Commencement Sermon by Beavers

Local Democrats Resolute for Farm Relief, Saturday

Precinct Meeting Is Held

Delegates Instructed Vote Garner for President

Local Democrats met at the city hall in precinct session last Saturday and adopted the following resolution:

Whereas, it is the sense of this convention that the agricultural industry is the basic industry of our country, and that the present depression is striking this industry with more force and disaster than any other industry of the country, and that relief must come quick and sure to this industry or the farm and home of the country will soon meet disaster, wreck and ruin. And whereas, it is the sense of this convention that any system of relief that only reaches the farmer through a system of loans or credit will only sink the farmer deeper in the pit of despair, and a profitable price is not restored for his farm products;

Therefore, be it resolved that we ask our representatives in Congress to put forth every effort possible to bring this kind of relief to this industry, and that we recommend to them a diligent, earnest and thorough investigation of what is known here as the Wm. G. McAadoo plan of fixing the price of our two basic commodities, to-wit: wheat and cotton, for some consumption at a reasonable price above the world market and let the export part of these products take chances with other export stuff, carrying with it a flexible tariff to secure our manufacturers of these products. The minute details of this plan are too intricate and lengthy to be set out in this resolution. They can be secured from Mr. McAadoo, or can be found in his speeches on this subject.

Be it further resolved that we ask the secretary of our chamber of commerce to send a copy of these resolutions to each Senator and Congressman from Texas.

The following were elected delegates to the county convention which met at Pampa Tuesday, with instructions to work for the nomination of John Garner for president: Witt Springer, T. A. Landers, M. D. Bentley, J. F. Heasley, Dr. Batson.

No new precinct officers were elected; Witt Springer holding over as chairman, and T. A. Landers as secretary.

Little Pen-o-grams

CARE FOR COUNTY JUDGE TO THE VOTERS AND CITIZENS OF GRAY COUNTY:

The office of county judge, for which I am hereby announcing my candidacy, and for which I was a candidate two years ago, is one which more nearly touches the interests and welfare of every citizen of the county than any other. There is no citizen who will not, in some way, be concerned in the administration of the county judge's office. It is, therefore, of deep concern to you who the particular man is who fills that office. In making your choice I earnestly ask that you give my candidacy your honest and unprejudiced consideration. Bear in mind that I am qualified to fill the office from the standpoint of education, experience, knowledge of law; and especially in that I have a common interest with you in the welfare of our county, based on the fact that I have been a citizen of the county for a number of years, am a taxpayer, and am deeply interested in our present and future welfare. That which concerns the citizenship of the county concerns me proportionately. In serving you well I will, at the same time, serve myself well because our interests are essentially the same.

In the event of my election I pledge that I will serve you with all the energy and ability that I possess. I pledge myself to a program of harmony and good will throughout the citizenship of the county, and especially in the commissioners court. I believe that harmony and good will in the commissioners court can, and should prevail. Discord and strife in that body stifle unity of purpose and make progress uncertain, slow and tedious. The county judge, being chairman of the commissioners court, can have much to do with maintaining harmony. He can do more toward maintaining equilibrium and good will than any other member of the court. Ask your commissioners if this is not true.

I pledge myself to a constructive program based on strictly sound economy and conservation of tax money. I will stand unflinchingly AGAINST any increase in taxes, and for a positive decrease in taxes, when and if possible to decrease them. I will at all times guard against any

Shamrock Men Here, Interest Highway Meet

Editor Albert Cooper of the Shamrock Texan, Secretary Guy Hill of the Shamrock chamber of commerce, and Prof. Robt. O. Sandusky, director of the Shamrock band, were in McLean Monday in the interest of the coming 66 highway convention to be held at Shamrock.

The Shamrock delegation insists that McLean be represented with a large delegation on May 23, the date of the convention. They invite the McLean band to assist in the massed band concert to be given and to help furnish music for the day.

Mr. Hill says that regardless of the kind of entertainment you like, Shamrock will furnish it. "Name it and take it, Shamrock will have it," said Mr. Hill.

Entertainment features will begin on Sunday before the meeting, when trap shooters and golfers will have a chance at some valuable prizes for best records. Sunday evening a band concert will be given.

A monster parade will be staged Monday morning with every class of transportation from the ox cart to the modern automobile in the parade. Pawnee Bill, Oklahoma Indian fighter, will lead the parade, which will include clowns.

For the more serious minded, a full program has been arranged with notable speakers during the day and at the evening banquet.

M. D. Bentley has been appointed by the association as McLean chairman, and Mr. Bentley is anxious that McLean be represented with a large delegation.

The wading pool committee was instructed to have a pool made 18 by 30 feet, with a maximum depth of from 6 to 18 inches, one end of the pool being shallow and gradually deepening to the other end.

It was the consensus of opinion that no work be done on the pool until the balance of the money is raised, there being no immediate need until warmer weather.

It was ordered that the young ladies who helped in the sale of minstrel show tickets be invited to attend a luncheon with the Lions.

SENIOR PICNIC

Senior day was fittingly celebrated with a picnic. The members of the senior class, with Mrs. J. E. Lynch, Mrs. Thos. Ashby, Mrs. John Hales, Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, and Garrison Rush, met at the home of Miss Kennedy early on Monday morning. They left for the Sitter ranch. As the truck load of gala youths passed through town, Mr. Arthur Erwin made them happier by giving them two boxes of delicious candy. This was appreciated a great deal.

A good time ensued until the place of the picnic was reached. After a short rest, a game of ground ball was started. From that time on until the water fight late in the afternoon everyone enjoyed himself immensely. The lunch table was filled with delicious food and enough was left, after the ravenous appetites were satisfied, for another good meal at supper time. Pictures were taken and the usual picnic joy was had. The return to town was made late in the afternoon. Everyone was tired and "sore," but each wished that he might have another good time Tuesday instead of returning to school.

In the evening the seniors met at the home of Mrs. Hales and went from there to the picture show. Late, the happy band dismissed.

IS HOME ECONOMICS WORTH WHILE?

In working up a survey of the cost and value of home economics in high school, we have the following data:

Thirty-two girls have taken home economics this semester, all of whom have taken clothing. Each pupil does at least thirty hours of home project work in addition to class work.

The total cost of home projects, as well as class projects, for the 32 girls has been $159.56, which makes an average of $4.98 per girl. Their garments were valued at $361.84, a saving of $202.28 for the entire group, or an average of $6.32 saved per girl.

In regard to home project work, the following projects have been completed during this year:

- Foods in relation to health, 4.
 - Children and guidance, 1.
 - Personal grooming and clothing, 50.
 - Meal preparation; breakfasts, 1.
 - Storage of foods, 15.
 - Meal preparation; luncheons, 6.
 - Clothing the infant and pre-school child, 9.
 - Economic practices in the home, 1.
 - Foods, preparation and service, 23.
 - Foods, preparation and service of dinners, 5.
 - Illness in home, 1.
 - Clothing budget, 1.
 - Care and renovation of clothing, 1.
 - Personal, family and community relationships, 1.
 - Entertainment, 5.
 - Home planning and furnishing, 2.
- This amount has been saved in dollars and cents—not mentioning knowledge gained. Now, does home economics pay?

PUBLIC OPINION

WHAT'S WRONG TODAY

By Rev. L. H. Shockley
 We often wonder what's wrong—if we will look back a few years we can see something went wrong with our fathers. They thought things went wrong. But it was themselves that were wrong, not God and the government.

When we get to believing that the government is wrong, we are believing that God is wrong. Nebuchadnezzar did not believe that God ruled in the kingdoms of men, and he ate hay with the cattle seven years until hair grew on his body. The devil told Christ that all these kingdoms were his. But God said the "world and the fullness thereof is mine."

We are prone to want our way about things. At the end of the seven years, Nebuchadnezzar's understanding returned and he blessed the Most High. When Reuben and his brothers decided things were wrong with them, they sold their brother. For that twenty pieces of silver, Joseph was in Egypt nearly thirty years. God called for a seven years famine. He knows how to care for His people. During the seven good years Joseph saved one-fifth and the people wasted four-fifths. Through the seven years famine, Joseph pulled them through on the one-fifth. Can you remember when you spent more money for pleasure than you spent to feed the family? The only thing that is wrong will end when man gets right.

God is ruler and His dominion is from everlasting to everlasting. Some of us are ready to say the devil is running things now. If he is, give him glory for what he has done for us. He gave us Old Glory to wave over us, and churches all over the land. He gave us a law that tells kings and nations, even parents, to stand back and let your child talk to its God about its soul.

If every man would bow the knee, O what a world this world would be.

School Nurse Retained for Next Season

With practically a unanimous vote, the directors of the local chapter voted to retain the school nurse for next school season. The chairman Cook signed a contract with the National chapter for the nurse's services for eight weeks during the next term.

This action was taken at the suggestion of Mrs. Myra Cloudman, Red Cross representative, following a report of this year's work by Miss Ahlschier, Wednesday afternoon.

The cost of the nursing service next year will be in the neighborhood of $400, which sum is expected to be paid at the annual roll call in November. The service this year is being donated by the National chapter.

Miss Ahlschier reported 151 contacts made with pupils in the high school this year. She is now working in the elementary school.

Last year's work included examining 606 pupils, of which 598 were found to have physical defects of some kind. 134 pupils followed the nurse's suggestions and had the defects corrected.

Miss Ahlschier praised McLean people for becoming health minded and for the co-operation given in her work.

Chapter Treasurer Carl O. Greene reported $18.16 raised for underprivileged children at the churches and Child Health Day.

Chairman Cook presided at Wednesday's meeting, with Miss Frances Noel as secretary.

CARY FOR JUDGE

Unnecessary and excessive expenditure of tax money. Taxes are higher than they have ever been, and harder to pay than ever before. I believe that any increase in taxes, for whatever purpose, would be unwise, and that an actual decrease, if possible to effect, would help to relieve the distress of many home owners who now find it impossible to pay their taxes, and would be welcomed by all. Individuals everywhere are practicing the most rigid economy, and the public must do the same thing or face bankruptcy. Unless conditions change, taxes will be hard to pay in 1933 than they were in 1932, and there must be NO increase. I pledge myself an humble and faithful servant of the people. I pledge my FULL and UNDIVIDED time to the duties of the office of county judge. The taxpayers pay for FULL TIME service and have the right to expect it. The people need full time service and are beginning to demand it. When a citizen comes to the county seat to transact any business which needs the attention of the county judge and finds that the public official engaged in some private enterprise for additional gain so that no service can be had, that then feels a righteous indignation, he feels that it is time to call a halt to that procedure. He feels that the public servant who takes the salary paid by the people, which is no insignificant item to the taxpayer, he should be there at all times ready to serve.

The county's indigent citizenship provides one of the serious problems that the county judge must face. I believe that it is just as important that an indigent citizen, in need of that care and protection for which the law makes provision, receive it when he needs it, as it is to pay the general bill after it is too late to do him any good. A few dollars spent to save the life of a citizen might save the county a considerably larger sum in the form of a funeral bill, which the county must pay, if he dies.

The county judge is chairman of the tax equalization board. I pledge to fair and just equalization of taxes without fear or favor. In the capacity of chairman of the tax equalization board, I will be absolutely free from any suspicion that while the county's interest is being looked after, I might have an interest in some legal client who may be a taxpayer, and whose property values are to be considered. The county judge is disqualified to sit as judge in a case in which a client of his is involved. I believe he should also be disqualified to sit as chairman of the tax equalization board when evaluating the property of a taxpaying client. If taxes are not justly equalized some will necessarily pass less, and some more, than their pro rata share. Think this over carefully.

I urge you to give my candidacy your careful consideration and invite your influence and support in my campaign, and earnestly solicit your vote in the July primary.

C. E. (Elmer) CARY.

APPETIZING EGG DISHES

By Miss Ruby M. Adams, C. R. A. Many home makers send out S. O. S. calls each time it comes time to prepare a meal. The call usually sounds thus: "I wouldn't mind the cooking if someone would suggest what to cook." With the present low price of eggs, many are using a large number of eggs in their diet. It seems that now is an appropriate time to give a demonstration upon egg cookery. The cooking of eggs or meat serves as a good example of the effect of heat on proteins. The chief protein in egg white belongs to a class of proteins called albumins. Although transparent and easily soluble in water before heating, egg albumin is rendered opaque and insoluble in water by the application of heat. This change is known as coagulation and is typical of the change which occurs in all protein foods upon heating. Boiling renders albumin tough and leathery. While protein is still digestible after the application of high temperatures, the hardness and toughness of protein foods which have been thus treated renders them undesirable.

An effort should be made, therefore, to cook foods which contain considerable protein at as low a temperature and for as short a time as will make them palatable.

KNEADING NEWS

We are putting a "Shopping List" in our bread Saturday that will be convenient for you. Just hang this up in your kitchen and then any time during the week that you think of something you need, just "jot" it down on the list.

We have those napkins in, too, that we told you about a few weeks past. There are 40 in a package, for only 10c. You'll find that to use them for table use is much better than linens.

We agree with a lady who came in today and said she "thought our cakes were certainly fine." When she was informed that they were made from "Home Recipes," and the same ingredients that she uses, she remarked: "You must bake products like the housewife does to sell her." She's just right as right can be, but we make those things every day and with every kind of equipment one needs, consequently we should be able to make them more uniform.

Oh, yes, our pie for Friday will be BOSTON CREAM PIE for 19c.

Panhandle Press Association

Statistics show that 86% of all the business failures in the United States in 1930 were either non-advertisers or classified as incidental advertisers. Successful merchants advertise consistently.

That editors have their lighter moments is evidenced by State Press of the Dallas News who called the McLean News editor to one side at the convention last week and said he wanted to confide a secret. The secret was that when the News editor loses the hair on top of his head, he will then be bald. However, Dave Shanks of Perryton soothed our feelings by wanting to know what barber we patronize, as he likes the way we have our hair cut.

What was considered remarkable by the manager of the Herring Hotel at Amarillo, is that during the Panhandle Press convention there was no drinking and no wild parties. Everything went off like clockwork, with no rowdiness of any kind. Most men are slowly learning that it does not pay to indulge in questionable practices, just because they are away from home and have the opportunity; and on the other hand, it may be that the standards of the editors are higher than was the case several years ago.

One of the speakers at the press convention said that those elected to spend the taxpayers' money cannot be depended upon to guard the waste of the money. This depends upon the taxpayers themselves, and if they do not demand an accounting, there will be none. Not over 40% of the tax money is actually used for government; the other 60% goes for services that have no part in government except as we make them a part. The making and enforcing of laws is the only duty of the government, but now-a-days it seems that everything is dabbled in by the government, from farming to printing. All this is bound to be expensive to the taxpayers.

A few editors at the press convention in Amarillo last week boasted of the fact that they and their papers do not make friends, and advanced the theory that no paper should have friends. Dr. J. E. Nunn, pioneer educator and newspaper man, told them that a newspaper should have character, just the same as an individual, and the paper or its editor should cultivate as many friends as possible. The only rule to go by is to print what is right to print. If it takes soft-pedaling the crime of some boy, why that is the thing to do. The editor should know what to leave out of the paper the same as what to print, and nothing should be printed that would hurt the community as a whole. Dr. Nunn is eminently right. The paper that has no friends might be read, and, being read, might be a good advertising medium and thereby make money for its owner, but it is worth little to the community and is living way below its opportunities.

DOWN GOES COST OF LIVING

Copper—It only cost an average of $4.84 to feed their families in February, 55 Delta county home demonstration club members have reported. Mrs. W. D. Hollan of the Klondike community reports that $3.50 fed her family of six, and that "we really had something to eat." Mrs. M. S. Young of Enloe community spent $1.55 for food for her family of three. This economy was made possible by well-stocked pantries, according to Miss Laura Morgan, county home demonstration agent. "It is interesting to note," she writes, "that every one of the 55 women was serving a raw fruit."

TURKEY "LUCK" IS MANAGEMENT

College Station.—A relatively new system of turkey sanitation known as "The Four-Leaf Clover Plan" has been outlined for Texas turkey demonstrators by Paul A. Cunyus, assistant poultry husbandman in the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. It is especially adapted to confinement reared flocks and aims chiefly at eliminating pin worms which carry the blackhead disease.

In the suggested plan about 150 to 175 poulters are brooded in an ordinary 52-inch size hover placed in a 12 by 12 house which has small exit doors in each corner. After the first week the poulters are allowed to run outside part of the day but are confined to a small area enclosed by a piece of wire netting stretched around one corner of the house. Each week a new corner is fitted up and in four weeks the house is moved to fresh pasture, leaving a four-leaf clover design behind. At nine weeks old the poulters are said to be ready for the range and past most of the danger of death from blackhead. The plan is described in a new Extension Service circular C-91 obtainable from county and home demonstration agents.

Mt. Vernon.—"It's better to sell 4-cent eggs at 8 cents a dozen than 17-cent eggs at 20 a dozen," declares Dan Elliott, Franklin county poultry demonstrator, who figures a profit of $36.78 from 918½ dozen eggs that the flock of 608 hens laid in March. The hens averaged more than 18 eggs each for the month, and the feed cost was $36.70.

SURPLUS MILK MAKES GOOD AMERICAN CHEESE

Seymour.—Having made 300 pounds of American cheese which she sold for $60, Mrs. Loo Howe of the Hashknife Club holds the record as cheese-maker in Baylor county. She now has on hand 148 pounds of cheese curing, and recently conceived the idea of making pimento cheese for which she is finding ready sale.

Cheese making has become popular in Baylor county, reports Miss Ester Mae Wade, county home demonstration agent, since the women have found that it costs very little to make, and is a means of marketing their surplus milk for which there is practically no sale.

A Cameron county lady whose hens were not laying was bound to cull them severely but the county agent simply suggested that the scratch feed ration used be changed to a laying mash. In two weeks the 35 hens had increased in production from two eggs daily to 21 eggs per day.

Dressed poultry and cakes are the leaders in sales of home products sold in the Smith county home demonstration market which has nearly doubled the volume of business this spring over the same period last year. Eggs have sold for 12½ cents per dozen because people were glad to pay the difference for clean fresh eggs.

TURN'S KITCHEN INTO CHILI FACTORY

Houston.—More than 2,000 cans of chili have been sold by Mrs. Roy J. Loucks since she learned to can her product in tin at a demonstration given by Miss Opal Roberson, Harris county home demonstration agent. Mrs. Loucks says that her kitchen has become a chili factory and that more equipment is needed for her rapidly increasing business.

Four-H club girls in Tarrant county built 84 hot beds for their gardens this year, bringing the total in use by girls in the county to 152. Of the 267 girls growing gardens, 253 were forced to plant over because of the spring freeze.

It would have taken 114 old roosters to have equalled the price H. H. Campbell of Motley county received the other day for 19 capons. He produced 100 capons last year and the county agent reports that he will increase the crop this season.

In a recent month Mason county home demonstration club women made more than 1000 gallons of cheap milk into American cheese for home use and a small amount for sale.

FALLOW NOW FOR FALL ALFALFA

College Station.—Many farmers withholding from cultivation acreages of extra good land this year to prepare it for fall alfalfa. It is pointed out by E. A. agronomist in the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. "The way to get ready for alfalfa is to flat-break good, well-drained land in the spring, preferably in river bottoms, and let it lie all summer except for an occasional harrowing to kill weeds," he says. "This stores moisture and makes a firm seed bed which is very important. From September to the first of November is the best time to sow the alfalfa."

ONE HUNDRED LETTERS ADDRESSED TO YOU
PERSONALLY

Think of the advertisements in this paper as so many letters addressed to you, personally. That's what they're intended to be, and, actually, that's what they are. This newspaper is, in effect, a mail-bag which brings you news of events and news of the best merchandise at the fairest prices.

You don't throw away letters unread. You don't read three or four letters carefully and skim through the rest. Treat the "merchandise letters" in this newspaper the same way. Read them all. Read them carefully. One single item will often repay you for the time it has taken to read them all.

Many good housekeepers have formed the habit of reading their newspaper with a pencil and paper, ready to jot down the articles they wish to look at when they start out on their shopping tour. Try this method. It saves time, and saves money, and provides you with the pick of the day's merchandise.

Every advertisement has a message all its own.

Next Sunday's Lesson

JACOB AT BETHEL

By Rev. Cecil G. Goff
 Golden text, Gen. 28:15. Lesson Gen. 28:10-17.
 was probably after Esau's sale of his birthright to Jacob that Isaac fled among the Philistines. There had trouble over his wells and fled on to Beersheba where he spent his last days in peace. He was old and blind and the time came to pass on to his elder son blessing whereby he would be the head of the clan and possessor of his father's wealth.

Isaac called Esau and sent him to the field after venison that a meal to spend his last days in peace. Regardless of the fact Esau had sold to Jacob his birthright, he prepared to accept it by obeying his father's bidding, and ready for the ceremony.

Rebekah, Isaac's wife, heard the plan determined to take matters in her own hands. Jacob was to receive his birthright. That was God's will as well as Rebekah's. However, it was God's problem to bring the blessing to his chosen one, Jacob. He would have brought it about, had his mother had faith, but she was without.

Esau was sent to the flock to bring young goats. Rebekah prepared meat for Isaac and placed it on Jacob's hands and neck as if his father was to touch him. He was convinced that Esau had been deceived. He ate, and blessed Jacob. He was not at all difficult to convince that Jacob or Rebekah of lying on seven counts, namely: (1) deception of Isaac as to Jacob's identity; (2) Jacob said, "I am Esau, thy firstborn;" (3) "I have done as thou hast bid me;" (4) "Arise, I pray thee, eat of my venison;" (5) the claim that Jacob had given him speed in the deer; (6) to the question "thou my very son, Esau?" Jacob answered, "I am;" (7) Jacob permitted Isaac to feel his hands and neck with the skins of the goats.

Isaac received the blessing. When Esau arrived and the deception was known, it was too late to remedy the situation. Isaac finally gave him a secondary blessing. Thus Isaac swore he would kill Jacob as he had his father died. Isaac was blind and it was supposed he would soon pass away, but he lived 43 years longer.

Rebekah thought it best to send Jacob away for safety's sake. So she hid him on the grounds that he needed for his own people. Esau, 17 years earlier, had married two Hittite and unbecomable women, and married Ishmael's daughter, Leah. Jacob started on his way to Haran in Paddan-Aram, home of his uncle, Laban.

Jacob started from Beersheba at the very end of Canaan, to Haran. The distance was about 500 miles.
 11. Jacob arrived at "a certain place." It seems by the reading that he was by chance, and true on Jacob's part, but not on God's part. It was about 50 miles northeast of Beersheba. The record would seem to indicate that Jacob had been traveling only a few days. It was late, the sun was setting. He was near the city Luz, but he did not go in. Instead he took a sack for his pillow and slept out. 12. As Jacob slept, he dreamed of a ladder coming down from heaven to the place where he was and the angels of God went to and fro upon it.

to Jacob.
 v. 15. God promises to go with Jacob continually, and not to leave him. He has a covenant with all with whom He has a covenant. God has a covenant with every saved man.
 v. 16. Jehovah is ever present. Jacob did not know that. Consider how little he knew of Jehovah. His father worshipped God. He had probably heard Jacob about his worship and God's promises. But Jacob had never really worshipped Jehovah. There is no written record in that time of God's wonders. What records there were were verbal, and if inspired, inspired each time they were told. God appeared to men when He had a task or a covenant for them. In this record we find God first appearing unto Jacob. It may be called a dream or a vision, but God was actually present.

v. 17-22. Jacob arose in fear and called the place Bethel (house of God). He took the stone he had used for a pillow and made of it a pillar, an altar, and worshipped Jehovah. There Jacob vowed to God that if He would keep His promise and go with him and return him safely, he would always give to Jehovah one-tenth of all he made. It was a small thing—only a tenth—and yet a thing which should cause continual remembrance of God's covenant. If men today would so covenant with God to give a tenth as a tithe, they would not so quickly and easily forget God, and He would grant them greater protection and blessings.

HELP MAKE MOTORING SAFER

By Dr. William J. Scholes
 The automobile has become a very important and beneficial factor in modern life. It has done much to increase the efficiency of the individual. By enabling the dwellers of cities and towns to frequently get out into the open, it has even been a means of promoting health.

But like most other agencies for good, the automobile is also capable of doing a certain amount of harm. A. J. Chesely, in an article in the American Journal of Public Health, points out that the automobile may become a public health hazard. Fatal and crippling accidents, no doubt, head the list of evils. And their number increases as the number of motor vehicles increases. In addition to these, the automobile may be the means of causing and spreading disease. Then, too, considerable danger is associated with the inhalation of noxious exhaust gases. Many deaths have resulted from this cause.

Motorists Need Exercise
 The substitution of the automobile for walking, even for short distances, often means the reduction of physical exertion to an unhealthy degree. This avoidance of physical exertion is, as Chesely points out, too common among those who lead sedentary lives. These are the very people who should seek exercise instead of avoidance.

Attention is also called to the health risks associated with touring. The public tourist camps may become centers for the spread of disease through impure water supplies. And there may not be proper facilities for the disposal of sewerage, garbage and waste.

Co-operation Required
 Typhoid fever is given as an example of a disease that may be readily spread by the motorist. It takes about three weeks for this disease to develop after one becomes infected. This makes it possible for one to become infected at home and carry typhoid to several other places. To make the automobile less dangerous to life and health is not a simple problem. It requires an understanding on the part of the individual motorist that these evils exist. And in order to lessen them it requires his co-operation with the local and public health authorities.

Hints for the Household

By Betty Webster

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Spring Cleaning of Heaters
 Do not wait until time to start winter fires before you clean your heaters. There is too much harm can be done by leaving them dirty.

Remove smoke pipe running from furnace to chimney. Brush out well. Remove all partly burned coal, clinkers or ashes from fire pot and ash pit.

To keep interior of furnace dry, put small box of unslaked lime on grate. Leave furnace doors open. Do not burn papers and loose things in furnace during summer. It causes a moisture which starts rust.

With steam or hot water plants fill boiler with water to safety valve.

COOKING HINTS

Never do salads taste better than in the spring when we all crave green things.

Mayonnaise Salad Dressing
 One can get a good many very tasty combinations out of a jar of mayonnaise.

Chopped sweet pickles added to mayonnaise make a delicious salad dressing.

Try chopped onion, celery and pimento mixed with mayonnaise.

Thousand Island dressing made by adding chili sauce to mayonnaise is always good.

Then—for fruit salad, whipped cream added to mayonnaise makes it much better.

In making a large amount of salad dressing, add white sauce or drawn butter sauce to mayonnaise, thereby increasing its bulk.

To Freshen Lettuce
 Put a piece of powdered borax into cold water. Wash lettuce in this and let stand for half an hour. Shake leaves well and wipe.

Cabbage Meal
 1 large cabbage.
 1 lb round steak.
 3 medium sized potatoes.
 Several stalks of celery.
 Carrots.
 Butter.
 Onion.
 Method: Cut off top of cabbage for cover. Scoop out inside of cabbage. Make meat into patties and pack in bottom of cabbage. Season. Cut vegetables in small squares. Put together and season. When cabbage is full, replace cover. The cover on firmly. Place in kettle, pour boiling water over. Boil 2 hours. Pat on platter and untie. Serve with melted butter. Serves six plentifully.

BAKING HINTS

Delicious Devils Food Cake
 1/4 cup butter.
 1 cup sugar.
 2 eggs.
 1 teaspoon soda.
 1/2 cup sour milk.
 1/2 teaspoon baking powder.
 1 1/4 cups flour.
 1/4 cake chocolate.
 1/2 cup boiling water.
 Vanilla.
 Method: Cream butter and sugar until light. Beat eggs well and add. Next the flour and baking powder. Very last—dissolve chocolate in boiling water and add to mixture. Flavor well. Then bake.

Hint for Frying Eggs
 To fry eggs so that they look nice is not so hard as it seems. Melt a small amount of fat, less than ordinarily, in frying pan. Pour into edge of pan a small amount of hot water, 1 tablespoon to skillet; break an egg into a saucer, slide into pan, cover closely.

This is much quicker than poaching and the good appearance is certain.

They've Never Tasted a Tonic!

THESE are not patent medicine children. Their appetite needs no coaxing. Their tongues are never coated, cheeks never pale. And their bowels move just like clockwork, because they have never been given a habit-forming laxative.

You can have children like this—and be as healthy yourself—if you follow the advice of a famous family physician. Stimulate the vital organs. The strongest of them need help at times. If they don't get it, they grow sluggish. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin is a mild, safe stimulant.

When a youngster doesn't do well at school, it may be the liver that's lary. Often the bowels hold enough poisonous waste to dull the senses! A spoonful of delicious syrup pepsin once or twice a week will avoid all this. It contains fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin, and does a world of good to any system—Young or old. You can always get this fine prescriptive preparation at any drug store. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and protect your family from those bilious days, frequent sick spells and colds. Keep a bottle in the medicine chest instead of cathartics that so often bring on chronic constipation. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin can always be employed to give clogged bowels a thorough cleansing, with none of that painful griping, or burning feeling afterward. It isn't expensive.

THE HEALTH ROAD

By Lorraine Hodges
 Before getting grown up folks. We have to be happy. We must have a few small jokes. We must make it snappy.
 Take the road to reading lighthouse. Don't stay at the nighthouse; Better stop on the mountain And drink from bubbling fountain. There is the road to restful sleep. Don't open an eye and peep. Be sure to travel toothbrush trail. But don't leave your brush on a nail. Through straight spine woods you go. But never through Sneezeville, oh no! It is a place of great renown. But my advice is miss that town. There is fresh milk farm. There we can get milk cool or warm. Then to vegetable parade ground. We can get vegetables long or round. Take your meals at Healthland Inn. Then you won't get sick or thin. Here is Bath Tub Bay. Don't pass it by, nay, nay!

 The Wise Owls have gone over all of their spelling and have just about completed that of the low fourth. This class has also completed all of the third readers. We have read a number of stories and poems of our own choosing. Some of these stories were selected from children's magazines, the story books we have in our homes, or our Sunday school papers. For the remainder of school we are going to get to read in a fourth grade reader. One section of the Sly Foxes is finishing their reader today. They are anxious to get their new reader.

Lorraine Hodges visited in Dodsonville Sunday. Joseph Skinner visited in Pampa Saturday. Robert Wilson visited in Amarillo Sunday. Luella Blaylock visited in Magic City Sunday. Marie Edney and Glenda Landers went to see their grandmothers Sunday.

THE RABBIT

By Louise Stotts
 I have a little rabbit, And he has a little habit. His habit is to sniff around Upon the smooth green ground. One day he saw a dog, and oh my! It almost made him cry. Once he was running around. And lo! he heard a sound. It was beginning to get dark. And the dogs soon began to bark. But the rabbit was hiding. So the hunters went on riding.

SIXTH REPORT

By Shirley Johnston
 I hope everybody has enjoyed the reports that have come from the grades. The teachers have been very faithful in handing in reports. It is very interesting listening to the little folks helping the teachers write them. They want to tell everything that they have done through the day. In one room a teacher has a little girl to write the report. The teachers and children have been doing their best this year in writing reports and handing them in.

FASHIONS OF TODAY

By Rose Margaret Tolliver
 It looks to me as if white shoes are going to be in style this summer. If you are going to wear white shoes, wear an eggshell hat and flesh hose and an eggshell dress or snake tan; wear your fingernails light pink and you will be all dressed up and no where to go. Well, I will tell you some place to go to wear them. You should go to some cafe to eat your dinner. The spread on the table should be white with blue stripes in it, and I'm sure you know how to eat.
 I will be with you at this same time next week. Don't miss "Girl of Today" telling you what you should wear to be a girl of today.

THE BEST TRIP I EVER TOOK

By Fred Wayne Harris, in English 5
 I went on a fishing trip out in the mountains in New Mexico, one summer. We left here early one morning. We went to Cimmaron Canyon and spent the night. The next day we made some "nigger-shooters" and killed a lot of chipmunks. We went to Red River the next day and spent several days there fishing and climbing mountains.
 We drove from Red River to Taos, where we visited the Indian pueblo. We watched the Indian women bake bread in big dirt ovens in the yard.

We also visited Kit Carson's grave and his old home.
 The most interesting place we saw was the artist colony. We watched them paint pictures from the beautiful wild flowers they gathered.
 Our next drive was to the Rio Grande River. We camped here for a week and fished. We caught more fish than we could eat, and went home happy.
