West Texas and plug is expected to be drilled Monday night. The well was drilled to 2,860 feet and drilling stopped in pay. It is possible it may be drilled deeper after testing.

The well is located two miles northwest of production in the Denman-Dodge pool of eastern Howard county, in section 4, block 20. Oil stood 1,200 feet in the well for several days, with balling going on intermittently. In the nearby field Harrison's No. 4 Denman filled 1,800 feet with oil as it progressed to 2,700 feet. Drilling was continuing there Saturday evening.

WASHINGTON.—The senate Friday night adopted the conference report on the administration's railroad economy-coordinator bill completing congressional action. The report was agreed to without debate. The report removed another of the administration's major bills from the path to speedy adjournment.

Lions Club Has Benefit Barbecue For Scout Corps

Approximately 150 persons gathered in the city park last Friday evening for a get-together and chicken barbecue put on by the local Lions club. While children enjoyed the swings, see-saws and other amusements the older folk coasted on benches under the trees watched performance of the Mexican Drum and Bugle Corps led by Fred Drew. The Mexican boys, dressed in Scout uniforms, presented a colorful appearance, and were unusually well trained. The proceeds are to be used in maintaining the camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Floyd are visiting relatives and friends in Dallas.

Establishment Of Employment Relief Camp To Improve Scenic Drive Near Here To Be Sought

Big Spring is about ready to make a formal request for federal aid in improving the Scenic mountain driveway. A brief has been prepared and is to be submitted to the public works committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for submission to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Scenic Mountain, situated just to the southwest, rises above the surrounding country to afford a splendid view of this section, according to the brief. The mountain has been deeded to the state as a state park, but has had no improvements made on it except for work on the driveway. This work has been financed by public subscription. In submitting the brief it is asked that roads from Highway No. 9 and No. 1 be constructed so as to afford tourists the privilege of driving over the mountain, taking them only a minimum distance out of their way. Besides improvement to the roads it is suggested that a community building be constructed of native stone. The building would probably be located on the northeast point of the mountain. The brief cited the fact that materials, both for road construction and buildings, are to be had in abundant quantities. In addition to a desire to add to scenic attractiveness of the city, said the brief, it is imperative that work be provided for approximately 1,000 men, and possibly as many more unless there is immediate relief from the drought. Accompanying the brief are several clear photographs of particularly beautiful parts of the driveway and the mountain.

Dr. Dillard To Leave City

First President Of Kiwanis Club Speaker At Weekly Meeting

Members of the Kiwanis club heard talks at last week's meeting by two former presidents, C. R. Porter and J. H. Dillard. Dr. Dillard, first president of the local club, announced that it possibly would be his last meeting as a local member, as he would move to San Antonio July 1 to practice medicine in that city. The club voted to present to Dr. Dillard a letter of appreciation signed individually by each member and to send a letter to the San Antonio club introducing him to its membership. Mr. Porter's topic was Kiwanis Education and Dr. Dillard's "The (Continued On Page Seven)

Monahans Forms Boy Scout Troop

A. C. Williamson, area executive of the Buffalo Trail Council, stopped here Saturday enroute to his home in Sweetwater. He spent the past week in the western end of the council surveying work. He reports a new troop is to be organized in Monahans with the Lions club as sponsor. Troops 51 and 52 of Midland were combined leaving only two troops there. Sponsorship of the Wink troop was changed from the Legion to Lions. Balmorhea dropped her troop. Williamson said the council had procured a camp site with 1,000 front feet along Lake Sweetwater, six miles southeast of Sweetwater. The lake is one mile across at its widest point, two and a half miles long, and sixty-two feet deep. No immediate improvements other than a bathing beach are planned. He announced an executive board meeting to be held at the Crawford hotel Thursday evening. Positive assurance has been received that every district in the council will be represented. The board will discuss camp plans, hear reports, and dispense with other business. It is likely that some announcement will be made regarding the annual water carnival.

Texon And Abilene In Crucial Series

ABILENE.—West Texas Touchend League baseball will touch a new high in excitement for the season this week-end with the meeting of Texon and Abilene in a two-game series. Texon, which has led from the start of the race may lose its leadership to the Abilene Oilers by dropping both contests. First of the two melees was staged at Sweetwater yesterday afternoon and the Abilene park will be the scene of combat today. San Angelo and Coleman will fight over third place in a double-header on the Coleman diamond this afternoon, completing the official activities for the week-end.

Congress Hits Last-Minute Jam, Expected To Work To Midnight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress plunged into a last minute jam of foremost legislation Saturday. The president and democratic house leaders formulated final compromise on the controverted veterans compensation dispute. Close to midnight was the most optimistic hope of getting adjournment.

WASHINGTON.—Modification of President Roosevelt's compromise proposal on veterans' cuts was accepted by democratic house leaders and plans were made for substituting it for the senate amendment to the independent office appropriation bill. Both sides yielded to reach the agreement after almost a week of negotiations. Veterans advocates in the house, working with house leaders, won on their point to limit reductions on service-connected and in pre-sumptive cases to 25 per cent. The president held to his principle of permitting the government to strike from the rolls presumptive cases, found not to be service connected.

Spanish-American Vets The president yielded, however, to the requests of the house members for provisions for Spanish-American war veterans who are 55 or older. The main points in the compromise, to be acted on in the house, are: No service-connected veteran shall receive a cut in compensation of more than 25 per cent. Veterans, presumed to have disabilities or disease due to service, are to remain on the rolls until October 31, although their present compensation is to be reduced 25 per cent. As many boards as necessary are to be created by the president to review the presumptive cases with a view to determining whether they are entitled to compensation. Some Unchanged Pensions for service-connected or presumptive case veterans' widows and children continue at rates in effect before the economy act was passed. Veterans suffering from disease contracted as a result of misconduct are to be eliminated from the rolls unless it is proven the disease was aggravated as a result of service. By the issuing regulations the president is to make provision for Spanish-American war veterans of 55 or more, while the pensions for Spanish-American war veterans of 62 or more are to continue under present regulations, recently revised to provide increases.

Neil Davis and Irene Knauz plan to leave this morning for Abilene, where they will board the West Texas Special train to a Century of Progress exposition in Chicago.

Men Held For Kidnaping Of Wilson Man In Jail Break

Vowell and Dick Among Seven Free After Breaking Out Of Cells On Top Floor Of Tahoka Courthouse

TAHOKA (AP).—Search for seven prisoners who escaped the Lynn county jail here Friday night shifted to the southeast Saturday after they awakened a storekeeper in Borden county and bought groceries. TAHOKA (AP).—Seven Lynn county prisoners, including two alleged kidnapers, escaped here shortly before 10 o'clock Friday night. S. D. Vowell, and S. D. Dick, facing 18 and 15 years in prison respectively and charged with kidnaping and armed robbery, were in the group which pried its way from the Lynn county jail. Others Are Listed The others were: J. R. Romine, car theft; Clyde Davis, car theft; Jim Brooks, burglary; and Dave and Luke Trammell, brothers, burglary and car theft. Vowell, 23, and Dick, 22, were held in connection with the kidnaping and robbery of J. F. Covey of Lubbock, Santa Fe agent at Wilson, April 7. Net Is Spread A telephone net was thrown over West Texas and Eastern New Mexico by Sheriff B. L. Parker. Several of the men are expected to go to East Texas oil fields; others are expected to seek refuge in Oklahoma. Using iron bars from their cell bunks, the men pried open the door of their cage, and forced their way to a window of the jail. They walked on a narrow ledge to a window leading into a jury room, and left the courthouse through a woman's rest room on the first floor. On Third Floor The jail is on the third and top floor of the courthouse. The break was discovered about 11:20 o'clock, and it was estimated the prisoners had an hour and a half lead on searchers. Sheriff Parker described Vowell and Dick as dangerous men. Detailed descriptions of the entire group were given by the sheriff. Vowell is about five feet five inches tall, weighs 130 pounds, and is dark headed. Sheriff Parker said the prisoner "has a hatched face, with a long nose." When he escaped he was wearing a white hat, turned down, light colored shirt, and waist trousers. The hat has a blue band. His eyes are dark brown. Dick is Described Dick is about five feet seven inches tall, weighs 145 pounds, and has red hair and blue eyes. He was wearing light colored trousers and a blue shirt. Vowell, recently transferred here from Abilene, pleaded guilty of five burglary cases and drew two years in each case in Abilene. Previously he had been convicted by a jury there and assessed five years in another burglary case. The other accused kidnaper, who drew 15 years after conviction on a charge of armed robbery in Sweetwater, escaped his way out of the Nolan county jail March 30. He was arrested in Hugo, Okla., April 30. Dick also is alleged to have been involved in a Knox City bank robbery. Are Former Convicts Dave Trammell, 28, and Luke Trammell, 21, were brought here Tuesday from Fort Worth by Sheriff Parker, who said the brothers were former convicts. Luke, who has a gold tooth, is six feet tall. Dave is five feet eight inches tall. They were dressed shabbily. Descriptions of the other men, as given by the sheriff: Romine, 19, five feet 10 inches tall, weighing 145 pounds, dark hair, blue eyes; wearing blue waist denim trousers, blue shirt. Davis, 16, five feet 10 inches, polka-dot shirt, pin-stripe trousers. Brooks, 27, six feet one inch, weighing 175 pounds, noticeable limp in right leg as a result of a wound between knee and ankle, striped waist trousers, white shirt, and wearing size 11 work shoes. No Cars Missing No automobiles had been reported missing here tonight, but Sheriff Parker pointed out that the town's residents were asleep and that automobile thefts, if occurring, would not be reported until Saturday morning. Officers, in searching in this immediate vicinity, had reported no brushes with the escaping men. Brooks' gunwound would handicap his escape, unless he secured an automobile, Sheriff Parker said. The officer said he thought the wound, caused by a .38 caliber pistol, had been accidental. All the men were held pending action of a grand jury on their cases.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS: The National Whirligig

WASHINGTON By Paul Mallon Control—Certain democratic senators have let Mr. Roosevelt know they can play a cagey game of politics too. That revolt in the senate finance committee on the Industrial Control Bill was nothing more than political play.

The boys just got fed up on doing all the giving and none of the taking. They want patronage. They want some of their pet legislation considered. They want to be treated like the big men that they are instead of pawns on a presidential chess table. They thought they might get some attention by cutting the heart out of Mr. Roosevelt's most important bill. They did.

For the first time Mr. Roosevelt had to do some ardent lobbying. Committee Chairman Pat Harrison was called to the White House on the run. The conference was kept secret, even from other senators. Afterward Harrison began making the rounds of his rebellious colleagues. He did not exactly buy them off. Things are never done so crudely. He did wind out the price they were asking for changing their votes on the Industrial Control case.

A southwestern Senator was found to be virtually interested in oil. He allowed the impression to get out that he might see the Industrial Control picture in a different light if he got some consideration for oil. A Pacific Coast Democrat would not tell what he wanted. He was surprised to get a summons to the cloakroom telephone. The White House was on the wire. When he walked out of the telephone booth his face was the picture of benign satisfaction.

Extent of the bargains made to save this bill will never be known officially. They cannot be proved. But you may take it for granted there were plenty of them. The revolt was started by the National Manufacturers Association and the Steel Institute. They poured on the legislation because it would force them to unionize.

They put up a very good fight. But when the White House started doling out favors, their cause cracked. Stocks—The administration lent a hidden hand to stop the stock market recently. It was done in a quiet way. Whispers were dropped in quarters which afford the widest Wall Street circulation that the administration thought the market was going up too fast. It was said the government would supply the breaks if no one else did. Mr. Roosevelt might even take to the radio to warn the people against speculation.

The truth seems to be that the administration is afraid of the consequences of a runaway market. Present policies call for gentle reflationary activities. The administration would barely dare to tinker with the red-hot rate or stop the open market operations. It would spoil the reflationary program.

Gold—That Senate mystery over the Gold Clause bill was no mystery at all. Republicans Senators kept stressing the idea that there was something behind the bill they did not know about. They realized Mr. Roosevelt wanted it as a switch at the London Economic Conference. They thought there was something else. There was. Apparently they were the only ones who did not know about it.

The administration was in a very bad legal jam on its gold proclamation. The first court case was almost certain to go against it. The effect would have been embarrassing if not utterly demoralizing to its fiscal program. Mr. Roosevelt chose to make a virtue out of necessity and recommended the change. That is all there was to it.

Taxes—Mr. Roosevelt played a very clever inside game with Congress on the Veterans' cuts. Those leaders summoned to the (Continued On Page 7)

"Hell Below", With Huston And Montgomery, Opens At Ritz

Picture Is Filmed With Aid Of Navy

Sunken Submarine Provides Scene Of Thrilling Drama

Uncle Sam's navy may be described as the unpublishing star of "Hell Below," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's dynamic talkie drama of submarine adventures which opens today at the Ritz theatre, following its sensational run at the Astor theatre in New York City. For without the active cooperation of the naval department, filming of this ambitious sea picture could scarcely have been undertaken at all.

Cast Lived Under Water
The picture was adapted from Commander Edward Ellsberg's story, "Pigboats," and its all-star cast includes Robert Montgomery, Walter Huston, Madge Evans, Jimmy Durante, Eugene Pallette and Robert Young, under the direction of Jack Conway. For fifteen days the actors in "Hell Below," coached by regular navy men, manned torpedo tubes, worked controls and literally lived under the water at the submarine base at Pearl Harbor, Honolulu. That's how the big thriller ever staged by submarines for a talking picture was made.

Cameras from portholes of submerged submarines photographed action—thanks to special underwater lights and lenses, and the fact that Hawaiian waters are so remarkably clear. In the picture one sees a big submerged submarine heading right for the camera—sees it blow off, dive, pump out the tanks and rise again. One sees depth bombs being tumbled by "Y-Guns" as they lay a pattern under the water. One sees them explode, making great globules as the water is displaced, and the submarine rushes through them, in a desperate race to escape their terrific concussion.

Anti-aircraft guns, operating against diving attack planes are shown in another thrilling scene. Then a bomber appears on the horizon. The submarine dives, and the camera follows the live down below the surface.

Intense Scene in Hold
One of the most remarkable and engrossing scenes of the production is the dramatic episode in the submarine's control room. The submarine is at the bottom of the sea. The water pressure has neutralized the compressed air. The ship cannot rise. Chlorine gas is escaping. The ballast pumps won't work and the clutch slips. New leathers are installed by the choking crew. The oxygen is gone. Then the commander grabs an emergency wheel from the workbench, pounds it up with a hammer, and scatters the abrasive on the clutch. You hold your breath, the lever is pulled, and it works. That's drama—in twenty feet of space under the sea. The work at Pearl Harbor was accomplished with special cameras, some fastened in diving bells, some operated from portholes

Merchants' Popularity Contest At Ritz Thursday Evening Draws Entrants Of Many Leading Firms

'The Girl In Room 419' On Week's Bill

James Dunn And Gloria Stuart Features In Thursday's Program

The roar of the earthquake which shook California this spring was recorded by sound engineers working on "The Girl in 419," romantic drama featuring James Dunn and Gloria Stuart, which comes Thursday only to the Ritz theatre.

It is the first time that such a sound has been recorded electrically or mechanically, and the Paramount studios have turned the sound track over to scientific scientists for use in study.

Dunn, Miss Stuart, David Manners and Jack La Rue, cast in "The Girl in 419," were making one of the early scenes in the picture when the first shock of the earthquake was felt. Earl Haysman, sound engineer on the picture, realized immediately what was happening. His first impulse of submarines and some actually slung on the submarine decks in glass windowed boxes.

New Undersea Photography
Lieut. Commander Morris Gilmore, U.S.N. (retired), is largely responsible for the technical correctness of the thrills in "Hell Below." He faced and hurried many problems. Some of the dialogue was technical—such as Montgomery giving ranges and courses, and the players at first recited the lines as though repeating Greek. It didn't sound natural, so Gilmore took all hands in tow for a good stiff course in navigation and gunnery. Then, when they said their lines, they knew precisely what they meant.

Merchants of Big Spring will enter young women in a City Popularity contest to be held at the R & R Ritz theatre Thursday evening beginning at 9 o'clock.

More than a dozen firms and organizations had announced their entrants Saturday afternoon. Manager J. V. Robb of the Ritz said he expected thirty or more to be entered.

Winner of the contest, who will be presented a silver loving cup, will be determined by applause of audience and out-of-town persons who will judge the comparative volume of applause given each girl. Those entered Saturday afternoon were: Chamber of Commerce, Eva Mae O'Neal; J. C. Penney, Lulu Aubrey; LaMode, Martha Louise Robertson; Hollywood Shoppe, Maxine Thomas; Crawford Beauty Shop, Modesta Good; Mellinger's, Virginia Cushing; Carter Chevrolet company, LaVerne Stewart; Douglas Beauty Shop, Billie Frances Grant; George Brasher, Men Shop; Margaret Tucker; J. L. Webb, Kiofer studio, Quixie Bea King; Settle Beauty Shop, Dorothy Payne; Crawford Barber Shop, Hazel Smith; Crawford Hotel, Alta Mary Smith.

Mrs. Tex Carter Hostess To H. D. Club Of Lomax

The Lomax Home Demonstration Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Tex Carter.

Interesting talks were given by Mrs. Joe Williams and Mrs. A. J. Stallings. The members selected George Brasher as council representative. Ways and Means of raising money were discussed.

Delicious refreshments of sandwiches, ice cream and cake were served to the following members: Mmes. Brasher, Carter, M. G. Chapman, Maurice Connell, E. W. Lomax, A. J. Rice, Mack Stallings, Henry York, W. J. Williams, C. M. Wood, C. Vaughn, I. W. Cox, Joe McVain, T. C. Williams, B. L. Hogue; Misses Letha Chapman and Verna Chapman; and to the following visitors: Mmes. V. V. Simms, Ethel Hixon of Big Spring, Misses Maude Tall, Eppie Dell Williams and Lela Bell McVain.

Mrs. Lizzie Bell Russell of Dallas was in town Thursday to attend the Royal Neighbor convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Holley are moving to Abilene sometime this week to make their home.

was to turn off the apparatus and flee, but a moment later, his brain triumphing over his instincts, he swung his dial to increase amplification.

Haysman remained imprisoned within his soundproof booth, ear phones glued to his head, his fingers carefully manipulating the dial, for the duration of the quake. The result, directors, players and technicians agreed, was one of the most dramatic series of sounds ever played over the amplification system.

The scene is in progress on the sound track. The voices of the players are heard as they calmly speak their lines. There comes a sudden deep and foreboding rumbling, a scream, shouts of "Earthquake!" More shouts and screams, the clatter of running feet, and then the awful full roar of the earth, the rattling of the stage itself, and the crash of falling equipment.

Dunn, Miss Stuart and the other players remained as calm as was possible under the conditions, but work on the picture was not resumed until after the stage had been put back into condition.

"The Girl in 419" is set in a police emergency hospital, and is the romance of a girl brought in mysteriously beaten and the doctor who saves her life.

"Race Nights", New "Game" For Movie Patrons, Offered At Ritz

"The Thrill Game of the Screen" is the way Manager Robb of the Ritz theatre characterizes "Race Night" the newest Hollywood development in motion pictures which will be shown once a week for ten weeks at the Ritz theatre commencing Thursday of this week.

"It's a motion picture but it's a game," said Manager Robb, "and that's all I'm going to tell you! Every member of the audience takes part and it is the most thrilling sport I've ever seen in a motion picture theatre."

A group of ten of Hollywood's leading comedians are said to be featured in this first "Race Night" film of the series.

Warden Lewis had met Tracy on several occasions, once at Sing Sing, and once while he was working "Up the River," a picture in which Lewis' own daughter, Joan Lewis played the part of a warden's daughter. He had also admitted his work as "Killer Mears" in the stage play, "The Last Mile," which characterization skyrocketed Tracy to fame.

His name was suggested to First National by the warden and Tracy was at once placed under contract. Other players include Betty Davis, Arthur Byron, Lyle Talbot, Grant Mitchell, Louis Calhern and Sheila Terry.

Lionel Barrymore Has Lead In "Looking Forward", Picture At R & R Ritz With Timely Plot

Lionel Barrymore and an exceptional supporting cast will be seen starting Tuesday on the Ritz screen in "Looking Forward," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer-Cosmopolitan production, based on the London stage success "Service."

"Looking Forward" was written by C. Anthony, also the author of the play, "Autumn Crocus," which recently completed a successful New York run. The talking-picture version was filmed by Clarence Brown, director of "Flesh and the Devil," "A Free Soul" and "Letty Lynton."

The picture is a story of the modern business world and the effects of the depression on a great department store. Its title, "Looking Forward," was selected by special permission of President

Robinson In 'Little Giant' Here Friday

'Silver King' Hero Returns To Ritz In Newest Production

An exceptionally notable list of players appears in the important role of Edward G. Robinson's new starring vehicle for First National, "The Little Giant," which opens at the Ritz theatre on Friday.

Robinson himself, who sprang to fame on the screen in such pictures as "Little Caesar," "Five Star Final" and "Smart Money," continued to ride the wave of popularity with such outstanding productions as "Silver Dollar" and "Tiger Shark." Noted for his strong characterizations, he is said to have outdone all his previous efforts with his present role of an ex-luxe Baron of Chicago, who has retired and is attempting to crash exclusive social circles.

Mary Astor, one of the most polished actresses of the screen, has the leading feminine role opposite Robinson. She will be remembered for her successful portrayal of the leading feminine roles in such pictures as "A Successful Calamity" with George Arliss, "Holiday" and "Behind Office Doors."

Hein Vinson, who had important roles in "Grand Slam," "Lawyer Man" and "I Am a Fugitive from a Chain Gang," plays the part of an adventuresome high society who takes the hard boiled racketeer for a ride to the tune of several hundred thousand dollars. Shirley Grey, of "Air Engines" and "The Public Defender" fame, is also one of the lovels of Robinson in the picture.

The principle male parts in support of Robinson are taken by such well known players as Kenneth Thomson, Russell Hopton, Bertton Churchill and Donald Dilaway.

The experiences of the crude racketeer with the social elite result in hilarious situations spiced with exciting and thrilling incidents.

The screen play by Wilson Mixer and Robert Lord, based on Lord's original story, was directed by Roy Del Ruth.

'Black Beauty' Story Filmed

Picture Billed Wednesday And Thursday At Queen

The popular idea that widely read published novels supply material that is easy to transfer to the screen, is exploited by I. W. Chadwick, producer of Monogram's feature "Black Beauty," which comes to the Queen theatre Wednesday for a two-day run.

"In fact," said Chadwick, who has spent time and energy studying what the public wants, "there is nothing so difficult to picture successfully as 'the best seller.'"

"Given a story that is unfamiliar to them," he continued, "an audience will accept the characters and atmosphere presented without question. They have nothing to compare them with. On the other hand, each reader of a novel forms a definite idea as to what the story pictured should be like. Naturally, if the screen presentation does not conform to his idea he blames the producer."

"My theory is that the safest plan is to transfer the written novel to the screen with as few changes as possible. It is this plan we have followed in 'Black Beauty.' Lovers of the book need not fear to have their illusions shattered. Miss Powell's masterpiece remains on the screen what it is on the printed page: the beloved manual of all lovers of horses."

"The cast in particular," he concluded, "has been selected with great care. Besides Alexander Kirkland and Esther Ralston, who play the leading roles it includes such well known screen figures as Hale Hamilton, John Larkin, Gavin Gordon, Don Alvarado, Theodore Lorch, Ed Fothergill, George Walsh, Al Bridge and Bruce Covington."

Miss Verbona Barnes has become as ill that visitors are no longer admitted to her room.

Franklin Roosevelt. The symbolic phrase was used by the President as the title of his recently published and widely acclaimed book. Barrymore as Benton, a faithful old bookkeeper, has a role totally different from that of his sinister Rasputin, the part of the humble clerk who finds himself seeing a life crisis when he loses his job, resembling somewhat his famous Krivogolein of "Grand Hotel." Lewis Stone follows his fine work in "The White Sister" with the role of the merchant prince in the present picture, and the two popular English screen and stage stars, Benita Hume and Elizabeth Allan, have the leading feminine roles.

Miss Hume is seen as the wife who betrays her husband when he is most in need of her fidelity, while Miss Allan portrays the daughter who remains loyal to Stone in the midst of chaotic circumstances. Phillips Holmes plays Miss Allan's brother and prominent supporting parts are filled by Colin Clive, Alec E. Francis, Doris Lloyd, Neilwell Hobbes, Douglas Walton and a number of others.

The picture is said to reach its most dramatic heights in the conflict between the loyal daughter and the shallow wife; in the stirring sequence in which the millionaire finds his cherished business smashed to the wall in the bookkeepers' fight to rehabilitate himself and in the touching climax in which this old, faithful employe saves his store from being annihilated by a chain-store organization.

Lovely Kitchen Shower Given Miss Mary Happel

Jordan Home Scene Of Beautifully Planned Social Affair Honoring Popular Bride Of The Month

Misses Dorothy, Louise and Lillian Jordan entertained Friday morning with a charming party at their lovely home in Washington Place honoring Miss Mary Happel who will be married next Saturday.

The occasion was a kitchen shower and many attractive and useful gifts were received.

A pink and white color scheme was used throughout the party. Orange blossoms and wedding rings adorned the bridal table and score pads for the five tables of guests.

This same motif prevailed in the salad and sandwiches. A cupid's arrow and mints were served with heart-shaped sandwiches and iced tea.

Favors were marine bags of rice tied with satin ribbons of pink and white.

Mrs. Clarence Wear made high score and received an aluminum tea set which she presented to the honoree, Mrs. Tommy Jordan, Jr., received as consolation prize a china sandwich plate that she also presented to Miss Happel.

After the refreshment hour Master Jimmy Hodges brought in many packages and showered the bride-elect. These consisted of gifts for the kitchen and were opened and admired by the honoree and guests.

Mrs. Anna Mae Lunebring and Mrs. P. E. McClanahan were unable to attend and sent gifts.

Those enjoying this lovely shower were: Misses Happel, Elizabeth Northington, Mabel Eddy, Jennette Pickle, Agnes Currie; Misses Henry Edwards, Allen Hodges, Roy Lamb, R. V. Middleton, Charles Reed, Sydney House, E. H. Happel, Clarence Wear, W. K. Edwards, Larson Lloyd, Herbert Whitney and Tommy Jordan, Jr.

Ice cream and cake were served to the members and visitors.

Lowell W. Smith To Marry Miss Edwards Of Wink

Mrs. Harvey Edwards entertained Friday afternoon at her home in Wink, with an informal tea announcing the coming marriage of her daughter, Sina D., to Lowell W. Smith of Big Spring.

Mr. Smith is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Woodie W. Smith.

The marriage ceremony will be held June 25, 8 p. m. from the East Fourth Baptist church of Big Spring of which Rev. Mr. Smith is pastor.

Opening the tea, Mrs. R. E. Holmes sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." She was accompanied by Mrs. Lonnie Bible. A violin solo, "Indian Love Call," was played sweetly by Mrs. Gail Whitty, accompanied by her twin sister, Mrs. Kent Whitty.

Miss Earnest Walters read James Whitcomb Riley's poem, "That Old Sweetheart of Mine" and the strains of "Hearts and Flowers" played by Mrs. C. R. Jordan.

Mrs. M. N. Dow read from a dainty handmade book a sketch of Miss Everett's life as Mrs. Jordan played "Hearts and Flowers." As the sketch merged into the flowering romance, the accompaniment blended into Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Little Miss Charlene Jordan, dressed as a bride and carrying a silver tray, presented each guest with a merrill, tied with pastel ribbons, announcing the marriage of Miss Everett and Mr. Smith.

A register including the names of ninety-six guests was presented the bride-to-be by Mrs. Lee Johnson.

As guests were ushered into the dining room where they were served punch, Mrs. C. K. Lowe, Miss Wanda Cook, classmate of the bride elect, Mrs. R. L. Dickerson, Mrs. J. J. Walters, and Mrs. A. G. Rudy sang a medley of old fashioned love songs which included excerpts from "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet," "Daisies Won't Tell," "When You and I Were Young Maggie," and "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

Out of town guests were Mrs. Woodie Smith, mother of the groom, and Merle and Billie Smith, sisters of Mr. Smith. Mrs. Walter Connell of Lamesa, aunt and godmother of Miss Everett, also attended. She is to be matron of honor at the wedding. Miss Beverly Wells of Lamesa will be maid of honor.

Informal Club In Meeting At Mrs. McNew's Home

The Informal Bridge Club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Homer McNew for a pleasant session of contract bridge.

Mrs. Lee Hansen, of Lamesa, was the only guest.

High score was won by Mrs. Young.

Members attending were: Misses J. B. Young, C. W. Cunningham, J. D. Biles, W. W. Inkman, V. Van Gleason, Steve Ford and George Wilke.

Mrs. Van Gleason will be the next hostess.

P. D. Nye and daughter of Tulsa, Okla., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Schnitzer.

Let Me Entertain For You For the next few months I am going to open my home in Edwards Heights to the society women of Big Spring for the purpose of entertaining bridge parties, church socials, or any other kind of social functions.

Brotherhood Auxiliary Drill Team Wins Honor

The members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen who went to Albuquerque, Wednesday to represent the local organization and the town of Big Spring, captured a large percentage of honors at the tri-state convention.

One of the most interesting features of the convention was the competitive drills put on by towns of the three states, Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. In this drill the Big Spring team won second place, so close that it was almost a tie, the team ranking 1-3 below first team.

On this drill team were: Mmes. O. T. Arnold, captain; F. G. Sholte, W. V. Rice, Frank Wilson, Harry McTier, Sam Barbee, J. F. Skalkiey, George Mims, Alfred Moody, J. H. Johnson, Ralph Smith and J. B. Schultz; and Misses John Anna Barbee, Ina Deason, Ina and Martine Simmons, Rudd and Mamie Leach.

The other two Auxiliary members who went were Mrs. A. B. Wade and Mrs. E. L. Deason. Both of these helped with the baiting for candidates.

Four men also attending the convention to represent the local brotherhood. They were: Messrs. A. B. Wade, E. L. Deason, F. G. Sholte and W. V. Rice.

The team and delegates are expected home tonight.

Mrs. Miller Honoree For Nice Shower

Susannah Class Has Surprise Party For Bride

Mrs. Claude Miller, formerly Miss Margaret Vastine, was given a beautiful miscellaneous shower Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. A. Myers assisted by Mrs. H. N. Robinson and Mrs. Bess Bell.

The honoree was told that there was to be a committee meeting of the Susannah Wesley class of the First Methodist Sunday School of which her mother is president, and was ushered in after all other guests had assembled.

There was a brief program consisting of games and numbers by Joe Robert Myers, hand harmonica solo "Forty-Second Street" and "Shuffle Off to Buffalo." The honoree gave a clever reading.

There were bridal contests dealing with flowers, and a dressing of clothes pins in which the honoree won the prize and was entitled to shot at a large heart. Her lucky shot brought her the game which was the shower of gifts.

While she was unwrapping and admiring these the hostesses served a sandwich plate containing sandwiches, olives, mints, potato chips and iced tea in pink and green.

The dining table was unusually lovely. It was centered with an old-fashioned crocheted cloth given Mrs. Robinson as a wedding gift. On this was a bridal cake surmounted by a couple standing under an altar of orange blossoms and a bell. Green glassware and pink doilies and napkins were used to carry out the color scheme and pink streamer extended from the cake to the chandelier.

The following guests were present: Mmes. Tom Vastine, mother of the bride, Miller, J. B. Delbridge, Wayne Parish, J. L. Hudson, Ruth Barnes, Arthur Pickle, John Chaney, W. O. Thompson, C. D. Herring, F. V. Gates, Charles Morris, and Miss Ruby Smith and Billy Robinson.

Those who sent gifts but could not attend were: Mrs. C. E. Shive, Arthur Woodall, Felton Smith, Morris Burns, B. W. Boyd, Miss Lillian Anderson and little Miss Mary Jean Bell.

Mrs. A. Schnitzer Has Dainty Party

Mrs. A. Schnitzer entertained the members of the Lucky Thirteen Bridge Club Friday with a dainty party in which the colors of orchid and white were carried out by means of cut flowers and the refreshment plate.

Cut roses in vases furnished the floral note.

Members' high score went to Mrs. Burns, who received a what-not set, and visitors' high to Mrs. Edwards who received a novelty door knocker.

Visitors were: Mmes. L. A. Talley, W. K. Edwards, Vivian Nichols, J. L. Rush, E. W. Sanford, of Tulsa, Okla., and Frank Jones.

An ice course was served to the visitors and following members: Mmes. H. G. Keaton, Cecil Col-

Local RNA's Entertain Convention

Many Guests And Visitors Enjoy All Day Session

At the one-day district meeting of the Royal Neighbors of America held in Big Spring Thursday Pecos was selected as the convention city for the 1934 meeting which will be held in October.

Mrs. Cleo Dyers of this city presided over the business meeting at which the following officers were elected: Mrs. Callie Holloway, Pecos, president; Mrs. Iva Wadley, Pecos, vice president; Mrs. Lou Zila Hubba, Pecos, recording secretary; Mrs. Myrtle Cowan, Pecos, marshal; Mrs. Rose Rutledge, Wink, chancellor.

The sessions were held in the Woodman Hill which was beautifully decorated in the R. N. A. colors of purple and white.

Two distinguished visitors were Mrs. E. Huskey, of Groesville, state supervisor, and Mrs. Vashita Ward Tripp, of Hobbs, N. M., organizer of the hostess camp, No. 7277 in 1912. Other visitors came from Camp 7550 Big Spring, Pecos, Wink, McCamey and Hobbs, N. M.

The morning sessions was devoted to matters of business, opening at 10 o'clock. A class for adoption was held, including Mmes. C. B. Parker, P. S. Clements and Frank Earley.

Mrs. Huskey held a school of instruction in the morning.

Nice gifts were presented to Mrs. Huskey and Mrs. Tripp at the close of the morning session.

During the lunch hour Martin's Rhythm Club furnished music. Rev. S. J. Shetterworth, pastor of the First Christian Church, gave the invocation. Lunch was served to 125 guests.

In the afternoon the R. N. A. held an open house to which visitors and friends were invited. The following program was given:

Welcome address, Veda Robinson; response by Mrs. Huskey, violin solo by Elmo Martin, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Morn Martin; piano solo by Miss Helen Duley; reading by Sylvia Pond; violin duet by Elmo Martin and Margaret Wade; piano trio by the three Dodge sisters; reading by Mary Pond; music by the Rhythm Club; reading by Margaret Wade; address by Mrs. Huskey, reading by Veda Robinson; drill by the Pecos camp; drill by the hostess team; song and R. N. A. yell by the Hobbs camp; report of state meeting by Mrs. Callie Holloway. Ice cream and cake were served at the close of the program.

The convention was concluded by a sight seeing tour of the city in cars furnished by the Chamber of Commerce and a picnic at the City Park in the evening.

New Museum Home Being Made Ready

Paint Job Finished, Relics Moved In, Being Placed Now

The West Texas Memorial Museum that heron in the activities of the history classes taught by Mrs. Mary Bumpass at the high school is fast becoming a reality with a home of its own that is a credit not only to the city but to West Texas at large.

All the construction work on the old City Hall, which is to be the new home, was finished this week, thanks to the public-hearted citizens of the town, says Mrs. Bumpass.

She declares that the building could never have been finished without the help of firms who contributed material for it or the painters who finished the work.

The two painters who donated half time work were J. E. Sanders and Cecil Jones. Two others who offered their services for an eight work necessary were J. R. Chaney and Roy Lay.

The firms who contributed material, such as lumber, paint, hardware, etc. were: S. P. Jones Lumber Co., Burton Lingo Lumber Co.,

Wings, Morris Burns, R. W. Henry, Hayes Strippling and O. M. Waters.

Mrs. Strippling will be the next hostess.

Out Of Town Visitor Is Honor Guest At Parties

Mrs. Ray Simmons entertained at the Settles Hotel Friday morning with a charming bridge luncheon honoring Mrs. William Winn who has recently arrived from Fort Worth to make her home here, and Mrs. Jack Cunningham, of Corsicana, a guest of Mrs. Wilburn Barcus.

During the play Mrs. Winn made high score for which she was presented with a lacquered tray. She was also favored with a vanity set as guest prize. Mrs. Cunningham was given a georgette handkerchief for guest prize.

High cut was a rose jar and was won by Mrs. Selton.

The guests of the morning were: Mmes. C. S. Blomsheld, Elmo Watson, J. Y. Robb, M. H. Bennett, Tom Helton, C. K. Bivings, E. J. Mary, S. V. Spence, H. D. Elias, Wilburn Barcus, Paige Benbow, Mrs. Paul Ashley Williams, R. W. Hays, J. B. Young, V. Van Gleason, Mrs. Rogers and Miss Lucile Rogers.

It will probably require two weeks to get everything in place and properly catalogued, says Mrs. Bumpass. The number of relics on hand is greater than supposed. Mrs. Bumpass is remaining over instead of returning to her family in Fort Worth, until the move is made and the formal opening held.

Those who have anything to donate are asked to keep in mind that it is easier to make a proper display of all articles if they are on hand when the first arrangements are made than if they are given later and must be made to fit into a plan already outlined.

Mrs. Foosee Hostess To Delta Han Around

Mrs. H. G. Keaton was hostess to the members of the Delta Han Aropan' Bridge club Friday afternoon for a very delightful party.

Roses were the flowers used for decoration. Pie a la mode was served at the refreshment hour.

Miss Allen received a cake plate for club high and Miss Cole a crystal relish dish for high cut. Mrs. Bostler made visitors' high and was favored with a candy jar.

Members and visitors attending were: Mmes. Herbert Whitney, J. S. King, E. C. Bostler, Cecil Mitchell; Misses Irena Barnett, Joe Cole, Mary Allen and Dollie King of De Funiac Springs, Florida.

Mrs. King will be the next hostess.

Carl Blomsheld made a business trip to Lamesa Saturday morning.

Baptists Open Forsan Meeting

Forsan Baptist church opens a two weeks' revival campaign Sunday morning with Rev. Woodie W. Smith, pastor of the Big Spring East Fourth Baptist church, evangelist, beginning with the Monday services.

A. E. Trevis, pastor of the church, announced there would be two services on Sunday and one each evening during the length of the meeting.

Rev. and Mrs. Travis will likely furnish music for the campaign.

Mrs. Cunningham was also the honor guest for a delightful bridge breakfast served at the Settles Hotel Saturday morning by Mrs. C. S. Blomsheld, at which five tables of players were present.

Everybody is Talking Pontiac

"BALANCED VALUE"

EVERYBODY is talking Pontiac this year. Why? We should like to tell you what we believe are some of the reasons.

Different people like it for different qualities. The artist, for example, stresses its appearance. The business man is impressed by its durability and economy. Others especially like its roomy comfort and its safety. A boy or a girl is thrilled by nothing so much as its performance.

Yet none of these people would be satisfied with a car that had only the one feature they talk about.

Even the man who talks most about his car's pick-up and speed, also wants durability, comfort, safety, appearance and economy.

That's Balanced Value—and that is why everybody is talking Pontiac this year. Ask any Pontiac owner. Any Pontiac dealer will gladly give you a demonstration. Drive it yourself. Try it out in any way you can think of.

Shortage Of Whisky Seen

Lifting Of Regulations On Medicinal Liquor Is Cause

WASHINGTON (UP)—The liberalized medicinal liquor regulations have faced the treasury with the possibility of a shortage in whisky and officials are considering a proposal to speed up distillery production to meet the situation.

but James M. Doran, commissioner of industrial alcohol, said preliminary survey indicated there had been a severe drain upon the present stocks. In addition, he said, if the prohibition amendment should be repealed, there was a possibility of 4,500,000 gallons of spirits in warehouses, besides 6,000,000 gallons which will begin to mature in the fall.

Only 7,000 Left

A survey just completed brings the interesting information that of all that gallant host which followed Lee and Jackson and Forrest through the four years of the War between the States, only 7,000 remain alive.

This figure was arrived at by examining the pension rolls of the various Southern states. It was found that the south spends $8,000,000 in the form of pensions to Confederate veterans and their widows. The 7,000 total was based on eight of the ten states.

It is figured that the youngest veteran is at least 85 years old. One state, Arkansas, estimates that the mortality among the veterans is now about ten per cent annually, and in five years here will be hardly more than a handful left.

IT WAS A "BARGAIN" WHEN SHE BOUGHT IT

● These days, many a product that looked like a bargain at the store becomes only a disappointment at home.

It is easy to account for such mistakes in buying. Just as easy to avoid them, if you know why they are made.

When families have little money to spend, all manufacturers try to reduce the price of their merchandise. Those who have built a reputation for quality guard it jealously, lowering the prices of their products as far as they can without sacrificing any of the quality you always look for.

Other manufacturers go too far in their efforts to sell goods. To make a low price still lower, they sometimes reduce quality. Or bring out entirely new products of lower grade.

You may be told these products are "just as good" as the brands you know by experience, by their advertising, or the reputations of their makers. But all too frequently, they are urged upon you only because they pay maker and dealer a higher margin of profit.

Remember these facts when you shop, and you will look for genuine bargains among brands you recognize. Many of these brands now cost less than they have in years.

When you buy them you pay a low price, but an honest one that assures highest quality, complete satisfaction. ●

CHAPTER XXXIV

The second day out Monnie, bundled in a rug, glanced up from her book to see the tall girl Corinth Faneway, walking with her husband. Young Mrs. Faneway wore the most exquisite of casual costumes of pale fawn tweed. The little hat set at precisely the right angle, the big loose gloves and low-heeled shoes were exactly right. The tall girl gave Monnie a nod and then, apparently obeying a sudden impulse, stopped beside her chair.

"You know my husband, Miss O'Dare? Oh, I'd forgotten. Harris, this is Miss O'Dare." She gave Monnie a slow, dazzling smile and the younger girl felt her vagrant charm. She had a sweet, high, careless voice and the manner of one with the world at her feet. Monnie felt drawn to her and yet curiously repelled.

"I haven't seen Arthur this morning. Have you?" The words seemed to have some significance which Monnie missed but she colored slightly as she replied. No, she said, she hadn't seen Mr. Mackenzie. Not at luncheon.

"Probably in the bar," supplied Harris Faneway. "Shall we have a look there?"

They drifted on, with a casual nod. Monnie tried to read again but the encounter had left her with a disturbed feeling. It was not envy she felt for Corinth Faneway—surely not that—but this other girl was so beautiful, so sure of herself. She reminded Monnie in some subtle way of Sandra, although Sandra would have paled to insignificance beside her. Monnie did not want to think of Sandra now. She wanted to look ahead—not backward.

Presently, putting her novel aside, she went to find Miss Anstie. That lady was just walking from her nap.

"Did you have a nice time, my dear?" she asked. "Such a wonderful rest I had. I feel quite refreshed!" Miss Anstie was patting her silvery curls into place.

"Oh, I'd quite forgotten. Mr. Mackenzie sent a note by the steward—such a nice note—asking if we would dine with him tonight. Don't you think that would be lovely?"

Monnie said faintly that she thought it would be quite delightful, but her tone lacked enthusiasm and Miss Anstie glanced at her sharply. The child must be feeling the motion of the boat, she decided. Monnie looked rather pale. Or perhaps it had been that salmon mayonnaise at luncheon. Miss Anstie never quite trusted salmon mayonnaise.

Monnie could not have explained quite why she wished to avoid the magnificent Mr. Arthur Mackenzie. Surely he was all that anyone could wish in the way of a waveling companion. He was urbane, witty, wise, a man of the world with a fund of amusing tales at his tongue's end. Perhaps it was, she thought, the way he looked at her. There was something in the glance from those dark, deep shadowed eyes which reminded her of a cat getting ready to pounce. Oh, but that was nonsense! She was letting her imagination run away with itself.

The dinner frock she selected that night was one chosen with the greatest possible care when he had made a flying trip to the city to spend the money her mother had given her. It was of pale cream lace, demurely cut in front but sheared away at the back to show her lovely shoulders. It had been a bargain. One of those slim, cheap, effective frocks which the young wear so charmingly. She had been delighted on finding it but tonight she was dissatisfied with her reflection in the mirror. The glass gave back the portrait of a girl with wide starry eyes under a gleaming cap of burnished bronze hair.

Monnie had, of course, no jewels to wear and her velvet wrap was an old one. Miss Anstie, in silver lame which marked her new prosperity, approved of her. "You look sweet enough to eat, my dear. The young men will be overwhelmed."

Monnie smiled politely. Miss Anstie was kind, but she hated her own looks. They were so ingenuously unfinished. If she had only the poise, the unattached assurance of Corinth Faneway she would be content.

"More lipstick, my dear," Miss Anstie urged. "You can carry it off. It doesn't look bold. Thank heaven, I'm not so old style as my sister, Lida. She thinks every woman who uses cosmetics is on the straight road to perdition." Miss Anstie laughed her tinkling laugh.

The dining room steward who had seated them the night before conducted them now to a large round table decorated in gale fashion.

Arthur Mackenzie, seeming taller and more imposing in his dinner clothes, rose to greet them. There were half a dozen others already at table. Among them Monnie recognized only Corinth and Harris Faneway. Corinth was dazzling in a frock of scarlet. The gray-haired man next to Miss An-stie was a railroad president from the west. The tall red-haired woman with the flashing eyes whom Monnie had observed walking the deck with her Sealyham was evidently an actress. Corinth Faneway said to her negligently, "I loved your play. It was marvelous."

"Did you, my dear?" The red-haired woman flashed a smile around the table. She had a deep, thrilling voice and her pearls were magnificent. Monnie thought. She was startled, therefore, to hear Faneworth's whisper a moment later.

"Woolworth's," he murmured, jerking his handsome head in the direction of the red-haired woman.

Monnie could scarcely believe he had spoken, so impassive was his lean broken countenance. She supposed he must be right. Probably you were born a Faneway but you know all about such things. Monnie felt sorry for the red-haired woman. Perhaps she, too, didn't belong in this group. Mr. Faneway at least seemed to regard her as an outsider. He was so elegant, so cynical for one so young. He seemed to have been born bored.

The dinner progressed from one course to another. Wine stewards came and went, jangling their keys, pouring pale colored liquids into crystal stemmed glasses. The railroad president drank unbut and talked. Monnie thought him very pleasant, although grim. Harris Faneway drank and grew more monosyllabic. Corinth drank and laughed a great deal, her lovely mouth twisting cynically as she spoke.

Monnie left the glass at her plate untouched. She needed no such spur to make the party exciting. The scene itself was enough for her—the beautifully gowned women, the imperturbable men of affairs, the well-trained servants moving to and fro. Her eye flashed a message to Miss Anstie. "This is life—at last I am seeing it. The Great World!"

Miss Anstie flashed back, wordlessly. "You are right. Make the most of it!"

Recklessly Monnie decided that she would take whatever came on this adventure as a gift from the gods. She would be young only once. This was her golden opportunity.

It was in this mood she rose with the others from the table. "Some of us are playing contract in the salon," Mackenzie said to her in a low tone. "Do you care to join?"

Monnie looked up, smiling. "I'm afraid I'm not clever enough. I don't play well."

His tone was relieved rather than otherwise. "Good. I'm not playing myself. Will you take a turn on the deck with me?"

She assented and, after seeing Miss Anstie comfortably established at a table, strolled with her host on the almost deserted promenade. It was a clear, cool night of high winds and friendly stars. Belvedere and all her old problems seemed far away.

"You like—all this?" His long arm included the dancers within, the rhythmic pound of the unseen band, the slip-slip of feet.

"Oh, yes."

"Nothing to be desired, eh?"

Monnie withdrew her eyes and a sigh that was like a stab escaped her. "No—I wouldn't say that."

The older man eyed her keenly. "Never the time and place and the loved one together?" he said ruminatively.

"I suppose that's it," admitted the girl ruefully. Then she turned aside in embarrassment. How easily this lynx-eyed man had guessed her secret. Did she, then, wear her heart on her sleeve for all to see?

But Arthur Mackenzie evidently dismissed the subject. "Do you know," he began in a low voice, "that you were quite the sensation in the dining room tonight?"

Monnie stared. Surely this man was making fun of her.

"But I am perfectly serious," he insisted. "Corinth was greeneyed—didn't you notice?—and everybody here were whispering. Who is the golden girl?"

Ninth Year In City Started By Pastor

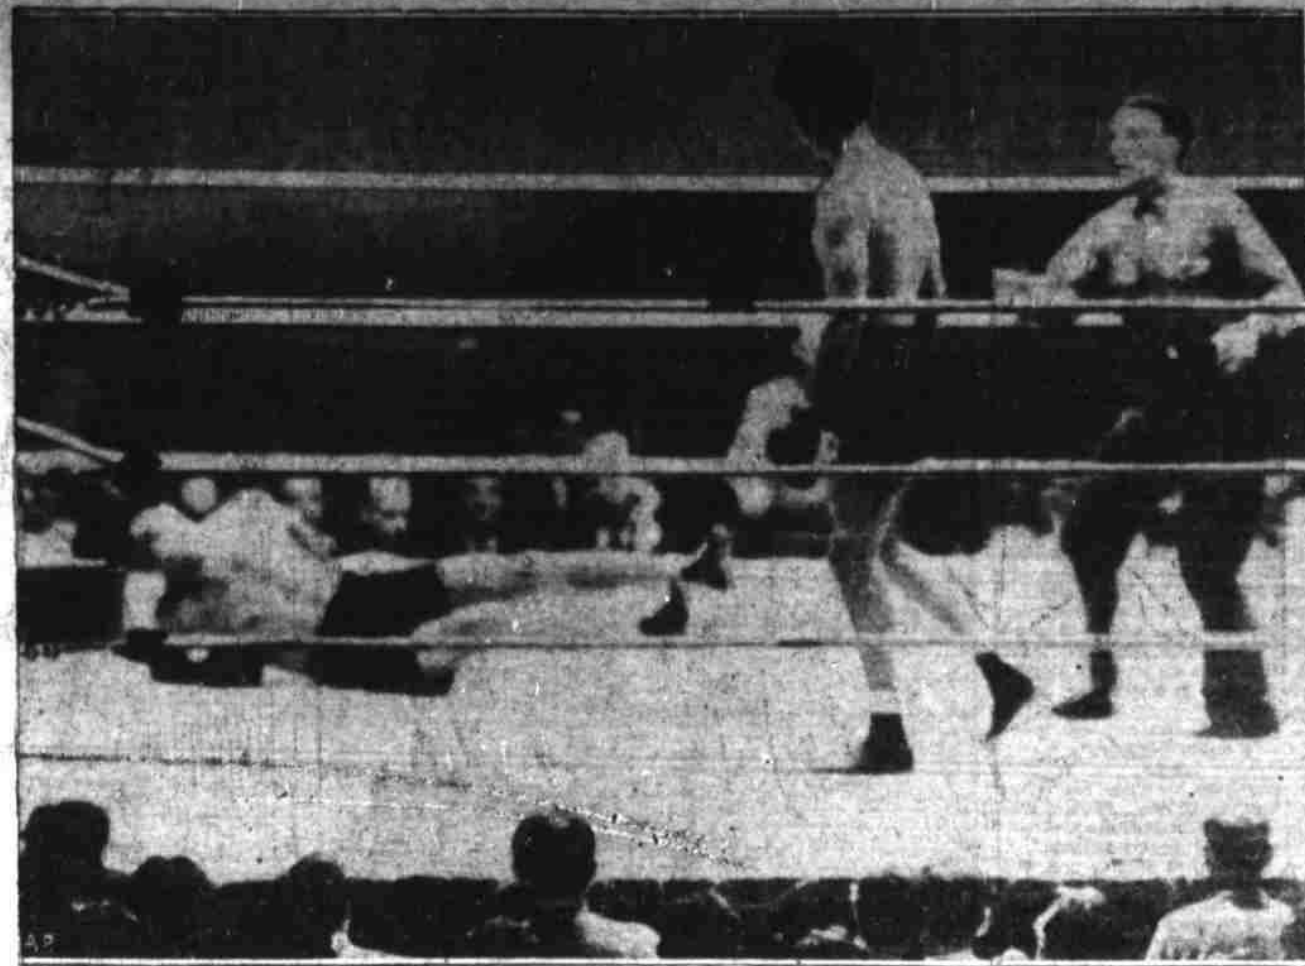

Rev. Woodie D. Hall, pictured above, has launched upon his ninth year as pastor of the Assembly of God church located in the western section of Big Spring. On conclusion of the pastor's eighth year, R. L. Smith, secretary of the church, issued a statement regarding the pastor's record here. He said Rev. Hall "has served this church as pastor for eight years and his labors and efforts have proven a wonderful success and of benefit to many people of this locality."

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) White House were the hard-boiled boys. Some leaders less sympathetic with the administration attitude were not invited. The absentees included Chairman Doughton of the House Ways and Means Committee. Mr. Roosevelt did not threaten to veto the bill. That would have permitted Congress to pass the bill to him. Instead he told them they must raise $17,000,000 more taxes if they softened the Veterans' cuts. He realized Congressmen have been known to hide under a soft rather than vote more taxes.

He boys are cooking up a sugar backstage now. Administration experts are holding a series of conferences with various agencies of the industry. The idea is to work out an alternate plan satisfactory to all. The whiplash is that the administration wants to put the allotment into effect between November 1 and January 2. It wants the agreement signed before August 1 so a reciprocity treaty with Cuba may be side the Chinese Wall is to extract a treaty of peace. This treaty is to be a little gift from the Japanese to the Chinese.

For a long time Japanese business has been glumly watching an annual trade of 800,000,000 yen in China slip away to America and Europe. But it had to pipe down its feelings and about for Manchuria.

Now that the army has all of the four Eastern provinces in its pocket a faint protest from business is arising. And the army is willing to give a little thing like a peace treaty to those who have paid its bills.

Japan had hoped a white back that internal conflict in North China would give her a chance to line up with some faction or other and come riding inside the Wall on at least a part of a wave of welcome. These hopes have been dashed since China refused to stir up a civil war for the purpose.

The intercollegiate score in the Morgan partnership is Harvard 7, Yale 5, Harvard has three Morgans, two Lamonts, Whitney and Newhall. Yale has Cochran, Leffingwell, Stanley, Dickey and Davison which Sears Roebuck has spent $20,000,000 to build inventories within a few months. New York department stores have begun to buy more liberally also.

City Commission

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) vided in the last annual budget. The total reduction in appropriations proposed in the 1933-34 budget, as compared with the 1932-33 budget is $1,785,955 counting reduction in items for operating the city government and the reduction in the debt requirement. In submitting the budget the city manager told the commission that he had arrived at the various items with two thoughts in mind: to operate the city as economically and as cheaply as possible; to preserve services to the public by the various departments. It is the commission's authority to make any changes in the proposed budget that they may desire. Public hearing on the budget will be held at the city hall June 21, at 8 p. m. All property owners and other residents are invited to attend.

For the fiscal year 1930-31 a total of $177,384.01 was expended. In the 1931-32 fiscal year expenditures totaled $135,478.41. During the fiscal year ended last March 31 expenditures totaled $96,353.64, which was $2,800 less than the amount provided in the budget. Appropriations recommended for the coming year total $90,743.72.

Proposed appropriations by departments: Administrative, $12,606.60, $1,455.59 less than expended last year; police department $9,029-$35.95 less than last year's expenditures; fire department, $11,040-$255.97 less than last year's expenditures; health and welfare department, $4,304.02-$2,825 less than last year's expenditures; street department, $14,462-$2,177.34 less than expended last year; water department, $28,762.30-$5,886.75 less than last year's expenditures; sewer department, $2,700-$1,248.42 more than last year's expenses; park department, $2,879-$2,324.17 less than last year.

Expenditures for the city attorney's salary would be cut from $1,800 to $1,200 for the year, for the city manager from $4,400 to $4,200. In the police department places of two men who resigned during the year are not being filled. Two men in the fire department will not be replaced. One man, whose pay was carried in the budget, is not being replaced. Another man, who was listed in another department last year,

Opens Second Year In Pastorage Here

WOODIE W. SMITH, above, pastor of the East Fourth Street Baptist church, will begin his second year as pastor of that congregation this Sunday's services.

Rev. Smith, who has just ended a very successful revival meeting at Post, will fill his pulpit here at both services today. In compliance with many requests he will deliver his famous message, "Breaking The Alabaster Box" at the morning service. There will be special music by the choir.

During his first year with the local church it has advanced materially. More than 250 new members have been received, $12,000 in cash raised for all purposes. The church has used the largest proportion of its income for missions of any Baptist church in this section of the state, it was declared. The Sunday School has earned, and continues to hold Standard ratings.

Mattern

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) whence he will hop for the North American continent. Although unreported in Moscow after passing Irkutsk early Saturday, he should have met fair weather conditions over the route into Khabarovsk.

MOSCOW, (Saturday)—Jimmie Mattern was speeding toward Khabarovsk, jumping off place for the trans Pacific leg of his round-the-world flight, after taking off at 1:50 a. m. Moscow time (5:30 p. m.) Berkeley, N. B. The Texas aviator passed over Irkutsk, Siberia, at 2:30 a. m. Moscow (6:20 p. m. Friday eastern standard time). He was hopelessly behind the pace set by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty when they hung up the world circling record of eight days, 15 hours and 51 minutes in 1931.

6-13 Days from N. Y. Mattern, however, had made a quick recovery from a mishap in the air which almost cost him his life, and he was on his way to set up an enviable mark for the first solo flight around the globe.

At the time Mattern was reported to have passed over Irkutsk, he was six days, 15 hours, 9 minutes out of New York. Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, who set up the world-girdling record of eight days, 15 hours and 51 minutes which Mattern had hoped to beat, left Irkutsk when they were only three days, 22 hours and 14 minutes out of New York. It is 1,370 miles from Irkutsk to Khabarovsk. Post and Gatty resigned and will not be replaced. One man is listed under the sewer department, who was listed in another department last year.

brought their plane down in a bog at Hlagovestchenok on the flight and it took 14 1/2 hours to release it from the mud. They were delayed 20 1/2 hours at Khabarovsk, whence they flew to a beach near Nome.

Their remaining stops into New York—on this beach; at Fairbanks, Alaska; Edmonton, Alberta, and Cleveland, Ohio—consumed only 19 hours and 14 minutes in all.

By the Associated Press NEW YORK—Jimmie Mattern, flying alone around the globe, was advised by his backers Friday to "fly it safe" for the remaining 1,300 miles of his trip.

Conceding Mattern could not lower the Harold Gatty-Wiley Post record of eight days, 15 hours and 51 minutes, the flier's backers cabled him suggesting he have his plane, Century of Progress, completely conditioned.

With only 60 hours left to fly about 7,000 miles, Mattern's backers conceded it would be impossible for him to break the record unless he flew non-stop. They said it would be unwise for him to attempt to fly such a distance non-stop.

Two cables dispatched to Mattern advised him not to "take any risks" to get a complete rest and have his gas lines, landing strut and stabilizer, all damaged during his flight, carefully repaired. There is, Mattern's backers said, no reason why he should endanger his life in any way.

National

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) Taxing Section The greatest changes in the long day and night session came as the senate bore down into the taxing section. In rapid succession it voted for throwing income tax returns open to public inspection and then lifted the exemption that thus far has held tax free the income from securities of the federal, state and municipal governments.

As the measure went back to the house, one of the principal differences in the form in which it came from that branch lay in the taxation provisions. The house had voted to raise the rates on income, in addition to lifting the present levies on gasoline.

Voicing the belief that industry should bear a greater part of the burden for financing the activities of the measure, Chairman Harrison of the senate finance committee obtained agreement to a plan for putting additional taxes on corporations.

The vote on the sales tax, proposed by Senator Reed (R-Penn.) Walsh (D. Mass.) and Byrd (D. Va.) was 56 to 28.

No New Money Only a short time before the sales tax vote, taken as the senate settled down deep into a long drawn out night session, a proposal to pay with new money for the $3,300,000 of public works to be undertaken in the bill also was rejected.

The senate also refused to eliminate the 1-2 cent a gallon increase in the federal gasoline tax, defeating an amendment by Senator Gore (D. Okla.) by 46 to 36.

Exemptions An amendment by Walsh, (D-Mass.) exempting religious, charitable and educational organizations, home building and mutual savings associations, and insurance companies from the proposed 5 per cent tax on corporation dividends was approved by 72 to 7.

An administration amendment by Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, setting aside $100,000,000 of the bills authorization for administration of the farm relief act, including the leasing and rental of lands to decrease production, was approved.

In the public works section, the senate accepted by 65 to 20 amendments on corporation dividends was approved by 72 to 7. An administration amendment by Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, setting aside $100,000,000 of the bills authorization for administration of the farm relief act, including the leasing and rental of lands to decrease production, was approved.

by Russell (D-Ga.)—permits extension of the bill's benefits to states, counties and municipalities notwithstanding constitutional provisions against their borrowing money.

A committee amendment, backed by Rankhead (D-Ala.), making $25,000,000 available for loans for purchasing homesteads to aid "in the redistribution of population in industrial centers" also was approved.

The senate approved an amendment by McCarran (D-Nev.) permitting the president to allocate $20,000,000 for the government to maintain scientific and research experimental farms or do such work on reclamation projects.

At conclusion of the program, of which Ray Wilcox was chairman, Garland Woodward, another charter member, made tribute to Dr. Dillard as a Kiwanian and told of his work with Boy Scouts and for benefit of underprivileged children. Dr. Dillard, who has been associated here about six years with Dr. G. T. Hall and M. H. Bennett, has served the past two years as a vice-president of the Buffalo Trail Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, and has devoted much time to aiding children suffering various handicaps.

Sport-Lines

BY TOM BEASLEY

BIG LEAGUE The Tri-County baseball league seems to be drawing considerable attention down the line. Evidently, publicity given the league by The Herald, Abilene and Fort Worth papers have a great appeal to would-be ball players, as several applications with good references have been received by league officials. Such applications, however, are all in vain, as the loop is operating on a strictly amateur basis, just for the love of the game.

HELPS! Considerable trouble has been encountered in trying to figure batting averages of Tri-County sluggers, as only about one-half of the box scores have been turned in to The Herald. The old veteran Sammy Sain informed us that even if we did have the box scores they wouldn't be right. "What a bunch."

BIG PUSH Shirley Robbins reported one swell time at a marvelous golf meet after returning from the West Texas Golf tournament at Wichita Falls. The local golfers are all primed to make a strong bid for the '34 tourney and have a good chance to get it.

BIG MUSS The Kat Klaw Golf League, as far as Big Spring is concerned, is just one big mess, and to other Thorny teams, the Big Spring lot is just a pain in the neck.

POPULAR SPORT Frank Etter, the local roque shark, will have charge of a roque tournament to be staged here in connection with the "Carnival of Values." The city will condition the grounds and put them in first class shape for the big event. Roque has rapidly become a favorite past-time, and numerous tournaments are scheduled for the summer.

P. E.—Etter may be located practically any evening on the city park courts. HOPEFUL Not here are up in the air with joy these days over an announcement that two good clay tennis courts might be built in the City Park.

DOUBLE-HEADER The Col-Tex nine is supposed to play a double-header at Ackerly today to make up for a game rained out a few weeks ago.

WHERE'S YOUR LOYALTY? Just a word to the local merchants: If you like to see a good baseball game, help a winning team secure uniforms. It looks mighty bad to see the local team playing in overalls when towns much smaller than ours are diked out in new uniforms. Any donations will be gratefully received by this department or league officials and the donor will be given due credit.

Difficulty in making up enough players to go out of town caused the second string golfers to withdraw from the Kat Klaw Golf League Saturday.

Cash advances up to 50 per cent of the value may be made on any home against which there is no other indebtedness. This, though, will carry a 6 per cent interest against the 5 per cent on outright mortgages.

CHURCHES

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN "Concentration in Prayer," and "Job-Groping" will be the subjects at the First Presbyterian church Sunday at 11 and 8:15 respectively. These form the second step in the series on prayer which will continue throughout this month.

FIRST BAPTIST Sunday School 9:45. Preaching at 11 a. m. Morning subject, "Testing Experiences Life." B. T. S. meets at 7:30 and preaching at 8:30. Night subject, "A Rebellious People." Note the time of the evening service. A special invitation extended all new comers to Big Spring to worship here. Good singing, and a gospel message and a welcome awaits you.

ST. MARY'S EPISCOPAL The Trinity Sunday school service June 11 at St. Mary's Episcopal church will open at 9:45 a. m. Morning prayer service will be opened at 11 a. m. in charge of Amos R. Wood, H. S. Faw and Robert Utley. Rev. W. H. Martin will conduct Holy Communion services at the church of Holy Trinity at Midland on the 11th.

FIRST METHODIST Men's Bible class at regular hour, 9:45, with Grover Cunningham acting as teacher in absence of regular teacher, Rev. J. Richard Spann. Regular Sunday School, Miss Nell Hatch, superintendent, will convene at 9:45 a. m. Morning services at 11 o'clock, with Rev. D. W. Dodson, professor of Bible at McMurry college, Abilene, will fill the pulpit. In the evening, Rev. Crawford, pastor of Wesley Memorial church, Big Spring, will deliver the sermon in absence of pastor, Rev. Spann, who is holding a young peoples' educational school at Weeds, N. M. He is expected to return some time next week.

CHURCH OF CHRIST Trine Starnes, an unusually able young minister, will fill the pulpit this morning and this evening at the Church of Christ, in absence of the local minister, Melvin J. Wise, who is conducting a series of revival services at Colorado.

Credit Bureaus of Texas Name Local Man As Executive Although he was unable to attend its recent convention in Galveston the Retail Credit Bureaus of Texas elected L. A. Eubanks a member of its executive board for the coming year.

Mr. Eubanks is manager of the Retail Merchants association here and is considerably in demand as a speaker and instructor at meetings of credit organizations of the state.

Relief Conference To Be Held In City Mrs. G. I. Phillips, chamber of commerce secretary, was notified Saturday by Manager C. T. Watson, that a district meeting of relief and public works committees would be held here Wednesday evening. It is probable that Lawrence Westbrook, state relief director, will appear before the meeting.

RELEASED ON BOND George Thompson was released on $750 bond facing charges of possessing illegally intoxicating liquor. He pleaded guilty to a vagrancy charge in justice court and was fined. C. W. Robinson signed the complaints.

DOLLAR NOT TO RETURN TO GOLD, SAYS MORRISON LONDON (AP)—Opinion that there was not the slightest belief in the United States that the dollar would be returned to gold parity was expressed Saturday in a press interview by Ralph W. Morrison, Texan, member of the American delegation to the world economic conference.

If the dollar were returned to the old basis, there would be the greatest debacle in prices "ever seen," Morrison asserted. Asked whether 12 cents per pound for cotton would be payable to the administration, Morrison said a lower figure would be satisfactory.

Two Kansas Convicts Taken Near Junction SAN ANGELO (AP)—Billie Wood and Clifford Dopsom, who escaped with nine others from Kansas state prisoners at Lansing, May 30, were arrested at a school house southwest of Junction Saturday.

"THE NEW DEAL" June

"The New Deal" replaces "Humanity" and we can not help taking off our hat to the editor for the new title. Good as "Humanity" was, this is even better; it is more in keeping with the spirit of the times and with the aims of the magazine. If there is one thing that can be made for this magazine and its editor it is that both are forward-looking.

"The New Deal" is called the magazine of the forgotten man. We shall be interested in watching how the forgotten man receives it; we should like to have our ideals revisited by a show of gratitude in this world. If the editor, after a year, can say that the forgotten man has responded to the one man in the U.S.A. who thinks enough of him to dedicate a magazine to him we shall be glad to broadcast the fact.

We believe however that remembered men will also be interested in "The New Deal." It is a magazine for the person who thinks the very woodcut on the cover picturing the old god "Dough" tells one that.

Two dog stories and the concluding installment of 1930 appear as fiction in this issue. As before, we still consider that the editorials are the most uplifting. They are worth the price of the magazine alone. The article about Jefferson is worth the price alone; it is an article that Democrats should read and then pass on to their Republican friends. It transcends party divisions.

KALEIDOGRAPH June

In this issue we liked best "Rodeo Time" by C. Ken. We are sorry he belongs to Colorado and not to Texas. The poems follow: From the Staked Plains, and the River Grand.

From the Snake, and the Range where Custer died.

They gather again, a hardy band—Who said "The Old West is dead"—and has lied.

No creaking Concord now sinks a track
No emigrant train camps by the river,
But a bow-legged Waddy bends his back
To build a Brama—from a Flivver.

No thundering charge of Buffalo
Churns the sun baked flat to billowing dust,
But a surging crowd roars "Ho-Ah-Ho!"
To the broomtail hellion no man can "bust."

No whistling arrows now search the camp,
But a bronze with a hump breeds plenty ill,
And "sand-in-the-clay" is yet the stamp
Of a Man—where the skyline meets the hills.

The living flame of our heritage
Burns in us all—and hearts beat full,
As the book of time turns back a page
To Carson and Cody and Sitting Bull.

Son Of Local Woman And Bride-To-Be End Visit

Eddie Brown and his fiancée, Miss Nettie Lee Meeker, left Saturday morning after a brief visit with Mr. Brown's mother, Mrs. T. C. Thomas, and Mr. Thomas.

The couple will be married in Temple, at the home of the bride, on June 25, and will go immediately to Galveston, to begin a boat journey to New York. Miss Meeker, a graduate of Abilene Christian college, has been teaching in Ferris, Texas, the past year. Mr. Brown holds a responsible position with a nationally-known economics and commercial statistics organization.

Interest In Public Works Program Feature Of Texas Affairs During Past Week

Several Indexes Indicate Improvement But Lower Proportion Of Business Failure Outstanding Evidence

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press Staff Correspondent

DALLAS (UPI)—Local interest in the federal public works program dominated news from all over Texas during the week ending Friday, June 9.

From widely separated points came reports of plans to participate in the $250,000,000 expected to be available to Texas from the $3,300,000,000 provided in the administration's industrial recovery measure.

Harbor, flood control, paving, park and other self-liquidating construction projects were being outlined by city, county, school district and other officials in a score of different communities. The project in the aggregate will cost millions of dollars which the government is expected to supply in the form of self-liquidating loans.

Miscellaneous news of new industrial and business enterprises, increased payrolls, price rises and increased commodity sales continue to pour in from over the state.

Commercial failures continued to show a declining rate. The University of Texas Business Research Bureau reported that during the five weeks of May, 56 business firms went into bankruptcy, 30 per cent fewer than during the same period a year ago.

"Although a number of business indexes now show definite signs of business improvement," the bureau reported, "the record of commercial failures still stands out as the first in Texas to show a pronounced, and sustained favorable trend."

For almost a year, there have been fewer commercial failures in Texas each succeeding month than there were in the corresponding month the year before.

That the improvement noted in Texas was not a mere local or seasonal import was indicated by reports of southwestern shippers at the Dallas meeting of the Southwest Shippers' Advisory Board.

R. H. Bills, Houston, chairman of the cotton mills products committee said:

"Approximately 75 per cent of the textile mills in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas are operating full time. It is encouraging to note that the cotton market is rather strong and we feel if the price continues to rise it will be only a short time until all the mills will be operating at 100 per cent capacity."

J. W. McCann, Houston, chairman of the cotton committee, noted that cotton movements during the past quarter increased 300 per cent over the same period a year ago.

L. B. Spiller, Fort Worth, chairman of the livestock committee, reported improvement in the industry he represents with the price trend substantially upward, especially in the hog, wool and hide markets.

Chairman C. C. Cary, Shreveport, of the lumber committee, read a written report to the meeting which said in part:

"The lumber sales barometer shows that orders are running from 35 to 50 per cent over production. The outlook is for at least a 25 per cent increase in rail shipments for the third quarter over the same period in 1932."

Similar reports were made by six other committees.

Patrol hikes are coming into fashion. They permit the "gangs" of troops to enjoy "their own exclusive company."

Troop No. 5 opened its program Friday at the First Baptist church with pledge of allegiance to the flag with Dale Smith leading. Later a swimming hike was discussed.

Patrol leaders meeting was held after regular meeting. Games were played and the troop joined in two songs. The meeting was closed by joining hands and singing Taps.

Those present were Jack Dabney, Randall Lavelle, Howard McMahon, James Ogle, Dale Smith, Charles Smith, Charles Ray Sikes, Lloyd Stemper, John Stiff, Edward Tyson, Henry Day Tyrce, and Carlton Seabourne. Leonard Ogle, mascot, was also present. Hobby Dabney and Robert Westerman visited. Reporter, Carlton Seabourne.

Troop No. 3 report—The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag, led by Tommy Higgins, who was in charge of the meeting. Report of patrols and patrol meetings were held. Count was taken of those going to camp. Loy Acuff, scoutmaster, bought a truck and donated it's services to the troop. Discussion of a hike to 12 mile lake and a swimming party met with unanimous approval.

Those present were Halbert Woodward, Tommy Higgins, Jim Brigham, Aaron Mc Gee, Bobby McNew, Jimmie Myers, Sidney Melinger, J. B. Bronstiac, Austin and Wayne Burch, Lewis Coffey, A. J. Prager, Lawrence Liberty, Jordan Huffington, Harry and John Honschled, Harold Plumb and Loy Acuff, scoutmaster.

Ninth Year In City Started By Pastor

Rev. Woodie D. Hall, pictured above, has launched upon his ninth year as pastor of the Assembly of God church located in the western section of Big Spring.

On conclusion of the pastor's eighth year, R. L. Smith, secretary of the church, issued a statement praising the pastor's record here. He said Rev. Hall "has served this church as pastor for eight years and his labors and efforts have proven a wonderful success and of benefit to many people of this locality."
