"I Want to Know"

By D. A. Davis

Why don't we get some new blood into our school system and city management? Why do we keep on electing the same old timers as school trustees and aldermen, when we all know the longer any of us live in a town or community the less we know about the problems confronting us and the less interest we take in our town or community affairs?

The reason I want some new blood in our city and school management is because we old timers have lost all interest in our school and city affairs and have just crawled into our hulls and are paying absolutely no attention whatever to what is going on.

We get elected as aldermen and pass all kinds of laws and then pay absolutely no attention to the enforcement of same.

We get elected to the school board and let two or three trustees hire the teachers and attend the school board meetings.

We are allowing the law violators to do just as they please. And we are letting the school teachers do as they please.

In fact, we are all having entirely too easy a time. What I want to know is why don't we get some new blood into our city and school management so that somebody will disagree with somebody else so there will be some arguments started and some good old-fashioned fist fights pulled off. We are having entirely too much "cooperation" to keep our town alive. What we need is some good old-fashioned fist fights and street brawls; some charges and counter-charges some crookedness and rottenness and hard-headedness. We need somebody to accuse somebody else of "running" the town and "bossing" the school. Our school teachers are having entirely too easy a time "cooperating" with the trustees. What we need on that school board is somebody that will tell those teachers "how the cow ate the cabbage" once in a while in order to make them appreciate their jobs. And we need somebody on that city council that will get up and object to everything the other aldermen suggest and pull off a few free-for-all fights to liven things up a little. We need some new blood, folks, we need some new blood, or we are going to all die of the gout or hook worm or something. Give us some new blood, folks, give us some new blood, or we will perish.

C-C Invited to Box Supper at Alanreed

Tonight will be the big night at Alanreed, when a box supper will be held and the McLean chamber of commerce, accompanied by the high school band will go over for a neighborly visit.

Alanreed has invited the visitors and Jesse J. Cobb trade extension manager of the C. of C., has arranged a program with W. D. Biggers and Boyd Meador as principal speakers.

Alanreed citizens have also planned entertainment features, and a good time is promised any who attend. It is hoped that a large delegation will be on hand for the fun.

The box supper will be in charge of the Alanreed school and all proceeds will be used for the school.

This trip will be the first of the regular trade trips planned to nearby communities for this season by the chamber of commerce.

These trips have been made during the spring and summer season for the past several years by the local body, as a mark of appreciation of our neighbors, and the visitors have received a warm welcome from each community visited.

The trips are being begun a little earlier than usual this year in order that more communities may be visited, and any cooperation shown in helping make up the crowd each time will be appreciated by the trade extension chairman.

MAYOR WARNS AGAINST STOCK AND CHICKENS

On another page will be found a warning signed by Mayor C. J. Cash of the city of McLean, against owners of stock and poultry allowing them to run at large in the city limits.

It is against a city ordinance to allow stock or chickens to run at large at any time, and complaints are being filed by a number of citizens of depredations made by loose stock and chickens this spring.

Mayor Cash says that stock and poultry must be kept confined on the owner's property.

"CORN ACRES" MUST BE PLAINLY MARKED

By Ralph R. Thomas, Co. Agt.

The sign-up in the corn-hog reduction campaign being completed in Gray county, the inspection of the contracted acres will begin soon. It was decided at a meeting of the board of directors of the Gray County Corn-hog Control Association last week, that 1x4 stakes standing at least two feet above the ground be placed at each corner of the contracted corn acres. On these stakes must be plainly written the words "Corn Acres." This must be done before the inspection is made by the committee, otherwise there will be a delay in the certification of contracts.

Out of the Past

THE FURIOUS DRIVER

Casey Jones could not have been better known by the moan of his engine than Jehu was by his furious driving. Had he lived in the twentieth century he would have had the fastest car obtainable and have used it as some cut-ups use theirs.

Now there has been much criticism offered of the man and there is room for criticism, but I, for one, hesitate to speak too roughly about him. I like the fellow who keeps going. There are some men of my acquaintance who are going to the devil just as fast as they can, and I cannot say I dislike everything about them. I like to work with people who are doing things and, preacher though I am, when I get in a car I like to "step on it." Not, of course, to the point of endangering lives, but I like to speed with all the safety possible, either in life or travel.

But there is such a thing as going too fast. A body may be broken when it should be in its prime because its owner has wanted to live fast at any cost. A nation may make the same mistake, as we have learned only too well in the last few years. We were driving furiously, but we hit a bump and there followed the inevitable spill.

Life is short and there is much to do. The idler hasn't much chance, and that is as it should be. Methuselah lived nine hundred and sixty-nine years, but his biography is written in two sentences. Christ lived thirty-three years, and one of His biographers said the world would not contain the books it would take to tell his whole story. As long as we are going in the right direction the Lord never says stop but rather "Go on to perfection."

WHAT DO YOU EXPECT?

What do you expect from your newspaper? Well, you expect more from your newspaper than you do from any other person or institution to which you pay the sum of $2.00 a year.

You expect your newspaper to give you all the news for 52 weeks. That's why you pay $2.00 for it, but—

You expect your newspaper to take the lead in advocating changes for the betterment of the community.

You expect your newspaper to expose graft in public affairs, to forestall it by publishing itemized accounts of all public moneys spent.

You expect your newspaper to maintain a high standard of enterprise, devoting column after column to propaganda, supporting the band, the football team, community celebrations, boy scouts, high school athletics, school programs, home talent plays, and dozens of such causes and events.

You expect your newspaper to boost for good roads and protect your community's claims to its share of road improvements.

You expect your newspaper to build up confidence in your home financial institutions and to protect home investors from making unwise investments of surplus funds, warning against fake salesmen and other financial pirates.

You expect your newspaper to combat the peddler nuisance.

You expect your newspaper to establish friendly contact with rural readers so as to induce them to make your town their town.

You expect your newspaper to give notice of all public meetings, public observances, conventions, etc.

You expect your newspaper to urge support of poor relief benefits, library drives, Red Cross drives, Christmas seal drives, Legion and Auxiliary drives, poppy sales, forget-me-not sales, have-a-heart drives, etc.

You expect your newspaper to publish church notices, club news, farm bureau information, demonstration unit news, weather news, and cover all doings of the many semi-public organizations.

You expect your newspaper to support every meritorious organization effort for the city's good.

And you expect all of this for $2.00 a year.

No, it can't be done for that. The money you, as a subscriber, pay for this paper covers less than one-fourth the cost of publishing the paper. The other three-fourths must be paid by the advertisers.

Since the advertisers pay a large share of the expenses of publishing your newspaper, don't you think you owe them the duty to patronize them whenever they offer you equal or better values than non-advertisers?

And you, Mr. Advertiser, don't you think that in view of the many services which the newspaper performs, for which the newspaper receives no compensation, but which means more business and more profits to you, the newspaper deserves your advertising and printing business? Make your community newspaper your advertising and printing medium and you help build up the community. Send your advertising dollar away from home and you do just what you wouldn't want others to do to whom you look for your business. It is just as important that the advertising dollar remains in the community as it for the grocery dollar and the clothing dollar and the rest of the commodity dollars that make your town prosperous, to remain at home.

—Advance Press, Springfield, Minn.

Friend—"What's the matter with you?"

Goldie Diggs—"I'm terribly worried. I wrote Jack in my last letter to forget that I had told him I didn't mean to reconsider my decision about not changing my mind, and he seems to have misunderstood me."

Still, if we sterilize all our feeble-minded, who are going to compose our song hits?—Pathfinder.

"Twice as much corn onterraced as on unterraced land" is the comment which Armin Bendele of Devine in Medina county makes on the value of terracing. Increases in yield on terraced land are mostly due to the contoured rows between the terraces, experts say. The terraces stop erosion, the contoured rows hold the rainfall.

Barber—"This is an excellent tonic, sir—grows hair miraculously fast."

Customer—"All right—grow me a head of brown curly hair, cut it close back and sides, singe and shampoo it, part it in the middle and hurry—I've only twenty minutes."

1st Man—"Can you lend me a dollar; I don't get paid till tomorrow."

2nd Man—"Sorry; I haven't a cent. I was paid yesterday."

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Dickenson and little daughter visited in Shamrock and Texola, Okla., Sunday.

CROWD MINDEDNESS

The Rev. Joe Hankins, militant Baptist preacher of the First Church in Childress, stated in his sermon Sunday night that the greatest detriment to the cause of Christ in the world today is "Crowd Mindedness."

Just the ordinary church member or the citizen with no church affiliation will "follow the crowd," right or wrong, and the crowd is too often wrong.

If the crowd is going a certain way or doing a certain thing, that is just what the "Crowd Minded" man will do. Just look around if you will, and count the men that you "can put your finger on" in the case of a definite stand in community affairs.

The Rev. Hankins is right when he says the large majority of people wait until they see the crowd going and then follow the line of least resistance, regardless of the right or wrong in the matter.

We believe the statements made by the Rev. Hankins about religion will work in the community life outside religious circles. If we had enough men who do individual thinking and upon whom absolute dependence could be placed, the community could be revolutionized. How many men do we have in Estelline who would stand alone for a conviction if that meant the loss of a dollar? There are some who would, but the large majority would find the "mind of the crowd" and drift that way.

We can think of men now that stand for something. We know, even before they express themselves how they will stand on a community project. They might be wrong in their belief at times, but it takes more than ordinary manhood to stand against the "mind of the crowd."

Are you "crowd minded?" Or do you let your own thinking govern your stand on public issues?

A man should have the ability to adjust his way of thinking to cooperate with his fellow men on community problems, even there may be a difference of opinion, but we believe a man should never lose his individuality.

Have something to say about the conduct of the crowd you line up with.—Estelline News.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mints of Berger spent the week end with the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Thomas.

PITY THE POOR PEDESTRIAN

Pity the poor pedestrian in the great American traffic tangle. Dodging, slipping, coat-tails flying, he continues annually to account for nearly half of all our automobile accident fatalities.

Pity him not only because speeding, careless, brakeless, light-beating motorists cut him down without mercy, invade his street safety zones, and laughter him as he steps from street curbs and busses—but pity him also because his own stupidity remains his unrestrained enemy. He still crosses streets against traffic signals, walks along the wrong side of rural highways with his back to traffic, plays in the street, and is the most flagrant jaywalker in the world. In this last capacity, he crosses between intersections, invites highway murder by coming out from behind parked cars, and makes himself a pot-shot target by crossing diagonally at intersections.

Pity him because last year 13,440 out of a total of 29,900 persons killed in traffic accidents, according to the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, were members of his clan. One in three, or 33%, were jaywalkers. The foot traveler is apparently the product of a horse and buggy age who cannot master the rules of a motorized era. His species, as such may soon be extinct, for his children, happily, are worlds safer. They have learned that playing tag with high-powered cars is a futile game. They cross at designated cross walks, wait for the signal light, and walk on the left-hand side of the road, facing traffic.

Pity the poor pedestrian, but drive reckless, killer-type motorists from the road!

Reporter (to statesman)—"I think it would be interesting for the people to know something about the mistakes you have made during your political career. I suppose you have made mistakes?"

Statesman—"Well, I have made some mistakes—but it would be the greatest mistake of all if I should admit it."

Layton—"Poor Dick; he lost all his money in a wildcat mining venture."

Phoebe—"Mercy! I didn't know you had to mine for wildcats!"

Mrs. Paul Mertel and little son visited in Shamrock Monday.

USE WHAT YOU HAVE

Use what you have, if you'd have more

Of life's rich and abundant store. Do not your present lack deplore—Use what you have.

The talent buried in the earth To you, or others, has no worth. Spent, it may end a seeming dearth—Use what you have.

But you have nothing? Nay, not so! No man has nothing, well you know. While life within his veins doth flow—Use what you have.

Take stock of your assets anew. Your handicaps with courage view. Resolve this day to dare and do—With what you have.

—Arthur William Beer, in American Mutual Magazine.

"Hey, you!" bellowed a policeman. "I've had my eye on you for a long time. What do you mean by following that lady around like a lost pup?"

"It's the only way I can," pleaded the meek little man "She's my wife."

Remember the old saying, "Your sins will find you out." So will your wife.—Pathfinder.

REVIEW LESSON

The lesson text consists of each of the golden texts for the quarter, as follows: Matt. 1:21, Hebrews 2:17, Matt. 4:17, 5:8, 6:33, 7:19, 9:13, 9:37, 28; 11:28; Isaiah 9:7, Matt. 7:7, Isaiah 9:6. The golden text for this week's lesson is Isaiah 9:6.

In the review of this quarter's lessons, we begin with the birth of Jesus. The Jews had waited for centuries for the deliverer of God. He was to be the Messiah. They had studied and memorized the prophecies concerning Him who was to be sent of God. But through the ecclesiasticism into which their Jewish faith had fallen, the love for ritualistic ceremonialism had so captured their fancy and so distorted their interpretation of the Scriptures concerning the coming Messiah, His mission and His relation to God, that when God finally did send His only begotten among them they refused to recognize Him.

There is one great fundamental principle concerning the birth of Christ upon which is based not only the value of His teachings and ministry, but upon which is based the entire truth and eternity of the Christian religion. That principle is the divinity of the Child Jesus. Had the Jews been able to glean this one thing from the Holy Writ concerning Jesus, their entire attitude concerning Him and His ministry would have been changed. But they lost out on the starting point and therefore could never catch up. They denied His divinity, therefore they must necessarily deny all of His ministry.

The same point concerning Christ is the crux of the entire Christian religion today. There are many churches made up of individuals who do not profess to believe in the divinity of Christ. They call themselves Christian, but without belief in the divinity of Christ they cannot be Christian. Had Christ been only man He would have had no more power than Paul or any other devout and zealous followers of Christ. Christ had to be the Son of God to possess and grant to others the power to perform the many miracles that were performed. But the greatest miracle that was performed then and is still being performed today is the apex of the proof that Christ must be the Son of God. He forgave sins. Jesus told Nicodemus that he must be "born again" in order to enter the Kingdom of God. The bringing about of that New Birth is the greatest miracle ever performed. This is the purpose unto which Jesus came and has sent us forth in His place that "even as the Father hath sent me forth, so send I you." The power of God performs this miracle. We are sent forth to proclaim that power and to draw men to it that they might be immortally healed.

After forty days Jesus was taken to the temple. Soon after the wise men came to visit Him and then Joseph and Mary were soon flying with Him into Egypt. After the death of Herod they returned and went to Nazareth in Galilee to live. The next time we see Jesus is in the Jerusalem temple at the age of twelve. The next time we see Him He is a man thirty years of age, as He appears before John demanding baptism. As Jesus came up out of the waters God gave Him His approval, and sent Him off into the wilderness to be tempted. Following His success and return, He was followed by some disciples. He remained for a short ministry in Judea until the imprisonment of John. He then moved to Galilee, gathered about Him a definite group of disciples, and began to tour the country, teaching and healing.

The average person thinks of Jesus as one of infinite compassion going about healing suffering humanity of its diseases. Jesus did this. He was a wonderful physician. But the healing of the many thousands of diseased as He went about was merely incidental to His ministry. It was an outgrowth of the real ministry He came to perform. It was the outward fruits, the only fruits that many thousands ever realized in their hearts. Yet Jesus did not come to heal the bodies of men, but rather the souls of men. It was the task of Jesus to overcome sin, suffering, sorrow, temptation, and then to pay for the sin of the world that men's souls might be saved.

It was the love of God and of Jesus that prompted them before the foundation of the world to make such a sacrifice. And while its primary purpose was to save the souls of men from eternal suffering, it naturally worked its way out to the personal alleviation of human physical suffering. The mistake made today is that oftentimes we do not go beyond the physical aspect of the ministry of Jesus. A congregation will readily weep over the wonderful healings by Jesus of physical bodies when properly presented, but it is difficult for the most gifted word artist to bring tears to hundreds of eyes over the soul healing of men by Jesus. So it is that thousands of men today are placing their trust in the acts of kindness they have performed to their fellow men in moments of their suffering. Their good Samaritan lives have been prompted by the desire of reward. They have not realized that reward comes only when the good Samaritan deed is prompted by the love of Jesus. It was the eternal love of Jesus for men's souls that prompted His compassion. It needs must be the same love prompted because of our love for the Master that brings us our reward. The gift of a cup of cold water has its reward—not to everyone, but only to those who give it in the name of Christ.

America - here they are!

To fill the record-breaking nationwide demand, Chevrolets are being produced at a record-breaking rate of units a day!

CHEVROLET factories are breaking records, trying to give America all the cars it wants. 4000 units a day are rolling off the assembly lines. February output was twice that of January. March output, according to present indications, will be three times that of January. More Chevrolets are now being produced than any other make of automobile in the world. And today, Chevrolet is happy to report that all its dealers will soon be in a position to make immediate deliveries.

When you consider how short a time the new Chevrolet has been in production—when you consider, also, that the 1934 car is not last year's model improved, but a basically new automobile, with sweeping changes in design—this production record becomes somewhat of an accomplishment. But, a still greater accomplishment, in our opinion, is the way that these cars have all been produced!

Despite continued nationwide pressure for more and more volume, every car that has left the factories has been built and tested to meet Chevrolet's highest standards of care, precision and quality. The result: When you place your order for a new Chevrolet, you'll not only get a big, rugged "Knee-Action" car—you're also assured of getting a typical Chevrolet car in economy, dependability and long life.

The fellow who coined the old saying about those who predict the weather in the Panhandle must have known what he was about, for it is certainly impossible for anyone to foretell what a day will bring forth.

City officials state that there is no need for citizens to put up with depredations from loose stock and chickens. A complaint will get quick action.

There should be no hard feelings in matters of this kind, for a little thoughtfulness on the part of stock and chicken owners will show that there is no valid excuse for allowing destruction of another's property.

There is stronger competition between towns nowadays than between individual merchants, and the towns that have co-operating merchants are the towns that are getting the business. A town divided against itself cannot prosper. It is much better to agree to disagree on disputed points than to allow dissension to creep into community affairs.

"Every man has his price" used to be heard in conversations, and even now you will hear someone claiming that the acquiring of money is the motivating influence for most of us, but this is not true in every case. There are still many people who have a conscience and strive to do nothing that will stultify that conscience, and it is to these people that we owe the civilizing influences of the community.

This is "Delinquent Tax Week" when an effort is being made over the state to collect unpaid taxes, in order to escape additional levies.

Uncollected taxes in Texas today amount to 120 million dollars, with county and city deficits mounting in proportion to the state deficit, and records show that the big, and not the small taxpayer, owes 46% of the delinquent taxes.

The city of McLean has upwards of $30,000 in delinquent taxes. The local school district has about $27,000 uncollected.

Far be it from this editor to take issue with the landscape engineer of the state highway department, or whoever is responsible for planting "bear grass" along the inner curves of highway 66, but we can't help but observe that in our opinion the plantings have been made too close to the edge of the paving to have any beautification value, or maybe even survive the drivers who will run over the plants. Then, too, the closeness to the paving will mean catching drifting snow and sand that will be a nuisance. Moving the plantings back about four feet from the paving would appear to be much better.

Miss Vivian Langham and Mr. Ervin Baker were married March 1 at Wheeler. Both are popular young people of this community. They will make their home here, where Mr. Baker will be engaged in farming.

Mrs. S. L. Montgomery honored Mrs. Ervin Baker with a shower Wednesday afternoon. Many useful gifts were presented to the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Langham entertained with a party Friday night. Friday is the end of our sixth month of school. Most of the pupils have recovered from the measles and the attendance has greatly improved. We do not like it at all because some of our pupils are moving.

Arthur B. Susan and G. F. Baker are moving to town. They have only been in school a short time, but we regret losing them.

Virginia Sachse has been very ill this week, but is reported to be all improved.

Naomi Weeks and Velma Honey of Heald were at the party at the Langham home Friday night. Buford Honey was also present.

There were only seventeen present at Sunday school Sunday. We wonder what happened to Rev. Sidney Johnston and the rest of our crowd. We hope that they survived the Panhandle shower of Saturday and that they will try very hard to be with us next Sunday. Everyone ought to be in Sunday school and church somewhere on Sundays. Rev. Cecil G. Goff of McLean will be with us next Sunday afternoon. Come to Sunday school and stay for church!

NO FRIEND HAS TO AGREE

More and more man is realizing that deep friendship does not depend upon agreement in thought, habit and attitude. This is one of the prized evidences of a progress in the civilization of mankind, and is one that we should appreciate and nourish.

These days all of us have friends with whom we seriously disagree about hundreds of matters, and yet the most foolish man alive is the man who cannot take the enjoyments of friendship and pass lightly those points of disagreement.

One who makes complete agreement the requisite of friendship is a relic of an age which has passed on. His lingering here can bring no happiness to himself or his fellows.—Clarendon News.

IS ADVERTISING VALUABLE?

People buy advertised merchandise—this is accepted by all careful students of trade in the United States. It explains the millions of dollars spent every year for newspaper advertising.

People trade at advertising stores—this also is accepted by successful merchants in most of our large cities and many smaller towns. It explains why the leading merchants of every community are the advertising merchants.

Here in Groom the truth applies. The merchant who advertises regularly wins new friends. His business doesn't die when he dies or his old customers shuffle off this mortal coil.

No matter how small a trading center a place may be, it is served by newspapers. Every time their advertisements go to the readers they make new friends and emphasize the worth of repetition. Let a merchant repeat his name enough, through advertising, and the public will repeat it and buy from him.—Groom News.

WHERE IT PAYS

Does advertising pay? No, says the man who sticks his ad in some time table or directory and expects people to walk around, look it up, and by seeing his name break their necks to get to his store. The man who wants to get results out of advertising places his message in the home paper that goes to the homes of his prospective customers, and the readers appreciate the paper enough to pay to get it. A real concrete example as to whether newspaper advertising pays or not was shown in the strike of printers in New York City when the newspapers came out without any advertisements. During that time business in the department stores fell off 50%. A wedding announcement stuck up on a billboard might be read by a few, but the same announcement in the home paper would be read by every subscriber. Don't put your light under a bushel, says the Scriptures. Put your advertising in newspapers that are printed for people to read.—Uvalde Leader-News.

Human Nature

By O. L. D. Timer

Human nature is the most interesting subject in all creation, as well as the most important. Of variety and difference there is no end, from the well rounded, symmetrical Christian character to the lowest criminal waiting for the electric chair. The crucifixion of Christ between two thieves is a fair representation of the two extremes, and there was even a great difference in the attitude of the two thieves. Another good example in this connection was the different attitudes of the sympathizers and the malicious haters, the haters cried, "Give us Barabbas," and the sympathizers helped Christ carry His cross and brought spices and aromatic herbs to anoint His body. The first great difference in human nature was the difference between Cain and Abel, and that difference resulted in the first murder on record. It is strange indeed that boys of the same mother and father should be so different. I once had two boyhood friends in the same family. One was a well behaved boy and led the choir choir, and the other was a rough and rowdy and a great singer of outlandish songs. One was docile and obedient to his father and the other was rebellious and defiant. When this last one was nearly grown he persisted in wearing knee pants. His father bought him a pair of long pants but when he undertook to put them on him one Sunday morning before Sunday school they had a fight and the old boy bit his father on the leg.

Lots of families of any size today have the same difference in the nature of the children; in fact, we have it out our way, and lots of times it is "why mothers grow gray." Very seldom you find people who have the same viewpoint on all important questions. The Baptists and Presbyterians believe that one put you will stay put, but the Methodists say that any person can fall from grace; and there is one strong point in their favor and that is that they generally live up to their theory.

I heard one man say, "I will buy all my stuff from the new store." Another said, "They can make a bat roost of the store as far as I am concerned." A woman bought $1.85 worth of snuff and chewing tobacco and said, "We don't waste anything for foolishness;" and a man said, "I never wasted a dollar for tobacco in all my life." One man will come into the presence of ladies, or into the sacred threshold of your home and with blatant complacency light a strong-smelling pipe or spit amber on the floor, and another will spit in his handkerchief and put it in his pocket rather than spit on the floor. One man will put out a half-page advertisement of a woman deftly holding a lighted cigarette between her tapering phylanges and another will refuse to publish it in his paper because he has conscientious scruples. I saw a girl come down the street with no stockings and not much else on, and there followed her one with boots almost to her knees and warmly clad. One man will drown and float down stream, a woman will drown and go up stream. One man will eat and take no exercise and die of heart disease, and one will abstain from eating detrimental food, take regular exercise and grow old gracefully.

If a person wishes to study human nature he should read old Grecian mythology and Lofton's character sketch written by a Baptist minister from Tennessee. But the most complete treatise on human nature that was ever compiled by the hand of man, inspired or uninspired, is the Holy Bible.

Studying human nature to me is like a never ending and exceedingly interesting continued story that goes on and on through eternity.

"We'd better send an inspector around to check up on John H. Quiggle's meter," remarked the cashier of the electric company.

"Why, you know that we don't pay any attention to complaints about overcharge," answered the head man. "But this is different" explained the cashier. "Mr. Quiggle pays his bill and compliments the company on giving so much service for so little money."

"In that case," said the head man, "we'd better look into it. The meter must need tuning up."

El Paso—Two lanterns and a wet mesh enabled D. H. Graham of Yuleta, El Paso county, to double the egg production of his flock of 20 white leghorns during January. He asked the county agent to cull his flock, but instead the agent recommended wet meshes and longer working days for the hens. Two lanterns were placed in the house every morning at 4 o'clock, and wet meshes fed in addition to dry mash in hoppers. Production picked up in one week and had increased to 40 to 50 eggs daily in three weeks.

RUNNING A NEWSPAPER

The man who runs a newspaper must be an all around mechanic as well as an all round editor. Friday of last week when the run was being made, a grumbling and growling and very annoying sound set up such a racket that the press was stopped in order to locate the trouble. Then the press started again and the noise did not cease, but with every revolution came a protest. A number of times a search was made for the trouble spot, but was risking a broken press to go on. Finally the cause of trouble was located and the loose screw made tight, and all went along as usual. Saturday, when there was no such hurry as on press day, the press was gone over and the work done that may save trouble in the future. But suppose the man in the case had no practical knowledge of machinery fixing. A country print shop is a first class place to get an education along all lines, and the dear reader who thinks the editor has nothing to do but look wise, if not pretty, should keep away from the mechanical end of the shop when things are going wrong. And furthermore, no person who is sane and sober should try running a print shop unless he knows presses and linotypes and such like things like a wise doctor knows the human body, or, like the ignorant doctor, he may wreck the remains.—Higgins News.

HOME ECONOMICS

The members of the second year class of home economics are going to have their style show Tuesday, March 27. Everyone has a cordial invitation to attend. All types of costumes will be shown, including many tailored frocks.

The first year class has served many appetizing breakfasts the last few weeks, and they have been using as many McLean products in their menus as possible.

AGRICULTURE

The McLean livestock students competed in the Erick (Okla.) judging contests last Saturday. While not showing so well in other departments they did exceptionally well in sheep. The McLean boys scored 434 points out of a possible 450 in the sheep judging contest, placing all classes correctly and making almost perfect on their reasons. In the entire contest McLean placed tenth out of 21 teams and 165 boys competing. This is considered exceptionally well when it is remembered that in Oklahoma the boys are allowed to serve on the team four years, while in Texas they are allowed only one year. McLean placed higher than any of the Texas teams competing, which were Tulsa, Claremore and Pampa.

The McLean teams will compete in the Pampa dairy, poultry and livestock show next Saturday, and they hope to again return with high honors. McLean has not been defeated in the poultry judging contests at Pampa for the last four years, and therefore they cannot afford to take the competition too lightly next Saturday.

DECLAMATION ELIMINATION

The elimination contest for the selection of the declaimers who will represent the McLean high school in the county interscholastic league contest was held at the high school auditorium Monday evening. Principal McHaney was chairman for the ward school contest and Miss Kennedy for the high school contest. Judges were teachers from Shamrock high school. Entries in the high school junior girls' contest were: Mary Alice Patterson, Marie Landers, Eula Faye Foster, Marietta Young, Valeria Mar Stout; senior girls: Catherine Patterson, Mary Emma Back, Avalee Back, Bathus Woodward; junior boys: Averill Christian, James Lee Rice; senior boys: Slim Rhodes, Louis Toliver.

According to the rules, if there are no more than four high schools entering contestants in the county meet, any school may enter two contestants in any one division; therefore two contestants were chosen in each of the contests. There were no judgments made in the senior and junior boys' division. Winners in the girls' contests were: junior, Marietta Young and Marie Landers; senior, Mary Emma Back and Catherine Patterson.

WINNERS BROADCAST

A new experience was enjoyed by those who won in their divisions in the contests Monday evening when they broadcasted their declamations over station TEX, at 3:15 Tuesday afternoon. It was a privilege that was greatly enjoyed.

LADIES ATTEND P. T. A. MEETING

In spite of inclement weather conditions, Mesdames J. E. Lynch and Mary Sligar, Misses Frances Noel, Isabel Baley and Elizabeth Kennedy attended the county council of the P. T. A. which met at Lefors last Saturday. A delicious luncheon was served by the Lefors P. T. A. and the program was held in the high school auditorium. The program, which was most interesting, was presented by the Pampa high school physical education department. Features were a talk by Mr. Weeks, head of this department, and stunts by his tumbler.

During the business session Miss Kennedy was elected president of the county council for the coming year, and Mrs. Sligar was elected secretary. The first meeting next fall will be held in McLean.

DR. COOK VISITS HIGH SCHOOL

Dr. Harris M. Cook, dean of men and professor in the department of education of W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon, brought one of his pupils, Mr.

Sweat, to visit the McLean high school Thursday of last week. Dr. Cook has selected this school plant as one of the best in the Panhandle, and Mr. Sweat will make an intensive study of it. He will return at a later date for the pursuit of his study. Below is quoted verbatim a letter from Dr. Cook to Supt. Cryer: Dear Mr. Cryer: I thoroughly enjoyed my brief visit in your school and the personal contact with you. It seems to me that you folks are doing a good piece of work and rendering your community a real service. We are looking forward to seeing you at the educational conference in March 23 and 24. You have a number of friends who are always glad to see you. Cordially yours, HARRIS M. COOK.

SENIOR PLAY SUCCESSFUL

The senior play, "The Clay's the Thing," was presented before a large and appreciative audience on Friday evening March 16, in the high school auditorium. The play was efficiently directed by Miss Elizabeth Kennedy and was used as a laboratory project in her dramatic class. The cast of players were strictly amateurs, but each player interpreted his character in an efficient manner and acted his part in a way that was pleasing to the audience. There was no stellar role, but the most difficult role was played in a "high professional" manner by Bud Boyle, who impersonated a girl.

Miss Luella Jones played popular piano music between acts. The play was successful financially. There were heavy expenses because the books were expensive and wip-lad to be rented. Total proceeds were $63.81. Expenses were $16.78, leaving a clear profit of $47.03, which will finance the graduation expense.

Both the seniors and Miss Kennedy were indeed happy over the outcome of the play and grateful to all those who aided in its success.

P. T. A. POSTPONED

Due to an unforeseen circumstance which could not be avoided, the P. T. A. will meet on Thursday evening, March 29, instead of March 22, regular meeting night.

The program will consist of a one-act play and choral singing in the hours that will compete in the county meet.

SENIORS SECURE HILL FOR GRADUATION ADDRESS

Dr. J. A. Hill, president of W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon, has kindly accepted the invitation of the senior class to speak on graduation night. He class feels that it is indeed fortunate in securing this famous and well qualified speaker.

Monday evening, March 12. We began our games with "snap" and "flying Dutchman." Then we had an indoor egg hunt. Vada Appling and Eugene Stewart were the captains. Vada was the hen and Eugene the rooster. The hens won.

Following the egg hunt we were entertained by the game "going on their honeymoon." "Musical chair" was next, for which Willie Louelle Cobb played the piano. L. E. Flowers got the prize, a clay rabbit playing a horn, for getting the last chair. Mrs. Back had a puzzle for us. It was jumbled letters which, when rearranged, spelled the names of the pupils in the English Club. Again L. E. Flowers got the prize a rooster, for getting through first.

Most delicious doughnuts and whipped cream, topped with cherries, and lemonade were served to the following: L. E. Flowers, Wanda Estes, Vada Appling, Julia McCarty, Mabel Back, Jesse Dean Cobb, Eugene Stewart, Olive Louise Atwood, Irene Penland, Ermadel Floyd, Margaret Kennedy, Lorraine Hodges, Billie Jean Biggers, Leta Mae Phillips, R. GOOD IDEA

The club bore had just returned from a trip to India, and upon describing the rope trick "You can believe what you see," he asserted, "but I tell you some of those fakirs can throw a rope up in the air, then climb up it themselves, and completely vanish." After a short silence one of them said, "Can you, by any chance, that trick yourself?"

SERMONETTE

By Rev. Stephen M. Tuhy
Lutheran Pastor, Pakan Community

Text: "For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister and mother."—Matt. 12:50.

One day Jesus was interrupted in His work by visitors. He was told that His mother and brothers were waiting to speak with Him. Even though He was interrupted, He took the opportunity to point out to His hearers that all people whether men, women or children, are desirable as His spiritual brothers and sisters. He wants all, young and old, to be His spiritual relatives. He does not mention them as servants or slaves, but as brothers and sisters; such to whom He could speak, not as a stranger but as a loving brother.

Who, then, is a brother, sister or mother to the Lord Jesus? Jesus gives the answer very clearly in our text: "For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister and mother." Jesus wants everyone to do the will of His heavenly Father. DOING is the best preparation for discipleship. "If any man will do His will, he shall know of the doctrine (teaching), whether it be of God."—John 7:17a.

Doing the will of the Father is the best proof of true discipleship. "Not everyone that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven."—Matt. 7:21. Christ wants active brothers and sisters in His kingdom. He wants His disciples to make the best of their God-given gifts in spreading His spiritual kingdom.

It is not enough to be merely a Christian in name only. Christ looks at the heart of a person. He wants active believers. A person who does not the will of the heavenly Father Who sent His Son Jesus into the world to redeem mankind, is not a true disciple of Christ, even though he may call himself one. A church-membership certificate church-dues receipts, baptism and confirmation certificates are only outward signs or proofs of a person's affiliation with a Christian Church. But if a person has nothing else to show but certificates and, in reality, is an unbeliever or a lukewarm Christian, he is not connected with Christ inwardly; he is not connected with Christ through true faith. Such church membership is outward hypocrisy. Christ wants believers who really believe and prove their faith by doing the will of their Master, Jesus, Who is together with the heavenly Father, for He and the Father are ONE.

Lord, preserve us in true faith and make us active doers of Thy Holy and gracious will, so that we may abound in deeds of love so that others through our mission work may also become true disciples, brothers and sisters in Your Kingdom of grace and glory. Amen.

THINGS ONE REMEMBERS

By R. M. Hofer

I was feeling particularly depressed after reading the morning paper at breakfast—murders, scandals, the air mail imbroglio, wars threatened, the dollar of uncertain value, stock market shaky and the worried citizen facing the greatest taxes and the greatest Federal debt in history—when in came four young people, past voting age.

"Is Bim married this morning?" asked all four.
"Who in the world is Bim?" said I.
"Benjamin Gump," said they.
And, lo and behold, the thing they were most interested in was whether Benjamin Gump and his lovely little sweetheart of the comic strip were safely wedded. And there I was worrying about the condition of the country.

I decided that as long as the young people and voters had such a sense of humor, the man-made troubles of our nation would probably be solved in due course and in spite of the politicians, speculators and war promoters.

And in line with the foregoing, I ran across the new book by Arthur J. Burks, entitled, "Where Are My People?"

Burks was raised in the West and lives in the East. He has written a simple straightforward narrative which is as unmistakably American as doughnuts and apple pie. Through the history of one family—the author's own—we see the virgin land transformed into profitable farms and thriving towns in the "Big Bend" country.

The book is about real people such as have been responsible for this nation's growth from the beginning. They have carried on through thick and thin, through hard times and good times and in spite of every brand of political experiment.

Would-be statesmen and hard-working people should read the book to understand the real forces that develop the country and carry on to greater achievements.

It will take the conceit out of politicians to realize the importance of the Gumps.

CONCERNING COMPENSATION

Ambrose Bierce, writing in the "Golden Book Magazine," tells this story:

"An ant laden with a grain of corn, which he had acquired with infinite toil, was breasting a current of his fellows, each of whom, as their etiquette, insisted upon stopping him, feeling him all over, and shaking hands. It occurred to him that an excess of ceremony is an abuse of courtesy. So he laid down his burden, sat upon it, folded all his legs tight to his body and smiled a smile of grimness. 'Hello! What's the matter with you?' exclaimed the first insect whose overtures were declined. 'Sick of the hollow conventionalities of a rotten civilization!' was the rasping reply. 'Relapsed into honest simplicity of primitive observance, go to grass!' 'Ah, then we must trouble you for that corn. In a condition of primitive simplicity there are no property rights, you know. These are hollow conventionalities.' A light dawned upon the intellect of that pismire. He shook the reefs out of his legs, he scratched the reverse of his ear, he grappled that cereal and trotted away like a giant refreshed, trotted away like a giant refreshed. It was observed that he submitted with a wealth of patience to manipulations by his friends and neighbors, and went some distance out of his way to shake hands with strangers on competing lines of traffic."

Sister Sue—"Did you get any bad marks at school today?"
Brother Johnny—"Yes, but they are where they don't show."

Mrs. Pat Vardey of Newlin visited her sister, Mrs. M. C. Davis, this week.

Why Not?

The young man was calling on the Jones family and he was greatly excited. He stammered: "Mr. Jones—can I—er—would you be willing—could I ask—?"
Mr. Jones replied with great satisfaction: "Yes, my boy, you may have her."

"Have who?" asked the young man.
"Why, my daughter of course; I thought that was what you wanted to ask."

"No, sir," the young man went on: "it was something else. I wanted to ask you to endorse my note for $100."

"Oh, that's different," said the father. "No, I don't know you well enough."

"Did Angela reject Tony when he proposed?"
"No; she put him down in class 5, to be drawn on only as a last resort."

"I'm afraid that my singing doesn't appeal to you," said Miss Crooner, after entertaining young Dumley for an hour or two.
"Oh, yes, it does," replied Dumley: "I'm very easily pleased."

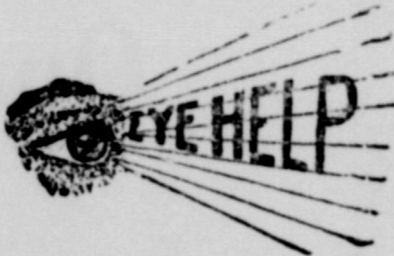

Robert Killingsworth and family of Shamrock visited in the J. C. Payne home Monday.

Jess—"Miss Croonmore is going abroad to finish her musical education."

Tess—"Where did she get the money?"
Jess—"The neighbors all chipped in."

"How did you make your neighbor keep his hens in his own yard?"
"One night I hid a half dozen eggs under a bush in my garden, and next day I let him see me gather them. I wasn't bothered after that."

Simpkins—"I told you to beware of that fellow and that you could only believe half he says."

Jubb—"Oh, I knew that already, but the mistake I made was in believing the wrong half."

Things that I felt absolutely sure of a few years ago, I do not believe now; and this thought makes me see more clearly how foolish it would be to expect all men to agree with me.—The Silent Partner.

This Easter Dress

Costs so Little to Sew

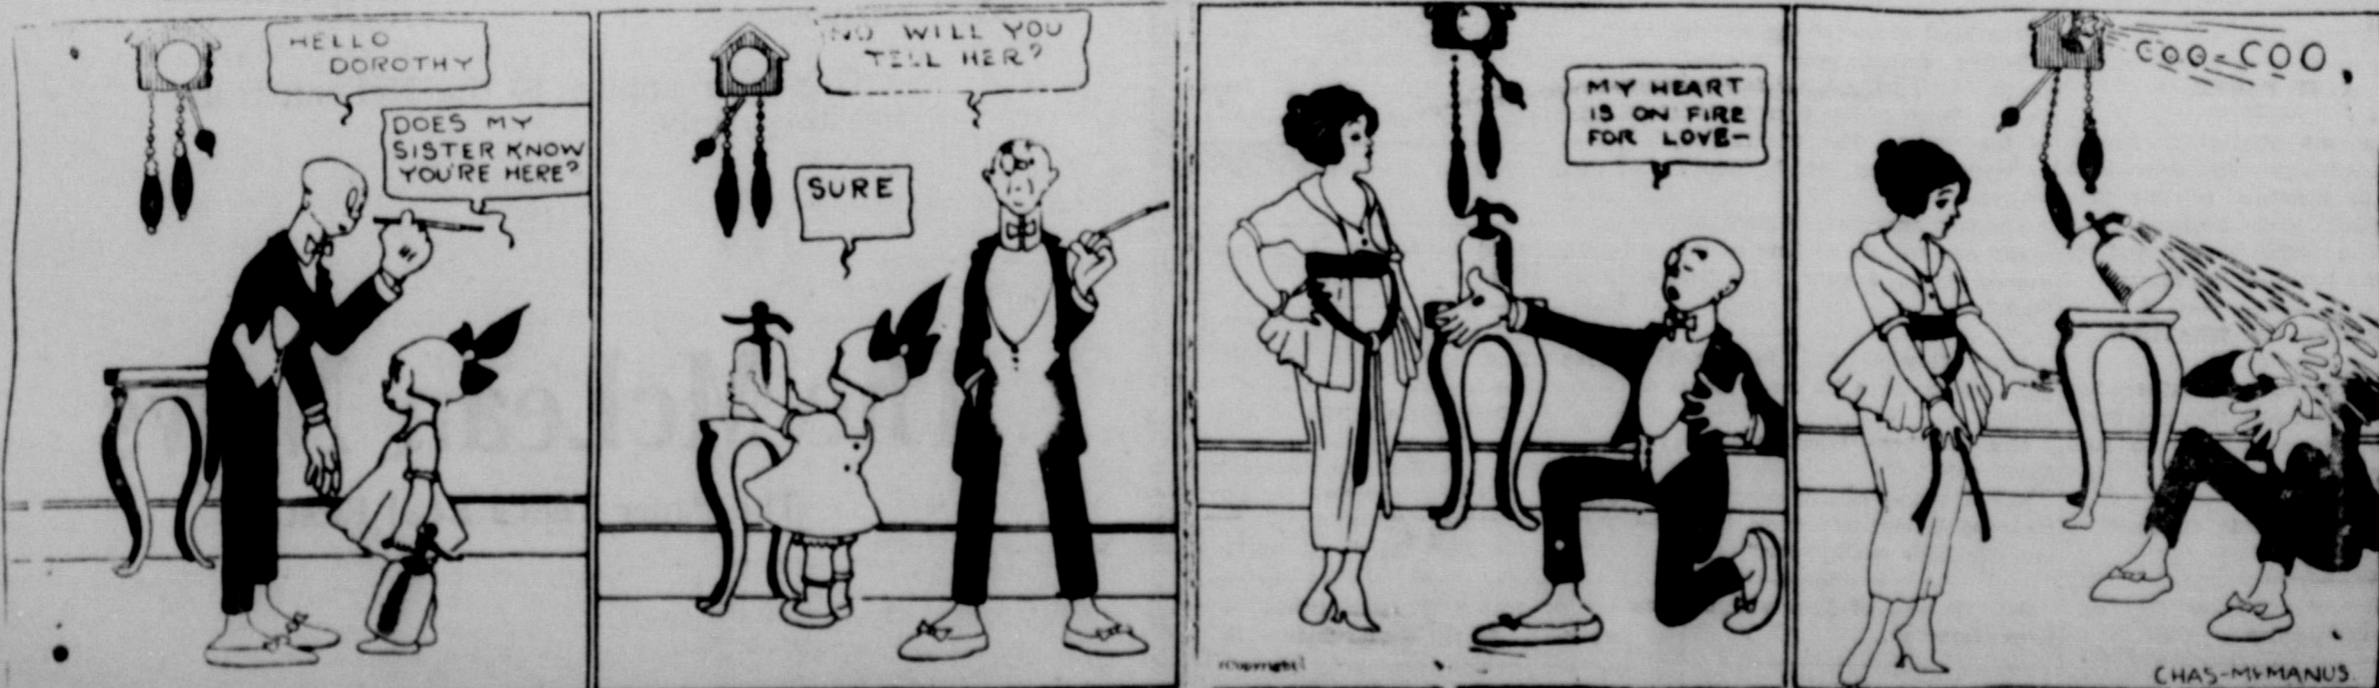

You can wear smart clothes—without upsetting the budget! It's easy and inexpensive to provide yourself with a complete new wardrobe when you have an Electric Sewing Machine at your disposal. Doing your own sewing is no trick at all then—and practically no work. The machine itself does everything but guide the material under the needle. Yet it takes no more than a penny's worth of electricity to make an entire dress.

See the newest machines at once—try one. They are extremely simple to operate. You'll be surprised how much time and labor they'll save you in a year—and how much finer the things you make will be!

MOUSE, CAT AND DOG DESTROY HOUSE

This very curious incident was recently reported from Hazel Bar, Michigan:

"A mouse, a cat and a dog teamed up to destroy the house of Charles Guinsch. The mouse chewed on matches, setting the box afire. The cat chased the mouse, then the dog chased the cat, and a can of kerosene was overturned. Mouse, cat and dog were burned, along with the house."

Quite contrary to this report, fire prevention authorities state that rats or mice do not chew on matches. Because this has been reported as the cause of so many fires, a test was made in which these rodents were confined in a glass case without food for several days. A number of ordinary matches left in the enclosure were untouched.

There is a fire hazard in connection with matches and rodents, however, which is caused by the possibility of a match being set off in the wall of a house as the rodent carries it to his nest. Accordingly, these potential fire brands should be kept in tightly closed metal containers, well out of the reach of children, who are more likely to cause fires with matches, than mice or rats. For safety's sake keep kerosene in closed containers where it cannot be knocked over.

It is interesting to note that the National Board of Fire Underwriters reported a loss of almost $30,000,000 during 1932 from the careless use of matches and smoking materials. Petroleum and its products caused a loss of $11,500,000 during the same year.

Fire losses in general have been reduced extensively in the past two years of depression. Let's keep them down as better times return.

A COMMUNITY AFFAIR

A mistaken idea with some people is that the newspaper is an individual proposition. If they don't like the editor, they feel they must knock the paper and stand in the way of its success whenever possible. They do not realize that the local paper is just as much a part of a community as the schools, churches, or anything else. The newspaper is different from any other business. It is a community affair. It is service to the people and not for any individual.

You may not like the editor and the editor may not love you any too well—but the paper he is responsible for does just as much for you as the service rendered others. There's nothing personal with it; it is here for a purpose and that purpose is to do what good it can in every way it can, and the greater the support of those it undertakes to serve the better service it can render. It takes the people to make a good newspaper, and without the help of the people no one can run a successful paper. It requires money to operate any kind of business—even the churches and the papers are no exception, and for this reason they must have the financial support of the business interests as well as the good will.

Few newspaper publishers make more than a comfortable living and scarcely one is reported wealthy from money made in the newspaper business. They deserve to be trusted and to be understood by the people—it is the editor and not the plant that makes a newspaper useful in a community though a liberal patronage is necessary if the paper is to be a credit to the town.—Sudan News.

The head of one of the government scientific bureaus was flattered recently to receive a letter from a man in the West asking him for a copy of his report. The scientist replied promptly, asking which report he wished.

31 WHEELER FARMS TERRACED

Wheeler—Thirty-one farms were surveyed for terracing or contouring in Wheeler county in February, all work being done by local committee-men, not a farm being run out by the county agent. As the committee-men needed instruction they came to the cotton office to get straightened out by County Agent Jake Tarter.

The plan in Wheeler county is, and has been for three years, that some local committeemen in each community help the county agent run lines in his territory. Then, when a farmer is ready to terrace, committeemen can run lines when the county agent cannot get to all the terracing demonstrations. The farmers in turn give the committeeman a day or two days in exchange for the work of running the lines.
