Lions Endorse City Council Cheese Factory

McLean Lions endorsed the action of the city council in applying for a $15,000 loan from the government to erect a cheese factory here.

The vote came after full discussion favoring the movement, at the regular weekly luncheon Tuesday noon.

Lion Boyd Meador was presented with an attendance pin and Lion Caldwell with a key pin, Lion Williams making the presentation speeches.

Lion T. A. Landers read a paragraph from a letter from Lion Reuben R. R. Cook, who is on his summer vacation, causing some good natured comment.

Lion Meador was appointed to see that a good representation of the local club attends the zone meeting at Clarendon next Tuesday.

Lion Tamer Caldwell presented Mr. Taylor of Davenport, Iowa, who told of better conditions for the past six months in his section.

Lion Reep Landers was in charge of the entertainment for the day, presenting M. D. Bentley, who spoke on "Gasoline Tax Evasion." Mr. Bentley has just been a member of a grand jury investigating gasoline bootleggers in Gray county, and it was stated that some bootlegging has occurred in McLean.

The meeting was closed with a talk by Lion Holloway favoring getting all the assistance possible for public work in McLean.

CITY ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY, JUNE 27

An election for city aldermen will be held at the city secretary's office next Tuesday, for the purpose of electing one alderman to fill an unexpired term.

To date, only one name has been filed for the office, E. L. Sitter's friends having placed his name on the ballot.

GRASSHOPPER POISON

Large numbers of young grasshoppers have been seen in pastures of some sections of Gray county, according to County Agent Ralph Thomas, and continued dry weather will cause the hoppers to move to the green fields. Mr. Thomas suggests that poison bran mash be used to stop the hoppers from eating up the crops.

The following formula has been used with success in Gray county, according to the county agent:

Mix dry 25 pounds of wheat bran and 1 pound of white arsenic or Paris green, and add the following wet mixture: 5 gallons water, 2 quarts molasses, 1 pound salt dissolved in water, 6 lemons or oranges, juice and rind ground fine. Use bran that is as free from shorts as possible. Do not use any of the arsenic compounds except the one mentioned.

Sow the mash broadcast in the area that is infested, or, in case of the hoppers moving from the pasture land to the field, broadcast along the fence rows. Do not put in rows or piles. Best results are gotten where bait is put out before 10 o'clock in the morning.

"PHLURIA"

By P. BOSH

Coming events cast their shadows before them. August 26 will soon be here. Let's hope it doesn't cast its shadow behind it.

If we vote as we drink, P. Bosh is inclined to think Texas will remain in the dry column. Where's your poll tax receipt?

It is a pity that so many political and pecuniary influences are brought to bear upon the voter to becloud his mind in regard to the liquor issue. P. Bosh thinks this election should register as nearly as possible the individual personal desires of each voter. If he personally wants a place where he, his wife, sons and daughters can buy legalized intoxicants, let him so register his desires at the polls, and vice versa. Let's do not vote any political ideas in this election, but let's vote as we drink.

Recently in a nearby county in the Interscholastic League meet, one boy chose as his subject the Repeal of the 18th Amendment, and the following is his extemporaneous speech:

"The reason I think the 18th amendment should be repealed is because I think if a man wants to get drunk that's his business, and as it is now, whiskey is too high and the bootleggers have all the money in the United States. This is the way I think they will do it: They will let everybody sell whiskey who wants to, and a feller can go to town and get him a bottle of whiskey and take it home and do whatever he wants to with it, and it will be cheaper than it is now, and it won't cost us so much to live." And he sat down.

When the 18th amendment was passed, the dairy industry came to life until now nearly every farmer is milking enough cows to pay his grocery bill. When beer flows freely again in cafes, drug stores and filling stations, what will become of the farmer's milk supply?

Most communities are answering this question with the establishment of cheese factories. Hurry up, McLean, and get yours started!

Beer and cheese, beer and cheese, raw, raw, raw! Hurrah for beer and cheese and pickles! And we shall all have cheese heads, beer bellies and pickled dispositions. We shall have to enlarge the golf course to take care of those who will be trying to reduce their enlarged bay windows.

NEW TRESPASS LAW

A new law has been signed by the governor providing a fine for individuals who willfully destroy, pluck, or otherwise injure flowers, shrubbery, etc., on the premises of another without his consent.

According to C. O. Greene, relief chairman of the McLean community chest, in charge of the R. F. C. funds for this vicinity, the new National Industrial Recovery Act will be available to McLean people, if opportunities are quickly seized.

The motto of the campaign is "Take families off the relief rolls and put them on payrolls."

The campaign was explained in detail at Pampa Friday, with delegates from nearby towns in attendance.

An afternoon session of the relief commission was held the same day, in which the matter of road building was taken up and committees from the various towns affected by the Miami-Hedley highway were in attendance.

A committee composed of men from Hedley, Miami and McLean was appointed at a meeting held here Thursday morning to draw maps of the proposed road and attend the Pampa meeting.

Those in Pampa from McLean were: C. O. Greene, D. A. Davis, M. D. Bentley and W. W. Wilson.

BRIEFS

By A. P. ANGELLO

Congress has adjourned and Pres. Roosevelt is off for a vacation. They did enough to earn a vacation. But the question is whether it will do any good or not.

Congress did its best, and what the people wanted—who could ask for more.

The last Congress spent its time making "ends" meet. This one spent its time getting the "ends" farther apart. But the "ends" seem to be closer now than when the previous Congress adjourned.

Billions are now available to states, counties, municipalities, corporations and individuals. Instead of wondering where the money comes from, most everyone is wondering how to get hold of some of it.

France again refused to make even a part of her payment to the U. S. But the French representatives are the ones that are blocking the world economic conference at London.

The changes in the banking laws of the land come as sweet music to thousands of citizens. It is like locking the barn after the old cow is stolen, but with the new lock the next time we get a cow she will be safe.

It is too bad to lose Caffrey, an efficient government law enforcement officer. His murder has spurred the government to a determination to wipe out gangdom. It will be for the government to overcome it or it will overcome the government in time.

SKILLET BIBLE SCHOOL CLOSED FRIDAY NIGHT

A daily vacation Bible school conducted by Rev. W. H. Bessire, Sunday school missionary for the Amarillo presbytery of the Presbyterian church, at Skillet school, closed with a public program last Friday night.

Two of Rev. Bessire's daughters assisted in the school, and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to all present at the closing exercises.

$15,000.00

Asked for New Factory

298 Cows Already Listed by Farmers

Aid will be asked of the National Industrial Recovery Act, for $15,000, to build a cheese factory at McLean, according to action taken by the city council Monday afternoon.

Several interested citizens appeared before the council in behalf of the cheese factory, and due to the short time in which to file requests for aid, it was voted to ask for aid in the name of the city and later turn the proposition over to a private individual, stock company, or whatever plan the people desire.

D. A. Davis, chairman of the chamber of commerce cheese factory committee, reported 298 cows signed up, with the field only scratched. Mr. Davis gave some interesting figures on cheese factories. Others who spoke on the proposition were: C. O. Greene, W. A. Erwin, T. A. Landers and Earl Stubbfield.

Alderman Lander made the motion to authorize the mayor and secretary to negotiate for the $15,000 loan. Alderman Davis seconded the motion, all voting yes.

Mayor Cash asked that the Lions Club and C. of C. pass on the proposition, insisting that the council desires only to do what the people want in the matter.

The matter of the upkeep of Hillcrest cemetery was brought up, and the mayor appointed W. A. Erwin chairman, Jno. H. Crow and T. A. Landers as a cemetery committee to report to a meeting to be held June 29 on plans for cemetery improvement.

The recent low bidder who was awarded the street grading and cleaning contract having turned down the proposition, the place was offered to Roy Bird at a salary of $115 per month; Alderman Lander voting no, others voting yes.

Mr. Lander had previously made a motion to award the place to the present hauler at a salary of $110 per month, which was voted down, the others ruling that the rules of preference on the first call for bids were still in force.

City officials present were: Mayor Cash, Secretary Bogan, Aldermen Lander, Wilkerson and Davis.

A McLean merchant who has been letting the depression affect his advertising budget tells us this week that he has reached the point where he must do some advertising, if he expects to have a fall business, and beginning next month he will start a campaign.

The fall business of every merchant will be affected by the regular advertising, or the lack of it, throughout the year.

Henry Ford, in commenting on the government's industrial recovery bill, said: "I was always under the impression that to manage a business properly you ought to know something about it." How many times have we seen the truth of this in all governmental affairs from national to local. If officials know nothing about the business they are trying to regulate, there should be no wonder at the mistakes made.

Of course, every editor is familiar with the oft repeated instructions "release upon receipt" on thinly veiled advertising trying to get into print without paying anything, but we received a new one this week saying: "This story is sent to you as a matter of news and is for release upon receipt without any obligation upon your part." That's good! Wonder how about some obligation on the other fellow's part! Paying some high priced word artist to disguise advertising and make it seem like news is money thrown away as far as getting stuff in this paper is concerned.

DONT THROW THINGS AROUND

By L. A. Hawkins
Carelessness and untidiness around the farm home are sins often committed, not only around the house in which we live, but around the whole farm.

Old lumber is left in a corner of the yard, a discarded buggy or wagon is in some corner of a field preventing the scythe or mower from getting to the weeds. Hay baling wire gets into the manure pile and dulls the mowing machine knives when it gets scattered in the cultivated fields. Hoes, forks, shovels and other hand tools are leaned against the walls just inside the doors of stable or work shop, or may be left leaning against the fence or lying on the ground to be hidden by weeds.

A gate hinge gets loose but still holds. No one tightens it up. Each day the gate sags a little more, then it drags on the ground; the hinge finally pulls loose from the gate. Then we lift and open the gate by main strength. Five minutes spent three months ago would have saved the hinge and all the dragging of the gate that we are now doing. It is a case of carelessness.

A corner of the tin roof comes loose. We see it but do not get a ladder and repair it while it is easily done. A windstorm blows the whole roof off as a result of our neglect.

The wagon wheels begin to "work," indicating that the tires need tightening. It isn't done. The wagon breaks down with a load of wheat on it. Rain spots 40 bushels of wheat before we get it unloaded, and now the wrecked wagon is decorating the barn yard.

A board comes off the fence and in time a cow or a hog gets her head through and then her body. Other animals follow. All get to the corn field and are foundered.

Keep the fences and gates in repair. The time spent in looking after things may bring $25 per hour. Keep everything in its place.

FIRE EXPENSE

Gaining strength is the belief that, since the expense which each city incurs in fighting fires is easily ascertained, a fair and just proportion of such expense should be charged to the owners of the property in or on which fires occur. Particularly is it felt that such a charge should be made when investigation shows that the fire occurred because of the violation by the owner of some state law or city ordinance with reference to fire prevention.—Clarendon News.

BUILDING A SEPTIC TANK

By Zella Wigent
Build the tank large enough for the number of people it must serve, else frequent attention and cleaning out is required.

Make the cover so that it can be at least partly removed to give access when cleaning is necessary. The cover must be made as tight as can be made with ordinary care. A gas space of about twelve inches is needed between the cover and the succm on the liquid. A tight cover and sufficient air space help to maintain an even temperature, a condition most effective for bacterial action.

If the conditions allow it, the tank should be entirely below the ground surface having about a foot of earth above the cover. If it is necessary to build the tank partly above the ground surface, a mound of earth should be made to cover it.

The tile drain should be located where tree roots will not enter and clog it.

Vitrified tile should be used for the inlet drain and there must be tight joints to exclude the ground water.

Rain water or any excessive flow of water beyond that which a household ordinarily uses must be excluded. A large amount of any distinctly acid waste should not enter the septic tank.

The tank should be built to the house. It is desirable to have a trap, since household sewage contains considerable grease.

All the old type out-lets in one Hill county community were replaced by the sanitary slab pit toilet recommended by the State Department of Health. Demonstrations in the new type by the county. Every well except one was contaminated, explaining an epidemic of two years ago.

A COMPANY THIRTY YEARS OLD

Last Friday the Ford Motor Company completed 30 years of automobile making.

It is also my fortieth year at the same job. I made my first engine in 1893, and it still runs. This is the engine that won the Selden Patent Suit—which took the motor car out of the exclusive class, and opened the automobile industry to hundreds of manufacturers who started during the last 30 years.

Some of the men who began with me that June day in 1903, are working here yet. All of the principles we laid down then, are still operative; we find that they have great survival value for the future. To date they have produced and sold over 21,000,000 Ford cars.

Although we created the automobile market we have never thought it was good for anyone to monopolize it. We have always believed that before business could be good for one, it must be good for all. Our discoveries and improvements have always been open to other manufacturers without patent restrictions.

Of course, there is one thing we cannot share—everyone must get it for himself—and that is experience. Money could duplicate our buildings and machines, but it cannot duplicate 40 years of experience. And it is experience that makes a motor car.

But the past does not especially concern me; it has all been a preparation for the future. For myself, I feel that I have just been gathering the tools to do something worth while, and that my real task is still ahead.

Great changes are upon the world. False ideas of every kind are vanishing in the general upheaval. Those who built truly on principle will survive—their service will carry over. Business integrity and commodity honor will be fully justified. And newer and better ways of living will appear.

That is the outlook for this young thirty-year old Company of ours.

Sunday's Lesson

JESUS OUR LORD AND SAVIOR

Rev. Cecil G. Goff
Golden text, Matt. 28:

During the past six months the lessons have covered the life of Christ as set forth in the Gospels. Not only the historical events of His life have been covered, but the teaching and ministry of Him who has earnestly given Himself to a study of the lessons of His life. The past six months should have a comprehensive view of the ministry of the Master for these past years He dwelled among us. The facts set forth in the New Testament concerning Christ and His purpose in the world may be fully learned. The facts of the life of Jesus, His super-natural gifts and power, His miracles, His purpose for men, His mission of the plan of salvation which is freely offered to all, are not too much for us to believe. The man who does not believe them is a rare specimen. Even those who are not believers have any part in the plan of salvation as a personal experience.

These things as historical facts are not to be believed. The difficulty of the world is the difficulty of applying the message of Jesus in its true sense as Jesus would apply it. The first difficulty is in bringing us to believe the message of Jesus historically. Few men refuse to believe it historically. Jesus proclaimed that historical belief in the Word is not enough, for it could not include repentance, faith and the new birth. Jesus said by faith are we saved, and to make that clear He said, "Except ye repent, ye shall perish," and "Ye must be born again." That sort of belief is experimental belief that one never comes away from. In James we are told that the devils believe and tremble—so do many men, but the devils do not have the privilege of new birth, and many men will not.

The greatest difficulty with Christians today is that there are too many who have been admitted to all the grounds of historical belief, but they do not have the experimental belief that brings to a man's heart the birth of which Jesus speaks. They bear the name Christian but they have not the birth of a Christian. Such men cannot be expected to understand the responsibility placed upon a child of God, and therefore cannot be expected to live a Christian life. And nominal Christianity is so mixed up today with men and women who are not living Christ-like lives that the activities of Christianity are almost entirely dead.

The standards of morals and citizenship from a national standpoint have been founded upon Biblical principles. There are great numbers of men and women who live these without thought of the moral and civil obligations of the average citizen is one who attempts to follow somewhere in the world to be reached for Christ today. The average man who is an outlaw either civilly or criminally, is a sinner as we all are, and needs the grace of God to overcome his sin. He is lost because he has rejected Jesus Christ and his mission is his personal neglect. He does not blame the churches, he does not blame his neighbors. He may blame upon some of them for not doing as they ought, yet he knows that he must answer for himself. In this land of nominal Christianity, where most of the people claim to be Christian, and there are numbers of churches everywhere, and where a man has the right to worship according to the dictates of his own conscience, no man can excuse.

Those who have experienced the second birth have upon them the responsibility of leading a life for Christ. And the man who goes into a church without the power of God which is the Holy Spirit, is just as lost as the man who curses God, and is trying to help more men away from the God-cursing sinners. There is only one way of God to point unsaved men to the truth, and is the Christ-like living. That is the requisite of a missionary. We are all missionaries. The last great command of God is to do more in one year of mission work than has been done in years of mission work. It can be done if we are to save the religious bodies of our land from becoming ecclesiastical, ritualistic, prayer-reading, enigmatic, non-evangelistic, heartless, and lifeless bodies. What we need is the flow of the teeming love of the Master in our veins to give us the loving energy to enable us to go out into the byways and hedges and constrain men to come in unto the Master. But to do that we must each be a missionary with the glory of God as our first and primary aim.

New Gulf-lube motor oil lasts 28½% more miles per quart!

TO MAKE THIS TEST, WE BORROWED 6 CARS—both new and old. Leading 25c oils were tested against Gulf-lube in each car. Gulf-lube stood up 28½% longer before a quart of oil had to be added!

Beats competing oils to a standstill in Speedway "burn up" test

FOR 4 days, 12 hours a day, 6 borrowed cars tested 4 of America's leading 25c oils... And, with every step of the test supervised by the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association, here was the result—a result that amazed even the hard-boiled officials... Gulf-lube beat every oil in every car! It averaged 28½% more miles per quart than the average of its competitors.

Switch to the "high mileage" motor oil. You'll say "give me a quart of oil" less often! And you'll get a better oil—the finest motor oil 25c ever bought! Get Gulf-lube at any Gulf station

ANENT A SERVICE CHARGE

Since the public utilities have a racket which they put over their customers in the way of a service charge, presumably to reimburse them for the time and trouble incurred in sending a meter reader around to check up, covering depreciation on the reader's flashlight battery (in case the meter is in the basement), wear and tear on his pencil, the heavy expense of obtaining printed meter forms, etc., etc., the Pittsburg Advertiser can't understand why "meat markets are losing a golden opportunity for profit when they fail to maintain a 'fixed charge' for using their scales. The enterprising dry goods merchant ought to abandon his old fashioned method of throwing in the string and wrapping paper with each parcel and adopt a 'fixed charge' of at least $1.00 to cover these items—including the use of his wrapping counter. Why doesn't the shoe merchant have a 'fixed charge' of about 75c? What for? Oh, just for permitting the customer to use the footstool while trying on a pair of shoes. Just sell 'em the shoes for $6.00 and add on the 75c as a 'fixed charge'."—Pointers.

PLAYING THE GAME

I had gone out one afternoon and when I returned, I could hear Dorothy scolding at the top of her voice. I went into the room where she and her brother were, and there was Jimmy sitting still. I said, "Why can't you be like Jimmy? He isn't saying a word."

"Of course not. He's Papa coming home late, and I'm you."

Doctor—"What is your occupation?" Patient—"It isn't an occupation, it's a pursuit. I'm a bill collector."
