We know that He that it is not His will that any should That being true, then He would that all be ready. Christ died professed faith and the oil grace and the Holy Spirit. See Zech. 4:2 11, 12 -two olive trees standing one on ing into its bowls the oil out of never failing light; "so the Holy Spirit in the believer's heart gives him grace sufficient for him in every hour of need."-Dr. Wm. M. Taylor. Dr. Moore says the vessels mentioned represent the oil of sanctifying grace for the development and usefulness of the Christian life. When the bridegroom finally came there were five virgins who were but only five had oil in them. The other five had neglected to provide oil for them. Their lamps were like the professed faith of a lot of people They were empty and valueless. They could not accompany the bridegroom without oil in their lamps. Jesus describes such ones in another place when He said many should cry in that last hour. Lord, Lord, but uselessly for their lamps were emp's and valueless Christ demands a profession not only of mouth but one of true repentance and personal and sacrificial faith. The theology, the beliefs, the igion are not the ear marks God looks for, but rather the heart attitude of the individual. There are many theologically minded and ceremonially dependent persons to whom God will repeat His question of the Testament to the Jews, "Why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I command you? McLean citizens are somewhat bewildered at the turn things have taken the past few days There is no new money in sight yet the town is filling up with firms who expect to make money here. If the oil field breaks right, there will doubtless be enough for all of us; however there is one thing that might be mentioned, those who have struggled through the hard times, keeping their rent paid, should not have their rent raised until the times really justify it. regardless of outside offers. Christianity forbids all forms of mpurity. In the Old Testament era certain forms of impurity and crimes against nature were punishable by nmediate death. But today, in the United States, which in many respects is godless and corrupt, these forms of impurity and filthiness are featured in novels and movies in such a way that even Christians at times are blinded and tempted to consider them "not so bad after all.

The modern movies are one of he vilest diseases in our country today. WE ARE PROUD OF OUR GRADUATES AND TENDER OUR BEST WISHES FOR MANY YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY, HAPPINESS, AND PROSPERITY.

Success must of necessity follow when you're prepared. Nations have learned it. So must the individual. For, life cannot present insurmountable difficulties as long as one has made preparation to meet them. Knowledge is the best defense against adversity. May the coming years see your continued progress.
