It is reported that a Shamrock fan will be at this game than at the game scheduled for the gridiron the same night.

Andy Nicholas, Amarillo College, and Dr. R. P. Parcels will be in the game.

Last week the Tigers will meet the Panhandle aggregation at Panhandle, after that the conference games begin.

MRS. PATTERSON

"Don't run my advertisement any more. I received two applications by 5 p. m. after the paper was out at noon last Thursday," said Mrs. M. H. Patterson, Monday morning, "and more applications since. My apartment is rented."

Mrs. Patterson had ordered her advertisement run two weeks, and she was perfectly willing to pay the 50c for the two insertions. "I was glad to refund her money for the second insertion that was not needed."

Here is the little advertisement that did the work: "3 room apartment, furnished or unfurnished, modern conveniences, private bath, close west on 66."

If you have something the public wants, there is no better way than to use The News classified columns.

METHODIST LADIES PLEASE WITH PLAY

The play, "A Southern Cinderella," given by the Women's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church pleased a large audience at the high school auditorium last Friday evening, several of those present remarking that it was one of the best local talent plays ever seen here.

Mrs. W. W. Boyd, an aristocratic old lady, was a perfect characterization. Mrs. C. A. Cryer played an old Southern dandy in a way to please everyone. Miss Lorene Turman was especially good as a little coquette. Mrs. S. A. Cousins was the "Southern Cinderella," and her part was very pleasing. Mrs. Bob Black and Mrs. Roger Powers were sisters whose characterizations were good. Miss Sarah Ellen Foster played the settlement worker so well that several in the audience had to refer to their programs to recognize her.

Between act specialties consisted of off-stage singing of dandy songs and a stage tableau.

Mrs. Thurman Adkins directed the play and Mrs. Claude Brooks made the announcements.

NEXT THURSDAY McLEAN DAY AT FAIR

Next Thursday will be officially known as McLean day at the Amarillo Tri-state fair, and a radio program has been arranged by the local chamber of commerce for the day. It is expected that the high school band will be the official band for the day and the usual courtesies will be extended to the band members.

It is hoped that as many McLean citizens as possible plan to attend the fair on McLean day.

CEMETERY ENGINEER HERE

Albert Bruce of Amarillo, engineer for Hillcrest cemetery, was here last week working on records for the cemetery, visiting each grave to verify all records.

Mr. Bruce expects to have a complete set of records for every location at the cemetery, with all deeds verified at the county clerk's office.

It is the intention to make Hillcrest a permanent care cemetery, all money from the sale of lots to be strictly accounted for, and with several lots in the better locations raised to conform to present conditions. However, there are hundreds of spaces that can be bought as low as $8, with some even less, in order to care for everyone.

Those who have visited the cemetery since a caretaker has been employed for the summer, are loud in their praise for the changed condition.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Coffey were in Pampa Monday.

Davidson Goes to Plainview Municipal Band

Robt. C. Davidson, for the past eight years director of the municipal and high school band here, has accepted a similar position at Plainview, where he will direct a 60 piece band.

The McLean band has won many prizes in their class under Prof. Davidson's direction, winning three first places in succession at Amarillo contests. Individual players have taken places in college bands after leaving here, with credit to their instructor.

Prof. Davidson has been teaching in the business department of the high school part time, in addition to his band work. He has taken part in every civic enterprise that needed his services, and has had much to do with the progress of music in McLean.

It is not known at this time who his successor will be, but it is understood that the city council is getting in touch with prospective directors.

HEMBREE HAS PRETTY LAWN

While the yard contest is fresh in the minds of the people, it might not be a bad idea to call attention to the pretty lawn at the J. B. Hembree home. Some condemn bermuda for lawn grass, but Banker Hembree has one of the best looking and best tended lawns in town.

Boyd Meador was in Pampa the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Rice have moved to McLean from Lefors.

MRS. BOGAN HOSTESS TO CLUB "ROUND-UP"

The Pioneer Study Club began its year's work with an unusually interesting program, when members of that organization met for the annual "round-up" on the lawn of the W. E. Bogan home Thursday evening at twilight.

Mrs. W. L. Campbell was leader for the evening's program, which was purely western in theme. Roll call was answered by each member giving her aim for the coming year.

Mrs. Thurman Adkins, a guest, read "Out Where the West Begins." Mrs. Cecil G. Goff sang "Little Gray Home in the West," and Mrs. C. O. Greene sang "Home on the Range." Both vocal numbers were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. S. D. Shelburne.

The "round-up" was supervised by Mrs. Jim Fack, who was assisted by Mrs. Greene, Mrs. Shelburne and three cowboys, Morse Ivey, Jack Bogan and Billie Cooke. This part of the program provoked much laughter and gave the party just that touch of informality that is desired in the first meeting of the year. At the close of the round-up, Mrs. Bogan, who had been voted the most faithful member of the club, was honored by being given a special emblem while Mrs. Greene sang "Old Faithful." Members formed a ring inside the corral with Mrs. Bogan in the center, and Mrs. Greene sang "When It's Round-up Time for Pioneers."

A delicious chuck wagon supper was served by the hostess and her daughter, Mrs. Creed Bogan, around a camp fire. The supper consisted of chili and beans, beef, onions, pickles, potatoes with jackets, stewed apricots, buns and hot coffee.

Members wore club brands during the evening, and the two new members, Mrs. Roger Powers and Mrs. Creed Bogan, were branded with the club emblem before being driven into the corral by the cowboys.

Special guests present were: Mrs. Robt. C. Davidson, Mrs. A. R. McHaney, Mrs. Thurman Adkins, Misses Elizabeth Kennedy, Aline McCarty, Jewell Cousins, Frances Noel, Lola Ruth Stanfield and Floy Wynn.

Members present were: Mesdames T. A. Massay, J. B. Hembree, W. L. Campbell, H. W. Finley, John Harris, Ercy Cubine, C. A. Cryer, C. O. Greene, Roger Powers, Creed Bogan, H. W. Brooks, C. Brooks, J. W. Butler, S. D. Shelburne, Willie Boyett, S. A. Cousins, D. A. Davis, Cecil G. Goff, Jim Back, and the hostess.

TIGERS PLAY CANADIAN FRIDAY

Coaches Allen and Loter have been putting the Tigers through some stiff work-outs this week, getting ready for the game Friday night with the Canadian Bobcats.

The Bobcats showed themselves to be a powerful bunch of ball toters when they won their first game of the season over the Wellington Sky-rocketts, 27 to 6.

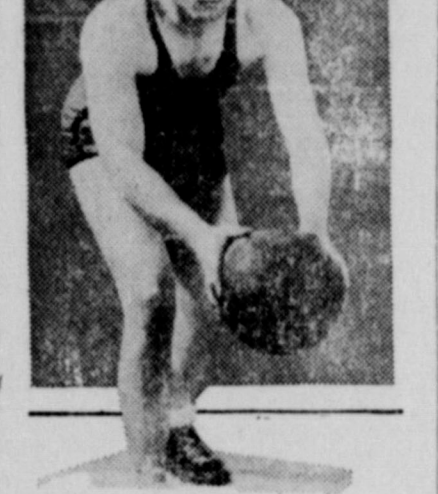

McLean will likely enter the game with the following line-up: center, McCarty, 165 pounds; guards, Cooke, 160, Chilton 130; tackles, Kennedy 165, King 163; ends, Johnson 175, Nicholson 143; backs, Christian 155, Stratton 165, Cunningham 170, Graham 150.

This is an average of 157 pounds per man in the line and 160 pounds in the back field.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK

One day next week Coach Loter will issue suits and start working out with the basketball team.

HENRY LOTER High School Basketball Coach

working out for football are asked to report to Mr. Loter for definite instruction as to when and where to meet him for the initial workout.

Someone was heard to say that he would be glad to pay the admission price of a football game just to see the McLean drum major strut across the field between halves when the Tigers were leading at this stage of the game.

Reports are that this drum major has been taking strutting lessons this summer and can really strut now, so if you feel that way about it, be on hand Friday night.

The pep squad and band will both be on hand at the first game to add to the occasion. The pep squad will again be under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, who, by the way, is the peppiest little girl we know anything about.

The band will be directed by Prof. Robt. C. Davidson.

Welding
... the best way to make a perfect union of two pieces of metal is by welding them together.

... and the best way to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette is by welding together the different types of tobacco ...

That is just what we do in making CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes—the three types of mild ripe home-grown tobaccos, that is tobaccos grown in this country, are welded together. Then they are welded with aromatic Turkish.

When these tobaccos are welded together you get a combined flavor which is entirely different from any one type of tobacco.

It is this welding of the right amounts of the right kind of tobaccos that makes CHESTERFIELD a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

Frock Keeps Matron Looking "Just Right"

PATTERN 2335

Looking just right about the house, and neatly tailored enough for street or porch appearance, is no trick at all for the handy woman who knows how to run up a seam! Pattern 2335 is available in sizes 16, 18, 20, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 44. Size 36 takes 4 3/4 yards 36-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

MALARIA

The word malaria almost suggests in itself just what it means; whenever I think of the word, invariably I "chill." My first location when beginning my career as a doctor was in a swampy community where practically every adult at some time of the year showed conclusive symptoms of ague or malaria. Quinine was one of my chief drugs. Every tonic prescription I gave contained quinine in some form or other.

Several Types Occur

There are quite a few types and combinations besides the true malaria; fevers: mountain fever, autumnal fever, bone break fever; all have respective symptoms closely resembling malarial fever. Of itself there are three classes, namely: the 24-hour type when chills and fever come on every day, called quotidian; the type when chills and fever come on every other day, called tertian; when they appear every third day it is called quartan.

Malaria is common in swampy and badly drained districts. The cows even develop a type which may be passed on to those who use the milk or butter from her. While milk fever has never been classed as a true malaria, many symptoms are common to each other and some lines of treatment apply in both cases. The patient complains of chills and fever. This condition may last for several hours and between attacks they feel quite normal, and most patients are up and around most of the time. Occasionally malaria is combined with other seasonal diseases as typhoid or even hay fever, as one often hears of "walking typhoid fever," which is no doubt a mixture of both typhoid and malaria.

Change of Climate Helps

Those having malaria or ague or chills and fever are subject to the same condition year after year, lasting until weather conditions change from cool mornings and evenings with hot midday temperature throughout the day. Change of climate of course helps, but the same symptoms continue even when far away from the swamps and mosquitoes. It's in the "blood" and requires time for elim-

An especially interesting article entitled "Will the Football Bubble Burst" is in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post, and is well worth reading.

Rev. Jameson, who preached here during the Methodist revival, stated in one sermon that the "church official who becomes officious loses his influence for good in the church." This might just as well apply to officials in any organization, or in politics.

The official is the servant of those who elect him, and this fact should never be forgotten, if his usefulness is to continue.

Regardless of what individual opinion may have been in regard to Huey Long's policies, it is a disgrace that any American should contemplate assassination to remove a man on difference of political opinion. The ballot is civilization's weapon, and bullets should not be tolerated.

Senator Long's efforts for the masses may have been worth much more during these changing times than many of us might be willing to admit.

Several different readers complimented us on last week's issue of The News. It was no different from other issues, as far as we could see, but evidently there must have been more pleasing news to others, or it would not have caused so much favorable comment.

Seldom a week passes that someone does not remark about the volume of reading matter that is being published each week, with special emphasis on the home news.

W. T. Wilson, pioneer lumber man of McLean, in a conversation with the News editor one day last week about the better yards contest, said that he would rather live in a small house with a pretty yard and garden than in a fine house with no attention given the home grounds. Most people are coming to this way of thinking and the size of the house and grounds has nothing to do with its attractiveness. That this is true may be proven by a trip over town, noting the pretty yards.

The marine band concert at Amarillo last Thursday evening disappointed thousands who could not find standing room in the auditorium. Many of those attending came from towns over a hundred miles away, some of them arriving an hour before the concert began and yet they could not find room.

Amarillo is the meeting place of the Panhandle, and in the future should have reserved seats for out-of-town guests, or different nights for visitors when such things are staged in the auditorium.

Of course, this was remedied the next night by having the concert at the football field, but the performance was over, as far as many visitors were concerned, Thursday night.

Below 50 Degrees
FOODS ARE SAFE

After exhaustive tests extended over several years, the United States Department of Agriculture recommends that unsealed foods for human consumption be stored at a temperature below 50 degrees Fahrenheit.

A few simple summertime observations convince you of the wisdom back of this recommendation. It is common knowledge that tainted, moulded, or spoiled foods do cause certain severe discomforts, and not infrequently serious illness, especially among children during the hot summer months.

Your Electric Refrigerator Dealer can positively guarantee that his refrigerator will constantly hold a uniform temperature below 50 degrees Fahrenheit, no matter how hot the weather. It is important that you be assured on this point.

"Milk, fresh meat, poultry, fish, and many fruits and vegetables should be kept at a temperature of 50 degrees Fahrenheit, or preferably lower, to check the growth of microbes that cause souring and decay."—U. S. Department of Agriculture—Bureau of Home Economics.

CLUBS TO SEE ANIMALS DRESSED

Geo. W. Sitter, owner of the Bar Lo club, and Merit breeding stable, call our attention to the fact that the 4-H club boys and girls will be given the opportunity to see animals that they grew dressed at the state show at Omaha this week. The youthful feeders will look while the baby beeves go through the packing houses, which is expected to be a valuable test for the young feeders.

EASY TO BE AN EDITOR

One of the easiest jobs in the world is to be an editor. All an editor has to do is to sit at his desk twelve hours a day, six or seven days a week, for four or five weeks in a month and twelve months in a year and sign out such stuff and correspondence as the following, which he puts on his desk by the cord at times: "Mrs. Jones of Cactus Creek let a coxswain slip last week and cut her in the pantry."

A mischievous lad of Punkville threw a stone and cut a Mr. Pike in the eye last Tuesday.
 Tom Brown climbed on the roof of the house last week, looking for a cat, and fell, striking himself on the back porch.
 While Harold Green was escorting the Violet Wise from the church last Saturday, a savage dog bit her and bit Harold on the nose square.

While Farmer Frank was harnessing a young colt last Saturday the colt whirled around and kicked him in the corn-crib."—Chicago Journal Commerce.

CIRCULATION STIMULATOR

An editor recently stated that he had been kissed by the most beautiful married woman in town and proposed to publish her name in the next issue of the paper in the next column. In two weeks the circulation doubled. Then the editor named his wife—Macksville (Kan.) Enterprise.

UNCHANGING ENGLISH

An English journalist has suggested a "scientific alphabet," containing probably a few more letters or letter-combinations than the present one, which would aid in the process of simplifying English spelling, possibly serving to make it more consistent. The Chicago Tribune recently adopted a simplified form of spelling a score or more of words, but has not attempted to adopt a radical form for all words, like the Literary Digest and a few other publications. One of the spelling reformers, Dr. Dewitt C. Croissant of Georgetown University, has condemned the vagaries of "English as she is wrote" as "unhistorical, unscientific, unscholarly, unnatural, unreasonable, and uneconomical." If he could have thought up any other uncomplimentary adjectives, doubtless he would have used them.

Every foreigner who tries to learn our language almost desponds when he finds that although the plural of mouse is mice, the plural of house is not hices, and though the plural of goose is geese the plural of moose is not meese. "Beauty" rhymes with "duty," but "bean" rhymes with "go" and also "dough." Strangely enough, however, "plough," "dough," "rough" and "through" each have a different pronunciation, though with identical endings. What rule makes "shoe" and "foe," "break" and "freak," "grow" and "brow," "paid" and "said," "hearth" and "dearth," and such like words take different pronunciations? On the other hand, why are words like "berry" and "bury," "two" and "joe," "hart" and "heart," spelled differently but pronounced alike?

The answer is that English is a "melting pot" language. It grew from Greek and Latin, Germanic, Scandinavian, Briton, and later from French, Spanish, East Indian and American Indian roots, retaining the original forms of many of each. Not so with the Teutonic, Scandinavian and Latin languages, with their set forms. Obviously, the job of making over the English language is almost impossible.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Bosses Won't Hire People with Halitosis (BAD BREATH)

People who get and hold jobs keep their breath agreeable

With the best to choose from these days, employers favor the person who is most attractive. In business life as in the social world, halitosis (unpleasant breath) is considered the worst of faults.

Unfortunately everybody suffers from this offensive condition at some time or other—many more regularly than they think. Fermentation of food particles skipped by the tooth brush is the cause of most cases. Dandruff, teeth and poor digestion also cause odors.

The quick, pleasant way to improve your breath is to use Listerine, the quick deodorant, every morning and every night. Listerine halts fermentation, a major cause of odors, and overcomes the odors themselves. Your breath becomes sweet and agreeable. It will not offend others.

If you value your job and your friends, use Listerine, the safe, antiseptic, regularity. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo.

Don't offend others - Check halitosis with LISTERINE

"A THOUSAND YOURS"

When you pick up your newspaper and glance over the advertising, you quite unconsciously multiply yourself a thousand times.

In half or three-quarters of an hour you can, figuratively speaking, visit every progressive store in town. You can virtually poke your head into every business and professional office. You run into the leading grocery stores, the drug store, barber shops, restaurants, bakery, hardware stores, gauges, oil stations, etc., and in fact, all the various places that supply the things that make this twentieth century and life worth the living.

It would easily take a thousand years, traveling hard all day, to find out for yourself what the advertisements tell you in a few minutes, morning or evening.

The ads deserve your attention and confidence. Without advertising the prices you would have to pay for many of the necessities you now buy for small change would make a dollar look like a snowball on the kitchen range.—Sacred Heart (Minn.) News

AND NOW I'LL TELL ONE

It was an old, old riddle, but old Bill Thompson, now retired, had been so busy making money that he hadn't time to listen to riddles and jokes and so missed a lot of ancient ones like that one, about why a husband is like dough, to which the answer is (if you're another old Bill Thompson and never heard it) "because his wife needs (kneads) him." Old Bill thought it would be a great joke to ask his wife the riddle. She had always tried to boss him and here was a chance to get even with her. He chuckled when he thought how crestfallen she'd look when he told her the answer. And even if she had heard the riddle before, and gave him the right answer, it would be something of a pleasure to hear her say, "because his wife needs him." They were at the second course of dinner that night when Bill thought it a good time to put over his little joke. "Maria," he asked sweetly, "do you know why a husband is like dough?" Maria looked at her husband's cheerful face quizzically. "Sure I do," she snapped. "Because he's so hard to get off your hands!"
