Lions Hear Report of Activities of Red Cross Nurse

Nurse Tells School Work of District

Miss Ahlschier Makes Address Before Lions Club

Miss Antoinette Ahlschier, Red Cross school nurse, made the principal address at the Lions luncheon Tuesday noon.

Miss Ahlschier stated that last year's work was confined to the McLean schools, but this year her work has been extended to nearby districts; Liberty, Heald, Alanreed and Skillet already being visited.

Of the 606 pupils examined last year, 598 were found with physical defects, 134 of these being corrected during the year.

"Most physical handicaps of grown people can be traced back to uncorrected defects as a child," said Miss Ahlschier. "We must remember that the physical, mental and spiritual natures of the child all go to school, and the body must be fit if the mental and spiritual natures are to grow."

The nurse insisted that it is the responsibility of the community if a child becomes a liability instead of an asset when it grows up. Children must be taught that regardless of whether their parents love them, or their financial state, the child's body is its own and must have the best care possible.

Miss Ahlschier closed by saying that the work of the Red Cross nurse is not spectacular, but is laying a foundation that will stand through all time.

Miss Ahlschier's remarks were prefaced by Mrs. L. Sligar, who is a leader in this kind of work in the community.

Eld. Flavil Yeakley, pastor of the Church of Christ, was presented as a visitor, and responded with a few remarks, in which it was said that the Lions try to obey the rule of doing good, the only rule that will cause communities or nations to grow.

Banker Sullenberger and Roy Rice were both presented as visitors, both making short speeches. Mr. Rice is secretary of the Ellsworth, Kansas, Lions Club, and reported his county paying part of the expenses of a county Red Cross nurse by taxation.

C. O. Greene announced a pie supper for the park wading pool fund, and the following committees were appointed: Lions Cooper and Goff from the Baptist Church, Sitter and Erwin, Presbyterian; Greene and Rice, Methodist; Eld. Yeakley and Johnnie R. Back, Church of Christ; Lions Cobb and Cook for P. T. A.

Next Tuesday was set aside as the day for nominations for officers for next year, election to take place two weeks later.

Vice President W. E. Bogan presided in the absence of President Williams.

DENWORTH SUNDAY SCHOOL

A Sunday school was organized at Denworth, the new townsite on the railroad north of town, last Sunday.

Mrs. Ernest Dowell was elected superintendent, Mrs. L. L. Morse secretary-treasurer, and Lenwood Copeland chorister.

Teachers are: Adults, Mrs. T. M. Wilkins; intermediates, Mrs. Vester Dowell; juniors, Mrs. C. B. Copeland; primary, Mrs. L. Watson.

A building 50 by 120 feet has been secured, and it is planned to organize a church some time in the future.

It is claimed that about 150 families reside in the territory adjacent to Denworth.

Misses Leatrice and Lennie Lea Phillips of White Deer are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Les Jetton.

Memorial Day Exercises Well Attended Sunday

A large crowd attended the Memorial Day exercises held by the Andrew H. Floyd Post, the American Legion, and Legion Auxiliary at Hillcrest cemetery Sunday afternoon.

The line of march formed down town, with color bearers and guards, firing squad, legionnaires and the high school band, marching to the cemetery followed by a procession of automobiles.

Appropriate exercises were held at each veteran's grave, with the post chaplain, Rev. G. W. Roachell, pastor of the Pentecostal Holiness Church, making the address of the afternoon and leading the invocation.

The program ended by firing a salute over the grave of Andrew H. Floyd, the only McLean boy to lose his life over there; the playing of taps, and the high school band playing 'The Star Spangled Banner' softly, as the final number.

A special service for Legion and Auxiliary members was given at the First Methodist Church Sunday morning, with Pastor Crow taking as a text, "And the cost was great."

Attorney Appears at City Council

Extension Granted until Thursday of Next Week

Judge Penix of Wichita Falls, attorney for the McLean Gas Company, appeared before the city council here Monday and asked for an extension of time to show cause why the charter granting the company the right to do business in McLean should not be removed for failure to pay the annual charter fee.

Judge Penix stated that he had not been at home for the past two weeks and would not arrive at home until Wednesday night of this week, so would not have time to prepare a brief for June 3rd, the day originally set for the hearing. The council granted the six-day extension requested, and the hearing will be held June 9th.

The hearing on the injunction against the state railroad commission's decision will be held June 20. In the meantime, a city election has been ordered to determine whether the city shall install a municipal owned plant.

Litigation began over a year ago between the city and the gas company when the city obtained an injunction restraining the company from charging over 30c for gas. The railroad commission later upheld the new rate, the company immediately securing an injunction against the decision.

QUILT SHOW AND PIE SUPPER COMBINE

On account of a conflict in dates, the Lions pie supper and the ladies' quilt show will combine their programs for Friday evening at the high school lawn.

Special music will be featured, candidates will speak, and various other attractions are promised.

LIONS PIE SUPPER

A pie supper will be given on the high school lawn Friday evening of this week, beginning at 8 o'clock, sponsored by the McLean Lions Club. Music will be furnished by the high school band, and Col. W. K. Wharton will act as auctioneer.

The supper is given for the city park wading pool fund, and as there will be no expenses of any kind, every dollar taken in will be used for the pool.

Ladies of the town are requested to bring pies, and there will be no admission charge. The music and fun being free to everyone. Those who buy pies will have the privilege of eating with the donor of the pie.

NEWSPAPER BEST AD MEDIUM

"The newspaper of today is the best friend the retail store advertising business has, and always has been the best advertising medium which stores can possibly employ," writes Kenneth Collins, executive vice president and publicity director of R. H. Macy & Company, in his book called 'The Road to Good Advertising.'

"I am constantly being attacked by direct-mail advertisers and others for this point of view," Collins says. "If I am wrong, then nearly every store in America is wrong. With hardly an exception they all spend by far the greatest portion of their advertising money in the newspaper. And a quarter of a million merchants in the United States can't all be wrong."

SUMMER HEALTH ROUND-UP

The regular summer health round-up for children six years old, who will be eligible to enter the free school next term, will be held all day Thursday, June 9, at the elementary school. Each parent will be notified when to bring his child.

There are 34 children who should be in the round-up, according to lists in the hands of the local committee, and all parents will be notified as to the correct date.

There will be no charge or obligation of any kind. The service is free to everyone and will give parents a correct history of their child's health condition.

Miss Ahlschier says: "The summer round-up of the children was inaugurated by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in 1925. Its purpose is to rouse parents to a sense of their responsibility upon the need of providing the school with as perfect material as possible.

"The pre-school is a crucial time for the child. Many of the ills of later childhood, adolescence and adult life have their beginning in the interval between infancy and school age. Many children have defective vision, defective hearing and other defects, many of which can be cured or relieved by early treatment.

"The summer round-up is not only an educational project; it is also a sound economic project because it prevents waste of educational effort with its attendant cost. Many children are repeaters because of some remedial defect, the correct of which might prevent the waste of time.

"Let's remember when the child begins his school life, the whole child goes to school. Montaigne says, 'We have not to build up a body nor a soul, but a human being, and we cannot divide him'."

ROBERT MATHIS TO GET COLLEGE DEGREE

Robert B. Mathis, McLean boy, received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Baylor University Wednesday of this week, as a member of the 87th graduating class of the institution.

Miss Irene Bryan of Shamrock is also a Pnhandle member of this year's graduating class, which consists of 232 members.

WISCHKAEMPER FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

To the voters of the 122nd Legislative District:

With this announcement of my candidacy for State Representative I am entering for the first time in my life upon the field of politics—by common consent of the world, the most treacherous form of human activity in Christendom. For a man of my temperament, such a step has its fascinations; but equally as well, its terrors. I say terrors advisedly. For while not a few men of my circle of friends have been egging me on with such arguments as "You have the ability, you are somewhat of a decent chap, and you have the guts," there have been some equally friendly men to urge, "Stay off politics. It is a compromising, mean, dirty enterprise. It is the hot-bed of make-believe, equivocation, deception, flummery. It has never failed to leave its staining mark on the artless creature that has ventured upon it." I have deliberated a good deal about such conflicting counsels in the past few months. I have chosen the call of the first group and am taking the warning of the latter group as a challenge.

We are living in anxious days, these days. We are living in a reeling world. And if the nations of the earth should turn to searching their hearts they would probably find the gruesome indictment of Him on High written in flaming letters: "Weighed, found wanting." For the earnest and sober onlooker there is nothing so insane as the course of human events in the last 17 years, culminating today in the spectacle of hunger, want, and crime stalking grimly thru the world—in the midst of plenty on all sides.

The making right of such a condition is the solemn duty of every man and woman, individually as well as thru the government of the state and nation. Spiritually, it is an issue between us and our Maker. Materially, it is an issue among ourselves.

Materially, we cannot accomplish the task by expanding factories, developing more mines, increasing acreage; by gambling in stocks and bonds and wheat and cotton. It was tried lately and resulted in a disastrous failure. There is nobody to buy. Nobody with money. No one can venture now.

The one single activity that is left

D. R. HENRY FOR TREASURER

D. R. Henry, long time resident of Gray county, has authorized The News to announce his candidacy for county treasurer, subject to the democratic primary in July.

Mr. Henry moved to Gray county in 1909 and settled on a farm near Pampa. He farmed until 1917, when he sold the farm and went into the grocery business in Pampa. He operated the store until 1925. He asserted: "I made a failure in extending too much credit that I could never realize on.

"I am asking the people for this office because I think I am qualified for it," Mr. Henry said, "and because I have a family dependent on me for support. I am making the campaign solely because I need the benefits to be derived therefrom.

"I will appreciate the support and influence of my friends and the citizens of the county, and if elected I shall try to repay you by making you the best servant that I can. It is my intention to try to see all the voters in the county before the oncoming primary of July 23, but if for any reason I do not get to meet you, please do not think that it is because I do not want to."

S. G. C. B. CLUB ORGANIZED

Reported. The senior girls of '32, McLean high school, met last Wednesday at the home of Miss Lola Ruth Stanfield, and organized a S. G. C. B. Club, colors, motto and password were chosen.

The purpose of this club is to study current events, good English, and have a friendly get-together each Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The meetings will be held in the club room at Mrs. Stanfield's, except once a month when a social meeting will be given at the homes of the members.

The following officers were elected: President, Lola Ruth Stanfield; secretary-treasurer, Lois Kirby; reporter, Burnese Blakney; sponsor, Ida D. Helmsen.

All senior girls are urged to be present at all meetings.

C. P. Hamilton of Mangum, Okla. was in McLean last week.

H. B. HILL Candidate for Representative Says "Cut cost and cut tax"

MAY REDISTRICT COUNTY

According to Commissioner M. M. Newman, a hearing will be held by the commissioners court on June 13th to redistrict the county.

The present plan of commissioners precincts is not on an equitable basis any more, as the wealth is concentrated in one corner of the county, but the law allows the court to redistrict in such a way as to give each precinct equal representation in the wealth of the county.

Every citizen of the county may appear at the hearing and make his opinions known, if desired.

QUILT SHOW IN PROGRESS

The ladies' quilt show is now in progress at the Cook building between the City Drug Store and the Up-to-Date Shoe Shop.

This year's show is fully up to the standard set by former shows and is well worth anyone's time to inspect the entries.

Some 30 prizes are offered, and the show will continue until Saturday night.

Mrs. A. A. Tampke is manager of the show, assisted by several other ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wilson, Mrs. Roy Robinson, Mrs. Donald Beall and son, Bobbie, were in Shamrock Sunday.

Mrs. Odell Mantooth is visiting her father near Clarendon this week.

D. A. Davis was in Shamrock Saturday.

Next Sunday's Lesson

JOSEPH THE WORKER

By Rev. Carl G. Goff
Golden Text, Prov. 22:28. Lesson Text, Gen. 41:46-57.

Last Sunday we studied about Joseph as a dreamer. Today it is Joseph the worker. The time of today's lesson was about 2735 B. C. It was time of triumph, but there had been years of trial, because of the envy of his brethren over his dreams and his father's partiality.

Joseph sent Joseph to his brethren who were feeding the flocks in Shechem. That he might bring back a report. The brethren had gone to Dothan and Joseph followed them. The brethren saw Joseph coming and plotted to kill him. Reuben, the eldest, persuaded them to place him in a pit, rather than kill him, with the intention of saving him and sending him home. But while he was away the other brethren pulled Joseph out and sold him to a caravan of Ishmaelites from Midian. The price was twenty pieces of silver, or about fifteen dollars American money.

The question that remained was what to tell Jacob. The coat of many colors was dipped in the blood of a kid and given to Joseph. It was story enough. And Jacob mourned for Joseph as dead.

Joseph was sold as a slave to Potiphar, chief of the executioners in Egypt. God prospered Joseph, and soon he became the business manager for all of Potiphar's affairs. The wickedness of Potiphar's wife brought Joseph into prison—in a worse position than when he was sold into slavery.

God continued to prosper Joseph and soon he was chief of the prisoners. He had power to interpret dreams and, interpreted for a butler and a baker. Later when the butler had been released and Pharaoh could not interpret, Joseph was called.

The dreams consisted of seven fat kine coming up out of the Nile, then seven lean which devoured the fat, and seven large good ears of corn followed by seven small and lean ears which consumed the large ears. Joseph's interpretation was that there would be seven years of plenty and then seven years of famine.

The wisdom of Joseph so inspired the king that he made him chief ruler of the kingdom next to himself and gave him the task of preparing for seven years of famine. He was given a wife of the Egyptians, daughter of Potiphar, priest of On. v. 46. Joseph had spent thirteen years in Egypt when he was made ruler. He had been ten years in Potiphar's house and three years in prison. The phrase "when he stood before Pharaoh," signifies when he was made a ruler. The officers stood before the king for orders. Elijah uses it concerning his relation before Jehovah (1 Kings 17:1), in the presence of Ahab.

Joseph's first step was to go thru the land that he might lay his plans for the storage of the over supply. v. 47. The harvest was plentiful by the "handful." The Egyptians gathered their grain by hand. This would signify that on each stalk was a handful of grain.

v. 48, 49. Joseph had built great store houses in the cities. Then he stored all grain that was not needed for immediate consumption each year. It proved that there was not only enough for Egypt during the famine, but for the surrounding countries.

v. 50, 51. Joseph named his first son Manasseh, signifying to "make to forget." He had a great deal to forget. It seems that he never made any attempt to gain his freedom and return to Canaan. When he was in prison he had no opportunity, and while he was a chief ruler he had too great a task. God helped him to forget his trials and to make him great. v. 52. His second son he named Ephraim, which means "fruitful," for God had indeed prospered him and made him fruitful in the land of his afflictions.

v. 53-56. Joseph was successful in his plan to conserve the over production of the seven plentiful years for the famine. There was food for all the people. They were forced to buy it, however.

v. 57. Not only Egypt, but the countries nearby and far away sent to Egypt to buy of Joseph. This brought great wealth to the monarch of Egypt, and poverty not only to the surrounding countries, but to the people of Egypt.

ARE YOU A WELL-INFORMED PERSON?

In every issue this newspaper is filled with news. And our experience is that the news which interests you most is the news which affects you most. When one of your friends has participated in a minor accident, you are more interested in that than in a major accident in another city.

Advertising, too, is news of the first importance. It affects you. It is intimate, local news addressed to you. It deals with your comforts, your pleasure and your business. It saves you time by telling you where the merchandise is. It saves you money by announcing fair prices. It is the guide to efficient spending. When you fail to read the advertisements, you do not keep up with news that is most important to you. You miss many opportunities.

The best-informed people are those who read the advertisements regularly. In fact, in this modern age, you cannot ignore the advertisements in your newspaper and still be well-informed!

for us to engage in is that of saving, of thrift, of economy in everything we undertake. In our private lives we are already practicing that virtue of our forefathers. Speaking of my own affairs, I am running my farm with less than half the help I had before. My running expenses are less than half. There isn't much else to do with 5c cotton, 30c wheat, 25c hogs, 9c cream, 8c eggs. It is not a question now of living comfortably; it is a question of existing; of getting by without being foreclosed, without starving. There is where we stand. "He that standeth, let him take heed lest he fall."

But while you and I are saving, the tax collector comes before our door—that fellow whose coming, the saying is, is as certain as the coming of death—and presents an expense bill of the state, the county, etc., and makes the demand upon us to "pay up" as we promised under the Constitution. So much for the judiciary department, so much for the comptroller and the auditor's department, so much for the highway department, so much for the fish and game department. And so on. The total of the expense bill for all this is appalling, and if we consider that dollars, as one of my neighbors says, are now as big as wagon wheels. A hundred and eight million dollars was collected and spent by our state during the last year. The bonded indebtedness of the state of Texas is $50 million dollars, or $170 for each person living in Texas. The interest on that sum is 41 million dollars, or $8 for everyone in Texas. Can you hear the deafening clatter of those wagon wheels roll down to Austin and pile up to frightful heights? I cannot give any more figures. The space here will not allow it, but I am urging every voter in Texas to send a two-bit piece to George B. Latham, secretary of the State Taxpayers Association of Texas, at 110 S. Ervay St., Dallas, and get a copy of a pamphlet entitled "Tax Facts." The scales will fall from your eyes and you will learn what you are paying for. It is useful, among other things, for instance, that the taxpayer should learn from it that 98% of his money is used each session of the legislature to pay the bootblack for shining the legislators' shoes. When such things become known, even tho' the item is less than a thousand dollars, it is probable that the contemptible graft will be abated.

You and I are cutting expenses in our family household. But if we are going to be helped thru this galling time it is necessary that the expenses of this gigantic state household be rightly cut also.

Much of the law of the state favors certain interests and correspondingly penalizes other interests. It robs Paul to pay Peter. The farmer and stockman pays 80% of the taxes because he has land that he can't hide; the fellow who has intangible values to trade with gets by and makes more and easier money than the farmer and stockman. There are powerful combinations that can force down the price of cotton and wheat, charge an unwarranted price for our lister or a sack of flour, or for a gallon of gasoline; can flich the gas and oil from under the wells of us royalty owners, and thus smugly gather in the sheaves for themselves. It is a mischief that must be abated if the wealth of the nation is not to be concentrated into the hands of the few, to be used by them as an engine of wanton oppression.

I cannot point out any more, as I am coming to the end of my allotted space in this paper. Anyway, you know what I am trying to talk about and what I mean. And that is enough. A group of friends wants to push me forward into the front ranks as one who is to do his share in the effort to safeguard the interest of the state and protect the interests of the people of this legislative district. If I am worth the trust, well and good; I am willing to serve.

But I cannot elect myself. A great many of the people of this district can't know me. I have never been in the public light much. The time to become acquainted is too short. The friends, therefore, that know me and want me to run and win, will have to do their share and help me in the race. As they want to place a task on me for the next session of the legislature, so must they in turn now assume the task of having their friends find out about me. Alone, I can work my fool head off and in the end come out at the small end of the horn. Hoping to see a good many of you, I am, yours cordially,

RICHARD WISCHKAEMPER,
Rt. 3, Box 49, Shamrock, Texas.

ON BEING USEFUL

There are millions of men and women in shop and store and office and home who are doing hard constructive work in this world whose names will never get into history, just as in the great war and in every warfare the men who did the hard fighting were never decorated with any medal, though their deeds may have merited the Victoria Cross. We hear much from time to time of the little red school house, and on occasion can express appreciation of the work done there. Teachers by the thousand do their plain far-reaching duty, getting little emolument and scant recognition; yet the contribution made by them goes to form one of the foundation stones of our civilization. Whoever does a bit of constructive work, whether it gets public recognition or not, adds something, though estimated as lowly, to the well-being of his fellows is no failure. The man or woman who gives to another an idea, or one who plucks a thorn and plants a flower in any life is a benefactor whose contribution cannot be computed in figures, for figures are no index to the best things, nor is fame a criterion, nor ought else but the thing mentioned—usefulness. No one who is useful is a failure.—Canadian National Railway Magazine.

THE HON. BANANA

(Essay by a Japanese Schoolboy)
The banana are a remarkable fruit. He are constructed in same architectural style as Hon. Sausage. Difference being skin of sausage are habitually consumed, while it are not advisable to eat wrapping of banana.

Perhaps are also intristing the following difference between the two subjects: Banana are held aloft while consuming; sausage usually left in reclining position. Banana are first green in culler, then gradual turn yellowish. Sausage start out with indefinit culler (resamble terrier cotta) and retain same hue indefinitly.

Sausage depend for creation, etc. upon human being or stuffing machine, while banana are pristine product of Hon. Mother Nature. Both article resamble the other only in that neither have pit or colonel of any kind.

In case of sausage, both conclusions are attached to other sausages. Hon. Banana, on other hand, are joined on one end to stem; other termination are entirely loose.

And finally, banana are strictly member of vagitable kingdom, while affiliation of sausage are often undecided.

W. H. Ransom, of the Downs (Kan.) Times, having noticed in the newspapers of Beloit, Phillipsburg and Smith Center that large crowds were visiting those towns, made a personal investigation and found the editors were not making misleading statements, for the people really were there, putting parking space at a premium and furthermore were patronizing the local merchants. A glance through these publications is convincing proof that the crowds could not be kept away or diverted elsewhere, on account of cordial invitations and the liberal inducements offered by the merchants through their respective newspapers.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT YOURSELF

Appearing in the New York Times Book Review is an ad of that fascinating book, "The Human Body," by Dr. Logan Clendening, Kansas City physician, and professor of clinic medicine, University of Kansas.

We quote from the ad some of the popular misconceptions about health which may be familiar to you:

"Eight hours' sleep is essential to health. All insomnia is dangerous. Nervous insomnia leads to insanity."—BUNK!

"Overwork leads to nervous breakdown."—BUNK!

"A carefully planned diet is essential to health. A variety of food eaten at the same time is harmful. Sour stomach is a sign of indigestion."—BUNK!

"Modern life is so strenuous that our nerves cannot stand the strain."—BUNK!

"Brain work is very fatiguing. It causes brain-fag and exhaustion."—BUNK!

"Constipation is at the root of most physical ailments, and is caused by eating the wrong kind of food."—BUNK!

LEAVE ME MY NEWSPAPER

"Take my ham away, take away my eggs, even my chili, but leave me my newspaper. Even if it just has such purely local news as 'Jim Jones came home last night unexpectedly and bloodshed ensued,' or 'Jesse Busy-head, our local M. D., is having one of the best years of his career, practically speaking—but they just won't pay him when they get well.' The county seat was packed yesterday with prominent visitors from out-of-town, attempting to renew their notes," and 'Election ain't far off, and everybody is up for office that can sign an application blank.'

Now all that don't seem much news to you. But it is news, especially when you know the people, and they are your own folks. So, no matter how punk you might think your local paper is getting, why just take it away from you and see how you feel. The old newspaper, I think, is just about our biggest blessing. So let's all read and be merry, for tomorrow the paper may not have enough ads in it to come out."—Will Rogers.

"Your wife drives like lightning, doesn't she?"
"Yeah, always striking trees."

DETAILS

The superintendent had severely criticized the trainmaster for laxity in reporting accidents, impressing upon him the fact that it was very necessary to report by wire immediately anything that appeared to be an accident, no matter how trivial it might seem, without waiting for details.

Only a few days later, the superintendent received the following wire: "Man fell off platform in front of engine." To which the superintendent replied: "Advise details." The trainmaster replied: "No one hurt; engine was backing up."

Panhandle Press Association

A few years ago high school graduates were tempted to enter business and forego a college course, but with things as they are now, it would appear that college is the best bet, both for immediate and future results.

Favorable publicity is necessary for the growth of any organization, and any worth while organization can receive such publicity with a little co-operation with the home paper. It stands to reason that the editor cannot be familiar with every happening, but such things can be turned in by interested people, for favorable notice.

The total expenditures for the Federal government this year, as compared with 1927, shows a 63% increase. All this in the face of one of the worst depressions the world has ever known. There must be a change if we are to get back on a safe basis, and voters should be sure that candidates express themselves on tax expenditures before the primary.

The Democratic party has the best chance in years to elect a president, if they will only let the prohibition question alone, but it seems that some of them are determined to get on the wet side—the very thing that defeated them last time. This is one time that the voter from the forks of the creek should be considered, for he holds the balance of power when he is aroused and uses his vote.

President Rice of the Cemetery Association and Rev. Erwin of the Presbyterian Church expressed thanks at the Lions luncheon for the co-operation given in the cemetery working last week. Mr. Rice said that the practice of donating work had fallen into disrepute, but last Friday everyone there, was there for work, there was no loafing, and the results were gratifying to all concerned. The day received much better publicity this year than formerly, which might be one cause of the better co-operation.

Most of us would deplore bull fighting and its attendant dangers and cruelties, but the injuries and deaths to animals and men in rodeos seem to add to the so-called entertainment. Fortunately, rodeos are going out of fashion. It has been only a few years since every community had to put up with such a spectacle, while now it is in the hands of professionals and given only in the larger towns. We may look forward to the day when these poor imitations of the old life on the range are but a memory.

The Red Cross nurse reported to the Lions Tuesday that people in the neighboring schools found it hard to believe that they could have the services of a nurse absolutely free of charge. However, these services did not cost the McLean district anything this year, being complimentary from the national chapter. McLean paid for the services last year and has signed up for next year, in order that there may be no break in the work. All districts may consider themselves fortunate that have had the advantage of the nurse's work.

Right now, more than ever, people are vitally interested in making their dollars go as far as is utterly possible, and they can study offerings and compare prices better in the advertisements in the home paper than any other way. You can't imagine the reading members of the family seated about the evening lamp, dashing out of their easy chairs and rustling through the waste paper basket, trying to dig up the tramp circulars that arrived during the past week, in order to compare prices, but it is easy to picture them reading the home paper. As soon as one lays it down another wants to see what's in The News, because reading the home paper is like a visit with friends and relatives. Every name spells a neighbor. When folks are reading open-mindedly that is the most opportune time to place your sales message before them. It guarantees acceptance of your message, rather than cussing your throw-away for cluttering up the front porch. These are facts that have been proven time and time again in successful retailing and can be used by any merchant for the smallest cost of any form of advertising.

ALWAYS EXPECT THESE!

After 15 years in the business, a newspaper man becomes reconciled to the following facts:

1. That he will generally be regarded as some sort of freak.

2. That the favors he does will usually go unnoticed, but his mistakes, never!

3. That when he gets in a crowd someone will jocularly say, "Don't talk in front of So-and-So; he'll put it in the paper."

4. That once a week someone will remark: "Newspaper work must be very fascinating."—Arch Jarrell, in the Arkansas City (Kan.) Traveler.

This is an awful world. If you don't take yourself seriously nobody else will, and if you do folks say you lack a sense of humor.

Yatchsman—"If this storm keeps up I'll have to leave to."

Seasick Girl—"What a horrid way of putting it."

REAL ENJOYMENT

We have at times longed to be the editor of a big metropolitan daily—to sit in the office and wait for the thud of a bombing or for the leg men on the police to run to phone in a bank robbery—to have a chance to "get the sheet out" in a burg where something always happens—and to have plenty of help to write up the bloomin' stuff after it happens. But we are sure we would miss many a pleasant experience if all that were true. For instance, Mrs. B. P. Smith passed by the window one morning this week. She had been shopping. She came in with a bag of newly purchased assorted cookies and said, "You folks look like you might enjoy a cookie; won't you try one?" On press nights when we work late there is many a pan of hot popcorn lugged in, and in the course of a year, by some neighbor folks who see our lights shining and think of us as they eat. Lead us not into the places which could not be called "hick towns."—L. R. Taylor, in the Mound City (Mo.) News-Independent.

UNDESIRABLES

Looks like a West Texas chamber of commerce convention draws as many undesirables as a circus. Five Texas Rangers and five extra policemen were on duty at Sweetwater during the convention to look after the undesirable. And they were needed, as nine persons were arrested and large quantities of whiskey and beer were confiscated in raids on six places. Following the raid, Captain Mace of the Texas Rangers issued the following statement: "The Rangers are not here to injure the pleasure of visitors, but to conduct raids on known bootleggers and to protect the public against bootleggers, highjackers, and petty thieves always found at gatherings of this size."—Big Spring News.

If you are thinking of buying a saxophone, do not do it, cautions A. P. Gregory in the Porter (Okla.) News, and advises the buying of a cow instead of about the same price, since you can get the same kind of music and a lot of good milk if you will give as much care to the cow as to a saxophone.

The Porter (Okla.) News has observed that lawyers and judges are among the favored few. When they do not know the correct answer to a question, they take it under advisement; but let an editor or school teacher do that and he is called ignorant.

As advertising is just as essential as buying merchandise, the Nowata (Okla.) Spirit takes to task the merchant who compels the newspaper man to call upon him and then stand around coaxing him to buy space.

KICKERS

When you hear a person kicking on the home paper, just ask that individual if he or she is a subscriber. The kicker is probably not a subscriber and will tell you so. Then fire this back at the fault-finding one: "If you are not a subscriber and do not help in the least to keep the paper going, it is none of your business how the paper is run, or what the editor says or does. You have not even a kicking interest in the paper."—Higgins News.

THE TIGER POST

are appreciations of McLean school written by the outgoing

Hunt:
 On September 9, 1928, I entered McLean high school in the eighth grade. Truthfully say that I have had an enjoyable time since that I have always found it better quiet and listen than to talk time. Since I have lived in country all my life, you cannot me to know much. I am very of the fact that I am graduated. I cannot remember anything more than a few minutes. I certainly appreciate the co-operation given by the school faculty and student body I started to school here.

Ruth Stanfield:
 McLean high school I owe I shall ever be indebted to. It is impossible to pay some but always for me M. H. S. hold my love, respect, obedience, shall honor her.

My extremely happy years have spent in this high school, and it is impossible to ever forget my Mother. To her I owe what I have acquired. It was that gave my friends to me. If I had not been for her I should never had teachers of such abilities that I liked so very much. She helped me win victories. She has with me in defeat and disappointments. Always she has been my friend. It has been ever for her that I have tried to do my best.

It seems almost impossible for me to describe in words my appreciation of McLean high school, her teachers and students. The least I can do is that to me M. H. S. will ever be nearest to my thoughts of school. For her I shall try ever to be the best in me and do all the things she has taught me are right.

Edie B. Mantooth:
 Words cannot express my appreciation of McLean high school. I have spent a little over two terms at the McLean high school and I truly say I have learned twice much those two years as I did two preceding years.

I have learned to value an education above all else, that is, a practical education. I have also learned to value a cultural mind, to learn that an educated person has an advantage over an uneducated person. I appreciate the advantages which were placed at my disposal at the McLean school. Above all, I appreciate the faculty of my senior year.

Johnnie Mertel:
 I have spent my entire high school years in McLean high school. I probably do not appreciate this school as much as one who has attended a school not nearly so good. I have appreciated the association of my fellow students and the cooperation of my teachers. I could write all day on this subject, but never tell all of it, so I will leave here.

Kathryn Hales:
 Having spent my entire high school years in McLean high school, I probably do not appreciate it as much as one who has attended a school not nearly so good and who has earned our school. I feel that I have learned much at this school by association, as well as in my studies. I appreciate the help of the teachers, for I know without them we could never have been able to learn nearly as much as we have. I also appreciate the teachers for their comradeship throughout our four years and I think that all our teachers have been "great sports" in all social activities.

I have appreciated the association of my fellow students, for we have all worked together and have been great "pals" within ourselves and with our teachers. It is with many fond remembrances that I leave this dear old school to seek higher education.

Frances Wilson:
 McLean high school has meant much to me. Having attended school at McLean for eleven years, I've grown to love it as a friend. It is a great sorrow to leave such a place that you have learned to love. I wish to express my appreciation to the teachers and schoolmates for any assistance they have given me in securing a high school education, and I will remember each act of kindness.

Luella O'Neal:
 When I first entered this school I did not like it at all. The very thought of it seemed a nightmare to me. It was not long, though, until I learned that I really did like the school, and its teachers and pupils.

I do really love and appreciate my teachers and the school as a whole. They have done much for me during this nine months term. I only wish that I could repay them for the kind deeds that they have all done for me.

I have tried to make friends with every student in school. I have not really made friends with everyone, but I am leaving no enemies behind me.

Thank you, Miss Kennedy, for all the help you have been to me this year. I have really enjoyed having you for a teacher and sponsor.

Erwin Browning:
 I feel that my high school days have been worth more to me than I can ever express in common words. McLean high school, the faculty members, and the student body have meant more to me than any other thing. I think there is no place nearly so good as M. H. S., and no teachers that are so dear to the students as those in McLean high school.

Clara Quarles:
 To do such a thing as express my appreciation of M. H. S. would be impossible. I could not by words or otherwise express my appreciation for our school. I have had the privilege of attending the McLean high school for only two years, but what wonderful two years they have been. My only wish for the remaining students of McLean is that they will enjoy their school life as much as I have.

James Anderson:
 I am happy to have spent four years in this high school. I have learned to appreciate the things it offers and all its comforts and freedom from lonesomeness. I appreciate the kindness shown by the teachers. I appreciate more each day the knowledge I have gained. I am bidding the school good-by, but her memories shall linger in my thoughts forever.

Maudelle Corum:
 McLean high school has been a school that has set a high standard for me and I never shall forget it. The things I have learned in McLean high school I hope I shall never forget. McLean high school could not mean so much to me were it not for the wonderful instructors. They have taught us nothing but the very highest and best things. I shall never forget dear old M. H. S.

Bobbe Appling:
 Naturally I am very fond of McLean high school, for I have always gone to school here. I am very proud of it because of the recognition it has gotten in the different activities. The most important thing, probably, that I have enjoyed most, is the companions and the wide range of wonderful personalities I have come in contact with.

We should all appreciate the faculty of McLean high school, because they have done their best to teach the pupils, although it may sometimes seem like a hopeless task. Our building is another thing we should be proud of, and also the various sports and other educational activities that are not in the general routine of school work.

My appreciation of McLean high school cannot be expressed in words.

and I have surely enjoyed going here. I have never dreaded entering school because I knew that I would enter dear old McLean high school.

Nora Ashby:
 I appreciate everything that McLean high school has done for me. I appreciate the teachers at McLean and their wonderful co-operation. They are really good sports, and would do anything for their pupils. McLean high school would not be what it was if it were not for the wonderful co-operation of the pupils, teachers, parents and everyone in McLean.

I would not appreciate it as much as I do, but I have not gone to any other high school, therefore I appreciate it more than if I had gone to several schools.

Cagle Hunt:
 I have been privileged to go to McLean school for ten years, and I certainly have enjoyed going to school here. I want to express my appreciation of this school for its ability to get best instructors possible, and because it has one of the best student bodies of any school in Texas. It seems that the students and teachers have tried to work together in all things.

After leaving high school I will always look back on this school and think of the good times I have shared here.

Burness Blakney:
 I appreciate very much my senior year in McLean high school. It has been a great pleasure to attend this school after having attended a smaller school.

I appreciate the co-operation of the teachers and pupils. The teachers have been wonderful sports and would do anything to help the pupils.

I wish to say that I have learned very much going to McLean high school and I sincerely appreciate the co-operation that was given at the first of school, and also the whole term, by the teachers and pupils, in the way in which they helped me to receive my back credits.

I now say that I appreciate McLean high school more than words can express.

Words cannot express my appreciation for dear ole McLean high school. This institution was made possible by the good and progressive citizens of McLean. Through the co-operation of students, parents, and teachers, it has become a very excellent institution. It has been to me like a friend. It has joined with me in my sorrow and happiness.

No one could wish for a better group of teachers than those that are found here. They are great sports and always ready with a helping hand. They are ever ready to make the student body happy.

The students are of the friendliest type. Each ready to do something that will help the other fellow and the institution. Each ready to assist in all that comes along. Could a student wish for more than that?

Yes Indeed!

AN OVER-HAULING

By Dr. William J. Scholes

A correspondent sends in the following letter. It contains some interesting and instructive ideas on keeping well. He writes as follows: "I took my car to the garage to have it looked over. It was still going all right, but I got the notion that it may need some attention if I didn't want trouble during the coming season. The car had been run two years and has seen some pretty good service."

Thought about Himself

"While I was thinking about that old car I got to thinking about myself. Here I was having the car overhauled after two years' service. My body has been in service for 43 years. I felt pretty good, but not as good as I used to feel and would like to feel now. I figured it would be a good thing to have an 'over-hauling' myself."

"So I went to a doctor and told him what I wanted. I told him I wanted everything on the bill. He gave it to me. He weighed and measured me, asked me a lot of questions, hammered me and listened to my heart and lungs. He looked down my throat, X-rayed my teeth and took my blood pressure. My blood and urine were tested."

Here's What Was Wrong

"When he had all of the returns he told me to come back. This is what was the matter with me:

"1. I had had tonsils and some bad teeth.

"2. I was overweight.

"3. I did not get enough exercise.

"4. I smoked too much.

"Well, the tonsils and three of the bad teeth are out. The dentist is doing the necessary repair work on the others. I am eating less, smoking less and exercising more. I have decided that I am as old as I am going to be, if I can do anything to help it. The car and I are going to be gone over every spring. I figure a good 'going over' and a little upkeep once a year will lengthen the life of both of us."

WHEN FOOD SOURS

ABOUT two hours after eating, many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia, the kind physicians prescribe to correct excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

USE MORE ICE
Why? Because it is the oldest and best-known method of proper refrigeration. "Doing away with the ice man" is not economy—in the long run. Food "keeps" perfectly, its sweetness and flavor are retained in the ice box. This is proved by the fact that large dealers in food-stuffs have ice refrigeration.
