COME TO MCLEAN!

From Radio Address at Amarillo by Boyd Meador, C. of C. President

Ladies and gentlemen of the radio audience: I am both happy and honored to have this opportunity of presenting to you, in behalf of the citizenship of the city of McLean, an invitation to join with us as we march steadily forward around that long-looked-for corner that leads to the return of prosperity. I am also honored by having the office of leader- ship in the McLean chamber of com- merce which has so long been active in the advancement of the best in- terests of our city and community.

Most of you, I am sure, know of McLean. You know that it is a city of approximately 2,000 people, situated in Gray County, Texas, in such a position as to afford it to become the hub city of four counties—Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth and Donley. You know that our city is in the heart of the largest potential gas field in the world, near a large producing oil field, and the center of cattle in- dustry in this part of the Panhandle.

You know further that McLean, with its four cotton gins, serves the great agricultural district of which it is the center. All of my sport-loving listeners well know of the McLean high school football Tigers, a team which went through all opposition last year to go into the state finals and a team which we hope will go still further this season. You know that McLean with its many churches, its fine high school and elementary school, its beautiful homes, its Lions Club and many other civic organiza- tions is a city constructed on a sound basis and composed of a people who have dedicated their lives to sound principles of living and a people who take pride in the city and community in which they live. Such a city, as you well know, cannot perish, but will survive through the most severe depression.

McLean has survived the depression and I am proud to announce that under the leadership of the chamber of commerce and the other active civic organizations of the city, the mer- chants, business men, and citizens of McLean have pledged themselves 100% as being behind the president's re-employment program and the NRA. Our people are of one accord in fac- ing the future; we have forgotten the disagreeable features of the past and have set our eyes to the future with the firm and united determination that nothing can prevent our march of progress in the future.

Although we are proud of our pos- sessions and of our accomplishments, we feel that we can be justly proud of the type of people which make up our city and community. McLean is a city of friendly people; a city of brotherhood. We feel that we have much to offer to any person who might desire to come and live with us. As president of our chamber of commerce, let me be the first on this program to extend to you and yours the heartiest invitation to join us in our advance towards the greater pros- perity that is justly ours to be. If you seek a place to live in happiness, peace and prosperity; if you seek a place where you can have friends and be a friend; if you seek a place where you can educate your children in the best of schools; if you seek a place where business is good and will be better; if you are seeking for the ideal place to make your home, then come to McLean, the city of friendly people. We welcome you.

Mrs. R. A. Nipper and children of Letors visited in the S. W. Rice home last week end.

Boswell's Thesis History Bar LO Ranch Activities

"The History of the Bar LO Ranch of the Eastern Panhandle of Texas" is the title of the thesis presented to the faculty of the Graduate School of Simmons University in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Master of Arts, by G. C. Boswell, former superintendent of McLean schools and now dean of the faculty of McMurry College at Abilene.

Mr. Boswell has presented Geo. W. Sitter, president of the American National Bank and owner of the ranch, with a leather bound copy of his thesis that contains a full history of the ranch from its inception, as well as a history of Panhandle conditions from the first.

The thesis contains many interviews with local citizens. The only news- paper mentioned is The McLean News, Mr. Boswell taking items from the newspaper files to add to the history of the ranch.

The book contains many maps of this section, as well as pictures of ranch activities, fine animals, etc.

The Bar LO Ranch raises purebred Hereford cattle and is now under the active management of J. L. Hess, son-in-law of Mr. Sitter.

The thesis represents many days of work and various sources of infor- mation, and is an educational work profitable to anyone who is fortunate enough to have an opportunity to read it.

PROGRESS OF MCLEAN SCHOOLS

From Radio Address at Amarillo by C. A. Cryer, Superintendent

The first school in McLean was a subscription school taught by Miss Isabel Gray in 1902. The first free public school was organized in 1903. Mr. Henry Biggers taught the first term, using the rear of Dr. Green's Drug Store as a school room, and had an enrollment of 18 or 20 pupils.

The system at present has three buildings, and an enrollment of near 350. 34% credits of affiliation, and a strong faculty of well-trained and experienced teachers. The grade school is developing strong pupils for high school. The high school faculty all have degrees and 33% have Master degrees. The school is in good standing on the Southern Accredited list of secondary schools and colleges.

The curricula is well-balanced. In addition to the regular curricula, we have vocational agriculture, home economics, business department, band, music, glee clubs and speech arts.

The football team reached finals in the regional championship last season, and last Friday held one of the Big Three class A schools of district 17, Pampa, to a 6-6 decision. The band work is outstanding, as evidenced by the broadcasting you are listening to during this program. The vocational agriculture work has been exceptionally outstanding from 1927 to 1933, exhibiting at Tri-state each year, winning the poultry cup at Pampa three successive years, the Grant Guernsey cup two years, the Texas Tech. farm shop cup two years, dairy cup two years, sweetstake three years, and four high individual honors; at Plainview, poultry judging three times and the Jersey cup. Finally, the class has won the Rock Island Trip Royal to Kansas City four straight years, representing Texas in meat judging. In money, $560, four trips to Kansas City, placing 5th in the national contest; winning a total of 17 trophies and seven individual high honors in the state and one national.

MCLEAN'S RESOURCES

Radio Address of W. E. Bogan, City Secretary

Ladies and gentlemen of the radio audience, through the courtesy of the Tri-state fair now in progress at Amarillo, and as a representative of the city of McLean, in the absence of the mayor, it is my privilege to tell you something of our little city.

McLean is a thriving town of some 2,000 inhabitants, located near the foot hills of the great plains, in the heart of the Panhandle, on the Rock Island Railroad and Highway 66, 78 miles east of Amarillo.

McLean had its beginning as a cattle country, and a number of famous ranches of the Panhandle are located near McLean. The livestock products of McLean are cattle, hogs and sheep. The agricultural products are cotton, corn, grain and feed. There are four large gins and an elevator to take care of these products.

All kinds of vegetables and fruits yield abundantly. Some of the famous Gray county oil and gas wells are just a few miles north of McLean.

We are blessed with an abundance of pure water, a healthful climate, and a citizenship of which any town might be proud.

McLean boasts of many beautiful homes, six churches, an efficient chamber of commerce, an active Lions Club, the oldest newspaper in Gray county, up-to-date business houses, paved streets and modern conveniences, and a school system of which we are very proud.

Electric lights and power are furnished by the Southwestern Public Service Co., gas by the McLean Gas Co., and water by the City Water Works.

If you are expecting to make a change and want to go to a town that offers you, in addition to its commercial advantages, good homes, good churches, and good schools, come to McLean. We welcome you.

P. T. A. TEA

Mrs. W. K. Wharton, Mrs. Bob Lynch and Mrs. N. E. Pogue entertained with a vanishing tea Wednesday afternoon of last week, at the home of Mrs. Lynch.

Bridge and forty-two were played. Refreshments of iced tea and a salad course were served to Miss Dahlgren, Mesdames Bob Thomas, Paul Mertel, Joe Rogers, Etta Mann, Bill Bentley, Arthur Erwin and Earl Stubbelfield.

Presiding Elder Beavers of Clarendon visited in the Rev. Jno. H. Crow home last week.

Miss Dorothy Stuart of Carter, Okla., visited in the R. T. Dickenson home Saturday.

Merchants Sign for C. C. Sec.-Mgr. $1.00 Month Dues

With chamber of commerce dues set at $1.00 per month, enough business men signed up for six months to justify the belief that enough money will be secured to hire a secretary-manager for the local organization, Prof. W. D. Biggers having been offered the place by the executive board, to begin work the first of next month.

A committee is at work soliciting members, and with the exception of only three cases so far, are having no trouble securing signers on a six month basis.

It is pointed out that a paid secretary will have time to make contacts with industrial leaders and attract new industries to McLean.

Mr. Biggers has had experience in this line and promises his best efforts for the community.

The committee expects to see every- one interested, in the hope that every business will be represented, and later a drive for individual members with dues at 50c per month, will be undertaken.

COTTON CHECKS RECEIVED; SECOND BATCH TODAY

Following some $8,000 worth of cotton checks received for 42 Gray county farmers and distributed here last Saturday, the second allotment aggregating over $20,000 is expected here today (Thursday) for distribution.

McLean F. F. A. Win Poultry Cup at Amarillo

By Dr. A. A. Tampke
McLean vocational agriculture students made a clean sweep at the Tri-state fair poultry judging contest Monday by making 782 points out of a possible 900, beating their nearest rival, Guymon, Okla., 100 points. This gives the cup to McLean for "keeps," since they have won it three times in the five years competition.

Arthur Ray Ledbetter was high scorer with 265 points. Charles Finley was second with 263 points, and Cecil Jones third with 252 points. All three boys were on the McLean team. Wilburn Lynch, an alternate who judged for practice, made the highest score of 286 points.

McLean also had the three highest scorers in examination on the 50 questions on the American Standard of Perfection. Cecil Jones made 144 points, Charles Finley 141 points, and A. R. Ledbetter 138. The highest score possible for each boy was 150. This was also the fourth year McLean had the high man of the contest.

It is recognized to be quite an achievement for a team to win by such scores when it is remembered that they competed against some of the strongest teams in Oklahoma and Texas.

The McLean dairy team, having had no previous experience, placed third in the dairy contest with Sim Rhodes second high scorer with 358 points, John Mertel and Elton O'Neal also showed up well. The alternates made a very good showing for McLean's future judging. In poultry judging the alternates were Wilburn Lynch, James Lee Rice, James Cooke and Peb Everett, Jr. In dairy: Chas. Ivey, J. C. Breeding and G. Cadra.

McLean F. F. A. members have a combination booth at the fair which features crop exhibits and an instructional feature, "Treating milk fever," which is very attractive. The booth is outstanding in that it has displayed the insignia of "Relief" in the center.

After putting up the booth and entering many crop exhibits, the F. F. A. delegation, numbering 25, went to MacSpaalen Lake to camp over night. Among this party was the famous McLean F. F. A. string band which furnished a 1 1/2 hour program of old time tunes in the home of Mr. Frank R. Phillips, professor of agricultural education of W. T. S. T. C., of Canyon; and who also was superintendent of F. F. A. booths and the stock judging contest.

The boys did outdoor cooking. T. B. Masterson furnished them with two bushels of tomatoes, and Caldwell's Bakery furnished most of their bread. This has been a much appreciated custom of our good baker ever since the beginning of F. F. A. work in McLean.

BOSWELL'S PICTURE IN LIONS MAGAZINE

Dean G. C. Boswell of McMurry College, former superintendent of schools here and past president of the local Lions Club, is honored by having his picture in the current issue of the Lions Magazine, with a short history of his work in McLean.

Mr. Boswell also had a front page article in last week's issue of the McMurphy War Whoop, student publication of McMurry College, giving extracts of his address to students on the Constitution of the United States. The same issue carried an introduction of the new dean in verse, and in another column a philosophic observation by the dean.

JUNIOR B. Y. P. U. ENTERTAINED

Members of the junior B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist Church enjoyed a party in the church basement last Thursday afternoon, under the direction of their leader, Mrs. Cecil G. Goff. The entertainment was given in honor of those who were being promoted to the intermediate union.

After playing various games, the party repaired to the pastor's home where watermelons were served on the lawn.

Mrs. O. G. Stokely and daughter, Mrs. Martha Hamilton are in Amarillo this week, the latter undergoing an operation Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Porter of Wheeler visited the former's sister, Mrs. R. T. Dickinson, Monday.

Amarillo fair officials are to be commended for keeping beer joints off the fair grounds, a consideration that may become rather rare, if the present trend continues.

After several weeks, Texas is now admitted to the Death Registration Area of the United States, and the birth records are now being checked to see if the state can be admitted to the registration area for births. Citizens of the state have assisted local registration officers the past year in securing this recognition and the state may now feel proud of being on a par with other progressive states.

We congratulate the Clarendon News for turning down beer advertising. Not everyone of us has the courage to turn down good money in times like these, but The News is the oldest paper in the Panhandle and has always held high ideals, and this is exactly what one could expect who knows its history.

One may not always agree with Editor Braswell on various questions, but no one would accuse him of doing anything against his conscientious scruples for money or popularity.

A number of years ago a man in Montana ran for the office of tax assessor on the platform that he would hire no deputies. He won and at assessment time simply asked each property owner to mail in his rendition and published each letter in the local paper. The plan has been used every since at a great saving to the taxpayers.

This plan has been incorporated in the wheat incorporation plan by government officials, and could well be a part of every similar plan. Proper publicity makes for honesty of purpose in every line.

News from Pakan

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mears and son and George Swinney of Chanute, Kan., visited in the J. W. Stauffer home Thursday and Friday.

John Hrcnar, Jr., and Paul Ptak, Jr., who have been at the Chicago world's fair, returned Thursday night. Wm. Freeman, Gus Wolfe and Art Harwood of Humbolt, Kan., visited in the J. W. Stauffer home Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Those who were in Shamrock Saturday were: Mrs. Christina Pakan and family, John Hrcnar and son, John, Mike Mertel and sons, John and Milan; Paul Risian and daughter, Louise; Albert Williams and Mr. Latimer.

Paul Ptak and son, Paul, were McLean visitors Saturday. County Judge and Mrs. McMurry of Wheeler visited in the Hrcnar and Macina homes Sunday afternoon.

Over in Dallas beer joints have not been operating a week yet, but state inspectors there told the beer handlers this week they would either have to clean up their places or close up and get out. It seems it was never intended for those kind of places to be kept clean and it is a matter of impossibility. The country has so far advanced since the saloon days it is going to be a hard job to keep the beer stands in a condition to satisfy the law and health authorities.—Galnessville Signal.

Walter Bailey, Clifford Allison, Winfred Massay and Sammie Cubine returned Saturday from a trip to Chicago and Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Waisman and Mrs. Leon Marshall visited in Berger and Amarillo last Sunday.

The McLean Tigers head the class A Pampa harvesters to a 6-6 deadlock in a hard fought classic in Harvesters Park at Pampa last Friday afternoon. Although the tigers were on the defensive before a powerful attack of the Harvesters, they converted their first opportunity to score early in the second quarter after they had been trailing in a 6-0 count. Ellison recovered a Harvester fumble and Crockett carried the ball in scoring distance. On the third trial, Christian succeeded in carrying over the touchdown that tied the count.

In the first quarter McLean defeated the south goal with the wind to their backs and kicking. On the second play from scrimmage, Hamilton, Pampa quarterback, ripped off a 40 yard jaunt through the left side of the line, being brought down from behind by Crockett after he had eluded the remainder of the Tiger secondary. The Harvesters started a drive that ended just short of a score and were held as Tolliver kicked from behind his goal line. The Harvesters again started from the McLean 25 yard line and with a series of spin plays and line plunges, Hamilton carried the ball over for the opening touchdown. The attempt for a place-kick was blocked by "Little Metzger" Christian. After an exchange of punts with the teams working on about even basis, the quarter ended with Pampa in possession on their own 23 yard stripe.

As the second quarter opened, Marbough, Pampa fullback, went back into punt formation. The ball was passed to one of the halfbacks who fumbled and Ellison, who was rushing the play, recovered on about the Harvester 16 yard line. After Dowell had picked up two yards at the right tackle, Crockett circled the left end on a double reverse for 12 yards and a first down. On the third trial, Christian carried the ball two yards for the touch. Ellison's try for the point was wide. The remainder of the first half was played in the Tiger territory.

In the last half the Tigers played cautiously after their passing attack had failed to click. Punts were frequent and both teams were guilty of numerous fumbles. Marbough, the punting halfback, did much damage to the Tiger forward wall with repeated gains through the center of the line.

STATISTICS.—Pampa gained 219 yards from scrimmage, losing 29. They attempted six passes and completed two for 26 yards, with three incomplete and one intercepted. The Harvesters made 19 first downs, they were penalized four times for 30 yards. Pampa punted six times for a total of 273 yards, or an average of 45; the return of punts totaled 46 yards. McLean gained 83 yards from scrimmage, losing 13. The Tigers attempted six passes, with one completed for five yards; five incomplete and no interceptions. McLean made five first downs and drew no penalties. McLean punted nine times for a total of 331 yards, or an average of 37 yards to the kick. The total returned punt yardage was 64.

A BIRD'S EYE-VIEW.—That was a mighty fine game at Pampa Friday boys, please accept the Bird's compliments. Well, it looks like the conference race is about to get under way. Next Friday the Tigers open their league play with a battle on the home field when they engage the Turkey Turks. There is no information forthcoming from the Turks' camp, as they are strictly an unknown quantity, and it may be that we will see plenty of action when the teams clash on Tiger field.

DOPE.—The Clarendon Broncs that were rated the pre-season favorites are not the favorites. That is, they are not by themselves. The Tigers are receiving some consideration now and are given an even chance to repeat their last year's performance. However, the next four scheduled games the Tigers have are all conference affairs and there will be no chance for a let-down if they are to retain the title.

EXPLAINED SILENCE. Mrs. Brown always allowed her maid to have her young man in the kitchen in the evening. But knowing the girl was entertaining a new swain, she stole downstairs and listened at the kitchen door. The next morning she said to the maid: "Mary, your new young man seems very quiet. I never hear any sound of talking while he is here." "No, mum," replied the girl, "he's that shy he's done nothing but eat up to now."—The Northern Mail.

Mrs. J. T. Glass and daughter, Mrs. Margaret; Miss Naomi Hunt and Mrs. Omer Smusher visited in Shamrock last Wednesday.

Shivering with chills one moment, burning with fever the next—the effects of Malaria. Unless the disease will do serious harm to health. Malaria, a blood infection, for two things. First, destroying the red cells in the blood, second, building up the blood, destroying the disease and to overcome the attack.
Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic has both these effects. It contains quinine, which kills the infection of blood, and iron, which builds up the blood. Chills soon stop, and you are restored to health and comfort. For half a century, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic has been the general tonic for old and young. It is safe and absolutely harmless to take and absolutely harmless to give children. Get a bottle at your drug store.

GOLF GOSSIP

By D. A. Davis

Folks, I'm up on my weed cutting. I finished my weed cutting campaign at six o'clock Sunday evening, after working hard all day.

I see where the editor is claiming that some golf pro or semi-pro (whatever that means) claims that his success as a golf player was the result of not smoking while playing golf. And, folks, for once he is as right as two rabbits, because I've tried to play golf and smoke myself, and have found it is impossible to do both at the same time. Just as sure as you try to hit a golf ball with your old trusty pipe in your mouth the pipe will get in between your eye and the ball, and nine times out of ten you will miss it entirely. And if you happen to have a cigar in your mouth, unless you can tilt it up to about a ninety-five per cent angle like most big shots tilt them up, you will run into just about the same trouble as you do with a pipe in your mouth. And if you are a cigarette smoker it is almost impossible to keep the smoke out of your eyes; then again, you might forget what you are doing and throw the lighted cigarette down and "burn up the course." So, folks, if you want to play a pro or semi-pro golf game you will have to cut out your smoking. The only way I figure you can use tobacco is to "chaw" it, and that has its disadvantages.

And speaking of "chawing" tobacco, reminds me of how old Grover Boswell used to go out with Judge Rice and bum a big chaw of tobacco (for advertising reasons I can't mention the name) and, boy! could he play golf for the first few holes! But generally he would begin blowing up about the fifth or sixth hole, turn pale, and from then on he could not even find his tees, let alone hit a golf ball. But this is supposed to be a secret that we golfers are supposed to keep, but lots of folks have wondered why Grover quit playing golf, and I feel that it is my duty to tell the real reason. The Judge ran out of chawing tobacco. I don't believe I ever saw anybody try as hard to learn to chaw tobacco as old Grover did.

Folks, ain't it awful how many of our good men are passing out from heart trouble? And do you know that lots of heart trouble is due to the lack of good wholesome outdoor exercise, such as playing golf? Did you see where Gov. Seligman of New Mexico died from heart failure just after talking to a bunch of bankers? (Talking to a banker will give most anybody heart failure these days) And did you notice that Lieut. Gov. Hockenhall, who will take Gov. Seligman's place, is a very, very fine man? And the news dispatches say he is unlike most office holders. And in what way is he unlike other office holders? Well, here is just exactly what they say: "Mild mannered A. W. (Andy) Hockenhall, 56-year-old Clovis, N. M., banker and lawyer, is now New Mexico's new governor. The new governor's chief hobby is the development of the city park here. He has been on the municipal park board since its creation, several years ago. Widely identified with church work, he is an ardent leader in the First Baptist Church here, and is a CONSISTENT WEEK DAY GOLFER. For the past six years he has been president of the Clovis National Bank."

Folks, do you know why I am bringing this to your attention? It is simply this. I want to show some of you hard-headed church members that it is perfectly all right for you to play golf; some of you hard-headed lawyers and bankers that it is perfectly all right and proper to belong to our golf club and play golf; and some of you hard-headed critics that there are quite a few prominent men that play golf, and still quite a few "good" men play golf. And they don't spend $200 for golf clubs, or $250 for a golf ball, and they do not spend enough playing golf to keep up a dozen families; it is absolutely necessary to have either a nine or eighteen hole course instead of just one, and a hole is not simply a tin cup, a green is not a small parcel of grass that costs $1.98 a blade, and not altogether situated between a brook and a couple of apple trees entirely surrounded by excavations; and there is absolutely nothing silly about the game only to a bunch of dumbbells that should be in the asylum, and to that class of folks anything looks silly. Who ever heard of anybody starting off anywhere but that they will finally come back where they started? You can keep on going straight ahead, and if you keep it up long enough you will come back to where you started, even if you have to go entirely around the world. So, folks, what is silly about anybody coming back to where they started from in playing golf, is what I want to know.

And another thing: there are scores and scores of golfers that can add up to quite a bit above "75," and there are lots of them that do not take a "swim," do not drink pints of gin, and could not sing "Sweet Adeline" if they wanted to, and out of six or eight golfers they are not all liars, either. And if you want to know something, that article that was put in The News week before last and signed "CLIPT" was written by some weak minded man who tried to play golf, got beat every time he went out, went crazy, and tried to say something smart. In conclusion, the only thing else I have to say is that Boyd Meador is taking expression and I AM NOT!

SOME SMALLTOWN HUNOR

The rural press of the United States is rich in homespun fun—much of which is found interwoven in the "local" items telling about neighborhood happenings. For instance, here is a paragraph from the Pine Valley correspondent of the Bascom Independent:

"At the last sociable of the Grange, the Gilroy sisters sang three selections, Tony Bing read an original poem on 'Night,' and Ken Fletcher played a lute with variations on his saxophone. The remainder of the evening was spent very pleasantly."

"Success is ninety per cent perspiration and ten per cent inspiration."—Thomas Alva Edison.

MAN AND ANGELS

Man was created "a little lower than the angels" and some of them have been getting lower and lower ever since.—State Line Tribune.

Pictures of angels are very disappointing. This yarner was taught from infancy up to the age of unreason to believe that angels had wings and went about with flowing robes and bare feet. Just why feathers should be given heavenly spirits who had become immortal was always a puzzle. And why the human body should have no feathers where the wings should be, was also a puzzle. And furthermore, after the foot has become the place for corns, bunions, blisters, and ingrowing toenails, the naked foot is not good to look at. Artists always paint the best foot foremost, to be sure, but it was not, but said he had pictures of angels are ideals, not reality, and that they make some difference. The imagination is a wonderful thing. But the fact is that human folk are not destined to be angels, and it is no use to worry about the style of wings that will be for our personal adornment, nor will it profit us to tuck our corns under our robes. It may be all for the best that we are a bit lower than the hosts of heaven. If we were equal, we might not measure up and fail to get in to enjoy the rest that is so much desired by newspaper folk who seemingly jump from one frying pan into another every day in the week. Some men do get lower and still lower in the scales on which men as well as angels are weighed. They fail to weigh up to the standard set by right thinking people and go down much faster than they realize. When a man is down and out, he finds his old cronies not eager to push him up and help him get on his feet again.—Higgins News.
