Governor Tells Lions Optimistic Spirit Is Abroad

C. H. Walker of Pampa, governor of district T, Lions International, told the local club that he has been agreeably surprised to find an optimistic spirit manifested by every club he has visited in his jurisdiction recently.

The Lions membership is gaining rapidly, according to the governor, averaging organizing a new club each day for the past four years in the United States alone.

Gov. Walker insisted that Lions should teach local patriotism and citizenship, stating that most young people get the wrong idea of these matters during their school life. "With the right conception of local citizen- ship, there need be no fear for the state and nation," said the speaker.

"Service clubs give a chance for every unselfish citizen to join other unselfish citizens of the same mind to work for community betterment. It is the accumulation of little things that make the big things of life. Every man should give a part of his time in service to his community. If you are too busy to be of service to God and humanity, you are too busy. Teamwork is what counts today; the day of the individual in community betterment is past."

Gov. Walker was presented by Boyd Meador, program chairman for the day. Lion Meador also presented Sherman White and Ralph R. Thomas of Pampa. Mr. White saying that every good man should belong to a service club.

Arthur Erwin and M. D. Bentley were also visitors for the day.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

The Home Demonstration Club met on Sept. 2 with Mrs. Amos Thacker, with Miss Adams present.

A discussion was held on the ad- visability of the club having a travel- ing library.

Miss Adams gave a demonstration on chicken gumbo and tomato mince meat.

Fair exhibits were shown.

The club will meet with Mrs. Bridge on Sept. 16. The members of the Mertens club of near Pampa will be present.

Sherman White and little son of Pampa visited in McLean Tuesday.

Service Club Wants Donations of Old Clothes

The Community Service Club that has charge of the Red Cross Loan Closet will dispense clothes to the needy this year, and those who have old clothes in serviceable condition that they will donate, are asked to call Miss Margaret Glass and list the sizes, etc.

The club is planning to furnish clothes for school children who are not prepared to attend school on account of a lack of suitable clothes. There will not be any donations made from the clothes, but all who desire help will be asked to work for the clothes, unless physically disabled.

The club expects to work in con- junction with the community chest, and club officers suggest that the work can be simplified if direct charity is dispensed with, and all who desire help in any way are required to do some kind of work for the help. The work will be of a nature that anyone can do and will help save the respect of those who do not want to ask charity.

COMMUNITY CHEST RESTS UNTIL FIRST OF YEAR

On account of the fact that there is plenty of work during the fall season, the Community Chest will not assist anyone from now until after the first of the year, according to President Johnnie R. Back.

RAMSDALL BAPTIST REVIVAL

A revival is now in progress at the Ramsdall Baptist Church, with Rev. L. H. Shockley of McLean doing the preaching.

Services will be held all this week and interest is growing with each service.

LABOR DAY QUIET AFFAIR

Labor Day was quietly observed in McLean, the bank and postoffice closing being the only public observance of the day.

The Northfork Baptist Association opened its annual session at Sham- rock this morning. A number of local Baptists are in attendance.

Methodists Give Reception for School Faculty

A reception and pot luck supper was given by the ladies of the First Methodist Church, in honor of the teachers of the McLean schools, Mon- day night.

Prof. Frank P. Wilson made the welcome address in his characteristic humorous way, and the response was made by Mrs. Jim Back. Rev. Jno. H. Crow pronounced the invocation.

A long table had been arranged in the church basement dining room, that was completely covered with fried chicken, pies and all kinds of good things to eat, which the 127 people present did ample justice to; yet plenty of food was left after second helpings had been arranged.

After the supper, the crowd re- paired to the church lawn which was brightly lighted, where games were indulged in until a late hour.

The affair proved to be one of the most enjoyable occasions of the kind ever held in McLean, many expres- sions of approbation being heard by the hostesses.

FREAK FIRE LAST WEEK

A mystery fire occurred last week, supposedly on Thursday night, when fire damaged the home of A. W. Brewer, burning a bed and other furniture, damaging the walls of the house, causing a window to break from the heat, and being extinguished without the knowledge of anyone until found Friday morning.

The Brewers were visiting in Okla- homa, leaving home Wednesday morn- ing, and various theories have been advanced as to the cause of the fire, which seems to have gone out with- out the use of water, or any assis- tance of any kind.

Principal John Harding of the Mc- Lean high school orders The News sent to his mother, Mrs. J. W. Hard- ing, at Byers.

Roger Powers was in Amarillo Monday.

Mrs. Laura Stratton of Pampa is visiting home folks here this week.

C. E. Pipes of Pampa was in Mc- Lean Tuesday.

New Gas Co. to Furnish at 30c Rate

The city council has agreed to go into contract with D. W. Humphreys of Amarillo, or his assigns, to grant a franchise to supply McLean citizens with natural gas at a 30c maximum rate, with a church and school rate of 12½c and an industrial rate of 10c.

The deal is conditioned upon Mr. Humphreys securing an initial order for 300 meters, and city officials will present each citizen a blank to sign agreeing to purchase gas from the new company for a period of three years.

This franchise will be an entirely new proposition and has no reference in any way to the McLean Gas Co., who is at present supplying gas in McLean at a 50c rate.

Just as soon as the required number of signers is secured, Mr. Humphreys says he is ready to begin work in three days.

Following is the form that citizens will be asked to sign:

"I, the undersigned, hereby agree to purchase gas from D. W. Humphreys, or his assigns, for a term of three years, should I remain inside the corporate limits of the City of Mc- Lean that long."

ALANREED LAST PLACE TRADE TRIPPERS MEET

Last Thursday night saw the last trade trip of the season sponsored by the chamber of commerce.

The trip was made to Alanreed with Jesse J. Cobb in charge, and Reuben R. R. Cook, Boyd Meador, Dr. Tampke, W. H. Floyd and W. J. Ball as speak- ers.

This made nine trips to nearby communities this summer by the boosters. The high school band furnished music for each trip and free ice cold lemonade was served com- plements of the C. of C.

The same communities were visited last year, but only one trip a week was made, while this year two trips each week were made.

Mr. Boswell stated that he had failed to contact the city mayor for an ad- dress, and Mr. Cook made a pinch-hit talk for the mayor, saying that while he was not authorized to deliver the keys of the city, he felt at liberty to tender the "keys of the band."

Miss Lois Ruth Stanfield played a piano solo, Country Gardens, ar- ranged by Percy Granger. President Howard and J. E. Lynch were pre- sented as members of the school board, Mr. Howard saying that he felt encouraged over the prospect for an exceptionally good term of school this year.

OUR SCHOOLS AND SOME OTHER SCHOOLS

By Reuben R. R. Cook, at High School, Monday

Mr. Boswell did not assign me a subject, nor ask me for an address or speech, but simply a talk. The old saying that talk is cheap stuff is very true in my case. But I have named my talk "Our Schools and Some Other Schools."

When I consider the advantages of our present day state school system whereby a liberal sum is provided for each pupil from the general state revenue for that purpose; when I look about and see the substantial and beautiful brick school buildings all over the country, equipped with proper lighting and ventilation, with basements containing heaters radiating throughout the conveniently arranged class rooms and auditoriums, cooling systems for the summer months, running water in the halls, with showers, etc., with mechanical devices of many kinds, and even kitchen and dining rooms fully equipped, spacious playgrounds for all modern sports and fully equipped; my mind goes back to the days when I was a boy.

The first school I remember was located about a mile from the little town where I lived, for there was a spring of good water in the branch at that place. Like the cattlemen seeking a location today, a supply of good water was a determining factor in those days in making location for a school or church. I was too small to go to school, but I remember the little boxed house of one room with planks laid on round blocks for seats, without backs. I would crawl under the seats and tickle the feet of the pupils, for all were barefooted. The girls carried little tin boxes as they do now. They were bronze or dark on the outside, but bright inside—they were cap boxes. However, they did not contain rouge, but were used to carry and protect their sweetgum. So their lips were not painted red but had a coat of sweetgum on them. And believe me, it was kiss proof.

But when I started to school they had built a large one room frame building in town with a stage or rostrum running clear across one end for the teacher to promenade on and for blackboard work and speakings. The equipment consisted of two rows of double seats with the juniors in front and the seniors in the rear, and a box stove in the center aisle with a drum on it. It was everybody's business to keep the fire going with wood after the first one to arrive in the morning had started it and dried himself out, for there were no automobiles nor school buses in those days, and even umbrellas and raincoats were scarce. The teacher would honor first one and then another by allowing him to sweep out and bring the water from the well two blocks away. Also, a supply of long limber, but tough switches were a part of the equipment.

There were two particularly bad boys in the school. They were almost grown. It was necessary for the teacher to use these switches on them frequently. One was mean, stubborn and brave and would take his whippings without a flinch. The other was mean, not so stubborn, but cowardly, and would move down a step each time the switch hit him, until at the finish he would be against the side wall. I knew these two boys for many years afterward. Both had good and honorable parents, but the boys never learned much and never accomplished anything worth while, but one of them landed in the penitentiary.

You can run long on the reputation of your parents. You have heard of the Ford car running on its reputation. It's easy enough going down hill, but when you strike the grade and get out on the race track of life, you will need a well equipped engine and plenty of gas and oil, with a generator to produce an ever charging spark from the storage battery. "Tis not wealth nor rank nor state, but get up and get that makes men great."

Now, for our McLean schools. Personally, I feel very proud of our most excellent superintendent, Mr. Boswell, and appreciate his untiring efforts to keep abreast of the times in educational work and planning so earnestly and successfully with our school board in providing a corps of principals and teachers second to none in the state.

So, I want to say to you boys and girls, don't neglect your opportunity to get an education. It is the very foundation of your success and happiness in life.

Much of the misery and distress in the world can be laid to the lack of education.

The great men and women of today were once school children like yourselves. The world is yours and you can master it. Where there's a will there's a way.

The only rule one of my teachers laid down the first day of school was "Do right."

I can give you no better admon-

BUILDS; FEAR DESTROYS

The most distressing results of present depressed conditions are of muddled thinking and unwise and unwise runs on personal and solvent banks.

Five, three years or one year ago, thousands of people put $1,000 each in commercial banks. On their savings they had interest regularly because they were properly and as was expected the money, less the legal reserve, into secured mortgages, and other approved contracts, and paid back at stipulated future rates of interest which show a profit over that paid the banks, which is the bank's fair many services rendered.

Regular course of events, isolated cases of default, every one can get his money back any time he needs it.

Now a horde of un-informed, fear-imbued dealers in a day and demand money "right now."

As any thoughtful person can see, a financial suicide. A proper plan of deposits are out, as above, properly secured loans and investments, and the bank could not pay everybody at once. Release the bank, tie up every business, break the

Does all of this hardship get money "right now?" It does not. You must be content to wait for the state banking department, slow and expensive processes, to settle the outstanding accounts back a little at a time just as the bank had it not been forced to do with profit to all.

And confidence, two beneficial characteristics, inspired the deposits in the banks were sane and normal. Good ship over happy years has sound and useful financial plans. Fear and broken faith, comes and destroys—blindly, stupidly, tear them in a day.—Spokane Valley Opportunity, Washington.

MAN BUSINESS FRAILTY

Shop owner or merchant who built with the way the other is doing business, quite true is the man who himself is doing things opposite to what are best for the community. Every line of business confronted with some problem pertaining to competition, really good that the business revolves on principles of this without them we would all be bankrupt; there would be no capitalism and we would be a indolent lot.

Community where merchants trade with one another is a apt. Yet there are places like the money left at home would be used by home folks over and spin. Once it is transferred to the locality to a larger center, to the pool; perhaps never return. A sad thought and it reads like an obituary. It is slow to a community. Merchants centers will have little need sending money in the small and they don't propose to do by are, however, baiting small business constantly and thereby the strength from smaller banks. Why be weak and fail

What can be done about it? United on the part of merchants will patronize the other business when he sells something out of the. If you sell groceries don't sell a cheap wholesaler to sell suit of clothes at cost, etc. Pay neighbor his reasonable profit. Sell perhaps buy groceries at the if he tried. The same is the printing field. The small merchant who spends money to printing done away from home fair to that community. He using this money with an optimism that brings little or nothing down in question. Surely it is nothing to build the town independent, Jordan, Minn.

French Silos for Big West Texas Feed Crop

JUST WHAT ITS NAME IMPLIES, a trench silo is simply a trench dug into the ground into which chopped feed crops may be stored for feeding as succulent ensilage to dairy cows, beef cattle and work stock during periods of dry pastures or bad weather. Cheap, easily dug, easily filled, ensilage easily removed, the big disadvantage of a trench silo is excessive spoilage which may be avoided by properly filling, and by providing drainage. More than 200 were dug in Texas in 1931 and county agent reports indicate a big increase for 1932, especially in West Texas.

BEST RALLYING POINT

The newspaper is the people's most important rallying point.

A newspaper, properly run, is the safety valve on the public steam-boiler.

A newspaper improperly supported by a community can be, and usually is, a most dangerous thing to the peace and tranquility of such community.

A newspaper is a public service and as such has a heavy responsibility. This responsibility cannot come to fruition without full public support.

A newspaper is the most intimate thing that comes to the family. It contains the intimate things about neighbors, friends, the community, the state, the nation and the world at large. Other means of contact with consumers may seem important to an advertiser, but they are not intimate, and therefore less successful.

—J. A. Muehling in the Manchester (N. H.) Union.

A NOTABLE OPINION

The recent progress of medical science, largely accomplished through animal experimentation, has satisfied me that even the moderate use of alcohol is objectionable; that the habitual use of alcohol in any form is lowering to the intellectual and nervous power." — Former President Eliot of Harvard.

Peewee—"MacFlurter sure got stung out in the water today."

Smalley—"What! Are those dreaded seantles around again?"

Peewee—"No, his wife had on a new bathing suit and he didn't recognize her until he had got within striking distance."

Customer—"Have you anything besides Glustick's corn sirup?"

Grocer—"Why, no, but that's the best brand that comes."

Customer—"Well, it never done me no good—I took six cans of it and my corn's as bad as ever."

A minister said that there is a sermon in every blade of grass. The following evening he was mowing the lawn and a little boy passing by said: "I am glad you are cutting your sermons short."

WORD OF THE WEEK

A local newspaper is something to read. A place to look for bargains. Best way to advertise stuff you want to get rid of. A weather forecaster. Brings personal news of friends to you. A record of the birth, weddings, and deaths of the community. A forum for all community interests. It is the word of the week.—Waukomis (Okla.) Hornet.

Patient—"Why the rush in bringing me your bill, Doctor—can't you wait until the first of the month to send it?"

Dr. Nertz—"There's no time like the present is my motto, and it's saved me many a dollar."

Tomtit—"How does DeGoof manage to have so many suits?"

Dodo—"He really has only two, but by alternating with coats and pants, he gets four combinations out of them."

Defendant—"I am innocent, Your Honor, heaven is my witness."

Judge—"Sorry, but you did not bring your witness into court to testify in your behalf."

Hardluck—"I'm just a young fellow that is struggling to make ends meet."

Carenot—"Well, if you're so badly bent financially it ought to be easy for you."

PUTTING OUT THE DEPRESSION

That old negro referred to by the New York Times in a dispatch from Dalton, Ga., must have been a pioneer caddy. According to the story, Thomas S. Shope, editor of the North Georgia Citizen, asked the aged colored man what he thought of the depression. "Depression ain' nothin' but a go'f game, Marse Shope," the negro replied. "All it takes to overcome it is three putts. Putt you' faith in Gawd, putt you' Fo'd in de garage, and putt you' women in de fields!"

The Sheldon (Mo.) Enterprise thinks if our government was as persistent in collecting the eleven billions of dollars other governments owe us as those governments are in sidestepping payment, we might be able to stir up another war and everybody could get rich again—except the fighters.

Now You Can Buy on Faith

"I talked with grandma the other day," said the young housewife. "I told her I dreaded this daily shopping—that I hardly knew where to begin. And she made me feel ashamed; she actually did!"

We know just about what her grandma told her. "In my day you would have dreaded shopping much more. It was a real chore then. From place to place you went, looking, looking, tasting this, sniffing at that, buying on suspicion and not on faith. You didn't know who made the things you bought; they didn't have labels; most of them weren't in packages.

"Now you know by name most of the things you buy. You buy a can of So-and-So's beans today, and you know they'll be just the same when you buy them again. You read the advertisements in your paper, see where the best values are offered, make up your list, and out you go and get it over with in a jiffy! Count your blessings, my dear—they are many."

Trust the products advertised in this newspaper. Read the advertisements and simplify your shopping. Your faith will not be betrayed by advertisers.

The opening of school was characterized by an absence of a pessimistic spirit, as compared with last year's opening, that may be taken as a good omen.

J. E. Lynch, who refused to make a speech when called upon Monday morning, says he received more compliments than anyone on the speech that he did not make.

Mrs. W. E. Bogan said at the school program that it appeared that the men wanted to talk worse than the women, but she should not begrudge the men a chance to talk once a year on an occasion like this.

One hundred twenty thousand and twenty words of school news was printed in this paper last year, which would make all the reading matter for 10 weeks' issues of a six-page paper. This was a part of The News' efforts to co-operate with the public schools.

Frank P. Wilson is using a new campaign joke by asking voters if they had to be vaccinated before the election, and when asked what for, he replies, for "Ma-beatus." Probably a lot of us would have been willing to have been vaccinated if it would have done any good.

Rev. Erwin was right when he asked turn-about in co-operation, at the school program Monday. There is no more reason for the school exercises conflicting with regular church services than there is for something to conflict with the school affairs, when it can be avoided.

Several public-spirited citizens have expressed a desire to assist any band member who does not have the small tuition fee made necessary by the new budget, and boys and girls should not hesitate to report to the city secretary if they cannot finance their band lessons.

There is some complaint that the full 3 mill levy allowed by law for the support of the band will not be used this year and tuition must be charged to make up the difference, but the tuition charge has been set lower than the charge for books in several other courses at school, so it should work out all right for the present.

Buck Campbell of Pampa was in McLean Monday.

GOLF GOSSIP

By D. A. Davis

Last week I promised to turn over the case to the intellectual department of our public schools, but since setting the opening program Monday, I feel like it's imposing on the readers of this paper to allow such conditions to exist as did exist at that school opening, so folks, I'm going to reserve this column for a more helpful and beneficial cause.

In the first place, I did not like the stage setting, and what I mean is I did not like the idea of placing all those men in the front row for us in the audience to have to look at for three solid hours. Folks, did you notice what big ears those men had? (I mean ears, not years). Those ears reminded me of a certain anti-mule that we see very often on the farm that makes lots of noise but does not sound very musical or intelligent.

And such cruelty! Did you notice how cruel Supt. Boswell treated our trustees? Did you notice there was not a single trustee come up at first, and how Boswell had Mr. Corum go out with his punching stick and herd Mr. Howard and Mr. Lynch down the aisle and up on the stage with that prod pole just like herding a bunch of bulls into a box car? And did you notice as how old man Lynch welled up and would not say a single word? (That was the best part of the program, however).

And did you folks in the back of the house or in the buzzard roost hear a single word anyone said? Wasn't it simply awful? What in the world was the matter with those folks up there on that platform? Were they scared? Take Boswell, for instance. He talked so low that Bro. Hoff sitting fifty feet away did not hear him when he called on him to lead in prayer, and he had to ask one of the ladies up there on the stage to do the praying; and when Reuben L. R. Cook got up we thought he was going to sing, but as far as we folks back there in the audience were concerned, we heard nothing. But being that our eyesight was better than our hearing, we could only see him linking his eyes, wiggling his ears and knocking his knees together.

And when Claude Williams got up to deliver his oration, we could not hear a single thing but the voice of a baby crying, and we were unable to determine whether it was Claude crying, or someone in the audience crying.

And when Carl Greene got up, all he did was hold up his hands like somebody was trying to hi-jack him, and I noticed some of the little boys right down in front thinking he wanted them to help him out, held up their hands in sympathy, or to encourage him, or something.

And Mr. Landers got into an argument of some kind with some of the ladies on the stage, and we never did learn (and haven't yet) what the argument was all about, but we just drew our conclusions that it was something about mustard.

Bro. Erwin was the only man of the whole layout that could be heard, and I am truly delighted to know that the teachers understand that they are welcome in the churches of our little city, for the Lord knows we need somebody to come to church these days in order for the preachers to have somebody to preach to.

And another thing—I ain't going to offer a single word of criticism to the ladies that were up there on that platform. If they said anything, it's all right and if they didn't say anything it's all right. Anyhow, I ain't going to get all mixed up with these "wimmin'" any more.

But laying all jokes aside, folks, honestly and truly we should do something to fix that auditorium so one's voice would not jump right back to his throat. There's something wrong and it should be remedied, and for one am in favor of the Lions Club or the P. T. A. or somebody to sponsor the raising of sufficient funds to put in a sounding board, or amplifiers, or a radio, or something in there so we folks under that balcony can hear what is said, for we might make a mistake sometime and slip right in the middle of some speech or song and embarrass the speaker.

P. S. The reason I am getting all this off my chest is because the McLean Golf Club was not invited to extend greetings to the teachers and give an invitation to take out a few hundred dollar golf memberships, for we shore do need a few.

McLean Teachers Attend Institute; Boswell Speaker

By Mrs. Jim Back

McLean teachers were among the nine hundred from the Panhandle-Plains area who attended the West Texas Teachers Institute at Canyon on last Thursday and Friday. The institute was under the direction of F. E. Savage, director of the demonstration school of West Texas State Teachers College. Supt. Boswell of McLean schools and John B. Hessey, Gray county superintendent are members of the executive committee.

The general assembly programs were of unusual interest. Thursday Josh Lee, head of the speech department of Oklahoma University, brought two inspiring lectures on "Insuring for Success" and "World Peace as an Ex-soldier Sees It." Friday morning Mrs. J. E. Griggs, president of the Eight District of Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, spoke on the work of that organization. Mrs. Griggs begged for a closer co-operation between the home and the school, for the building of better citizenship. Congressman Marvin Jones spoke on the school's place in solving the national crisis.

Friday afternoon short talks were made by Prof. F. E. Savage, Supt. H. Dillaway of Hereford, Supt. J. B. Carruth of Canyon, Supt. I. H. Turney of Claude, and Supt. G. C. Boswell of McLean. Mr. Boswell, in speaking on "The Teacher as a Publicity Agent," said, in part:

"A teacher should be on time; she should be clean, neat, attractive, useful and kind; she should keep well posted on current news, attend teachers' meetings, as well as all other school functions. Teachers are supported by the people, who expect the best from a teacher. A teacher may give two kinds of publicity, destructive and constructive. A good teacher works as a unit in the school. Publicity should not be selfish—the teacher should put herself in the background. A teacher must have the qualities of kindness, sympathy, and understanding. We have no time for the gossiping teacher. Teachers are a powerful factor in the field of publicity. They are publicity agents, whether they will it or not, and since this is true we should do our utmost to be informed as to the characteristics and needs of our individual schools so as to be of service to our schools. A good teacher helps to create and foster a strong school and community spirit. We, as teachers, must realize that we are public servants, responsible to our communities for faithful services, characterized by courtesy, efficiency, and the spirit of fair play."

Twice daily sectional meetings were held, at which time each teacher attended the section most suited to her needs. Primary teachers were instructed by Miss Ina L. Kuykendall, superintendent of primary instruction in the Fort Worth schools. The intermediate section was directed in a practical way by Dr. J. R. Grant, president of Ouchita College at Arkadelphia, Ark. High school teachers were privileged to hear Dr. A. W. Evans, head of the department of education of Texas Technological College at Lubbock.

Twice daily the superintendents and principals met to discuss problems of vital interest to them.

On the whole, the institute was a decided success, and McLean teachers feel better prepared for work with your children by having been privileged to attend.

Moses was wise in inviting

Hobab—that was God's will and plan—whether Hobab was needed to direct the way through the wilderness or not, we do not know. Possibly it was God's will, since he evidently accepted. In Judges 1:16; 4:11, we find that his descendants were still with the Israelites.

v. 33, 34. The ark of the covenant went before the people. It was a "comparatively small box of acacia wood overlaid with gold. . . . It was about twenty-seven inches high and broad, and forty-five inches long. On each side there were two rings through which rods covered with pure gold extended by which the ark was borne from place to place. . . . The top of the ark had two cherubim, one on either end. Between these two was the earthly resting place of Jehovah—the mercy seat."—Dr. B. W. Spillman.

CHRONIC INDIGESTION

By Dr. William J. Scholes
Chronic indigestion is a term used to describe a variety of disagreeable sensations and symptoms occurring in the region of the stomach. It means that there is some disturbance in the process of digestion. But when it comes to telling just exactly what is wrong, indigestion is a rather vague term.

Sometimes symptoms of trouble occur because the process of digestion has become functionally deranged on account of long-continued faulty dietary habits. Some of the things that the stomach is likely to rebel against, in the course of time, are eating at irregular hours; imperfect chewing of food; over-eating, and eating unsuitable foods. If not of too long standing, the functional disturbances caused in this way disappear when the habits of eating are corrected.

Underlying Causes
Ofttimes however chronic indigestion means that there is some definite disease of the organs of digestion. Ulcer of the stomach or intestine, chronic appendicitis, and disease of the gall-bladder are among the frequent underlying causes. More rarely, perhaps, cancer of the stomach, or of some other abdominal organ, gives rise to symptoms of indigestion. This is more likely to be a cause of indigestion in the case of older people. But the diseases in which symptoms of stomach trouble may occur are not necessarily limited to those of the digestive organs. Symptoms of indigestion frequently occur in such diseases as anemia, tuberculosis, diabetes and Bright's disease as well as several others.

When indigestion arises as the result of definite disease, either in the digestive tract or elsewhere in the body, more than correct diet and good hygiene is usually required for its cure. For it is only through treatment directed at the cause that one can expect to obtain permanent relief.

Hints for the Household

By Betty Webster

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

In September—our thoughts turn back to entertaining. The simple afternoon teas are now in order. Sandwiches are a natural refreshment. Not the filling ones of the good old summer time, but the pretty and dainty ones. The "open" sandwiches especially.

Open Fruit Sandwiches

Fresh currants—mashed and mixed with cream cheese.
Crushed pineapple and cream cheese
Fresh strawberries—sliced thin and sprinkled with powdered sugar. Then placed between buttered home-made bread. These are very delicious.
An unusual filling—Take cucumber, celery, pineapple and black walnuts. Chop together and mix with French dressing.
Dates and nuts—chopped together and mixed with cream cheese is always a good filling for sandwiches.

COOKING HINTS

A New Salad

2 cups crushed pineapple (drained),
1 cup diced celery,
2 red pimientos (chopped).
Method: Drain pineapple. Cut up celery. Chop pimientos. Mix well with mayonnaise and serve on crisp lettuce.

Grape Jelly

6 pounds grapes,
3 cups water,
1 pound sugar to each pint of juice.
Method: Crush grapes. Pour the water over them. Boil together 30 minutes. Strain juice through jelly bag. Add 1 pound of sugar to each pint of juice. Mix well. Cook. When this comes to a boil—boil for 20 minutes. Take from fire and pour immediately into jelly glasses. Seal with paraffin.

BAKING HINTS

Baked Ham with Scalloped Potatoes
9 potatoes,
Flour,
Milk,
1 1/2 pound slice of ham.
Method: Pare and slice the potatoes. Place a layer of sliced potatoes in bottom of buttered baking dish. Sprinkle with butter, flour and a little seasoning. Repeat until you have used all potatoes. Cover with milk. Lay ham on very top. Keep in ice box until time to cook. Allow at least 1 hour for this to bake.

Baked Apples

Baked apples are always a nice dessert. They may be varied by filling the centers with—
Dates, nuts, little cinnamon, sugar.
Method: Core apples. Fill cavities with dates, nuts, little cinnamon and sugar. Surround with water and bake.

CHOICE RECIPES

By Miss Ruby M. Adams, H. D. A.
ORZON TOMATO MINCEMEAT

- 1 peck green tomatoes.
- 3 pounds brown sugar.
- 2 pounds raisins.
- 1 pound suet or coconut.
- 2 tablespoons salt.
- 1/2 cup water.
- 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon.
- 1 teaspoonful ground cloves.
- 2 teaspoons nutmeg.
- 3 cups chopped apples (if desired).
- 3 lemons, thinly sliced (after yellow is grated off).

Chop or slice tomatoes thinly, or put through a food chopper. Sprinkle salt over them and allow to stand for 1 hour. Drain 5 minutes. Drain off all the liquid by pressing the tomatoes as dry as possible. Add the suet or coconut and the 1/2 cup water. Return to the fire and simmer for 20 minutes. Stir in the sugar and boil until dissolved; then add spices and boil rapidly for about 20 minutes, or until thick. Pack hot and process 25 minutes until boiling water. One pint mincemeat or enough for one large pie can be made from 2 quarts of tomatoes.

OKRA AND TOMATO GUMBO

- 4 tablespoons butter or bacon drippings.
- 1 pint chopped onions.
- 2 quarts fresh tomatoes (cut in quarters).
- 1 quart okra (sliced).
- 4 teaspoons salt, or to taste.
- 2 pepper pods (without seeds).
- 3 tablespoons chopped parsley.
- 1 bay leaf (crushed).

Heat the fat, brown lightly the okra and onions. Add the bay leaf, parsley, chopped tomatoes and pepper pods. Allow this mixture to steam in a covered pan for five minutes. While hot fill No. 2 sterilized cans to within 1/2 inch of the top. Seal and process at 10 pounds pressure for 50 minutes. Clean and label cans before storing.

CHICKEN GUMBO

- 1 fat chicken weighing 4 or 5 lbs. (Old fowls may be used).
- 2 No. 3 cans tomatoes (or corresponding amount of fresh tomatoes).
- 4 to 6 pepper corns.
- 1/2 teaspoon thyme.
- 2 No. 3 cans okra (or corresponding amount of fresh okra).
- 2 quarts boiling water.
- 6 large onions.
- 3 tablespoons butter.
- 3 tablespoons lard.
- 2 bay leaves (crushed).
- 2 red pepper pods (chopped).
- 2 tablespoons salt (or to taste).
- 6 tablespoons chopped parsley.
- 2 cups chopped celery (leaves may be used).

Clean and disjoint the chicken, using the head and feet (do not use liver). Melt the lard and the butter in frying pan. When hot, fry chicken to a light brown color, but cooked through. Remove the chicken and add to the boiling water. Cover and cook until the meat slides from the bones. While the chicken is cooking, chop celery and onions fine. Place celery, onion and okra in the frying pans where the chicken was browned. When lightly browned, combine celery, onions and okra with the tomatoes, bay leaf, thyme, pepper corn, chopped pepper, parsley, and salt. Cook until the tomatoes and okra are almost done. Canned okra and tomatoes may be used. This will require only bringing the mixture to a boiling point. Remove the chicken from the bones—cut meat into one inch lengths (do not use the feet). Strain stock through coarse mesh sieve to remove any bones. Combine the chicken, strained stock, to the vegetable mixture. Heat to the boiling point. Fill sterilized cans (No. 2) with the boiling gumbo to within 1/2 inch of the top of can. Seal and process at 15 pounds pressure for 45 minutes. Clean and label the cans before storing. Served steamed rice moulded in cup with chicken gumbo poured around it.

Farmers, especially, will chuckle over this story of one of their fellow toilers who was delivering farm produce at a state institution for the insane. One of the patients, who had been detailed to help him unload, said to him, "You're a farmer, ain't yuh?"

The countryman admitted that he was.

"I used to be a farmer once," confessed the patient.

"Is that so?"

"Yep! I've done a lot of farmin' in my time. But say, did you ever try bein' crazy?"

The startled farmer replied that he never had.

"Well," said his helper cheerfully, "you just ought to try it! It beats farmin' all holler."

I defy you to find a single total abstainer who has (a) ruined his home thru total abstinence; (b) thrashed his wife thru taking water; (c) sent his children out into the street—shoeless—to beg in order to supply him with water; (d) suffered from cirrhosis of the liver, delirium tremens, Bright's disease, or gout thru drinking water.—Col.
