Highway Association Says Gap in 66 Must Be Paved

Off with the Old—on with the New!

Gap in Paving Rushed to Completion

A state meeting of the Association met at Groom on Monday to discuss the problem of the gap in the paving of the highway near Jericho, by the state. The highway is now holding up the traffic and a statement by the London division engineer who insisted that the highway Department had approved to procure and construct, something that has not been done in West Texas. The only delay is the securing of the right-of-way. The director of the association, McLean, was made chairman of the committee to represent the highway in securing right-of-way, and recommending that the highway action is necessary to secure the right-of-way for the highway on a permanent basis to the state and the highway.

Briggs, Graham of Pampa Are Contest Judges

Geo. W. Briggs, secretary of the Pampa chamber of commerce, and Mack Graham, also of Pampa, judged the Lions Club better yards and gardens contest at McLean, Tuesday. Mr. Briggs, in making his report to the club, stated that the season is far too late to judge yards, and their decision was reached on how the different places look at the present time. Mr. Briggs deplored the fact that there were not two classes for town and country homes, saying that it is very difficult to judge different type yards in the same class. Two places tied for first place on the first count, but after revisiting the two places, T. A. Massay's country home was given first place with a grade of 78 points, and T. A. Landers' town place second with 77 points. George Colebank finished third with 55 points. Mr. Briggs stated that the grading was done according to national rules, the back yard carrying 60 points, the front yard 25 and the alley and service area 15 points. Following the report, the club voted to conduct next year's contest strictly according to national rules, with three judgments during the year, and T. A. Landers, Jno. W. Cooper and Evan L. Sitter were appointed to draft rules and report at next week's meeting. Paul M. Bruce of the Alanreed nursery spoke in praise of the club's spirit of community beautification and the club gave a vote of thanks to Mr. Bruce and the judges for their cooperation.

Fire Program Prevention Week Well Attended

A large crowd assembled to see the parade Wednesday, headed by the fire truck with city officials, the fire department, the high school band and P. T. A. officials, and to hear the various speeches and stunts performed by school students. Supt. G. C. Boswell of the schools was master of ceremonies, and the mayor, fire marshal and fire chief made addresses.

The eighth grade sang a parody on "My Bonnie," the sophomores acted "Mrs. O'Leary and Her Cow," the juniors sang a parody on "Yankee Doodle," the seniors gave a stunt, "Fire with Matches;" the seventh grade sang "Where, O Where Has Our Little House Gone?" and other grades made contributions to the program. The high school band directed by Ben Howard played for the parade and gave several selections during the program.

McLEAN BOOTH HIGH IN FIVE DIVISIONS

The report on McLean's F. F. A. booth at the Tri-state fair shows five outstanding scores out of seven divisions. In crop and farm products exhibits from McLean placed first with 70 points out of 80, Pampa being second with 62 points. McLean was second in decorations, 45 out of 50; third in neatness, 39 out of 50; third in signs, 93 out of 100; and third in educational value, 355 out of 400.

FIRE POSTER WINNERS

Winners in the school poster contest, incident to fire prevention week, were announced by the judges this morning, awarding first place to the third, fourth, eighth and eleventh grades. The competition was between the first three grades, the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh, eighth, and ninth, tenth and eleventh. Reuben R. R. Cook and T. A. Landers were the judges.

Mrs. Alva Alexander and little daughter were in Pampa Thursday.

Fire Marshal Boyd Meador Lions Speaker

Reuben R. R. Cook, program chairman for Tuesday's luncheon, presented Fire Marshal Boyd Meador as the speaker of the day.

Mr. Meador said that last year represented the heaviest fire loss in the history of the United States, 10,000 lives being lost and 500 million dollars worth of property destroyed.

McLean suffered insurance losses of $30,275.35 last year, and $18,123.68 to date this year a total of $48,399.23 for the past 21 months. These figures do not take into account the uninsured losses, those out of town, or actual loss, but are the amounts paid insurance holders.

Mr. Meador explained that the rate is figured over a three-year period, and that these losses will affect the rate for at least two more years. McLean policy holders are paying 21% over a year ago, and 30% over the good record enjoyed a few years ago.

The marshal insisted that McLean citizens should take extra precautions against any further fires, the insurance rate being affected by the total of all fires each year.

McLEAN 4-H BOYS AT COLLEGE FARM

Earl Breeding and Clark Stockton were fortunate enough to secure a position with the West Texas State Teachers College farm at Canyon that will enable them to make a part of their school expenses, and at the same time gain first hand knowledge of scientific farm management.

Both boys are former McLean high school students and made good records in Dr. Tampke's agricultural department, Earl scoring high on the McLean dairy stock judging team.

This is the second year for Clark, he having worked at the farm last term, and Prof. Frank R. Phillips, head of the college agricultural department commends the high type of students that McLean has been sending to Canyon.

Only 27 boys out of 88 applicants were given work at the farm this year.

Reduction in Rates for Winter

Representative Gives Proposition of Company

A representative of the McLean Gas Company, in a conversation with the News editor yesterday, stated that the company is in position to grant a reduction in rates for the winter season, as well as other concessions, should the proposition meet with the approval of the city council.

The company would be willing to cut the rate, beginning Nov. 1, to 40c for a period of six months, for the next two years, the rate being left at 50c for the remaining six months of the year. However, the representative pointed out that most of the summer customers do not use more than the minimum.

The company would also agree to drop all lawsuits and remit the $5000 in back bills against the citizens, which accumulated under the city's injunction.

This offer would be made, regardless of the newly granted franchise to D. W. Humphreys, and is the same proposition outlined to the mayor three weeks ago.

It is not known whether the council will entertain the proposition or not, as it has not been officially considered.

KENT CARPENTER INJURED IN SHAMROCK GAME

D. L. ABBOTT'S GRANDSON RECEIVES HONORS

William Abbott of El Paso, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Abbott, has been selected for the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, a signal honor, as only 100 men are selected from the ranks each year, out of hundreds who apply.

Intelligence, good behavior, physical fitness and scholarship are taken into account in selecting the men.

William is a former student of McLean, and is a graduate of the El Paso high school. He has been in training on the U. S. S. Tennessee for the past 10 months.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

By Reporter.
The American Legion Auxiliary met Thursday evening, Oct. 6, with Mrs. Reep Landers, for the first meeting of the fiscal year with new officers in charge.

Work for the next few months was discussed and a decision made to hold a food sale every other Saturday, beginning this week, and also a gift sale to be just before Christmas.

A great proportion of the money raised by the Auxiliary is being spent on community and welfare needs, and they appreciate the cooperation of the citizens in their work.

At a recent meeting a bountiful offering was made to the Elmo Phillips family who lost their household goods by fire.

Mrs. T. A. Landers and daughter, Miss Marie, attended the football game at Shamrock Friday.

Miss Jenn Word of Wellington visited her sister, Mrs. W. J. Bridge, Tuesday.

TIGERS DEFEAT SHAMROCK

The Tigers won, and how! They defeated the Shamrock Irishmen 13 to 0 in the most thrilling grid battle of the season. In the first quarter the Tigers made a touchdown with Back carrying the ball, but failed to score the extra point. Shamrock did not score in the first quarter. In the second quarter the Tigers made another touchdown with Robinson carrying the ball. In the third quarter there was no touchdown made. In the fourth quarter the Shamrock Irishmen broke loose in a passing fever, and were completing passes on every side, but that was soon slowed down by the Tigers.

The outstanding players of this game were C. Christian, Crockett and Back. Christian made some sensational side stepping runs for long gains. Crockett made many first downs by fast end runs. Back furnished the power to drive through the line.

There was a large McLean attendance at the Shamrock gridiron Friday and plenty of football spirit. Many of the McLean boosters returned home with sore throats. The football team and pep squad wish to thank the public for their splendid support at the game.

The next game for the Tigers will be Friday. The game will be between the Turkey eleven and the Tigers. This is the first conference game of the season. Everyone be present Friday afternoon at 3:30.

An attractively appointed tea, given by the second year home economics girls at the high school auditorium, entertained the girls' mothers, the mistresses of McLean, and the school faculty, Thursday afternoon.

IN ASSEMBLY

Rev. Jno. H. Crow brought a most interesting message to the high school on last Wednesday. There was a practical lesson for every person.

On Monday morning a pep meeting was enjoyed. The Tigers were seated on the honor seats and the entire school, class by class, marched 'round and 'round them, singing "That Good Old Tiger Line." After everyone was in place, other pep songs were sung. That "school spirit" ran high and everyone was proud of those boys who fought hard for M. H. S.

The home room program was presented on Tuesday morning by the junior class, with Miss Vannoy as sponsor. As the day was Columbus Day, an appropriate program was given. Vice president of the class, Avalee Back, presided. The following program was given: "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean," a reading, "Columbus and the Egg," Oleta Holloway; violin selections, "La Paloma" and "Drink to Me only with Thine Eyes," Alice Hardin, accompanied by Dorothy Jean St. Clair; "Discovery Day," Mary Emma Back; a playlet, "Columbus and the Majesties," by King Ferdinand, Sim Rhodes; Queen Isabella, Neva Flowers; Columbus, Archie Hibler; Columbus' followers, Arthur Lee Howard, John S. Mertel and Robert Brewer.

EX-STUDENTS MAKE GOOD

Reports have been received from some of last year's graduates, and they are making good. Sarah Ellen Foster, who is attending W. T. S. T. C., was examined in English and made one of the highest grades in the class.

Margaret Hess, who is attending Texas Tech, was given the "Cross" English test and ranked in B quartile. Margaret also sings in the Methodist choir and the glee club. Kathryn Hales passed the examination in the University of Oklahoma in which more than 100 failures were reported.

SENIOR REPORT

The senior class selected their class rings on Tuesday, Oct. 11. They selected very beautiful rings when workmanship, beauty and durability were considered. The seniors are working hard on their fire prevention activities and upon the senior program which is to be presented in chapel next Tuesday morning at 8:45. All are invited to this program.

FIRE PREVENTION EXHIBITION

The high school took part in the fire prevention program on Wednesday afternoon. Each class presented a short stunt. Each class made a fire prevention poster. These were judged by local insurance men. Places will be announced next week.

The school faculty has begun work on "Listen to Leon," a comedy in three acts, under the direction of Miss Kennedy. It will be presented at an early date. Proceeds will go to the library fund.

PREVENT FIRES

Put lighted matches and smokes out before you throw them away. Keep matches where small children cannot reach them. Never smoke in the garage, barn, attic, or in bed.

Remove rubbish, waste papers and all unnecessary combustible materials. Provide metal ash and trash cans. Burn rubbish only in a safely covered brick or metal incinerator. Watch the fire.

Examine all stoves, furnaces, and smoke pipes to make sure they are safe and well away from woodwork or other burnable materials. Have needed repairs made at once. Value the advice of your fire chief, who says that many fires are caused by dirty or defective chimneys. Have the chimney cleaned regularly, and have all defects repaired.

Escape the danger of flammable liquid fires and explosions by keeping no gasoline in the house. Do dry cleaning with safe liquids or send the work to the cleaner. Never start fires with kerosene.

Notify the electric company of electrical trouble and the gas company of gas leaks. Replace "blown" fuses with new ones—not pennies. Avoid home made wiring jobs. Don't look for gas leaks with a match.

Teach everyone in the family to be careful of fire, to watch stoves, fireplaces, electric irons and all other possible fire causes, and everyday to remove old rags, papers and other rubbish.

Fireproof your home as far as possible by fire-safe roofing, fire stopping in hollow walls and partitions to stop the spread of flame, and a non-combustible basement ceiling.

Inquire of your fire chief, when buying a fire extinguisher, to be sure of getting the right kind. Don't hesitate to ask your firemen whenever you have questions on fire prevention.

Remember always where the nearest alarm box is and how to send an alarm. If telephoning, be sure the address is clearly understood. Use a neighbor's phone rather than one in the burning building.

Explain to everyone in the house what to do in case of fire, how to put out fire in clothing by wrapping in a rug or blanket; what to do when grease catches fire in the kitchen.

Save life and property from needless destruction by fire by keeping the principles of fire prevention always in mind and never taking a chance with fire.

CHOICE RECIPES

By Miss Ruby M. Adams, C. D. H. A. (Timely school lunch suggestions received by request, from Bureau of Home Economics, Dr. Louis Stanley, Chief).

Vegetable Sandwich Fillings

Different vegetables such as cabbage, celery, cucumber, onion, carrots or beets, may be combined, seasoned, and canned, ready for using in sandwich fillings. All of these, except the beets, may be raw. Cooking the beets gives them a better color. Both beets and carrots are most desirable when grated, but the others may be chopped fine.

In addition to salt, pepper, sugar, and the vinegar in which the vegetables are canned, any of the following seasonings may be selected according to taste:

- Peppers (green and red)
- Tarragon
- Horse radish
- Parsley
- Mustard
- White mustard
- Cloves
- Cinnamon
- Allspice

When ready to make the sandwiches, creamed butter will be found to serve as a good binder for the mixture. It is appetizing and will save the trouble of having to butter the bread. Boiled salad dressing also acts as a satisfactory binder.

Vegetable Relish

(This recipe has been found to be well liked.)

- 1 cup sweet red pepper, chopped fine.
- 1 cup small onions, chopped fine.
- 1 cup cucumber, chopped fine.
- 2 cups cabbage, chopped fine.
- 1/2 cup celery, chopped fine.
- 1/2 cup sugar.
- 2 tablespoons salt.
- 2 cups vinegar.

Cut open the peppers, remove the seeds and white sections, and chop. After chopping the other vegetables, combine all of them with the seasonings and mix well. Then place rubbers on one pint sterilized glass topped jars and pack the mixture into them rather loosely, filling within an inch of the top. Scald the vinegar, and pouring it over the relish, fill the jars. Put lids on without clamping.

Place enough hot water in wash boiler sterilizer so that it will extend at least one inch above the tops of the jars. Place the hot jar in the hot water. Heat the water to boiling and boil for 10 minutes. Then seal the jar and remove from the water.

Other mixtures, such as the following, may be used also:

- 1 cup green peppers, chopped fine.
- 1/2 cup sweet red peppers, chopped fine.
- 2 cups cabbage, chopped fine.
- 1/2 cup onion, chopped fine.
- 1 cup celery, chopped fine.
- 1/2 cup sugar.
- 1/2 teaspoon mustard.
- 2 1/2 tablespoons salt.
- 2 cups vinegar.

- 1/2 cup green peppers, chopped fine.
- 2 cups green tomatoes, chopped fine.
- 2 cups cucumbers, chopped fine.
- 1/2 cup celery, chopped fine.
- 1 cup white onions, chopped fine.
- 1 cup brown sugar.
- 1 tablespoon white mustard seed.
- 1 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves.

MISREPRESENT?

who deliberately misrepresents has committed a grave offense. However, there have always been in every community who are leaving a false impression on some one, or some business.

People will misrepresent their thinking that they will be but it will eventually be and when it does it all depends on the one who has seen innocent people suffer of a misrepresentation of character, and in various other accounts of some mis- sion of some envious person. A golden rule which it would be for us all to follow: "If you are going to say anything, say something good about your opponent."

In most campaigns for office there are always a few who will misrepresent their opponent. This is wrong, and one reason never have had any desire to be a candidate for office. You should never speak, and you should never let his opponent be the fellow in the world, and you should go along and tell you about the fellow and you just don't know and you just don't know one is telling the truth. In most cases, we wonder sometimes if they are, both should be in defeat.

Generally you will find a business man who will misrepresent his competitor. He will get business by misrepresenting his competitor. He will succeed for a while, but he will find a fellow like this he will lose the confidence of the public and when he does, he is going to have a hard fall; and he deserves it.

Be square with each other, when we say anything about a fellow, let it be the truth.—The American, Sallisaw, Okla.

FALL PLANTING

is the best time to plant—fall or spring? Expert advice on this question can be summed up in a single statement—plant those plants which take kindly to fall planting.

The planting seasons are all too busy. We must make the most of the two which we have, and that can be planted in fall. In the first place, there are more plants in which to work in fall, than in spring. Generally speaking, the weather is usually more favorable for outdoor work in fall, and the ground is more workable than in spring.

Flowers and shrubs send out their roots very early in spring, often before suitable planting conditions have been reached. To move them in spring means that this early growth is checked and the progress of the roots is delayed another season; whereas, if they are set out in fall, the plants are dormant and can be easily moved and handled. The fall is the best time to settle the soil around their roots and the plants become firmly established in the ground. At the first call of spring they are ready to get out with the other plants to make your outdoor living room an interesting, beautiful spot.

For fall planting the signal is: "Go ahead—NOW!" November is the month when the signals begin to change. The brilliant coloring of the foliage of trees and shrubs is a warning that the fall planting days will be over, and those who have not gone ahead will have to wait until another year, or, caught by cold weather, leave things half done. By planting this fall you get all the fuss and muss over with now—when spring comes you can look forward to complete enjoyment of beautiful grounds from the very first days of spring throughout the entire year. Heed the advice of experts—plant this fall!

In an item which appeared in an exchange sent the Beaver City (Neb.) Times-Tribune, was noticed a sentence which read, "A jazz orchestra will furnish the music." To which Editor Merwin aptly responds: "Folks, it can't be done. A jazz orchestra can play and perform, but furnish music—never."

It's Starting!

Editor Gillispie of the St. Francis (Kan.) Herald has learned that the boys are causing some worry near Stockton by persistently going swimming in their birthday suits instead of their bathing suits. "But there's no use of having a swimmin' hole if you have to doll up every time you want to go swimmin'," growls Gillispie.

Dad—"Did you stamp that letter before you mailed it at that post-office?"
Son—"Naw, I didn't have to buy a stamp for it. I slipped it into the box for nothing when nobody was looking."

HARD LUCK

"Did you get anything?" whispered the burglar on the ground as his pal emerged from the window.
"Naw, the bloke wot lives here is a lawyer," replied the other in disgust.
"Hard luck," said the first, "did you lose anything?"

"My dear man," said the doctor loftily, "your physical troubles are due entirely to defective teeth. Let me examine them, please."
"All right, doc," muttered the patient, "hold out your hand."

We thought that heading would catch your eye, Mr. Merchant—and it did. Now suppose you keep right on reading, for your own sake.

You sell goods, and want to connect with the buyers.

Others buy goods, and want to connect with the most economical sellers.

We sell advertising space, and want the eye of both buyer and seller.

If you have something that is worth buying, the people want to know about it. We want to tell them about it. You want them to come to YOUR store. They will come if you make them think it TO THEIR INTEREST to do so. Otherwise, a few will wander in, but the majority will be attracted by some other merchant's ad.

Buyers are not like geese—they do not wander around aimlessly and foolishly and without a purpose. They know what they want, read the ads, learn where they can buy it to best advantage, and that store is their first stopping place.

The advertiser gets the trade. The

Advertising pays. That's why we are ADVERTISING our ADVERTISING SPACE.

You are reading this ad. Place your own ad here next week and the buyers will read it. A business community is like a hive of bees. The live ones gather the honey—and enjoy it. The drones are soon killed off.

Advertise—get the honey—enjoy prosperity before the next depression comes along.

MR. AND MRS. BUYER

There will be an ad in this particular spot next week. It will be worth reading. That which is advertised will be worth buying.

Be as wise as the little bee. Go where the honey is to be found—where the buying is good.

Turn to THIS spot next week.

"You win if you lose" is the national yard and garden contest slogan, and it is a good time right now to plan for next year's contest. Growing a yard and garden begins with proper planning, and the value, beauty and satisfaction of the home grows each year under the ministrations of the gardener's hand.

Fire prevention week will be worth nothing, if it does not drive home the fact that many fires are preventable and move people to take precautions against future fires. Many unnecessary fire risks can be avoided with awakened public opinion, and we should heed the fire marshal's warning.

And now party leaders are going to bolt the ticket! Well, they have plenty of precedent and they have nothing on us. We will bolt the ticket, too, before we will vote for some things. A little more of this spirit and the party whip will mean nothing, and we may expect to have more acceptable candidates offer themselves for office.

Alonzo Stagg, coach of the University of Chicago, says to go to a football game for the good of your soul. He thinks youths can get as sound moral guidance from watching football games as from going to Sunday school.

We don't know what Mr. Stagg understands by "soul," but he surely has not been on the sidelines very often when a game is in progress, or else he knows nothing about Sunday school, to make such a statement. This "high ideals" stuff that school athletics ought to have and is "supposed" to have is not always present on the sidelines, as many could tell the gentleman.

"Between six and seven o'clock on Tuesday morning is the safest hour in the week to ride in an automobile," John E. Lodge says in Popular Science Monthly. "The most dangerous hour is between five and six on Sunday afternoon. Automobile accidents happen most frequently in broad daylight, on clear days, when roads are dry. If the driver of the car is between 20 and 30 years old, the chances of an accident taking place are 81% greater than if he is between 40 and 50. Twenty per cent of all automobile fatalities result from Sunday accidents."

"If the United States is willing to pay the World War soldiers' bonus, why not collect the European war debt to furnish the money for the pay envelopes?" inquires the Beaver (City (Neb.) Times-Tribune, and then adds, "If the American forces and American money had not intervened there are several nations over there which would be entirely out of business."

LONGHORN NEWS

ALANREED HIGH SCHOOL

The faculty of the Alanreed high school presented "The Fortunate Calamity," a three act play, at the high school auditorium Saturday night. A large number of people was present and a very nice little fund was raised for the benefit of the school. "Rastus," the negro character, was particularly interesting to the audience, and he and "Dinah" furnished the company with many hearty laughs through the evening's entertainment. For the between acts, Mrs. Hardy and Mrs. Paige played some piano duets; Mr. Dillard and Mr. Harry Guill played some guitar and harmonica duets.

We were very much pleased to have Mr. and Mrs. John Hesse and son, Jack, to visit us this week and to attend our play performance.

Monday afternoon a photographer came to see us and succeeded in getting some fifty-six timid youngsters before his camera to take their picture. Some of them seemed to like it better than a stick of peppermint candy. The pictures will be in in a few days and the children are anxiously awaiting their arrival to see whether the picture-man got a picture of them or of the little bird he was talking about.

The school has installed a new duplicating machine for the use of the teachers. It is proving very convenient in making copies of work, printing notices of school happenings, and in scattering school news. It is expected that the new apparatus will enable the teachers to make the work much more interesting for the students.

Elvis C. French of Amarillo visited with J. Wm. Dillard Monday afternoon.

According to reports from the science division of the local high school, the coot (mud-hen) which has its temporary home in the laboratory menagerie, has a very nasty disposition. Its chief protection is a perocious seige of pecking. It is the general belief that this wild water bird has been associating with bumble bees too much, for it has taken up that "mind your own business" attitude which is so characteristic of those fellows.

Mr. and Mrs. Paige were in McLean on business Monday afternoon.

The opponents of the Longhorns this season are becoming numerous. As a result of a few cards mailed a few days ago, it seems several of the nearby schools are very anxious for a cage tilt with our Herd. We predict a winning team on the Longhorn range this season.

The Alanreed P. T. A. will meet in regular session Thursday night, Oct. 13. A special program is being planned, and it is hoped that a large number of the patrons will be present. Dr. Batson of McLean will address the meeting on "Child Health and School Relations."

The P. T. A. is getting well under way now and expects to be able to do a great deal of good for the schools this year.

An executive meeting was held in the school auditorium Wednesday afternoon.

This week marks the end of the first six weeks period. The children are all taking examinations and looking forward to receiving their report cards so they can take them home, if there aren't any failures on them. Well, let's hope there will not be. The reports will not be out until the latter part of next week.

Horace Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Johnson, is in Dallas this week attending the state fair. Horace won his right to go by winning prizes at the county fair held in Pampa several weeks ago, and by repeating the same feat at the Amarillo Tri-state fair. He will be in Dallas the rest of the week. The school and the club of which he is a member are hoping that he will be as successful in Dallas as he has been before.

A permanent record of students' work is being completed. A number of applications have been made for transcripts of credits, but there has been no permanent record made of them. In order that we may be able to give accurate information concerning the work done by students in our school, the system is being brought up-to-date and as complete as the information available will permit.

It may be of interest to the many friends of Marshal Miniard to know that he is attending school at the Stephenville high school this year. We wish Marshal much success and hope that he will continue the good work.

We have heard several statements about the biology class going "bugs" because of the interest displayed by its several students in their insect collections. However, we have noticed that when these small animals are classified and mounted it is not hard for them to attract the attention of visitors.

What we believe to be the first inventory ever taken of our high school laboratory, was taken last week. When this is completed, permanent records will be filed for future inspection and reference.

We wish to thank Harry Guill and Gradin Stapp for their assistance in the faculty play last Saturday night. We also send our appreciation to the community for their hearty support in this entertainment.

Watch for the advertisement of the Halloween Carnival and help us make All Saints Day head the list of successful undertakings of the Alanreed P. T. A. for this year.

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

We have had fair attendance in the sixth and seventh grade room, considering the fact that the cotton picking season is on in full force. We have four pupils: Faye Pettit, Mildred Blakney, W. E. James, Jr., and Weller Snyder, in the sixth grade, who have had a perfect attendance record for the first six weeks.

Faye Pettit had 100% in spelling last week.

We have completed the second issue of the sixth grade news, and the cartoonist did an unusually good job in this issue.

The conduct in our room has improved considerably since we have been getting demerits for misconduct. So far no one has reached the limit.

The pupils of the fifth grade have started training for their picture memory contest for the league next spring.

The children of the fourth and fifth grades are going to keep a health score chart for themselves, lasting four weeks, and beginning this Monday.

Norma Rue Bryant, Ellen Tipton and Billy James Craig of the fourth grade were absent most of last week, due to illness.

Rastus Walker of the fifth grade withdrew last Tuesday. The chapel program for next Tuesday will be given by the fourth and fifth grades.

Thelma Abbott and C. T. White made 100% in spelling last week.

The third grade has begun work on spelling for the interscholastic league next spring. Maydell Hayes was absent from school Friday of last week and Monday of this week on account of illness.

Edna Gibson was given a hearty welcome Monday morning when she returned to school.

The following pupils from the second and third grades made 100% in attendance the first six weeks: C. T. White, Junior Johnson, Efflyne Bryant and E. B. Reeves.

Jack Walker from the third grade and Noland Walker from the second grade have withdrawn.

TIMELY RETREAT!

"Why did you break off your engagement?" asked Bill's inquisitive pal. "Well, we were looking over our new house when my prospective mother-in-law said it would be rather small for three people; so I gracefully retired."

Miss Leora Kinard of Pampa visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Kinard, Wednesday.

Mrs. T. C. Gaunt returned Saturday from a visit with relatives in Illinois.

Mrs. Allen Wilson and little daughter, Mrs. Donald Beall and little son were in Pampa Thursday.

Mrs. W. B. Upham visited their daughters, Mesdames Sherman White and Wilson Boyd, at Pampa Sunday.

TOWN BEAUTY AN ASSET

In spite of the apparent commercialism of the age in which we live, it is evident to any observer that the American people are developing a greater appreciation of the beautiful. This is not confined to the wealthier classes, but extends to the great masses in the towns and villages, and in the rural districts. New towns and new sections of the older ones are being laid out with wider streets, with provision for larger lawns, more trees, shrubbery and flowers, and a more attractive setting generally.

New houses show better architecture and greater harmony with their surroundings, while unsightly yard fences have largely disappeared. The net result of all these modern developments is beauty. And aside from the satisfaction which it affords the eye, it pays in dollars and cents. Beautiful cities, towns and villages attract people. They attract permanent residents, they attract tourists, and they attract trade. It is natural that a person selecting a trading center will choose a town that is beautiful and clean in preference to one that is unsightly and dirty, if other conditions are anywhere near equal.

Therefore, it behooves the authorities of any community, as well as each individual citizen, to make the most of their opportunities for improving the appearance of the place in which they live. Beauty and cleanliness are a town's best assets.—The Culver (Ind.) Citizen.

Zimzimir—"What made Mrs. Slater's boarding house having lived there two years?"
Stophella—"I found out no bathtub."

Mrs. Walter Foster of Pampa visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Wednesday.

Dr. C. B. Batson and Dr. J. M. Carpenter were in Amarillo Monday, receiving medical treatment.

ARE YOU LIVING IN THE DARK AGES?

If your living room is dark and gloomy you're still comparatively benighted. There's nothing like light to brighten your surroundings. Take stock frankly—are your rooms hospitable or forbidding? Wouldn't a lamp here, a splash of warm light there enliven, beautify your home? You owe it to your family, to your guests. Every arm chair should have a reading lamp beside it to prevent eye strain. Proper light for the card table is absolutely necessary. Perhaps a newer, more modern central fixture would help solve your problem—or more suitably placed wall brackets.

Decide upon the type of lighting your room needs—then visit your Dealer's display of smart new lamps and fixtures. You'll find just the improvements your home requires—at extremely reasonable prices. The change in your rooms will surprise you!

UP TO THE FAIR

5th grade:
Early in the morning, I went to ride anything, so I took the rabbits, chickens and a good dinner, I went around the fair. I went around a five-legged cow. I saw a little car and then went around several times. I saw the "Bug House" with the Vesterlee Smith. I rode on a car almost out. Then we ate hamburgers and went

I went to the fair, it was a good time. I saw some big hawk owls, coyotes. The coyotes were in a cage with some little cars, and they were in the bottom. Next to some dolls, but lost. We looked around more, taking the mud, we came

6th grade:
I went to the fair, it was a good time. We left at nine o'clock morning. When we went to the grounds at eleven, there were about three inches deep places. In all the buildings where things were shown. It was so I did not want to ride the wheel, so I saved my money to town to spend it. I saw a devil fish which was 18 inches long, but it was dead, for it lived in shallow water. A man was on a real deep sea diving which had to be fastened on the side. He went under the water, and outside men pumped air to him through a hose. The old air was very fast and made the man high. Then the man came up to the top. Another man was in a loud voice what all about.

6th grade:
I did not expect to get to go to the fair until mother waked me up morning at five o'clock. We went and by six we were off. It was a part of the time, but the weather was not slick until we got to the fair. We arrived in Amarillo, it was quite noon. After a while, we went to Mrs. Jordan's, where we ate exactly the people of the United States. One Spanish commander said if he had the power he would stop all birds from flying over the Sabine river.

In the year 1783, in Tennessee, Ellis P. Bean was born. Like Crockett, Sam Houston, and other men of his day, he had but little schooling. He left school when he could barely read and write.

When he was sixteen years old he wanted to leave home and visit other countries. His father would not let him because he was too young. But his wish was finally granted when his father allowed him on a trading voyage down the Tennessee river. Bad luck went with him, for, about three or four hundred miles from home his boat hit a rock and broke in pieces. With a small trunk and five dollars, he proceeded on his journey. Here was his chance to see the world. Another boat came along bound for Natchez. Bean was taken aboard. He had an aunt living in Natchez, so he went to her house.

About this time he met Philip Nolan. Nolan had been in Texas several times to catch wild horses. He told Bean of his adventures and begged him to come back to Texas with him. Bean readily agreed to join Nolan's party.

At this time there were only three or four American families in Texas and they had become subjects of Spain. Nolan was declared a dangerous man by the Mexicans, and they sent out men ordering his arrest. A fight took place. Nolan was the first killed, and his men surrendered.

Bean and his fellow prisoners were taken back to Nacogdoches, where they expected to get released, but orders came that they were to be removed to San Antonio. They were moved to several different prisons.

After six years, orders came from the king of Spain that every fifth man must be hanged. Since there were only nine prisoners left, the general said they must throw dice, and the one throwing the lowest should be hanged.

A drum, a glass tumbler and two dice were brought before the prisoners. Ephraim Blackburn, the oldest, threw the lowest and the next morning he was hanged.

Orders came from the governor for Bean and four others to be taken to the castle, Acapulco. Bean was thrown into a small room.

One day when he was lying on his mat he caught sight of something moving on the wall. It was about a foot long. He got up closer to find a large white lizard engaged in catching flies. The lizard became such a friend to Bean that it slept on his pillow.

After this, Bean made three attempts to escape, but each time he was returned to his cell.

After the war in which Bean fought for the king of Spain, Bean returned to Tennessee to find his parents dead and his friends grown. Very few people knew him. He was a stranger in the land of his birth.

Very sadly, he returned to Mexico, married a wealthy Mexican lady, and lived quietly till he died in 1845.

SANTA CLAUS ARRIVES EARLY.

Jack Frost came Tuesday night. Santa Claus came with a well filled pack of magazines early Wednesday morning. Santa Claus was none other than Rev. W. A. Erwin, who came to our school the following magazines: 18 copies of "The National Geographic Magazine," 14 copies of "National Republic," 4 copies of "World Progress," 10 copies of "Popular Science," 2 copies of "The Nation's Business," and 2 copies of "The Literary Digest."

Thank you, Bro. Erwin.

"What does he do for a living?"

"Fills teeth along with his other dental work."

ASSEMBLY NOTES

By Jack Bogan

We were very happy to have Bro. Bogan speak to us Wednesday morning. After leading us in singing "America," "Star Spangled Banner" and "Yes, Jesus Loves Me," he read Kipling's poem, "Old Hunter and the Bear." It was about an old man who had a chance to kill a bear, but he let him go. The bear scratched the man's eyes out. The other poem was "The Fish Swim Up-stream." The man was "make the best of your opportunities while you have them."

Next Sunday's Lesson

HOME AND THE COMING GENERATION

By Rev. Cecil G. Goff

Golden text, Prov. 22:6. Lesson text, Gen. 18:17-19, Deut. 6:4-9, Mark 10:13-16.

In the Genesis portion of the text God is speaking concerning His relationship to Abraham. God decided to confide in Abraham. The seed of Abraham was to become a great nation, and God had decreed that all the nations of the earth should be blessed through Abraham and his seed. Such a man needed God's guidance and instruction.

God knew that Abraham would direct the lives of those who followed him, as any parent should. If Abraham was a staunch worshiper of Jehovah, his children would be also. Abraham was a lone man. His seed could not possibly compose a great nation for centuries, yet God began His preparation of that nation of people in Abraham.

Far too many times we are so busy with our tasks and accomplishing those things which make up our ambitions that we forget ourselves forty years hence, and more often forget our posterity four generations hence. Many men and women today scarcely have time to be an example for their own children, let alone being an example for posterity to the third and fourth generation. One of the primary aims of home life on the part of the parents should be to so live as to be an example for one's children, and to teach the children with strictness to emulate that example. There is no better way to live for posterity.

In the second scripture reading of the text we have a picture of the strictness of the descendants of Abraham centuries later. There were many Hebrews who followed the commands of God in the text.

In carrying out God's command concerning His word, the Hebrew used the phylactery and the mezuzah. There were two phylacteries, one for the forehead and one for the arm. The former was a small box with four very small compartments. This was fastened to a thong about the head so that the box hung upon the forehead. The second was a small box with a single cell. In these compartments were rolled and placed very small pieces of parchment on which had been copied, very finely, short passages of scripture. The mezuzah was a tin or lead case fastened upon the doorpost, containing portions of scripture. It was kissed as the occupants of the house went in and out. Smaller ones were on the inner doors. These were bowed to as one passed from room to room. This was done along with, or rather than, hiding the word of God in their hearts, as the case might be.

How different this age, when God's word is not hidden in most men's hearts and it is difficult or impossible in many homes to find a Bible in the hour of need. The word of God ought to be kept continuously foremost in every home. There are so many things to read that it is difficult to find time to read God's word. We ought to realize, however, that time spent with God's word is the most precious time we spend, and greater blessing will come from it than from all other spent.

In the third scripture of the lesson text, our attention is called to the love of Christ for children. When the disciples forbade them, Christ called for them and blessed them. He used their simple faith as an example of the need in man for a simple child-like faith in entering the kingdom of God.

There are several things for parents to remember, who would live for future generations. These are based upon the golden text.

If one desires an ambitious posterity, childhood is the place to begin. Ideals are installed in children and not grown-ups. Many, many parents fret over their children's choice in marriage. Such choices are usually based upon ideals. And it is too late for a parent to become alarmed as his child approaches the altar. Fifteen years before was the time to be worried.

The child which grows, sharing in the confidences of a parent who is sincerely and earnestly serving God, will usually find God's grace at an early and tender age. And if not, he will come to search for the grace of mother's or father's God before the sin of the world has too great a hold upon him.

If Christian America is to live, and become more Christian, we must live for future generations.

DRIFTERS BECOME NUISANCE, SAYS GAINESVILLE MAYOR

The professional itinerant beggar who makes his livelihood traveling from place to place, preying off public charity, has become a problem and a nuisance to every city, town and village.

Every community in Texas is requested to cease all financial assistance of a charitable nature to any person not a resident of the respective community, in order to stem the tide of professional drifters, some of whom travel by automobile on charity gasoline, oil and tires, seeing the country at the expense of the taxpayers, charity organizations and business men. The vast number of people making their livelihood in this manner and the fact that a new generation of professional beggars and drifters is being brought up by unscrupulous adults who encourage children to ask public alms as they travel from point to point, making no pretense at work, demands, in the opinion of the writer, immediate and concerted action on the part of all cities and towns.

There is only one way that we know of to stop this human driftwood floating over Texas and that is the method mentioned herein, by all organized communities refusing further charity aid to itinerants.

It is not the intent to withhold charity from any worthy person so long as he or she is a bona fide resident, but they must be given to understand that they must apply for assistance in their home community and not expect citizens elsewhere to take care of them. If every municipality will adopt this procedure and policy, we believe professional beggars will be most effectively eliminated. It is our desire and hope that a similar movement will become nationwide.

So long as we feed and furnish transportation to the hitchhiker, drifter or by whatever title we care to identify them, just so long we can expect to have them with us by the thousands, as at present; but if we will withdraw our assistance and broadcast to the world that we will no longer tolerate them or their methods, we will get immediate relief and will at the same time perform a worth while service to our community and country and to the ultimate good of the individuals to whom we refuse to contribute.

If you concur, Mr. City Official and Citizen of Texas, and desire to stop this traffic, take immediate action in your community. Discuss it with your charity associations. Write an article for your local papers that all of your people may be acquainted with your plan and the plan of other Texas cities that they may lend individual assistance.

LIONS MAGAZINE PRAISES LOCAL CLUB MEMBERS

The following was clipped from the current issue of "The Lion":

"McLean, Texas, takes great pride in the Lionism of T. A. Landers, editor of The McLean News, which prints accounts of the club's doings all over the sheet. He renders priceless service in keeping the club, its aims and accomplishments, constantly before the people. Lion Landers also has an attendance record of sorts. He has not missed a meeting since the club was organized four years ago.

"The club made a wading pool for children in the public park, and then turned it over to the city.

"When the club's new president, G. C. Boswell, had a birthday recently, the ladies of the church which serves the luncheon surprised him with a birthday cake, while the club applauded."

SCHOOL REPORT CARDS

By Supt. G. C. Boswell

Next week report cards will go to the parents for the first time this school year. It is our desire that the parents go over these cards very carefully, for they should be of much interest to the parents. We do not make the claim that the cards are correct, but they are the best method that we have of getting the report to the parents. If you show the interest that you should show in them you will be ready to help correct the report, should it need any correction. There is a place for the parent to give the child a grade for work that is done at home, and this should be done, for it gives the teacher a better working idea of the child and helps to bring the home and the school nearer. It is our desire that the child be given the benefit of all doubts, should there be any. With the correct grade given at home for work that is done by the child will show that the home has a deep interest in the work that is being done by the child at home and at school. A school report should be very interesting to the child. It is the report that is going on the records at the school, and if there are any corrections to be made the teachers will be glad to make them, but if the teachers do not know of any mistakes, of course there cannot be any correction made, and maybe the child has been done a grave mistake by having a report that does not give him the full credit. Maybe parents do not pay as much attention to reports of the child as the administration would like for them to pay; maybe the parents feel that the reports carry as much weight as the school authorities know that they carry. It should be the biggest, the greatest and the most welcome report to come into the home, and we are asking that you give your best attention to the report next week, and all other reports that come to your home of the child.

We are listing for the first time this year the full report of the high school student. All of the activities that the boy or girl has taken part in for the past three years will go down on the high school record book this year. We think that in the next twenty-five years that the boys and girls will be glad to see just what was done by the ones who were in high school in the years past. Our high school records have been made over so that these things will show. It will, or might be, worth something to the boy or girl to be able to turn in the high school record and see just who won the cup at some P. F. A. meeting, or some home economics meeting, or was the best speller, could run the best 100 yards, played full back at some football game, defeated some team in debate, and many other activities, and all the things that the boy or girl takes part in will show on the high school record book. It has been our aim all of the years to make the report mean something, and we need the help, aid and advice of the home in all of these undertakings to make the best. We are expecting that you will be ready to assist us and give the child all that it is due.

We wish to thank you very kindly for your many acts of cooperation in the past, and feel that we have started the best school year that the town has ever had. It takes the work of all to make the school what it should be.

At a cost of $1.90 and with the help of her husband, Mrs. M. M. Goodman of Sebastian beautified her farm yard so much that she won first place in the yard contest for Willacy county home demonstration club members recently. Improvements included under-pinning the house, sodding lawn, making a hedge of senesia shrubs, developing foundation plantings of coyote, and setting out acacia for shade.

"WHAT WOULD TASTE GOOD FOR DINNER TONIGHT?"

How many wives have asked that question . . . and how many brides of the future will ask it . . . of indifferent husbands, right after breakfast or lunch? Hopefully at first, almost desperately after a time, and finally as a part of a dull, daily soliloquy. For every wife discovers that a man with a newly satisfied palate is a total loss as a source of inspiration for future meals. Nevertheless, it's an important and trying matter, this business of planning the menus. There are cook-books, of course, but better than that, why not find what's new in the markets? Pick up your newspaper—that will tell you. There's news about food—in the advertising of local markets and stores, and in that of the nationally known producer of tempting things to eat.

Here's a new way of buying and serving chicken, for example, and one that's no trouble at all. Or a ham, with a new and piquant flavor. It may be that artichokes have just come to market—the first of the season. Or berries, or fruit, or corn on the cob. The advertisements in your paper tell you these things, with the prices, and where you can buy them. Here is inspiration for many a meal, without dragging weary feet from store to store, looking for what would taste good tonight.

You can depend upon the quality of advertised goods.

PLANT EVERGREENS THIS FALL

Early fall is looked upon as an ideal time to plant evergreens. These aristocrats of the plant world are no longer a luxury. Present day low prices put them within reach of everyone.

In winter or in summer, the evergreen is one of the most desirable plants for planting about the house, either along the foundation as specimens, as ascent plants, or in the border.

All the evergreens are valued for their distinct shape and symmetry, although there are various picturesque types irregular in habit and growth, which provide pleasing contrasts. Some are tall growers, some medium tall and some are dwarf in habit. It is best to choose plants from the last two groups for foundation planting.

There are various ways to use evergreens in foundation planting. They will lend dignity and accent to a doorway entrance. When used on each side of a doorway, a pleasing arrangement is shown in Chart 1, in which an upright variety is placed on each side of the entrance and faced by two lower growers of the more spreading type.

The next step to further plant the foundation with evergreens is to add corner groups such as shown in Chart 2. At the corners where height is needed and where no windows interfere, one or two tall growing varieties, faced with lower growers, should be used.

These two groups may then be connected with other evergreens to complete the foundation planting as shown in Chart 3. Usually there are windows to be considered in a complete foundation planting, so it is wise to select low growing varieties for the middle planting. The charts further show the shape of various varieties which can be had at most any nursery. Chart 3 shows the planting position of these various plants.

It will be seen from these charts that groups may be added from time to time, thus enabling one to budget the planting over two or three seasons. With fall such a desirable season to plant, no better time could be found to start the evergreen planting.

POLITICAL SPELLBINDERS

As usual, the newspapers are asked to hold the hot end of the poker in this national political campaign. They have decided to use what little money they get this year to pay for their spellbinders to broadcast over national radio hookups, but neither party will have any money to spare for newspaper advertising. On the other hand, the newspapers will be asked to tell the dear people FREE of charge just when to tune in to get these speeches. Already the Herald is filling a good sized wash tub with this propaganda each week. To heck with 'em! —Terry County Herald.

HALITOSIS

By Dr. William J. Scholes
The advertisements of preparations that may be used as mouth-washes have made the word halitosis familiar to most people. They know that it is the scientific name for foul breath.

A letter recently received from a correspondent contains a request for a permanent cure for halitosis. While it would be very gratifying to be able to name some one remedy that would permanently cure this disagreeable condition, it is impossible to do so. For offensive breath results from several different causes. What would prove to be a suitable remedy in one case, would be entirely ineffective in another case arising from a different cause. That does not mean, however, that a permanent cure is not possible in many cases.

A good way in which to begin the quest for a cure is to visit the dentist. Neglected teeth, which means cavities in the teeth and lack of cleanliness, are perhaps the most frequent cause of foul breath. The necessary dental work, including the removal of deposits of tartar from the teeth, will do much to cure many cases.

Visit Dentist Regularly

And care must be taken to keep the mouth and teeth clean. The teeth should be carefully brushed twice a day, using a good tooth paste, powder or mouth wash. But remember, that even though the teeth may cause most cases of foul breath, they are not always at fault. Sometimes diseased tonsils, or a catarrhal condition of the nose, throat or bronchial tubes, cause the foul odor. Or dyspepsia or constipation may be the cause.

Mouth washes that cover one odor by means of another will usually give some temporary relief. In this respect, and insofar as they aid in keeping the mouth clean, their use is beneficial. In general, however, they possess no power to bring about a permanent cure. That, as has been said, is a matter of finding and removing the cause.

FEAR STIFLES INITIATIVE

The only thing that keeps most of us from realizing our own possibilities and of getting the highest satisfaction out of life is fear. There are very few human beings in the world who are not afraid of something, and as long as one is afraid of anything he cannot achieve perfect happiness.

Primitive man must have lived in a state of almost constant terror. He was afraid of wild beasts, afraid of enemies of other tribes, afraid of the thunder and lightning, afraid of evil spirits that lurked in the darkness of the forest—of real dangers and of unreal dangers which he imagined. Very few people in these days have the perfectly natural physical fears that surrounded the lives of our ancestors. But who of us has not some mental fear, fear of something that has not happened but which we think may happen to ourselves or our loved ones?

In the past two or three years the people of the United States have been the prey of a new kind of fear. They have been afraid that, in the popular phrase, the bottom has dropped out of everything. They have feared that never again would they have a job, that the factories that have shut down would never start up, that they would never be able to sell the products of their farms—those and a thousand other fears which have no relation to common sense or reality seemed to take possession of perhaps the majority of Americans.

And that is one of the reasons we have been so slow in coming back from the economic crisis. We have been afraid to use our intelligence and common sense and go ahead when everybody else was afraid to do anything but accept conditions as they are and paint them, mentally, much worse than they are.

We see that this widespread fear is beginning to disappear. We do not believe it ever had any real foundation, and we believe people are waking up to that fact. If we are right, to replace fear, then we have made a good start toward the return of good times.—Northern Lyon County Journal Allen, Kansas.

SMALL TOWN IS NECESSARY

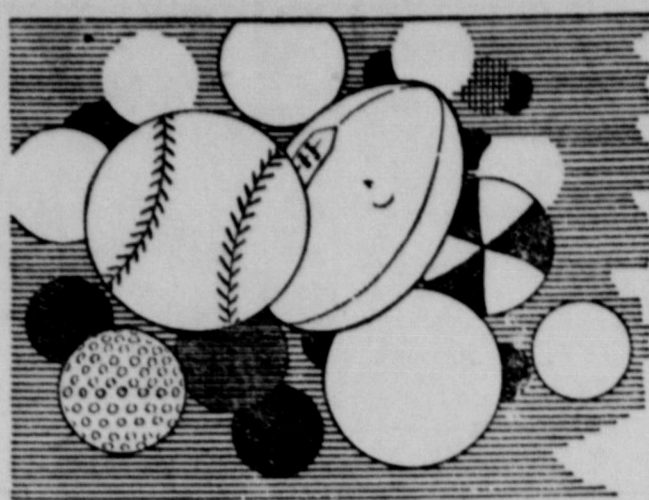

Two things have come out of the depression that are worth noting. The large centers of population have discovered that they cannot get along without the country. The small communities have discovered that they can make their own life without much worrying concerning large cities. For long it was a habit of big cities to display airs of superiority to the so-called "rural communities." They have pretended to believe that the small town was passing into eclipse, and that the people would flock to big cities and make them more and more important and influential. And, also, a lot of "country" people, lured by the glamor of the cities, have left the countryside. They have discovered, many of them too late, that life in the small communities has a thousand advantages not possessed by large centers, and that the mushroom development of big cities has been a bad, not too good thing. Today the small city is taking on a new dignity and individuality. We see everywhere the proof that the small community is realizing its possibilities, forgetting to ape the manners of the more artificial "centers of population," and attending enthusiastically to the duty of building a destiny for itself. As the community becomes more independent, the large city will prosper, too. What we need in America is vitality of individual effort, and this is what the small city will give in the next generation as it did in the past. The disillusioned folk who thought that the bright lights were what made life worth while, will be drifting back to the country, eager to capture once again the peace, the sincerity, the integrity, the gladness that abides where neighborly comradeship is possible.—Herald, Slayton, Minnesota.

When the Cuba (Mo.) Review was informed county officers could have their own salaries reduced only voluntarily and the county had no jurisdiction in this particular matter, Rehm Thielecke thinks, as do all other taxpayers realizing this condition, that it is rather funny that a business should be so operated that the management is unable to have control—up or down—about the salaries paid. Not only funny, but ridiculous.

When a lawyer writes a brief, he charges most of all for his professional service and next to nothing for the simple cost of manufacture. Yet the professional country editor-publisher donates his professional services outright and does well to even charge the manufacturing cost against his newspaper.—Wisconsin Press.

It's a relief to the editor of the Ottawa (Kan.) Herald to meet an occasional candidate for township trustee or county coroner who admits openly that he won't be able to end the depression even if he is elected.

Karl Spence, publisher of the Crawford (Neb.) News, contends that lowering the assessed valuation of property will accomplish nothing in the way of tax reduction. In fact, it is just a method of kidding one's self. The valuation is lowered and the mill levy is raised, as just so much money has to be raised for state, county, school and city purposes. The only way to reduce taxes is to quit spending money.

The Mankato (Kan.) Monitor throws a monkey wrench in the gears with: "To repeal a statutory law is reasonably easy, but to repeal an amendment to the United States Constitution—well, that's different. There never has been an amendment repealed."

WILL YOU BE PREPARED?

Prosperity is "just around the corner."

This slogan has been common for the last two years and now it looks as if the corner will soon be turned.

But are you prepared for prosperity? When prosperity returns, there will be an influx of business houses in every city.

Those who have become discouraged and acknowledge that they are licked, will enjoy no prosperity.

It will take them too long to recover from a chronic depression, and unless they cheer up, dress up their places of business and go after the trade before prosperity enters with a bang, they will find that some more enterprising individual has captured their trade.

Business will not be helped by continually harping on hard times. Such talk will frighten the buyer away from your place of business. Do not be too optimistic and try to create a false recovery of business, but play the game on the square and fight for your business, your town and your community.

Do not be misled by the transient door knockers, who come into town offering bargains of questionable merchandise, but trade with the local merchants, and preferably with those who think enough of your business to present their message through the advertising columns of the papers.

Keep in training, and be ready to go at the drop of the hat when the whistle of prosperity sounds.—Portales Valley (N. M.) News.

A subscriber to the Theford (Neb.) Herald-Clipper serves this notice on publisher Winter: "I see you flier on blue crossen the herd cliper when the times out on em but dont do that with ours, caus this is the only paper we git and if you stop it without us haven a chance to fix you up, cinthy will be right in here a bilin, and shes rite hard to argify with when she gits riled up once."
